

Nationalist Rockets, Napalm Blast Red Coast

Chiang's Men Cheered By Dulles' Visit

TAIPEH, Formosa (Friday) — Nationalist China, cheered by encouraging words from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, struck with rockets and napalm fire bombs at the Red coast opposite Formosa, Thursday.

As Dulles wound up a quick visit and went on to Tokyo, the Nationalists announced that for the fourth straight day planes and warships had blasted Red military forces near Quemoy, Quemoy, Nationalist stronghold 120 miles across from Formosa, is only 5 miles from the Red island base of Amoy.

A Nationalist air force announcement made no damage claims. It said the planes attacked military targets ashore and Communist junks among the islands near Amoy, which has been battered by bombs and artillery.

Nationalists Dominate Air
The air force asserted its bombers dominated the air in Fukien Province, of which Amoy is a part, and Chekiang Province to the north. There has been no mention of recent action over Chekiang.

The MIG jets which the Chinese Communists have been reported massing in Chekiang Province have been strangely missing from the Quemoy front.

The Nationalist defense ministry said warships again bombarded Amoy and nearby Wuyue island while the air force was cutting loose with its deadly fire bombs.

Dulles Raises Hopes
Dulles' brief pause here on his way to Tokyo from the Manila conference aroused fresh hope and confidence among the Nationalists.

They were particularly pleased by his statement, read at the airport on his arrival, that "we shall not be intimidated" by Red threats of invading Formosa. The U.S. 7th fleet guards this island bastion against invasion.

Dulles went straight from the airport to a conference with President Chiang Kai-shek. He exchanged views with him for more than three hours. It was the first time a U.S. secretary of state had visited China.

U.S. Favors Nationalists
Careful observers said Dulles' statement at the airport indicated the United States and Nationalist China are working hand-in-hand and that the U.S. regards the Nationalist attacks in the Quemoy area as legitimate actions.

According to this thinking, should the Reds try to invade Quemoy and fail, they are less likely to try to attack Formosa which in present circumstances, would bring the 7th fleet into the picture.

It was believed possible Dulles told Chiang exactly what the 7th fleet might do if Red attacks jeopardized Quemoy or other important offshore islands.

Anesthesia Death Is Possible Prank

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Medical Examiner Joseph Ominsky said Thursday that Dr. John Landrum Bobo Jr., 23, a Jefferson hospital intern who died Aug. 3 of an overdose of anesthesia may have been the victim of a "prank played by someone."

Ominsky made the comment while presiding at an inquest. He announced a verdict afterwards that Dr. Bobo's death was the result of "an unknown cause" but "was not intentional on his part."

McCarthy, Solons Clash in Hearing

Joe Tries To Get 'FBI Letter' Into Committee Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) made an impassioned effort to get his controversial "FBI letter" into the record of his public hearing Thursday in a heated exchange that saw McCarthy rise and turn his back on the investigating senators for a few tense seconds.

Chairman Arthur Watkins (R-Utah) ruled, after sternly silencing the Wisconsin senator, that the special committee would decide Friday whether to look at the disputed 24-page document despite a ruling by Atty. Gen. Brownell that disclosure would be against the public interest.

McCarthy changed his mind and moved to get the "letter" into the record only a few hours after announcing he was abandoning further efforts to defend himself against a charge that the document — based on secret FBI material — came into his possession illegally.

Ruling Limits Evidence
The Wisconsin senator said through his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, that a committee ruling limiting the evidence he could offer made it impossible for him to make a defense on that charge — or to complete his answer to another charge that he incited federal workers illegally to pass him other such secret material.

Later, however, Williams announced he would try to disprove one allegation growing out of the senator's possession of the "FBI letter" — a charge that it is a "spurious" or phony document.

Williams contended, with McCarthy interposing vigorous agreement, the only way to disprove this charge would be for the document to be put in evidence so the committee members could read it.

McCarthy Gets Excited
His voice rising excitedly, McCarthy declared he had "every reason to believe this was and is a copy of a document in the army files." He went on to declare it proves the army had FBI warnings "year after year" of a danger to security at the nation's secret radar laboratories.

"Just a minute," Watkins interrupted sharply. He told McCarthy not to continue along that line until the committee had made its ruling. "This," Watkins said in severe tones, "I regarded as a diversion."

A house guest of the McCarthy from Dallas, Tex., Virginia figured in Wednesday's testimony. McCarthy said a child could answer a question which Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker asked to have repeated. He said Virginia had answered a similar one easily the previous night.

U.S. Needs More Soldiers, Not Less, Ridgway Asserts

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the face of announced plans to reduce U. S. army manpower by 22 per cent, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said Thursday atomic age warfare probably will require more soldiers instead of fewer.

And in another atomic military development, the navy announced the world's first atomic-powered submarine, the Nautilus, will formally join the fleet in commissioning ceremonies Sept. 30.

Ridgway, army chief of staff, hit at a widely held notion that increased firepower of atomic weapons might lessen the need for foot soldiers.

"On the contrary, there are indications that the trend will be in the opposite direction," he said in an address to the National Security Industrial Assn., an organization of more than 600 defense industries.

"Although combat units undoubtedly will be smaller, more mobile and more compact, the dispersion in defense more pronounced, there will be a corresponding increase in the depth of the battlefield."

