

23 Mental Inmates Revolt In Trenton

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Twenty-three insane criminals, including mass killer Howard Unruh, rioted Monday for two hours at the New Jersey State Hospital for the Insane.

Unruh, described by officials as a disinterested participant, was committed to the hospital five years ago after he killed 13 persons in a shooting spree at Camden.

The naked, cold and wet rioters filed out of the dining hall where they had barricaded themselves after Atty. Gen. Grover C. Richman Jr. and U.S. District Judge Phillip Forman talked to an inmate in whose sympathy the outbreak was staged.

Attendant Held Prisoner

Dr. Harold Magee, hospital director, said a "hard core of five inmates" started the riot at dinner time, wrecking chairs and tables and eventually setting some of them on fire.

Magee said he doubted Unruh was a willing participant but said the killer had an opportunity to leave the dining room with some 280 other inmates.

The inmates held 54-year-old attendant Earl Hubbard prisoner in the dining hall of the room detention building during the riot. Magee said Hubbard was held by the arms by two inmates while others hit him. Hubbard suffered head injuries.

Several Injured

Five other attendants were hurt when they smashed windows and jumped 12 feet to a courtyard below the dining hall.

Magee said the riot started when 303 of the inmates were in the dining hall for their evening meal.

The hospital director said most of the patients wanted to get out of the dining hall.

Five attendants slammed the door of the dining hall shut and then released the prisoner-patients who wanted to leave one at a time.

Riot over Grievance

Magee said 11 attendants were still in the dining room and 10 of them led 40 patients out by smashing windows and jumping to the courtyard. Hubbard was grabbed by the patients and did not get out until they were ready to end the riot.

Dr. F. Lovell Bixby, acting commissioner of institutions and agencies, said the cause of the riot was apparently a grievance held by Thomas Fletcher, a 50-year-old patient.

He said Fletcher had been complaining that he was unjustly committed on a charge of sending threatening letters.

Prisoners Appeased

Richman and Forman, who is president of the hospital's board of managers, then spoke to Fletcher within sight of the 23 still in the dining hall.

Fletcher was among those who got out of the dining hall soon after the riot started.

The conversation with Fletcher seemed to appease the prisoners and they agreed to come out. They were ordered to strip. Then they were released, one at a time.

Police Say Widow Killed 5 Husbands

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The smile that wreathed Mrs. Nannie Doss' plump face through cheerful confessions that she poisoned four of her five husbands vanished Monday at her arraignment on a murder charge.

The 49-year-old grandmother stood solemnly in common pleas court as Judge Lloyd H. McGuire read the information accusing her of the death of her fifth spouse, appointed a defense attorney and ordered her jailed without bond.

Her attorney, Gordon Patten, indicated Mrs. Doss' defense against the charge she murdered Samuel Doss, 58-year-old Tulsa, who died Oct. 6, probably will be based on an insanity claim.

The chatty, merry widow signed statements yesterday admitting she put liquid rat poison in the food and drink of Doss, who she said, was "mean" and "got on my nerves." She admitted killing three previous mates the same way.

Interrogators, who have said at least four other persons once closely associated with the defendant died strange deaths, quoted the gum-chewing Mrs. Doss after her last confession as saying: "You can dig up all the other graves in the world but won't find anything else on me."

Churchill Is 80 Today

Friends' Attempts To Slow Him Down Fail; He Likes To Keep Them Guessing

EDITOR'S NOTE: No man alive has played a more active part in the history of our times than Sir Winston Churchill. Still he gives no hint of planning to retire. In fact, Britain's grand old man, after almost three score years in public life, has some big plans for the future. Here's an up-to-date portrait of a man who has won most of the world's great honors on his 80th birthday.

By JAMES F. KING

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill approached his 80th birthday today restless, impish and unpredictable as ever.

Age has dealt gently with The Old Man and if he has any immediate intention of retiring as Britain's Prime Minister, he has not confided it to his closest political associates.

He enjoys keeping them guessing.

Lady Churchill, his doctor and a few intimate cronies have tried to slow him down where the passing years have failed.

Difficult Patient

They have a difficult patient. He shuffles when he walks—but then he always did; he slouches and growls a lot—but then he always has; he is stubborn—but he always was.

Britons are chuckling over this story going the rounds:

A group of Conservative friends hinted diplomatically to The Old Man that perhaps he should take it easier and give Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden his chance now to succeed him as prime minister.

Churchill listened patiently and then grumbled with a twinkle in his eyes: "Maybe you are right. After all, Anthony can't live forever."

Eden is 57.

Hold His Own in Debate

Churchill can still hold his own in the daily skirmishing in the House of Commons.

Slightly deaf, he wears a hearing aid that he can turn off when he wants to—and often does.

And sometimes The Old Man is inclined to wander in debate. But he's still quick on the comeback when the occasion demands it.

Growing old is something Churchill has always treated lightly. He once quipped, "I am ready to meet my Maker; whether my Maker is prepared for the great ordeal of meeting me is another matter."

Agitation For Retirement

Agitation for Churchill to retire because of his age can be heard in Britain—but heard openly only from opposition Laborite quarters.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, in a public opinion poll of all parties, found 51 per cent of the people want him to stay as prime minister, 43 per cent think he is too old, and 6 per cent are undecided.

Churchill has made it plain

Molotov Calls For Eastern Military Bloc

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov called Monday for a formal Eastern military bloc including East Germany to counter the system of the alliance the West is building up.

Molotov addressed the opening session of the Communists' European collective security conference. Soviet officials had invited 25 countries, but the Western Powers turned down the bid.

Delegations of seven Communist-ruled European countries and six of the Soviet Union's republics showed up, along with observers from Red China.

Paris Agreements 'Dangerous'

The Soviet foreign minister declared that recent events and the possible ratification of the Paris agreements to rearm West Germany have led to a "perilous course, dangerous for peace" in Europe.

He called on the countries represented at the Moscow conference to "consolidate their forces and considerably strengthen them in case the Paris agreements are ratified," adding: "It is necessary that we duly carry out the preparation of such defense measures as will strengthen our defenses, in accordance with the needs of the present moment."

Prevent German Revival

"I. By all means prevent a revival of German militarism which unleashed the first and second World Wars and at last get down to the business of settling the German question on the basis of an agreement between the four powers (Russia, Britain, France and the United States) which have the main responsibility for insuring the peace and security of Europe."

2. Create a system of collective security in Europe with the participation of all states interested in the preservation of peace and security, irrespective of their social systems, and also discuss existing Soviet proposals as well as those which might be presented by other countries."

Molotov declared these two points are closely interconnected and do not conflict with anyone's interest. However, the Western powers already have turned them down in previous forms.

Red China Blockade Ruled Out by Dulles

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Monday night the United States will act "vigorously" to maintain peace in Asia but he ruled out for the present any naval or air blockade of Red China.

Dulles told 1,200 farm youths and their adult leaders at the 4-H Club annual congress that America's greatest contribution to peace "is to be ready to fight, if need be."

"That does not mean being truculent or provocative or militaristic," he said.

Remain Vigilant

The secretary pledged the United States will "look anxiously for signs of real change in the attitude of international Communists." But he said the United States would not be fooled by any trickery in words like "co-existence" and would remain vigilant in the interests of "the common defense."

The secretary spoke out in what the state department said in advance was a major foreign policy speech.

His statement ruling out any naval and air blockade of the Red China mainland came on the heels of a suggestion by Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California that a tight blockade be clamped on the coast of Red China.

Dulles noted that Russian Communists appeared to be talking more softly, lately. But, he said, "The Chinese Communists have talked and acted with increasing violence."

Break Agreements

The Chinese Reds "break their armistice agreements and they outrage the elemental decencies of international conduct," Dulles said.

His text did not specify that he was here talking of the imprisonment of the 13 Americans, but he had used similar language in notes to the Chinese Communists on the subject.

His speech continued: "Perhaps international communism is trying by a new way to divide the free nations. They seek to be soothing in Europe. They are provocative in Asia. . . . What has happened is a challenge to us, and indeed to all who want peace, to find ways, consistent with peace, to sustain international rights and those of our citizens, rather than now resorting to war action such as a naval and air blockade of Red China."

President Eisenhower talked over the speech with Dulles before the President went to Augusta, Ga., for the Thanksgiving weekend. The White House staff at Augusta, in last minute consultations with Dulles by telephone Monday, was reported to

Plan To Vote On Proposal Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) won senate agreement Monday night to wind up debate and start voting Wednesday on the question of censuring him.

Sen. William Langer (R-N.D.) blocked the move for a while, but withdrew his objection after earnest appeals on the senate floor by Republican and Democratic leaders—as well as by McCarthy and his supporters.

The action came after McCarthy, his right arm in a sling, dramatically offered to withdraw any "discourteous and offensive" language of the kind that led to the filing of censure charges against him.

