Don't Bar Dissenters—

The Iowa house last week passed legislation which, in effect, freezes the two-party structure of Iowa politics.

The bill requires non-party political organizations to nominate candidates for office by conventions attended by a number of delegates equal to one per cent of the vote cast for governor in the district in the last election.

This means that a minor party would have to muster about 2,000 delegates from 1st district or more than 150 representatives from Johnson county alone.

Only 100 delegates attended the Democratic convention in Johnson county last June, and 150 were present at a similar meeting of Republicans. These assemblies did not even require the delegates to travel out-of-town.

Under present law, it is necessary only that a small political group hold a convention attended by two or more persons to make nominations. The legislators evidently feel responsible to abolish these "telephone booth" conventions.

Printing extra names on millions of ballots puts the state to a great deal of expense. Such action should not have to be taken because of the nominations of a handful of citizens.

The appearance of the "Republicans" on the 1954 ballot undoubtedly has alarmed the major parties to the situation, even though the newcomer polled only some 2,000 votes for U.S. senator as compared with about 400,000 votes for the Republican candidate.

However, when we punish a misguided youngster we don't shut him out of the house for good. We teach him the accepted way to handle himself in a society of grownups.

The abuses of the present law regarding conventions of non-party organizations should precipitate regulation, not elimination. Small, dissenting groups have much to offer in a democracy.

They encourage the major parties to keep their factions together through compromise. There is always the possibility of a faction breaking off to form another party.

It keeps the political system open for all to be heard. Not all "third parties" are crackpots. Some present new, challenging viewpoints. Their legitimacy is upheld by the fact that often the "revolutionary doctrine" later finds its way into the platforms of the older, established parties.

Surely the legislators can find other ways to overcome the impracticalities of the present system, without establishing by law a "status quo" in Iowa politics.

Have a Heart—

Solving for "unknowns" is a major task of the American Heart association.

These "unknowns" are causing more than 794,000 deaths annually, or more than 52 per cent of all deaths.

They include these unanswered questions:

- 1) What causes the arteries to become thickened, setting the stage for "heart attack"?
- 2) What are the exact mechanisms responsible for the abnormal constriction of the tiny ends of the arteries, causing high blood pressure?
- 3) What are the exact mechanisms through which strep infection leads to rheumatic fever, and consequently to rheumatic heart disease?

Support to Heart Fund drive workers who will be conducting a door-to-door campaign Sunday may mean the answers to these questions. Lend your support.

Interpreting the News—

Physicist Fears Cobalt Bomb

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

From one side of the earth comes word from Otto Hahn, one of the original atom splitters, that 10 cobalt-coated bombs would just about make the world uninhabitable, no matter where dropped.

Not much is known publicly about the so-called cobalt bomb, except that cobalt becomes extremely radioactive. It is being experimented with in the United States for the treatment of disease under the most extreme shielding and safety precautions.

HAHN

Apparently, used in a bomb, it would be reduced to fine particles which would spread death-dealing radiation over a vast area — one bomb, one-tenth of the earth, according to Hahn.

From the other side of Hahn's endangered earth, and from Moscow, come political statements which, if believed by those who utter them, constitute a sinister frame of mind.

"Should the imperialists start a war of aggression, we, together with the whole world, will certainly wipe them out clean from the surface of the globe," says Mao Tse Tung. It was an echo of the same thought expressed by Russia's Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov at the recent meeting of the Supreme Soviet.

TO THE EDITOR:

Your editorial in Saturday's Iowan about the proposed merger of the AFL and CIO seemed to contain some fundamental misconceptions in equating the so-called labor monopoly to business monopolies.

True, there shall be only one national labor organization, but this does not mean the nation's employers will be at the mercy of labor any more now than before.

The competition that will be stifled by this monopoly will be the costly and useless competition that takes place when new unions are in the process of being organized.

Large Percentage Jurisdictional strikes have always represented a large percentage of the total number of strikes that occur in this country each year. In the past some of these strikes have been among the most violent in the history of American labor.

Usually, other economically wasteful weapons such as labor boycotts and sympathy strikes have been employed by one or the other of the national organizations in conjunction with its efforts to bring a new union under its domain.

Each national organization strove to increase its membership and power. This is done not to hold the threat of a general strike over the nation, as the Iowan implied, but to add to the resources available to local unions in case of disputes with employers. Labor unions or industry-wide unions would be able to bargain with their employers on more equal economic terms.

Another Advantage

The further equalization of bargaining power between par-

Benefit Handed Down

The administrative savings to be derived from the merger are at the disposal of the national organization and may be used in such forms as lower contributions from individual union members, more union supplied benefits.

The editorial also referred to the possibility of labor leaders calling a general strike in time of a national emergency. Every strike that takes place or is proposed to take place in this country requires a vote by the membership of the particular union involved.

It is inconceivable that America will ever in the future ever hear of a proposal for a general strike. And it must be remembered that a genuine national emergency is of as much concern to millions of union members as it is to other Americans.

