Germans Join Independent Nations Today

BONN, Germany (Thursday) (AP) — West Germany joins the ranks of independent nations today, and a big economy ax swings down on U.S. forces that have occupied this country for 10 years with British and French troops.

The big change comes automatically as soon as British and French high commissioners deposit their documents ratifying treaties restoring sovereignty and permitting Allied troops to remain only as defense forces. The United States and Germany already have taken this step.

Strict Economy
This is what it will mean for the Allied forces:

Strict economy is the order of the day. No more castles on the Rhine for Allied high-ups.

Allied troops in general will be required to observe German law. The Allied courts that tried their various nationals for offenses have faded out. Military offenses will still be tried by courts-martial.

The soldiers will be able to keep their most valuable privileges — the right to buy customs-free goods in the servicemen's stores. This means continued access to cheap cigarettes, coffee, tea, liquor, perfumes and other luxuries at prices far below German costs.

Cigarette Limit Cut

But rations on some of these items have been cut. At German request, such as the present limit of 10 packs of cigarettes weekly for U.S. soldiers instead of 15. They can buy no package coffee if they live in barracks.

The soldiers will still be able to drive their private automobiles on cheap quartermaster gasoline, and the cars will be free of the stiff German horsepower tax.

No Plush Living Quarters

For the West Germans, the sovereignty they long have been seeking will mean this: They will no longer have to contribute a big chunk of the cost of Allied occupation for such plush items as fancy living quarters, sports and entertainment.

Until the end of this year the Germans will continue to pay 600 million marks ($142,800,000) a month toward the cost of maintaining Allied forces. After that NATO will decide what West Germany's share will be.

The bulk of it will be absorbed increasingly in Germany's rearmament. A total of nine billion marks ($2,142,000,000) has been allotted by West Germany for defense for the first year.

Ceremony Today

All these changes which mean so much to the West Germans and the soldiers, if not to the world at large, will be launched by a simple ceremony today at Schaumburg palace, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's office. It is there the French and British high commissioners will deposit their ratifying documents at noon. The exact hour and minute will be precisely recorded, because at that moment some 60 allied laws and 130 ordinances become invalid.

Gains for the West German government and economy which sovereignty will bring include:

1. Bonn can seek diplomatic relations with any countries, including Russia and her satellites. Hitherto, Bonn's diplomatic contacts have been limited to friendly Western countries.
2. Prohibitions on rearmament are lifted.
3. Remaining controls on industry will cease. These limited making magnesium and synthetic rubber and banned atomic research. West Germany has volunteered to confine its atomic research for the next two years to the building of one atomic reactor of not more than 10 million watts. It also will not import more than 3,500 grams of nuclear fuel a year.
4. Air sovereignty will be restored, permitting building and operation of aircraft.
5. The allies lost their numerous powers of censorship and security control of the West German public.

Obtain Marriage License

MARION MARLOWE, singer fired by Arthur Godfrey April 15, poses with Larry Puck, 30 years her elder, outside the marriage license bureau, in St. Louis city hall. The two obtained their license Wednesday and plan to be married Friday morning at the home of Miss Marlowe's mother, Mrs. Marion Townsend, in St. Louis county. Puck is a producer for Godfrey.

Elect Spence to Science Academy

Kenneth W. Spence, head of the SUI department of psychology, was elected to the National Academy of Sciences at the academy's recent annual meeting in Washington, D.C., it was announced Wednesday.

Spence is the second member of the present Iowa faculty to be named to the academy, which was incorporated by act of congress in 1863 to advance science and to advise the government on scientific matters. Originally limited to 50 outstanding scientists, membership is now set at 450.

G. W. Stewart, professor-emeritus and former head of the department of physics, was elected to the academy in 1938. Another recent SUI academy member was the late Joseph H. Bodine, former head of zoology and director of the Iowa Lakeside laboratory. He was elected in 1953.

Loehwing's Comments

Commenting on Spence's election, Walter F. Loehwing, dean of the SUI graduate college, said Wednesday, "The National Academy of Sciences comprises America's most distinguished scientists, and election to membership in this august body is a signal distinction for a scholar who has not yet attained his 50th birthday."

"Selection of Professor Spence is an honor eminently merited for his work as a teacher and investigator in the field of experimental psychology. In view of his nearly two decades of dedicated service to his students and the department at Iowa, the university is pleased to felicitate Doctor Spence and to convey to him its very best wishes for the continued success of his important work."

Delivered Silliman Lectures

Last month, Spence delivered the annual Silliman lectures at Yale university, becoming the first psychologist in more than 50 years of these presentations

To Honor 59 At Finkbine Annual Dinner

Fifty-nine campus leaders among men students at SUI have been invited to attend the 33d annual Finkbine dinner Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in Iowa Memorial Union.

The dinner is a traditional event on the SUI campus. It was inaugurated in 1917 by the late W. O. Finkbine, a former Des Moines businessman and an 1880 graduate of the SUI college of law. Finkbine died in 1930.

Theme of Dinner

Theme of the annual dinner will be "The Importance of Leadership in the American Way of Life." Robert F. Ray, director of the SUI institute of public affairs, will serve as toastmaster.

Representing SUI alumni at the dinner will be George P. Lloyd, a 1926 graduate of the SUI college of commerce. Lloyd is now a partner in an investment and insurance firm in Joliet, Ill.

Paul Bartlett, C4, Bedford, will give the response for the students attending the dinner. President Virgil M. Hancher will deliver the traditional closing address.

Tapping Ceremonies

During the dinner, Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary society, will "tap" new members for initiation. Frank Myers, M4, Sheldon, president of the society, will preside over the "tapping" ceremony.