Refuses To Reverse Opinions

At the same time the Wisconsin senator refused to back down an inch from the views and actions reflected in those words of his.

"In the facts and opinions that I held, I am unchanged," declared McCarthy, a slow-gaited figure of apparent weariness as the resumed debate on the censure charges dragged through an all afternoon and early evening session.

The final agreement to limit debate was sponsored jointly by GOP Leader William F. Knowland of California and Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

Provisions of Agreement

It provides:

1. Debating time will be divided equally between those favoring and those opposing the McCarthy censure resolution starting at 9 a.m. (Iowa time) Tuesday. Knowland and Johnson set the job of apportioning the time among those who want to speak.
2. The senate will "proceed to vote" at 2 p.m. (Iowa time) Wednesday.
3. Before any actual voting takes place, however, there will be more, but strictly limited debate—a total of 60 minutes for each amendment or motion, a total of four hours for each substitute motion.

Substitute Measure

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) announced he will have ready a complete substitute for the censure resolution submitted by the Watkins committee and later broadened to rebuke McCarthy for attacking the Watkins committee itself. This is the special bipartisan committee headed by Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah), appointed to investigate charges of unbecoming conduct against McCarthy.

McCarthy himself continued to take the position his opponents have lined up enough votes to censure him regardless of what else happens.

His supporters plainly hoped McCarthy's statement Monday, in which he said he never intended to hurt anybody's feelings in spite of the "extremely blunt" remarks he has made, would brighten chances for a compromise on the censure questions.

John Foster Dulles Major Policy Talk

have worked on the issue of what to do about the imprisonment of the 13 Americans.

Eisenhower has promised to do everything he can by peaceful means, and may speak out in more detail later this week.

Reds Mass Along Coast

TACHEN ISLANDS (AP)—The Chinese Communists have 200,000 troops threatening Chiang Kai-shek's offshore islands, a briefing officer told visiting news cameramen Monday.

They are part of the 600,000 soldiers which the Reds have deployed in coastal areas of Chekiang and Fukien provinces, close to the string of Nationalist offshore islands.

Forces in this northern area, he added, were backed up by 65,000 tons of naval craft and 403 planes, including 185 MIG jets and 55 twin-engine Russian built TU bombers.

Outpost islands near the Tachens are being bombarded by Red artillery. And at least one hostile submarine contact has been made in Tachen's waters.

The briefing officer spoke for Lt. Gen. Liu Lien-yi, tough, cocksure commander of all Nationalist islands off Chekiang Province.

Nationalist troops in the Tachens are tough and amazingly cheerful.

The Tachens have few landing sites for a possible Red invasion force. If the Nationalists fight as they vow to do, the invasion would be a pretty costly business.

The briefing officer described the Tachens, which are 14 miles off the Red China coast, as "an advance base" for both Formosa and the U.S. base island of Okinawa, which lies about 375 miles to the east.

From the Tachens, the Nationalists watch Communist air and sea movements and alert Formosa. The islands are valuable for infiltration to the mainland and could be used for a springboard for attack.

Application forms may be picked up at the registrar's office.

STORES TO REMAIN OPEN

For the convenience of Iowa City shoppers, stores here will be open until 9 p.m. every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evening until Christmas, beginning this Saturday. Stores will also remain open until 9 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 23, their last open night before Christmas.

One Way To Keep Warm

WHEN SUI STUDENTS went to their early morning classes Monday, they found the temperature in the low 20's. Most of them just buttoned up their collars and braved the cold. But Leonard Lamar, A1, Mason City, left, and Lynn Losen, A3, Mason City, found a way to keep warm. Between classes they built a small fire near Schaeffer hall to warm their hands.

Sheppard Not Injured, Says Trial Witness

CLEVELAND (AP)—A physician who examined Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard after his wife's murder testified Monday the osteopath showed no signs of serious injury—such as a broken neck or an injured spine.

Instead, Dr. Richard Hexter, a general practitioner, said Sheppard's pulse, respiration and blood pressure were normal last July 4 after he claims a stranger killed his pregnant wife, Marilyn, and twice knocked him unconscious.

Dr. Sheppard wore a neck brace for weeks after the murder and said his neck was painfully injured.

Cross-Examination

Defense Atty. William J. Corrigan, in a slashing, two-hour cross-examination, tried at one point to get Hexter and members of the jury to give themselves rabbit punches. He showed them how, cracking himself firmly but not dangerously at the base of the skull.

However, this experiment was blocked by state objections.

Corrigan was trying to demonstrate that a rabbit punch—a sharp blow with the side of the hand to the base of the skull—is one of the most dangerous blows the human body can sustain.

Told of Prowler

It was such a blow, Sheppard maintains, that a bushy-haired prowler used on him after murdering Marilyn.

However, the state says the 30-year-old osteopath himself beat his 31-year-old wife to death in her bed after a quarrel over his love affairs with other women. Dr. Sheppard now is in the seventh week of a first-degree murder trial for his life.

DZ's in Dumps; Lost Orchids

Delta Zeta sorority today needs an inexpensive campaign idea for its Miss SUI queen candidate.

Until Monday night the house planned to use 400 Hawaiian orchids worth $200 in the campaign for its candidate, who will be announced along with 21 others tonight at a beauty pageant in the Iowa Memorial Union.

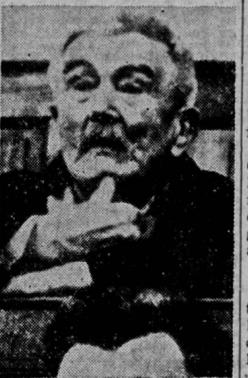

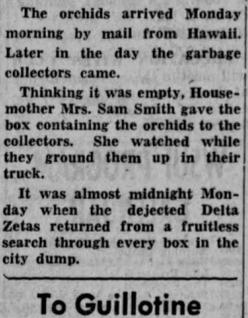

The orchids arrived Monday morning by mail from Hawaii. Later in the day the garbage collectors came.

Thinking it was empty, Housemother Mrs. Sam Smith gave the box containing the orchids to the collectors. She watched while they ground them up in their truck.

It was almost midnight Monday when the dejected Delta Zetas returned from a fruitless search through every box in the city dump.

To Guillotine

GASTON DOMINICI, 77, French farmer, has been sentenced to death on the guillotine for the murder of a British family, Sir Jack and Lady Drummond and their daughter, Elizabeth, 11. After 11 days of trial, a seven-man French jury found him guilty of the crime which shocked Europe in 1952.

Interrogators, who have said at least four other persons once closely associated with the defendant died strange deaths, quoted the gum-chewing Mrs. Doss after her last confession as saying: "You can dig up all the other graves in the world but won't find anything else on me."

Council To Decide Wednesday on Rates

The Iowa City council will make its decision on the electric rate issue Wednesday, Mayor Leroy Mercer said Monday night.

The decision will be made at a special meeting at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the council chambers at city hall.

Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric company is asking the council for a 14.3 per cent raise in electric rates. John Bauer, rate consultant hired by the council, said only a 5.5 per cent raise would be justified.

"We went over both the Bauer and company reports thoroughly tonight," Mercer said after a closed council meeting Monday night. "Wednesday we'll decide definitely one way or the other."

Iowa-Illinois last week suggested that the council grant the 14.3 per cent hike and take the issue to court for a decision.

TO THE EDITOR:
Gordon Gammack in Thursday's Des Moines Tribune said it was University of Iowa students who booted one of the Iowa players at the Iowa-Notre Dame game, which I attended.

That was news to me, for I had thought the booging was by a group of feeble-minded children. (Perhaps it really was at that.)
Why can't some kids grow up intellectually as well as physically.

TO THE EDITOR:
After reading "my" letter in Wednesday's Iowan I was not at all surprised to receive Mr. Bledsoe's answering broadside in Thursday's Iowan. Mr. Bledsoe, I feel it is my duty to inform you that you are fighting with shadows. My letter was so butchered by the Iowan editors that any resemblance to my original meaning was purely coincidental. Now I will try and summarize what I said in my first letter and hope I get across to you this time.

1. The SUI fans were not firmly behind the team. Many of them seemed to feel a higher loyalty for Notre Dame.
2. There was a lot of ethyl alcohol consumed by the students in the stands.
3. The Notre Dame team seemed to be more worked-up about last year's tie than our own team. This was utterly incomprehensible to me. Surely Iowa was the injured party last year.

Obnoxious Holding
4. As I recall, Iowa was not penalized twice for infraction of any one rule, but Notre Dame was penalized at least four times for illegal use of the hands. That convinced me that those guys were holding methodically and skillfully throughout the game. This is all the more obnoxious when you consider that it probably wasn't even necessary.
5. Notre Dame makes no secret of the fact that it considers victory the most important thing in football. Before the Iowa game a Notre Dame official was quoted that "We don't go for that saying 'May the best team win.' We want to win." Obviously in a fairly played game the best team will win. What this official was saying was that Notre Dame wanted to win even if they didn't have the best team. The only possible interpretation is that Notre Dame intended to win, by fair means or foul. The basic concept of sports is that they teach men how to win and how to lose. Every sportsman, whether hunter, fisherman or athlete, knows that he will lose some of the time. Only the criminal and bully take it for granted that they will always win. Losing will never hurt Iowa but winning (or trying) may hurt Notre Dame.

