ANN BAKER, A4, IOWA CITY, left, presents Sue Rutledge, A2, Des Moines, named "Miss Perfect Profile" in the University Women's association annual style show, "Profile Preview," held in the Iowa Memorial Union main lounge Thursday night. Miss Baker was chairman of the event.

Sue Rutledge Named SUI 'Miss Profile'

Sue Rutledge, 19-year-old Des Moines sophomore who didn't think she had a chance, Thursday night was named Miss Perfect Profile of 1954-55 from a field of 71 campus beauties. Modeling a black velvet coat dress in the Hit Parade of Campus Fashions, Miss Rutledge charmed the three judges while a packed Student Union lounge crowd watched the combination style and beauty show. The beauty title, one of SUI's most prized, is the second or Miss Rutledge. She was named a princess for the Drake Relays two years ago as a representative of Roosevelt high school in Des Moines.

Parents Don't Know
Mr. and Mrs. Max Rutledge, Sue's parents, won't know about her selection until they read it in the papers this morning. "I've always lost in beauty contests," Sue said after the crowning. "I hadn't heard from the committee this time, and told my folks I'd lost again. Will they be surprised in the morning?"

The annual fashion show featured velvets, tweeds, and fall cottons. Two fall colors, olive and champagne were spotlighted. New styles included Bermuda shorts and skirts, and the "mid-dy" effect in blouses, suits and coats.

13 Finalists

The 13 finalists were: Pat Christie, A3, Holstein; Karla Wilharm, A1, Tripoli; Kerin Okerlin, A1, Clarinda; Joan Barlow, A3, Clear Lake; Carol Crawford, A1; Sally Mavis, A1, Cedar Rapids; Nancy Weih, A1, Clinton; Karen Camp, N1, Iowa City; Sue Murray, A3, Iowa City; Nancy Chesterman, A1, Sioux City; Sara Martin, A3, Rockford, Ill.; Linda Carlson, N1, San Bernardino, Calif.; and Anne Hess, A2, Cedar Rapids.

Contest judges were Mrs. Carval Hedley Moore, assistant health and beauty editor for Mademoiselle; Mrs. Lawrence Gatzge, 308 N. Clinton; and Mrs. Margaret Eldeman.

U.S. to Increase Aid to Pakistan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States agreed Thursday to step up aid to Pakistan, to a total of about $155 million this fiscal year. The move is to bolster the economy of a key partner in the defense system against communism.

Of the total, 105 million would go for economic assistance, as compared with 20 million in the fiscal year ended last June. It was reported that military aid would total about 50 million, a 100 per cent increase over the figure previously planned for the current year.

Pakistan is a partner in the newly formed Southeast Asia collective defense treaty. It also has a military treaty with Turkey, thus serving to bridge the anti-Communist defense line between Europe and the Far East.

Des Moines Firm Under FHA Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top Federal Housing Administration official Thursday said Universal Builders, a Des Moines home improvement concern, is under investigation by the FHA director for Iowa.

The firm has mentioned repeatedly in recent closed-door testimony at the senate banking committee probe of reported irregularities in FHA-insured home improvement loans. The testimony has been made available by the committee.

Lew Farrell of Des Moines, named by the Kefauver crime committee in 1951 as a professional gambler and bookmaker, testified before the banking committee last Aug. 17. He said that, until a week before his appearance, he had been Des Moines manager of Universal Builders.

Started Oct. 4
C. B. Sweet, assistant FHA commissioner in charge of the home improvement loan program, said in an interview Thursday the Iowa FHA office reported on Oct. 4 it was investigating to determine whether Universal Builders should be placed on the FHA's nationwide "precautionary measures" list.

At the senate hearings, Farrell disclaimed, under persistent questioning, "any connection" with Jack Wolfe "in any way, financial or otherwise."

Wolfe, also of Des Moines, told the committee two weeks previously, in a closed-door session, that Farrell "had a slight interest in our Omaha operation," a home-repair firm also called "Universal Builders." Sweet disclosed Wolfe's name was placed on the precautionary list Jan. 29.

Claims Company Hold
Wolfe said he sold Universal Builders. But he told the committee he knew "nothing about his (Farrell's) operations. He never worked for us."

Farrell swore the Universal Builders he had just quit was not the same firm owned previously by Wolfe.

Farrell repeatedly said he was being "smeared."

10 Jurors Seated In Sheppard Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ten jurors were tentatively seated Thursday in the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel Sheppard. A full and final panel was conceivable by nightfall Friday.

Three more housewives were added — including a lady who finds it hard to change her mind. There are now six women and four men, with two vacancies to fill. Then a weeding out process occurs and a final panel is sworn in.

The last woman seated was Mrs. Grace L. Prinz, mother of four and wife of a meat packing foreman. She declared during questioning that once her mind is made up it isn't easily changed.

The defense in its fourth day of examining prospective jurors began picking away at bulwarks in the state's case — the demand for the death penalty and the circumstantial evidence against the 30-year-old osteopath.

Sheppard is accused of beating his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31, to death July 4 in the bedroom of their lakefront home. In pleading innocent, he claimed a bushy-haired man invaded the house, killed his wife and knocked him unconscious.

Navy Lifts Clearance Of Atom Expert

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy Thursday suspended the limited security clearance it gave last July to Dr. Edward U. Condon, physicist and former head of the government's bureau of standards.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas said after a personal study he had decided that "there is sufficient evidence to warrant my requesting a complete reconsideration of this action."

No hint of the nature of the evidence was given.

The 52-year-old atomic expert, who is now research director for the Corning Glass Works, commented at Corning, N. Y.

'Fully Cleared'

"I have been fully cleared four times by four different boards, the last of which was on July 12, 1954. . . I shall be pleased to be cleared a fifth time, and I know that a review of my record will end in such clearance."

The glass company, which does work for the navy, said it would await further information from Thomas but said in a statement: "Dr. Condon will continue to be employed in nonclassified work until such time as a more complete ruling and determination of this can be made."

Thomas said the review will be carried out by a three-man panel to be appointed by the Eastern Regional Industrial Security board which granted Dr. Condon limited access to government secrets in July.

Condon's name has figured in security inquiries since the house un-American activities committee accused him, while he was director of the bureau of standards in 1948, of associating with suspected Russian spies.

'Not Weak Link'

Condon denied then he was, as the house committee termed him, "one of the weakest links" in the nation's atomic security. "If I am one of the weakest links in the nation's atomic security," he said, "this is gratifying information, because I'm absolutely reliable and therefore we (the nation) have nothing to worry about. The country can relax."

Last June Dr. Condon disclosed that defense department security officials were reviewing his "continued access to classified information." Pending this review, he said he was working "exclusively on nonmilitary projects involving no access to classified information."

On Tuesday of this week it became known that he had been granted clearance last July.

New Bridges Urged In Traffic Report

By KIRK BOYD

Iowa City officials Thursday were told that new bridges must be built across the Iowa river in order to alleviate the traffic problem.

George Barton of Associated Consultants, Evanston, Ill., made the suggestion in presenting a rough draft of a traffic survey report being prepared for Iowa City.

The final report and recommendations will be completed in four or five weeks, Barton said. Barton also discussed the re-routing of north-south traffic in Iowa City and solutions for the parking problems in reports to the city council and mayor's traffic committee.

Suggests 4 Bridges

He suggested construction of bridges at Church, Market and Jefferson streets and a diagonal bridge at Iowa avenue to take traffic off the Burlington street and the present Iowa avenue spans.

Despite the proposed toll road, Barton said, the present two bridges will be carrying 27 per cent more traffic in 1960 than at the present.

"You can do some things at a minimum of expense to relieve the Burlington bridge situation," Barton told the council members. "But it won't be a permanent solution."

One-Way Streets

Barton spoke against one-way streets and double-decker parking lots.

"A large parking lot would not be economically sound," he said. "You would have to charge 85 cents a day to make it pay."

"Iowa City needs several small lots within or near the business district. One large lot would not be convenient to the business district, which is spread out over several blocks."

Other Barton recommendations:

1. A graduated scale of fines for parking violations.

'Tickets Terrific'

"The number of tickets given in Iowa City is terrific," Barton said. "You give out 30,000 to 40,000 per year. That's as many as a city of 263,000, which we surveyed recently."

"The 25-cent fine is the cause. People don't mind paying it."

2. The removal of angle parking on Iowa City streets, beginning with Washington street. Eliminating angle parking on Washington street will take away 47 parking spaces, Barton said.

3. Limit parking on narrow streets to one side of the street. The parking could be permitted on alternate sides of the street on alternate days, Barton suggested.

