2 Fraternities, Sorority Put On Probation

Three SUI social groups have been placed on probation for holding an unauthorized party at which beer was served, Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce said Friday.

The groups: Phi Delta Theta and Phi Gamma Delta fraternities and Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

"All groups social functions, including all regular Christmas parties, are cancelled," Faunce said.

A picnic held at Hell's Half-Acre picnic ground near North Liberty several weeks ago was the unauthorized party, The Daily Iowan learned.

Faunce reportedly learned of the picnic in a letter from the father of one of the sorority girls. The girl had told her father of the picnic in a letter, the Iowan was told.

The three groups were placed on probation until the end of the first semester by the Inter-Fraternity council. The probation became effective Tuesday.

They cannot apply for removal of the probation until January, Faunce said.

It will not, however, prevent the groups from holding their annual faculty dinners and service projects.

The Phi Gamma Delta Christmas party for handicapped children may be held despite the probation, Faunce said.

3 from SUI Highest Paid State Officials

Pres. Virgil M. Hancher and two other SUI executives drew three of the four highest salaries paid by the state of Iowa in the fiscal year ending June 30. Also drawing a first place salary of $18,500 with President Hancher was James H. Hilton, president of Iowa State college.

Forest Evashevski, SUI's head football coach, was again the top paid Iowa athletic official and one of the 15 state employees who earned more than Gov. William S. Beardsley's $12,000 a year. Evashevski's salary of $15,000, however, comes from university athletic department receipts, and not from state taxes.

Drawing state salaries just under those commanded by Hancher and Hilton were Harvey H. Davis, SUI provost, whose salary was $15,000 and Norman B. Nelson, dean of the college of medicine, with $14,000.

All State Salaries Listed These facts were disclosed in a study of the salary book that is published annually in accordance with state law. It lists the salary of every state employee who was paid more than $100. The new volume was released Friday.

For the ninth consecutive year the presidents of SUI and Iowa State college have tied as the highest paid state officials. Both received a $2,500 raise last year.

Beardsley Ranks High Widespread salary boosts during the year, especially in educational institutions, increased by about 33 per cent the number of employees earning $10,000 or more per year. The number of those paid $5,000 or more was up about 20 per cent. Those in both groups increased by about 15 per cent during the previous year.

Gov. William S. Beardsley who was the sixth highest paid state official in 1953 was sixteenth in 1954.

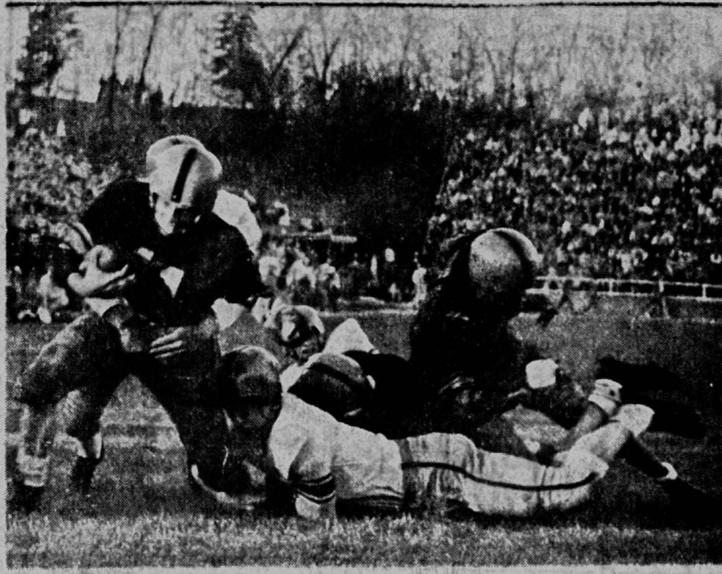

Delinquent Reports Ready December 1 Students will receive notice of "delinquents" about Dec. 1, Ted McCarrel, registrar, said Thursday. A delinquent is a university student who has failed to pay his tuition in a subject in a below average.

Nov. 20 has been designated as midterm and instructors' reports of delinquents are due in the registrar's office by Nov. 24.

One of the four copies of each delinquent is sent to the student's adviser (liberal arts) or dean (professional colleges). The adviser or dean then may call the student in for counseling. The office of student affairs also performs this service.

Housing units may pick up delinquents at the various college advisory offices. Students living in town will receive them by mail.

If a student is failing two or more courses, his parents are notified.

FORMER IOWA HALFBACK George "Dusty" Rice plunges for his third touchdown of the day in the 1953 Iowa-Minnesota game which the Hawkeyes won 27-0 in Iowa City. Hawkeye fans are hoping for a repeat performance at Minneapolis today as Iowa meets the Gophers for the 48th time in the two school's long standing series. Minnesota's All-American Paul Giel was halted by the charging Hawkeye line in last season's contest, and this year Iowa will be forced to stop the Gopher's star fullback Bob McNamara if they are to win their fourth victory in a row. Minnesota is reported to be gunning for Iowa to revenge last year's loss, and a sellout crowd of 64,000, including 10,000 Hawkeye rooters, will be on hand to see the contest.

Monday Night Rally Dunaway Gets Year After Pleading Guilty To Assault Charge

A matchlighting ceremony by President Virgil M. Hancher will highlight the kickoff rally for the Campus Chest drive which gets under way Monday.

President Hancher will light the big central display portraying the theme for the four-day campaign, "Help Herky Light the Match." Students attending will be invited to light a match, also.

The rally is set for the east approach to Old Capitol at 9 p.m. Monday. Also appearing will be Prof. Robert Michaelson, director of the school of religion and faculty advisor to the Chest planning committee, Bhaskara Rao, G. Bangalore, India, who will speak for the World University service, and Wes Pippert, A4, Mason City, master of ceremonies. Part of the University band will provide music.

To Distribute 2,500 Matchbooks Solicitation in housing units and on campus will begin Monday. Solicitors will also distribute 2,500 matchbooks on the beginning day.

This year's goal has been set at $1 per student. Tabulations will be made and published during the drive of the proportionate giving of each housing unit. This year SUI students have had a voice in determining where the money collected in the drive will go. Preference check lists returned by housing units and student organizations last month indicated that the World University service, a loan fund for needy foreign students at SUI, Save the Children federation, CARE book fund and the National Scholarship service and Fund for Negro Students should be the fund recipients.

World University service is a voluntary agency of all religious orders and student associations that gives financial assistance to colleges and universities in needy areas. Save the Children federation is supported entirely by voluntary gifts and works with underprivileged children in this country and throughout the world.

GARE buys books and educational equipment for schools in backward or devastated lands.

The National Scholarship service provides scholarships and other aid to deserving Negro students, particularly in states where segregation is still practiced.

The loan fund for SUI foreign students provides emergency assistance for foreign students on this campus who may be having trouble converting currency or who may be having real need.

$2,250 Last Year Last year's Campus Chest drive netted $2,250.

Co-chairmen of this year's planning committee are Emma Lou Fuller, A4, Altoona, and Emilie Lathrop, A4, Cedar Rapids. Other members are Jim Grier, A2, Ottumwa, solicitations; Lois Underwood, A2, Davenport, education; Barb Hays, D1, Des Moines, speakers bureau; Ed Cohn, A3, Waterloo, special events; E. J. Macphail, Boston, Mass., art, and Pippert, publicity.

A special Campus Chest broadcast will be presented over WSUI Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. Appearing on the program will be Rao and Michaelson.

Special movie slides advertising the Campus Chest drive are being shown in Iowa City theaters this weekend.

Marion S. Dunaway, 29, of 420 S. Clinton st., Friday was sentenced to a year at hard labor in Johnson county jail, after pleading guilty to a charge of assault with intent to do bodily injury.

