SUI To Expand Dormitory Capacity

Ceremony Opens New School Year

2,500 Students, Educators Hear Hancher's Charge

By KIRK BOYD

President Virgil Hancher formally opened the 1954-55 SUI school year at induction ceremonies Thursday, asking students to "make the most of these years."

A crowd of about 2,500 heard Hancher give the short induction speech from the west terrace of Old Capitol.

The weather for the ceremony was clear, as it has been for all 14 inductions during Hancher's tenure.

"Universities," Hancher said, "stand for the discovery and dissemination of truth, the truth that makes men free."

Explains Goal

"Universities strive to distinguish fact from fancy, relevancy from irrelevancy, the plain unvarnished truth from enticing rumor or hate-distilled propaganda."

"Universities are the servants of all that is good and great in our civilization."

Hancher and the deans and directors of SUI walked double-file from Old Capitol and formed one line across the terrace.

Prof. Robert Michaelsen, director of the SUI school of religion, opened the ceremony with the invocation, praying for "all who seek to learn and know."

Notes New Epoch

Hancher opened his speech by noting that a new epoch was opening in the lives of some students.

He continued: "Here amidst these scenes of beauty are laboratories and libraries, books and balances, teachers and students from whom you can learn to be wise and cultured citizens, heirs of a long tradition, offspring of a great civilization and a great culture."

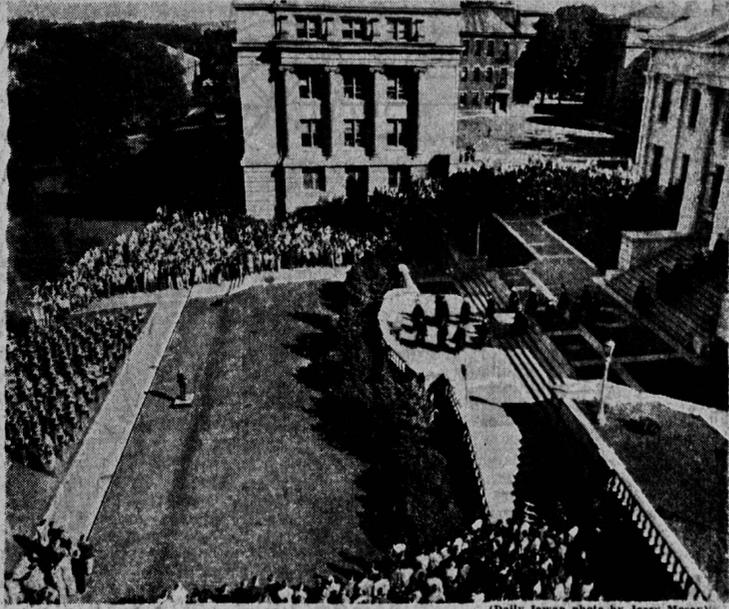

Hancher ended his speech by giving the induction pledge to the faculty and students:

Pledges Loyalty

"I hereby pledge life-long loyalty to the ideals of scholarship and character and of right and justice, exemplified in the life of this university, this commonwealth and nation."

The university band played the "Star-Spangled Banner" while the United States flag and the Old Gold pennant were being raised over Old Capitol. It ended the event playing "Old Gold."

The band was making its first public appearance under new director Frederick Ebbs, who came to SUI this year from Baldwin-Wallace college.

SUI PRESIDENT VIRGIL HANCHER and Prof. Robert Michaelsen, director of the school of religion, lead the university deans and directors down the steps of Old Capitol Thursday morning during the annual induction ceremonies. Approximately 2,500 students and faculty members attended the event. The ceremony opened the 96th consecutive school year at SUI.

Convicted Colonel Ordered Dismissed From U.S. Army

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP) — Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, a veteran of two wars, Thursday was ordered dismissed from the army for collaborating with his Communist captors in Korea.

An 11-officer court-martial that convicted him Wednesday ordered also that he forfeit all pay and allowances.

Fleming, white-haired at 46, vowed to "do everything I can to clear my name."

His civilian attorney, Alfred E. LaFrance of Racine, Wis., president-elect of the Wisconsin State Bar Assn., asserted the case will be pressed to "the highest reviewing authority" in an effort to reverse the guilty verdict.

1st Officer Charged

Fleming is the first American army officer to be court-martialed on specific charges of collaborating with the enemy, although some officers were tried for aiding the enemy in the Civil War.

The court-martial of eight colonels and three lieutenant colonels deliberated 12 hours before fixing Fleming's punishment.

Under military law, Fleming's army rank and pay will remain unchanged until the proceedings are reviewed by higher boards.

Ike Urges Voters To Elect Republican Congress Again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Eisenhower Thursday night sounded a fighting call for election of another Republican congress and declared loss to the Democrats would tend toward "endless political maneuverings, stagnation and inaction."

Slugging hard for the first time in the congressional election campaign, the President told a political rally in Hollywood Bowl that recapture of the legislative branch by the opposition party would lead to a "field day" in Washington politics.

The chief executive voiced confidence the Republicans will maintain control of congress in the November elections because, as he put it, "we have delivered" on the promises he made to the people in the 1952 campaign.

Reviewed Administration

In his prepared text, Eisenhower reviewed the first 20 months of his administration and cited reasons — "the compelling reasons" — why completion of this program requires the election of a Republican-led congress.

Among other things, he declared, "we at last deal effectively with the Communist conspiracy in the United States" — and, taking a swat at the Truman administration, he added that the Eisenhower administration "does not look upon the Communist menace as a red herring."

For what he termed effective control of that menace the President gave the GOP-run 83rd congress much of the credit.

"Clean Government"

Eisenhower also declared that since he took office there is "clean government" in Washington, that taxes have been reduced $7,400,000,000 — the biggest cut in the history of the United States — that federal spending has been slashed by more than 11 billion dollars, and that the nation now has a prosperous economy that isn't based either on war or "the froth of inflation."

In another poke at the Democrats and the tax scandals of the Truman administration days, Eisenhower said, "The tax laws have been applied without political favoritism and without corruption."

In the foreign affairs field, the President had this to say: "We have brought realism where there was wishful thinking. We have brought frankness, candor and force to foreign policy which at last insists on distinguishing words from deeds in the conduct of the affairs of the world."

On Natural Defense

And on national defense the President declared: "Today, at a cost of billions less, we have an armed strength far more efficient and better organized than ever before — a defense stronger and readier in peacetime than it has ever been."

Eisenhower flew to Los Angeles from the Pacific Northwest on the third leg on a three-day aerial campaign tour of Montana, Washington, Oregon and California.

