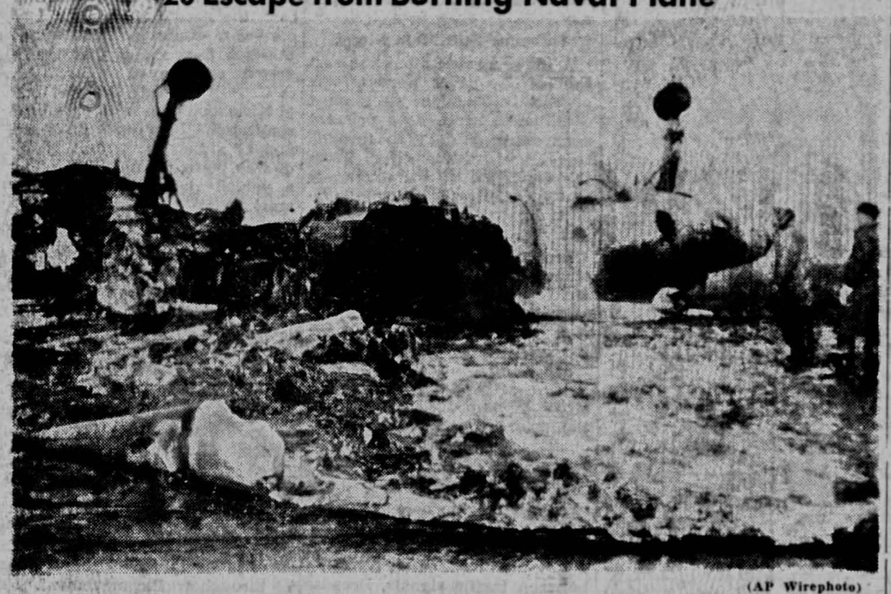
20 Escape from Burning Naval Plane



(AP Wirephoto)

ALL 20 OCCUPANTS of this navy super constellation managed to scramble out of the cabin after the plane, returning from a radar test flight, struck a rough spot on the runway at the Johnsville naval air station, Hatboro, Pa., overturned and caught fire. Ten were injured, none seriously. The plane, described by the navy as a WV2 type, left Weymouth, Mass., early Thursday and crashed shortly after noon.

Iowa Roads Near Normal

DES MOINES (AP)—Highways throughout most of Iowa were returning to near normal conditions late Thursday after a chilly day which followed the season's first general snowfall in the state.

The state highway patrol said the ice broke up on highways in most sections during the day but hazardous slippery spots remained, especially in protected areas.

Roads near Iowa City were wet and slushy with scattered icy spots Thursday night.

Colder weather was moving into the state and readings near zero were on tap for northern Iowa during the night. Temperatures of 5 to 12 above were expected in all parts of the state by this morning.

The mercury reached the mid-30s in southern Iowa Thursday afternoon but in the northern part of the state the temperature didn't get out of the 20s. Strong northwesterly winds caused blowing snow, especially in northeast Iowa.

Library To Change Collection System

A new method of collecting fines in the university libraries will begin Monday. The change is being made to eliminate the handling of money within the university libraries and to correct the ineffectiveness of the present system of collection.

Beginning Monday, university libraries will collect only fines for reserve books and recalls. Fines for other overdue books will be collected by the university business office.

Prof. Dale M. Bentz, associate director of libraries, said Thursday that the move is directed against "chronic offenders," who repeatedly return books late and who normally pay a great amount in fines.

Under the new system, the library will keep call cards for all fines. The cards will be examined periodically, and the names of those who abuse loan privileges will be sent to the business office with the amount to be collected.

"The purpose of the change," said Bentz, "is not to make a profit (the amount of money collected is probably less than the cost of collecting it) but to get the books back so that other students who need them may have their use."

Socialists, Right Wingers Threaten Adenauer Control

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's firm hold on the Bonn parliament's upper house was shaken Thursday in one of the biggest domestic setbacks he has suffered this year.

The anti-rearmament Socialists and three Right Wing parties announced a decision to form the unprecedented state coalition which would end Adenauer's eight-year control of the Bavarian state government.

Will Lose Majority

The surprise move seemed virtually certain to deprive Adenauer of his two-thirds majority in the Bonn Bundesrat (upper house), since the new state government will appoint its six representatives in the federal body.

If Adenauer loses his two-thirds majority in the Bundesrat it would pose a serious threat to implementation of the Paris treaties on German rearmament.

Leaders of the Christian Social Union, which is the Bavarian ally of Adenauer's Christian Democratic party, said there still was a possibility, however, that the new coalition would fall apart in trying to agree on apportionment of seats in the state cabinet, thus opening the way to new negotiations with the Adenauer party.

Not Bound by Instructions

Observers pointed out, too, that unlike those from the other German states Bavaria's senators in the Bundesrat are not bound by instructions so that some of them might still vote for rearmament.

This upset in strongly Catholic Bavaria, which has been a heavy supporter of the predominately Catholic Christian Democrats, occurred as the Bonn government and Allied diplomats were becoming alarmed by a mounting hostility to rearmament in West Germany.

A widespread "count me out" feeling among trade unionists and World War II veterans with respect to conscription and the economic load of rearmament has been pointed out by politicians.

Socialists Comprise Coalition

The new anti-Adenauer coalition in Bavaria comprises the Socialists, who lost by a clear margin to the Christian Social Union in the Nov. 28 elections; the Bavarian party; the Free Democrats (FDP), and the Refugee party (BHE).

The Bavarian party, like the Socialists, is against rearmament under the Paris treaties, but the FDP and BHE support it.

Japanese Socialists Gain New Elections For Hatoyama Help

TOKYO (Friday) (AP) Ichiro Hatoyama, a pro-U.S. conservative, Thursday was named prime minister but his Socialist supporters forced from him a pledge of new elections which they expect to win.

The Socialists, who oppose U.S. bases in Japan, rearmament, and Japan's pro-West foreign policy, obtained as a price of their support a promise that he would dissolve the Diet and call new elections by March 10.

Socialists then joined Hatoyama's Democrats in the lower house and gave him a 257 to 191 victory over Taketora Ogata, president of former Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal conservative party.

Yoshida, who steered Japan through seven trying postwar years by aligning it closely with the United States, resigned Thursday before the Social-Democrat coalition could pass a no-confidence motion.

The switch in prime ministers promised little immediate change in Japanese foreign policy. Hatoyama says Japan must maintain her place among free nations but he favors increased trade with Red China and Russia, as do the Socialists.