Vital Pescadores Are Barren, Windswept

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States, pledged to defend the Pescadores Islands as vital to the defense of Formosa itself, Pentagon planners note that no invader of Formosa — Chinese, Spanish, Dutch, French or Japanese — has ever achieved success without occupying the Pescadores.

However, the strategic importance of the tiny 64 islands within the Pescadores group is vital to the defense of Formosa itself. Pentagon planners note that no invader of Formosa — Chinese, Spanish, Dutch, French or Japanese — has ever achieved success without occupying the Pescadores.

Bleak Outpost
The Pescadores, which total approximately 50 square miles about 30 miles west of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's stronghold of Formosa, are a bleak, windy, and monotonous outpost of Western defense.

The Pescadores are the most densely occupied islands in the Formosa area. Their 80,000 people exist mostly on sea food although peanuts, sweet potatoes and a scattering of other plants are grown on the porous, sandy soil. Women outnumber the men on the islands, incidentally.

The Pescadores got their name from the Portuguese word "fishermen." The largest of the island group is Penghu, meaning "Lake in the Sea," which refers to the relatively calm waters between the island and its companion bodies.

Winter Monsoon
The Pescadores are known as the Penghu Islands to the Nationalists who maintain a naval base there, snugly harbored against the relentless buffeting of the northeast monsoon that funnels through the Formosa strait from October to March.

The encircling seas are almost always choppy, mist-enshrouded or rain-swept in winter, and as the chill winds descend, there are no rough hills in all the riverless islands to break their force.

The only windbreak for plants and inhabitants are a few stone or concrete houses and stone fences. The only trees grow solely on the leeward side of the buildings and none is found above rooftop level.

Old Tree
One tree, according to the National Geographic society, is a 300-year-old banyan, which is said to cover half a block in a low crouch, in deference to the wind.

Makung is the principal town of the Pescadores. It stands on the western extremity of Penghu and nearby are the grassy airstrips and the naval base of the Nationalists. Makung is a drab city with rows of high stone walls. City curfew is enforced at midnight, but on windy evenings few are brave enough to step out on its washboard walks.

An interesting sidelight to the cinnamon-colored Pescadores chain, which was once a pirate lair but now, as always in its 1,385-year history, is a fisherman's haven, is the fact that the dead occupy more ground than the living.

The Pescadores have weathered many wars as well as killing storms, and almost 10 per cent of the islands' total area is covered by graveyards.

Apart from the strategic importance of the Pescadores as a bastion of Western defense, this is perhaps the most unique feature of the group because, as geographers point out, this is the only spot on earth where this is so.

Relatively calm waters exist between the islands, though the encircling seas are almost always choppy, misty or rain-swept in the winter.

Nationalist Navy Has Island Base
From a naval base on the riverless islands, Nationalist ships could fan out to strike quickly at Communist gunboats in the Formosa Strait or attack troop-laden transports from the Red Chinese mainland which is almost 100 miles distant.

Accident Victim's Services Thursday
Funeral services for Robert Dean King, 14-year-old Mennonite student killed in a two-car accident 13 miles southwest of Iowa City Monday afternoon, will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the West Mennonite church, nine miles northwest of Wellman. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King, R.R. 1, Parnell.

Two of the six persons injured in the accident were listed in poor condition Tuesday night in Mercy hospital. They are Mary K. Swartzendruber, 16, and her brother Calvin, 17, both of Parnell.

Kenneth King, 16, Robert's brother; Shirley Manner, 14, Parnell; Darwin Schoville, 41, Coraville, and Alvin Christner, 30, Sharon Center were in good condition Tuesday night, hospital officials said.

Shueyville Students To CR High School

SHUEYVILLE — Voters of the Shueyville school district Tuesday voted to send their 17 high school students to Cedar Rapids. The vote was 67-11.

The high school students will attend Cedar Rapids schools on a tuition basis. They will travel to Cedar Rapids by bus.

The Shueyville district plans to close its three one-room schoolhouses and send grade school pupils to the Shueyville school building.

The extra grade school pupils will take up rooms now used by high school classes, Frank J. Snider, Johnson county superintendent of schools, said.

Paper Napkins

Convenient To Have At Home

Among the many conveniences of today that we are thankful for is the paper napkin. We reach for a paper napkin at breakfast, lunch and dinner as automatically as we place them in our picnic baskets and school lunch boxes.

The beautifully embossed, extra large napkins take their place at formal entertaining, complementing our finest linen and table service. And, whether it's formal or informal, the use of a paper napkin is appreciated by guest and hostess alike.

Besides mealtime uses, paper napkins perform many other services. Dispenser packaged or in cellophane, they can be kept handy for those emergency occasions when quick action is necessary.

Good for last minute wiping of silver and china before setting the table, for wiping up little messes around sink and range, and banishing the last bit of grease from broiler and frying pan, they also can be an aid in keeping the family car's windshield and rear view mirror clear.

As for decorative uses, try using them as coasters that will stay with the beverage by wrapping them around the glass with a rubber band. Use them to dress up servings of sandwiches and cake, and place them under french fries and bacon to absorb grease. For children's parties, have the children make their own candy surprise holders out of napkins.