District Judge James P. Gaffney, who pronounced the sentence, described Dunaway as a "modern paganistic moral degenerate," and said, "as far as this court's concerned, you can wear that tag from now on."

Dunaway was reported by police to have been in a scuffle with Robert Pieken, 31, 652 S. Lucas st., Sunday night. During the struggle, according to Pieken, Dunaway's 22-rifle was discharged from his car. He was parked near Pieken's home where he was said to be calling for Pieken's wife.

Pieken told police after the incident that he had left for work Sunday night, but then returned without reporting to work. After Dunaway drove up and Pieken saw his wife going to the car, Pieken said, he yelled at her to go back to the house.

Dunaway reportedly reached into the back of his car for the rifle as Pieken smashed the car window with the heel of his hand. The shot was fired as the two grappled for the gun, according to Pieken.

Dunaway and Mrs. Pieken were said to have become acquainted while both were working at Cedar Rapids bakery.

The bullet crashed into the living room of the Emil Schmidt house across the street, missing Mrs. Schmidt by three feet.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) was assailed Friday as a spreader of "slush and slime," and defended as a victim of spiteful slanders, in the week's final session of the senate debate on the question of censuring him.

Crowds in the galleries began to dwindle as the third day of debate neared its end. Attendance of senators dropped, too.

The slush and slime charge came from Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.), a member of the committee which recommended censure for McCarthy. Stennis argued the senate must "condemn" McCarthy's conduct in order to get a standard of political honor.

Bricker Praises McCarthy Republican Sen. John Bricker (Ohio) and Barry Goldwater (Ariz.) came swiftly to McCarthy's defense, praising him as the symbol of American resistance to communism and blaming Communist influence for the move to rebuke him.

Finally a second member of the censure committee, Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan.) protested sharply against McCarthy's charge that the committee members were "unwitting handmaidens" of the Communist party.

Goldwater described the censure move as "the culminating act to destroy America's foremost fighter against communism," and accused McCarthy's foes of hypocrisy.

Stennis, a former Mississippi judge, accused McCarthy of exhibiting right up to the present a "moral contempt" of the senate. Failure to rebuke McCarthy, Stennis said, will amount to endorsing his conduct and thus telling the youth of the nation that McCarthy's behavior "is the high road of which the senate approves, and upon which it likes to travel."

Senator Welker (R-Idaho) drew applause from a number of spectators when he protested the small number of senators — it was less than 20—who lingered to hear the Bricker and Goldwater speeches. Welker said he was "astounded . . . ashamed to see so many empty seats."

During the debate Sen. William Knowland of California, Republican leader, appeared to be laying the basis for a possible senate verdict at variance with the censure proposal made by Sen. Arthur Watkins (R-Utah).

"I believe the senate of the United States has its responsibilities as well," he said "each senator must . . . finally reach a decision on his own responsibility."

Death from Fight After Football Game Ruled Accidental

DIXON, Ill. (AP) — A Lee county grand jury Friday ruled that the death of William R. Latta, 21, of injuries received in a fight with Bettendorf, Iowa, high school football players Oct. 15, was accidental.

The grand jury returned no indictment.

The report was filed with circuit court Judge Robert Bracken after the jurors earlier this week had heard some 40 witnesses to the fight.

The grand jury suggested that James Bales, Lee county states attorney, write a letter to Bettendorf authorities advising them that the team's coaches were in no way responsible for the fight.

It also suggested that Bales write Amboy authorities informing them that the grand jury felt Amboy police were negligent in not reporting the fight to the Lee county sheriff's office immediately.

The jury also asked Bales to suggest to officials of other Lee county towns that local police be employed during and immediately after football games to preserve order.

Latta died Oct. 16, the day following the fight. Testimony at an inquest was that Latta accosted members of the Bettendorf team following the game between Bettendorf and Amboy, which Bettendorf won, 21-0.

Senate Must Censure Joe, Stennis Says

Face Vengeful Gophers In Last Big Ten Contest

MINNEAPOLIS Minn. — Iowa's thunderous stretch run could repeat history of a year ago today but there'll be no innocent Minnesota to ease the road as the two teams meet in Memorial stadium at 1:30 p.m.

The Gophers were caught napping last year and Iowa handled Paul Giel enough to take a 27-0 victory in the midst of a late season drive that culminated with the famous 14-14 tie at Notre Dame.

Again, this year, the props are similar. Iowa is rebounding with vengeance after losses to Michigan and Ohio State. The Hawks have dashed the Rose Bowl hopes of two powerful Big Ten teams—Wisconsin and Purdue.

Iowa Not Out And Iowa still has a mathematical chance for the Big Ten title and are driving headlong toward another meeting with Notre Dame.

In its path lies a Minnesota team aching for atonement and with a faint hope of a championship itself with only one defeat.

Eighteen Gopher seniors remember acridly the defeat at Iowa City last year. This is the game they've been waiting for. Spirits are high here and the 64,000 fans in the stadium today, including approximately 10,000 Iowans, will see one of the best games of the Big Ten schedule this year.

Gophers Have Talent Psychology aside, the Gophers, have enough football talent to make it lively for the Hawkeyes. That, however, depends crucially on Minnesota's staying power.

The Gophers rank 15th among the nation's major colleges in rushing offense with 2,308 yards and a 329.9 average for each game.

The Hawks have rushed the ball 1,637 yards and came up with one of the season's most impressive offensive displays last Saturday in crushing Purdue's title-intent (up to that

At that time and on that day it was stated to you that Sam Sheppard had committed murder?"

"Yes, that's right," said Drenkhan. He said the statement came from two Cleveland detectives who arrived later.

Earlier, under direct examination by the state, Drenkhan testified he found no sign of a forced entry to the Sheppard home the day of the murder. Nor, he said, did he find any sign of a struggle on the beach outside.

"The beach was smooth and there was no indication anyone had walked on the beach," he testified.

He also said locked screens were on the three windows in the bedroom where Marilyn died.

Accuses Prowler Dr. Sheppard said a bushy-haired prowler killed his wife and knocked him unconscious later on the beach.

The state contends the 30-year old osteopath beat his wife to death in their suburban Bay Village home in a quarrel over another woman.

Mayor J. Spence Houk of Bay Village testified earlier in the week that some fishermen mentioned seeing two figures on the Sheppard beach that morning of the murder.

The defense has witnesses who claim they saw a stranger in the vicinity of the Sheppard home that night. But Drenkhan testified he saw no one about on foot during the five or six times he passed the home on patrol.

International Relations Ruined by Fiery Ivan LONDON (AP) — Members of Moscow's visiting Spartak Soccer team ruined the hunch players at the Clapton greyhound track Thursday night.

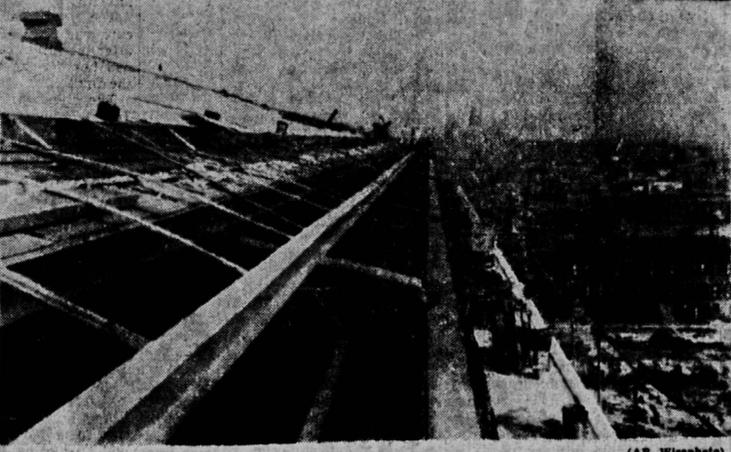

The Russians went to the stadium as guests of the management for their first look at dog racing. Their presence inspired a lot of bets on a beast named Fiery Ivan in the fifth race.