Floods Lash Irish Capital

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Flood waters surged through almost all the low-lying northern area of Dublin Thursday, trapping thousands in their homes. It was the worst flood in the memory of this Irish capital of more than a half million population.

Freezing winds and torrential rains whipped much of Europe. Ice, sleet and snow added to the misery. Shipping was hard hit with 64 French fishermen feared lost in seven trawlers which vanished along the French coast during fierce gales. About 100 seamen were known dead or presumed lost in two weeks of almost continuous heavy weather.

Army Joins Rescue Effort

In Dublin the army joined with police and fire services in the rescue of thousands of persons marooned in flooded homes. Waters poured out by raging rivers hit the northern part of the city bordering Dublin bay—an inlet of the Irish sea.

Flood victims by the hundreds received quick hospital treatment for shock, exposure and exhaustion after 12 hours and more of battling the surging waters.

Anxiety grew for hundreds marooned in small farmsteads alongside upper reaches of the Shannon river in central Ireland.

Shannon River Floods

Already the Shannon had spilled over more than 30 square miles and was rising hourly. But Wednesday night's gales so disrupted telephone communications across the country no clear pictures of the Shannon floods could be formed here.

In England, lashing rain brought floods to areas still counting damage from Wednesday's vicious gales.

General Cites Value Of Red Sharpshooters

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians now have the world's finest sharpshooters, and a retired marine general said Thursday he thinks this is as disturbing as their possession of the atom or hydrogen bomb.

For Maj. Gen. Merritt A. Edson, who won the Medal of Honor at Guadalcanal, is convinced that wars — including the next one — finally are won by men who know how to handle a rifle.

Benefits Seen In Ike's Stand On McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Leonard W. Hall of the Republican National Committee said confidently Thursday that President Eisenhower will benefit from an attack on him by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Hall was replying to a question which had been asked Eisenhower at his Wednesday news conference. Eisenhower had referred it to Hall. It asked: "In what appears to be a declaration of war by McCarthy, what danger do you see to the Republican party?"

HALL

The party chairman replied in a statement:

"There was no doubt in my mind as to the answer. However, to confirm my own opinion, I deliberately delayed one day in issuing this statement so that I might personally check key Republican leaders around the country and take a representative sample of Senate and House opinion.

Republicans Support Ike

"Some Republican members of Congress had already publicly stated their views. It is noteworthy that they almost uniformly and unhesitatingly went to the support of President Eisenhower, even though they took differing positions on the McCarthy issue in the recent senate proceedings.

"My own survey confirmed this on a much broader scale and it convinced me that the President will find even greater unity and support among Republican members of both the senate and house during the next two years. This is the only real measure of party unity, and the public will have an opportunity to verify my findings."

McCarthy's Statement

McCarthy made his declaration Tuesday. It said Eisenhower had displayed a "shrinking show of weakness" toward Red China, while congratulating those senators McCarthy accused of holding up his efforts to expose Communists at home.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), a friend of McCarthy, reported he tried to head off the statement and told McCarthy before he made it:

"Everybody knows Ike is not for the Communists."

He said McCarthy persisted, saying: "They're shooting at me down there and I've got to say something." By "down there" McCarthy apparently meant the White House, where on last Saturday Eisenhower congratulated Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah) for the way he handled the job as chairman of the senate voted 67-22 to condemn McCarthy for his conduct.

2 Phenix City Men Indicted for Murder

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Two of the reputed bosses of Phenix City's fallen vice empire were indicted for murder Thursday in the killing of A. L. Patterson, the man who had sworn to drive the racketeers out of Phenix City.

Suspended circuit solicitor Arch Ferrell and former chief deputy sheriff Albert Fuller were arrested on first degree indictments returned by the grand jury which undertook an unprecedented vice cleanup here four months ago.

Ferrell, 37-year-old former state commander of the American Legion, was arrested at his home and booked at the Russell county jail without bond.

Fuller, 35, also was at home when sheriff Lamar Murphy and two state investigators notified him of his arrest. Because of a severe back injury he was put under house arrest.

Malik Calls U.S. Complaint On Red-Held 11 'Jerry-Built'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Russia's Jacob A. Malik Thursday denounced as "shameful" and "jerry-built" a complaint in the UN assembly by the United States and its Korean war allies against Red China's jailing of 11 American aviators as spies.

The top Soviet delegate in the assembly gave the Communist answer to attacks on the Peiping regime by the U.S. and some of its allies in a special meeting of the full assembly. Malik spoke for one hour and 25 minutes.

He contended repeatedly that the airmen were spies and that the UN has no business interfering in the processes of Peiping's justice.

Ask Airmen's Release

The 16 UN allies in Korea have put before the assembly a resolution condemning the imprisonment of the men and asking Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to make efforts to obtain their release.

Malik rejected claims by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., that the case of the 11 airmen was separate from that of two American civilians captured after their plane landed in Manchuria.

Lodge said those two were not within the UN command. The Soviet delegate replied that all 13 were bent on espionage assignments given by the American intelligence service.

U.S. Claim 'Contradictory'

Malik said the American case, supported by 15 UN members who fought beside the U.S. in Korea, was a mass of contradictions resting on a "jerry-built foundation."

"Individuals seized in China committing espionage can lay no claim to treatment as prisoners of war," Malik said. "These persons are subject to sanction according to legislation of the state where they are taken into custody.

"The U.S. has foisted upon the general assembly this shameful question," Malik said. "The Soviet Union takes exception to and will vote against the resolution."

Support Resolution

Greece, Belgium, New Zealand, Thailand, Turkey and Australia announced support of the resolution. Ahmed Shukairi, Syria, announced he would not vote to condemn Peiping but appealed for release of the prisoners.

Malik called attention to the fact that the assembly's special political committee Thursday began discussion of a Soviet complaint charging the U.S. with aggression against Red China. He said the U.S. had brought up the case of the prisoners to divert public attention from many aggressive U.S. acts against Red China.

In the special political committee, the U.S. said that the charges of aggression were absurd and urged the UN not to bow to the will of Red China—a "convicted aggressor."

Lodge Answers Malik

Lodge spoke quickly in answer to Malik, saying Malik had not pointed out any contradictions and that Malik's attempts to lump the 13 men together were misleading. He repeated that the 11 airmen in one plane were under the UN command and the other two in another plane were civilians.

Lodge said Malik was attempting to claim that it made no difference whether the 11 airmen were in uniform. Lodge said, "It is the thing that does matter. The fact they were in uniform shows they were military personnel and that they should be returned immediately."

Tickets are still available for the university play "The Confidential Clerk" at the University theatre. The play will continue through tonight and Saturday night, with the curtain rising at 8.