As you can see, whatever the time, place or occasion, paper napkins can work for you.

Many years ago a phrase was coined.
"The Road of Planned Progress"

This phrase is usually referred to as the Rock Island Lines' slogan. But it is more than a slogan—it's an inspiration, a business directive, a constant reminder that this is one railroad where planning is habitual and progress the rule.

Planned progress! Just what does it mean to the Rock Island... to You? Expressed in terms of efficient operation, it means a smoother roadbed—fewer curves, dips and elevations—modern yard facilities—diesel powered ROCKET FREIGHTS—the popular streamlined ROCKETS, including the GOLDEN STATE—and, in late '55, the new Jet Rocket between Chicago and Peoria.

And in areas of industrial expansion, Rock Island service is keeping pace, too—new improvements, finer service!

Yes, this continues to be "The Road of Planned Progress"

Olson, 'Tiger' Jones In Non-Title Clash

CHICAGO (AP)—Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson, whose last defeat (in 1952) was to Sugar Ray Robinson, tonight meets a man who just gave Robinson a good trimming, Ralph (Tiger) Jones, in a non-title bout at the Chicago stadium.

In fact, two of Olson's three defeats in 28 bouts since 1950 were by the once-invincible Sugar whose comeback try was turned to vinegar by Jones a month ago at the stadium.

Olson is a 4 to 1 favorite in the nationally televised 10-rounder (9 p.m., Iowa time, CBS) which offers the 26-year-old Jones the chance of his modest ring career. Tiger can ride to an almost certain title shot at Olson if he upsets the 160-pound king in the overweight bout.

Olson is expected to weigh 166 and Jones about 161.

The scrap should be a good yardstick for Robinson to learn whether he is hopelessly over the hill, or made the mistake of grabbing a tiger by the tail while still rusty from his song and dance fling after abdicating as middleweight champion in 1952.

Until Jones, an 8-1 underdog, upset Robinson, the Tiger had dropped five straight bouts which marked almost half of his 13 defeats against 33 victories and 3 draws since he began as a pro in 1950.

Young Boxer Dies From Lung Disease

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Boxer Cassell Tate, 29, once a widely known middleweight, was found dead in bed Tuesday. A coroner said his death was of natural causes.

Coroner Dr. Harry L. Gilmore said after an autopsy that Tate had died of acute pulmonary edema or lack of oxygen caused by body fluids filling the lungs. Gilmore said the cause of that condition was undetermined.

Tate had become a professional boxer in 1949. In 1950 in Buffalo, he lost to Carmen Basilio, now ranked as the world's top welterweight.

Notre Dame End To Play in Canada

VANCOUVER (AP)—Don George, 20-year-old defensive end from Notre Dame, was signed Tuesday by the British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

George, a defensive end the last two seasons, was dropped from Notre Dame for scholastic reasons. He is ineligible to sign with a National Football League club until his class graduates in June, 1956.

Japanese Wrestlers Coming Here

A team of eight Japanese wrestlers, amateur champions of their nation, will appear in the Iowa field house between March 7 and 12 in exhibition matches.

Iowa Coach Dave McCuskey, said that the exact date of their coming is yet to be set. The group now is on a competitive and exhibition tour of the Pacific Coast, after which it will head eastward.

No Japanese wrestlers ever before have come to Iowa. However, such a troupe appeared at Iowa State Teachers college in Cedar Falls when McCuskey was wrestling coach there.

The troupe will spend about eight weeks in the United States. They are led by Ichoro Hattai, president of the Japan Amateur Wrestling association. In addition to exhibition bouts with Hawkeye wrestlers, the group probably will demonstrate about four different kinds of Japanese wrestling, including judo, McCuskey said.

The Iowa coach now is awaiting definite information as to the personnel of the visitors and also soon expects to be able to set the date of their appearance. The Japanese will compete in the National AAU championships in Amityville, L. Is., N. Y., March 31 to April 3.

Olympic weights will be wrestled in bouts with the Hawkeyes. They will include 114.5 pounds, 125.5, 136.5, 147.5, 160.5, 174.5, 191 and heavy-weight.

Freethrows Beat Parsons, 92-80

PELLA (AP)—Central stuffed in 42 of 52 free throw attempts to defeat Parsons, 92-80, Tuesday night and maintain second place in the Iowa conference.

Parsons, which outshot Central from the floor, fouled 12 times in the last 10 minutes when the winners were stalling. Vic Manussier of Central scored 22 points, 14 of them on free throws.

Rocky Set To Defend Title; Nose OK

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)—Rocky Marciano is ready to defend his heavyweight boxing title against Britain's Don Cockell in May, probably in San Francisco's Kezar stadium.

The champ's celebrated nose passed a three-round test Tuesday without springing a leak, so Manager Al Weill promptly pronounced him fit for duty.

Actually it wasn't much of a test for his nose, sliced by Edward Charles last Sept. 17 before Marciano scored an eighth-round knockout in a title fight at Yankee stadium.

