

Would Up Road Fund $8 Million

DES MOINES (AP) — The senate, after lengthy debate Wednesday afternoon, substituted the house 6-cent gas tax bill for its own measure and passed it, 28-16.

The senate's bill would have extended the 5-cent a gallon tax two more years. It was converted into a measure increasing the tax for the next two years to 6 cents.

The senators gave up and passed the house-approved bill and sent it to the governor.

Another amendment which would have authorized a 300 million dollar bond issue for highway construction instead of the tax increase was ruled out of order by Lt. Gov. Leo Eithon.

Under the bill as passed, the net proceeds of one-cent per gallon of gasoline tax would be used for construction of primary roads which are now surfaced only with gravel or crushed rock.

The proceeds from the sixth cent per gallon would be used to speed the state program of widening and modernizing primary highways and bridges.

Opponents of the gas tax increase argued that it would largely kill gasoline sales in border counties, especially along the southern border of the state.

Missouri has only a 3-cent per gallon gasoline tax.

"If you want to impress upon the people of the state that we are the high tax boys," Sen. George E. O'Malley (D-Des Moines) said, "then you should vote for this bill."

The proponents, on the other hand, declared that since the primary road program is behind schedule, more funds are needed to bring the program up to date.

The debate started over senate bill 239, which would have extended for two more years the five-cent per gallon gasoline tax imposed by the 1953 legislature on a temporary basis.

Sen. X. T. Prentiss (R-Mount Air) said it was necessary to keep the tax at 5-cents for an additional two years because the primary road program hasn't yet caught up.

The senate voted down an amendment by Sens. McManus and Dailey which would have reduced the tax to 4-cents a gallon.

The amendment would have changed the allocation of money from the road use tax fund to give a greater share to primary road construction.

McManus estimated the proposal would boost primary construction funds to a little more than $38 million. With the fifth cent of gasoline tax, there is now available for primary roads $37,925,000 a year.

The amendment which would have made the senate measure almost identical with the house-passed bill was sponsored by Sen. Herman M. Knudson (R-Clear Lake).

"In my humble judgment I feel we are approaching the biggest problem we face today — highways and that other closely allied problem, traffic safety," Knudson said.

The next to the last bill of the four passed would provide $14,335,000 annually in general aid to districts which levy at least a 15-mill tax for school purposes. The transportation and supplemental aid measures passed in the house Monday. The miscellaneous aid measure was the last to pass.

The $22,731,500 a year grand total compares with $18,647,500 being made available annually now for the various types of aid. Gov. Leo Hoegh had recommended that the total be increased to $23,496,500.

Committee Cuts SUI Building Requests

DES MOINES (AP) — A house committee Wednesday recommended that SUI be given only 37 per cent of what it asked for in building improvements.

The house appropriations committee asked that $1,620,000 be given to SUI for capital improvements.

The state board of education had asked $4,340,000 for the improvements.

The appropriations committee slashed in half the state board's requests for improvements at its six institutions.

The requests totaled more than $10 million. The committee recommended only $5,033,000. This figure was $106,338 below the 1953 appropriation.

A breakdown of the total appropriations bill shows that Iowa State college would receive $1,674,500, and Iowa State Teachers college would get $317,500.

The Iowa School for the Deaf would get $300,000; Iowa Braille and Sight Saving school, $110,000, and state sanatorium, Oakdale, $738,750.

The request for an appropriation for a television set-up for SUI was turned down by the committee.

No announcement was made of what the committee recommended in capital improvements.

The education subcommittee last March pigeon-holed a plan of the state board that the state colleges be allowed to use the tuition money collected for building improvements.

The state board's plan was laid aside at a closed committee hearing. All important legislative committee hearings are closed.

The appropriations committee also brought out a bill cutting by $403,550 Gov. Leo Hoegh's request for money to run 50 state agencies.

MEMBERS OF THE 109th medical battalion clearing company here pitch a tent used as a field clearing station for casualties. The company had the tent set up and was in full operation within 45 minutes after the alert sounded.

CAPT. WILLIAM E. FISCHER JR., R.R. 4, Iowa City, commander of the 34th reconnaissance company here, shouts directions to the driver of a personnel carrier Wednesday night, preparatory to "moving out" to take posts.

11 States 'Ready' in One Hour

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's national guardsmen rushed to posts of duty Wednesday night in a practice mobilization, first nationwide test of its kind in history.

Soon after the Pentagon figuratively pushed an "alert" button, guardsmen were at their posts in armories, scouring the skies in planes, guarding waterworks, bridges and railroad stations or moving in the darkness against "enemy parachutist saboteurs."

It was strictly a test operation, to see how quickly and how completely the guard could respond to a call to arms in a real emergency. Officials emphasized there was no cause for alarm.

Within One Hour About 7 p.m. (EST) the national guard bureau in the Pentagon announced the alert. Within an hour 11 states had reported their units had been alerted and that guardsmen were starting to their appointed assembly places.

Pennsylvania was the first state to send in the message "alert and ready" 16 minutes after the warnings.

Antiaircraft units and air guard squadrons were among the first to report their men and equipment were fully assembled and in fighting condition.

South Dakota was the first state west of the Mississippi to report.

Members of both army and air guard units reportedly started assembling 15 minutes after the alert call and within 45 minutes ground units were moving out on simulated security missions.

Alert Kept Secret The fact there would be an alert was announced several weeks ago but the hour, even the date, had been kept a close secret from all except a small group of officers.

The alert, the bureau said, was expected to send about 1,000 air guard fighter planes into the air. Some members of the guard's 87 tactical squadrons have been standing by at defense command fields for months.

Members of these ready units take turns at emergency posts but Wednesday night the order was for all members to report immediately and in condition to take off.

57,000 Personnel The total air guard strength today is about 57,000 officers and men, many of whom are veterans of World War II and Korea.

