Two Gunmen Rob Iowa City Grocer Of $350

Belgian Students Protest Cut in School Subsidies

(AP Wirephoto)

SIGN-WAVING Belgian Catholic students demonstrate in Heverlee against the government's proposed cut in Catholic school subsidies. More than 9,000 policemen were moved into Brussels early this morning to enforce a government ban on all gatherings of more than five people. Group movements into Brussels have been prohibited. About 334,000 of Belgium's 1,646,000 school children attend Catholic schools. Catholic parents kept their children out of school Thursday in a one-day protest strike against the subsidy cut.

Scoop Money, Flee From John's Grocery

Two armed bandits took about $350 in a hold-up at John's Market Street Grocery, 401 E. Market st., late Friday night. John Alberhasky, owner, said the men talked with him for about 20 minutes while waiting for customers and Mrs. Alberhasky to leave the store.

Then, Alberhasky said, both gunmen pulled revolvers and demanded the money from the store's cash register.

Iowa City police said the men's description fitted those of two men who have been pulling hold-ups recently in Iowa. The men reportedly use a car with Georgia license plates.

Tells of Robbery

This was Alberhasky's story: The men entered the store at about 9:15 p.m. One bought a package of gum. Both talked with Alberhasky about a boxing match on television. When Alberhasky's wife left the store, both gunmen pulled guns.

One held a Colt-type revolver to Alberhasky's stomach and demanded the money from the cash register.

One bandit went behind the counter, but couldn't open the cash register. Alberhasky walked from the meat counter and opened the register drawer, setting off an alarm with his finger at the same time.

Caught in Act

One bandit saw Alberhasky press the buzzer and pushed his gun closer, but took it away when Alberhasky told him he hadn't set off an alarm.

Alberhasky's brother Don, who was watching television in an apartment behind the store, walked to the front of the store and watched while the bandits scooped the bills and half-dollar pieces into a paper sack. They paid little attention to Don.

One woman customer entered the store and watched dumbfoundedly as the bandits finished and escaped. Neither man made threats or harmed Alberhasky.

Called Police

Alberhasky called the police at 9:39 p.m.

Both men, Alberhasky said, were about 25. He said one was about 5-10 and thin built. The other, he said, was about 5-4 and stocky. The stocky man, he said, shivered noticeably while talking with Alberhasky before the hold-up.

Alberhasky, who keeps his store open until 11 p.m., was held up in 1950, when bandits took about $150.

Friday night's hold-up was partly covered by insurance, he said.

Customers in Bernie's Fox Head tavern, across the street from the grocery, said the two men were drinking there before the hold-up.

Billiard Room Open Monday

Six SUI queens will aim for the side pockets to officially open the billiard room in the new addition to the Iowa Memorial union Monday morning. The billiard room will be the second recreational area to be opened in the new addition.

Sixteen bowling lanes became available for coeducational, on-campus recreation last month. Other facilities of the 167-by-205-foot, two-story addition will be formally opened during the week of April 24-30.

The first users of the 10 billiard tables will be Miss SUI Maribeth (Jessie) James, N4, Belle Plaine; Dolphin Queen Judy McLaren, N1, Des Moines; Inter-Fraternally Queen Sue McBride, A4, Waterloo; Honorary Cadet Colonel Jeanne Hotz, N4, Fort Dodge; Hillcrest Queen Joan Tyler, A2, Ottumwa and Mecca Queen Carolyn Slager, A2, Iowa City.

Griffith Pleads Guilty To Embezzling $910

Edgar E. Griffith, 34, 711 E. Burlington st., Friday pleaded guilty to embezzling $910 while manager of the Hawkeye book store, 30 S. Clinton st., between Feb. 3, 1954, and Feb. 11, 1955. Johnson county district court Judge James P. Gaffney suspended sentence until Sept. 19 after several businessmen here called upon him and recommended leniency. Gaffney said the manager of another book store here said he would offer Griffith, who is free on $1,000 bond, a job.

Hancher Greet Indian Ambassador

G. L. MEHTA, left, Indian ambassador to the United States, is greeted by SUI President Virgil M. Hancher at a dinner he'd Friday night in the Iowa Memorial Union. Mrs. Mehta watches. Mehta will talk to SUI Indian students at 9:30 a.m. today in the Engineering building. He is making a tour of American colleges.

House Group In Clash With Benson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and the house appropriations committee belabored each other with verbal hoe handles Friday.

The committee, in passing on Benson's budget requests, said some of his policies were negligent, irresponsible and political. It accused him of foot-dragging in offering surplus stocks to foreign buyers and said administration production control programs were forcing farmers off the land.

In reply, Benson said it is time to "stop manipulating the farm program to promote partisan political purposes." He called the committee's report "political propaganda."

The report, recommending $878,625,391 in cash and $388 million in lending authority for the agriculture department's fiscal year starting July 1, was drafted by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Jamie Whitten (D-Miss.), and composed of four Democrats and three Republicans.

In overhauling Benson's budget requests, the subcommittee restored some items which he had eliminated, added to others, and cut some. It wound up with a net reduction of $6,424,524.

Senate OK's Pay Hike For Federal Employees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate overrode President Eisenhower's wishes Friday and voted to give 1.5 million government workers a 10 per cent raise in pay.

The legislation now goes to the house, where administration leaders will reform their ranks to give it possibly tougher opposition.

West Accuses Russia Of Secrecy Violation

LONDON (AP)—The Western powers accused the Soviet Union Friday night of gross violation of the secrecy rules of the five-power London conference on disarmament.

They pledged, however, to push ahead with the negotiations "to cast aside the horrible threat

To Probe Progress Of A-Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—A senate-house Atomic Energy subcommittee plans to ask air force leaders why greater progress hasn't been made in developing atomic planes.

The question will be posed to Secretary Harold Talbot and top air force brass at a hearing next Wednesday.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), a subcommittee member, said Friday he feels part of the difficulty "may lie in the fact that the air force hasn't had any Admiral Rickover."

