O'Connor Terms Discrimination 'Unfortunate'

By ARLO JACOBSON
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

Iowa Basketball Coach Frank (Bucky) O'Connor Thursday termed reported acts of discrimination in Kansas City, Mo., against Negro basketball players Carl Cain and McKinley (Deacon) Davis "unfortunate," and said that he hopes he never again has to take his team into such a situation.

O'Connor's statement was prompted by a letter to The Daily Iowan charging discrimination against Negro basketball players in Kansas City, Mo., during the recent National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championships there. The letter deplored the situation and cited specific incidents.

The letter to the Iowan, printed today on page 2, was written by George E. Bolden, A4, Iowa City.

"It was not an enjoyable situation," said O'Connor, "and one that we wouldn't care to go through again. I regret any such situation which is embarrassing for our boys."

O'Connor added that no specific instances were reported to him by the team members, but said that that may have been because the players were too embarrassed to report them.

The letter to The Daily Iowan said that Davis was pushed off an elevator with white people aboard; that all-American Bill Russell of the San Francisco team went hungry because he wouldn't eat in the kitchen; and that hotel waitresses were discourteous to Negro players and forced them to wait before being served.

"Didn't Realize"

"We didn't realize that the segregation laws were in force in Kansas City before making the trip," O'Connor said. "When we learned of it, I talked it over with the boys and they decided not to prompt an incident by going into theaters or restaurants where segregation was enforced."

Cain, who was named to the NCAA all-tournament team, admitted that it was a touchy situation during the tournament but said that the only unpleasantness for him was in being told that elevators in which he wanted to ride were full, when there was obviously room for more passengers.

Cain said that he believed that Davis mentioned being pushed off an elevator, although Cain wasn't with him at the time. Davis could not be reached for comment Thursday night. Cain also said that Russell told him of being denied a meal if he didn't eat in the restaurant kitchen.

"A saleswoman asked me what team I played with," Cain remembered, "and wished us luck when I told her Iowa. Then she said, 'I hope that the referees will be as impartial as they possibly can be.'"

Cain said that he has met with no discrimination since he has been in Iowa City and no serious instance on any out of town trips with the team during the regular season.

He did recall that Davis and he were required to sit in the balcony during a movie while the team was in Columbia, Mo., for a game with Missouri early in the season.

"It wasn't bad though," he declared, "because the rest of the team went up in the balcony with us, even though the manager didn't want them to."

O'Connor said that San Francisco Coach Phil Woolpert was "upset" by the segregation. Three of the teams entered in the tournament had Negroes participating.

Proctor and Gamble Talks With City on Locating Here

The Proctor and Gamble company Thursday continued to show strong interest in Iowa City as the site for a new plant. Company officials Thursday conferred with city council members on the possibility of building the plant here.

They announced that Iowa City was "one of a few" cities still being considered.

Three Weeks

The site of the plant, company officials said, would be announced within three weeks. About 200 persons would be employed in the plant, they estimated.

The company has already received an option on a 73-acre tract outside of the Iowa City limits on Lower Muscatine road.

Other Action

The council Thursday night let a $117,838.50 contract to Hargrave Construction company of Cedar Rapids to asphalt 50 blocks of city streets.

Hargrave officials said they would start work on the project by July 15 and finish before October 15.

The Hargrave firm won the contract in bidding with six other contractors. The Study Construction company of Fairmont, Minn., submitted the next lowest bid of $120,023.

Competitive

The competitive bidding drove the final bids down from the $210,000 estimate the city had placed on the project's cost.

Other bidders: William Horrobin of Iowa City, Central Engineering of Davenport, Norris Construction company of Ottumwa, William Hodgman and Son of Fairmont, Minn., and McCarthy Implement company of Davenport.

The project will not cost Iowa City taxpayers an extra cent. It will be paid for out of state street funds appropriated to Iowa City over the past three years.

Streets to be included in the project: Market, Capitol, Johnson, College, Linn, Clinton, Washington, Summit, River and Beldoin.

P. V. McNutt, New Deal Leader, Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul V. McNutt, whose shock of white hair was a familiar sight in New Deal councils, died Thursday of throat cancer. He was 63.

With the national commandship of the American Legion in 1928 as a springboard, McNutt went on to become governor of Indiana, a presidential aspirant and head of a number of wartime agencies.

He dropped out of public life in 1947 on his return from a tour as ambassador to the Philippines. His last eight years were spent in private law practice and in the insurance business.

Although not active in politics in recent years, McNutt maintained a keen interest in Democratic party affairs.

The first symptoms of his fatal illness were discernible last September when he introduced Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, at a $100-a-plate Democratic party dinner in Indianapolis.

Dinner guests saw a man who looked physically fit, but he spoke in barely more than a hoarse whisper. It was his last visit to his beloved native Indiana.

McNutt entered a hospital in New York and left it early this year to take a round-the-world cruise with Mrs. McNutt.

He got to Manila, where he had spent so many years, but could go no farther. He flew back to New York, arriving March 8, and although he had a reservation at the hospital, he preferred to remain in his Fifth avenue apartment.

Ice Jam Racks Niagara River Area

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — A crushing onslaught of ice, piled as high as 30 feet in some places, swept cottages, boat-houses and docks before it Thursday in the worst ice jam on the lower Niagara river in nearly two decades.

