1 Killed, 4 Hurt In Crash Near Hills

John J. Arduser, 76-year-old retired Manchester farmer, was fatally injured and four persons were hurt in a three-car accident Wednesday near Hills, seven miles south of here on highway 218.

Arduser died about 6:15 p.m. at University hospitals of injuries received in the crash. He was a passenger in a car driven by Herbert Smith of Manchester.

Smith and his wife Mina were taken to a Cedar Rapids hospital where she was reported in serious condition and he in good condition.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mackey, both 62, of Stanhope, who were in car No. 2, were in University hospitals here Wednesday night with multiple cuts and bruises. Both were reported in good condition.

Arduser received multiple fractures of the right leg, a fractured right arm, fractured ribs and a fractured collarbone. He was pinned in the wreckage until highway patrolmen arrived.

Officers said Mackey's car was traveling south when it sideswiped a car driven by L. L. Ayers, 69, Wellman. The Mackey car then swerved onto the bridge and collided head-on with the Smith car. Both cars were demolished.

The Mackeys were on their way to Florida for a vacation. No charges had been filed late Wednesday night, pending an investigation by highway patrolmen.

Traffic was held up for 45 minutes.

TRAFFIC WAS BLOCKED for 45 minutes on highway 218 Wednesday afternoon by this accident which fatally injured John J. Arduser, a retired Manchester farmer. Inset shows windshield through which Arduser was thrown.

FBI Finds Car Believed To Be Nail's

A car stolen last November from Nail Motors, Inc., 216 E. Burlington st., has been reported found near Memphis, Tenn.

The car is believed to be the one driven by Kenneth Darrell Carpenter, 43, when he was arrested Feb. 4 by three Federal Bureau of Investigation officers near Memphis.

Carpenter was wanted in connection with a $9,300 bank robbery at the Oswego county bank, Oswego, Kan., Nov. 27. He was added to the FBI's eight "most wanted men" list Jan. 31.

The car was stolen after two men came to the used car lot and asked to "test drive" the 1952 Buick.

Three days later the car was reportedly used in the Oswego hold-up. Leroy Adolph was arrested two weeks later in Webb City, Mo. He confessed to the robbery and named Carpenter as his accomplice. Adolph has since been sentenced to 13 years in prison, according to an Associated Press report.

Carpenter offered no resistance when captured, the FBI men said, although there was a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol in the car. Carpenter was carrying $4,000 in cash.

The car bore Texas license plates at the time of the arrest. The Iowa plates were reportedly found in the trunk.

SEC Approves Financing Terms On Dixon-Yates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dixon-Yates contract sponsors Wednesday gained approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission for the key financing provision of their controversial power project.

Opponents said that despite the action they were far from through in fighting the plan to let the government buy private power in the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

Four SEC members voted to authorize the issuance of $5 1/2 million of common stock in a new plant at West Memphis, Ark. Paul R. Rowen, one of two Democrats on the commission, dissented.

This Might Have Averted Fatality

GOV. WILLIAM G. STRATTON, left, and Illinois State Representative Ralph Stephenson, try safety belts recently installed in Stratton's official car. Stephenson has introduced a bill making it compulsory for manufacturers to install hooks for the belts in all new cars. A device such as this might have saved the life of John Arduser, 76, Manchester, who was killed in an automobile accident near Hills Wednesday.

AFL-CIO Agree On Merger Plan

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations leaders Wednesday agreed to end the 20-year-old split in organized labor and merge into a single 15 million member union federation.

George Meany, president of the AFL, and Walter Reuther, head of the CIO, predicted that necessary ratifications would be accomplished by the end of the year.

They said the powerful new union organization, not yet given a formal name, would immediately launch an all-out drive.

The merger agreement was signed by two 10-man committees representing the rival union organizations.

Meany and Reuther said that welding together of their federations would bring about a stronger and more effective union movement in dealing with employers and in seeking to achieve political aims.

The merger agreement will be considered here today by the AFL executive council. Approval was considered virtually a foregone conclusion since many top AFL leaders took part in the successful merger negotiations.

The pact will go before the CIO's executive board at a special meeting in Washington on Feb. 22. A formal constitution for the new federation then is to be drawn up along the lines of the detailed agreement worked out Wednesday.