Fiery Ivan finished fourth.

A Dollar Well Spent—

Campus Chest, which opens Monday at SUI, will have stronger student appeal this year than ever before.

For the first time SUI students have been given a chance to express preference about where their contributions will go. Almost a month ago check lists were sent to university housing units and student organizations. About 60 of the 100 lists mailed were returned.

On the basis of the poll, money collected from the four-day drive will be divided among five agencies: the World University service, the loan fund for SUI foreign students, Save the Children federation, National Scholarship service and Fund for Negro students and the CARE book fund.

World University service received the most votes in the poll and will be entitled to 30 per cent of the total donations.

This organization uses the contributions to finance the building of student dormitories, recreation and health centers in other countries.

The loan fund for SUI foreign students will also receive 30 per cent of the proceeds from the drive. The fund provides emergency loans for foreign students on this campus who find themselves in need of help.

Campus Chest will contribute to the Save the Children federation for the first time this year. Founded in 1932, the foundation helps needy children in all parts of the world, assisting with their education and material needs such as food and clothing.

The CARE book fund was planned in cooperation with the United Nations in an effort to replace invaluable libraries destroyed during the war. The fund also brings educational programs to backward areas.

The National Scholarship service and Fund for Negro Students is five years old. It is a counseling agency for Negro students, as well as a source of scholarships for the most worthy. Approximately 2,300 Negro students have been aided.

These last three services will share the remaining 40 per cent of Chest contributions.

The goal of this year's Campus Chest has been set at $1 for each student. The central committee chose this individual quota rather than an over-all goal, so that each student would know how much he is expected to give.

The ratio of the number of dollars solicited to the number of students in each housing unit will determine the percentage of success.

Campus Chest is the only fund drive sponsored by the SUI Student Council. Proceeds from the drive will go to organizations which have been carefully screened for purpose and need.

We can be sure that the money we give will serve a useful purpose among people our own age, both in the U.S. and abroad.

Americans have long been proud of the fact that they are willing to help people of any race or creed in time of need.

Let's all shake loose with a dollar and get this Campus Chest off to a rousing start.

Disabled Aid Doubled In Last 2 Years

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa vocational rehabilitation division has nearly doubled in the last two years the number of severely disabled persons who have been given training at a rehabilitation center here.

Also, it has almost tripled the number of these handicapped persons for whom the division has found employment. Officials of the division Saturday said these are some of the statistics for the 1953 and 1954 fiscal years.

In addition, as of the end of last September the division had accepted 1,847 persons throughout the state for rehabilitation services. At the same time, there were 1,333 applications for help being checked.

97 Per Cent Gain
During fiscal 1953 the division served 90 persons at the Des Moines training center, across the block north from the Statehouse. In the next year the center served 178 persons a gain of 97 per cent.

Before a person is accepted for help, it must be determined that his disability is an employment handicap. The division doesn't, in itself, prepare the handicapped for jobs.

It decides in what fields the individuals have an aptitude. After that, the disabled go on for training in public or private school, take on-the-job training, or are helped in some other way, without cost to the individual.

Physical, Vocational Help
At the training center, help is given in learning to walk, and use of the arms. Tryout experience is offered in metal, wood and electric shop work, typing, operation of office machines, filing, in the graphic arts, weaving, alteration and clothing repair, sewing machine operation, and speech.

Of those served at the training center in fiscal 1954, there were 38 amputees, 27 cerebral palsied, 18 paralyzed on one side, 12 in wheel chairs, 26 polio victims, 18 who were mentally retarded or disturbed, and 20 falling in miscellaneous groups, in addition to others. In all cases these figures were substantial increases over those for the year before.

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR., Associated Press News Analyst

The United States, whose Point Four program for aiding the economies of underdeveloped countries has been held almost to token proportions by small appropriations, is preparing to make new moves in this general field.

Point Four was designed to help create health, technical, agricultural and legal atmospheres which would attract private investment, primarily American, into countries which needed to develop their own resources to make them better able to import their needs and reduce their susceptibility to communism.

Now the government has announced a new plan, designed more as an adjunct of the World Bank and of the Export-Import Bank than of Point Four.

Set Up Pool
It would set up a new international pool — with the lion's share of the money put up by the United States as usual — to make loans for private developments in underdeveloped countries. This would be a rotating loan fund, not a gift as are the services of Point Four.

In addition, the United States appears to be taking a slightly warmer view of extension of the United Nations technical aid program, which is close kin to Point Four and to which this country also is a relatively

U.S., Reds Strive For Space Mastery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mounting reports of a high priority Russian program directed at creation of a scientifically and militarily valuable space satellite is sharpening attention of American researchers in a similar study.

The United States has been considering, at least since 1947, the theories and possibilities of launching a man-made satellite to follow an orbit several hundred miles above the earth.

But government experts in a position to know indicate this semi-latent project is now being considered in new light. Increasing reports of Russian efforts apparently are responsible.

Dr. Walter Gerlach, deputy chairman of West Germany's Space Research society, said this week that the first nation to get a space station to watch all earth's activities will be master of the globe.

Gerlach, who favors international cooperation in the conquest of space, said his organization has heard rumors that the United States already has worked out plans for a three-stage rocket capable of overcoming earth's gravity.

Military scientists have been reluctant to talk in detail about the program. First indication of an actual study by the military came in a terse remark in a routine annual departmental report in 1949. Then in 1951 testimony at a New York spy trial included reference to the passing, in 1947, of information on a "sky platform" to espionage agents.

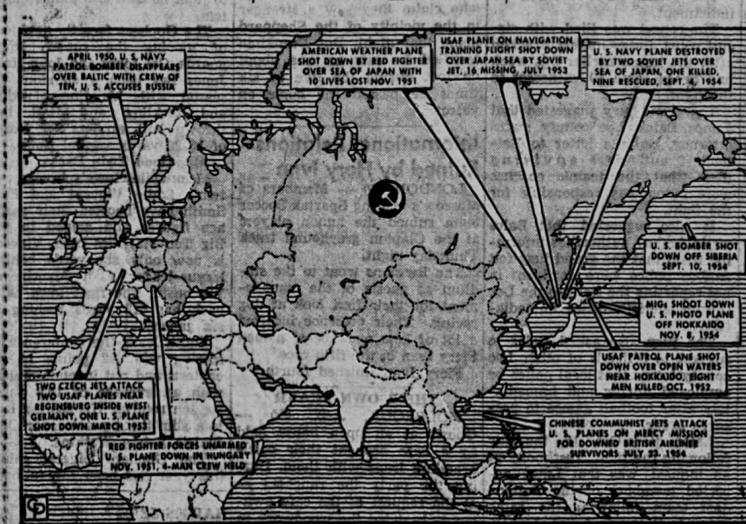

One of the longest strikes by the Soviets in their effort to build and launch a device that would be sent into space to revolve around the world like a tiny moon is believed to be a new rocket engine of tremendous power.

One report, still being studied, describes this engine as having a thrust, in the heavy atmosphere of sea level, of more than 260,000 pounds. That would be about five times the power of the rocket used to hurl the original German V2 into the stratosphere for flights to targets in England.

These same reports suggest that the Russian scientists, using a series of these engines in a multistage form, expect to be able to send an object so far out that it would reach the balancing point of gravity and go into a circling, never-ending path several hundred miles above the earth.

Nazi military scientists, and eventually the Russians, saw several outstanding military possibilities of using such a space platform as part of a weapon system.

The space-floating radar station is viewed by scientists here as the more probable first use for a satellite.

