Mendes Urges Arms Pact OK

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France demanded Friday night that the French national assembly agree to the London conference plan for the rearmament of West Germany or get a new government.

Invoking his full constitutional powers, the Premier told the assembly that he is making the nine-nation London agreement an issue of confidence in his government.

His announcement came shortly after midnight toward the end of a lively assembly debate on western defense.

Early Vote Set

The assembly vote was set for 3 p.m. Tuesday (8 a.m. CST).

Mendes-France was forced into placing the decision on a vote of confidence basis when the trend of a two-day debate disclosed he would otherwise have a difficult time in getting the sizeable majority required.

If the vote goes against the peppy premier he will automatically be out of office and France will be plunged into a severe political crisis.

Mendes called for approval of the rearmament plan with no strings attached after a move developed in the assembly to prevent the rebirth of a German general staff.

Only Acceptable Proposal

His demand was pegged to a Radical-Socialist (moderate) party motion expressing confidence in Mendes-France to continue the international negotiations opened in London.

Mendes-France told the assembly that motion was the only proposal his government would accept.

In reply to frequently expressed fears of a new German general staff, the premier said safeguards envisaged in the London agreement would be more effective than those provided in the defunct European Defense Community treaty.

Refers to Saar

Mendes-France reiterated that the Saar dispute must be settled to France's satisfaction before the nation could be expected to approve German rearmament.

Several factions, spearheaded by Pierre-Henri Teitgen, leader of the Popular Republicans (MRP), supported notions which in effect would put restrictions on the general staff in any plan for West German rearmament.

The London agreements, which Mendes-France is asking the assembly to approve, would permit West German rearmament as part of a revived Brussels treaty and would give the Germans full membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. These accords were drafted as a substitute for the European army plan (EDC) which the French parliament rejected.

Auto Crash Kills 2 Men

STORM LAKE (AP) — Two men were killed Friday when, authorities said, a car being towed by another vehicle broke loose and crashed into an oncoming automobile.

Dead were George (Bud) Mittelstadt, about 40, a Storm Lake businessman, and John Madison Rudolph, 22, a salesman of 721 Howard st., Brush, Colo., a passenger in the Mittelstadt car.

The accident occurred on highway 71 about 3 1/2 miles north of Storm Lake.

Sheriff Harry Dreyer said a car which did not stop passed the Mittelstadt car and cut sharply in front of it, causing an oncoming automobile driven by Donald L. Braesch of 3216 N. 40th, Omaha, to stop suddenly.

Dreyer said the Braesch car was towing another automobile which broke loose and careened into the path of the Mittelstadt vehicle.

Neither Braesch nor his passenger, John R. Burge of Omaha, was injured.

Des Moines Worker Dies In Factory Accident

DES MOINES (AP) — Dale Trent, 29, a maintenance department worker at Solar Aircraft co. here, was crushed to death Friday afternoon when a fork lift truck he was driving fell upon him.

Survivors include his wife, a son, David, 5, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Trent.

Spy Probe Figure

INVESTIGATORS in the Paris spy probe are trying to untangle the testimony of accused espionage agent Andre Baranes, 39-year-old journalist, who first said he worked 100 per cent for the Communists, then claimed he was a police informer and gave defense secrets. Government officials and Communist high-ups are involved in the probe.

Head of Schools At Burlington Dies

BURLINGTON (AP) — Ray H. Bracewell, 66, superintendent of Burlington public schools for the last 17 years, died Friday afternoon.

Born on a farm near Jacksonville, Ill., Bracewell became nationally known for his work with school administration organizations.

He came to Burlington April 1, 1919, from Springfield, Ill., as high school principal.

Man Wants To Make Peak Highest In State

WARREN, N. H. (AP) — If you're going to climb 4,811-foot Mt. Moosilauke, take a rock up with you.

Bill Borman, and guests at his inn who climb the mountain have started a campaign to make the peak the highest in the state. Borman says his group's efforts already have heightened the mountain by 20 feet.

However, there's a long way to go — nearly 1,500 feet. The state's highest peak, Mt. Washington, is 6,288 feet high.

Ike Cites History

Eisenhower then added that "history shows that when the executive and the legislative branches are politically in conflict, politics in Washington runs riot." He went on to say that under such circumstances "the public goes begging while politics is played for politics sake."

"Progress slows or stops. For partisan reasons, good laws are pigeonholed. For partisan reasons, bad laws are passed. Meanwhile, in the eyes of the world, we appear divided in council and mack's saying it was a loan, "other than he had not included" the money in his income tax return.

"No sir," Diggs replied.

Says GOP Must Control Congress

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower, making a spirited appeal for a Republican congress, told the nation Friday night that politics will run riot in Washington if the Democrats win control of the legislative branch in the November elections.

In a nationwide television-radio address, the President cautioned against what he termed the dangers of a politically divided government, with the White House Republican and congress run by the Democrats.

"You know perfectly well that you just can't have one car with two drivers at the steering wheel and expect to end any place but in the ditch—especially when the drivers are set on going in different directions," Eisenhower declared in a speech prepared for delivery before 5,500 in the Denver municipal auditorium.

Doesn't Want 'Cold War'

The President said "a cold war of partisan politics between the congress and the executive branch" would block achievement of the goals which he said he feels can be attained through continued Republican control of congress.

Jabbing at the Democrats, Eisenhower said that when Americans went to the polls in 1952 and voted the Republicans into power, they "were determined to eliminate penetration by the Communist conspiracy in our government and in our whole society. They did not consider it a red herring."

The President's "red herring" remark was a verbal poke at the Truman administration's handling of the subversion problem.

Can't Split Allegiances

Eisenhower's address was patterned in a large part after the fighting speech he made Sept. 23 in Los Angeles' Hollywood Bowl.

"You cannot have efficient federal government when the congress wants to follow one philosophy of government and the executive branch another," the President declared.

"In our system of government, progress is made when the leaders of the executive branch and the majority of the congress are members of the same political party.

"The unsurpassed record of the 83d congress, is shining evidence of this truth."

Ike Cites History

Eisenhower then added that "history shows that when the executive and the legislative branches are politically in conflict, politics in Washington runs riot." He went on to say that under such circumstances "the public goes begging while politics is played for politics sake."

No Nobel Peace Prize This Year

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The Nobel Peace Prize is going to be awarded this year — in one of the peaceful periods the world has had in the last two decades.

The Norwegian Nobel committee announced Friday that the prize will not be awarded in 1954. The committee said it offered no reason. The committee has discontinued its former practice of issuing a list of nominees and individual organizations can make nominations for the $35,000 prize.

The prize was omitted in 1952 itself, the committee year designated Dr. Schweitzer to receive the prize and Gen. George C. Marshall for the award for 1953.

Under the will of Alfred Nobel, the prize is assigned candidate "who has worked most and best for world brotherhood among people for the abolition of standing armies, and for the establishment and spread of congresses."

