One Killed, One Injured in Crash

PATROLMEN INSPECT THE CAR in which Richard Lee Moore, 31, Wapello, was killed early Thursday morning. The car left highway 92 and overturned one-half mile east of the junction of highways 92 and 218. The Moore car missed a curve and skidded more than 400 feet before leaving the road, patrolmen said. Lowell Waters, Farley, a passenger, was reported in fair condition Thursday at Washington county hospital with a broken leg and brain concussion.

Fliers Share Tears, Joy With Families

HONOLULU (AP) — More than two years of anxious waiting ended Thursday for the families of four U.S. fliers, back from the Korean War after lonely months in Red China's prisons.

An air force plane brought the families here from the mainland to a tearful, happy reunion. Events had moved fast this week for the four — Lt. Col. Edwin Heller, Wynnewood, Pa.; Capt. Harold E. Fischer, Swes City, Iowa; Lt. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb., and Lt. Roland W. Parks, Omaha.

Released at Hong Kong Tuesday, they reached Honolulu Wednesday, astounded to learn that their families were being flown to Hawaii.

They stood impatiently in new air force uniforms as the plane rolled up toward the ramp at Hickam air force base. Heller embraced his wife, Judith, first off the plane. He met her half way up the steps. They sobbed happily.

Fischer also raced up the steps and hugged his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Fischer. Father and son pounded each other on the back. Their eyes were red as they came down the steps.

Cameron ran up the steps and grabbed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland G. Cameron. He pounded his brother, Robert, 21, about the ribs.

Parks rushed up to embrace his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Parks and his brother, Richard. The elder Parks could not speak until he reached the bottom of the ramp. Then he said: "I hope to God you're okay."

Asked what he wanted to do when he got home, Capt. Fischer said, "I want to do something. That's one thing I've missed, something to do."

Fischer, who was divorced the day he was shot down and who has a 6-year-old son, added: "I want to take him for a plane ride, I want to go swimming with him. I want to do everything with him."

Fischer said he did not yet know if he would stay in the Air force.

At a Wednesday news conference Fischer, speaking for the others said:

"I think we all really feel that we want to thank the American people for all the efforts that they went to in getting us out; the United Nations, and all the efforts that were expended in our behalf."

Senators Ask Probe Of Security Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new bipartisan commission to investigate the government's security program from top to bottom was proposed unanimously Thursday by the senate subcommittee on government operations headed by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.).

The action was hailed by former Sen. Harry Cain of Washington as "a tremendous step in the direction of preserving freedom in this country."

Blasts Subversive Lists
Cain, now a member of the subversive activities control board, hit out anew at the present setup in testimony before a senate civil service subcommittee. He blasted the attorney general's subversive organization list as "a warped and wormy measuring rod," and declared:

"The question 'Am I a security risk?'—asked anxiously of themselves by some millions of citizens on the basis of present or

Segregation Debates Grow

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—More legal aid to oppose suits growing out of the supreme court's May 31 ban on segregation in the schools was requested in Alabama Thursday.

Meanwhile, a second Southern school board vowed to close its schools if forced to comply with the court decision and a judge in Virginia ruled that expenditure of a million dollar bond issue for school construction is illegal.

Alabama's Atty. Gen. John Patterson asked the legislature for funds to hire four additional attorneys "primarily to handle the multiplicity of segregation suits."

The supreme court has left it up to local courts to determine when it is "feasible" to abolish the traditional educational system of separate schools for whites and Negroes in the South.

Rail Strike Closes Plants

LONDON (AP) — Britain's railway strike Thursday night forced the shutdown of six Welsh steel plants. Peacemaking efforts by top trade union officials ended in a deadlock.

The steel works closing, caused by a shortage of coal and scrap iron and affecting some 2,700 men, was the first major industrial stoppage because of the five-day-old strike of engineers and firemen.

It foreshadowed widespread unemployment and progressive paralysis of the industrial machine if the strike drags on into next week.

The cabinet met for the first time since Prime Minister Anthony Eden led his Conservatives to an election victory over the Labor party a week ago.

It studied effects of the railway strike on the nation's economy.

Proposes Reforms
The former Washington senator, once a close associate of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.), called for four "basic reforms," which, he said, would keep subversives out of government while protecting the rights and self-respect of individuals:

1. Let agency heads grant security hearings without suspending the employe in question unless there is reason to believe he is a spy, saboteur or traitor—and not merely a possible undesirable.

Provide Lawyers
2. Provide government-paid lawyers for employes accused of being security risks.

3. Give security hearing boards the power to subpoena witnesses "whose appearances would not jeopardize the national security." Cain said malicious neighbors or co-workers would be unlikely to bring false charges against a government worker if they knew they could be forced to face their victim.

4. Set up a process of evaluating "derogatory information" against a job applicant. The mere fact that unsubstantiated charges have been made now bars many a worthy applicant from government service, Cain said.