The Pentagon announced plans last spring to trim the army from its peak strength of 1,600,000 men during the Korean war to about 1,184,000 by next June. The Eisenhower administration's budget rests on these plans. Present strength is estimated at slightly under 1 1/2 million.

The navy, meanwhile, said the Nautilus will be formally commissioned Sept. 30 at Groton, Conn., where she has been under construction since 1952.

of Citizens' Assn., an all-white group, for a temporary order restraining the district Board of Education from registering Negro and white students in the same schools and classes.

Mississippi Fights Decision
Mississippi legislators passed the medical school bill to correct a flaw in a new law. The 1954 legislature abolished out-of-state scholarships to Mississippi students, with new scholarships to be given to the University of Mississippi Medical school. Legislators said that Negroes probably would have forced admission to the new school, now under construction, because no other provision was made for them.

The law was amended to continue scholarships for Mississippi Negro students to attend Meharry Negro Medical college in Nashville, Tenn.

The Mississippi House also passed on second reading a proposed constitutional amendment empowering the Legislature to abolish public schools. The vote was 108-22 after spirited debate.

Would Abolish Public Schools
The amendment — to be voted upon by the people Dec. 21 — would authorize the Legislature to abolish schools in Mississippi by a two-thirds vote; sell, lease or rent state-owned school property to private individuals; and pay tuition for students to attend private schools.

Li. Gov. Marvin Griffin, landslide winner of the Democratic nomination for governor in one-party Georgia, said he planned to campaign for a so-called private school amendment proposed by outgoing Gov. Herman Talmadge as "insurance" of continued racial segregation in public schools.

The amendment, to be voted on in the November election, would permit the state to aid pupils individually instead of supporting public schools. Sponsors claim that students then could attend segregated private schools without court interference.

Protest Negro Admissions
In West Virginia, mass protests against accepting negro students in white schools were made Thursday in two counties.

A group of parents, about 80 per cent of them women, set up a picket line at the combined high and elementary school in Rupert, Greenbrier county, bordering Virginia, where 12 Negroes have been attending classes since school opened Tuesday.

UN Group To Hear American Protest Of Bomber Incident

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The UN security council will meet this morning to hear a U.S. complaint that Soviet fighter planes shot down an American naval bomber on the high seas in an "unwarranted and hostile attack."

This will be the first time the Soviet Union and the United States will face each other in the council in a case involving these two powers alone.

A U.S. delegation spokesman said the purpose of the U.S. is to focus world opinion on this act. He said the U.S. wants to create an atmosphere in which such incidents could not be repeated.

No Bar to Soviet
There were indications from the Americans that they will not attempt to have the security council bar the Soviet Union from voting on any action because the Russians are a party to this dispute. The feeling is that there is no purpose to be served by putting the Russians in a position in which they could not cooperate toward a peaceful settlement.

The UN charter provides that parties to a dispute brought up for peaceful settlement cannot vote in a decision on that settlement. It was indicated, however, the U.S. might not stand strictly on the rules and would hope that the Russians would take part in a settlement.

Reds Reject Protest
Dispatches from Moscow, however, indicated that this is a forlorn hope. The Soviet Union rejected a second American protest over the shooting down of the plane, accused the U.S. of "crude provocation" in making patrol flights near Siberia, and demanded that measures be taken to prevent such flights in the future.

The Russians repeated their charges that the two-engine Neptune bomber shot down last Saturday by Russian jet fighters had violated Soviet territorial air space and had opened fire first.

Benson Says Farm Vote Not For Sale

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said Thursday the farm vote isn't "for sale to the highest bidder." He called for support of the administration's flexible price support program as the one which will "help keep America strong."

In his first major speeches in his native state since becoming secretary, Benson told Republican rallies here and in Twin Falls that he hopes for an eventual end to acreage controls under flexible supports.

He called for the reelection of Sen. Henry Dworshak and Rep. Hamer Budget. Their Democratic opponents, former Sen. Glen Taylor and William P. Whitaker, respectively, have pegged farm prices as a prime campaign issue in predominantly agricultural Idaho.

He stressed that he favored aid to agriculture, price support and a fair share of the national income for agriculture.

North Africa's Worst Quake In 40 Years Injures 1,000

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—A wall-tumbling earthquake struck northern Algeria before dawn Thursday, demolished a fifth of the city of Orleansville, and by unofficial count killed at least 800 persons. Some victims were buried in their beds.

Some estimates put the death toll from North Africa's worst earthquake in 40 years as high as 1,000. The list of injured was expected to run into the thousands. The smashing of telephone and telegraph lines made a check on casualties difficult.

One report said in Orleansville, a modern city built in 1843 on Roman colonial ruins 100 miles southwest of Algiers, 200 were killed and 1,000 injured. No complete count was expected for several days.

Quake Lasts 12 Seconds
The quake hit at 1:01.57 a.m. and lasted only 12 seconds. It caught residents of whole towns and villages over a 50-mile-wide area asleep. Several villages near Orleansville were wiped out.

There are no U.S. military bases in Algeria, which is classified as a department, roughly equivalent to a state, of France. There are several important U.S. air bases in adjoining French Morocco, a French protectorate, which is well outside the quake area.

