Report No Polio Among Iowa's Vaccinated Children

Says Prejudice Costs $30 Billion Yearly

Prejudice and discrimination cost Americans an estimated $30 billion a year and an inestimable amount of good will among nations "on the fence" between the U.S. and U.S.S.R., a New York educator said here Monday.

Speaking to the annual Labor Short Course in the Iowa Center for Continuation Study, John Slocum said discrimination against a minority is a breakdown in the application of the Golden Rule that is costly psychologically, economically and politically. Slocum is executive secretary of the board of trustees of the 27-institution State University of New York.

Roper Blames Discrimination

He said public opinion and business analyst Elmo Roper estimated the $30 billion annual loss on the basis of purchasing power denied minority groups by low wages, costs of duplicating facilities to support segregation practices, and in crime, delinquency and social maladjustment traceable to discrimination and prejudice.

America loses politically, he told the 30 Iowa union representatives at SUI, whenever instances of prejudice are sensationalized in the newspapers of those nations which may throw their support either to the Western democracies or to the Communist powers.

Newspapers from behind the Iron Curtain, Slocum said, suggest continuous race conflict in the United States. This gives many Asiatic colored peoples a view of the U.S. similar to the picture of "ganster-ridden Chicago" held by some Englishmen in the 1930's, he said.

Taft-Hartley Law Today

In today's sessions the group will consider the impact of the Taft-Hartley law upon boycotts and strikes and discuss ways of increasing the civic responsibility of union members through adult education.

A featured speaker Wednesday will be Gregory J. Bardacke, executive director of the American Trade Council of the national committee for labor Israel. He will speak on "Labor Conditions and Problems in the Middle East."

Eden Sure Reds Will Enter Talks

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden said Monday night he has "every reason to suppose that the Soviet answer will be favorable" to the Western invitation for a Big Four meeting at the top level.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said in Vienna May 15 the Western proposal for such talks corresponds "completely with the peaceful policy of the Soviet Union."

However, the Russians still have not sent a note formally agreeing to a conference.

Over the weekend the Russian Communist party newspaper Pravda was sharply critical of Western motives in planning the conference.

Moscow radio asked Monday if the West would scuttle the whole idea if Eden's Conservatives win the British election Thursday.

Pravda accused the West of quibbling about the site and duration of the conference.

500 Seniors Attend Banquet

ABOUT 500 GRADUATING SENIORS were honored Monday night at the first Senior Banquet since the start of World War II, held in the Iowa Memorial Union main lounge. Seniors from SUI's eight colleges were present at the complimentary dinner sponsored by the alumni office. SUI President Virgil M. Hancher addressed the group as did Loren Hickerson, director of alumni records. SUI Registrar Ted McCarrel served as master of ceremonies. He introduced the presidents of the eight colleges and the guests of honor who were Mrs. Hancher, James R. Jordan, director of SUI relations, Max Hawkins, alumni funds director, Mr. Hancher and Hickerson.

Democrats Force Air Power Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats put on new pressure Monday to get what Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson termed the "true story" of how American air power stacks up against Russia's.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), who fired up the controversy last week, demanded in the senate that the Eisenhower administration answer "the one great question... How does our strength compare with the strength of the Communists, those who have so often reiterated their determination to destroy us?"

Wilson Must Explain

Johnson, of Texas, said Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson owed it to the people to straighten them out on the question and to see to it that "the generals and the secretaries get together so that the right hand knows what the left is doing."

Secretary of Air Force Talbot 10 days ago issued a release discussing the appearance of new types of Russian warplanes.

That led Symington at the time to question whether Russia might not be gaining air superiority.

Confusion

Since then there have been what Johnson called "a new rash of confusing statements." He said "there should be clarification as to what is the true story."

Before the controversy worked up to its peak last weekend, President Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that "to say we have lost in a twinkling all of this great technical development and technical excellence as well as the numbers in our total aircraft is just not true."

Reds Move Ahead

Returning to the debate Monday Symington told the senate: Evidence continues to pile up that Communist air power is moving up to us in offensive striking power, and is moving ahead of us in the fields of defense power, production and technology.

"The warning light is on. Only the blind, or more sinister people, will deny that fact."

Symington was secretary of the air force under President Truman.

AUTO DEATH

RED OAK (AP)—Mrs. Earl Combs, 66, Chariton, was killed Monday when the car driven by her husband went out of control on a curve east of Red Oak on highway 34.

Showdown Nears On Polio Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has called for a full dress conference of the nation's polio fighters here today, Surgeon Gen. Leonard Scheele announced Monday night.

He did not disclose the purpose of the meeting, but developments over the last few days indicate a major decision soon on the Salk polio vaccine program, including perhaps new safety standards.

Scheele said the vaccine committee of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, officers of the American Medical Association, and representatives of the Association of State and Territorial Health Officers have been invited to attend the conference.

They will meet with government scientists and experts from the six drug companies licensed to make the vaccine.

Giant Storms Hit Iowa

DES MOINES (AP)—A giant thunderstorm, reaching 52,000 feet into the air, swept across central and eastern Iowa late Monday.

Strong winds struck the Pannora area, west of Des Moines. One barn was blown over and some trees were broken off. Leaves were stripped from trees and roofs damaged by hail in that area.

Perry reported 2.39 inches of rain and some hail in a 30-minute period.

Some widely scattered thunderstorms occurred in the southeastern half of the state.

Cooler temperatures followed in the wake of the storm. Davenport reported the state high of 91. Readings were in the 80s across the rest of the state. Sioux City, however, had a high of only 67.

Temperatures Monday night were expected to range from 48 in the northwest to near 60 in the southeast. Showers will end over the eastern part of the state by morning. Highs in the 70s are forecast for today.

Pleds for More Schools

CHICAGO (AP)—A leader of the nation's teachers Monday night pleaded for action to halt the growing deficit in teachers and schools.

Miss Waurine Walker of Austin, Tex., president of the National Education Association, said that to "keep pace with our dangerous competitors" and to meet the needs of a complex industrial society more and better schools are necessary.

She spoke at the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The nominating committee recommended Mrs. Rollin Brown, Los Angeles, for president. Harry M. Reynolds of Winona, Minn., was nominated from the floor for the presidency. The election will be held today.

