Special Senate Debate Looms As Senator Prepares Defense

Eden Urges Quick Action On Germany

LONDON (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden proposed Monday night the Western Allies speed up their timetable to get an agreement within 50 days on freeing and rearming West Germany.

Eden made his proposal on the eve of the fateful nine-power conference opening here today to bring West Germany into the free world's defense setup.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, following talks with Eden Sunday night and with French Premier Pierre Mendès-France Monday, was reported insisting on "substantial progress in 1954."

But at the last minute, the French injected a new and disturbing element by spreading word they wanted a Saar settlement under Brussels Pact auspices as a condition for their acceptance of West German rearmament.

Eden's new plan proposed postponing the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers, set for around Oct. 15, to give the Allies time to grant West Germany its sovereignty so it could become a partner in the Atlantic Alliance.

The French idea — as outlined in corridor talk perhaps circulated mainly for bargaining purposes — is to have the disputed, coal-producing Saar border state put under control of the enlarged Brussels alliance, the same alliance through which the Germans would eventually supply troops for Western defense.

Thieves Get $1,000 In Sunday Break-In

Burglars took approximately $1,000 worth of golf equipment, including 363 dozen marked golf balls, in a break-in at the Airport driving range Sunday morning, police reported.

The break-in took place between 1 and 11:15 a.m. Sunday at the range, located on highway 218 south of Iowa City.

A total of 24 woods, 38 irons, four new golf bags five sets of wood head covers and 63 gloves were included in the loot, range manager George E. Thompson, III, reported.

The law offices of Edward Rate and William Jackson on the third floor of the Iowa State Bank and Trust Co. building were also broken into over the weekend. A few dollars in change were taken from a safe. Non-negotiable bonds in the safe were not taken.

Entry to the office was made through a window. Thieves apparently crossed a four-foot space, three stories high, from an adjoining building to enter the office.

Naval Chief Carney Warns Soviet Fleet Power Nears Ours

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Adm. Robert B. Carney said Monday night that if Soviet Russia continues to increase its naval strength at the present rate the United States must either accelerate its own program or risk falling behind.

The chief of naval operations added that the bulk of the swiftly expanding Red fleet is of ultra-modern design while the majority of American warships are of World War II vintage.

In an address prepared for delivery to a joint meeting of the Navy league and the Minneapolis Foreign Policy Assn., Carney said:

"The rise of the Soviet navy makes it crystal clear that the Soviet government is striving for a prominent position in the maritime world.

U.S., Canada Tell Plan for Arctic Radar Network

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Canada Monday announced plans to build a fence of radar stations across the top of the continent as far north as practicable in the Arctic.

This new, northernmost network will be designed to give as early warning as possible of the approach of any enemy planes across the polar icecap and thus help intercept a possible hydrogen or atomic bomb attack on America's big cities.

It will be the third radar chain stretched across Canada.

SUI Musicians Exhibit New Pep, Formations

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE watching the Iowa-Michigan State football game Saturday afternoon on TV as well as at the stadium saw this "MSC" formation performed by the SUI marching band during the halftime. The formation was picked up by the camera on the left and relayed to TV sets across the United States.

Welch To Speak Here On 'Senate Hearings'

By S. KINGSLEY HOPKINS

Adding another prominent name to the growing list of Murray lecturers, Joseph Nye Welch will deliver the fourth annual John F. Murray Memorial Lecture in the Iowa Memorial Union, Friday, Oct. 1, at 8 p.m.

The widely publicized and viewed counsel for the army during the Army-McCarthy dispute will address students and other interested persons on the issue "Senate Hearings."

Students will be admitted free, but should secure tickets now for the lecture, at the main desk of the Union.

The John F. Murray lectures are the result of an endowment created by Bessie Murray in memory of her husband.

Murray Was Iowan
The man whose name is perpetuated by the lectures was born in Iowa. Early in life he ran away from home to seek his fortune. While a purser on a Lake Michigan steamship he met William Wrigley Jr., chewing gum magnate and Chicago baseball club owner. The two became friends and Murray was asked to make a bandwagon tour of the southeast selling Wrigley gum.

When his salesmanship clicked he went to New York to become a promotion and sales man. It was he who coined the trade mark "Juicy Fruit." Later, branching out in his activities, Murray set up an advertising agency in New York, and in 1909 he created the Murray newspaper services and Murray syndicate cut, still serving American newspapers.

Joseph Welch To Lecture Here

When he died in 1936 at 63 he had made the fortune he had sought. His body was carried back to the Wheatland community where he was born, for burial.

The first Murray lecturer was Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor. In 1953 Judge Herbert F. Goodrich, U. S. Court of Appeals in Philadelphia, addressed the assemblage. Last year a British journalist, Geoffrey Crowther, was secured by the directors of the fund.

The endowment suggests the

Excited Fans Praise Hawk Determination

Currents of excitement rippled through the air of Iowa City Saturday evening and Sunday in the excited talk of thousands of football fans still recapping the stunning 14-10 victory over Michigan State's Rose Bowl champion Spartans.

The Hawkeyes had shown that their pre-season ratings were well-deserved. They had driven down the field to score on the ground, unveiled an effective passing attack and shown a grid team's greatest asset, the ability — the guts — to come from behind.

Iowa had beaten one of the nation's football powers and the Iowa City air was alive with talk of the Hawkeyes' first Big Ten title in many years.

Millions Watch
More than 50,000 in the stadium and millions via television had seen a display of football and of Hawkeye courage that would not soon be forgotten.

Iowa fans, loyal through many a lean year, could not help dreaming, though they knew their team still had a long, tough way to go to realize the dreams.

Meanwhile, in the Iowa dressing room, the Hawkeyes whooped it up. Coach Forest Evashevski was hesitant to pick out one Hawkeye and say, "He was the best."

"They've got plenty of desire and I'm proud of 'em all," Evy said.

However, he did single out Eidean Matheson, who set up Iowa's winning touchdown with a 52-yard punt return, and Terry Shuck, first string tackle who has had little experience.

"Matheson did a terrific job filling in," Evy said. "Shuck," he went on, "did a magnificent job in his football baptism."

Spartans Dejected
In the Michigan State dressing room, the Spartans were in no mood to talk.

The Spartans had fought a fine battle and lost.

"We made too many mistakes and they capitalized on them," said John Matsock, who quarterbacked the Spartans on their two scoring drives.

"You can just say Iowa is one great ball club," all-American scatback Leroy Bolden said.

Still stunned by the heart-breaking defeat, first-year Head Coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty had a good word for Iowa as well as his own young men.

"Iowa has a fine ball club," he said, "and deserved to win. But I'm proud of our kids. They played their hearts out all the way."

New Grid Era
And still, the fans across the river were recapping the game. The dawn's early light of a new day for Iowa football which was visible last year had burst into the brilliance of national prominence and the Hawkeye town was happy.

And the team was, too. Perhaps the most eloquent justification for the Hawkeye happiness was the gleeful grin on the face of all-American Calvin Jones as he smashed a Michigan State passer for a 16-yard loss in the game's closing moments. It was a wordless testimony to the Hawkeyes' satisfaction and determination.

