Omicron Delta Kappa Holds 'Tapping'

FRANK MEYERS, M2, SHELDON, presides at a ceremony Tuesday night in which 22 SUI students and SUI Registrar Ted McCarrel were "tapped" for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary leadership society. The "tapping" took place at the 33rd annual Finkbine dinner, attended by alumni, faculty and 59 student campus leaders. The dinner was held in the river room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

ODK 'Taps' 22 Students, SUI Registrar

Twenty-two students and an SUI faculty member were chosen for membership Tuesday night in the SUI chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, upperclassmen's leadership honor society.

In addition, for the first time since the group was organized in 1947, an honorary member was elected by the group. Recipient of the honorary membership was David A. Dancer, Des Moines, secretary of the Iowa state board of education and a 1917 SUI graduate.

Selection of new members was made during a special "tapping" ceremony at the 33rd annual Finkbine dinner held in the Iowa Memorial Union.

Campus leaders "tapped" for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa were:

Ted M. Hutchison, L4, Algona; Roy M. Pitkin, A3, Anthon; Paul E. Hagen, A3, Clinton; Richard R. Thornton, A4, Council Bluffs; James P. Webb, A4, Davenport; William H. Teer, A3, Des Moines; James E. Houser, C3, Des Moines;

Warren G. Lawson, C4, Fairfield; Darrell Wyck, E3, Fort Madison; George Ojemann, A3, Iowa City; Richard E. Guthrie, A3, Iowa City; Jack Todd, C4, Laurel; Alan F. Westworth, M3, Marble Rock; Socrates G. Pappajohn, A3, Mason City;

Gerald K. Chinn, professor of law at Drake university, was elected to alumni membership in the group. Chinn received his bachelor of arts degree from SUI in 1945 and graduated from the SUI college of law in 1946.

Ted McCarrel, SUI registrar, was the faculty member "tapped" for initiation into the society. Frank Myers, M2, Sheldon, president of the SUI chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, presided over the initiation ceremony.

Speakers at the Finkbine dinner included President Virgil M. Hancher and George P. Lloyd of Joliet, Ill. Lloyd represented SUI alumni at the dinner, which had "The Importance of Leadership in the American Way of Life" as its theme. Robert F. Ray, director of the SUI institute of public affairs, served as toastmaster, and Paul Bartlett, C4, Bedford, represented the students.

Also in attendance at the dinner were 59 campus leaders

Kinnick Grants To Bill Scott, Art Andrews

Art Andrews Gets Kinnick Award

Nile Kinnick memorial scholarships to SUI for the 1955-56 school year have been awarded to five Iowa high school seniors, President Virgil M. Hancher announced Tuesday.

Winners are Art Andrews and Bill Scott, both of City high school of Iowa City; Dennis Blanchard, Belle Plaine; Herbert Marske, Clinton high school, and Boake Sells, Ft. Dodge high school.

Scholar-athletes are named for the awards each year as a memorial to the late Nile Kinnick, Adel, and other SUI men who died in World War II. Established by the Iowa State Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1945, the scholarships were made possible through contributions of alumni and friends of the university and of Kinnick.

Five Winners
The five winners of the $750 scholarships were selected on the basis of their applications, their high school records, and personal interviews and tests given on the university campus to 13 high school seniors chosen as finalists from the original field of candidates nominated early this spring.

To qualify for renewal of the award during their university careers, they must maintain at least a "B" average scholastically and continue athletic participation.

Andrews is the fifth ranking junior tennis player in the nation. He holds the men's singles championship of the Midwest Open tournament and the North-

Peace Treaty For Austria Hits Snag

VIENNA (AP) — Russia and the Big Three Western powers were deadlocked again Tuesday on a treaty of independence for Austria.

Russian delegates to the five-power conference refused once more to change the position they took Monday on the treaty's most important article, informed sources said.

The article deals with the future of former Nazi assets held by the Soviets in Austria.

Dispute Nazi Assets
Western sources said the ambassadors' conference cleared up some minor points in the treaty but could not reach agreement on disputed Article 35.

Ambassadors of the four powers and Austrian Foreign Minister Dr. Leopold Figl decided to try again today to finish drafting the treaty before arrival of their foreign ministers at the weekend.

Russian Ambassador Ivan I. Ilyichev refused Monday night to insert in the draft treaty, which is being prepared for the foreign ministers, the economic concessions made by the Kremlin last month when Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab went to Moscow.

Reds Change Stand

Russia agreed then to return Austria's vast Zistersdorf oil fields, the Danube Shipping company and 300 industrial enterprises in return for payments in oil and goods by Austria. Originally, the Russians had insisted on keeping rights in the oil fields for 30 years.

Ilyichev insisted the original reparation demands should remain in the treaty, while the concessions would be made the subject of a bilateral agreement between the Soviet Union and Austria. The Western ambassadors opposed this on the ground that any such agreement which they did not sign might give the Russians an excuse for interfering with Austrian sovereignty in the future.

A-BLAST TODAY

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The 14th and final atomic blast of the 1955 series was scheduled Tuesday for 5:05 a.m. today, weather permitting.

Eastern Bloc Asked To Arm Under Russia

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin sounded in Warsaw Tuesday the keynote for a conference of eight Communist nations to establish a unified NATO-type military alliance under a Russian command.

"The situation in certain areas of the world has still been causing anxiety of late," Bulganin told newcomers at the Warsaw airport.

"The peace-loving states of Europe cannot be indifferent to such a state of affairs. In the situation that has developed, the united efforts of our states are required and... new measures for the strengthening of their security."

Reply to German Army

Moscow radio broadcasts made it clear the conference opening in Poland's capital today is the Eastern bloc's reply to the rearming of West Germany and her admission Monday as NATO's 15th member.

The conference is expected to bring the armies of Russia and its seven European satellites into a joint command under Soviet Marshal Ivan Konev.

The Moscow radio predicted the eight countries will "evolve measures which will enable them to meet any emergency and provocation and to forestall the possibility of sudden aggression from any quarter."

