Mecca Queen Candidates Inspect Beard

Jet Crashes; One Dies

Musser Leads County School Board Vote

George L. Gay, 111 S. Governor st., and Elwin T. Jolliffe, 1502 Muscatine ave., were elected to the Iowa City school board Monday.

Gay, secretary-treasurer of the W. A. Gay and Co. locker company, pulled 500 votes and Jolliffe, SUI business manager, 376.

The two fill three-year board terms in posts vacated by Irving B. Weber, 421 Melrose court, and Alva B. Oathout, 610 Beldon ave., who did not seek re-election.

The four other candidates and the votes they received are:

John B. Wilson, 501 Kimball ave., 286; Sam Seitzman, 917 E. College st., 272; Dr. Andrew C. Garvy, 205 Golfview ave., 228, and Elliott D. Full, 1831 Friendship st., 217.

The total vote in the city election was 1,040, including about 50 spoiled ballots. Two polling places were used, one in the Communications center for the first and second wards and University Heights, and one in the junior high school gymnasium for voters from the third, fourth and fifth wards and areas east of the Iowa river.

In the election to fill a vacancy on the Johnson county school board from the fourth area, Willis Musser, who farms in Scott township, was leading Mrs. Harry Reiss, Lone Tree farm wife, 410 to 370.

Results of the county board election are incomplete because tallies from the Lone Tree area were not immediately available. Martin J. Warren, a write-in candidate for the county board, received 44 votes in the Iowa City polls.

The retiring county board member is Joseph W. Paulus.

The move to annex a 65-acre tract east of Iowa City into the Iowa City district received approval, 872 to 88.

Milo Novy, 519 N. Johnson, received 646 votes as an unopposed candidate for re-election as treasurer of the Iowa City board.

The voting turnout was about the same as in past years. In 1954 1,406 votes were cast, in 1952, 840 and in 1951, 1,134. The 1953 vote was a heavy 3,063 when a $795,000 bond issue was authorized.

City Survey Shows United Fund Popular

A poll of Iowa City and Coralville residences shows a 3 to 1 preference among the householders for a United Fund campaign, according to figures presented to the Johnson county Community Chest board here Monday night.

The poll was conducted by the SUI Interfraternity council and the Interfraternity Pledge council.

Other Question

A second question asked in the poll concerned the amount that would be given to a united drive. Seventy-five per cent of those replying said that they would give the same amount in either instance.

Incomplete figures released by James P. Cooney, A4, San Antonio, Tex., who represented the council, follow:

Some 2,255 favored the fund, 630 opposed; 1,960 said they would contribute the same amount in either type drive, 575 would change the amount of their donation (Most of the 575 said they would probably give more to a united drive). Of about 3,000 homes canvassed, 440 gave no comment, 450 calls were not answered.

Iowa Senate Defeats Redistricting Bill

DES MOINES (AP)—A bill prepared by the Institute of Public Affairs at SUI, to redraw the Iowa senatorial districts was defeated by the senate Monday after the question of its constitutionality was raised during a two-hour debate.

Vote on the measure was 23-18 with nine members abstaining. The bill would have provided for 16 one-county senatorial districts as compared with the present 14. Story, Cerro Gordo, Webster and Johnson counties would have become single county districts and Clayton and Jasper counties which now have senators of their own, would have been joined with other counties to form districts.

The other senatorial districts would have been drawn so as to make them as nearly equal in population as possible.

Trainer Hits Field Near Wapello

NEW BOSTON, Ill. (AP)—A jet plane caught fire at dusk Monday and crashed on a farm near this northwest Illinois town.

At least one occupant of the plane and possibly two were killed.

State police said the plane was a two-seater T-33 jet trainer—presumably an air force plane which disappeared in this area on a flight from O'Hara field near Chicago.

The impact gouged a hole 10 feet deep and 40 feet square in the farm of Stuart Guthrie, seven miles northwest of here. New Boston is in Mercer county on the Iowa boundary below Dav- enport and Muscatine.

The air force said a T-33 from O'Hara field was missing and "we are reasonably certain it is the same plane that crashed."

But the air force declined to say whether there was one or two men in the missing plane or give its destination.

Mercer county Coroner Luther Davis said that he was unable to determine whether the remains found were of one airman or two.

A witness said he saw the burning plane dive almost straight down and hit the ground in a great explosion. The impact was so great that wreckage was hurled as far as 800 feet, Davis said.

Motor convoys were enroute to the scene from O'Hara and from Chanute air force base in central Illinois.

The air force said it would not release the names of the victims until notification of next of kin.

G. L. Mosse Resigns; To Go To Wisconsin

Prof. George Mosse of the SUI history department and chairman of the western civilization core course, confirmed Monday that he will leave SUI at the end of the current semester to join the University of Wisconsin history department.