Also attending the dinner will be students still on the campus who were guests at previous dinners, alumni who attended previous dinners while students at SUI and friends of Finkbine. The campus organizations and the students who will represent them:

A Busy Man

LT. GOV. LEO ELTHON was a busy man Wednesday, the actual adjournment day of the 56th general assembly. Here he signs bills passed last Saturday by the senate. Minutes later he slipped down the back stairs to act as governor, in the absence of Gov. Leo Hoegh, when committees arrived with notification that both houses were ready to adjourn sine die (without appointing a future assembling date). He then returned to the senate to join House Speaker A. C. Hanson in bringing down their gavels for the last time this session. (Story and another picture: page 6)

Senate Passes Ike's Foreign Trade Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate Wednesday night overwhelmingly passed President Eisenhower's foreign trade bill, empowering him to cut American tariffs to spur world commerce.

Approval came on a 75-13 roll call vote.

It was a big victory for the President on what he has called a key measure in the effort to bolster the free world against communism. The senate beat back several attempts to alter the legislation from the floor.

The bill now goes to conference with the house but the President is assured of success on these major provisions since they have been approved by both houses:

Reciprocal Trade
1. An extension of the 21-year-old reciprocal trade agreements law to June 30, 1958. The present

Ike Proposes Free Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower proposed Wednesday, if necessary, for the U.S. to buy all commercial output of Salk polio vaccine.

He told his news conference: "There will never be a child in the United States denied this emergency protection for want of ability to pay. Of that we are absolutely certain."

"It is going to be distributed equitably to every state in the union."

Eisenhower made those pledges just before Press Secretary James C. Hagerty issued a statement saying, in part: "If a situation ever develops in this country where children are deprived of the vaccine because of inability to pay or maldistribution of the supply available, the President would immediately ask congress for authority to permit the secretary of health, education and welfare to buy the entire output of the vaccine, other than that already allocated to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"The department in turn would be in a position to distribute free of cost to the states their allotted share of the vaccine over an emergency period."

10 1/2 MILLION CC
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health service announced Wednesday it has authorized five manufacturers of Salk polio vaccine to release a total of 10 1/2 million cubic centimeters since April 12. It has withheld action on 3.9 million CC awaiting additional data.

Says Checks, Balances Are Not Adequate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — SUI President Virgil M. Hancher fears "we are not prepared for the problems that lie ahead" because the system of checks and balances set up by the framers of the U.S. Constitution is breaking down.

President Hancher declared there is a "revolutionary and unconstitutional struggle now in progress for the supremacy of the legislative over the executive branches of our government — federal and state." He said the struggle is serious at the national level and even more serious at the state level.

Address at Ohio State

Hancher expressed his views in a formal address at Ohio State university. He was chosen to give "The Shepard Lecture", dedicated to the late Dean Walter J. Shepard, a distinguished American political scientist.

Citing a steady encroachment of legislative power into the executive functions of government, Mr. Hancher said:

"By various devices the legislative power seems destined through the years to erode the powers of the executive and reduce them to its will, or what is equally probable, to substitute its own committee structure in the exercise of real executive power — all without the trouble or inconvenience of amending the constitution. Our ancestors thought that this was the way to oppressive, or even tyrannical, government. It is for our generation to decide whether they were right or wrong."

Change Public Attitude

The SUI president says one possible or partial solution may lie in changing the public attitude toward politics and public service.

"We can hardly survive incompetence in government," he said. "To . . . the endless adventure of governing men we must call the youth and ability of our time."

In the federal government, Hancher said, the accumulative pressure of legislative power has been exerted on the executive branch principally through congressional investigating committees and through the power of the purse. Through congressional investigations, he said, the legislative branch often "seeks to bend the executive to the legislative will."

Governor's Powers Limited

At the state level, he continued, the executive power is seldom great to begin with.

"The governor often has little authority other than that given him by the prestige of his office and the influence of his personality. Frequently, too, the heads of other executive departments are elected directly by the people. They are co-equal with and independent of the governor. Thus with the executive power of the State subdivided and weakened, the task of encroachment is an easy one.

"The chief devices in this regard are restrictive legislation, legislative supervisory or interim committees, and the power of the purse.

Committee Chairman's Powers

"Legislative supervisory committees, as the term is used here, are those continuing or permanent committees which possess power, between sessions of the legislature, to review the operation of state departments, boards and agencies, to appropriate funds for emergencies, to recommend appropriations and new legislation, and generally to exercise such other powers as are granted to them or which may accrue to them through the reluctance of those with whom they deal to challenge their assumptions of authority.

"Some of these committees may and do exercise as much real authority as the governor himself, and the day may not be distant when the chairman of such a committee will in effect be the chief administrative officer or 'prime minister' of the State."

Garner Cites City's Future School Needs

Iowa City will need a new elementary school in the southeast area of town in the near future, Buford W. Garner, superintendent of schools, said in a talk before the Lions club Wednesday.

Garner attributed this to possible students from outside areas that seek annexation to the Iowa City school district, and to the construction of the Procter and Gamble plant.

Garner predicted increases in enrollment of 290 in the junior high school and 377 in the senior high school in 1960-61.

He also predicted a high school enrollment of 1,663 in 1968-69 which he said might mean the construction of a new junior high school.

Present problems which Garner said the district must consider are adjustment of classes to keep the junior high school from becoming overcrowded and re-assignment of pupils in the southeast area of Iowa City toward construction of new buildings.

Included in the long range problems of the school district, Garner said, is the possible annexation of larger rural areas to the city schools. Both Coralville and East Lucas township boards have desired hearings with the Iowa City board on annexation to the district.

Solving the junior high and senior high school problem by means of a three year junior high school would call for consideration of a new building within 15 years, Garner said.

Phenix City Figure Acquitted of Murder

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The jury, trying ousted Prosecuting Attorney Arch Ferrell of the murder of the crime fighter who had sworn to clean up Phenix City, broke a 13-hour deadlock Wednesday and acquitted Ferrell.

Ferrell was the second of three former public officials to be tried for the murder last June 18 of A. L. Patterson, Democratic nominee for attorney general who had vowed to rid Phenix City of its reign of racketeering.

