A Real Deal—

America's farm surpluses, which now cost the nation $256 million a year in storage bills, could be brought to the free world's hungry peoples at a cost of a nickel a day for each person given full feedings.

If used to add 500 calories a day to the food supplies of the many peoples whose diets are seriously deficient by that amount, the cost would be two cents a person or less.

These figures are cited in a survey issued by the National Advisory committee for CARE, which urges a world-wide "food crusade" to distribute surpluses as a major arm of American diplomacy.

Entitled "Feast and Famine," the survey contrasts the facts of world hunger against the government's current holdings of nearly $6 billion worth of edible surpluses, or 26 million tons of food. The annual storage expense, it notes, is "four times the cost of running our congress."

Cost estimates for foreign distribution, including processing and shipping, are based on recent CARE experiences. Pilot project for the global crusade, the committee points out, is CARE's Christmas appeal to Americans to donate $1 to send two packages of surplus food to needy families abroad.

So vast is our surplus, the survey reports, that it could feed every man, woman and child in the nation for one full year. Loaded onto 40-car freight trains, it would fill 100 such trains every day for a year. To provide all of the food needed by 100,000 starving persons for one year would consume only one-fifth of one per cent of the stocks.

As examples of those who could be completely fed at a nickel a day, the survey cites the East German refugees who arrive in West Berlin reception camps at the rate of 350 each day, and the 300,000 new refugees from communism in South Vietnam.

The two-cents-a-day diet supplement is calculated from Food and Agriculture organization reports that 500 calories would alleviate hunger in most countries of the world.

However, costs vary with actual needs: just one cent a person would provide the 300 calories a day needed by 47 million victims of war, flood and famine in East Pakistan, the survey reports. For four cents a person, we could provide 1,000 calories a day to meet the health requirements of a million and a half people in Bolivia.

Total cost of running the programs for Berlin, Vietnam, East Pakistan and Bolivia for one year, the survey reports, would be roughly $200 million, "or only four-fifths of what we will spend to store our food surplus in a year."

By expanding foreign distributions of our food surplus, America can relieve human suffering, counter adverse propaganda that we give generously only of military aid and strengthen our farm economy at home.

SUI Flight Plan 'Likely'

Speaking unofficially, Major Emilio P. Ratti of the air science department, said Wednesday he thought it likely that a program for basic flight training in college air ROTC would be adopted at SUI in experimental form if a bill for such a program is passed by the new congress.

The bill is expected to be brought up in this current session of congress and if passed several colleges and universities will reportedly experiment with the plan. Ratti said that with the availability of facilities here, SUI would probably be chosen as one of the schools to try the program.

Ratti said men who would have been eliminated from flight training later would be eliminated here, thus saving time and expense for the air force.

Iowa City Slated For Census Poll

Interviews will begin next week in Iowa City as a part of the census bureau's survey on the work experience of the U.S. population, according to the bureau's district office in Des Moines.

Noel L. Wilson, Marengo, will conduct the interviews.

The survey will provide information on how many people were regular full-time workers in 1954, how many were seasonal workers and how many worked the majority of the time but only at part-time jobs.

Additional questions covering migration and major source of income will be asked of farm wage workers.

Interpreting the News

By William L. Ryan
AP Foreign News Analyst

A purge has just been deputed in Moscow. This is important news for the U.S. because it testifies to the growing power of Nikita Khrushchev, chief of the Communist party, and also to a belligerent Stalin-like Soviet foreign policy in the making. The indications of Khrushchev's rising fortunes come amid hints in the Soviet press that two factions in the Soviet hierarchy are struggling for supremacy.

Disappearing General
News has just reached this country that Soviet President Voroshilov, at a Kremlin ceremony New Year's Eve, decorated a group of generals including Col. Gen. I. V. Shikin. This general disappeared in 1949 after the death of Gen. Andri Zhdanov, heir-apparent to Stalin. Many of Zhdanov's followers were purged after his death, including Politburo member Nikolai Vosnesensky, and the way was cleared for the rise to power of Georgi Malenkov.

Shikin was an adviser to Zhdanov during the German's siege of Leningrad, which Zhdanov finally lifted. Later, on the death of Politburo member A. S. Shcherbakov in 1945, Shikin succeeded him as political administrator for the army.

'Assassinated'
Shcherbakov's name came up in January 1953, two months before Stalin's death, in the notorious "doctor plot." He was alleged to have been assassinated by medical mistreatment in a plot against Soviet leaders. The whole plot was discredited after Stalin's death in a swift series of events leading up to the purge of police boss Lavrenty Beria.

Shikin's public reappearance on the political scene came just a week after Moscow announced its execution of Col. Gen. V. S. Abakumov, former minister of state security, as a Beria plotter. Significantly, Abakumov was accused of skullduggery in a shadowy "Leningrad case." He was supposed to have used illegal police methods to force confessions there. Leningrad was Zhdanov's bailiwick.