All of the guard's 123 anti-aircraft battalions were included in the test call. Members of these defense units were ordered to rush to their posts and prepare their guns to fire.

Iowa Guardsmen Respond Promptly

DES MOINES (AP) — Within one hour after a nationwide national guard alert, 60 per cent of Iowa's 9,000 air and ground guardsmen turned out, Maj. Gen. Fred C. Tandy, Iowa adjutant general, said.

He said some units reported nearly 100 per cent response by members in the first hour. He said guardsmen outside their home area were supposed to report to the nearest national guard unit for duty.

The general said the operation in Iowa was "pretty good" and said he was optimistic because it was not a regular drill night for most Iowa guard units.

Four flights of jets from the 132d interceptor squadron were in the air within 20 minutes after the alert, Tandy said. At Sioux City, five flights were airborne in about the same time.

The "operation" lasted about 3 1/2 hours.

City Units Operating In 45 Minutes

One-hundred and sixty-seven national guardsmen from the Iowa City area were mobilized within an hour and 15 minutes Wednesday night as part of "Operation Minuteman," a nationwide alert affecting all national guard and air national guard units.

All men appeared in uniform at the armory, 925 S. Dubuque, and were issued individual firearms without ammunition.

The first of Iowa City's two guard units to be ready for action after the 6 p.m. alert was the 109th medical battalion clearing company.

Within 45 minutes after the alert first sounded from Washington, D.C., the clearing company had mustered 63 enlisted men and 6 officers and had a tent set up ready to receive "casualties." This was 98 per cent of the enlisted men and 100 per cent of the officers.

Ready at 7:15 The 34th division reconnaissance company had 63 enlisted men and 7 officers assembled at 7:15 p.m. The company moved out in tanks, personnel carriers and trucks to post guards on city bridges across the Iowa river, radio station transmitters, the Iowa City airport and water plant.

Two reconnaissance company tanks stationed at the airport guarded approaches to Iowa City on highways 218 and 1.

Eighty-nine per cent of the enlisted men and 100 per cent of the officers turned out in the reconnaissance company.

The total number of men who participated in the Iowa alert here includes 28 men who train with the local units although they are members of other Iowa guard units. Most of these are SUI students.

The first two men in Iowa City to know of the surprise alert were Ste. Charles Kulhvi, 219 S. Riverside, and Maj. Patrick Gallagher, 1122 Dill st. They were informed by telephone from Iowa national guard headquarters in Des Moines at 5 p.m.

Regular Army The two are regular army personnel assigned as advisers to army reserve units in this area. They acted as observers of Wednesday night's alert.

Chief Warrant Officer Edward Windrem of the reconnaissance company was informed of the alert by telephone from Des Moines at 6 p.m., as was Capt. Berton Brown, 1214 Highland st., commanding officer of the clearing company.

These men immediately put into effect by telephone a chain-of-command company alert.

The first men to arrive at the armory were M/Sgt. B. K. Murphy and Sfc. Robert Lee of the clearing company and reconnaissance company respectively. Murphy arrived at 6:05 and Lee at 6:08.

Capt. William E. Fischer Jr., R.R. 4, Iowa City, commander of the reconnaissance company, was not the first notified in his company because he has been away from the city and it was not certain he would be here when the alert came.

Dismissed at 9 Men from both companies were dismissed at 9 p.m.

Although the alert came at a completely unexpected time, the two observers, Gallagher and Kulhvi, said the turnout in both companies was surprisingly high and that the whole event rated excellent.

Many men missed the evening meal while others were called away from work. One man alerted was on duty with the Iowa City police force at the time.

Other men traveled up to 40 miles to attend the alert. Some members of the companies live in Centerpoint, Mt. Vernon, Tip-ton, Williamsburg and Muscatine.

Top To Give Salk Vaccine Report Friday

SUI faculty members will get a report on the Salk polio vaccine Friday from one of the nation's polio experts.

Dr. Franklin H. Top, head of hygiene and preventive medicine at SUI, will give a talk at 4 p.m. Friday in the medical amphitheater at SUI General hospital.

Top served last year on an evaluation committee that advised Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., on his study of results from the 1954 mass tests of the Salk vaccine.

Top was present at Ann Arbor, Mich., April 12 when the committee announced that the vaccine was up to 90 per cent effective in preventing polio.

Dr. Norman Nelson, dean of the SUI college of medicine, said Top's talk was arranged because many faculty members still have questions about the vaccine and the findings of Francis.

The Arabs are represented and Israel is not at the 29-nation Asian-African conference that opened here Monday.

Red China's Premier Chou En-lai continued playing the role he apparently has assumed of being everybody's friend at the conference. He joined seven Arab countries at the conference's political committee in demanding quick settlement of the Palestine question.

A resolution on Palestine proposed by Afghanistan and supported by Chou said: "In view of existing tension in the Middle East caused by the situation in Palestine and the danger of tension to world peace, the Asian-African conference declares its support of the rights of the Arab people in Palestine and calls for implementation of United Nations resolutions on Palestine."

The Arabs have been most bitter over 800,000 Palestinian Arab refugees driven from their homes in Israeli-won territory during the Palestine war of 1948. The refugees now live in neighboring Arab countries on the Israeli perimeter, supported mainly by UN aid.

DALHART, Tex. (AP) — Rich top-soil swept aloft by one of Colorado's worst dust storms cast a hazy curtain over parts of the southwest Wednesday.

Winds subsided and the fine dust settled slowly downward from sunny skies.

Winds up to 69 miles an hour at a number of points sucked untold tons of soil from thousands of Colorado acres.

Chou Sides With Arabs Against Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and France were reported at sharp odds Wednesday over continued American support for the government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in Communist-threatened South Viet Nam.