Democrats Re-Unite—

The coalition that has ruled congress for the past four sessions may be breaking up over farm price supports. Since 1949 northern Republicans and southern Democrats have combined forces against the liberal Democrats of the north.

Current congressional hearings and debate over farm price supports may have ended this alliance.

Big-city Democrats and labor leaders have stayed out of farm policy debates for years, indicating that they couldn't care less. Most of the southern and midwestern farm bloc vote, therefore, has been directed against pro-labor legislation.

This situation has divided the Democratic party for several years, enabling the Republicans to lose elections, but run congress.

The urban-labor bloc has taken a firm stand on farm legislation in the current session of congress. CIO President Walter Reuther told a house agriculture committee that labor was in favor of a 90 per cent farm price support program. Pro-labor congressmen have taken an active part in the house debate of the price support bill, demanding that the full 90 per cent of parity be returned to the farmer.

The labor bloc is not taking the farmers' side just to be opposing President Eisenhower, who is in favor of flexible farm supports. Labor expects something in return: a more favorable attitude by farm congressmen when pro-labor legislation comes before the house.

Rep. Victor Anfuso (D-N.Y.), who doesn't have a handful of farmers in his Brooklyn constituency, has been one of the strongest supporters of high price supports. In the house debate this week he urged his fellow big-city Democrats to make a deal with farm bloc congressmen to increase price supports and minimum wages in industry.

Said Anfuso: "We can't expect good old southern hospitality from farm bloc congressmen if we don't answer them now in their hour of need."

The Eisenhower administration stands to lose no matter what is the outcome of the price support battle. It will see arrayed against it a Democratic party with a degree of unity that has not been seen since the early days of Franklin D. Roosevelt's presidency.

A Wise Move—

The change in SUI class hours seems to us a wise move. Just think; no more mid-day madness of leaving class at 12:20 (if your professor is the Cal Coolidge type and is done in 50 minutes), dashing home, gulping down a dinner of sorts, and hurrying to a 1:10 class. This change may cut down the student casualty rate; both from traffic accidents and acute indigestion.

And perhaps students will have time for a little afternoon nap at home instead of in that first afternoon class.

The change should be welcomed by students and staff, in fact by everyone except those responsible for meal service in campus residences. The noon meal will have to be served in two shifts.

The extra class period which the new system will afford will be welcome to SUI administrators, increasingly plagued by too many students, too little time and too few classrooms.

But — the Iowa legislature take note — this "remedy" won't begin to solve these problems. Perhaps the end of the class day can be pushed back to 6 p.m. as it is at our sister institution at Ames. It seems doubtful, however, if attendance would be very good for any classes scheduled to begin at 6:30 a.m.

Schedule juggling can be carried only so far. And in addition to all these woes of running a university, there will always be the student who discovers to his horror the first day of fall classes that he has forgotten to schedule his lunch hour.

A Lesson from History—

America's ties with the Old World, which have nothing to do with the Marshall plan or foreign aid programs but refer rather to our older, cultural heritage, were brought to mind this week in a rather unique way.

A Daily Iowan reader sent a clipping from a Lebanese magazine in Beirut, outlining plans for the mayors of 25 U.S. cities named Lebanon to visit the Middle East during that nation's Homecoming year, 1955.

The clipping further stated that the United States has a corner on namesakes for the Biblical Lebanon. There are only about 30 in the entire world, South America running a poor second with three.

Accustomed as we are to finding such places on the road map as Madrid, New London, Plymouth, Paris and Edinburgh, it is easy to forget that our early settlers borrowed these names from lands and cultures they knew, in many cases, more intimately than the country they were now calling "home."

It would be much easier for all of us to extend a hand of international friendship, if we would remember just this simple lesson from history.

Nazism 'Played Out' In Germany: Krekeler

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of 12 interviews by Central Press correspondent Mark Leonard with foreign ambassadors to the United States.)

By MARK LEONARD
WASHINGTON — West Germany's ambassador to the United States said that Nazism, "has played itself out" in Germany and "has no chance of exerting any influence" when the republic becomes a reformed and sovereign state.

Ambassador Heinz L. Krekeler said, "The results of all elections in the past years show this. And there are no indications that this situation will change."

Krekeler expressed complete confidence that the Paris accords granting sovereignty to a reformed Germany will "soon become a reality" and emphasized that "rearming means our obligation to share the burden of defense carried by all free nations."

He pointed out, "The treaties are an expression of the close bonds which already exist between Germany and the nations of the free world," and added: "After the uprising of June 17, 1953, there can be no doubt that the population of the Soviet-occupied zone of Germany also considers itself bound by these ties to the free world and shares our ideas."

"For this reason we feel certain that the treaties which express this partnership will soon become a reality."

Asked what effect Soviet propaganda has had in attempting to defeat German rearmament, Krekeler said, "A country, one quarter of whose population is still under foreign subjugation, is in a difficult psychological situation. It is only natural that the Soviets are trying to exploit this situation to the utmost."

"However, as proved by the latest federal elections, the Communist party in Western Germany has only very few followers and still less members. It received less than 2.2 per cent of the total poll."

"I have to admit, though, that the Soviet government, by a combination of threats and offers has made some impression on the German people."

"When judging the feelings of the German population one should bear in mind that more than 50,000 families in Germany share the feelings of the 11 American families whose dear ones are held prisoners in Red China, because the Soviet government still holds, as far as we know, about 50,000 German soldiers as prisoners."

Krekeler expressed hope that West Germany will one day be reunited with East Germany and said that "reunification means to us that we want the fundamental human rights of 18 million human beings restored."

Deep Obligation
"It is understood that every German feels a deep obligation to do his utmost that this goal may be reached in peace," Krekeler went on. "We are grateful to the American people that they back us in this endeavor and we therefore hope that ratification of the Paris agreements — which would put the seal on a partnership already established — will further the solution of this specific German problem."