Move Follows 'Threat'

Western observers regard the move for a joint command — threatened at the Communists' security conference in Moscow last fall if the Paris treaties with West Germany were ratified — as a step to provide the legal basis for retaining Soviet troops in Hungary and Romania after the end of the four-power occupation of Austria.

These troops have had line-of-supply assignments in support of Soviet occupation forces in Austria. But the Austrian independence treaty, expected to be signed this weekend, calls for withdrawal of all the Big Four forces from Austria.

Surgeon General, Mrs. Hobby Won't Testify on Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby and Surgeon General Leonard Scheele Tuesday declined to testify today before a house committee investigating the handling of the Salk polio vaccine.

Rep. Brent Spence (D-Ky.) reported Tuesday night both Mrs. Hobby and Scheele insisted they "simply could not come now." He added they advised him they would have more information at a later date.

Spence heads the house banking committee which is conducting the inquiry. He said he was not criticizing their action because he knows "they are in a difficult position."

Spence said he told Mrs. Hobby and Scheele their testimony was needed so the committee could assess the value of several pending bills for federal control over vaccine distribution and prices. They were not subpoenaed to appear, merely invited to come.

Hoegh Sees SUI Cadets In Review

Approximately 750 members of the SUI ROTC and AFROTC departments passed in review in the armory Tuesday morning before Gov. Leo Hoegh and Maj. Gen. Fred Tandy, adjutant-general of Iowa, as part of the Governor's day activities.

Another 750 cadets who did not march because of the limited space in the armory viewed the parade from the balconies of the field house.

Hoegh also presented awards at the review to outstanding cadets in military and air science for the 1954-55 school year.

Gives Awards

Recipients of the governor's match awards, medals for the three highest scores in the governor's rifle match, were Thomas E. Carson, A2, Britt; John Westwick, E4, Springfield, Ill., and James Bell, A2, Tipton.

Warren G. Lawson, C4, Fairfield, and Robert A. Krane, C4, Fairfield, each received a ring, the professor of military science and tactics award given annually to the army ROTC graduates who receive regular army commissions.

The highest air science award, the SUI AFROTC distinguished achievement award, was presented to Robert N. Millhaem, C4, Des Moines.

Army Award to Lawson

Winner of the association of the army award was Lawson. This medal is given annually to the most promising infantry advance course senior student based on his previous academic work and military aptitude in ROTC.

Ronald Schaefer, A4, Rockford, Ill., received the air force association award which is given on the basis of the cadet's academic work, aptitude for leadership and attitude toward the service.

The American society of military engineers gold medal awards given to one senior and one junior, based on high quality work in the military department and the college of engineering, were presented to James T. Brady, E4, Tipton, and Richard L. Dunlavy, E3, Salem.

Engineering Award

John V. Wait, E4, Iowa City, AFROTC, received the armed forces communication and electronics association award given to the outstanding senior majoring in electrical engineering.

The eight Chicago Tribune medals, four gold first place medals and four silver second place medals, given annually to basic students showing outstanding proficiency and appearance in drill, were awarded to the following men: army, Robert K. Whelan, A2, Des Moines; Robert L. Burns, A1, Lake Park; Jack C. Hanse, A2, Decorah; David E. Carter, air force, George Ojemann, A2, Iowa City; Rodney Anderson, A1, Des Moines; Keith Smith, E2, Marion, and Robert Curtis, P1, Richland.

DAIRY PRINCESS

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa is going to have a Dairy Princess who will be known as "Golden Girl." Plans for selection of a winner in a contest June 29 under sponsorship of the Waverly Chamber of Commerce were announced Tuesday.

Reds Want Withdrawal of Most Troops

MOSCOW (Wednesday) (AP) — The Soviet Union made public today a proposal calling for immediate withdrawal of the bulk of foreign forces from both East and West Germany.

The proposal called on the UN general assembly to declare "a weakening of international tension can be achieved by immediate evacuation of troops of the four big powers from German territory, leaving limited contingents and police forces under joint control of the four big powers."

The Soviet news agency Tass, which circulated the plan, said it had been submitted Tuesday in the form of two declarations to the UN subcommittee on disarmament now holding closed sessions in London.

Adenauer Objects

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told newsmen Tuesday he would reject any Soviet proposal at a big power conference that would make neutralization of West Germany the price for German unification.

The first proposal contained eight points, including such Soviet themes as prohibition of foreign military bases by one state on the territory of another and prohibition of any form of war propaganda.

The second declaration, was a formal statement of the Soviet position in the disarmament talks which already had been released by Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik.

Three Points

It listed three points as necessary to "free humanity from the threat of a new destructive war." They were:

1. Full prohibition of the use and production of nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction and diversion of this force to peaceful aims.
  2. A considerable reduction of all armed forces and conventional armaments.
  3. Setting up of a control organ with the right and authority guaranteeing effective observation by all countries of this prohibition and reduction.
- The declaration said all these things should be done in the first period of the disarmament program.

Hoegh Says Preparedness, UN Are Essential for Peace

Gov. Leo A. Hoegh told 139 senior ROTC and AFROTC cadet officers Tuesday that unpreparedness has been a frequent mistake of the U.S. and that it should take a lesson from the past to keep America strong.

He cited two essentials for the preservation of peace: One, a strong America prepared for any eventuality, and two, "an international organization like the United Nations which will give us peace by conference and agreement."

Hoegh spoke at the 71st annual Governor's day luncheon held in the Iowa Memorial Union. Prior to his talk he inspected army and air force cadets marching in review at the field house armory.

Guests at the banquet, attended by 211 persons, were heads of SUI departments and Iowa military officials. President Virgil M. Hancher introduced Hoegh, a former Lt. Colonel of infantry.

Hoegh said the UN has made progress as a means for securing peace. He related the UN to the original U.S. colonies, saying, "It took a long time for the 13 colonies to learn to live together, and similarly, the UN which has only been in existence for ten years has already made progress in helping to avoid conflict."

"If we can continue to keep the UN we can continue to have peace," Hoegh remarked.