State Subpoenas 30 For Manslaughter Trial

DES MOINES (AP) — County Attorney Leo Tapscott said Thursday that 30 state witnesses have been subpoenaed for the manslaughter trial of Charles A. Hanson, which is scheduled to open in District Judge Ray Fountain's court next Monday.

Hanson, 28, was indicted in connection with the death of Prudence Thompson, 8, who was injured fatally when struck by a car in Des Moines the night of April 23.

Report Ford, Union Near Wage Accord

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. Thursday was reported to have accepted in principle the CIO United Auto Workers union demand that industry continue part pay to employes when they are out of work.

That is the key point in the guaranteed annual wage plan which the UAW is pressing on Ford and General Motors under a strike threat next week.

The union has announced it intends to insist on the year-around pay plan throughout the auto industry and other CIO unions are making the same demand in other mass-production industries.

'Unprecedented Offer'
The Detroit News said it learned from a high union official that Ford had offered a 55 million dollar, three-year "job security" fund that would be "unprecedented in industry."

"It appears to represent some of the thinking of both Ford's previous 'partnership in prosperity' offer and the union's guaranteed annual wage plan,"

Army Field Band To Play Tonight

The U.S. army field band and the "Soldiers Chorus" will present a free concert in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union today at 8 p.m.

The band under the direction of Maj. Chester E. Whiting, offers as one of its chief features, a drum novelty act. Many of the more than 100 musicians are former bandmasters.

The 30-voice chorus was formed, trained and will be directed by M/Sgt. Arthur V. Donofrio.

The concert is sponsored by the department of the army in conjunction with the SUI ROTC departments.

the News said. "It accepts the principle of providing for a Ford employe while he is out of work — the principle on which UAW President Walter P. Reuther insists."

Won't Comment
As reported by the News, Ford offered to pay a percentage of weekly payroll toward a fund out of which laid-off workers would continue to receive jobless pay after their state unemployment compensation payments became exhausted.

Neither Ford nor the UAW would comment on the published report, pointing to their agreement to conduct negotiations in secret. The union was bargaining simultaneously with both Ford and General Motors.

Possible strikes faced Ford on Monday and GM on Tuesday but it was generally believed only one of the giant auto firms would be singled out for any strike action.

Some Strikes
There were a number of scattered "wildcat" or unauthorized walkouts in Ford Co. plants Wednesday and some more Thursday. The company said some cars were "sabotaged" with scratches and knife slashes on assembly lines. The union made no comment.

Under the guaranteed annual wage plan Reuther has demanded that the auto industry pay laid-off workers substantially their regular earnings though idle for as long as a year. The employer's payment would be to the extent this was not met by state unemployment compensation checks to workers.

Ford has been seeking another five-year contract while the union has said it is unwilling to sign an agreement for longer than two years. A contract running three years, as reported included in the Ford offer, would represent a compromise.

Allin W. Dakin To Serve 2 Years

Dakin Named Rotary Officer

Allin W. Dakin, SUI administrative dean, Wednesday was elected a director of the Rotary International at the organization's golden anniversary convention at Chicago.

He is the first Iowan to be elected a director in 25 years and only the second in the history of Rotary. He will serve two years.

The board of directors is the administrative body of Rotary. Dakin is past president of the Iowa City club, a former district governor, and a member of several committees of Rotary International.

He received his B.A. at SUI in 1926 and his M.A. in 1927. He received a master of business administration degree from Harvard in 1931.

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa State Commerce Commission Thursday announced a decision to deny motor carriers a proposed increase classification ratings on shipments of caskets. The motor carriers had suspended the proposed increase pending the commission hearing.

Believe Tito's Independence 'Unimpaired'

Yugoslavia, Soviet Union Sign Declaration

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia signed a declaration of principles with the Soviet Union Thursday night, but President Tito apparently did not yield an inch of his independence.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist party boss in the Soviet Union who came here a week ago pleading for a political reconciliation with Tito, will leave today empty-handed, judging from what is now known.

Led Group
Khrushchev, who led the six-man Soviet delegation here and did most of the talking, didn't even sign the declaration. He sat smiling at the green baize table of the Gardijski Dom Guards' Palace Thursday night, a Hero of the Soviet Union medal prominent on his lapel, as Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin scratched his name with Tito's on the document.

Relations of the Communist parties in the two countries were not even mentioned in the declaration.

Points Made
The principal points it made were:

1. Yugoslavia supports "the satisfaction of the legitimate rights of the Communist People's Republic of China with regard to Taiwan (Formosa) . . ."
2. Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union support a settlement of the German question "on a democratic basis, in conformity both with the wishes and desires of the German people and with the interests of general security."

3. Both governments support "a system of collective security in Europe based on a treaty."

4. The role and authority of the United Nations should be strengthened, and Communist China should be given a seat in the UN.