Mosse issued the following statement Monday:

"I have two real regrets in leaving the University. Firstly in ending my association with an excellent and distinguished department of history and, secondly, in ending my association with the western civilization course.

"I leave with the knowledge that the course has now been well established on campus and I am sure that it will be in excellent hands. I hope that the students will give as much support to my successor as they have given me. I need hardly add that I have enjoyed immensely teaching the 8,200 students who have passed through the course in the last decade.

"I want to make it crystal clear that the university has done its utmost to induce me to stay, and I am grateful for the many indications of appreciation that I have received from the department and the administration.

"Personal factors have played the predominant part in my decision to leave. I am interested in the challenge of developing my field in a new institution, and I have already many friendships with members of the Wisconsin faculty both in the history department and outside.

"Among other attractions of the University of Wisconsin are the salary scale, the provisions for research leave, and the extensive support for research for professors in residence. Although I leave Iowa with real regret, I felt this was a professional opportunity which I could not afford to turn down."

Mosse pointed out Monday that he had been mistakenly reported that his primary reason for leaving was the difference in salary.

Mosse will be on a research grant from Wisconsin this summer. He said the research opportunities at SUI "have been greatly improved, but the university

Provoov Freed On Violation Of Rights

BALTIMORE (AP)—John David Provoov, facing a second trial on wartime treason charges, was set free Monday by a federal judge who ruled the 37-year-old former army sergeant had been denied his constitutional rights to a speedy trial.

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen dismissed the treason indictment and granted the one-time San Francisco bank clerk his freedom in a surprise 33-page opinion climaxing more than a month of hearings and deliberation.

Provoov was overcome as his lawyers broke the news to him in the office of the U.S. marshal.

"I am very grateful," was all he could say.

Judge Thomsen said he found Provoov could not "have a fair trial at this late date, that he has been denied the right of speedy trial within the meaning of the 6th Amendment," and that there have been unnecessary and "deliberate" delays in indicting him and bringing him to trial.

"Further prosecution would violate the fundamental principles of justice and fairness which we must apply even in case of those charged with the most heinous offenses," Judge Thomsen said.

Provoov was convicted and sentenced to life Feb. 11, 1953, in New York federal court on four counts of aiding the Japanese after the fall of Corregidor in the Philippines in early 1942.

He was charged specifically with giving aid to his Japanese captors, willingly broadcasting propaganda for the enemy and of informing on and causing the execution of a fellow prisoner, Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Sweeney City, Ia.

A federal appeals court upset the jury conviction and sentence last August, ruling the government had illegally tried Provoov in New York instead of Maryland and that it had wrongfully insinuated before the jury that Provoov was a homosexual.

The government immediately re-indicted Provoov in Maryland and his trial had been set to start Monday.

Morrison, Keasling Win Coralville Vote

Atty. William F. Morrison and Prof. Hugh Keasling, SUI pharmacology department, were elected to fill two posts on the Coralville school board. They were unopposed.

Also unopposed was Owen Morgan, who sought re-election as board treasurer.

Morrison got 66 votes, Keasling 58, and Morgan 66. A total of 75 votes were cast in Coralville.

Bank Robber Gets Life

CRESTON (AP)—Eugene William Buff, 33, was sentenced Monday afternoon to a life term in the Iowa State penitentiary at Fort Madison for his $26,000 "spur of the moment" holdup of the Commercial State bank at Afton Friday.

Buff staged the robbery a day after his release from the Nebraska state prison at the end of a 15-year armed robbery term. He was captured just south of the Iowa-Missouri border seven hours after the holdup. All the loot was recovered.

75,000 Idle In 2 Strikes

NEW YORK (AP)—About 50,000 telephone workers and 25,000 nonoperating railroad employees struck Monday and there were some reports of interruptions of service.

Neither strike is expected to effect services in Iowa.

Southern Bell Telephone Co. employees in nine southeastern states walked out after failure to agree on a new wage contract. The company said dial service was not affected materially but that there might be delays in long distance calls and local calls made through manual exchanges.

Train cancellations began to occur in the 4,737-mile system of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. and two subsidiaries operating in 13 southern and central states.

WRECKLESS DRIVER

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Lacy Thomas Jr. was charged with reckless driving Monday. His horse-drawn wagon jumped onto a sidewalk and collided with a tricycle carrying a 4-year-old boy.

Hearing Set On Sidewalk

The Iowa City council Monday night set a public hearing for April 12 on the proposed $62,800 sidewalk program for the Mark Twain school area.

The program would lay five miles of sidewalks in the southeastern area of the city, where only 30 of 100 blocks have sidewalks at present.