Prison Riot In Missouri Ends; 4 Dead

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The most disastrous riot in its history was brought under control Thursday at the fire blackened Missouri state penitentiary.

Four prisoners were killed and 30 other prisoners and three guards were injured in a savage 15-hour revolt led by a small group of incorrigible prisoners.

Seven prison buildings were destroyed and three others damaged as the cursing, shouting convicts set out on a path of destruction.

Preliminary estimates of the damage by prison officials ranged from three to five million dollars.

Prompt Mobilization

Prompt mobilization of nearly 1,000 state highway troopers, policemen from neighboring cities and Missouri national guardsmen was credited with breaking the back of the riot and preventing a wholesale break by many of the 3,285 inmates.

Only about 300 prisoners were actually involved in the abortive break for freedom.

Convicts gave many reasons for the abrupt uprising, but a guard said he believed it stemmed from dissatisfaction with green watermelon served at supper Wednesday night. Other convicts said the cause was poor food generally.

Whatever the reason, the trouble began about 6 p.m. in the maximum security hall. Within a matter of minutes 81 convicts seized four guards and the disturbance flared into the prison yard.

Driven Back

The convicts were driven back by gunfire from advancing highway patrol troopers, who just three months ago had been alerted to possible mobilization for just such an emergency.

But it wasn't until Thursday morning — 15 hours later — that the last of the sullen, embittered convict rioters were back in their cells.

Between the beginning and the end of the outbreak, prisoners set fire to buildings, wrecked cells, windows and furniture and flooded cell blocks.

But despite the ugly mood of the prisoners, the four guards taken hostage were released or escaped alive. One made his escape when friendly convicts supplied him with an inmate's cap and shirt and escorted him to the main entrance.

Japanese Blame U.S. In Fisherman's Death

TOKYO (Friday) (AP) — A Japanese fisherman who was dusted by radioactive ash from a U.S. hydrogen bomb — and became the focal point of tension between Japan and the United States — died Thursday night.

Japanese doctors listed Aikichi Kuboyama, 40, as probably the world's first hydrogen bomb casualty. They said he died of jaundice brought on by radiation sickness and a generally weakened condition.

Dr. Shigenobu Kuriyama, vice director of Tokyo Nationalist hospital, said flatly "radiation sickness was the cause of death."

Fishermen Dusted

U.S. doctors have said Kuboyama and other fishermen from the Lucky Dragon, accidentally dusted by an H-bomb blast off Bikini March 1, could be suffering from jaundice resulting from blood transfusions. Japanese doctors challenged this view and refused to allow the Americans to make thorough examinations of the victims.

U.S. Ambassador John M. Allison issued a statement saying: "I speak on behalf of the government and the people of the U.S. in expressing extreme sorrow and regret at this most unhappy event."

Reaction Expected

In Washington, a spokesman for the Japanese embassy said Kuboyama's death would bring a highly emotional and sharp reaction from the Japanese.

The death unleashed another great wave of bitterness in Japan toward the U.S. Radios and television stations carried a heavy flow of news on the death and many commentators blamed the U.S.

Newspapers, which have made much of the Lucky Dragon case, did not publish Thursday, a holiday, but their reaction also is expected to be sharp.

Kuboyama's death lowered the spirits of the other 22 members of the Lucky Dragon crew still undergoing treatment in Tokyo hospitals.

Louisiana Police Get Training in Obstetrics

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Something new has been added to Louisiana State Police training — a two-hour course in obstetrics.

The reason, says Col. F. T. Moore, assistant police superintendent, is that many troopers have had to serve as midwives "at least once in their careers," and the new course should be a big help.

Troop B headquarters just outside New Orleans on the highway to Baton Rouge leads the diaper derby with five babies born there in the last two years.

Weapons Taken from Rioters

(AP Wirephoto)

SOME OF THE WEAPONS TAKEN from the cells of rioting prisoners during a shakedown at the Missouri State prison in Jefferson City are examined by state trooper M. B. Roberts. The weapons — clubs, scissars, sledges, and iron bars — were confiscated during a search of the rioters' cellblocks following Wednesday night's bloody riots in the prison.

To Prepare Park Lawn For Coeds

Demands for dormitory accommodations will force three major changes in operating SUI's dormitory system for the 1955-56 school year, Ted Rehder, director of SUI dormitories and dining services, announced Thursday.

Effective in September, 1955, most double rooms in Currier, Hillcrest and Quadrangle dormitories will be converted to accommodate three students and single rooms will be converted to double, Rehder said.

Quadrangle men's dormitory will become a "boarding dormitory" where all residents will take their meals. It is expected that the Park Lawn apartment building will be utilized for accommodations for women students, he explained.

Reason for the changes is the greatly increased demand for dormitory housing, Rehder stated. "And all our expectations are for an even greater demand each year for several years ahead," he continued, citing a recent national survey which anticipates that by 1970 the college-age population in Iowa will be 157 per cent of the 1954 figure.

Changes 'Temporary'

"These major changes in dormitory operations and the utilization of Park Lawn for women students are considered temporary arrangements pending construction of new dormitory space to catch up with the demand," Rehder emphasized.

SUI has been authorized to construct a 250-man addition to Hillcrest and a 600-woman dormitory near Currier hall. Rehder said, though, that it will be at least two years before the first student can move into either building.

"The demand for boarding has been so great this year that we could have filled our present boarding dormitories twice over," Rehder stated, explaining that at the same time the demand for non-boarding accommodations has dropped off sharply.

A smaller dormitory, South Quadrangle, will be continued as a non-boarding dormitory to partially accommodate men students who work board jobs or have other reasons for not taking their meals in the dormitory, he said.

600 More Accommodations

Changing the larger rooms in Currier, Hillcrest and the Quadrangle from double to triple occupancy will create approximately 600 additional accommodations, and conversion of Park Lawn will provide approximately 200 additional accommodations for women students, Rehder estimated.

Each room will continue to have innerspring mattresses on all beds, study facilities for each occupant and a certain amount of space for clothes storage.

Rates Not Revealed

The dormitories are required by law to be self-liquidating, and no state tax funds can be used in their construction or operation. Dormitory rates for the 1955-56 school year have not been made public.

"The major operating changes in the dormitory system are necessary to meet demands placed upon the system by the students and their parents," President Virgil M. Hancher observed in commenting on the changes. "Some re-adjustments will be necessary for all concerned, but that the changes will provide good accommodations for more of the many students who want to come to the university is agreed and deemed desirable," Hancher commented.