I have just a few words for the editor. Your idea of editing seems to be the elimination of all extreme or inflammatory opinions. Win, lose, or draw, this is my last letter to The Daily Iowan. From now on I will limit my output to the Des Moines Register, whose editor seems to have at least near-normal intelligence and ability.

TO THE EDITOR:
Perhaps I'm being a little over-sophisticated; perhaps I'm too long a student at the State University, but I felt genuinely concerned over what seemed representative student conduct last Saturday (Nov. 20).

The occasion of course was the rather pronounced beating of the Hawkeyes at the hands of Notre Dame. As an afterthought two features stand out uncomfortably.
One was the radical change in spirit of the Iowa team; as if it were a reflection of the like shiftness in the emotion of the student fans, alternating between mob-like fanaticism and the whining self-righteousness of a spoiled kid being punished. The team would suddenly be charged up; then fade listlessly when things as suddenly didn't go according to plan or as had been expected.
Notre Dame Confidence
The other feature was the cool confidence and precision-like efficiency of the Notre Dame team, an apt counterpart to the attitude of the Notre Dame fans: "We Don't Give a Damn for the Whole State of Iowa — We're from Notre Dame."

In short, Notre Dame whipped Iowa at will. The Hawkeye players, in contrast, appeared to not have a will of their own. They seemed too hooked up with the emotions and expectations of the fans. They acted both inspired and uninspired, accordingly, it seemed, as the fans had spirit, lacked spirit, or exemplified incredible disappointment and just plain disgust.

Iowa Immaturity
Perhaps it was a difference between Notre Dame's football maturity and Iowa's immaturity. In the case of the former, the Irish were a "team within a team"; they were their own support and source of confidence. The Iowa players, on the other hand, had no such self-support and confidence. All season long, they were playing to the grand stands, to the tremendous pressure built up by publicity, by the sudden and great renown engendered by their boy-wonder coach, and by their sensational if sporadic play the past two seasons.

And that is just the ticket — "sensational if sporadic." That is just the way Iowa fans display themselves. Their enthusiasm and love for their team is sensational, if sporadic. It would seem that their very existence is dependent on the fortune of the same team they are theoretically supporting through thick and thin.

Notre Dame Tradition
But I wonder if the reverse isn't the truth also. The team is all too dependent on the emotional expectations of the fans, when these shift quickly yet decisively — with the slightest mishap by a team member. Love turns into hate, wild affection into morbid disgust with the mere direction of the ball reversed in midfield. Consequently, the team as a whole does not as yet have that independent self-confidence which comes as a kind of heritage, from a tradition of having great teams, as in the case of Notre Dame.

Iowa hasn't yet come into its own — the team members are riding on a synthetic balloon which sails up and down like the thunderous roar and deafening moan of a gigantic fanmill. Still we have our memories — and they are great; the potentiality is there; the wonderful ability and team spirit has been demonstrated; we have a great coach, inspiring leadership — if only the fans would grow up, the team could level off, stabilize near enough to its zenith to avoid so many heart-breaking defeats. Iowa fans were sufficed this season.

Working Both Sides of the Street?

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS JR.

The new Formosa defense treaty now being worked out by the United States and the Chinese Nationalists fits into the Eisenhower-Dulles policy announced some time ago of letting the Red bloc know in advance, when it begins pressure on a particular front, what the American reaction will be.

The United States already is committed by gentlemen's agreement to defend Formosa. This has been announced policy ever since the 7th fleet was thrown between the Nationalist redoubt and the mainland when Red China intervened in the Korean war.

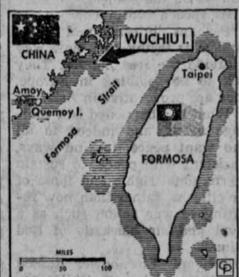

That was done primarily to prevent any action which would add Formosa to the American defense burden at that time. The policy has been referred to repeatedly since Peiping stepped up its propaganda campaign of promises to capture Formosa.

The treaty now being worked out serves to formalize the notice to Red China that the policy still stands.

It will also free Chinese forces and their sympathizers. It will serve notice that, regardless of differences of opinion between Britain and the United States, the United States will not back down.

A particular point is being made of the fact that while the United States is ready to commit itself to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores, it is not yet announcing what it will do about other Nationalist-held offshore islands. Some of them presumably will be defended as part of the Formosan defenses, some not.

The United States joined in connection with Korea that to limit her field of action publicly is to invite trouble.

MAP LOCATES Formosa and surrounding islands that remain in question in the Formosan defense treaty. The U.S., already committed by gentlemen's agreement to defend Formosa, has not yet announced what it will do about the other Chinese Nationalist-held islands offshore, such as Wuchui, scene of a reputed Chinese Communist landing attempt, according to the Nationalist defense ministry.

Union Board Sponsors SUI Drawing Contest

The best drawing or sketch of a familiar campus scene will win $10 in a contest sponsored by the Iowa Memorial Union board.

The contest is open to all SUI undergraduate students and entries may be submitted until Friday. Presentation of the awards will be made during the intermission of the Union Christmas party Thursday, Dec. 16.

The drawings may be on any type paper less than 12 inches by 15 inches. Each entry should have the entrant's name, address, classification and major field of study clearly stated on the back. Titles may be given to the sketches.

Entries will be judged by three members of the faculty of the school of art. First, second, and third place awards will be made in each of two divisions: students majoring in art and those not majoring in art.

1954 Polio Total 2d Highest, '52 Still Tops

DES MOINES (AP) — It's beginning to appear that polio cases in Iowa may reach the second highest totals in history this year.

But the State Health Department says the total won't even come close to the all-time record of 3,564 cases, set in 1952.

Up to Nov. 20, there had been 1,381 cases reported to the State Health Department this year. That's only 18 fewer than in all of 1950, the second worst year for the state so far.

The number of new cases reported is declining each week. But with five weeks still to go — and since there always are a few delayed reports to be added at the end of the year — the department says there's a chance this year's figures may top the 1950 statistics.

Hope For Decrease

There's hope for some decrease in polio over the nation next year, if the new Salk vaccine, tested widely last spring, turns out to be effective. The nation chalked up the third heaviest polio toll on record this year.

But Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, says that even if the Salk vaccine is completely effective, a small decrease is the best that can be hoped for.

He listed these three reasons:

- 1. The amount of vaccine available will be sufficient for only a "small percentage" of the most susceptible age groups.

Public Acceptance
2. New inoculation programs take a while to be accepted by the public.

3. There will be too little time between the federal licensing of the vaccine — assuming that it will be licensed — and the beginning of the polio season.

Through the second week in November, 36,220 polio cases had been recorded in the nation, and National Foundation estimates are that the figure will climb to 40,000 by year's end.

NFIP Gambles

To get a running start if the reports on the Salk vaccine are favorable, the NFIP has gambled nine million dollars on enough vaccine to inoculate nine million persons.

If the report is favorable, the vaccine will be given free of charge to a selective group. This includes all those who participated in the field tests last spring who didn't receive the actual vaccine but were instead members of a "control group" who received, instead, a harmless substance known to be ineffective against polio.

About 5,000 Iowa school children participated in the tests. Half of these were in the control group and will receive the free shots if the vaccine lives up to the hopes doctors hold for it.

Pica Poles and Pastepots, The Role They Play In The Iowan Newsroom

By DRAKE MABRY

There are two items in the Iowan newsroom without which it would seem impossible to get the paper out five nights a week.

They are pica poles and paste pots. Insignificant, yes, but their necessity is pointed up every night as one staff member or another accuses other staff members of walking off with their pica poles or paste pots.

A pica pole is a ruler, usually of stainless steel, that is marked off with the printer's measure of pica. It is used for determining how much space a story will occupy in the paper, ripping stories off the associated press machine, opening stubborn drawers, threatening reporters and stirring coffee in the wee hours of the morning.

You can see how essential a pica pole is. Especially to stir coffee. Why, think how many fingers were burned in steaming coffee before some bright soul invented the pica pole.

The pica pole and the paste pot are bosom companions when it comes to editing a story. For instance, if the editor decides that part of a story should be closer to the lead paragraph he simply tears that part out of the story and pastes it nearer the top of the story.

This action takes place approximately 69 times a night. Ask any editor.

Paste is also responsible for any daily exercise of "that man" in the northeast corner of the newsroom known as editor. One of his daily duties is a tour of the newsroom ripping pretty pictures off the walls, put there with the help of paste and one of the more esthetic members of The Daily Iowan family.