Efforts of the army engineers, the coast guard and swarms of local residents were inadequate to halt the destruction as ice continued to plunge over Niagara Falls.

The destruction area was centered in the final six-mile stretch of the river before it empties into Lake Ontario. The shores were a shambles from Lewiston to Ft. Niagara on the U.S. side and from Queenston to Niagara-on-the-Lake on the Canadian side.

The Queenston steamboat dock, where the Toronto excursion boat docks in the summer months, was jammed into the bank.

The ice piled up at the river mouth acted like the cork in a bottle and the water rose steadily under the ice.

Quality of Iowa Uranium Questioned

DES MOINES (AP) — There's definitely some uranium in southeast Iowa but whether it exists in commercial quantities can't be determined without extensive tests, an Ottumwa mining engineer said Thursday.

F. B. Baca, who said he has followed mining and geology "all my life," testified at an open hearing before the house and senate Mines and Mining committees.

The committees are attempting to determine whether any legislation dealing with uranium should be passed at this session. Sen. Bellman (R-Indianola), chairman of the senate committee, said another meeting would be held Monday to discuss further Baca's recommendations.

Baca told the group it would take extensive tests to find out whether there is any commercial quantity of uranium in Iowa. He recommended:

1. That some facilities be set up by the state to make further checks on areas where Geiger counter or scintillometer tests indicate considerable radioactivity in the earth.

2. Since there is no place in Iowa for testing uranium ores, that either Iowa State college or SUI be equipped to assay ore samples.

Says Radiation Not Cause Of Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. John C. Bugher, director of the Atomic Energy commission's division of biology and medicine, said Thursday a Japanese fisherman caught in last year's Pacific H-bomb test, died from jaundice, a liver ailment, and that his body showed no radiation injuries.

This was the first official backing for reports that the recent death of Aikichi Kuboyama in Tokyo was apparently from natural causes. He was one of 23 crew members of the fishing boat Lucky Dragon dusted with radioactive fallout from the H-bomb tests last March.

The Japanese at first claimed death was due to radiation and refused to permit American doctors to attend Kuboyama.

Dr. Bugher told newsmen that Kuboyama's death was "not directly related to radiation injuries."

"At the time he died," Dr. Bugher added, "he showed no radiation injuries. His tissues showed no persistence of radiation materials."

He said Japanese pathologists had confirmed this finding and had told American officials they intend publishing their studies soon. Kuboyama's death caused a sensation in Japan, already apprehensive over the radiation of the fishing boat while it was at sea beyond the original outlines of the test danger area.

Dr. Bugher made this disclosure when questioned by newsmen at the end of the congressional hearing on a statement by AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss that no one died from the 1954 tests.

Slick Roads Give Motorists Hard Time

Winter in what is hoped to be its "final fling" not only gave motorists headaches when snow greased the hills in Iowa City, but gave many SUI fraternity members an evening's fun.

As members of the fraternities located on Dubuque street cheered, motorists attempted the slippery hill. For those who couldn't make it all the way, the boys finished the job, by pushing them up over the hill's crest.

The cars that went spinning down the hill were prevented from having accidents when the boys warned them of the slippery conditions.

Trucks Stalled

Many trucks were parked at the bottom of the hill. Eighteen semi-trailers were stalled on highway 6 shortly before midnight, the drivers not even making an effort to go further.

With the police reporting only minor accidents, cars continued to slide into each other, causing many bent fenders.

Don FitzGerald, A2, Mason City, and Ronald Bunte, A2, Des Moines, members of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, 1032 N. Dubuque street, were driving up the driveway to the house.

Just as they got around the bend, FitzGerald realized he couldn't go any further. He started to back down, with his door open so he could see down the hill. The car started to slide and went out of control. FitzGerald fell out and slid the rest of the way down the incline with the car.

Car Twisted

The car twisted as he fell out, hit a railing guarding steps leading up to the house, jumped up on a wooden landing, and stopped there. FitzGerald, who was still sliding with the car, fell under it. Bunte stayed in the car all the way down. Neither was hurt.

Toward midnight, sanding crews were working in Iowa City.

"Spring" is expected to continue cold and blustery in the Iowa City area until Saturday. Other parts of the United States are also getting their share of sub-zero temperatures and snow.

'Blue Angel' Flyer Killed in Crash

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Marine Capt. Martin P. Olsen, 27, Eugene, Ore., member of the navy's Blue Angel jet team, crashed to his death on Mustang island about 20 miles east of Corpus Christi Thursday.

Olsen's Cougar jet plane struck a sand dune, exploded and disintegrated while he was flying low practicing a solo maneuver.

Soviets Surprise West With Disarmament Plan

Stevens Testifies He Was Hasty Granting Discharge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens said Thursday the army should not have been so hasty in granting an honorable discharge to Irving Peress after Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) had demanded his court-martial.

"As a matter of senatorial courtesy," Stevens told the senate investigations subcommittee, "we should have taken the time to investigate the case further and to confer with McCarthy."

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said he planned to question Stevens about the possibility of revoking Peress' discharge and bringing him to trial even now on court-martial charges.

In applying for an army commission, Peress denied belonging to any organization advocating a subversive policy. Later he invoked the Fifth Amendment and declined to say whether he was Communist.