43 Korean POW's Ask To Leave India

NEW DELHI, India—Forty-three Koreans who were prisoners of war when the Korean war ended, appealed to the UN Monday to speed their resettlement in Latin America or allow them to return to South Korea.

They also asked protection from "political pressure, to return us to North Korea or Red China." Indian officials denied the pressure charges.

The former prisoners have been in India since March 1953, when they were brought from the Korean neutral zone with Indian army units on the repatriation teams.

They wanted to live in neither North nor South Korea.

Eighty-two Koreans in all were brought here and housed in barracks, but 32 elected to settle in India. The remaining 50 have been waiting for two years for permits to migrate to other countries. All but seven of this group joined in the appeal to the UN.

A government spokesman said India also is pressing the UN for a solution.

"It's a tough problem," he said. "We treat these ex-prisoners better than we do our own troops. But there has been no progress in getting them into countries they selected as their future homes."

Tito Is Still Independent, Dulles Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Yugoslavia Monday pledged to stick to its independence despite Marshall Tito's decision to meet with Russia's top leaders.

The state department reported the pledge only a few minutes after Secretary John Foster Dulles met with Yugoslavia's ambassador Monday.

Backing up the state department's announcement, Yugoslav Ambassador Leo Mates told reporters: "There will be no changes in our foreign policy as a result of the visit to Belgrade."

Tito's Yugoslavia, although a Communist nation, has been at odds with Moscow since 1948. Mates said the Yugoslav government has given its assurances "by diplomatic contact" in Belgrade with the American ambassador.

He declined to elaborate but said it is "very decidedly" Yugoslavia's policy to "stick to its independent policy of recent years."

Both the state department's and Mates' comments appeared to be designed to ease concern in the West over the scheduled visit later this month to Belgrade of Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev.

The state department, in an announcement which it acknowledged was "unusual," said Dulles called in Mates to discuss "recent developments in Europe, including the forthcoming visit of the heads of the Soviet Union to Belgrade."

In its announcement, the state department sought to picture the visit as proof Soviet satellites can break away from Moscow's dictation and not only prosper but force their former masters to come hat in hands to talk with the rebel leaders.

Retiring Department Heads Honored

HONORED AT A BANQUET Monday night were four retiring departmental heads in the college of liberal arts. Pictured above, from left, are Prof. T. Z. Koo, oriental studies; Prof. Sybil Woodruff, home economics, and Prof. G. W. Martin, botany, all of whom are retiring. Dewey B. Stuit, dean of liberal arts, is also shown. Prof. Elizabeth Halsey, who is retiring as head of women's physical education, was ill and unable to attend the dinner.

Four retiring department heads at SUI were honored Monday evening at a recognition dinner in the River room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Retiring with a total of 85 years service at SUI, the honored were Prof. T. Z. Koo, head of oriental studies; Prof. George W. Martin, head of botany; Prof.

Elizabeth Halsey, head of women's physical education, and Prof. Sybil Woodruff, head of home economics.

Miss Halsey was unable to attend the dinner because of illness.

Approximately 70 guests attended the dinner which was arranged by Dean and Mrs. Dewey

B. Stuit of the college of liberal arts. Among those who spoke at the dinner were SUI President Virgil M. Hancher and Provost Harvey H. Daver.

Prof. Martin has served on the SUI faculty since 1923. Miss Woodruff since 1940 and Prof. Koo since 1950.

Damage at Print Shop Won't Delay Yearbooks

Damage done by vandals Saturday night at the Economy Advertising company's plant will not delay distribution of the 1955 Hawkeye, yearbook editor Jo Murray, A4, Galesburg, Ill., said Monday.

Sixteen page sheets of the Hawkeye already printed at the shop, Market and Linn streets, were sprayed with fire extinguisher fluid and ruined, according to company officials. Leroy S. Mercer, vice president of the firm, estimated damage at "several hundred dollars."

Police said the incident took place between 9 p.m. Saturday and 2 a.m. Sunday. It was discovered by an employe.

A 32-page form of type was pulled from a bench and the type scattered, necessitating redoing of the work. Two hundred and fifty copper engravings were pushed to the floor and many were damaged.

A theft at the First English Lutheran church, 129 N. Duquesne st., took place Sunday morning while the minister, the Rev. T. L. Jacobsen, was preaching on the James Christian character, exemplified in part by honesty.

The offering taken during the first service was stolen during the second service which began at 10:45 a.m. It was estimated at $200.

Also missing from the church office, from which the collection was stolen, was a suit coat owned by a church organist. Taken from four purses in the basement was $22.77.

At the Congregational church, Clinton and Jefferson streets, about $10 in change was taken from the office sometime Sunday morning. The money was used for a Sunday school collection.

Hawkeyes Due May 31

1955 Hawkeyes will be available starting May 31, Hermann Koch, A4, Sioux City, business manager, announced Monday.

The yearbooks will be distributed at Campus Stores on Iowa Avenue from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Students must present their ID cards in order to pick up their copies, Koch said.

Koch urged that students pick up their books before the semester ends. The books will be reserved for only 90 days. In instances where books must be mailed, a 50-cent postage and handling charge must be paid, Koch said.

140,000 Given Shots In 1st Series

DES MOINES (AP)—None of the approximately 140,000 Iowa children given the Salk anti-polio vaccine has turned up with the disease, the State Health department said Monday.

The children, first and second graders, were inoculated several weeks ago.

"We have not even had a case of polio in Iowa in that age group," said Dr. Ralph Heeren, director of the department's division of preventable diseases.

No word of supplies

Dr. Heeren said the department has no word about when to expect supplies of the vaccine for the second round of inoculations, other than sometime between now and June 30.

He expressed the hope that this would be soon, so that the machinery set up for the first shots can be used without too much change. Dr. Heeren said, however, that the intervention of vacations might necessitate "replacement of some of the key people."

Higher Total

The total so far this year is 34. This compares with 24 at the same time last year and 53 in 1953. The number of cases for all of 1954 was 1,445, and for 1953, 613.

"We are a little ahead this year, but that doesn't mean much so far. The peak ordinarily comes in August or September," Dr. Heeren commented.

Wants Results of Study

Basil O'Connor, head of the March of Dimes, Monday asked the government to "release immediately to the public" results of its study of polio vaccine made by Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif.