Head Guard
The champion wore a protective head guard as he has since his nose was injured at Holland, Mich., in 1953 when he was training for the rematch with Jersey Joe Walcott.

The special mask has two protective prongs that fit over the cheeks and leave only a narrow gap at the nose.

It was most difficult for sparring partner Keene Simmons to get a clean crack at the schnozz Tuesday.

'A Few Punches'
After the workout, Marciano said he had been hit on the nose "a few punches"—maybe five or six—but said it didn't worry him. He claimed he was convinced the nose wouldn't bother him in his next fight.

There was no visible redness on the nose.

Marciano had boxed "privately" three rounds Saturday, three Sunday and two Monday, so the outcome of the tests for the benefit of boxing writers wasn't much of a surprise.

London Bout Perhaps

Although British promoter Jack Solomons is prepared to offer Marciano a $300,000 guarantee to fight Cockell in London, Weill is expected to sign with promoter Jimmy Murray of San Francisco, as co-promoter with the International Boxing club.

"Nothing will be done until Feb. 24," said Weill with emphasis. "Solomons, Cockell and his manager will be in New York then to meet with Jim Norris (IBC president). Then it will be up to Norris to decide what to do. After all we have a contract with Norris."

Weill said Murray has assured him that Kezar stadium can seat 60,000 and handle another 10,000 on the field.

"The way he's (Marciano) been going I see no reason why he won't fight sometime in May," said Weill after the workout. He added Cockell would be the opponent "if terms can be arranged."

U.S. Skaters Want Cereal

MOSCOW (AP) - Three American speed skaters - the first U.S. athletes to compete in the Soviet Union - had their fill of food, hospitality and sightseeing before going out for their first practice session Tuesday.

Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen pitched in and supplied enough of the breakfast cereal to last the team through the competition as he conducted them through an hour-long briefing session after their three-hour workout at 100,000-seat Dynamo stadium.

The skaters, Ken Henry of Chicago, Don McDermott of Englewood Cliffs, N.J., and John Werket of Minneapolis, plus the team manager, Richard Shearman of Jamestown, N.Y., arrived Monday and were taken to the swank Sovetskaya hotel for a caviar supper.

Soviet authorities wanted to take them to a concert Tuesday night, but the boys demurred and are going to the ballet today instead.

In addition to supplying cornflakes, Bohlen also invited the four men to lunch Friday, when he promised to feed them real American steaks flown in from Chicago. The Russians also fed them steaks Tuesday, after coming through with ham and eggs earlier.

"If we ate as much as they offer us, we'd never be able to skate," said one of the Americans.

The Americans got out on the Dynamo stadium ice for a workout at 1 p.m. and kept going until 4. The ice was in good shape.

Advices Appointment Of 2 from SUI

DES MOINES (AP)—Gov. Leo A. Hoeg sent to the senate Tuesday the nominations of two SUI staff members to the Iowa Natural Resources council.

The staff members are H. Garland Hershey, state geologist, now in Washington, D. C., on special assignment to the President concerning national water resources, and F. M. Dawson, dean of the SUI college of engineering. Both men are now serving on the resources council.

George B. Hartman, Iowa State college and Leroy Getting, Sanborn farmer, were also nominated to the same group. Hartman has been serving on the council. Nomination of Getting was for an unexpired term ending June 30, and for a full six year term beginning next July 1.

Address Shifted To Shambaugh

In order to accommodate the large number of persons who have indicated their desire to attend, the address to be given tonight by J. D. Ryder, dean of engineering at Michigan State college, will be presented in the Shambaugh lecture room of the SUI library instead of in the Jefferson hotel as originally scheduled.

Ryder's address, to begin at 8 p.m., will follow a banquet at the Jefferson hotel sponsored by the SUI branch of the Institute of Radio Engineers. The banquet will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Ryder will speak on "Automation in Electronics."

Eisenhower Signs New Veterans' Benefits Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday signed legislation continuing GI education benefits for those who entered the armed services before Feb. 1. Under the new law, those in service before Feb. 1 will continue to accrue education and training benefits at the rate of 1 1/2 days of schooling for each day in service up to a maximum of 36 months of schooling.

for six-year terms beginning next July. Members of the council receive no salary.

Set Sales Tax Bill Debate for Tuesday In Iowa Senate

DES MOINES (AP)—A bill which would increase the state sales and use tax to three per cent, but exempt certain foods, Tuesday was set as a special order of business for next Tuesday morning in the Iowa senate.

The bill, which Sen. J. G. Lucas, (R-Madrid), Ways and Means committee chairman, said would produce about 17 million dollars a year of state revenue, is opposed by several senators from border counties.

Sen. Duane Dewel (R-Algonia), majority floor leader, had attempted Monday to schedule debate on the measure for Wednesday morning but ran into opposition. Some senators contended it was an attempt to "railroad" the bill through the senate.

There was no objection, however, to considering the bill next Tuesday as that will give the objecting senators time to confer with their constituents.