He credited Rear Adm. Hyman George Rickover, who supervised the building of the atomic submarine Nautilus, with pushing it to a successful conclusion much earlier than otherwise would have occurred. Gore said a trip made by committee members on the sub had sparked the inquiry into plane developments.

The Tennessee senator said much weight is involved in shielding the atomic power plant, to prevent radiation injury.

If that problem can be licked, he said it might be possible to develop perfectly quiet planes with a source of power of "almost limitless duration."

Justice Department Gets Peress Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators voted Friday to close their books now on the Irving Peress case and let the justice department determine whether anybody should be prosecuted for perjury.

The senate investigations subcommittee also recommended that the justice department "further pursue" the question whether Peress violated the law.

Chairman John McClellan (D-Ark) said the subcommittee did leave the door open for possible reopening of the Peress hearings.

'Universe' Entry

FIRST ENTRANT in the 1955 Miss Universe beauty competition is 19-year-old Inga Hoffman, "Miss Uruguay," who won her nation's finals recently in Montevideo. The annual event is scheduled for July 14-24 in Long Beach, Calif.

of H-bomb warfare.

The Western powers charged that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko leaked to the Soviet news agency a plan presented by him to the conference and gave out a "Downright misrepresentation" of the Western position.

The British foreign office in a statement charged Gromyko with a "gross violation" of secrecy rules agreed upon at the start of the conference a month ago.

The state department in Washington said the U.S., Britain and France agreed Russia was guilty of a "shocking breach of faith."

Gromyko, chief Russian delegate, left London Thursday for Moscow, via Stockholm, after giving an interview on the talks to the Soviet Tass agency. That interview touched off the Western denunciation.

Gromyko detailed a Russian plan calling for step-by-step reduction of conventional weapons, like tanks and artillery, and leading to eventual abolition of nuclear arms.

Date Set for Red Editors

MOSCOW (AP)—Eleven Russian student editors will leave here April 10 for a visit to the United States, the U.S. embassy said Friday.

(The 11 have been invited to Iowa City by the SUI Student Council to observe Iowa journalistic practices.)

(Tom Choules, SUI Student Council president, sent letters to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Attorney General Herbert Brownell saying that the 11 Soviets were welcome to come to SUI.)

The editors have drawn more invitations than they can fill in their 30-day stay.

The Institute of International Education, which the state department assigned to work out an itinerary for the group, has scheduled stops at institutions in New York, Washington, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Mich., Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Tuskegee, Ala.

Other stops may be added, an institute spokesman said.

The editors waited nearly a year for the visas before they were granted by the state department. The department said it had withheld the visas because the group had no specific places to visit.

Telescope May Detect New Stars

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A superhuman eye—the radio telescope—seeing things in outer space the human eye and old-fashioned telescope could never see, will be trained by Harvard university upon what may be the birthplace of new stars.

The announcement of Harvard's forthcoming 60-foot radio telescope was made by Dean McGeorge Bundy on the fourth birthday of the completely new science of radio astronomy. Radio astronomy was born at Harvard four years ago.

Two Harvard physicists, Harold I. Ewen and Edward M. Purcell, using electronic equipment designed and built by themselves, picked up the first radio signals from the incredible remoteness of the Milky Way.

Our eyes can see only the little five octaves of wavelengths from red to violet. Cameras can photograph just a little farther—into infrared rays and upward into ultraviolet. But these vibrations, or wavelengths extend far beyond this little range—in both directions. The radio telescope

Stresses Importance Of Historical Editing

American universities Friday night were urged to do more in the field of promoting critical historical editing by Prof. Julian P. Boyd, of the Princeton university history department.

Boyd spoke at the 8 p.m. session of the 33d annual Conference of Teachers of History and Social Studies in Shambaugh lecture room of the SUI library. He outlined current and past techniques of historical editing in a talk entitled, "A Modest Plea to the Historian in Behalf of the Historical Editor." He also explained the position of the historical editor alongside the historian, biographer and scholar.

Cites Past Influences

Boyd said that much early American history was written under the influences of politics, monetary profits and commercial interests.

"We now have a different concept," he said. The current historical editor, he said, is asking more questions, probing under old deletions, comparing texts and making as complete an estimate as possible.

Boyd urged the local employment of historical editing mainly for its valuable training in techniques. He said that critical historical editing may take the form of small jobs like editing the papers of local congressmen.

Edits Jefferson Papers

Boyd is now editing "The Papers of Thomas Jefferson," a 50-volume work of which some 12 volumes have been published. In the afternoon session Prof. Charles L. Mowat, a University of Chicago historian, said British society is becoming more like American society.

Speaking on the subject of "The Transformation of British Society Since 1900," Mowat said that the disappearance of class barriers, better access to higher education, the improved status of the working man and the use of fewer domestic servants show that the 1955 pattern of British life is much different from that before World War II.

"British society may become even more American than American society in at least one respect—in the shorter span between English extremes of wealth and poverty," he stated.

More Equitable Income

"The maximum income after taxes to any individual in Great Britain is about 6,000 pounds ($18,000)," Mowat said, "and there are only 60 such persons in the country, as compared with 6,500 in 1939."

"Taking taxes and cost of living into account, the wage-earner in Great Britain is now some 20 per cent better off than he was in 1939. Almost all new houses built since the war have been public housing for rental to working-class families.

"On the other hand," Mowat said, "many members of the British aristocracy have been forced to sell their large houses, and many of these have been converted into hotels and schools."

Better Education

Increasing educational opportunities are shown, Mowat said, by a 1952 survey in Hertfordshire, near London.

Grammar schools, the English college preparatory schools, had

HENRY STEELE COMMAGER, left, historian and author, talks with Prof. Ralph Ellsworth, head of the SUI library, upon his arrival here Friday. Commager will talk to the 33d annual conference of the teachers of history and social studies on "Against This Torrent: Pressures on Education."

30 'Gunmen' Harass School Bus Driver

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP)—Lawrence B. Esposito drives the 2:45 p.m. bus out of Roger Ludlow high school. He was a marked man. Gunmen lurked behind him.

