Ike Blasts Proposed Democrat Tax Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower blasted the Democrats' $20-a-person tax cut plan Wednesday. He called it the height of "fiscal irresponsibility."
He also accused the plan's backers of lacking the courage to submit a separate tax-cutting bill. Thus he challenged them to abandon their present tactic of putting it forward as an amendment to another tax measure backed by the administration.
In a series of vigorous and sometimes heated statements at a news conference, the President declared a further tax cut at this time—while the government is spending more than it takes in—would cut the value of the dollar and hurt the nation's economy.
"We simply cannot have this kind of thing in responsible government," he declared.
But Eisenhower said a tax cut should be possible next year if the budget deficit is reduced.
Eisenhower volunteered no comment but launched into an obviously well-prepared commentary on the subject once the first question was asked. His manner grew more intense as the questioning progressed, with cameras softly whirring and clicking on their platform in the rear of the conference room.

The President said any tax cut proposal is popular and "at first glance this is a kind of proposal that should make an appeal to low income brackets."

Rayburn Leads Tax Cut Drive
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats led by Speaker Sam Rayburn ploughed ahead Wednesday with their drive to cut income taxes $20 a year for everybody.
That was their defiant reaction to President Eisenhower's accusations of irresponsibility. Rayburn said the Republicans engineered a tax cut last year in the face of an anticipated deficit almost twice as big as is now estimated, and inquired sarcastically:
"When they didn't give the little folks anything last year and gave the dividend folks theirs, that was responsibility?"

S-Z Tuition Fees Are Due Today

Students whose last names begin with S through Z are scheduled to pay tuition fees today. The fees are payable at the treasurer's office in University hall from 8:15 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m.
All fees must be paid by today. Students who fail to pay their fees will be assessed a $2 fine for the first day of tardiness and $1 for every day thereafter.

6 Killed, 3 Missing in Plane Crash

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — An air force KC97 tanker plane with 11 men aboard crashed in flames near its Sedalia, Mo., base at 7 p.m. Wednesday night. The air force here said six bodies have been recovered. Three men are missing. Two bailed out and have been picked up.
The air force said the plane crashed in flames 14 miles south of Sedalia two minutes after taking off from the base there. It was a part of the 340th refueling squadron and was on a refueling training mission.
The KC97 ordinarily has a crew of five, the air force reported. They said the six others aboard could have been trainees.
There was no damage to civilians or civilian property, the air force said.
The list of the victims will be released in Sedalia.

New French Premier Listens

FRENCH PREMIER EDGAR FAURE sits in the minister's bench at the national assembly in Paris, Wednesday, during debate concerning his program and prospective cabinet. Faure received the assembly's approval to head France's 21st postwar government.

French Get 21st Post-War Leader

PARIS (AP) — The French national assembly Wednesday night approved Edgar Faure, a 46-year-old financial expert and attorney, as the nation's new premier.
By a vote of 369-210, the deputies accepted Faure as the successor to Pierre Mendes-France, who was turned out of office Feb. 5. Faure, who held the job in 1952 for six weeks, will head the 21st government in France's post-liberation history.
The only bloc of opposition came from Communists and Socialists. Both Faure and Mendes-France are members of the Radical Socialist party, a badly splintered centrist group.
Earlier Faure had announced a cabinet which included former Premier Antoine Pinay as foreign minister, Pierre Pflimlin as finance minister, former Premier Robert Schuman as justice minister and Gen. Pierre Koenig as defense minister.
The cabinet has been labeled as one of the farthest to the right in postwar history, despite the fact that Faure is classed a little left of center.
In his address of investiture, Faure pledged his government to work for ratification of the Paris treaties for German Rearmament as quickly as possible. The upper house of the French parliament, the Council of the Republic, still must approve the treaties passed by the assembly.
Faure was voted into office in 1952 with 401 votes but lasted only six weeks. Many observers believe the same thing might be possible this time, although these same men see the possibility that Faure might hang on until the elections next June.
He was the fourth candidate to be called by President Rene Coty to end the crisis. Antoine Pinay, Pierre Pflimlin and Christian Pineau failed in turn.

Quiets Laborite Talk Of Giving Up Islands

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill—in an apparent softening of his own government's policy—warned Wednesday night against pressing the United States too far in insisting on surrender of China's offshore islands to the Reds.
He said that although Britain is not involved militarily in defense of the offshore islands "we should be careful of what advice we should offer to our friends and allies."
In a move apparently directed at smoothing British-American differences on the issue, Churchill spoke sharply to Laborites clamoring for surrender of the islands to Red China.

Iowa Senate Passes 'Warm Beer' Bill

DES MOINES (AP) — The so-called "warm beer" bill was passed by the Iowa senate Wednesday after only a brief debate. The vote was 44-4, with two senators not voting.
In explaining the bill, Sen. Jacob Grimmstead (R-Lake Mills) cited a news story telling of six boys found drinking in a car in Des Moines. Grimmstead said the story indicated the boys obtained 24 bottles of beer from a grocer.
"I have no doubt the beer was cold, because otherwise the boys wouldn't have bought it," Grimmstead said. "This sort of situation is one of the things my bill proposes to correct. If chilled beer can't be sold for consumption off the premises, there will be much less drinking in cars."
An amendment by Sen. Earl Eljah (R-Clarence) defining a minor as any person under 21 years of age, was adopted by a voice vote.
The beer bill would give the state beer permit board permission to deny a state permit to sell beer, even though a local license had been issued and prohibit the sale of chilled beer by either a Class B or Class C permittee for consumption off the premises.

