East, West Plan New Disarmament Talks

Unanimous Vote First Since 1946

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — In their first unanimous action on disarmament since 1946, the big western powers, Canada and the Soviet Union Friday agreed on a plan for new secret talks on disarmament and prohibition of atomic and hydrogen bombs.

It appeared that the 60-nation political committee of the UN assembly will approve the resolution of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union delegations and that talks will begin soon.

The negotiations face a long and hard road, with no guarantee of eventual agreement.

David M. Johnson, Canadian delegate, voiced this feeling in announcing the agreement and warning against "hasty or irresponsible optimism."

He said the gap between East and West, especially on a method of control of any disarmament system, remains very wide and deep. But he said it is important that the five powers have agreed to co-sponsor the resolution and hailed this as an "acceptable next step."

James J. Wadsworth, U.S. delegate, said the U.S. welcomes the agreement on sponsoring the resolution. He said the deliberations of the sub-committee will "test the extent of Russia's good faith."

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who only Friday informed Canada of Moscow's agreement to co-sponsor the resolution, snapped back that it was not the right time to question the good faith of the co-sponsors. He said it was the first time since 1946 the great powers had agreed on even a procedural motion in this field and it could be important.

He said some had warned against artificial optimism. For his part, he said, he warned against artificial pessimism and a lack of understanding for one's opponents.

"What we need is objectivity, and good will to bend every effort for a solution," Vishinsky said.

The resolution calls for further effort to reach agreement on comprehensive and coordinated proposals to be embodied in an international disarmament convention providing for:

1. Regulation, limitation and major reduction of all armed forces and all conventional armaments, and the total prohibition of the use and manufacture of nuclear weapons and weapons of mass destruction of every type, with conversion of existing stocks of nuclear weapons for peaceful purposes.
2. Establishment of effective control through an international control organ adequate to guarantee effective observance of the reduction of armaments and prohibition of nuclear weapons.

3. The disarmament commission to seek an acceptable solution of the problem, taking into account the various proposals.
4. Re-creation of the sub-committee of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union.
5. A report by the disarmament commission to the security council and the general assembly as progress permits.

The committee adjourned until Monday with Vishinsky, V. K. Krishna Menon, of India and Charles Malik of Lebanon, slated to wind up the debate.

A vote on the resolution may come early in the week.

Easterner Shoots, Kills Brother-in-Law, Self

NEW YORK (AP) — With relatives and employees watching in horror, the president of a small chain of women's shops Friday pursued and shot to death his brother-in-law, a partner for 30 years. Then he barricaded himself in an office and took his own life.

Police said Nathan Heyer, 56, president and treasurer of Janice Shops, Inc., had been feuding for some time with his brother-in-law, Herman Muscott, 54, concerning management of the business.

Registration Deadline

Iowa City residents who plan to vote Nov. 2 but haven't registered yet must do so by noon today. Registration is being held at the clerk's office in City hall.

Grace has been in the United States since 1950 on a visitor's permit, now expired. She was hauled into court Thursday on a warrant issued by the Immigration and Naturalization service. Hopful that she will be back in her Tacoma Park, Md., home for good, Grace was granted an application by the court providing for her voluntary departure to some other country and re-entry as a non-quota immigrant.

Missouri Convicts Stage Another Riot

London's Concert Sunday To Feature 4 Strauss Songs

Four love songs by Richard Strauss will be featured in George London's vocal concert in the Iowa Memorial Union Sunday, Oct. 24 at 8 p.m.

London, a bass-baritone, will also sing an aria from Alexander Borodin's opera "Prince Igor," four songs by modern French composers and four folk ballads including the familiar sea chanty, "Blow the Man Down."

London, who sang with the Metropolitan Opera during its 1952-1953 season, is sponsored by the university concert course. Tickets will be on sale up to performance time in the lobby of the Iowa Memorial Union. They are free to students upon presentation of an ID card.

In his last season with the Metropolitan, London sang the title roles in Mozart's "Don Giovanni" and Mussorgsky's "Boris Godunov." For the latter, the Met provided London with a new English translation.

London's recordings include "Of Gods and Demons," a series of arias from the three Faust operas of Gounod, Berlioz and Boito as well as excerpts from Wagner's "Das Rheingold" and "Die Walkure."

George London To Give Concert

Demonstration Over Poor Food Lasts 1 Hour

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A spur-of-the-moment demonstration against prison food flared and died during the noon hour Friday at Missouri's state penitentiary—scene of a disastrous multimillion dollar riot just a month ago.

Thomas E. Whitecotton, director of corrections, said no one was injured, no one was threatened and no damage was done by lice rushing to the prison, officials reported the situation was under control.

Whitecotton gave this account of the incident:

Before all of the inmates had entered the dining room, one convict overturned his plate and complained loudly about the menu. Others, perhaps a dozen, joined him quickly.

Others went to cells.

Still others apparently went back to their cell building to stay out of trouble.

One guard was splattered with food.

The convicts walked out of the building and gathered in the Lobby A cell building—the central point of rioting activity last Sept. 22—and shouted demands for better food.

Tells of Menu

Whitecotton listed this menu for Friday's noon meal:

Blackeyed peas with chunks of pork, barbecued hominy, pickled beets, creamed pudding, bread and ice water.

Whitecotton said meat in some form is served to the prisoners every day.

Believed To Be Unplanned

Whitecotton said he believed the demonstration was just an unplanned flash disturbance. He said he thought recent public reports from former convicts and former prison employees about "poor prison food" undoubtedly helped fire the disturbance.

He included also as probable causes the necessity of keeping the inmates locked up and relatively unoccupied because of the damage done in the uprising last month. In that riot, the loss included seven buildings, most of them industrial plants. Four convicts were killed and about 30 injured seriously enough to be hospitalized. Three guards also were injured.

L. J. Litchford Loses Case

L. J. Litchford Friday afternoon lost his $77,500 damage suit against the Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company when a Johnson county district court jury returned a negative verdict after deliberating more than 18 hours.