Express Confidence The constitution must be ratified at separate AFL and CIO conventions and then by a joint AFL-CIO convention. Although there are many steps to be taken in this ratifying process, leaders on both sides expressed confidence these were only formalities.

Once the AFL-CIO merger becomes ratified, Meany and Reuther plan to invite John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and other independent unions to the railroad and other industries to come into the new federation.

Senate Approves Formosa Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate Wednesday night approved the administration's treaty with the Chinese Nationalist government committing the United States to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

The vote for ratification was 64-6, far in excess of the required two-thirds of those voting.

The top-sided approval followed relatively brief debate. Called a Keystone Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee which reported the treaty only Tuesday, called it "in a sense the keystone to our Western Pacific defense chain."

On the other side, Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore.) declared the treaty in his opinion pledges the U.S. to defend "not a country but a government whose rule is very doubtful."

"This document is a military alliance, not a treaty," he said. He argued it will increase rather than decrease the dangers of involving the U.S. in World War III.

2 Amendments Offered Morse offered two amendments which were soundly defeated.

A vote of 57-11 rejected his proposal to specify that the treaty does not officially recognize any Chinese Nationalist title to Formosa and the Pescadores.

The other referred to an informal opinion Countryman gave recently saying that it is illegal to serve liquor in a private club which has a beer permit.

TAIPEH, Formosa (Thursday) (AP)—Chinese troops began leaving the scorched earth of the Tachens Wednesday under guns of the U.S. 7th Fleet which are standing between them and nearby Red islands, press reports said.

The touchy situation was underscored by the loss of a navy Skyraider shot down by Communist ground guns Wednesday when it wandered "off course" west of the Tachens. Its three-man crew was rescued.

Communist MIGs were sighted by U.S. pilots along the mainland coast, which lies 15 miles west of the Tachens, for the second straight day.

High flying navy jets of the 7th Fleet spotted considerable shipping activity in Red islands north of the Tachens. This could mean the Communists were massing ships to take over the Tachens when the withdrawal ends. Best estimates are the evacuation will be ended by Saturday or Sunday.

Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, 7th Fleet commander, messaged that the last organized group of the 17,000 civilians in the Tachens, 200 miles north of Formosa, were taken off Wednesday. Only a few stragglers remained in the hills and they were to be picked up later.

Liquor Bill Would Control Private Clubs

DES MOINES (AP)—Rep. T. J. Frey (R-Neola) filed with the Iowa house Wednesday a bill to prohibit the use or presence of liquor in any form in private clubs.

The measure would ban "mixing, selling, dividing, giving away, or keeping liquor" in private clubs. There would be a fine for violation of the proposed act of not less than $100 and not more than $500 or imprisonment in a county jail for not less than 30 days nor more than six months.

Frey said that Robert L. Larson, while serving as attorney general before becoming a member of the Iowa Supreme court, ruled that liquor could be served if owned by members in a private club.

Atty. Gen. Dayton Countryman ruled informally recently that liquor could not be served in private clubs which sell beer.

Referring to his bill, Frey commented: "Now we will know whether the public wants to really make the state cracker dry or liberalize things so we can have liquor by the drink."

Letters Favor Liquor Law Enforcement

DES MOINES (AP)—Atty. Gen. Dayton Countryman said Wednesday he is getting about 10 letters a day on the general subject of liquor enforcement and that the sentiment is about seven to three for strict enforcement.

He said he had noted some newspaper editorials, two of which described his position on certain issues as "silly." One referred to a bill he has prepared for the legislature to make it a presumption that a tavern which holds a federal retail liquor dealer license is violating the state liquor law.

The other referred to an informal opinion Countryman gave recently saying that it is illegal to serve liquor in a private club which has a beer permit.

Jets Crash, 4 Killed

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (AP)—Two United States air force F95 Starfire jet fighters crashed Wednesday 16 miles from Goose Bay airport in Labrador and the four crew members were killed.

U.S. northeast air command headquarters here said the jets were on routine flight.

Each plane carried two men. The air force did not make clear whether the jets crashed independently or tangled somehow in the air.

Ike Answers Reds; Warns Of H-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday the hydrogen bomb poses so grave a threat to civilization that intelligent persons must strive heart and soul to prevent its use in warfare.

Mr. Eisenhower was commenting on Tuesday's statement by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that "world civilization will not perish" if war comes.