Stevens' statement about senatorial courtesy was in answer to whether he thought army counsel John G. Adams had made a mistake in not delaying Peress' discharge, which became effective Feb. 2, 1954.

Wanted Jail

Heating Tunnel Resident Changes Address

Jesse Sterett, about 50, who listed his residence as an SUI heating tunnel, got his wish Thursday morning when he appeared in police court before Judge Roger Ivie.

Wednesday afternoon he went to the police station and requested 30 days in the county jail. He said that last July he had 30 days coming on an intoxication charge but that he had gone to California instead.

Ivie suggested that the man come to police court Thursday morning to discuss the question. Iowa City police changed the plan Wednesday evening when they arrested him on a charge of intoxication.

Thursday was Sterett's 36th appearance in Iowa City police court since 1939, according to police records.

New Pep Club Officers Hold Meeting

Spring Style Show

Proposal Seen As Similar To West's

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Russia, in a surprise reversal of its position at the five-power disarmament talks, has put forward new proposals "quite similar" to the Western program for reducing nuclear and other arms, sources close to the United States delegation disclosed Thursday.

Western officials were pictured as cautiously optimistic that the arms conference may now make some progress, but wary lest the Soviet proposals turn out to be propaganda.

The informants said Russia's plan calls for step-by-step cuts in both nuclear and conventional weapons, such as tanks and planes. It would eventually result — if carried through — in scrapping of hydrogen and atomic weapons.

Gromyko Presented Plan

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was said to have presented the plan recently after he threw the parley into a deadlock when it opened, Feb. 25, by making demands unacceptable to the Western delegations.

Russia is meeting with the United States, Britain, France and Canada in a renewed session of the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee. The meeting was arranged last October by agreement at the UN general assembly.

Term Version 'Distorted'

Information on the arms talks was given to Western reporters after Pravda, mouthpiece of the Soviet Communist party, published in Moscow Thursday what Western officials called a distorted Soviet version of the negotiations.

Western informants said the Russian plan resembled proposals made by Russia at the UN general assembly last October, but was also "quite similar" to the 1954 British-French program now before the conference.

This program — backed by the United States — provides for a gradual reduction in conventional weapons, tied in with abolition of nuclear weapons. It would be carried out under iron-clad inspection on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

All Air Cadets To Get Bars

The U.S. air force has announced that it will appoint 10-200 air force ROTC cadets as second lieutenants this year.

Approximately 70 cadets in the SUI air force ROTC program will receive their bars as second lieutenants upon graduation this spring.

Last year, lack of vacancies within the active air force made it necessary to give certificates of completion, instead of direct commissions to 4,800 graduates of the ROTC program.

Of the 10,200 cadets being called to active duty, 8,100 have been accepted for flight training. All but 8 of the 70 SUI air force cadets have been accepted for flight training.

No Action Planned

No action will be taken in regard to irregularities and violations reported during Wednesday's all-campus elections unless a formal complaint is filed, according to Jan Hauser, A3, Cedar Rapids, chairman of the Student Council elections committee.

If a candidate feels that he has been discriminated against by the violations, he must file a written complaint with Miss Hauser, on or before March 30.

SQUARE DANCE TONIGHT

SUI Folk and Square dance society will meet tonight from 8 to 12 p.m. at the Women's gym. Dancing will be for beginners and intermediates.

Your Votes Give Hope—

In our front page editorial of March 22, we predicted there would be a light vote in the all-campus elections. We stated that we hoped we would be wrong, and we were.

The returns show that approximately 25 per cent of the student body voted Wednesday. In 1954, about 17 per cent of the students went to the polls.

The increase in the number of students voting is encouraging. The 2,000 students who went to the polls prove that there is hope for better student government on the SUI campus.

There were very few issues involved in Wednesday's elections. It was difficult to choose between candidates because so few listed campaign platforms and some didn't even bother to list their qualifications. There was almost no campaigning for offices.

Why, then did 2,000 students vote? The apparent answer is that these students were attempting to show to the university and to the student council that they want active, efficient student government.

It is the duty of the student council to recognize this and to take action now, even though the next all-campus elections are 12 months away.

The student council must realize that now the job is in its hands. It is up to them to revitalize student government on the SUI campus and to make the 1956 elections meaningful.

The students want a student council that will be both a persuasive sounding board for complaints, and a constructive group for positive, progressive action.

The students want all-campus elections that are sparked by competition, campaigning and qualified candidates.

If these things are accomplished it would be safe to predict that 4,000 students would vote in next year's elections.

'Old Blue' Is Dead—

A real old-timer died in the Iowa senate Monday. "Old Blue" Laws passed away quickly and quietly, mourned by only four senators and 28 representatives.

Even they, we suspect, would be hard put to give a good reason why "Old Blue" should not pass on to his greater reward. They must have felt that after 100 years, even he should have a rest.

"Old Blue" never took much stock in these new-fangled ideas of dancing and merrymaking and he was dead set against them on Sunday.

He was against men working for profit on Sunday — in fact he said that it was in direct contradiction of his principles. While he was not against killing animals, he believed that men should not hunt on Sunday.

In 1878, he said that because a dog scared a horse, whose rider was on a business errand on Sunday, the dog's owner shouldn't have to pay for injuries the rider received. But the young whipper-snappers on the court disagreed. "Old Blue" was ignored — as he often was.