Cancer Possibility Excluded for Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Medical experts announced Thursday night Pope Pius XII is gaining strength, his hiccups have ceased and his general condition has improved perceptibly.

One of the consulting physicians, Dr. Raffaele Paolucci Di Valmaggiore, said "I can exclude that the Pope has cancer." He said the illness of the pontiff began two years ago "and if this had turned out to be cancer the Pope, also because of age, would have died inside a year."

The 78-year-old pontiff underwent a two-hour examination—his second in a week of grave illness that brought fears for his life—by three specialists and his personal physician, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi.

Health Improved Progressively

"As foreseen, the state of health of the Holy Father has improved perceptibly and progressively in the last few days," the doctors' bulletin said.

"Disturbances have disappeared, among them the hiccups, and it was possible gradually to resume direct feeding, which has permitted a satisfactory recovery of strength.

"Restful sleep, in part, has returned. The conditions of the cardial-circulatory and respiratory systems remain good, as well as the blood condition.

Stop Intravenous Injections

"The abdomen is normal everywhere and is no longer painful in its right superior quadrant. This pain, together with the sudden painful tension of the abdomen, had caused serious preoccupations. We believe it opportune to suspend the intravenous injections of amino acids, while it will be possible to make some other infusion of plasma.

"We will insist, however, on the therapy of injections of liver extract and vitamins. Feeding will be regulated precisely, following an opportune diet, after a new, accurate examination of the gastric juices. Any other therapy for the moment will have to remain in abeyance.

"To the Holy Father we commend continued rest. As soon as the condition of the Holy Father will permit, we will make an accurate examination of the digestive tubes. Therefore, news that has appeared in various newspapers with the most disparate diagnoses of the illness of the Holy Father is to be considered arbitrary."

LeFevre Winners Congratulated

Popofsky Wins Award For Speech

Larry Popofsky, A1, Oskaloosa, won first prize of $10 Thursday evening in the Samuel L. LeFevre speech contest held in room 121A Schaeffer hall.

The second place winner, Carroll Bennett, A1, Newton, will receive $5 when the checks are presented to the speakers in their respective communication skills classes.

Popofsky spoke on the relation between the appointment of Japan's new prime minister and Japanese trade. He pointed out that Japan's economic state is becoming more precarious and that the U.S. must not allow opening of free trade with Red China.

Popofsky said, "The only solution seems to be to allow Japanese trade with Red China under restriction and thereby keep her in the Western bloc."

Military Training

Bennett advocated the necessity of a universal military training system. He maintained that the present selective service system is unfair in allowing too many exemptions, keeps the veteran in the first line of defense and causes confusion in the mind of youth reaching draft age.

"There is a need for a change," Bennett said, "since the present system is unfair and inadequate. The desirable change is to plan a system of U.M.T."

Other contestants, all freshmen, taking part in the contest were Larry Mart, Walcott; Steve Shadle, Estherville; Warren Walrath, Cedar Rapids; John Bouma, Pocahontas; Susan Elwell, Garwin and Jim Young, Waterloo.

Dallinger Directs Contest

The contest was directed by Prof. Carl A. Dallinger of the speech department. Judges, also from the speech department, were John Ellery, Sam Becker and Jack Lamb.

Mrs. Anna LeFevre founded the contest in 1920 as a memorial to her husband.

Reds Attempt To Prevent Paris Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union warned the Western powers Thursday night that Russia and its East European Communist allies would increase their armed forces if West Germany is rearmed.

In notes specifically aimed to prevent Western ratification of the Paris agreement to rearm West Germany, Russia told the United States, Britain and France the stepping up of Red armaments was "to counteroppose the growing armed forces of the aggressive states threatening the maintenance of peace."

Discussion of the German question, Russia said, will depend upon Western rejection of proposals to rearm Bonn.

Russia Delivers Text

Together with its notes to the Western powers the Soviet government delivered the text of a declaration adopted at last week's Moscow security conference of eight East European Communist states pledging an increase in armaments under a unified command, presumably Russia, to counter the prospective rearmament of West Germany.

Ratification of the London-Paris accords, which would virtually free the Bonn Republic and link its rearmed forces to NATO through the Western European Union, appeared threatened in West Germany itself. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's hold on the upper house of the federal parliament was loosened when Socialists and three Right Wing parties in Bavaria formed a state coalition against rearming.

New Threat Appears

This coalition, if it is able to hold the power in the state, will appoint Bavaria's six representatives in the federal Bundesrat (upper house). Loss of Adenauer's two-thirds majority in the Bundesrat poses a serious new threat to ratification of the rearmament treaties.

The Soviet notes said rearming West Germany would make impossible the unification of the East and West zones of Germany. They added that ratification of the London-Paris agreements "will bring about an intensification of the arms drive and will create new obstacles to achieving an agreement on the reduction of armaments.

'German Unification Impossible'

"Such a policy leads to the transformation of Western Germany into a militarist state, with all the dangerous consequences thereof, not to mention the fact that the remilitarization of Western Germany will make impossible her reunification with the peace-loving Eastern German Democratic Republic into one state," the notes added.

Moscow said its stand on the German question is backed by the seven nations which signed the joint declaration after the Moscow conference. They are Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Albania.

New Soviet Conference

When the Western Big Three and their allies turned down the invitation, the Soviet bloc went ahead with a conference of satellites. They announced the agreement to form a new closely knit military alliance under a unified command.

Moscow also indicated the Paris agreements would hamper solution of the Austrian question, saying:

"The ratification of the Paris agreements could not, of course, assist in achieving the so much desired agreement on the Austrian question between the states concerned and Austria."

No 'Cure-All' This Year?—

The problems of putting on the annual all-campus musical, Panacea, have recurred this year to the extent that the board of directors has decided against presenting a show this spring.

In a report to Student Council, the financial backer of Panacea, the chairman of the board said, "There just isn't time to get it ready by March."

It is possible there isn't time in three-and-one half months to make a good show. But the inevitable question arises: Why are only three months available for preparation this year?

Two members of the board of directors were elected last March at all-campus elections. The chairman was appointed to the board by Student Council last April. In September representatives of the 1954 cast were selected.

The board has had two months in which to organize — call for a script, plan a budget, cast and make all other arrangements preparatory to rehearsal. Gamma Alpha Chi, professional advertising fraternity for women, has offered to do the publicity for the show, but the board chairman said even that would not help.

Now that the board has admitted defeat, they plan to select a script, director and cast in late spring and try to put on a show in the fall.