O'Connor added that "until it is known whether or not the Cutter situation was due to inadequacy of the requirements of testing — on which I express no opinion — it can not be used as a basis for increasing the testing requirements" made of other manufacturers.

County's First Polio Case Is 5-Year-Old

Jill Schwank, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schwank, 3 Oak Park court, is being treated at Mercy hospital for a mild case of polio. Schwank is SUI's freshman football coach.

A kindergarten pupil at Roosevelt school, she has not received a polio vaccine inoculation. She is the county's first polio case this year.

Physicians said that, while polio usually occurs in greater numbers in late summer and early fall, cases at this time of year are not rare.

Subcommittee Backs Bricker

WASHINGTON (AP)—A senate judiciary subcommittee Monday approved by a 3-2 vote Sen. John Bricker's proposed constitutional amendment designed to limit the government's treaty-making power.

Supporting the controversial measure, which the senate refused to adopt after bitter debate early last year, were Sens. Price Daniel (D-Tex.), William Langer (R-N.D.) and Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.). Subcommittee Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and Sen. Thomas Hennings (D-Mo.) voted against the proposed amendment, which now goes before the full judiciary committee headed by Sen. Harley Kilgore (D-W. Va.).

President Eisenhower, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell have all registered formal opposition to major portions of the resolution backed by Bricker. Little hope was seen by advocates of the measure of getting it to the senate for debate this year, much less for adoption by the two-thirds vote required for amendments to the Constitution.

BELL BOYS?

DETROIT (AP)—Police found a 500-pound church bell in an alley. The Rev. Richard I. Knudsen, a Lutheran pastor, claimed it. He explained it had been taken from a garage where it was stored to await completion of a new church. Neighbors told puzzled police they had seen a group of boys struggling mightily with the big bell, 4 feet high, 3 1/2 feet in diameter.

A-Reactors for Sale— At $1 Million Each!

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —For about a million dollars and a stiffly-worded contract other countries can now buy an atomic research reactor stamped "Made in U.S.A."

A value of $350,000 was put on the 10-kilowatt reactor the United States will sell to Switzerland.

Dr. I. L. Rabi, a senior adviser of the U.S. Atomic Energy commission and one of the top world scientists helping plan the UN atoms-for-peace conference, was asked if the Swiss figure plus a reasonable profit was what any country could now buy a reactor for.

He looked doubtful. "That puts you in the ball park," answered the Columbia professor.

Rabi said in addition any buyer would have to sign a bilateral agreement, under U.S. law with the United States. This would strictly limit the uses to which the reactor would be put, so that no country would get an idea it could manufacture a few small A-bombs on the side.

Turkey has already signed such an agreement and will get an American reactor. Japan also may soon be in the market.

Strings Attached
Along with the reactor, the United States will sell uranium to the buyer. It will dilute about 11 pounds of rich, weapon-grade U-235 with a dross of 44 pounds U-238, and will keep strings attached to the nuclear material.

The reactors are able to turn out isotopes for use in medicine, agriculture and some industry.

They are not big enough to produce power or electricity in usable quantity.

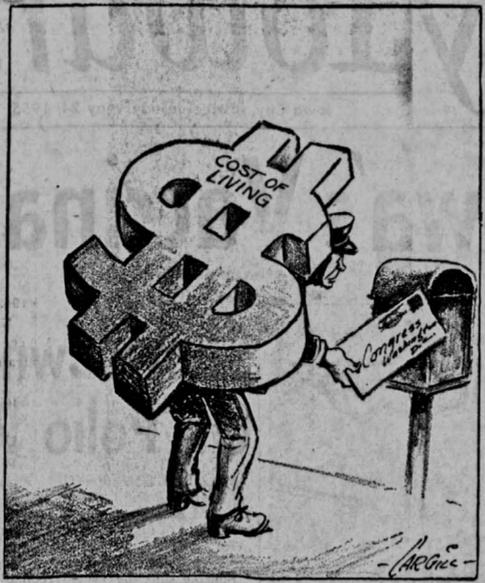

One value of such reactors will be to train scientists so they can be ready to man bigger apparatus when scientists have mastered the difficulties of producing atomic energy in quantity for power, light and heat.

Find No Foul Play In Pottawattamie Case

COUNCIL BLUFFS (AP) — A coroner's jury ruled Monday that J. V. (Vince) Crowe, 67, former Pottawattamie county assessor, died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Crowe's body was recovered from the Missouri river May 11. There was a bullet wound in his right temple. Crowe had been missing since April 19.

Interpreting the News— Russians 'Tough' in Berlin, Easing Pressure Elsewhere

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

A good many people are asking why Russia is being so tough in her relations with the Allies at Berlin while attempting to spread so much sweetness and light elsewhere.

After the experiences of the last 10 years, few people are willing to make categorical estimates of why Russia does anything the way she does. Diplomats everywhere make it a point not to center their attention on any particular angle, lest they be distracted from others. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles emphasized in his report to the nation, after his recent round of conferences in Europe, that he wasn't sure about Russia's immediate objectives.

2 Factors
Two factors, at least, seem obvious in the Berlin situation. One is that, by getting her East German puppet government into a row with the West German republic over the use and maintenance of highways, she is seeking to establish the Eastern government as a concrete entity, an equal entity, in future discussions of the reunification of Germany.

The other is an attempt to demonstrate to West Germany that, while Russia seems to be relaxing pressures in preparation for Big Four negotiations, everybody should remember she

TO THE EDITOR:
Re: Mr. Clinton E. Berryhill's letter (The Daily Iowan, May 18).
Mr. Berryhill states that he is now carrying 29 credits this semester and has carried about the same amount also for the last four or five semesters.

This is double the amount of credits that the ordinary liberal arts student carries. I, being in the "moron" category since I am carrying only the usual amount of credits and need to study quite hard to do this, applaud his superior ability loudly.

Einstein A Moron
But if those students who wonder how a person can carry 29 credits successfully are to be classified as morons, then the late Dr. Albert Einstein would also be classified as a moron, since Einstein states in his biography that he was noted during his school days as a student who didn't learn his lessons quickly or easily and thus probably would not have been able to carry a double load of credits.

Mr. Berryhill also suggests that wasting time on extracurricular activities such as dates and the like is unnecessary.