Safety Measures

4. More safety measures for Iowa City pedestrians. Barton suggested flashing the amber signal between the change from red to green to let the pedestrian know the light is about to

Jury Disagrees on Verdict In Iowa City Assault Trial

A six-man jury Thursday failed to agree on whether or not Donald G. Barnes, 23, 312½ E. Market st., was guilty of assault and battery on Iowa City Police Capt. George R. Hall.

The charge, filed Oct. 11, accused Barnes of attacking Hall at the police station after being arrested on a charge of intoxication.

After the jury returned with a verdict of guilty, Justice of the Peace J. Newman Toomey clarified a point of law. One juror then dissented and the jury was declared hung and dismissed.

Barnes was charged with striking Hall in the station and engaging in a fist fight with him. However, Defense Counsel William B. Ebert claimed Barnes might have been acting in self defense.

The jury deliberated 20 minutes before reaching its verdict of guilty. Jurors expressed some doubt about the point of self defense when polled by Ebert.

Then Toomey explained that Iowa law provides that a person acting in self defense and in fear of his own personal safety is not guilty of assault and battery. Toomey directed another poll of the jury, and one member, John Hildebrand, 21 S. Van Buron st., caused his vote to not be counted. Toomey immediately declared a hung jury and dismissed the jurors.

Assistant County Attorney William M. Tucker had no comment when asked whether he would ask for a retrial.

Firemen Extinguish SUI Paint Shop Blaze

Iowa City firemen were called out early today to extinguish a blaze in the SUI paint and blacksmith shop in the 200 block on S. Madison st. The fire apparently started in some canvas and rags in the paint shop.

The fire was discovered at about 1:15 a.m. by night watchman John Evans as he made his regular rounds. He said everything was all right in the quarter-set building when he made his 10 p.m. check Thursday.

No immediate estimate was available on the damage which was caused mostly by smoke and water.

Volunteers Search for Missing North Dakota Boy

HORSEMEN AND VOLUNTEERS SPREAD OUT over the prairie country near Powers Lake, N.D., Thursday in a search for four-year-old LaVern Enget, missing since Sunday night. Professional rescue workers question whether the thinly-clad boy still lives. More than 3,500 volunteers, including about 500 horsemen, have joined in the search.

THIS RECENT PICTURE of LaVern shows the vast prairie country being searched near his home.

Wants No 'Gutter-Fighting,' Harriman Calls off Debate

NEW YORK (AP)—Averell Harriman—with an explanation by his campaign manager that he would have no part of "gutter-fighting"—Thursday cancelled his part in a planned debate with Sen. Irving M. Ives.

There was no immediate comment from Ives, the Republican candidate for New York governor.

An hour-long debate on general campaign issues had been scheduled for a statewide television hookup Oct. 27, under sponsorship of the Citizens union. The Democrats said Ives tentatively had agreed to take part.

Representing Harriman

Harriman, the Democratic nominee, did not personally announce his action. But John P. McGrath, the Democratic state campaign manager, told newsmen he was representing Harriman's views when he declared: "Such a debate could serve no constructive purpose because Ives' campaign has deteriorated into a gutter fight rather than a civilized exchange of views."

Harriman's change in plans, McGrath declared at a news conference, came after Ives had "indulged in revolting hypocrisy" in attempting to link Harriman with a $250,000 pier-lease deal.

Denied, Knowledge

Harriman denied knowing anything about the affair. In Washington, Sen. William Langer (R-N.D.) said he personally investigated in 1951 the charges that Ives brought up and "I found there was nothing to it as far as Harriman was concerned."

Langer said he had "received a written complaint" about the same incident in 1951 when the senate was about to vote on the nomination of Harriman to become Mutual Security administration director.

3 American Doctors Receive Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1954 Nobel Prize in medicine and physiology was awarded Thursday night to three American scientists for discovering new weapons in the fight against polio.

The winners of the first Nobel Prize ever awarded for polio research are: Dr. John F. Enders of the Harvard Medical School; Dr. Thomas H. Weller of the Harvard School of Public Health; and their former associate, Dr. Frederick C. Robbins, now at Western Reserve Medical School in Cleveland.

They will share the $35,066 prize for their test tube discovery of "the ability of poliomyelitis to multiply in tissue from primates"—that is, apes and man. This made possible the polio vaccine program in the United States.

The medical prize and awards for literature, physics and chemistry—still to be announced—will be handed out by Swedish King Gustav Adolf at a traditional ceremony in Stockholm Dec. 10. Announcement already has been made that the Nobel peace award will be withheld this year.

Paves Way Into NATO For Germany

PARIS (AP)—Nine anti-Communist allies of the Western world reached agreement Thursday night on formation of the Western European union. It will include the arms and men of an all but fully sovereign West Germany.

Foreign ministers of the nine nations virtually completed the agreements here Thursday, including the forging of tight controls over Germany's military potential for the rest of this century. Details were being hammered out, so that each government may soon ask for ratification by their parliaments of treaties that will link West Germany to NATO.

Agreement to bring the Bonn republic into the proposed seven-nation Western European union, adding West Germany and Italy to the already organized Benelux organization, followed quickly after the American, British, French and West German ministers agreed on terms to end the occupation of Germany and restore, with a few exceptions, complete sovereignty to that part of the divided nation.

Four Powers Agree

That agreement was reached by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

France—thrice invaded by Germany and two of those times in this century—won the approval of her partners for a far-reaching pattern of control which will bar the Germans from raising unlimited forces or making atomic weapons without French consent until 1998.

The other members of the Western European union, better known as the Brussels alliance of 1948, are Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg. The Brussels Alliance has been reshaped to replace the defunct European Defense Community. Britain's involvement makes it stronger than EDC, since the Churchill government has promised to keep four divisions and a tactical air force on the European continent for the remaining 44 years of the 50-year pact.

Agreements Pave Way

The agreements pave the way for West Germany's entry into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as the 15th member of the alliance against communism. The NATO council meets today to make that decision.

One major issue alone remains to be settled within the next 48 hours, before the achievement of these goals can be considered assured.

It concerns the future status of the Saar—1,000 square miles of rich coal and steel producing territory which both the Germans and French want to control.

Nations Near Agreement

Experts of the two countries are inching toward agreement—an agreement that would place the Saarland under the control of the seven West European union nations until a final German peace settlement. In the meantime German political parties would get the right—now denied to them—to contest elections.

The agreements reached Thursday, along with the annexes covering West Germany's future relations with the West and the status of Allied armed forces which will remain in West Germany after the occupation is ended, are expected to be signed at a formal session at the French foreign ministry Saturday afternoon.

West Would Use Atomic Weapons: Montgomery

LONDON (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery said Thursday night the West would definitely use atomic and thermonuclear weapons if attacked.

The deputy supreme Allied commander at SHAPE told the Royal United Services Institution:

"I want to make it absolutely clear that we at SHAPE are basing all our operational planning on using atomic and thermonuclear weapons in our defense.

editorials The 'Salty' Side of Iowa Roads—

Iowans forced to struggle over Iowa's highways during freezing rain last winter will be pleased by the highway department's decision to use more salt on the roads to remove the ice.

In the Iowa City area, highway 6 from Davenport to Des Moines is scheduled to receive the salt treatment. Highway 218 from Iowa City to Cedar Rapids will also be salted.

In all, 1,150 miles of Iowa highways will be salted. Last year only 188 miles were treated in this manner.

The salt will be used to remove ice or packed snow the entire length of the highway instead of the hills and curves salted last year.

Highway department employees say the salt is not expected to damage the underpart of cars and trucks because the salt brine will be a very weak solution.

Iowa motorists will be able to travel the highways this winter without worrying if an oncoming car will slide into them. They will not have to worry about the extra expense of a motel or rooming house when the roads become slippery and dangerous. And perhaps best of all they will reach their destination safely.

In the words of Tammany Hall's Boss Plunket, the Iowa Highway Commission "seen their duty and done it." And it's about time.

Campus vs. Commerce—

During the last few years, while partisan feelings ran high, some right-wing politicians almost succeeded in making intellectual, and particularly academic, competence into a term of reproach. Their phrase was "egg head," and they gauged the merits of a party, a policy, or an administration by its egg-head content — or rather by its lack of same.

That galaxy of business, financial, and industrial luminaries which is the board of directors of the Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc., doesn't subscribe to that bit of folklore. And, as the title of the organization suggests, it proposes to do something about the matter.

"The teacher," says a recent report of this council, "is literally the keystone of any organized society."