The veteran diplomat declared that he has "no doubt, whatsoever, that Germany will reach that status of equality envisaged by the treaty that will take the place of the occupation statute and restore sovereignty."

"In our opinion," Krekeler said, "rearming means our obligation to share the burden of defense carried by all free nations, if we want to enjoy the privileges of partnership."

Co-Existence
Turning to the topic of "war or co-existence," Krekeler stated that he does not believe that anybody considers this the real choice in front of us.

"War," he said, "cannot be considered an alternative because it would mean utter destruction of everything that is dear to us. Therefore, we have so solemnly pledged ourselves only to solve our national problems only by peaceful means. The choice is one between different ways and means of solving those problems."

"It is essential, however, that the free nations stand united and explore together all the possibilities for increasing our security and establishing peace throughout the world."

Interpreting the News—

Atomic Future Is Upon Us

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The growing number of international agreements for development of peaceful uses of the atom suggests a snowballing movement toward the atomic future.

The United States has just signed an agreement to lease uranium to Turkey and provide the technical assistance needed for building and operating a reactor there.

This agreement is merely the first of quite a number expected to go through soon, a number which probably will be greatly increased after this summer's conference of experts on the best ways of exploiting the Eisenhower-United Nations proposal.

Two smaller nations — Holland and Norway — already are cooperating in the operation of a reactor in Holland.

They and 10 other European nations also are cooperating, under the auspices of the United Nations, in construction of a reactor in Switzerland as a center for nuclear research. This plant is well under way. Norway announced March 24 that she was working on an atomic-powered merchant ship which would demonstrate the possibilities in the ports of the world, and a month later President Eisenhower announced a similar project for the United States.

The United States is also trying to develop portable plants which could be leased or loaned to power-hungry spots, plants which might even supply the power for building other permanent plants, or for other industrial construction.

Great Britain has progressed farther than anyone in the development and planning of atomic power plants to fit a particular economic situation, since she finds the exploitation of her coal veins increasingly uneconomical.

All of this points to something like a "crash" program to tie the free world's health and economy to the atom years before it has been anticipated.

Ten years ago nuclear fission meant, to everyone except to a few researchers, merely a terrific explosion. Now the use of isotopes in all sorts of industrial and medical research is becoming commonplace.

Uranium's general use for production of electric power, while at the same time continuing to produce plutonium for other purposes, appears to depend only on decreasing its cost and increasing its availability as demand decreases the availability of other sources.

Subscription TV Stirs Hot Debate

NEW YORK (AP) — The great debate is on over whether a coin box should be attached to your television set.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in early June begins formal consideration of whether it should authorize occasional or even extensive use of present free TV channels for subscription television.

Proponents contend it would enable you, upon payment of say a dollar, to see a first-run movie, a current Broadway hit or a championship boxing bout. And without commercials. They argue that it would supplement rather than substitute for free TV, and would make it possible for more communities to have more stations.

Historic Right
Opponents declare toll TV would violate your historic right to free reception over channels set aside for public use, a principle established for broadcast radio and maintained thus far in TV. They contend it would actually take over what you now see for nothing, make you pay for it, and add little not now available.

The heat of the debate, the legal complexities involved, the possible political repercussions all indicate months, and probably years, will elapse before the issue is resolved.

But the arguments was hot as if the case were going to a jury by nightfall.

Offer Time
CBS scheduled a special television program, for an airing of views by spokesmen for the opposing sides.

NBC has offered 15 minutes of free time to one of the prime proponents of subscription TV, Zenith Radio corporation of Chicago, and 15 minutes to opponents.

Meanwhile, the two sides are blasting at each other with public statements.

How It Works
Here, in brief, is how subscription TV works:

A station in your city authorized to use it would be able, for certain hours a week, to scramble its signals while presenting subscription programs. With an ordinary set you'd get unusable signals from that station.

But if you were a subscriber, you'd have a decoding attachment on your set that would clear up the signals and give you normal reception if you had paid your fee to see the special telecast.

There are two principal types of decoders proposed. One would operate upon insertion of the proper coins. The other would function upon insertion of a punched code card you'd either subscribe to through the mail or buy at the counter of a nearby store.

Zenith has developed both types of operations. International Telemeter corporation, subsidiary of Paramount Pictures corporation, has a coin-operated type. A third firm in the field is Skiatron Electronics and Television corporation with a coded punch card system.

All have conducted extensive tests to demonstrate the technical feasibility of their systems.

Now Prohibited
Others favoring subscription TV include sports promoters, some stage actors and producers. Joining the movie theaters in opposition have been the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, a number of individual telecasters and some advertising interests.

Toll TV is prohibited under present FCC regulations.

The commission also has to decide whether it has the authority to license such a service or whether new legislation by congress would be required.

Old Capitol Remembers

One Year Ago Today

Cpl. Edward S. Dickinson was convicted and sentenced to 10 years at hard labor on charges of informing on his comrades in a North Korean prisoner of war camp.

Prof. Charles B. Richter, director of the SUI concert band, made his last appearance as bandmaster at a formal concert in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Five Years Ago Today

President Harry S. Truman reversed his stand and opened state department loyalty files to senators investigating charges by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that the department harbored scores of Communists.

Ten Years Ago Today

All German troops in Denmark, Holland and northwestern Germany surrendered unconditionally.

A total of $54,827.08 was collected for taxes in Johnson county during April, 1950, according to County Treasurer Lumir W. Jansa.

Twenty Years Ago Today

A new Iowa beer law which prohibits sale or delivery of beer between 1 and 6 a.m. daily was signed by Democratic Governor Clyde L. Hergrens.

Vice conditions under the previous city administration were attacked at a special session of the Iowa City council, and action was taken for appeal to the Iowa supreme court from a district court ruling requiring reapportionment of former Police Chief W. H. Bender. Judge Harold D. Evans had issued a writ requiring reinstatement of Bender under the Iowa Veterans Preference law.