Any second he'd get it in the back of the head. It was nerve wracking. But school buses must get through.

He'd gotten it before. He knew what it was like. It sends a cold chill down your spine. You stiffen in your seat. Then you get hot all over.

When he got it before, he stopped the bus and lectured those kids with the water pistols. Twice, three times he got it. Twice, three times he lectured. He thought:

"I'll frisk 'em today."

Esposito found 30 water pistols among 30 pupils. He confiscated them. Peace again.

Those lectures may have worked. . . . splash—in the back of the head. The chill down his spine. Splash in the neck. Splash in the face. Then hot all over.

Esposito decided on action.

He swung the bus around and headed for police headquarters. He wanted protection. They gave him two cops.

frisked the kids again. No water pistols. What, said Esposito, what do you mean no water pistols?

Look again. Look in the books. In the books?

One of the cops looked. His eyes bulged. Water pistols! Lying loaded in recesses cut in the pages of the books, concealed water pistols.

The cops got six of them. Confiscated them.

The suspects were lined up and warned that more of this could lead to trouble. A report was sent to the high school.

Esposito drove the pupils home with a dry smile on his face.

$20 Tax Cut Finally Killed by Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic plan to cut income taxes $20 a person was killed Friday in a major victory for the Eisenhower administration.

House Democrats backing the proposal tossed in the towel in a senate-house conference committee. The upshot was that the committee approved a senate bill merely continuing present corporate income and excise tax rates for one more year.

A Public Servant Dies—

The nation lost one of its most outstanding citizens Thursday with the death of John W. Davis. Davis, one of the leading attorneys in the country, achieved his greatest fame as a public servant.

His political career started in 1910 when he was elected to congress from West Virginia, and reached its peak when he won the Democratic nomination for president in 1924.

Although he lost the 1924 election to Calvin Coolidge, Davis remained in politics. In 1932 he backed Franklin D. Roosevelt for the Democratic nomination.

In the last 20 years of his life, Davis' political philosophy turned more to the Republican party. He attacked the reelection of Roosevelt in 1936 and backed Wendell Willkie in 1940 and Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952.

Davis' law practice ranged from defending Eugene V. Debs, prominent Socialist leader, to arguing for the steel companies in the steel seizure case of 1952.

As solicitor general of the United States under President Woodrow Wilson, Davis represented the government in anti-trust suits against the United States Steel corporation, and International Harvester.

As another public service, Davis served on the American delegation which met with the Germans to reach an agreement on the treatment and exchange of war prisoners in 1918.

The nation suffered a great loss when pneumonia claimed the life of John W. Davis.

Interpreting the News—

Strange Anomaly in India

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

One of the strange economic anomalies of the moment is the effort of India to obtain foreign investments in her private enterprises while pushing ahead with her own development along socialistic lines.

Just the other day India launched a development company to help finance new industries and expand old ones. It had a 50 million dollar revolving or "breeder" fund in mind, but so far has raised only 36 1/2 million, including a 10 million loan from the World Bank and 15 million from the Indian government. Of the balance, only slightly more than one million came from private American sources.

Stable Government

India's energetic Ambassador Mehta, a business man himself, has been preaching to American investors for more than two years the truth that India has a stable government, that its financial affairs are in good shape, and that there is a vast field for profitable development. But they just don't come across.

One reason, of course, has been a high demand for new capital in this country. But there is fear and uncertainty about India, too, just as there is about so many of the countries where the United States government would like to see development undertaken by American capital.

Welfare State

In the first place, India began and continues its independent existence with the definite goal of becoming a welfare state. It had a natural start toward a socialistic structure because in the old days little initiative was taken by private enterprise, and much of the country's development had to be undertaken by the government.

There is also an expropriation program touching both land ownership and business, the latter applying primarily in cases where mismanagement endangers stockholders, employment and the general economy.

Band Begins Tour Monday

The SUI concert band will leave Iowa City on its annual spring tour Monday at 8 a.m.

Originally founded in 1881, the band has been making a spring tour of Iowa since 1939, its present director, Frederick C. Ebbs, said Friday. Ebbs took over the directorship of SUI bands in the fall of 1954 after the retirement of Charles B. Righter, who had conducted SUI bands since 1937.

Performances are scheduled in 12 Iowa cities on the 5-day spring tour. Towns in which the band will appear include Washington, Fairfield, Burlington, Ft. Madison, Centerville, Chariton, Winterset, Creston, Eagle Grove, Garner, Mason City, and Charles City.

John Whitlock, assistant SUI band director, and Mrs. Jean McCannless, band secretary, will accompany the band on its tour.

Ten Years Ago Today

The seventh army hurdled the Rhine, joining six other allied armies in the drive on Berlin.

Brownell Warns of Red Infiltration

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here are excerpts from an address "Meeting the Communist Menace" by Herbert Brownell Jr., attorney general of the United States, to the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce last Monday.)

We have made a great deal of progress in the past year against Communist infiltration. But it is clear from intelligence information provided to me by the FBI that we cannot lower our guard. We cannot relax our vigilance. The dangers — even many of the same problems — still exist, because of the very nature of the communist conspiracy.

It is a worldwide plot, directed by scheming, ruthless men who would bend the whole world to their selfish will. They cannot rest, they cannot succeed, until they have enslaved all the world.

The Communist party, U.S.A., is like an iceberg. Only a small part can be seen, but the bulk is beneath the surface. The exposed part of the Communist conspiracy in this country is shrinking but there continues to be much activity beneath the surface.

Secret Meeting

The members of the Communist party resort to secret meeting places, secret schools, even secret symbols or numbers in place of names. They use an Aesopian language in describing their aims and functions, an admittedly protective form of expression which most of us consider just plain double-talk.

The Communist party line has not varied much in the past year. The Communists still use any available issue or incident to vilify the United States and glorify the Soviet Union.

They oppose re-arming West Germany; they advocate admission of Red China to the United Nations. At home, they seek repeal of the Smith act, the Internal Security act of 1950, and the Communist Control act of 1954. They advocate merger of Communist-dominated unions with others affiliated with the CIO or AFL.