And occasionally, when the clock on the south wall is nearing 6 p.m., the deadline for city stories, a reporter will look up and see a paste pot sailing directly toward his noggin as the city editor attempts to attract his attention to the deadline.

So it goes with the pica poles and paste pots. Chances are if you see some character with a tired gaunt look on his face running around in the college of commerce in University hall, it will be a former Iowan staffer who lost his pica pole and paste pot and couldn't afford to replace them.

Such is the fate of forgetful Iowan staffers.

Satin Covered Glove Box

Make Glove Boxes for Christmas Gifts

Satin covered boxes for women to store their gloves and hankies make Christmas gifts that are convenient and useful.

Materials
Materials to make this ribbon covered case include 3/4 yard of 1 1/2 woven edge red satin ribbon; 3 inches of 1 1/2 woven edge black satin ribbon; 2 inches of width No. 3 woven edge black satin ribbon; 2 yards of 5 inch woven edge green taffeta ribbon, five tiny black buttons and three small white powder puffs. Heavy cardboard, cotton batting and paste are also needed.

Cardboard for the box should be cut as follows:
8 1/2 inches by 4 1/2 inches for the base; 8 1/2 inches by 5 inches for the cover; 8 1/2 inches by 2 1/2 inches for the sides, and 2 1/2 inches by 2 1/2 inches for the ends. Two side and end pieces should be cut.

Cut Strips
An 18 inch strip of ribbon should be cut for the base, an 18 inch strip for the cover; 9 1/2 inch strip for the sides, and a 6 inch strip for the end. Two side and end strips should be cut.
Paste a thin layer of cotton batting on both sides of each strip of cardboard, except the base.

Cover the cardboard base, sides and ends by folding the ribbon for each piece over it, turning in raw edges, and slip-stitching all edges in place.

Stitch Ribbon
Stitch 18 inches of the No. 1 1/2 red satin ribbon to one edge of the ribbon strip for the cover. Cover the cardboard cover in the same manner.

Assemble the box by stitching ends and sides to base. Catch-stitch the four top corners together.

Attach Cover
Attach the cover by stitching to either side piece, leaving the satin edge as the cover's front edge.

Pin puffs to the top of the cover, forming a snowman. Pin on buttons and the bow made from the remaining red ribbon. Slip-stitch black ribbons in place to form a hat, turning in the raw edges.

Men's Hat Styles Show New Shape, Charcoal Tones

There's big news in hat styles for men this winter. For the first time in many seasons there appear to be real changes in men's headwear.

Take color, for example — everything is charcoal-toned. Charcoal brown, charcoal green and charcoal are all handsome colors that harmonize perfectly with the charcoal shades now so popular in men's clothing.

New Shapes
Then, consider hat shapes. Crowns are lower and tapered and brims are narrower than before.

Hat bands are different this year. Hats are generally smaller and the band has been widened. The dark colored hats need a bit of color accent, so lighter toned bands are called for. The "continental" hat band is gaining favor rapidly. This is the band with the traditional bow at back-center instead of at the side of the hat.

Varied Weights
Dress hats and sports styles are made in both light and heavier weights, each designed to serve a different purpose. Varied finishes bring out the rich texture of felts in new ways. Elegant custom-edge models, which are hand-crafted, supply a highly desirable finish to the well-dressed man's ensemble.

Many men are more conscious of the need for a hat wardrobe and now they can choose a whole wardrobe of hats in a variety of weights as well as colors and finishes. Men, like women, now have a wider variety of clothes, and they need hats for loafing as well as for dress.

LOBSTER TAILS
Huge rock lobster tails, taken from New Zealand waters, are being split, frozen, glazed and sent to American markets. These "splits" may be boiled and used in salads or other lobster dishes, or they may be broiled and used for individual servings. After broiling or broiling, the solid lobster meat is easily lifted from the shell.

She will be at the Hotel Jefferson to answer questions concerning the Army Women's Medical Specialist corps.

Lieutenant Lentz points out there are more positions available in both military and civilian hospitals than there are trained women to fill them.

Courses in dietetic internship, physical therapy, occupational therapy and an occupational therapy clinical affiliation are offered to college graduates.

These training programs are approved by the American Medical Association and the respective professional associations. Selectees for the training courses are commissioned as second lieutenants and receive the same pay and allowances as other Army officers of the same grade.

Top with a little mayonnaise and garnish as desired. Sliced hard-cooked egg and capers make a pretty garnish; so do small radish roses.

DECEMBER AND MAY: ACT II

Synopsis of Act I: A middle-aged English Professor named Phipps has fallen desperately in love with a rosy-kneed coed named McFetridge. Phipps doesn't know how to go about courting Miss McFetridge, for, after all, he is a professor in the autumn of his life, and she is a coed with rosy knees. Professor Twonkey, who shares an office with Phipps, proposes the following plan: Phipps will ask Miss McFetridge to come to his office for a conference late in the afternoon. He will be urbane and charming and make frightfully witty remarks about English lit, and Miss McFetridge will laugh and laugh. After an hour of this high-type hilarity, Phipps will look at his watch, exclaim at the lateness of the hour, and insist on driving Miss McFetridge home. On the way home, he will pass a theatre that shows French movies. They'll see the movie, then have an exquisite French dinner, and Miss McFetridge will be so enchanted that she cannot but yield to his suit.

So at the beginning of Act II, we find Phipps in his office awaiting the arrival of the poor young innocent. His hair is brushed; his nails are clean; he has new leather patches on his elbows. There is a knock on the door. He opens it and admits a gorgeous creature with blue eyes and pink kneecaps.

PHIPPS: Ah, Miss McFetridge. Come in, my dear. Won't you sit down? Cigarette?

MISS MCF: Ooh, Philip Morris! I think they're marvy, don't you?

PHIPPS: I do indeed.

MISS MCF: Hey, prof, would you mind opening a fresh pack?

PHIPPS: But I just opened this one a little while ago. It's perfectly fresh.

MISS MCF: I know, prof, but I like to hear the snap when the pack opens.

PHIPPS: Very well, my dear.

(He opens a fresh snap-open pack of Philip Morris. Miss McFetridge claps her hands delightedly when she hears the snap.)

MISS MCF: Hey, that fractures me! Man, I flip when I hear that crazy snap! Do another one.

PHIPPS: All right.

(He snaps open another pack of Philip Morris.)

MISS MCF: (Ecstatically) Isn't that the living, breathing end? Do two at once.

PHIPPS: Well, if you insist...

(He does two at once)

MISS MCF: More! More!

PHIPPS: I'm afraid that's all I have.

MISS MCF: Oh... Well, what's up, prof? What did you want to see me about?

PHIPPS: Oh, nothing in particular. Just wanted to have a little chat, find out how you're enjoying the Shakespeare lectures.

MISS MCF: I don't know, prof. By me Shakespeare is strictly a square.

PHIPPS: Indeed? Well, I must say I find your attitude refreshing. One is so inclined toward slavish admiration when it comes to the Bard. People forget that in many quarters Shakespeare is regarded quite critically. Take, for example, the opinion of Shaw.

MISS MCF: Artie?

PHIPPS: George Bernard... You know, of course, his famous words.

MISS MCF: I sure don't, dad.

PHIPPS: Shaw said he would like to dig up Shakespeare and throw stones at him.

MISS MCF: Did he dig him?

PHIPPS: No, I don't believe so.

MISS MCF: I don't dig him either.

PHIPPS: (Looking at watch) Good heavens, I had no idea it was so late. Come, my dear, I'll drive you home.

MISS MCF: No, thanks. I always walk home. It's good for the circulation in your legs. I got the best circulation in my legs of the whole sophomore class. Ever notice how rosy my knees are?

PHIPPS: As a matter of fact, yes... Look, you sure you don't want a ride home? There's an excellent French movie on the way.

MISS MCF: Not me, dad. I hate French pictures. The sub-titles always disappear before I can read 'em. But if you want to go to the movies, there's a new Tony Curtis picture downtown — a real g-buster. Tony plays this beggar, see, but he's really a prince only he doesn't know it on account of his sneaky uncle who switched babies when Tony got born. Then Tony finds this magic lamp, see, and he gets into the palace where he meets this crazy girl, only she's engaged to the fake prince, but then they have this mad sword fight, and Tony licks about a million guys, and then he finds out he's the prince and it's real crazy. Wanna go? I've only seen it three or four times.

PHIPPS: As a matter of fact, I just remembered a previous engagement. Sorry.

MISS MCF: That's all right. Thanks for the Philip Morris. 'Bye.

(Exit Miss McFetridge. For a moment Phipps sits in stunned silence, mopping his brow. Then a smile appears on his face. He is a happy man again — out of love. Contentedly he lights up a Philip Morris.)