SHOOTING DOWN OF a U.S. photo plane off Hokkaido Nov. 7 by Soviet fighter planes is the latest in a long series of air attacks traced to Communist forces. This map locates 10 such attacks during the past 6 years. The toll in lives: 47 Americans killed or missing.

Fund Drive Started For Cold Research

NEW YORK (AP) — A drive was launched Wednesday to raise half a million dollars from industry for research on the cause and care of the common cold.

The appeal to industrial leaders was based on statistics which show that colds cost the American economy about five billion dollars a year — two billion in wages and three billion in production losses and medical expenses.

About 50 representatives of banks and large business firms attended a preliminary meeting to get the program going. It is sponsored by the Common Cold Foundation of New York.

Treasure Hunters Draw Armed Police Interest

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Two young boys rushed breathlessly into police headquarters with an ominous report.

On the outskirts of the city, they had stumbled upon two men digging a hole in the ground. One of the men pulled a gun and ordered them away. Armed policemen sped to the scene.

The men explained that they were looking for gold. One of them had seen the exact location of buried treasure in a dream. At last report, the treasure hunters had given up the search.

Foreign Students Enjoy International Center

By JUDY JACKSON

A world atlas, an empty coca cola bottle and a planted flower with two Japanese umbrellas stuck in the soil—these three objects on a table in the International Center tell its purpose as a "home away from home" for SUI's 174 foreign students. From the exchange of cultures, comes world understanding which leads to world unity. As an example of this, a girl from the Philippines arrived at the Iowa City train station one night in September, 1952, to find no one to meet her. After several weeks of no social contact outside her dormitory and class areas, she received a card inviting her to the newly-opened International center for a meeting of all foreign students. Contacts with Others As she attended this and later activities at the center, she talked and worked with others from her own country and other lands and in the process helped to originate the alternate Sunday cost suppers. "I broadened my ideas about people's thoughts and aspirations and discovered that generally they are the same all over the world," she said about her experiences.

What happened at the center to change this Filipino girl from the lonely figure at the station to someone who can talk of international brotherhood? As she entered the Center, the main bulletin board in the vestibule probably put her at ease immediately with its "Hi, come on in" message in 17 languages. Inside the house itself, she may have thumbed through any of the magazines from the "Atlantic Monthly" to "Cathedrals and Churches of France" or "Illustrated Weekly of India."

Kitchen, Record Room She may have wandered into the kitchen for a cup of coffee or into the record room to hear music of Latin America, Germany, Scandinavia, Russia, England, France, or even American jazz.

She may have joined the groups of students around the piano trying to learn a song of different land, or maybe she just sat in on some lively discussions. Chances are the subject under debate was not politics. "The center didn't begin with round table discussions," noted Mrs. Wallace Maner, hostess at the Center. "If we put too much emphasis on problems we would never go beyond them."

Informal Atmosphere This air of informality permeates all the activities at the center. The Homecoming festivities by foreign students did a lot, in an informal carefree way, to provoke thinking on world affairs.

Cries of "We know who made that country; it covers half the globe!" rang out during construction of the float, a globe, and speculation if the "world" would fall apart made an interesting pastime. Thus, by sticking crepe paper into chicken wire, foreign students learn to laugh at political differences. But what of the American student? Is he neglected entirely? Mrs. Maner commented that "We need an increasing number of sincere American students who would like to know about the world," but she also emphasized that in the International Center, the United States is just one of 44 countries represented.

Service to Iowa City Today, from its humble beginnings in the former dormitory at the southeast corner of Market and Capitol streets, in September, 1952, the Center serves Iowa City. Women's clubs and professional groups have made over 125 contacts through the center for foreign students to speak to their own groups. At the foot of the stairs in the Center is a plaque. It is the first thing seen when entering the house. It is entitled "The Universal Declaration of Human Rights," and begins "Whereas recognition of the inherent dignity of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world."

Wallace Maner, counselor and foreign students advisor, and Mrs. Maner, have done a lot to promote this recognition for foreign students.

Coeds Entertain at State Meet

Women's Athletic Convention To End

Representatives of 13 Iowa colleges are attending the annual fall convention of the Iowa athletic federation of college women at SUI. The convention began Friday evening and ends today. Convention members registered Friday night and saw demonstrations by members of Orchestras, modern dance group; Seals, honorary organization for women swimmers, and the Stunts and Tumbling club.

Following the play night activities a general session and a social hour was held. Sue McBride, A4, Waterloo, and Eloise Weir, A2, Davenport, were in charge of entertainment and refreshments.

This morning members will attend general sessions, group discussion meetings, and a social hour.

A luncheon will be held at 12:30 p.m. at the Iowa Memorial Union and convention reports are scheduled from 2 to 2:30 p.m. The convention will close with a final general session in the women's gymnasium at 2:30 p.m.

All out-of-town members of the convention are being housed at the Iowa Continuation center.

National Head To Visit Women's Pharmacy Group

Mrs. Robert Coghill, Lake Bluff, Ill., will visit members of Kappa Epsilon, national professional fraternity for women in pharmacy, this weekend.

Mrs. Coghill, who graduated from the SUI college of pharmacy in 1939, is the president of Kappa Epsilon. She is visiting all chapters in the United States prior to the national convention in April.

Sunday evening Mrs. J. W. Jones, Gamma chapter advisor, will entertain Mrs. Coghill at her home with a supper which will be attended by chapter members, alumnae, freshmen pharmacy women, and Dean Louis Zopf of the college of pharmacy and Mrs. Zopf.

SUI Items

COUNCIL OFFICERS

The Currier New Student Council elected officers Thursday evening. They will serve for one semester. Elected were Marcia Watson, A1, Clear Lake, president; Roberta Edgecombe, A1, Beirut, Lebanon, vice-president; Jane McIlrath, A1, Muscatine, secretary, and Sally Evans, D1, Clarksville, treasurer.

ALUMS TO MEET

The Delta Gamma alumnae club will hold a dinner meeting, Tuesday, at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Jess Williams, 733 S. Summer st. Serving as chairmen of the dinner are Mrs. Forest Evashevski, Mrs. Jean Baer, and Miss Mildred Jones.

NEWCOMER'S BRIDGE PARTY

A University Newcomer's club bridge party will be held Monday, at 7:30 p.m., in the University club rooms in the Iowa Memorial Union. Mrs. Herbert Hasenclever heads the committee and will be assisted by Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. Wayne Grant, Mrs. Albert Soucek, and Mrs. William Goodard.

TO VISIT SORORITY

Mrs. Adele Alfred, Coronata, Calif., will be a guest of Iowa Zeta chapter of Pi Beta Phi social sorority Sunday through Tuesday. Mrs. Alfred is the editor of the Arrow, the Pi Beta Phi magazine. After leaving the SUI campus she will travel to Wesleyan college.

Former SUI Student Spending Leave Here

Second Lt. Bernard T. Westfall is now spending a leave with his wife, who resides at 612 S. Clinton st. Westfall recently graduated from basic flying training at Webb Air Force Base, Big Springs, Tex. Upon graduation he was awarded the silver wings of a USAF jet pilot.

A major in physical education, he graduated from SUI in June, 1953. He was a member of the Dolphins and the gymnasium team.

Civic Music Group To Hear Opera Star

Mack Harrell, the distinguished Metropolitan Opera baritone, will give the first concert scheduled by the Iowa City Civic Music association this fall.

The concert, which will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in Macbride auditorium, also features Paul Berl at the piano.

Harrell, who is on a concert tour from coast to coast, will sing a total of 21 songs. Songs of England, France and Germany are featured on the program.

Featured at Met

Harrell was featured as leading baritone in Stravinsky's opera, "The Rake's Progress," at the Metropolitan last season. He has also appeared with the San Francisco, New York City and St. Louis opera companies.