There are apparent disadvantages in having Panacea in the fall. Some of the students working on it may not be returning to school, and others may have lost interest over the summer months. And the first semester always has many other university-sponsored events.

When the show was started it was meant to be an entertaining break in the routine of mid-term exams after six months of schoolwork. That was the reasoning behind naming it Panacea (which literally means "a cure-all"). Having it go on early in the school year, besides being impractical, would defeat the original purpose of the show.

As long as the purpose of the show is being changed, why not change the name too?

We Are Being Judged—

You are an American. Freedom is your heritage. What reason is there to concern yourself with universal human rights?

The reason is peace.

Today marks the sixth anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the general assembly of the United Nations.

In these days of jet planes and H-bombs, the other side of the Atlantic and the other side of the Pacific have become America's front yard.

What happens to human rights in some far-off corner of the earth may spell the difference between peace and war for our children.

Only when everyone can worship, speak and write as he or she pleases, work in dignity and live without terrorism, will we be free of tyrants who thirst for power and conquest.

People and nations that uphold human rights are working for peace. People and nations that allow human rights to be threatened or destroyed are working for war.

At the root of almost every international problem today lies a denial of human rights. Food and technical assistance, important as they are, cannot satisfy the hungers of restless millions in Asia, Africa and Europe.

They feel other needs that are equally pressing. They want to be recognized as equals in individual dignity, in national independence, in self-government. They look to us—to the government and people of the United States— to understand these needs.

In the worldwide struggle against the false blandishments of communism, we are being judged by how sincerely we uphold human rights, both overseas and here at home.

Christmas and the Economy—

The cheerful sounds of Christmas bells are only exceeded at this time of year by the ring of cash registers in Iowa City stores.

Shoppers by the thousands packed Iowa City sidewalks Monday night in the biggest buying rush of the year. And the expectation by the merchants is that the buying will continue to increase.

The trend is not centered only in Iowa City. Prosperity via the Christmas season push for merchandise appears to be hitting an all time high. The gain amounts to half a billion dollars monthly compared with a year ago, according to estimates by the U.S. News and World Report.

Not only will this mean that junior will have plenty of toys for Christmas and plenty of good things on the table, it will also mean that the economy will be bolstered by this uncautious consumer spending.

The economy will receive a boost at a time when people have been reluctant to spend a dollar freely. Perhaps, the spirit will carry on through the new year and way into 1955.

Interpreting the News

By J.M. ROBERTS Jr.
Foreign Staff
Associated Press

Have you ever wondered how diplomats, and folks with jobs like mine, must feel after years of waking up each day to consideration of the affairs of this most fouled up world, only to drop off to sleep at night disturbed at having found no solutions?

Every now and then, to avoid dullness, hopelessness and resignation, we have to take ourselves by the scruffs of our necks and remind ourselves that we are but passengers in time; that we do not have to blame ourselves for not seeing what no one else has seen; and that goodness is as enduring as evil.

ROBERTS

I got into this introspective mood while looking out my office window at the Christmas tree and decorations in the Rockefeller Center Plaza, symbols of a good-will campaign conducted by a bearded young Jew close to 2,000 years ago.

There is the great tree, covered with its brightly colored and lighted plastic balls. It stands at the base of a vista which extends a full city block and on across Fifth ave. Lining the Plaza beyond the skating rink are wire-sculptured angels, electrically lighted, and the decorations high across the facade of Saks department store follow the same motif.

The Center has never revealed the cost of this annual job, involving the work of hundreds of people. It's a Christmas present for the public, and you don't leave price tags on Christmas presents.

Whatever the cost it's worth it for the man who comes up out of the subway, his eyes bent to the ground as he unseeingly gropes for understanding of a world which refuses peace. His gaze is forced upward. He finds the symbol of good persisting, and he takes a little hope.

Movies on West To Be Presented

"Seven Wonders of the West" and "Sheep, Stars and Solitude," two travelogues showing the scenic American West will be shown Sunday in Macbride auditorium. The travelogues are sponsored by the Iowa Mountaineers.

The afternoon show, "Seven Wonders of the West," which starts at 2:30, is a story of a trip through the western states and will include pictures of the Grand Canyon, Salt Lake, Yellowstone and many other scenic areas.

Sunday evening at 8 "Sheep, Stars and Solitude" will center around the annual trek of a herd of sheep through the wilderness of Arizona.

Admission to the travelogues is 50 cents for children and 80 cents for adults. Iowa Mountaineers are admitted free.

Primary Streets Need Improving

Following are excerpts from a booklet, "A Street Traffic Plan for Iowa City," prepared by Associated Consultants, traffic and transportation engineers, and presented to the Iowa City council Monday night.

CONCLUSIONS REGARDING THE BRIDGE PROBLEM

An east-west toll road constructed north of the city will carry approximately 2.5 per cent of the local traffic crossing the Iowa river at Iowa City.

The construction of a toll road will induce new traffic through Iowa City destined especially to the interchange on the toll road immediately northeast of Iowa City.

A highway by-pass south of Iowa City extending from U.S. 6 east of the city to U.S. 6 west of the city will serve a useful purpose. As such a by-pass is brought closer to the growing population in the south and southeast sections of the city its value as a traffic carrier will be enhanced since it will serve both the by-passing through traffic and the crosstown movement within Iowa City.

More Useful

If such a circumferential by-pass is extended northward east of the city to connect to the toll road interchange via State Route 1, its usefulness will be increased further.

With the construction of a toll road north of the city and a by-pass - circumferential route through the southern part of the city, approximately nine per cent of the traffic crossing the river wil be diverted away from the center of Iowa City. However, with these two routes in existence, the traffic across the Iowa river on the existing bridges wil be 16 per cent greater in 1960 than it is today.

By the reconstruction of the Burlington street bridge and the modernization of the approaches to the Burlington street and Iowa avenue bridges, the traffic moving back and forth across the river can operate at "designed capacity" without congestion under positive signal control with current traffic volumes.

Capacity Operation

With the anticipated traffic growth of four per cent per year, the bridges, even after maximum feasible modernization, will be operating at capacity in 1962 or 1963. At that time the only traffic improvement that appears adequate is the construction of an additional bridge.

The location for an additional bridge which appears most feasible from the viewpoint of traffic utility, construction problems and land use, is one located immediately north of Iowa avenue paralleling the south line of the C.R. & I.C. railway.

If the new bridge is built initially, the Burlington street bridge may require less expensive reconstruction.

MAJOR STREET SYSTEM

After the problem of bridges and bridge approaches has been explored, the next step in the development of Iowa City's traffic system is the selection of primary traffic routes to be combined into a major street system.