Professor To Talk On Mayan Culture

Prof. Raymond H. Thompson, archaeologist from the University of Kentucky, will give an illustrated lecture Monday at 8:15 p.m. in Shambaugh lecture room.

Thompson will speak on "Decorative Features of Maya Ceremonial Structures" and show colored slides of buildings from ancient sites in Yucatan, Mex.

The lecture, open to the public, is sponsored by the graduate college and the Iowa Archaeological society.

SUI DAMES' CLUB

The drama and music group of the SUI Dames' club will meet tonight in the home of Mrs. David Palermo, 137 Riverside park. The group did not meet last week as announced.

Bridal Gowns Show Long-Torso Influence

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Newsfeatures

That dream of a wedding gown which every girl cherishes and undergoes major changes when she actually starts to shop for this all-important costume. For not all wedding gowns are strictly traditional any more. There are style changes each season, with the lines of the current silhouettes subtly translated into bridal terms.

This spring, for instance, the bride will see much of the Parisian long-torso look in the newest wedding gowns, which combine traditional charm with up-to-the-minute fashion.

More Pastels Shown

Although white still is by far the most popular color for wedding gowns, high-style designers are showing more and more pale pastels, and even, in one instance, a delicate flower print of sheer organza—as bridal as anything could be, yet completely non-traditional.

The summer bride may choose her gown in plain, embroidered or embossed organza, in silk organza, in net, tulle or lace. One of the season's most charming gowns is made of sheer cotton batiste trimmed in old-fashioned eyel embroidery.

Lace Gowns

The chalk-white look of cotton lace is effective over pale pink or blue taffeta and tulle, and has a stylized charm like the icing on the wedding cake. Imported laces, from France and Italy, make some of the season's loveliest gowns, with either full or chapel length trains, usually shown over taffeta and net, with voluminous petticoats.

Often the headdress is designed to match the gowns, and may be a simple cap or coronet if the same fabric or of the lace used in trimming the dress. The circular short tulle veil is shown with most of today's gowns, al-

AKG's Elect New Officers

Delores Rozinek, D1, Solon, has been elected president of Alpha Kappa Gamma, professional dental hygiene fraternity for women.

Other new officers are Margaret Chambers, D1, Ft. Dodge, vice-president and social chairman; Jan Brockschink, D1, Norway, corresponding secretary; Nancy Norman, D1, Denison, recording secretary; Alice Codrington, D1, Des Moines, treasurer, and Jean Hoopes, D1, Marshalltown, pledge trainer.

Mrs. Janet Burnham, Iowa City, is alumnae advisor to the group. Miss Chambers announced plans for a Mother's day tea which will be held Sunday. The tea will honor all dental hygiene students and their mothers, Mrs. Burnham, and Prof. Helen Newell of the college of dentistry.

Edward S. Rose says—

Foreign Students Plan Open House

Pictures of mothers of SUI foreign students will be on display at the open house at the International Center between 1 and 3 p.m. Sunday. The mother's name, hobbies and interests also will be listed.

Sarang Iyer, G. Lucknow, India, is in charge of the open house. He is being assisted by Felicitas Sancier, G. Manila, Philippines; and Avelino Sanchez, A0, Havana, Cuba.

"There will be a number of students at the open house to welcome visitors," Iyer explained. "We also plan to serve cold drinks."

The scrapbook of the International Center and pictures of the International Festival which was held in December also will be on display.

Two open houses will be held Saturday between 3 and 5 p.m. These will be at the hospital school for severely handicapped children and at the Parklawn apartment building for married students.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Relief pitcher Tom Gorman saved the Kansas City Athletics another game Wednesday with a scoreless three-inning stint as the A's defeated Baltimore 6-5.

Gus Zernial's home run in the fifth was the winning margin. The victory, which went to Gorman, was the seventh in the last nine for the amazing A's. And it was the second straight day Gorman had gone in to thwart an Oriole rally in the late innings. He stopped them

Tickets Being Sold For First Annual 'Lettermen's Day'

Tickets for Saturday's intra-squad baseball game plus a dinner and dance Saturday evening are now being sold on campus by Iowa lettermen. The annual final spring intra-squad game is being turned into a "First Annual Letterman's Day," with the three events going as a package for $5.

Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson will be the featured speaker at the dinner. Wilkinson will also be on campus Friday as a lecturer in Iowa Coach Forest Evashevski's football school. To make the dinner more interesting for the guests, the lettermen will be seated throughout the dining room, rather than assembled at a special table, according to Jerry Ridley, a member of the committee arranging the dinner.

Ridley said that Iowa President Virgil Hancher, Athletic Director Paul Brecher and Evashevski will also speak. The Paul Pearson orchestra will provide music for the dance. Tickets may also be purchased at John Wilson's, Whetstone's and Racine's until Friday, and thereafter at the field house ticket windows.

Pirates Tip Braves, 5-4

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, well on their way to becoming the "nuisance kids" of the National league, edged the Milwaukee Braves, 5-4, Wednesday night for their fourth consecutive victory.

The Braves almost pulled the game out of the fire in the ninth, scoring one run. A sensational catch by rookie Roberto Clemente saved the day, Clemente leaping in front of the right field stands to take George Crowe's long drive. The play came with Andy Pafko on third and Hank Aaron on second with two men out.

The defeat was charged to starter Lew Burdette who was relieved by Dave Jolly in the fifth.

Cubs Lose 11-Inning Game, 4-3

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher's shakeup of the New York Giants lineup paid off in the 11th inning Wednesday with a 4-3 victory over the surprising Chicago Cubs.

Whitey Lockman broke up the pitching duel between Ruben Gomez and rookie Sam Jones with a home run after one was out in the 11th inning. This blow brought Gomez his first victory of the season after two defeats.

In addition, Foster Castleman, who played second base and led off in the well-shaken batting order, hit his first major league homer. And Willie Mays, who had a generally miserable day, failed for the first time in his major league career to make one of his waisthigh "basket" catches.

