

Wilson Denies Indifference Toward Jobless

DETROIT (AP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said Tuesday he intended no slur against jobless workers in an offhand "dog" story he told newsmen here Monday.

He said he "certainly intended no invidious comparisons, nor insinuations likening people to dogs in any sense."

"And for any one to imply I did or under any circumstances would think that way," he said, "is a complete distortion of the facts."

Then he added:

"I am sure that the distorted version of what I said is being used by the people of the adverse political party trying to capitalize on a misinterpretation of the full meaning of what I actually said."

With a new statement, Wilson jumped into the political storm which had swirled about him since his news conference remark first was published 24 hours earlier.

President Eisenhower sought to calm the storm with a statement expressing full confidence in his cabinet member.

At the news conference, Wilson had said he had "a lot of sympathy" for jobless workers, but he said he "always liked bird dogs better than kennel-fed dogs myself."

Grinning broadly, the blunt-spoken former General Motors corporation president then elaborated by saying:

"You know, one who'll get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his fanny and yell."

Those were the words used by Wilson as shown by a transcription from a tape recording of the news conference. Tuesday Wilson's statement said that the kennel-fed dog "would sit back on his haunches and yelp."

The heads of both the CIO and the AFL joined in rapping Wilson. Democratic party leaders seized on the quotation. Criticism even came from within the Republican party.

CIO President Walter Reuther protested to Eisenhower. He called on the President to order Wilson to retract publicly or resign.

The President said he was sure "initial newspaper reports did not fully reflect what Mr. Wilson said or meant" at the news conference.

Two hours after President Eisenhower issued his statement, Wilson issued his own. It started off by saying:

"In my press conference yesterday I thought back in my own home town I was in no danger of having anything I said taken out of context and misinterpreted."

He said he told the dog story "to make this point that I admired spirit and initiative."

Monday's news conference was devoted largely to a denial by Wilson of charges that General Motors has been favored in the awarding of defense contracts.

But other Wilson statements were virtually ignored as the "dog" remark spread across the nation.

In Washington Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell called Wilson's news conference statements "cruel and stupid."

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.), chairman of the senate armed forces committee, said he "heartily disagrees" with Wilson's news conference remark. He said it was "an unfair remark to many of our good citizens."

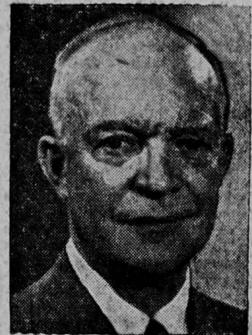

Rep. Shepard Crumpacker (R-Ind.) said Wilson should resign. Crumpacker said he considers

Wilson "too great a burden for any administration to carry."

Michigan's Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Democratic senatorial candidate Patrick V. McNamara, and Sen. Olin Johnston (D-S.C.) all assailed Wilson.

One vigorous defender was John Feikens, Michigan Republican chairman. He said Reuther's telegram to Eisenhower was "the outcry by the socialist master of the Democratic party" and called it "the sheepest demagoguery . . ."

Ike Acts To Calm 'Bird Dog' Debate

President Eisenhower Tries To Calm Furor

Secretary Wilson Denies Indifference

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday acted to calm the furor stirred by Defense Secretary Charles Wilson's "bird dog" remark about unemployment.

The president said he was sure Wilson's statement at a Detroit news conference Monday had been misunderstood, adding that he never had found Wilson "in the slightest degree indifferent to human misfortune."

Wilson said that while he has "a lot of sympathy" for the unemployed, he has "always liked bird dogs better than kennel-fed dogs."

Presidential aides would not speculate about the political impact of the remark.

Strategy Conferences

But there were lengthy strategy conferences at the summer White House Tuesday, and at least one telephone conversation between Murray Snyder, assistant presidential press secretary, and Wilson.

Snyder said Wilson told him it was "ridiculous" for anyone to conclude his remarks about unemployment could have anything more than a very limited application.

Eisenhower's staff obtained a partial transcript of Wilson's news conference, and the upshot was that Eisenhower decided to put out a statement.

Wilson Not Indifferent

"I have never found him," the president said, "in the slightest degree indifferent to human misfortune."

"This administration respects the dignity and is concerned with the welfare and prosperity of all our nation's citizens. It is liberal in all matters affecting human problems and seeks in every way to enlarge the opportunities open to Americans."

"It is unfortunately true that in spite of record peacetime employment there are areas suffering economic dislocations as the aftermath of war and inflation."

Earnest Effort

"Every one of these is engaging the earnest and persistent efforts of the administration so that all our people may participate in a constantly rising peacetime prosperity."

Snyder said Eisenhower told him he was sure "the initial newspaper reports" on what Wilson said "did not fully reflect what Mr. Wilson said or meant."

Snyder added that "the president's views were borne out" by partial transcript of Wilson's statement.

The Weather

Partly cloudy and cooler today. High today, 63 to 68; low, 48 to 52. Partly cloudy with showers Thursday.

Flood Spreading Across N. Indiana

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—The flood crisis passed in Hammond and suburbs Tuesday, but a weekend of torrential rains built up a fast-spreading flood at Plymouth, halfway across northern Indiana.

Yellow river rose to 18 feet in downtown Plymouth, chasing 400 families from their homes. Another 150 homes were flooded around Lake of the Woods northeast of Plymouth.

The Little Calumet river fell as much as a foot at Hammond, and 350 national guardsmen and 5,000 volunteers turned from sandbagging work to watching for crumbling levees or looting of an estimated 2,000 deserted homes.

New dike breaks flooded 500 home at the south edge of Hammond, though the Little Calumet had already started to drop.

Earlier breaks had flooded the adjacent Schleicher section of 500 small homes, besides an estimated 1,000 others in the suburbs of Highland, Munster and Dyer.

Traffic was banned in Plymouth, a city of 6,700 population 25 miles south of South Bend. Only emergency telephone calls were accepted. Schools remained closed. Emergency quarters were set up in Marshall county.

At Hammond, Mayor Vernon Anderson said he planned to confer with Rep. Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.), house majority leader, about getting federal emergency aid.

The floods blocked U.S. highway 6 at the Little Calumet bridge at Hammond, at two bridges between Walkerton and Bremen, and near Hobart.

The weekend rains, measured at an official 6.46 inches in neighboring Gary, fell on ground already soaked by 5.13 inches a week earlier, giving a total of 11.59 inches since Oct. 1.

The accumulated runoff flooded Wolf Lake, on the Indiana-Illinois border, and surrounded some homes in Hammond's Robertson section.

Lt. Col. Don C. Stimson, commander of the 113th engineers battalion of guardsmen, said 50,000 more sandbags had been ordered from Indianapolis and 50,000 from Chicago. However, he ordered the 350 guardsmen from Gary, Whiting and Valparaiso off sandbagging details.

A crack was found in the Lake George dam on Deep River, a Little Calumet tributary, at Hobart, but the dam was expected to hold.

