Lattimore Indicted Again For Perjury

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury Thursday accused Owen Lattimore of falsely denying under oath that he had been "a follower" of the Communist line and a "promoter of Communist interests."

The controversial Far Eastern affairs specialist promptly said he always has been a loyal American who followed the "dictates of my own conscience and not the commands of any foreign system."

The new two-count indictment was obtained after the courts voided the cornerstone charge of an earlier indictment. The earlier court said Lattimore swore falsely when he told the senate internal security subcommittee he had never been a sympathizer or any other kind of promoter of Communist interests.

Nowhere in the new indictment did the word "sympathizer" appear.

Court Calls Word Vague

The U.S. Court of Appeals in a decision last July said this word, as used in the earlier indictment, was too vague.

U.S. Atty. Leo A. Rover said he will move later to consolidate the new indictment with the five remaining counts of the original true bill.

Lattimore said the new indictment "attempts to create the impression that I said a lot of things which I did not say."

He added: "This indictment lays bare the fact that this prosecution is a direct and immediate threat to everyone who has ever written or spoken of foreign affairs and whom the government chooses to attack for political reasons."

Testified Earlier

Lattimore, 54, a one-time state department consultant, testified before the internal security subcommittee for many stormy days in February and March 1952, during an investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Thursday's indictment charged that Lattimore, during the period 1935-50, "knowingly and intentionally followed the Communist line in public and private statements, in his conversations, his correspondence, and in his widely disseminated writings, both in the United States and other parts of the world."

It also alleged that Lattimore, as a writer, lecturer, editor of "Pacific Affairs," and as a government official, used his position "to engage directly and indirectly in the placing and disseminating within the U.S. and other countries throughout the world, oral and written statements" containing the positions taken by Russia.

Nab Escapee In Dubuque

EAST DUBUQUE, Ill. (AP) — An escapee from the Iowa Men's Reformatory who forced a woman hostage to drive him to Dubuque, was picked up in a tavern here Thursday evening.

The prisoner, Darrell L. Watts, 24, of Boone, was found in the El Rancho Club by Deputy Warden Roland Brown and Emil Pillard, a prison guard, who had started a search of taverns here for him. Watts offered no resistance when approached by the two reformatory officials. He was recaptured about 6:15 p.m.

Brown, at whose home Watts had been assigned as a trusty only Wednesday, and Pillard started back immediately to Anamosa with the prisoner.

Watts escaped the Anamosa reformatory earlier Thursday and later held three women as hostages. He forced one of them to drive him to Dubuque where he got out of her car and went on his way.

It was a harrowing experience for the three women, Mrs. Earl Byerly, about 60 who lives in Anamosa a block from the reformatory, and Mrs. H. H. Rumpfle, 77, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wilma Rumpfle, about 50, who live on a farm west of Anamosa.

Mrs. Byerly had driven to the Rumpfle farm to visit and it was she who was forced to drive Watts to Dubuque. She was unharmed.

Students May Claim Unsold Books Tuesday

Unsold and returned books from the university book exchange may be picked up at the Student Council office in Macbride hall beginning Tuesday, Jan Trachta, A4, Cedar Rapids, said Thursday.

Books not claimed by Oct. 29 will become the property of the Student Council. The Student Council office is open Monday through Friday from 1 to 4 p.m. Claimants are to bring their receipts, Miss Trachta said.

UNEMPLOYMENT DECLINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Thursday reported a 146,000 decline among unemployed in September, bringing the nation's jobless total to 3,099,000.

2,000 Miles on a Dollar

TOM ECKER, A2, WAVERLY, practices his smile on passing motorists before beginning a 2,000-mile hitch-hike with only $1. He will try to hitch to Greenville, S.C., to settle a friendly bet. The wager provides that he make the trip in 69 hours.

'Carolina, Here I Come'

Student To Hitch-Hike 2,000 Miles In 69 Hours To Win Bet from Friends

Tom Ecker, A2, Waverly, will attempt to hitchhike 2,000 miles this weekend with $1 in his pocket to win a bet with several friends at Hillcrest dormitory.

Ecker, who balances lawn mowers on his chin as an act in variety shows, said he plans to leave after his 10:30 a.m. class today for Greenville, S.C.

If he gets back to Iowa City before his 8:30 a.m. class Monday, Ecker is to receive $10 and a meal at the Amama colonies from his friends.

The SUI student said he will mail post cards along the way to prove to his classmates that the trip is authentic.

He chose Greenville, S.C., as his destination because it is 1,000 miles from Iowa City and "because I had never been to that part of the country before."

Ecker, a member of the SUI track team, plans to carry four large signs naming his destination in an effort to attract motorists.

After arriving in Greenville, he will mail a post card and then start back to Iowa City. His time will not be wasted, he says, even if he does lose the bet. He is taking some books along to brush up for a test.

Senators Hit AEC Action On Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report that the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) had approved a draft of a controversial private power contract with the Dixon-Yates group drew angry protests from two senators Thursday.

Sen. William Langer (R-ND), chairman of a senate antimonopoly subcommittee, and Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), a member, charged that the AEC had not shown "proper respect" for the subcommittee in acting on the contract.

They demanded a copy of the minutes of the AEC meeting at which approval was agreed on, plus a report on how each commissioner voted.

K. D. Nichols, AEC's general manager, had just notified Langer's group that a draft of the contract had been approved Oct. 5 but that no binding agreement had been made with Dixon-Yates.

The AEC is negotiating with Dixon-Yates for the construction of a private power plant at West Memphis, Ark. The $107 million installation would furnish power to the Memphis area over the line of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

"Apparently this administration gives its information to Wall Street before it gives it to this committee," Langer said.

He then had read into the record a story in Thursday's edition of the Wall Street Journal reporting that the AEC apparently had approved the contract and was seeking quick permission to sign it.

Nationalist Army Can Whip Russia, Chiang Claims

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek said Thursday his armies could whip Russia if it intervened in any Nationalist invasion of Red China because the Chinese people would rise and fight the Soviets.

In the exclusive interview, the generalissimo predicted the same fate would await Russia as overtook Japan — a whole people rising in wrath against the foreigners.

It was noted that N. S. Krushchev, secretary of the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party, reportedly gave assurances in Peiping last week that Russia would support plans for an attack on Formosa.

"If you counterattack the mainland and Russia intervenes, what then?" the generalissimo was asked.