Penetrate Industries

Stress is laid on infiltrating non-Communist groups to advance Communist objectives, on penetrating basic industries, on recruiting members, particularly Negroes, youths and industrial workers. They have attempted to step up Red propaganda.

Last fall, for example, they distributed more than half a million copies of a pamphlet carrying the party program. That pamphlet was entitled instrumentally enough, "The American Way to Jobs, Peace and Democracy."

But they are having their troubles, too. They are not having much luck recruiting, or even maintaining their membership. We know their fund-raising drives are falling short. They are hard-pressed to keep an active leadership intact and functioning in the face of government actions.

Offset FBI

They have set up their own internal security apparatus to offset infiltration by the FBI. That apparatus has not only been ineffectual, it has spread fear and distrust within Communist ranks, and created disorder in party communications.

The party's schooling program is dwindling. Its largest school, the Jefferson school of social science in New York, has been disrupted by the Subversive Activities Control board hearings. These have resulted in a recommendation that the school be required to register as a Communist front.

The SACB hearing examiner held that the school was established by Communists to teach both Communist ideas and work. The school trustees have been trusted party members. The Communist organization supplied funds to run the school and provided quotas of students. Instruction ranged from Marxist theory to such more practical subjects as recruiting party members.

Hamper Recruiting

Similarly, proceedings brought before the board of the department of justice against the Labor Youth league have hampered Communist efforts to recruit members and spread hate propaganda among our youth. After other lengthy hearings, the board has ordered the Labor Youth league to register with the attorney general as a Communist front; so the public may know its officers, its financial support and the objects to which its resources are devoted.

Herbert Brownell Jr.
'We Cannot Relax'

Meanwhile, we have continued to strike at the Communist conspirators with a number of legal weapons. Another 250 subversive aliens have been deported or ordered deported since last April 9. Six persons have been convicted of lying to the government about their Communist affiliations and another six indicted for the same offense. Four persons were convicted of harboring fugitive Communist party leader Robert Thompson who was himself jailed with an extra penalty for jumping bond.

New Laws

Two new laws are added deterrents to those who would play the Communists' game. The first of these is the so-called immunity statute. One case under it already is before the courts. It involves William Ullman, a man identified in sworn testimony before a congressional committee as a member of a World War II Communist spy ring. Ullman was called before a grand jury and refused to testify.

Under the new law, a federal judge was asked to grant him immunity from self-incrimination and order him to testify. The judge did so but Ullman persisted in his refusal. The judge sentenced him to six months in jail for contempt of court. Ullman has served notice of appeal.

The second tool comes in the Communist Control act of 1954. It utilizes machinery of the Subversive Activities Control board to determine if Communists have subverted a legitimate business or labor organization and to enable members to free themselves from such domination.

Union Moves

Meanwhile, some of the unions which might be involved have made moves to do one or more of three things:

1. Take action to cleanse themselves of Communist domination, which is exactly what congress wants them to do.

2. Attempt to conceal such domination.

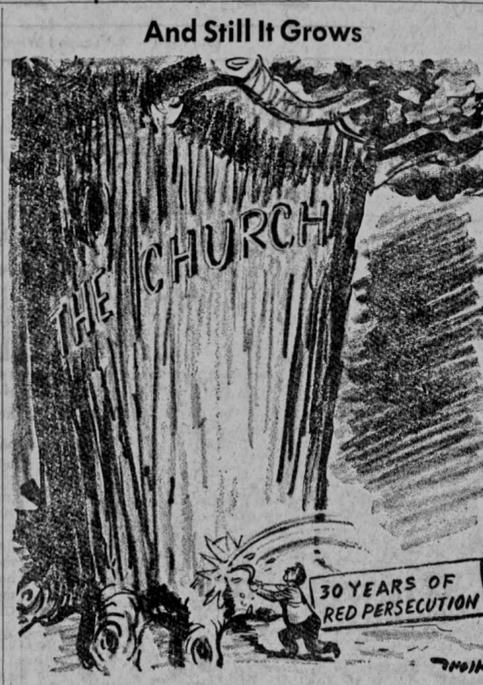

3. Seek affiliation with other unions which are members of the AFL or CIO and thus gain exemption from the act. This, recall, is one of the new facets of the Communist line and responsible leaders of the major unions have warned their member unions to look very cautiously at such affiliation proposals and to insist on certain safeguards to insure that they will not be allowing themselves to be infiltrated through affiliation.

The Communists have recently made a major shift in the emphasis they place on their various programs. It is becoming increasingly clear that the current violent attack against government witnesses and against the FBI's confidential sources of information has many of its roots in a Communist effort to stem the successful campaign against subversion.

The Communist party has sought for years to uncover, to smear, to destroy the informant system of the FBI. Communists call the FBI "The enemy." The party's "Manual of Organization" published in 1935 discussed how to "safeguard the party organization against stool pigeons" and "how to expose stool pigeons." Those "stool pigeons" included anybody who worked for the FBI, who provided information to the FBI or who testified in court against the Communist party. Other articles in Communist publications have repeated this attack year after year.

While the fight against communism goes on, the tactics of diabolical conspirators change. But the important thing is that we are making progress in our fight against them.

Is Art Vulgar?

TO THE EDITOR:
As a steady reader of the "Letter-to-the-Editor" column, I saw to my disgust a letter protesting your running on March 23 a picture of "vulgar nudism" by the artists of SUI.

I believe that very few Daily Iowan readers will have "passions aroused" by the reproduction of this type of art in the pages of the Iowan.

As far as art goes, regardless of the quality of the paintings themselves, they are a part of our American culture. Therefore, they should be presented to the public.

Those who object to publication of this type of art in a daily paper express ideas similar to those voiced by ministers in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries.

Ohio State Holds Lead In NCAA Swim Finals

By JERRY LISKA

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Two new meet marks were established, three individual champions retained titles and defending titlist Ohio State, surged ahead in points Friday night as the NCAA swimming meet reached the halfway mark.