Father, Son Shot In Family Quarrel

Robert Williamson, 15, of Burlington, was reported in fair condition Monday at University hospitals, where he was brought Saturday morning with chest wounds inflicted by a shot gun during a family quarrel.

His father, George, 72, was also being treated here for a shot gun wound in the right arm. He was reported in good condition.

The two were injured about 2:40 a.m. Saturday when the elder Williamson and his son-in-law, Hobart Sharp, 20, traded shot gun blasts at close range. Sharp was not injured, but the blast intended for him struck Robert.

Homecoming Preparations Underway

In a two hour session Monday night subcommittee chairmen of the Homecoming committee submitted reports of their committee's progress and plans. Robert L. Ebel, chairman of the Homecoming committee, discussed finances and suggested the budget be tightened if such could be done without hindering the effectiveness of the Homecoming program.

It was announced that 15,000 Homecoming badges have been purchased to go on sale the Monday preceding Homecoming. This year the Hawk-I club will handle badge sales.

Various bands through Iowa have been contacted, and with the SUI marching band and other Iowa City marching units will accompany the 60 unit parade.

Preparation for the Union open house and other departmental open houses is underway. The Homecoming dance in the Memorial Union will feature this year, as last, the Sauter-Finnegan band.

Tentative Schedule of Homecoming Events Friday, November 5
7:00 p.m. Homecoming Parade
8:00 p.m. Pep Rally
8:15 p.m. Dolphin Show
8:45 p.m. Open House Programs

Corn Monument Contest Announced

The annual contest for the winning design of the corn monument for Homecoming will start Sept. 29 and end at 5 p.m. Oct. 15. Charles W. O'Neal, E4, Iowa City, chairman of the construction committee announced Monday.

A $10 prize will be awarded for the winning entry.

Entries will be judged on ease of construction, originality, significance of theme, completeness of design and appearance. They should be submitted to the Office of the Dean, Engineering building, room 101.

1,600 Killed As Typhoon Hits Ferry

HAKODATE, Japan (AP) — Bodies and debris strewn the beaches here Tuesday after a savage typhoon sank a huge ferry and killed possibly 1,600 persons, most of them in northern Japan. Seventeen Americans—soldiers, their dependents and civilians—were among the dead. Nearly 50 other Americans were listed as missing by the U.S. army and Japan National railway.

The Americans died in Japan's worst maritime disaster Sunday when the typhoon, which had been heading out across the Sea of Japan, turned and struck northern Japan with winds of 100 m.p.h.

The Toya Maru with an estimated 1,200 persons aboard had anchored off Hakodate harbor when the rush of wind and water hit. It capsized. Only 163 persons were known to have survived.

Four other ferries from Hakodate were also caught and sank. The tides still were washing in bodies. Rescue workers searched the beaches and debris in the hope of finding more alive.

The typhoon first struck southern Japan.

Two U.S. navy ships and planes from four U.S. bases in Japan launched a survivor search but stiff winds and high waves kept rescue work at a minimum.

Japanese Policemen Guard American Dead

JAPANESE POLICEMEN GUARD the sheet covered bodies of 17 Americans recovered from the sea after the Japanese train ferry Toya Maru capsized between islands in typhoon swept seas. The vessel, with 1,200 persons aboard, had anchored off Hakodate harbor when the typhoon struck.

A Condensation of Late Developments

Hurricane Gilda Pushes into Honduran Jungles
BELIZE, British Honduras (AP) — Hurricane Gilda, lashing northward, ripped through coastal fishing villages in the southern portion of British Honduras Monday and moved on to the inland jungles. Communications with the stricken area were broken down and no details of the damage caused were available.

Yeh Denounces Negotiations Outside UN
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Nationalist China's foreign minister Monday struck at what he called the growing tendency of some UN members to negotiate outside the UN with Red China. In strong words, the minister, George K. C. Yeh, denounced the Geneva conference and repeated his long-standing contention that the Soviet Union has qualified for expulsion from the UN. Yeh told the delegates that the Soviet Union talks of peaceful co-existence but Moscow actually wants to incapacitate the United Nations for major political decisions. He did not make a formal expulsion move, however.

Former German Sergeant Sentenced to 12 Years
MUNICH, Germany (AP) — A former German army sergeant was sentenced Monday to 12 years in prison for torturing fellow soldiers in a Yugoslav prisoner of war camp to obtain false war crimes confessions. The German court said in its verdict that ex-Sgt. Heinrich Pfeifer 47, "by most grave maltreatment and barbaric torture methods, aided the Yugoslav state" in illegally confining former German soldiers.

Senators Discuss Censure Report

LOOKING OVER THE REPORT of their special committee that has been studying demands for censure of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) are Senators Arthur V. Watkins, left, chairman, and Edwin C. Johnson, (D-Colo.), vice-chairman of the special committee, said at Denver: "That's strictly senate business. The White House will have no comment."

Also at Denver, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), vice-chairman of the special committee, said:

"We were just to Senator McCarthy. We gave him the benefit of every doubt, but we could not close our eyes to his treatment of his colleagues and witnesses"

WASHINGTON (AP) — A public and official reprimand for Sen. Joseph McCarthy was recommended Monday by a senate committee of three Democrats and three Republicans.

The committee said the Wisconsin Republican should be censured for conduct it described as contemptuous, contumacious, denuncatory, unworthy, inexcusable and reprehensible.

The report, which surprised many by its vigor, set the stage for what promises to be long and bitter debate in the special senate session convening Nov. 8 to consider the recommendations.

In voting unanimously for censure on two of five main categories of charges, the investigating committee headed by Sen. Arthur Watkins (R-Utah) held that:

McCarthy was "contemptuous, contumacious and denuncatory" toward a senate subcommittee which investigated his finances in 1952.

He treated Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, when the general was a witness before him, in a manner that was "inexcusable" and "reprehensible."

Charges Dropped
The Watkins committee said other charges brought against the controversial senator "do not, under all the evidence, justify a resolution of censure."

These were that McCarthy had sought to incite federal employees to break the law to bring him government secrets, and that he had improperly received and used confidential information from executive files.

But while recommending against censure in these instances, the committee said the evidence did show McCarthy had "committed a grave error" and acted improperly, showing "a high degree of irresponsibility."

Whether the senate will vote censure remained very much in doubt Monday night. When half the senate's 96 members had been polled informally by The Associated Press, 29 of them were not saying how they might vote.

McCarthy Comment

The Chicago Tribune said McCarthy made this comment on the senate committee's recommendation:

"If the senate upholds this report and all its implications, it will have gone a long way toward abdication of its constitutional right to investigate wrongdoings in the executive departments."

"I do not care whether I am censured or not but I will fight against establishing a precedent which will curb investigative power and assist any administration in power to cover up its misdeeds."

The Tribune said in a dispatch from Washington McCarthy made the statement at the Bethesda naval hospital where he is undergoing treatments for a chronic sinus condition.

McCarthy's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, said the senator will make a vigorous defense on the senate floor that will require "quite a considerable time."

White House Silent

The White House kept out of the picture. Murray Snyder, President Eisenhower's assistant press secretary, said at Denver: "That's strictly senate business. The White House will have no comment."