Students, Not Machines
Unfortunately, the average student cannot study as a machine can run 24 hours a day. The average student has a right to take a little time off for extracurricular activities to make his college career also a time to live a full, well-rounded life as well as a time for academic accomplishment.

There is no great necessity for a student to rush through college and get a B.S. degree in two years instead of the usual four.

If Mr. Berryhill will refer to the accomplishments of our present-day great men such as President Eisenhower during their college careers, he will find that many of them fall into the category of "just average."

Last August and last December brought to Iowa City plays by the modern theater's two outstanding authors of verse drama. The schedule for next summer includes premier performances of two new plays, a Chinese fantasy, and an expressionistic drama by Nobel prize winner Eugene O'Neill. "Hardly 'hot dog' fare."

Pat Clift, G, 618 Bowery st.

TO THE EDITOR:

We are not all as hard to please by University theatre productions as the critics.

An actor gets out on a 40-foot stage. There is nothing between him and his audience but fate and his technique.

As to his technique, he may expect from the critic (1) professional help and/or (2) the reaction of the average watcher.

He will probably not get the first unless the critic is well enough learned in theater that he does not, for instance, expect 20th century acting style in an 18th century play.

The least he can get is the second. And the average watcher, in the case of "Mister Roberts," sat where he was when the curtain went down and demanded and got a curtain call in spite of theater custom here.

This enthusiasm was not reflected in the review. The cast and crew need more than an irresponsible criticism on matters aside from the production. Even if the charge of second-string Broadway shows were justified, it does not matter to the student who has not seen either Broadway or "Mister Roberts," and feels that he has been in Iowa City on short rations since he was four years old.

We are willing to go up to Mammal hall and look at the dinosaurs to regain our perspective.

ive. How much more willing are we to see a university production that is competent, enjoyable, and — oh, ecstasy! — free!

At 102 His Age Surprises Him

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Lars Anderson celebrated his 102nd birthday Thursday but unlike most centenarians offered neither advice nor secrets for attaining long life.

"My age surprises me," he said.

"I've never taken any precautions to guard my health and until recently I've always lived a normal life."

Now blind and confined to bed, Anderson spent much of the day fingering his most valued present. It was a birthday card signed Dwight D. Eisenhower.

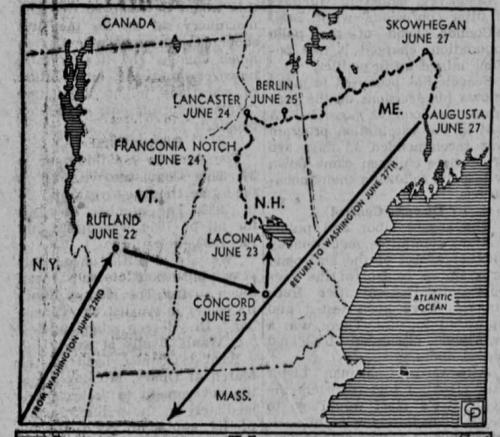

Grad Student Wins Economics Grant

Everett L. Refior, graduate assistant in social science at SU, has been awarded a 1955 Economics-In-Action fellowship for a special summer study program at Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland.

The fourth annual EIA fellowships, sponsored by the Republic Steel Corp., provides tuition, board and lodging, as well as travel expenses to and from Cleveland. The program will run from June 19 to July 29.

Refior was one of 50 college and university teachers to receive the award. The EIA program seeks to provide fellows with a comprehensive study of economic problems confronting the nation and managers of industry.

(Author of "Barefoot Boy With Cheek," etc.)

SUMMER IS ICUMEN IN

Sumer is icumen in; Lhude sing cuccu!
Thus, as every schoolboy knows, begins T. S. Eliot's immortal Hiaecatha. And no wonder "The Boy Orator of the Plate" (as T. S. Eliot is commonly called) was moved to pen such light-hearted lines! For summer (or the "vernal equinox" as it is frequently referred to) is the happiest season of the year, mild and balmy and contented-making.

Which brings us, of course, to Philip Morris Cigarettes. They, too, are mild and balmy and contented-making. But that is not all. They are also genial, placid, and amiable. But that is still not all. They are, moreover, smooth, pacific, and lenient. But hold! There is more. They are, in addition, tranquilizing, clement, and dulcet.

Indeed the list could go on and on, until every adjective is exhausted that would describe the mildness of Philip Morris, the subtlety of their blending, the delicacy of their flavor. What more perfect companion could be found to a summer's day? What more apt complement to a summer's night?

If you have been pleased with Philip Morris through the winter and spring—as who has not who has a taste bud left in his head?—you will find your pleasure compounded, your enjoyment trebled, when you smoke Philip Morris in the warm and joyous months before you.

My own plans for the summer (except that I will smoke Philip Morris through all my waking hours) are still vague. I have been invited to attend a writers conference, but I don't think I'll accept. I've been attending writers conferences for years, and I always have a perfectly rotten time. The trouble is that Alexandre Dumas and Harriet Beecher Stowe are always there. Not that I have anything against these two swell kids; it's just that it breaks my heart to see them. They're so in love—so terribly devoted and so hopelessly! Dumas will never divorce Jane Eyre while she is with Peary at the North Pole, and Miss Stowe has long since despaired of getting her release from the Pittsburgh Pirates. So hand in hand, brave and forlorn, they go from writers conference to writers conference while Dumas works on his monumental Stover at Yale.

No, thank you, I'll do without writers conferences this summer. I think instead I'll try to improve my fishing. As Izaak Walton once said, "No man is born an artist or an angler." I often turn to the works of Walton (or "The Fordham Flash" as he is familiarly called) when I am searching for a choice aphorism. In fact, I told him so when we met some years ago at a writers conference. Walton was accompanied, as always, by Henrik Ibsen (or "The Pearl of the Pacific" as he is known as). They-Ibsen ("The Pearl of the Pacific") and Walton ("The Fordham Flash")—were collaborating on Mister Roberts at the time, but they fell to quarreling and abandoned the project and the world, as a consequence, was deprived of a truly robust and entertaining comedy.

It is not uncommon, I must say, for writers to fall into dispute. They are, after all, a sensitive and high-strung lot. I'll never forget what William Makepeace Thackeray (or "The Body" as he was universally called) once said to me. "You show me a good writer," said Thackeray, "and I'll steal his wife."