Commenting on the importance of leadership, Hoegh said, "Some of you will be foot soldiers, some of you will be flying airplanes and some of you will be building bridges, but there will always be one man up at the front leading. Leadership — that is what wins the war on the battlefield."

Hoegh urged the cadets to "hold interest in the defense and security of the nation" after they had completed their tours of duty and had returned to civilian life.

Dickenson Appeal Heard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. court of military appeals was urged Tuesday to throw out the conviction of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, first American soldier ever found guilty of holding "unlawful communication" with the enemy while a prisoner of war.

Counsel for the 24-year-old Cracker's Neck, Va. soldier argued that the evidence under which Dickenson was convicted by a court-martial last year was insufficient to prove guilt and that no criminal action was proved.

The government has 30 days in which to answer the brief filed by Dickenson's civilian lawyer, Guy Emery, a retired army officer. A hearing date then will be fixed for oral argument before the serviceman's supreme court.

Dickenson was granted an appeal on six charges of prejudicial error in the handling of the court-martial, which was held last April and May. The soldier was convicted of holding unlawful communication with the enemy and of informing on fellow prisoners. He was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

See Wheat Crop Decrease in 1955

WASHINGTON (AP) — The agriculture department predicted Tuesday that this year's crop of winter wheat will be one-fourth smaller than average. This reflected the effects of a federal crop control program and drought conditions in some western wheat states.

A crop of 653 million bushels was predicted, compared with the 662 million bushels forecast a month ago. Production was 791 million bushels last year.

The spring wheat crop may come to around 177 million bushels, the department said. Thus, a total wheat crop of about 830 million bushels was indicated, compared with the 970 million bushels produced last year.

SCAFFOLD DEATH

NEW YORK (AP) — A man rushing to catch a subway train snagged the end of a scaffold Tuesday dumping two painters 20 feet. One died and the other was in critical condition. The man in a rush was questioned by police and released.

House Rejects Statehood Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The house Tuesday night defeated a bill to grant statehood to Alaska and Hawaii.

By a 218-170 rollcall vote, the house sent the controversial measure back to its insular affairs committee. A possibility remained that the committee will consider reporting out separate bills for Hawaii and Alaska later this year or next.

Three times in the past the house has passed separate bills to admit Hawaii to statehood and once approved a bill for Alaska. Democratic sponsors presented the house a combined statehood measure this year for the first time. The bill provoked two days of debate before being sent back to committee.

Insular Affairs committee Chairman Clair Engle (D-Calif.) said the magnitude of the negative vote "raises a serious question" whether such separate measures for statehood would be successful.

Engle told newsmen that supporters of the combined measure received no help from the house Democratic leadership and next active hostility from Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts and assistant Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

On the rollcall, 105 Democrats and 113 Republicans voted in effect to kill the combined bill. Voting for it were 107 Democrats and 63 Republicans.

Alaska usually votes Democratic and Hawaii, Republican.

Ike, Western Chiefs Ask Big Four Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower joined with the leaders of Britain and France Tuesday to invite Soviet Premier Bulganin to a top level Big Four meeting aimed at removing "sources of conflict" between the Western powers and Russia.

The three Western nations delivered to the Foreign Ministry in Moscow a note proposing a two-stage approach to solutions of the great East-West problems. At the same time it had the effect of warning peoples all over the world against expecting too much from the long talked of meeting "at the summit."

The session would bring together Eisenhower, Bulganin, British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure. The exact time and place would be determined by the foreign ministers.

NATO Approves

The Western invitation to Bulganin was given a formal blessing by all members of the 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty organization shortly before it was started to Moscow.

As conceived in Western quarters, the topics to be discussed would include:

1. Reunification of Germany.
  2. Restrictions on political freedom in Soviet satellites.
  3. Control of nuclear weapons.
- A short conference is envisaged by the West among Mr. Eisenhower, Eden, Bulganin and French Premier Edgar Faure—perhaps in Switzerland or in Sweden during July.

To Precede 2d Level Talks

Their man-to-man talks would precede a lengthier, more detailed examination by their foreign ministers and experts of the tensions that divide East and West in Europe.

The Western move came 24 hours after the men and machines of sovereign West Germany formally were harnessed to NATO.

As the American, British and French notes were delivered at the Kremlin, Bulganin had arrived in Warsaw, where a unified military command of East European Communist nations is being launched with the fire-and-manpower of 18 million East Germans in it.

Good Work, Senators!

Iowa's senatorial delegation proved to be responsive to the needs of the state, when it supported President Eisenhower's reciprocal trade bill last week.

Senators Bourke B. Hickenlooper and Thomas E. Martin voted for the measure to lower gradually U. S. tariffs on imports. The President had called the action "essential for the security of the United States and the rest of the free world in promoting . . . economic strength."

The bill now goes to the house for reconsideration. Unless the house accepts two provisions added to the bill passed earlier by the house, the two versions will go to conference committee for adjustment of differences.

The two provisions represent a compromise between the administration and "protectionist" senators. One protects the textile and chemical industries by prohibiting cuts in duties on Japanese goods more than 50 per cent below 1945 levels. The other gives the President new powers to impose quotas on imports which threaten domestic industries vital to national security.

The compromise may come as a disappointment to many backers of the liberal trade policy. The President's recommendations on trade are modest askings. The extension of the reciprocal trade act for three years and 15 per cent ultimate reduction in tariffs are steps forward, but they do not restore completely the balance of America's trade with other nations.

Since the last session of congress, when the trade issue was postponed in order that further study on the problem could be made, a number of groups in Iowa have worked steadily to focus the attention of Iowans on their stake in world trade.

Some interesting facts were revealed, showing that not only a sizeable chunk of farm produce finds its way to foreign markets, but that the products of many Iowa industries, such as farm machinery, fountain pens, locomotives and foundry and machine shop products also go overseas.

Although both Senators Hickenlooper and Martin have shown protectionist tendencies in the past, as indicated by their voting records on trade measures, they chose last week to align themselves with the President.