There has been a noticeable trend back to Stalinism in the Soviet press, along with unmistakable references to serious heresies and factionalism within the Communist party. Such statements are ominous in sound. Perhaps the "collective leadership" principle of committee government which followed Stalin's death is beginning to come apart at the seams.

Many an Iowa household is getting accustomed to a new "member" of the family since Santa Claus delivered his gifts on Christmas Eve... a pet dog. Information from pet shops indicate that a dog was a popular gift this year. Because the dog normally lives in close association with man and is capable of inflicting bite wounds, the wise dog owner will make certain that his dog receives the anti-rabies vaccination. The anti-rabies vaccination must pass rigid safety and potency tests of the U.S. department of agriculture, and causes practically no discomfort to the dog and is safe.

Anti-Rabies Shots Required for Dogs

Iowa City ordinance requires that a vaccination certificate be presented to purchase a dog license. Licenses, costing $2, must be purchased before May 1. Fifteen licenses have been purchased this year in Iowa City.

The anti-rabies vaccination should be repeated once a year. Vaccination of young puppies is not always effective. Therefore, if puppies under 6 months of age are vaccinated, they should be re-vaccinated when they are 6 months old. Both farm dogs and city dogs should be vaccinated. Farm dogs sometimes come in contact with rabid wild animals as well as rabid dogs.

Year of Decision

Most Americans Concerned About Their Medical Bills

By Charles Mercer
The Associated Press
CHICAGO — In the past year, medical costs rose seven times faster than the overall cost of living as Americans paid out an estimated 10 billion dollars in the quest for good health.

In the past year a child born in a modern hospital had a life expectancy of 70 years while his grandfather, born in 1900, had an expectancy of living only to 49.

It's true that fabulous advancements in the field of medical science have increased the average life span of Americans as much in the 20th century as that of western man in the preceding 2,000 years.

Ask Questions
It's also true that millions of Americans today are preoccupied by medical costs and are asking questions—some pertinent and others impertinent—about the nation's 220,000 doctors.

By far the question of greatest interest involves the dollar. The United States Bureau of Labor Statistics reports: In July, 1953 the overall consumers' price index was 114.7 and in July of this year it was 115.2. In July, 1953 the price index of medical care and drugs was 121.5 and in July of this year it was 125.2.

The Health Information foundation, a fact-finding organization supported by donations from leading drug manufacturers, estimated annual cost of medical care at $10,200,000,000—an expenditure of $205 for the average family.

Your medical dollar includes many items besides your doctor's bill, of course. Hospitalization costs, for example, have been rising steadily for many years. Most authorities agree the doctor receives a little more than one-third of that dollar. But people identify rising medical costs with the medical profession and ask such questions as: How does a doctor determine your bill? Do you have any recourse if you think you're being gypped? What is fee-splitting?

In seeking an answer to these questions a reporter came to Chicago, the nation's medical capital with its headquarters of numerous organizations. He'd spent some time collecting ran-

Panama Upeavals Not New

By M. E. Byrne
PANAMA CITY (CP)—The assassination of President Jose Antonio Remon de Balboa is but the latest chapter in the centuries-long political strife of that Central American nation.

Political turmoil in what is now Panama dates back to the very early sixteenth century. In fact, the central character of that area's first revolution was none other than the famous Vasco Nunez de Balboa, discoverer of the Pacific ocean and of whom every school child has heard.

In 1510 Balboa sailed with Martin Fernandez de Enciso to Castilla del Oro territory, which included what is now Panama, Costa Rica and part of Nicaragua.

Enciso Ousted
Enciso founded the settlement of Darien, originally Santa Maria Antigua de Darien. Quarrels between Enciso and his lieutenants resulted in his overthrow and imprisonment, and Balboa rose to the leadership. The famous conquistador soon conquered the immediate area, more by show of kindness to the natives than by arms.

On hearing that he was to be summoned back to Spain to answer for his conduct against Enciso, Balboa resolved to attempt an exploit which might mollify the Spanish king.

At the head of an expedition he crossed the isthmus and thus discovered the Pacific which he named the Great South Sea. Having heard of the fabulously rich Indian empire of Peru, Balboa determined to find that country but on a return to Darien, he was imprisoned, tried for treason and executed.

Another Gets Credit
However, one of Balboa's lieutenants, Francisco Pizarro, succeeded in reaching the land of the Incas and thus immortalized his own name as the conqueror of Peru.

Panama soon became the main highway for the shipment westward of the vast treasures wrested from the fallen Inca empire and as result it took on immense importance to the Spanish crown. Incidentally, a group of hardy Scots under William Paterson attempted to settle in Panama in 1698 but were driven out by their Spanish neighbors.