Ohio State, bagging 17 points in the one-meter diving, goes into tonight's closing seven-event program at Miami university pool with 43 points.

Probably the evening's best performance was the 2:04.2 triumph by defending champion Jack Wardrop of Michigan in the 220-yard free style which broke Wardrop's own 1954 meet mark of 2:05.0.

The other new meet record was an automatic as North Carolina State's Bob Mattson swam the new 200 orthodox breast-stroke in 2:26.

Hawkins Wins Butterfly
Last year's winner, Dave Hawkins of Harvard, won in 2:15.2, swimming the butterfly stroke. Hawkins arrived too late for Friday's orthodox breast-stroke trials, but will swim in the 200 breaststroke today.

Other successful defending champions were Ohio State's Yoshi Oyakawa, who won the 200 backstroke in 2:07.7 and Ohio State's one-meter diving star, Fletcher Gleders.

Oyakawa became the first man in the meet's history to win the same event four straight years.

Hawks in 5th
Iowa State's 400-yard free style relay team placed third behind winning Yale and Michigan.

The Iowa Hawkeyes picked up nine points for fifth place at the halfway mark in the meet. Ohio State led with 43, followed by Michigan 28, Yale 27 and Harvard 10.

Iowa State was tied with Oklahoma for sixth place with eight points.

Time Pennington 1st, But Judges Award Him 3d on Decision

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Iowa picked up a second and third place Friday night in the finals of the national collegiate swimming championships.

The Hawkeyes' Lincoln Hurring finished second in the 200-yard backstroke and Dick Pennington was judged third in the 50-yard free style although he had the fastest time.

Pennington was timed in 22.7 seconds but the place judges gave him third behind Kerry Donovan and Rex Aubrey, both of Yale. Donovan's winning time was 22.8 seconds.

Both timers and judges are used for the events and the judges have the final decision in case of a discrepancy.

Deacon Jones Wins 2-Mile in 9:14.4

CLEVELAND (AP)—Charlie (Deacon) Jones of Iowa captured the two-mile run in 9:14.4, beating Henry Kennedy of Michigan State and Geert Keilstrup of Denmark in the Knights of Columbus meet here Friday night.

Iowa's Caesar Smith was third in the 600-yard run won by Joe Gaffney of Philadelphia in 1:29.

Kansas Wes Santee thrilled the crowd by setting a new meet mile record of 4 minutes, 4.6 seconds—just a second more than the world indoor mark.

Murray Keatinge of Iowa finished second in the 1,000-yard run which Arnold Sowell of Pittsburgh won in 2:13.

Keatinge Set Pace
Sowell led Keatinge set the pace for the first couple of laps and then moved effortlessly to the front. He won by about 45 yards.

Santee's fine performance was a second slower than that of Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark in New York last Feb. 5 when Nielsen's time of 4 minutes, 3.6 seconds clipped two-tenths of a second off a world mark Santee had set at Boston the week before.

Santee Stayed Close
The quarter mile times of the race were 62.8 seconds, 2 minutes, 4.5 seconds, and 3 minutes, 8 seconds. Art Dalzell, a fellow Kansan of Santee and his favorite pace maker, led most of the first half, with Santee only about two strides behind and R.

Mayfield Takes Lead With Record Round

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Sensational putting by Shelley Mayfield produced a record-shattering 64 Friday and gave him the second round lead in the $12,500 Miami Beach open golf tournament.

Mayfield, a 30-year-old Texan, knocked eight strokes off par and one stroke off the competitive record for the Bayshore municipal course. The old mark of 65 had stood for many years and been equaled several times.

With his first round 68, Mayfield posted a 36-hole total of 132 to bounce up from eighth place to lead the pack at the halfway point in the tournament. His nearest competitor, Bob Rosburg of San Francisco, was two strokes in his rear.

The first day leader, Peter Thomson, the British open champ from Australia, skidded to a third place tie with Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., at 135.

Whitall's Brilliant Individual Performance Plus a Triumph by Mexico's Eulalio Rios in the Men's 200-Meter Butterfly

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Beth Whittall, an 18-year-old Purdue university sophomore from Montreal, smashed the hopes of the United States' brightest swimming stars Friday to score a sensational double slam in the Pan-American games.

The lithe Canadian girl won the 100-meter butterfly event in a close race with Betty Mullen of Washington, D.C., then came back with virtually no rest to sweep to victory in the 400-meter women's freestyle. She set a pan-American record in the butterfly with 1:16.2.

Miss Whittall's brilliant individual performance plus a triumph by Mexico's Eulalio Rios in the men's 200-meter butterfly event put an abrupt halt on this last day of water competition to the United States' heretofore complete domination of the sport.

Uncle Sam's forces had to be content with two of the five championships decided. Olympic champion Jimmy McLane, previously a winner in the 400-meter and 1,500-meter freestyle events, anchored the U.S. 800-meter freestyle relay team to a record-shattering victory over the Argentines, winning by a full nine seconds in nine minutes flat.

The U.S. women's 400-meter medley relay team edged out Canada in a close race which ended the Pan-American swimming competition for the 1955 Pan-American games. The time was 5:11.6.

Yank Rookie Tops Brooks on 3-Hitter

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Johnny Kucks, unheralded New York Yankee rookie, set down the Brooklyn Dodgers in a brilliant seven-inning performance Friday as the Yanks won 5-1. The tall right hander from Jersey City held the Brooks to three hits, two of them infield rollers.