A state of emergency was proclaimed at Ottawa, Ill., 80 miles southeast of Chicago, where 65 families were forced from their homes by floodwaters of the Fox and Illinois rivers. Coast guardsmen from Chicago helped a National guard detail guard the flooded area.

Malan Action Startles Aides

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan's decision to retire left his followers both surprised and stunned Tuesday.

But they were determined to carry on under his Nationalist party, with its leadership and the prime ministry expected to fall to Malan's deputy, Nickolas C. Havenga.

Malan, 80, has been an aggressive and uncompromising advocate of white supremacy in South Africa. His decision to resign, effective Nov. 30, was "unexpected and dumbfounding" to the Nationalist paper, Die Burger, which for years has supported him.

No reason for the resignation has been announced but it is generally associated with Malan's health.

A Nationalist party caucus will pick Malan's successor.

Most South African newspapers and politicians agree that short of an open dispute, Malan will be succeeded by Havenga, 72-year-old deputy premier.

Jet Crash Kills Mother, Children

CLINTON, Md. (AP)—A flaming F86 Sabrejet crashed in a Maryland farmyard Tuesday, killing Mrs. Dorothy Vaughn, 23, and her two children, Rosie, 4, and John Jr., 2.

The accident also seriously injured John Vaughn Sr., 24, and cost the life of the fighter pilot, 2d Lt. Robert B. Sandberg, 26, of Wenatchee, Wash., whose body was found about two miles away at Cheltenham.

Officers at Andrews air force base, southeast of Washington, D.C., reported the pilot radioed he was in trouble immediately after taking off. They said he ejected himself from the faltering plane but that evidently his parachute failed to open.

Prison Riot Ends

Mendes Wins Confidence Vote on Pact

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Mendes-France won a vote of confidence 3-to-1 from the French national assembly Tuesday on the London plan to rearm West Germany.

The vote was 350-113, with the 99 Communist deputies furnishing the bulk of the opposition. Some of the 152 deputies who abstained, however, may swell the "noes" when the final London agreements come up for ratification.

Vote OK's Union

Tuesday's vote authorized Mendes-France to go ahead with forming the Western European Union decided upon at London Oct. 3 as an enlargement of the five-nation Brussels alliance of 1948.

News of the outcome pleased the West German government, committed to recruit 12 divisions for Western defense.

Socialists Go Along

Mendes-France's victory by a wide margin was assured Monday night when the Socialists, biggest party in parliament, threw their weight to his side. The Socialists control 105 of the 627 votes.

The Socialists' support gave rise to the question whether this party should join the Mendes-France cabinet.

The Socialists have not shared power in France for more than three years. Mendes-France wants them in. And some Socialist leaders agree with him.

But many others would rather wait and see the final text of the London accords, and if anything comes of current peace feelers in the cold war.

Sees Union Annex Finished by June

Prof. Earl H. Harper, director of the Iowa Memorial Union and SUI's school of fine arts, said Tuesday night that he expects the addition to the Union to be completed by the end of this school year.

Speaking at a meeting of the Union board, Harper said "The addition will be open sooner than we had reason to expect, but not as soon as we had hoped."

"We have every reason to expect that we will be in the bowling alley section of the building soon after Christmas."

He said he expects the whole building to be open "by commencement next spring."

Harper said that the contractor was not obligated to complete the Union addition this year, but that the building was being put up so fast it was hoped the addition would be open by February.

Mother Cat Rescues Her Kittens from Fire

ELIZABETHTOWN, Tenn. (AP)—A mother cat saved three kittens from a fire which destroyed an apartment house here. She carried them one at a time, up a pole and deposited them in an eave trough which had some water standing in it. Foremen later rescued the kittens.

A NEW LANGUAGE

OMAHA (AP)—A Creighton University student approached the instructor after class and asked "Is this a class in Polish?" "No, philosophy," the instructor replied. "No wonder I didn't understand some of the words," said the student.

ALEX GREGORY, AN INMATE of South Dakota penitentiary, Sioux Falls, is led from his cell en route to a hospital for treatment of injuries received during a riot Monday evening in which six convicts were injured.

13 Puerto Rican Nationalists Convicted in House Shooting

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirteen Puerto Rican Nationalists were convicted of seditious conspiracy against the United States Tuesday night.

A federal jury deliberated less than four hours.

Four Nationalists already have been convicted on the same charge of spraying the house of representatives with bullets last March and wounding five congressmen.

The 13, including two women, sat silently with heads bowed as the foreman read the verdict.

The maximum penalty for each would be six years in prison and $5,000 fine.

The Nationalist party, which is dedicated to complete independence for Puerto Rico, first gained notoriety when two of its members attempted to assassinate former President Harry S. Truman.

The shooting in congress was on March 1. The government charged that all 13 had conspired to bring about Puerto Rico's independence from the United States by force, violence and armed revolution.

Originally 17 had been indicted but four pleaded guilty before the trial started. They will be sentenced with the others.

Federal Judge Lawrence E. Walsh scheduled Oct. 26 for sentencing and hearing of defense motions.

Open School Board Meetings Advocated

AMES (AP)—Open school board meetings were urged at a gathering of 50 Iowa educators and community leaders here Tuesday as a means of alerting the community to its responsibilities to its schools.

The recommendation came from a discussion group reporting to the joint session of the Iowa Council for Community Improvement and the Iowa Council for Better Education.

Today Final Day To Add Courses

Today is the last day that courses may be added to students' schedules.

Failure to complete the necessary change in registration forms will not be considered adequate reasons for accepting changes after today.

3 Guards Released; 6 Convicts Injured

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP)—Three-hundred rioting prisoners of the South Dakota state penitentiary gave up two guard hostages, and returned to their cells late Tuesday.

They had returned another hostage Tuesday morning. Their surrender ended a 23-hour rebellion that began at supper Monday night.

Six inmates were injured in the riot. One prisoner died and 15 were made ill after drinking hair tonic.

Warden G. Norton Jameson said:

No Concessions
"We have made no concessions."

"The prisoners have gone back to their cells, and it doesn't look as if the damage is as heavy as it first appeared."

The end came after Gov. Sigurd Anderson presented an ultimatum to the prisoners—"give up the hostages and return to your cells or face the consequences."

National Guard
The ultimatum was backed up by about 200 armed national guardsmen, sheriff's deputies and other peace officers who stood guard over the cellblock the rioters had dominated since the riot began.

The two hostages—George Reed and E. F. Lambertson—were freed unharmed as part of the surrender. Twenty-five unarmed members of the state motor patrol went to the cell block to escort the hostages to safety.

Kidnap Charges
Richard Bielski, Minnehaha county state's attorney, said he would file second-degree kidnaping charges against four or five inmates for seizing the guards. He did not name them.

Governor Anderson called it an "unnecessary riot."

The governor had emphasized earlier to prisoner representatives that "the state of South Dakota and state prison officials run the prison."

Estimate Damage
Prison officials said they could not estimate damage until they examined the cellblock held by the rioters.