"If the Soviet Union in the future comes out into the open, mobilizes troops, and fights against our nationalist army on the mainland, the whole Chinese people will rise up and fight against the Russians."

Happy About Arrest, It Saved His Life

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Alvie Watham was happy the police arrested him.

Officers W. A. Williams and W. E. Davis arrived in time to jerk Watham out of a burning bed where he had gone to sleep with a lighted cigarette in his hand.

He was jailed on charges of four separate traffic violations.

Georgia Congressman Faces Senate Probe

Ike Planning 2 Campaign Talks on TV

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, heading party calls for help, decided Thursday to step up his personal campaign for a Republican congress by making at least one more major political address than he had planned.

The chief executive will go that far, Vice-President Richard M. Nixon announced at the Denver White House after conferring with Eisenhower, but still is determined to do no barnstorming for individual GOP candidates in the November election.

And Nixon said that in his opinion the President has been and will continue to play "exactly the right role" in what several GOP leaders have termed a tough fight to maintain Republican control of congress.

Would Be Mistake

The vice-president said it would be a mistake for Eisenhower to get "personally involved" in any intraparty feuds over candidates by barnstorming for individuals.

Nixon agreed it's a difficult battle for the Republicans, but expressed confidence his party will win. He declared the campaign the Democrats are waging would take the country "back to the days when the Communist danger was ignored—back to the days of the red herring."

'Red Herring'

His "red herring" remark was an indirect criticism of the Truman administration's handling of the subversion problem.

Eisenhower will make a nationwide television-radio address tonight, the first of the three major speeches he now is planning. He and Nixon will speak at a big political rally in the 6,000-seat Denver municipal auditorium, and similar GOP "pre-empt workers' day" rallies all over the country will be tuned in.

The President will make another nationwide TV-radio address Nov. 1, election eve.

Campus Chest Poll To Decide Where Donations Will Go

An opinion poll of university housing units Oct. 18 will determine where contributions to this year's Campus Chest drive will go, Emma Lou Fuller, A4, Altoona, and Emilie Lathrop, A4, Cedar Rapids, co-chairmen announced Thursday.

This year's campaign, to be held from Nov. 15 to 18, will be the main drive on the SUI campus this year.

However, the office of student affairs reported that it is impossible to bar other solicitors from the campus. Campus Chest is sponsored by the SUI Student Council.

Members of the Chest central committee will contact the governing bodies of the housing units in advance to inform them of possible areas where the donations may be given.

The central committee includes Miss Fuller and Miss Lathrop; Ed Cohn, A3, Waterloo; Jim Greer, A2, Ottumwa; Barbara Hays, D2, Des Moines; Lois Underwood, A2, Davenport, and Wes Pippert, A4, Mason City.

Last year's drive netted $2,250 which was distributed among CARE, $225; World Student Service fund, $1,125; Scholarship Service for Negro Students, $450, and foreign students at SUI, $450.

Mendes Urges French To OK German Arms

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France Thursday threw his popularity and prestige on the parliamentary scales when he came out in favor of rearming West Germany under the new London agreements.

At the end of an hour-long appeal to the national assembly, the premier appeared to have tilted the balance strongly in his favor for the first vote which will probably come tonight.

May Get 380 Votes

Prominent Socialist and Popular Republican (MRP) deputies predicted Mendes-France will get between 330 and 380 votes, well over the 314 absolute majority.

In a careful, restrained report on the London negotiations, the premier urged the assembly, which killed the European army plan (EDC), to endorse German entry into an integrated defense force under a revived Brussels treaty and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

No Vote Asked

The Socialists, assembly sources said, are likely to tie some strings to their approval, notably a satisfactory solution of the French-German dispute over the Saar's industrial wealth. But the premier reiterated he felt the same way and said he intends to submit simultaneously the rearmament plan and a Saar solution to parliament for ratification.

Mendes-France asked for parliamentary approval of the outlines of the London agreements and authority to fill in the details in the ministerial conference.

Professor's Wife Wins 1st Prize In Safety Contest

Mrs. C. M. Mickey, wife of Prof. Carroll Mickey of SUI's sociology department, received a $25 savings bond Thursday from Keith Kafer, secretary of the Iowa City chamber of commerce, as first place winner of the chamber's safety slogan contest.

"Drive Courteously — It's Safer Than You Think" is the slogan suggested by Mrs. Mickey. It will be used in educational and promotional activities of the committee.

The 150 entries received in the contest were judged by members of the committee, headed by Ralph O. Boldt.

Other members of the committee are Robert Roth, Robert S. Lee, Walter J. Donohue, Atty. Emil G. Troit, Lou Hagerdon and Gene Claussen.

Under Fire in FHA Probe

Witness Tells Demo's Profit In FHA Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Prince H. Preston (D-Ga.) was described to senate investigators today as a hidden stockholder in a firm which netted $143,000 on an initial investment of $7,000 in a government-insured housing project.

William A. Bowen, mayor of Statesboro, Ga., Preston's home town, testified that he held for the congressman a one-third interest in Bowen-Sundy Enterprises, which obtained an FHA-insured mortgage for construction of the Nelson Apartments in Savannah, Ga., in 1950.

When the project was almost completed, Bowen told the Senate banking committee, Bowen-Sundy Enterprises sold its stock to Byck-Worrell, the construction company, for $150,000.

3 Make Profit

He reported that Preston, James L. Sundy and himself each received a net profit of about $47,600 on individual investments approximating $2,333.

Anticipating Bowen's testimony, Preston said in Statesboro Thursday night that the investigating committee, headed by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), was trying "to make political capital on the eve of the election of a legitimate business enterprise."

"I assure you that at no time did I use my office to influence any official," he said in a speech in which he accepted nomination for a fifth term in the house from the 1st District Democratic convention.

Loan Not Guaranteed

"There was not one federal dollar involved and there was no guarantee of any loan by the government."

William Simon, counsel for the Banking committee, asked Bowen Thursday why the stock was not issued in Preston's name if he put up one-third of the money.

"I don't know," the mayor replied. "Probably for business reasons. He asked me to hold it for him."

Probes Corporation

Asked if the sponsoring corporation had anything to sell except its mortgage commitment from the Federal Housing Administration, Bowen said "a lot of work" went into the project.

"What did Mr. Preston do?" Simon asked.

"He didn't do any of the work," Bowen responded. In another development before the committee, Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Colman Andrews announced the government intends to assess additional taxes against multimillion-dollar "windfall" profits made by promoters of many postwar housing projects.