Quadmen Irked By Short Notice

Bill Isenberger, A4, Sioux City, president of the Quadrangle general council, made the following statement at the close of a two-hour special council meeting Thursday night:

"It was definitely the feeling of the Quadrangle council that the university administration did not give the Quadrangle association full and fair consideration in reaching its decision to convert the Quadrangle into a boarding dormitory."

Council Halts Roan Action For Present

No further city council action will be taken "at this time" in the case of City Manager Peter F. Roan, who was charged in Ft. Madison Sept. 16, with driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident and driving without a valid license.

After a day-long investigation at Ft. Madison the council decided Thursday night that the charges "do not justify further council action at this time."

Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer issued the following prepared statement:

"All the members of the council, after personally investigating the charges against City Manager Peter F. Roan in Ft. Madison and talking with the various persons involved are of the opinion that the facts which we have obtained do not justify further council action at this time."

Mercer said that the council members met with the plaintiff, Mrs. Jack Feichter, and inspected her car which was allegedly sideswiped by Roan's car while it was parked in front of her home.

Mrs. Feichter told the council, the mayor said, that reports of the accident were "all distorted." Mercer added that an inspection of her car showed only a very slight scratch.

The council also spoke with a leading banker and a prominent contractor who told them that Roan did not seem intoxicated when they were with him in the Ft. Madison Elks club a short time before the accident.

The mayor said that the council will await the outcome of a hearing scheduled for October 11, before taking any action on the matter.

Hawkeye Pep Rally Scheduled Tonight

Iowa's Hawkeyes will receive a rousing sendoff for Saturday's Michigan State game at a pep rally tonight at 7:30 p.m. on the west approach to Old Capitol.

The football squad will be introduced and Captain Binkey Broeder will speak on behalf of the team.

Al Waxenburg, A3, Moline, captain of the cheerleaders, announced that three new cheers and a new song will be introduced at the pep session.

John Elman, A2, Des Moines, as master of ceremonies will introduce the players.

The university marching band under the direction of Prof. Frederick Ebbs will play at intervals in the program.

The pep meeting will be followed by a record dance at the River room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

The Hawk-I pep club is sponsoring the rally and is promoting the dance along with the student council.

RUSSIA ACCUSES IRAN

LONDON (AP) — Russia has accused Iran — which recently announced discovery of a Communist spy ring in its armed forces — of starting a "hostile campaign in relation to the USSR."

28 Dead in German Jet Fuel Tank Explosion

BITBURG, Germany (AP) — An underground American military jet fuel storage tank blew up near here Thursday with a mighty roar. At least 28 persons are believed dead. Upwards of 40 others were reported injured. The dead were all believed to be Frenchmen and Germans. German police said no American victims have been reported. The tank — built into a former bunker of Germany's Siegfried line — exploded as it was being filled during dedication ceremonies.

Chou Says 7th Fleet Must Leave Formosa

TOKYO (Friday) (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai of Red China was quoted by the Peiping radio Thursday as saying the U.S. 7th fleet must withdraw from Formosa strait in order to relieve international tension. He reiterated that Formosa must be "liberated." An English language broadcast gave only a paraphrase of Chou's remarks before the People's Congress in Peiping. But the paraphrase was far tamer than a Chinese language version as translated in Tokyo earlier. U.S. officials have declared that if the Communists seize Formosa they must first run over the 7th fleet.

Nationalists Score in Formosan 'Little War'

TAIPEH, Formosa (Friday) (AP) — The "Little War" along Red China's southeast coast roared into its 21st day Thursday with more Nationalist air blows and heavy artillery duels. A defense ministry communique said Nationalist warplanes damaged four Red gunboats of about 200 tons and left a 1,000-ton landing craft ablaze and listing in a raid on Fotan bay, 30 miles southwest of Amoy. The rubbled Red port of Amoy itself was hit by flights of light B25 bombers with what the communique called "excellent results."

Girl To Reap Cotton Instead of Vegetables

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) Eight-year-old Ann Dexter decided she wanted her own garden this year and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dexter, were happy to let their daughter go down to the store and pick out her own seed.

While helping his daughter clean out her garden this week, Dexter noticed some of the blooms on the plants looked peculiar. He checked further and found several cotton plants were growing in the garden.

Ann couldn't explain how she got the cotton seed but she's waiting anxiously now to harvest the crop.

Traffic Violations Check Yields 87

Of 87 traffic violations caught in Iowa City, Wednesday, the most common failures were lack of tail lights. As part of a statewide auto check, 240 vehicles were inspected here.

Three local patrolmen, J. L. Smith, J. A. Bertram, and R. J. Reddick, issued nine summons at Riverside drive and River street. The tickets require police or justice court appearance on charges including unsafe vehicles, driving without licenses, and improper registration of vehicles.

In addition, 51 equipment tickets requiring immediate repairs and reports to the safety department were issued.

At 35 checkpoints throughout the state, 16,592 cars were examined while 297 summons, 22 warning tickets, and 2,340 equipment tickets were issued.

Chief of the highway patrol David Herrick, announced that similar checks will be administered within the next few weeks.

Newspaperman Joins Journalism Faculty

William Zima, a member of the Des Moines Register and Tribune staff the past six years, has been named to the faculty of the SUI school of journalism.

Zima will teach courses in copyreading and editing, editorial problems and policies, and backgrounding the news. He will also serve as assistant publisher of The Daily Iowan.

Zima succeeds Charles E. Barnum, who was appointed recently to the faculty at Northwestern university.

The new journalism instructor received his M.A. degree in journalism from SUI in June, 1947. He worked two years with the Chicago city news bureau before joining the Register and Tribune staff.

Zima is married and the father of an eight-month-old daughter. Mrs. Zima, the former Jayanne Wilt, received a B.M. degree in music at SUI in 1950.

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR. Associated Press News Analyst

United States policy on the rearmament of Germany apparently has shaken down to the belief that it's Europe's business to decide how it is to be done provided they decide quickly.

If they do not, something will be done anyway. France realizes just as well as the U.S. and Britain that Germany is going to be rearmed. But she stands paralyzed before the prospect.

Want International Structure Britain and the U.S., on the other hand, are determined that this rearmament shall take place within an international structure rather than unilaterally, and in time to be of value in the mutual deterrence movement directed against Soviet Russia.

German rearmament would come very slowly if it came, as it did before, as an evasion of the 1945 armistice. And it would be in constant danger of perversion to old-time nationalism.