Reports from Orleansville, population 32,500, said the quake created appalling terror. Many frightened residents stampeded into the dark streets, only to be crushed by falling bricks and stones.

Buildings Smashed, Burned
The army barracks, stadium, post office, prison, hospital, two hotels, police headquarters, and a new Roman Catholic cathedral were smashed or heavily damaged.

The small Lamartine dam nearby was cracked, flooding the airport area and hampering the airlift of relief supplies. Until daylight the only light for rescue operations came from the eerie flames of burning buildings, beds when the building collapsed.

Forty guests at the Hotel Baudouin were buried alive in their beds when the building collapsed. The area most seriously hit extends from Orleansville 24 miles north to its port, Tenes, on the Mediterranean, and about 50 miles east to Miliana. Smaller shocks were felt in the area throughout the early morning, and tremors were reported around noon at the town of Duplex.

Other Shocks Reported
French authorities from Premier Pierre Mendes-France down coordinated relief measures. French and Algerian troops and medical services from Algiers and Oran, Algeria's two largest cities, were sent to Orleansville.

In London, Adm. John H. Cassady, commander of U.S. naval forces in the eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean, ordered the U.S. 6th fleet in the Mediterranean to give help if asked.

Planes Evacuate Injured
Before the floodwaters reached the Orleansville airport, several plane-loads of seriously injured victims were flown to Algiers.

Late reports said most of the survivors were evacuating Orleansville and other stricken towns, taking to the roads in any vehicles they could find or on foot.

The terrified refugees carried a few prized possessions and headed westward toward Oran or southward toward Tiarat.

More than 26,000 of Orleansville's residents are native Algerian Moslems, and about 6,000 are Europeans.

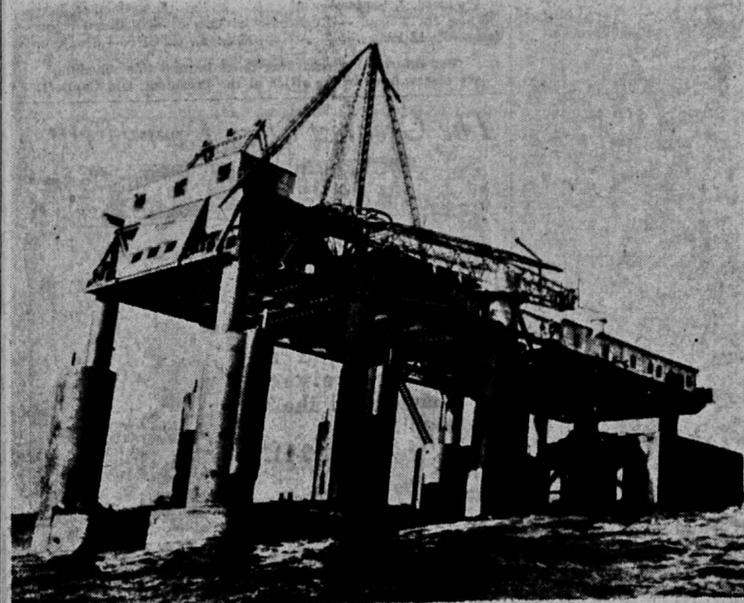

The city is an important agricultural trading center for a rich farming area. The neighboring villages are all farming communities.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy commission said Thursday that in all likelihood there will be further tests of nuclear weapons in the Pacific as new weapons are developed. Asked at a news conference whether that includes thermonuclear hydrogen bombs, he said he makes no distinction between those and other weapons.

Balloon Ride Lands Hypnotist in Jail

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A part-time hypnotist with an urge for a trip into the sky was in jail Thursday night after a flight in a homemade rig suspended from 60 gas-filled balloons. Garrett Cashman, 26, of Albany, was arrested by state police and arraigned before Peace Justice George Bigsbee in the nearby town of Guilderland on a charge of flying without a license. Cashman pleaded innocent, and was remanded to Albany county jail in lieu of $100 bail. Earlier Thursday, Cashman spent about an hour and a half soaring about the skies near Albany.

Extra-Cautious Driving Urged By AAA As Schools Open

"Habits of extra-cautious driving in and around school areas are often forgotten by motorists during the summer months. For this reason, September will be one of the most dangerous of the year for school children," warned E. R. Lange, safety director for the AAA Motor Club of Iowa, in a plea today to all Iowa drivers to drive carefully and be on the look-out for school bound youngsters.

"Almost 30 million boys and girls in the public, private and parochial elementary schools in the United States are depending upon the operators of America's 50 million motor vehicles to drive with care, caution, courtesy and consideration," Lange added.

The motor club representative said that in 14,000 American communities there are 24,640 schools having school safety patrols to guard the crosswalks, approaches to the schools and the buses transporting the boys and girls. Over 12 million of the nearly 24 million elementary school pupils are thus protected, the national total of patrolmen being 50,000.

"Motorists have a moral and legal obligation to obey all of the 'Go Slow' or caution signs in the vicinity of schools, being especially careful when the children are on their way to school, at recess, or coming back from school," Lange cautioned. "Don't try to pass other cars on crowded streets, obey all stop signs, watch out for youngsters playing in the street or en route to or from playgrounds, and avoid excess speeds," he urged.