To Hit Income

He informed the senators that, "Without disclosing exactly what we propose to do, we think there are aspects of all these cases that give us better than a fighting chance to get at this income."

Before Bowen told his story, Capehart took the witness stand himself to report on the Preston deal.

"Whether there was anything with it, I'm not the judge," he said.

The senator went on to say that he had decided to testify because Preston had accused him of "indulging in character assassination and . . . in politics on the eve of the election."

Senator Testifies

He said the first the committee knew of Nelson Apartments, Inc., was when the FHA submitted a list of projects on which the mortgage loans exceeded the actual cost of construction.

The FHA data listed the capital stock of Nelson Apartments at $7,500, Capehart said, and reported there had been a distribution of "windfall" profits in the amount of $250,000.

Prior to Bowen's testimony at an executive session Wednesday, he continued, "We had absolutely no idea Congressman Preston's name" would be mentioned in connection with the project, which was financed with a $1.2 million FHA-insured loan.

Adenauer Wins Support On Western Pact

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Thursday night won overwhelming parliamentary support for his policy of bringing a rearmeed West Germany into the Western Alliance.

By a show of hands, the majority of the Bundestag (lower house) accepted the London agreement to allow Bonn to raise 12 divisions and an air force as member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

The vote was a swift answer to Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's latest bid to block West German rearmament by dangling new hopes of German unification.

The West German Socialists, who have 151 seats in the 487-member chamber, voted against the motion.

A socialist countermotion calling for another try for a settlement with the Russians was pushed aside.

The vote came after more than 11 hours of debate on the results of the London conference.

Leaders in France and Britain also refused to be diverted from their plans for Germany by Molotov's bid for another Four-Power conference.

The Russian's offer to talk over ways to unify divided Germany through free elections and to withdraw occupation troops was received with considerable skepticism.

Molotov spoke during a surprise visit to East Berlin.

He made another appearance in East Berlin Thursday, telling an estimated 100,000 at an anniversary meeting it was up to East and West Germany to get at unification.

Molotov hammered at the Western Allies, saying they wanted to keep Germany divided.

Meanwhile, at the start of the fight in the French national assembly for acceptance of the London agreement, Premier Pierre Mendes-France promised careful consideration of Russian proposals.

But British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden at a Conservative party meeting Thursday spurned the Soviet proposal, saying the Russian aim was still Communist domination of Germany.

In Bonn, Chancellor Adenauer said German unity was only part of the great field of tension. He was waiting for the formal Russian answer to the recent Western notes demanding free elections to unify Germany.

In the London conference he had received assurance of Western support for the achievement of unity.

Safety Education Needed—

Among 198 U.S. communities, Iowa City ranked in the top third in a national motor club's 1953 pedestrian protection contest.

During 1953, Iowa City had no pedestrian fatalities, and only nine injuries. Such recognition was due Iowa City. But there is more to be done.

It would be foolish to look back on 1953 with pride and then forget about the oncoming years. Plans must be laid to carry on the good record as well as reduce the pedestrian injuries.

Iowa City Police Chief Oliver A. White recently listed three safety measures undertaken by the city so far this year. Among these — installation of 12 school crossing signals, formation of safety committees and inauguration of driver education classes at University high school — the most important would seem to be the installation of a driver education course at U-high.

Education is what we need. Both drivers and pedestrians must become more aware of their respective responsibilities concerning safety on the streets and highways.

We can't think of a better place to begin such an education than in the high schools. Teen-agers are, for the most part, in the process of learning. History, mathematics and English composition are fine, but our youth must also learn to live longer on the highways, in and out of a car.

Such an education program will lower the injuries due to motor vehicles. If it saves only one life or keeps one person out of the hospital, the program will have proved useful.

Dogging the Question—

There is a legend that people who live together for many years tend to become similar in appearance. And if people, why the people and their dogs? a humorist has asked.

But until the town of Wallasey, England, broke into the world news the other day no one so far as we know had ever set up either of these developments as necessarily desirable goals. At Wallasey, however, dog owners have been invited to enter a contest in which the winner will be the owner who looks most like his dog or the dog who looks most like his owner or maybe both.

This is a contest we should not like to judge. It has too many pitfalls. Even the young lady who used to say "Love me, love my dog" was not expected to accept as a compliment the suggestion that charms were about evenly divided between her beauty and the beast's. On the other hand, a dog owner who believed he had a particularly handsome animal might feel affronted on being told that he and his dog did not look alike.

Then there is the dog's point of view to be considered. Would a dog bite the hand that was giving it a medal if the animal realized that the award meant that it looked like its owner? We don't know. But there must be a limit even to a dog's loyalty.

Ross to Attend Civic Convention

Prof. Russell Ross of the political science department will attend the 56th annual convention of the League of Iowa Municipalities in Des Moines today.

This morning Ross will attend a discussion session of the league's legislative program. The program approved at the convention will later be recommended to the 56th general assembly of Iowa.

Ross will participate in the business section of the convention this afternoon as an official delegate from University Heights.

Dec. 15 Deadline In Essay Contest

Students interested in international affairs now have until Dec. 15 to submit essays in the Foreign Service Journal prize essay contest.

The essays, to be written on "The Organization of American Representation Abroad," may win up to $1,000, or a full fellowship amounting to $1,750, at the school of advanced international studies of the Johns Hopkins University in Washington.

Full details of the contest may be obtained by writing to the Foreign Service Journal, Contest Committee, 1908 G St., N. W., Washington 6, D. C.

High Schools Educating Our Young Drivers

By LEONARD J. SNYDER
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Thousands of high school teachers boned up on a new course this summer—one which may save the life of your child or even your own.

Their singular object was to help slash the soaring highway death toll which in the last five years alone has reached the almost unbelievable count of more than 178,000.

The task is not insurmountable. Reports compiled by the American Automobile association show that each year more and more teacher training institutions are offering summer courses in driving education to those already qualified to teach academic subjects.

Pay High Dividends Undoubtedly, the efforts of high-school teachers who will put into practice what they learned in the summer will pay high dividends — of the life-and-limb saving type.

In the school year just ended, for example, the AAA estimates that more than 425 lives were saved, 14,910 traffic injuries prevented and more than $42 million worth of property damage avoided as a direct result of driver education in our high schools.

Moreover, it's the belief of AAA experts—and surveys by official agencies bear this out—that driver education offers the greatest single potentiality for future safety on our highways. If you're a parent this is something you would do well to underscore in your mind.