The will of Nobel, the inventor of dynamite, also established prizes in literature, chemistry and medicine.

'Unjustly Convicted' Iowan Given $5,000 After Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Iowa farm boy who became a naval hero is entitled to $5,000 from the government for being unjustly convicted and imprisoned by the navy, the U.S. court of claims ruled Friday.

But James Joseph Roberson, Marcus, Ia., who won the Distinguished Flying Cross, four air medals and a navy unit citation as an aerial gunner in World War II, will never know about it.

His attorney told reporters, after the court decision was announced, that Roberson, who would have been 30-years-old this month, died by his own hand July 28 at Marcus.

Court Awards Damages

The court said Roberson "sustained damages in excess of $5,000" but noted that it was limited by law to awarding this amount.

Friday's ruling upheld a lower court finding that the navy lacked jurisdiction in the case for which Roberson was sent to prison—a 1947 altercation with an officer. It noted that Roberson held an honorable discharge that was dated several days before the trouble.

Judgment to Father

Attorney Clarence G. Pechacek said he will move to have the $5,000 judgment made over to Roberson's father, Lovell M. Roberson of Marcus.

In its findings, the court of claims said that after his troubles with the navy, young Roberson "seemed unable to settle down in one place" and was "reluctant to make friends." It added:

"He seemed convinced that no one would want to associate with him if it were known that he had 'done time' in a federal penitentiary.

Earnings Impaired

"His earning power was impaired as a result of emotional disturbance and shock following such confinement. This damage is continuing in nature."

The court related that Roberson enlisted at 18 as a naval aerial gunner. In 1946, shortly before his first enlistment was over, he re-enlisted. In December, 1947, seven months before his second enlistment expired, he was given an honorable discharge.

Marterie Band Draws 1,800 To 'Fall Fiesta'

By DRAKE MABRY

Ralph Marterie packed the dancers in the main lounge and around the bandstand Friday night as his band played for the "Fall Fiesta" in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Nearly 1,800 people attended the dance. At times it seemed that all of them were standing around the bandstand as Marterie and his crew played "Skokian" and other recent record hits.

The standees somewhat resembled the crowds at the old Woody Herman dances because many of them would rather watch than dance.

But there the resemblance ended.

Has Good Band

Marterie has a good band and he plays a good dance. He's a pleaser. He likes to play dance music.

"We play a lot of concerts, too," Marterie said, "but we like dances better. We get closer to the crowds that way. And besides, it gives the kids a chance to learn to dance."

The band played such danceable tunes as "Tenderly," "I'm in the Mood for Love," and others. But they also played a lot of rhythm and blues pieces.

Crowd Listens

Most of the up-tempo pieces moved the crowd from the dance floor to the bandstand. And once there, Marterie gave them what they wanted to hear; fast, show-piece songs that spotlighted his guitar man, Park Hill, and his drummer, Dee Felice.

The crowd liked the music. Marterie was kept busy signing autographs during every intermission. Loud applause greeted the end of almost every number. One girl, breathless after dancing, remarked, "Great, huh?"

Incidental intelligence about Marteria: His favorite song is "Laura," and he likes David Rose's arrangement.

"The words to Laura?" he said. "They don't mean a thing. 'It's

Marterie 'Sits In'

RALPH MARTERIE "SITS IN" with the band during an up-tempo number during the "Fall Fiesta" Friday night in the Main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union. Marterie, who usually plays trumpet, has had a band on the road since he left Chicago and toured the midwest in 1951. His band placed third in the 1953 "Downbeat" poll behind Les Brown and Ray Anthony. Both Brown and Anthony will appear at SUI in the future.

Capehart Pressured To End FHA Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) said Friday that "pressure" has been put on him not to investigate $50,000 in fees he said were paid to two Washington men for help in getting government-insured loans on housing projects.

"It makes me very suspicious of this whole thing," the senator said. "They can't put pressure on me and they might as well know it."

Capehart is chairman of the senate banking committee, which is concluding a six-month investigation of federal housing practices. The inquiry has resulted in a shakeup of the Federal Housing administration and

Police To Hold Annual Ball Nov. 3

The Iowa City Policemen's ball will be held Nov. 3 at the Community building it was announced Friday.

The dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Leo and his Pioneers will provide the music.

The admission is $1 per person and tickets can be purchased from Iowa City patrolmen.

Money from the sale of tickets will be added to the policemen's death benefit fund.

several criminal cases have developed from it.

Telephone Calls

Capehart said the pressure had been exerted in telephone calls within the last 24 hours, but he did not go into any details.

Instead he began digging into the question of the fees, which he reported were paid by a dozen different firms to Richard McCormack and Marshall Diggs.

McCormack was to have testified Friday, but he was reported to be suffering from high blood pressure and nervousness and too ill to take the stand.

Diggs, identifying himself as a lawyer, testified that McCormack had brought him 12 clients interested in defense housing projects under the Wherry act.

$5,000 Fees

Each of these clients paid him a $5,000 fee, he said, adding that one was returned entirely but that he paid McCormack 50 per cent of the others, or a total of $27,500.

In no case, the witness insisted, did the FHA issue a mortgage commitment for his 11 clients. Diggs said he did not know what McCormack told the clients.

Asked if the $27,500 paid to McCormack was a loan, Diggs said it was not.

editorials Smoke Dreams—

Apparently cigarette smokers caught in the recent lung cancer scare are following the advice of the man in London who said the only way to beat this lung cancer scare was not to give up cigarettes but to give up reading.

The department of agriculture predicted recently that cigarette sales would slump two or three per cent below the 1953 production. Earlier estimates had forecast that production would fall as much as 11 per cent.

But the lung cancer scare did accomplish one thing. More people are smoking filter tip cigarettes than ever before. Filter tip sales are expected to jump 200 per cent over 1953 figures. The industry will turn out more than 49 billion filter tip smokes this year.

However, a total of 418 billion cigarettes of all kinds will reach the smoker market in 1954, according to the department of agriculture.

This indicates that a lot of people didn't read about the cancer scare in the first place. Or if they did, they must have said, "Well, if I die young, I'll at least die with that old-fashioned cigarette taste in my mouth."

Courtesy Pays—

Webster defines courtesy as "genuine and habitual politeness," and that is exactly what the Brevard courtesy parking plan is.

Thanks to the local merchants, the violators of the parking meters are not fined, but only have to replace the nickel or dime put in the meters for them.

You might liken it unto a smile. You smile at someone. They smile back. Pretty soon the entire place is a happier community in which to live.

People from out-of-town seem to appreciate the courtesy parking plan even more than local citizens. They send the money back that went into the meters for them, and often send a lot more.

School Milk Program Planned for Iowa Youth

DES MOINES (AP)—Thousands of Iowa school children will soon have the opportunity to give their young bodies a nutritional lift and at the same time lend an assist to the state's dairy farmers.