Revolt in 1841
Panama became part of the state of Nueva (New) Granada in 1739. A century later, the head-strong Panamanians revolted in 1841 and succeeded. Colombia squashed the rebels.

Later the Panamanians again attempted secession but were persuaded to return to the Colombian federation, of which Panama had become a member during the hectic revolutionary times when Latin America threw off the yoke of Spain.

At the beginning of the twentieth century the United States negotiated a treaty with Colombia for the right to build a canal across the isthmus. The Panamanians were highly in favor of this so when the Colombian senate rejected the treaty in 1903, independence was proclaimed at Panama City.

U.S. Intervenes
A Colombian force marching against the revolutionists was halted by U.S. marines, under authority of an 1846 treaty in which the U.S. had guaranteed to keep the isthmus open. A civil war would have closed the isthmus.

The U.S. quickly recognized Panama's independence and a treaty was forthwith signed between the new nation and the U.S. granting perpetual use of the canal zone.

Since gaining her independence, little Panama (population was estimated at 817,000 by the United Nations in 1951) has, until four years ago, had a fairly tranquil political existence.

There was a bloodless revolution in 1931 but most of Panama's political headaches until 1951 were caused by boundary disputes with neighboring nations, such as Colombia and Costa Rica.

Perhaps Panama's comparative tranquility is due to the fact that the U.S. quickly recognized Panama's independence and a treaty was forthwith signed between the new nation and the U.S. granting perpetual use of the canal zone.

St. Mary's Ramblers Topple C.R. St. Patrick's, 70-50

The St. Mary's Ramblers' one-two scoring punch of Dennis Walljasper and David Maher led the way to a 70-50 victory over Cedar Rapids St. Patrick's here Wednesday night.

Walljasper bucketed eight field goals and nine of 16 free throw attempts for 25 points and controlled rebounds throughout the game. Maher was close behind in scoring with nine goals and six free tosses for 24.

Ipsan of Cedar Rapids edged the two Ramblers for scoring honors by hitting for 26.

The Ramblers fell behind early in the game but took a 9-8 lead after six minutes of play and never were headed though the Cedar Rapids team trailed only 12-10 at the end of the first period and cut the margin to 14-13 early in the second period.

Then Walljasper and Maher hit their scoring stride with an occasional assist from a teammate and the Ramblers pulled to a 35-22 halftime lead.

The Ramblers passing and fast break looked sharp considering the long vacation layoff, and they counted often on drive-in layup shots.

St. Mary's led 55-41 at the three-quarter mark and coasted to the final score with all substitutes seeing action. Nine men scored for the Ramblers.

The victory brings St. Mary's season's record to 11-2.

The Ramblers remain in second place in the Northeast Iowa Catholic conference with an 8-1 mark. Next home game will be Jan. 12 in the junior high school gym with O.L.V.A. of Waterloo.

S. MARY'S HIGH SCHOOL center Dennis Walljasper outleaps three Cedar Rapids St. Patrick's players to grab a rebound in Wednesday night's game. Walljasper controlled both boards and hit for 25 points as St. Mary's won, 70-50. Teammate David Maher, left, contributed 24 points and Don Lumsden, right, was third high with seven.

Sugar Ray KO's Rindone

DETROIT (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, rusty and cautious for five rounds, flashed his old lightning-like form to knock out crude, plodding Joe Rindone of Boston at 1:37 of the sixth round Wednesday night to successfully launch his comeback before a roaring crowd in Olympia Stadium.

Stunned into action when Rindone landed a left and right to the head, Robinson tore after the 28-year-old Bostonian and connected with a series of roundhouse blows to the head.

A right sent Rindone to the canvass, head down and hurt. Rindone managed to stagger to his feet but it was too late.

Referee Johnny Weber reached the count of 10 and signaled that Sugar Ray was the winner in his first fight since June 1952.

WHITNEY MARTIN'S Sports Trail

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Louis, fat and 40, is doing his fighting by proxy these days, and although his proxies don't carry into the ring all the authority of the old Brown Bomber they have a smattering of his technique.

Paul Andrews, after taking a few lessons from Prof. Louis, punched holes in Boardwalk Billy Smith, and Gil Turner, after a fine showing in defeating Italo Scorticini, said happily: "I owe it all to Joe."

The Louis' influence was apparent in both instances. Andrews combined short punches with a nose-spreading jab to TKO the dangerous Smith, and Turner, boxing better than he ever has, offered a reasonable facsimile of the Louis shuffle, and also jabbed well.

Louis has now announced he will train Peter Mueller, the rough and rugged German middleweight who fights with more abandon than skill. If Joe tries to make a boxer out of him he might have his troubles. Mueller just isn't the boxer type.