Denver Gets A.A. Ball Club

HOUSTON (AP) — The New York Yankees Monday sold their American association franchise to Denver in the first chain reaction to the shift of the Philadelphia A's to Kansas City.

Although no sale price was announced, the asking figures had been $100,000. It was reported the Yanks settled for something less than that figure.

Bob Howsam, Denver general manager and a son-in-law of Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) who is president of the Western league, will operate the club under a working agreement with the Yankees who will provide the players and manager. The Yanks owned the Kansas City franchise in the association but stepped aside for Arnold Johnson and the A's.

The definite move by the Yanks who no longer own any triple A franchise should break the log jam in the minors, dating back to the involved Philadelphia A's story.

Now that Denver is graduating from class A to class triple A, the Western must grab a city, possibly from some other league.

The St. Louis Cardinals apparently voted against the move because they had hoped to move their association franchise from Columbus, Ohio, to Omaha, another Western league city. Only one city could be drafted by the association to make up for the loss of its territory to the majors.

The Yanks and Cardinals failed to reach an agreement to let the Yanks' farm club play in Columbus with the Cards moving to Omaha.

With Denver in the association, the league will have some long hops. It is about 1,800 miles from Denver to Charleston, W. Va. and about 1,200 to Louisville.

Des Moines' State Tourney Hopes Gain

DES MOINES (AP) — Prospects for holding the state boys and girls basketball tournaments in the Veterans Memorial auditorium here next March were strengthened Monday.

Horace S. Strong, auditorium general manager, said the auditorium commission met Monday morning and approved contracts for a portable basketball floor and temporary bleachers seating 3,300 persons.

Strong said the floor is to be delivered and ready for use by Feb. 15, and the bleachers are promised for delivery by Jan. 24.

Uncertainty about the availability of the floor and temporary seats has been one of the last barriers toward holding the state tournaments in the new $5,250,000 auditorium.

Lyle T. Quinn, executive secretary of the Iowa high school athletic association, stated the boys tournament will be held in the auditorium if the building and its facilities are finished in time.

Informed of the delivery dates on the floor and bleachers, Quinn said Monday: "It sounds fine."

Quinn said the IHSAA still doesn't have a contract to play in Des Moines next Mar. 17-19, but isn't worried about contract terms — only about availability of the facilities.

"It appears now that the floor and bleachers will be delivered in time if nothing unforeseen happens," he said.

The Iowa Girls' high school athletic union, which is strongly considering Des Moines as the site, also has been cautious over availability of the auditorium facilities. Its tournament is next Mar. 1-5.

Strong has made repeated assurances that the auditorium will "definitely be ready" for both events.

With the 8,300 temporary bleachers, the auditorium will seat 15,500 for basketball games.

Iowa Stars Earn Shrine Game Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — A pair of Iowa football players—fullback George (Binkey) Broeder and guard John Hall were named Monday to the East team for the annual East-West senior charity game by William Coffman, managing director.

The stocky 187-pound Broeder time after time for four seasons inspired the Hawks with his thrusts through and over the line. His Iowa teammates voted him captain of this year's team and described him as the "players' player."

Hall made himself an unwelcome nuisance to Iowa's rivals. His favorite stopping place was the opponents' backfield where he threw the ball carrier for huge losses on several occasions.

Three Notre Dame players—quarterback Ralph Guglielmi, end Dan Shannon and halfback Joe Heap—were also selected for the East-West contest.

The game will be played in San Francisco Jan. 1 and the receipts, less expenses, go to a Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children. Coffman estimated that this year's gift to the hospital would approximate $250,000.

Coffman, here to confer with Eastern coaches, said four more players would be added to the Eastern squad.

The East squad includes backs Guglielmi and Heap; Leroy Bolden, Michigan State; Ron Drzewiecki, Marquette; Bob McNamara, Minnesota; and Broeder.

Ends—Shannon and John Kerr, Purdue; tackles—Arthur Walker, Michigan; Ronald Geyer, Michigan; guards—Tom Bettis, Purdue; Henry Bullough, Michigan State; Jan Smid, Illinois; and Hall and center John Damore, North-western.

Iowa Cage Tickets Sold Out for Indiana

Iowa athletic ticket manager Buzz Graham announced the first basketball ticket sellout for the 1954-55 season Monday.

All tickets are sold for the Hawks game with defending Big Ten champion Indiana, February 12.

Graham also warned that the supplies of tickets for the Minnesota and Illinois games, January 8 and 17, are dwindling.

Tickets for Iowa home games are $2 each and may be ordered from the Iowa athletic department.

TO REVIEW TV PLAN

CHICAGO (AP) — Reviewing operations of the 1954 restricted football television plan will be the main item of business for the National Collegiate Athletic association TV committee in a two-day meeting here starting Tuesday.

Ohio State Tops Final Football Poll for 'Champions'; UCLA 2d

NEW YORK (AP) — Rose Bowl bound Ohio State Monday was named as the 1954 national collegiate football champion and winner of the O'Donnell Memorial trophy.

In the final Associated Press ranking poll of the season, the nation's sports writers and broadcasters, casting a record-breaking ballot, named the Buckeyes by a slim margin over UCLA's Bruins of 3,670 points to 3,594.

These two unbeaten teams had made it a race all through the closing weeks of the season, with Ohio State slipping ahead two weeks ago and holding on to the finish.

Oklahoma, the only other major team to finish the season unbeaten and untied, finished a strong third, the position it had held since mid-season.

A total of 408 votes were cast in the season's final ranking poll and exactly half of them listed Ohio State first. UCLA drew 133 first place votes. But the point score on the usual basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for second etc., made it even closer.

The previous record vote was 376 ballots cast in last year's final AP poll, when Maryland edged out Notre Dame for the national championship.

Ohio State, as Big Ten conference champion, will play Southern California, runnerup in the Pacific Coast conference, in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day. UCLA, winning its second straight Pacific Coast title, is ineligible to return to the Rose Bowl. Southern California placed 17th in the final ranking Oklahoma, perennial Big Seven champion, also is ineligible for a bowl game, having played in the Orange Bowl last New Year's Day.

Behind the unbeaten big three in the final ranking came Notre Dame, Navy, Mississippi, Army, Maryland, Wisconsin and Arkansas, in order, to complete the first 10.

The leading teams with first place votes and won-lost records in parentheses:

1. Ohio State (9-0)	3,670
2. UCLA (10-0)	3,594
3. Oklahoma (8-0)	3,115
4. Notre Dame (9-0)	2,611
5. Navy (4-0)	2,273
6. Mississippi (6-0)	1,536
7. Army (7-2)	1,469
8. Maryland (4-1)	941
9. Wisconsin (7-3)	925
10. Arkansas (4-2)	816
11. Miami Fla. (7-1)	453
12. West Virginia (2-8-1)	332
13. Auburn (1-7-3)	233
14. Duke (7-2-1)	168
15. Michigan (6-3)	156
16. Virginia Tech (8-0-1)	153
17. Southern California (8-3)	127
18. Baylor (7-3)	122
19. Rice (7-3)	73
20. Penn State (7-3)	65

Grid Squad Names Jones '55 Captain

DAVENPORT (AP) — Calvin Jones, all-Big Ten guard from Steubenville, Ohio, Monday night was elected captain of the Iowa football team for 1955.

Jones was elected at a dinner for the football squad here. About 300 persons, including the entire football squad and newspaper, radio and television men, attended.

President Virgil M. Hancher's annual award for the player who contributed most to the team's practice sessions went to Lou Matykiewicz, second string end.

Lawson Hawks' Most Valuable

Iowa's 1954 football team has selected Warren (Bud) Lawson as the Hawks' most valuable player.

From his linebacking spot the senior center provided a rude jolt for ball carriers fortunate enough to get past the Iowa line. By intercepting three passes, he tied for second place in the Big Ten for that honor.

Lawson 6-1 and 206-pounder from Fairfield is the first Iowa center to be named as most valuable since Bill Biehl won the award in 1941.

The Chicago Tribune will consider him for its annual silver football award to be given to the player judged most valuable in the Big Ten.

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
NEW YORK — Iowa's Calvin Jones heads a seven player Big Ten contingent named to the 1954 Look magazine All-American football team.

Iowa's rock-wall guard thus added his fourth 1954 All-American recognition to the long list of honors he has earned in his second year of Hawk varsity football.

Jones, aptly described by opponents as one of the fiercest men in football is one of 22 college gridgers to be selected for this honor by the 750-member Football Writers Association of America.

Wisconsin fullback Alan Ameche was a unanimous choice and the only repeater from last year's team. Other Big Ten players chosen were halfbacks Howard Cassady, Ohio State and Bob McNamara, Minnesota; end Dean Dugger, Ohio State; tackle Art Walker, Michigan; and guard Tom Bettis, Purdue.

The Look All-American selection was originated by the late Grantland Rice and chosen without his assistance this year for the first time.