Several petitions from residents of the area urging the sidewalks were received by the council.

Property owners of the area will pay for $54,000 of the program. The city will pay $8,800.

City Manager Peter F. Roan proposed to the council that a cab stand area be established in the business district.

He made the proposal after the Royal Cab company asked for a cab stand in the 100 block on Dubuque st.

Councilmen instructed Roan to make a study of the matter. The council expressed interest in a proposal by Mayor Meyer Verdig of Ft. Dodge that Iowa cities hold a meeting to discuss the establishment of a state public utilities bureau.

Mayor Leroy Mercer was instructed by the council to write Mayor Verdig that Iowa City was interested in sending a representative.

Stocks Suffer Heavy Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market tumbled Monday to its heaviest day's loss in almost five years.

In a continuation of last week's big fall, The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell $3.90 to $151.50.

This was the biggest daily drop since June 26, 1950, two days after the Communist invasion of South Korea.

The fall in The AP average indicated an approximate loss of about $4 billion in the quoted value of all listed securities on the New York Stock Exchange. It was one of the heaviest trading days of the year, with 4,220,000 shares changing hands.

What Price Education?

On page one of today's Daily Iowan appears the story of the resignation of Prof. George Mosse from the university, effective at the end of the current semester.

In his 10 years here at SUI, Mosse has grown to be one of the most prominent figures among the faculty. Most of us know him through his position as chairman of the western civilization core course. Others have come in contact with him through more advanced European history courses.

Mosse's loss here will be sorely felt. It will not be easy to find a replacement who will match Mosse's capabilities and background under the present financial situation of the university.

Mosse said Monday that salary differences was not a primary consideration in his decision to leave. But he did point out that among the attractions at the University of Wisconsin were the salary scale, provisions for research leave and the extensive support for research for professors in residence.

He pointed out that there were personal factors primarily involved in his decision to leave SUI. Yet, we certainly cannot blame him for considering the financial remunerations offered to him both in salary and in research funds at Wisconsin.

A recent editorial in the Des Moines Register pointed out that Iowa's salary position in its state institutions over the years has been slipping backward as compared to competing institutions, "slipping backward in some cases in real buying power and moving forward only in inflated dollars."

Yet, the Iowa legislature seems to be immune to the serious problem facing not only the university, but Iowa State college and Iowa State Teachers college, too.

To maintain and to improve upon the reputation of Iowa's schools of higher learning, we must be able to financially attract the top men.

To keep men of Mosse's calibre and to hire the superior educators, we must be able to offer them not only decent salaries but adequate opportunities for research allotments.

The issue of additional funds for Iowa's colleges and university is facing the 1955 legislature. University officials can only attempt to make the legislators see the light. They have no power to allocate the funds themselves.

The university must get along with the amount that is doled out by the legislators.

The loss of a man, such as Mosse, is not felt directly by the legislators. The harm of such a loss is done to their sons and daughters and to the children of every Iowan who will be attending one of Iowa's institutions.

I have taken it upon myself to conduct a survey or investigation, the findings, or results, of which should prove to be of great value to the city hall.

Subject: Areas of possible parking meter extension.

Results:
1. The area directly in front of the university library is completely void of meters! Observation also indicates that said area is a favorite parking place of many students. One would think our benefactors would have recognized the attractiveness of this particular area quite some time ago, but then we must not be too quick to criticize.

2. The street in front of the Women's gymnasium is also ideally situated and ready for meter installation. There is one drawback — at the present time parking is allowed only on one side, but then I'm sure some sort of "one-way" street plan could be improvised so as to obtain maximum efficiency.

3. Beginning on the southwest corner of the Women's gymnasium and working north past the Iowa Memorial Union, we probably travel through the most "meterable" territory in Iowa City.

Such a prize cannot be easily passed by.
One more thing, before I close my report. I have noticed the area mentioned under topic number three is used by the students to quite some degree at night. Maybe — now mind you this is just a suggestion — some plan or program, of "overtime" or "late-hours" could be applied to the meters within this particular area.

I do hope my time has not been wasted, and the city officials will at least consider, if they have not already done so, a few of my proposals listed above.

TO THE EDITOR:
This letter, you might say, is third in a series of articles presented by the more perceptive, discerning and well-meaning students of SUI for the gratifying, thoughtful and obliging attitude they have exhibited toward the student body.

In fact, some of their most recent undertakings have been so obviously directed toward the student personnel, of which I am a member, my feeling of indebtedness can no longer be restrained.

I have taken it upon myself to conduct a survey or investigation, the findings, or results, of which should prove to be of great value to the city hall.