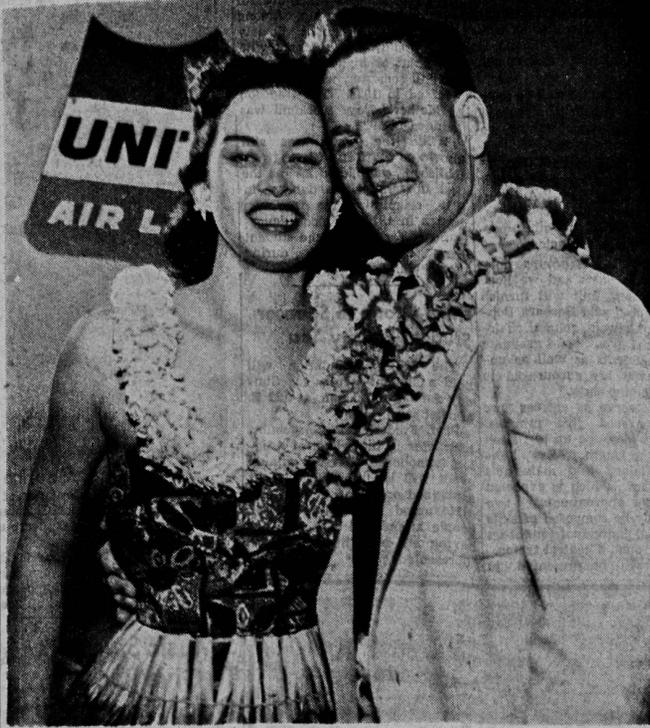

Saxton-Basilio Title Slugfest Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — Former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan cleared the way for a Johnny Saxton-Carmen Basilio title bout in Syracuse April 1 by withdrawing his claims for an immediate rematch with Saxton. Saxton, who won the title from Gavilan in Philadelphia last October, and Basilio, the No. 1 contender, are expected to sign for the fight in a couple of days.

Honolulu Welcomes Broeder, Hula Stars

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii rolled out its traditional welcome mat, complete with beautiful girls and flower leis this week for Hawkeye football captain George (Binkey) Broeder and the dozens of other college and professional grid stars who will complete in the Hula bowl game here Sunday.

Broeder and his fellow college players who have completed eligibility will play against an all-star professional team quarterbacked by Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns.

"Crazy Legs" To Play
Graham will be passing to Elroy (Crazy-legs) Hirsch, the Los Angeles Rams end who like Graham has announced retirement from the pro ranks. Another target will be Gordy Soltau, pass-catching demer from the San Francisco 49ers.

For points after, and for field goals — steady stuff in the program but a bit neglected by collegians — there will be the Browns' Lou (The Toe) Groza, Detroit's Charley Ane will be in the line, playing alongside talent from the military in the territory and stars of Hawaiian town teams.

On the collegiate side will be Ohio State halfback Bobby Watkins who scored the second of the Buckeyes' three touchdowns in the 20-7 Rose Bowl win over Southern California, the Trojans' Aramis Dandoy who scampered 86 yards for the Trojan score, Dick Moegle of Rice and Primo Villanueva, star UCLA back.

West Star To Play
In the line will be California center Mat Hazeltine who raced 44 yards with an intercepted pass for one of the two West scores of San Francisco's East-West game, won by the East 13-12.

Also in the line will be Harry Norris of Georgia Tech, Jim Salsbury and Jack Ellena of UCLA, Jack Patera of Oregon, Art Walker of Michigan and Buck Lansford of Texas.

Paul Larson of California, the 1954 collegiate champion passer, will have a chance to show whether he is a pro prospect in the field Graham is leaving.

His targets will include ends Dick Brubaker of Ohio State and Johnny Kerr of Purdue.

MATCH PROPOSED
BERLIN (AP) — A fifth match between German middleweight champion Hans Stretz and Peter Mueller of Cologne has been proposed for Milwaukee, Wis., during the middle of March. Stretz' manager, Fritz Gretschel, said Wednesday the suggestion was made by Milwaukee promoter Phil Valley.

Time passed rapidly and soon the traveling party was checking into the Edgewater hotel, which is on the rim of Madison's Lake Mendota. After a good dinner and early movie Sunday night, all were ready for a good night's rest. Bucky had arranged for a one-hour limbering up exercise on the Wisconsin floor at 11 Monday morning.

About 10 a.m. Monday the team departed for the field house and the light warm-up. Only Deacon Davis had previously played in Madison — twice in the 1952-'53 season.

Bill Seaberg and Davis said of the five-sectioned floor, "It feels fine." (That was putting it mildly as between them they tallied 43 points during the game. Upon leaving the workout, the eager Deacon chipped in, "Bring on those Badgers! I wish it were 8 o'clock (p.m.) now.")