Whether this change in attitude is due to new thinking on the part of the senators, to pressure from home or to political maneuvering remains to be seen. However, their action is commendable and deserves an expression of approval from all who sent them to Washington.

Let's Can the Corn—

Iowa automobiles may not be advertising "The Corn State" in 1956. Gov. Leo A. Hoegh Saturday confirmed reports that he is considering abandoning the slogan.

Iowa should not need the slogan, the governor contends. "Our state is so outstanding in so many fields," he says, "that perhaps we should just be known as IOWA."

We are inclined to agree with him.

The use of slogans on license plates, which has spread from coast to coast and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico, has little validity. They don't aid in law enforcement, which is one of the principal purposes for license plates. As forms of advertising, it is doubtful if they have induced any migration to the "Empire State" or "The Land of Lincoln."

Moreover, as Hoegh pointed out, Iowa is outstanding in many fields. It leads the nation in per capita wealth. Its literacy rating of slightly more than 99 per cent is tops in the United States. True, Iowa is the nation's leading corn producer. But it also leads the nation in hog production. It is important for its beef, its dairy industry and its poultry products.

The state also is important for its industry: farm implements, washing machines, refrigeration equipment, pens and pencils, corn products, cellophane and thousands of other industrial products.

Use of "The Corn State" slogan on Iowa license plates has led many, especially out-of-staters, jokingly to refer to Iowa as the "corny state." We're proud of our corn, but we must admit that the slogan is "corny."

We back the governor in his effort to can the corn.

When men are most certain that their actions are guided by plan and principle, they are too often moving by hunch and expediency.

State To Go Slow On Air Conditioning

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa executive council decided Monday to go slow on approving expenditures for air conditioning units in outlying state offices.

The council took under advisement the request from the vocational rehabilitation division. The deferment was taken even though federal funds would be used for the $15 project.

The council took the position that the fact that federal funds would be used should not govern in this case. If such authorizations got started, the council agreed, there would be nowhere to stop.

Says Japan's Policies Won't Hurt U.S. Ties

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh of 12 interviews by Central Press correspondent Mark Leonard with foreign ambassadors to the United States.)

BY MARK LEONARD

WASHINGTON — Japanese ambassador Sadao Iguchi emphasized that Tokyo's recently announced policy to bring about a "normalization of relations" with Russia is "predicated on the condition that it will not prejudice Japan's friendly and co-operative ties with the free nations, especially the United States."

Ambassador Iguchi stressed also Japan's desire to expand trade with Red China is "similarly conditioned by its free world ties and its existing international obligations."

In an exclusive interview with this correspondent, Japan's second envoy to Washington since the resumption of diplomatic relations in 1952 gave the following "practical reasons for the considerable popular sentiment" in his country favoring normalized relations with the Soviets:

No Peace Treaty
"Russia has never ended its state of war against Japan although more than 10 years have elapsed since the war's end. Tens of thousands of Japanese prisoners of war are still behind the Iron Curtain."

"We desire," continued the envoy, "to talk about fisheries in northern waters, territorial questions and our admission to the United Nations" which thus far has been prevented by Soviet veto. The ambassador pointed out that "normalization of relations would give us a direct avenue for adjustment of these important questions."

Communist Danger?
Iguchi gave a two-fold reply to the question of whether re-establishment of normal diplomatic relations with Russia will lead to Communist infiltration and subversion in Japan:

"In the first place," the envoy said, "Japan's record in combating Communism is very clear and the results speak for themselves. In the recent elections, the Communists polled less than two per cent of the total vote, despite strenuous hammering at the well-known 'peace' line.

"Communism in Japan has been dealt with firmly and effectively and will continue to be so dealt with.

"In the second place, the temper of the Japanese people operates against communism. In their own way, the Japanese are highly individualistic and independent. The best way to fight communism in Japan is to improve the standard of living and make sure that the people always have the opportunity to better themselves through their hard work instead of being doomed to poverty."

Emotional Attitudes
Ambassador Iguchi remarked that with regard to Communist China, "certain mental and emotional attitudes of the Japanese people must be considered.

"Knowing that foreign trade is the country's meal ticket and perceiving that meals are very slim these days in Japan, the average Japanese feels that things would be better if non-strategic trade with the Chinese mainland returned to pre-war levels."

The envoy emphasized that his country's present trade with Communist China "is less than Japan has with Cuba or Peru, both of them thousands of miles away, while continental China is just next door."

Little China Trade
The ambassador also remarked that some "informed people" in his country feel that the possibility of extensive trade with Red China will not be as great as many believe.

Iguchi pointed to Japan's great need for free access to Free World markets and expressed belief that this would be "a far greater boon to the Japanese people than expanded trade with Red China."

Asked about the possibility of Japan recognizing Red China, Ambassador Iguchi said this "does not apply to Japan at the present time, although many democratic countries do extend such recognition."

Recognize Chiang
Pointing out that apan recognizes the Formosa government of the Chinese Nationalists, he added, "If Communist China's interest in increasing trade with Japan leads to a situation involving the question of recognition, Japan's action in this matter as in all else will continue to be guided by and consistent with her underlying policy of co-operation with the free nations."

The ambassador said also during the interview that "the free world must work together to build higher living standards, to rescue underdeveloped countries from stagnation and misery, and to create unity on the basis of mutual respect and co-operation."

Iguchi said the question of co-existence or no existence fades away before the word "subsistence," and concluded, "With economic stability for the weaker nations, world balance would be so much in favor of the free world that peace and tranquility would be assured."

Interpreting the News— Big 4 Talks Seem Assured

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Doughty old Winston Churchill has finally won his point about a Big Four conference, now that it is too late for him to go.

Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure are going to meet for an informal discussion of world problems—just what Churchill suggested two years ago.

It seemed certain that Russia would accept the three-power invitations extended Tuesday. This will be the first meeting of chiefs of state of the two contesting blocs in 10 years. At that time, Churchill and then Prime Minister Clement Attlee met with Truman and Stalin at Potsdam to make arrangements for control of postwar Europe.