Last season, he sang the title role in the Philharmonic-Symphony's world premier of Darius Milhaud's "Christophe Colomb," which was the major presentation of the New York orchestra's season.

Variety of Numbers

Some of the numbers Harrell will sing include "Flow My Tears" by John Dowland; "Evening Hymn" by Henry Purcell; "Sea Fever" by John Ireland; "La Grotte" by Claude Debussy; "Chanson a boire" by Maurice Ravel.

What college football teams competed for the trophy called the "Floyd of Rosedale?"—asked by a legion of Bulletin readers and sports fans of two continents.

"Floyd of Rosedale" is the name of a bronze statue of a prize hog which goes to the winner of the Iowa-Minnesota game.

The question was part of a sports quiz contest conducted by the magazine SPORT. Out of regard for the other fellow's show the answer was withheld here until the contest deadline passed.

Never was a needle so small hidden in such a big haystack.

For two months as the mail piled up we sparred with the breeze and missed each swing. Some queries were some GI's over-seas.

A sound reference book on football trophies was consulted. It played the field—all about the

Floyd of Rosedale Bringer of Peace

When Dr. Geiges goes down in that kind of hunt, it's time to call in the hounds.

Then came an anonymous tip that a man who "might" know something about it is Forest Evashevski, head coach at Iowa and renowned quarterback who blocked for Tom Harmon at Michigan.

Before we could get at Evy with a wire, it was suggested that any Iowa alumnus with a thread of old school tie in his rigging should know the answer—try the Bell Telephone personnel bureau—they're sure to have a Hawkeye in their nation-wide hook-up.

Miss Betty Cogger at the local Bell office said "will-do." The voice had a smile that could be seen over the phone.

In ten minutes there was a call from Pittsburgh—a company worker who said, "I hear you need an Iowa man. How can I help?"

When put to the Floyd of Rosedale question, he pleaded red faced.

"I went to Iowa," he said, "but I was only a G.I. student and maybe they didn't tell us those things."

Assured his face was no redder than ours, he was about to hang up when he did a double-take.

"Did you say Iowa U.—wrong number—I went to Iowa State. But hold still—we'll get you someone."

Almost as quick as you can drop a wooden dime in a pay phone the Voice with a Smile was on again.

"Do you have a pencil," she said. "Here goes."

And here she went:

In 1935 the governor of Minnesota and the governor of Iowa bet a live aristocratic hog on the outcome of the game. It was a diplomatic move to ease the tension between the Capulets and Montagues, that is, between Hawkeyes and Gophers.

When Bernie Bierman's Minnesota mighties did unto the Hawkeyes as they did to all opponents in 1935, Iowa Governor Herring escorted the hog to midfield and presented it to Minnesota Governor Olson.

Governor Olson ordered Floyd sculptured and henceforth the porcine objet de art was the trophy.

The hog's registered name was Floyd of Rosedale. He was full brother of Blue Boy, co-star with Will Rogers in the picture "State Fair."

The Voice and the Smile were gone.

Big 4 Finishes Season Today

MONTREAL (AP) — The Big Four Football union winds up its regular schedule Saturday with the way already paved for the opening of the playoffs next week in eastern Canada's top pro league.

The Toronto Argonauts tangle with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats and the Montreal Alouettes with the Ottawa Rough Riders with nothing at stake except the final win and lost records of each club. The Toronto-Hamilton game will be telecast in the United States (NBC) starting at 1 p.m. (CST).

The first place Alouettes will meet the second place Tiger-Cats in the two-game, total-points playoff starting in Hamilton Wednesday. The second game, to be shown on TV to U. S. viewers, will be played in Montreal next Saturday.

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Athletic commission Friday heard 21 witnesses in an inquiry into charges of alleged "blacklisting and discrimination" by the New York Boxing Managers guild against members of the recently formed Metropolitan Boxing alliance.

Members of the MBA claim they are being blacklisted because they are not members of the guild and refuse to pay $100 for each TV performance of a main event boxing card.

Hearing Continued

At the conclusion of more than six hours of testimony, the commission, with chairman Robert K. Christenberry presiding, ordered the inquiry continued until next Friday.

Matchmakers, promoters and managers were heard Friday. In addition 13 members of the alliance, mainly composed of managers, gave affidavits to the commission.

Manuel Robbins, attorney for the commission, asked the promoters and matchmakers whether the New York Boxing Managers Guild had exerted any influence to keep non-members and members of the MBA from getting any fights; whether anyone from the guild had asked them to confine their matches to guild members, and whether they had anything to do with paying a $100 television "donation" to the guild for each main event fighter on a TV program.

Blanket Denials

All but one made blanket denials. That was Tex Sullivan, matchmaker for the London Sporting club at St. Nicholas arena in New York.

Sullivan said in the case of some 19 of 52 main event fighters, he had checks for $100 made out to managers. He said the managers, most of them from California, had told him to make out checks to them for $100 and leave the checks with Gus D'Amato, collector for the guild.

The guild claims the $100 "donations" are voluntary and the money is used to pay the expenses of the organization.

OSU-Purdue Game Keys Big Ten Race

Michigan Takes Cross-Country Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan won its first title since 1922 and its second in conference history and Indiana's Jim Lambert took the individual crown Friday in the 40th Big Ten cross-country championship.

With Iowa's Rich Ferguson, who sought his third straight individual title, quitting with leg cramps, Lambert finished 80 yards ahead of Ohio State's Bob Coldren with a 19:59.6 clocking for the 4-mile event.

Favored Ferguson hobbled off the course during the final mile.

Wayne Everman was the only Iowa to place among the top 20 finishers. He came in 12th.

Although Michigan's top performer was fourth-finishing John Moule, the Wolverines had five finishers among the first 20 to compile their winning total of 55 points.

In the Central Collegiate conference cross-country meet, held immediately after the Big Ten run at Washington Park, Notre Dame easily dethroned Western Michigan with 29 points as Irish runner Will Squires triumphed in 20:16.3.

Second in the Big Ten team scoring was Michigan State, meet winner for the past three years, with 75 points. Other team scoring: Illinois 81, Indiana 87, Ohio State 89 and Wisconsin 95.

Iowa lacked a full team and did not figure in the scoring. Minnesota had four runners entered, but scratched from the meet, while Northwestern and Purdue also failed to compete.

In the Central Collegiate meet, Robert Soth of Drake was second and John Aller of the Bulldogs was seventh. Drake was third in the team standings with 91 points. Defending champion Western Michigan was second.

Major games are on tap from coast to coast, and there is a possibility a couple of bowl teams will be known before the sun sets Saturday.

Two teams leading the bowl scramble at the moment are Arkansas and Ohio State, and they have a couple of toughies barring the way. Ohio State, with an eye on the Pasadena Rose Bowl, plays upset-minded Purdue at LaFayette, Ind.

SMU at Arkansas

Southern Methodist invades Fayetteville, Ark., to meet the Razorbacks, who are leading the Southwest Conference race. All Arkansas needs is a tie to clinch a berth in the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl serap at Dallas.

Ohio State, No. 2 team in the country, could clinch the Big Ten title by beating Purdue, and with the aid of two big "ifs." Iowa would have to defeat Minnesota at Minneapolis and Michigan State beat Michigan at Ann Arbor.

Purdue could gum up the Big Ten works by taking unbeaten Ohio State, especially if Michigan and Minnesota should win. Each of the latter has lost one conference game.

Sooners Meet Missouri

In other major clashes, Oklahoma plays Missouri, North Carolina tackles Notre Dame, Georgia Tech has Alabama in the TV game, Auburn meets Georgia, Southern California plays Washington, while Navy and Army tune up for their big Nov. 27 clash by taking on Columbia and Pennsylvania, respectively.