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Foreign Staff Associated Press

The new Southeast Asia collective security defense treaty doesn't carry anything on its face which would seem likely to frighten the Communists very badly.

Five nations which fall into the "Western" category have formed a united front with three lesser Asiatic nations to oppose further Red expansion at each other's expense, and to extend the benefits to three Indochinese states which are not members.

The treaty carries virtually no military impact, beyond the implication that Pakistan, Thailand, the Philippines and the Indochinese states will be made militarily and economically stronger so they can carry some weight in future arguments. Thailand is the only really new addition to the front.

The two states with the strongest anti-Communist armies in Asia — Formosa and South Korea — and the one with the greatest military potential, Japan, are not included.

India is actually opposed to the project, and helped keep Ceylon and Burma away from Manila.

All the pact says about military action, in effect, is that if anything comes up each member will decide whether to fight or not. The machinery for consultation, and even for action if that is decided upon, will be ready, but there will be no coordinated force at hand as under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There are, of course, grounds for satisfaction that a united political front has been formed between East and West as a sort of symbol.

Community Chest Gives Money to Scouts Here

Special grants of $350 each have been made from the local Community Chest emergency fund to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. The action was taken by the chest's board of directors.

The $350 for the Boy Scouts will be Iowa City's share of an unexpected major repair at Camp Waubeek, the Hawkeye area council camp near Cedar Rapids which is attended by Iowa City scouts. Last year 113 boys and seven adults from this area were among the campers.

The $350 for the Girl Scouts will complete the screening of all tents at Camp Cardinal, west of town. The camp itself is owned by the local Rotary club but all of the equipment belongs to the Girl Scouts.

This past summer 262 different girls were there for established camp, 69 of them staying more than a week. The cost for a week of camping is $14 a girl. In addition to the use during the time of established camp, at which 16 senior scouts were counselors, there were troop camps attended by 143 girls and 12 seniors and also overnights for 145 other scouts.

DISTRICT COURT BUSY

Life Magazine Features 1951 SUI Graduate

Jacqueline Brookes, 1951 graduate of SUI, is the subject of an article in the current issue of Life magazine.

Appearing in the theater section of the magazine, the picture story tells of Miss Brookes' role in Robinson Jeffers' poetic drama "The Cretan Woman." The SUI graduate plays the part of Queen Phaedra in the tragedy, currently being presented at the Provincetown, Rhode Island Playhouse.

Commenting on reactions to Miss Brookes' handling of the role, the article says, "With her husky, melodious voice, her lithe figure, and patrician features, 23-year-old Jacqueline impressed critics as an exciting new dramatic actress resembling a younger Judith Anderson — something that turns up rarely on Broadway."

She received a bachelor of fine arts degree in dramatic art with high distinction from SUI in June, 1951.

During her four years at SUI, Miss Brookes appeared in many plays presented by the University theatre, carrying leading roles in Holiday, The Queen's Husband, The Adding Machine and The Importance of Being Earnest. She was named a member of Purple Mask, SUI dramatic art honor organization, and was active in the University theatre's student governing body.

Besides acting, Miss Brookes gained experience in many other phases of work in the SUI theatre, including lighting, stage building, painting and properties. After receiving her degree from SUI, Miss Brookes studied on a Fulbright award in London, England, at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art.

U.S. Now Has 1 M.D. for Every 730 Persons, New Record: AMA

A record ratio of one doctor for every 730 persons in the U. S. has been reached during the past year through the graduation of the largest class of physicians in history and the continued expansion of the nation's medical schools, according to a report of the American Medical Association.

The ratio will be lowered even more in the next few years as the number of medical graduates is expected to rise more rapidly than the general population.

The record graduation of 6,861 doctors during 1953-1954 brings the nation's physician population to approximately 220,100.

Sets New Record

This record graduation was announced today in the 54th annual report on medical education in the United States by the American Medical Association. Highlights of the report are:

The enrollment of 28,227 is the greatest number of students in medical education in the history of this country.

The freshman class enrollment of 7,449 also is a record. Of the freshmen entering medical schools, 68.9 per cent had "B" averages in their pre-medical training, 21.1 per cent had "A" averages and 10.0 per cent "C".

Report Cited

Only 5.1 per cent of the freshmen left medical school because of academic failures or for other reasons in comparison to a 9.5 per cent rate 15 years ago.

Ten new four-year medical schools are in the construction or planning stage and will be in operation within the next five to six years.

County Children's Home Group Starts Fund Drive Here

Johnson county chairmen and township workers for the Iowa Children's Home society met in Iowa City Thursday to begin their drive for funds.

Hostesses at Thursday's meeting were Mrs. Paul R. Olson, of 1024 Woodlawn ave., and Mrs. Carl L. Gillies, of 719 McLean st.

The society cares for children and unmarried mothers in Iowa. Services include placing children from one county for adoption in other counties.

The average cost per year to secure a child's future through the society is approximately $840, according to Miss Grace L. Giddens, Des Moines, society public relations director.

Miss Giddens said that this includes the cost of casework, boarding, incidentals, psychological and medical care. "Child care is costly," Miss Giddens said, "but it is a sound investment in the community's future."

was spent during 1953-1954 for new facilities, remodeling or completion of buildings for medical instruction.