Red Gains
Since that time the Reds have grabbed China, Czechoslovakia, North Korea, Tibet and northern Viet Nam. They have consolidated their grip on Eastern Europe. All the time they have fought their war for the minds of men, have attained a measure of affinity with India and Indonesia. The Allies have fought a war to save South Korea, helped Greece save herself, protected Iran, Turkey, Formosa and West Germany.

America helped stave off internal Communist control in France and Italy. Fourteen nations formed the North Atlantic Treaty organization which has just admitted a newly independent West Germany. The United States has entered into mutual defense arrangements with 46 nations around the globe.

Jittery World
Cold war has threatened to turn into hot war on several occasions besides in Korea. Development of atomic weapons has made the world jittery lest it happen yet.

West Feared, Hated In Russia's Satellites

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Hate is used like a drug in Communist Europe. Hatred and fear are fed to a whole generation of children to build up a wall of immunity against contamination from the free world.

Youngsters with no memory of the days before communism grow toward maturity infected with the idea that someday war between the Communist and non-Communist worlds is inevitable.

Indoctrination begins with small children. They are taught defenses against germ and chemical warfare, how to spot American planes, how they must be ready one day to serve as partisan guerrillas against "the American aggressors."

Prepare for War
Persons crossing into Greece and Turkey report Bulgaria's Communist leaders are preparing for a day when they must war against Greece, Turkey and possibly Yugoslavia. Troop movements north and south are common in Bulgaria, which has frontier fortifications less than a mile from the Greek and Turkish borders, along with mined areas, trenches and camouflaged bunkers.

But the hate injections are not confined to Bulgaria. There are similar reports from all seven satellite nations — Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Albania, Romania, Poland and East Germany. They make up an area bigger than Texas and New Mexico combined, and have more than 90 million people subject to Moscow.

Military Masquerade
In Warsaw, capital of Communist-ruled Poland, the stage is provided for a military masquerade. Communist military leaders have been called there to knock together their supposed reply to the North Atlantic Treaty organization. They will go through the motions of setting up what they call a "united command" of European Communist countries — to meet the threat of the United States "millionaires."

The net result of this, in the view of most competent observers in Western Europe, will be: no change. The "united command," they report, is there already. It remains a Soviet command.

What Moscow will accomplish is the construction of a legal framework under which Soviet troops can stay in the satellites indefinitely, through separate treaty arrangements. Cooperation will be between the Soviet Union and each individual satellite — but not between satellite and satellite. Moscow does not trust them that far.

90 Divisions
Satellite troops under arms in eastern Europe, including East Germany, now number about 110 million in about 90 divisions, a dozen of them armored. Responsible Western sources say that of these, only 50 per cent would be reliable in an aggressive thrust westward. The extent of reliability would increase if the conflict seemed purely defensive on home soils.

Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky is a likely choice to head the "united command." A Pole by birth, he is a Soviet citizen who was a Red army marshal in World War II.

Satellite troops are commanded by Soviet-trained officers. Key positions are occupied by Soviet officers who enjoy dual citizenship. The standardized equipment is Soviet. The air forces of the satellite nations also are Soviet-equipped. Two years ago only 10 per cent of the satellite air forces was jet. Today the figure is about 50 per cent. The goal is 80 per cent by the end of 1956.

Tomorrow — Uncertainty grips the satellites.

Newcombe Blanks Cubs On One-Hitter, 3-0

Finishes Tilt For 1st Time This Season

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Newcombe Tuesday hurled a one-hitter for his first complete game this season as the Dodgers defeated the Chicago Cubs, 3-0, for their 11th straight victory.

Gene Baker's clean single in the fourth was the hit off Newcombe.

Duke Snider's ninth homer of the season and the 200th of his major league career started the Dodgers to their 22nd victory against 2 defeats and a triumph which surpassed their opening record string of 10 straight.

Snider's blow came in the sixth against Warren Hacker. In the seventh, Newcombe had a hand in producing an insurance run with his second single which moved Don Hoak from first to third and enabled him to score on Junior Gilliam's sacrifice fly.

Newcombe notched his fourth victory of the season without a defeat in his first start since April 24. Last week he was indefinitely suspended for refusing to pitch in batting practice.

The suspension was lifted one day later when Newcombe, who had been sent home by the Dodgers, apologized to Manager Walt Alston.

Newcombe used 95 pitches in facing the minimum of 27 batters. Baker was nipped trying to steal second after his single in the fourth.

Giants Beat Redlegs, 8-4

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Antonelli, assisted by Willie Mays' two homers and a 4-run sixth inning, Tuesday night led the New York Giants to an 8-4 win over the Cincinnati Redlegs. The win was Antonelli's seventh straight over the Reds in the last two years.

The game was split open in the sixth inning when the Giants scored four runs, routing Johnny Klippstein, and shattering a 2-2 tie. Davey Williams walked and shortstop Alvin Dark singled. Monty Irvin doubled off the left field wall, scoring Williams and Dark. Willie Mays then blasted his first homer.

Klippstein was replaced by Art Fowler, who stopped the scoring.

The Reds opened the scoring with a home run in the first by third baseman Chuck Harmon.

This was matched in the second when Hank Thompson smashed one over the right field screen, scoring behind Mays, hit by a pitched ball.

The score was 2-2 in the third when Harmon lined a single to center, bringing in Klippstein, also hit by a pitched ball.

The Reds perked up for a seventh inning rally with two runs, including a homer by Wally Post.

The final Giant score came on another Mays home run, his sixth of the season.

Pirates Beat Braves, 9-6

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rookie Gene Freese's grand slam homer, sandwiched between four other runs in a wild eighth inning, gave the Pittsburgh Pirates their fourth straight victory over Milwaukee Tuesday night, 9-6.

The eighth was a family affair for the Freeses. Third baseman George Freese drilled a two-run single which put the Pirates one run ahead. A moment later younger brother Gene smacked his 380-foot homer, his fourth of the year and his first grand slammer in the majors.

One more run came in on a wild pitch and another was walked in before the Braves could get that third out.