They said, however, that most of the beds and chairs in the cells were smashed and mattresses shredded.

Melvin DeYoung, 24, was released by the rioters Tuesday morning in an expression of what their spokesman called "good faith."

Tear Gas
Clouds of tear gas Monday night drove the rioters from the dining hall into the east wing of the prison, the point of disturbance.

Lloyd Lindbergh, spokesman for the rioters and life takers, said the convicts had only one "demand"—that an impartial committee be formed to investigate prison conditions.

List Complaints
The convicts spent most of Monday night typing a long list of "suggestions." Among them were listed additional medical attention, a council to act as intermediary between inmates and prison officials, a revision of pardon and parole procedures, and additional recreational facilities.

Lattimore Enters Plea Of Not Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Owen Lattimore, writer and lecturer on Far Eastern affairs, pleaded innocent Tuesday to an indictment accusing him of falsely denying he ever followed the Communist party line or promoted Red causes.

Judge Bolitha J. Laws of U.S. District Court, on receiving the plea, set Jan. 10 as the trial date.

When Judge Laws asked attorneys for recommendations as to a trial date, Thurman Arnold, Lattimore's attorney, replied, "I don't think it will ever go to trial. Perhaps I'm biased."

Lattimore was continued at liberty under the $2,000 bond he posted after his original indictment in December 1952. Five counts of the earlier indictment remain in force, the other two having been dismissed by the courts.

Funeral Rites Held For Justice Jackson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supreme court Justice Robert H. Jackson received the nation's farewell Tuesday at funeral services in Washington cathedral.

More than 1,000 mourners including Chief Justice Warren and the seven remaining associate justices honored the man who won international fame as a jurist. Jackson died Saturday of a heart attack at 62.

Banks of flowers circled one end of Jackson's casket, in the center of the great, vaulted cathedral. Outstanding was a five foot cross of white carnations from President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

A brief service followed the regular Episcopal ritual from the Book of Common Prayer, except for a special prayer read by the Rev. Alfred St. John Matthews. He is rector of the St. John's Episcopal church in McLean, Va., where Jackson worshipped.

2d Day Chest Drive Totals $2,250

Contributions to the Iowa City community chest totaled $2,250 in the second day of the campaign, William L. Meardon, chairman of the campaign, said Tuesday.

The chest announced that Coralville is now formally a part of the Iowa City community chest, and will be listed as part of the area to be served by chest agencies.

Inclusion of Coralville in the chest, both for services and solicitation of funds, is the result of a chest board contact with Mayor Donald J. Anclaux and his council.

Use of chest funds will begin in Coralville, Jan. 1. Identical solicitations will begin Oct. 20. They are already underway in the business district.

Chest board chairman M. C. Boyer was pleased with the Coralville action and said, "Formally including Coralville in the chest area is in line with the whole idea of working together, which is being emphasized in this year's drive."

At the annual meeting of the Chest next spring, the nominating committee will be asked to consider representation on the new board for Coralville. This would give Coralville an equal status with University Heights which has been a chest member for some years.

Education Against Death—

There has been much discussion of a definite Iowa highway speed limit. Although it will probably not become a vital issue in the coming gubernatorial campaign, both candidates have expressed an opinion.

Clyde Herring, Democratic candidate for governor, said recently that he favors a daytime speed limit of 65 miles an hour and a 55 mile an hour maximum at night.

Leo Hoegh, the GOP candidate, did not name specific speed limits, but said he favors "strengthening of Iowa speed laws."

"I'm not convinced that we will settle our highway driving problem by merely setting speed limits," Hoegh said. He apparently believes that a traffic safety program should go deeper than that.

We think both of these positions have merit. Neither would provide the complete answer, but each would help cut down the mounting fatality toll on our highways.

Before speed limits could make a dent in the list of dead and wounded on the highways, we would have to teach drivers to obey them.

As a Minnesota highway patrolman said, "They go just as fast as they always did before our speed limit except when a patrol car is behind them."

Yet a speed limit would certainly save some lives. Not everyone is a potential law breaker.

So it seems that a combination of two ingredients would go far in reducing the highway death rate: first an enforced speed limit, and then a widespread traffic safety program to instill in the nation's drivers a feeling of responsibility for other travelers' lives.

It is evident that some of them need it.

How's Everything?—

Friends who waste our precious time with stereotyped forms of greeting, instead of a cheery hello, get answered as follows:

HOW HAVE YOU BEEN? "Last December we had a cold. In January we got frostbite from standing on windy corners answering silly questions. In February, felt awful, tax forms came."

LONG TIME NO SEE. We carry a pair of old discarded spectacles in our pocket and simply hand them to the questioner.

WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN KEEPING YOURSELF? "In the candy dish. We're a bon-bon now, you know."

HOW'S TRICKS? "Fine. Take a card."

WHADDAYA KNOW? We begin by telling him there are 48 states in the Union. We then name them, followed by the capital of each state. By this time the questioner has slithered away.

WHAT'S NEW? "The baby next door, our toothbrush and the New York State Thruway. What's new with you?"

Iowa Citian's Lifetime Reading in 1 Anthology

By BETTY TUCKER

"Thoughts from Many Minds," compiled by J. A. Parden, Iowa City: (Pageant, $4).

The attic — that box-filled, memory-rich storehouse — is disappearing from American architecture, but once it was an adventure for both children and grownups.

On rainy days "Thoughts from Many Minds" must be like an attic to its author, J. A. Parden, Iowa City businessman.

Between its covers Parden has stored a lifetime of "copying, clipping, reading, listening and sorting." The result is an anthology with wide appeal.

Essays, quotations, quips and poems — both humorous and inspirational — have been gathered by Parden.

"I did this while I was a country schoolteacher, college student, salesman, farmer, banker, broker, etc., thinking that other people might enjoy them," he writes in the introduction.

A resident of Iowa City for 28 years, Parden is in the real estate and insurance business. He lives with his family at 225 River street. All three children are graduates of SUU.

We liked the democratic character of Parden's anthology. Beside a quotation from Shakespeare, Lincoln or Emerson one may find a simple chuckle like this:

The man chased the train to the end of the platform, but failed to catch it. As he walked slowly back, mopping up his brow, an onlooker remarked, "Miss the train?"

J. A. Parden

Authors Appealing Anthology

"Oh, not much," was the reply. "You see, I never got to know it very well."

Unlike the tardy commuter, most readers of Parden's anthology will say they would miss him a great deal. After sharing so many personal favorites, one feels he knows the author very well.

New Atomic Group Forms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "world's first professional society" of atomic technicians has been organized with the stated aim of pushing the national and international spread of peacetime nuclear information made possible under the recent revision of the atomic energy law.

The organization, known as the American Nuclear Society (ANS), is a nongovernmental group. It announced it had the blessing of the U.S. atomic energy commission through Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, and also the good wishes of Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.), chairman of the joint congressional atomic committee.