Ask Probe of Roads Group

DES MOINES (AP) — Two first-term members of the house filed a resolution Wednesday calling for investigation of the state highway commission in connection with what they called "certain questionable purchases."
Those making the request are Reps. Roscoe Pollock (R-Douglas) and William Dillon (R-Columbus Junction). The probe would be made by a five-member committee from the house.
Pollock recently asked for and received information from the commission on purchases of considerable amount of money with Davenport, Ames, and Des Moines firms.
Pollock then asked the commission for similar statistics for the years of 1952 and 1953. He declined Tuesday to disclose the details of the later information.

Mother Kills Young Sons

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Ann Williams, 28, calmly related Wednesday how she slew her two young sons, kept their dismembered bodies for nearly a week and then had them buried as "spoiled venison."
"I'm ill and my husband's in prison. I couldn't care for them. That's why I killed my boys," she told police.
But the FBI knows her as Annie Laurie Williams, who took about 50 shots at FBI agents and state police near Smithville, Tenn., as officers sought to arrest her husband in 1943 as an armed forces deserter.
The boys were Conrad, 8, and Calvin, 9.
A local garage owner's son Tuesday buried four packages which Mrs. Williams told him were spoiled venison. But he became suspicious when he learned she and her two sons had been missing six days. He dug up the packages.

Senators OK Pay Raises

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators voted themselves a 50 per cent pay raise Wednesday, from $15,000 a year to $22,500. The vote was 62-24.
The prevailing argument was that living costs have gone up, and it wouldn't do to keep the pay so low that only a rich man could serve in congress.
The senate bill will have to be adjusted with a more liberal one voted by the house last week 283-118. The house voted to raise congress members to $25,000.
Both bills continue a $3,000 income tax exemption granted members on the grounds they must maintain two homes. Both bills also would raise the pay of Vice President Richard Nixon and House Speaker Sam Rayburn from $40,000 a year to $45,000.

Dulles Cites World Crisis

BANGKOK (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told the Southeast Asia defense conference Wednesday that the power of U.S. forces in the Western Pacific is greater than at the height of the war with Japan.
In a sweeping review of the Far East situation, the secretary also made these points:
Potentially greater dangers face the free world now because of internal pressures on the Communist hierarchy.
Chiang Kai-shek's Formosan government and Syngman Rhee's South Korea must be maintained; they are barriers against Red China aggression, he said.

Hoegh, Elthon Rift Disclosed

DES MOINES (AP) — A rift between Gov. Leo A. Hoegh and his Republican colleague, Lieut. Gov. Elthon, was brought into the open today by the two men.
The specific factor in the rift, Elthon told newsmen, involves a letter which challenged the legality of sale of crushed rock from Elthon's quarry to contractors engaged in state highway work. Elthon replied by defending his business transactions as entirely proper.
The letter, written by R. E. Hollett, Des Moines lumber firm executive, was made public at a time when some of Hoegh's four highway commission nominees were having hard going in the senate.
The senate has since rejected the nominations of Russell Lundy, Des Moines, who was Hoegh's campaign manager, and of Luke Caffrey of Cresco, at present a member of the state board of social welfare. The nomination of Robert K. Beck, Centerville, has been confirmed. Still pending is the fourth highway commission nomination—that of Chris Larsen, Jr., Sioux City.
Elthon said Wednesday that three days before the Hollett letter was made public a state employe "threatened" him with public criticism unless Hoegh's highway commission nominees were confirmed.
"We discussed the matter again yesterday," Elthon said. "I told the governor I didn't feel right about how things are."
"I told the governor I was disappointed that he stood idly by while his good friends were crucifying me, and did not come to my defense."
"He said he had nothing to do with it and didn't want to get involved."
Hoegh told his news conference Wednesday none of his nominees had anything to do with any "threat" to Elthon. He said he doesn't believe in such tactics. He said his appointees have specifically denied they made threats.

Nationalists Bomb Red-Held Islands

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist planes bombed Red-held islands Wednesday north and south of the menaced Nationalist garrison on Nanchishan island.
Signs multiplied that the Nationalist outpost 140 miles north-west of Formosa may have to be abandoned.
An air force communique said that 100 planes, attacking in the face of intense anti-aircraft fire, struck from dawn to dusk at a Red buildup area in the Taishans, 30 miles south of Nanchishan, and at the islet of Peichishan, 12 miles north.
The communique claimed military installations were hard hit.
Official Nationalist quarters suddenly quit stating that all the offshore islands would be defended against Red invasion.
An attempt to remove the 5,000 man garrison from Nanchishan now appears likely.
If the evacuation occurs, it is expected to be an all-Nationalist affair, contrasted with the pull-out 80 miles north of Nanchishan of the garrison from the Tachens under the covering guns of the U.S. 7th fleet.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The army announced Wednesday that Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, 8th army commander, arrived here from Japan Tuesday for a brief round of conferences with army officials.

Hallucinations in 'The Crucible'

THE VICTIM OF A HALLUCINATION, Jean Ogden, A4, Cedar Rapids, is restrained from an attempt to leave her bed during the opening performance Wednesday night of "The Crucible." Holding her is Pat Peterson, A4, Ft. Dodge, while Donna Sclarow, A2, Ames, seated, and Shirley Gillespie, G, Iowa City, attempt to comfort her. The play, written by Arthur Miller, will appear at 8 p.m. in the SUT theatre until Saturday evening, and again next week, Wednesday through Saturday evenings.