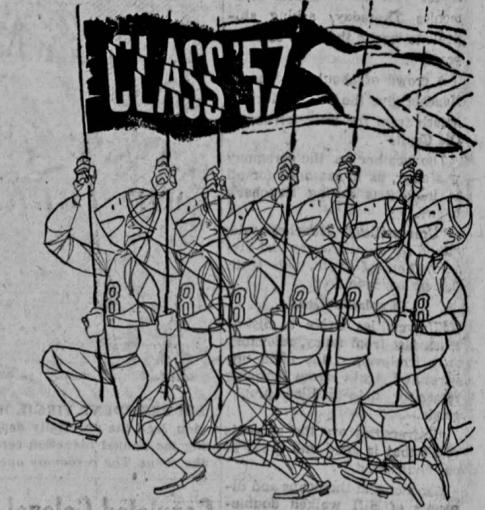

General Gruenther, commander in chief of allied forces in Europe under the North Atlantic Treaty organization, has pointedly reminded the French that in seeking too many safeguards against Germany they are creating a situation which might flare back. Paper agreements, he says in effect, are not worth anything, and real security comes from mutual confidence.

Bring in Germany Germany should be brought into cooperation before the wrangling gives her an inferiority complex, and while she still wants it.

"The dominant thought in London and Washington seems to be that if an agreement is not reached within two or three months—and no great hopes are being expressed for next week's London conference—Britain and the U.S. will have to act.

This, presumably, would mean treaty arrangements between them and Germany granting Bonn almost complete autonomy in the British and American occupation zones, with British and American troops maintaining their positions and helping Germany to rearm.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Cross, Oelwein, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Mary Dee, to Mr. Peter J. Spanjers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Spanjers of Milbank, S.D.

Miss Cross is a junior in the college of liberal arts at SUI. She is employed by The Daily Iowan.

Mr. Spanjers was graduated from SUI in February, 1954. He is head football coach at the Toledo public school.

The wedding will take place Nov. 27 at the Sacred Heart church in Oelwein.

Club Women To Entertain Student Group

New foreign students will be entertained by the University club Sunday with a tour of Iowa City and Herbert Hoover's birthplace in West Branch, followed by dinner at club member's homes.

Mrs. Dewey Stuit is chairman of the day's program, which is designed as a welcome for the students to Iowa City. Her committee includes Mrs. F. M. Dawson, Mrs. Robert Ebel, Mrs. Norman Nelson and Mrs. Hunter Rouse.

Club members and their families will pick up the students at the International Center at 3 p.m. and provide transportation for them.

After the tour members of the club will be hostesses for dinner at their homes. Each hostess will entertain two students.

Hostesses for dinner will be Mrs. C. P. Berg, Mrs. Gerald Else, Mrs. Joe Howe, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Lloyd Knowler, Mrs. Albert Luper, Mrs. Gordon Marsh, Mrs. Harold McCarty, Mrs. John Mercer, Mrs. A. K. Miller.

Mrs. Chester Miller, Mrs. Leslie Moeller, Mrs. Ralph Ojemann, Mrs. W. H. Lyle, Mrs. A. C. Marks, Mrs. Avery Lambert, Mrs. L. G. Lawyer, Mrs. Phillip Morgan, Mrs. Mason Ladd, Mrs. Sam Walker, Mrs. Merle Hale, Mrs. John Ward, Mrs. P. W. Herrick, Mrs. E. T. Peterson, Mrs. Louis Zopf, Mrs. John Russ and Miss Clara Hinton.

Miss Perfect Profile To Be Chosen Oct. 21

Miss Perfect Profile and her attendants will be chosen by a board of judges representing men's housing units at the annual Profile Preview style show Thursday, Oct. 21 in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Applications to appear in the style show have been given out and additional applications may be obtained at Currier hall or the office of student affairs. The applications are due Thursday, Sept. 30, and may be left at Currier hall, Westlawn, or the office of student affairs.

Only freshmen and transfer women are eligible to compete in the fashion show. They model their own outfits, ranging from pajamas to evening gowns.

Each applicant should describe on the application three outfits she would like to model. The committee will notify her which outfit to wear for tryouts. Tryouts will be held on Oct. 13, 14 and 15. About 60 finalists will be selected at this time.

Five main categories of clothes will be modeled at the style show, including pajamas and robes, sportswear, semi-dressy clothes, dressy clothes, and formal or cocktail dresses. Selections of the models will be based upon clothes that are suitable on the SUI campus.

Ann Baker, A4, Iowa City, is chairman of the show. Members of her committee include Jane Walker, C4, Waterloo; Miriam Mogle, A2, Winfield, Kan.; Judy Fry, A3, Cedar Rapids; Irene Livingston, A4, Iowa City, and Pauline Reuban, A4, Davenport.

"All Aboard for College" was last year's show theme. Kay Taylor, N2, Tulsa, Okla., was chosen Miss Perfect Profile of 1953.

Currier Hall Plans New Student Show

A New-Student Talent Show on Oct. 3 will complete the Currier Hall orientation program.

The talent show, under the supervision of Roxie Beisner, A3, Tripoli, will be held in Currier south-dining room at 10:30 p.m. on that date.

New students, freshmen women and transfer students will participate in the show. Tryouts will be held Wednesday and Thursday at 10:30 p.m. in north recreation room.

Currier orientation activities this fall have included cozies, a serenade by Currier residents and a tea for new students and their parents.

Other board members, in addition to Miss Beisner, are Margaret Rickett, N2, Mt. Pleasant; Jane Reimann, A4, Hull; JoAnn Schafroth, A3, Corning; Jody Rankin, A3, Tracy; Jo Linder, A3, Pomeroy; Helen Wandling, A4, Marengo and Phyllis Fleming, A3, Garner.

Doctors Convene For Grad Course

More than 40 physicians from Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska and California attended a two-day postgraduate course in pediatrics which ended Thursday at SUI's college of medicine.

Guest speakers for the course were Doctors Clark D. West, associate professor at the Children's Hospital Research foundation in Cincinnati; Edward D. Greenwood of the Menninger foundation in Topeka, Kan., and Prof. Carl H. Smith, of clinical pediatrics at Cornell Medical center in New York, N.Y.

Members of the SUI staff participating in the program were Doctors Robert G. Carney, professor of dermatology; I. V. Ponsetti, associate professor of orthopedics; Charles H. Read and Robert G. Frazier, assistant professors of pediatrics; James Odell, associate in pediatrics, and members of the department of internal medicine and the cardiovascular laboratory.

Morrall's Sore Throat Frightens Spartan Gridders

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A sore throat threw a brief scare into the Michigan State football camp Thursday.