Well, as I was saying, I think I'll give writers conferences a miss this summer, and I recommend that you do the same. Why don't you just take it easy? Swim and fish and sail and smoke and read and sleep and tan your lithe young limbs. I want the best for you because—if I may get a little misty in this, my final column of the year—I think you should know that it's been real kicks for me, delivering this nonsense to you each week.

And in conclusion let me state what Jane Austen (or "Old 54-40 or Fight" as she is called the world over) once said to me. "Nothing is so precious as friendship," she said, "and the richest man in the world is the one with the most money."

Our "On Campus" campaign has departed in many respects from conventional advertising methods. We'd like to have your opinion on this type campaign — and on the product, too, if you see fit — as a means of guiding us in planning our future college advertising efforts. How about dropping us a note? Thanks — Bill Watts, Duke '55, Mgr. Philip Morris College Dept., 100 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Show the Bride With Useful Gifts

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eighth in a series of articles to help the bride with her wedding plans.)

The hectic rush of wedding preparations is often interrupted by a happy rash of wedding parties.

Starting with the bridal shower, there may be a bridesmaid's dinner, a bachelor dinner, a rehearsal party and anything else friends, relatives, and parents care to give.

The shower, given after the engagement has been officially announced, may be held at the home of the bride's best friend, a close relative or even at the bride's house. It may or may not be a surprise.

Themes

It may center around a luncheon, bridge party, tea or supper, generally with both mothers and girl friends of the bride's age invited. Invitations may be given over the phone or through informal notes. No one should be asked to the shower who is not on the wedding list.

One of the purposes of such a party is to shower the bride with gifts. Generally the presents are not too expensive, as the same persons have to bring wedding gifts later on.

Many times, one general theme is used for the shower — items for the kitchen, linens, bath furnishings, lingerie, and the like. The kind of shower may depend on the bride's own financial situation. If she can afford to buy her own linens, perhaps a cosmetic, clothing or other unusual shower can be planned.

Plan Gifts

It is a good idea, when possible, for the guests to plan their gifts in advance so there is no duplication. A modern contribution is the shower registry, which some stores maintain. The girls tell the gift consultant they want to spend, say $35, for linens — and the store does the rest, including the shopping and packaging.

The gifts may be decoratively arranged on a table, perhaps with a gay umbrella over them, but try to avoid elaborate displays.

By tradition, one of the bride's close friends sits beside her as she unwraps her presents, and fashions a bouquet from the ribbons. The bride is supposed to carry this bouquet during her wedding rehearsal.

Thank-You Notes

The bride should send thank-you notes to all those who gave shower presents, unless the number was very small and she has ample opportunity to thank them in person.

About two days before the wedding, it is the custom in some areas to hold bridesmaids' and ushers' parties. The parties may be held at the bride's home, or at the home of a friend or relative.

This is a good time for the bride to give her special presents to her maids.

Bachelor Dinner

The bachelor dinner, usually thought of as a boisterous affair, is given by the bridegroom or a close friend. By tradition the groom and his men drink a toast to the bride, and in some areas, they follow the custom of throwing their glasses into the fireplace. The groom may give his attendants personal presents.

The day before the wedding, either before or after the rehearsal, comes the final party for all. This affair should break up early, so the bride can spend her last single night with her parents, and get to bed early.

Kitchen Comment

Cooks down on the Mississippi gulf coast have a special "know-how" in preparing tasty shrimp dishes, for the shrimp boats are constantly coming in with a big haul. Here is a favorite Gulf Coast recipe for preparing golden, crisp-fried shrimp. Try these with the sauce you like best.

Pan-Fried Shrimp

1 lb. raw shrimp
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup flour
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup fine bread crumbs
1/2 cup margarine
Lemon wedges

Wash shrimp and peel off shells, leaving tails on. Remove dark veins. Rinse in cold water. Drain well. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Roll in flour. Dip into beaten egg and then roll in bread crumbs. Melt margarine in heavy skillet over moderately low fire. Arrange shrimp in margarine and fry gently until golden brown on both sides, turning once or twice. Serve at once, garnished with lemon wedges. (Cooked, canned shrimp or frozen shrimp may be prepared the same way.)

It Wasn't as Tough as It Looked

JACK CANNING, A3, ALGONA, shows how he teed up on the Finkbine golf course Monday afternoon when he shot a hole-in-one on the tenth hole. The green can be seen over the bluff, 211 yards away. The shot was made against the wind with a No. 3 wood. Watching were Dennis Murphy, A1, Chicago Heights, Ill., Bud Judish, A1, Ft. Dodge, and Larry Larson, A1, Belmont. The last hole-in-one at Finkbine was in 1951 by John Comer.

Arroyo, Consuegra Lead Major Hurlers

NEW YORK (AP) — Luis Arroyo of the St. Louis Cardinals and Sandy Consuegra of the Chicago White Sox, two Latinos with excellent control and only one defeat between them, led the major leagues in earned run averages Monday.

Arroyo, a rookie lefthander, has given up only 5 earned runs in 36 innings. He heads the National league with an earned run mark of 1.25, figures compiled by the Associated Press disclose. Arroyo, a native of Puerto Rico, has won four games and lost none.

Consuegra, a righthander from Cuba, tops the American league with a 1.15 average. He has permitted six earned runs in 47 frames while winning three games and dropping one. His setback was by a 1-0 score.

Arroyo was recommended to the parent Cards by scout Gus Mancuso after issuing only 100 bases on balls in 227 innings with Columbus, Ga., and Houston in 1954. This year he's walked only 12.

Consuegra, the runnerup in earned runs to Cleveland's Mike

Garcia last year, gave up 35 walks in 154 innings in '54 and has yielded 6 this season.

Erskine Follows
Brooklyn's Carl Erskine, the National league's early season pacesetter, is second to Arroyo. He has given up 13 earned runs in 76 innings for a 1.54 ERA. Carl has a 6-1 won-lost record.

Warren Hacker of Chicago, who pitched a one-hitter against Milwaukee last Saturday, is third with 1.62 on nine untainted tallies in 50 innings. He has a 3-2 record.