"His product, always hard to visualize, is the disciplined intelligence which fills the ranks of the professions and of business and industrial management. . . . In no capacity have 'best minds' made a more valuable contribution to American life and progress than on college and university faculties."

Yet, warns the report, there is a steady drift of these "best minds" from campus to commerce. Why?

Ask almost anyone who teaches or has taught successfully, and he will tell you that the profession has intellectual and spiritual compensations which can cancel great inadequacies in financial rewards. But how great?

The CFAE cites some figures. While earnings in industry rose 140 per cent, and in medical practice 127, those of college teachers rose but 42. In one large city the cost of living jumped 90 per cent, while faculty salaries at its famous university went up by only half that rate.

"The fact is," the council warns solemnly, "many of the nation's colleges are today being financed at least in part out of the personal privations of devoted teachers and their families."

The last two words, perhaps, epitomize the personal and social tragedy that is with us. For the dedicated teachers his intangible rewards might suffice. But do those rewards clothe his family, warm his home, and educate his children? It is society's loss when he answers, "No," and joins the "drift."

Mental Illness — Misunderstood

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a three-part series on mental illness—its scope, nature and future.)

By LEONARD J. SNEYDER
CENTRAL PRESS

WASHINGTON — We have come a long way since the time mental illness was looked upon as some sort of witchcraft practiced by those possessed with the devil or by demons.

Yet mental illness is engulfed still in superstition and fear. There are large segments of the population who still regard all mental and emotional ills as a single disorder which is shameful, hereditary, and incurable. Such misconceptions are alarmingly dangerous because they prevent many from seeking the proper care and treatment they need.

Public Apathy
Moreover, these false notions make it more difficult for recovered mental patients to adjust to community life. Another consequence is public apathy toward programs of prevention and treatment.

Mental illness is not a single disorder but many. The disorders range from the insanities (or psychoses) to personality maladjustments. The psychoses, which are the most serious mental disorders, may be acute or chronic. Some result from organic damage to the brain, and may be caused by accident, infectious diseases, epileptic seizures, or aging and degeneration of the central nervous system.

Early Life
The hard core of chronic mental illness is schizophrenia, which science has yet to find the cause of. Schizophrenia usually strikes in early life and contributes the largest group of hospitalized mental patients who, for the most part, are confined during youth or early maturity — between the ages of 15 and 44 — and stay, in many cases, for the rest of their lives.

Although progress has been made in treating schizophrenic cases, the disease cannot be prevented. As we said, its cause is not known. Other major psychoses include involuntal melancholia, an illness which afflicts many women and some men in their middle years; the manic-depressive psychoses; and the paranoid states, in which the delusional fears predominate.

Milder Forms
The milder forms of mental illness are classed as psychoneuroses, which do not ordinarily require hospitalization, but may be severe enough to prevent a person from holding a job and living a normal family life.

In less severe cases of psychoneuroses, an individual's inability to make a satisfactory adjustment may be brought out when a new situation or responsibility develops. Examples of this are taking a new job, becoming a parent, entering college, and adjusting to a physical disability.

The unhappiness of the psychoneurotic and the misery he frequently inflicts on others is no less real because his disorder appears to have no physical cause.

Simple Behavior
Still another type of disorder is mental deficiency. This is characterized not so much by strange or troublesome behavior as by simple behavior.

At one end of this scale are those whose handicap is so great that institutionalization is required; at the other are those who can hold jobs, manage their own affairs, and lead socially useful lives.

Some mental deficiencies result from a brain injury at birth or some later accident, but here again the cause of many types is not yet known.

TO THE EDITOR:
Hail Boss Crump. Heil Hitler. Bravo Benito Mussolini. Long life to Malenkov, Peron, and every other dictator, benevolent or otherwise.

Your editorial this morning (Tuesday, Oct. 19) solved a problem that has bothered me for a long time. Your editorial will make it much easier for me to watch or read about congressional investigations. Your editorial will save many people the necessity of reading newspapers. It is a relief to know that the ends justifies the means.

With the thought in mind that I may be branded politically for this, let me state that I would rather be a lean and hungry dog roaming the streets than a fat and lazy dog chained to a master's door.

You do, as an editor, think you could write an editorial or anything you wished if you were working in Memphis, Tennessee? You said, "Memphis can be thankful that a man with a sense of public responsibility guided its destiny during the last 20 years." I say Memphis can be thankful to enjoy a breath of freedom after 20 years of benevolent despotism.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Perhaps we could help you arrange television time to clarify your own 'dog' remark.

Dear Editor:
Frequently there are events reported to newspapers that, time permitting, would move me to write a letter of this kind. Politics is at all times a controversial issue and one that frequently makes use of any possible "gimmick" to attain the desired psychological effect.

I feel however, that two candidates for state offices have followed this practice to the point of abuse. I am referring to the incident involving William Denman, Polk county Democratic nominee for the state legislature, and John M. Ely, Linn county Democratic nominee for the state legislature, who rejected free tickets to the Iowa-Purdue football game, on the grounds that they were being offered as a bribe.

Every year the members of the state legislature are invited to Iowa University's homecoming game as guests of the university and since it was necessary to mail the invitations before the coming elections, I fail to see

Dog Bites Postman; They Are Not Friends

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Postman Milt Tobe was advised by a housewife on his new route to get acquainted with her dog which doesn't bite friends. As Tobe stretched out an amiable hand, the animal took a solid grip on his thigh.

"She told me the dog's name," Tobe mused, after a doctor had patched eight tooth holes. "But I wasn't interested."

Rural Church Decreasing In U.S. Life

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP)—The little brown church is empty, and the shingles are falling to the ground.

It stands beside a farm road, its door sagging, the weeds grown high in the yard, and the dust settling deeper on the benches and the cross.

The fate of the little church is one that has befallen thousands of rural churches in America and which threatens many others.

Each year, hundreds of them have been abandoned and left to decay, or converted into granaries or livestock barns. More than 20,000 of them have ceased functioning in the last 25 years.

Churches Attacking Problem
Against this background major denominations today are tackling the problem of church life in farm communities.

They've launched fast-expanding programs, with a score of remedies and methods, to save and revitalize rural churches.

"This doesn't mean rural people lack religious concern any more than others," said Don F. Pielstick, director of the town-and-country department of the National Council of Churches.

"It's simply that the churches there are going through a period of change and that adjustments are necessary in their organization to serve rural America."

Leaders Meet
To seek solutions, more than 1,000 church and lay leaders of 30 denominations will meet for three days next week, Oct. 26 to 28, in Salina, Kan., for a special rural conference sponsored by the council.

Another conference, devoted to the same subject, will be held Oct. 27 and 28 at Decorah, Iowa, by the National Lutheran Council. Scores of similar conferences, by denominations and regions, have been held recently.

Already, most churches, Methodist, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic, Baptist, Lutheran, Congregational Christian, Episcopal and others — have formed special departments to get rural churches going again.

Mobile Units
They've sent out "mobile units" to provide training materials and church literature.

They've organized new courses in seminaries to train ministers specifically for serving rural churches — instead of letting them take the leftovers.

They've set up bustling "group ministries" or "yoked field" plans in which three or four pastors, each specifically trained give perhaps a dozen small rural churches a lively program for youth, recreation and worship.

They've sent researchers into areas of dwindling church activity to conduct interviews, study potentialities, determine what churches have promise, which ones are hopeless.

Current Political Race Has 'Horse' Flavor
The Colfax, Wash. Gazette-Commoner

One of the candidates who threw his hat in the ring in one of the county races the other day says:

"The only trouble with this race is that there's no 'place' or 'show'; it's straight 'win' or you are out of luck altogether."

It's true; even horses are luckier than defeated candidates.

Farmer Has Own Memory System
Reprinted from The Sylacegna, Ala. Advance

A farmer has his own way of dating important events. When was it he won the sulky race at the fair? Or bought the south 40? Why, that was the year the oldest boy was born, or the cat raised a family of squirrels.

He remembers when he raised the barn by who was there to help. It must have been an election year, because the congressman came by and they wouldn't stop to listen to him. So he pitched in, too, and then told jokes after dinner. Never said a word about voting and got re-elected, too.

PAPER LOSSES
HONOLULU (AP) — Mrs. Sarah E. Lillie reported to police $18,000 had been stolen from her apartment. Officers who rushed to the scene learned that $17,970 of the total was "auction bucks," a script used for bidding in a TV program.

Dad of the Year To Be Presented At Varsity Show

SUI's 1954-55 Dad of the Year will be presented as the guest of honor at the 23rd annual Alpha Star Varsity show concerts Friday night, Oct. 29, at SUI's Dad's Day weekend activities begin.