Closed Meeting The society was organized at a closed meeting held at the National Academy of Sciences. It was formed by what was described as a 29 member "representative group" of some 13,000 scientists and engineers "engaged fulltime in governmental, industrial and educational aspects of atomic energy activity in the United States."

Saying it already had 200 charter members signed up in addition to the organizational nucleus, the group added in a statement:

"The organizing committee and charter membership include many of the most prominent people working in this nation's atomic energy program. Included are the technical directors of each of the governmental and industrial laboratories now working on the five year program of nuclear reactor development recently announced by the U.S. atomic energy commission."

Main Objectives The society listed among its principal objectives:

1. Fostering the advancement of nuclear science and technology in the U.S.—including peacetime atomic power — through "interchange of information and ideas in all fields of peacetime research utilizing nuclear techniques."

2. Helping promote international cooperation on peacetime applications of atomic energy.

100 Take State Board Basic Science Tests

DES MOINES (AP)—About 100 persons took the State Board of Basic Science quarterly examination at the statehouse Tuesday, the beginning step toward obtaining licenses to practice medicine, osteopathy and chiropractic.

Those in charge of the test said the majority of the candidates had taken one or more of the six test subjects at least once before but failed to pass. Generally, the classes are made up mostly of beginners.

TO THE EDITOR:

The Daily Iowan

What are the prospects for married student housing here at SUU? I have only one year left in this shack so I don't expect to be around to see any drastic changes but I am inclined to view the overall picture with some alarm.

First I would like to remind you of a couple of the facts of life: Americans are continuing to marry at a younger age than ever, a surprisingly large percentage being married by the age of 21. For the present and foreseeable future a large percentage of the young men of this country are going to have to spend two years in the army.

What these facts boil down to is that we can expect the present number of married students to be maintained for quite some time.

What is the university's policy in regard to married students? Such policy is indicated more by deeds than by words so it must be calculated indirectly. There is no difference in tuition or other expenses. The

Amateurs Run Sweeper Abandoned by Workers

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Workmen left a street sweeper standing on a street in-suburban Lawrence because they couldn't start it. But along came 7-year-old William Decker and he had no trouble.

The big machine rumbled toward a group of playing children and young Decker fell off, fracturing his jaw and nose.

Mrs. Norma Lavelly, 27, jumped aboard and steered the machine away from the children. A man jumped on and stopped the engine.

And Mrs. Lavelly was expecting a baby in three weeks.

only difference is in the housing provided.

Last year the university decided to start building permanent housing for married students and constructions began on Park Lawn, an apartment house for 57 couples. Now, before Park Lawn has even been occupied, it is being converted into rooms for single girls.

I believe the university's records will show that men who enter here at the age of 20 or 21, especially if they are veterans, and more especially if they are married, make better students than the boys who come here direct from high school. Why isn't the university making a more determined effort to attract this large body of potential students?

Sad Italian Farmer Finds House Divided By Trieste Settlement

TRIESTE (AP)—Farmer Luca Eller stood disconsolately Tuesday while an allied commission cut his house in two. They put the kitchen in Italy and the rest of the house, along with the vineyard and ox stall, in Yugoslavia.

The British-American-Yugoslav commission painted a yellow stripe up one side of the house, across the roof and down the other side.

It marked the new border agreed upon by Italy and Yugoslavia in settlement of their nine-year-old Trieste free territory dispute.

Eller, an Italian, pleaded tearfully with the commission members to leave his whole house in Italy, but the Yugoslav members would not agree.

Another Italian farmer, Giusto Samec, had better luck. He moved out of his house after being told it would go to Yugoslavia under the settlement.

Tuesday the commission found it had made a slight mistake. It readjusted the border by 40 yards and put Samec's house back in Italy. He and his family promptly moved back in.

The London plan for integrating West Germany's strength into the defense of Europe has passed its first but by no means toughest hurdle in the French parliament.

Tuesday's vote merely authorizes the premier to go ahead and try to draw up a detailed treaty, in conference with the other powers beginning next week, which can get final approval.

Debate on the confidence motion showed clearly that important blocs will make a last ditch fight for greater controls over German arms than are envisioned under the present agreement in principle.

But Mendes-France has already been warned by Britain not to come to the drafting table with such claims for revision.

At the same time he is accused by those who supported the former European Defense Community plan of having scuttled that measure only to accept creation of a new German army under less sure controls than provided by EDC.

As a matter of fact, the London agreement looks so much worse from France's own standpoint than EDC that there is still a large measure of doubt in international circles that Mendes-France intends to go through with it.

Action Blurred

This attitude has been somewhat eased by his staking the life of his government on Tuesday's vote of confidence. But the heroics of that action are somewhat blurred by the fact that the deputies, by voting him down, would have run the risk of having parliament dissolved and elections called.

Once drawn, the pact may face serious trouble in Germany as well as in France. On the one hand, Germany is patently being made a secondary partner, obligated to furnish 42 divisions under foreign command while submitting her arms industry to numerous restrictions.

On the other hand, many Germans believe the Russian threat that rearmament of the Western segment will formalize the nation's partition for a long time to come. And indeed it does recognize the hope of reunification is a forlorn one, though one that no German will confess to giving up.

Backdrop Planned for Water Show

DISCUSSING PLANS FOR the annual Dolphin water show are David Adams, A3, Princeton, right, backdrop designer, and John Bogert, D1, Bartlesville, Okla., president of Dolphin club. The show will be presented during Homecoming weekend.

Student Artist Designs Dolphin Backdrop

For the second consecutive year, David Adams, A3, Princeton, Ia., is designing and painting the backdrop for the annual Dolphin club show.

"Rainbow Rhapsody" will be the theme of this year's production. For the backdrop, Adams has selected a scene of the French Riviera with a rainbow painted across the center, and, at the end, a mermaid sitting on a pot of gold. Both sides will be of hotels and beach houses along the coast of Nice, France.

Adams drew the sketch while he was vacationing in Europe last summer. The actual mural will be 100 feet wide by 20 feet high.

Does Commercial Work

Although he is a political science-pre-law major, Adams has been doing commercial art work since he was 12 years old. After doing the mural for last year's Dolphin show, he was invited to join the honorary swimming fraternity.

Working with oils, watercolors, crayons, pastels, and plasters, Adams has been holding exhibits of his art work since he was 14. "I enjoy working with the various art media," he states, "however, I prefer working with oils."

Before he was 17, Adams placed twice in the national high school art exhibition at the Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh, Pa. He has had five one-man shows in Des Moines, Davenport, Princeton, and Clinton.

Adams has also taught art in a junior high school, and designed clothes and costumes. For five years, he operated an art studio in Princeton doing commercial work.

Other than taking art courses at Clinton high school, Adams has had no formal training.

Likes Painting
"The only reason I paint is because I like it," Adams said.

He intends to continue with it as a hobby.

Although he plans on receiving a degree in law, Adams does not expect to practice it. He would like to work for a corporation in the public relations division, putting to use his background of law and political science.