This will come through the new special school milk program for which a detailed plan of operation has been worked out by C. W. Bangs, director of the state school lunch program.

Bangs has submitted his plan to officials of the U.S. department of agriculture in Washington whose approval is needed.

Administering Agency
The department comes into the picture because it is the agency administering a new program adopted by congress to help deplete the dairy surplus by increasing milk consumption in the schools.

The crux of the plan is that the federal government will pay $50 million a year so that youngsters can buy additional milk in school at a cost of only one or two cents a bottle.

Normally a half pint bottle of milk with a school lunch costs five cents. The cheaper price will be available for all quantities of milk used above normal consumption.

Plans Laid

Under the plan Bangs has submitted to Washington normal consumption will be the amount of milk sold to children with school lunches in the base period of February and March.

During those two months of 1954 approximately six million half pint bottles were sold in the schools at the regular five cents rate. For the entire fiscal year, 1953-54 consumption totaled close to 24 million bottles.

The federal government has set aside $733,000 a year for expenditure in Iowa under the special milk program.

If individual school authorities, aided by dairy groups, can come up with attractive plans that will use up this money, it means that 73,000,000 additional bottles of milk can be sold at one cent a bottle; or 36,650,000 more bottles at two cents each.

Schoolmen Interested

Bangs said he had talked with a number of schoolmen who were much interested in the new project.

"One of the suggestions most frequently discussed," he said, "is to make the extra milk available to youngsters as soon as the buses arrive at the schools, in other words at the start of the school day."

"In the rush of getting to school many children don't take time to eat a good breakfast or, at least, they don't have milk for breakfast."

Thrill Show Man Fined Following Performance

CHESTERFIELD, N.H. (AP)—John E. McLean, 51, an advance man for an auto thrill circus, was fined $100 in municipal court. He pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

His court appearance came after an unexpected performance in which his car went over an eight-foot embankment.

Construction Rises

First half 1954: $9.3 billion. First half 1953: $7.9 billion. THE U.S., AS "POSTS," illustrates 17 per cent rise in value of building construction contracts in the first half of 1954 over the first half of 1953 in the 37 states shown. Pennsylvania and Michigan show the greatest rise, Ohio the greatest decline. Construction includes public works and utilities, residential and nonresidential buildings.

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR., Foreign Staff Associated Press

The world has been so preoccupied recently with Southeast Asia, Formosa and the battle for Germany that growing tension between Israel and the Arab states has attracted little attention.

Oddly enough, the tension has increased in almost direct ratio to talk of peace.

Israel has been greatly disturbed by two factors—the British agreement to withdraw troops from Suez, where they stood between Israel and the Egyptian army, and resumption of Anglo-American arms shipments to the Arab states.

On Sept. 17 the ambassadors of the Arab states asked the great powers to give them greater military and economic aid to deter Israel from any attack.

Peace Talks Offered

On Oct. 2 Britain offered to sponsor peace talks, especially between Jordan and Israel, designed to settle the border disputes which have led to so many shootings.

This week Israel offered before the United Nations to make non-aggression pacts with the Arab states guaranteeing territorial integrity and political independence, banning all hostile acts and aggression to settle all disputes through negotiations.

The only Arab reaction so far was an immediate statement on the floor of the General Assembly by the Egyptian delegate that "it is impossible for one moment to consider the peaceful intentions of Israel as genuine."

And there it is. Israel is convinced that the Arabs are interested in arms solely to put themselves in position to resume the war which was halted in 1948 by a U.N.-negotiated armistice.

Impinging Arab Lands

The Arabs are convinced that Israel's immigration policy, which seeks to concentrate most of the world's Jews in Palestine, means that eventually the new state will tend to burst its bounds, impinging further on Arab lands.

One thing needed in connection with the new arms shipments to the Arabs is renewal and emphasis on the Anglo-French-American post-armistice statement that they will not countenance any more war in the area.

They have sufficient influence to enforce it on Israel, especially because of her economic dependence on the United States. They might, instead of selling arms to the Arabs, put them on a lend-lease basis with a threat to yank them out if they are used for any aggressive purpose.

25th Incident Reported Of 'Phantom Gunman'

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—One of these days the "phantom gunman" operating on roads east of here is going to hit someone. The latest in a series of 25 incidents involving shattered windshields was reported by Red W. James. He was hit in the face by a fragment of flying glass from the windshield but was not cut.

Sheriff's police said a crime laboratory report confirmed that a bullet had pierced the windshield.

Iowan, Congress Cause Island Political Storm

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands (AP)—Archie A. Alexander, a wealthy, blunt-spoken Iowan contractor, is in the middle of a Republican storm that is causing rumbles on these volcanic, long-time Democratic shores.

The Virgin Islands have overcome the "poorhouse" tag Herbert Hoover pinned on it two decades ago when he was president.

Today, the new GOP administration is stirring up another storm. It centers on Alexander and an act of congress.

Alexander came here last April to succeed Truman-appointed Morris F. DeCastro, only Virgin Islander ever made governor.

Inherited Headaches

The husky 65-year-old newcomer inherited headaches soon after he moved into the governor's mansion. The 83d congress passed a new organization act for the Virgin Islands, the first significant piece of legislation in nearly 20 years for the easternmost U.S. territory in the western hemisphere.

Alexander hailed the new law as "the economic salvation" of the islands. Under the bill all taxes collected on the islands will go into the local treasury. Whatever the islands raise, the federal government will match, dollar for dollar, from funds collected in taxes on Virgin Islands goods sold on the U.S. mainland—largely rum. Officials figure this will fatten the island's treasury by about $5 million a year.

Administration critics agreed this was an economic shot-in-the-arm for the islands, where the tourist trade had hit a slump and the once-booming divorce business busted when the judge clamped down on Americans who set up "residence" for six weeks with round-trip tickets in their pockets.

But critics protested it stripped powers from the local legislature,

8,000 Handicapped Iowans Rehabilitated

More than 8,000 handicapped Iowans have been placed in useful employment during the last 15 years by the Iowa Vocational Rehabilitation division.

Figures made available in connection with National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, show that 8,245 Iowans have been rehabilitated into employment in the last 15 years.

This includes 785 persons rehabilitated during the Iowa fiscal year ending June 30, an increase of 25 over the 760 rehabilitated during the previous 12-month period.

Of these 785, 86 per cent were unemployed when referred for rehabilitation. The remaining 14 per cent were losing work time, or were not suited, because of their handicaps, to the jobs they were holding.

The average wage of these handicapped persons before rehabilitation was $5.82 per week, while after rehabilitation the average weekly earning was $47.08.

The division, now beginning operations on an expanded level because of recent action of Congress, has a backlog of more than 3,000 cases in the process of investigation, diagnosis, or job preparation.

gave the governor tighter control and failed to get any target date on which the islands might be allowed to elect their governor.