The budgets for the medical schools during 1954-1955 total more than 143 million dollars.

21,328 Volunteered

There were 21,328 physicians who did volunteer teaching without pay during the year to aid in educating medical students throughout the nation.

Dr. George F. Lull, secretary and general manager of the American Medical Association, said in a statement that this report shows "significant strides in bringing better medical care to the nation through the training of more doctors than ever before and providing these young doctors with something undreamed of 50 years ago.

"The expansion of the medical schools, both in facilities and curriculum, and the development of 10 additional four-year schools, affords an excellent example of the continuing efforts to provide more physicians today and for the future."

The ten new four-year medical schools will be at the Universities of California, Mississippi, Miami, Missouri, Florida, Kentucky, West Virginia, North Dakota, and Yeshiva university of New York and Seton Hall university. In addition, three other medical schools are being considered.

Improved Selection

The report stated that the loss of fewer students through academic failure or withdrawals could not be attributed to "any specific cause with complete certainty."

However, the report added it is reasonable to assume that this must be due in part to improved selection methods by each school's examining committee and the "greater intensified efforts in the area of student guidance and counseling."

Perhaps the most interesting fact concerning loss of students was that only two seniors failed out of the 6,475 enrolled in medical schools this year.

Figures Listed

Besides the 28,227 medical students training in the nation's 80 approved medical schools, there were 59,430 persons receiving some type of instruction from medical school faculties. These included dental, pharmacy and nursing students, student technicians, physicians taking continuation courses or basic science courses for specialty training, physicians with fellowship appointments, interns, resident doctors, and physicians seeking advanced degrees.

In order to maintain high levels of instruction, 26,435 faculty personnel were needed in the 80 medical schools during last year. And 21,328 of these faculty members volunteered to teach without pay, their duties varying from a few hours annually to large areas of responsibility.

Costs Noted

In regard to the costs of medical education the report said that "in spite of augmented funds available to medical schools these institutions continue to face difficult and perplexing problems."

In summarizing the report added: "The adequate maintenance of currently existing and newly developing medical schools, together with the constant demand for the application of new knowledge and techniques in the interest of ever better medical care for the American public, implies a continuing need for augmented financing of medical education and research."

The report was prepared by Edward L. Turner, secretary of the A. M. A.'s Council on Medical Education and Hospitals, Drs. Walter S. Wiggins and Douglas D. Volland, and Mrs. Anne Tipner, all members of the council's staff.

Ugly at 10, Grew Up To Be Miss Universe

By DEL BOOTH

WINNSBORO, S. C. (P)—Miriam Stevenson used to sit in front of her mirror and cry, because she thought she was ugly. But that was when she was 10.

Now, at 21, this self-styled ugly duckling is acclaimed the most beautiful girl in the world.

The freckles which made her tearful at 10 turned into an asset which helped win her the title of Miss U.S.A., as the most wholesome American beauty, and led to her selection as Miss Universe.

How does one grow an American beauty?

Recipe Given

That was the question put to Miriam's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stevenson. The recipe seems to be: take a normal little girl, give her a happy rural childhood and lots of buttermilk, healthy portions of fun and family love and let nature take its course.

Locating the prosperous Stevenson farm with its one-story frame house is no problem at all to a stranger—everyone in these parts knows the Stevensons.

If you tried to classify Miriam, you'd probably put her down as an outdoor girl.

Outdoor Type

"She always wanted to be outside," her mother says, "and it always was hard to get her to wear much except rough clothes, like blue jeans."

Yet even before she began school she had learned to sew and cook, and has designed and made nearly all her own clothes since she was halfway through grammar school.

En route to the Miss Universe contest in California, her luggage was lost in transit. So the dress she wore in the preliminaries was one she had designed and made herself.

Her prizes included a movie contract at Universal-International for six weeks at $250 weekly. For this she would have to post-pone her senior year in college. And the studio said she would also have to give up her southern accent.

Determined Girl

"Now that will be something," mused her 38-year-old father, "unless Miriam is willing. She's always been right determined about things." Miriam, however, decided to return to college instead of going into the movies.

Miriam was a gold star winner for attendance at Sunday school all during her school years. At college she has continued in church work.

Like most farm boys and girls, Miriam was active in 4-H club work. She copies her father by specializing in raising Guernsey dairy cattle. At times she's had as many as a dozen, some of which she sold to help pay her way through college.

Revenue Service Has Openings in Inspection Branch

Accountants are needed by the Internal Revenue Service to fill Auditor positions in its inspection service.

Men selected for these positions will conduct internal audits of Internal Revenue Service operations and financial records in order to make an independent review and appraisal of these operations and records.

Such positions pay $5,060 to $9,600 a year and offer good opportunity for advancement. Further information concerning these positions may be obtained at most Post Offices.

SUI Graduate To Teach At University of Dayton

Chi-Ta Chen, 400 Pinkbine Park, will become an instructor in business organization at the University of Dayton in Ohio this fall. Rev. Henry J. Kobe, S. M., dean of the university, has announced.

Chen, a native of Changsha, China, taught at Nan Young college there from 1944 to 1947.