Also at Denver, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), vice-chairman of the special committee, said:

"We were just to Senator McCarthy. We gave him the benefit of every doubt, but we could not close our eyes to his treatment of his colleagues and witnesses"

Additional Credit for Hawkeyes

The Iowa football team deserves additional credit for its 14-10 defeat of Michigan State because they accomplished one of the most difficult feats in football — they came from behind to win.

The Hawkeyes showed tremendous fighting spirit in the latter stages of the game. Many of them were worn out, others were injured.

But they didn't give up. It would have been easy to "let up" a bit in the final stages of the game. Nobody would have blamed them. And Sunday's sports pages would have lauded Iowa for the fine game they played against Michigan State.

Such an act simply isn't in this football team. Saturday's victory was memorable. But there are other games ahead. Montana, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Purdue, Ohio State, Minnesota and Notre Dame will play them. Iowa is off to a good start. But let's not put too much pressure on them.

Coach Forest Evashevski said, "It will help a lot if the fans all keep their heads straight and don't put a lot of unnecessary pressure on these Iowa kids."

But for this first game of the 1954 season Evy and the Iowa squad deserve widespread congratulations. There were individual stars, of course, but this was really a team victory.

And we think the millions of television viewers will agree that Iowa truly is surging to the front among the nation's top football teams.

Duke Slater, famed Iowa all-American honored at the game along with the late Nile Kinnick, said Iowa would win the Michigan State game and go on to the Rose Bowl.

We're extremely happy that his first prediction came true, but the latter prediction should be handled with caution.

The road to Pasadena is littered with roadblocks. Don't make it more difficult for the team to get by them.

Fewer New Cars, Still 400,000 Left At Reduced Cost

DETROIT (AP)—New car inventories continue to decline but there still are some 400,000 of this year's models available — most of them at sharply reduced prices.

The merchandising division will dispose of most of these cars before all the 1955 models reach dealer floors. For the motorist these vehicles offer the biggest bargains of the year.

It is true that for trading purposes this year's model will become a year old the instant the 1955 model appears. Yet the price reductions currently being offered will average out pretty well with the drop in the trade in allowance the 1954 model will command a year from now.

Supporting this view is the conviction among many industry authorities that price cutting and fantastic trade in allowances will be considerably less common next year.

September Polio Cases High, But 1952 Remains Record Year

DES MOINES (AP)—It is unusual that the number of cases of polio being reported in Iowa each week is running as high as it is for this late in the year, the state health department said Monday.

"We have wondered about it," said Dr. Ralph H. Heeren, chief of the department's division of preventable diseases. "Last year the peak was reached in early September, and two years ago (the epidemic year) there was a double peak but they also came earlier."

"It is just possible that this represents only a variation. The indications will stay high this week, but how near the total will be to those of the last three weeks we won't know until early next week."

The total for last week was 126, the highest for a single week this year. In the previous week there were 101 cases reported, and for the week before that the total was 115. Those were the only weeks this year that the to-als have been more than 100 each.

Dr. Heeren saw no significance in the fact that polio cases have been numerous in Linn, Scott and Woodbury counties this year. Seventy per cent of the school children of grades one through three in those three counties were vaccinated last spring with the latest anti-polio vaccine.

"The cases in those counties represented a wide range of ages," Dr. Heeren related. "However, there's been polio in all three counties involving children who were vaccinated."

Michigan Studies
"We don't know how many such cases there have been. When we get one we forward the information to the University of Michigan, where results of the vaccinations are being studied."

On the point of whether a larger percentage of the cases being reported this year are non-paralytic cases, Dr. Heeren said he had not yet been able to make a determination of that.

He said, however, that there are more non-paralytic than paralytic cases being reported. But some reports do not specify this, he said. Dr. Heeren added that the volume of cases this year might represent a more complete reporting than in previous years.

Total Cases
Through last week there had been 942 cases this year. This compared with 497 at the same time last year and 2,471 for the corresponding period in the record year of 1952. For all of 1953 there were 613 cases, and for all of 1952 there were 3,564 cases.

Through last week, all except Monona, Montgomery, Sioux and Van Buren counties had one or more cases. The 10 high counties were: Polk, 174; Linn, 58; Story, 34; Wapello, 33; Marion, 28; Jasper, 27; Scott, 26; Mahaska, 24; Woodbury, 23, and Black Hawk, 21.

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Foreign Staff Associated Press

The action of senate leaders in delaying until after the elections the debate on the McCarthy case has aroused almost as much controversy as that surrounding the senator himself.

Critics are saying that majority leader William Knowland and the others who agreed to the delay were ducking because so many senators didn't want to vote one way or the other during the campaign. They think the decision was primarily influenced by politics, and that the Republicans felt they couldn't stand another long display of division like the Army-McCarthy hearings. They think the senate has lost face.

Some Are Thankful
Others are thankful that the country is spared the heat which the debate will inevitably produce at a time when it should be soberly assaying the qualities of candidates for high office.

The latter group also feels that there will be a far better chance of a judicial decision when it does come if senators are not thinking primarily of the effect their votes on McCarthy would have on the votes of their constituents.

The fact is that the censure committee has gone farther than most people expected in actually recommending senate action against McCarthy, instead of merely assembling what it considered the most pertinent and actionable facts and allowing the members to pass original judgment themselves.

Senate Battle
Knowland and the others who conferred with him on the date of debate probably had a very good idea of what the committee would say, and realized that the senate was in for the battle of the century.

Senate censure is a serious matter, as witness the fact it has occurred only three times. McCarthy has already announced his intention of a strong floor fight, during which he will be able to say anything he wishes, including the words that were gavelled out of his mouth by Sen. Arthur Watkins (R-Utah) during the hearings. The debate can last indefinitely. Sen. McCarthy has his supporters as well as his enemies, all of whom can be expected to speak more freely after the elections.

Fall Newspaper Conference Scheduled for SUI Oct. 29

Plans for the 1954 fall newspaper conference to be held at SUI Oct. 29 and 30, have been announced by Prof. Wilbur Peterson, head of the bureau of media service of the SUI school of journalism, director of the conference.

Registration for the conference for Iowa and neighboring states' newsmen will begin at 9:30 a.m. Friday, Oct. 29, at the SUI Communications Center, where most of the meetings and sessions will take place. A coffee-hour and guided tour of Unit One of the center will follow.

Duane Dewel, editor and publisher of the Kossuth County Advance, at Algona, Iowa, and president of the Iowa Press association, will preside at Friday afternoon's session at the center. At 1:30 p.m., Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the SUI school of journalism, will welcome the visiting newspapermen.

Publisher To Speak
Robert Melvold, publisher of the Maquoketa (Iowa) Community Press, will address the meeting on "How To Get Out a Centennial Edition." Charles Houdek, editor of the Rockford (Iowa) Register, will talk about "Establishing a Newspaper in Japan."

A skit, entitled "Do's and Don'ts on the Telephone," will be presented by four SUI journalism students mid-way in the afternoon session. The skit is designed to stress the proper way to use a telephone in a newspaper.

Plans for the session also include a panel on "Promoting Your Newspaper," with speakers to provide hints on what to do through the advertising, circulation and job-printing departments of the newspaper.