'The Crucible' Scores as Terrifying Tale

By Lawrence Sherman
Let's not quibble about adjectives. The University Theatre gave a marvelous performance of Arthur Miller's terrifying play, "The Crucible," Wednesday night.
"The Crucible" is a dramatic reconstruction of the Salem witch trials in 1692. For the first time in this nation's history, fear loomed so great in the hearts of the people that they lost the feeling for truth. The leading characters in Arthur Miller's play are patterned after actual people and their several fates are said to be historically accurate.
The drama revolves around John Proctor and his wife, Elizabeth, who has been accused of witchcraft. Her accuser is a former servant, Abigail Williams, who had tempted her husband to adultery and now wishes to take Elizabeth's place.
The play belongs, however, to John Proctor. He is ashamed of his lechery with Abigail, and by knowing sin, has become acquainted with matters of conscience. He knows good people aren't possessed by devils and realizes Abigail's motives for leading people to believe that they are.
But proving his wife's innocence is difficult. To expose Abigail as a fraud he confesses the sin he has committed. He is accused of making a pact with the devil, and given choice of confessing to a false charge or death by hanging. By the time the truth has been trampled by pious judges and false witnesses, there seem to be very good arguments for both alternatives.
The performance last night was flawless almost down to the smallest part. Jerome Silberman, A4, Milwaukee, gave a powerful picture of John Proctor. He knows how to pause and wait with great effect, and he has an always reliable feeling for the proper volume in which lines should be delivered. At times he thundered, but when he spoke softly, his voice was the only sound in the theater.
As Abigail Williams, Lona Ingwerson portrayed a fearful combination of madness and spite. When she and her three followers begin to feel the workings of the devil, the predicament of the learned Salem judges becomes somewhat understandable.
Much credit is due director Harold C. Shiffler, for his excellent casting. Seldon Faulkner, G, Hillsboro, was an exasperating exponent of expedience in the role of Reverend Samuel Parris; Arthur Houseman, G, Kirkwood, Mo., moved convincingly from sweet reason to righteous passion in the part of Reverend John Hale. And Eugene Rydahl, G, Iowa City, was wonderful as Giles Corey, the simple farmer friend of John Proctor.
To have performed other than excellently on the sets designed by Arnold S. Gillette would have been theatrical sacrilege. Gillette of the dramatic arts laboratory designed four sets that are models of compactness and Puritan simplicity. The costumes fashioned by Margaret S. Hall, assistant professor of dramatic art, while not lacking for color, fitted in with the low key of the entire proceedings.
Perhaps the only regrettable note is that the theme of "The Crucible" is still as timely as today's newspapers. Since the world is not expected to change radically in the next week, tickets are on sale for Feb. 24, 25, 26, and March 3, 4, and 5.

'Gossip Can Be DYNAMITE!'

One of the objectives of Brotherhood week is to help people understand the evils of gossip.

Not long ago, an article entitled, "Gossip Can Be Dynamite," appeared in This Week magazine. Written by Howard Whitman, the article centered around Dr. Hadley Cantril of Princeton university and the work he is doing in combating gossip.

"Offhand," Whitman writes, "gossip seems like an innocent pastime. It's something that goes over the back fence every day, and what harm does it do?"

This is the standard comeback whenever the word "gossip" is mentioned.

Answering his own hypothetical question, Whitman says, "Plenty! Gossip, so often described as 'idle,' is actually anything but that. It is busier than a plague of locusts. . . . It is not just 'small talk.' It can be a wrecker of both social and business life."

Whitman cites an example, Gloria T., a pretty girl from a small town in Ohio, who was found in her bed one morning with a near fatal case of poisoning. In her open diary, a page said, "I'm not what they say I am. I'd rather be dead."

"For weeks," Whitman writes, "the town had buzzed with stories about Gloria's 'wild weekend' at a near-by college. Stories said Gloria stayed all night. She didn't get back to town until 8 a.m. A man drove her home. She was so tipsy she could hardly walk. And guess where she had spent the night in a fraternity house! Well, she always did seem like a 'fast one.'" And so the stories went. . . .

Here's what really happened, as later discovered by her family doctor: Gloria had missed a bus which was to have taken her home because it was full. Eight other girls were in the same predicament. A second bus failed to arrive. Seven girls were driven home by their dates. Gloria and Mae V. phoned their parents, and arrangements were made with the college to have them stay in the girls' dormitory until morning. At 6 a.m., Mae's father called and took her home.

The morning newsboy had seen her arrive home in her party dress, her hair messed. That's all it took.

Mae's father became just a "man in a convertible." Gloria's messed hair made her look "tipsy."

"The fact that two girls had stayed at the dormitory overnight," Whitman writes, "was boiled down to a more gossipy stereotype — just one girl, just Gloria. And the 'girls' dormitory gradually became just 'dormitory,' and finally 'fraternity house.'"

One person even got the version that Gloria had been "going down there for months. She always stays overnight. I hear her folks are sending her to an aunt in Toledo for a few months — and you can guess why!"

You can guess why, too, the reason for Gloria's entertaining suicidal thoughts. The "cards were stacked." She was helpless.

"How many families," Whitman continues, "each year are smitten by the plague of gossip — rumors of marital trouble, impending divorce, infidelity? How many parents have stood aghast at evil stories about their daughters? How many ruined reputations, family breakups, even suicides, are rooted in the muck of gossip?"

Gossip can be DYNAMITE!

Iowa's 'Bad Eggs'

To be called a "bad egg" these days is an insult and it appears that Iowa is gaining that blot on its scutcheon.

Iowa's noble chickens, which produce more eggs than any other state, are cackling their dissatisfaction. The whole barnyard is in an uproar.

Now a farm specialist, Earl Mason, executive secretary of North Central States institute, has come to the rescue by suggesting a bill which would preserve Iowa's egg reputation.