He didn't agree with a young attorney general when he ruled that baseball games on Sunday were legal in 1918, either. Like most old codgers, he was tolerated and on occasion laughed at by the younger generations. But most of the time they just ignored him.

Just about everybody liked "Old Blue," even though they didn't pay much attention to him. He was just a local character who no one took seriously.

Most of us would say "Old Blue" was just old-fashioned. He was still living in an age that we remember only in the stories of our grandfathers. He just wasn't living in the twentieth century.

He must have been getting mighty tired of being smiled at, but ignored. It's better that he has died since no one paid any attention to him anyway.

Interpreting the News—

Churchill Tried to Promote Four-Power Talks in 1953

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The revelation by Sir Winston Churchill that he sought a two-power conference with former Russian Premier Georgi Malenkov last year is rather amazing to Americans who have learned to expect recriminations from Britain any time the U.S. makes even the slightest unilateral move.

What Churchill hoped for, of course, was that he and Anthony Eden could talk to Malenkov and Molotov and go back to President Dwight Eisenhower with a report which would persuade him to join in four-power talks.

Churchill and President Eisenhower had just conferred at Bermuda. Churchill was all for exploratory conversations with the Russians. President Eisenhower insisted there must first be some basis for hope of concrete results.

Last Words
Under the circumstances, you can imagine President Eisenhower's last words on the subject might have been "OK, you'll make such approaches as you please, of course. But you can't speak for us and don't go dragging us in."

The presumption is that top-level American officials were thereafter generally aware of what Churchill was doing, but were by no means "in" on the tactics.

What happened was that Churchill proposed two-power talks designed to lead to four-power talks at top levels. Russia proposed another foreign ministers conference to discuss a central European security arrangement.

Russia said top-level talks could take place at the same time. Even Churchill couldn't take that.

Geneva Conference
All this began during the Geneva conference on Indochina. The Moscow proposal for a foreign ministers conference obviously was designed to block rearmament of West Germany, which France was to resume work on as soon as the Indochina matter was settled.

Bedell Smith, who headed the American delegation in Geneva after the departure of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, went to confer with Churchill as soon as the conference was over. That was July 22, and the Russian matter was believed uppermost in Smith's mind. On July 24 came Russia's proposal that the foreign ministers confer.

Churchill says that finally decided him to drop his top-level conference ideas. "But oddly enough, his two-power proposal was made July 26.

Still Interested
Now Churchill says he is still interested in top-level talks. He agrees with many French and Germans that negotiations of some kind must be approached immediately after ratification of the Western European union alliance. They think they will then be in a powerful position to bargain.

What seems more likely is that Russia will not be too impressed by a few pieces of paper; that the West will attain a truly powerful bargaining position only when it is backed by German steel. That will be two or three years during which Russia will still be trying to interfere.

For Whites Only?

TO THE EDITOR:

The recent NCAA tournament in Kansas City revealed to the undersigned that human dignity, fair play, integrity and sportsmanship are reserved to the theoretical books of idealists and utopians for whites only.

The aforementioned virtues do not apply to the second class citizens of the United States, namely, the American Negro.

Shocking and flagrant examples of segregation and discrimination were experienced by two Negro members of the Iowa basketball team, four Negroes from the University of San Francisco and one Negro from LaSalle university.

Flagrant Discrimination
The following will substantiate my prior statement and clearly bear out that shocking and flagrant forms of discrimination can be administered in subtle ways and by openly defiant methods:

1. The first night in Kansas City, Mo., Mr. Davis and Mr.

Cain were forced to go to Kansas City, Kan., to eat. They ate with the team Thursday but were forced to journey back to Kansas City, Kan., to attend a movie.

2. The Iowa basketball squad resided at the Hotel Continental which has maintained a policy of non-admittance to Negroes. No doubt Deacon Davis and Carl Cain would have been refused accommodations had they not been with the Iowa basketball squad.

Ate Alone
3. At no time could Deacon Davis or Carl Cain eat as individual members on their own volition in the dining room of the Hotel Continental. They could not have access to dining room facilities other than with the basketball squad.

4. The athletic department of Iowa had to pay taxi fares for Davis and Cain back and forth to Kansas City, Kan., for them to eat and attend movies. The movies in Kansas City, Mo., either refused admittance to Negroes or put them in a "Jim Crow" section.

5. Employees at the Hotel Continental did not like the idea of serving Davis or Cain. Food was literally thrown in their faces in the dining room of the Hotel Continental.

Pushed-Out
6. The Municipal auditorium did not have dressing room facilities nor shower rooms. After the LaSalle game, Davis returned to the Hotel Continental to take a shower and dress. Upon his arrival, Davis started to enter an elevator that contained four white passengers. The operator pushed him out of the door and told him to wait until the white passengers were delivered to their rooms.

7. Davis ordered ice cream for dessert during a team dining hour. The waitress told him she was too busy and he would have to wait. The waiting period for him was exactly 25 minutes before the waitress returned to his table.

8. Bill Russell, all-American center from San Francisco university, was told emphatically by the proprietor of a restaurant to go to the kitchen and eat. Russell asked if he received a cut-rate for eating in the kitchen. (The words that ensued are not in accord with the general tone of this letter). As a result, Bill Russell went to bed a hungry man.