Willie, who fanned twice, failed to make an easy catch of Ernie Banks' high fly in the eighth inning, but a double play a moment later reduced the penalty for the error.

Castleman replaced Davey Williams who was troubled by a bad back.

Gomez shut out the Cubs in all innings but the third. Then three hits, a walk, a wild pitch and a steal produced three Chicago runs.

Dodgers Blast Cards, 12-4, On 3 Homers

BROOKLYN (AP)—Home runs by Gil Hodges, Duke Snider and Roy Campanella backed up the clutch pitching of Johnny Podres Wednesday night to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 12-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

It was the sixth straight triumph and the 17th in 19 games for the red-hot National League leaders.

Hodges homered in the second inning, with no one on. Snider's homer was a three-run blow in the third and Campanella parked one in the eighth, scoring Pee Wee Reese and Snider ahead of him.

These pyrotechnics made it easy for pitcher Johnny Podres, who started the game by striking out the side in the first inning but went on to give up nine hits, serving up a pair of home run balls himself.

Rip Repulski homered in the fourth for two runs, scoring Bill Virdon, who had doubled. Ken Boyer lost one starting off the sixth. The Cards added a fourth run in the eighth on Virdon's second double and Red Schoendienst's single.

Nixon's 1-Hitter Beats Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Temperamental Willard Nixon snapped the Boston Red Sox' six game losing streak as he pitched them to a 3-2 decision over Detroit Wednesday night in an 11-inning duel with the Tigers' Frank Lary.

The setback cost the second place Tigers a chance to take over first place in the American league as league leading Cleveland bowed to New York, 11-5. The Indians thus clung to their half game lead.

Nixon, who had a 5-1 record against Detroit last year, took up where he left off in the 1934 season as he silenced the Tigers' home run guns. He gave up seven singles and a double.

Michigan, Minnesota To Meet Saturday in First Place Duel

CHICAGO (AP)—Co-leaders Michigan and Minnesota, matching hard hitting and tight pitching respectively, tangle for undisputed first place in a Big Ten baseball doubleheader at Ann Arbor, Mich., Saturday.

Official league statistics released Wednesday credit Michigan with a .353 team batting average and Minnesota with yielding only 6 earned runs in the 23 scored against the Gophers in six games. The two leaders each have a 5-1 record.

Minnesota's Jerry Thomas is the loop's top pitcher with a 3-0 record, while teammate Roy Oistad, along with Michigan's ace mound pair, Marvin Wisniewski and Bill Thurston, each has 2-0.

Top conference hitter with a .643 average is George Smith, Michigan State second baseman. Don Eaddy, Michigan third baseman, has .500, but leads in total hits with 12 and stolen bases with six.

Leading in homers with four, just one shy of the 1941 record of five by Michigan's Dick Wakefield, is outfielder Jim Petreshene of Illinois. Petreshene's only other hit in four games was a single.

Leading defensive team is Indiana with only three errors and seven double plays in four games.

Graham said that the applications will be accepted the week of May 23-27 so that the athletic department may determine local ticket needs before putting tickets on sale to the general public.

Applications for faculty and staff ticket books for the four home football games next fall are now being mailed according to Iowa Ticket Manager Francis (Buzz) Graham.

The $7 books cover the following games: Sept. 24, Kansas State; Oct. 8, Indiana (Dad's Day); Oct. 15, Purdue (Homecoming); and Nov. 5, Minnesota. According to Graham, each staff or faculty member on the full-time university budget as of Sept. 1, 1935, is eligible for two books.

Chicago (AP)—Mickey Vernon's fifth homer of the season, a three-run blast in the third, helped ease the Washington Senators to a 5-4 triumph over the Chicago White Sox Wednesday. Bob Nieman blasted a three-run homer in the third for the White Sox.

The Senators moved into the ninth with a 5-4 lead behind Bob Porterfield's steady pitching, but the Washington ace weakened and left it up to Chuck Stobbs to mow down the Sox with two men on and one out.

Nieman also singled across a

Porterfield gave seven hits, holding the Sox hitless after singles by Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso in the third, until Fox' double in the eighth.

But Sox starter Jack Harshman yielded a bases-empty homer by Jim Busby in the second and Vernon's No. 5 circuit wallop after singles by Eddie Yost and Ed FitzGerald in the third for his second defeat against two victories.

Redlegs Top Phils, 7-3; Post Homers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—With Ted Kluszewski out temporarily because of an injured ankle, Wally Post took over the home run assignment Wednesday night as Cincinnati's Redlegs walloped the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-3. Post hit his third and fourth homers of the campaign, good for three runs.

Manager Birdie Tobbetts kept Ted on the bench because of a twisted ankle, sustained in a slide home in the fifth inning of Tuesday night's 7-5 Cincinnati win over the same Phillies. Bob Borkowski took over the first base chores.

Post hit his first homer in the fourth inning after catcher Smokey Burgess had singled. His second came with no one on base in the sixth.

Everything it takes to be "TOPS"

STANDARD GASOLINES
...balanced for top power, economy, and all 'round performance
... and raised to the Highest Octane levels in our history

We are mighty proud of our new gasolines. They have been stepped up to the highest octane ratings in our history... designed to give knock-free performance in the most modern of high compression engines, and older cars as well. But important as octane is, good gasolines need something more. They must be balanced too. STANDARD WHITE CROWN and RED CROWN Gasolines are balanced to give you top performance, with controlled volatility—the right gasoline for the right season—with no vapor lock even in the hottest summer weather.