Molotov said in his Moscow policy address that only "the rotten special system" of the West would face destruction.

Supreme Soviet Warns Through the Supreme Soviet parliament the Soviet Union addressed a declaration Wednesday to all parliaments of the world, Gouzenko Predicts Red Power Fight TORONTO (AP)—Igor Gouzenko wrote Wednesday in a story copyrighted by the Toronto Telegram that the fall of Premier Georgi Malenkov of Russia and the appointment of Nikolai Bulganin as his successor foreshadows a new struggle for power in the Kremlin.

Gouzenko, former code clerk in the Russian embassy at Ottawa who gave Canada information which helped break a Soviet spy ring several years ago, says it is clear Malenkov's main worry now is to stay alive.

He says the change "signifies a return to the old prewar subordination of the Soviet government to the Communist party."

warning that Europe "could become the arena of a new war" if the Western nations carry out plans to arm West Germany.

The Supreme Soviet, adopting this declaration, also heard the new Premier, Marshal Nikolai A. Bulganin, declare: "Those lunatics who are brandishing atomic weapons and calling for atomic war must be called to order, and not a single government can ignore this."

Malenkov Disagreed Less than a year ago Georgi Malenkov, now ousted as Russia's Premier, expressed a contrary view which many Western statesmen also have voiced—that an H-bomb war would destroy all the countries involved.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference Wednesday, in the light of Molotov's speech, what he could say on a scientific basis about the H-bomb's destructive power.

He said there must be some kind of international inspection system, such as the United States has vainly proposed—one that all the world could trust, with an assurance that no nation is pushing toward an atomic war.

"So," he concluded, "whether or not civilization is destroyed, I say it is so serious that we just cannot pretend to be intelligent human beings unless we pursue with all our might, with all our thought, all our souls, you might say, some way of solving this problem."

Believe Reds Want Time To Build Up WASHINGTON (AP)—A pattern is beginning to emerge from the series of Soviet government changes. It seems to indicate the Soviet Union hopes for at least four or five more years of grace to bolster its economy.

The Communist party has evidently entered into a deal with the forces representing career men of the Soviet army, and more attention will now be paid to army views on preparations for eventual war.

The changes may be good news for the western world in this respect: The world may have time to compose its differences, while the internal Soviet structure evolves from a one-man dictatorship under the Communist party to a hybrid military dictatorship in which conservative army leaders will wield considerable influence.

Zhukov Promoted This seems to follow from the appointment of Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov as defense minister and the spotlighting of other military leaders in the rubber-stamp Soviet parliament.

Zhukov, Russia's popular war hero, became head of the Soviet Union's armed forces Wednesday. The conqueror of Berlin, now designated defense minister, was among a number of army figures moving into the spotlight against a background of tough foreign policy pronouncements.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A pattern is beginning to emerge from the series of Soviet government changes. It seems to indicate the Soviet Union hopes for at least four or five more years of grace to bolster its economy.

The Communist party has evidently entered into a deal with the forces representing career men of the Soviet army, and more attention will now be paid to army views on preparations for eventual war.

The changes may be good news for the western world in this respect: The world may have time to compose its differences, while the internal Soviet structure evolves from a one-man dictatorship under the Communist party to a hybrid military dictatorship in which conservative army leaders will wield considerable influence.

Zhukov Promoted This seems to follow from the appointment of Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov as defense minister and the spotlighting of other military leaders in the rubber-stamp Soviet parliament.

Zhukov, Russia's popular war hero, became head of the Soviet Union's armed forces Wednesday. The conqueror of Berlin, now designated defense minister, was among a number of army figures moving into the spotlight against a background of tough foreign policy pronouncements.

The fact that Zhukov has exchanged friendly words with President Eisenhower need not presage any softening of Soviet policy toward the U.S.

May Invite Zhukov In a spur of the moment reply to a news conference query, Mr. Eisenhower said he would not hesitate to consult his advisers—"if we found it desirable"—on the question of inviting Zhukov, whom he knew during World War II, to visit the United States.

Zhukov is many things: He's from the peasants and understands them; he's a Communist who owes his advance to the Communist regime; he's a career army officer who has devoted his life to making the Soviet army a more effective fighting machine. More than anything else, perhaps, Zhukov is a strong Russian patriot.