The Braves came up with too little too late offensively. Hank Aaron poked his sixth homer of the year in the bottom of the eighth after singles by Johnny Logan and Ed Mathews. Logan homered in the ninth, bases clear.

Indians Beat Yanks, 9-6; Lemon Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland battered the Yankees with 14 hits Tuesday night — including a single, double and home run by Dave Pope — while Bob Lemon claimed his sixth victory, 9-6, with the help of Don Mossi.

The defeat dumped the Yanks to third place, three games behind pace-setting Cleveland and a game behind the Chicago White Sox, who beat Boston 4-2.

Lemon, who was tagged with his only defeat by New York last week, kept the Yanks in check until the eighth. After they had scored twice in that inning, Mossi came on to end the rally.

The young southpaw struck out pinch hitters Elston Howard and Bob Cerv.

Until he weakened, Lemon gave up six hits. The Yankees' two runs in the fourth cut the lead to 4-3.

Track Meet With Service Team Today

Iowa will face Ft. Leonard Wood in its only home outdoor track meet of the season today at 3:30 p.m.

It is the first meeting between the Hawkeyes and a service team.

Ted Wheeler, former Iowa track star in '52 and '53, will compete for the army team. He is completing his military training and will again enroll in the university in September.

Wheeler worked out with the Iowa track team two weeks ago while on leave. He will run the mile and the half-mile.

John Bennet, formerly of Marquette, who won the national collegiate broad jump titles in 1953 and 1954, has recorded a mark of 26 feet 3 3/4 inches, the Iowa fieldhouse record in the broad jump is 23 feet, 9 inches, set in 1948.

Ex-Northwestern hurdler, Willie Stevens, who holds three Illinois state prep titles, will run against Iowa's Les Stevens in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Iowa will depend on Gardner Van Dyke and Nick Piper, in the pole vault. Each has reached 13 feet 9 inches this year.

Murray Keatinge will run the half mile, Larry Perry the dashes and Jack Mathews will enter the 100-yard dash and the hurdles. Stevens and Paul Kitch will high jump for the Hawks.

Miler Rich Ferguson may not be available to run because of a class seminar assignment. Wheeler is entered in the mile. Keatinge will oppose Wheeler in the half-mile.

Coach Francis Cretzmeyer said it will be a close meet and that the service team has a chance to upset Iowa.

Kell's two-run homer in the eighth broke a tie and gave Harry Dorish, second of three White

Antonelli, Erskine, Donovan, Consuegra Leaders in ERA

NEW YORK (AP) — Carl Erskine of Brooklyn and Johnny Antonelli of New York were locked in a battle for the National League earned run lead Tuesday with the Dodger's pitcher having the edge.

Erskine, who is undefeated in five decisions, has given up eight earned runs in 50 innings for 1.44, figures compiled by the associated press show.

Antonelli, the ERA leader in 1954 with 2.29, has permitted nine earned runs in 48 frames for a 1.69 average. The young left-hander has won two games and dropped three.

In the American League, Dick Donovan of the Chicago White Sox, is the pacesetter with 1.24 on four tallies in 29 innings. He had three victories — two of them shutouts — and one loss.

Sandy Consuegra, also of the White Sox, is second with a 1.29 average. He has yielded five earned runs in 35 frames while winning two games and losing none.

2 Speedway Cars Crash; Fine Driver

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Two race cars skidded into a retaining wall at the Indianapolis motor speedway Tuesday and one of the drivers was fined for ignoring yellow caution lights. Neither driver was hurt.

The American automobile association fined veteran driver Leroy Warringer, 36, Indianapolis, $50 for failure to heed four yellow caution lights flashed when 43-year-old Len Duncan's McNamara special went into a spin on the northwest turn.

Pennsylvania Boxing Halted For 90 Days

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. George M. Leader Tuesday suspended boxing in Pennsylvania for 90 days as an aftermath of the sudden collapse of light heavyweight Harold Johnson in the ring during a nationally televised bout with Julio Mederos in Philadelphia last Friday night.

The governor's ban — announced after a 90-minute meeting with members of the state athletic commission — does not affect fights already scheduled and advertised.

Commissioner Alfred M. Klein said a complete report on Johnson's condition after he was carried from the ring on a stretcher showed he "undoubtedly had drugs in his body."

Earlier in Philadelphia, a police source disclosed that an urinalysis performed on Johnson revealed the presence of barbiturate.

Johnson, No. 1 contender for the 175-pound crown, was a 4-1 favorite in the scheduled 10-rounder. He collapsed in his corner and was unable to answer the bell for the third round. Mederos was awarded a technical knockout victory.

Johnson, who almost fell into the ring at the start and appeared to be sick throughout the two rounds of the fight, sank to his knees in the second round without being hit.

The police source, who declined to be identified, said the information on the urinalysis was obtained from Hahnemann hospital officials. He said the finding did not mean Johnson was under the influence of the drug. A barbiturate is commonly used to induce sleep and relaxation. It is not listed as a narcotic.

Johnson has been in the hospital ever since he was carried out of the arena on a stretcher Friday night. He has been undergoing a series of extensive tests and has been questioned extensively by detectives.

The police source said authorities are inclined to discount Johnson's post-fight tale of an orange given him the day of the fight by a swarthy stranger and which the fighter is supposed to have complained tasted bitter and made him sick in the dressing room.

Iowa Farmer To Call Nation's Capitol— REA Celebrates 20 Years of Service

Ancher Nelsen
REA Administrator

THOMPSON (AP) — Farmer Ben Howland will talk to Ancher Nelson, Rural Electrification Administration head by long distance phone today as a feature of the agency's 20th birthday celebration.

Howland, a member of the Winnebago Electric co-operative here, will speak for 138,000 Iowa farmers in the anniversary celebration.

The conversation between Howland and administrator Nelson, of Washington, D.C., will be broadcast by radio in Washington, D.C., and to Thompson residents by a public address system. Nelson is a former Iowan.

Elsewhere in Iowa, REA anniversary week is being observed by a number of co-op officials and members. Gov. Leo A. Hoegh designated May 8-14 as Iowa REA Week.