Introduced in the senate Tuesday afternoon were bills which would make the board of parole a full time board and mission authority to enforce truck registration laws.

The Board of Parole committee recommended that the parole board bill be passed. The measure would require that board members devote at least 100 days per year to personal interviews with prisoners at the state penitentiary and the men's and women's reformatories.

A purpose of the interviews would be to determine eligibility of prisoners for parole.

The measure also would raise the pay of parole board members from $4,500 to $6,000 a year.

Part of First Experimental TV Class

PROF. HUGH KELSO, flanked by SUI students, leads a discussion during the nation's first experimental effort in an educational effort in SUI's Television center, Tuesday morning. Other students of this semester's 87-member comparative foreign governments class were split into small groups, which viewed the proceedings by closed circuit television and joined into the discussion by microphones in viewing rooms. ingly few mechanical difficulties today. Discussion group teaching with TV is feasible, I believe, but it is too early to tell. I was quite pleased with the way everything went."

Whitesel added that "it is an exploratory plan — and an exploratory subject — which has to be seen to be appreciated." He said he, who circulated among the three groups, and the technicians "had our hands full" and added that the experience left him agreeably "dazed."

Stuit, who teaches a class elsewhere at that time, later conferred with faculty members involved, and said he was satisfied that "it went very well."

Students agreed with Kelso and Whitesel that class participation was excellent, but Patricia Judge, A4, Boone, said she felt the class was "too large for good discussion. Often I, and other students, too, wanted to say something, but felt the group was too large or the stage too far away." Miss Judge was in an off-stage room.

She added that "it's just beginning and the general discussion was very good."

Christine Price, A2, Ottumwa, who was on the stage said "it went very well for the first day. Discussion was good. Improvements will come."

Richard Braverman, A4, Iowa City, said "I think it will be a good thing, but it is hard to tell right now."

Bryce Hahn, A3, Cedar Rapids, said "I sat in a front row seat, but those sitting farther back said it would help to have the screen raised six inches. Discussion was very good. In fact, there were even a few hot arguments."

Stuit said a full-scale test may be run next fall, with one group learning by TV and the other by regular classroom technique. A comparison would be made of the progress of each group.

Faculty members noted that TV may make it possible to spread talents of good discussion leaders over larger groups.

They said TV may also remove the barrier to good discussion imposed by too large a class.

Motorcycle Moved To Park Automobile

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—Danny McLain parked his motorcycle in a regular downtown space and returned to find it on the sidewalk and an automobile in its place.

"A motorcyclist has the same rights as an automobile owner," McClain complained to the Martinsville Bulletin, local newspaper. "Let's be fair about this whole thing."

Alleys Are Busy On Opening Day

Opening day activity at the Iowa Memorial Union bowling alleys Monday far exceeded expectations, Robert Froeschle, manager of the Union's recreational area, said Tuesday.

"Even with very little publicity and the competition of a Big Ten basketball game, we still operated at 50 per cent of capacity between 4:30 and 10 p.m.," he said.

At 3 p.m. Tuesday, after physical education groups finished their hour, all 16 alleys were being used. This gave Froeschle reason to think that Monday's response would be exceeded every day this week.

The only major problem, said Froeschle, is the heavy dust caused by the construction that continues on the Union's new wing. Everthing is being done to minimize it, Froeschle said, but it will be present until the interior construction is finished.

Bowling hours are from noon to 10:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday. On Friday and Saturday the alleys will be open from noon to midnight, and on Sundays from 2 to 10 p.m.

Also using the alleys during part of this time will be physical education classes. They are scheduled for 1 to 4 p.m., Monday and Wednesday and from 2 to 3 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday.

Even during these class hours, Froeschle said, at least four alleys will be kept available for "open" bowling. "Open" bowling costs 35 cents a line.

Board Ups Liquor Prices 5 Per Cent Effective April 2

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa Liquor Control commission decided Tuesday to increase prices at its 180 state stores, including Iowa City's, by 5 per cent "across the board" effective April 2.

Commission chairman Harold E. Wolfe said that on the basis of 1954 sales, the increase in price would yield $1,850,000 a year more for the state.

He said the increase was made on recommendation of the senate Ways and Means committee and house members who had proposed a 10 per cent boost. The commission had said previously that it felt that if prices were increased that much, it would encourage bootlegging.

Wolfe said the 5 per cent increase would result in a rise of about 18 cents in the cost of a fifth of 86-proof whiskey and of about 27 cents a fifth in bonded bourbon and imported Scotch.

Professor To Speak At Omaha University

Prof. Walter A. Steigleman, head of the editorial journalism sequence at the SUI school of journalism, will be a featured speaker at the University of Omaha's Journalism Day, Feb. 17.

Prof. Steigleman will address the general assembly of the group of high school journalists from schools in Nebraska, Kansas, and Iowa on the topic, "Say Now, Shibboleth."

Phenix City Murder Trial Underway

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Husky Albert Fuller, 35, a two-gun chief deputy sheriff in the days when racketeers ruled Phenix City, went on trial Tuesday for the murder of vice-crushing A. L. Patterson.