Twenty-two men are chosen and equally ranked on this selection, because the writers concluded there are "just too many top-ranking football players in the country for anyone to single out eleven of them."

The 1954 Look selections:
ENDS: Ron Beagle, Navy; Max Boydston, Oklahoma; Dugger; and Frank McDonald, Miami.

TACKLES: Bill Brooks, Arkansas; Sid Fournet, Louisiana State; Darris McCord, Tennessee; and Walker.
GUARDS: Jones; Frank Mincevich, South Carolina; Bettis; and Jim Salsbury, UCLA.

CENTERS: Kurt Burris, Oklahoma; Hal Easterwood, Mississippi State.

BACKS: Ameche; Tommy Bell, Army; Cassady; Bob Davenport, UCLA; Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame; Paul Larson, California; McNamara; and Dick Moegle, Rice.

Each team in the American Hockey league plays 64 games, equally divided home and away.

On the Proposed Rate, Electricity Would Still Cost LESS IN IOWA CITY than in any other city in Iowa of 20,000 or more!

Varsity Downs Fresh, 102-51, in Warmup

Coach Frank (Bucky) O'Connor emptied the bench Monday night to equalize the competition but the Hawkeye varsity basketball team still piled up a 102-51 score in beating a scrappy freshman team.

Guard Roy Johnson was high scorer for the varsity with 15 points. He was followed closely by center Bill Logan and forward Deacon Davis with 13 each. Forward Tom Payne, from Quincy, Ill., led the freshman scorers with 13.

Bob Clifton, in charge of the freshmen, started the game with Payne and Norman (Doc) Paul at forwards, Peer Hegg at center and Gregg Schroeder and Jim McConnell at guards.

The same varsity lineup started the game Monday night as O'Connor was using so successfully late last season. Bill Schoof and Carl Cain were the forwards, Logan at center and Sharm Scheurman and Bill Seaberg the guards.

Cain dropped in seven points with three field goals and a free throw. Schoof added two field goals and Scheurman added a pair of free throws to give the varsity an advantage of 13-0 before the frosh found the range.

Guard Gregg Schroeder then tallied from the field for the freshman to break the ice.

The freshmen never got a good start. O'Connor ran in a whole new team and Deacon Davis, Roy Johnson and Dick Ritter went on a scoring binge to give the varsity boys a 41-8 edge. Then the third varsity lineup came in shortly before halftime.

The freshmen managed to score point for point with the third varsity group and the score at halftime was 47-14.

The freshmen came back after the intermission and scored three quick points on a field goal and free throw before the varsity got started again.

The freshmen never threatened but they did manage to make it a more even game in the second half, being outscored only 55-37.

O'Connor expressed disappointment after the scrimmage at the poor opposition put up by the freshmen in preparing the Hawkeyes for their opener Wednesday night against Washington university of St. Louis.

He added that he felt the varsity cagers are in good condition, however, and that they all reported for practice in good condition.

Annual Osage Open-House Gives Foreign Students A Look At U.S. Holiday

THREE OSAGE RESIDENTS, Gerhard Gopleurd, Dr. G. L. Horton and the Rev. Hugh Wright, chat informally with Mr. and Mrs. Michel Hug, right, of Paris, France, Wednesday night. Two-year-old John Hug appears disinterested in the conversation.

EILEEN CASEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Casey of Osage, enjoys the music of Mrs. Satyavaty Char of India. Mrs. Char is playing a beena, one of the most ancient musical instruments of India. The students explained many of their native customs while getting a first-hand look at the traditional U.S. holiday of Thanksgiving.

MRS. SATYAVATY CHAR, of India, hands her hostess, Mrs. Joe Casey a token of appreciation as Joe Casey, Osage attorney, and another Thanksgiving house guest of the Casey's, Annette Lebasire, of France, look on.

Town Welcomes 40 SUI Students For International Thanksgiving

By MARION SHAPIRO

About 40 SUI students who live too far away to go home for Thanksgiving were welcomed last week into the hearts and homes of a score of families around Osage.

The occasion was the fifth annual International Thanksgiving weekend at Osage where foreign students from SUI are house guests for the holiday.

Treated Like Family
"I had the best time of my life," said Mario Basbaum, A2, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. "It was the first time I had ever been on a farm. I helped milk the cows and feed the pigs. The people treated me just like one of the family," he said.

Mrs. Satyavaty Char, G, Bombay, India, another of the group to visit Osage, said that the whole weekend was just wonderful. Mrs. Char said the people of Osage made her feel just as though she had gone home.

The Osage International weekend was begun as a means of introducing a few foreign students to the most typical American holiday.

Program Started in 1950
It was started in 1950 when a university junior, Joyce Horton of Osage, asked her fellow townspeople by means of a letter in the local newspaper whether they would be willing to take a few students into their homes to let them see how Americans celebrate their traditional holiday.

The townspeople must have liked Joyce's idea, for ever since 1950 they have opened their homes to the foreign students over the Thanksgiving vacation. Twelve students traveled to Osage the first year and each year the number has grown.

The foreign students left for Osage Wednesday on a bus chartered by the townspeople. They were welcomed with a dinner that night and then met the families with whom they would spend the holiday.

Thanksgiving day the foreign guests went to church with their hosts to join in giving thanks for another bountiful year. The day was climaxed by the traditional Thanksgiving dinner, turkey with all the trimmings. Thursday night station KGLO-TV at Mason City televised a program featuring some of the student visitors.

Friday the guests were taken on tours of local points of interest. That night the students described the customs and conditions of their native lands in an open forum.

And so went the weekend of international living. Osage is no longer the only community opening its homes to foreign students. The "Osage idea" is now being practiced in other parts of Iowa and in several other states. News of it has been spread to nations throughout the world by the U.S. department of state's Voice of America and information services.

Salvation Army Holds Special Week

Emil Trott, Iowa City service unit chairman, said Monday that no special local plans have been made to commemorate Salvation Army week, which began Monday and runs through Friday.

Although many Iowa City households have been visited by the Salvation Army trucks, Iowa City does not have a headquarters. The trucks go to headquarters in Cedar Rapids and Davenport.

Trott said that the Salvation Army men's social service centers located in 132 cities throughout the United States, have a double value, the salvage of material and the salvage of men. They provide work for the unemployed and a home for the homeless.

The Salvation Army was organized seventy-five years ago in New York city and since then its effects have been felt in every city in the country.

Court Recessed For Wilson Rites

Funeral services were held Monday at 1:30 p.m. for Edwin B. Wilson, 81, retired Iowa City attorney who died Friday.

District Judge Harold D. Evans, who was a law partner of Wilson for 14 years, recessed Johnson county district court Monday afternoon for the funeral. About 20 local attorneys were among those attending the services.

Wilson died in his home at 631 E. College st., after a lingering illness.

A lifelong resident of Iowa City, he graduated from the SUI college of law in 1897 and practiced law here until retirement in 1941.

Wilson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Margaret W. Layton, Sioux City, and an adopted daughter, Lottie Clifford of Iowa City. There are also two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

His wife Rita and a son Stewart, preceded him in death.

Sentenced to Life Imprisonment

MRS. LORRAINE EATON CLARK, 28, is shown leaving court after she was sentenced to life imprisonment in the shooting death of her husband. The mother of three pleaded guilty to second-degree murder.

Wife Admits Killing Mate

SALEM, Mass. (AP)—Lorraine Eaton Clark, 28, Amesbury mother of three young children, went to prison under mandatory life sentence Monday after pleading guilty to second degree murder in the slaying of her husband, Melvin W. Clark Jr., 29, an electronics factory night worker.

The slender, attractive brunette, whose eyes glistened with tears at mention of her children during brief Essex county superior court proceedings, was taken to the women's reformatory at Sherborn-Framingham. She will be eligible for parole in 15 years.

Mrs. Clark had been indicted for first degree murder which is punishable by death unless the jury recommends life imprisonment. She had pleaded innocent at a recent arraignment but answered "guilty in the second degree" 2 hours and 16 minutes after her trial opened.

Acceptance of the plea to the lesser charge was urged upon Judge Charles Fairhurst by Dist. Atty. Hugh A. Gregg.

Mrs. Clark's three children, Marlene, 8, Sally, 7, and Michael, 5, have been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eaton of Amesbury, since her arrest.

Clark's body, bearing two bullet wounds in the head and two stab wounds in the chest, was found seven weeks after he disappeared on the April 10-11 Palm Sunday weekend. Gregg said Mrs. Clark admitted killing her husband at their Lake Attitash home, Amesbury, and then disposing of his body by thrusting it from a bridge into the Merrimack river. It was washed up on a salt marsh and was spotted by a woman bird watcher on June 2.

C. Francis Leary, sole defense counsel, quoted Mrs. Clark as saying that in deciding not to fight the first degree charge she wanted to protect her children and their grandparents from further notoriety.