It seems that all of Iowa's bad eggs — and there are some we must admit — are labeled on the eastern markets with a scarlet letter, "BAD." New Iowa's good eggs — and there are many — don't receive any marking at all. They are simply tossed in with eggs from Pennsylvania. So you see, our eggs aren't getting the recognition due them.

A bill supported at a public hearing before the Iowa house agriculture committee Monday, would provide for grading of eggs so the good Iowa eggs would be marked accordingly.

Now here is a bill which will please all Iowans who want the good name of the state preserved.

Many intellectuals object to the name "egghead" and justly so. But the fine work of Iowa's hens should not be trampled by labeling them as producers of "bad eggs."

11 from SUI Attend Surgeons' Meeting

Two physicians and nine nurses from SUI are attending a sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons this week in Cleveland. The meeting began Monday and will continue through today.

Attending are Drs. R. T. Tidrick and E. S. Brintnall, professors in the department of surgery in the college of medicine.

Dr. Tidrick will present a film made at SUI on an operation to correct abnormalities in the bile duct in the newborn.

Interpreting the News—

Adenauer Lining Up Votes For OK of European Union

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst
Formation of a new French government gives promise that France will join Germany in early action on formation of the Western European Union. But what that action will be, on the part of either country, still remains in doubt.

On the eve of debate in the German parliament, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is using high pressure tactics to bring the votes into line, just as he did when Germany ratified the former European Defense Community plan which was later killed by France.

There are two major causes of Adenauer's difficulty in lining up a favorable vote.

One is the fear that ratification will formalize the partition of Germany for an indefinite period, the Russians having threatened that they will not negotiate with a Western military coalition which includes a re-armed Germany. This school, led by the Socialist party, argues a new attempt at negotiation should be made before proceeding any further.

The answer to this is that Russia has given no indication that she will permit reunification anyway, even though she has held out the carrot through suggestion of a neutralized Germany.

Adenauer contends that when European Union is a fact, when West Germany is re-armed, the Russians may realize that they can no longer keep a great nation divided.

Approved by France
The other drawback among Germans is that rearmament was approved by France only as a corollary to a Saar settlement under which Germany made great concessions continuing France's hegemony in that small but valuable industrial district.

The Free Democratic party, in particular, threatens to throw

'Plus-40' Club Helps Members Find New Jobs

WASHINGTON (CP)—Twenty-two years ago, at the height of the depression, a Columbia university professor wrote a best seller, "Life Begins at 40."

The book cheered those who had passed the two-score mark and made them feel they weren't ready for the discard.

However, as the years passed and Walter B. Pitkin's 175-page opus became ancient history, the lot of the man who reached the grand old age of 40 became more and more tinged with danger.

Industry Wouldn't Hire
Industry didn't care to employ men of this advanced age. The man of 40 who lost his job was in difficulty.

A new and novel approach to this problem has proven very successful in the nation's capital and may provide the answer to other communities who have to cope with it.

The question: How can we provide jobs for unemployed persons who have reached the age of 40?

The answer: The Forty Plus club of Washington.

Provides Partial Answer
This is not to say that the Forty Plus club provides the ultimate answer to this pressing problem, but it does provide a partial solution which many may wish to try in their own communities.

The club is a non-profit organization which endeavors to find positions for unemployed executives and professional men. To become a member, a person must be 40 years of age or older, have earned at least $5,500 a year, and must be unemployed.

Seventy-five members were taken into the club during the first year. Of this number, positions have been found for 42, not a bad record for an organization which is only one year old.

"We formed the club about the time of the big federal layoffs when the Republicans came into power in Washington," explained Russell Hogan, chairman of the club's membership committee. "Many of us were government workers and many of us are Republicans."

Iowa's Martin Reminisces About Early Sporting Feats

By Harman W. Nichols

WASHINGTON — "How do you like being a senator, Senator?"

That's the way the interview started.

The 62-year-old senator from Iowa, Thomas Ellsworth Martin, said he liked it fine.

Tom (I've called him that for 24 years) moved to the senate this year after serving a long hitch in the house.

It had been a long time since I had seen the big, now gray, hunk of man. When I was going to SUI he was weight coach. Tom, as a fledgling, could sidewalk a 35-pound weight farther than almost anybody.

Almost Sets Record
Tom, who would rather talk about track than politics, almost asked me if I remembered how he became a weight coach at Iowa. I sure had heard about it. It was in 1921 when Tom was around Iowa City, his home, thinking about digging into law books.

One day he went out to watch the javelin boys and the shot-putters and the weight-lifters perform. He told the coach that the swingers of the 35-pound hammers were letting go without making a proper whirl-around.

"Let me show you," said Tom. He did and came within a couple of inches of setting a new outdoor record.

So naturally they tapped him to be coach.

Proud Grandfather
Tom Martin, former mayor of Iowa City — and that's how he got into politics — has two favorites among the men he coached.

One was "Spike" Nelson, who was an all-American tackle back in the early '30's, and another great Iowa athlete, the great lineman, Duke Slater, who was a little ahead of "Spike."

Sen. Thomas Martin Tells About Sports

"Both were fine weight men," Tom told me, as if I didn't know from watching. "Duke was one of the best coordinated athletes I ever saw, and 'Spike' wasn't far behind."

Martin has been around the capitol for quite a spell now and he works as hard as the next one. He is proud as punch of his grand-kids, and he ought to be. They are all lovely — all nine.

Getting old, Senator?
"Well, I'd like to think I'm not," he answered.

But maybe the wonderful guy is. Not too long ago he and a bunch of other biggies from capitol hill challenged the marines at Quantico for a game of ball. Tom hit a long ball. It should have been a double. By walking fast, our man made it to first. And through the aid of teammates he got to third. Then a smoking double went through the short-stop's legs.