In formulating this system two important objectives should be attained. First, these primary streets should be so located and designed that they will be capable of carrying all the principal movements within the city leaving the local business and residential streets free of a through traffic burden.

For these streets to succeed in carrying the majority of city-wide travel they must be so attractive and offer such traffic efficiency that motorists will be discouraged from traveling on secondary routes.

Free Movement

This requires that the principal streets allow for free movement at reasonable speeds without needless interruption by stop signals or without the inconvenience of narrow, congested roadways or rough pavement.

Second, the primary system should be so conceived as to preserve the integrity of the university area and the central business district so far as this is possible.

From a study of north-south movement through the university area and business district, these general conclusions may be drawn:

1. If it were possible to improve Dodge street, to build a new roadway along the east side of the Iowa river, and to make parking space available in the downtown district, north-south travel in this area might be reduced by 49 per cent. If an extension of Riverside drive is substituted for the route along the east side of the river, a total reduction in north-south traffic could total as much as 33 per cent.

Dubuque Still Main Street

2. Since a route along the east side of the river appears impracticable, Dubuque street must continue to serve as a primary north-south street for through travel east of the river. From the viewpoint of the university and especially the central business district, this is undesirable but apparently unavoidable.

3. To avoid a continually increasing load of through traffic on Dubuque street, Riverside drive must be extended northward in the reasonably near future as one of the three principal north-south arteries of the city.

4. It is essential that Dodge street be improved to serve as the primary north-south artery on the east side of the city.

BURLINGTON STREET

Traffic movement on Burlington street suffers because of the number of left turning movements and lack of coordination between traffic signals. Because Benton acts as a distributor route along the south side of the business area traffic must turn left to enter the business district.

The traffic signals at Madison, Clinton, Dubuque and Gilbert are of a vehicle actuated type which do not coordinate with one another, nor are they synchronized with the signals immediately north of Burlington street.

As a first step in correcting this situation it is proposed that Burlington be widened to 50 feet from the west approach to Madison street to the east approach to Linn street. When this has been done the middle lane can be marked for left turn refuges allowing two lanes in each direction for through movement or right turns.

The actuated controllers and pavement detectors now located at Clinton, Dubuque and Gilbert should be removed and used on Dodge street as recommended above. In their stead fixed time controllers should be installed on Burlington to allow coordination along Burlington as well as along the north-south streets.

KIRKWOOD AVENUE:

As has been noted, there is no east-west street of appreciable continuity in Iowa City south of Burlington street. With the city expanding toward the south and east, the need for an additional east-west route is apparent. It therefore is proposed that a subway be constructed at the C.R.I. & C. railway near the east end of Kirkwood avenue to provide a connection between Kirkwood and G streets, sufficient right-of-way being purchased to allow a partial relocation of Ralston creek.

WASHINGTON STREET:

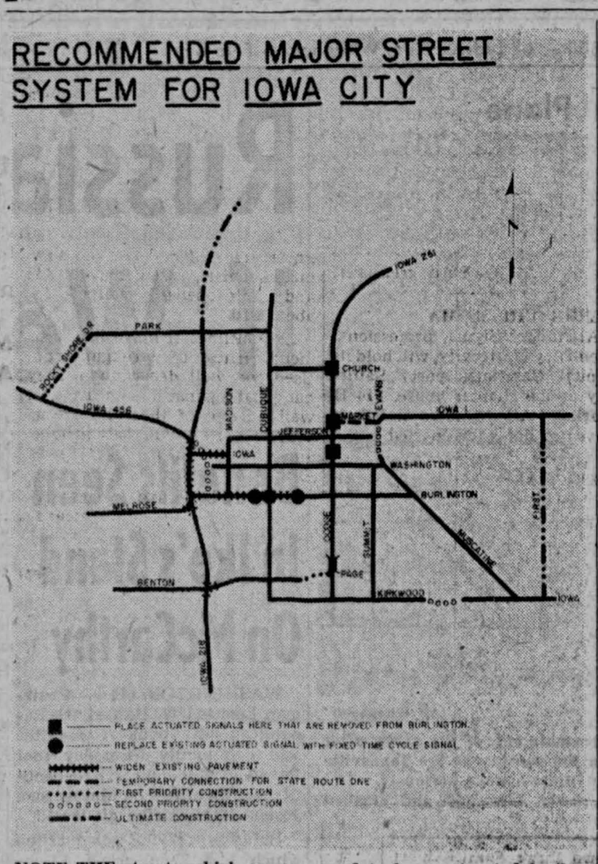
It is proposed that the center parkway be removed from E. Washington street to enable this street to be a more effective traffic artery with curb parking retained.

EVANS STREET:

At the present time Market, Jefferson, Iowa and Washington streets all serve somewhat as through traffic carriers east of the business district. Steps should be taken to concentrate through travel on a smaller number of streets both for the benefit of local property and for the sake of through traffic movement.

If these four streets continue to expand as traffic carriers the time may come when traffic control may be needed on Dodge street at all four intersections, penalizing the important movement on Dodge street. It therefore is proposed that a north-south route be developed along the line of Evans street from Iowa avenue to Rochester avenue. When this connection is in existence Market street and Iowa avenue may be de-emphasized as traffic routes.

(Tomorrow: Parking in the downtown District.)



NOTE THE streets which are proposed to be constructed in the major street system.

The exciting new idea behind the motoramic Chevrolet

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series

Maybe once in a car-buying lifetime, you come across something that breaks all the old patterns and establishes new ones. This is that kind of car. This is the true story of how Chevrolet and General Motors shaped a new idea in steel.

Like most good ideas, this one is pretty simple. Chevrolet and General Motors set out to build the first low-priced car that would:

- bring you the very freshest and finest styling to be had.
- bring you the most advanced engine design and engineering features.
- bring you the kind of performance and the kind of ride that have never been available before in a low-priced car.
- bring you the highest quality of manufacture and materials.

All this in Chevrolet's price field? That did take some doing! And isn't it logical that only Chevrolet and General Motors have the people, skills, resources and facilities, to carry out this exciting new idea? Here is how this new Chevrolet changes all your ideas about cars!

Real Show-Car Styling!

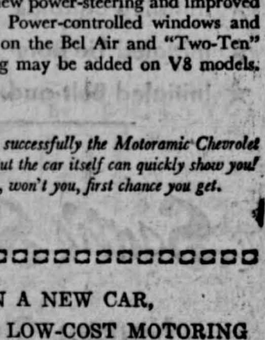
Your eye tells you the Motoramic Chevrolet is no styling "patch-up" job. A rakish, low profile . . . soft swiftness from its sleek rear fenders to its wide-eyed Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a new outlook for motoring. And that outlook doesn't change when you slip inside . . . exciting fabrics and trim are harmonized with the whole car.