Interpreting the News—

Red Visits to Iowa Farms a Good Idea

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

How you gonna keep 'em down on a Russian farm after they've seen Iowa?

The suggestion by the Des Moines Register that if Russia wants to grow corn, they should send someone to see how it is done by experts seems about to bear fruit—or rather, ears.

The United States has just agreed to permit the entry of 11 Russian student editors for a visit to American colleges.

It's against the law for the state department to grant visas to Communists unless it decides it's in the national interest.

Under Consideration

The matter of the students has been under consideration for months, though a part of the delay was due to an American suggestion that they withdraw their application for a visit last summer and renew it for a period when more colleges would be open.

The Register suggestion, and the relatively quick way in which the Russian government picked it up as compared with its usual reluctance in handling any foreign approach, should require no such delay.

The United States information service spends a lot of time, money and effort trying to tell people about the country, its approach to living, its objectives, and its achievements. It would rather reach the Russians than anyone else.

Prepare for Change

One theory is that it will make them dissatisfied with their own system and prepare the ground for a change there which must take place before there can be any real peace.

There is another idea, too, in the back of many minds. It is that a prosperous Russia would gradually drop her revolutionary ideas.

Expressing this, the Register said "We figure that more knowledge about the means to a good life in Russia can only benefit the world and us."

The importance of one or two such visits should not be over-emphasized. Russia will send only people who are thoroughly conditioned against the blandishments of the outside world. Molotov and Vishinsky never showed much appreciation of the American Way, no matter what they might have thought.

Dozens of Steps

But there have been dozens of steps in American farming, selection of the seed and the planting, which individually didn't seem very exciting, either.

Even a member of the British Labor party came to the United States the other day and returned home with the seemingly surprised impression that Americans are people, too.

Americans are people. Iowa is as American as ham and eggs. The farm collectives there are cooperatives, a vastly different thing from what the Russians know. Some of them will not even believe it, and some will believe it, and some will believe but deny it. But what they will see will not be merely corn and hogs, nor will the seed sown prove to be merely wild oats.

Medal of Honor Winner, Navy Chaplain Is Modest

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—The news cameraman said he'd like to make a picture of the priest wearing the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest and rarest decoration for courage. No other chaplain has won it.

"Sorry," said the Rev. Joseph T. O'Callahan, "but it's locked in the library safe. I've told them not to show it until after I'm dead."

Such modesty is characteristic of the Rev. Father O'Callahan, who was called by his skipper "the bravest man I ever knew" after a Japanese kamikaze made the carrier USS Franklin a raging inferno of destruction and death 10 years ago.

The Rev. Father O'Callahan, 49, has returned to Holy Cross college, which he left for the wars in 1940. There he teaches boys too young to remember when the world was afire, while writing his recollections of a period when one day of terror encroached upon the next too rapidly to consider the calendar.

Austere Room

The interview was in the Rev. Father O'Callahan's austere little room—typical Jesuit quarters—crowded with books and papers, desk and typewriter, narrow bed and chairs, and three potted plants.

"One of few decorations was a small ditty bag on which the Star of David was embossed. "Before we went into action," he explained, "one of the boys asked me to keep it for him. It contained letters which he said he was afraid he might lose. I mailed the letters later, but I kept the ditty bag. The boy was killed."

The "boy" was one of about 1,000 who gave their lives serving the Franklin. Asking the number of casualties among the carrier's complement of more than 3,000, the priest said: "Just about everyone was a casualty."

Idea

But there have been dozens of... Even a member of the British labor party came to the United States the other day and returned home with the seemingly unpriced impression that Americans are people, too.

Americans are people. Iowa is American as ham and eggs. The farm collectives there are cooperatives, a vastly different thing from what the Russians know. Some of them will not even believe it, and some will believe it, but what they will not deny is that they will not be merely corn and hogs, nor will the seed sown grow to be merely wild oats.

Hawkeyes Work Out For LaSalle Game

Scheuerman's Knee Better, But Still Stiff

The Hawkeye basketball team held a light workout Monday afternoon in preparation for their clash Friday night with defending National Collegiate champion LaSalle in the semi-final round of the 1955 tourney at Kansas City.

Sharm Scheuerman, who bruised his leg badly in the regional final Saturday night against Marquette, was reported "coming along alright, although the leg is still stiff," by Coach Bucky O'Connor. Deacon Davis has apparently recovered from an arm bruise in the same game. O'Connor said that he will probably use the same starting lineup that he used in the regional meet although the reserves performed "very well." He added that the bench proved to be a "valuable asset to the team as they have all season."

Iowa's 950 tickets for the NCAA tourney were sold out Monday, according to Iowa athletic business manager Francis (Buz) Graham.