The late Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb.) sparked the new legislation as chairman of the senate committee on interior and insular affairs.

Butler noted that Puerto Rico is the only offshore American area which now has this right of electing its governor and said he felt the Virgin Islands were "not ready yet for such political responsibility."

The senator said the 1936 Organic act, the first basic charter for civil government on the islands, had proved "inefficient and expensive for the American taxpayer." He said the island's lawmakers were voting themselves into almost continuous session, and some were drawing as much as $2,300 a year, plus expenses, while some were representing fewer than 2,000 voters.

What Bill Does

Butler's bill gives the legislators a flat $600, slaps a 60-day limit on regular sessions and gives the governor the sole authority to call special sessions.

Alexander is a Negro governor on islands which have an estimated 80 per cent colored population. The three main islands in the cluster of nearly 50 are St. Thomas, with the capital of Charlotte Amalie, tiny St. John and agricultural St. Croix. The islands, discovered by Columbus in 1493 on his second voyage, straddle the Atlantic and the Caribbean, close to Puerto Rico.

The little cities are old world 17th century, imbued with the touch of the Danes from whom the United States bought the islands in 1917 for $25 million.

Gov. Alexander is unhappy over their 20 holidays in his five months of office. He also wants to hasten the complete reshuffling of the government machinery called for in the bill. His moves have reaped praises—and bricks.

A. Melchior, editor of St. Thomas' "The Daily News," says this is what has happened:

"For years, the pendulum has been slightly left of center. Now Alexander has moved it—without question—hard right of center."

The Artistic Touch

Early Books Displayed at SUI

A selection of early-printed books, bindings and steelplate engravings, a gift to the typographic laboratory of the SUI school of journalism from the collection of the late T. Henry Foster of Ottumwa, is on display in the south lobby of the Communications Center.

Included in the selection are three books printed by Giambattista Bodoni, a printer and type-designer of the 18th century.

Two books from the House of Aldus, leading Venetian printers of the 15th and 16th centuries, are also on display.

The collection contains a sample of the printing from the Kelmscott Press of William Morris, said to be the "greatest single influence in the printing 'revival' of the late 19th century."

Chance of All-Aluminum Car Engines Gone

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive engineering experts say the all-aluminum car engine is just about as remote as the atomic powered car.

They say that even if any car maker were completely satisfied with the possibilities of an all-aluminum engine it would take 10 years to implement a change-over from cast-iron types.

GENERAL NOTICES

UWA Committee Positions Open

Women interested in committee work in the University Women's association are asked to complete application forms according to certain specifications, announced Prudy Meder, A3, Elkader, UWA publicity chairman.

UWA general council sends application blanks to women's housing units during the year. These applications are passed out by unit chairmen, activity chairmen and at the UWA desk in the office of student affairs, room 111, University hall.

Neatness and organization are important. Material must be presented clearly and concisely. Typewritten materials are more easily read, although applications may be written in longhand.

Detailed answers should be double spaced and typewritten on separate papers, Miss Meder emphasized. Sketches are necessary on many committee applications and are desired. Constructive and specific items are necessary in a critical analysis of the current program.

All applications are screened by four members of general council and the former program chairman.

Applications for next year's Orientation program are due Oct. 20.

Highlanders Plan Moline Program

Thirty-six members of the SUU Scottish Highlanders, all-girl bagpipe band, will perform at Moline, Ill. Monday evening at the Moline Scottish Rite Cathedral.

The group will present a concert of bagpipe selections, Scottish dancing, and choral selections for members of the Moline After Dinner club.

The Highlanders also will journey to Columbus, Ohio, for the Iowa-Ohio State football game Oct. 16 and will perform in Omaha, Neb., Oct. 24. Around 65 members of the group will appear in these performances.

The Iowa group, under the direction of Pipe Major Bill Adamson, has traveled more than 60,000 miles to appear before more than 4 million people in 23 states and 6 foreign countries since its organization in 1936.

The plaid-garbed pipers and drummers were the first American bagpipe band ever to appear in Scotland. Adamson was named the "Outstanding Scot of 1952" by the St. Andrew Society of Illinois at its annual Feast of the Haggis.

Henpecked Husband Complains of Weather

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — At a party, one man was complaining about the weather. He went on the defensive when the others began pointing out what the rain meant to the farmers.

Last Year's 14-13 Loss Still Stings

(Special Dispatch to The Iowan) ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Riding atop the Big Ten standings and seeking their second Western conference victory, the Iowa Hawkeyes tackle the injury-riddled Michigan Wolverines here today at 2 p.m. in Michigan's stadium.

Sixty-nine thousand persons, about the same as saw the Army-Michigan game, are expected to see today's contest. The crowd will include 6,500 high school bandmen who will take part in the annual Michigan high school band day at half-time.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's problem of defeating Iowa, the team his 1953 squad downed, 14-13, is complicated by injuries.

Baldacci Out
Lou Baldacci, who apparently had solved Michigan's fullback problem, missed the Army game because of a shoulder injury. Then, Sunday, he was hospitalized with a severe stomach disorder which may keep him from playing today.

Right half Tony Branoff, just starting to round into shape after a knee injury that caused him to miss 11 scrimmages before the the squad in midweek before the Army game and probably will be ready to start against the Hawkeyes.

McDonald at Quarterback

Duncan McDonald, who ruined Iowa last year, will be calling signals. Rapidly-improving Jim Maddock, Chicago sophomore, is also certain to see action. Maddock's passing and punting as well as his improving blocking have been getting the attention of his coaches.

A trio of sophomores may see considerably more action this week, based upon their work against Army. Tom Maentz, end from Holland, Mich., turned in a good defensive game, while Dick Hill, hard-hitting guard from Gary, Ind., and Jerry Goebel, center from Grosse Pointe, Mich., are bound to play today.

Another soph who may break into the lineup at end today is Charley Brooks from Marshall, Mich., who has been handicapped with a back ailment for several weeks. Brooks, a long-range punter and adept pass-grabber, stands 6'1" and weighs 201.

Hawks in Shape
The Hawkeyes are in top physical shape following their 48-6 pounding of Montana. Right tackle Cameron Cummins sprained an ankle during the week but is expected to be in top condition today.

A bright spot for the Hawks is the return of right tackle Bill Reichow to the lineup. Reichow, brother of quarterback Jerry, broke his shoulder in pre-season drills and missed the first two games.

In meeting Forest Evashevski of Iowa today, Oosterbaan will be facing another great name in Michigan football. Evy started at quarterback for Michigan in 1938-40.

Iowa Lost in '53
Last year, his team, after leading the Wolverines 13-0 at the half, found itself on the short end of a 14-13 score at the final whistle.

Statistically, the Hawks gained 225 yards on the ground while Michigan got 120. But the Iowa passing game netted only 28 yards while the Wolverines completed 15 of 27 attempts for 186 yards.