Happy Homeward Ride
On the way to Dubuque after a hard earned victory that night we spent the time talking with Davis and Cain about different situations which arose during the game. Deacon observed, "The crowd was well-mannered for the most part." Davis' floor play and 21 points drew a good ovation when he fouled out.

In the back of the bus Babe Hawthorne stood in the aisle leading some members of the team in singing old favorites, including "Heart of My Heart" and "Down by the Old Millstream." It was only fitting that they capped the singing with the Iowa Fight Song.

O'Connor was wide-awake but relaxed. "The boys are in good spirits after a tough game," he asserted. "These trips back are miserable—when you lose," said Sharm Scheuerman. Soon it was bed-time in Dubuque.

After breakfast Tuesday morning, when everyone checked the boxscores from other Big Ten games the night before, all were ready for a tranquil ride back to Iowa City.

Hustling Hawks Enjoy Road Trip

By Bob Hooker

What is it like to make a road trip with the Iowa basketball team?

"Road" trip is the correct word as the journey to Madison and back will be the only bus trip for a 1954-'55 Iowa football or basketball team. "In this case the most economical way of traveling was by bus as the trip is a relatively short one (about 200 miles)," said Coach Bucky O'Connor.

Besides Bucky, the 14-man playing squad and team manager Bill Holman, others in the traveling party included Iowa Business Manager Frank (Buzz)

Graham, Trainer Doyle Allsup, Maury White, of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, and Bob Zenger, WSUI sports program director.

By the time bus driver Ernie Hurd pulled out of Iowa City Sunday afternoon, Deacon Davis, the relaxed four-year veteran, was fast asleep. Some players soon started bridge games. Suitcases forming "T's" in the aisle of the bus served as card tables.

At Monticello a break was taken for Cokes. Augie Martel, one of the sophomore "youngsters" was so engrossed in reading a magazine, he almost lost out. But he hurried back to make Holman's "nose count."

Then while chatting with Buzz Graham, we saw Logan, sitting in back of us, peer over our shoulder to ask Buzz, "How much is a vulnerable double and five down worth?"

Travel Time Flies

Hawkeye Swimming Team Lacks Divers

Prospects are good for a strong Iowa swimming team this season, says Coach Dave Armbruster, but the Hawks will be handicapped by the lack of divers.

Armbruster's only two diving candidates were recently called into the service and with a nine-meet schedule in store the Hawks have no divers to enter and will give away eight points in each outing.

Season Opens Saturday
The Iowa swimmers will open season's competition against Illinois at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in the field house pool.

Three-time letter winner Captain Dick Pennington, Phoenix, Ariz., heads a contingent of 11 major and one minor letter winner which should give the Hawks strength in the racing events. Pennington, holder of the Iowa record for the 50-yard freestyle, was handicapped last year after effects of a knee operation, but is back in top condition.

Lucas in Distances
Ross (Buddy) Lucas, a New Zealand representative in the 1954 British Empire games, will also be back for his final year of competition in the distance events. Lucas holds the Iowa records for the 440-yard and 1,500-meter freestyles.

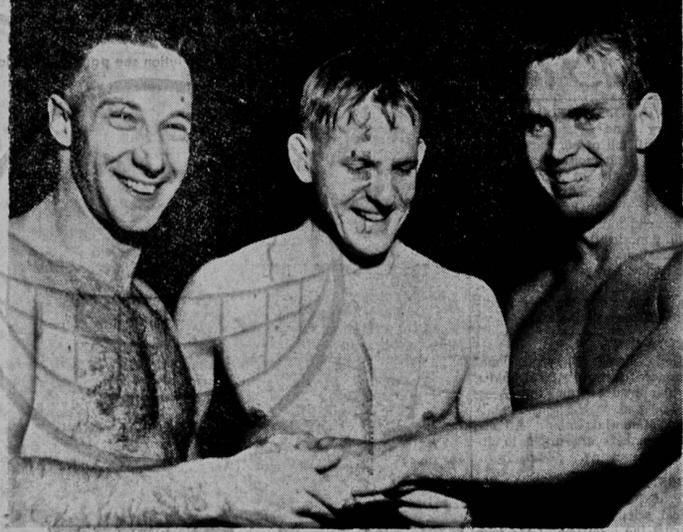

Iowa's other New Zealand-born swimmer, Lincoln Hurring, will be eligible for his first varsity competition this year. Last winter as a freshman Hurring tied the Big Ten 200-yard backstroke record of 2:10.8.

Hurring finished second by about a foot, bettering the old record, in the British Empire Games' backstroke event and swam with Lucas on the second place medley relay team at Vancouver.

Other Candidates
Backing up Pennington in the sprint events will be his sophomore brother John, Harold Berger, Pottstown, Pa., another sophomore, Lettlerman Tom Tucker, Ft. Madison, and Alan Gillberg, Chicago, Ill.