There undoubtedly has been compromise in the Soviet hierarchy. Some of the army leaders' views must be taken into consideration by Nikita S. Khrushchev, the leading personality in the Soviet Union today.

Compromise Seen If Khrushchev has come to terms with the army men, some attention will be paid to the consumer sector of the Soviet economy to quiet the army's fears of a brittle situation which could crack in wartime.

Apparently, however, this must be accomplished without sacrifice to the heavy industry sector. The army, if satisfied this can be done, probably will go along with the step-up of Soviet heavy industry which produces armaments. No army is ever interested in weakening a nation's armed force.

The Soviet Union, therefore, can be expected to put forward strong talk, in the Stalin manner, in foreign affairs but to avoid going far enough to risk plunging the world into war.

Bulganin Condemns U.S. This was implicit in Wednesday's address by the new Premier, Nikolai Bulganin. He condemned the United States as "aggressive" in China, but he carefully noted that the Soviet Union sympathizes with and supports "the Chinese people" over Formosa.

Bulganin gave other hints. The Soviet Union is thinking in terms of five to six years for the repair of its agricultural situation. While that remains in its present state, the Soviet Union would not be likely to take long chances.

Paying Its Own Way—

Gate receipts for SUI athletics showed an increase during the last fiscal year according to a recent state audit, although the balance on the books was $120,000 less than a year ago.

The balance at the time of the audit totaled $353,727. A reserve fund is maintained for athletic plant improvements and a major share of the $215,751 spent for the construction of the new university golf course came from that fund.

The audit showed $231,329 spent for capital additions during the year, most of it for the golf course.

The expenses of the construction of a new athletic office building now under construction will not show on the books until the 1955 fiscal year audit.

Another major project under consideration for the future is the construction of a new press box at Iowa stadium. Football writers have often mentioned the present press box as one of the worst in the nation.

As usual football receipts carried the financial burden of the entire athletic program with total gate receipts of $418,709. Iowa's surge to national football prominence pushed the revenue figure $103,463 higher than the previous year.

Basketball showed a $5,245 profit for the year even though expenses increased.

Golf course receipts totaled $21,406, an increase of $4,301 over the previous year.

Other intercollegiate sports figures ranged from a gain of $770 for baseball receipts over the 1953 fiscal year figure to $262 less for swimming over the same period.

Iowa athletics is more than paying for itself and benefitting students and the community by financing such projects as the new golf course. As long as football and basketball continue to attract capacity crowds the situation looks healthy.

Big Baby Boom—

Some Americans may think the population experts are talking through their hats about the expected increase in population, but if the present increasing trend in births and decreasing death rate continue, then the experts look pretty good.

They predict that the number of Americans will have increased to 220 million by 1975.

This all boils down to the need for increased planning to accommodate this population rise.

Let's hope the planners in the White House and Capitol hill in Des Moines are cognizant of this impending rush of humanity.

Fehling To Speak On Book by Mann

Prof. Fred L. Fehling of SUI's German department will speak on novelist Thomas Mann's four-volume work, "Joseph," at 8 p. m. Friday at Hiller house, 122 E. Market st.

Fehling said he would try to place the famous Biblical allegory in the context of Mann's other major works, "Buddenbrooks" and "The Magic Mountain."

"The Magic Mountain," which helped earn Mann a Nobel prize for literature, deals with European character and the coming of the first World War.

"Joseph," Fehling said, represents a final effort in which Mann turned his beam on the whole of mankind.

Iowa Senate Gets Public Opinion Bill

DES MOINES (AP) — Restrictions on the publication and broadcast of public opinion polls dealing with elections are proposed in a bill introduced Wednesday in the Iowa senate.

The bill, sponsored by Sens. J. Kendall Lynes (R-Plainfield), D. C. Nolan (R-Iowa City), and X. T. Prentiss (R-Mount Ayr), provides a $1,000 fine for each violation of the act by any newspaper, magazine, radio or television station.

In the bill are requirements that whenever a public opinion poll is published, it must include: A name and address of the person who conducted the poll, or under whose supervision it was conducted;

The county or counties in which polls were taken and the number of persons interviewed in each county; and A tabulation of the "purported votes for and against" any public measure and for each candidate.

Interpreting the News—

Western Nations Stiffen Intent

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst
The Russians have done it again.