Bob Rush, also of the Cubs, is fourth with 2.40. Robin Roberts of Philadelphia is fifth at 2.41.

Dick Donovan, a pleasant surprise for the White Sox, shows an earned run mark of 1.53 to rank second to teammate Consuegra in the American league. Donovan has pitched three shutouts among his five victories. He's lost one.

Johnny Schmitz, Washington's veteran southpaw, is third with 1.96. Then come Steve Gromek of Detroit with 2.33, Bob Turley of New York with 2.55, Alex Kellner of Kansas City with 2.70 and rookie Herb Score of Cleveland with 2.73.

Kluszewski Warms Up, Starts Hitting

NEW YORK (AP) — Ted Kluszewski, the famed "Mr. Muscles" of the Cincinnati Redlegs, finally has started laboring National league pitchers with home runs and base hits in the manner to which they're accustomed.

Kluszewski, a former football star at Indiana university, slammed three homers last week to deadlock Duke Snider of Brooklyn for the lead at 11. He also collected nine other hits in 23 at bats and pushed his batting average to .321, good for a sixth place tie with Milwaukee's Johnny Logan.

49 Last Year
The veteran Redlegs' first baseman hit 49 homers in 1954 and for a time threatened Babe Ruth's alltime mark of 60. Both he and Snider are all even with the bambina's 1927 pace.

Big Klu has a long way to go to catch New York's Don Mueller, who still is setting a torrid pace in the batting competition with a .397 mark. Don hit .333 in last week's games with 10 safeties in 30 trips.

Bill Virdon, the Cards' rookie outfielder, moved into second place at .368. Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn, who has hit safely in his last seven games, is third with .365. Then come Red Schoendienst of St. Louis with .352 and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn with .349. Camp is the circuit's runs batted in leader with 39.

Power Hitting .389
In the American league, Vic Power of Kansas City dropped six points to .389, but he still holds a commanding lead over Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline of Detroit.

Kuenn slumped 15 points to .373 with only six hits in 21 at bats while Kaline tailed off 21 points to .358 with five in 21 trips.

Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees is fourth with .333. He also is the league's leader in home runs with 11 and runs batted in with 30.

Successful Year For Hawks

Most Wins In Big Ten Competition

Iowa athletes established a new record in the 1954-55 school year by winning more dual meet victories from other Big Ten teams than ever before.

A summary of the Hawkeyes' sports activities shows that 44 victories were collected over conference opponents in 11 sports as compared to 32 defeats for a .579 percentage. The old record was 42-35-1 set in 1953-54.

In all contests, Iowa teams won 73, just two short of the all-time win mark of 75 recorded in 1951-52. The Hawks lost 53 and tied 1 in overall play for 579.

Three teams turned in losing records. They were the baseball, tennis and cross country squads.

Listed is the overall season records followed by Big Ten records in parenthesis:

Baseball	6	18	(3-10)
Basketball	19	7	(11-3)
Cross country	2	(1-1)
Fencing	3	6	(2-5)

Nats Bolstered By Pitching; Batters Weak

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators' collection of hitless wonders are staggering these days but they're still only eight games out of first place. The reason: A sturdy pitching staff.

Shoving off on a swing to New York and Boston Monday, Vice President Calvin Griffith let it be known he was willing to part with one or two of his "big six" pitching staff in an effort to get some punch into the batting order.

Manager Chuck Dressen, who said he finds it hard to believe the Senators' wretched batting averages, said "I'd like to do something big and if we can get three or four younger players for one of ours, maybe we will."

Vernon Hits .312
Of the Senators' regulars, only old pro Mickey Vernon has any batting average to speak of. It's .312. Next best is Tommy Umphlett's .271. From there, it's strictly down — to Roy Sievers' .123.

Yet Washington manages to stay in the league. The club was in fifth place as they left town Monday, thanks exclusively to the "big six," made up of left-handers Mickey McDermott, Dean Stone, Johnny Schmitz and Chuck Stobbs and righthanders Bob Porterfield and Camilo Pascual.

2 Must Remain
No one is going to pry loose either Stone or Pascual, a pair of youngsters with great promise. Stone, you'll remember, emerged as the winning pitcher in last year's all star game although only a rookie at the time.

McDermott, probably the best of the lot so far this year, has a lukewarm record of 2-4, largely because his team doesn't hit for him. In one game, which he lost to Cleveland 3-2 earlier this year, McDermott got three of Washington's six hits.

The veteran Schmitz, with a nifty earned run average of 2.13, has won only three while losing two, despite the fact he has pitched well enough to win in every game in which he has appeared.

Buckeyes Take Baseball Title By Winning Final Twin-Bill

Ohio State's Buckeyes won the Big Ten baseball crown and deprived Michigan of a share of the same Saturday by whipping the Wolverines in a doubleheader, 13-4, and 5-1.

A split for Ohio State would have dropped them into a tie with Minnesota and Michigan State while a double Wolverine victory would have made a three way tie of Michigan, Minnesota and Michigan State with identical records of 10-5.

Iowa was drubbed in a doubleheader by Wisconsin to shove the Hawkeyes into a last place tie with Indiana. Both Iowa and Indiana finished with 10-9 records.

The Badgers combined timely hitting, steady pitching and

Williams Hits Homer on 1st Night Back

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams smashed a towering 395-foot home run and rookie first baseman Norm Zauchin connected for two tremendous circuit clouts Monday night to give the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the New York Giants in an exhibition game called after 6½ innings.

Williams, who decided to return to baseball May 11 and began working out after signing a contract two days later, leaped into a fast ball by New York rookie hurler Paul Giel and sent a drive some 10 rows deep into the right field seats as leadoff man in the third inning.

The crowd of 24,323 fans gave the big guy a tremendous ovation as he circled the bases with his familiar looping stride.

In his first time at bat in the first inning as No. 3 man in the batting order, Williams sent a high skycraper to deep shortstop on a 3-0 pitch.

In the field, Williams handled himself flawlessly, grabbing three easy flies for putouts.

Big Ten Meets Set In Tennis, Golf, Track

Big Ten championship meets in three events are scheduled for Iowa athletic teams beginning Thursday and continuing through Saturday. They are tennis, beginning Thursday at Evanston; track, beginning Friday at Columbus, O., and golf, starting Friday at LaFayette, Ind.