The Michigan-Iowa series began in 1900 and in the 15 games played to date, Iowa has won only two, the last one 30 years ago. Michigan has won eight straight, with one game in the series being tied.

Cards Tell Fans No Musial Trade

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis Cardinal fans were assured Friday the club has given "no serious consideration" to trading outfielder Stan Musial, its $80,000-a-year slugger star.

General manager Dick Meyer acknowledged Stan the Man's name had come up in conversations with the Milwaukee Braves, but added: "No one is untouchable when a ball club finishes sixth, but there was no serious consideration of trading Musial. A deal for him would have to be overpowering in our favor."

Russia Claims Record in Swimming Medley

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia Friday claimed a world record for the 400-meter individual medley swimming race, bettering a mark of 5:29.0 established this summer by Burwell Jones of Detroit.

Television Spotlight Centers on Madison; Badgers Threatened

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A national television audience will get a good look today at two of collegiate football's best running backs.

Alan (The Horse) Ameche, battering 210-pound Wisconsin fullback, and Dicky Moegle, Rice Institute's Southwest conference "Swish Kid," will match talents in intersectional action at Camp Randall stadium before a sell-out crowd of 50,000 plus countless more along the coast-to-coast TV cable.

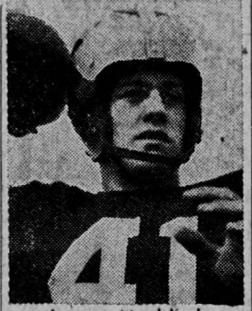

The word to the living room viewers was to keep an eye on Wisconsin's No. 35 and Rice's No. 47, Ameche and Moegle, respectively.

Ameche Is Vital
The broad-shouldered Ameche is the key man in Wisconsin's running attack, the guy who carries the ball when first down yardage is vital. He's a typical, old-time fullback in that he'd as soon run over a tackler as sidestep him. And he's not so fast but that he can be caught from behind. His average yardage in the Badgers' wins over Marquette and Michigan State is 7.4 in 35 carries.

Moegle is a distinctly opposite type. A 181-pounder, he relies on speed and deception, which means he's at his best on wide plays and pichouts. In Rice's triumphs over Florida and Cornell, he carried only 16 times but shows a two-game average of 13.7 yards per try.

Touting Both Teams
Both teams, touted as top championship bets in their respective conferences, will operate off the straight T primarily. Both, however, will vary their offense frequently. Rice uses flankers and quite a bit of man-in-motion stuff, while Wisconsin will do some of the same and also will shift into the single wing on occasion.

Although Moegle is the man to stop in the Rice attack, Ameche will get ample support from quarterbacks Jim Miller and Jim Haluska, both outstanding passers. Between the two, they've completed 19 of 25 passes for 263 yards and three touchdowns this year. Rice has thrown only infrequently, scoring all 11 of its touchdowns on the ground.

Pitt Mad Enough To Chew Nails; Dissention Denied

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Notre Dame, chagrined over its defeat last week by Purdue, today runs into a Pittsburgh football team seething over reported rumors of dissention.

"I never saw a bunch of boys so wrought up over anything in my life," said a Pitt assistant coach. "They're sore enough to chew nails."

So it's two hopping mad elevens which clash at Pitt stadium before a sell-out crowd of 62,000, with the fighting Irish, mad only at themselves, ruling 19 1/2 point favorites.

Pittsburgh papers hinted this week of dissention on the Pitt coaching staff and the freely distributed rumors were met by ringing denials from both Athletic Director Tom Hamilton and Coach Red Dawson.

"Such reports always crop up when you've had a bad start," said Hamilton. "We've lost two games, to Southern Cal and Minnesota, but the administration is behind Dawson and the boys."

The athletic board of control met this week to give Dawson and his associates a vote of confidence.

Oosterbaan Seeks Backs To Replace Branoff, Baldacci

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Gloom prevailed in the Michigan camp Friday on the eve of the Big Ten game with Iowa today.

Michigan stars Tony Branoff and Lou Baldacci will be out of the lineup. Branoff has a leg injury and Baldacci is still suffering from dysentery.

"I've got nothing to talk about," said Iowa's Coach Forest Evashevski who had no injured players to worry about.

Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterbaan said he still didn't know whom he would use in his starting backfield—nor the positions they would play.

In a scrimmage Friday that was longer than usual, Oosterbaan was using Dave Hill for Baldacci in the linebacking position, alternating with Fred Baer on offensive fullback. He had Dan Cline and Ed Hickey at the halves and Duncan McDonald and sophomore Jim Maddock alternating at quarterback.

Each Yardline Marked For Wisconsin Game

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Guy Sundt, athletic director for the University of Wisconsin, announced Friday night the football field at Camp Randall stadium would be marked off every yard for the Wisconsin-Rice nationally televised game today, to aid home viewers.

Big Ten and NCAA approval, Sundt said, has been granted for the markings.

Hawks To Wear New Attire for Michigan Tilt

Iowa's football squad will wear several different items in the game with Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday. The jerseys are the same as in 1953, white with gold numerals, but the new helmets are black with a gold stripe down the center. The men also will wear the new black pants, trimmed with gold, which they tried out in the Montana game last Saturday. Previously, the team wore gold pants for home and road games.

COLTS' STAR OUT

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gary Kerkorian, Baltimore quarterback who was injured in passing the Colts to a 20-14 national football league victory over New York last weekend, will not be in the lineup Sunday when the Colts meet the Bears in Chicago.

Sooners Pit 1st Place Rating Against Texas

DALLAS (AP)—Grimly determined Texas strikes at Oklahoma today with two things in mind—to knock down the nation's No. 1 team and end an embarrassing domination the Sooners have held in this storied intersectional football game.

There will be many in the record throng of 76,204 who think the Longhorns can do it, too, because there never has been a game in the 43 played by the two big schools figured to be closer.

Oklahoma, unbeaten and untied in two tests, basks fearfully in the role of the nation's best, crippled and facing an outfit that boasts a probable edge in manpower. And Texas obviously has more incentive—the Longhorns have won only once since 1947. Victory has grown into the biggest must in Texas' plans.

Both Teams Tough
While both teams give little promise of trying the easy way—through the air—they have thunderous ground attacks geared to smooth split T alignments. And a lot of head-butting is anticipated on the greenward of the big Cotton bowl.

Oklahoma won't have its gifted split T quarterback, Gene Calame, whose hocus-pocus with a football last season was most instrumental in whipping the Longhorns 19-14.

Calame won't play because of a shoulder injury and his place will be taken by Texan Jimmy Harris, a sophomore who was good enough to pilot the Sooners to a 21-16 victory over Texas Christian. Texas, on the other hand, is in probably its best condition for this game in a decade.