He received his Ph. D. from SUI this year. He is among 28 new faculty members appointed to the University of Dayton in 1954.

POLIO PATIENT RELEASED

Donald K. McGhan, 20, 209 Stadium Park, was released Wednesday from University hospitals after being treated for polio. He had been admitted to the hospitals Aug. 31. McGhan is a mechanical engineering student at SUI.

Sculptor Carves St. Bernard Statue For New Seminary

AMES (P)—A ten foot six inch statue of St. Bernard—weight 12 tons—leaves here by a round about route this morning for Dubuque, where it will decorate the grounds of new St. Bernard seminary.

The statue, sculptured by Christian Peterson of Iowa State college, has to travel upright. That makes it too tall for many of the underpasses on the most direct route to Dubuque.

Unloading the statue, carved from limestone, is also a task requiring much care. Because the weight is in the center of the statue, the trailer which carries it to Dubuque, is to be jacked up so that it will be even with the base of the statue, five feet off the ground. Then the statue will be slid off the trailer and onto a cake of ice.

Melting of the ice will allow the statue to come to rest as it is intended to, in front of the seminary.

School Children Get GG-Shots As Polio Cases Hit New High

DES MOINES (P)—Iowa youngsters, back in school again, were being inoculated in classroom lots Tuesday as the weekly total of polio cases in the state reached a new high for the year.

Polio cases during the past week totalled 115, compared with the previous high of 91 the week before the state department of health reported. Thus polio continued an upward trend at a time when health authorities expected cases to decrease.

Dr. Ralph Heeren, director of the department's division of preventable diseases, said that for the first time gamma globulin is available in large enough quantities to provide shots for all classmates of school-age polio victims.

Gamma globulin shots are given to ward off the paralytic effects of polio.

Last year, Dr. Heeren said, gamma globulin shots for anyone outside of family contacts required special approval of the office of defense commodities.

Dr. Heeren said "quite a few" requests have been made in the past week for gamma globulin to be used on a classroom-wide basis.

The state health department controls distribution of gamma globulin to Iowa physicians.

Last week's 115 polio cases compared with 30 the same week a year ago and 275 two years ago. The total to date this year is 716. By the same time last year only 424 cases had been reported, and in the epidemic year of 1952, 1,938 cases were reported in the same period.

Adair, Benton, Hardin, Louisa and Pocahontas counties reported their first polio cases of the year last week, making 91 counties that have reported at least one case this year.

Cool Air To Stay Over Weekend, Weatherman Says

DES MOINES (P)—The crisp, cool air which has been in Iowa nearly all week, is to continue through most of the weekend, according to the U.S. weather bureau here.

Afternoon temperatures today are to be in the low 70s. This will be a slight rise from Thursday's highs which ranged from 59 at Dubuque to 68 at Council Bluffs.

Early morning lows are to range from the mid 40s in the northwest to around 60 in the southwest.

It is expected to be continued cool tonight and little change in temperature has been forecast for Saturday. The light showers which started Wednesday night and moved eastward over the state dumped about a half-inch of rain on central Iowa sections. Estherville, in northern Iowa, reported .85 inches of rainfall.

Local Prep Grid Season Opens Tonight

Indians Win, 5-4; Cubs Split

City High Meets Fairfield, U High Battles at Kalona

University high school, crippled by injuries to key men, and City high, with an almost entirely new lineup, will place their hats in the football ring tonight in the season's opener for both schools.

City high, with only one of last years regular starters, End Jeff Langston, meets Fairfield of the Little Six league on the City high field. Langston, who will act as game captain tonight, will be joined by five other lettermen in the starting lineup. The others are Terry Berridge, end; Lloyd Colony, center; Bill Scott, tackle; Johnny Gambrell, left halfback; and Steve Bauserman, fullback.

The remainder of the starting lineup will probably be John Grace, 220 pound left tackle; Steve Simpson, 150-pound guard; Jerry Hanson, 180 pound guard; Dave Bradbury, right halfback; and Jim Kelly, quarterback who played only occasionally last season.

U high will meet Kalona with only about two days practice in the single wing, an offense they were forced into by the injury of Bob Koser their letterman quarterback.

Koser broke his nose Tuesday and will see no action for an indefinite period.

Navy Takes Riggle
The squad is further handicapped by the loss of End Bill Riggle, who left Thursday for a naval training camp. He will miss the team's first three games.

U high will be trying to repeat last year's opening game performance when they beat Kalona, 20-13. They led that game at halftime, 10-0.

U high will very likely stick to the ground, with Koser, their best passer sitting out the game. Mike Schoenfelder, left halfback and his brother Jerry at fullback will be expected to lead the way in the ground game. They will be augmented by veterans Jim Lenz at quarterback and Bill Van Kirk at right half.

Bane Leads U High
The U high line is expected to be Jim Bowers, Bob Mickelson, Bob Fowler, Jim Bane, Bill DeKock, Bart Schuchert, Dave Bourgeois and Earlis Butterbaugh.

Bane will be defensive game captain, with Koser serving as honorary offensive captain. The game will start at 7:45 at the Kalona athletic field.