U.S. officials said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has turned down French proposals that Diem should be removed immediately and replaced by a new leader appointed by Emperor Bao Dai.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, special representative of President Eisenhower, is due to return to Washington Friday to report on the tangled Viet Nam political situation.

The Binh Xuyen, a society of ex-river pirates, is trying to force the resignation of Premier Diem.

The Binh Xuyen controls the police forces in Saigon.

The French have contended that if Diem's army opened a general attack on the Binh Xuyen it would touch off a civil war that would defat the purpose of trying to save the country from communism.

'Save Asia' Bill Stalled In Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's new $34 billion foreign aid program, a "save Asia" project, ran into a legislative stall Wednesday.

Rep. James Richards (D-S.C.), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, announced that, contrary to custom, he is planning to postpone final committee action on the authorization bill until the full senate has voted on it.

Richards told a news conference he planned to delay action on the program because he had heard from unnamed "influential" senators there is "grave doubt that the senate will vote for any economic aid this year."

The President's program for the year beginning July 1 includes $1,717,500,000 for direct military and associated assistance and $812 1/2 million for other purposes, largely economic.

Reds Rush Work On 4 Air Bases

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist press reports said Wednesday the Chinese Communists were rushing work on four air bases across Formosa strait and had moved in 800 warplanes along the southeast coast.

One big base has been completed and another is near completion. However, it appears the Communists still are far from ready for any big operation because of supply problems along the mountainous coast.

Coal Miner Devours 31 Orders of Chicken

DETROIT (AP) — Pennsylvania coal miner Phillip Yazdzik finally pushed back after eating his 31st order of fried chicken Wednesday and claimed a world record.

A two-listed eater who disdains knives and forks because "they slow me down," the 42-year-old 200-pound Yazdzik chomped steadily from 9:30 a.m. to 2:50 p.m. to reduce 15 1/2 ten-ounce chickens to a huge pile of bones.

He had said he could finish 40 servings, but declared himself satisfied at 31. He figures his record will stand, along with the one he claimed at Chicago Tuesday when he devoured 77 hamburgers.

Yazdzik, an Olyphant, Pa., coal miner and delivery man, got the chicken free, along with $150 and $100 expense money from the Northwest Drive-In restaurant where he performed his feat.

Iowa House Passes School Aid Raise

DES MOINES (AP) — The house completed action Wednesday on the four school aid bills, setting the total at $22,731,500 a year. All of the measures now go to the senate.

The next to the last bill of the four passed would provide $14,335,000 annually in general aid to districts which levy at least a 15-mill tax for school purposes. The transportation and supplemental aid measures passed in the house Monday. The miscellaneous aid measure was the last to pass.

The $22,731,500 a year grand total compares with $18,647,500 being made available annually now for the various types of aid. Gov. Leo Hoegh had recommended that the total be increased to $23,496,500.

The bill as passed in the house is only $765,000 a year under what Hoegh recommended.

The general aid total was raised from the $13 1/2 million a year recommended by the appropriations committee to the $14,335,000 now in the bill on the theory that it would result in payment of valid claims in full.

Two Wiser Bills—

The Iowa senate—many of whose members are equally at home on the farm or at the statehouse—did a fancy bit of horse-trading last week that would do the shrewdest trader proud.

It passed a bill to create a legislative research bureau to carry out studies between sessions and to draft bills. Since neither house has ever seriously considered such legislation before—even though it has been urged by many "thinking" Iowans—this was a surprising move.

The unanimous vote—47 to 0—was even more startling. During a session when money is a serious problem, one might have expected a few dissenting voices at the creation of a $7,500-a-year director's post to administer the bureau.

The explanation seems to be that the research bureau arrangement was a peace move between Gov. Leo Hoegh and the senate. The senate has refused to confirm Russell Lundy, of Des Moines, for appointment to the state highway commission.

It was reported that Lundy would be offered the research job, certainly a better bargain in the trade when compared to the $4,500 salary of a highway commissioner. Lundy, not one to stare a gift horse in the mouth, was reported to have accepted.

Unfortunately, the losers in the swap are the legislators themselves and the people of Iowa. Whether directed by Lundy or another public-spirited Iowan, the research bureau would not fulfill the role for which it was intended under the guiding force of one person, appointed by the governor.

The basic idea of a legislative research council is to provide the legislators with an unbiased, unprejudiced source of information, with which they can evaluate legislation. It has been tried in more than half the states and found overwhelmingly successful.

Since Iowa is not pioneering in the area, it can profit by the lessons learned in other states. Important among these is that the most successful research council is one directed by a committee of legislators, chosen from the memberships of the senate and house.

These men are not "outsiders" to the legislature. They understand the problems intimately. They are chosen by the legislature itself—not by the executive branch.

It is perhaps on this last point that the senate's action is the most surprising. Usually zealous in maintaining a favorable balance of power between the two branches of government, the senators have voted to hand Hoegh an unprecedented slice of legislative responsibility.

There are two other bills before the legislature which would be fairer and wiser than the one passed by the senate. The first would create a research council of legislators with the fact-finding work to be done by the SUI Institute of Public Affairs. The second would establish a research bureau, but under the supervision of a committee of legislators.

There is still opportunity for the house to amend the senate bill, or to substitute another bill in its place.

Let us hope that the house shows as much enthusiasm for giving Iowa a source of better legislation as the senate did in giving a job away. No matter how worthy the recipient or how expedient the maneuver, both of these are temporary. With their passing, Iowa would be left with ill-arranged and senseless machinery to cope with the ever-increasing demands of the state.

Attack on Gobbledegook—

Alack and alas! The government has renewed its vigorous attack on one of the glorious cornerstones of American democracy—governmental "gobbledegook."

The latest crusade began Sunday when a 44-page booklet was issued telling federal employes how to write short letters. The booklet follows closely on the heels of the inauguration of a post-card size "short form" for filing income tax returns.