UCLA, the nation's No. 1 team, has an open date this week awaiting its game with Southern California next Saturday. Southern California looms as the Pacific Coast entrant in the Rose Bowl regardless, since UCLA played there last time and can't go twice in a row.

Big Seven Muddled

The Big Seven situation still is obscure. The conference says Oklahoma, the likely champion again, can't repeat in the Miami Orange Bowl. But that won't prevent the Sooners from knocking Missouri cold, which would leave the way open for Kansas State, however, has beaten Nebraska.

The other Orange Bowl representative comes from the Atlantic Coast Conference, currently led by Maryland and Duke. Last Jan. 1 Maryland played at Miami, and the conference selects the best representative team.

Other major games Saturday: East-Calgate, Syracuse, Yale-Princeton, Rutgers-Penn State. Midwest — Wisconsin-Illinois, Indiana-Northwestern, Iowa State-Kansas State, Kansas-Oklahoma A&M.

South—Duke-Wake Forest, Clemson-Maryland, West Virginia-William and Mary, Florida-Tennessee.

Southwest—Rice-Texas A&M, Texas-Texas Christian. Far West—Colorado-Utah, Oregon State-California, San Jose State-Stanford, Marquette-College of Pacific.

blast between the tackles, operated best by Bob (Big Mac) McNamara.

Bob and his brother Dick are Minnesota's bread-and-butter backs. Bob, recently converted from right halfback to fullback, has a net of 525 yards this fall in 78 tries for 6.7 yards per carry. Dick has carried 31 times and has rolled up 122 yards for a 3.9 average.

The keen rivals appear to be evenly matched in respect to passing ability. Minnesota's quarterback Geno Cappelletti has completed 28 of 64 attempts for a percentage of 438 and 434 yards. Iowa's Jerry Reichow has pitched 49 times from his quarterback berth and has successfully connected 21 times for 240 yards and a 4.28 percentage.

Unless the Minnesota forwards find some way of budging the middle of the Iowa line, Iowa's 5 1/2-point favorite's edge should stand up. The Iowa line outweighs the Gopher line, 215-210.

Amid all the overtones generated by an old rivalry and Minnesota's bid for revenge, the game matches the Big Ten's two leading scorers in overall play, Bob McNamara and Smith. Both have scored 54 points in 7 games.

Army Halfback's Eligibility Studied

NEW YORK (AP) — Asa A. Bushnell, commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic conference, said Friday the eligibility of Tommy Bell, Army halfback, was being studied by appropriate committees of the ECAC and that a prompt decision could be expected.

It was discovered Thursday that Bell, who has averaged 11.59 yards a try from his right halfback post, was playing his fifth season with the Cadets, two of them as freshman.

Bushnell's office pointed out that both the military and naval academies had received permission to waive certain sections of the normal eligibility rules and that the Bell case required a special study.

Lt. Col. James T. L. Schwenk, graduate manager of athletics, said Army knew of Bell's status but felt the Cadets had not violated any rules.

ISC Cyclones Seek To End Wildcat's Orange Bowl Hopes

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) —

Kansas State's Wildcats, still hoping for an Orange Bowl berth, will meet the capable Iowa State Cyclones in a Big Seven football game before an expected Homecoming Day crowd of about 15,000.

Coach Bill Meek's Wildcats have a 2-2 conference record with Iowa State and Colorado yet to play. The K-State crew stands 6-2 for the season.

Iowa State will be completing its first season under the coaching of Vince DiFrancesca. The Cyclones have one league victory against four defeats and are 3-5 for the campaign.

The preference of halfbacks Corky Taylor, Bob Dahnke and Kenny Nesmith and superior reserve strength is expected to result in Kansas State's first Homecoming Day victory since 1944.

Iowa State will depend heavily upon the work of backs Max Burkett and Hank Philmon.

Injured Eagles Seek Giant Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "If we can beat the Giants Sunday," said Coach Jim Trimble of the National Football league's Philadelphia Eagles Friday, "then we deserve to win the eastern title."

The injury bugaboo has plagued the Eagles all week, both on the football field and the highway. The club lost Don Miller, defensive back, who dislocated an index finger in practice Thursday; and Norman Willey, defensive end, was badly shaken up in an automobile accident. Guard Frank Kilroy reported with a throat infection Friday.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten football race reaches its semifinal round Saturday with undefeated Ohio State's invasion of Purdue the key contest among three title significant games.

The Buckeyes, No. 2 in the Associated Press national poll, are a one-touchdown favorite to hurdle the Boilermakers and thus clinch at least a championship tie. Ohio State now leads the Big Ten with 5-0 and Michigan is second with 4-1.

An Ohio State triumph Saturday would require Michigan to conquer Michigan State in a toss-up battle before 97,000 at Ann Arbor, Mich., Saturday and then spill the Buckeyes at Columbus the following Saturday to create a final tie between the Bucks and Wolverines.

Iowa Game Important
Saturday's third important clash in the race for a Rose Bowl bid finds Minnesota (3-1) trying to keep its outside title chance against visiting Iowa (4-2), a six-point favorite.

The two other conference games send Wisconsin (3-2) to Illinois (0-4) and Indiana (1-3) to Northwestern (0-4). In major Midwestern independent play, Notre Dame is host to North Carolina and Marquette is at College of Pacific.

Ohio State, seeking its eighth straight victory of the season and sixth in the conference, actually is playing its most important game of the season against Purdue (2-2).

Dawson Threatens Bucks
If the Buckeyes can harness sharpshooting Len Dawson and whip the Boilermakers, they would, for Rose Bowl purposes, at least, have the situation well in hand regardless of the outcome against Michigan.

Under a revised Big Ten Rose Bowl selection method, if the season-ending poll of athletic directors ends in a tie, the first step in breaking the deadlock is to eliminate the last Bowl delegate. In this case presumably it would be Michigan which beat California 14-6 in the 1951 Bowl game, one year after Ohio State nipped California, 17-14, in the 1950 game.

Gophers Handicapped
Minnesota, although thumped by Michigan 34-0 Oct. 23 for its only defeat of the season, is handicapped by playing only six conference games, against seven each by Ohio State and Michigan. The Gophers close against Wisconsin a week from Saturday.

The Gophers can gain the title only if Michigan loses Saturday and Ohio State bows to Purdue and loses to, or ties Michigan, while Minnesota downs Iowa and Wisconsin.

$15,000 Player Price Tag Asked
NEW YORK (AP) — A proposal to pin a $15,000 price tag in the major league draft of minor league baseball players will be submitted to the winter baseball meetings.

A spokesman for Commissioner Ford Frick said Friday the proposal first was presented to the major leagues in July but was tabled to allow time for study. It was drafted by Frick's major-minor league committee.

42 Days 'Til Christmas

But Deadline Nears for Mailing Packages To U.S. Servicemen Overseas

Monday is the deadline for mailing overseas Christmas parcels. Packages with regular postage sent after this date will not be assured of holiday delivery by the postal department.

Air mail parcels sent overseas must be in the post office by Nov. 25, and air mail greeting cards should be sent before Dec. 1.

Mailing Suggestions

Early delivery is best assured, postal authorities say, by following these packaging instructions:

1. Crate gifts in wood, metal, fiberboard or other tough material to prevent breakage.
2. Tie packages with four sturdy cords, two lengthwise, and two crosswise. Tie them at the crossings to prevent slipping.
3. Print the address directly on the wrapping instead of on gummed labels which often slip off or become illegible.
4. Insert an extra address inside the package for double assurance that it will reach its destination.

U.S. currency should not be sent because postal regulations forbid its mailing outside the country. Postal authorities also advise against sending food-stuffs.

Gifts for Koreans

Korean children can still receive Christmas gifts from Iowa City citizens, according to Col. Walter E. Sewell, former professor and head of military science and tactics, now serving in Korea.