For several days, since the fall of the Mendes-France cabinet in France, proponents of the Paris agreements on rearmament of Germany have feared for their success.

German opponents of the step had taken on new life. Chancellor Adenauer began an intense campaign for popular support, realizing he was running a close race.

The French internal situation was such that nobody knew what would happen. By any slight amendment the Council of the Republic, weak counterpart of the British House of Lords in the French parliamentary system, could send the proposals back to a widely divided assembly which had passed them originally only under great pressure from Mendes-France.

The uncertainty has by no means been resolved. But Tuesday's shift in the Soviet government, emphasizing the "tough line" and accompanied by bombast and military threats against the West, was immediately hailed by supporters of the Western Alliance as having put the neutralists and the doubters on the spot.

I often wish that I had started making a list, at the beginning of the cold war, of the number of times that Russian actions have caused a stiffening of Western intent when it was wavering.

Increased Influence
Actually, the sudden appearance of what seems to be increased military influence in the Russian government may not carry great international significance.

In Russia, as in the United States, the international situation has an impact on practically every movement and every policy. But this is true by varying degree, as measures pertain more to domestic or foreign affairs.

The present upheaval in Russia seems to be more of a domestic affair, although heavily involving the allocation of productive capacity for purposes of war or peace.

War Production
War production has won. That might be taken as an indication that military leaders are emerging as a result of their own strength. The appointments of Zhukov and Bulganin and the prominence given General Konev before the Supreme Soviet add color to this interpretation. If there is an actual increase in army power in Russia, it does not necessarily follow that an increase in war danger is a corollary. General staffs have a long record of restraining or opposing military adventures unless they are convinced of easy victory. No military staff can be convinced of easy victory in a general war today.

But the West has chosen to interpret the whole series of Russian events as threatening, in line with her organization of the satellites in a military union to face the new Western Alliance.

And by that token they are required to permit no sins of omission among themselves.

Bar Association Elects Officers

Atty. Louis Shulman of Iowa City was elected president of the Johnson county bar association at the organization's regular meeting Tuesday night. Shulman replaces Atty. William L. Meardon as head of the group.

Other new officers are Atty. A. C. Cahill, vice-president; Mrs. Cora Griffin, secretary, and R. Neilson Miller, district court clerk, treasurer.

Island Near Tachens Poses New Problems

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — The first days of the Tachens withdrawal appeared to go smoothly, but it begins to look as though another complication has developed.

It has become clear that the island of Nanchishan, 80 miles south of the Tachens, would be held. At least a battalion of Nationalist soldiers are stationed there, and there are reports the garrison numbers 5,000 men.

Nationalist spokesmen, who are anxious to make the Tachens withdrawal look like a redeployment rather than a retreat, have begun to emphasize that Nanchishan will be held.

Poses Problem
To some extent, the retention of Nanchishan poses the same problems as the Tachens.

The United States wanted the Tachens evacuated because encroachment of the Communists in the area, plus the buildup of Communist air strength on the mainland nearby made it too dangerous and expensive to hold them.

From a look at the map, the same thing can be said of Nanchishan. It is known that the issue is causing some worry among Americans on Formosa.

As the first day of the pull-out ended, President Chiang Kai-shek issued another official assurance that this withdrawal was not a retreat but a strategic maneuver to avoid attrition, strengthen the defenses of Formosa itself and prepare for the ultimate counter-invasion.

It was obvious that his abandonment of more islands—for whatever reason—was bitterly unwelcome here.

It was being said in diplomatic quarters that the Nationalists are claiming a firm commitment covering Quemoy and Matsu, most important of the offshore islands. Matsu is 100 miles northwest of Formosa and blockades the Red port of Foochow.

Quemoy, where the Nationalists once crushed a Red invasion after the fall of the mainland, is a stoutly defended island 120 miles across Formosa strait. It blocks the Communist port of Amoy.