"I made it home for the winning run on my hands and knees," he said. "Could have made it around the horn on my own hit 20 years ago."

Club Cabaret Hoy, King, Co

Club Cabaret, annual all-university party, will be held Mar. 4, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union.

In accordance with the tradition of scheduling three bands, Central Party committee members have engaged the orchestras of Don Hoy, Leo Cortimiglia, and Fred King. Hoy's band will play in the main lounge, Cortimiglia in the River room and King in the cafeteria.

Turquoise, green and pink have been chosen as theme colors. Programs and menus will complement the main color theme of each room.

Cafe Theme
The cafe theme will be used throughout the Union. The main lounge will be decorated as a French sidewalk cafe.

Cabaret girls will circulate distributing cigarettes, a wandering photographer will take pictures and a flower girl will sell corsages of fresh flowers.

Members of the decoration committee are George Ojemann, A3, Iowa City, David Adams, A2, Princeton, and Margery Clabbe, A3, Eagle Grove.

Intermission Acts
The Delta Delta Delta chorus line will do a dance number, the Phi Delta Theta quartet will sing, and Richard Blum, A1, Davenport, will give a monologue at intermission.

Mary Hauer Milam, A4, Iowa City; Robert Groom, C4, Des Moines, and Donna McMahon, A4, Ft. Dodge, are in charge of intermission.

Cigarette girls will distribute free cigarettes on campus Thursday, Mar. 3, and Friday, Mar. 4, between classes.

Student Interviews Held by UWA

University Women's association orientation interviews began Monday and will continue through Friday, Mar. 4.

The interview consists of a 10 minute interview with an orientation council member. Women students who make appointments for interviews should be prepared to discuss their desire to work with new students and show enthusiasm for the program.

Any student who will be in school next fall is eligible to be an orientation leader assistant. Eighty-five leaders and eighty-five assistants will be needed for the fall semester's program.

Appointments may be made with Mrs. Witte, receptionist in the office of student affairs.

STEP RIGHT UP FOR LUCKY DROODLES!

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below. Droodle suggested by Robert Bardole, University of Florida.

ENJOY YOURSELF to the hilt whenever you smoke. Simply light up a Lucky and get Luckies' famous better taste. Luckies taste better for good reasons. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Now for the Droodle above, titled: Better-tasting Lucky smoke puffed by modern sculptor. Make a monumental discovery. Next time you buy cigarettes, try the better-tasting cigarette... Lucky Strike.

PARTY FARE

Party-pretty appetizers are easily made. Put a large spoonful of cottage cheese (the cream-style kind) on a slice of bologna. Roll the edges of the bologna over to make a cornucopia and fasten with a cocktail pick. Insert a couple of matchstick pieces of pickle in the center of the cornucopia.

BRAISED PORK CHOPS

Braising pork chops? Top them with green pepper and onion rings for delicious flavor. Canned cream of mushroom sauce, with a little soy sauce added, makes an excellent braising liquid.

Iowa Leading Big Ten in Shooting Accuracy

Scheuerman, Davis On Top With .486

By Arlo Jacobson
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Figures released Wednesday by the Big Ten conference show the Iowa Hawkeyes to be the hottest shooting team in the league. In fact, only two individuals, other than Iowa men, in the entire conference are shooting as well as the Hawks do as a team.

The five starting Hawkeyes have a current average of .444 in accuracy from the field. They are led by Deacon Davis and Sharm Scheuerman, with each sporting a fabulous .486 percentage. Davis has hit on 52 out of 107 attempts, while Scheuerman has sunk 36 of 74 shots.

Only Don Schlundt of Indiana and John Miller of Ohio State show better percentages than the Iowa team average. Schlundt, in fourth place among conference scorers, has an average of .447, while Miller, in fifth place, is shooting at a 479 clip. Both are below Iowa's two top men.

.438 For Simonovich
In accuracy, the Hawkeyes are well ahead of conference-leading Minnesota. The Gophers' three top men, Dick Garmaker, Chuck Mencil and Bill Simonovich average 53 percentage points below the Hawkeyes at .391. (The conference lists only players who have scored 100 or more points.) Simonovich at .438 is the only Gopher shooting over .400.

Hawkeye sharpshooting, plus excellent balance and good bench strength are the factors keeping Iowa in the hot championship race along with Minnesota. Iowa has no scorers in the top ten and barely places two men in the top twenty with Bill Logan in 18th place with a 15.7 average and Bill Seaberg in 19th with 15.3.

The other Iowa starters are close behind, however, with Carl Cain averaging 14.5, Davis, 12, and Scheuerman, 9.8.

Gopher Trio Ahead
Minnesota's trio of Garmaker, Mencil and Simonovich all rank ahead of Logan in scoring. Garmaker with a 25.9 average is threatening the Buckeye's Robin Freeman, the Big Ten's leading scorer with a 27.8 average. Mencil is rated 12th in the scoring column with a 17.5 average while Simonovich has 16.5.

With Freeman withdrawn from basketball competition for the remainder of the season, three men are within one-half point of each other for the scoring lead. Garmaker's 25.9 is threatened by Northwestern's Frank Ehmann who is hitting for 25.9 points per game, and Schlundt with 25.4.

In free-throw shooting, however, Iowa has not fared so well. The Hoosiers lead that department with .738, with Wisconsin second at .730 and the Gophers third with .705. Only Michigan's .601 is worse than the Hawkeyes' .636.

Gophers Lead in Defense
The Gophers lead Iowa in defense, having allowed opponents an average of only 73 points per game to the Hawkeyes' 74.5. Iowa makes up for it in offense, however, with a scoring average of 83 to Minnesota's 80.