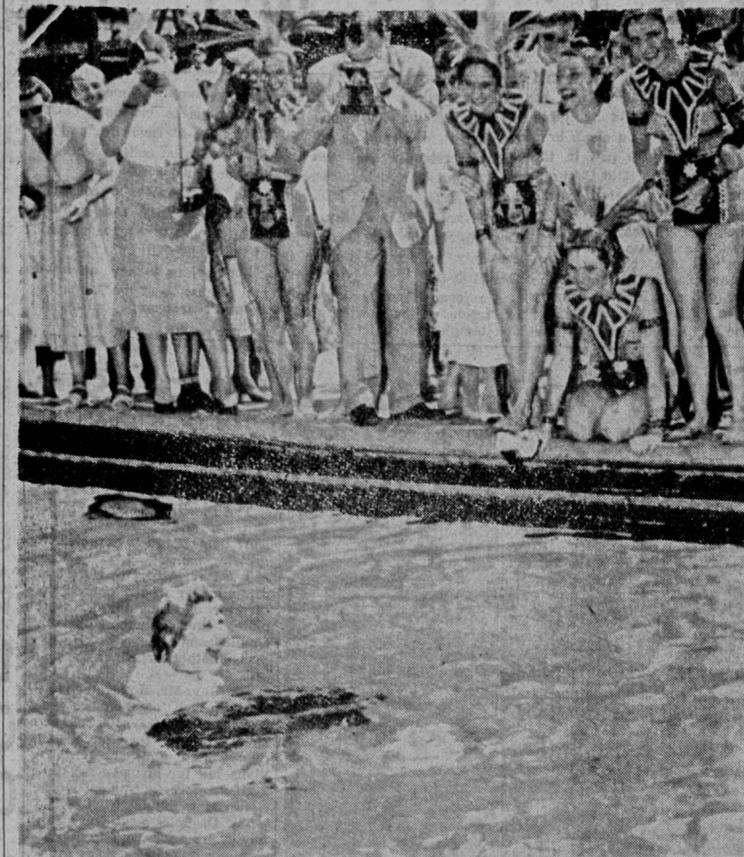

Carl Erskine, the loser, worked six frames and was slugged for 11 hits and all the Yankee runs.

Victorious Swim Coach Tossed in Pool

SWIMMING COACH Mrs. Norma Olsen, Oakland, Calif., coach of the Athens Water Follies group of Oakland, comes up smiling after the girls on the team tossed her fully clad into the pool in celebration of their victory Friday in the synchronized swimming competition of the Pan-American games. Mrs. Olsen, formerly of La Porte City, Ia., is the mother of Zoe Ann Olsen, former Olympic diving champ.

Whitney Martin's Sports Trail

NEW YORK (AP)—Against Clark Griffith's orders Al Schacht had thrown a fast ball which Shoeless Joe Jackson rapped for a triple, and Griffith was fit to be tied.

"Go to the clubhouse," Griffith bellowed, "and look in the mirror and you'll see the dumbest pitcher in the American league." "I was pretty mad myself," Al relates, "and I replied: 'Well, Mr. Griffith, there must be a helluva lot of dumb pitchers in this league, because Jackson's hitting only .385.' But I went and looked in the mirror anyway."

That's just one of the incidents put into words in Schacht's highly entertaining autobiography, "My Particular Screwball" (Dobbsleday & Co.), and gives an idea of why the "clown prince of baseball" has retained his popularity over the years. Al has the happy knack of making fun of himself; of making himself the butt of jokes.

Gifted with a phenomenal memory for details, particularly those with a humorous angle, Al has been able to put between covers a compact and informal story of baseball as it touched one man during his career as pitcher, coach, fill-in major league manager, and clown, and his tales of the great and near-great paint a vivid, and revealing, word picture.

He tells, for instance, of how the supposedly tough and uncompromising John McGraw hired him when he knew Al had a dead arm, sent him to a doctor all winter, and all but nursed him and begged him not to work unless he felt like it.

He speaks of the great Walter Johnson with reverence, and recalls the Big Train's violent language after pitching a no-hitter in 1920, the feat made possible by a great play by Joe Judge in the final inning: "Goodness gracious sakes alive, wasn't I lucky?"

And Johnson's comment after shutting out the Yankees a third time in four days, when the Yankees had claimed he was lucky the first day: "Great scott alive, I hope they stop saying I'm lucky now."

Some of his stories of his dealings, financial and otherwise, with Clark Griffith are classics, as are his tales of his barnstorming days as a clown.

Schacht's entry into the comedy field was more or less accidental, as was his teaming up with Nick Altrock to make up baseball's most famous clown combination.

Schacht reveals that he and Altrock were not friendly, despite their working together, and that for the last five years of their association they never spoke to each other off the field.

Al was plagued by arm trouble and assortment of other injuries throughout his pitching career, but one thing is sure: Nothing ever happened to his funny bone.

2 Hawkeyes In Semifinals Of Mat Meet

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Terry McCann and Ken Leuer of Iowa won quarterfinal round decisions here Friday night to keep the Hawkeyes in fourth place in the National Collegiate championships despite losses by teammates Dick Govig, John Winder and Harlan Jenkinson.

Pittsburgh's Panthers, Oklahoma A&M's defending champions and Oklahoma's Sooners paced the record field, however.

The Panthers, best in the east, were at the top of the heap with 11 points, a point ahead of the Aggies and two points up on the Sooners. Iowa was in fourth place with eight points.

Friday night's highlight was the dethroning of Govig. After winning two preliminary bouts in the afternoon, Govig lost a referee's decision to Sam Carlo, Cortland State Teachers.

Edward Eichelberger of Lehigh, won three straight falls in the 147-pound class. It took him a little over 14 minutes to accomplish it.

Bill Weick of Iowa Teachers, who won the 137-pound title two years ago before entering the service, remained in the running for the 137-pound crown. He won three easy decisions in going into today's semifinals.

Consolation bouts will determine third and fourth places before the finalists meet tonight.

Cornell had 5 points, Nebraska 2 and Iowa Teachers one.

Quarter Finals summaries: 115 pounds—Terry McCann, Iowa, pinned Wade Cummings, Cortland State, 1:46.

125 pounds—Sam Carlo, Cortland State, defeated Richard Govig, Iowa, referee's decision.

130 pounds—Ronald Jay, Colorado A&M, dethroned Mark Murray, Cornell college, 4-1.

137 pounds—Warren De Prenger, Cornell college, dethroned Frederick Futchko, Rutgers, 3-1.

147 pounds—Lloyd Corwin, Cornell college, dethroned Douglas Bluhm, Oklahoma A&M, 3-0.