The jury's decision was returned at 4:30 p.m. following a four-day trial in which Litchford was asking the money from the power company as a result of injuries received in an accident July 9 on the William Heiber farm near Solon.

He said he received an electrical shock from a 4,800 volt wire which passed over a shed he was painting.

Litchford lost his left arm and received partially crippling burns in the mishap. He charged that the company was negligent in allowing the line to be stretched only six feet above the building.

Litchford's attorneys may, under Iowa law, file a motion for a retrial within 10 days. If a retrial is denied, the case may be appealed to the Iowa supreme court within 30 days after the denial.

Earlier Friday, the jury returned to the courtroom and asked for another reading of testimony given by defense witness George Charlesworth, state commerce commission engineer. Charlesworth had testified that a line of 4,800 voltage should be eight feet above a building.

The jury also requested clarification of part of the court's instruction stating that the burden of proof of negligence on the part of the power company was on Litchford.

Judge James P. Gaffney, presiding at the trial, denied the request and said he could not further clarify the instructions.

Jury Completed In Sheppard Trial

CLEVELAND (AP) — The jury box was filled for the first time late Friday in the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

The trial then was recessed until Monday morning.

Hunt Continues For Missing Boy

POWERS LAKE, N. D. (AP) — A massive search party probed bleak prairie country inch-by-inch for the fifth day Friday, hoping for the near-miracle that would mean 4-year-old Lavern Enget's survival.

For the estimated 3,000 searchers, many of them sympathetic women and high school girls, there was no tangible evidence of the missing boy's whereabouts.

Days ago doctors expressed doubt that the youngster, clad only in T-shirt and blue denim trousers, could survive effects of exposure. He disappeared Sunday.

Dixon-Yates Witness Faces Slander Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Arkansas utility Friday hurled a $2 million slander suit against a witness in the Dixon-Yates power controversy — an action which prompted Sen. William Langer (R-N.D.) to declare angrily he wouldn't allow any of his witnesses to be "bluffed, scared or intimidated."

The Arkansas Power & Light Co. filed the suit in Little Rock against Arthur E. McLean, a Little Rock banker who testified Thursday that the utility was "the most corrupt and ruthless corporation that ever operated within the bounds of the state."

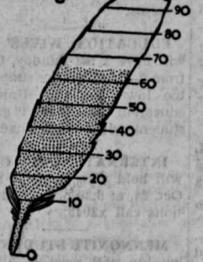

The suit accused McLean of trying to destroy a company's reputation by "malicious, false and slanderous statements."

Arkansas Power officials indicated the suit was made on past statements made by McLean, who has been at odds with the utility for years.

Langer, a critic of the Dixon-Yates contract, said that if it is legally possible to do so he will assign Sidney Davis, the sub-committee's chief counsel, to defend McLean against the slander charges.

Langer's antimonopoly committee is looking into a contract, already approved in form by the Atomic Energy commission, which would authorize the Dixon-Yates private power group to build a $107 million steam plant at West Memphis, Ark. The power would be turned over to the Tennessee Valley Authority which would service it to customers.

GIVE enough

Iowa City's Community Chest United Fund drive reached 66 per cent of its $33,379 goal Friday. The two-week campaign ends today.

Chest Drive Ends Today

The Iowa City Community Chest drive, which ends today, reached 66 per cent of its goal of $33,379 Friday afternoon when contributions totaled $23,152.06.

The drive will be extended until all solicitors turn in their reports, William L. Meardon, drive chairman, said. He added the possibility of reaching the goal was "pretty good."

Residential areas are now being solicited. Friday, $327.16 was turned in with most of the solicitors' reports still out.

Saar Dispute May Wreck Allies' Work

PARIS (AP) — The Western powers Friday invited Western Germany to sit in the highest military councils and share the diplomatic secrets of NATO. But the historic decision became snagged in a bitter French-German dispute over the Saar when it was only minutes old.

The deadlock over a piece of territory scarcely bigger than a big Texas ranch threatened to wreck plans to have three agreements signed today — designed to make Western Germany the 15th member of NATO and to tie Western European and American powers together in a friendly cultural military and political family.

Pressure was being brought on both countries to agree on sharing the coal and steel riches of the Saar valley where about a million people live. They were made grimly aware that their dispute threatened to wreck four years of efforts to ally Germany firmly with the West.

But the national pride and pocketbook are involved on both sides.

Both Mendes-France and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer were backed by their parliaments, which are demanding the most possible out of any deal.

The Weather

Fair and mild today. High 65-72. Partly cloudy and turning a little cooler Sunday.

Party Leaders Expect Increased Turn-Out at Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite widespread reports of voter apathy, state election and party officials look for a probable vote on Nov. 2 of around 45,115,000, an increase of 2,800,000 over the previous record for a mid-term election, in 1950.

These same officials estimated that 74,879,146 persons are eligible to vote for congressional and state candidates this year. This also is a record for a non-presidential election year, being 4,924,688 higher than the 1950 qualified voter total, the last top.

Potential Vote Increase

It is normal, however, for both registrations and the vote to climb from one mid-term to the next because of the growth in "potential" voter population.

"The census bureau estimates the nation's vote potential — civilians 21 years of age and over — has climbed 3,200,000 since 1950 to 100,223,000. This is exclusive of an estimated 2,500,000 persons over 21 in the armed forces.

But it is interesting to note, in view of reports that voters generally are not excited over upcoming contests, that the 1954 probable vote estimate is around 60 per cent of the number estimated to be qualified to cast ballots, the same ratio as in 1950.

Both Parties Plugging

Both parties are plugging for a large vote Nov. 2 on the theory that a full turnout will help their cause. Democrats feel more voters mean a bigger protest vote. Republicans believe a good turnout spells a vote of confidence in the administration.

If the estimates of the probable vote are borne out, 39 states will top their 1950 total for house candidates, and 34 will show gains over their highest 1950 figure.