And that is about how the situation stands as the conference race goes into the home stretch. Monday, Iowa travels to Minneapolis to have it out with Minnesota. For the time being, though, Iowa isn't looking beyond the TV Game of the Week, to be played in the field house Saturday against Michigan. The Gophers are idle that day, giving Iowa a chance to take a share in the conference lead.

TV CONCLUSION
CHICAGO (AP) — The concluding game of the Big Ten's nationally televised basketball series will be the Michigan State vs. Michigan contest at Ann Arbor March 5, it was announced Wednesday. This game replaces the Ohio State at Indiana game which was tentatively scheduled for the same TV date.

'Little Mo' Announces Retirement

MAUREEN CONNOLLY, 20, top-ranked among women tennis players, smiles over her kitchen stove after announcing her retirement from tournament tennis. Miss Connolly plans a June marriage to Norman Brinker, 23, a student at San Diego State college.

Tennis Brass Doubts 'Little Mo' Will Quit

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Uncle Sam's tennis brass refused to take too much stock Wednesday in Maureen Connolly's retirement announcement — they think she'll be back.

"I believe this is just temporary," said Lawrence Baker, a leading figure in the U.S. Lawn Tennis association. "She'll take a year off for her marriage and then we'll be seeing her on the courts again, I'm sure."

"The champions always come back," commented USLTA secretary Ed Baker. "I don't believe Little Mo will be able to resist the urge to compete again."

Little Mo, at 20 winner of three national and three Wimbledon titles and recognized queen of the world's courts, surprised friends with the announcement Tuesday she is through with tournament tennis.

Iowa Tankers To Meet Purdue Here Saturday

They swim them close in the Purdue-Iowa aquatic meet series and apparently the 1935 teams will follow the script of their forerunners here Saturday afternoon.

Purdue and the Hawkeyes will stage the season's final dual meet at 4 p.m., not long after the televised Michigan-Iowa basketball game, so basketball fans can move to the pool-side for the exciting meet.

The "generalist" as well as the specialist was honored by speakers at the tenth annual Careers conference Tuesday and Wednesday at SUI.

In many of the business career fields described to SUI commerce students, demand is increasing for the young man or woman who understands a large area of activity.

Not only does the "generalist" tend to outshine the specialist in administrative positions, but many fields — like chambers of commerce, insurance, retail advertising, personnel management and business education — need men who possess common experience with persons in other situations.

C. of C. Is Community Voice
The chamber of commerce manager, for instance, must create a vehicle for the expression of the whole community's aims and aspirations as well as serving as the voice of the community's business interests, Lloyd F. Lewis, executive secretary of the Davenport Chamber of Commerce, pointed out.

For successful chamber of commerce work, "every bit of experience that a young man has had in dealing with other people, especially in groups, will be of value to him. And a good education is a decided asset, especially in such subjects as business administration, economics, journalism and English," Lewis said.

Retail Advertising
Another field which requires a broad grasp of skills in college graduates is retail advertising, explained Howard Whetro, advertising manager for the James Black Co., Waterloo. A person starting out in advertising, especially in a small store, may perform all the stages of the process—creation, production, and such follow-ups as observing sales and carrying out research, Whetro observed.

Describing the role of the advertising manager for the large corporation, Dan Reed of the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Co., Fort Madison, pointed out that his position required "managing a lot of small things," as well as having the right creative idea at the right time, judging the creative work of others, selecting advertising media and working with

Hearing Set In Jackson Custody Case
A hearing on the permanent guardianship of Louis D. Jackson, 61, held Saturday at 9 a.m. in Johnson County District Court, Harold D. Evans, judge.

Walter Schmidt, 250 1/2 Ave., temporary guardian, pointed by the court, Wednesday that Mr. Jackson, 649 S. Govt, reportedly have cared for son since 1919, are acquainted with his could provide satisfactory. Schmidt asked to be released from Stateopathic hospital, statement examination of the court has been.

Schmidt's petition for custody could also be Muscatine.

Jackson's brother, Jackson, Muscatine, Wednesday petitioned for forcible entry against Mr. and Mrs. A 30-day eviction served January 20, and day notice February petition asserted the still living in a residence owned by Robert Jackson.

Robert Jackson asked the court to appoint a permanent guardian for his brother after the Samples allegedly refused to let him see or have custody of Louis in December, 1954.

A hearing on the forcible entry proceedings will be held at 9 a.m. March 9.

Atty. Robert S. Osmundson, guardian ad litem appointed by the court to investigate the matter, has asked that half of family estates worth more than $500,000 be put into a constructive trust for Louis. He also requested that a permanent guardian other than Robert Jackson be appointed.

Dancing Classes To Start Saturday
Second semester dance classes for children will begin Saturday morning at SUI under the instruction of Helen Troy Bladon.

Offered by the department of physical education for women, the classes will meet on 10 Saturdays for 45-minute periods at the Women's gymnasium. They will be open to both boys and girls.

Parents may enroll their children for the classes by securing registration slips at the office of the women's gymnasium. Registrations will be taken until the opening of classes.

A beginners' dance class for five to seven-year-olds will meet at 8:45 a.m., followed by an intermediate class for six to eight-year-olds at 9:30 a.m. A class for eight- to ten-year-olds, including both beginners and those who have attended the dance classes during a previous semester, will meet at 10:15 a.m. Advanced students in the 10- to 12-year-old group will meet at 11 a.m.

Locomotive, 4 Cars Derailed Near Sac City
SAC CITY (AP)—The locomotive and four cars of a Milwaukee railroad freight train were derailed a mile and a half east of Sac City Wednesday afternoon.

No one was hurt but the accident blocked the Highway 198 crossing.