The booklet, which was prepared by the General Services Administration in collaboration with the National Archives, urges federal letter-writers not to fool the taxpayers by fogging the issues. It includes a list of 175 words and phrases much endeared to defenders of the status quo, but which have fallen into disrepute in this modern age of brevity and clarity.

Why not, the booklet suggests, say "have trouble" instead of "encounter difficulty." Or "hurry" rather than "expedite." Such phrases as "predicated on the assumption . . ." are taboo. The title of the booklet itself suggests the trend toward simplicity in letter writing. It is succinctly labeled, "Plain Letters."

But cheer up, you defenders of tradition, for all is not lost. The armed forces, strongholds of all forms of gobbledegook, have warded off all efforts to strip them of their treasured possession. Special orders still say something to the effect that, "SMOP 17 SO 156 this Hq es as pertains to amn on PCS PCA asgmt is amnd . . ."

Those who must have their gobbledegook and eat it too may obtain further information at the local recruiting office.

One Year Ago Today

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles left for the Geneva conference, promising to seek an "honorable" peace in Indochina and a free, united Korea.

David Dancer, secretary of the state board of education, said the final cost of restoring the SUI Chemistry building, swept by fire Oct. 7, 1953, might be closer to $284,000 than to the original estimate of $384,000.

Five Years Ago Today

TO THE EDITOR:

The suggestion of the SUI Student Council, approved in The Daily Iowan editorial Saturday to convert the Old Iowa field to a parking area, seems unfair to the marching band. The band practice area is located on this field.

Last fall the SUI marching band was forced to practice at the Brown street playground, 15 blocks from the Music building, due to inadequate facilities elsewhere. Now, through the cooperation of many individuals, this problem has been solved.

No longer will the band have to practice marching on hard asphalt or on a field shorter than the length of a football field. In addition the rehearsal area is in a more central location so band members can get to rehearsals on time and consequently get the most out of the allotted rehearsals.

The present location, at the south end of Old Iowa field meets these qualifications. Money has been spent to seed the grounds.

With less than five months before football band rehearsals begin, the Student Council "suggests" that this area be abandoned in favor of additional parking space. It is doubtful if suitable space for band practice could be found in the field house area.

Band members voluntarily donate a great deal of time and effort to put on the halftime show for football games. It seems unfair to give selfish interests for parking a priority over this group.

Conferences
Massachusetts Institute of Technology. From March 25-28, I attended at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., an Intercollegiate Conference on Discrimination and Selectivity in American Universities. This conference was the first of its kind sponsored on a large scale and had as speakers many of the foremost authorities in various fields.

Those speakers and the conference delegates heard of the great problem facing universities in attempting to set up a line of balance between the rights of groups to select their members and the democratic prohibition against unreasonable and unlawful discrimination. I personally believe that this conference will do much in arousing student interest toward righting the wrong in many universities not only on a student level but also on an administration level.

2 Delegates
Dean Faunce and myself were the delegates from SUI. No plans were made for a follow-up conference but I suggest that the material from this conference on file be read thoroughly so that individual follow-ups may be replied to.

THE LUTHERAN GRAD

club invites you to hear Prof. George Forell of the SUI department of religion speak on the topic, "Outside the Church There is No Salvation" today at 7 p.m., at 122 E. Church st.

Constitution, making portions of it conform to the election code and reducing the number of representatives on Student Council.

The reducing of membership on Student Council will require development concerning student activities on this campus. The membership of Student Council was cut to make sure the members themselves fulfill the functions of their offices.

Letters Daily

8: Correspondence with other schools. Daily correspondence is received from other universities requesting information or replies of some sort. One of Student Council's primary functions is answering these letters to give our point of view on the questions asked. It is felt that by making a point of answering letters immediately we in turn can expect immediate replies from other institutions.

9: Drake Relays. The university has been extended an invitation to participate in the Drake Relays, held annually, and as usual Miss SUI will represent the student body there. The director of the Miss SUI pageant, Paul Hagenson, will handle this event.

10: Elections Committee. Some changes were made in the Election code to make it more practical. Success of the Election committee is due to the work of Jan Hauser and her willing committee. Approximately 2,000 students voted in the all-campus elections this year. This was the highest total on record in recent years.

Election Changes
The following suggestions have been made by the Elections committee: (1) A sub-committee of 10 people should be appointed the Student Council president and the following subdivisions of this committee should be created: a) publicity—2; b) counting ballots—2; c) eligibility—1; d) poll watchers—3; e) polling places and ballots—2. The people chairing the various subcommittees would pick their own workers to work with them.

(2) Law Commons must elect a representative next fall as they will be a housing unit. At this time Eastlaw's representative will cease being a member of council as Eastlaw will cease being a housing unit.

Code Revision

(3) Be sure the code revision is included in next year's Code of Student Life. When the representatives of UNA and Union Board were cut off the council, this was to avoid duplication. The council felt that a letter should be written to the presidents of these organizations inviting their groups to sit in on student council meetings when they deemed it advisable. Other suggestions and procedures are set forth in the Elections committee's report.

11. Handbook. One of the more serious mistakes Student Council made this year was in not pushing the publication of the Student handbook. Some work was done last year under Joan Ridgeway, editor, who was appointed by the 1953-54 council and she continued in that appointment this year. Some small amount of work was done on the handbook, but if it is going to be in print by next fall it must be in final form within the next month.

I suggest a committee be appointed immediately to handle this.

Foreign Student Committee Prepares for Dinner

Give Menu, Recipes for Norwegian Meal

Norway, its food and customs, will be spotlighted Saturday at 6 p.m. when the third of the UWA foreign student dinners will be held at the Wesley foundation.