The nine states estimating smaller votes compared with their aggregate house ballots four years ago are Idaho, Indiana, Missouri, Ohio, Utah, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin. The 14 figuring lower balloting in contrast with their highest turnout in 1950 are Arizona, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Oregon, Utah, Virginia, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Gains Estimated

Thirty-four states estimated gains over 1950 in the number of persons who have registered, paid poll taxes, or otherwise have met state voting requirements. Ten states, including New York, showed declines.

Four states — Iowa, Maine, Missouri and Wyoming — remained about the same.

Largest estimated increases in eligible voters were:

California 640,000; Ohio 598,000; New Jersey 580,000; Florida 430,000; Tennessee 400,000; Michigan and Wisconsin 300,000 each, and Pennsylvania 290,000.

Anyone for a Drink?

(Daily Iowan Photo by Jerry Moser) WHEN THE DRIVER of a pop truck hears loud popping, he's apt to look under the canvass instead of under the hood. But when Larry Lenz, R.R. 6, Iowa City, rounded the corner of Burlington street, north on Riverside drive, he had only to crane out of his cab window to see his trail of 7-Up bottles. Traffic was blocked for approximately 20 minutes.

Pi Beta Phi's, Houseboys Practice for Game

THREE MEMBERS OF the Pi Beta Phi social sorority football team and three members of the "houseboy" team take a few minutes Friday noon to practice for their game this morning at City park. Pi Phi's Challenged To Football Game By 'Houseboy' Team

Fifty-five girls, all members of Pi Beta Phi social sorority, were challenged to the contest by their eight "houseboys."

There is some confusion as to how many of the girls will be allowed to play on the field at one time, but the situation should be ironed out by game time, which is tentatively set for 9:30 a.m.

The referee, one of last year's "houseboys," promises everyone that he will not be prejudiced in favor of the male team.

If the "houseboys" win the game the coeds will serve them lunch at the park. If the girls come up with the high score the fellows are going to treat all of them to a movie date.

3 Youths Walk Streets Unnoticed in Paomas

OMAHA (AP) — What does it take to attract attention on the streets these days? Omaha police wonder after catching up with three boys, ages 9 to 12, who had fled an Omaha juvenile home.

Barefooted and clad in pajamas, the boys wandered about the streets for four hours, visited an amusement park where they spent their bank roll — 25 cents — and twice crossed a busy inter-city bridge.

A reporter who had heard a police radio call on the trio finally spotted them and notified police.

Today's Cosmetics Are Designed To Flatter

For every shade of hair and every type of complexion there are cosmetics to increase their beauty. It is important to select the right color and shade that will flatter the user and blend with the colors of clothing.

This should be remembered when purchasing powder, lipstick and nail polish.

Women's hair can be divided into five major colors. These are blond, silver-grey, red, brown, and black.

Blondes have many lipstick shades to choose from. Pink, coral, true red or blue red are colors best suited to light hair and complexion. Light rachelle, peach or olive face powder would be wise choices also. The same selection would be well for those with silver-grey hair.

Red heads have a more limited selection. Rust red and rose lipstick, light rachelle or olive face powder are colors most suited to red hair.

Rose, coral and bright red shades of lipstick are flattering on brunettes. Olive, rachelle and rosy pink powder are selected by this group.

Brunettes look best in a bright red lipstick, but also look well in

Pi Beta Phi's Win Intramural Swim Meet

Pi Beta Phi's took top honors in the women's intramural swim meet Tuesday night at the pool in the women's gymnasium. The Chi Omegas were second and the Gamma Phi Betas placed third. Winners of each event are as follows:

Seal's 40-yard free style — Joan Taylor, A2, Ottumwa, Pi Beta Phi; Sharon Graves, N1, Clinton, Chi Omega; Eleanor Flemming, A4, Whittemore, Delta Delta Delta.

Advanced front crawl for form — Shirley Aldinger, A2, Iowa Falls, North Currier; Elizabeth Haun, A2, Clinton, North Currier; Ann Craft, A4, Adel, Gamma Phi Beta.

Intermediate 20-yard free style — Carole Bartels, A2, Dubuque, Gamma Phi Beta; Phyllis Gregory, A1, West Des Moines, Delta Zeta; Beth Moore, A1, Ottumwa, Pi Beta Phi.

Open events, diving — Ruth Ashton, A4, Iowa City, Chi Omega; Ann Hess, A2, Cedar Rapids, Kappa Alpha Theta; Diane Daine, D1, Ames, Gamma Phi Beta.

Intermediate 60-yard free style — Joan Shiley, A3, Graettinger, Gamma Phi Beta; Beth Moore, A1, Dubuque, Pi Beta Phi; Carol Hansen, G, Wesley, Pi Beta Phi.

jer, A1, Dubuque, Alpha Xi Delta.

Open 80-yard free style relay — Virginia McWilliams, A1, Ottumwa; Anne Hess, A2, Cedar Rapids; Noya Huber, A2, Iowa City; Ann Spinharney, A4, Cherokee; all of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Permanent Pleats

New this year is the permanently pleated nylon petticoat. These have huge accordion pleated skirts, which stand out beautifully. Nylon petticoats, although they are lighter than crinolines, are just as effective in holding out skirts. They come in white banded with satin, black, pink trimmed with roses, or lavender scattered with violets.

Starched tulle petticoats are popular too. However, they are not as stiff as crinolines or nylon, and should be worn with less full skirts. They are often trimmed with rows of net ruffles, with tiny fake flowers to peek out under the hem of the skirt.

For wearing under formal floor length dresses, buckram petticoats or hoop skirts are the most practical. The buckram is stiff enough to hold out the heaviest skirt.

Hoop Skirts

Hoop skirts worn under formal look beautiful on a dance floor — as long as the floor isn't crowded! The hoops are rather unwieldy for a modern Scarlett O'Hara to handle, so a buckram is often a better choice.