The announcement from Chief Prosecutor Cecil Deason that Fuller would be tried first instead of his co-defendant, Arch Ferrell, came after a missing state witness was located in Florida and returned voluntarily to Alabama to testify.

Both defendants had been announced ready for trial. They expected the state to start with Ferrell, who was county prosecutor at Phenix City before Patterson's death toppled a mighty vice empire.

Special Judge J. R. McElroy and opposing attorneys then re-emphasized the laborious task of picking the 12-man jury to try Fuller.

Ferrell, Fuller and former Alabama Atty. Gen. S. I. Garrett were indicted Dec. 9 on first degree murder charges for the gang-style slaying of Patterson in Phenix City last June 18.

But Garrett is undergoing mental treatment in a Galveston, Tex., hospital and his trial hasn't been set.

Murder is punishable by death in the electric chair in Alabama but the penalty in a first degree murder conviction is left to the jury.

Patterson, who had won the Democratic nomination on the promise to rid Phenix City of its reign of racketeering, would have succeeded Garrett as attorney general. After the murder, the slain man's son, John, was elected.

The trials were called Monday but delayed 24 hours because a key state witness, Columbus, Ga., taxicab driver James Ray Taylor, had disappeared.

Taylor was arrested at Niceville, Fla., Monday night on a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid giving testimony.

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss discussed "radioactive fallout" in a report which included some information that has been secret up until now.

Wish To Be Informed. "Since nuclear weapons are possessed by the U.S.S.R.," Strauss said, "the commission believes the American people wish to be informed regarding the danger of nuclear explosions and the measures which individuals can take to protect themselves if an atomic attack should ever occur."

"In the event of war involving the use of atomic weapons, the fallout from large nuclear bombs exploded on or near the surface of the earth would create a serious hazard to civilian populations in large areas outside the target zones."

On the basis of test data from "the very large thermonuclear device" set off at Bikini Atoll last March and other information, the commission made the following estimates:

Radioactivity in Wind. "Following the March 1, 1954 explosion there was sufficient radioactivity in a downwind belt about 140 miles long and 20 miles wide to have seriously threatened the lives of persons in the area who took no protective measures."

"Some distance farther from the point of detonation, about 160 miles downwind and along the axis of the ellipse, the amount of radioactivity would have seriously threatened the lives of about one half of the persons in the area."

Engineer Societies Elect New Officers

New officers of the Iowa City chapters of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers were recently elected at a joint meeting.

Aristidis Ratermanis, E4, Iowa City, was elected chairman of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Don Stover, E3, Iowa City, was named vice-chairman.

Prof. E. B. Kurtz, head of electrical engineering department, was re-elected student counselor.

Officers elected to Institute of Radio Engineers are John Westwick, E4, Springfield, Ill., chairman, and Richard Havercamp, E4, Muscatine, secretary-treasurer.

Prof. Edward Lonsdale, engineering department, will be their adviser.

Prepares Bill To Stop Sale of Beer at Fair

DES MOINES (AP) — A bill to prohibit issuance of a license for the sale of beer on the state fairgrounds was being prepared Tuesday by Rep. Raymond D. Breakenridge (R-Winterset).

"It would be better for the young people and would set a good example if the sale of beer were banned at the fair," Breakenridge commented.

Highway Plan To Congress Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Tuesday he'll send his multi-billion dollar highway program to congress early next week.

A senate subcommittee also fixed next Monday for hearings on a rival highway plan backed by Democrats.

The stage thus was set for what is likely to become one of the most heated political battles of the year — over whether there is to be a new and vastly expanded road program and, if so, where the money will come from.

A special presidential highway committee headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, retired, came out a month ago with an ambitious $101 billion program that would be financed in part by a new federal lending agency.

Anguished Cries. At that time, Eisenhower announced he'd send his highway proposals to congress Jan. 27. Anguished cries came from some senate Democrats who contended the program involved "sleight-of-hand financing."

The administration changed its mind and put off submission of the program.

There was no official word on whether the Clay committee proposals had been changed, but Democratic leaders said they would not be surprised to see some elaborate shifts from the Clay financing plan.

Huge Increase. Clay called for increasing the nationwide highway bill from the present rate of $47 billion over the next 10 years to $101 billion.

Much of the additional money would involve the building of a 40,000-mile network of interstate highways which would link the major population centers of the country.

The federal government would pick up nearly the entire tab for the interstate system.

A federal highway corporation would finance the program by floating 30-year-bonds that the Clay committee said could be retired through revenues collected from the two-cent-a-gallon federal gasoline tax.

Garner To Speak To City Teachers

Iowa City teachers will attend an annual "information" meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in the junior high school auditorium.

Burford W. Garner, Iowa City superintendent of schools, will discuss teaching facilities, supplies, the educational program and current national trends in education.

The new state aid program for schools (giving more financial aid to schools with lower tax valuations), and the proposed publication of a school district report to Iowa City citizens are matters which will be discussed at the meeting.