The golf team, with a 6-3 record and several veterans from the squad which finished second last year are rated a good chance to rate highly again. This spring, Iowa has beaten Illinois, Indiana, Northwestern and Wisconsin and lost a close one to Minnesota for a 4-1 record.

Several track men are capable of helping Iowa to a first division finish in that event. They are: Les Stevens, high and low hurdles and high jump; Rich Ferguson, mile; Murray Keatinge, half mile, and Gardner Van Dyke, pole vault.

Handicapped by a lack of veterans, the tennis team has a season dual meet record of 2-5.

Honeys Alibi Wins Preakness Prep

BALTIMORE (AP) — Honeys Alibi, W-L Ranch's hope of cashing in on the $100,000 Preakness, whipped three other candidates for the big race by scoring a length-and-a-half victory Monday in the Prep.

Handled well by jockey Carlos Gonzales, Honeys Alibi waded the lead from the pace-setting Fleet Path, belonging to Dunbreath farm, going into the far turn and outgamed him to win going away.

Fleet Path saved the place money by two lengths over Gee M. Cohen's Chuck Thompson, who was six lengths in front of the always-trailing Christiana Stable's Thinking Cap.

Although the small field deprived the 9,553 fans of a chance to bet on the feature, Honeys Alibi's victory was worth $3,250 to his owner.

Honeys Alibi was clocked in 1:43.35 seconds for the mile-and-a-half, which is an eighth shorter than Saturday's Preakness. His time over the fast track was one and three-fifths seconds off the record set by Noble Impulse in 1949.

Says Johnson Felled By Fist, Not Drugs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold Johnson wasn't drugged but was stopped by a terrific body blow in the first round of his May 6 nationally televised fight with Julio Mederos, the Pennsylvania State Athletic commission was told Monday.

Barry W. Cohen, a second for Mederos, appeared as a voluntary witness before the commission in its investigation of boxing in Pennsylvania. Johnson,

Harold Johnson "Right to the Body"

Philadelphia lightweight; his manager of record, Tommy Loughrey; three handlers and matchmaker Pete Moran, are charged with participating in a "sham, fake or collusive boxing match."

Gov. George M. Leader banned boxing in Pennsylvania 90 days and ordered an investigation after traces of a barbiturate drug were found in Johnson's system. Physicians and police investigators reported Johnson was drugged sometime before the fight. The fighter collapsed in his corner after the second round and Mederos was declared the winner by TKO.

Cohen, asked by deputy state Atty. Gen. Herbert Levin, "who drugged Johnson?" replied, that he didn't believe the number one light heavyweight challenger was drugged at all but was stopped by a "terrific right to the body in the first round."

Levin, obviously impatient with the testimony of Cohen, his own witness, got into a wrangle with the fight handler as he was about to leave the stand.

"Mr. Cohen," said Levin, "I don't mind telling you that you were well rehearsed in your testimony after consulting with someone else. You can take that back to Massachusetts and New York."

12,000 Man-Hours of Rehearsal to Date—

Mitropoulos Holds 'Requiem' Rehearsal

In six hours of combined and intensive rehearsals under the direction of Dmitri Mitropoulos, 350 Iowa musicians will complete preparations for their presentation of Hector Berlioz' "Requiem" Thursday evening in the SUI field house.

Nearly twelve thousand man-hours of rehearsal went into the production prior to Mitropoulos' arrival in Iowa City to begin combined rehearsals Monday evening.

For seven weeks the 225-member chorus has been rehearsing under the direction of Prof. Herald Stark of the SUI music department, and Conductor James Dixon has rehearsed the 120-piece University Symphony for the past month.

Dixon has also rehearsed the two groups jointly with four small "brass choirs" which will also take part in the production.

Joining the Iowa musicians for the first rehearsals under Mitropoulos Monday were Jenny Cullen, of Minneapolis, and David and Maria Lloyd of New York.

Miss Cullen is a former member of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, having played with the group in many of its appearances in Iowa City, both under the direction of Mitropoulos and earlier under Henry Verbruggen.

Miss Cullen now teaches at both Hamline university and the University of Minnesota. She will play a viola with the orchestra for the Thursday evening program.

Mrs. Lloyd, concert violinist who has presented a number of joint concerts with her husband, will play in the violin section.

Lloyd, tenor with the New York City Center Opera company, will be a guest artist with the chorus for the "Requiem."

The SUI chorus rehearsed an additional hour Monday afternoon with Mitropoulos conducting before joining the orchestra and four brass choirs in the first joint rehearsal Monday evening under the New York conductor's baton.

William Gower, associate director of the orchestra, rehearsed the brass choirs earlier.

The Thursday evening program in the field house will be open to the public free of charge. Tickets are not required for admission, according to Professor Himie Voxman, head of the SUI music department, which is sponsoring the presentation.

Mitropoulos came to Iowa City Sunday evening from Ann Arbor, Mich., where he had conducted the New York Philharmonic Symphony orchestra in the final concert of the first nationwide tour made by the group in 34 years.

"What Needs to be Done?" will be the topic of another conference sponsored by the SUI classics department June 27. The purpose of this meeting will be to survey progress in the classics field and to determine the needs of the field.

From June 28-July 16 the fifth annual Iowa Latin workshop will be held under the sponsorship of the classics department.

This workshop for Latin teachers was started in 1949 and was the second of its kind in the U.S. shop are given three hours of co-instructors attending the workshop credit.

THIS PICTURE WAS TAKEN OF Mitropoulos as he directed the SUI group in a rehearsal at the Iowa field house soon after his arrival in Iowa City. He will direct the combined orchestra and in the "Requiem" in the field house Thursday at 8 p.m.

'Murder, Inc.' Pleads Guilty of Tax Evasion

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — Dapper Albert Anastasia, variously described as the leader and trigger man of the notorious New York "Murder Inc." mob, changed his mind in federal court Monday and pleaded guilty to income tax evasion.

The 50-year-old Anastasia, unsmiling as he stood before U.S. District Judge Thomas M. Madden, said he was guilty of failing to pay $11,743 in income taxes for the years 1947-48, as the government charged.

Classics Talks To Be Here

SUI will be host to the eighth annual American Classical League Latin institute June 23-25. Classics and Latin teachers from high schools and colleges throughout the U.S. will attend the convention to be held at the Continuation center.