Other candidates for the 220 and 440-yard events with Lucas will be letterman Glenn Johnston, San Diego, Calif., and

Junior letterman Dennis Robinson, Clinton, is the current leader in the conventional style breast stroke races, backed up minor letterman Dick Rouse, Iowa City, and Howard Judd Jr., Clinton.

Helping Hurring in the backstroke events will be Ed Mullahey, Des Moines, a three time letter winner, and letterman Sherman Nelson, Fargo, N.D.

Johnston, Nelson and Frank Hill Jr., Duluth, Minn., are individual medley event candidates.

Bob Stein, Duluth, Minn., letterman, is practicing the new dolphin fishtail breaststroke. A new race for this stroke will be added to title meets this year.

Notre Dame Tops Butler

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Lloyd Aubrey hit 22 points and Jack Stephens 21 Wednesday night in Notre Dame's 83-58 basketball victory over Butler University.

The young Butler team led early at 15-12 and 18-17 but Aubrey hooked in a fielder that put the Irish in front to stay at 19-18.

Notre Dame had a 49-33 margin at the half and gave its sophomores some experience in the second half.

Boby Plump, a freshman from Milan's Indiana high school championship team of last year, was high scorer for Butler with 14 points.

Notre Dame hit 31 of 79 shots from the field, Butler 18 of 68.

Fred Moore, assistant superintendent of the physical plant, is observing the progress of the work. Remodeling is expected to be finished by March 1.

The basement of the southwest wing of East hall is being remodeled as a new location for the SUI student counseling service.

The remodeling is about two-thirds completed. It is expected to be finished by March 1, according to Fred Moore, assistant superintendent of the SUI physical plant.

In its new location the counseling office will occupy space formerly used by the university publications service. The space, used as one room by the publications service, has been divided into 14 offices and rooms for the counseling service.

Reason for the change in location is to offer students larger and more comfortable facilities. The counseling service provides educational and personal guidance to SUI students.

Quarters in the east wing of East hall presently occupied by student counseling will be taken over by the psychology department.

Prof. Clayton Gerken, of the psychology department, is the director of student counseling and is assisted by Professors Leonard Goodstein and John Martier, both of the psychology department. In addition, five graduate students serve as junior counselors.

U.S. 5th Army Observes Birthday

Wednesday was the 12th birthday of the Fifth army, whose troops fought on the beaches and through the mountains of Italy in one of the most important campaigns of World War II.

The Fifth army is the largest of all six continental United States armies and encompasses a 13-state area, stretching westward from Illinois, Michigan and Indiana, across the plains, to Colorado and Wyoming.

The Fifth army was disbanded Sept. 9, 1945, upon arrival in the United States. It was reactivated in July, 1946, under the post-war army reorganization plan and has its present headquarters in Chicago.

Joseph Aveni of the center designed the legs which will be changed as she grows and in time she will be fitted with an artificial hand.

No Sitter, Wife Stays Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Proud families watched two of Illinois' three freshmen congressmen sworn in Wednesday but the third's wife had to stay home—she couldn't find a babysitter.

The stay-at-home was June Gray whose 30-year-old husband, Kenneth, became the first Democrat in 14 years to represent his southern Illinois district.

Gray defeated seven-term Republican C. W. (Runt) Bishop in the November election. Mrs. Gray had to stay in the apartment the couple has rented in suburban Alexandria, Va., with their 8-year-old daughter, Diane.

Other new Illinois house members taking their seats were James C. Murray and Charles A. Boyle, Chicago Democrats.

Plan War Jobs Of Air Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP)—The air force announced plans Wednesday to give 349,000 reservists and air guardsmen specific assignments in advance, so they could start defending America within two or three hours in the event of enemy attack.

Besides selecting pilots and others for mobilization day jobs, the plan calls for automatic assignment of all guard and reserve fighter wings to continental defense and the establishment of from 40 to 50 additional reserve bases.

The new air force program was unfolded at the Pentagon by a panel of air force officers. They said the decision to convert the entire air force reserve structure to readiness for a wartime basis was essential because in atomic warfare there won't be time to go out and get recruits after the first bomb is dropped.

The air force now has about 114,000 men in the reserves with specific mobilization day assignments.

The officers who set forth the plan said the expectation of succeeding in tripling the number of ready reservists is tied to the Pentagon's new reserve plan. Under this program, which President Eisenhower will submit to congress Jan. 13, men who finish active duty tours must continue training in the reserve after doffing their uniforms.

The air force estimated that it could reach its increased reserve strength goal within two years without resorting to the compulsory features of the over-all reserve plan. Thus, air force enlisted men who serve four years on active duty would be induced by a new and intensive public relations drive, the acquisition of better equipment and the setting up of new reserve bases to take their place in the big mobilization day plan.