A Sensational Ride!

You live the new idea instantly . . . you glide . . . actually glide because spherical joints "roll with the punch" of the road in Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. And outrigger rear springs mean new balance in turns . . . turns made so effortless by new ball-race steering.

And when you stop suddenly, new Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front . . . you get "heads up" stopping. Tubeless tires mean much greater protection against blowouts. And with new high-level ventilation there's fresher air.

Power Beyond Compare!



You also feel the new idea quickly . . . quick power like a panther's paw with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And sparking this performance is a 12-volt electrical system giving you better ignition, faster starting, greater electrical reserve for any of the power assists you might desire. You have a transmission choice of economical Overdrive and improved, automatic Powerglide (optional at extra cost) or standard shift.

Even Air Conditioning!

And if you desire the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost) . . . you'll find new power-steering and improved power brakes on all models. Power-controlled windows and powershift seat are available on the Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models, while air conditioning may be added on V8 models.

Won't You Try It?

Here, we can only tell you how successfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get.

MORE THAN A NEW CAR,
A NEW CONCEPT OF LOW-COST MOTORING

Berra Voted AL's 'Most Valuable'

NEW YORK (AP) — Larry(Yogi) Berra, the New York Yankees' slugging catcher, Thursday became the sixth two-time winner of the American league's most valuable player award.

In a close vote of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers association, Berra edged a pair of Cleveland Indians, outfielder Larry Doby and second baseman Bobby Avila.

The Yankee catcher also was named most valuable in his league in 1951.

Berra's first reaction was one of disbelief.

"What about those Cleveland fellows? They had some pretty good ones out there.

"I'm real happy and I am really surprised. I knew I was being mentioned," Berra said, "but I didn't really think I'd get it this time."

Berra was placed first on seven of the 24 ballots and polled a total of 230 points. None of the 24 writers — three from each American league city, placed him lower than sixth on the list. Each voter lists 10 choices in order and points are scored 14 for each first place vote, nine for second and on down to one for tenth.

Yogi Berra
AL's Most Valuable

Doby, who led the league in home runs, took second place with 210 points and Avila third with 203. Orestes (Minnie) Minoso of the Chicago White Sox was fourth with 186 and Cleveland's Bob Lemon, top pitcher in the voting, fifth with 179.

Although the Yanks failed to win the pennant, the 29-year-old Berra hit over .300 for the third full season since he joined the Yankees in 1946. He had an unofficial average of .319 with 179 hits in 584 times at bat, hit 22 home runs and batted in 126 runs, only one less than Doby.

Bannister Retires

LONDON (AP)—Roger Bannister, first man to break the four-minute mile, announced Thursday night he is retiring from international competition.

Bannister, 25, who ran the mile in 3:59.4 at Oxford last May to become the most acclaimed athlete of the year, recently qualified as a doctor.

John Landy of Australia later bettered this time with 3:58.0 in Finland last June, but Bannister defeated Landy when they met face-to-face in the "Miracle Mile" at Vancouver Aug. 5. Both men broke four minutes with Bannister winning in 3:58.8.

He made his retirement announcement at the annual dinner of the British Sports Writers association at the London Press club.

Any chances that he would come back into training and meet Landy in the Olympic Games in Melbourne in November, 1956 appear now to be completely out of the question.

Iowa Swimmer Honored

DICK PENNINGTON, right, A3, Phoenix, Ariz., who is captain of Iowa's swimming team, receives an All-American certificate from Iowa swimming Coach David A. Armbruster, left, at Thursday night's Dolphin club banquet. It was the second time the 50 and 100-yard sprinter has been awarded all-American recognition by the American College Coaches' Swimming association.

St. Mary's Cagers In Surprise Role

Coach Robert Campbell's St. Mary's high school basketball team may be headed for the school's best season since 1948.

The Ramblers loom as the Northeast Iowa Catholic conference surprise and a darkhorse title contender. St. Mary's now boasts a 7-2 season record and a 4-1 conference mark.

Last year's team managed only three wins during the entire season.

Soph Stars

Sophomore center Dennis Walljasper leads the Ramblers scoring with a 22 point per game average. Walljasper has hit 42 per cent of his shots and at 6-4¼ is a top rebounder.

Freshman David Maher is the second high scorer with an 11 point per game average.

Play-making guard Bob Olney has averaged eight points per contest. Olney, a senior, has bucketed an amazing 60 per cent of his shots.

Young Team

Sophomore forward Don Lumsden has scored an average of nine points per game and is the third young starter who makes future prospects look bright for St. Mary's.

Coach Campbell, who is in his second year at St. Mary's, is a 1952 graduate of Wartburg college. He is working toward a Master's degree in physical education at Iowa.

Montana Picks 6 Hawks For All-Opponent Teams

Six Iowa Hawkeyes have been selected to all-opponent football teams named by the University of Montana grid squad.

Iowa drubbed Montana 48-6 in the second game of the 1954 season.

Guards Calvin Jones and John Hall and end Frank Gilliam were named to the first squad.

Captain Binkey Broeder, halfback Earl Smith and end Jim Freeman were named to the Montana all-opponent second team.

Lemek Chosen Irish Grid Captain for '55

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Ray Lemek, 215-pound junior guard from Sioux City, Iowa, Thursday was chosen 1955 captain of the Notre Dame football team.

Lemek was to be presented the Irish shillelagh, signifying the captaincy of the Notre Dame team, at the 35th annual banquet Thursday night. Presentation was to be made by ends Paul Matz and Dan Shannon, co-captains of the 1954 team.

McGowan, AL Ump, Dies; Worked 2,541 Straight Tilts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill McGowan, the most durable umpire in major league history, died Thursday after suffering his second heart attack in less than a week. He was 58.

Will Harridge, president of the American league, saluted McGowan as "one of the all time greats of his profession."

Clark Griffith, the 85-year-old owner of the Washington Senators, went a step further. He called McGowan "the greatest baseball umpire I've ever seen."

The peppery little McGowan retired earlier this year after illness cut short his career. He had been an American league umpire for 30 years.

From the time he joined the American league in 1925, McGowan didn't miss an inning for 16½ years. He umpired—a record—2,541 consecutive games, nearly 400 games more than the playing record achieved by the late Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees.

A native of Wilmington, Del., McGowan earlier this week was voted a double pension. Ordinarily he would have been entitled to $3,000 a year for life.