Iowa, LaSalle Play Friday at 7:30

The Iowa-LaSalle game Friday night will be played at 7:30, followed by a game between Colorado, Big Seven champs, and a poll-leading San Francisco. Friday night's losers will meet in a consolation game Saturday night at 7:30, followed by the championship battle at 9:30. It has been reported, but not confirmed, that the title game will be televised.

LaSalle now has a season's record of 24-4, with victories over Southern California, UCLA and Loyola (of the South) as well as many eastern teams. They have been defeated by such powers as Utah, 79-69; Kentucky, 63-54; Duquesne, 67-65; and North Carolina State, 76-73.

LaSalle is led by 6-7 center Tom Gola, who has been placed on nearly every major All-American team for three seasons, and is now being called one of basketball's all time greats. He has a season average of 24.4 points and 20 rebounds per game. "The great Gola will be a hard problem to defend and LaSalle also has balance somewhat similar to Iowa's," O'Connor said Monday. "But our Logan has been improving with every game, and after the job he did with (Jesse) Arnette of Penn State and (Terry) Rand of Marquette, I have increased confidence in him."

Gola, however, is not O'Connor's only worry. "LaSalle has a couple of other good scorers in Singley and Lewis," he declared, "and their height average is comparable to Iowa's."

Balance, Bench Are Hawk Assets

Iowa on the other hand will rely on its customary balance and bench strength which paid off again for the Hawkeyes as they rolled over Penn State, 82-53, Friday night and then went on to down a rallying Marquette squad, 86-81, Saturday night.

Against Penn State, Carl Cain and Deacon Davis, old teammates from Freeport, Ill., combined to score 40 points. Bill Logan was held to eight points on four field goals. Then, Saturday night, with Marquette watching the two forwards closely, Logan came through with 31 points.

Spectators got an indication of the depth of the Hawkeye squad against Penn State, when the reserves came into the game with a 24 point lead, ran the margin to more than 30 points and finished strong with a 29 point edge.

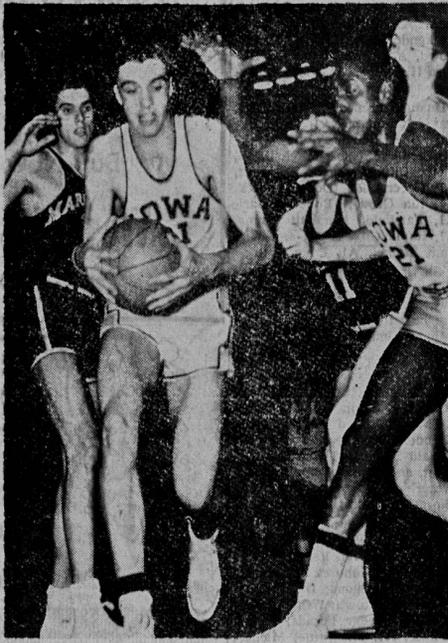

Bill Schoof went in after Cain collected four fouls and he collected six points which were vital.

Logan left the game on fouls with 6:52 remaining, followed by Schoof at 3:08, and Billy Seaberg with 0:37. Sharm Scheuerman was also on the bench, nursing an injured knee.

The gap was filled, however, by Roy Johnson, Bob George and Babe Hawthorne.

With the game going into its final seconds, and the Hawkeyes playing possession ball to hold a slight lead, Johnson tallied on a free throw, and then swished through a field goal from the corner.

George also scored a free throw. Then, with the Hawks playing keep-away near the center of the floor, the big center sneaked under the basket all alone, took a pass and sank to take the Hawkeyes out of dan-

IOWA CENTER BILL LOGAN comes down with a rebound during the NCAA regional championship game played Saturday night at Evanston, Ill. Logan's rebound work among the lowering Warriors, plus his outstanding defensive play and scoring earned him the "Most Valuable" player title for the tourney. Logan also placed on the all-tournament first team along with fellow Hawkeyes Carl Cain, shown helping Logan capture the ball, and Bill Seaberg.

IOWA COACH BUCKY O'CONNOR takes a "full-dress" shower following Iowa's 86-81 victory over Marquette Saturday night for the regional title and the right to meet LaSalle Friday night in the semi-final round of the NCAA championships. He is being assisted by Hawkeyes Bill Logan and Babe Hawthorne, center. The dousing began after Bill Seaberg offered O'Connor his congratulations for the victory. The Hawkeyes grabbed O'Connor's outstretched hand and dragged him into the shower.

O'Connor called Johnson's play "his finest at Iowa," and also heaped praise on Schoof, George and Hawthorne.