Packages should be mailed as soon as possible to Col. Walter

E. Sewell, 0396334, APO 7, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Sewell has suggested toys and clothing. "You can be sure these packages will contribute to the happiness of a great many unhappy children," he wrote.

The same postal regulations and suggestions apply to these packages as to the packages mailed to American civilians and military personnel overseas.

Chamber Considers Ray for Director

Prof. Robert F. Ray, director of the SUI institute of public affairs, is one of ten men nominated for three-year terms on the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Chamber members will elect five of the ten nominees, picked by a special committee of retiring board members and approved yesterday by the present board. Ballots will go out about Nov. 26 and are due two weeks later.

Other nominees include: Allan Arneson, department store manager; Ray Bywater, printing company executive; George Dane, grain dealer; A. B. Graham, dry cleaning firm proprietor.

Dr. E. W. Paulus, physician; Edward F. Rate, attorney; Harold J. Roberts, utility company executive; and Dr. Leland E. Stilwell, Veterans hospital manager.

Education Changes In Germany Cited

Where education is concerned, the old German idea that everything must be uniform is now breaking up, a German research director said Thursday at SUI.

Erich Hylla cited increasing local controls by cities and states, reduced tuitions in secondary schools and colleges, objective testing and exchange of ideas through Fulbright fellowships as some democratic influences on German education.

Hylla is director of the Institute for International Research in Education in Frankfurt, and author of the recent "Education in Germany — an Introduction to the Foreigner."

As German cities and states progressively lower their tuition rates, traditional class distinctions between students of tuition-charging institutions and those of free institutions are disappearing, Hylla said, noting that some parts of his country have even abolished tuitions.

Educational research aids the growth of democracy also, he continued, because testing bases student admissions and promotions on knowledge and aptitude rather than on social status and official opinion.

He said Americans sometimes ask why the Germans didn't create an entirely new system of education out of the chaos following the downfall of the Nazis. The answer, he said, is that "the educational system of a country is essentially a structure in the minds of men, not to be changed with a stroke of the pen."

World Federalists To Hear Speech By Group Founder

Atty. Robert Lee Humber, Greenville, N.C., and the Honorable Blair C. Wood, Waterloo, judge of the tenth judicial district of Iowa, will speak at a dinner meeting of the United World Federalists and their guests tonight at the Mayflower Inn.

Mr. Humber, joint founder and one time vice president of the United World Federalists, Inc., has long been a crusader for the achievement of a system of world-wide enforceable disarmament through the United Nations.

He is the author of the controversial "Humber Resolutions", calling for a system of armament control, and passed by sixteen state legislatures during the 1940's, largely as a result of his personal efforts.

Judge Wood has served three terms as Blackhawk county attorney. He has been practicing law in Waterloo since 1934, until his recent election to the district judgeship.

The United World Federalists, Inc., a national organization of 25,000 members, was formed in 1947 for the purpose of seeking such changes in the UN charter as will make it a more effective instrument for maintaining peace.

Iowa City members of the UWF, who will host tonight's dinner, are: the Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Dunnington; the Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Hendricksen; Prof. Frank R. Kennedy; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Mercer; Prof. and Mrs. Manford Kuhn; Mr. Leslie G. Moeller; Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Summerwill; Prof. and Mrs. Charles Tanford; and Mr. and Mrs. J. Newman Toomey.

2 Iowa City Streets To Be Resurfaced

A $9,643.50 resurfacing project on parts of Church street and Riverside drive is scheduled to begin Monday, Nov. 22, City Manager Peter F. Roan announced Friday.

Riverside drive will be resurfaced between Iowa avenue and highway 6. Resurfacing of Church street is planned between Dubuque and Linn streets. The surfacing material to be used is two-inch asphaltic concrete matting. Since both streets are state highway routes, the state will pay part of the cost.

Honorary Commission Lowers Ex-Navy Man

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Cornelius A. Brinkmann, state director of civil defense, has been made an honorary commodore in the Oklahoma navy — roughly equivalent to a Kentucky colonel.

Most people would consider this a promotion. However, Brinkmann retired from the U.S. navy in 1947, after 36 years of service, with the flag rank of rear admiral—one notch above commodore.

SUI Freshman To Get Scholarship

Alyce Jayne Venzke, A1, Iowa City, will receive the first scholarship and loan under the Educational Memorial Fund in honor of Kate Wickham Sunday at the dedication of the new Mark Twain school at 3 p.m.

The fund, established in honor of Miss Wickham and other teachers, will be used to assist graduates of Iowa City high school who plan to teach. Alyce said she hopes to teach high school English.

J. W. Maucker, president of Iowa State Teachers college will be the principal speaker at the dedication ceremonies.

Mathematicians Plan Joint Meet at SUI

A joint meeting of the American Mathematical Society (AMS) and the central region of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics (IMS) will be held at SUI Friday and Saturday, Nov. 26-27.

The midwestern AMS meeting will be one of three being held across the nation Nov. 26-27.

Speaker at the joint meeting will be Prof. Vaclav Hlavaty of Indiana university. At least 12 other mathematical papers will be presented at the two-day meeting.

Such subjects as sampling surveys, industrial statistics and the estimation of error in experiments will be discussed.

Social Workers Hear Seaman

Prof. Richard M. Seaman, of the SUI school of social work, spoke at a joint meeting of the eastern and western Iowa chapters of the American Association of Social Workers Friday morning in Des Moines.

Seaman discussed the development of a new national association for social workers which will consolidate existing professional organizations.

Groups to be represented in the new organization include social workers practicing general case work, community organization, medical and psychiatric work, group work and school social work and those doing research.

'Never Ending Frontier'

University Theatre Opens 1954 Fall Season With Surprise Ending Historical Production

By BILL BURGETT

There were 400 "first nights" at the University theatre Friday night, for the dramatic department's initial 1954 production, and they got something quite different from what they had expected.

The play, "Never Ending Frontier," is based on research and observation of numerous Iowa educators, and traces the history of Iowa's public schools from their inception to the present day system.

The first scene of the play is in 1830, and it, as is the one following in 1854, is done in semi-darkness, and constitutes the prologue for the production. The ensuing scenes are set in 1862, 1896, 1914-53 and 1954.

Much of the credit for the excellence of the production must go to the performances of three of the central characters, who appeared periodically throughout the evening as symbolic representations of progress and indifference.

These three were Lona McNutt, G. Emporia, Kan., Herman Schwenk, who represented hard working educators, and Gene Bristow, G. Iowa City, who symbolized the big enemy of the schools. All three did much to make the dialogue seem better than it was.

Good performances were also given by Ann Smiley, A4, Iowa City; Arthur Housman, G, Kirkwood, Mo.; Tari Lennon, A4, and Jerome Silberman, A4, both of Milwaukee, Wis. Technically, the production could not be improved upon. The lighting and costumes were uniformly good, and the sets, particularly that of a 1896 Victorian living room, were excellent.

The play was given for three performances as part of the Iowa State Teachers convention earlier this month and will be given four more times during this engagement.

An organ was used to provide interesting incidental music. The production was under the direction of Dr. E. C. Mable.

Ellis Island Closes After 62 Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Ellis Island, through whose portals some 20 million immigrants passed in 62 years, was closed Friday.

The last alien housed on the historic little isle in New York harbor came off at 10:15 a.m. and a few hours later the last load of furniture needed immediately by the Immigration Service also was ferried ashore.

The district immigration director, Edward J. Shaughnessy, announced:

"Business is closed. An "outside" date of Nov. 19 had been set for the closing.

All immigration activities have been consolidated at the district headquarters in mid-Manhattan occupied by the service a decade ago.

Ellis Island, once a picnic ground, then an arsenal, later a fort and finally the nation's busiest immigration station, fell victim to lack of business.