Dean Louis C. Zopf, Professors James Jones, Gale Wiese and Wendle Kerr and Dale Fuller, P4, Chamberlain, S.D., are representing Iowa at the Fifth district meeting of the National Association of Boards of Pharmacy and the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy.

DES MOINES (AP) — Polk Co. Atty. Leo J. Tapscott said Tuesday he was taking steps to plug "a legal loophole that has become a serious problem" in local liquor law enforcement.

The loophole, Tapscott said, tends to protect tavern "bottle men"—men not necessarily employed by the tavern who carry liquor which is sold directly to customers.

Tapscott said he was "deeply concerned" about the number of "bottle men" reported to be operating in Polk county establishments. He said he intended to write Atty. Gen. Dayton Countyman "within the next two days to bring the problem officially to his attention."

'Unofficial' Conference. The doopholes was reportedly discussed at an "unofficial" conference Monday between Tapscott, members of his staff, and Kent Emery, an assistant attorney general.

Contacted by newsmen, Countyman said the loophole described by Tapscott "sounds like the kind of hole that should be plugged by the legislature, if it's so inclined."

Countyman added that he knew of no bill prepared for submission to the legislature at this time which would solve the problem.

Class B Permit. Tapscott said the problem stems from a 1950 attorney general's opinion which held that state laws prohibiting the keeping of liquor where beer is sold "apply to the holder of the class B beer permit only."

Parts of the state law on the question, the opinion ruled, "have no application to the customer, employee or other persons who might have occasion to visit the premises" of a beer permit holder.

This, Tapscott said, means that only the holder of a beer permit could be prosecuted for keeping liquor where beer is sold. And the owner could be prosecuted only if he kept his own liquor on the premises, Tapscott added.

Bootlegging. The "bottle man," Tapscott said, can be arrested for bootlegging if he is caught selling liquor; or he can be arrested under a Des Moines ordinance which prohibits anyone from keeping liquor where beer is sold.

Broaderening the state law—to prohibit anyone from keeping liquor where beer is sold would solve the "serious problem" arising from the operation of "bottle men" here, Tapscott said.

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Real twinkling diamonds are being made in an amazing private diamond mine unveiled Tuesday at the General Electric Research Laboratory.

So far, it has made only $10 worth of diamonds, mostly in the form of a fine dust.

That $10 retail value includes the first "big" manmade diamond—only one-sixteenth of an inch long—which cost hundreds of thousands of dollars if all expenses of four years of research are included.

But the costs will come down, and this marks an astonishing and important scientific feat. It opens the way to creating brand new kinds of materials never before seen.

The diamond mine is a giant press, which creates diamonds in two to three minutes out of pure carbon or graphite like that in your lead pencil.

The press does it by creating mammoth pressures like those existing 240 miles deep within the earth and temperatures half as hot as the face of the sun. That is apparently how nature makes diamonds. These man-made diamonds are exactly like natural diamonds.

The "artificial" diamonds will not— for a long time at least— give you gems for rings or necklaces or affect prices or values of diamonds used as gems.

Red Newspaper Breaks News of Guided Missiles. MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star told Soviet citizens for the first time Tuesday about Russia's development of guided missiles. It claimed the Russians had the equivalent of the American Nike to shoot down planes and had also developed pencil-like jet-powered anti-aircraft rockets.

UNMISSED FUNDS. GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Clarence Naso, found a package of cash and checks totaling $10,000 on the street — and a bank book showing the money belonged to a hospital. No one at the hospital knew the money was missing. The bundle apparently had fallen from a bank messenger's car.

Chorus, Chamber Singers To Appear Tonight at 8—

'Hundredth Psalm' In Concert Selections

Scouts Given Demonstration

CHUN JUAN KAO, G. Taipei, Formosa, demonstrates to members of four Iowa City Girl Scout troops the way paper birds are made by Girl Scouts in Formosa. The scouts are guests of the International center, 3 E. Market st., which is conducting a week of demonstrations of scouting in foreign lands in conjunction with International Girl Scout month.

International Center Sponsors Girl Scout Month Program

SUI students at the International center, 3 E. Market st., are entertaining Girl Scouts from the Iowa City area each afternoon this week during International Girl Scout month. Mrs. Wallace Maner, who is in charge of the program, said that its aim is to acquaint local scouts with scouting in foreign countries. Each afternoon from Monday to Friday three foreign students speak on the Girl Scout program in their respective nations.

"I feel that this is one of the most worthwhile things that the center does in the year," Mrs. Maner said. Displays of dolls and jewelry depicting the dress of girls in more than a dozen different lands have been arranged at the center. Mrs. Maner said that this is the second year that the scouts have been invited to visit the International center. She said that when the program started, about 40 girls took part in the event. Each day of this week's programs has been attended by 40 to 50 girls.

TO SOBER UP?

ALTUS, Okla. (AP) — A man who went to jail on a drunk charge kept getting drunker. Police found a half pint of whiskey dangling inside his pants from a cotton rope tied to his belt.