City high will also be trying to repeat last year's season opener when they beat the Fairfield team, 16-0. The Little Hawks will be facing a Fairfield team which includes only seven of last season's lettermen.

Bosox Tighten 3d Place Hold, 8-0

DETROIT (AP)—The Boston Red Sox took a firm hold on fourth place in the American league Thursday as righthander Willard Nixon blanked Detroit, 8-0, on four well-placed singles.

The win pushed the Red Sox 2 1/2 games ahead of the sagging, fifth-place Tigers.

Nixon's teammates gave him more than enough runs—four—in the third inning. The first came across when starter Al Aber hit Sam Mele with the bases full. Jim Piersall chased home two more with a single and the fourth run scored on Sammy White's single to the same spot.

NEW YORK (AP)—The faltering New York Giants wasted a tremendous opportunity to gain ground in the National league pennant race Thursday when they won only one out of two games from the seventh place Chicago Cubs. The Giants took the opener 7-6 on a bases-loaded squeeze bunt with two out in the ninth by Hank Thompson, then were shut out 3-0 on five hits by the combined pitching talents of Bob Rush, Jim Davis and Hal Jeffcoat.

The Giants held their four-game edge over the runner-up Milwaukee Braves, who were idle, but lost two percentage points of their edge.

The Giants went into the eighth inning of the first contest trailing by three runs.

Al Dark's 19th homer followed by Monte Irvin's 19th homer with one aboard tied the count. In the ninth Don Mueller led off with a double and the Giants loaded the bases with one out. Davis, a lefthander who worked in both games, fanned the dangerous Dark but Thompson came through with a beautiful bunt down the third base line and Mueller romped home.

The Cubs had tied the score at 3-3 on Walker Cooper's homer in the sixth and took the lead with three runs in the seventh on three hits wrapped around a pair of New York misplays, two walks and two sacrifice flies.

The second game was a pitcher's battle between Rush and 20-game winner Johnny Antonelli and it was a beauty. Clyde McCullough put the Cubs a run in front with a home run as he led off in the third and the visitors picked up one more in the fourth as Ernie Banks singled, stole second and scooted home on Steve Bilko's looper into right field.

The Giants couldn't advance a man as far as third until the eighth inning when they mounted their only serious threat.

The Cubs picked up their final run in the ninth against Frank Grissom, who like Davis pitched in both ends of the 5 1/2 hour twin bill. Banks got to first on an error by Monte Irvin. Pinch hitter Dee Fondy walked and McCullough laced a single into left, scoring Banks.

Nats Win, 2-0, On Home Runs

CHICAGO (AP)—Home runs by Roy Slevers, his 24th of the year, and rookie Jim Lemon, his first, gave Washington a 2-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday.

Washington made only one other hit, a single by Lemon, off the veteran righthander, Harry Dorish, who lost a brilliant pitching duel to southpaw Chuck Stobbs, who also allowed three hits. Chic Carrasque, who doubled, was the only Sox runner to reach second. The Nats left one on base, the Sox two.

Reichow Has Poise, Accuracy

Poise, accuracy and ability to run the ball on option plays are chief reasons why Gary (call him Jerry) Reichow is Iowa's No. 1 quarterback.

The junior from Decorah developed greatly along those lines in last spring's practice which is one reason why it was possible to shift the alternating quarterback of 1953, Lou Matykiewicz, to an end position.

Jerry last fall hit on 19 of 39 passes for 129 yards, two touchdowns and .487 percentage. And doing most of his running on option plays, lanky Jerry ambled along for an average of 4 yards on 38 carries.

Coaches say that Reichow has improved as a ball-handler and that his field generalship is good. He won the coaches' award as the player contributing the most to the 1954 spring drill.

It appears that Reichow's passing record may be bettered by the presence of better receivers. Frank Gilliam, the No. 1 left end, is hauling them in and Jim Freeman, Lou Matykiewicz and Jim Dick among the ends and Earl Smith, Bob Stearnes and Eddie Vincent among the halfbacks are favorite targets.

Jerry, just 20 years old, was an all-star in high school and also competed in basketball and track. Coach Forest Evashevski, who says that Iowa will pass much more this season, believes that Reichow's completion percentage will go up.

Iowa State Grid Squad Works On Passing, Blocking

AMES (AP)—Group work took up most of the time Thursday of the Iowa State football squad.

Because of the damp and chilly weather in the morning, the workout then was confined to pass offense and defense by the backs and ends working as separate groups. Linemen spent their time at blocking.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's pennant-bound Indians rallied late and hung on to take a donated run in the 11th inning Thursday for a 5-4 win over the Philadelphia Athletics. It put them 5 1/2 games ahead of the second-place New York Yanks.

With 14 games to play—the Yanks have 15—the Tribe opened a long lead over Casey Stengel's staggering crew with an odd finish that produced their 100th victory of the season against 40 losses.

The bases were loaded, Hal Naragon was at bat, and Ed Bartusch, Philadelphia's third pitcher, was on the mound. Burtusch threw three straight balls, cut one straight across the plate and then walked in the winning run.

Cleveland had only seven hits, while four Cleveland pitchers were following the visitors nine. The winner was Hal Newhouse, who entered the game in the 10th.