The locomotive took the brunt of the derailment and nosed into a ditch along the tracks. Three empty stock cars and a loaded freight car were slightly telescoped.

The freight was bound for Storm Lake.

Predicts 'Golden Year' for American Industry
In a session on advice to students on applications and interviews, the speaker reported that the nation's large businesses and industries expect to hire more college graduates with non-technical educations in 1955 than in 1954. Kenneth Yarborough, General Electric sales promotion executive from Schenectady, N. Y., also predicted a "golden next 10 years" for American industry.

Plans Formed For Graduate Club

An SUI Graduate club "to provide a non-academic meeting ground for graduate students" was formed by approximately 50 students in the Iowa Memorial Union river room Wednesday night.

A constitution making regular members of all SUI graduate students and associate members of students similar age and interests, who wish to join, was adopted.

Officers will be elected at the group's next meeting, March 3, at 7:30 p.m., in the River room.

Temporary chairman Murray R. Yaeger, G. Denver, Colo., said it is expected the club will provide a social organization many graduate students have asked for. Dances, movies, bridge, lectures and athletics are among the activities the club will sponsor.

Yaeger said "it will give us the opportunity to meet other graduate students, but it won't necessarily be a dating bureau." The gathering was about evenly mixed.

The organization will present its constitution to Dean Walter F. Loehwing of the graduate school, for approval Tuesday, Yaeger said.

The constitution provides for an advisory committee of the Dean of the graduate school and two other faculty or staff members. Meetings will be held monthly.

Wallace Ward, G. Buffalo, N. Y., was elected temporary program chairman and Sylvia Semmler, G. Webster, N.Y., temporary publicity chairman.

A dance and refreshments, provided by the YWCA, followed the meeting.

The constitution does not provide for regular dues, and membership cards will be distributed without charge, Yaeger said.

'Share Our Surplus' Drive Ends Today

The "Share-Our-Surplus" Iowa City store counters today.

Mrs. Henry Lampe, chairman of the Iowa City "Share-Our-Surplus" committee, said Wednesday that the local goal is $100.

The money collected will be used to send the United States' food surpluses to foreign nations.

The American Friends Service committee were given the surpluses by the federal government. The money collected will pay for the shipping costs.

The Iowa City goal of $100 would send $4,800 worth of milk abroad Mrs. Lampe said.

The Iowa City council of church women placed the 100 cartons on Iowa City counters three weeks ago.

Cherokee Museum Gets 'Milky Way'

CHEROKEE (AP)—A series of 12 specially designed lenses which reproduce the Milky Way constellation were installed this week at the Sanford Museum planetarium here, making it one of the most up-to-date installations in the Midwest.

The new model is equipped with 23 special auxiliary lens systems which greatly intensify the brilliance of the stars without increasing their size.

Another added device is the sun-moon-planet projector.

MURRAY YAEGER, G. Denver, Colo., coordination chairman, left, pins a name tag on Elaine Buchanan, G. West Des Moines, while Barry L. Wade, G. Evanston, Ill., receives his tag from Sylvia Semmler, G. Webster, N.Y., during the organizational meeting of a proposed Grad club. The interested SUI graduate students met in the River room of the Iowa Memorial Union, Wednesday evening "to provide a non-academic meeting ground for graduate students."

Monroe To Star At Circus Opening

NEW YORK (AP)—The circus season will open next month with Marilyn Monroe astride a pink elephant.

Showman Mike Todd, known for previous spectacular enterprise, announced Wednesday that Miss Monroe would be his main star in an opening night charity performance of the Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey Circus at Madison Square Garden March 30.

The show will be given on behalf of the New York Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

"Miss Monroe will headline a parade of guest stars in a pageant of big holidays," said Todd. "She's to be New Year's Eve—or the morning after."

The movie actress, who is estranged from her husband, former baseball player Joe DiMaggio, nodded agreement and smiled.

"She'll wear a leotard especially designed," added Todd. A leotard is a formfitting theatrical costume.

50 Iowa Doctors To Meet Here

More than 50 Iowa physicians are expected to attend a post-graduate conference in obstetrics and gynecology Friday and Saturday at SUI's college of medicine.

Members of the obstetrics and gynecology faculty who will participate in the meeting are Drs. John H. Randall, head of the department; William C. Keettel, William B. Goddard, James T. Bradbury and Ibrahim K. Mufarrrij.

The visiting speaker will be Dr. Clarence D. Davis, professor and head of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Missouri.

Beginning at 9 a.m. Friday, the conference will continue through noon the following day.

Interim Research Committee Bill On House Calendar

DES MOINES (AP)—The house departmental affairs committee put on the house calendar Wednesday without recommendation a bill to create a permanent interim legislative research committee.

At a recent public hearing on the bill, several women's organizations gave the measure strong support.

Under the bill, the legislators on the research committee would have access to the services of the SUI institute of public affairs.

The public health committee spent another lengthy discussion on a bill to set up state licensing, regulation, and inspection of all wholesale and retail establishments selling drugs then took a vote on recommending the passage of the measure. Rep. Floyd Edgington (R-Sheffield), committee chairman, said the motion lost "by a good majority."

The bill remains with the committee for final action later.

House committee actions also included:

Fish and game committee—recommended passage of a bill to require sailboats to be illuminated when in use at night;

$1,900 Damage Suit Filed Here

Donald P. Hunter, RR 5, Iowa City, Wednesday filed a $1,900 suit against Ray Stahle, Solon, for alleged damages to his pickup truck in an August collision with Stahle's car between Ely and Solon.

Hunter claimed $1,200 for damages to the truck; $600 for loss of use of the vehicle for six weeks; and $100 for bruises received by a horse owned by him, and carried in the truck at the time.