"I like to do party decorations more than any other kind of art work," Adams explained. He added that he has done a great many murals, one of which is in the lobby of the Jefferson hotel.

Tickets to the concert will be free to students upon presentation of their student identification cards.

During his 1952-53 season with the Metropolitan Opera association London sang the title roles in Mozart's "Don Giovanni" and Mussorgsky's "Boris Godunov." The latter was especially revived for him in a new English translation by the Metropolitan. He sang his first Scarpia in "Tosca," and several times appeared as Escamillo in "Carmen" and Amonasco in "Aida."

This year London added two new programs, the "Telephone hour" and the "Firestone hour," to his radio and TV repertoire. His most recent recordings for Columbia include "Of Gods and Demons," a series of arias from the three Faust operas of Gounod, Berlioz and Boito, as well as excerpts from Wagner's "Das Rheingold" and "Die Walkuere," and scheduled for release a record of Mozart arias conducted by Bruno Walter.

Hawks 13th in AP Poll; Buckeyes 4th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
After Saturday's 14-13 loss to Michigan, Iowa's Hawkeyes sagged from 4th place to 13th in Tuesday's Associated Press football poll, receiving 116 votes but no first place ballots.

Oklahoma was all by itself at the top of the poll Tuesday and appears due for a long tenancy following its road victory over Texas. But some of the other members of the elite top 10 may run into trouble and demotion this weekend.

In rubbing out Texas, 14-7, Bud Wilkinson's Sooners just about overcame their last formidable hurdle en route to an unbeaten season. This Saturday they journey to Lawrence, Kan., to take on winless Kansas and it should be a romp for the Oklahomans.

As a result of its victory over Texas, Oklahoma received landslide support from the nation's sports writers and sportscasters in the weekly ranking poll. Of the 201 ballots cast, the Sooners were named first 118 times and collected 1,797 points on the usual 10 for first, 9 for second, etc., basis.

Badgers Second
Wisconsin, 13-7 winner over Rice in the nationally televised game of the week, surged into second with 21 first placers and 1,555 points. Behind the Badgers came:

3. UCLA, 1,223 points; 4. Ohio State, 1,160; 5. Purdue, 929; 6. Duke, 889; 7. Mississippi, 730; 8. Notre Dame, 729, and tied for ninth, Penn State and Navy, 380 each.

While Oklahoma has a breeze ahead, Wisconsin faces Purdue (2-0-1); Ohio State meets dangerous Iowa; Duke, which tied Purdue 13-13, takes on rising Army, 60-6 conquerors of Dartmouth; Notre Dame has a toughie in Michigan State, and Penn State has a tartar in undefeated West Virginia.

Little Difficulty
The other members of the upper crust shouldn't have any difficulty on paper — over the weekend. UCLA's Bruins, who just squeezed by Washington, 21-20, oppose Stanford, which was shekacked by Navy, 25-0. Mississippi meets winless Tulane, while Navy travels to Pittsburgh to engage the all-losing Panthers.

The leading teams with first place votes and season records in parentheses (points based on 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc.):

- 1. Oklahoma (118) (3-0) 1,797
- 2. Wisconsin (21) (3-0) 1,555
- 3. UCLA (10) (4-0) 1,223
- 4. Ohio State (11) (3-0) 1,160
- 5. Purdue (3) (2-0-1) 929
- 6. Duke (7) (3-0-1) 889
- 7. Mississippi (11) (4-0) 730
- 8. Notre Dame (5) (2-1) 729
- 9-10. Tie, Penn State (3) (3-0) 380
- 11. Navy (1) (3-0) 380

Iowa 14th in UP Poll; Wisconsin 2d
Iowa dropped from fifth to 14th place in the United Press poll of 35 leading coaches Tuesday. Ohio State moved into fourth place and Minnesota joined the top 10 for the first time this season, climbing to ninth place.

Least Homers Hit in Orioles' Park
NEW YORK (AP) — American league batters, who hit 56 fewer homers in 1954 than they did in 1953, can blame some of the decrease on the Baltimore Orioles' park.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press Tuesday revealed only 42 home runs were hit in Baltimore's Memorial stadium, which supplanted Washington's Griffith stadium as the toughest for major league sluggers. The home run output in the Senators' park in 1954 was 52.

The Orioles accounted for 19 homers in their ball park, while the seven visiting clubs collected an aggregate of 23. Detroit managed to hit just one homer all season in Baltimore and the A's only connected twice.

Cincinnati's Crosley park also replaced Ebbets field, the Brooklyn Dodgers' home park, as the favorite home run haven in the majors. National league batsmen had a slugging feast at the Redlegs' ball park, connecting for 199 round-trippers. Cincinnati players found the range for 94 and the opposing clubs accumulated 105.

National Olympic Day Proclaimed

Sooners' Burris Voted 'Lineman of the Week'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Virtually the entire Oklahoma line came in for some sort of consideration for "lineman of the week" honors after the Sooners' smashing victory over Texas, but on the word of the Texas players who opposed him, center Kurt Burris gets the call.

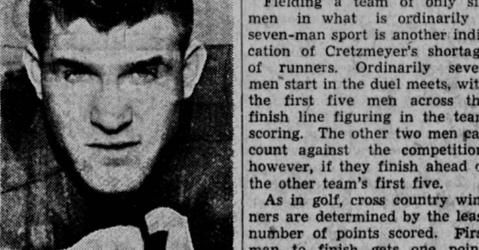

Burris, a 6-foot-1, 205 pound senior from Muskogee, Okla., developed into an outstanding linebacker last season, and it was part of his performance that particularly impressed Texans Herb Gray, Ben Woodson and George Robinson.

On offense Kurt, whose older brother, Buddy, starred at guard for Oklahoma and whose younger brother, Bobby, is the Sooner fullback, was just about as effective.

"He's awfully hard to block," said Woodson. Added halfback Robinson: "That No. 51 Burris was really good. I had to block him a lot when they were in a 5-4 defense."

Kurt, who thinks it's fun to chase down runners who think he's big and slow, also shone on pass defense, knocking down one pass that was labeled touchdown.

Other Oklahoma linemen who drew special praise from the sports writers and broadcasters who saw the game were the two big ends, Max Boydston and Carl Allison, who turned in fine

Jackie Feels He'll Help 'Bums' Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn's volatile on-and-off the field performer, said Tuesday he doesn't think the Dodgers can afford to trade him and he expects to have a big year next season.

"I don't think the ball club can up and dump me. Where can they get a man who can play as many positions as I do and give a pretty good job at each one?" Robinson asked.

The 35-year-old Negro infielder-outfielder, who cracked baseball's color line for all time when he broke in at first base for the Dodgers in 1947, writes off his '54 season and looks ahead to his ninth year in the major leagues.

Robinson hit .311 in 124 games this year and played at third base, second base and left field.

Veil of Secrecy Hangs Over Hawkeye Drill

Secrecy again shrouded Iowa's football practice Tuesday. However, the workout was opened briefly to newsmen and several early week lineup changes were noticeable.