Part of Curriculum About 6,500 high schools — one-fourth of the total — now offer a complete driver training course as a regular part of the school curriculum. In addition, several thousand more schools are offering classroom instruction without actual behind-the-wheel training.

Those largely credited with the rapidity and success of the driver education programs are school officials themselves and various civic and official organizations behind the nation's highway safety drive.

Without exception, it is the expressed view of the chief school superintendents in every state and the District of Columbia that America's youth should be offered high-quality driving instruction as an integral part of their general education. Yet only two states — North Dakota and California — now have compulsory driver education programs.

Money Is Obstacle The big obstacles facing the states are money and classroom space.

It costs about $34 to teach a student what he ought to know about driving safely. Yet this is less than the cost of repairing a single crumpled fender.

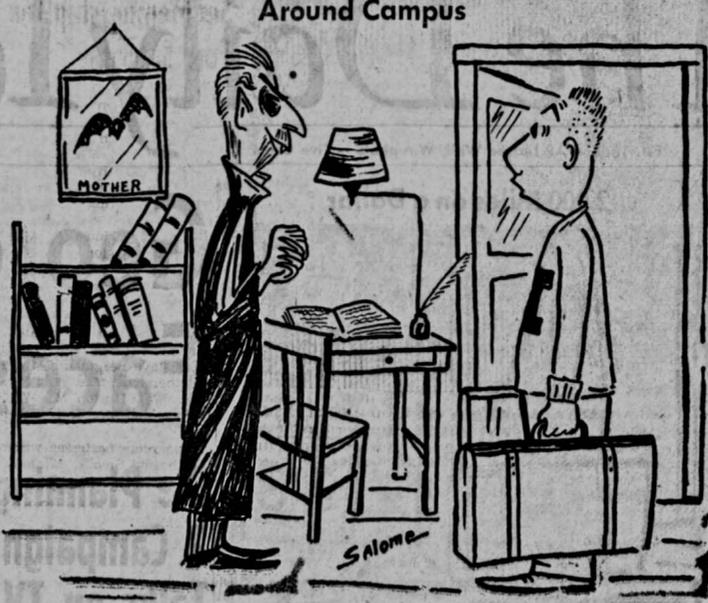

Fortunately, the majority of schools offering driving courses have dual-controlled training cars. This is due mainly to generous car manufacturers and dealers who have loaned them. Last year alone, more than 5,000 cars were assigned to schools through arrangements made by the AAA and affiliated clubs.

Stress Responsibility As the AAA points out, driver education is not just a matter of teaching a student how to handle the controls of a car. More important perhaps is the realization by the driver of his new responsibilities. This is what most good schools stress.

They emphasize the importance of courtesy and fair play toward other drivers — and pedestrians too. The mechanical skills of handling a car correctly are certainly not overlooked, however.

According to the AAA, a typical driver education course includes 34 hours of classroom work, eight hours of actual driving practice with an instructor, and another 24 hours of watching other students behind the wheel.

There may still be a long way to go before every student is given the opportunity to enroll in a driver education course. However, as the AAA says, there is every reason to expect that the day will come when every top-notch high school in the land will offer such an opportunity — "an opportunity to live."

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.
Foreign Staff Associated Press

The United States has persuaded the Chinese Nationalists to cease their daily bombardments of Red installations in the Amoy neighborhood to prevent a possible brush involving 7th fleet air power.

There has been much nervousness over the possibility that Nationalist air raids would attract retaliation, from which the Reds would be held off so far. The fleet, with its orders to defend Formosa, would be in the middle in such case, facing decision as to whether the attacks were merely retaliatory or a prelude to an invasion attempt, and all sorts of complications.

First the Reds shelled Quemoy island. The Nationalists responded with air attacks on Red shipping and installations. The Reds had massed a fleet of invasion junks which the Nationalists claim to have damaged severely.

The Nationalists sincerely believed that the massing and the Quemoy shelling presaged an invasion of that island. For a month they demonstrated what they would do in defense.

The U.S. apparently decided the demonstration was sufficient, and that its continuance was too dangerous. Dependent on America for its arms, the Nationalists cannot ignore such a decision.

There are heartening angles in the fact the attacks have occurred. The possibility of an immediate Red assault on Quemoy seems to have been lessened, although the Nationalists still believe it will come as an interim demonstration to back up Red propaganda that they certainly do intend to take Formosa at the right time.

Better than that, though, is the restraint showed by the Reds, indicating they are just as anxious not to risk another brush with the U.S. as America is to avoid it.

Whether this restraint will last beyond the time when sufficient Red forces have been built up to give them a chance of victory remains to be seen.

Iowa Department Store Sales Rise

CHICAGO (AP) — Department store sales in five large Iowa cities showed increases in August of this year over July, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported Thursday.

However, with the exception of Cedar Rapids, total sales this year were lower than for the same period of 1953.

Cedar Rapids showed an increase of two per cent over last year.

Decreases for the year were listed for Des Moines and Dubuque, three per cent each and Sioux City and Waterloo, five per cent each.

The Best Years Of Our Lives

Reprinted From Minneapolis Star

What are the happiest years of one's life? Psychologists at Teachers college, Columbia university, put this question to a group of 123 students recently (average age 32) and got some surprising answers. They also asked what years the students considered most favorable for "freedom from worry" and for "ambition."

In each case, little hope was seen for the later years. Early childhood, early adolescence and the 20s and 30s were rated tops for happiness. Early childhood also was deemed most favorable for freedom from worry, and adolescence and the 20s and 30s ranked highest for ambition.

Dr. Jacob Tuckman, who conducted the tests, commented that the group's "negative judgment of old age" shows a need for educating people that age per se is not the determining factor in one's happiness, productivity and security.

One can't help wondering how this group would react to the same questions 20 years from now.

Applications For Iowan Editor Open Nov. 9-12

Applications for the position of editor of The Daily Iowan for the term from Dec. 1, 1954, through May 31, 1955, will be received in the school of journalism office, room 201 Communications Center, beginning Nov. 9 and ending at 5 p.m. Nov. 12.

This announcement was made Thursday by Prof. Fred M. Pownall, director of publications, after the first full meeting of the board of trustees of Student Publications, Inc.

The present term of office of the editor of the Iowan, as established by the board last May, expires Nov. 31. Under the present six-month system, editors are eligible for re-election.