Gregg told the court, in submitting a copy of a 3 1/2 page confession by Mrs. Clark, that he would not go "into detail here . . . because it will serve no purpose."

Too Lurid
Gregg, in past expressions, had labeled the statement by Mrs. Clark as "too lurid" to be disclosed publicly.

The surprise ending of the case left undisclosed the motive for the slaying, but Gregg had quoted Mrs. Clark as saying her husband left home after a quarrel. And in a divorce suit filed while her husband was listed as missing—before his body was found—she charged him with cruel and abusive treatment.

Dystrophy Drive Gifts Continue
About $2,200 has been collected by Iowa City firemen for the Muscular Dystrophy fund drive, it was reported Monday.

The firemen, who are making the collections this year, have set the $3,600 collected last year by Iowa City post-office employees as their goal.

The Iowa City drive, which was scheduled to end today, will continue until all houses have been canvassed.

HONESTY PROVES COSTLY
PLACERVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Honesty proved costly to deer hunter Glen Roach. He shot a spiked buck, not legal game. Roach reported the incident and was fined $50.

Churchill—

that when he steps down in favor of Eden it will be at his choosing. He told the Conservative party conference in October:

Settle Affairs Privately
"We shall settle our affairs in the future between ourselves, governed only by what we believe to be the greatest interest of the public service and also the high fortunes of our party."

A week later he shook up his government ministers with the emphasis on youth — a job he normally would have left to Eden if any changeover in the premiership was imminent.

And to silence all speculation Churchill called a Commonwealth Prime Ministers conference in London for Jan. 31, 1955.

Great Parliamentarian
Eden calls Churchill "the greatest man in the world today." A Socialist lawmaker, Frank McLeavy, while acknowledging political differences with him, says "it is everywhere admitted that Sir Winston is the greatest parliamentarian of our day."

Churchill is a maverick in politics — and always has been. He took over leadership of the Conservative party during World War II at the head of a coalition government and some die-hard Tories have never regarded him as one of them.

Keeps Rule in Family

Churchill's autocratic rule has led some of the younger Conservative backbenchers to grumble. A few object privately to his keeping the inner circle within the family. Eden is married to Churchill's niece; one son-in-law, Duncan Sandys, is minister of housing; another, Capt. Christopher Soames, is his private parliamentary secretary.

Over and again he has said the "last prize" he seeks is lasting world peace. As an elder world statesman — a role he loves — Churchill is determined to make another dramatic attempt to secure it.

Wants Talk With Malenkov
Uppermost in his mind, according to friends, is the idea for a blunt talking, face-to-face meeting with Soviet Premier Malenkov when the time is ripe.

A year ago a shock left him partially paralyzed, but he shows no after effects and is as active as before. He gave up his usual vacation this summer and took over additional duties of running the Foreign Office when Eden was abroad on diplomatic missions.

Increased Reliance on Wife
Age has increased Churchill's reliance on his beautiful wife, Clementine. They recently celebrated their 46th wedding anniversary, and whenever possible she is by his side at all official functions.

Sir Winston likes comfort and good living in the Victorian style. Especially he prides himself as a connoisseur of good food and drink. Champagne is regular with meals; brandy afterwards.

Churchill has said, "I have been brought up and trained to have the utmost contempt for people who get drunk."

His own capacity is legendary — and he jokes about it.

Sips Scotch and Soda
At his desk, he often has a scotch and soda — American style with ice — by his elbow to sip.

Every weekend, and any other time possible, he slips away to Chartwell — away from 10 Downing street — to live the life of a typical English country gentleman.

A faithful companion everywhere the Prime Minister goes is Rufus, his pet poodle.

Some of Churchill's nine grandchildren usually are playing around the grounds when grandpa is at Chartwell.

Paints For Relaxation
No longer able to engage in the more vigorous hobbies of his younger days — polo, bricklaying and chopping down trees — Churchill has turned more to painting for relaxation. And he prides himself as a painter.

Of course, Churchill is always busy writing. Writing, however, has been more than a hobby with Churchill. His facile pen has been one of the chief sources of his income from the time when, as a young man, he paid his own way in the Boer war by becoming a soldier-war correspondent.

Awarded Nobel Prize
He was awarded the Nobel prize for literature last year.

Retirement by the fireside would never fit the Churchill temperament. During the recent visit of Japanese Premier Yoshida he confided an urge to ravel more.

Churchill is a comparatively wealthy man — money he earned himself largely through his writings rather than any inheritance. And the bulk of it has been accumulated since the war. His memoirs on World War II are estimated to have netted him close to a million dollars.

Whatever his intentions for the future, Britons never expect Sir Winston to retire from the limelight.

Army Plans Court Trial For Major

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP) — The Army announced Monday that Maj. Ambrose H. Nugent of Merrill, Wis., will be tried by a general court-martial for alleged traitorous acts while a prisoner of war in North Korea.

The decision to convene a general court-martial was made by Maj. Gen. Edward T. Williams, commanding general of the Ft. Sill Artillery Center.

No date has been set for the trial but sources close to the Army indicated it would be held in January. The site was not announced.

Tried on 13 Counts
The Army said it would try the 44-year-old World War II combat veteran on 13 counts of collaborating with the enemy. The decision was reached after a week-long investigation by Capt. Gilbert Frisbie, special officer assigned to check into the charges and recommend a course of action to the post commander.

Maj. Nugent will be the fourth American tried by court-martial as a result of charges growing out of the Korean War. The Army said it based its case on statements from 130 witnesses.

Turned Against Prisoners
He is accused of turning against fellow prisoners and his own country by thwarting escape attempts, making propaganda broadcasts and signing surrender leaflets denouncing the United States' action in going to the defense of South Korea.

Nugent said after his repatriation in 1953 that he had committed "no treasonable acts" and had made propaganda broadcasts solely to save 72 fellow prisoners from execution.

Home Burglarized As Family Vacations

Items valued at about $135 were taken from the James Stier home at 2109 F st., while the Stiers were on a five-day vacation, police said Monday.

The Stiers discovered the break-in Monday when they returned from a Thanksgiving trip.

Entrance was made by smashing the windows on the front and back doors and unlocking the doors from the inside.

Stolen was a wrist watch valued at $50, a German camera worth about $40, two checks, change and a football blanket.

Hickerson To Talk To Alumni Groups

Loren Hickerson, director of the SUI alumni records and national president of the American Alumni council, will take part in four alumni meetings within the next 10 days.

Today he will address the SUI Alumni club of Houston and Wednesday will speak in Houston at a district conference of the American Alumni council.

Hickerson will take part in two other regional AAC meetings, in Omaha, Dec. 4 to 7, and Chicago, Dec. 8 to 10. He will also preside over the mid-winter meeting of the AAC's national board of directors in Chicago Dec. 11.

Examination Service Makes Tests Easy—For Instructors

By TOM LIAS

Students have often wondered what happens to that answer sheet after they have filled it with a maze of little black pencil marks.

Well, it takes an interesting journey before it gets back to them. After the examination is handed back to the instructor, the answer sheet is sent to room 114, University hall where Prof. Robert L. Ebel and his staff in the examination service go to work on it.

Prepare Test Booklets

But this is not the first time the test has been in room 114. It is here that the test was born. After the instructor "dreams up" the examination questions he turns them over to the examination service where they are put in test form. It is here that the actual test booklet is prepared.

When the answer sheets get back to room 114 in University hall the most amazing part of the whole process takes place. At this point human effort is replaced by the work of an IBM machine which computes the number of correct answers on the sheet.

The machine does not do all the work, however. It takes the knowledge of a capable operator to make the machine "produce."

Machine Adjustments
The first five tests in a group are corrected by hand. Using this computation the correcting machine is adjusted to count the errors on the remaining papers.

The machine grades the paper when the graphite of pencil lead becomes the conductor of electricity and completes an electric circuit. This electrical impulse is then recorded.

Director Ebel explained that when a student makes a sloppy erasure or puts more than one pencil mark for one answer on his paper the machine detects and records this.

Answers Computed

Then, when the total number of answers is counted and the number of answers is greater than the number of questions the excess amount is subtracted from the correct total.

Although the tests are fed into the machine one at a time more than 500 can be corrected in an hour. Ebel estimated that since the service was started in 1943 at least one million tests have been processed.

Usually the examination service merely computes the number of right and wrong answers, but it is possible for an instructor to get other information from the service. For instance, the service can determine how a student stands in relation to other students in the class.

Ebel points out that not all instructors take advantage of this service. Usually the instructors who have very large classes or who are teaching introductory courses use the service. Ebel said that some courses are difficult to test with multiple-choice tests.

No Mistakes

The two machines which grade the tests practically never make a mistake. They are not the property of the university however, but are rented from the International Business Machine Company.

Ebel, and a staff of seven provide this service for SUI saving many hours work for the faculty and insuring students of accurate and speedy grading of their examinations.