All students have been requested to submit nominations (one each) by 5 p.m. today at room 111, University hall. Nominations must include the nominee's name and address, and the names of his children now or formerly attending SUI. Information concerning his service to the university, his community and civic activities should also be included. Selection of the Dad of the Year will be based upon these qualities.

Should Be Alumnus
He should be an SUI alumnus and have had a child or children who attended the university.

The variety show talent lineup will include Billy Eckstein, Peggy Lee, Pete Rugolo and his orchestra, the Drifters, the Slate Brothers, George Kirby, the Three Arnauts and Harold King. Preceding the first show, a pre-game pep rally, sponsored by the Hawkeye Pep club and Student Council, will be held at 7 p.m. on the west approach to Old Capitol.

Introduced at Game
On Saturday, Oct. 30, the Dad of the Year will be invited to attend the football dad's luncheon, sponsored by the "I" club, at 11:45 a.m. in the Union. He will be introduced during the half-time intermission at the Iowa-Wisconsin game and presented with a gift by Omicron Delta Kappa. Friday night, he and his family will be entertained at a private dinner given by ODK.

An open house for the Dad of the Year will be given at 8:30 p.m. at the Memorial Union by the Union Board. During the day, various open houses in dormitory units on the campus will be held for all fathers attending the Dad's Day weekend.

At the game, SUI football dads will sit in a special section of the Hawkeye stadium.

Iowa Miler, Who Placed 3d in British Games To Run Here in Dual Meet with Gophers

Few midwesterners had the opportunity to be at the British Empire games last summer and witness the "Miracle Mile" in which Iowa's Rich Ferguson finished on the heels of Roger Bannister and John Landy, but everyone in this vicinity has a chance to see Ferguson run Saturday, Oct. 23.

Rich will lead Coach Francis X. Cretzmeier's cross-country crew in a dual meet with Minnesota beginning at 10:30 a.m. from the Finkbine Field clubhouse. Cretz emphasizes that "Spectators will be able to see most of the meet as it will be run on a layout covering the upper and lower nines on the golf course."

The meet will be the first competitive run other than a varsity-freshman pairing last week for the Hawks, which was won by the freshmen. Minnesota was beaten, 39-20, by a very fine Marquette five-some Oct. 16.

Minnesota is placing their individual high hopes on a sophomore lad named Noreen who finished first against Marquette with 14:51 for the three-mile goal. Coach Cretzmeier says that Minnesota expects Noreen to give Ferguson a race, but adds that the Gopher ran on a level layout, and Finkbine may prove his undoing.

Ferguson, whose is in Toronto, Ontario, raced off a 4:04.6 mile in the Empire games and is an Iowa mainstay in track and cross-country. Others running for Iowa Saturday are Wayne Everman, Castilia; Ira Dunsforth, Davenport; Wayne Molderhaur, Charles City; Don Aitken, Toronto, Ont.; and Jim Wilson, New Hampton.

The Iowa coach adds that the meet should be close as, "Neither team is too strong, so it's a good one to open with." Iowa takes on Wisconsin on Oct. 30 and Marquette, Nov. 6.

Grimsley Likes Iowa, Bucks, Pitt in Picks

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (AP)—The customers always write — when we're wrong.

"Dear sir," writes a Cincinnati reader, "I followed your selections last week and finished last in the office pool. The pool was won by the bartender around the corner who said he never reads your picks."

Oh, well, the bartender always wins. Last week we had a 32-16 mark for .667. Our season's total is 170 right, 61 wrong for .736.

A new week:
Ohio State over Wisconsin: Coach Ivy Williamson hasn't beaten an Ohio State team in five tries. Hopalong Cassidy and a stout line give the Buckeyes the edge.

Mississippi over Arkansas: Here's a prime game between bowl-bound teams. Ole Miss gets the nod on the theory the Razorbacks spent too much in the Texas game.

Southern California over California: With the Rose Bowl as incentive, the Trojans stop Paul Larson and win a close one behind young Jon Arnett.

Michigan State over Purdue: The Spartans did a lot of placekicking this week but shouldn't need it as they win by a touchdown.

Pittsburgh over Northwestern: Admiral Tom Hamilton has put inspiration in the Panthers, who found out they're good.

Rice over Texas: Down in the southwest the tip is never pick against a Jess Neely team after the middle of October.

Maryland over Miami (Fla.): The real hurricane in this one is not named Hazel but Dick Bielecki.

Minnesota over Michigan: Music for the McNamara band.

Illinois over Syracuse: Iowa over Indiana, Missouri over Iowa State, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Xavier, Marquette over Fordham, Oklahoma A&M over Hardin-Simmons.

South — Alabama over Mississippi State, Duke over North Carolina State, Auburn over Florida State, Tennessee over Dayton, Florida over LSU, Georgia over Tulane, Georgia Tech over Kentucky, Virginia Tech over Virginia, Wake Forest over North Carolina, Furman over Davidson, The Citadel over Presbyterian.

Far West — Washington over Stanford, Wyoming over Utah, Colorado over Nebraska, Montana over Brigham Young, Arizona over New Mexico, Washington State over Idaho, Texas Tech over College of Pacific, Oregon over San Jose State.

Hoosier Backs Classed '1-A,' But Crimmins Shifts Lineup

Hawks Run Signals, Indiana Plays

Saxton Keeps Title In Open-No Jail

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Saxton celebrated his newly won welter championship outside the barred windows of a jail Thursday, because his 15-day sentence as a traffic court "scofflaw" was suspended.

The suspended sentence was the result of an eloquent plea by Saxton's attorney, John J. Duff, who hinted his client's dull, though winning, performance Wednesday night at Philadelphia against Kid Gavilan was the result of worry about his pending jail term.

"Even the defendant's best friend could not say he fought his best fight," said the attorney. That was putting it mildly. The dull 15-round clutching contest was aptly described as a "stinker" by Frank Wiener, chairman of the Pennsylvania athletic commission.

If worse title fights have been fought in recent years, they fortunately escape memory. The listless Gavilan showed no zip, no dash and little determination for a man who said in his dressing room, "I know from the first round I cannot win unless I knock him out." Only in a 15th round flurry did Gavilan make any all-out knockout bid.

For the most part it was a dreary waltz of countless clinches — one writer said he saw 105 clinches — with both fighters being guilty of wrestling and holding tactics. The rap on Gavilan from Commissioner Wiener was "he didn't fight enough." He was so right. The only trouble was that Saxton didn't fight enough either.

Gavilan's handlers who screamed "robber," "job" and "fix" Wednesday night had cooled off a bit on the morning after. Havana newspapers, however, splashed pictures and angry comments on the front pages. Comments ran from "the gangsters robbed The Kid" to "swindle."

In the hysterical hours after the fight, the 28-year-old ex-champ from Cuba was retiring and unretiring, completely disgusted by the decision of the three Philadelphia officials.

There was talk of a hearing before the Pennsylvania Athletic commission Wednesday night, probably confused with a meeting of some of the National Boxing association officials.

In any event, there was no hearing and Wiener said "as far as I'm concerned, the fight is over. Saxton won and he deserved to win. Gavilan did not fight like a champion."

Wiener didn't say whether he planned to take any action against Gavilan's handlers for their bitter post-fight comments. Saxton has been given a stay of execution of his jail term until after the fight after paying $600 in fines. He paid another $50 fine Thursday on a speeding charge.

Extensive signal drills and a last minute look at Indiana plays highlighted the Iowa football practice Thursday.

Coach Forest Evashevski, seeing that all squad members are in good physical shape, ordered a no-contact drill in sweat shirts for the Hawks.

Tackle Roger Swedberg probably will start in place of Dick Deasy at Bloomington Saturday.

End Jim Freeman and Tackle Cameron Crimmins, apparently have won back their first string positions.

Quarterbacks Jerry Reichow and Don Dobrino, Warren Lawson, Norman Six, Don Sichel.

QUARTERBACKS: Don Dobrino, Duane Tolson, Jerry Reichow, Mitchell Ogden.

HALFBACKS: Don Inman, Eldon Matheson, Ken Ploen, Earl Smith, Robert Stearns, Ed Vincent.

and Don Dobrino sharpened their throwing arms in a passing drill Thursday. Freeman and Fullback Binkey Broeder shared the punting chores in the session.

The Iowa linemen had a chalk-talk on Indiana plays, then they looked at the same plays in a light drill against the fifth team.

Iowa plans a short drill here Friday before leaving by chartered plane for Bloomington.