Candidates for the position will appear before the board on Nov. 18. Selection will be made on the basis of experience on the Iowan, good academic standing and demonstration of executive ability.

At its meeting Thursday, the board appointed Miss Elaine Distelhorst secretary, succeeding Miss Lois Randall who resigned June 30.

GENERAL NOTICES

GENERAL NOTICES should be deposited with the city editor of The Daily Iowan in the newsroom in the Communications Center. The 24th annual conference of mathematics teachers will be held today in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Designed primarily for high school mathematics teachers, the conference is believed to be the oldest of its kind in the United States. H. Vernon Price, head of SUI's department of mathematics, said.

H. Glenn Ayre, of Western Illinois State college and vice-president of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, will give the opening address at 9:45 a.m.

Oberg To Speak Prof. Edwin N. Oberg of SUI's mathematics and astronomy department will explain the expanding role of mathematics in the aircraft and guided missile

To Show Slides Guest speaker at a conference dinner tonight will be Prof. Frank Wachowiak, head of SUI art instruction. He will exhibit photographic slides taken during his recent year in Burma under a Fulbright teaching scholarship.

Saturday at 9:30 a.m., Ayre will speak on "A Super Highway vs. a Network of Mathematical Tracks." The concluding address at 10:15 a.m. will be given by Price, who will compare pre-war and post-war students of first year college mathematics.

TV Film Showing Children's Artwork Produced at SUI

The artwork of children from many areas of the world will be shown and discussed on "Adventures in Art," produced by SUI and scheduled to be televised at 10 a.m. today over station WOI-TV, Ames.

Frank Wachowiak, head of art instruction at the University experimental schools, will point out various features of children's art from foreign lands. Wachowiak is resuming his post as art consultant for the "Adventures in Art" series this fall, after spending a year in Burma on a Fulbright teaching scholarship.

Verne Thompson, art instructor at University high school, will appear on the program with Wachowiak.

"Adventures in Art" is starting its third consecutive year on television. It is an art program designed as a teaching aid in elementary schools. The program will be televised each week of the school year.

Part of the WOI-TV feature, "TV Schooltime," the art program is produced through the cooperation of the University elementary school and the SUI television center. "TV Schooltime" series is co-sponsored by SUI, Iowa State college, Iowa State Teachers college and the state department of public instruction.

Jury Awards Man $10,000 Damages

Thomas C. Perrine was awarded $10,000 damages Thursday morning by a Johnson county district court jury for injuries suffered June 7 in a tractor accident.

Perrine asked $24,816 from Richard Heath for medical costs, loss of wages, permanent injury and pain and suffering after he received a broken leg and a crushed ankle in the accident on Heath's farm.

Perrine, employed for some two weeks as a laborer on the farm, charged Heath with negligence in making a sharp turn with his tractor, causing the right wheel to drag a tow cable up and pin Perrine's ankle to the tractor axle.

Heath had charged his employee with failing to properly watch to the rear of the tractor, but the jury found that Perrine did not contribute to his own injury, did not fail to keep a lookout for his own safety and had used reasonable care for his own protection.

Blanks are available at Westlawn or from Pat Faulkner, Gladys Shoup or any SNO officers. They must be returned by 5 p.m. Friday, Oct. 8, at the college of nursing office, room 1, Westlawn.

Fall Fiesta to Feature Gay Mexican Theme

In an atmosphere of old and modern Mexico the first all-university party of the year will be held tonight from 8 to midnight in the Iowa Memorial Union.

A miniature Mexican straw hat will be given to each couple entering the main lounge, where Ralph Marterie and his Downbeat orchestra will be playing. Duane DuBois, A3, Boone, is in charge of decorations. A "Patio scene," painted by Nancy Clithero, A3, Atlantic, will decorate the lobby. Other lobby decorations will be a street scene with a bubbling fountain.

Penytas, Spanish grab bags, will decorate the main lounge. They were made by Sally Gill, A3, Moline, Ill.; Jan Leusen, C4, Cedar Rapids, and Diane Burkett, A3, Sioux City. Colorful posters, decorated with black lace and paper roses, will line the walls.

Posters Painted
The posters were painted by Kay Taylor, N2, Tulsa, Okla., assisted by the Pi Beta Phi pledge class. The roses were made under the direction of Mary Jo Hobart, A2, Lake City, assisted by the Kappa Alpha Theta pledge class.

The handstand will be surmounted by a three dimensional Mexican dancing girl, constructed by Dick Spring, A1, Madrid, and Duane DuBois. The west wall of the lounge will be covered by a mural painted by Bob Carpenter; Marge Crabbe, A3, Eagle Grove, and Judy Regan, A2, Sioux Falls, S.D.

Intermission Entertainment
During intermission at 10 p.m., Sue McBride, A4, Waterloo, and Marshall Holt, A4, Des Moines, will dance a Mexican Hat dance. Ida Mae Bell, A2, Des Moines, will present a Spanish serenade. John Elman, A2, Des Moines, will be master of ceremonies. The entertainment committee includes Mary Hauer, A4, Sheldon; Donna McMahon, A4, Ft. Dodge; and Bob Groom, A4, Des Moines.

An intermission tea for the guests of honor will be held in the private dining room. Guests will include President and Mrs. Virgil M. Hancher; Earl H. Harper, director of the Iowa Memorial Union, and Mrs. Harper; M. L. Huit, counselor to men, and Mrs. Huit; Harry Crosby, faculty adviser of Phi Eta Sigma, men's freshman honorary society, and Mrs. Crosby; and George F. Stevens, assistant director of the Union, and Mrs. Stevens.

Publicity Committee
Paul Hagenson, A3, Clinton, is chairman of the publicity for the dance. He has been assisted by Dorothy Schwengel, A2, Davenport; Helene Peck, A2, Des Moines; Mary Ann Verhille, C4, Ottumwa; Marian Shapiro, A3, Washington, D.C.; Gene Harding, A2, Altoona; Barry

Orientation Planned For Hospital Volunteers

An orientation training period will be held in the little theater of the Veterans hospital Sunday at 2 p.m. for women interested in doing volunteer work at the hospital. There will be a coffee hour in the recreation lounge following the meeting.

Women working on the UWA service committee will have an opportunity to write letters, show bedside movies, serve as recreation hostesses on the wards, work on the hospital newspaper or on the radio station.