Dewel will conclude the afternoon session with a summary of recent activities of the Iowa Press association.

Conference Dinner
W. A. "Bill" Blake, director of community relations for the Inland Steel company, East Chicago, Ind., will be the speaker at the conference dinner Friday evening. Prof. Walter A. Steigleman, head of the editorial journalism sequence at SUI, will be toastmaster.

Lloyd McCutcheon, publisher of the Sibley Gazette-Tribune and vice-president of the Iowa Press association, will preside over the Saturday morning session beginning at 8:45 with the dedication of a Washington hand press in the typographic laboratory of the Communications Center. Prof. Carroll Coleman, head of typography at SUI, will dedicate the early-vintage press in honor of the late E. J. Feuling, former publisher of the New Hampton Tribune, New Hampton, Iowa.

The press was a gift to the SUI school from John Feuling, publisher and editor of the New Hampton Tribune and the New Hampton Economist, in honor of his late father. The press was purchased from the Wheatland (Iowa) Gazette. A memorial plate will be attached to the press by the school of journalism.

Newspaper and Safety
"The Newspaper's Role in Greater Traffic Safety," is the title of a talk to be given by John Burrows, publisher of the Belle Plaine (Iowa) Union. James Jordan, director of university relations at SUI, will talk on "University Relations — You Can't Choose Your Own Relatives."

George Ver Steeg, editor of the Pella (Iowa) Chronicle, will speak on "Measuring Up to the Editor's Chair."

A breakfast meeting of the Iowa Press Columnists has been scheduled for 7:45 a.m. Saturday.

Lester G. Benz, head of the community journalism sequence and high school relations at the SUI school of journalism, is assisting Peterson with the arrangements for the conference.

On Campus with Max Shalman

(Author of "Barefoot Boy With Check," etc.)

MY COUSIN HASKELL

I have a cousin named Haskell Krovney, a sweet, unspoiled country boy, who has just started college. A letter arrived from him this morning which I will reprint here, because I know that Haskell's problems are so much like your own. Haskell writes:

"Dear Haskell (he thinks my name is Haskell too). I see that you are writing a column for Philip Morris cigarettes. I think they are nice cigarettes which taste real good and which make a pleasant noise when you open the pack, and I want to tell you why I don't smoke them."

It all started the very first day I arrived at college. I had just gotten off the train and was walking across the campus, swinging my cardboard valise whistling snatches of Valencia, Barney Google, and other latest tunes, admiring statues, petting dogs and girls, when all of a sudden I ran into this fellow with a blue jacket, gray pants, and white teeth. He asked me who I was. I said yes. He asked me if I wanted to go places on campus, make a big name for myself, and get pointed at in fashionable ballrooms and spas. I said yes. He said the only way to make all these keen things happen was to join a fraternity. Fortunately he happened to have a pledge card on him, so he pricked my thumb and I signed. He didn't tell me the name of the fraternity or where it is located, but I suppose I'll find out when I go active.

Meanwhile this fellow comes around every week and collects his dues which are $100. Lately he has been collecting $10 extra each week. He says this is a fine because I missed the meeting. When I remind him that I can't go to meetings because I don't know where the house is, he twists my arm.

I have never regretted joining the fraternity because it is my dearest wish to be somebody on campus and get pointed at in spas, but you can see that it isn't cheap. It wouldn't be so bad if I slept at the house, but you must agree that I can't very well sleep at the house if I don't know where the house is.

I have had to rent a room. This room is not only hellishly expensive, but it isn't the kind of room I wanted at all. What I was looking for was someplace reasonably priced, clean, comfortable, and within easy walking distance of classes, the downtown shopping district, the movies, and my home town. What I found was a bedroom in the home of a local cottonmonger, which is dingy, expensive, uncomfortable, inconvenient, and I don't even get to use the bed till six o'clock in the morning when my Landlord goes off to mow his coxsters.

Well, anyhow, I got settled and started going to classes. But first I had to pay my tuition. This came to a good deal more than the advertised rates. When I asked the bursar what the extra money was for, he told me lab fees. When I said I wasn't taking any labs, he said I was taking psychology which counted as a lab because they used white mice. When I offered to bring my own mice, of which there are plenty in my room, he twisted my arm.

So I paid the man and went to my classes where I found that all my professors had spent busy summers writing brand new textbooks. Over to the bookstore I went, saw the prices on the textbooks, and collapsed in a gibbering heap. At length I recovered and made indignant demands to speak to the proprietor, but they told me the Brinks truck had already taken him home for the day. There was nothing for it but to buy the books.

Next I turned to romance—and found it. Harriet, her name was—a great, strapping girl. I first spied her leaning against the statue of the Founder, dozing lightly. I talked to her for several hours without effect. Only when I mentioned dinner did she stir. Her milky little eyes opened, she raised a heavy arm, seized my nape, and dragged me off to a dimly lit place called The Trap where everything was a la carte. She ordered cracked crab ($1.75), sirloin chateaubriand ($7.00), a scuttle of french fries (18¢ the french fry), an artichoke (30¢ the leaf), and compote (80¢ the prune).

After dinner she slumped into a torpor from which I could not rouse her, no matter how I tried. I banged my glass with my fork. I did bird calls of North and South America. I pinched her huge pendulous jowl. I rubbed the legs of my corduroy pants together. . . . But nothing worked, and finally I had to sling her over my shoulder and carry her to the girls' dormitory, to the vast amusement of everybody along the route.

But it was not the jeers of bystanders that bothered me. It was the hernia. Fortunately, medical care for students is provided free at the college dispensary; all I had to pay for were a few extras, like X-rays, anaesthesia, operating room, forceps, hemostats, scalpels, sponges, catgut, ligens, towels, amputization, and nurses. They would not, however, let me keep the nurses.

So, dear cousin, if you see me these days without a Philip Morris cigarette, it is not because I don't like Philip Morris cigarettes. It is I do. I flip when I taste their mild rare vintage tobacco. But I can't afford cigarettes. I can't even afford matches, what with fraternity dues and room rent and lab fees and textbook prices and my girl Harriet and medical care.

Well, I'll write you again soon. Keep 'em flying.
Yr. Cousin,
Haskell
(Max Shalman, 104)

This column is brought to you by the makers of PHILIP MORRIS who think you would enjoy their cigarettes.

WRAP Plans Open House For Thursday Afternoon

Freshmen and new transfer students will be welcomed to campus by the Women's Recreation association Thursday afternoon at an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. in the lounge of the Women's gymnasium. Any other interested women students are invited to attend.

Booths representing the various clubs within the organization will be set up to introduce the activities of WRA to the new students. Handbooks stating the purposes and operation of WRA will be given out.

Any university woman, graduate or undergraduate, is eligible to become a member of WRA when she has fulfilled the membership point requirements through participation in the women's intramural program or club activities.

WRA Officers

Officers of WRA for this year are Marilyn Falk, A4, Washington, president; Ruth Ashton, A4, Iowa City, vice-president; Jo Shiley, A3, Gracett, secretary; Jo Sutton, A3, Princeton, Ill., intramurals chairman; Jo Schumann, A3, Waterloo, treasurer; Lorene Collis, A4, Boone, and Ellen Fernandez, A2, Milwaukee, Wis., publicity chairmen.