Preparations for the Norwegian dinner are under the supervision of Sue Donelson, A2, Reinbeck; Mrs. Brita Telle, and Inge Giskegerde, E4, Norway. Mrs. Telle, wife of Prof. Erik Telle of the college of dentistry, contributed the menu.

Table decorations of blue, red and white, the colors of the national flag of Norway, will be used on the tables and two travelogue films will be shown depicting Norwegian life following the dinner.

Menu for Dinner

The main dish of Faarikaal, which consists of lamb and cabbage, will be served with plain boiled parsleyed potatoes and rye krisps. Dessert of rice, red sauce and whipped cream called Riskrem and coffee will end the meal.

Although bread is a staple in Norway, it is rarely eaten during the heavier midday meal. According to Giskegerde, Norway is an important coffee-drinking country.

"Coffee is never served during the main part of the meal, however," added Giskegerde. Here is an adaptation of the Norwegian dinner which will serve five to six people:

FAARIKAAL
2 pounds cubed lamb
3 pounds of cabbage
1/2 tbs. pepper corns
1 tsp. salt

5 tbs. flour
1 1/2 cups hot water

The cubed lean meat and shredded cabbage is placed by layers into a large stewing pan on top of the stove. Over each layer a portion of the salt, pepper and flour is placed. Then the hot water is poured over the layered mixture and allowed to come to a quick boil for five minutes uncovered. Then place a close fitting lid on the pan and let simmer for two hours. Serve with parsleyed potatoes.

RISKREM
1/2 cup instant rice
1 cup whipped cream
3 cups milk
1/2 tbs. butter
1 1/2 tbs. sugar

The rice is boiled in milk until tender and mixed with sugar and butter. Let mixture cool and fold in the whipped cream. Add several drops of vanilla extract to taste and garnish with chopped almonds. The whole dish may be covered with a sweet red sauce if desired.

RED SAUCE
2 cups water
4 tbs. sugar
1 tbs. corn starch
a pinch of salt
1 cup drained cherry juice
1 tbs. of cornstarch

Mix cornstarch with water and let mixture come to a slow boil. Add sugar, salt, cherry juice and a dash of lemon juice. Serve hot or cold over Riskrem.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS for the UWA foreign student dinner Saturday are down to the final preparations as they make flags of various nations to use as favors. Left to right Colleen Dolezal, A2, Ely, Sue Donelson, A2, Reinbeck, and Inge Giskegerde, G, Norway, also discuss the Norwegian style dinner to be served at Wesley foundation at 6 p.m.

Bums Equal Record On 3-2 Win

Use Only 3 Hits To Win 9th Straight

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, although held to three hits, won their ninth consecutive game Wednesday night defeating the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, to equal the modern major league record for the longest winning streak at the start of the season.

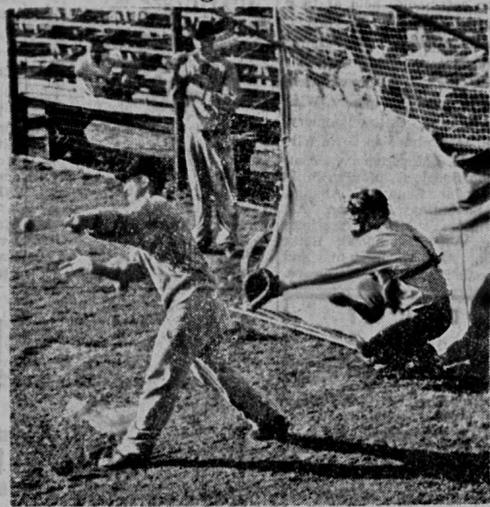

The second of Brooklyn's hits, a two-out bases-loaded single by Gil Hodges off relief pitcher Lynn Lovenguth, drove in the tying and winning runs in the seventh inning when the Dodgers got all their runs.

The loss was charged to Steve Ridzik although he gave up only one hit, a sixth inning double by Sandy Amoros. Ridzik had a shut-out going into the seventh.

Bosox Retain Lead By Nudging Nats, 1-0

WASHINGTON (AP)—Willard Nixon restricted Washington to five hits Wednesday night as the Boston team parlayed three successive fourth inning singles to defeat Washington, 1-0. The Nats hit only six balls beyond the infield.

Nixon survived a ninth inning threat to post his second victory for the league-leading Red Sox. Mickey Vernon opened the last of the ninth with a double, but Roy Sievers fanned, Eddie Yost lined to first baseman Norm Zauchin and Pete Runnels grounded to second baseman Billy Goodman to leave pinch-runner Juan Delis stranded.

The Red Sox obtained eight hits off Chuck Stobbs and Dean Stone, who pitched the ninth inning. The three singles that produced Boston's lone run all were scratchy.

Zauchin's pop fly single to center, his lone hit in 16 attempts this season, scored Boston's run after Sammy White beat out a pop over Stobbs' head and Sam Mele was safe on a trickler down the third base line.

Nixon was threatened in the third inning when Stobbs walked. Tom Umphlett singled and Jim Busby walked with two out to fill the bases, but Vernon flied to Mele in leftfield.

Card Pitcher Blanks Reds With Five-Hit Effort, 3-0

CINCINNATI (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' Luis Arroyo set down the Cincinnati Redlegs, 3-0, on five hits Wednesday night in his first start as a major league pitcher but he needed the help of righthander Herb Moford when he became shaky in the eighth inning.

The 27-year-old lefthander spaced the hits in the first four innings and set down in order 11 Redlegs from the fourth inning to the seventh in a beautiful display of control.

But his fast ball and curve started to miss the plate in the seventh and eighth and he walked two men in each frame. Moford continued the shutout pace, however, and offered the Redlegs no hits the 1 1/2 innings that he pitched.

Red Schoendienst doubled in the first inning and Rip Repulski drove him in with a single for the first Cardinal run. They added two more in the fourth on Repulski's single to center and Joe Frazier's home run.