For wear under a princess style dress, choose a new princess slip. These are form fitting to the hips, where they suddenly flare out into huge pleats.

Types of petticoats to fit every skirt are now available, and every young woman's wardrobe should contain at least one of these billowing beauties.

ICE CREAM BALLS

Here's a dessert that a New England restaurant has made famous: ice-cream balls rolled in fresh sponge-cake crumbs and surrounded with chocolate fudge sauce. Another version of this dessert is to roll the ice-cream balls in ginger-snap or chocolate cookie crumbs.

With all the cosmetics on the market today it is easy to find a complimentary combination.

Student Nurses Elect Officers

Class officers were elected by the Student Nurses' Association Wednesday.

Freshmen officers are Patricia Faulkner, president; Gayle Madison, Sioux City, vice-president; Susan Goodfellow, Aurora, Ill., secretary, and Barbara Schmitt, Oshkosh, Wis., treasurer.

Billowy Petticoats Are Top Fashion

Billowing petticoats are a must this year to wear under the new extra-wide skirts. Petticoats now come in a large variety of styles and materials.

The crinoline petticoat is still popular. Crinolines can be purchased in either white or black, with gay satin ribbon trims. To make a full skirt look its best, wear at least two crinolines under it.

Bridgman Plans Nursing Talk

Dr. Margaret Bridgman will be sponsored by the Gamma chapter of Sigma Theta Tau, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the West-lawn parlor at an informal discussion on nursing and nursing education.

Dr. Bridgman, former dean of Skidmore College of Nursing and author of "Collegiate Education for Nurses" has done extensive research in nursing education through the Russell Sage foundation.

In her present position as consultant in the department of baccalaureate and higher degrees program, National League of Nursing Education, she is prepared to discuss educational problems arising in the basic nursing program of colleges and universities.

New Fashions Come Alive In Regal Velvet Fabrics

Velvet is an important fabric choice whether you dream of yourself in a slim sheath, a voluminous skirt, the new torso silhouette, short or floor length gown, or a romantic coat.

There is no new fashion today that has not been created by top designers in velvets — velvets in new varieties of weights and wonderful qualities impervious to wrinkles — hardy varieties that can last from one generation to another. And, as for centuries, velvet is one of the most glamorous fashions you can own.

Worn Everywhere

Velvet, a year-round fashion, is worn everywhere. You see it for daytime, for luncheon and after. Every color is becoming due to the complimentary lights reflected against your skin by the luxurious, glowing surface.

From your morning hours in a glamorous velvet brunch coat to your last goodnight whisk into bed in a velvet bed jacket, with a busy day in between, you can cover every hour in velvets. From head to toe velvet fashions are available. They include wonderful hats, exquisite shoes and eye catching handbags.

Shirtwaist Look

Important news of this season is the diversified look in velvet. There's a shirtwaist dress with a wide white Byron collar and deep link cuffs, a real surprise in ruby red, sapphire or black. The return of the jumper presents a new look in velvet — worn with or without a blouse, depending on how formal you want to look.

Many dinner and theatre outfits combine a sleeveless sheath with a low neck, with a separate matching bolero to be worn in the daytime. One is of brilliant red velvet, the sleeveless sheath with heart-shaped neckline worn with a matching double breasted bolero jacket, collared and cuffed in spanking white satin.

Torso Silhouette

Very important is the new long torso silhouette styled with a shell motif that outlines the neck and sleeves. For those who like a full skirt, one dreamy theatre dress that shows exaggerated suppleness in velvet is styled with a square neck, oval sleeves, and a princess top over a tapered skirt.

Velvet coats vary from little short Eton jackets and capelets to sweeping lush opera styles. Princess or casual cardigan types are magnificent versions in the trend to elegance. When it comes to the jewels of your wardrobe, there is nothing in the world like velvet for regal beauty.

Sweeping floor length gowns in burgandy wine, white, turquoise or sapphire are dramatic in sumptuous beauty, the gown to give you the most important entrance, everywhere you go.

93-Year-Old Woman Has Profitable Hobby

STANDISH, Maine (AP) — You just never know when a hobby will pay off in cash. With Mrs. Eleanor Mead it began after she was 80.

She had always knitted, which isn't unusual. But what was unusual was that she never knitted two articles alike.

As a result, Mrs. Mead, who'll be 93 in November, has been collecting cash for her original patterns for the last dozen years. National magazines and virtually every publication which carries knitting patterns have published hers. From a yarn company she collected $250 for patterns.

The trouble now is knitting isn't a hobby for Mrs. Mead any more. "When it became a business, I had to have something else as a hobby," she says.

So now she is collecting buttons.

Elephant Takes Walk In New Hampshire

DANBURY, N. H. (AP) — A circus, travelling through New Hampshire, took a short cut over a back road in this town.

As the elephant truck went up a long hill, the tailgate slid open and one of the elephants got out.

Motorists on the road later received quite a shock to see the huge animal calmly standing by the roadside, apparently enjoying the woody countryside.

About 40 miles further on, the circus crew stopped for a rest and discovered the loss. A search party was sent back and the elephant was discovered surrounded by admirers, some with cameras, others just wondering at "New Hampshire wildlife."

WOMEN PLEDGED

Four women pledged Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary Tuesday night in a pledging ceremony at the Iowa Memorial Union. New pledges are Jan Felix, A2, Ossian; Alyce Harrington, A2, Maquoketa; Kay Keith, A2, Utica, Ill., and Carol Lee Spellman, A2, Newton. Initiation will be Thursday, Nov. 18.

HONOR INITIATES

Hawks Seek Victory Trail Today At Indiana

Hoosier Team Bolstered by Homecoming

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — The Iowa Hawkeyes, looking for the victory trail after two successive losses to Big Ten foes, meet the fired-up Indiana Hoosiers here today.

Indiana has been looking toward today's game since the Hawks defeated them 19-13 in the last four and one-half minutes last season.