Miss Shiley is chairman of the open house. She will be assisted by Miss Collis and Miss Fernandez, publicity; Gloria Haddy, A2, Cedar Rapids, refreshments; Jean Albach, A3, Spirit Lake, decorations, and Jane Whitehead, A4, Washington, hostessing.

Booth Chairmen

Club chairmen who will be in charge of the booths are Miss Sutton, intramurals; Barb Haun, A2, Clinton, badminton; Marge Secrest, A2, Cedar Rapids, basketball; Betty Mayfield, A4, Charles City, stunts and tumbling; Helen Larsen, A4, Elk Point, S.D., crafts; Julie Svoboda, A3, Cedar Rapids, tennis; Ellie Fleming, A4, Whitmore, Seals; Marcene Ringuette, A3, Clinton, Orchestra, and Barb Spatek, A3, Cedar Rapids, social dance.

WRA tries to stimulate interest and encourage participation among all students at SU in worthwhile recreational activities. The group arranges for suitable facilities for the recreational program, and encourages leadership in organized activities.

Other purposes of the group are to promote the ideals of health and recreation through recreational activities; to encourage a spirit of good sportsmanship and fellowship; to develop democratic techniques leading to efficient self government, and to further the standards set forth by the National Section of Women's Athletics.

Miss Helen Clark, of the women's physical education department, is adviser for UWA. Miss Janet Atwood, also of the women's physical education department, advises the intramural program.

During the fall WRA sponsors women's intramurals in golf, swimming and volleyball, with volleyball activities continuing into December. Bowling activities are held in January, followed by basketball in February and March. Mixed volleyball intramurals are held in March and April.

Women Invade Men's Fashion World

By JAN PAPKE

It might be a man's world but they are having a hard time keeping it to themselves when it comes to fashions. Since the invasion of blue jeans, women have been looking over the male's wardrobe and seem to approve highly.

The man-shirt is now one of the college girl's favorite blouses. Shirts with long sleeves, button-down collars, and French cuffs no longer belong only in a man's closet. The girls don't stick to white and plain colors, though, but frequently sport gay prints and stripes or bright colors.

Women's Vests

Vests play an important part in milady's wardrobe and many varieties may be seen on the college campus. Corduroy and wool vests are most popular for class wear while felts and embroidered silks take fashion honors for parties. Stripes, checks, plaids and plain colors may be acquired in a variety of materials.

The once plain, drab trench coat has received a face lifting job from women's fashion stylists, too. The sun can't help shining when milady appears in a bright red or yellow slicker.

String Ties

Men's accessories have not escaped the invasion. String ties are worn by both sexes, collar pins adorn little boy's shirt and even the watch fob belt is worn with skirts. Cuff links, too, are now a necessary item in milady's jewelry box.

In the field of Bermuda shorts, however, men have pulled a switch and have copied women's styles very neatly. For fall, women's styles are featured in bright wool plaids and checks, while men prefer the more subtle greys and browns.

Boy Can't Run Away—He Can't Cross Street

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Gloria Breckenridge, a newswoman, said she saw a little boy, about 4, sitting dejectedly on a corner curbstone.

"What's the matter, son?" she asked. "I wanna run away but I'm not allowed to cross the street by myself."

YWCA Goes Old Fashioned

ATTICS AND OLD TRUNKS in Iowa City have been ransacked this week by Young Women's Christian association members in search of old fashioned clothes to wear at their open house this afternoon at 4:10 in the green room of the Iowa Memorial Union. Marge Hahn, A4, Cedar Rapids, adjusts one of the costumes which will be worn by Kitty Korns, A2, Iowa City, left. The theme of the program is the YWCA's 100th anniversary, which is being celebrated this year. A skit, written by Jeanette Siegel, A4, Council Bluffs, will be presented under the direction of Helen Stoiz, A4, Ottumwa. Girls who are interested in joining the YWCA and in participating in its activities are invited to attend and to sign up for personal interviews, which will be held during the first two weeks of October.

Blond Hair Needs Special Care

This advice is just for blondes — but it won't hurt our dark haired sisters to read over the shoulder.

The same sun that gave those blonde tresses a glamorous lighter look in the summer will show up streaked and brittle locks in the fall.

Of course, you can tie on a head scarf, but . . . it's smarter to restore the oils in your hair with one evening of diligent attention. There are three simple steps: brush, oil and massage. Then you are ready to proceed with your regular shampoo.

First, brush your hair thoroughly. Then part it naturally. Now, dip a ball of cotton in a light oil, such as baby oil, and apply it to your hair, taking about an inch section each time. Replace the cotton as it becomes soiled.

When the oiling process is completed, it's time for the massage. Using firm finger motion, rub the scalp slowly until it feels warm and tingling. Then wrap a warm towel around the head for a few minutes.

Two or three soapings along with your regular shampoo will remove all traces of the oil, and will leave your hair as fresh and chic as your new fall costume.

Who cares if the sun shines now?

Student Nurses To Meet Tonight At Memorial Union

Members of the Student Nurses organization will hold their first meeting of the 1954-55 academic year tonight at 8 in the River room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

New officers of the group will be presented. They include Karen Kratz, N4, Rockford, Ill., president; Lori Leichsenring, N3, Amara, vice-president; Nancy Harpel, N2, Des Moines, secretary, and Janet Thieme, N3, St. Charles, Ill., treasurer.

Also to be presented are Sally Chastain, Des Moines, senior class president; Bonnie Erickson, Sioux City, junior class president, and Lucy Shepherd, Muscatine, sophomore class president.

Dean Myrtle Kitchell, of the college of nursing, will give a welcoming address at the short business meeting.

A mixer with students of the college of pharmacy will follow the meeting. Miss Leichsenring is in charge of the program.

Dean Zopf, of the college of pharmacy, and Mrs. Zopf will be special guests.

University Club Plans October Meetings

A guest tea, a luncheon, evening dessert, bridge and a coffee hour have been scheduled by the University Club for October. Mrs. Ellis Newsome is chairman for the month.

The month's activities will begin with a guest tea Oct. 7 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. On Oct. 14 the group will have a luncheon meeting at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Walter Loehwing is chairman. The speaker will be Prof. Frank Wachowiak of the art department. Mrs. J. A. Scott is chairman of an evening dessert bridge program Oct. 21. Husbands of members will be guests. On Oct. 28 members will meet for a coffee hour with Mrs. Carroll Coleman, chairman.

Daily Nail Care Is Essential For Beautiful Hands

Are you self conscious about your hands? Do you find yourself hiding them under the table at dinner, or leaving your gloves on whenever possible? If so, start now on a hand care program that will make you proud to show them.

Equipment is essential in caring for your hands and nails. You will need an orange stick, cuticle oil, a nail file and emery board, clear and colored polishes, a nail buffer and powder, polish remover, a good, stiff hand and nail brush, and hand lotion.

Every night, you should scrub your hands with the nail brush, cleaning well under the fingernails. Then, using the file and emery board, carefully shape your nails into gentle, rounded points.