Ex-Iowan, Frosh To 'Push' Santee

A former Iowa track star and a first year Hawkeye cinderman will be two of the fastest entries to challenge America's greatest distance runner—Wes Santee—in the Glenn Cunningham Mile feature of the Kansas Relays Saturday.

Charles (Deacon) Jones is the Iowa frosh and Ted Wheeler, who now runs for Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., are the two challengers. They were two of nine milers who entered the race Wednesday.

Besides Art Dalzell of Kansas, who paced Santee to a new American record of 4:00.5 in the recent Texas Relays, Jones and Wheeler are given the best chances of upsetting Santee.

Wheeler won the 1,500-meter race in the 1952 Kansas Relays while a student at Iowa. Jones has caused somewhat of a sensation with his best time of 4:11.4 in an indoor meet last February in Chicago.

Hawkeye Rich Ferguson may pass up defense of his 3,000-meter steeplechase title at the Relays in order to anchor the distance medley relay team. The two events are scheduled too closely for him to run in both.

Ferguson won the steeplechase in 1953 and then won it again last year in record-breaking time.

Thompson Paces Milwaukee In 9-5 Victory over Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Thompson hit a grand slam homer and just missed another to lead the second place Milwaukee Braves to a 9-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs Wednesday.

Dry-docked by a broken leg last season, Thompson hammered his big blow off Cub starter Sam Jones in the second and had a bases-loaded single carry clear to the center field wall in the sixth for a total of five RBIs.

Brave righthander Lew Burdette notched his second victory of the season, although he was nicked for two homers and quit in the ninth with bases loaded and two out.

Umberto Robinson came in against slugger Hank Sauer and struck out the Bruin cleanup man to end a three-run inning.

The Cubs combed Burdette for 13 hits and left eight stranded, while the Braves banged 11 hits.

Catcher Harry Chitt belted a bases-empty homer for the first Cub run in the third and Dee Fondy smashed his No. 3 homer with a mate aboard to put Burdette in hot water in the ninth. After loser Jones made a miserable start, yielded six walks, a hit batsman and Thomson's killing homer, rookie Johnny Andre did a good Cub relief job until he left for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

In 5 1/2 innings, Andre spread five Milwaukee hits, yielded two runs in the sixth on Thomson's single after the Braves loaded the bases for the fourth time and Joe Adcock's sacrifice fly.

In the fifth, the Cubs produced their second run on Fondy's triple and Eddie Miksis' scratch single.

Bob Thorpe, who hurled the eighth and ninth for the Cubs, yielded the last two Brave runs in the ninth on an error, Johnny Logan's double and Del Crandall's single.

Goose Tatum Gets Release From Squad

CHICAGO (AP)—Goose Tatum, $50,000 a year clowning star of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, Wednesday was handed his unconditional release by owner Abe Saperstein.

Saperstein disclosed that he would not renew the option on the annual contract of Tatum, who disappeared after a 30-day suspension by Saperstein March 15 for breaking team rules.

Tatum was suspended specifically for missing seven scheduled Globetrotter games and Saperstein estimated at the time the layoff would cost Tatum $5,500.

Although Saperstein still does not know Tatum's whereabouts, he said his decision to drop Tatum's option means the comedian of the famed traveling team was "unconditionally released as of right now."

Saperstein and Tatum were together 14 years.

Tatum, who played 11 seasons with the Globetrotters, presumably is available now for National Basketball association play.

Orient Geology Wives To Husbands' Work

Faculty members and graduate students of the geology department have planned a public relations program for their wives showing them "What hubby does while at work."

The program, an open house scheduled for Wednesday evening will feature husbands cast in the role of their daily activities.

Thirty wives, members of the Geology Wives club, have requested that the husbands put on a program to show the equipment the husband uses and how he uses it. The open house will substitute for one of the club meetings.

The husbands have set up displays of rock specimens, actual class lectures, laboratory research work and colored slides of geological expeditions.

For the open house, one of the first of its kind at the university, mimeographed programs will be distributed featuring the cast of husbands and the part each plays.

All in ROTC To Take Same Loyalty Oath

WASHINGTON (AP) — All college Reserve Officers Training Corps students will take the same loyalty oath and be required to meet the same loyalty standards under a new directive issued by the defense department.

Heretofore, the reserve training programs of the army, air force and navy have varied in requirements for completing loyalty procedures.

The current defense appropriation act requires each candidate for enrollment in the basic courses of the senior division of the ROTC to take the standard oath of loyalty and allegiance to the United States.

It holds that any student who refuses to take the basic loyalty oath shall be denied formal enrollment as an ROTC candidate.

Ex-Dodger Pitchers Lead Orioles Past Yankees, 6-3

NEW YORK (AP) — Ery Palica, who fretted in the Brooklyn doghouse for years, gave Baltimore its first victory of the season Wednesday after six defeats by beating the New York Yankees, 6-3, with relief help from Ray Moore, another former Dodger.

Hal Smith, highly touted rookie catcher who was traded to the Orioles in the Bob Turley deal, helped ruin his old owners with a two-run homer off reliever Art Schallcock in the fifth.

Bob Grim failed to last two innings and required 55 pitches to retire four men. It was the second straight loss for the right-hander who was "rookie of the year" in 1954.

Palica was replaced after Irv Noren walked and Andy Carey singled in the eighth.

Moore subdued the Yanks without a run. The pair of former Brooks held the Yanks to six hits.

Shortstop Willy Miranda, another man who went to Baltimore in the Turley deal, played brilliant defensive ball. The acrobatic Cuban drew a hand from the crowd of 4,390 with a fine backhand stop on Jerry Coleman, flipping the ball to second for a force out.

Name District Track Meet Sites

District track and field competition for athletes from 359 Iowa high schools will be held May 13 and 14, announced the Iowa High School Athletic association Wednesday.