It took rallies in the eighth and ninth innings to give the Indians an extra lease on the game. Dave Pope's pinch homer with none on started the drive in the eighth. Al Smith walked and came home on Bobby Ayala's double in the same inning. In the ninth Al Rosen, walked, took second on a ground out, and scored on Dave Philley's single.

Both managers flooded the field with players in an attempt to swing the decision. Cleveland's Al Lopez used every available man except part of his pitching staff.

The A's Bill Wilson hit a two-run homer in the second after Elmer Valo had walked.

Starter Bob Feller, seeking the honor of being the first pitcher to win a Cleveland club's 100th victory, bowed out for a pinch hitter after hurling the first six innings. Not since the 1946 Boston Red Sox won 104 has an American league team topped the 100-games-won mark, although the Yanks won 99 last year when they copped the flag easily.

More than six tons of hefty Hawkeye football beef is present twice daily on Iowa's practice field for the current grid workouts.

According to the official Big Ten weight certification procedure, the 62 gridders weighed in at 12,084 pounds.

The heaviest Hawks average 195 pounds. They range from a pair of "pony" halfbacks—159-pound Phil Leahy, Clinton, and 164-pound Edean Matheson, Lake Mills—on up to goliaths Jim Freeman, Iowa City, and Dan Jacobs, Marengo. Freeman and Jacobs both weighed in at 234, without full football equipment, to top the heavies.

The weighing-in was done in accordance to a recent Big Ten directive requiring all member institutions to weigh their players on Sept. 8, and then use the recorded weights throughout the entire season in programs and news releases.

Two-hundred-pounders were plentiful. Twenty-nine of the men fell into that grouping.

If Evy fields his current top practice eleven, Hawkeye foes will face a team that averages 203 pounds.

The line: Freeman, 234; Gilliam, 178; Swedberg, 217; Cummins, 229; Hall, 217; Jones, 223; and Lawson, 206—averages 215, while the Broeder-Smith-Reichow-Vincent backfield averages 182.

Line play apparently is tough on former Iowa quarterbacks. Bill Reichow, the oldest man on the squad although a sophomore in competition, was shifted to tackle. He fractured a shoulder bone Wednesday. Terry Moran, letter-winner at quarterback last fall, was behind Cal Jones at right guard. But he injured a knee cartilage and is out indefinitely. The third-shifted quarterback is Lou Matykiewicz, No. 2 team left end. He's keeping his fingers crossed.

Visiting sports writers continue to look over the Iowa squad as they tour the Big Ten football camps. Latest ones: Leo Fischer, sports editor of the Chicago American, on his 23d annual tour; Bert McGrane, Des Moines Register; and Dick Cullum, Minneapolis Tribune. Yet to come are Waddy Spoelstra, Detroit News; and Wilfrid Smith, Chicago Tribune, who are expected about Sept. 20.

Conference Athletic Directors Vote No Change in Recruiting

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten Conference athletic directors voted Thursday to retain its present recruiting regulations but decided to look further into its present plan of financial aid to athletes.

The directors, who closed a two-day meeting in conjunction with Western conference faculty representatives, said no further recommendations or suggestions were made in regard to the recruiting of athletes because the directors considered that no substantial changes from the present rules were necessary.

However, Kenneth L. Wilson, conference commissioner, was instructed by the directors to study a method of "cut-off dates" beyond which the Big Ten's program of proper recruiting could not go. A spokesman said this was intended to stop

Orioles Trip Yanks, 1-0; Coleman Sees No-Hitter Ruined

BALTIMORE (AP)—A lucky single in the eighth inning by Enos Slaughter was the only hit the New York Yankees got Thursday off Joe Coleman who pitched the Baltimore Orioles to a 1-0 victory.

Slaughter hit a grounder right at second baseman Bobby Young to start the eighth inning. But the ball took a sudden bad hop and went over Young's head into right field for a single.

Slaughter was forced at second by the next batter.

The 32-year-old Coleman let only two Yankees get as far as second base. The only time New York had two men on base at the same time was in the ninth when Coleman put them there. He left them there by forcing the dangerous Yogi Berra and Irv Noren to fly out.

Coleman walked five and struck out two in his steady performance.

Baltimore won the game in the fourth when Clint Courtney singled to score Dick Kryhoski from second.

'We Won, That's What Counts,' Coleman Says

BALTIMORE (AP)—"As long as we won, that's what counts," Joe Coleman said Thursday after an unlucky bounce cheated him of a no-hit game against the New York Yankees.

A ball hit by Enos Slaughter in the eighth inning headed straight for second baseman Bobby Young then took a bad hop into right field for the only Yankee hit in their 1-0 loss to the Baltimore Orioles.

"It was the easiest play in the world," Young said afterward. "It was a routine grounder, but after two or three bounces it hit something hard and hopped over my head. I just nicked it with my glove as it went by. "It was a crime. If anybody deserved a no-hitter, Joe did today."

The Yankees were inclined to agree.

"He pitched a splendid game," said manager Casey Stengel, for whom the loss was a severe blow to the Yanks' pennant hopes. "There were good hitters in our lineup, but he weathered the storm. You've got to give credit where credit is due."

Slaughter, in effect, said he was sorry he had to be a spoiler, but at the same time pointed out a ball player has to keep trying all the time.