Apply cuticle oil to the nails, and with the orange stick gently push back the cuticle. Then apply two coats of either colorless or colored polish.

The nails should have a complete manicure at least once a week, with polish touch-ups as often as necessary.

Whenever you wash your hands, push the cuticle back with a towel as you dry them. If your hands must be in hot water, use rubber gloves. And every night, massage the hands well with a good hand lotion.

If you have pretty hands, do draw attention to them with costume rings, bracelets and bright nail polish. If your hands are large, avoid bangly bracelets and large rings, but wear one small ring to cut the length.

Choose gloves carefully to help the shape of your hands. For short, wide hands, select gloves that come well above the wrist. Long, slim hands look nice in wrist length gloves.

Your hands are a much noticed part of you. So care for them well, and you will not be ashamed of them.

SUI Items

Burford Garner, superintendent of the Iowa City public school system, will address Kiwanis members at a luncheon today at the Jefferson Hotel. "An Appraisal of Our Public School System" will be the topic of Garner's speech.

Minnie Morris, A2, Davenport, was initiated into Sigma Delta Tau social sorority in ceremonies held Sunday.

A PEO round table luncheon will be held at noon Friday in the cafeteria of the Iowa Memorial Union. All unaffiliated members are invited to attend.

PREDICT POWER INCREASE

More than a trillion kilowatt-hours of electric power will be produced annually in the United States by 1964, experts predict. That's more than double estimated production for this year.

Wash Silk and Linen Fabrics Carefully

Silk and linen are within any woman's budget this season. These fabrics are being used in moderately priced dresses, fall suits, blouses and sportswear.

Linen appears in a variety of beautiful plain colors in heavy to sheer fabrics, also embroidered and printed styles. Most linens are crease and shrink resistant too. Washable silks include broadcloth, shantung, pongee, shirting and light weight crepe.

Linen may be washed easily. Just dunk it in and out of soap suds and rinse well. Linen fabrics may also be tossed into the washing machine, but first make sure the garment is machine-washable.

White linens are safe in hot water, but colors and prints should be washed in lukewarm suds. Hang linen garments up to dry, and press when fairly damp on the wrong side, using a moderately hot iron. Press jeweled or embroidered linens over a well-padded board or turkish towel.

Washable silk should be squeezed gently through warm soapsuds, rinsed, rolled in a towel to dry. If a silk print bleeds a little, give it several extra rinses immediately, blot in two towels, putting one inside the garment so back and front will not touch. Hang up in an airy place to dry quickly. Press silk on the wrong side while still damp, and use a warm iron. In case a silk garment gets too dry before you're ready for pressing, don't sprinkle it, as the fabric will spot. Instead, dip the entire garment into warm water, let it dry partially, and iron while it is evenly damp.

Hawks Begin Preparing For Montana Game

Run Through Light Passing Drill; Injuries Not Serious

Slightly battered but jubilant over their victory Saturday over Michigan State, the Iowa Hawkeyes concentrated on their passing attack in football practice Monday, turning their eyes toward next Saturday's non-conference tilt with Montana.

The team wore only light gym suits as it ran through a variety of pass plays with every backfield member taking a crack at the throwing chores.

Quarterback Jerry Reichow's bruised left knee was taped up but he said he expected to be ready to go against the Grizzlies Saturday. Reichow injured his knee in the first period against the Spartans.

Freeman Ready

End Jim Freeman said his bruised ribs feel much better and he too will be ready for action Saturday.

Coach Forest Evashevski said he intends to spend most of this passes and had two intercepted and the yardage was only 40. Twice quarterbacks trying to pass were chased back for 16-yard losses including one in the last 42 seconds when the Spartans were trying for a long one.

Meanwhile, the Grizzlies have been practicing for two weeks since their convincing 31-7 victory over a big and rugged Ft. Lewis army team.

Ross Miller, athletic publicity director for Montana, who is in town for the week, said Monday Coach Eddie Chinske has been working twice as hard the last two weeks perfecting their running and passing attack and ironing out a "spotty defense."

In their first 1954 encounter, the Grizzlies rolled up 434 yards, although they spent most of their time on defense. Five touchdowns came on drives of 60, 84, 67, 67 and 69 yards.

Montana's leading ground gainers is Dick Imer, who averaged nine yards per try against Ft. Lewis, and co-captain Dick Heath, who completed 9 of 14 passes for 142 yards.

week polishing up the Hawkeyes' offense, with most emphasis on passing. The Hawks attempted only seven passes Saturday, completing five.

"We still don't know how good we are and that may not be proven until the Michigan and Ohio State games," Evashevski said. "However, our men proved they want to play football and that they are in condition for rugged going."

Flora Happy

One of the happiest of coaches was Bob Flora, who handles the line. His men played their hearts out and when the regulars needed relief several of the reserves came through with creditable performances.

"That doesn't mean," Flora said, "that Iowa still does not have critical line problems or that the reserves still are not thin. But in general, when they were most needed, the second line men such as Dick Deasy, Ken Jehle, Don Suchy and Terry Moran handled their assignments well."

Iowa's running attack, which produced 206 yards for an average of 3.6 yards per play, was another source of satisfaction. Left halfback Earl Smith was high with 59 yards in 8 carries and quarterback Jerry Reichow hit 54 in 14 tries. Meanwhile the defense held the Spartans to 135 yards on the ground.

Pass Defense OK

On pass defense the Hawks passed their opening test. Michigan State completed just 3 of 15

'Played Their Hearts Out'

EVASHEVSKI PATS Eldean Matheson on the back as the coach and his squad head for the dressing room after a stunning 14-10 win over Michigan State . . .

Sub, Rugged Line Spark Hawk Rally

The determined Iowa Hawkeyes came from behind Saturday to upset Michigan State's powerful Rose Bowl champion Spartans, 14-10, before more than 50,000 fans.

No one player stood out in the game, but little Eldean Matheson's 52-yard punt return which set up the winning touchdown in the final quarter was the payoff punch.

When the dark clouds began to hover over Iowa stadium, the middle of the Hawkeye line came through, as they had been doing all afternoon, and pushed the Spartans far back into their own territory.

MSC Punts

Michigan State was forced to punt. Matheson hauled it down on the Iowa 45, picked up blockers, and zig-zagged his way to the Spartan 3-yard line before he was nabbed from behind.

Bobby Stearnes cracked off guard. The ball now rested on the 2. Jerry Reichow, trying to sneak through the middle, fumbled the pass from center and fell on it for no gain. He tried another sneak. No gain. But a determined fourth try of the same play netted the Hawkeyes a touchdown; Jim Freeman added the extra point, and Iowa was in front to stay.

Earl Smith scored Iowa's first touchdown on a 32-yard jaunt in the second period.

Spartans Fired Up

Michigan State came out in the second half fired up and it took them only five minutes to score with Leroy Bolden finally going over from the 6. Jerry Planutis added the extra point and the score was tied at 7-7.

Planutis booted a 20-yard field goal in the same period to give the Spartans a 10-7 lead and set the stage for Iowa's last-quarter spurt.