"The owners voted to double it for him," said Griffith, "because of his great services to the league."

McGowan is survived by his widow and two sons. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Fierce Pride Brings Bill 'No. 1' Rating

By Jack Hand

NEW YORK (AP)—The highest compliment anybody could pay Bill McGowan was to call him "No. 1". After 30 years of umpiring in the American league, the fiery little Irishman burned with a fierce pride in his job.

Nobody ever pointed a finger at Bill or questioned his integrity, although he had his brushes with players, league presidents and other umpires. Twice he was suspended by the league, but each time he bounced back stronger than ever.

The darkest day in his career came last summer when he was forced to take a leave of absence because of poor health. The doctors knew he had a heart condition that ruled out any more umpiring. Bill knew it too, deep down inside, but he talked gamely of next year and his Florida umpiring school until he suffered a heart attack, just two days before the league retired him on pension.

Bill liked to tell how the players called him "No. 1," how he worked under three different league presidents — Ban Johnson, E. S. Barnard and Will Harridge — how Connie Mack used to tell his old Philadelphia A's, "Don't let McGowan outhustle you."

Although he worked eight World Series and four All-Star games, McGowan was proudest of being picked to umpire behind the plate in the American's first league playoff game between Cleveland and Boston in 1948. "Never had a guy turn his head on me all day," he said. "It was the only time both clubs congratulated me after a game."

SPARTANS HONOR JONES

Hawkeye guard Cal Jones is the only Iowa player named to the all-opponent team recently selected by the 1954 Michigan State football team.

Service, Pro Career Planned by Ameche

NEW YORK (AP) — All-American Alan Dante Ameche of Wisconsin hopes to play professional football next year but has some service in the army and more schooling ahead of him.

Ameche, in town to receive the Heisman trophy as the outstanding college player of 1954, is in the ROTC program at Wisconsin and has half a year's college work to complete after next spring.

The solid, 210-pound steel muscled senior is married and has two children. Is the big boy who established an NCAA career record of 3,212 rushing yards worried about serious injury with family responsibilities?

"It doesn't bother me, but why wife, Yvonne, worries. I guess the fact I'm playing keeps her from really enjoying the game. She gets too tense before a game.

"I think a family helps rather than hinders you playing football. You work at the game and get to know the other players just as well but don't do any fooling around."

"He's a halfback-type fullback," says Ameche's Coach Ivy Williamson. "He's got speed with that running power. His peculiar running style of swaying is what led to his nickname of 'The Horse.' They used to have a saying at Madison: " 'Swing and sway with Ah-me-chay.' "

Boros Shoots 66 To Lead at Miami

MIAMI, Fla.(AP)—Julius Boros, playing with an injured right hand, fired an opening round 66 Thursday for a one-stroke lead in the $10,000 Miami Open Golf tournament.

One stroke behind him were Sam Snead, five time winner of this tournament; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., and Joe Brown, club professional from West Des Moines, Iowa.

Boros said the hand, hurt eight days ago while testing a shotgun, did not worry him although he had four stitches removed only Thursday morning. And his four under par round over the 6,620-yard Miami Springs course was proof enough that he was on his game.

The 1952 U.S. Open champion from Midpines, N. C., had a 31-35 for the par 35-35-70 course.

Tied with 68's were Dave Douglas, Newark, Del.; Bo Winninger, Oklahoma City; Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich.; Ed (Porky) Oliver, Lemont, Ill.; Tommy Bolt, Houston, Tex., and Ed Griffiths, Flossmore, Ill.

Defending champion Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., was well back in the field with a 71.

The field of 161 will be trimmed after today's second round to the low 60 professionals plus ties and the low 10 amateurs.

Michigan Game Here Added to TV Schedule

Iowa's home basketball game with Michigan on Feb. 26 has been added to the national television Big Ten basketball series this season.

The schedule to be carried by CBS on Saturday afternoons will open this Saturday with Indiana at Notre Dame.

Previously it was announced two Hawk TV appearances would be the Northwestern game there, Jan. 22 and the Purdue game here, Feb. 5.

Iowa's Deer Hunters Open Season Today

The second deer season in recent Iowa history opens today as hunters in 51 Iowa counties take to the field in quest of the elusive white tails.

Daily deer hunting hours until the season closes Sunday, Dec. 12, are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Deer of any age or sex may be taken.

The daily bag and possession limit is one animal. Because of the wording of the law, one deer could be taken each day of the season. State conservation officers have requested Iowa sportsmen to shoot only one deer during the season.

Hunters may use either bow-and-arrows or shotguns with rifle slugs. The use of dogs, domestic animals, automobiles, aircraft or any mechanical conveyance, salt or bait is prohibited.

A bow-and-arrow season has been opened in six counties since Dec. 1. These counties are: Cherokee, Black Hawk, Clinton, Polk, Wapello and that part of Pottawattamie county lying east of county road "V". The season will close in these rounties Dec. 12.

The six counties are open to bowhunting only, and will not be open to gun hunting for deer this year.

Bow-hunting is also legal during the three-day season in the 51 counties where the season opens today.

As a side light on the opening of the deer season, the Iowa Izaac Walton league has issued an appeal on behalf of the Indians on the Tama reservation that hunters save the deer hides.

Alden J. Erskine, Sioux City, state president of the league, says the Indians use the hides for hand leather work.

Districting Plan To Be Studied

At the request of State Sen. Frank C. Byers, Cedar Rapids, copies of a research report on a possible plan for reapportioning Iowa senatorial districts have been distributed to members of the state legislature.

Prepared by the Institute of public affairs at SUI, the report describes how the state's senatorial districts could be withdrawn to make them more nearly equal in population as required by the state constitution.

The report also discusses the constitutional and legal aspects of the suggested plan.

The redistricting plan is based on research begun by the institute of public affairs in 1950 at the request of Byers and State Rep. Fred Schwengel, Davenport.

The plan is described as an attempt to answer this question: Within the provisions of the present Iowa constitution, how can the state's senatorial districts be made more nearly equal in population?

Except for the state's seven largest counties, each of which now has one senator and under the present state constitution can have only one, the population of the present state senatorial districts ranges from 72,433 to 21,173. Under the plan presented in the report, the district would range from 51,649 to 35,410 except for the seven largest districts.

Auto Club Warns December Drivers

December, traditionally a month of parties and celebration, may cause more than 9,000 deaths from accidents this year, the Automobile Club of America said today.

Because driving while under the influence of alcohol is particularly common during the December holiday season the Automobile Club of America has advocated the following four-point safety program.