Sooners Feature Herndon
Powermen of the Oklahoma ground assault are Buddy Leake and Bob Herndon. The latter has romped to 179 yards and Leake has gained 76 while doing a lot of other things, such as running back punts for 105 yards and throwing passes for 104.

Delano Womack, the whirling Texas halfback who didn't play last week against Washington State, leads the Longhorn ball-carriers with 139 yards and Don Maroney, a blasting sophomore, has whipped up 122 yards. The Texas passing attack is most anemic. Charley Brewer, its leading tosser, has managed only six completions for 65 yards.

Boilermakers See 3d Straight Win, Rise in Rankings

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue's Boilermakers, hoping to rivet a third victory onto their season's string of two, meet Duke's unbeaten Blue Devils today in a game that is expected to draw a near-capacity football crowd to Ross-Ade stadium.

Both will be aiming for top ranking honors. Purdue was rated fifth and Duke sixth in the nation in this week's Associated Press poll.

National attention shifted to Purdue last Saturday when the Boilermakers upset Notre Dame 27-14 after the previous week's win over Missouri 31-0.

But Duke has been in the spotlight, too, with its 52-0 drubbing of Pennsylvania and 7-6 defeat of Tennessee.

All eyes will be on Lenny Dawson, Purdue's 19-year-old quarterback whose forward passing touchdown production this season has been phenomenal. His two-game total is eight.

But Duke has a reputation for pass defense, having allowed Pennsylvania and Tennessee to average only 40.5 yards in nine completions out of 29 tries. Duke defenders intercepted seven of their opponents' aeriels.

Purdue has memories of last year's meeting at Durham, N. C., where quarterback Jerry Barger scored in the last 39 seconds to beat the Boilermakers 20-14.

The Blue Devils also have a sophomore sensation of their own in quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, who engineered touchdowns against both Tennessee and Penn. Furthermore, Worth Lutz, moved from quarterback to fullback this year, carried with him a fine throwing arm which Duke has yet to exploit to the fullest this year.

Both squads were expected to have most hands ready for action.

Bucks Worry Evy's Hawks

The Iowa Hawkeyes only worry about one game at a time. And tonight, on the trip from Ann Arbor, the chances are that Coach Forest Evashevski and his squad will be thinking about next Saturday's battle with Coach Woody Hayes and his powerful Ohio State eleven.

Coach Hayes' Buckeyes didn't meet Iowa last year. In the last get-together at Iowa City in 1952, Iowa upset Ohio State 8-0 to knock the Ohioans out of a Rose Bowl trip. The two years previous to that Iowa was humbled 47-21 and 83-21.

Both teams have done well so far in the 1954 grid season. Ohio conquered Indiana, 28-0, in the opener, as Iowa side-stepped Michigan State, 14-10. Then the Hawks rolled Montana, 48-6, as the Bucks dropped California, 21-13.

Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy is Ohio's big gun. He raced 26 yards through the California defense for a touchdown on the Bucks' first play from scrimmage. Cassidy also circled end in the second period for eight yards on the play that set up a 17-yard TD pass.

The Buckeyes have a few other grid aces, too. Hoppy's running mate at halfback, Bobby Watkins, a second-string offense-defense whiz, Jerry Harkrader and sophomore fullback Hubert (Hurricane) Bebo have outstanding records.

Ohio holds the edge over Iowa in the 16-game series that began in 1922. They have won eight while losing six. Two games resulted in ties.

German Track Team Favored in Japan

TOKYO (Saturday) (AP)—Germany's track aces rated heavy favorites to defeat Japan's best in today's opening meet of their far eastern tour.

Japan's best meets are in the hop step and jump, pole vault and high and broad jumps.

Sports Views

By Gene Ingle—Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Today, Iowa's Head Coach Forest Evashevski returns to the scene of his college days—Michigan—pointing for a victory. A triumph would be the first for Iowa at Ann Arbor since 1924.

There are reports that a radical group at the Wolverine school is dicker for Evy as a successor to Bennie Oosterbaan. Seems they think Bennie's methods are too conservative.

Naturally, a coach such as Evy would consider any offer from his alma mater, even though he's said he likes it here. He's a native of Detroit and a former Michigan quarterback in the Fritz Crisler coaching era.

A win today would probably increase the cries of Michigan alumni.

The Michigan alumni claim Oosterbaan hasn't been able to entice many outstanding high school athletes and give that as the answer to Michigan's decline as a Big Ten football power.

At the same time, they claim, rival Michigan State has become a national grid power by "stealing" the preps who normally would have gone to Michigan.

Unlike Oosterbaan, Evy is known as an aggressive recruiter. Those who want him at Michigan say he is just the man to halt the Wolverines' football decline.

However, Oosterbaan's record since he started coaching at Michigan is not as bad as some would have us believe. Last year's 3-3 record was the first since 1948 that his teams failed to post a winning percentage in the Big Ten.

Oosterbaan-coached teams won the title outright in 1948 and 1950 and tied Ohio State in 1949. They were fourth in 1951 and 1952 and tied Iowa and Minnesota for fifth a year ago.

The Hawks are favored in today's contest, but you can bet the Wolverines will go all-out for a victory, even though they may be handicapped by the loss of their two backfield stars—Tony Branoff and Lou Baldacci.

opening game, suffered a recurrence of his ailment against Army and also is expected to be out.

Loss of these two key men would severely handicap the Wolverines. Baldacci, who doubles at quarterback, can pass, punt and block, as well as run. He's also a rugged linebacker.

Baer To Start
Taking Baldacci's place may be Fred Baer, a 185-pound senior from La Grange, Ill. However, if Baldacci is out, a replacement problem is created.

Dave Hill, who already is sharing the left halfback duties with Dan Cline, may be shifted to aid Earl Johnson in strengthening the fullback position.

Ed Hickey may start in place of Branoff. George Corey and Eddie Shannon, a rapidly developing sophomore, will back up Hickey. A senior from Anacanda, Mont., Hickey is heavier at 172, than at any other time in his career. A tricky runner, he scored Michigan's touchdown against Army last week, and he's dangerous in an open field.

A cheery note in Michigan's picture is the return of center Jim Bates to active duty. Bates, who was ill with pneumonia and missed the first two games, is slated for No. 1 center and linebacker duties. He returned to

An underdog Clinton River King football team battled Iowa City high school to a 0-0 tie before a homecoming crowd of about 3,000 here Friday night. With only 2 minutes left in the game Jeff Langston brought the crowd to its feet as he dashed 27 yards for the game's longest run, only to be hauled down by

A's Seem Destined To Leave Macks As Support Folds

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — What is believed to be Roy Mack's last hope to retain control of the Philadelphia Athletics faded Friday night when millionaire building contractor John McShain said he is not interested in the club and does not expect to be.

Unless Roy has some ace up his sleeve, that leaves only the group sponsored by Thomas Richardson, Eastern Baseball league president, to save the club for Philadelphia.