Positive Action
The above suggest that positive action should have been taken at the present. Davis and Cain, as well as the whole Iowa basketball team, were not only representing Iowa but the Big Ten conference as well.

The Missourians showed little respect for the Negro participants in the NCAA finals nor the institutions and conferences represented at the tournament.

The dignity of SUI has been insulted and we are due more than apologetic words. In the first place, our athletic department should have refused to play in Kansas City, Mo., where segregation and discrimination run rampant.

Vile Atmosphere
Likewise, LaSalle and San Francisco should have declined the privilege of playing in such a vile and contaminated atmosphere. Therefore, no tournament would have been played at Kansas City, Mo., or any other place that makes mockery out of the basic principles of democracy.

This is only the beginning of things to come. My advice to Davis and Cain is to refuse to play any future games for an institution that passively acquiesces to such shocking departures of due process and fair play.

Rather, to have an aesthetic appreciation of any art requires you to have some idea of what art is. The appreciation of art, like the appreciation of any beauty, must include a reasonable attitude toward sense appreciation.

Unbridled senses lead to man's sins (or perhaps this age has nearly forgotten the meaning of sin).

He keeps up with 440,000 customers

"I used to think accountants wore green eye shades and sat on high stools," John Merrick will tell you. "That's before I started working in a modern accounting department."

"I trained for about a year and a half in different phases of telephone accounting. Then I was placed in charge of the section which maintains telephone service records. I have more than 60 people in my group with four supervisors reporting to me. Our job is to keep a running record of monthly charges for 140 exchanges in Central Massachusetts. That comes to 440,000 different customers.

"Customers expect their bills on time and they want their charges to be right. So on my job my primary concern is to maintain constant and rapid production and at the same time keep our work accurate and reliable. One of the best ways to do this is to be sure that 'the right person is on the right job at the right time,' an old cliché. But I found it works and it gives me a chance to use my Sociology training since it means handling all sorts of personnel situations."

John finished Bates College in 1952 with a degree in Sociology, and started with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. His work is typical of many assignments in the Bell telephone companies. The opportunities open for college graduates with other operating companies of the Bell Telephone System are many and varied — also with Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. Merle Jensen
Pitcher and Co-Captain

A trio of spring troubles is plaguing Baseball Coach Otto Vogel and his Iowa baseball squad as the Hawks prepare for their six-game Arizona road trip, April 4-9.

Hopes were high early in March as indoor drills progressed well; none of the players was missing work because of exams; and the men moved outside during a warm week for intrasquad practice games.

Then the plagues hit. Spring snows hit — and the ballplayers hurried back inside, their progress retarded. Then came the first series of departmental exams.

Now the Hawks, including 11 lettermen, are less than two weeks from the first of six games against Arizona's Wildcats, and Iowa's line-up is still fluid. Despite Thursday's cold weather, Coach Vogel moved the team outside for a few rounds of batting practice.

However, this week has found one bright spot in the Hawk camp. Basketball players Babe Hawthorne, Sharm Scheuerman and Bill Schoof all turned out with the completion of the lengthy cage season.

Regular Outfielders
Last year Hawthorne and Scheuerman were regular outfielders, and they can be expected to be of valuable help in the outer gardens this season. Schoof, a right-handed pitcher, came along fast in the latter part of the 1954 season to compile a 2-1 win-loss mark.

"Our pitching situation looks fairly good," says Vogel, who is starting his 28th year as Iowa's diamond coach. Besides Schoof, the Hawks can count upon the pitching experience of Merle Jensen, Bill Dugan and Ron Schaefer, plus a pair of promising sophomores — Al Bean and Don Dobrino.

Jensen, the team's only three-year letterman, during this year's early work was hindered by an old shoulder injury. In 1953 as a sophomore, he compiled a 6-2 record and led the Big Ten in pitching at 4-0. Jensen, co-captain for 1955, slipped to 1-6 last year when his support fell off. Schaefer also had a better sophomore record. In 1953 he was 5-3, falling off to 1-2 last season.

7 More Pitchers
Three other pitchers, sophomores Jae Johnson and Duane Schipull and junior Ken Meek will make the Arizona trip. Vogel is also watching sophomores Dick Roder and Tom Leber and juniors Dick Norton and Don Westcott.

As in 1954, hitting now seems to be weak. Power hitters especially are lacking. "Hitting can only be judged accurately outside," emphasizes Vogel. With the exception of 14 innings played outside March 18-19, the squad has been inside the field house most of March. The snow followed by cold weather has kept the team indoors all of this week.

Shortstop Don Waldron, at .297, is the best hitter of the returnees. Scheuerman was close behind with .289.

"If" State
Around the infield, things are pretty much in the "if" state still. Waldron at short seems to be the only man sure of a position, although sophomore Ron Michaelson is hustling for the job. Ted Jensen and Kirby Smith are battling for the first base spot. If Jensen is moved to third, Smith will be on the initial sack.

Mention second and third bases to Coach Vogel, and the "ifs" really begin to fly. Either Ken Kurts, or Ron Capps, co-captain with Jensen, will be at second.

If Kurtz is at second, then the third baseman will be Harold Primrose. If Capps is at second, then Kurtz will be at third.