1. Don't drive if you've been drinking.
2. If you haven't been drinking, watch the other fellow. He may have.
3. Don't ride with anyone who has been drinking.
4. If you're determined to drive after an evening of drinking, at least be smart enough to make your one-for-the-road beverage a cup of hot, strong coffee — it may get you home safely.

3 Injured in Traffic Mishaps

Three persons have been injured and three trucks and a car damaged in traffic accidents near Iowa City since Wednesday afternoon.

Two men from the Mt. Pleasant area were taken to University hospitals at noon Thursday following a two-truck collision on Highway 218, four miles north of Iowa City.

They are Ray Roth, 34, of Mt. Pleasant, the driver, who suffered a cut chin and left wrist, and Levi Roth, of Wayland, who had a fractured knee cap, broken ankle, three broken ribs and a small bone broken in his right hand. The men were reported in good condition. Both are farmers. They are brothers.

The truck in which the men were riding collided with a semi-trailer driven by Leo M. Thornton, 27, Sumner, Ill.

The Roth truck was loaded with lambs, three of which were killed in the crash. Several of the lambs were injured and the remainder were confined in a neighboring field. There was extensive damage to the trailer of the other truck.

Mary Alice Hohenshell, 19, of Cedar Rapids, who was injured Wednesday evening when the car in which she was riding overturned in a ditch five miles north of Iowa City, was released from Mercy hospital Thursday. She was treated for cuts, bruises and shock.

An accident in which no one was injured occurred on the icy south approach to the viaduct just south of Solon late Wednesday evening. The accident caused extensive damage to the automobile driven by Ray Floerchinger, 40, 304 E. Burlington st., when the car skidded into a tractor-trailer combination driven by Charles G. Carmack of Viola, Wis. The left front part of the tractor was dented.

Other minor accidents were reported due to icy streets and highways in the Iowa City area but no one else was reported injured.

Iowa Patrolmen Told Good Relations Vital For Public Support

Treat the influential citizen who breaks the law like any other violator or risk the loss of public support essential in accident prevention and community protection, members of the Police Traffic school at SUI were urged Thursday.

"Though the man of influence may resent his ticket at first, he probably didn't reach a position of leadership without some understanding of the importance of fair play and should eventually respect officers for doing their job without fear or favor," Captain W. J. Andresen of the Dubuque police department pointed out.

He stressed also that no department can afford to employ a patrolman who creates public resentment through harsh or sarcastic treatment of violators. One such man can undo years of painstaking work to build up the public acceptance a department needs to function effectively, Andresen observed.

The importance of sound police-public relations was also emphasized by the traffic school's instructor of hit-and-run investigations. Witnesses often withhold information out of sympathy to the violator unless the police have succeeded in local education as well as in enforcement, Francis McCabe of the Northwestern university traffic institute explained.

In final sessions of the five-day school Friday the 60 law enforcement officers from 26 Iowa communities will hear Pearl McMurry, state commissioner of public safety, and W. O. Price, safety and traffic engineer for the Iowa highway commission.

Escapees Foiled At Red Oak Jail

RED OAK (AP) — Two escapees from a California honor farm tried to dig their way out of the Montgomery County jail here Thursday, Sheriff Chet McCune said.

The men, Anthony Curro, 30, Peoria, Ill., and James Carl Brown, 22, Laramie, Wyo., were being held for California authorities.

The men, locked in the bull pen, had removed about two layers of bricks, he said.

Young Broadcasters Get Pointers

7th Grade Pupils To Air Writings

Five seventh grade students from Iowa City Junior high school will read original essays on the radio program, "Exploring the News," at 1:55 p.m. in observance of Human Rights day.

Students who have written essays on "Human Rights" especially for the broadcast are: Gary Monk, 12, 12 N. Lucas st.; Linda Gilson, 13, 14 W. Harrison st.; Bob Otto, 12, 733 W. Benton st.; Mary Lou Scott, 12, 418 Kimball road, and Linda Housel, 12, 702 Grant st.

Ted Nielsen, A4, Chicago, Ill., is in charge of the program. It is one of a series of programs on the "Iowa School of the Air" broadcast to classrooms throughout Iowa.

Group Protests TV Channel Grant

The Iowa joint committee on educational television has lodged a protest with the Federal Communications Commission congrant of an educational TV channel.

David Dancer, secretary of the state board of education, said the objection was filed after the Iowa committee held conferences with interested groups. A request had been received earlier from station KGTV in Des Moines for permission to use channel 11 until it is needed for educational purposes.

The Iowa committee is composed chiefly of members of the state board of education and the state department of public instruction. The group tried in 1953 to get permission from the state legislature to form a statewide educational television network. No announcement has been made stating whether the group will renew its proposal to the legislature which will convene Jan. 10.

Sheppard Takes Stand

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Samuel Sheppard took the witness stand Thursday in defense of his life. He swore that he and his slain wife had no serious disagreement and did not discuss divorce.

With calm, surgeon's detachment, Sheppard touched only lightly on the affair with the 24-year-old Miss Hayes. He was not pressed for details. But he did say Marilyn had no more than an academic interest in gifts he gave Susan.

Ahead of Dr. Sheppard at the end of the court day lay his supreme ordeal — his own word by word recital of Marilyn's violent death. He says a bushy-haired prowler killed Marilyn.

Sheppard denied he ever abused his 7-year-old son, Chip, in a fit of anger — an allegation the state raised in trying to show he had a temper that could flare into murderous rage.

And he testified he did not counsel a woman acquaintance on how to feign a head injury — the very maneuver the state insinuates he adopted after his wife's death.

Sheppard claims a stranger bludgeoned Marilyn to death, then twice knocked him unconscious when he sought to aid her.

REPRESENTS GROUP

Keith Kafer, a member of the board of directors of the Johnson County Agricultural association, represented that group at the meeting of the Iowa County Fair association Tuesday and Wednesday in Des Moines. The association operates the Johnson county 4-H club fair grounds.

Forensic Assembly Opens

Youthful "legislators" will gather today in the Old Capitol senate chambers for the opening of the third annual Discussion and Legislative assembly of the Iowa High School Forensic league, at SUI this weekend.

Nearly 200 students from 23 Iowa high schools will participate in discussion, preparation, and passage of resolutions. Their subject is "What should be the foreign trade policy of the United States?"

The Iowa teen-agers will define terms, discuss the problem from different points of view and formulate their goals in four discussion sessions this afternoon and evening and Saturday morning.

Following resolution presentation and voting similar to United States senate practices, names of superior and excellent discussants and legislators will be announced at a final general assembly for the participants at 3 p.m. Saturday in Shambaugh lecture room at the University library.