The schools will participate in 32 meets at 19 different sites. The four class distinctions — AA, A, B and C — will be observed as usual.

Iowa City high school has been assigned to the Class AA meet at Cedar Rapids. University high and West Liberty will compete in Class B at Mt. Vernon.

Wellman, West Branch and Kalona are Class C entrants at Burlington.

The first and second place winners in each district will qualify for the state meet and a third place boy whose performance in the district is equal to or better than a first place mark in another district in the same class will also qualify for the final meet.

The state Class B and C meet is scheduled May 21 at a site to be announced later. Class A and AA state meet will be May 28 at an undetermined site.

All of the teams from the Iowa City area will compete Saturday.

Russians Scouting For Top Athletes In Rural Program

LONDON (AP) — The Russians announced Wednesday that they are planning a giant program of rural sports meetings in an effort to comb their vast countryside for potential record breakers.

Moscow radio said in a broadcast heard here that "hundreds of thousands" of country athletes would take part in the first USSR rural games, opening in May with competitions on collective farms, state farms and machine tractor stations.

These sporting events will be followed by regional meetings in all of the nation's 16 republics. The athletes who survive these eliminations will be sent to Odessa for the grand finals in October.

Such a thorough hunt for talent means that very few, if any, potential athletes among the Soviet Union's 200 million population will escape the searching eyes of the nation's sports officials.

The program includes track and field events, athletics, swimming, cycling, volleyball and soccer.

From the large scale preparations that are under way, it appears that the Soviet Union has already begun its drive to win the 1956 Olympic Games in Australia.

The nation's All Union committee for physical culture and sports is behind the talent hunt which means the government and the Communist party is backing the countrywide program with plenty of money.

Quiz 3 in Robbery Of Davenport Man

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Three persons were held here by police without charge Wednesday for questioning about a $625 robbery of a Davenport man Tuesday night on a Galesburg, Ill. street.

The victim, George Smith, told police that after he hitched a ride with a woman motorist, two men in an automobile stopped the car and took his money at gunpoint.

Held without charge were Mrs. Peggy Hitchcock, 32; Mrs. Lorraine Fry, 38, and LeRoy M. Walker. All were seized in a home here.

Police said Smith pointed out Walker as one of the men who robbed him. The other man is being sought.

Potential Babe Ruth Discovered!

LA MESA, Calif. (AP)—Baseball scouts attention! A prospect with the batting power of a potential Babe Ruth and the courage of a Lou Gehrig lives here.

He was discovered Monday by Charlie Ackert, police desk clerk. Ackert heard glass shatter. Then came a knock. Gary Whitcomb, 12, entered and asked:

"Please, may I have my baseball. I knocked it through your window."

He led Ackert outside and showed him the shattered window of the police crime laboratory.

"Where did you hit it from?" asked the officer.

The boy pointed to a sandlot playing field. Ackert whistled. He figured the ball had carried 300 feet or more. It had sailed over a six-foot fence before bouncing through the window.

And Gary was only practicing. He plays shortstop, outfield or pitcher for the LaMesa Kiwanis' Little league team. His batting average in 24 games is .388.

He got his ball back. The Kiwanis, it turned out, carries window insurance for just such mighty swats.

Marion Says Nieman, Dropto To Keep Pace

DETROIT (AP) — Manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox says the sensational early season showing of Walt Dropto and Bob Nieman is "no flash in the pan."

"We knew they could hit — that's why we got them," Marion said Wednesday after the White Sox' game with the Detroit Tigers was postponed due to rain.

Seated in front of his locker, Marion was more than willing to talk about the trade with Detroit which brought Dropto, Nieman and pitcher Ted Gray to Chicago in exchange for first baseman Ferris Fain, infielder Jack D. Phillips and pitcher Leo Cristante.

Needed Power
"If we were going to fight the Yankees and Indians for the pennant, we needed somebody who could drive in runs," Marion said. "In the past we needed a bundle of singles to score just once. Things will be different now."

"Nieman and Dropto will give us a lot of punch. They're off to a good start, and I expect them to keep right on hitting through the season. This is no flash-in-the-pan thing, you know."

Dropto and Nieman, who had mediocre seasons, at best, with the Tigers last year, currently are two of the hottest hitters in the American league.

Three Homers
Nieman, a heavy legged outfielder, is thumping at a .545 clip, with three home runs to his credit. Dropto, a hulking, 6-foot-5 first baseman, is hitting .313. His home run with the bases loaded last Saturday gave the White Sox a 9-4 victory over Cleveland.

Dropto and Nieman, returning to their old ball park, didn't talk much about their fast starts.

"I'm just lucky," Nieman said. "I'm just happy to be playing every day," Dropto said. "That's all I ask."

Gray in Bull Pen
Marion said the third player in the trade — the lefthanded Gray — would be used in the bull pen in the near future, then possibly as a starter.

In contrast, the Tigers have gotten practically no use out of their players. Fain, hampered by a sore knee, has been in only two games.

Phillips, recovering from a twisted knee, and Cristante have not played an inning yet.

Top U.S. Men Sent For Formosan Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's top military man and the state department's Far East specialist went Wednesday to Formosa for on-the-scene consultations about the "tense situation which continues" there.

But Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said "no crisis is involved" in the sudden travel orders for Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state.

As if to emphasize his words, Dulles left for a few days vacation at his island retreat on Lake Ontario.

At Taipei Sunday
Robertson and Radford are due about noon Sunday in Taipei, Nationalist China capital.

Their visit will mark the second time the United States and Nationalist China have consulted under their mutual defense treaty. Dulles held the first consultation at Taipei last March 3.

A statement issued by the state and defense departments before Robertson and Radford departed said "in view of the tense situation which continues in the area."