Giants Showered With Ticker Tape; Series Wednesday

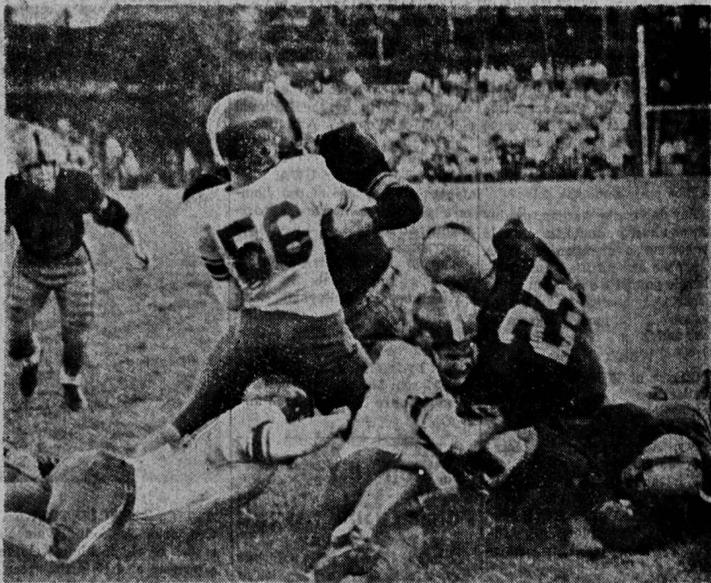

NEW YORK (AP) — The giddy New York Giants rode up Broadway in a ticker tape shower Monday as the big town began to heat up for another World Series, opening Wednesday at the Polo Grounds.

Tickets were extra hard to get and hotels were jammed. The two managers still refused to make it official that Sal Maglie (14-6), the Giants' veteran righthander, will oppose Bob Lemon (23-7) of the Tribe in the opener. Manager Leo Durocher is expected to name Maglie after the Giants' final workout this morning. He also will pick his starting lineup.

Al Lopez probably will go with Lemon if Maglie pitches, for Bob is a lefthanded hitter. If Durocher uses Johnny Antonelli, he might switch to Early Wynn (23-11), a switch hitter who could bat righthanded against a southpaw.

For whatever it's worth, at this stage of the game, the weather man said the outlook Wednesday is for partly cloudy skies with temperatures between 65 and 70.

Here's the One That Made the Difference

JERRY REICHOW (25) plunges through the center of the Michigan State line midway in the final period of Saturday's game. Reichow's charge was the fourth in the series of plays that started from the three-yard line after Eldean Matheson returned a punt for 52 yards. Reichow's touchdown was the clincher as the Hawkeyes nipped the Spartans, 14-10.

Big Ten To Continue Battle for Area TV

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten officially came out Monday for continuance of its battle to get regional football television.

Conference Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson told the Chicago American's Quarterback club luncheon:

"The Big Ten's stand on television should be clear now. We have fought in NCAA circles for regional television. We are going to continue the battle to get it.

Battle For TV

"How successful we will be, I don't know. But we'll be in the battle for it right along."

The Big Ten's stand on regional television, as opposed to the NCAA, is as strong, or even stronger, than ever.

Addressing an audience of about 300 fans at the American's first luncheon of the season, Wilson also reiterated that the Big Ten "has no grievance with pro football" in publicly denouncing a blast last week by Bert Bell, National Football league commissioner. Bell called Big Ten officials "isolationists and selfish men" and charged them with attempting to create a war between college athletics and pro sports.

Minding Own Business

"We have been termed isolationists," said Wilson. "If that means we are minding our own business, selling our own product, then maybe so. We can get along with the pros — we merely have laid down some ground rules. I will say the pros have a good product and have done a good job of selling it."

Another speaker, Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois, was questioned about Penn State's 14-12 upset of his Illini Saturday.

"Regardless of a kid named J. C. Caroline, there's got to be 10 others," Eliot said. "We have to do a coordinated 11-man job. Caroline made eight tackles against Penn State, and if a half-back has to make that many, something must be wrong up in front."

Dressen Signs 2-Year Pact To Manage Nats

NEW YORK (AP) — Charlie Dressen was appointed manager of the Washington Senators Monday for a two-year term. The announcement came as no surprise. It had been rumored for some time the 55-year-old veteran was going to replace Bucky Harris at the helm of the Senators.

No salary was announced, but it was estimated to be about $40,000 a year plus a bonus based on attendance.

Dressen's return to the big leagues came only one year after he relinquished the reins of the National league champion Brooklyn Dodgers for a managerial post with Oakland of the Pacific Coast league.

Boosts Oakland Club

The veteran Californian took a seventh-place club and raised it to third. He then won the PCL's playoff championship.

Dressen parted with the Dodgers after winning two straight National league pennants. After losing to the Yankees in the World Series for the second straight year, Dressen insisted on a long-term contract of two or three years. President Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers stood pat on a one-year offer. They couldn't agree and Dressen quit the club on Oct. 14.

"I'm very happy I got what I asked for," Dressen said.

Sees Hope For Senators

The appointment was announced by Calvin Griffith, vice president of the Senators.

Asked his reason for taking the Washington position, Dressen said:

"I know owner Clark Griffith is a good baseball man and Washington has the nucleus of a pretty good club."

Dressen said he had four propositions during the year from major league clubs and finally settled on the Senators Saturday. He didn't say whom the others were.

Radio System To Sue NFL On Monopoly

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A $2,100,000 antitrust suit will be filed against the National Football league and nine of its club in U.S. district court today, NFL Commissioner Bert Bell disclosed Monday.

Two Dallas, Tex., attorneys representing the trustee of the bankrupt Liberty Broadcasting System, Inc., gave Bell a copy of a complaint they said they planned to file today.

Bell said that attorneys "started to talk about making a settlement and I said 'we settle with no one.'"

The contemplated suit charges that the NFL "has illegally adopted and maintained, throughout the United States of America . . . a system of authorizing the broadcasting of professional football games in such manner as to restrain trade unlawfully in broadcasting and to maintain a monopoly of the broadcasting" in the home territories of NFL clubs.

IN THE DRESSING ROOM, Earl Smith, left, and Jerry Reichow whoop it up. Smith scored the Hawks' first touchdown and Reichow the last.

THE HAWKEYES HAD just scored the winning touchdown but the game wasn't over yet. Here Evashevski talks with backfield coach Bump Elliott who was watching from the press box . . .

WHITNEY MARTIN'S — Sports Trail

NEW YORK (AP)—The Old Professor was giving a fair imitation for a frustrated forward pass as he called to order his Monday morning class of football coaches. That is, he was pretty well bottled up, and you could tell he'd been having an uncorking good time. He mopped his fevered brow.

Old Professor—Whew, it's hot in here, gentlemen. Forest Evashevski, Iowa—You're hot! Our bench was on fire all the time last Saturday. I'm very proud of the reserves who did such a fine job against Michigan State after injuries hampered the team. If there ever was a team victory, this was it. We thought we were finished in the third quarter. The boys were exhausted. We still have a long way to go.

Old Professor—I'm sorry Hugh Daugherty isn't present today. He probably feels a little tough.