2 Finalists for Fraternity Pledge Queen

Miss Ann Berner
Theta Xi Candidate

Miss Doris Guttenfelder
Pi Kappa Alpha Candidate

ANN BERNER, A1, Ft. Dodge, and Doris Guttenfelder, A1, Atlantic, are two of the five finalists for the 1955 interfraternity pledge queen. Miss Berner is a candidate for Theta Xi social fraternity and Miss Guttenfelder is a candidate for Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity. The other finalists are Elaine Cohen, A1, Des Moines, Phi Epsilon Pi candidate; Beth Moore, A1, Dubuque, Alpha Tau Omega candidate, and Ann Wallbridge, A1, Burlington, Phi Kappa Psi candidate. The dance will be held in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union from 9 to 11 Friday evening. Jack Paine and his orchestra will furnish music. "One Nighter" is the theme for the annual event. The five finalists were chosen by members of the interfraternity pledge council. The queen will be elected by pledges attending the formal. Each couple will have one vote and enter the candidate's name on the dance ticket. Jim Curtis, A1, Clinton, is in charge of the program and decorations. Pictures of the other three finalists will appear in Friday's Daily Iowan.

Miss Diane Hess, Morris Allen Marry

Miss Diane Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hess, Marion, and Morris L. Allen, son of Mrs. Hattie Allen, Leon, were married Friday evening, Feb. 4, in the Christian church, Marion.

The Rev. Roy Fields officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with candelabra and jardinières of white chrysanthemums and lemon leaves.

The bride wore a waltz-length gown of white satin brocade fashioned with a princess style bodice. She carried a fan of white carnations, centered with an orchid, with ribbon streamers tied with hyacinth petals.

Mrs. Norman Severinsen, Bennett, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her dress of emerald green tulle was trimmed like that of the bride.

Glen Nicholson served as best man. Robert Dippo and Robert Pollock, both of Iowa City, ushered.

Edwin Carlson, Marion, sang "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony.

Mrs. Allen is a junior in the supplemental nursing program. Mr. Allen is a senior in the college of law.

New Products

Talcum To Disintegrate Oil Developed

NEW YORK (AP) — How to control oil, fire and water is the province of new foreign products on the market this week. And there are plenty of home grown new products, too.

A Danish manufacturer, H. C. Andersen, Ribe, Western Jutland, Denmark, has perfected a type of talcum which he says makes oil disintegrate in two minutes.

A successful experiment was reported carried out in the North Sea where 7,000 tons of oil were discharged by the grounded Danish tanker Gerd Maersk. The oil killed birds and damaged beaches. Neutralizing oil dumped in the ocean is one of the prime purposes of the new product.

Light Lighter

A new way to make fire for lighting cigarettes comes from Germany via Murphy Reier, Chicago.

The lighter is a small cylinder weighing less than an ounce. It is filled with a fluid that bursts into flame when it hits the air in the presence of a catalyst. The latter consists of fine silver and platinum wires.

There is no wick, flint, gas, battery, or moving parts. You just take off the cap of the lighter, and there is the flame.

Keep Planos Dry

Water is the province of the British. They have found a way to remove dampness from your piano.

The new product that does it is a plastic covered cable installed in the lower front panel of the piano. Plug it in to the electric outlet, and it maintains a heat a few degrees higher than the surrounding and presumably damp atmosphere. That keeps the piano dry. Maker is Warm-Glow Co. Ltd., Leigh-On-Sea, Essex.

Homecoming 'Ceremony' Fails

Eight SUI students went out Wednesday afternoon to prove that midwesterners are just as friendly as anyone else... but their efforts failed because their guest of honor failed to arrive.

Kerry Egan, A1, Toronto, Ont., complained to his friends this year that midwesterners were not as hospitable as Canadians, particularly Canadians from what Egan called the "bushes," or the lumbering areas of Canada.

So when Egan went to Miami, Fla., between semesters his Iowa City friends decided to make his return an event he wouldn't forget for some time.

Tuesday night the group made a large sign saying "Welcome Home Bushman," a three foot by two foot flag of Canada, a giant "key to the city" and a life size picture of Marilyn Monroe.

In addition four of the group took trumpets to the airport to play "God Save the King." Kerin Okerlin, A1, Clarinda, was on hand to deliver a "welcome home" kiss.

When the plane landed everything was ready to go, but Egan wasn't on it.

After another plane arrived about ten minutes later and still no Egan, the "committee" went home rather disappointed. Phillip Hess, A2, Chicago, a member of the group said.

Egan apparently has missed his big chance because the group says it will meet no more planes.

Breza Faces Charge After Collision

Victor R. Breza, 54, of Solon, has been charged in Iowa City police court with failure to yield the right of way in connection with a two-car collision northwest of Solon Monday.