Cage Coaches Study Stalls, Bonus Shots

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Undue stalling and the high importance of the free throw will be studied critically by the National Association of Basketball Coaches meeting this weekend. "The coaches, worried by reports that current rules are causing attendance decreases, are expected to make some definite recommendations to the rules-making national basketball committee which meets Sunday and Monday."

The coaches' convention opens Thursday and will continue through Saturday, with an expected 300 mentors in attendance.

Although a surprisingly large number of coaches favor the current bonus free throw rule which allows an extra shot on a successful one-shot free throw, others claim it has made the game a free-throw contest.

On the subject of stalling, there is some sentiment to follow the pros in requiring a 24-second period for the team in possession to score.

The recommendations committee of the coaches' group will report on proposed rules changes at Thursday afternoon's session.

Little Hawks To Perform In Boys' Meet

The Little Hawks of city high school will be Iowa City's only representative in the 1955 Iowa state boys high school basketball tournament. They gained a place among the eight finalists by squeezing by Keokuk, 63-62, Saturday night.

The Little Hawks travel to Des Moines Wednesday for a one hour drill on the municipal auditorium floor at 4 p.m., in their last drill before meeting Abraham Lincoln of Council Bluffs Friday night at 7:30.

In the afternoon games Thursday, Dubuque meets Ottumwa at 1:30 and Ames goes against Roland at 2:45. St. Ambrose of Davenport will battle Sioux Center in the final at 8:45 p.m.

The Little Hawks go into the tournament with a 14-7 record, the same as their 1946 record when they entered the tourney with little advance publicity and carried away top honors.

The Hawks started the season slowly, but have won eight of their last ten starts, including four sub-state victories. The Hawks have featured excellent rebounding strength led by 6-7 Bill Scott, Jeff Langston and Dave Bradbury.

In Abraham Lincoln, the Hawks will be facing a team which is unbeaten in 11 games with Iowa teams. The Lynx, however, have dropped eight of 13 contests to Nebraska opponents.

Big Ten Accepts Football TV Plan

CHICAGO (AP)—The threat of revolt by the Big Ten over regional football television—a hot issue within the NCAA for more than a year—was completely dissipated Monday when the conference voted to accept the NCAA's 1955 TV program. The Big Ten's action, taken in the form of a directive by a joint meeting of faculty representa-

U.S. Team Leads In Pan-Am Games

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Two U.S. soldiers leaped more than 26 feet in the broad jump and their teammates won three other track and field championships Monday as the United States made a near sweep of honors in the Pan-American games.

Roselyn Range, an army private from Los Angeles, won the broad jump with a mighty leap of 26 feet 4 1/2 inches—one of the greatest in track history—and he was closely pressed by John Bennett, former Marquette university star, with 26-3 1/2.

Only the great Jesse Owens, star of the 1936 Olympic games, and Willie Steele have done better than Range. Owens' leap of 26 feet 8 1/2 inches is the world record.

A crowd of 25,000 saw the U.S. win four of the five track championships contested and boost its unofficial score of 115 points compared with 37 1/2 for Argentina, its chief rival.

Westlake Angry About 'Bean Ball'

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The bean ball stopped by Wally Westlake in the Cleveland Indians' exhibition game with the New York Giants Sunday almost resulted in blows.

In the seventh inning, Giant hurler Al Worthington let go a pitch that knocked Westlake on the head. Westlake went down, most of the impact absorbed by a protective plastic strip inside his cap, and heard Giants' Manager Leo Durocher explain: "It was an accident, Wally. He didn't mean it."

But Westlake replied, "I owe you one. Before this is over, I'm going to cut somebody open with my spikes."

Successful Compromise

But the NCAA plan for 1955, announced at Kansas City Monday, was a successful compromise with a combination national-regional setup and other provisions sought by the two conferences.

The Big Ten's vote of acceptance was not unanimous, however. By voice vote it adopted a directive to the conference secretary, Paul Bloomer, Iowa faculty representative, to cast a ballot in favor of the NCAA plan, which now is in the process of referendum by the organization's membership.

Not Unanimous "There were some negative expressions in the vote but not enough for a roll call," said Assistant Commissioner Bill Reed. "The issuing of a directive is tantamount to certifying Big Ten acceptance."

Reed said that live TV receipts of all Big Ten members for five regional dates provided by the NCAA and any national appearances would be pooled and distributed 10 ways throughout the conference. This "share the wealth" plan is expected to more than make up for any loss of attendance suffered during the season by individual schools.

A NEW DRESS UNIFORM for the U.S. army enlisted men, is making an appearance throughout the country. M/Sgt. Jack H. Naden, army recruiter for Iowa City, is shown with the new uniform as he enters his office Monday. The blue dress uniform, costing about $80, can be worn where the old wool olive drab uniform is authorized.