Members of the committee are Barbara Behrens, A4, Oelwein, chairman; Sandi Miller, A2, Davenport; Shirley Curtis, A3, Chatillon; Jody Myers, A2, Waterloo, and Eleanor Fleming, A4, Whittemore.

Ackerly, A3, Des Moines. Others include Marshall Engelbeck, C4, Des Moines; Bow Pritchett, A3, Chicago; Tom Affenberger, A3, Shenandoah; Jack Stern, A3, Perry; Norma Hansen, D2, Milwaukee, Wis.; Cecilia Kirby, A3, Sioux Falls, S.D., and Jan Papke, A4, Sabula. The dance is non-formal and non-corsage.

Church Group Plans Open House, Panel Discussion

The Disciples student fellowship will hold an open house at the student center, 217 E. Iowa ave., Saturday from 12:30-5 p.m. All of the recreation facilities will be available and those who wish to listen to the Iowa-Michigan football game may do so.

Students who are musically inclined are asked to bring their instruments as there will be try-outs for the variety show which is scheduled later in the year.

Sunday evening from 5-7 p.m. the fellowship will meet at the student center for a panel discussion on "Campus Gods on Trial," from the book by Chad Walsh. Edward McLachlan, A2, Iowa City, will be the moderator. A short worship service will follow the discussion. All students are invited to attend.

Phi Gam Pledges Elect 5 Officers

Mike Whitmore, A1, Des Moines, was recently elected president of the Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity pledge class. Nick Welter, C3, Iowa City, was chosen vice-president; Rich Killebrew, A1, Des Moines, social chairman; Ted Roberts, A1, Macomb, Ill., work chairman; and Don Ninders, A1, Des Moines, treasurer.

Initiated Monday night into the fraternity were George Kress, A3, Dubuque; Allyn Mark, A3, Clarksville; Bill Seaberg, A3, Moline, Ill.; Roger Wiegmann, A3, Waverly; and John Wilson, A4, Des Moines.

Earlier Date Proposed For 1955 State Fair

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa state fair board will meet in December to fix the date for the 1955 state fair and already is confronted with one proposal that the date be set in mid-August.

This year's fair was Aug. 28-Sept. 6. Members of the Taylor County Schoolmasters assn. at Bedford proposed the earlier date. They said a late fair often conflicts with pre-school sports practice and deprives some students of an opportunity to attend the fair.

Panacea Applications Are Now Available

Script-writing applications for Panacea can be obtained at the reception desk in the office of students affairs. Applications must be in by Oct. 18. There will be a $50 prize for the winning script.

Decoration Committee Makes Roses

SPANISH DANCERS AND MURALS will decorate the Iowa Memorial Union for the Fall Fiesta tonight. Here members of the decoration committee work on large paper roses which will form a main part of the decorations. Miniature Mexican sombreros will be given to each couple at the door. The party is the first in a series sponsored by Central Party committee.

Argyles New Fashion for Women

Women have traditionally worn bright, gayly colored clothing, leaving the dull, plain colors for the men. But in at least one article of wearing apparel — anklets — the formula has been reversed.

For several years now men have been wearing screaming-bright argyles, plaid, figured and clocked socks, while women have worn plain ordinary white anklets.

Pastel Anklets
Have you ever thought how much better a pastel sweater would look worn with matching angora or wool anklets? A cheery, bright red sweater needs matching red anklets for an accent. The colored socks tie in with the rest of your outfit and result in a coordinated look.

Now on the market are attractive argyle socks of heavy cotton or light wool, especially designed for women. The socks feature a small diamond pattern, without the usual argyle cross lines. They come with navy, dark green, red, white, brown, light blue, yellow, pink, lavender or white backgrounds, with harmonizing or contrasting diamonds.

You might try a cocoa brown skirt, white blouse and tan cardigan sweater, worn with matching brown, tan and white argyles. Or a forest green skirt and yellow sweater, accented by green and yellow argyles. Whatever color combination you choose, you can probably match it with argyle or plain color anklets.

The ever popular white bucks were tailor-made to wear with argyles or colored socks. Loafers, too, look nice with them.

Engagement Announced Today

Miss Audrey Purcell

Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Purcell, St. Paul, Minn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Audrey, to Mr. Frank S. Copeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil S. Copeland, North Liberty. Miss Purcell is a 1954 graduate of Mounds-Midway Branch, Hamline University School of Nursing in St. Paul. Mr. Copeland was graduated from SUI in 1953 with a B.A. degree. He is affiliated with Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity. Plans are being made for a fall wedding.

University Women Set Membership Tea For Saturday

The American Association of University Women will hold its annual membership tea Saturday, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the university clubrooms. Iowa Memorial Union. An opportunity will be provided at the tea for new members to become acquainted with the activities of the various study groups which include drama, education, international relations, music, and social studies. Board members will be introduced.

Mrs. H. O. Shiffler is general tea chairman, and Miss Enid Allbaugh is assistant chairman. Parlor hostesses will include Mrs. Gustave Bergmann, Mrs. R. M. Featherstone, Mrs. Fred Fehling, Mrs. Paul Huston, Mrs. W. H. McManus, and Mrs. R. K. Sorensen.

Dining room hostesses will be Mrs. Charles Smock, Mrs. Willard Welsh, Mrs. D. L. Cook and Mrs. F. L. Darley. Miss Mary Pardon, Mrs. Julia Peterson, Mrs. Lloyd Knowler, and Mrs. W. F. Lockwing will pour.

It will not be necessary for guests to make reservations, but it will help the committee if members will state approximately how many guests will accompany them.

If anyone desire information about membership requirements or would like to be assigned a sponsor for the tea, she should call Mrs. Carl Dallinger, 5977.

Dance Application Due Today by 4

Today is the last day to sign up for the social club dancing lessons which are sponsored by the Women's Recreation association.

Reservations may be made from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the lobby of the Iowa Memorial Union. The fee is $1 for eight lessons. The lessons will be given every Monday evening beginning Oct. 11.

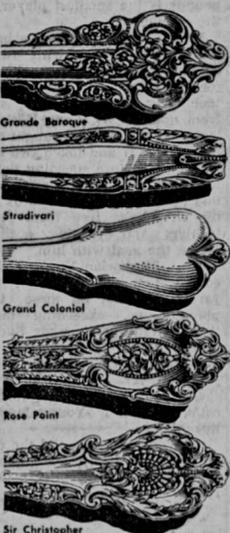

Students and Iowa City residents are eligible to take the lessons. There will be two classes every Monday, the beginning class from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., and the intermediate class from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

"All the answers aren't in the book"

W. D. Garland, E.E. '52, Univ. of California, is working for the Pacific Telephone Company. We thought you'd be interested in what Don told us about his first assignment.