Herald Stark will conduct the SUI chorus and Stephen Hobson will direct the University Chamber Singers in a concert tonight at 8 in the Iowa Memorial Union.

The 170-voice chorus will open the concert with the first movement of Gustav Schreck's "Advent Motet," a cycle of three songs for a capella chorus and a small choir. Morton Davis, A3, Ottumwa, will play an organ accompaniment for two numbers to be sung by the chorus — "Blessed are the faithful" by Heinrich Schutz and "The Hundredth Psalm" by R. Vaughan Williams.

A brass ensemble under the direction of William Gower of the SUI music faculty will also play for "The Hundredth Psalm." The arrangement for brass choir and organ was made by Marvin Thostenson of the SUI music faculty.

A contemporary composer, Williams has interwoven the tune "The Old Hundred" in his composition and has closed it with full chorus, singing "Old Hundred" or "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow." "Cherubim Song," which the chorus will sing will be included in the first group of numbers.

The 29 Chamber Singers will present J. S. Bach's "Motet: Jesu, Priceless Treasure," the longest of six authentic Bach motets and the only one written for five parts. Following an intermission, the Chamber Singers will present "Six Chasons" by Paul Hindemith, a contemporary composer. Texts for these songs are descriptive and reflective poems about nature written by Rainer Maria Rilke. They will be sung in French and without instrumental accompaniment.

The Chamber Singers' last appearance in public was at the inaugural of Gov. Leo A. Hoegh in Des Moines in January.

The chorus will close tonight's program with Franz Schubert's "Where Art and Love of Beauty" from the opera "Fierrabras" and nine of the gipsy songs written by Johannes Brahms. The gipsy songs, typical of the Brahms songs for chorus and piano solo, are interweavings of songs and dance rhythms.

Free tickets for the concert are available at the Union. The program will be broadcast by the university's radio station WSUI, 910 kilocycles.

Ancient Greek Life Subject of Lecture

The Iowa society of the Archaeological Institute of America and the SUI graduate college will sponsor a talk by Prof. Emmett L. Bennett Jr., assistant professor of classics at the University of Cincinnati, Friday at 8:15 p.m. in Shambaugh lecture room.

Bennett will discuss recent discoveries in the writings of pre-Greek civilizations of Minoan and Mycenaean in his talk entitled "Decipherment Without a Rosetta Stone; Recent Work on the Mycenaean Script."

Minoan and Mycenaean inscription are carvings on stone once thought to be in an unknown language. Recent discoveries indicate that they are in the Greek language, although not in the characters of the Greek alphabet. John McCallard, SUI English professor and president of the Iowa Archaeological society, said.

McCallard explained when the symbols are deciphered it will be possible to read of the older Minoan and Mycenaean Greek civilizations.

Bennett visited Greece in 1950 and in 1953-54. He worked with the inscriptions in Athens and Iraklion.

The public is invited.

King Tut Will Turn In His Grave

CAIRO (AP) — Tourists to Egypt will visit the fabled Valley of the Kings near Luxor in greater comfort in the future. A new sky carriage on a cable is being planned to carry them from Luxor to historic sites across the river. In the past, tourists have had to take small boats and then ride donkeys or antiquated taxicabs to the tombs of Tutankhamon and other pharaohs.

The government also is considering installing elevators to lift tourists up and down the tomb shafts.

Double Rites Set For Mother, Son

Mrs. Mary Rossler, 87, Solon, and her son, Vernon, 55, died Sunday at Mercy hospital within a period of three hours.

Mrs. Rossler died at 12:30 p.m. She had been in the hospital for several weeks. Vernon, hospitalized for a short illness, died at 9:30 a.m.

Double funeral services will be today at 2 p.m. in the Solon Methodist church with the Rev. A. C. Proehl of Iowa City officiating.

Both Rossler and his mother were life-long residents of Solon.

Coyotes Vanishing; Only 274 Scalps Turned In

BROKEN BOW, Neb. (AP) — Only 274 coyote scalps were turned in for bounties here during 1954, a record low attesting to the vanishing of the coyote from the cattle country.

As recently as 1949 there were 2,014 scalps turned in during the year.

San Francisco To Host GOP Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — San Francisco was chosen Friday as the host city for the Republican presidential nominating convention.

The unanimous choice seven-member subcommittee of the Republican national committee, is subject to ratification of the full committee. Lead this was a formality. The committee meets here today.

Chicago, already picked Democrats for their 1956 convention, had been in the spot for the Republican but the Golden Gate city up fast and won Wednesday. Philadelphia other main contender.

The Republican subcommittee recommended that San Francisco be the site of the convention on Feb. 20, which would be the convention date in modern political history. The Democrats have tentatively selected 23, with hopes of changing date to Aug. 13.

San Francisco has been scene of one other nominating convention, Democratic gathering held by Gov. James M. Ohio to run for President Franklin D. Roosevelt president.

Deems Site Change GOP National Chairman W. Hall said the subcommittee deemed it a good idea to meet on the West Coast. He said this would accord "with what he has saying for years."