3 ISC Regulars Out of Tiger Game

AMES (AP)—Three regulars and a reserve fullback were left behind because of injuries Thursday night when the Iowa State football team left here for its Saturday game at Missouri.

End Barney Alleman, Guard Bob Wellendorf, Tackle Jim McCaulley and Fullback Van Greene were off the 36-man traveling squad. Alleman and Wellendorf have leg injuries and McCaulley was lost for the season Wednesday because of a bad back.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Quarterback Florian Helinski and Halfback Don Domenic, standard starters in the Indiana backfield, got the team physician's "1-A" Thursday for Saturday's Iowa battle.

STILL, Coach Bernie Crimmins indicated a kickoff — time might find sophomore Chick Cichowski directing the team, and Jimmie Stone was listed as a definite starter over Domenic.

Crimmins said he was concerned by the lack of defensive practice which resulted from Helinski's bruised shoulder and the infection which sent Domenic to the school's infirmary.

Defense has been the keynote of Indiana's preparations this week for its Saturday Homecoming battle with the potent Hawkeyes as coach Bernie Crimmins launched a fresh start of the season.

"We played our poorest game of the season at Missouri," summed up a bitterly disappointed Crimmins. "Up to then we had been improving game by game, but against Missouri, and I'm not minimizing a fine, alert team effort by the Tigers, we made bad mistakes on defense and simply failed to go after it the way we had to, to win."

"But we're putting all that behind us," continued Crimmins. "We have five games ahead of us and we can do all right in them if we come back and produce the football we're capable of playing. It will take a better game than we've yet played to beat Iowa but it can be done — and we won't meet many finer teams than the Hawkeyes."

The problem posed by defense is complicated by Iowa's multiple style offense and unbalanced split T, T and single-wing. Preparing for all places a heavy emphasis on the week's program was toward defense.

"We'll have to be constantly on guard against Earl Smith, their great left halfback, in particular," Crimmins remarked. "His potential death every time he gets his hands on a kick-off, punt or intercepted pass and we'll have to be more alert than we've been thus far to keep him from breaking our back with the long ones."

South Carolina Tips Clemson, 13-8

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—South Carolina's Sophomore quarterback Mackie Prickett Thursday flashed the form that humbled mighty Army a month ago to lead a 13-8 victory over Clemson in the 52d State Fair football meeting of the ancient rivals.

After running over for two second period touchdowns that followed a Clemson safety, Prickett saved the game with a late pass interception on the South Carolina six.

An overflow holiday crowd of 35,000 saw the teams in their Atlantic Coast conference opener.

Prickett's passing and fine running preceded his one-yard plunge for his first touchdown. He sped wide right without blocking to score the second from the two.

Clemson 0 2 0 6 — 8
South Carolina 0 13 0 0 — 13

Clemson scoring: Touchdown, Fagliei, Safety, Tarrer. South Carolina scoring: Touchdowns, Prickett 2, Conversions, Silas.

Badger-Buck Tilt Heads Grid Slate with 2 Dixie Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Miami Hurricanes, for whom the football season has been just a breeze so far, tackle up-and-coming Maryland Friday night to open a weekend that could reduce the list of unbeaten and untied college teams to a mere footnote.

Three big games in as many sections Saturday pair up survivors of the tidal wave of upsets that has washed over the nation's gridirons during the past few weeks. A few other teams which figure to keep their records clean could easily be engulfed by that same wave.

That probably would leave Oklahoma and UCLA to continue their scoring race for top national honors with the survivor of Saturday's Wisconsin-Ohio State struggle as their only competition.

Sophs Mature

Coach Andy Gustafson's early-maturing Miami sophomores are the only unbeaten major team slated for Friday night action. In Maryland they come up against a team that earned the No. 1 rating last season, started uncertainly this year and now seems to have found itself.

The high-scoring Floridians, who have made three or more touchdowns in each game against Furman, Baylor, Holy Cross and Mississippi State, probably lost their chance for a bowl bid when the university was placed on probation by the NCAA Wednesday.

That might be enough to send them into the game with a "let's show 'em" spirit that could be very bad for Maryland.

Other Friday games include William and Mary-George Washington, Detroit-Tulsa and Houston-Villanova.

Big Game in Columbus

Saturday's big game, depending on your viewpoint, is either Wisconsin-Ohio State or Mississippi-Arkansas. They both carry championship and bowl implications and pair up four of the most exciting teams developed this season. Then there's Colgate vs. Yale, bringing together a pair of old-line eastern institutions whose sprightly teams have all-winning records.

Wisconsin is the nation's No. 2 team in the current Associated Press ranking poll, and Ohio State is No. 4. Ohio's Buckeyes are the leading offensive team in the Big Ten and have the leading individual ground gainer in Bobby Watkins. Wisconsin is the conference's strongest defensive team, but in Alan (The Horse) Ameche it has the second-best man at gaining yardage.

The winner isn't sure to win the Big Ten title, but will take a long step in that direction.

Intersectional Battle

The intersectional duel between Mississippi, co-leader of the Southeastern conference, and surprising Arkansas, Southwest conference pace-setter, brings together the No. 5 and No. 7 teams in the rankings. It looks like the toughest game on Mississippi's comparatively soft schedule.

The assignments for the other top-ten teams are:

Oklahoma (No. 1) against so-so Kansas State; UCLA (3) against three-time loser Oregon State; unbeaten Minnesota (8) against Michigan, an in-and-out team that could be troublesome in this traditional encounter; Army (9) against pass-minded Columbia and West Virginia (10) against weak Virginia Military. Notre Dame (6) is idle.

"What do you mean — all-weather oil?"

That's just what Super Permalube is — a multi-grade oil, that gives you fast starts on cold days, yet protects your engine on warm days, too.

Super PERMALUBE resists thinning out due to heat, and thickening due to cold. In addition, it does everything the finest lubricating oil can do — plus all these advantages:
Cuts oil consumption an average of 36.8% — Prevents valve-lifter rusting trouble — Stops harmful combustion chamber deposits that cause engine knock... Gives increased gasoline mileage by cutting friction drag.
Come in today for a change to Super PERMALUBE Motor Oil.

Noted Concert Organist To Perform at SUI

Virgil Fox, acclaimed by the Choral and Organ Guide magazine as the most popular organist of the year in 1952, will present a concert in the Iowa Memorial Union-Nov. 3.

The recital will be the third sponsored by the university lecture course.

Fox is organist of the Riverside church in New York city, which was made internationally famous through its minister, Harry Emerson Fosdick.

In 1952 also, Fox was selected by the U.S. state department to represent this country at the first International Congress for Church Music in Bern, Switzerland.

He has flown thousands of miles making 80 concerts each year. His schedule includes playing for the worship service and a complete oratorio each Sunday at the Riverside church.

Fox made his debut over 25 years ago at the age of 14 as a concert organist in Cincinnati. At the age of 26 he was appointed head of the organ department of Peabody conservatory.

Included in his itinerary during the last few years have been recitals in London, Paris, Berlin, Toronto, Edinburgh, Canterbury and many other cities.

His church concerts have included Westminster, Lincoln and Durham cathedrals, Buxtehude church, Marienkirche, Lubeck, Kings college chapel in Canterbury and the stronghold of Bach—Thomas church in Leipzig.

Five times Fox has been soloist for the national convention of the American Guild of Organists.

Fox records under the Columbia and Victor Red Seal label. He comes to SUI under the sponsorship of Exclusive Management, New York.

200 Are Expected At Nurses' Meeting In Cedar Rapids

Some 200 nurse educators, nursing service directors and public health nurses are expected to attend the annual meeting of the Iowa league for nursing Wednesday at the Montrose hotel, Cedar Rapids.

Margaret Bridgman, consultant of the department of baccalaureate and higher degree program of the National league for nursing, will be the principal speaker, discussing "Patterns of Nursing Education" at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Louise M. Schmitt, director of the graduate program of the SUI college of nursing, will introduce Dr. Bridgman and will preside at the afternoon session of the meeting. Dr. Schmitt is state program chairman for the organization.

Dr. Bridgman was dean of Skidmore college for 20 years, taking leave of absence in 1949 to conduct a project concerned with collegiate nursing education for the Russell Sage foundation. She is the author of a book, "Collegiate Education for Nursing," published by the Russell Sage foundation in 1953 and using information gained on her visits to more than 80 colleges and universities and from discussions with nurses, member of other health professions and community groups.

Presiding at a morning business session of the meeting will be Thelma Luther, Des Moines, president of the organization. Miss Luther is associate director of public health nursing and consultant in maternal and child welfare for the state health department.