Bill Weick, Iowa Teachers dethroned Delbert Lockwood, Colorado A&M, 4-1.

John Winder, Iowa, referee's decision. Harlan Jenkinson, Iowa, referee's decision.

191 pounds—Kenneth Leuer, Iowa, dethroned Ronald Schir, Pitt, 3-0.

Iowa City Units To Take Part—

New Alert Plan For Iowa National Guard

Iowa City's two Iowa national guard units may soon get an opportunity to run through a new alert plan recently sent to all Iowa guard units by the state adjutant general's office.

All units of the Iowa national guard will take part in the alerts. It is expected that they will be held on Sundays in order to get maximum participation.

Members of the 34th division reconnaissance company and the clearing company of the 109th medical battalion were informed of the plan during regular drill periods this week.

The reconnaissance company is commanded by Capt. William E. Fischer, 406 Kimball road. Capt. Berton Brown, 1214 Highland st., commands the medical clearing company.

Mobilize Personnel

The plan will be used to mobilize guard personnel at unit rendezvous with the least delay to implement a real mobilization of emergency plan, if and when the situation arises.

Orders to effect the alert will emanate from the Iowa adjutant general's office. Commercial telephone and telegraph will be used to notify company commanders. If for any reason regular communications channels are not available the order will be transmitted to the state police radio network.

The alert order will then go to highway patrolmen, city police departments and sheriffs by radio. The Iowa City police, the Johnson county sheriff and highway patrolmen in this area have the names of the company commanders here and will contact them.

Training Schedules

Training schedules have been devised so that when and if a practice alert comes, the units will conduct a training period which would replace the next regularly scheduled drill.

Iowa City's two companies have their own plans for assembling their members. The medical company, with 70 men, has seven zone commanders responsible for notifying men in their zones in case of an alert. The reconnaissance company has six zones and a company strength of 63.

Zone commanders, usually platoon or section sergeants, contact the men by telephone or personal contact, depending on the situation.

Independent Type Plan

Under the state-wide alert plan national guard personnel who cannot reach their parent units within an hour are to go to the nearest Iowa national guard unit.

The plan depends upon telephone, telegraph or state police radio for its activation and is independent of any civilian defense alerts.

Iowa military officials have asked company commanders to inform civilians that practice alerts will be held to prevent rumors of enemy attack from spreading.

Checks Set For Meters

New meter beats have been set up for the Iowa City police parking meter patrol due to a recent addition and re-distribution of parking meters.

A new numbering system also has been put into use. Each meter carries a number which may be used by motorists in reporting faulty meters.

Police said that drivers finding an inoperative meter are requested to telephone the police station and give the meter number. Dimes used in public telephone calls to the police station are returned.

A map of meter locations has been posted in the police station showing the new numbers. Even numbers are on east and north sides of streets with odd numbers on west and south sides.

Two new radio-equipped motorcycles will be used in covering the territory.

Raymond J. Vitosh has been added to the meter patrol, which now numbers five. Other officers on the patrol are Arthur A. Schnoebelen, William J. Holland, James J. Dalton and Emmett H. Potter.

Potter and Vitosh are assigned to the motorcycle beats.

CHARGED FOR CHECK

Wayne Lumpa, 18, R.R. 5, Friday was charged with writing a $35 check Monday on a bank here, while not having sufficient funds. The county attorney's information containing the charge was filed in Johnson county district court. Lumpa was arrested Friday by Deputy Sheriff Donald L. Wilson.

French Explorer's Invention Brings 'Sea Depths' To SUI

Transforming the darkness of the ocean bottoms into colorful pastures has been the achievement of Dimitri Rebikoff, French underwater explorer and photographer.

Rebikoff, who will speak in Macbride auditorium Sunday at 8 p.m., at another in a series of Mountaineer's club lectures, is the inventor of numerous devices which have made undersea photography possible.

The program will feature a talk by Rebikoff and the showing of the film, "Exploring Secrets of the Underwater World," part of which was taken in depths of 280 feet. These films will show the salvage operation on sunken World War II battleships and the latest underwater techniques.

Invented 'Torpedo'
Rebikoff's color films show the true colors of the sea bottom, made possible by his invention of the motion picture torpedo.

Rebikoff's torpedo camera develops a brilliant light to illuminate the murky ocean depths. A skin diver can descend with the torpedo to depths of about 250 feet. In fact, the torpedo not only moves under its own power but gives a free ride to the diver at a speed of two knots.

Operated by remote control at depths below 250 feet, the device can take still or motion pictures down to one-half a mile or more. In this case a television camera connected to a TV screen on the escort ship serves as a viewfinder.

Water Dissipates Color
Light must be introduced to the subject or else there is no point in using color film. There is simply no color at that depth since the water effectively dissipates all color.

This is where Rebikoff remedied the situation and made it possible to show the world the color of sea foliage and fish life.

Aside from its pleasurable aspects, the torpedo camera has been found highly useful by the navy for instructional purposes. Films demonstrating underwater escape from burning oil slicks have proved valuable in developing rescue operations.

'Thrilling Revelation'
The most thrilling revelation that can be made, Rebikoff said, is to behold undersea life in indescribable color.

That pleasure is enhanced by the fact that he is responsible for the development of the torpedo sun, which transforms ocean darkness into brilliance.

Tickets for the lecture are on sale at Wilson's Sporting Goods store.

Sixth Building on SUI Campus in 1894—

Old Dental Building Cost State $25,000

(This is another in a series of articles about familiar buildings on the SUI campus).
By JOY HANKINS

When the Old Dental building was built in 1894 at its present location, facing Jefferson street, on the north side of the Pentacrest, it was the sixth building on the main SUI campus.

Around it stood North hall (library), which has been torn down, the Science building which was moved across the street to become the Geology building and Old Capitol. To the south were the Medical building and South hall (math), both of which have since burned.

Special Appropriation
This three-story brick building was financed by a $25,000 special appropriation by the legislature. The dental department, (since become a college), which then consisted of about 200 students and a faculty of 17 members, moved into it in 1895.