New Army Uniform Is Blue

Olive drab may begin its exit from the lives of U. S. army enlisted men with the introduction of a blue dress uniform this spring.

M/Sgt. Jack H. Naden, army recruiter for Iowa City, said the uniform is now optional for winter wear. He said that army men may buy the uniform and wear it where the wool olive drab outfit is authorized.

Naden, who wears the new uniform on his semi-weekly trips to Iowa City, said that the uniforms can be purchased in Des Moines for about $80. Eventually, he said, they will cost about $60.

The uniform consists of a wool blouse, trousers and accessories. The blouse is navy blue with gold collar and rank insignia, gold service stripes (hash marks), brass buttons and gold epaulets.

The trousers are ocean blue with a gold stripe down the seam. The uniform is worn with a white shirt, black shoes and socks and a black four-in-hand tie.

Naden visits Iowa City post office twice weekly on Monday and Thursday from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Ray H. Boundy
To Address Chemists

Ray H. Boundy, director of research for the Dow Chemical company, will speak on "The Organization and Philosophy of Industrial Research" Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in room 314 of the chemistry building.

Boundy's talk will follow a dinner meeting of the Iowa section of the American Chemical Society, to be held at the Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity house.

A vice-president and director of the Dow concern, Boundy holds many patents and has written a number of articles in the fields of plastics, hydrocarbons, electrochemistry, instrumentation and synthetic rubber. He is a native of Pennsylvania and holds degrees from Grove City college and the Case Institute of Technology.

Boundy's talk will be open to the public. Reservations for the AXS dinner preceding the talk may be made through Tuesday with John Roddewig, graduate assistant in chemistry.

Loyalty Theme Of Contest

"The Problem of Loyalty in Government Service" will be the subject of the annual essay contest sponsored by Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary political science fraternity.

Any undergraduate SUI student is eligible to enter. The essays can vary in length from 3,000 words to 6,000 words and are due April 15 in 201 Schaeffer hall, the office of the department of political science. Winners will be announced April 26th.

First prize will be a $25 war bond, contributed by the Iowa City Lions club. Second, given by the American Legion, is a $10 war bond, and third prize of $5 is contributed by the Kiwanis club. Judging will be done by political science faculty and staff members.

The contest is held annually, but until this year there has been only a small prize for winners at the local level, according to Devere Pentony, G. Sioux City, chairman of the essay committee.

Pentony said that because of the assistance from the various local organizations, larger prizes are being given.

The winning essay is eligible for competition in the $100 Pi Sigma Alpha national contest. Term papers or research papers can be used if they fulfill requirements.

Mosse—

is not yet as well off as Wisconsin."

Since 1944

Mosse came to SUI in 1944 and began teaching western civilization in 1945. There were 30 students enrolled in the western civilization course and two western civilization instructors during the first semester he taught it, he said Monday.

This semester more than a thousand students are taking the course and 12 instructors assist the teaching.

At Wisconsin, he will teach an elective freshman course in modern Europe and a course in intellectual history from the renaissance to the present, he said.

Mosse was a visiting expert with the U.S. high command in Germany in 1951 and 1954.

He was born in Berlin, Germany, in 1919 where his father was a newspaper publisher. He left Germany with his family in 1933 because of his family's opposition to the Nazi regime.

He then went to England where he attended Cambridge for two years. In 1939 he came to the U.S. and entered Haverford College in Pennsylvania, where he received a B.S. in 1941. He came to SUI in 1944 and was awarded a Ph.D. from Harvard university in 1946.

Mosse is the author of "The Struggle of Sovereignty in England" and "The Reformation."

A $95,640 grant from the W. K. Kellogg foundation for expansion of SUI's educational program in the field of hospital administration was announced Monday by President Virgil M. Hancher.

The finance committee of the Iowa state board of education has approved acceptance of the money for use over a three-year period beginning Jan. 1 of this year. The first payment of $34,460 already has been made by the foundation.

Will Provide

Prof. Gerhard Hartman, superintendent of University hospitals and director of the hospital administration program, said the grant will make it possible: To add two faculty members and a research associate to the hospital administration faculty, to expand the program's library, to develop preceptor conferences for hospital administrators under whom students of the program are training, and to conduct post-graduate courses, conferences, consultations, institutes and "refresher courses" for hospital board trustees and hospital administrative personnel in Iowa.

Schools Purpose

Established in 1950, the Iowa program is designed to train students for administrative positions in today's highly specialized and departmentalized hospitals. Students receive instruction from faculty members in the colleges of medicine, commerce, law and pharmacy in addition to the administration courses they take under Prof. Hartman and his staff.

Before receiving a master of arts degree, a student must serve 12 months as an administrative intern in an accredited hospital as well as complete the regular academic requirements for the degree.