Don Dobrino was working at first string quarterback with Jerry Reichow on the second squad.

Bill Reichow was running at first team tackle along with Dick Deasy. Terry Shuck and Cameron Cummins, who previously had starting assignments, were working on the second team.

Deasy will replace the injured Roger Swedberg, if his injury cannot be worked out in time for the Ohio State game at Columbus Saturday.

Swedberg was released from University hospitals Tuesday. Hospital officials said a cartilage was blocking the knee joint. The knee was in traction Tuesday but he will start running Wednesday in an effort to get ready for Ohio State.

Coach Forest Evashevski would not indicate whether the changes would stand up till Saturday. He said he would decide on his starters later in the week.

"We can't have any hard scrimmages for fear of injury to our limited personnel," he added.

A's to K.C.—If Macks Sell

BULLETIN
CHICAGO (AP) — American league club owners Tuesday night approved a switch of the Philadelphia Athletics to Kansas City, but must wait until Monday to learn if Roy and Earle Mack will sell their stock in the club.

CHICAGO (AP) — American league club owners were expected to vote following a dinner recess Tuesday night on five offers for purchase of the Philadelphia Athletics.

This was the second recess of the afternoon-night meeting. Earlier the owners recessed to permit league President Will Harridge to confer with Roy Mack of the A's, whose opposition to selling has forced two meetings of league owners.

A surprise bid, matching a long-standing offer of Arnold Johnson, came from a representative of Clint Murchison, wealthy Texas oilman, who proposed to shift the A's to Los Angeles.

The club owners also heard proposals by two Philadelphia groups and one from a Washington man.

One of the Philadelphia offers was by Tommy Richardson, president of the Eastern league and an A's director, who was accompanied by Charles Finley, Chicago insurance broker.

The other Philadelphia bid came from Jack Rensel, who said he represented a group which wanted to buy out the Mack family and keep the club in Philadelphia.

Hawkeyes Lead Foes In Most Departments
IOWA CITY — The figures favor Iowa for its three football games except in the points after touchdown department where one miss booted the Hawkeyes out of the undefeated class.

Iowa has outgained opponents, 829 yards to 636. On the ground, the attack has rolled for 622 yards, an average of 4.6; to foes' 620 for average of 3.6.

In finishing third, Ferguson trailed the only two men ever to have run the mile in under 4 minutes. They were England's Roger Bannister (3:58.8) and Australia's John Landy (3:59.6).

In 1953, Ferguson won the National Collegiate two mile title with a time of 9:02.7.

Iowa's cross country meets in former years have started with a quarter mile on the track nearest the fieldhouse, then off for three and a half miles over the golf course, then back to the track oval for the final quarter mile. The course may have to be changed this year, however, since the golf course near the stadium is being revamped.

The remainder of the schedule against veteran opponents includes: Wisconsin, Oct. 30, and Marquette, Nov. 6, both meets here.

Although Ferguson is not being pushed too hard in training

Ferguson Carries Load

Cretzmeyer Has Only One Letterman Among Cross Country Runners

By ARLO JACOBSON
Assistant Sports Editor
Rich Ferguson, A4, of Toronto, Canada, who has taken individual honors in the Big Ten cross country meet the last two years, is expected to carry the load again this year, Iowa Track Coach Francis X. Cretzmeyer said Tuesday.

Ferguson is the only man of the squad who lettered in cross country last year, and one of only two distance runners among the six who are on the squad. The other distance runner is Wayne Everman.

The remaining four men on the squad run either the quarter or half-mile in regular competition. They are: Wayne Midehauer, Ira Dunsworth, Don Aitken and Jerry Torance.

Number Shortage
Fielding a team of only six men in what is ordinarily a seven-man sport is another indication of Cretzmeyer's shortage of runners. Ordinarily seven men start in the dual meets, with the first five men across the finish line figuring in the team scoring. The other two men can count against the competition, however, if they finish ahead of the other team's first five.

As in golf, cross country winners are determined by the least number of points scored. First man to finish gets one point, second man two points, and so on.

Cretzmeyer figures his best chance for a dual meet victory this year is the opener, Oct. 22 against Minnesota here. The Gophers have a rather green team composed mostly of sophomores, Cretzmeyer stated.

2 Other Matches
The remainder of the schedule against veteran opponents includes: Wisconsin, Oct. 30, and Marquette, Nov. 6, both meets here.

(Special Dispatch to The Iowan)
NEW YORK — Twenty-two present and former American track and field stars Tuesday night were placed on the All-Time U.S. Olympic Track and Field team.

The 22, chosen from thousands who have represented the United States since the modern Olympic games began in 1896, were picked by the nation's sports writers and directors at the U.S. Olympians' banquet held at the Waldorf Astoria hotel.

Most of the living track and field greats were on hand to accept bronze Olympic victory wreath awards before a crowd of about 1,000 New York civic and sports notables.

The presentations were made by Col. Edward P. F. Eagen, New York lawyer and ex-Olympic boxer and bobsledder, on behalf of the press and the U.S. Olympians, an organization of one-time Olympic athletes.

The banquet was the opening event in this year's National Olympic day drive to get public backing for U.S. team participation in the 1956 Pan American and 1956 Olympic games.

The balloting of the nation's sportswriters and commentators was conducted by the Helms Athletic foundation of Los Angeles.

In accordance with the rules adopted by the selection committee, an athlete is qualified for but one event — that in which he excelled.

Three of the all-time greats, Mal Whitfield, Rev. Bob Richards, and Harrison Dillard are currently competing in other countries under the auspices of the state department and could not attend the banquet. William Carr, former U.S. Olympic 400-meter star, is in Japan on business and was not present.

The team: Eddie Tolan, 100-meter run; Mel Patton, 200-meter run; William Carr, 400-meter run; Mal Whitfield, 800-meter run; Mel Sheppard, 1500-meter run; Ralph Hill, 5000-meter run; Louis Tewanima, 10,000-meter run; John J. Hayes, marathon run; Harrison Dillard, 110-meter hurdles; Charles Moore, 400-meter hurdles; Horace Ashenfelter, steeplechase; Joseph B. Pearman, 10,000-meter walk; Ernest Crosbie, 50,000-meter walk; Walter Davis, high jump; Jesse Owens, broad jump; Myer Prinstein, hop, step and jump; Bob Richards, pole vault; Parry O'Brien, shot put; Slim Iness, discus throw; John J. Flanagan, hammer throw; Cy Young, javelin throw; Bob Mathias, decathlon.

Oregon's Shaw Sets Total Offense Pace
NEW YORK (AP) — The "let George do it" guy in college football this season is Oregon's quarterback, George Shaw.

He is the country's busiest back on the basis of plays participated in and is the individual total offense leader as well as holder of the No. 1 spot among the passers.

In his spare time he does the punting for Oregon, converts the touchdowns and is the team's specialist in returning punts. He learned how to be the busiest field general by being a defensive platoon player three years ago and in addition to signal-calling has been shifted to end or halfback to make use of his pass-catching abilities.