Other passengers in the Lee car, who have been hospitalized, include Mrs. Floyd Pittman, Lohrville, and Mrs. Hanna Andersen, Schaller. Mrs. Pittman was in good condition and Mrs. Andersen in fair condition in the Holdrege hospital.

State's 18th Polio Victim Dies Here

Lester Dennis Bruegge, 10, R.R. 2, Fairfield, died Wednesday of polio in University hospitals.

This brings the polio death toll at University hospitals to 18 for the year, an increase of five over this date last year.

Another Fairfield youth, Orville J. Peck, 18, was admitted to the hospital with polio, Wednesday, and is reported in fair condition.

The total number of admissions for the hospital so far is 271 in 1954. There were 124 as of this date in 1953. There are 48 polio patients in University hospitals at the present time, of which 10 cases are listed as active.

Off-Job Accidents High, Study Shows

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten to 20 times as many injuries are suffered by employes outside working hour as on the job, the annual National Safety Congress was told Thursday.

Newton W. Temple, training and safety supervisor, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., Seattle, said his plant is acting to combat these off-job injuries.

"We are maintaining accurate and detailed records of all off-job injuries which cause loss of time from work," he said. "This information is tabulated and forms the basis of our program." He said employe reaction to the plan has been 80 to 90 per cent favorable.

8 Awarded Military Student Medals

Wooden Railroad Ties Same Despite Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Every day trains scot along tracks laid down on the nation's one billion wooden ties.

A most important part of our daily living, literally tying together our transportation system. And yet, who ever heard of the National Railway Tie association off hand?

"Practically nobody," J. E. Peterson of St. Louis conceded today. "Most people think we're in the necktie business."

To Hold Convention
Naturally this saddened Peterson, who is president of the association which holds its 36th annual convention in Washington.

Possibly this is the reason no one hears much about cross ties: Other industries have come up with dramatic developments to catch the public's fancy. The cross tie business remains basically what it was when the first railway lines were built.

"Oh, other things have been tried for ties," Peterson said. "Concrete, for instance. But it didn't have any give. Most people don't understand that a railroad bed must be flexible. Only wood has it. Steel, plastics—they've been tried, and didn't work either."

Progress Noted
Not that the tie business has stood still. Around 1905 the industry began putting creosote on ties, to preserve them. They now last 30 years or longer.

In case you've been thinking of putting in your own railway line, here are some statistics: A tie for a main line will be 7 by 9 inches thick and 8 feet 6 inches long. It will cost around $2 and it will take 3,000 of them to put down a mile of track.

Right now, the tie business is terrible. That's because the railroads aren't making money and are cutting down on expenses.

"Business may be off 50 per cent of normal," Peterson said. "We probably will sell less than 30 million ties this year. Maybe only 25 to 28 million. Not at all like 1929. We sold 82 million ties that year."

Farmer Benefits Told by Martin

DES MOINES (AP)—The Republican party ended "many years of Democrat neglect" for the nation's farmers by including them in the new social security law, Rep. Thomas E. Martin, GOP senatorial nominee, said Thursday.

In remarks prepared for an address at a luncheon meeting here he said his party extended benefits to more than five million farmers "for the first time in our history. He emphasized that the changes "were long overdue" and that they were "not made by the Democrat administration."

Martin explained that changes in the law now cover farmers, their wives and children, farm workers who earn $100 or more a year while working for one farmer, domestic workers, ministers, federal, state and local government employes and miscellaneous groups.

For all agricultural workers included, the new benefits accrue "quickly," Martin said.

Polio Deaths Total 17 For 1st 8 Months

DES MOINES (AP)—There were 10 deaths from polio in Iowa last August, compared with six for the same month last year, the state division of vital statistics said Thursday.

The total for August this year ran the number of polio deaths during the first eight months of 1954 to 17. There were 14 for the first eight months of 1953. The toll for all of 1953 was 28 deaths from polio.

Pedestrians Will Have To Run Faster

DETROIT (AP)—At least three makes of cars will have engines developing in excess of 260 horsepower in 1955.

The steady increase in power output has started speculation that 1956 may see a 300 horsepower automotive engine of the customary piston type.

NEW YORK (AP)—A White House official said Thursday that pictures of President Eisenhower are being sent to many federal offices all over the country.

Murray Snyder, assistant press secretary to the President, said the shipments result from "thousands of requests" from federal agencies.

He added that the bill for the 15 x 20 inch black and white photographs is being paid by "a high administration official, out of his own pocket, as a public service."

In response to newsmen's questions, Snyder said distribution of the photographs was "in no way" related to the congressional election campaign.

ARLINGTON MAN DIES
—ARLINGTON (AP)—Charles Gleim, 73, Arlington mortician and furniture dealer, died at his home Wednesday night.

Navy Procurement Team Here Today

A naval air procurement team will be in the lobby of the Iowa Memorial Union from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. today, to answer questions about the naval air program.

The members of the team are former SUI students Quinton A. Justis, Clinton, and James F. Brandau, Mason City, who left the university in 1953 to join the program. They are now taking their advanced training at Corpus Christi, Tex.

The program is offered to single men, 18 to 25, who have completed two years of college and can meet the physical requirements. It consists of 18 months of training, which, when successfully completed, lead to the awarding of pilot's wings, and a commission in either the naval, or marine corps reserve.

Information about travelogue membership may be obtained by writing the club or calling 7418 in Iowa City.

Body of Airman Found in Auto

GLENWOOD (AP)—The body of William Roundtree, 26, Hastings, an airman stationed at Offutt air base, Omaha, was found late Wednesday in a car 6 1/2 miles northwest of here.

The Reed Funeral Home here said two men, who were inspecting a field, found the body. They were quoted as saying a hose had been connected from the exhaust pipe into the car. It was believed Roundtree had been dead since Tuesday.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Helen Jarrett, Hastings.

Farmers Confused, Mad, Says Gillette

DES MOINES (AP)—Sen. Guy Gillette, Democrat seeking reelection, said Thursday that many farmers are "confused, mad, disturbed and disillusioned" by their decreasing share of the consumer's dollar.

Gillette was in Des Moines to introduce Helen Gahagan Douglas, former California congresswoman, for an address, and to give a radio interview for a national hook-up.

In introducing Mrs. Douglas Gillette commented that during the campaign a number of Californians, including Sen. William Knowland and Vice-President Richard Nixon, have returned the visits Iowans have made to California.

They came to Iowa under Republican auspices to campaign for Gillette's Republican opponents. Gillette welcomed a Californian who came to Iowa to help the Democrats.

In his radio interview Gillette said he didn't know how much pocket-book pressure will be reflected at the polls Nov. 2, but that he thought there was "a very good possibility to pick up a couple of congressmen" for the Democrats in Iowa.

GROUND-BREAKING SET FAIRBANK (AP)—The Rev. Bernard G. Collins, pastor of the Fairbank Immaculate Conception church, announced Thursday that ground-breaking will begin this week for a new $112,000 parish hall and gym.

Mountaineers Plan Color Travelogue Showings Sunday

Two colored travelogues will be presented Oct. 24 by the Iowa Mountaineers in Macbride auditorium.

"Autumn Across America," to be shown at 2:30 p.m., covers New England to the Colorado Rockies; northwest to the "Evergreen Empire"; and on to California. At the evening program, beginning at 8:00 p.m., "My California," will take the audience through a humorous commentary on four seasons in every part of that state.

Admission to the programs is by travelogue membership or by single admission ticket obtainable at the auditorium before each program. The public is invited.

Travelogues in the 1954-55 series include: "Bavaria—Jewel of Germany," "Portrait of Paris," "Romantic Spain," "New York City," and others.

A special travelogue "Northward to Adventure," will be given January 9, at 8:00 p.m. The movie was made during the Mountaineers expedition through the Canadian Rockies, over the Alaska highway to Fairbanks and by boat through the inland passage from Valdez to Seattle. A musical background accompanies the film and narration. Single admissions only will be sold.

Information about travelogue membership may be obtained by writing the club or calling 7418 in Iowa City.

Young Democrats Plan Canvassing Trip Saturday

The SUI Young Democrats will participate in a political canvassing trip to Washington, Iowa this Saturday, according to Dave Webster, A1, Cedar Rapids, in charge of the trip.

Plans for the trip were made at the regular meeting of the Young Democrats Wednesday night. The group will leave from Schaeffer hall by automobile caravan at 8 a.m. Saturday. Those interested in the trip are asked to contact party headquarters next to the Varsity theater, Webster said.