Earl Morrall, the first string quarterback, was in the college hospital with a sore throat Wednesday night and also will spend Thursday night in the hospital.

Dr. James S. Feurig, team physician, said at first it was feared Morrall might be in for a bout of tonsillitis. He was allowed to practice and ordered to work up a good sweat.

Feurig later said Morrall was fit and ready.

Meanwhile, coach Duffy Daugherty announced his 38-man traveling roster for the Iowa game Saturday.

Phils Top Pirates Twice, 7-6, 4-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies beat the Pittsburgh Pirates twice Thursday—for 4 wins in 22 hours—winning a suspended game of Aug. 15 with a run in the ninth 7-6 and then taking the regulation game 4-2 on a three run homer in the first inning by Stan Lopata.

Suspended Game of Aug. 15:
Pittsburgh 000 200 220—6 12 0
Philadelph. 200 301 001—7 13 2

Regular Game:

THREE KEY TV MEN in the televising of Saturday's SUI-Michigan State football battle check some of the complicated equipment involved in the national telecast. Engineering supervisor Jack Stoddy, producer-director Charles Russhon and associate producer James Condon arrived in town Thursday to begin the big setting up job.

Broeder Kicking Again as Back Injury Improves

"Iowa team spirit is very high," Iowa Coach Forest Evashevski said Thursday, but added that the second team has not progressed as rapidly as he had hoped, so his principle weakness is in depth.

Still hampered by injuries, the squad continued work on defensive and offensive formations, with Don Dobrino and Jerry Reichow doing the passing. Dobrino was impressive with his placing of passes.

Binky Broeder showed some of his 1953 punting style as he booted several long ones down the field. Roger Weigmann and Jim Freeman joined Broeder in practicing punts, kick offs, and points after touchdowns.

Practice Tapers Off

The squad quit work an hour early Thursday, tapering off toward Saturday's climax with Michigan State. Just a year ago in Iowa stadium, brash freshman Michigan State crashed the gate of Big Ten football with a win over Iowa, then went on to share the championship, get the Rose Bowl vote and the victory at Pasadena.

Now the swift and sturdy Spartans, despite loss of 16 players from the Rose Bowl squad and a revised coaching staff, will shoot at a fast start against an Iowa team which wants to live up to the glowing pre-season ratings.

Kickoff time is 2:30 p.m. (CST), an hour later than usual and a nearly full stadium is expected. The game is telecast nationally on the ABC-NCAA program, first complete TV showing from Iowa stadium.

A Critical Opener

It's a critical game for both teams and one which will possibly affect later Saturday afternoon developments. For Iowa, it is the first of the terrific schedule of seven conference games, while MSC wants to add to its four-year record of only two losses in the last 36 games and 14-1 vs. Big Ten teams.

Speed and precision of the Spartans is a chief concern of Iowa. LeRoy Bolden is a bolt-ing halfback who frets at being halted, and Earl Morrall camp pass well. Fast backs and a mobile line, anchored by veterans Randy Schreengost, Ferris Hallmark and Henry Bullough, make the Michigan State team very effective.

Iowa has a first team of ability but if the weather is hot, the line will suffer because of lack of adequate replacements. The backfield is well set, probably with enough reserves.

Iowa Backs Good

For yardage, Iowa will depend upon Captain Binky Broeder, Eddie Vincent, Earl Smith and the greatly-improved passing of Jerry Reichow. Line standouts are Calvin Jones, guard; Frank Gilliam, left end; and Rodger Swedberg, tackle.

It's not a game between traditional rivals, in fact the only previous meeting was in the 1953 opener which Spartans profited by Iowa errors, 21-7. But with 48 road stations carrying the game and probably millions of persons seeing the telecast, the game will be seen and heard by an Iowa record total of individuals. At least 50,000 actually will be in the stands.

Irish Train for Long Runs

By JERRY LISKA

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — New Notre Dame coach Terry Brennan, who once started Army with a 97-yard touchdown run on the opening kickoff, is grooming his Fighting Irish also to go for the long ones.

Instead of chewing up yardage like the Irish powerhouses of his predecessor, Frank Leahy, young Brennan will place the accent on speed when he unveils his first Notre Dame team against Texas Saturday.

The two fastest men on a fast Irish squad will be at the two halfbacks against the Longhorns, Joe Heap, a seasoned, slippery left half, and sophomore Jim Norse, more elusive than Heap, at right half.

Backfield Shuffled

The switch last week of Morse, a 180-pounder, from understudying Heap to the No. 1 right half spot, was a tip-off that Brennan didn't find a "bread-and-butter" replacement for graduated Johnny Lattner.

With nobody to run the "Lattner play," the three or four yard smash for first down, Brennan will keep pressing Heap and Morse for the go-all-the-way play.

Bothered at Fullback

When and if injured Paul Reynolds and Dick Fitzgerald, both seasoned backs with great speed, return to good health it will enhance the break-away threat of the Irish.

Fitzgerald, former halfback, now is at fullback — Brennan's most troublesome position. Another newly-made fullback is Don Schaefer, who played both quarterback and halfback last season.

Sports Views

By Gene Ingle—Daily Iowan Sports Editor

It looks as if everyone wants to get into the act of picking Saturday's football winners—and we're no exception—so let's take what could be the top game of the season—Iowa vs. Michigan State.

After watching the Hawkeyes in practice for almost a month now and not seeing Michigan State once, one is, or should be, expected to have prejudice toward Iowa. And it's true.

At first, the Hawks looked disappointing. We thought they were tremendously overrated. In fact, coach Forest Evashevski still thinks so. But as the practice season got well under way, the squad improved—both as a team and individually. True, many injuries were sprinkled throughout the first few weeks of practice. And some boys are still out—Bill Reichow and George Kress being the key men still nursing injuries.

Reichow said Thursday he expects to miss the first two games for certain. And after that—he doesn't know. Kress will probably miss the entire season.

But, as the weather got cooler and Evy bore down, slowly the stragglers—the boys who were on the borderline—began to come around. They showed poise, more speed and more ruggedness. They began to look more like a football team.

And Thursday, one got the impression from watching the first two teams alternate on offense against the third team that here is one of the finer teams in the conference—possibly in the Big Ten. A team that may have been overrated at first but has been whipped into shape by one of the better coaches in the country—Evashevski.

Evy said Thursday he would like to have had more practice time. But, pray tell us, what coach wouldn't. We imagine Duffy Daugherty, new Spartan coach, could tell us the same thing.