More Conferences
The statement added that periodic conferences under the treaty

can be expected "so long as the Chinese Communists indicate by deeds and words their purpose to take Formosa by force."

The dispatching of Robertson and Radford comes at a time when Dulles has disclosed reports of a Red air buildup opposite Formosa. It also coincides with surprisingly moderate statements by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai at the Asian-African conference of 29 nations in Bandung, Indonesia.

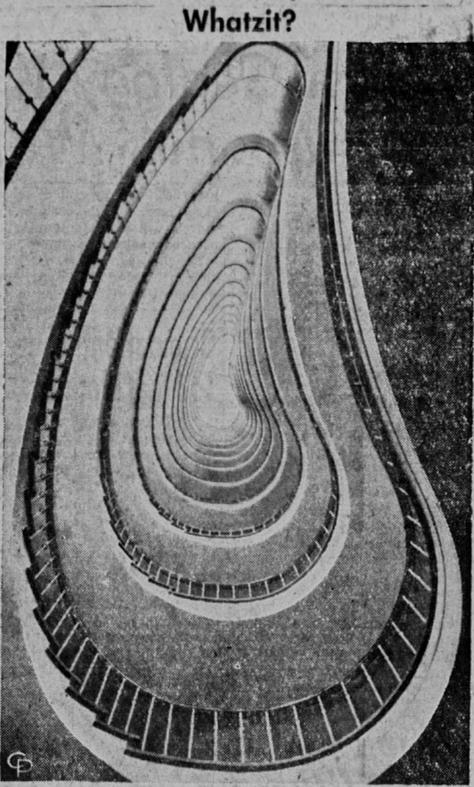

Robertson developed the defense treaty with Nationalist China in secret negotiations last year.

Tickets For Fadiman Talk Ready Today

Tickets for the Clifton Fadiman lecture Tuesday night may be obtained free beginning today at the information desk of the Iowa Memorial Union, according to Director Earl E. Harper.

Fadiman, writer, literary critic and popular radio and television personality, will speak in the Union's main lounge on "Reading I've Liked," which he first used as the title of his best-selling anthology in 1941.

Sponsored by the Committee on University Lectures, Fadiman's first appearance at SUI will be a feature of the Dedication week of the new addition. Members of the audience are urged to see the new services made possible by the 167x205-foot addition, Director Harper said.

When he edited "Reading I've Liked" in 1941, Fadiman explained in his introduction that he was presenting a personal selection drawn from two decades of reading and reviewing. In his current lecture series under the same title, he brings his list of recommendations up-to-date. He will also discuss the role of authors, publishers and readers during what he calls an era of "the victory of the visible" when "the lens is mightier than the sword."

Plan Piano Work Premiere For Dedication Week Opening

The world premiere of a piano sextet will be featured Sunday at 8 p.m. during a chamber music program on the opening day of dedication week for the new addition to the Iowa Memorial Union. The program will be held in the Union main lounge.

The composer is Prof. Philip Bezanson of the music department. Two years ago his piano concerto was played for the first time in New York's Carnegie hall by the New York Philharmonic orchestra. Dimitri Mitropoulos conducted.

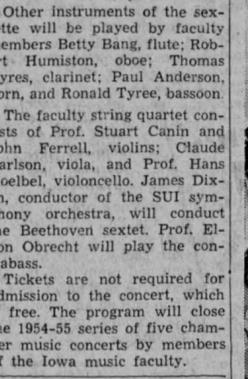

The new work, completed last fall, is entitled "sextette for winds and piano." It will be one of three selections played, the others being Mozart's "quartet in G major, K 387" and Beethoven's "septet, op. 20." The faculty string quartet will perform.

The Beethoven composition will take the place of "Morning in Iowa," originally scheduled for the Sunday program.

Production Good in— The Beaux' Stratagem

— But Acting Suffers

By ART BERGER
Although the sparkling wit and earthy humor of George Farquhar's "The Beaux' Stratagem" often came through to the audience Wednesday night, the production as a whole was not particularly distinguished.

The production was designed to catch the spirit of the restoration period, and succeeded in this respect. Two gentlemen in livery costumes introduced the audience to the play, moved the furniture and helped change the scenery. This novel arrangement was well received, as was the frequent use of asides to the audience, so common in the plays of that period.

On the technical level, "The Beaux' Stratagem" was fine. The costuming was exquisite and very effective. The scenery was novel, although somewhat inferior to past University theatre productions in execution. It simulated the restoration stage and used an interesting device,

Will Speak To Chemists

Dr. W. Albert Noyes Jr., professor of chemistry and dean of the graduate college at the University of Rochester (N.Y.), will be the featured speaker tonight at the monthly meeting of the Iowa section of the American Chemical society.

Noyes' address, sponsored jointly by the Iowa section of the in that the scene changes were all half sets which contrasted effectively with a black backdrop. Play Suffered

But in terms of a consistently good performance, the play suffered.

The plays of the restoration are famous for their wit, and this carried, but the actors failed to exploit the possibilities inherent in the work.

In the beginning, the actors had some trouble with their articulation, and much of the first part of the first act was difficult to follow.

Stilted Manner
The cast in general, moved through their parts in sort of an academic, stilted manner.

The performance of Barry Fuller, A3, Sydney, Australia, as Scrub, a servant, completely dominated the evening. His interpretation, although occasionally a bit overdone, caught the inane and clumsiness of the character, and was a constant bright spot.

Archer, as played by William Smart, A4, Fairfield, was a convincing personality. Archer had a big part in the plot, and Smart did well with him.

Performances Thin
The performances of most of the other characters, especially female characters, were all uniformly thin and unconvincing. Perhaps the biggest fault of the production was its inability to pull together into a coherent presentation. The play is light and amusing, but the performance Wednesday night only hinted at the potentialities in "The Beaux' Stratagem."