It was the first time the SUI dental department had occupied a building adapted to its needs and used by it alone. Twelve years earlier, in 1882, the Board of Regents of the university had started the dental department with the stipulation that the "new department should bring no expense to the state." Fifteen second-hand barbers' chairs, one second-hand dental chair and some second-hand laboratory equipment comprised the first department on the first floor and basement of South hall.

The first course of study had consisted of two periods of six months each, between which students would set up practice until enough money was made to come back to the second session.

Increase in Students
By 1895, the number of dental students had increased to 215, and the new dental building was filled to capacity. The course of instruction was extended to three years of nine months each in 1895.

The new building had laboratories on the first floor, and clinic rooms equipped with 40 operating chairs were located on the second floor. Lecture and recitation rooms were on the third floor. The dental department used this building until 1917, when it moved to its present location.

Prof. D. L. Crissinger, of SUI's college of dentistry, said that crevices in the wooden plank floors of the rooms in which students ground gold fillings no doubt still contain some gold. For some time after the dental department moved to its new building, the floor sweepings from the Old Dental building were saved and the gold was recovered from them, he said. When the plumbing was removed from the room which was once the crown and bridge laboratory on second floor, gold was found in the drainpipes.

Reduced Size
It was necessary to tear down the west part of the building to make room for University hall, in 1923. This reduced the size of the building by about one third.

Through the years, many different departments have been accommodated in Old Dental building. The University printing plant was installed on the second floor of the building in 1927, and the department of grounds and buildings was located there the same year. The art and psychology departments have had offices in the building, and the Fraternity business office was once located there.

At the present time, offices of the SUI physical plant, inventory, English department, and the personnel office are located in the building.

Oil Fire Causes Minor Damage

An oil fire at the Dunlap Implement company, 409 S. Gilbert st., at 3:10 p.m. Friday resulted in minor damage to a tractor and smoke damage to the rear of the repair shop.

Firemen said a pan of oil beneath a tractor apparently became ignited by sparks from a welding torch.

Fire Chief Al Dolezal said no one was injured and that most of the damage was due to smoke.

He said that the advance of the working class is yet to be reflected in the retail automobile market. Only six per cent of the country's working class families have autos, as compared with 53 per cent of upper and middle class families.

Beales Speaks

Prof. H. L. Beales, of the University of London school of economics, opened the conference at 2 p.m. Friday with an address on "Civil Service Reform, 1853-55; A Centenary Retrospect."

The conference will close at noon today following a talk at 10 a.m. in Old Capitol by Henry Steele Commager, Columbia university historian and author of such books as "The American Mind" and "Freedom, Loyalty, Dissent."

Commager will speak on the topic "Against This Torrent: Pressures on Education."

After his address, Commager will join a panel of the teachers to discuss problems of course selection in high school offerings.

Radio Telescope—

can "see" into these invisible wavelengths — adding 12 more octaves beyond what can be seen by the human eye.

The radio telescope looks something like the huge concave mirrors which astronomers now use in their telescopes. These mirrors collect light rays and focus them.

The radio telescope has a concave parabolic reflecting surface, too. The new Harvard radio-telescope will be like a big, rather deep dish — 60 feet across. Only it will have a sort of wire mesh instead of a mirror. The wire mesh will reflect the invisible radiations from distant parts of the universe onto a little rod, or "dipole" protruding out of the center of the "dish."

Signals focussed on the dipole will start a pen which will draw graphs. The message from these graphs, linked with what the astronomers can photograph and see by standard telescopes, will give new and more precise information about what's happening in distant parts of the universe.

Woody, Here Next Saturday, Is Called Young 'Old Timer'

"The youngest old-timer in the music business." That's what they call Woody Herman, who will appear at the Iowa Memorial Union next Saturday for the annual Spinster's Spree.

Themes for this year's dance, which will last from 8 to 12 p.m., is "Dial M for MEEOC." Tickets will go on sale Monday at the Union information desk. Admission is $2 per couple.

Herman, who started playing the clarinet in vaudeville acts at the age of nine, has been rated one of the top bandleaders in the country since 1933.

His '3rd Herd'

Herman brings to SUI the "Third Herd," his latest orchestra. Herman auditioned about 200 musicians before he finally found the combination he was looking for.

The group, which features 14 instrumentalists and a girl vocalist, has been tabbed by George Simon, of Metronome magazine, as "the great new Woody Herman band, an astounding, jumping, versatile, thrilling band which is great for listening and dancing."

First Big Job

Woody had his first big job when he joined Tom Gerun's band in 1929, which was then one of the leading bands in the country.

He not only played his clarinet and saxophone, but he also was featured as a singer. The band also had two other vocalists who were trying to get a start in the musical world. One was Tony Melrose et., proprietor of the Swank Baking company, 210 E. College st. Judge James P. Gaffney made the award on a claim for merchandise sold Swank on a credit card with the oil company.

Woody Herman Leads '3rd Herd'

Woody took over his own band in 1936 and held it until 1946, when he was forced to retire because of illness in the family.

He started again in 1947 but disbanded in 1949 because of what he termed, "the low ebb of the music world."

He has returned with his

"Third Herd" and, according to Time magazine, "is ready to show a whole generation what it has been missing."

No 'Fish Horn'

One of the most unusual features of his band is the "bass trumpet" which is twice the size of a regular trumpet. Herman uses this instrument in the trombone section and it has been a cause of many questions from the audience.

The audience always wants to know what it is. The band has decided to hold up a card behind the instrument which will read, "This is not a fish horn! This is a bass trumpet!"

Herman has never lost his enthusiasm for jazz. "I look at those kids and I have to keep on," Woody says.

AWARDED $308

The Skelly Oil Co. Friday awarded $308 in a Johnson county district court judgment awarded John M. Swank, 328 Melrose et., proprietor of the Swank Baking company, 210 E. College st. Judge James P. Gaffney made the award on a claim for merchandise sold Swank on a credit card with the oil company.