The suit claims Stahle failed to stop before entering a state highway from a side-road and that he failed to have his car under control.

recommended indefinite postponement of a measure to abolish the $2 fox bounty paid by counties; approved bill to require a fisherman to obtain permission from the owner of land that he has to cross to reach his fishing site.

Public health committee—recommended passage of a measure to permit cities to contract with drainage districts to use drainage ditches as outlets for sewage disposal plants if this does not create a nuisance.

Townships To Vote On Annexation

Voters in the Iowa City and East Lucas township districts will vote on the annexation of a 24-acre tract to the Iowa City independent school district in the March 14 election.

The area involved lies just east of Iowa City between highway 6 and the tracks of Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company. Backers of the annexation have estimated that the area will have an ultimate tax valuation of one million dollars.

It has been estimated by people interested in the development of the area that 12 to 15 houses will be built there this summer. A supermarket and a builders supply business reportedly will be constructed there this spring.

Actual construction awaits an annexation of the area to the city, which is in the hands of the city planning and zoning commission.

Rev. Pollard To Speak At Vespers

The Rev. William G. Pollard, an ordained Episcopal priest, director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, will preach the sermon at Vespers Sunday at 4 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The Rev. Mr. Pollard, who arrived in Iowa City Monday, will give two weeks of addresses at various churches and nearby churches, has as his topic "What Think Ye of Christ?"

SUI President Virginia Hanover will preside at the vespers and Prof. George W. Fox, school of religion, will offer invocation.

The university chamber singers under the direction of Stephen Hobson, instructor of music at SUI, will sing "Jesu, Priceless Treasure" and "Ye Are Not of the Flesh" by Johann Sebastian Bach.

Symphony Concert To Feature Cello Soloist Koelbel

The SUI symphony orchestra will present its fourth concert of the 1954-55 school year Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Prof. Hans Koelbel, department of music, will be violoncello soloist with the orchestra in Saint-Saens' "Concerto in A minor, Op. 33." Koelbel, head of SUI cello instruction, was soloist with the Leipzig Philharmonic orchestra before coming to the United States. He toured this country with the chamber trio from 1922 to 1929 and the SUI faculty in 1937.

Follows Marble Hit by Auto

Garry Edmondson, 7, suffered a broken left collar bone Wednesday when he ran in front of an auto to recover a marble that had rolled into the street.

The driver, Kenneth Scott, had to chase the injured boy who tried to run away after the accident, before taking him to Mercy hospital where he was treated and released.

The accident occurred at 4:30 p.m. at the intersection of Church and Johnson streets. Garry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edmondson, 223 Edgemoor st. Mr. Edmondson expected Garry would return to school today.

Lack of Funds Delayed Start For 8 Years

By Betty Tucker

Founders' day, today, has a special meaning this year. It was 100 years ago in March that the first students entered classes at SUI.

Actually, today marks the 108th anniversary of the creation of SUI by the Iowa legislature. Eight years elapsed between passage of an act "to locate and establish a state university" and the opening of its doors.

Lack of money to support the institution, absence of a building to house it, difficulty in securing a president and faculty — all these blocked realization of the venture.

Old Capitol

The legislature donated Old Capitol to the university in 1847, but it was not available for classroom use until 1858. The building was temporarily reserved for state officers until the removal of the state capitol from Iowa City to Des Moines.

Gradually, the obstacles were hurdled.

The Mechanic's academy was obtained on a rental basis of $300 a year. It stood on the site of the present East hall.

Prof. Amos Dean of Albany, N.Y., lawyer and educator, accepted the presidency of the new university. Three faculty members were hired: Abel Beach, Alexander Johnston and E. M. Griffin. In March, 1855, SUI opened for the first 16-week term.

No record has survived of the number of students at the first session. Estimates have ranged from 40 to 100.

By September, 1855, when the first university circular was published, there were 124 students—83 males and 41 females. SUI was first among state institutions of higher learning to provide for admission of women on equal terms with men.

By now there were nine departments, including ancient languages, modern languages, intellectual philosophy, moral philosophy, natural philosophy, history, natural history, chemistry, and mathematics.

The President or Chancellor, was also head of the department of history. The faculty expanded to six instructors.

To promote punctual attendance at classes, trustees purchased a bell from the Constitution Presbyterian church in April, 1855, and had it installed in the belfry of the Mechanic's academy.

The 1856-57 catalog reveals interesting sidelights on early campus life. Tuition was $10 per term for each student. There were no other charges.

Board was available in private families from $2 to $3 per week and "it is hoped... it may be had at still lower rates," the catalog stated.

Value of books and apparatus was listed as $26,000. About 500 volumes were said to be in the library.

"The business of each day opens with chapel exercises... attended by all students. Great care is taken to shield students from the inroads of temptation and vice, and to train them in the principles and habits of virtue and morality," the catalog said.

Smoking on the campus or about university buildings was prohibited. At one time, the student paper accused a prominent professor of having made himself offensive to ladies in the library and elsewhere by "the odor of tobacco around his person."

In 1858, Old Capitol became the center of campus life. A typical classroom was lined with desks for two. Along one side was a raised platform for recitation. The class not reciting listened to the others. If a student could take the final test over the material covered, he was credited for taking that course.

That same year, the first person was graduated from the new university. Dexter Edison Smith, who received a bachelor of science degree, was the only member of the class of 1858.

Today, 68,103 have received degrees from SUI. The alumni office estimates that its living alumni number more than 50,000.

From an area of 10 acres surrounding Old Capitol and a rented building for classrooms, the campus has grown to more than 700 acres and more than 50 buildings.