In its peak years in the early part of the century it channeled as many as 5,000 newcomers a day into the new world. To speed the tidal waves of humanity into the far corners of the country, there were as many as 20 railroad ticket agents on duty in the processing center.

Hoff Bound Over To Grand Jury

Charles Hoff, Oxford, Friday was bound over to the grand jury in justice C. J. Hutchinson's court on charges of child desertion.

Hoff was accused of deserting his three children last August in Oxford. He was returned from West Allis, Wis., to face the charges.

He is being held in Johnson county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Loses 18-Year Fight with Polio

PLUCKY FRED B. SNITE, JR., infantile paralysis victim who spent 18 years and 7 months in an iron lung, died Friday at Miami Beach, Fla. Snite, 44, married in 1939 and was the father of three children. This picture was made in 1950.

Polio Victim Dies After Spending 18 Years in Iron Lung

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Fred B. Snite Jr., polio victim who lived 18 years and 7 months in an iron lung, died Friday while here to participate in the Florida state bridge tournament.

American Medical Association spokesman said Snite lived longer under iron lung conditions than any other polio sufferer listed in their records.

Snite, 44, accompanied by his wife and two medical aides, came Thursday from his Miami Beach home for the first round of bridge. He failed to show up for Friday's round, and was found dead in his hotel room.

Apparently he had been taking a nap and died quietly in his sleep, still encased in the artificial respirator which kept him alive through the years. The machine was working normally.

Snite was stricken with complete paralysis at Peiping, China, in April, 1936, a few weeks before his 28th birthday. He lay near death in a Chinese hospital for months, then was taken home in Chicago in an iron lung. The cost of the trip was calculated at $50,000.

Since then he married and became the father of three children. His fortitude and good nature became an inspiration to thousands and his fame became world-wide.

Preps To Debate Free Trade Issue

Iowa high school debaters this year will take sides on the international controversy of free trade versus protective tariffs.

Their discussion of foreign trade policies will be a part of the Invitational Discussion and Legislative conference at Iowa City Dec. 10-11. Exact phrasing of the debate proposition will not be announced until Jan. 1 following the national meeting of high school forensic leagues.

The Iowa High School Forensic league also sponsors such speech activities as student senate, current event speaking, original oratory, radio and television speaking and interpretative reading. Final enrollment date in the league is Dec. 1.

Chairman of the League's executive committee is Hugh F. Seabury, head of speech education at University high school. Committee members include Prof. emeritus A. Craig Baird of the speech department; Edward C. Mable, head of the speech department; Dean Bruce E. Mahan of the university extension division; Bufrod W. Garner, Iowa City superintendent of schools, and Clifford Beem, Mason City junior college dean.

Vishinski Tells Of Atom Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinski said Friday Moscow would like to take part in President Eisenhower's "Atoms-for-Peace" program — but on conditions so far fought by the West.

The Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister told the U.N. Assembly's political committee that the proposed international atomic agency suggested by the United States and its atomic allies should be inside the United Nations and subject to the security council.

The Eisenhower plan, as endorsed by Britain, France, Canada, Belgium, South Africa and Australia, envisions the creation of the international agency of the U.N., with a loose tie to the world organization.

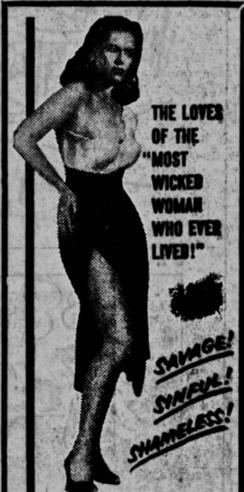

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief American delegate, replied briefly to Vishinski. For the first time, he told the committee that the United States never has said the agency should not be linked to the security council. He stressed, however, that the United States was anxious to avoid getting the atomic agency tangled up in the veto.

Arthritis Manuals Given SUI, Mercy

A supply of manuals written for nurses who work with patients suffering from arthritis and related disorders was presented yesterday to the SUI college of nursing and to the school of nursing at Mercy hospital.

The manuals were prepared and presented by the arthritis and rheumatism foundation.

Dr. William D. Paul, chairman of the medical and scientific committee of the foundation's Iowa chapter and professor of internal medicine in SUI's college of medicine, made the presentation.

Iowa Students Hear Liberal Arts Praised

A group of Iowa pre-medical college students were told Friday that they can do themselves "a grave injustice" if they concentrate in the scientific studies to the exclusion of studies in other fields.

Pres. Russell D. Cole of Cornell college in Mount Vernon voiced this warning at a pre-medical conference held by the SUI college of medicine.

President Cole spoke on a panel with Pres. Virgil M. Hancher and Dr. Russell Meyers, professor of neurosurgery at the university. Their topic was "A Liberal Education in Preparation for a Medical Education and Practice."

It probably is true, Dr. Cole said, that students who have concentrated only in the scientific studies "exhibit considerable mastery in the crucial first year" of medicine.

But "the record, I believe, indicates that those who have the breadth of liberal education may soon pass those who have tended too early to become specialized," he added.

The educator told the audience of more than 130 college students and their advisors that "a physician, in addition to being professionally competent, must be a cultured person who can hold his own and command the respect of leaders in every phase of human activity."

Dr. W. W. Morris, assistant dean for medical student affairs at SUI, said the purpose of the meetings is "to help pre-medical students in all Iowa colleges to make the best possible preparation for their medical career."

Other SUI speakers on the day-long program were Dr. Norman B. Nelson, dean of the college of medicine; Ted McCarrel, registrar; Dr. Roger Porter, professor and head of bacteriology; Dr. Walter R. Ingram, professor and head of anatomy; and Dr. Jack Davies, associate professor of anatomy.

Richard M. Caplan, M4, Des Moines, spoke on "A Look Back at Pre-Medical Studies"; Edward R. Duffie, Jr., M4, Des Moines, spoke on "What Medical School is Like"; and David L. McClenahan, M4, Council Bluffs addressed the group on "A Look Forward to a Medical Career."

Awarded Gold in Return for Uranium

FOR RESEARCH in the large scale production of uranium and in other rare metals Dr. Harley A. Wilhelm, right, was awarded a gold medal in Iowa City Friday night by the Iowa section of the American Chemical Society. Wilhelm is associate director of the Institute for Atomic Research at Iowa State college. Robert S. Case represents the society in the seventh annual award given in recognition of meritorious achievement in research to an outstanding chemist or chemical engineer of the state.

Demos Would Welcome Dulles Appointee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic senators said Friday they would welcome the appointment by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of a Democratic adviser if that action is a forerunner of increased consultation on foreign policy.

Associates of Dulles said earlier that he is prepared to name a Democratic consultant if leaders of the opposing party suggest a qualified man. Dulles himself served in such an advisory role with former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and other Democratic officials.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.), a member of the senate foreign relations committee, said it would be a "proper step."

"The real way for the administration to get cooperation is to invite the Democrats in and ask their advice before police decisions are made, not just to notify them before it is publicly announced that a decision has been reached," Fulbright added.

French Premier Promises All-Out Force in Algeria

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Mendes-France promised the National Assembly Friday he would send all the forces necessary to put down guerrilla rebellions in Algeria. The Assembly responded with a 312-272 vote of approval for his policy.

Mendes-France declared that France would never permit the secession of Algeria, which under the constitution is a part of metropolitan France.

Interior Minister Francois Mitterand had announced earlier that 16 companies of armed police — 3,200 to 4,000 men — had been dispatched to the North African department of France within three days after the nationalist revolt broke out on Nov. 1.

He declined to disclose the number of troops there now, but tanks, planes and paratroopers are in the force that is engaged in trying to mop up the guerrillas along the Tunisian border.