Indiana holdovers remember the loss well and still think they should have won. It was one of

Bowl Chances Risked Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Possible prime bowl bids and the prestige of high national rank are prizes which make Columbus, Los Angeles and Little Rock the football capitals of the nation today.

At Columbus, Ohio, two unbeaten-untied giants of the Big Ten — Wisconsin, No. 2 ranked nationally, and Ohio State, No. 4 — clash in a game which Midwest observers figure points the way to the conference championship and the Rose Bowl assignment.

Boxing Moguls Favor Saxton-Basilio Match

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Saxton must defend his newly-won welterweight title for the first time against Carmen Basilio of Canastota, N.Y., if the match is to be recognized by the New York State Athletic commission.

Bob Christenberry, chairman of the commission, threw the full weight of his board behind a Saxton-Basilio match Friday, ruling out any chance it might be by-passed for a return go between Saxton and ex-champ Kid Gavilan.

Buckeyes May Pin Chances On Weed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A little left-footed 142-pounder who stands only 5-5 and has never carried the ball nor tackled a foe may be the difference Saturday as unbeaten Wisconsin and Ohio State clash.

He looks like a pygmy among the Goliaths, does Buckeye Tad Weed, one of the fast-disappearing specialists in modern football.

Sale of A's Still Not Final

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After a week of closed-door meetings and public announcements, the question of the final sale of the Philadelphia Athletics continued unsettled Friday as a battery of lawyers worked over the intricate business details.

This sale by the house of Mack, which still needs American league approval, is a multi-million-dollar proposition. The eight Philadelphia businessmen put up $250,000 each and in addition, they'll take over the club's $1,600,000 mortgage on Connie Mack stadium plus other debts.

MIAMI Upsets Favored Terps

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An angry Miami football team, its bowl hopes blasted by an NCAA decree, virtually killed the post season ambitions of Maryland by flashing a 9 to 7 victory over the favored Terps here Friday night.

Miami's Hurricanes kept the Maryland team off their feet throughout the game and not until the final four minutes of play did the Terps finally launch their scoring drive with Dick Bielski going over for the score.

Earl Whitehill Dies; Ex-Major Leaguer

OMAHA (AP) — Earl Whitehill of Cedar Rapids, a rubber-armed lefthander, who won 218 major league games from 1923 to 1939, died in an Omaha hospital Friday of injuries suffered in an automobile collision last Saturday. He was 54.

Whitehill, who faced some of the greatest sluggers in the American league, compiled a 218-185 record while pitching for Detroit, Washington, Cleveland and Chicago.

Cats, Canada Play Today

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The Peoria (Ill.) Caterpillars, who carried the United States to the Olympic championship in 1952, will meet Canada today in the opening game of the world basketball championships.

The American team is overwhelmingly favored to take first prize in the competition involving 12 nations.

Columbus, Ann Arbor Tilts Head Loop Card

CHICAGO (AP) — Wisconsin vs. Ohio State is the spotlighted game on today's Big Ten football program but also of title importance is the "Little Brown Jug" scrap between Minnesota and Michigan.

Two other conference games, Purdue at Michigan State and Iowa at Indiana are on tap, while non-loop tilts include Syracuse at Illinois and Northwestern at Pittsburgh.

Badgers Block Hawks' Rush

Ever since the fabulous Pat O'Dea first put Madison, Wis., on the national football map in 1939, the Badgers have been tough. And there's no reason at all to believe that next Saturday's Ivy-Ivy battle will be anything but tough.

Coach Ivy Williamson's highly-vaunted eleven comes to the Iowa City Dad's day festival with a national ranking high enough to scare the best of the lot, but Hawkeye Coach Forest Evaschki—with tongue in cheek and fingers crossed—may come up with the blockade necessary to stop their winning ways.

Last year's get-together was a Madison homecoming session that found the Black and Gold visitors leading 6-3 midway in the final period. The Hawks were then forced to yield as the Badger's dangerous pass-flipper Jim Miller whipped a pass over the secondary and made perfect contact with Harland Carl who gathered it in on the 10 and raced over the goal.

That 10-6 triumph over Iowa contributed to Wisconsin's four-win, one-loss, and one-tie conference mark. The Badgers had a 6-2-1 overall as compared to the Hawk's 5-3-1. Iowa hasn't dropped Wisconsin since their 19-13 win in 1948. Since then the Badgers have come through 35-13, 14-0, 34-7, 42-13 and 10-6. The chances of the tables being turned this fall seem rather slim, but anything can happen judging from Iowa's performances this year. Both teams know they can well be wary of each other.

As Wisconsin ran and passed its way past Marquette, 52-14, in the opener, Iowa side-stepped Michigan State, 14-10. Then as the Badgers squeezed by Michigan State, 6-0, Iowa out-classed Montana, 48-6. The Hawks lost 14-13 to Michigan for the second straight year, as Ivy's boys boiled Rice, 13-7.

Wisconsin continued its winning ways in the fourth game of the year by beating Purdue, 20-6, as Iowa gave way to Ohio State, 20-14. Wisconsin tangles with Ohio State today, while Iowa meets Indiana for the Hoosier Homecoming.

Getting Competition
The legendary O'Dea is getting stiff competition this year from Alan (The Horse) Ameche for Wisconsin all-time great honors. O'Dea is the fellow who in 1899, place-kicked a 57-yard field goal against Illinois and averaged 55 yards in punting, drop-kicked a 60-yard field goal against Minnesota, punted 68 and 80 yards against Michigan, punted 100 yards against Yale, and ran 100 yards on a kick-off to score against Beloit. But many still place their all-time vote on Ameche.

Prior to the Ohio State game Ameche was boasting a career mark of 3,101 yards net gain in 629 carries in 32 games. And 4.9 is no per-carry average to sneeze at. Incidentally, big Al holds the school mark for scoring, having crossed the goal 21 times since he came to Madison.