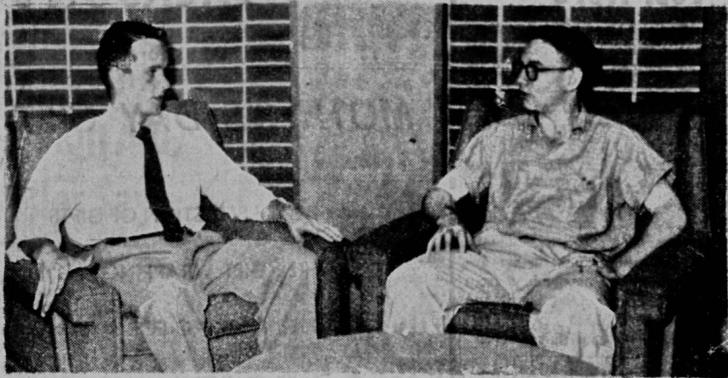

Try a tankful of one of these clean-burning, high octane, balanced gasolines today, and prove to yourself that there is a difference in gasolines.

Are all gasolines pretty much the same?
NO, THEY'RE NOT. Standard's research brings you the best in gasolines. And we guard their quality from refinery to your car through exclusive terminals, lake tankers, river barges, pipelines, tank cars and trucks. No gasolines arrive at or go out of our terminals but Standard Gasolines. That's why they are distinctly different!

You expect more from STANDARD and get it!

Joe Costa To Talk Saturday at Iowa News Photo Meet

Joe Costa, chief photographer for the King Features syndicate and the New York Sunday Mirror magazine, will be the featured speaker Saturday evening for the annual Iowa Press Photographers' banquet, highlight of the eighth-annual News Photography short course and Iowa Press Photographers convention which begins Friday at SUI.

Final plans for the three-day event have been announced by its director, Prof. Edward F. Mason of the SUI journalism faculty. Registration will begin Friday at 4 p.m. in the Communications center.

Sponsored by the SUI school of journalism in cooperation with the university extension division, the short course will include lectures by widely-known authorities with demonstrations and contests.

The banquet will include the installation of the IPPA as a chapter of the National Press Photographers association and crowning of "Miss IPPA of 1955."

Ike Says Mamie In Good Health

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday gave a calm, rather detailed report on his wife's health. He said she is not as robust and strong as some people but "she is a healthy person, I think, in the general meaning of that word."

The President declined, at his news conference, to talk about the recent statement by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler that Mrs. Eisenhower's health was a factor which might cause her husband to refuse re-nomination in 1956.

A reporter cited this statement, together with a White House announcement last week that the first lady has not yet recovered fully from an illness, as reasons for bringing up the subject.

Mr. Eisenhower said his wife's health for the past two years has "probably been better than normal," better, that is, than ever the past 10 years.

She also has an allergy to some of these drugs that some of the rest of us can take without any great difficulty, and it has been a real problem for the doctors to bring her back to her accustomed state of health."

Confined to Bed
Mrs. Eisenhower was confined to bed in March by what was described at the time as a respiratory ailment. Since then she has spent part of her time at the farm she and the President own near Gettysburg, Pa.

Last week the White House announced she was canceling engagements on the advice of the presidential physician, Maj. Gen. Howard Snyder, to help speed her recovery.

Illinois Woman Held On Drunk Driving Count
Mrs. Ursula Donaldson, 36, Rock Island, Ill., entered a plea of innocent this morning in Johnson county district court to a charge of drunken driving.

Judge Harold D. Evans ordered her held in lieu of $500 bond and announced that trial on the charge would be held during the May term of court.

Mrs. Donaldson was arrested by a highway patrolman Saturday on highway 6 east of Iowa City, when her auto was found in a ditch.

PUMPING STATION FLOODS
STORM LAKE (AP) — Storm Lake was without water Wednesday, following a flood in the pumping station during the early hours of the day.

Charles Perry, night watchman, was found unconscious on the floor of the station early Wednesday, and was taken to a hospital. The cause of his sudden illness had not been determined.

Red MIGs In Skirmish Near Matsus

TAIPEH, Formosa (Thursday) (AP) — Communist jet fighters Wednesday challenged Nationalist planes for the first time in the Matsua area, underscoring reports of a Red air buildup on Formosa's approaches.

The Chinese air force said four MIG15s attacked four propeller planes.

The planes were on patrol off the coast 50 miles north of the Matsua islands and about 150 miles north of Formosa.

No Damage
A communique reported the four Nationalist planes returned undamaged. No damage to the MIGs was claimed.

Other Nationalist planes attacked five small gunboats in Amoy harbor across the Formosa strait. The air force said one of the gunboats was set afire and two others were damaged. The gunboats were 300 to 400 tonners.

The big news, however, was the appearance so near Formosa of the fast Communist jet fighters of the type that fought in the Korean war.

Best Red Base
It was possible they came from a new air base at Lukiao, described as the largest and best in all Red China.

Lukiao is 200 miles north of the Matsus.

The air force said the air battle lasted two minutes.

The Interior Ministry's Tatro News agency said the Red land and sea buildup was moving ahead steadily along the southeast coast, from the Quemoy area 175 miles northward to the Matsus.

Meanwhile, Foreign Minister George Yeh said that his government "has never requested, nor has the United States government offered, ground forces to be stationed in Taiwan, Formosa."

Friday Set For Informal Folk Dance

A folk dance get-together, one of a series on the SUI campus, will be held Friday in the women's gym at 8 p.m.

The sessions combine an instruction period for beginners, from 8 to 10 p.m., followed by open dancing.

Larry O'Brien, A1, Portland, Me., leader of the informal group sponsoring the series, said that "folk dancing is just beginning to catch on locally."

Samples of Swiss, Welsh, Swedish, Israeli and Mexican dances have been demonstrated at past dances.

O'Brien said that attendance at the sessions has been rising steadily since the first dance last winter, and he predicts a further increase.

Stressing the group's desire to recruit new persons to the folk dance hobby, O'Brien explained that considerable time is spent at each meeting to teach the steps to newcomers.

TO SHOW PAINTING
Three new ways to paint pictures will be demonstrated on this week's "Adventures in Art" television program, produced by SUI for televising over WOITV, Ames, Friday at 10 a.m.