Must Choose Soon
Confused? Think of Vogel: "Ots," as he is known, must have his lineup formed when the Hawks take on Arizona, which beat Utah, 14-2 and 3-2 earlier this week. He says that whoever plays best in the remaining workouts will get the call to start the opener. Vogel names

Waldron and Capps the best double-play combination.

Don Bock, a sophomore, is coming along fine as a catcher and may take the regular receiving job. Other catching candidates are Jerry Leber, an alternate in 1954, Fred Wilson and Primrose.

Prospects in the outfield are lettermen Ralph Walters, Hawthorne, Scheuerman and Dobrino.

Iowa's 27-game schedule includes 11 home games and 15 Big Ten contests. The home opener is set for April 22 against Purdue followed by a double-header against Illinois the next day.

Logan, Davis Lead Final Cage Figures

Wrap-up of the final statistics of Iowa's 1954-55 basketball season reveals these facts:

Bill Logan, leading scorer, had 413 points in 26 games, average of 15.9. His shot percentage was .400. Rebounds totaled 413.

Other points and averages included: Carl Cain, 358 and 13.3; Bill Seaberg, 340 and 13; Deacon Davis, 271 and 10.4; and Sharm Scheuerman, 213 and 8.2.

Davis had the best shot percentage among the first team members: .447.

Bill Seaberg, voted most valuable player, led in free throw percentage: .763.

Iowa won 19 and lost 7 games for .731. The team averaged 79.7 points per game to opponents' 71.7. Iowa's season's shot percentage was .385. Iowa won the Big Ten title with 11-3, had 17-5 for the regular season and 2-2 for National Collegiate tournament play.

Rain Means No Work, No Play

LaSalle Coach To Texas A&M

NEW YORK (AP)—Ken Loeffler, basketball coach at LaSalle college, announced Thursday night he has resigned to accept a similar position at Texas A&M.

Loeffler said he would sign a one-year contract but declined to say for how much. From another source it was learned the agreement called for around $10,000.

Loeffler has been coach at LaSalle for six years, guiding the Explorers into six post season tournaments. His greatest achievement at LaSalle probably was the development of All-America Tom Gola, who spearheaded LaSalle the last three years.

During his tenure at LaSalle, Loeffler's teams won 144 games, and lost only 28. This season's team had a 26-5 record and was ranked third in the nation.

Davenport Breezes to MVC Track Title

Davenport's Blue Devils streaked to an easy Mississippi Valley conference indoor track meet title Thursday night in the Iowa field house.

In winning the meet, the Blue Devils took six first places and tied for two more in the 12-event contest as they compiled 83 1/3 points. Runner-up Clinton got 37 3/5. City high of Iowa City placed fifth with 23 5/8 points behind Cedar Rapids Franklin and Cedar Rapids Roosevelt. Dubuque, Cedar Rapids Wilson and Cedar Rapids

FINALLY SETTLED
KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association's compromise plan for televising 1955 college football games was given overwhelming approval by the NCAA membership Thursday.

McKinley trailed in that order. One record was broken as Duquesne's Roger Carlson with a toss of 51 feet 11 1/2 inches bettered the meet's shot put record by four inches. Bill Hood of Davenport set the old mark in 1951 with an effort of 51 feet 7 1/2 inches.

U.S. Wins 4 Games' Titles

MEXICO CITY (AP)—United States swimming and diving stars Thursday collected four of the six championships decided in the Pan-American Games.

Lt. Clark Scholes, Olympic champion and record holder formerly of Michigan State, led the assault by winning the men's 100-meter free style in the record-smashing time of 57.7 seconds.

Mrs. Pat McCormick of Los Angeles, another Olympic titleholder, added the women's high-board diving title to the 3-meter crown she had taken previously.

Mary Lou Elsenius of Berkeley, Calif., won the women's 200-meter breaststroke. And the U.S. scored its fourth triumph in the women's 400-meter free-style relay.

A U.S. sweep of the day's events was prevented by Joaquin Capilla, Mexico's brilliant diver who won the platform title, and Lenore Fisher of Canada who won the women's 100-meter backstroke.

Switch To Find Jones In 2-Mile Run Tonight

Charles (Deacon) Jones, in a late change of plans, will run the two-mile tonight in the Cleveland, O., Knights of Columbus track meet.

Previously Jones, who as a freshman will run unattached, was slated to run the mile at the Cleveland meet, but Track Coach Francis Metzger announced the switch before the Hawk trackmen departed Thursday for the two meets this weekend. Saturday Iowa cindersmen will participate in the Chicago Daily News meet.

At Cleveland tonight Murray Keatinge will enter the 1000-yard run, and Caesar Smith will run the 600-yard race. Like Jones, Smith, as a freshman, will run unattached. In both meets no team points will be kept, but varsity men may represent their school.

Saturday in the Chicago meet, Les Stevens will compete in the high hurdles, while Jones will run in the Bankers' mile. In the latter event Wes Santee, ex-

Kansas star miler, Art Delzel, also of Kansas, Bill Squires of Notre Dame and Phil Coleman of the Chicago track club are expected to compete.

Iowa will also send a mile relay team against Illinois and Minnesota at Chicago. Running for Iowa will be Jack Mathews, Tom Ecker, Ira Dunsworth and either Jim Wilson, Stevens or Keatinge. Iowa has won a matched relay race in this meet in 1939, 1946, 1950, 1953 and 1954.