Plans for a torchlight parade on election eve, Nov. 1, were made at the meeting Wednesday. John Christensen, A3, Sioux City, was appointed assistant membership chairman.

Coed To Receive Engineer Award

Mary Louise Schulze, E3, Os... has been named to receive first woman's badge to be awarded by the SUI chapter of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering society.

Announcement of the award was made Thursday by Lavern Stikow, E4, Waterloo, president of Tau Beta Pi.

Miss Schulze will receive the badge at the initiation banquet held during the national convention of Tau Beta Pi in Ames. The award is being given in recognition of character and outstanding scholarship in engineering.

Six other SUI engineering students will be initiated into the society in a model initiation ceremony presented for the convention delegates jointly by the Iowa State college and SUI chapters of Tau Beta Pi.

To be initiated are Richard Di... E4, Marshalltown; Charles Oneal, E4, Iowa City, and Clayton Clancy, E4, Hardy, and Edwin Anderson, E3, Northboro; William R. Baker, E3, Iowa City, and John Penhollow, E3, Tama.

Presenting the Tau Beta Pi badge to Miss Schulze will be Prof. Karl Kammermeyer, head of chemical engineering and a faculty adviser of the SUI chapter of the society.

Miss Schulze's major field of study is chemical engineering. She is assisting this year in a project in the chemical engineering department dealing with studies in crystallization and sponsored by the National Science Foundation. The project is under the direction of Prof. J. O. Osburn, of the chemical engineering department.

Mortar Board Member
Miss Schulze is a member of the Mortar Board, national honorary organization for senior college women, and is president of Currier hall. She has been active in University Women's association and YWCA and was named a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honor society for freshman women.

The Iowa chapter of Tau Beta Pi is the 55th chapter to award a badge to a woman student in engineering. The organization has 6 chapters in United States colleges and universities.

Frank Mahan Dies, Formerly of I.C.

Frank T. Mahan, 56, St. Joseph, Mo., died Wednesday afternoon following a heart attack. Mahan was the brother of Bruce E. Mahan, dean of the SUI extension division. He attended SUI in 1918, and lived in Iowa City from 1940 to 1950.

He is survived by his widow; his mother, Mrs. L. Mahan Kemery, Bedford; a son, James B., Washington, D.C.; a daughter-in-law, Helen, and grandson, John, St. Joseph.

Another son, Frank Jr., preceded him in death a year ago.

Mother Relents, Daughter Wins

OCEAN VIEW, Va. (AP)—When Martha Shaw Thompson was 3 she was lost for four hours from a beach hotel here. Her mother said she would never bring her daughter to Ocean View again.

In the next 13 years Martha Shaw grew into a mighty pretty young lady at Windsor, N. C., and the folks wanted to send her here for a beauty contest. Martha relented and broke her promise. Martha won the title Miss Ocean View Centennial.

Athlete's Foot Catching? Doctors Report 'No'

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Fungus diseases of your feet such as athlete's feet aren't "catching" as people think they are, and it's useless to sterilize shower rooms, floors, socks or shoes, a new study said Thursday.

It says most of us apparently pick up the fungi on our feet as children, and get more of them repeatedly later on. But the fungi cause trouble only when something happens to the skin to lower resistance to them.

Change Causes Outbreak
In that sense, the fungi are like straphylococci germs which cause boils. The staph germs are always present on the skin, but it takes some local change to permit them to multiply and bring boils.

The report was presented to the American Public Health association by Rudolph L. Baer, M.D., and Stanley A. Rosenthal, Ph. D., and Hyman Rogachefsky of New York university postgraduate medical school, and Jerome Z. Litt, M.D., Cleveland, Ohio.

The fungi are found on feet they said. But the pesky things are just "opportunists" waiting for a letdown of skin defenses.

Sterilization Useless.
"It is useless to attempt to sterilize articles in and around bathrooms, showers and swimming pools, or to impregnate them with fungistatic agents," said Baer. "Contagion, or exposure from the outside, appears to play a negligible role in causing clinically active attacks."

Their conclusion is based on their own and other studies. In one experiment, people who showed signs of fungus infection did not get an outbreak of infection even if they soaked their feet in water contaminated with fungi.

Ventilation, Drying Help
As tips to make your feet more resistant to the fungi and prevent attacks, the study suggests: Wear perforated shoes in hot weather for ventilation to reduce moisture on the feet; wear cotton or wool socks which will absorb moisture; use a drying, mildly fungistatic foot powder; change footwear when shoes or socks get wet, and dry the feet carefully.

It would also help to put lamb's wool between the toes if your skin tends to rub raw, crack or macerate.

Program To Show Electrical Progress

A two-hour TV show Oct. 24 will climax the celebration of "Light's Diamond Jubilee" marking 75 years of electrical progress, J. E. Stewart, district manager of the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company said Thursday.

The four major television networks, the largest composite group ever assembled for one program, according to Stewart, will carry the show at 8 p.m. CST. It will include appearances by President Eisenhower and actress Helen Hayes.

This year marks the 75th anniversary of Thomas Edison's invention of the electric light.

Sulphur Expert To Speak To Chemists at Coe

Prof. Frederick G. Bordwell of Northwestern university will speak to the Iowa section of the American Chemical society at 7:30 p.m., Friday, at Hickok hall on the Coe college campus.

Bordwell, director of the American Petroleum institute project on the identification of organic sulphur compounds in petroleum, will speak on "A Research Trial in Sulfone Chemistry."

Air Force, Industry Study Quality Control In SUI Program

Operations research and study in controlling production quality by statistical methods has brought 73 industrial and air force representatives from 19 states to SUI this week and next for a 10-day course in quality control.

The 13th program of its kind at SUI under the leadership of the college of engineering and the department of mathematics, the intensive short course stresses "not how much product but how much acceptable product," according to Prof. Lloyd Knowler, SUI mathematics and astronomy department chairman.

Now approximately 25 years old as a field of study for industrial engineers, quality control brings substantial savings in labor and materials to manufacturers and ultimately to consumers. Sampling according to procedures which are developed mathematically, quality control men reduce inspection costs by recognizing the uselessness of trying to eliminate all errors of production. This modern technique also tells industrial management when and where to look for trouble in production processes, Knowler adds.

Iowa and Illinois, both with 16 representatives, lead in the number of industrial men enrolled in the "executive" and "trainee" sections of the SUI quality control course. Seven are from Minnesota, and nine from various installations, depots and fields of the U. S. air force. The W. A. Sheaffer Pen Co., Fort Madison, has five representatives in the course; Collins Radio Co., Cedar Rapids, four, and John Morrell & Co. Ottumwa, three.

DC-6 Burns, Injures 3 In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Three ground crewmen and a city fireman were injured when a United Airlines DC-6 was enveloped in flames during a refueling operation at Midway airport Thursday.

Nine passengers and four members of the plane's flight crew escaped injury.

United airlines estimated damage to the four-engine plane, en route from Seattle to New York, at $200,000.

Firemen said sparks from the motor of a baggage truck ignited gasoline vapors from a broken hose being used to refuel the plane. The right wing caught fire and flames quickly spread to the entire front of the plane.

The fire engulfed Harry Ballinger, 28, who was refueling the ship. Five other ground crewmen ripped off his blazing clothes. He suffered burns that covered his body. His condition was listed as critical.

Gerald Goodman, 26, and Richard Sawyer, 29, also ground workers, were burned less seriously. Fireman Earl Wingate, 39, was overcome by smoke and taken to a hospital.

Stewardess Emily W. Wagner, New York city, led the passengers to safety through the regular exit, while three crewmen trapped in the forward compartment escaped through an emergency hatch.

Superhighways Urged by Meat Packers Union

DES MOINES (AP)—The National Brotherhood of Packinghouse Workers Inc. Thursday adopted a resolution urging construction of a system of federal and state superhighways.

Delegates to the 16th annual national convention here approved the resolution which labeled such a construction program as an "antidote to depression..." and a practical method to relieve the fearful and needless highway death toll.

The union, claiming a membership of 26,000 in 12 states, also approved a nationwide organizational campaign aimed at what it described as "Communist dominated and infiltrated unions" in industry. No rival organizations were named.

The next annual convention will be in St. Louis.

Don Mahon, Des Moines, was re-elected president of the brotherhood for his 16th term. All other officers were re-elected as follows:

Vice-presidents, Lawrence Beilfuss, Chicago, Charles W. Harris, Ft. Worth, Tex., and Major Hayes, St. Louis; secretary, Leo Hausman, St. Joseph, Mo., and treasurer, Ivy Bond, Kansas City, Kan.