Few Legislators, 50 Children Present—

56th Iowa General Assembly Adjourns

DES MOINES (AP)—Seven representatives and four senators plus 50 school children were on hand Wednesday afternoon when the 56th general assembly adjourned at 2:16.

The final bang of the gavels by Lt. Gov. Leo Elthon and Speaker A. C. Hanson (R-Inwood) brought the 1955 session to a close after 115 days. The 1953 session lasted 109 days.

The house and senate clocks were stopped last Friday, and just before the end Wednesday they were started so that on the record the job was completed at 5 p.m. Friday.

109 Day Session

That means the official reports will show final adjournment five days earlier than the actual quitting time. This makes the official length of the session 109 days.

The reason for using this traditional device is that if the lawmakers are called into a special session before the next regular session, they will be paid for the special session at the regular session per day rate.

The school children who witnessed the close of the session came from Coon Rapids and Fremont. Several lobbyists also were present.

Recalls 500 Visitors

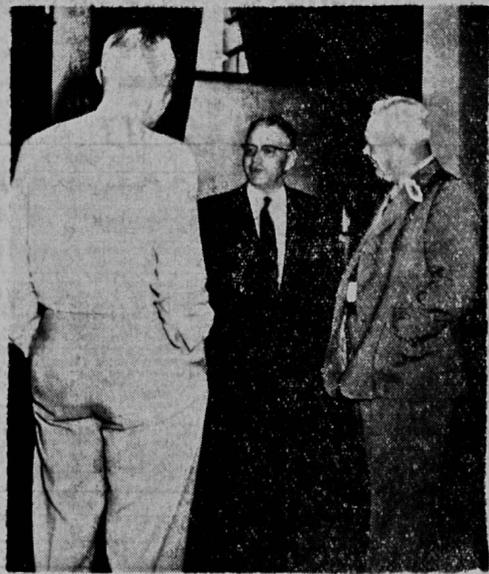

A. C. Gustafson, for many years chief clerk of the house, recalled that as many as 500 visitors were present for the close of the sessions years ago. At that time, he said, the sessions ended simultaneously with the close of bill passing. Bill passing ended for the 1955 session last Saturday.

The two houses carried out the usual final formalities Wednesday. A house committee was appointed to notify the senate that the house was ready to adjourn sine die (without appointing a future assembling date). A senate committee was named to so notify the house. And a joint committee was appointed to notify the governor that the legislature was ready to adjourn.

Gov. Leo Hoegh was in Washington attending a governor's conference. So after Elthon had named the senators to notify the governor, he slipped down the

Few Peanuts At Ball Park; House Acts

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democratic plan to return to rigid farm price supports ran into trouble in the house Wednesday—partly because Brooklyn Dodger fans don't get enough peanuts.

Bitter complaints were aired on the house floor that as a result of price props and government controls there are mighty few peanuts in the bags sold to baseball rooters in Brooklyn.

Northern Democrats joined with Republicans in a teller vote of 186 to 150 to drop peanuts from the list of commodities that are considered basic for price support purposes.

The peanut amendment was offered by Rep. William J. Green Jr. (D-Pa.), who said the government has lost $118 million supporting peanut prices since 1946. He said the support has discriminated against users of peanuts.

The bill before the house, backed chiefly by Democrats from farm districts, would scrap the administration program of government supports ranging from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity. It would return to the system of rigid 90 per cent of parity supports in effect until this year.

ELECT 2 ENGINEERS

back stairs and was acting as governor when the notification committee reached the chief executive's office.

Congratulates Legislature

Elthon then returned to the senate to join Hanson in banging their gavels for the last time.

Hoegh sent a telegram which was read to the house and senate. It congratulated the legislature on doing "a good job."

There might be a special session before the next regular session convenes in January of 1957.

A committee was created to study the state's entire tax structure. After it makes its recommendations the governor will be asked to call a special session, unless the committee report comes within 60 days before the time for the next regular session.

Law Seniors To Try Case

Four SUI senior law students will argue an auto accident case involving a drunken minor Friday before members of the Iowa supreme court.

The case will highlight the program for Supreme Court day, an annual event sponsored by the Iowa Law Students' association.

Marvin Reiter, L3, Waverly, and Richard Stevenson, L3, Rock Island, Ill., will argue for the defense against Claude Morain, L3, Perry, and Richard Bauerle, L3, Carroll, in the senate chamber of Old Capitol at 2 p.m.

Winners of the case will be announced at a 7 p.m. banquet in the Iowa Memorial Union.

The case was prepared by Arthur Leff, SUI law instructor and Iowa City attorney.

CORRECTION

The changes in class schedules next fall at SUI will provide for 10 class hours per day instead of the present nine. It was erroneously reported in The Daily Iowan Wednesday that the new schedule would have nine class hours.

Summerfield Sues In Tax Dispute

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and his wife, Miriam, filed suit in federal court Wednesday seeking to recover $183,895 paid to the government in taxes.

The suit stemmed from a dispute over the amount of taxes due on $440,000 received by Mrs. Summerfield for the sale of 333½ shares of stock to the Summerfield Chevrolet company in Flint in 1948.

A-TEST RESET SURVIVAL CITY, Nev. (AP)—The big Atomic Open Shot was rescheduled for pre-dawn today.

Set Deferment Test Here

Selective Service college qualification tests for SUI students will be given here May 19.

The time and place of the examination has not been selected. Deadline for mailing applications is midnight, May 9.

College males who have not previously taken the exam are eligible. A score of 70 or more is passing and is considered a draft deferment for college students.

Applications and further information can be obtained from the applicant's local board and from the Johnson county draft board in the court house here.

MORE WILDLIFE FUNDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officers of two national wildlife associations said Wednesday more than 13 million dollars in accumulated wildlife funds should be distributed to states without delay. The testimony was given at a senate interior subcommittee.
