Mendes-France Proposes German Treaty

Includes Plan For Rearming W. Germany

STRAUSBURG, France (AP) - French Premier Pierre Mendes-France Monday called for a treaty to reunite West Germany with France and other eastern European countries, and said that West Germany would be granted a military force if it agreed to control the Baltic States. "

The move would include Britain, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Liechtenstein, he said. He presented the plan to France's government and met private citizens in the 18-nation NATO Treaty.

He has never said how he would link West Germany's border to the NATO pact that limits the United States in West Germany's expansion, he added. The speech marks the first public move by any West German official to link his country to the Western alliance.

Link on Fighting Forces

The plan would give "a complete fighting forces of West Germany," Mendes said. It would provide troops for Western European defense, he said.

Construction of such a federation would be organized and supervised by the Council of Europe

The new alliance would be linked "so that we would think that we were a single department of a single force of defense," Mendes said.

Construction of some form of a common army would be immediately supervised and programmed.

"The new alliance would be linked so that we would think that we were a single department of a single force of defense," Mendes said.

The plan, which he plans to discuss with Britain's Prime Minister Sir Louis Macmillan, would also be discussed with other countries of the Common Market. Choose Hosiery Styles To Match New Fashions

In due BLACKFOOT
No matter what shoe, skirt, suit, or dress you wear, hosiery is one of the most important accessories that you can use to make your outfit look neat and fresh.

There are many styles of hosiery available today, from the simple and conservative to the more daring and extravagant. The choice of hosiery depends on the occasion, the weather, and your personal style.

When choosing hosiery, consider the following:

- Color: Match the color of your hosiery to your skin tone and outfit. Darker colors are generally more flattering for a variety of skin tones.
- Texture: Consider the texture of your hosiery. Some hosiery is designed to be sheer, while others are thicker and more opaque. The texture of your hosiery should complement the outfit you are wearing.
- Pattern: Choose hosiery with a pattern that matches the style of your outfit. For example, if you are wearing a patterned dress, choose hosiery with a similar pattern.

Remember, hosiery is a great way to add a touch of personality to your outfit. Choose hosiery that makes you feel confident and comfortable.