The plan calls for retaining the air guard strength at 27 wings plus supporting units and the addition of one reserve wing to make a total of 24. Of the 51 guard and reserve wings under the new scheme, 32 would be fighter units instead of 29 as at present. All of these fighter wings would be automatically assigned to the continental air defense command at the outset of another war.

The regular air force, now building to 137 wings, has 34 wings allocated to the continental air defense command.

New Residents—New Paint Job

PAINTERS WERE AT WORK this week in the Iowa governor's mansion in Des Moines, preparing it for new tenants. The scene here is in the dining room where the buffet stands in the center of the room under a plastic cover and the light fixture has been wrapped in paper. The new tenants will be Governor-elect Leo Hoegh and family, who will move in late this week. Hoegh takes office Jan. 13.

More Than 70 Jailed Since Remon's Death

PANAMA (AP)—Secret police and national guardsmen have jailed 70 suspects in Panama City and an unannounced number outside the national capital in the all-out hunt for the killers of President Jose Antonio Remon.

One of those arrested, ex-President Arnulfo Arias, was transferred Wednesday from his coffee plantation to national guard headquarters 200 miles west of here.

Authorities apparently decided against bringing Arias to Panama City, because they feared his presence might touch off demonstrations. A chief political foe of the slain president, Arias has many supporters here as well as political enemies.

Police said they were holding for questioning in the killing an American identified as Marvin Lipstein, who was arrested at the airport Monday night.

It was reported that Lipstein, who said he was born in New York city and educated at the University of Southern California, had an airline ticket to Mexico and a steamship ticket for passage from the country to Italy.

National guard officials said they are trying to trace an unidentified man wounded in the am who sought treatment at a clinic owned by a friend of Arias.

Dale Vorbrich Named To Fire Department

Now on service with the Iowa City fire department is Dale Vorbrich, 1601 College ct. pl.

His appointment from an eligible list compiled by the city civil service commission as the result of an examination, brings the fire department to a strength of 21 men—10 on each shift and Chief Al Dolezal.

Mr. and Mrs. Vorbrich are the parents of an eight-year-old son, Dale, Jr. Before becoming a fireman, he was a salesman.

The new fireman will be assigned initially to the central station.

Request of Northern Gas Firm Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—A power commission examiner Wednesday turned down a request that Northern Natural Gas Co. be directed to show that its proposed Canadian supplier, Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., had an unlimited Canadian permit to export gas.

The request was made by Jerome McGrath, attorney for the National Coal association and several railroads.

Examiner Francis Hall ruled that Northern could go ahead with presentation of its case. Northern, an Omaha firm, has proposed a 65 million dollar expansion program for this year.

This would include importing 100 million cubic feet of gas daily from Canada, providing additional gas for its present customers and offering gas to 66 new towns in Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin.

Northern already serves 307 towns in these states as well as Nebraska and Kansas. Some of its largest customers are opposing Northern's plan to expand and import foreign fuel.

P. L. Farnand, Minneapolis Gas Co. attorney, contended Tuesday that Trans-Canada had only a conditional permit to export gas.

McGrath argued Wednesday that there was no purpose in holding this hearing unless Northern could guarantee the gas capacity it proposes to deliver. He said Northern should be ordered to show that its supplier had an unlimited permit from the Canadian government to export gas.

Several attorneys told a reporter that if Northern does not show evidence during this hearing that Trans-Canada has an unlimited permit to export, a motion will be made to deny Northern's application and dismiss the case.

Man Who Signed Peress' Discharge Seeks Enlistment

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—John J. McManus, who as an army major signed the honorable discharge papers for former Maj. Irving Peress, said Wednesday night he was seeking enlistment in the army as a master sergeant.

McManus was released from active duty Nov. 4 under what the army described as a "policy of strength reduction dictated by budgetary limitations."

The army insisted that McManus' release was not connected with his "incidental part in the separation of former Maj. Peress."

McManus, a native of Rochester, said he decided to enlist as a master sergeant after his requests for active duty in his reserve rank of major had been turned down.

Informed of an army announcement from Washington that his case was being considered, McManus said:

"This is good news. Maybe it means they are again considering my return as a major.

"I didn't want to get out of the army in the first place," he added.

"Most of my adult life has been devoted to the army, and I can't get a civilian job that would give me as much in retirement benefits.

"It's a question of starting a civilian career now, at the age of 43, or going back to the army and becoming eligible for retirement at 49."

McManus said he had worked a short time for a clothing firm, but at the moment was "not doing much of anything."

Co-Authors Novel

Hollis Summers, who earned a doctor of philosophy degree in English with a creative thesis at SU, is co-author of a new novel of suspense, "Teach You a Lesson," published this week by Harper and brothers.