This weekend's meets complete Iowa's indoor season. The Hawk trackmen next turn their interests to the outdoor season with the first meet — a dual meet against Missouri — Apr. 16 at Columbia, Mo.

'Administrator Against Devil; Deep Blue Sea': School Man

CHICAGO (AP)—A Wisconsin school official said Thursday a school administrator is often "between the devil and the deep blue sea" when he tries to moderate interest in athletics.

Charles E. Wetmore, superintendent of schools in Sun Prairie, Wis., spoke before the annual convention of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The school official, Wetmore said, "recognizes that athletic activities in some cases should be curtailed in the best interests of education. Curtailment, however, meets with violent disapproval, not only from the student body but from the lay people in the community."

Disciplinary measures against a student with poor grades if he is a star athlete indeed takes "intestinal fortitude," said Wetmore.

And he said, "90 per cent of the people seem to prefer building gymnasiums to building classrooms."

Wetmore also maintained "it is becoming increasingly difficult to teach the fundamentals of good sportsmanship to students.

"During a torrid season," he added, "the problem of maintaining good will between two towns close together has become tougher as the years go on."

Commager To Speak Here Saturday

Probe Army Building Jobs

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—The U.S. army disclosed Thursday night that a big part of America's multimillion-dollar construction program in West Germany is under investigation.

An army announcement said six charges already have been placed against a U.S. civilian engineer employed by the army. Several other persons were believed involved.

The engineer was identified by the army as Alvin O. Pottorff Jr., 40, native of Sherman, Tex. The army charged Pottorff "was a secret partner in the engineering firm of 'Constructa' and used his army position to award building contracts to his firm and other 'favored' firms."

The army did not say how much money was involved in the alleged irregularities.

Rebikoff has invented and patented many new instruments to aid him in his underwater adventures. He patented the first electronic flash lamp in Europe. In 1949 he manufactured the electron flash torpedo.

Tickets are now on sale at Wilson's Sporting Goods store. They may also be obtained by writing to the SUI Mountaineers.

Other topics discussed at the 33rd annual Conference of Teachers of History and Social Studies to be held today and Saturday in Old Capitol will be whether high school students should be taught more or less world history, problems of editing the papers of Thomas Jefferson, and changes in British society and civil service.

The first speaker at the conference will be H. L. Beales, professor of the University of London School of Economics. Today at 2 p.m. he will deliver a lecture in the senate chamber on "Civil Service Reform, 1953-1955; A Centenary Retrospect."

Also speaking this afternoon will be Charles L. Mowat, professor at the University of Chicago, on "The Transformation of British Society Since 1900."

Julian P. Boyd, professor of American history at Princeton university will speak on "A Modest Plea to the Historian in Behalf of the Historical Editor," this evening in the Shambaugh lecture room of the SUI library.

Boyd is now editing "The Papers of Thomas Jefferson," a 50-volume work, of which 12 volumes have been published.

Commager, author of many books stressing social and intellectual history of America will close the conference following his talk, with a panel of Iowa's secondary and college history instructors. They will discuss the selection and omission of material in high school history courses.

Reds Menace U.S. Ship

HONG KONG (AP)—A U.S. navy source in Hong Kong said Thursday night that the U.S. navy landing ship League Island was menaced early Wednesday by two armed ocean-going Chinese junks.

They gave this account: The League Island was 50 miles at sea en route to Hong Kong when the junks approached. She sent a signal to a navy tanker which drew up into the area. As the tanker neared, the junks fled. No shots were fired.

The landing ship reportedly carried considerable electronic and other strategic equipment highly prized in Communist China. It left Hong Kong late Wednesday for an unnamed destination.

Miss Mullin taught in the Iowa City schools from 1926 to 1952, when she retired.

Livingston Warns Against Derangement of Government

Increasing derangement and enfeeblement of our government could cause the decline of western democracy, and eventually the fall of the western world, warned Prof. Walter R. Livingston, department of history, in commenting on Walter Lippman's recent book, "The Public Philosophy," Thursday evening. Livingston spoke to a group of about 80 persons in the Shambaugh lecture room. The talk was the first of a non-partisan series planned by the SUI Young Democrats.

Lack of harmony and responsibility in government, is evidenced by congress' failure to control its committees, to make agencies and bureaus responsible for the actions for which they were provided, and by the "leak" of the Yalta papers, Livingston said.

Democracy has not failed mankind, but men have refused to implement that democracy, Livingston said. The failure critics contemplate is not the failure of the democratic system, but the failure of men to implement that democracy, he said.

"We have failed to implement fully the power of the purse—the power over taxation and appropriations which is vested in congress, and a means of obtaining responsible government."

Livingston compared the present form of government to a defective automobile. A car with a bad carburetor is not junked, but adjusted, and the defective machinery in government can also be adjusted, he said.

Responsibility is not a form, but a characteristic of good government, Livingston said. "There is no good reason," he said, "why it should not become part of the United States system."

Professor Hits One Party Legislature

Prof. Charles W. Davidson of the SUI college of law cited the one party system and rural dominance as the chief reasons for criticism of the Iowa legislature when he spoke to the Iowa City Rotary club Thursday noon.

Davidson first criticized the lack of a strong second party in Iowa, saying that the minority group feels compelled to "obstructionist tactics" to block some legislation backed by the Republicans.