TV fans will get to see him in action Saturday when the Oregon Webfoots mix with Southern California at Portland.

Shaw has gained 661 yards in 117 running and passing attempts. As a passer he has thrown 83, completed 41 and gained 580 yards. He has been in 139 plays of all types. Each one of those numbers is the country's best.

The one individual offense leadership he doesn't have is rushing, where Colorado's John Bayuk has a four-game total of 459 yards.

Purdue's Dawson Fifth
Behind Shaw in total offense are Denver's Harold Fairly, who jumped into 2nd place from 15th with a 199-yard outburst against Montana for a total of 507 yards. Wichita's Jack Conway is right on his heels with 505, followed by Mississippi's Eagle Day with 485. Purdue's Len Dawson with 460 and Bayuk with 459.

Dawson, down in 11th place on the basis of completions, is in a class by himself with eight touchdown passes. He made all those in his first two games. No one else has more than five.

Fall Baseball Tourney Slates Finals Friday
BOONE (AP) — The semi-finals and finals of the fall state high school baseball tournament will be played at Slater on Thursday and Friday, the Iowa High School Athletic association announced Tuesday.

Corwith plays Tracy at noon Thursday and Van Horn meets Soldier at 2 p.m. The winners will meet for the championship Friday at 1 p.m.

In the final game of a sub-state tourney at Anthon Tuesday, Soldier defeated Sioux Center, 8-0.

Cyclones' Tidd To Replace Lutz
AMES (AP) — Coach Vince DiFrancesca said Tuesday that Kim Tidd will replace Gary Lutz at left halfback when Iowa State meets Colorado in the Cyclones' homecoming here Saturday.

Lutz injured a shoulder in last Saturday's game. DiFrancesca said he was calling on Donn Lorenzen and Hank Philmon to work at both halfback and fullback. "That gives us a little of the depth we need," he added.

The Cyclones worked on defense Tuesday with a brief period devoted to "sharpening up the offensive attack."

Tackle Ralph Brown and guard Weldon Thallacker were still on the injured list Tuesday, and if they are not ready to go they will be replaced by Ray Tweeten and Bob Wellendorf, respectively.

Line Coach Alex Agase said "They have lots of spirit and they won't lose it."

A native of New York, Miss Draper has been presenting solo character sketches for theater audiences throughout the world for the past three decades. In 1950 she received one of five awards for outstanding services to the theater and associated arts, given by the Catholic Stage guild of Ireland.

Hoegh Proposes Research Council

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa legislature should have a research council authorized to recommend legislation, Atty. Gen. Leo A. Hoegh, Republican nominee for governor, told the Drake university Young Republican club Tuesday.

"Every two years the Iowa legislature faces a tremendous job of keeping our laws up to date," Hoegh said. "Many times, difficult decisions are made without enough facts at hand. A legislative council could fill in the important gaps."

He cited the work of the Iowa Governmental Reorganization "Little Hoover" committee of several years ago as an example of the need of exhaustive research and recommendations which can come from a legislative council.

SUI Instructors To Talk to Preps

Prof. Ellis H. Newsome, head of advertising, and Ernest F. Andrews, head of radio journalism, will speak at the vocational day conference for high school students at Grinnell high school, Wednesday, Oct. 13.

Newsome, who appeared on the conference a year ago, will tell the high school students about the fields of advertising and of commercial art. Andrews will be the speaker on the field of journalism and mass communications.

Campus Chest Campaign To Begin Nov. 15

Nearly ten years after World War II, students in many areas of the world are still being deprived of an adequate education. The CARE book fund has worked closely with the United Nations in combating illiteracy and poverty in other lands through education.

Through Campus Chest donations. This year's Campus Chest campaign will be Nov. 15 to 18. During World War II many valuable libraries, laboratories, and much school equipment was destroyed. Money is still needed to replace this equipment. One Indian student said, "Without books we have no future."

University housing units will be asked on Oct. 18 to make a preference check of the groups and agencies they wish their donations to Campus Chest to go. Emma Lou Fuller, A4, Altoona, and Emilie Lathrop, A4, Cedar Rapids, co-chairmen of the drive, have announced that letters listing possible recipients, will be sent to housing units.

Motorist Sleeps, Plunges into Ditch

Richard L. Gerlits, 29, West Branch, escaped injury Tuesday when his car left highway 1, five miles east of Iowa City. The accident occurred at approximately 12:30 a.m. when Gerlits apparently fell asleep at the wheel. Deputy Sheriff Donald L. Wilson investigated the crash. Damage to Gerlits' car was estimated at $150.

Burkley Hotel Depot Site

Iowa City will have a new Union bus depot by Jan. 1, it was announced Tuesday by George W. Davis, president of the Burkley hotel, and Philip E. Spelman, manager of the present bus depot. The new location will be on the ground floor of the Burkley hotel, 9 E. Washington st., and will replace the present station at 213 E. College st.

Plans include a waiting room and rest rooms which will occupy the southwest corner of the first floor of the hotel building. The section formerly used as clubrooms, which were torn down last summer, will become bus runways. The depot will be a 40 foot square and can be expanded. Restaurant facilities will be installed soon.

Wilson Fellowship Deadline Announced

Dixon-Yates Gain Cited

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Post Dispatch said Tuesday the secret Dixon-Yates contract gives the private power combine "a virtually risk-free guarantee of earning nine per cent on invested capital of $5 1/2 million."

"Examination of the new draft gives support to charges of its opponents that it provides a virtually risk-free proposition for the Dixon-Yates group," the newspaper said.

The senate-house committee on atomic energy was informed last week by the atomic energy commission that the AEC has approved the form of a proposed contract under which the Dixon-Yates combine would turn electric power into lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The joint committee has postponed its hearings on the contract until after the Nov. 2 election.

The Post-Dispatch said examination of an Oct. 1 draft of the contract, described as the ninth in three-months of negotiations, disclosed these provisions:

1. Dixon-Yates may figure federal income taxes into its "basic capacity charge" to the AEC, including any future increase in income taxes.
2. Without consent of the AEC, Dixon-Yates may pledge or transfer the contract at any time to pay debts connected with the construction of a $107,250,000 steam-electric power plant at West Memphis, Ark.
3. The combine is freed of responsibility if it ever fails to deliver electricity because of "cause beyond control of the company."

Fire Department Plans More Drills For City Schools

Iowa City schools will have extra fire drills during the present school year, Fire Chief Al Dolezal said Tuesday.

Dolezal indicated he was not satisfied with some of the fire drills conducted in Iowa City schools during Fire Prevention week. They were concluded Monday morning at City high school.

"The times for leaving the buildings were good enough," Dolezal said. The times were:

- Iowa City high school 2:09,
- Herbert Hoover 1:03, Longfellow 1:28, University high school 1:48, Mark Twain 5:55, St. Patrick's 1:20, Henry Sabin 1:00, Roosevelt 3:30, St. Mary's 1:25, Iowa City junior high schools 1:22, Lincoln 1:36, and Horace Mann 1:23.