The only other bid known is the one of Arnold Johnson, Chicago businessman and Johnson wants to take the franchise to Kansas City.

McShain, nationally known builder who has loaned the Macks money in the past, said he had made an effort to help out but he was rebuffed by Earle Mack, who with brother, Roy, and father, Connie Mack, own all the stock of the team.

"It's ancient history now," McShain said Friday night. "We had arrangements made with all three Macks, even had the papers signed. But the next day Earle asked to be relieved and that was that."

"I have never given Roy any encouragement from that day to this," the builder said.

$600,000 offered
McShain first offered to purchase Connie Mack's shares for some $600,000. But after first agreeing to the purchase, Earle, who under an agreement with his brother and father, has the right to veto any dealing of stock, backed out. McShain then agreed to buy out Earle as well as Connie, Sr., but again Earle said no.

It appears now that the Richardson group holds the inside track since the league is on record against transferring the team to Kansas City. It would take six of the eight club votes to approve a franchise transfer and at least four have publicly stated they'd vote against Kansas City.

Richardson has proposed to buy the team for $3,375,000.

Smith KO's Johnson In Surprise Ending

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Boardwalk Billy Smith, 173½, scored a startling upset Friday night by knocking out Harold Johnson, 174, Philadelphia, No. 1 light heavyweight title contender, in 1:22 of the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout at the arena.

Smith, who came east from Oakland, Calif., two years ago to make Atlantic City, N.J., his home, smashed Johnson with a hard right to the side of the face, sending the Philadelphian sprawling to the canvas. Johnson made an effort to regain his feet, moving to his knees, but he sagged to the ring floor and took the ten count.

WHITNEY MARTIN'S — Sports Trail

NEW YORK (AP) — Underdog college football teams which knock off favorites today for the weekly quota of "upsets" will have the edge over the underdog victors of last week. They'll get the top headlines.

Last week Purdue, Army, West Virginia and several other schools showed atrocious timing in accomplishing their feats in competition with the World Series.

The Notre Dame defeat alone ordinarily would have been rated top news, as any time the Irish lose it is the top topic of conversation for days.

Reputation Means Much
In fact, such is the awesome reputation of the South Bend team that its trouncing by Purdue was greeted with disbelief in some quarters.

The props are all ready for today's upsets.
No. 1 meets No. 15 in the Associated Press weekly rankings, for instance. No. 1 is Oklahoma and No. 15 is Texas, yet oddly enough the Oklahomans are given no more than an even chance in most quarters, and actually are the underdogs in others.

Wisconsin Meets Rice
Wisconsin, No. 3, takes on Rice, No. 11, in a game which also has the experts coming up with all sorts of predictions, ranging from a Rice victory in a squeaker to a Wisconsin victory by 13 or more points.

That's the TV game of the week, and should be well worth watching if only to get a line on the merits of two fine backs—Dick Moegle, Rice, and Alan (The Horse) Ameche of the Badgers.

The only game involving two of the top ten brings together Purdue and Duke, and inasmuch as Purdue is rated fifth in the poll and Duke sixth the contest stacks up as rugged, with the rating of the loser bound to suffer.

In Select Group
In fact, at this early stage of the season a defeat can knock almost any team out of the top 10. It didn't drop Notre Dame out last week, but the Irish are the only team in that select group which has been defeated. They stay up there while other good teams, unbeaten, are far down the list. Minnesota, for instance, is 18th.

The way things have been going it won't be long before there won't be an undefeated team in the top 10.

New Stop Sign

NEW TYPE STOP LIGHTS have been installed at the corners of Bloomington and Dubuque streets. A button on the box (center of pole) shifts the light from yellow (caution) to red (stop). Operating buttons are on poles at each corner. Other such signs are being installed at various intersections in the city.

Met Opera Baritone To Give Concert In Memorial Union

George London, bass-baritone star of the Metropolitan opera, will present a concert Sunday, Oct. 24, in the Iowa Memorial Union at 8 p.m. He will appear under the auspices of the University concert course.

London, who decided to be a professional singer from listening to broadcasts of the Metropolitan Opera as a youngster, made his grand opera debut in Hollywood Bowl after numerous performances in church, high school, and college choirs and small operatic companies.

Travels to Europe
By 1949, he had experienced many concert tours and had soloed with the Boston Symphony, Buffalo Philharmonic and the Grant Park Symphony in Chicago. At this time, the 6'2" bachelor went to Europe, where he was virtually unknown, for further study and the experience of singing in Europe.

He was an immediate sensation, being acclaimed as an "operatic Sinatra" and "operatic find of the year" (Time magazine).

Has Sung Many Roles
On Nov. 13, 1951, London's voice resounded through the Metropolitan Opera's opening night as Amonasro in Verdi's "Aida."

Since then he has sung various roles in "Fidelio," "The Marriage of Figaro," "Don Giovanni," "Carmen," "Parsifal," "Tosca," and many other operas in Europe, Canada and the United States.

Cornell Students Haze Executive At Ceremony

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Olin hall, new Cornell college dormitory, turned out to be a series of surprises for Charles L. Horn at Mt. Vernon Wednesday.

Horn, president of the Olin Industries foundation, Minneapolis, believed he was to take part in a serious ceremony when activities started in the college chapel Wednesday morning.

Horn was stripped of his academic robe and mortarboard he was wearing and was told that since he was now a student, he must take part in Freshman hazing.

Rules which Horn was told he must observe included wearing a freshman beanie, and singing the school alma mater, "Fair Old Cornell."

uncertain in purpose."

The President spoke as the Republican high command made no secret of its hope that his address would provide what Vice-President Richard Nixon called "a tremendous shot in the arm" toward a GOP victory in November.

"Compelling Reasons . . ."
As he did in his Los Angeles speech two weeks ago, the President mentioned what he called "compelling reasons why the completion of your great administration program requires the election of a Republican-led Congress."

Ticking off what he termed the accomplishments of the administration since it took office nearly two years ago, the President said:

1. "This administration and the Republican congress are dealing decisively with the Communist menace . . . There is no vasculization nor inaction on the part of this administration in dealing with those who, by force or violence, would overthrow the government of the United States."

Korean War Ended
2. "The Korean war has been ended and the 'futile sacrifices' there have stopped."

3. "Our people want a clean government. They now have clean, honest, decent government again in Washington."

4. "The administration and the Republican-run 83rd congress 'cut our government's cost by $14 billion, and at last we have had a tax cut' of $7.4 billion. The chief executive called that "the largest tax reduction in history" and said it has brought benefits "to every family in every American home."

5. "We smoked out 211,000 unnecessary positions on the federal payrolls and we got rid of them."

Praises Armed Forces
6. "The nation today has the strongest armed forces in our peacetime history," and in building them "we have saved vast funds."

7. Toward the goal of a strong peacetime economy, the 83rd Republican congress passed a new housing program, approved an expanded highway program, and enacted a new farm program "to stop the seven year decline in farmers' income."