We have extremely high regard for Daugherty's Rose Bowl champions. He has almost the same team back that won the Pasadena classic last New Year's day. However, Daugherty is new at the East Lansing school. He has a completely new staff. Evashevski is going into his third year here at Iowa. He's worked with his staff for two years—they're coordinated to his ways and methods of coaching.

We think this will be the deciding factor in Saturday's game. As far as we can see, the Spartans and the Hawkeyes are about as even on paper as they possibly can be. Michigan State is more experienced, has greater depth. Daugherty can easily field 33 top men at one time. Evashevski will be lucky if he has 22.

Michigan State is rolling. They're going to take up where they left off—winning football games. We think Iowa will do the same.

We think Iowa has the edge on backs. With three fullbacks who could make the first string of any Big Ten team, two top quarterbacks in Jerry Reichow and Don Dobrino and one that rates close to the top—Kenny Ploen, plus two of the swiftest backs in the conference—Earl Smith and Eddie Vincent, how can you lose?

But how about Iowa's line, you say. Let's face it. Iowa's first string line is tops. The second team line could stand up against the mediocre Big Ten teams without much trouble. However, Evy said Thursday that his No. 2 line hasn't come along as fast as he expected it to.

We mentioned previously that Iowa has the edge on backs. You probably immediately thought of Leroy Bolden, the block-busting fullback from MSC. Don't count him out. He's as tough as they come.

We also think the Hawks have the edge on conversion kickers. Rog Weigmann and Jim Freeman, backed up by Binky Broeder, can compete with the best of them.

All in all, it looks from this angle that it won't be the teams that will win the game completely Saturday—as it never is. Since we put emphasis on the ability of the Iowa coaching staff to come through, we pick Iowa to tip Michigan State, 20-19.

You've heard of cover girls. Well, Iowa has a cover boy—Cal Jones—on the cover of this week's Sports Illustrated. An extremely fine job of close-up work by Time photographer Mark Kauffman. Incidentally, in the same issue, Herman Hickman, former Yale gridiron coach, picks Iowa over Michigan State, dubiously.

Giardello To Risk Middleweight Rank In 'Warmup' Bout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Joey Giardello risks his ranking as number one challenger for the middleweight title in a nationally televised (NBC) fight tonight against Ralph (Tiger) Jones. Philadelphia Joe is hoping the Tiger turns out to be a pussy cat.

Giardello and Jones are scheduled to go 10 rounds at the arena in a show promoted by Herman Taylor in conjunction with the International Boxing club of New York. The bout has had a pretty good advance sale despite the fact it will not be blacked out in the Philadelphia area.

This fight with Jones is considered by the Giardello camp as a warmup, a keep-in-shape bout, for an expected shot at 169-pound champion Carl (Bobo) Olson. Jones, who has won 30, lost 9 in a 42 fight career, hasn't done much since knocking out Bobby Dykes at the beginning of the year.

He doesn't figure to give Giardello much trouble but it's the supposedly soft touches that usually make Joey look bad.

League Upholds Redlegs' Protest

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Warren C. Giles of the National league Thursday upheld Cincinnati's protest of Wednesday's ball game with Milwaukee and ordered it resumed today at the point where the Redlegs had two men on base with two out in the 9th inning.

The game will be finished before the regularly scheduled contest between the Braves and the St. Louis Cards.

The game will start at the point where Wally Post was on second base, Gus Bell on third, and Johnny Temple at bat, and Milwaukee leading 3-1.

Giant, Indian Outfield Stars May Turn World Series Tide

NEW YORK (AP) — The highly touted Cleveland pitching staff might be in for a few rough afternoons if the Giants' outfielders continue to hit in the World Series as they did during the 1954 National league season.

Willie Mays, Don Mueller and Dusty Rhodes all will enter the 51st series, which starts Wednesday at New York, Polo Grounds, batting above .330. Monte Irvin and Bill Taylor are below the .300 mark, but they have distinguished themselves with clutch performances.

There's not too much fault to find with the play of the Indians' outfielders this season, but on the record they don't seem to measure up to the showing of the New Yorkers. Slugging Larry Doby is the Tribe stalwart among the flychasers, who also include Al Smith, Dave Philley, Wally Westlake, Dave Pope and Dale Mitchell.

Mays, returning from a two-year army hitch, has been phenomenal as the Giants' center-fielder. The "Say Hey" kid was started at bat and in the field. Currently he is hitting .346, tops in the National league, and also has belted 41 home runs. His fielding average is .985.

Mueller, a "spray hater," has collected the most hits in the majors, 203, while compiling a .338 stick mark. His fielding average is .974.

Rhodes and Irvin had alternated in left field during most of the latter part of the season with Rhodes swinging against righthanded pitchers and Irvin facing southpaws.

Doby has been a vital factor in the success of the Indians. A longball hitter, the graceful center-fielder has hit 32 home runs and has batted in 124 runs, despite his .270 batting average.

4 Pros, 1 Amateur Lead Golf 'Series'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A home town amateur and four professionals, with four-under-par 67's shared the first round lead Thursday in the $40,000 "World Series of Golf" tournament.

Ralph Bogart, 34-year-old Washington insurance salesman, and Bud Holscher, 23-year-old Santa Monica, Calif., pro, grabbed the early lead only to have Milton Marcus of Herkimer, N. Y., charge in for a tie. Then the day's last threesome produced another pair of 67's, Marty Furgol of Cog Hill, Ill., and Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Canadian Breaks Chadwick Record

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — Tom Park, a powerful Canadian distance swimmer, crossed the Catalina channel Thursday and broke Florence Chadwick's official record by a scant few minutes. The coast guard said the 31-year-old Park, a professional wrestler and service station attendant, finished the 21-mile swim in about 13 hours and 24 minutes. The official time was not immediately known.

Writer Sees Iowa Win

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Iowa will defeat Michigan State Saturday in a nationally televised battle, an early big one in the race for Big Ten and Midwestern grid supremacy.

The Hawkeyes finished stronger than any team in their conference last year, and returned 17 lettermen from that outfit besides a sterling sophomore crop. The Spartans had to rebuild their coaching staff.

Flushed by last week's 26-4 for an 866 percentage, we move recklessly on:

Picks Notre Dame

Notre Dame or Texas? It's a big game and football puzzler of the weekend.

Texas has an experience squad — a line six feet four and 200-plus pounds from end to end, a fine quarterback in Charley Brewer and an opening victory over LSU.

Notre Dame 28, Texas 20 in a spectacular game.