Three of the nation's four doctors of philosophy with majors in hospital administration received their doctorates from SUI. Prof. Hartman, the one exception, was awarded the first Ph.D. in the field by the University of Chicago in 1942.

10 Enrolled

The SUI program, in which 10 students are now enrolled, was cited last fall by the commission on university education in hospital administration as "an intriguing example of how much can be accomplished in an educational venture with minimum initial outlay." To help in development of the program, faculty members from various colleges at SUI teach hospital administration classes in addition to their regular, full-time duties.

Sweden Accuses 4 In New Spy Probe

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Sweden accused four members of the Czechoslovak and Romanian legations Monday of espionage and banned them from this traditionally neutral nation.

A reliable source said "everybody concerned" at the legations with Sweden's new spy probe, in which 11 suspects have been jailed, was told to get out of Sweden immediately. One or two named were already out. Police declared they had uncovered spy rings linked directly with Prague and Bucharest.

The procedure to get rid of the legation members was to declare them persona non grata diplomatically unacceptable.

A Foreign Ministry communiqué identified the four as: Maj. Frantisek Nemeš, Czech military attaché; Capt. Zdenek Jansa, Czech assistant military attaché; a Czech legation chauffeur named Sladek, and Paul Salcudeanu, secretary of the Romanian legation.

Hope SUI Film Will Settle Argument

A loyal Iowan-by-adoption is doing his best to settle a hot argument in the sub-zero community of Ft. Churchill on Hudson bay, Canada.

He is Lt. Col. Charles W. Carr of the U.S. army's first arctic test detachment. A native of Alabama, he earned his M.S. degree in electrical engineering at SUI in 1947.

Carr wrote Director Bill Adamson of the SUI Scottish Highlanders that a "little controversy" had arisen between U.S. and Canadian forces stationed at Ft. Churchill as to "who can play the best bagpipe music—Canadians or the Iowa Highlanders." He urged Adamson to send any available recordings "to see if we can correct the situation."

Instead of a phonograph record, Adamson sent him "Will Ye No' Come Back Again?" a color film of the 60 Iowa coeds' trip to Europe in 1952. If "visual aids" are effective, Adamson says, the colonel might just win his argument.

Court Orders Two To Return Fund

District Judge James P. Gaffney Monday ordered a $1,000 building fund be turned over to the Community Church of Christ, and ruled Walter Garwood and Ray June had no interest in the fund as custodians because they were no longer members of the church.

The Community Church of Christ met in the Community building which was destroyed in the Jan. 28 fire.

The church filed suit when Garwood and June refused to surrender the bank account containing the fund. Gaffney ordered the bank to turn over the fund to the church.

Garwood lives at 900 N. Dodge st. June no longer lives in the Iowa City area.

WITHDRAWS BILL

DES MOINES (AP)—Rep. T. J. Frey (R-Neola) obtained consent Monday of the house to withdraw his bill to prohibit the use of liquor in private clubs. He pointed out that the senate has passed a bill which would make it legal for members of private clubs to drink their own liquor in such clubs.

Shoots Guard Forces Way Into Embassy

MOSCOW (AP)—A furbattled young Russian wounded a Soviet guard at the British embassy Sunday night with pistol fire and, spouting gibberish, forced his way inside. Two unarmed British attaches captured him there. They turned him over to Soviet police.

The intruder, a well dressed man of about 25, was subdued in the second-floor living quarters of Ambassador Sir William and Lady Hayter. They returned from a skiing trip in the country just as he was being taken away. Moscow diplomatic observers were inclined to attach no political significance to the incident. They dismissed it as the individual action of a person presumably mentally disturbed.

The gunman's identity has not been disclosed. Since the Russian guard was shot outside the embassy compound, the extraterritorial status of the embassy — technically a part of Britain — apparently was not involved in that.

Like all foreign missions in Moscow, the British embassy is heavily guarded. Night and day, two or more uniformed Russian policemen, with pistols at their belts, are posted at front and back gates in the high brick wall that surrounds the grounds. Plainclothes police also are stationed outside the gates when the ambassador is inside.

Damage Suit Filed On Walk Destruction

Prof. Chesley J. Posey, head of SUI's civil engineering department, and Mrs. Posey, Monday filed a $23,100 property damage suit against Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Griffith, 1028 Newton road, in Johnson county district court. The petition charges the Griffiths had workmen tear out the sidewalk leading to the Posey residence June 18, 1954, while the professor and Mrs. Posey were out of town. The Poseys live at 1040 Newton road.

The Poseys seek damages for possible loss of access to their home, for an allegedly illegal attempt to deprive them of property rights and for destruction of a walk.