The governor noted that Iowa, through the aid of REA co-ops has more than 97.1 per cent of its farms electrified of which 62.7 per cent are served by 56 REA-financed cooperative power systems.

There are more than 138,000 farms and other rural consumers on 55,453 miles of co-operative lines, said William H. Wisdom, executive secretary of the Iowa Rural Electric Co-op association.

When all construction authorized by new REA loans is completed, new facilities will provide electric service to a total of more than 140,000 Iowa farm consumers.

For every dollar invested in new rural power facilities, said Wisdom, farm families will spend three to four dollars to make use of the electricity.

Steelworkers' Wage Group Meets Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Policy makers of the CIO United Steelworkers will meet today to decide how much of a wage increase they want, for 600,000 employees in basic steel making plants.

The 170 members of the wage policy committee will meet here at 2 p.m. Their session will be preceded by a meeting of the 39-member executive board, made up of directors and international officers.

No doubt the policy-makers have in mind the fact that the steel industry is producing at a record rate and has been operating near capacity since the first of the year. Last week the industry turned out more steel than in any previous week in history.

Union President David J. McDonald last month notified 96 basic steel and iron ore mining companies that the union wants a wage hike.

Now the powerful policy committee — which makes all final decisions on contract issues — will decide just how much of a pay boost the union will ask.

The union probably will open wage talks with U.S. Steel Corp., the world's biggest producer and usually the industry's contract pace-setter.

Negotiations with the basic companies are expected to get under way late this month. The union will be free to strike June 30 if an agreement is not reached by then.

Last year — a poor production year for the industry — the steel workers won a five-cent hourly pay increase. They now earn an average of $1.33 an hour.

Most observers believe the wage issue, the only thing to be discussed this year, will be settled without a strike. Industry officials, however, have said any new labor costs will be offset by a boost in the price of steel. Basic carbon steel now sells for about $125 a ton at the mills.

Bonnie Prince Charlie To Start To School

LONDON (AP) — Buckingham Palace said Tuesday night that 6-year-old Prince Charles, heir to the throne, is going to start to school and mingle with other children.

State Hearing Slated On Sales Tax Brackets

DES MOINES (AP)—The state tax commission will hold a hearing May 20 on how to adjust sales tax brackets to the hike from two to two and one-half per cent effective July 1.

The only proposal to date was advanced by Louis H. Cook, the commission's research director. Under it the two per cent would be effective up to $1.80, and then the rate would become 3 per cent.

The customer pays tax for the amount purchased; the retailer remits to the commission on the basis of gross sales.

Commission Chairman Martin Lauterbach said Tuesday the discussion would be only for organized retail groups or associations, not for individuals or individual businesses. He said he did not expect "a large group" at the 10 a.m. meeting May 20 in the commission's offices.

Will Review Plan Lauterbach said he believes retail organizations would set up a plan to recommend to the commission.

The sales tax brackets are set by the commission. Retail organizations may present a plan for consideration, or the commission may originate its own plan.

Included among the games will be a four-legged race, egg-throwing contests and a dry land canoe race.

Saturday evening from 8 to 12, an outdoor dance will be held on the tennis courts by the field house. Fraternity and sorority skits picked from the preliminary competition held Tuesday and today will be presented. The final judging will take place here.

Speaker at the final Sunday gathering will be Dr. Kenneth MacFarland, General Motors educational consultant. He will speak in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union at 2 p.m.

Awards to the winning skits and Greek Olympic trophies will be presented at this time.

Trophies to the most outstanding sorority woman and most outstanding fraternity man, will be awarded by Miss Helen Reich, assistant director of the Office of Student Affairs and Paul Griffith, assistant counselor to men and fraternity adviser.

U.S. Planes Down 2 Red MIG's

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Sabre Jets and Chinese Red MIG's battled off North Korea Tuesday with both sides claiming victory. Peiping radio charged the United States with "a grave military provocation."

A U.S. air force announcement said eight Sabre Jets were attacked by from 12 to 16 MIG's over international waters. Two MIG's were shot down and one probably was shot down, it said, but all Sabres returned safely.

A Peiping radio broadcast said the Sabres intruded over Manchurian islands and Red Chinese fighters shot down one Sabre and hit two others. It said the Sabres "then fled in the direction of South Korea." It mentioned no MIG losses.

'Grave Consequences'
"The U.S. authorities will have to bear full responsibility for all the grave consequences arising therefrom," said Peiping.
The air force gave no hint as to the nationality of the attackers. Peiping made it clear the MIG's were from "the air force of the Chinese People's Liberation army."

The air force and Peiping versions agreed pretty well on where the clash took place. The air force said it was 50 miles southwest of the Korean border city of Sinuiju.

Peiping said it occurred about three miles west of the island of Talu. Talu is 40 miles southwest of the big Manchurian air base of Antung, which is just across the Yalu river from Sinuiju. The Red planes probably came from Antung, it was said.

Third Attack
It was the third attack in 16 months on U.S. planes in the skies off the west coast of North Korea. The air force announcement said the Sabres were on a regular patrol.

"After the MIG's began firing at the Sabres," the air force announcement said, "the American planes returned the fire."

"In the ensuing battle, two Communist pilots bailed out and the third plane was last seen diving straight down trailing smoke."

Apparently writing off the third MIG as downed, the air force said "pilots who scored kills" were: Capt. R. V. Fulton, Bernardville, N.J.; Lt. B. C. Phythyon, Wadsworth, Ohio, and Lt. J. E. McInerney, Garden City, N.Y. They are assigned to the 35th Squadron of the 8th Fighter-Bomber wing.

Two previous air clashes since the Korean armistice in July, 1953, have cost the Communists at least five MIG's with one probably shot down.

Armstrong Explains Nehru's Policies

Robert Armstrong, Cedar Rapids businessman, told Iowa City Kiwanis club members Tuesday noon that the United States should not be disturbed by the pro-Communist statements or the anti-Western attitude of India Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

He said that Nehru has to go along with the Communists and that India is antagonistic toward the West because of previous experience with England.