Dolezal said the major problems in the drills were: confusion as to which exit to use, traffic going both ways in halls, alarms not loud enough to be heard, and failure by some students to leave the building.

Editor Thinks Retired Need County Home

The retirement home will have "tremendous usefulness" in the years ahead, Ralph E. Shannon, editor of the Washington Evening Journal, said Tuesday here.

Speaking before the third annual conference of the university's Institute of Gerontology, the editor said these homes will become "musts" in every community.

Cites Washington Home
Shannon described a movement which a group of Washington citizens started seven years ago to build a retirement home in that community.

The editor said, "It will be necessary... to adjust ourselves and our communities to the idea of living in such a home."

"I have encountered some resistance to this idea," he added. "Some say, 'I want to live in my own home, just as I'm doing now, until I'm no longer able to take care of myself (and then move into the retirement home).'"

Education Needed
"This is the hospital concept. People are prone to think of it as a place to die rather than a place to live, and until they can see the home in action, they probably will cling to that notion."

"The retirement home must be sold to the public as an apartment house, with many added advantages and attractions thrown in for good measure."

Later Tuesday a Fort Dodge minister, the Rev. H. Lee Jacobs, told the conference that the "non-self" philosophy consistently stressed by the church helps its elderly members to become less self-centered and limited in their outlook on life.

Church to Help
The Rev. Mr. Jacobs, pastor of the First Congregational church, said the church helps its aged members to visualize a future in which their lives take on importance—a future in which they can enjoy a feeling of belonging and a sense of direction along creative lines.

Every elderly member must be convinced, he added, that "though he may no longer be productive of economic values, he can be creative of human values to the end of his life, and, what is more, that he is needed in the current life of the congregation and community."

Shannon and the Rev. Mr. Jacobs spoke on a panel which also included F. W. Pickworth, director of the division of hospital services in the Iowa state department of health. Pickworth spoke on the "Role of State and Federal Governments in Providing Assistance to Community Programs for Their Older Citizens."

Californian Speaks
The final formal speech of the conference was by Stirling S. Winans, director of recreation for California. His subject was "Living All Your Life."

Winans said, "In our life times we have seen a recognition of the greater values of recreation. Recreation means more than 'what one does after work' or 'playgrounds keep the children off the streets.' We now have come to the idea that recreation, in a personal way, is as important as work itself."

The Iowa gerontology institute is one of five major organizations of its kind in the country. It was established in 1953 as a means of making the university's resources available to communities, groups and individuals in their efforts to bring meaning into the lives of older citizens.

Conservation Officers Catch Runaway Island

BOLTON, Conn. (P)—The Connecticut fish and game department says that capturing an itinerant island was its strangest assignment.

It happened during a heavy storm when the island in Bolton lakes broke loose. As it bumped along the shore, it destroyed boats and knocked down docks. Conservation officers finally used outboard motorboats to shove the island against the shore. There it was moored with heavy ropes.

The island measured 125 feet long, 75 feet wide and six feet deep. It consisted of a mass of tangled vegetation, some small trees and a thick growth of brush.

Propaganda Campaign Falls on Deaf Ears

TOKYO (P)—Chinese Communist propaganda broadcasts to Japan are listened to by only one per cent of the nation's radio owners, says the Metropolitan Police department.

It said the Communists were "frantically" trying to get more listeners.

Peiping radio has switched frequencies and has toned down some of its anti-American and anti-Japanese government propaganda, which aroused antagonism in Japan.

SUI String Quartet Will Open With 2 Works New to City

Two musical compositions will receive their first Iowa City performance Sunday in a chamber music concert to be given at 4 p.m. in Shambaugh auditorium.

The Faculty String quartet of the SUI music department will open the program with one of the numbers, "Quartet No. 1 in D Minor" by Juan Cristosomo de Arriaga, 19th century composer who wrote the composition and two other quartets when he was 15.

Although Arriaga died at 20, music authorities agree that, had he lived longer, he might have been to Spain what Mozart and Beethoven were to Germany.

Season's 1st Concert
SUI music faculty members will present the Sunday concert as Stuart Canin and John Ferrell, violins; Claude Carlson, viola; and Hans Koebel, violin cello. The concert will be the first of five scheduled for the 1954-55 season. All are free to the public.

A 20th century composition, "Three Madrigals for Violin and Viola" by Bohuslav Martinu, will also receive its first performance here.

Few Performances
Although it was introduced in 1947, the work has had few public performances because of the relative scarcity of violin and viola soloists who can practice together long enough to prepare a composition which makes such demands upon their technical skill, Prof. Himie Voxman, the SUI music department head, explained.

The closing selection Sunday will be the "A Minor Quartet" of Johannes Brahms. The composition was written at the mid-point of Brahms' productive years.

Biblical Authority To Lecture Here

Iowan's Book Added to Library Collection

The original manuscript of a recently published book written by an alumnus of SUI has been added to the Iowa authors collection at the SUI library.

The book, "Beyond the Hundredth Meridian," was written by Wallace Stegner, professor of English at Stanford university, Palo Alto, Calif. Stegner received his M.A. degree from Iowa in 1932 and the Ph.D. degree in 1935.

Published by Houghton Mifflin Co., of Boston, the book concerns the achievements of John Wesley Powell, the American geologist who explored the Colorado river in the 1870's. The author is a native of Lake Mills.

Another Iowa graduate was the author of a book published this month. Hartzell Spence, a 1930 graduate of SUI and author of "One Foot in Heaven," has written a new novel, "Bride of the Conqueror," published by Random House, New York City.

The scene for Spence's latest novel is Peru, also the setting for one of his earlier volumes entitled "Vain Shadow."

Attorney General Asks Court To Return Negroes to School

GEORGETOWN, Del. (P)—State Atty. Gen. H. Albert Young asked the court of chancery Tuesday to return 11 expelled Negroes to the all-white Milford High school and promised that Delaware would preserve law and order.

Young, in an appeal before Vice Chancellor William Marvel, asserted that a court order readmitting the Negroes "will arm" Delaware officials "with the kind of decree where we can get those people who are trying to destroy our community and destroy our laws."

Backs NAACP Demand
The attorney general emphasized that he was speaking as the chief legal officer of Delaware in backing the demand for a temporary injunction by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

What's more, Young said, he has the "wholehearted support" of Gov. J. Caleb Boggs and Delaware's two U. S. Senators—

Republican John J. Williams and Democrat J. Allen Frear.

Officials Ready
Young added that if the court orders the Negroes back to Milford High "the governor of the state and our United States senators" will "if it becomes necessary" lead these Negro students "by the hand into that school."

The committee will discuss the results of fire drills held recently in schools throughout the county.

The group has offered to inspect any building in Johnson county for fire hazards Faye said.

Faye said that "rural areas need fire inspections. At present they have no safety requirements of any type."