1 Killed, 2 Hurt In Car Accident

John E. Donohue, 53, Cosgrove, remained in critical condition Monday with injuries incurred in a Saturday night auto crash one mile west of Cosgrove.

Joseph V. Barton, 28, Cedar Rapids, driver of one of the cars involved, was killed in the crash. Donohue, suffered fractures of the skull, both knees and a wrist and severe lacerations on the forehead and the chin, Mercy hospital officials said. He is employed by the Hillcrest dining service.

Shirley Ann Donohue, 21, 528 1/2 S. Dubuque st., driver of the car in which her father was riding was reported in good condition Monday. She incurred knee and face bruises.

Robert McGuire, 25, and Woodrow Wilson, 42, of Cedar Rapids, passengers in the Barton car, and Mr. Donohue's two sons, Robert and Richard, were not hospitalized.

The Donohue and Barton cars met at the crest of a hill about 5 p.m. Saturday. Barton and his passengers, who had been hunting, reportedly were looking for two of their dogs.

Barton, the father of two children, was killed when the steering wheel of his car crushed his chest, Coroner George Callahan of Johnson county said.

50 Iowa Police To Attend 5-Day Traffic Conference

How can policemen improve their methods of reducing accidents on Iowa's streets and highways?

This question will concern some 50 Iowa policemen and highway patrolmen who are expected to attend a five-day school on traffic problems at SUI Dec. 6-10. Hudson Hamm and F. J. McCabe of Northwestern University Traffic Institute at Evanston, Ill., will assist SUI faculty members and experienced Iowa law officers in conducting the school.

The opening day will be devoted to discussions of the problems of the drinking driver. Some topics to be considered are the laws concerning operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, proof of intoxication and chemical tests for intoxication. Various tests will be demonstrated, including alcoholic breath testers.

Other subjects to be discussed include improving traffic control techniques, apprehension of violators, enforcement in traffic cases and pedestrian violations, accident records and reports, and speed measurement.

Supervisory officers who attend the school will discuss policies in traffic operations, principles of selective enforcement, quantity and quality of enforcement and how to develop public support for traffic law enforcement.

Patrolmen who enroll in the traffic police duty section of the school will consider the causes of traffic accidents, investigations, questioning drivers and witnesses, speed estimates, hit-and-run investigations and directing traffic.

Richard L. Holcomb, chief of the bureau of police science of the institute of public affairs, is in charge of the school, which will be conducted in the Iowa Center for Continuation Study.

Magazine Prints Students' Poems

Publication of a poem by Donald Justice, G. Miami, Fla., in the newest issue marks the third successive month in which Poetry magazine has carried work by current or recent members of the SUI writers workshop.

Justice wrote "On a Painting by Patient B," his reactions to a recent exhibit of paintings by patients at the Independence mental health institute. Poetry is a monthly magazine of the modern poetry association.

Director Paul Engle of the writers workshop observes that, for the October issue, editor Karl Shapiro chose "The Lover as a Beggar as a Dog" by Paul Petrie, G. Detroit, Mich. The September issue printed the work of three former students of the Iowa Writers' workshop: William Belvin of Johnson City, Tenn.; Joseph Langland of Spring Grove, Minn., and William Stafford of Junction City, Kan., Engle points out.

Medical Society To Meet Today

The Iowa section of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in room 179 of the Medical laboratories building.

The scientific program will include the presentation of papers developed by Prof. J. T. Bradbury and Dr. W. C. Keetel, department of obstetrics and gynecology; Dr. F. W. Stamler, department of pathology; R. S. Shephard, research assistant in physiology, and C. Y. Chang, research associate in zoology.

Orchestra To Give Concert Thursday

The second concert of the 1954-55 season by the SUI Symphony orchestra will be presented in Iowa Memorial Union Thursday at 8 p.m.

The orchestra will be under the direction of James Dixon, an SUI graduate who joined the music faculty this fall after directing the Seventh Army Symphony orchestra while in service.

Free tickets for the concert are available in the lobby of the Union.

The program will open with Handel's "Suite from the Water Music," believed to have received its first performance at a banquet in 1717.

Hindemith Symphony
Second on the program will be a symphony, Hindemith's "Mader der Maier" (Matthias the Painter). Although Hindemith wrote the opera of the same name in 1934, the first performance did not take place until four years later. Plans for a premiere in Germany were halted because the subject matter was found contrary to the views held by Nazi officials. The symphonic work was drawn from portions of the opera.

Violin Solo
Violinist John Ferrell, an SUI music instructor, will be featured as soloist in Chausson's "Poeme," a composition written for violin and orchestra. Ernest Chausson, not yet thirty-five years old at the time of his death in 1899, was able to grasp the shadowy perimeter of genius, as had Massenet and Franck, his teachers, in spinning out melodic lines that capture the interest of the average listener.

The concluding number will be "Dances of Galanta," composed by Zoltan Kodaly for the 80th anniversary of the Budapest Philharmonic society in 1934. Kodaly, known for his musical studies as well as for his compositions, based the dances on tunes from Galanta, a remote village about a hundred miles from Budapest. The first American performance was given by the Philadelphia orchestra under the direction of Eugene Ormandy in 1936.

The Thursday evening concert by the SUI Symphony orchestra will be broadcast over radio station WSUI.

Harper Named To Church Board

Prof. Earl E. Harper, head of the SUI school of fine arts, was named to the executive board of the National Council of Churches department of worship and the arts at its biennial meeting in New York City, Nov. 18.

Harper has been chairman of the department of worship and the arts for the past four years. His successor will be Theodore Greene of Princeton university.

The department has over 100 members, among them such prominent people as Raymond Massey, stage and screen actor; Alfred H. Barr, Jr., Museum of Modern Art; and Robert Shaw, musician and choral director.

Censure Vote On McCarthy Begins Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The last full day of debate in the McCarthy censure row ended Tuesday night with impassioned pleas and counter-appeals in an all but empty senate chamber.

Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.) rang down the curtain with a declaration that Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) must be rebuked because "the tactics he has used are destructive of the very institutions of free government."

Lehman spoke after Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), taking the opposite side, declared it would be a great day for the worldwide Communist propaganda mill if censure is voted for McCarthy. He said a censure vote would be viewed as a retreat in this country's fight against subversion.

Vote To Begin
There'll be a few more speeches today. Then, by unanimous consent, this special session of the senate will start voting late in the afternoon on the question of whether or not to reprimand the junior senator from Wisconsin on charges of unbecoming conduct and contempt of the senate.

Sen. William Knowland (R-Calif.) said he expected the whole censure issue to be settled Thursday night.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) drew Tuesday's biggest audience of senators and spectators with a speech accusing McCarthy of starting a "prairie fire" of fear and hatred which, he said, not even McCarthy may be able to put out.

Reads Letters
He read aloud from a stack of letters from McCarthy supporters reflecting, he said, race and religious bitterness, "unadulterated hatred, vituperation and abuse."

Mundt then called for rejection of the McCarthy censure resolution, asking the senate instead to change its rules and adopt a code of personal conduct ruling out such behavior as McCarthy's foes are complaining.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) took the floor briefly in defense of his amendment which would censure McCarthy for attacks on the Watkins committee—the body which originally recommended censure on two other grounds.

Wants McCarthy To Speak
Bennett urged that McCarthy—who spent only a half hour in the chamber during the late afternoon—take the floor and make an "affirmative case" for himself on the censure question. He said that so far the McCarthy camp seemed to be relying largely on putting questions to senators favoring censure.

Lehman, winding up the debate, declared the senate itself—not McCarthy—is on trial "at the bar of public opinion in our own country and of world opinion, too."

Mundt said that what he called the "arrogance" of executive agencies would swell if the senate censured McCarthy on the count charging that he unduly abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker when Zwicker was a committee witness before him.

"A great sense of injustice" would prevail, Mundt said, even while he conceded that McCarthy had been somewhat "over-zealous" in questioning Zwicker.

On another major count—that McCarthy showed contempt of the senate and its institutions by failing to testify in a 1951-52 probe of his financial affairs—Mundt said McCarthy was never subpoenaed to testify.

The subcommittee didn't use its powers, he said, and thus no one knows whether McCarthy would have defied a subpoena.

Local Community Chest Drive Ends

The Community Chest drive ends today with a total of $30,689.37 collected for the Iowa City area as of Tuesday.

This year's total is about $1,500 ahead of last year's final count.

The city failed to reach its quota of $33,379 and only two of six divisions reached their goals. Professional groups donated $60.50 better than their mark of $1,938 while special contributions topped a goal of $1,001 by $937.

The four other division totals are: business, $13,002.87; SUI, $8,999.51; residential, $3,103, and public service, $2,122.99.

Community Chest funds aid the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Iowa Children's Home society, Salvation army, Travelers aid, Visiting Nurses association, United Defense project, and Children's Milk fund.