Good Quarterbacks
The 6-foot, 220-pound Ameche isn't the only man guaranteed to get in the Hawkeyes' hair. A pair of wicked-winged quarterbacks, Jim Miller and Jim Haluska, have been going wild with passes. In the first four games Miller has completed 23 of 41 for 322 yards, while Haluska tossed 15 of 25 home for 182 yards. Naming the dangerous receivers is a lengthy task as Ron Locklin, Pat Levenhagen and Clary Bratt have all caught TD passes, while Locklin, Levenhagen, Dave Howard and Jim Temp have all caught at least six throws.

Wisconsin has Billy Lowe as its breakaway counterpart to Iowa's Earl Smith. Lowe was the lad who intercepted a pass in the Purdue game and dashed 98-yards to a touchdown.

The Badgers hold the edge in the 31-game series that began in 1894. Iowa has only won two consecutive Wisconsin games once, 1939 and 1940. The overall tally: Wisconsin, 22 wins, and Iowa, nine wins.

Gambrell Stiffarms for 5-Yard Gain

(Daily Iowan Photo by Jerry Mosey). CITY HIGH'S JOHN GAMBRELL disposes of an Alleman (Rock Island, Ill.) defender as he dashes for five yards early in the first half of Friday night's game. The Hawklets were stopped short on this drive but came on to beat a stubborn Alleman outfit, 14-7, after a 7-7 halftime score.

PAT'S—Iowa City, Bauserman; Alleman, Pecaut.

City High ground out a 14-7 victory over Alleman of Rock Island, Ill., here Friday night. It was a non-conference affair for the Little Hawks who now have a 5-1-1 season's record.

Iowa City completely dominated play throughout the game, outgaining Alleman 297 to 40 yards on the ground.

In the first quarter, taking over after a Rock Island punt, Iowa City marched from their own 24 to Alleman's eight-yard line before an offside penalty set them back.

After failing to gain, Rock Island kicked to their own 46-yard line. The Hawklets then went the distance in eight plays, with Steve Bauserman going over from the one-yard line for the touchdown. He added the extra point for a 7-0 Little Hawk lead.

Late in the second quarter, Alleman intercepted an Iowa City aerial on their own 29. On the next play Herb Millard flipped a pass to Lennie Pecaut, who sailed 71 yards to score. Pecaut kicked the conversion to tie the score.

The Hawklets returned the kickoff to Alleman's 45-yard line and proceeded to score in six plays. The winning touchdown came when Jim Kelley took a quarterback keeper 27 yards around right end, aided by excellent downfield blocking. Bauserman booted his second conversion to end the night's scoring.

At the game's end, Iowa City was on the Rock Island one, after a 78-yard march.

City High chalked up 17 first downs to just three for Alleman, but penalties handicapped the Hawklet efforts.

Missouri Favored Over ISC Cyclones

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Missouri, with an eye on a possible Orange Bowl berth, and the up-and-coming Iowa State Cyclones will meet in their 47th football game here today with the host team rated the favorite.

A crowd of about 20,000 is expected for the 1:30 p.m. (CST) kickoff matching the Big Seven conference eleventh.

Last season Iowa State upset Missouri, 13-6, at Iowa State and has been a tough foe for the Tigers for several years.

In Big Seven games thus far Missouri has a 35-7 victory over Kansas State, while Iowa State has beaten Kansas 33-6 and lost to Nebraska, 14-39 and Colorado, 0-20.

The game will match two of the Midlands' finest fullbacks in Iowa State's Max Burkett and Bob Bauman of Missouri. Three of the conference's top passers, Vic Eaton and Tony Scardino of Missouri, and Jerry Finley of Iowa State, also will be in action.

Coe To Play Host To Cornell Today

Special Dispatch to The Iowan
MT. VERNON—Cornell will be after its first gridiron victory since 1949 over Coe college when the Ram team travels to Cedar Rapids today in an attempt to spoil the Hawklet homecoming.

The two teams rate evenly, both holding 1-3 records. Cornell has been improving every game.

Although Coe has lost three in a row since its opening triumph over Grinnell, those three losses have been by a total of nine points. Coe will be ready and hungry for a victory.

Bright spot in the Cornell picture is the fact that each successive contest has seen the Ram defense chop another touchdown off the opponents' score. If the trend continues Coe will be held scoreless.

Coach Jim Dutcher continued to emphasize defense, both passing and rushing, in pre-game drills this week.

Major replacement in the Cornell line will see Dick Brubaker, Sterling, Ill., at left end. Jack Benham who started the Rams' first four games at that position is hampered by a sprain picked up in the St. Olaf contest and will see limited action, if any.

Iowa-Minnesota Game Tickets Sold Out

The Iowa-Minnesota game at Minneapolis Nov. 13 is a "sell-out," SUI Business Manager Francis (Buzz) Graham announced Friday.

Last week Graham said that the Iowa allotment of tickets was sold-out, but that Hawkeye fans could order tickets directly from the Minnesota ticket office. Now they, too, are sold-out.

The Gopher game is the third sell-out audience that the Hawkeyes will appear before. Graham previously announced that the tickets were all gone for the Notre Dame and Wisconsin affairs.

Approximately 1,000 tickets still remain for the Purdue Homecoming game in Iowa City Nov. 6.

Ameche Respects Buckeyes' Cassidy As 'Country's Most Underrated Back'

Bucks' Cassidy Most Underrated?

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—One of the nation's best collegiate fullbacks thinks one of his opponents in the Midwest's top football game today "is the most underrated back in the country."

Alan (The Horse) Ameche, Wisconsin's battering candidate for All-American honors, is a booster of Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, the 168-pound Ohio State halfback whom he'll oppose today at Columbus, Ohio, in a game which will do much towards deciding the Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl title.

"Just check the stories of Ohio State's games," said Ameche. "Who's the guy who always comes through with the key run or the pass interception when they need it? Cassidy, that's who."

"He should be All-America for sure."