Armstrong, who recently returned from a world tour, described Nehru's government as a one-man affair. During his seven week tour of India, Armstrong traveled more than 9,000 miles.

In giving his views on India and Formosa, Armstrong said that religion is a great handicap in India, since it causes overpopulation, the caste system and the problem of sacred animals.

He also observed that the people of Formosa are violently opposed to communism and that Formosa is a good example of a nation resisting domination.

Lone Tree School Merger Defeated

The proposed Lone Tree community school district was voted down in a special school reorganization election at Lone Tree Tuesday.

Voting against the reorganization plan were Pleasant Valley and Scott townships in Johnson county, and Oakland township in Louisa county. The plan was approved by Lone Tree, Fremont and Lincoln townships. It was necessary for only one township to vote the plan down.

The defeated proposal would have given Lone Tree a consolidated school, with Fremont, Lincoln, one-half of Pleasant Valley and one-quarter of both Scott and Oakland townships.

Community Chest To Retain Annual Fund Drive Policy

The board of directors of the Iowa City Community Chest corporation voted Monday night to continue the policy of holding its annual fund drive, thus eliminating the possibility of a 1955 Iowa City United Fund drive.

The action of the board came as a result of an earlier meeting, held April 19, when representatives of major voluntary health organizations went on record as opposing a United Fund drive.

Prof. Robert F. Ray, director of the SUI institute of public affairs, presided over the meeting as new chairman of the board. Ray was one of three new officers elected by the board of directors at the meeting.

Mrs. E. L. DeGowin is the new vice-chairman and Clark Houghton is the new treasurer.

The following motion was unanimously approved by the board: "The Chest will entertain the petition of any agency to participate in its campaign for funds and will continue to make every effort to call to public attention the worthwhile services performed by agencies participating in the Community Chest."

"In compliance with this policy, health, welfare, and recreational agencies which wish to participate in this year's drive for funds are asked to submit preliminary budgets by June 1."

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of Rev. Harold F. McGee, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church. Ray will name a successor at the next meeting.

The board also granted an emergency request for $483.80 to the Girl Scouts for camp equipment made necessary because of "an increase in membership and interest in the outdoor program."

The money will be taken from the Community Chest reserve fund.

Other new members of the 13-member board include Prof. Marion C. Boyer of the SUI college of engineering; Mrs. Michael Bonfiglio, Mrs. Ivan L. Hedges, attorney William L. Meardon and Mrs. Scott Swisher.

Ferry With 795 On Board Sinks In Japan Sea; 35 Dead

TOKYO (Wednesday) (AP)—A railroad ferry carrying 735 passengers and 60 crewmen hit a freighter in early morning fog today and sank 25 minutes later in Japan's inland sea.

The Japan National Railways said 687 had been saved, 35 were known dead, 57 were injured and 16 were missing.

More than 300 of the passengers were touring school children. Rescue craft swarmed out from Uno port, 400 miles west of Tokyo, within minutes after the 1,500-ton ferry Shun Maru collided at 7 a.m. (today) with the 1,200-ton freighter Udaka Maru.

The ferry was en route from Uno on Honshu Island to Takamatsu, 11 miles south of Shikoku Island.

Sweden would be a tough spot in the event of a global war, Swedish geographer W. William-Olsson said in a lecture in Shambaugh auditorium Tuesday night.

Her eastern frontier constitutes half the length of the European "Iron Curtain." The shortest air route from Moscow to New York crosses Sweden just north of Stockholm, William-Olsson said.

He said Sweden is economically and culturally aligned with the West. He noted that 95 per cent of Swedish international trade is with the Western powers and that 95 per cent of the nation's industry is under private control.

"During the last two centuries Sweden has known no threat outside of Russia to her independence," he stressed, noting that the nation's slowly increasing population of seven million face on the east a rapidly growing population of 200 million Russians.

He said Sweden has not joined the Atlantic Pact because of the popular belief that a strong defense will keep the country out of a third world war just as it did during the global wars of 1914-18 and 1939-45.

Then too, he said the Swedish people have strong faith that reason and negotiation will turn the present "cold war" toward peace rather than toward a "hot war." The government also fears that Soviet Russia might meddle with non-defenceless Finland if Sweden should join the Atlantic Pact, he observed.

Quad To Get $500,000 Dining Room Addition

A $500,000 addition to the Quadrangle dormitory dining room will be constructed this summer, SUI dormitory service officials said Tuesday.

The addition is being built to handle the estimated 280 additional students who will live at the Quadrangle when it is converted to a boarding dormitory this fall.

George L. Horner, superintendent of planning and construction, said that bids on the project would be accepted later this month.

He said that construction would get under way early this summer.

Quadrangle residents next fall will be required to purchase all of their meals at the dormitory. At present students who room at the Quadrangle do not have to use the dormitory cafeteria.

Single rooms will be converted to double rooms and double rooms to triple quarters under the housing plans that will go into effect this fall.

The plan is expected to raise the number of students living at the Quadrangle from the present 675 to 955 next year, dormitory officials said.

The new addition will measure 60 by 230 feet. It will be constructed adjacent to the present dining room. It will be used mainly for extra serving tables, but may include a recreation area, dormitory officials said.

The addition will be financed by dormitory funds.

Garner Attacks Buying of Comics

"One hundred million dollars a year, four times the amount spent for books by all public libraries in the country, and more than is spent on textbooks for all elementary and secondary schools — goes into comic book purchases in the United States."

This statement was made by Buford W. Garner, Superintendent of schools in Iowa City at the monthly meeting of the school board Tuesday night.

Garner also commented on the fact that two out of the five Nile Kinnick scholarship winners were from Iowa City. The two students awarded scholarships were Bill Scott and Arthur Andrews.

Two SUI graduates were among eleven persons appointed to teaching positions in Iowa City schools. Shirley Sparks and Mary Vernon were appointed elementary school teachers.

Appointments of seven teachers now in the Iowa City school system or on a year's leave of absence during the present school year were also approved.

In addition, 20 resignations (teachers returning contracts due to other plans), were accepted.