Duke over Pennsylvania: The Blue Devils lost heavily by graduation but still have two fine backs in Worth Lutz and Jerry Barger. Penn, rebuilding under Steve Sebo, has a threat in Walt Hynoski but Duke should win, about 21-7.

Oklahoma over Texas Christian: The Sooners can suffer a letdown from last week's victory over California and still win easily, 28-7.

Navy Over W & M

Navy over William & Mary: The Midshipmen own a stable of the finest backs in the east, should win by two touchdowns over a so-so W & M team, 28-14.

Mississippi over Kentucky: Ole Miss proves it has one of the most potent squads in Dixie; Kentucky losses too heavy, 20-7.

Ohio State over Indiana: Howard Cassady and Bobby Watkins head a big, solid team. Indiana improved, but not enough.

Illinois over Penn State, Northwestern over Iowa State,

Minnesota over Nebraska, Purdue over Missouri, Wisconsin over Marquette, Cincinnati over Dayton.

Michigan over Washington, Oregon over Stanford, Army over South Carolina, Boston college over Detroit, Alabama over Louisiana State, Georgia Tech over Florida, Tennessee over Mississippi State.

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAT AND SCHEDULE

Notice is hereby given that there is now on file for public inspection in the office of the City Clerk a plat and schedule marked "J-16," of the following named streets and parts of streets and alleys, to-wit:

FRANKLIN STREET on the east side, from the south line of Ginter Avenue, to the north line of Highland Avenue.

WOOLF AVENUE on the east side, from the south line of Felkner Street, as vacated, to the north line of Newton Road.

All in the City of Iowa City, Iowa, whereon sidewalk improvements constructed under a contract with Tom Alberhasky, dated the 18th day of July, 1954, have been completed.

Said plat and schedule shows the separate lots or parcels of ground or specified portion thereof, subject to assessment for such sidewalk improvements; the names of the owners as far as practicable, and the amount to be assessed against each lot or parcel of ground — against any railway or street railway.

Notice is further given that within twenty days after the first publication of this notice all objections to said plat and schedule or to prior proceedings on account of errors, irregularities or inequalities, must be made in writing and filed with the City Clerk; and the City Council after the expiration of said twenty days at the first regular meeting held thereafter, or at a special meeting called for that purpose, having heard such objections and made the necessary corrections will then make the special assessment as shown in said plat and schedule as corrected and approved.

Dated this 14th day of September, 1954.

Robert E. Meyer
 City Clerk of Iowa City, Iowa.

2 SUI Law Students Recieve 1st Law Alumni Scholarships

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS Walter Navin, L. M. Vernon, and Marion H. Hemmen, L. S. Cedar Falls, this week received the first awards from the Iowa Law School Alumni foundation, established in 1952. Prof. Frank Kennedy of the college of law presents Hemmen with a check which will be used toward his tuition and fees this year.

The first two scholarships to be granted by the SUI law school alumni association have been awarded to Walter Navin Jr., of Mt. Vernon, and Marion H. Hemmen of Cedar Falls.

Navin is a junior in the Iowa college of law and Hemmen is a second-semester freshman. Their awards were announced Thursday by T. G. Garfield of Ames, chief justice of the supreme court and chairman of the foundation's board of trustees.

The scholarships were established in honor of Percy Bordwell, professor-emeritus of the college of law, now on leave as visiting professor of law at Rutgers university. Applying to this semester's tuition at SUI, the scholarships are awarded on the basis of scholastic attainment and need.

Navin and Hemmen are both married, and each has 3 children. A graduate of Cornell college in Mt. Vernon, Navin formerly published a weekly newspaper at West Branch, and is presently serving as publicity director at Cornell on a part-time basis.

Hemmen received his bachelor of science degree in commerce from SUI in 1951. After graduation he was employed as territorial sales manager for the John Deere plow company.

The Iowa law school alumni foundation, originator of the awards, was established by the law class of 1952 for the purpose of promoting the interests of the Iowa college of law through developing a closer relationship between the college and its alumni. The board of trustees of the organization, in addition to Chief Justice Garfield, includes David H. Foster of Cedar Rapids, John C. O'Byrne and Frank R. Kennedy, professors in the college of law at SUI, and Peter Van Oosterhout, Orange City senior in the college of law and president of the Law Student association during 1954-55.

Future scholarship awards made by the foundation will depend upon the availability of funds.

Four High Schools Win Phi Beta Kappa Scholastic Awards

The scholastic achievements of their graduates as freshmen students at SUI last year have won Phi Beta Kappa awards for Burlington, Vinton, Brooklyn and Melbourne high schools.

The 1954 awards were announced Thursday by Loren Hickerson, director of the university's alumni records division and president of the Phi Beta Kappa chapter at SUI.

During the 1953-54 school year the 11 Burlington freshmen achieved a combined grade-point average of 2.54 to lead in scholarship the state's Class AAA high schools, those with enrollments exceeding 700. The four top students from Burlington were John S. Smith, David Sutter, Margaret Rinker and Jeanne Jeffrey. Leading AAA contenders were Sioux City (Central), Marshalltown, Davenport, Clinton and Mason City.

Vinton freshmen scored a combined 3.06 grade-point average to attain top honors among Class AA high schools in the 309-699 enrollment group. Students credited with bringing the scholarship award to their high school were Whealen Kooniz, Ronald Dowd and Richard Myers. Following Vinton in this competition were Iowa Falls, Atlantic, Shemandoah, Cedar Rapids (Wilson) and Creston.

Brooklyn, supported by the scholarship of Dorothy Roundabout and John Graham, led Class A schools, those with 100 to 299 students, with a combined average of 3.16. Leading contenders in this classification were Tipton, Adel, Radcliffe and Durant.

Melbourne, with David Wilsterman and Willard Holman Jr. as SUI freshmen, led the Class B high schools with enrollments under 100. Following Melbourne in this class were Oxford, Guttenberg (St. Mary's) and Danville.

Under the university's grading system, a 3-point average represents a straight "B". The second semester of 1953-54 average for all SUI undergraduate students was 2.37.

And the gypsy in us appears to grow stronger, not weaker. The moving van people figure on a fourth of all families calling them each year.

Endless Moving
The endless moving in the cities has prompted an unidentified poet in the Housing and Home Finance Agency to call it this "restless movement of the people in and around population centers."

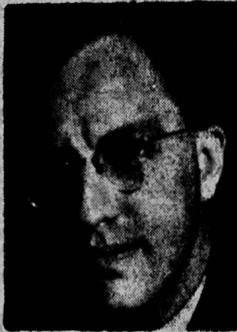

The NAREB has no restlessness gauge to apply to various cities, but it did have a look at a couple and can now verify what many suspected already: That the citizens of Los Angeles more flighty than those of Baltimore.