Packs Ground Wallop
Cassidy, with Bobby Watkins, packs the Buckeyes' wallop on the ground. The red-headed scab-back, in addition to averaging 4.6 yards in 50 ball-carrying attempts, also is Ohio State's No. 1 pass receiver with eight catches for 103 yards.

Ameche, the 210-pound fullback on whom Wisconsin depends for its rushing offense, and who has responded with 397 net yards in 74 tries, has had personal experience with Cassidy.

Two years ago, when Cassidy was a freshman, he caught one touchdown pass and set up another score with a run of some 40 yards on a pitchout in Ohio State's 23-14 victory. Last fall, it again was Cassidy who was the key man in the Buckeyes' 29-19 triumph as he scored twice, the clincher on the end of a 60-yard pass play from quarterback Dave Leggett.

Lone Jinx
Wisconsin Coach Ivy Williamson, who boasts the best worst record in the Big Ten will be out to snap his lone jinx in the conference. The Badgers, under Williamson, never have beaten the Buckeyes, coming closest with a 6-6 tie in 1951. On top of that, Wisconsin's last victory at Columbus came 36 years ago, in 1918.

A crowd of 83,406 is assured for today's game with Wisconsin pegged No. 2 behind Oklahoma in the national rankings, and Ohio State carrying the No. 4 tag.

'When Will Joe Be Home?'

TIPPIE, THE HOUND DOG, and Mrs. L. L. Cooper and daughter, Lavalie, West Monroe, La., watch hopefully up the road for the return of 10-year-old Joe Cooper, sent to reform school for pulling a shotgun on school officials who gave Tippie to a dog catcher. The dog followed the widow's son to school and thousands of letters poured in protesting the speed of Joe's trial.

Disturbed Child Can't Respond To Normal Stimuli, M.D. Says

Because the future means nothing to the child who is severely disturbed emotionally, the promises and threats which spur the social growth of normal children are ineffective with him, members of a conference at SUI were told Friday.

Fritz Redl, chief of child studies for the national institute of mental health in Bethesda, Md., spoke in the Iowa Center for Continuation Study to the conference, sponsored by the Iowa mental health forum. He described several symptoms of children who "seem to belong no place" in respect to present child care facilities of most states.

Such children cannot be helped in available agencies and institutions, and they disrupt regular educational programs for other children, Redl told some 70 representatives of Iowa organizations concerned about juvenile delinquency and child welfare. The group met at SUI to consider whether there is a need for a special center in which Iowa's severely disturbed children could be diagnosed and treated.

Several things characterize children who are so disturbed emotionally that they need separate residential care and treatment "around the clock," Redl said. These include:

A habit of continually hitting or kicking something or somebody, a lack of hope and faith in future rewards and punishments, short activity spans, unpredictable explosiveness, fear of love, fear of both failure and success, inability to enjoy themselves, extreme hostility in competition, poor self-control when aroused by other members of a group. These characteristics make it difficult or impossible to care for such children in institutions which are planned to meet the special needs of the physically handicapped or mentally retarded child, Redl said. He went on to describe centers which have been established in various other states especially for the care of children with severe emotional disturbances.

Representatives of the Ortho Pharmaceutical Corp., Baritan, N. J., and the General Fireproofing company, Youngstown, Ohio, will be at the Business and Industrial Placement office, room 107, University hall, Oct. 29, to interview seniors and graduates interested in saleswork.

The pharmaceutical company is interested in students who have had zoology, biology or pre-medical training. General Fireproofing, an office equipment and furniture manufacturer, will interview anyone with a sales interest in that area.

A representative of the Archer-Daniels-Midland company, Minneapolis, Minn., will be in the placement office on Oct. 28, to interview chemists and chemical engineers who will be graduating in February or June with a bachelor's, master's, or Ph.D. degree.

Students Plan Floats As Homecoming Nears

Paper napkins, chicken wire, nails, paint and screws will become increasingly more precious in Iowa City as SUI students prepare their floats for the sixth annual Homecoming parade to be celebrated Nov. 5 and 6.

Local merchants are stocking up on extra supplies of "float material" in preparation for the rush which will come as construction begins on some 30 floats which have already been entered in the parade.

"A grand sweepstakes prize will be awarded to the best all-around float, with first and second prizes going to floats in the three categories of beauty, originality and humor," says Loren Hickerson, director of alumni records and chairman of parade floats. After the parade, the floats will go on display just east of the Iowa stadium so those attending the Purdue football game may view them.

Thirteen high school bands along with the Iowa City Moose drum and bugle corps, the Daventport-Cedar Rapids Shriners band and marching units, and the SUI band and Scottish Highlanders will take part in the parade.

High school bands marching in the colorful festival include those from Durant, Belle Plaine, Keosauqua, Anamosa, Lone Tree, Monticello, New London, McKinley, Roosevelt and Wilson high schools from Cedar Rapids, plus University and Iowa City high schools.

Besides finding sponsors for the students' floats, the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce is already busy securing housing for the influx of football fans and Iowa alumni over the Homecoming weekend. Stores in Iowa City will close during the afternoon of the Iowa-Purdue football game, Nov. 6, according to Keith Kafer, chamber manager.

To Construct Corn Monument Towering—literally—over the entire Homecoming celebration will be the traditional corn monument which this year will resemble a giant Hawk. Each year engineering students construct the monument on the lawn of Old Capitol, and, if Iowa is victorious on the Homecoming gridiron, the monument is burned in celebration.

With the swelling of the city's population to almost double its normal size during the Homecoming weekend, the public safety becomes a major problem for the Iowa City police force. "Every Iowa City police officer will be on duty for the Homecoming parade and game traffic," says Police Chief Oliver White, remarking that additional plans are also being made with other law enforcement agencies.

Researcher Links Cancer with Paper Around Cigarettes

NEW YORK (AP)—Two researchers said Thursday they had found a substance in smoke from cigarette papers that causes cancer in mice.

One of them said he had discovered a way to eliminate the cancer-causing substance. The reports came from D. V. Lefemine, chemist at the Cancer Institute of Miami, Fla., and from H. J. Rand, head of a Cleveland research organization which is partly financed by a tobacco company.