The charge was filed by a highway patrolman who investigated the accident at an intersection of two country roads.

Robert W. Lutzelman, 41, of Cedar Rapids, driver of the other car, was in a Cedar Rapids hospital Wednesday receiving treatment for head and chest injuries. Lutzelman previously had been incorrectly reported as being charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Emlyon Owen, 50, of Cedar Rapids, a passenger in the Lutzelman car, Wednesday was in good condition in a Cedar Rapids hospital with a broken knee cap.

Failure To Pay Taxes Causes $10,000 Fine

DETROIT (AP)—A Hamtramck insurance man who said he made out income tax returns for 1,000 persons but was too busy to file one of his own, paid a $10,000 fine and was placed on a year's probation in federal court here Wednesday.

Joseph M. Kaminsky was charged with failure to pay taxes in 1951 and 1952. Tax agents said he owed $5,610 for the two years. "I was too busy and too tired to file," Kaminsky told Judge Theodore Levin.

Ike Backs School Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower went to bat for his new aid-to-schools program Wednesday, declaring local communities must pay most of the cost and blasting as harmful the idea of "free money from Washington."

But a number of Democrats stepped up their criticism of his seven billion dollar federal-state school construction program, calling it woefully inadequate to meet the nation's classroom shortage.

The president described education as "bread and butter citizenship" in replying at a news conference to Democratic contentions that his program puts too heavy a debt burden on states and localities.

The program, submitted to congress Tuesday, would limit the federal government's share of the seven billion dollars to $1 billion in loans and grants to start the construction of more than 300,000 classrooms in the next three years.

Dismissal Asked In Slander Suit

Vernon W. Nall, owner of Nall Motors, Inc., Wednesday asked dismissal of a $50,000 slander suit filed against him by Newton Weller, Yellow-Checker and DeLuxe Cab companies owner, in Johnson county district court.

Weller, in a suit filed in January charged Nall "wantonly, falsely, and maliciously" tried to injure Weller's business and reputation by telling other persons Weller's financial position was poor. A number of specific allegations against Nall were made.

Nall asked that the suit be dismissed because it was full of "conclusions and insinuations." He said it was not sufficiently specific in naming times, persons, places and the manner in which Nall was alleged to have slandered the plaintiff.

TOUR ARRANGED

DES MOINES (AP)—A special tour of the White House has been arranged by Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower for two Boone county couples for next Saturday. Rep. Chester A. Scheerer (R-Boone) said Wednesday that Mrs. Scheerer and Mr. and Mrs. Kay Andrews of Madrid will accompany him.

Super Sabrejet Crash Explained

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Aerodynamic phenomena never before experienced by man caused the F100 Super Sabrejet disintegration that killed ace test pilot George Welch and led to the three-month grounding of the supersonic plane, North American Aviation corporation disclosed Wednesday.

Weeks of painstaking detective work show that Welch encountered an unpredictable violent pull off course in the fatal accident last Oct. 12 near Palmdale, Calif., according to Raymond H. Rice, engineering vice-president for North American.

Rice predicted the F100, which holds the official world's speed record of 755.149 m.p.h., is at "the brink of new high performance" as the result of the investigation.

The air force lifted the ban on the plane last week after North American modifications calling for a larger tail, extended wing tips and expanded control system.

Rice, writing in the company's quarterly magazine, said the decisive clue was provided by oscillograph film records from Welch's plane, found only partly damaged and which photo technicians were able to develop.

"The unforeseen action of the airplane was a high, nose-right yaw pull off course," Rice said. "The unprecedented high angle of yaw experienced during the test was in excess of the design limit of the airplane, thereby causing disintegration."

Welch was diving the plane from 40,000-foot altitude, with instructions to pull up at 23,000 feet, when the plane came apart under stress calculated at more than seven times the pull of gravity. Despite a speed presumed to be well in excess of 800 m.p.h. Welch was able to parachute, but was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Vronsky and Babin
Versatile Piano Team

Duo-Piano Team Vronsky and Babin Proves Artistry

By Lawrence Sherman

The piano team of Vitya Vronsky and Victor Babin displayed both artistry and versatility at the SUI concert Wednesday night as they moved with familiarity from Bach to Stravinsky.