(Reading time: 45 seconds)

Here Don Garland makes noise distribution measurements with a Level Distribution Recorder.

"My job is to help solve problems of noise and other interference on telephone lines due to power interference. Inductive co-ordination is the technical term for the work.

"First thing the Chief Engineer explained to me was that 'all the answers aren't in the book.' He was right. Most of the problems have required a combination of electrical engineering, a knowledge of costs and generous amount of ingenuity. I like it that way. It's given me an immediate opportunity to put into practice the theory I learned at school.

"In addition to this on-the-job experience, I have attended several special training courses conducted by the company. Now I'm breaking in a new man, just like when I started."

Don Garland's work is typical of many engineering assignments in the Bell Telephone Companies. There are similar opportunities for college graduates with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. If you'd like to get more details, see your Placement Officer. He will be glad to help you.

Wolverine Coach Glum; Team Drills Without 2 Backs

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's crippled Wolverines struggled through a pass defense drill Thursday.

The Wolverines, who face the Iowa Hawkeyes Saturday, have been torn by two major injuries in the last week. Both fullback Lou Balducci and right halfback Tony Branoff will miss the Iowa game.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan appeared glum about Michigan's chances against the Hawkeyes. The Wolverines will likely rely on a good deal of untested and second choice material, says Oosterbaan.

Gilliam Grabs Aerials, Boosts Squad Morale

By JERRY HARGITT

A loose-limbed fellow with a sense of humor matched only by his outstanding versatility on the receiving end of a forward pass . . . that's lanky Frank Gilliam, Iowa's ace left end.

Conscientious, but always eager to strike a light note in the rigors of playing and practicing big-time college ball, Frank, 20-years old, 6-2 and 178 pounds, came through with another locker-room tension-breaker a few days before the Michigan game.

Some of the men were already on the practice field "bumping heads," a few were getting taped up for a lengthy scrimmage, and Coach Forest Evashevski was frowning seriously as he tried to figure which plays would break Michigan's back . . . then Frank came on.

After silently getting all his football gear on, Gilliam headed toward the open door to the practice field. Glancing out at the cold, uninviting drizzle, Frank turned around and went back to his locker.

The sobering silence was quickly broken by laughter as Frank put on his topcoat, turned and with his padded shoulders thrown back, quipped, "Man, it's too wet to play football, so I think I'll go out like this and pretend I'm Mickey Spillane."

But everything isn't a joke to the Steubenville, Ohio, lad as many an opponent found out last fall when "Shags" paced the Hawkeye pass-catchers by pulling in 12 tosses for 71 yards and two touchdowns.

Gilliam's best-remembered offensive act is probably his circus catch against Indiana that provided the Iowans with their 19-13 homecoming victory margin.

Of course, there are many who will argue that his catch which scored the second TD in the 14-14 Notre Dame affair was his best. Both were catches made in the end zone while falling forward. Frank is one-third of the fabulous "Steubenville Trio" which, along with all-American guard Calvin Jones and scabback Eddie Vincent, is regarded in the Midwest as one of the best "package deals" in the history of college football.

Frank Gilliam Ace Pass-Catcher

Frank is the second youngest of a family of six boys and five girls and starred in football, baseball and basketball with Steubenville's "Big Red" teams as a prep. He once held Bevo Francis to one of his all-time lows in high school, 22 points.

Davis Cup Group Selects Same Team To Represent U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The same four tennis players who carried the burden in last year's unsuccessful effort to bring back the Davis cup from Australia will try again next December. But this time the United States may try to build for the future by sending along a couple of newcomers to gain experience.

The Davis cup selection committee Thursday named William F. Talbert of New York, Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., to the team which will go to Australia in December. For the second year Talbert will be captain and, if necessary, a playing member of the team.

Bob Perry of Los Angeles, who went along last year but was used only for practice matches, wasn't mentioned Thursday. Instead the committee, headed by

Howell was telling about Young, the dashing Colt halfback who at 5-feet-4 and 170 pounds is the smallest player in the league. Young had just capped a brilliant evening by scoring twice as the Colts came from behind for a 20-14 victory. Both of his touchdowns came on passes from quarterback Gary Kerkorian. On the first he caught the ball on his 37 and faked two Giants dizzy before speeding down the sideline untouched. The second time he covered 35 yards after wriggling free from two tacklers and dragging a third across the goal with him.

The Kerkorian-Young pass combination was good for 125 yards altogether on those two plays alone, exceeding more than half the 201 yards Buddy picked up on 12 receptions all last season. On 40 runs that year he averaged 3.3 yards. Giant halfback Tom Laundry called the 1954 Young, "unbelievable."

"He looked like he did the day he came off the Illinois campus. He's the toughest broken-field runner I've ever seen."

"This is a very serious situation," said Rowland to a reporter. "We are in a fight for our lives and too few people realize it."

Trautman echoed his words, adding, "We need all the help we can get. You fellows are all excited about a fellow named Dusty Rhodes. That's fine, just as it should be. But did you ever stop to think that he came out of the minor leagues, and not any semi-pro industrial league or college?"

Trautman was right, of course. The backbone of the majors always has been the minors, Class D and C in particular, where the boys learn their trade. The only members of the New York Giants who didn't come up through the minors were Johnny Antonelli, who got $65,000 bonus from Boston, and Joe Amalfitano and Paul Giel, the bonus kids who never got into the series lineup.

The minors have been drying up fast. Several that operated in 1954 probably won't try again. The December meetings at Houston promise plenty of fireworks.

Old Tricks Buddy Young Gives Colts Kick

By LOU PANOS

BALTIMORE (AP) — Claude (Buddy) Young, the little gentleman of the gridiron, is down to his old weight and up to his old tricks of flabbergasting enemy tacklers in the National Football League.

"He's the most exciting thing in football," said Coach Jim Lee Howell after his New York Giants were beaten last Saturday night by the Baltimore Colts.

Howell was telling about Young, the dashing Colt halfback who at 5-feet-4 and 170 pounds is the smallest player in the league.