Lefemine, in a report to the Southeastern regional meeting of the American chemical society in Birmingham, said laboratory work had turned up the cancer-producing element—benzpyrene. It was found in tars extracted from smoke produced in burning cigarette papers, he said. He added benzpyrene has proved in animal experiments to be one of the most powerful cancer-causing agents.

His report was described as the ducing qualities of smoking to first to pin down any cancer-producing agent in one cigarette material.

In New York, Rand told a news conference that experiments by the Cleveland organization also had disclosed the benzpyrene in smoke from cigarette papers.

His research also has shown, he said, that treatment of cigarette paper with an inexpensive chemical—ammonium persulfate—would prevent formation of the dangerous element in the smoke.

Rand said that, while there had been some criticism of his findings, there were "good prospects" some cigarette companies will start treating papers with the chemical.

Albrecht Faces OMVI Charge

Clyde H. Albrecht 25½ W. Burlington st., was booked on an OMVI and hit and run charge Friday night after he drove into three parked cars near the medical laboratories and left the scene.

Cars owned by George Yim, G. Honolulu, Hawaii, and James H. Gardner, G. Bismarck, N.D., were damaged by the impact of Albrecht vehicle. Another car was slightly damaged.

Police made the arrest after Albrecht pulled into the rear of Dean Jones service station. An empty pack of beer was found in his car.

Auto Wreck Injures 2 Women in Boone

BOONE (AP)—Miss Dorothy Balline, 44, and Mrs. N. Arthur Hopkins, 64, were injured in a car-truck collision at an intersection here Friday.

The women were passengers in a car driven by the Rev. Odie Malanoski, 34, Boone. The car was in collision with a pickup driven by Leonard Keith, 28, Boone.

Dos Passos To Lecture Here Oct. 27

John Dos Passos, author of more than 28 books since 1920, will lecture on "Our Founding Fathers Knew How" Wednesday, Oct. 27 at 8 p.m. in Macbride auditorium.

Students may obtain free tickets at the Iowa Memorial Union upon presentation of ID cards. Tickets remaining Wednesday morning will be available to the public.

Result of Book

Dos Passos' historical-political talk is partly the result of research for his book, "The Heart and Head of Jefferson," published last January. Dos Passos believes that America must return to the original attitude and enthusiasm of our founding fathers.

He believes that Communism is remaking parts of the world, but that it is making it over wrong.

Started in 1921

A former newspaper correspondent and freelance writer, Dos Passos' first success as an author came in 1921 with the publication of "Three Soldiers." Since then he has produced books of travel, history, politics, verse, essays and plays. He is best known for two trilogies: "U. S. A." composed of "The 43rd Parallel," "1919," and "The Big Money"; and "District of Columbia," including "Adventures of A Young Man," "Number One," and "The Great Design."

Dos Passos, a world traveler, now writes and manages a farm in Tidewater, Va.

The talk Wednesday, sponsored by the University lecture course, is one of Dos Passos' 25 lectures on a fall tour. This is his first season as a lecturer.

One Good Deed Deserves Another

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Fredericksburg police gave a little quarter — and got one in return.

A traffic patrolman spotted an out-of-state car parked illegally and instead of a summons he put a cautioning courtesy card on the windshield. Next day the card was returned by mail with this note: "My thanks to a courteous policeman." It was signed "Missouri."

Archaeologist To Talk On Biblical Discoveries

Because an Arab shepherd idly tossed some rocks into a Palestinian cave in 1947, some of the most important archaeological findings in more than 100 years have been recorded. These will be described by W. F. Albright, noted Biblical archaeologist, in lectures at SUI Monday and Tuesday in the Shambaugh lecture room of the main University library.

The shepherd, looking for a lost sheep, was resting on a hillside, and was amusing himself by throwing rocks into the opening of a small cave nearby. When one of the rocks broke something, he became frightened, and ran. He later returned with friends. The ancient scrolls they found in the cave, along with other discoveries in the area have been of priceless value to students in the field of Biblical research.

The scrolls are estimated to be a thousand years older than any previously found.

Albright, in two illustrated lectures on the SUI campus, will tell how these findings came about, and how they aid present-day scholars in interpreting the Bible, and the effects which the translations of these documents may have on future Biblical

2d Leadership Session Scheduled

The second of six weekly sessions of the leadership training school sponsored by the Iowa City Council of Churches will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Presbyterian church chapel. The school is for training of Sunday school teachers and church workers.

Eighty-two are enrolled in the five courses offered. A faculty of 12, including local ministers, school teachers and SUI school of religion instructors, teach the courses.

Worship service will be led by the Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, of the Baptist church, one of the participating churches in the school. A social hour following Monday's session will be in charge of the First English Lutheran church.

SUI Speech Clinic Television Program Reviewed by 'Time'

"The Search," national television program which featured the SUI speech clinic last Sunday, is reviewed in the current issue of Time magazine.

The movie was filmed last spring on the SUI campus and was given a preview showing here last week. It outlined the problems of stutters and their treatment. Most roles in the film were played by SUI students.

According to Time, "The deep emotional basis of stuttering was underlined in two graphic experiments: when a stutterer was artificially deafened, he spoke with perfect unison; and three stutters, who, singly, could barely recite a sentence, did the same sentence with ease when they spoke in unison."

The review also pointed out the film's illustration of how word repetition is normal among most young children.

Physicist Will Speak

The SUI school of religion also has invited William G. Pollard, atomic physicist and director of Oak Ridge Institute of nuclear research, to speak here this semester. Mr. Pollard became an Episcopal clergyman after having participated in the Manhattan project concerning the development of the atomic bomb.

"It was felt that science and religion are not necessarily antagonistic, but on the contrary are complementary to each other," Prof. Frederick P. Bargebuhr of the school of religion, said. "For this reason they were invited to speak at SUI," he said.