Reichstag Dome Withstands Demolition Try

FIREMEN, POLICE AND reporters stand in front of Berlin's Reichstag as engineers try to demolish the dome of the massive building. They used thermite, but the attempt failed. It has survived other destruction attempts, too, the Nazi arson attempt in 1934 and Allied bombings in World War II, as well as Soviet artillery barrages in final stages of the battle of Berlin.

2 Killed in Texas Helicopter Crash

First Heart Attacks Rarely Fatal, N.Y. Scientists Say

CHICAGO (AP) — A team of New York medical scientists has found that sudden unexpected death — the gnawing dread of many heart victims — rarely results from an uncomplicated first attack.

Their study of 611 such coronary thrombosis cases in New York hospitals showed that only 3.4 per cent died during the three to six weeks period of hospitalization — a lesser rate than generally supposed.

Lower Than 5
This is even lower than the commonly recorded 5 per cent mortality rate which has occurred in pneumococcal pneumonia since the advent of the antibiotics.

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, they said:

"This evidence justifies a more optimistic attitude than has usually been taken by physician and patient in all 'good risk' cases, particularly when survival has extended beyond the first few days of the attack. Overconfidence and carelessness, however, are not warranted as a result of these findings."

Prospects Good
The multi-sponsored research project also showed that the prospects for recovery from uncomplicated first heart attacks were as good for elderly patients as for young sufferers. Age seemed to make no difference.

However, the study also included 707 other patients listed as "poor risk" cases and the majority of these were over 60 years of age.

The death rate in the poor risk group — including both elderly and young patients — was 60 per cent.

Poor risk patients included those who had had a previous attack, who suffered from extreme shock or had other conditions that added to the gravity of their cases.

The researchers were Drs. Henry I. Russek of Staten Island and Burton L. Zohman of Brooklyn.

Big Switch: Husband To Do Housework

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — This is certainly a switch:

Florence B. Figowitz filed a divorce suit in circuit court, charging that her husband, Simon, insisted on doing all the housework.

He wouldn't let her perform household tasks, she complained, because he "wanted things done in a certain way."

Hint British Dock Strike Nearing End

LONDON (AP) — A surprise hint that peace may be near in Britain's waterfront strike came Thursday night from government circles as the walkout's paralyzing grip dug even deeper into the island kingdom's economy.

The 18-day strike of some 44,000 workers in the nation's major seaports has tied up $300 million worth of exports and imports and has idled more than 330 ships.

An "atmosphere of better will" prevailed Thursday at the government board of inquiry hearings, officials said. The board will go into private session today with employer and union heads.

The likelihood of bringing in troops which loomed ominously over the strike scene for the past week "seems to have receded a little," a government official said.

The walkout developed over a demand by dockers for the right to reject overtime work. It has the enthusiastic support of Britain's Communists.

Only some 11,000 strikers — members of the independent National Amalgamated Stevedores and Dockers union — have backing of their union leaders. The 33,000 others joined the stoppage in wildcat moves against the appeals of their Transport and General Workers union officials.

Herring Accuses State Government Of Waste, Neglect

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP) — It is for the voters to decide Nov. 2 whether Iowa "will continue the mediocre, neglectful and wasteful state administration under the dominance and control of a small clique within the Republican party," Clyde E. Herring, Democratic nominee for governor, said Thursday night.

The alternative, he continued in remarks prepared for a television appearance, is to "meet the problems resolutely, plan progressively and offer not only to ourselves but to our children, the prosperity of a bright future."

Herring accused the present Republican state administration of neglect of the elderly in not increasing old age assistance payments. He said legislation is needed to prevent juvenile delinquency and the circumstances which give rise to neglected and dependent children.

Continuing, Herring said that under present state legislation it is impossible for disabled persons to receive any aid from the state or federal governments. Federal funds are available, but the Republican state administration has failed to pass legislation to set up the program, he added.

Ike Says He Will Resubmit Health Plan to Next Congress

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower Thursday night declared his program designed to bolster voluntary health insurance programs — a program shelved by the Republican-run 83d congress — is "the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

In an address at a dinner honoring the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, the President said the proposal will be resubmitted to the next session of congress, convening in January.

Plan To Fill Gaps
Eisenhower said his health plan "will be an important part of a health program filling in the great gaps in the field of health."

The President's speech, tabbed "nonpolitical" by the White House, came after a busy day in New York which included a three and a half hour tour of housing, highway and hospital projects. He also urged on New York Republican workers in the party's home stretch drive for continued control of congress in the Nov. 2 elections.

He Endorses Case
Late in the day, the chief executive met with former Rep. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey — target of factional opposition within his own Republican party — and the White House reported after the conference that Eisenhower "has not changed one iota" in his endorsement of Case, in his bid for a U.S. senate seat.

Eisenhower's address, carried nationwide on television and radio, was mainly a warm tribute to Al Smith, late governor of New York and 1928 Democratic presidential nominee.

The President noted the charitable functions of the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Fund organization in the fields of health and medicine. Eisenhower added that Smith himself realized that "the health of a people is intertwined with their schooling, their opportunities for leisure and play, their access to hospitals and medicine."

Smith for Health
Eisenhower said that in New York state, Smith fought "a long war for man's right to enjoy the best means for the preservation of good health and its restoration whenever injured or lost."

The President said no one dared call Smith's program "a wedge for socialism." Smith instead was regarded as a champion of freedom; opportunity and responsibility, Eisenhower declared.

Turning then to his own administration's health proposals, the President dealt at some length with the plan for establishing what he called "a sound reinsurance program" to bolster and expand coverage under voluntary health insurance plans.

Ike Plan Shelved
The Eisenhower health reinsurance program was shelved in congress last July 13 when the house voted 238-134 to send it back to committee.

Under the proposed program, the government would underwrite up to 75 per cent of the losses suffered by private and nonprofit insurance firms as a result of voluntary expansion of their health and medical programs.

"By its passage," Eisenhower said, "millions would have had the opportunity — out of their own provident thrift — to increase their protection against the cost of sickness. In this way, we would help ease the catastrophic shock of illness and injury on the individual citizens and families of America."

Plans Challenged
The President added that "some extremists of the bureaucratic type challenged the plan because it does not attempt to remove all local and individual responsibility for the care of the sick and the unfortunate."

He said administration refusal "to centralize all responsibility and authority in the federal government is deliberate."

The President declared those "of the opposite extreme" oppose his health program on the ground that it might become the entering wedge of "socialized medicine."

Opposes Socialization
"To that kind of medical service in America, my co-workers and I are emphatically opposed," Eisenhower said. "We do not confuse social progress and socialism."

"We know that the American people will not be denied access to adequate medical facilities. The program for voluntary health insurance is one further step in achieving this objective in the American way. It is the logical alternative to socialized medicine."

Litchford Case Goes To Jury

L. J. Litchford's $77,500 damage suit against the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company late Thursday night went to a Johnson county district court jury.

The four-day trial ended Thursday afternoon with the lawyers for both sides giving their closing arguments.

Litchford charged the utility with negligence in the construction of a 4,800 volt power line on the William Hieber farm near Solon. He lost his left arm, part use of his right leg and received severe burns on both feet July 9, 1953 in an accident with the line while painting a roof of a farm building.

D. C. Nolan, Litchford's attorney, claimed in his closing argument that Iowa-Illinois failed to live up to the standards of its industry in constructing the wire.

Nolan cited testimony by engineer George Charlesworth that a line carrying 4,800 volts should be eight feet above a building. The line, according to testimony, is six feet above the shed roof.

Dentistry Band Gives Concert

The appearance of the college of dentistry band climaxed the annual meeting of the SUI chapter of the Junior American Dental Association, held at the Dentistry building Thursday night.

The band, made up of six students and four faculty members, is directed by Prof. Gerald P. Ivancic of periodontology. In its initial 1954-55 appearance, the group played six selections, including "The Village Tavern Polka," "The Helena Polka," "The St. Paul Waltz," "The Tinker Polka," "Indiana College March," and "On Iowa March."

The principal speaker of the evening was Dr. Ralph H. Ojemann, head of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station. Ojemann's topic was "The Reaction of the Child in the Dental Chair."

Little Animal Raises Big Stink

RAISING A BIG STINK, this furry little animal was prodded from under the davenport at the Max Levin home at Des Moines Thursday. How the civet cat got into the house wasn't known, but he registered displeasure at his eviction. After a lively chase, Willis Hollingsworth, right, of the Animal Rescue League, nabbed the beast with a spring stick device. Sidney Levin, son of Max, looks on.