Young had just capped a brilliant evening by scoring twice as the Colts came from behind for a 20-14 victory. Both of his touchdowns came on passes from quarterback Gary Kerkorian. On the first he caught the ball on his 37 and faked two Giants dizzy before speeding down the sideline untouched. The second time he covered 35 yards after wriggling free from two tacklers and dragging a third across the goal with him.

The Kerkorian-Young pass combination was good for 125 yards altogether on those two plays alone, exceeding more than half the 201 yards Buddy picked up on 12 receptions all last season. On 40 runs that year he averaged 3.3 yards. Giant halfback Tom Laundry called the 1954 Young, "unbelievable."

"He looked like he did the day he came off the Illinois campus. He's the toughest broken-field runner I've ever seen."

Girls State Sports Group Ups Claims Against Chisholm

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa Girls High School Athletic Union Thursday increased to $25,000 the amount it claims is owed the union by former Secretary R. H. (Rod) Chisholm.

The claim was made in an amended petition filed in Polk County District Court. The petition said union officers believe the amount may go still higher and asked that Chisholm be ordered to produce certain records said to be in his possession.

Chisholm is free on bond awaiting trial on an indictment accusing him of embezzling union funds, the amount of which is estimated by the county attorney's office to be about $43,000.

Chisholm has filed an action to recover $2,500 in what he claims is back salary.

Ex-Champ Sugar Ray May Return to Ring

NEW YORK (AP) — George Gainford, manager of Ray (Sugar) Robinson when he held the world welter and middleweight titles, said Thursday the former champion had started workouts and was considering a possible return to the ring.

Grimsley Picks Hawks; 'Top Teams To Lose'

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Oklahoma, the nation's No. 1 team, and Purdue, conqueror of Notre Dame, are marked for their own comeuppance this week as the football season moves groggily forward.

The last weekend brought an epidemic of upsets, but we managed to sneak through with 34 right out of 49 for a .694 average.

The season's average was pulled down to .786 on a 103-28 mark.

Here's a bigger week: Iowa over Michigan: Forest Evashevski has too much depth for the Wolverines, still groggy from the Army setback.

Texas over Oklahoma: The Longhorns, with some of the best material in the country, have started rolling after that Notre Dame defeat. They have the home edge.

Duke over Purdue: The Blue Devils from Durham have a stronger line and many good backs, headed by Jerry Barger and Worth Lutz. Purdue's Lenzy Dawson's air attack may be bottled.

Rice over Wisconsin: A duel between Dick Moegle and Alan Ameche, but the Badgers left too much in the Michigan State game.

Southern California over Texas Christian: The Trojans are getting better each week, may be the best on the west coast. Game tonight.

Notre Dame over Pittsburgh: The Irish start a new unbeaten string. Pitt has too much schedule.

UCLA over Washington: There's no sounder coach in the country than Red Sanders, who gets the ultimate from his material. The Huskies have the backs but no line.

Ohio State over Illinois: The

ISC Coach Lets Regulars 'Rest'; Set for Jayhawks

AMES (AP) — Coach Vince DiFrancesca gave 15 regulars on the Iowa State football squad Thursday off as a "deserved rest" before Saturday's Big Seven conference game here with winless Kansas.

The remainder of the second and third teams scrimmaged the freshmen.

DiFrancesca said the team's physical and mental attitude is good for Saturday's game.

He praised the showing of Kim Tidd, letterman and converted this fall to left halfback. He said Tidd will "help us out a lot."

DiFrancesca also was undecided on a starting quarterback and left end. Jerry Finley and Joan Breckenridge seek the quarterback berth and Mell Wostouppal and Harold Potts are after the end position.

Barney Allemen remained a doubtful starter Saturday at right end. If his sprained ankle fails to respond to treatment, Bob Clark will take over and also do the punting.

Johnson To Offer Yanks 'Fair Sum' If He Gets A's

CHICAGO (AP) — Arnold Johnson, Chicago banker-realtor, said Thursday he would pay the New York Yankees a "reasonable amount" for their Kansas City territory if he is able to buy the Philadelphia A's and shift the club to the midwestern city.

The Yankees earlier Thursday threatened to block the proposed switch of the A's unless the payment was adequate for territorial rights.

Johnson, already aware the Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers are on record as opposing the A's shift, declined to state what he would regard as an adequate payment to the Yankees.

Six of the eight league clubs must approve a franchise shift.

Series Shares Shatter Records As Money Split

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-eight players on the New York Giants plus their trainer and their clubhouse attendant received a record $11,147.90 each for winning the World Series.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick announced the breakdown Thursday for 327 players and club personnel on eight teams who participated in the all-time high in World Series money.

A full Giants' share was $2,867.22 more than the previous record payoff to the New York Yankees in 1953. It was $4,435.40 more than a full share of the losing Cleveland Indians.

In all the players' share of the total World Series receipts was a record $881,763.72, including $83,000 for a pre-game television program.

SUI Professor To Address New York Medical Conference

Dr. William D. Paul, professor of orthopedic surgery in SUI's college of medicine, will be a speaker in New York today at the Third Medical conference of Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

His subject will be "Clinical Aspects of Contractures in Muscular Dystrophy." The conference will be held today and Saturday.

In addition to consideration of 32 papers presented during the conference by outstanding medical scientists from 15 states, plans for expanding the MDA's million dollar muscular dystrophy research program will be discussed.

Funds for research relating to this mysterious disease — for which no cause or cure has yet been discovered — and for other MDA projects, will be gathered during the forthcoming MDA campaign in November.

An attendance of 300 physicians and other medical authorities is expected at the conference and a delegation of at least 200 representing the 114 MDA chapters situated in 35 states.

Sociology Group Elects 3 Officers

The Sociology Colloquium met Wednesday evening and elected officers for 1954.

Carl J. Couch, G. Iowa City, was elected president; Mabel Edwards, G. Iowa City, vice-president, and Kenneth Larson, G. Iowa City, secretary-treasurer.

The group also discussed plans for the year's activities, which will include noon luncheons, and lectures by two well known people.

Engineering Student Awarded 6th Place In National Contest

Walter B. Ingram, E4, Iowa City, received a sixth place award of $25 for his entry in the 1953-54 welded design award program sponsored by the James F. Lincoln arc welding foundation, Cleveland.

Five Iowa State college students also were among the 62 engineering students who shared in the awards totaling $5,000.

The eighth annual competition of the award program for 1954-55 now is open to all engineering students. Rules may be obtained from the James F. Lincoln arc welding foundation, Cleveland 17, Ohio.