Addresses Changed
Los Angeles electric companies report that a third of their customers have their lights cut off each year. The Post Office department doesn't go quite that far, but it figures 27 per cent want their addresses changed.

By contrast, Baltimore gets by with a moving figure of 18 per cent.

Incidentally, although the association figures show we're on the move, no one there can say why we're going.

The best guess, of course, is the war and it's wholesale shuffling of families.

Iowa City Dentist Appointed SUI Head of Pedodontology

Dr. Albert J. Soucek, a practicing dentist in Iowa City since 1949, has begun his duties as associate professor and head of the department of pedodontology in the SUI college of dentistry, Dean William J. Simon has announced.

Pedodontology is the study of the structures that support the teeth, including the bones and gums.

Recently appointed head of the department by the state board of education, Soucek was graduated from SUI with a B.S. degree in 1939. He received his doctor of dental surgery degree from Iowa in 1942.

Served in Armed Forces
Soucek entered service upon graduation and was stationed at Camps Young and Clipper in California, later being named to serve as chief of dental service and dental officer at the Warren Regional hospital, Cheyenne, Wyo.

After his discharge Soucek attended the University of Minnesota, where he received the master of public health degree in 1947.

From Minnesota he went to Detroit, where he served as dental director of the Dearborn, Mich., public school system. During this period he also served as guest lecturer on the faculty of the University of Detroit school of dentistry.

Joins Medical Faculty
He joined the faculty of the college of medicine at the University of Nebraska as assistant professor and as dental consultant to the University of Nebraska hospital in 1948. He also served as guest lecturer at Children's Memorial hospital school of nursing in Omaha.

From 1949-1952 he practiced dentistry in Iowa City as a member of a group office practice. In 1952 he accepted a part-time appointment in the department of pedodontology at SUI, with the status of visiting lecturer.

Soucek is the author of two books, "Dental Health Education—A Handbook for teachers," and "A Graded Teaching Manual for Dental Health Education in Elementary and Secondary Schools."

Conducts Medical Research
Presently, he is engaged in research in collaboration with the faculty of the college of medicine at SUI, assisted by graduate students from his department.

Soucek is married and the father of two children. He has been active in community affairs, serving as financial chairman and as a member of the board of directors of the Visiting Nurses association. He is on the board of directors of the Civic Music association and is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In 1952 he served as president of the Johnson County Cancer society. He also serves in the vestry of the Trinity Episcopal church in Iowa City. He is a member of the Iowa City American Legion and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

He is a member of the American Dental association, the American Public Health association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Association of Public Health dentists, the American Academy of Oral Pathology and the American Society of Military Surgeons.

Hoegh To Address GOP Open House, Young Republicans

Leo Hoegh, Iowa Atty. Gen. and Republican candidate for governor, will attend two public meetings in Iowa City today.

He will attend an open house sponsored by eight Republican candidates for state and local offices in the Hotel Jefferson from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Robert Larson, state supreme court justice, will also be at the open house. Hoegh succeeded Larson as attorney general when Larson was appointed to his present position by Gov. William S. Beardsley in 1953.

Following the open house Hoegh will speak at a meeting of the SUI Young Republicans at 7 p.m. in the Shambaugh lecture room of the University library.

Hoegh, an SUI alumnus, plans to attend the pep rally for the Iowa-Michigan State football game if his 7 p.m. talk ends in time.

Ike Urges Voters--

(Continued from page 1) signment for the federal government. And he pledged that more such projects "will be started."

Ike Took Off
Eisenhower took off for Los Angeles from Pendleton, Ore., and he told an airport audience there that, "the kind of America we have dreamed about from babyhood . . . we can have, if we want it, and do not let ourselves be led astray by false promises and glittering generalities."

It was in Hollywood, Bob Thursday night that the President first shed the velvet campaign gloves he has been wearing and talked in a manner reminiscent of the 1952 campaign.

And as he did at that time, he appealed for support of his administration "regardless of party" — an appeal to political independents and disgruntled Democrats to join Republicans in the Eisenhower drive for another GOP congress.

Ed 286-million-dollar McNary dam on the Washington-Oregon border and told an applauding audience — estimated by police at between 35,000 and 40,000 persons — that any trend toward Washington "conversion of local regions into federal satellites poses a threat deadly to our liberties."

"Unalterably Opposed"
He added at McNary that, "The administration in Washington — and the present leadership in congress — are unalterably opposed to such malignant growth of bureaucracy."

His speech there amounted to a spirited defense of administration policy calling for more local participation in development of the nation's power resources. He said, however, that construction of such huge, expensive projects as McNary dam on the Columbia river is a proper as-

Censure Move For McCarthy Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders Thursday postponed a decision on calling back the senate to act on a proposed censure of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wisc.). The delay appeared to increase the possibility that no action will be taken before the Nov. 2 election.

Senate secretary Mark Trice, who indicated earlier he expected word momentarily on the lawmakers' being reconvened, told newsmen shortly before noon:

"I have just talked over the telephone with Sen. William Knowland, (R-Calif.), and he informs me that further consultations are necessary before a decision can be reached in regard to the reconvening of the senate. Several days may be required before a decision is reached in this matter."

Following this formal statement Trice told a news conference he does not expect to hear anything further this week from Knowland, California's senior senator. Since five days' notice is required before the senate could meet, this would just about end any chance of a session next week.

Ives To Oppose Harriman in N.Y.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The Republican state convention Thursday unanimously nominated U.S. Sen. Irving M. Ives for governor to oppose Democrat Averell Harriman and named three other candidates for the GOP state ticket after days of leadership wrangling.

A deadlock of the last of Ives' running mates was broken when party leaders agreed on Frank Del Vecchio of Syracuse as their candidate for state comptroller.

Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern was designated for lieutenant governor and Rep. Jacob K. Javits of Manhattan, for attorney general. All the nominations were by acclamation.

Educators Study Teacher Welfare

How county and local education organizations may contribute to efforts for better teacher education and welfare, school legislation and other Iowa state education association goals is occupying the attention of nearly 100 Iowans at SUI this weekend.

County association officers of the ISEA's southeastern district discussed their organizational problems in the Iowa Center for Continuation Study Thursday, while local association officers from throughout Iowa are meeting today and Saturday.

Featured speakers of the Local Association Officers workshop will be Hazel McCollough of Mason City, president of the ISEA's department of classroom teachers and ISEA president Frank Hildreth, Des Moines.