Terry Brennan, Notre Dame—Speaking of tough professor, we beat Texas by terrific line play. We were tough up front, but there were a lot of little breaks and the game was a lot closer than the 21 points indicate.

Ed Price, Texas—Notre Dame had a great team Saturday, and that team played as well as it will play throughout the year. Nobody can lose the ball six times and win. You can't do that against Notre Dame, Oklahoma or that type of club.

Old Professor—Mr. Taylor will you please stop whispering to Mr. Casanova.

Chuck Taylor, Stanford — I was just telling him I still think Oregon was the better team Saturday, professor. I am very pleased to win a game in which my team performed as poorly as it did.

Len Casanova, Oregon—What do you have to do to win, anyway?

Old Professor—That's a good question. Maybe Mr. Sanders can answer it.

Red Sanders, UCLA—Well, getting three touchdowns in the first quarter helps. We looked pretty fair doing that in the first period, but not so tough when Kansas steamed up in the second and third. That Maryland is going to be tough.

Chuck Mather, Kansas—Whew, I'm glad we're through with TCU and UCLA. We just didn't have the horses to deal with them. I was real proud of Ralph Moody's 82-yard punt return.

Old Professor—Pardon me, gentlemen, while I take a nip, er, a dose, of my tough medicine. Our time is up, I see. Good thing, too. I think this place is like Mr. Evashevski's bench—on fire. Whew, it's hot.

Community Chest Drive Chairmen Named

County Atty. William L. Meardon, general chairman of the 1954 Johnson County Community Chest fund drive, has announced the appointment of division chairmen for the Oct. 11-23 drive.

L. G. Klein, Iowa City, will head the professional division which includes doctors, lawyers, dentists and ministers. Klein is a graduate of the SUI college of law and has been associated with the law firm of Messer, Hamilton and Cahill since May.

Arlyn C. Marks, director of university personnel service, has been appointed chairman of the university division.

Residential chairman will be Mrs. Ivan L. Hedges, 212 W. Park road.

The drive this year will concentrate on business places during the first four days. The final four days will be devoted to a residential campaign.

Each person contacted either at work or at home will receive a red feather sticker to be placed in the window of his home. The solicitors will visit only homes not displaying these stickers.

Committee Raps McCarthy—

who appeared before him." Sen. Herman Welker (R-Iowa) "unhesitatingly" rallied to McCarthy's side. He accused the Watkins committee of setting a precedent "for any senator, no matter how incompetent, to embarrass another by sending down a resolution of censure and accusing any senator of mistreating of this or that person."

Flanders Satisfied
Sen. Ralph Flanders (R-Vt.), whose resolution set off the inquiry leading to Monday's report, said he does not plan to lead a fight for censure of McCarthy by the full senate. "I think they have done a good job," he said of the committee report.

"The fact that the investigation was done in a completely judicial atmosphere lends more strength to the charges that were sustained than if all the charges had been sustained after hearings carried on in a flamboyant atmosphere."

The committee found no grounds for censuring McCarthy for having said of Flanders: "Senile — I think they should get a man with a net and take him to a good quiet place."

The 68-page report was signed by Sens. Watkins, Johnson, John C. Stennis (D-Miss.), Frank Carlson (R-Kan.), Ervin (D-N.C.), and Francis Case (R-S.D.).

The committee, in addition to what it had to say about censuring McCarthy, made two other recommendations to the senate:

1. That no one-man committee hearings be permitted, except upon the authority of a majority vote of committee members.

2. That no testimony taken in a closed session be disclosed publicly unless authorized by a majority vote.

Iowa City Youth Hurt in Collision Of Cycle, Auto

Robert E. Africa, 17, son of SUI journalism instructor Henry Africa, 24 Highland dr., suffered abrasions of the face and ribs and an injured left leg Sunday when his motorcycle collided with an automobile driven by Donald J. Larkin, 35, 1325 Keokuk st.

Police reported that Africa was traveling east on Washington st. The Larkin car, going west on Washington st., was attempting a left turn onto Dubuque st. at the time of the accident.

The youth was taken to University hospitals, treated and released.

According to police there was extensive damage to the motorcycle. Damage to the car was negligible.

Homestead Driver Fined for OMVI

Francis L. Faulkner, 21, of Homestead, was fined $300 and given a 60-day suspension of his driver's license, Monday, by Judge James P. Gaffney in Johnson county district court. Faulkner pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Faulkner was arrested June 18 in Oxford after he was reported to have run his auto into the front yard of a home there.

In district court, Faulkner admitted drinking beer the day of his arrest, but did not recall how much beer he had had.

Students Head Home with Police Guard

THREE NEGRO GIRLS leave the Milford, Del., high school and walk toward private cars Monday after classes were reopened with an integrated 10th grade. The girls and seven other Negro pupils were taken home in a private car and a bus, under police guard. Less than 30 per cent of the more than 1,500 white pupils enrolled appeared for classes. There were no incidents as school reopened after being closed for a week.

Visitors Mistake Gorillas For Founders of Zoo

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Bronze busts of Mbongo and Ngagi, the late and well known gorillas of the San Diego Zoo, have been moved to prominent positions inside the zoo entrance. So prominent, says Dr. Charles Schroeder, that he had two visitors come up to him the other day. Pointing to the busts, one of the guests asked, "Are they the men who started the zoo?"

Welch To Speak—

lectures are to be given by a man of national stature.

Welch, whose parents moved to Iowa in a covered wagon in the 1870's, worked his way through Grinnell college and was graduated a Phi Beta Kappa in 1914, with a scholarship to Harvard Law school.

Welch is one of the senior members of the law firm of Hale-Door, in Boston. In addition to his law practice he has recently been the counsel for the army in their row with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

This will be Mr. Welch's first appearance since the committee ruling on the Army-McCarthy hearings handed down its report. Previous to that time Welch had said he did not feel it would be appropriate for him to comment on the hearings until the committee had made its findings public.

His close association with intricate Senate hearings, plus his legal training and acquaintance with courtroom techniques give Welch a background for his topic which possibly no other man in the country can equal.

Welch and his wife will arrive by plane Friday afternoon. Welch will, in addition to the Friday evening lecture, attend an institute of prominent Iowa lawyers and visit with law students Friday. Saturday he will see the Iowa-Montana football game and attend an institute dinner.

Study Finds Estimate Of Potential Labor

A technique by which a small city can estimate its potential labor supply at minimum cost is outlined in a new pamphlet of the SUI bureau of labor and management.

"Estimating the Labor Supply in a Rural Community" reports a pioneer survey with local volunteer help in Henry county plus neighboring Lockridge and Stockport. SUI research associates Kenneth E. Larsen and Everett Refior prepared the questionnaires and analyzed the results, and the Mt. Pleasant Junior Chamber of Commerce conducted the interviews.

The project was suggested by the Iowa State employment service to develop a procedure which might lend itself readily to the use by other communities. The Mt. Pleasant city planning commission and chamber of commerce financed the survey. "For those readers not specifically interested in Henry county," the SUI researchers point out, "the chief value of the study is to give some idea as to the data which can be readily collected on such items as total population 14 years of age and over, its composition in terms of sex, types of occupation, full-time and part-time employment and the location, wages and hours of the jobs."