Both the "Sonata in G Major, No. 8" by Bach and the three movements from Stravinsky's "Petrouchka" demonstrated Babin's skill as an arranger of two piano music. The "Sonata in G Major" was written for a harpsichord instrument that is now extinct, but the duo proved it can be beautifully played on two pianos.

Between Bach and Stravinsky the team offered a fantasia by Schubert, a concerto by Liszt, and five pieces from a composition by Bizet entitled "Children's Games."

'Fantaisie' Fascinates

Schubert's "Fantaisie in F Minor" is a chiller in the literary sense. An innocent but hypnotizing theme develops—sometimes vaguely, sometimes abruptly—into loud, grotesque music. The fascination of this opening theme is so great that the music always returns to it, always with the same result. Vronsky and Babin performed the composition at one piano.

The first movement of Franz Liszt's "Concerto Pathetique" is loud and assertive. But in the second movement, the mood reverses as if the composer were making amends for his pomposity.

It was in this movement, slow, endearing, almost entreating, that the performers exhibited their musicianship. Often Liszt provided only a few notes to sus-

SUI Music Recital Set for Friday

The SUI department of music will present the 13th in a series of student recitals Friday, Feb. 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the North music hall. Annette Trachsel, A3, Iowa City, flute, and Margaret Pendleton, instructor in the department of music, piano, will perform. Carleen Warner, A2, Iowa City, oboe, and Joneal Boyle, A2, Iowa City, viola, will assist Miss Trachsel.

Army To Interview Teachers To Fill Overseas Positions

Candidates interested in teaching in dependent overseas schools will be interviewed by army representatives at Iowa State Teachers college March 4 to 6, Miss Frances Camp, director of the SUI educational placement office, announced Wednesday.

To qualify, candidates must hold a bachelors degree, 18 hours in education, two years of recent public school teaching, a teaching certificate and must be between the ages of 25 and 55.

Most of the teaching vacancies are on the elementary level, but there are some high school positions open, Miss Camp said.

For further information applicants should contact the educational placement office, C-103 East hall, or write E. W. Goetch, placement consultant, Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Got His Divorce

BANDLEADER Ray Anthony, arriving back in Los Angeles from a Mexican divorce from Dee Keating, is met at the plane by an enthusiastic Mamie Van Doren.

2 Education Board Members Won't Run For Re-Election

Irving Weber and Alva Oathout announced Wednesday that they would not be candidates for re-election to the Iowa City board of education March 14.

David L. Stoehl, district treasurer, also said he would not seek to retain his position in the annual board election.

Stoehl was appointed as treasurer in 1953 to fill a vacancy.

Weber and Oathout were elected to their first three-year terms in 1949 and were re-elected in 1952. Both are past presidents of the school board.

The school selection committee—a group composed of 10 Republicans and 10 Democrats—will nominate candidates for the two board positions and the school treasurer's post.

Judge Orders All Trustees To Report

Johnson county district court Judge James P. Gaffney Wednesday ordered trustees in estate, guardianship and trust matters to report by March 14 to his court on their responsibilities, if they have failed to do so already under state law.

Estate executors, guardians and trust officers who fail to report will be required to appear in district court March 21 to show cause why they should not be removed from their trusts.

Report New TB Cure 'Successful'

ATLANTA (AP)—Medical researchers Wednesday reported the discovery and apparently successful trial of a new drug that exerts "a powerful anti-tuberculosis effect."

Three New York clinicians who have tested the new antibiotic, called cycloserine, told physicians from throughout the nation that in 11 of the 37 patients tested, all apparent traces of tuberculosis bacilli were removed.

Wind Rearm Then

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill Thursday still favors top talks with the Russians, but it clear to the new K rulers that Britain intends push ahead with rearming Germany first.

The 80-year old statesman spoke in the house of commons as the British ambassador to Moscow, Sir William F. Duggan, carried out secret negotiations aimed at a Formosa cease-fire.

Responding to Labor demands that he invite the Soviet Premier, Marshal N. S. Khrushchev, to join in top talks soon, Churchill declared the policy of the government is to seek a four-power conference at a time when it likely to yield genuine results but that occasion is not likely occur until after the ratification of the London-Paris agreements.

The Churchill government hopes the agreements to free the West Germans from the parliamentary through the parliamentary of all nine nations involved in a couple of months.

The Kremlin shakeup accompanied by a renewed attack on Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that cation of the Paris agreement would doom hopes of East-West talks.