Author of two previous novels, "City Limit" and "Brighten the Corner," Summers, a native Kentuckian, has been teaching creative writing at the University of Kentucky since 1949. Summers' fellow author in "Teach You a Lesson" is Indian Jim Rourke, and the two names are blended to create the pseudonym of Jim Hollis.

Heirs May Get $16,000 'If...'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Under terms of his 47-year-old will, the eight grandchildren of mortician Henry J. Bryer will inherit $16,000—IF they don't smoke, drink liquor or enter places where others drink.

Bryer died in 1907 and left an estate of $50,000. His will left the grandchildren whatever was not used by six lifetime beneficiaries—two daughters, two sons and the widows of the two sons.

The last of the six, one of the widows, died last year. Thus, the $16,000 remainder and the 47-year wait for the grandchildren.

Commission OK's New Bus Route

The state commerce commission Wednesday authorized a new bus route from Iowa City to Ottumwa via Fairfield "and other cities."

Starting time for service on the route and its schedule have not been received yet at the local terminal of Arrow Coach line of Ottumwa, at Union bus depot.

The route is expected to run northward from Fairfield to include Washington and points between. A 15-mile stretch along Highway 34 just west of Fairfield where service is provided by another line will not be included.

The bus service will also include light express parcels.

County Highways Found Outmoded

Old narrow roads amount to 60 per cent of Johnson county's highways it was reported by the Iowa Good Roads association in Des Moines Wednesday.

Johnson county has 42.7 miles of 18-foot, 25-year old roadway located on Highway 218 north and south through Iowa City, on Highway 6 east of the county line and on the remaining portion of old Highway 6 west of Iowa City, the association reported.

Similar to this county, the association reported that 62 per cent of the paved highways in the state of Iowa were of this same type.

Reports 11 Candidates Spent Too Much Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special House Campaign committee reported without comment Monday that 11 candidates for house seats in the November election spent more than the $5,000 maximum permitted by law.

The committee did not identify the 11 nor did it say whether they were successful in their bids for election.

One candidate, it reported, spent $33,653 and three others spent more than $20,000 each.

Lower Attendance

The President said Thursday that population growth, additional responsibilities of schools, and increased and longer school attendance have produced the shortage of school rooms. He added this is of immediate concern to all the people.

"Without impairing in any way the responsibilities of our states, localities, communities or families," he said, "the federal government can and should serve as an effective agent in dealing with this problem."

He did not mention the nation's need for more school teachers, or teachers' pay, which many authorities believe inadequate.

House Action

Even before Thursday's presidential warning, a bipartisan move was under way to enact a multi-billion dollar program of school construction on a matching basis with the states. This was proposed in the house on opening day Wednesday.

Thursday in the senate, Senators Lester Hill (D-Ala.) and Earle C. Clements (D-Ky.) introduced bills each proposing a billion-dollar federal outlay over the next two years for construction of public elementary and secondary schools.

Hammarckjold, Chou Talk for 3 1/2 Hours

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Dag Hammarckjold and Chou Enlai talked for 3 1/2 hours in Peiping Thursday about 11 American fliers jailed as spies and other UN personnel held by the Communists. The UN said they will meet for a second round Friday.

The UN secretary general and the Premier-foreign minister of Red China went into their first formal conversation flanked by high, British-trained legal advisors. UN circles here speculated that the legal aspects of the issue revolving around the imprisoned fliers were paramount in this initial meeting.

In UN Assembly debates on the issue, the U.S. and its allies declared the fliers were military personnel, not spies, and should be treated as prisoners of war.

The Communist bloc replied that these men were shot down in China on an espionage mission and their convictions were in accord with Chinese law.

Hammarckjold also wants the repatriation of hundreds of prisoners of war who have not been accounted for and who are believed to be held in Communist camps or jails.

Federal Aid To Schools Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday spoke of "grave education problems" and an unprecedented classroom shortage in the nation's schools—and promised to do something about it.

He told congress in his state of the union message that he will present "an affirmative program" dealing with the shortage—estimated at 370,000 classrooms—in a special message Feb. 15.

As if anticipating some such move, two federal aid bills were offered in the senate to add to one proposed in the house Wednesday—all looking toward large federal outlays for school construction. Another was offered in the senate to give higher education aid to children of servicemen who lost their lives in World War II or in the Korean hostilities.

Lacks Details

The President's statement, though lacking in details, appeared likely to be received with more sympathy than aid proposals of wider scope debated in past congresses when the issue has developed religious and states' rights differences.

It also brought a receptive comment from William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education association. Carr said in a statement that "the great increase in school population and the serious lag in schoolroom construction constitute a national need that must be met with sufficient federal financial support to provide adequately for essential public school buildings."