Secondly, Davidson quoted statistics showing the large number of farmers in the state legislature. He contrasted the large number of farmers with the relatively small number of lawyer legislators, and said that legislation "belongs to that dominant group, the farmers."

He called for reorganization of Iowa's school districts, saying that there are more school board members than there are teachers. He added that the large number of school districts are placing an unnecessary load on state finances.

His concluding criticism was against the element of secrecy in legislation. He said that it has caused much of the current press criticism. Also it prevents the voters from learning how their representatives are voting in the legislature.

Elect Moeller Head of Rotary

Leslie G. Moeller
New Rotary President

Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the SUI school of journalism, was elected president of the Iowa City Rotary club, Thursday. He succeeds John Piper, 118 1/2 S. Dubuque st. Moeller will take office on July 1.

Officers elected also include Charles W. Gay, 320 Melrose ave., vice-president, and George Stevens, assistant director of the Iowa Memorial Union, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Two new Rotary directors were named. They are Prof. Robert F. Ray, director of the SUI Institute of Public Affairs and Dr. Alton E. Braley, head of the SUI Ophthalmology department.

Ex-Student Draws 20-Year Jail Term

John W. Oden, 26, former SUI dental student from Exline, Thursday was sentenced to up to 20 years in the Anamosa men's reformatory on a charge of assault to commit rape.

Oden pleaded guilty before Johnson County District Judge James P. Gaffney on a county attorney's information filed early this year.

A Nov. 24, 1954 grand jury indictment charging Oden with incest with his daughter was dismissed. The November charge was brought while he was still a student.

Oden's attorney entered a plea for leniency before sentence was passed. Former County Attorney William L. Meardon served as special prosecutor after County Attorney William M. Tucker disqualified both himself and Assistant County Attorney Charles A. Barker because Oden had earlier asked them for legal advice.

Hoegh Signs Private Club Liquor Bill

DES MOINES (AP)—Gov. Leo Hoegh Thursday signed a bill permitting members of private clubs to keep liquor at the club even though beer is sold there and hailed the measure as an aid to law enforcement.

Opponents of the measure, passed by the senate 38-12 and by the house 77-19, had assailed it as an encouragement to illegal "key clubs."

Hoegh said he regarded the legislation as "an important step forward insofar as enforcement of our liquor laws is concerned" and added:

"This measure in no way represents a loosening of the Iowa liquor laws. It is not an opening wedge or a new concept in liquor legislation. It specifically prohibits the selling of any liquor for beverage purposes."

Hoegh said the measure had been "carelessly and inaccurately" labeled by some as a "key club bill."

"On the contrary, it is an anti-key club bill," he said, "for with this legislation we put into carefully and clearly defined statute the law under which we have lived for some 20 years or more."

"This measure will protect the legitimate organization just as it will discourage the illegal one. It will promote uniform and consistent law enforcement and help to apprehend more easily the law violator. It is good legislation."

The bill, though it would permit a club member to keep his own liquor on the club premises where beer is sold, states that it shall not be construed as permitting liquor to be sold by the drink.

The measure also would permit liquor to be kept in railway club, dining and sleeping cars even though beer is sold on the train, and in the rooms of hotels except those rooms used primarily for serving beer or food.

Return Youth Held Here Since Monday

A 15-year-old youth who has been held in county jail since Monday night on investigation of car theft was taken to Des Moines by juvenile authorities Thursday afternoon.

The youth was apprehended driving a stolen 1947 auto Monday night when he attempted to trade a .22 caliber rifle for gasoline at a Coralville service station.

In his original statement, the youth said that he took the car at a town 50 or 60 miles east of Council Bluffs and that he was from Chicago. Investigation by police here later proved that the car was stolen in Des Moines and that the youth was a ward of the Des Moines juvenile court.

Charge Man As Embezzler

Edgar E. Griffith, 711 E. Burlington st., former Hawkeye book store manager, Wednesday waived to the grand jury in police court on a charge of embezzling $50 from the Missouri Store Co., Inc., Nov. 26, 1954.

County Attorney William Tucker said that the total amount embezzled might be over $1,000. The present charge is just a specific incident, he said.

Griffith is being held in the county jail in lieu of $1,000 bond set by Judge Roger H. Ivie. Police said Griffith managed the Hawkeye book store from April, 1953, until January, 1955.

The preliminary information charges Griffith with "receiving or collecting money belonging to another, Missouri Store Co., Inc., and embezzling or fraudulently converting such money in the amount of $50 to his use without the consent of said company, his employer, Griffith being an agent or employee of said company."

'Life' Cites Short Stories Edited Here

"Prize Stories 1955," co-edited by two SUI English professors, has been cited by the international issue of Life magazine as "a fair reflection of the state of affairs" in American short stories.

Prof. Paul Engle, who edited the anthology with Prof. Hansford Martin, said, "I am pleased that Life chose it as an example of modern short stories."

The article entitled "A Quiet Literary War" is in the March 21 issue of Life. It discusses mood versus plot in modern short stories.

Engle also helped edit the 1954 edition of "Best Stories 1954." This was the first time the book, published by Doubleday Inc., was edited from a university, Engle said.

SUI graduate students Jean Staffor, Flannery O'Connor, Wallace Stegner and R. V. Cassill wrote stories that appeared in the 1955 edition.