Turning to foreign affairs, the President declared "We have an honest, forthright foreign policy concerned with deeds not words."

ATTEND CONVENTION
Eight SUI professors from the department of history will attend the annual Iowa college history teachers conference at Drake university today.

Major Meeting To Open On Problems of Aged

One of the nation's major meetings this year on the problems of old age will be held Monday and Tuesday by the SUI institute of gerontology.

The meeting is expected to attract officials from many of the Iowa communities in which interest has been growing in ways to help older citizens find happiness and usefulness in their later years. The public is welcome to attend all portions of the conference, according to Dr. Steven Horvath, acting director of the institute.

Theme of this year's meeting will be "In Your Own Back Yard." Participants will include both nationally known figures in the field of gerontology and Iowa citizens who have been active in their own communities in conducting programs to help elderly people. Sessions will be held in the Iowa Center for Continuation Study.

Saunders, Hartman To Preside

Monday's portion of the conference will be presided over by Prof. Harold W. Saunders, chairman of sociology at SUI. Gerhard Hartman, superintendent of University hospitals, will direct activities during the Tuesday sessions.

The program for Monday morning will open with a speech by Dr. Woodrow Hunter of the division of gerontology at the University of Michigan. The subject of his talk will be "Availability and Utilization of Community Resources for Older Citizens."

A roundtable discussion will follow Hunter's speech, with William H. Dreier, Hubbard farmer, and Lillian Edmunds, director of the Wilkie Home in Des Moines.

ISC Woman To Talk

The afternoon session Monday will open with a speech by Mildred K. Wellman, district home economics supervisor at Iowa State college in Ames. Her subject will be "Educational Projects in the Community."

The afternoon session will be concluded with another roundtable discussion. Participants will be Prof. C. H. McCloy of the physical education division at SUI; Vera Lighthall, a retired school teacher of Ft. Dodge; and Dr. Royal J. Montgomery of the Mayflower Home in Grinnell.

Dr. Nathan W. Shock, chief of the section on gerontology in the national institutes of health, will speak Monday evening on "Responsibilities of the Older Generation to Their Communities." Tuesday's sessions will begin with a panel discussion on "How to Get It Done in Your Community," by F. W. Pickworth, director of the division of hospital services in the Iowa state department of health; Ralph E. Shannon, editor of the Washington Evening Journal; and the Rev. H. Lee Jacobs, pastor of the First Congregational church in Ft. Dodge.

New Grants Announced For Educators

The Danforth foundation, sponsors of SUI's Danforth chapel, has established grants to encourage college teachers to continue their graduate work toward the doctorate. SUI has been invited to submit one recommendation for the scholarships.

A total of 50 scholarships will be given to college instructors over the country. The grant will cover this year beginning Sept. 1, 1955.

Qualifications for the grant are: age—between 25 and 40 years; previous study—at least one year of graduate study with record of outstanding success; experience—at least three years of successful teaching experience, including some at the college level; objective—definite expectation of remaining in college teaching or administration; leave of absence—assurance from the institution of present connection that it will grant a leave of absence for one year.

Interested faculty members will find more detailed information at the graduate college office.

Berlin Educator To Visit SUI, Trade Knowledge

Hans Schneider, school superintendent of the Western zone of Berlin, Germany, will visit the SUI college of education and nearby public schools Monday through Wednesday.

Schneider, who served the Berlin suburb of Reinickendorf as deputy mayor during the immediate post-war year of 1945-46, is exchanging experiences this fall with American schoolmen. A participant in the foreign leader program of the international exchange service, his tour is sponsored by the U.S. department of state and arranged by the American council on education.

He will be the second German school leader to visit the SUI campus this fall. Recently Johannes Giesberts, Cologne city director of education and 1945-47 education supervisor in an East German province, conferred with SUI educators and visited Iowa City and Tipton public schools.

State To Share Viaduct Expense

Plans for the reconstruction of the Woolf avenue viaduct will get under way again with the agreement of the state highway commission to share costs for the projects, it was announced Friday by City Manager Peter F. Roan.

The viaduct is one of two proposed constructions, the other being a new span across the Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific Railway company tracks on S. Dodge street.

Roan also said that a tentative agreement has been reached with the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway company (Crandic) concerning the Woolf avenue viaduct.

Student Starts 2,000 Mile Trip To Win Bet

TOM ECKER, A2, WAVERLY, who bet $10 and a steak dinner that he could hitch-hike the 2,000 mile trip from Iowa City to Greenville, S.C. in 69 hours, leaves here on U.S. highway 6 at 11:38 a.m. Friday. He must return by 8:30 a.m. Monday to win the bet. He got his first ride, to Davenport, with the fourth car he hailed.

Over $4 Million Requested for SUI

The state board of education has sent to the state legislature a recommendation that $4,340,000 be allocated SUI during the next two years for capital improvements.

These improvements include $1.2 million for a new pharmacy building and equipment, $1.2 million for library additions and equipment, $950,000 for utilities and $600,000 for an annex to the law building.

Other capital improvements include a laundry building and equipment, rehabilitation of Macbride auditorium, remodeling Eastlawn into a music building and purchase of land within campus boundaries.

These capital improvements were part of an appropriation budget filed with the state comptroller's office asking for a total of $36,631,326 to be appropriated during the next two years by the 56th general assembly for SUI, University hospitals, psychopathic hospital, school for severely handicapped children, state bacteriological laboratory at Okoboji and Oakdale sanatorium.

Of the $36 million requested, SUI was budgeted $22,463,076; University hospitals $8,517,000; Oakdale $3,448,816; psychopathic hospital $883,172; school for severely handicapped children $871,100 and biological laboratory $448,162.

In addition, the board recommended annual appropriations for educational purposes (operating funds) for $8,214,038 and $847,500 for repairs, replacement, alterations and equipment, including $200,000 for new library books.

they're good, if they play solid dance music," he added.

Marterie believes that jazz does have a place in today's dance music. "Come on," he said, "and I'll show you what I mean."

Repeated "Skoklan" The short, somewhat dapper band leader strode quickly across the floor to the band stand. He gave his boys three numbers, and they began to play "Skoklan" again. The crowd moved almost en masse to surround Marterie's band on three sides.

He kept the crowd there for almost 20 minutes with such numbers as "Rock, Rock, Rock," and the well-worn standard, "Perdido."

Then he played "Tenderly," and the crowd moved back to the dance floor.

This was the routine during most of the dance.

Roan Hearing Scheduled For Monday

City Manager Peter F. Roan will have a hearing Monday in Ft. Madison police court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Roan was arrested Sept. 15 in Ft. Madison after he allegedly sideswiped a parked car owned by Mrs. Jack Freighter.

He was charged with OMVI by Ft. Madison police after taking a sobriety test.

City council members delayed action on Roan until results of legal action against him were complete.