This conference will be the first in a series of classical conventions held in Iowa City during the months of June and July. Prof. Gerald F. Else, head of the SUI classics department, said Saturday that "Iowa City will be the classical center of the U.S. during the last week of June."

Knower will serve as a moderator of a program prepared by the convention's applied methodology steering committee today.

The convention has many speakers who took their quality control training at SUI. SUI has held thirteen 10 day courses in the last eleven years for representatives of plants who were interested in setting up quality control programs.

The tests started Monday and will end Friday noon. Graduating seniors in dentistry as well as out-of-state dentists wishing to practice in Iowa are taking the examinations.

The state board of dental examiners is administering the tests to 83 candidates for dentistry licenses and 19 for licenses in oral hygiene.

To Illuminate Parking Lot

The city-owned parking lot on College street between Linn and Dubuque streets will be lighted by mercury vapor lamps when the equipment arrives Chief of Police O. A. White said Monday.

In the meantime, White reminded motorists using the lot that the parking meters are checked from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. daily except Sunday. Signs posted in the area and plates on the meters give the times of operation.

White said that the number of tickets issued on the College street lot during the evening has not been excessive. In most cases, he said, these parking tickets have been dismissed.

Several people have recently made inquiry as to the hours during which money must be deposited in the meters.

2 SUI Professors At Quality Control New York Meeting

Two SUI professors, Frank R. Kennedy, college of law, and Lloyd A. Knowler, college of mathematics and astronomy, are attending the Ninth Annual Convention of the American Society for Quality Control, May 23-25 at the Statler and New Yorker hotels in New York City.

Kennedy spoke on, "Some Legal Aspects of Sampling," in a special interest program Monday.

High Court Changes Contempt Findings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The supreme court Monday threw out contempt-of-congress convictions of three men who refused to answer questions put to them by congressional Red-hunters.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who spoke for the majority in all three cases, said governmental bodies "must be most scrupulous" in protecting the rights of a witness under the Fifth amendment's guarantee against compulsory self-incrimination.

Warren also said that congressional committees, in laying the foundation for a contempt prosecution, must make it clear to a witness that he is in danger of prosecution for refusing to answer questions.

In none of the three cases, Warren said, did the house-un-American activities committee confront the witness with a clear-cut choice between answering a question and risking prosecution.

These following convictions were reversed and sent back to U.S. district court here with instructions to enter judgments of acquittal:

Julius Emspak, secretary-treasurer of the United Electrical Workers union, which was excluded from the CIO several years ago on the ground it was Communist-dominated.

Emspak's conviction grew out of his appearance before the house committee during a 1949 investigation of Red infiltration of labor unions.

Thomas Quinn, a field organizer for the same union, who also was called as a witness during the same investigation.

Phillip Bart, general manager of the Daily Worker, Communist party newspaper, a witness before the same committee in 1950.

Emspak and Quinn received sentences of six months in jail and $500 fines. Bart got a three-month sentence and a $500 fine.

The U.S. court of appeals here had upheld the Emspak and Bart convictions, but ordered a new trial for Quinn.

These three cases were the most important ruled on Monday. The court recessed until May 31 without any ruling in the matter of racial segregation in the public schools. This ruling may come before the summer recess.

See Dock Strike as Threat to Laborites

LONDON (AP)—Striking dockers crippled Britain's four biggest ports Monday in a bitter inter-union feud for bargaining rights on the nation's waterfronts.

Political observers said the strike would hurt the chances of the Labor party in Thursday's parliamentary election.

Food ships began to pile up in the Thames estuary and government officials warned the nation's vital export trade would be crippled if the strike continues.

More than 18,000 longshoremen quit work at London, Manchester, Hull and the twin Mersey ports of Liverpool and Birkenhead. A handful of others came out at smaller ports up and down the country. Another 30,000 remained on the job, but with working teams split up many walkout next weekend of 70,000 railway engineers and firemen seeking higher pay rates.

The events added fresh burdens to the Conservative government on the eve of Thursday's general election — and Laborite campaigners did their best to make the voters see that side of it.

Prime Minister Anthony Eden kept in touch with the strike developments at his country home at Chequers, as government officials worked feverishly to head off a second election week strike — a threatened

Dock Disputes Spark British Campaigns

LONDON (AP)—An atmosphere of industrial unrest pulled Britain's election campaign out of its dullness Monday night and injected a new factor in Thursday's voting for a new 630-member house of commons.

Behind closed doors, both Conservative and Labor headquarters planned last minute campaign moves. Victory for either side means the right to govern Britain for the next five years.

Socialistic Laborites, sensing they were running behind, searched feverishly for a new issue.

It appears likely Britain's 35 million voters will go to the polls with five major ports paralyzed by a jurisdictional dispute of dock workers. In addition, there is grave threat of a nationwide rail strike due to begin almost before all the ballots are counted.

Presumably, the disputes could strengthen the cause of Prime Minister Eden's Conservatives. Uncommitted middle class voters — the people who swing the balance in any British election — might be frightened away from Labor candidates.

Leftwing Laborite Aneurin Bevan contended in recent speeches the Conservative government has encouraged "a policy of grab by big business" and this philosophy has worked its way into the ranks of the workers. The Labor moderates have taken up Bevan's theme.

Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard gave the Conservative answer in an editorial that said:

"This is a dangerous line for the Socialists to adopt. On the one hand they condemn the strikes as damaging to the nation's economy, while on the other they justify them, as the inevitable result of Tory policy. And they hint that these disputes would never take place if the Socialists were in power."

Clement Attlee, the Laborite leader, said the Conservatives had come up with an election stunt that is "one of the dirtiest things ever put out," bogus ration books.

'Clamor' Cited As Convicting Dr. Sheppard

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorneys for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard Monday told the court of appeals the 31-year-old osteopath was convicted "by popular clamor" of the murder of his wife.

The defense wants the appeals court to set aside the verdict of a jury which found Sheppard guilty of second degree murder, and to order a new trial. The defense claims the trial judge, Edward S. Blythin, made numerous legal errors during the 10-week trial, and that new evidence has been discovered which indicates the real murderer was a sex fiend who broke into the Sheppard home.