5. The two governments have decided to conduct their future relations "in a spirit of friendly cooperation" and conclude arrangements for improving economic relations.

6. "Respect for the sovereignty, independence, integrity and equality among states in their mutual relations and in their relations with other states. Recognition and development of peaceful coexistence among nations regardless of ideological differences or differences of social order . . ."

$3½ Billion Budget Goes To House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The senate Thursday night passed the entire 3½ billion dollar foreign aid program President Eisenhower has asked for the year starting July 1.

For the first time since 1950, the senate failed to remove so much as one penny from the global aid authorization bill which President Eisenhower on April 20 called "an indispensable part of a realistic and enlightened national policy . . ."

The bill now goes to the house. Amendments defeated soundly defeated in the senate were a score of amendments to chop millions of dollars from various parts of the measure. The money itself still has to be voted in a separate bill.

The measure authorizes $1,595,000,000 in direct military aid to friendly foreign nations, more than half for Asia, and the balance in a variety of economic assistance programs, including a 200 million dollar development fund for the "free arc" of Asia. Already authorized for the new program was an additional 122 million dollars in defense funds, making the total precisely the $3,580,000,000 President Eisenhower recommended.

Sen. W. A. George (D-Ga.), chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, mustered a comfortable majority to beat back most amendments, including efforts to cut the over-all total, to compel the administration to handle a specified portion of economic aid as loans rather than grants, and to send the measure back to committee.

Fight On Funds
Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), author of a defeated amendment to reduce the total by one billion dollars, served notice he would fight for reductions in the forthcoming bill which will carry actual funds for the program.

The senate foreign relations committee made only two or three changes in the measure as recommended by President Eisenhower — and all were upheld in the senate. One stripped from the bill a section which would have empowered John B. Hollister to fire up to 50 per cent of top-grade employes in the Foreign Operations administration. FOA expires June 30 and Hollister will head a new economic aid agency in the State department starting July 1.

Hitchcock To Moderate Town Meeting
Orville Hitchcock, SUI speech professor, will be moderator this week's "America's Town Meeting of the Air," to be broadcast over the ABC network at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Participants on the program, "Asia and the West — Gateway to Understanding," will be Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the board of the Studebaker-Packard corporation and former chief of the Economic Cooperation Administration; Sir Leslie Munro, New Zealand ambassador to the United States, and Sujono Surjotjondro, counselor of the Indonesian embassy in Washington, D. C.

This program was recorded for broadcast Tuesday at the Golden Anniversary convention of Rotary International in Chicago. About 9,000 Rotarians were in the audience in Chicago Stadium for the occasion.

Before joining the SUI faculty in 1946, Hitchcock served for a year as producer of "America's Town Meeting of the Air." He is present chairman of the summer lecture series at SUI.

The Breezes Begin—

Although the next presidential election is more than 17 months away, the volume of political rumblings is increasing "throughout the land."

The once-reluctant Adlai Stevenson was reported Wednesday as "willing to give all he has" in 1956, if the Democratic chieftains convince him the party wants him to run.

This is quite a change from Stevenson's great reluctance of 1952 and possibly can be interpreted as a new line of attack for Illinois' former governor.

It might be that Stevenson, considered by some more of an intellectual than a politician, is realizing that politics is a full-time job — a job that begins after one election and doesn't end until the following election day.

It must also be obvious to Stevenson that New York's Governor Averell Harriman could continue to gain support between now and next summer's nominating convention. Harriman has said that he's for Stevenson, but the political winds have a strange way of blowing and Stevenson can probably foresee a cyclone in his own back yard come next summer, if he doesn't start blowing up a little dust himself now.

On the other side of the fence, Ike is showing the Republican big boys that he's learned how to be a big-time politician.

The President is in an advantageous position and he's taking advantage of it. Several months ago, the speculation began about Ike's political plans. Some say he'll run, others say he won't.

But the President is keeping mum. By not saying he won't run, Ike isn't giving the Democrats any time to prepare a plan of attack against his successor. And by not saying he will run, the Democrats can't start a full-fledged campaign against him.

Most Republican leaders have made it obvious by now that Ike is their choice in '56, if he wants the nomination.

So, it seems that both Ike and Adlai have learned quite a bit about big-time politics since 1952. But this is just the first round. It'll be hot and heavy from here on in.

Interpreting the News—

Current Red Peace Drive In Line With Stalin Doctrine

BY J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

The Russians have moved very cleverly to maintain freedom of action in their current peace offensive while setting up their NATO-like military organization among the satellites.

They stand ready to dissolve the organization if Western Europe will agree to join them in an all-European collective security system.

Indeed, the Allies were reported to be considering an idea for using the new organization in discussions of disarmament at the projected Big Four conference. Under this idea, instead of aiming directly at disarmament, which would halt West German rearmament, a proposal may be made for halting the arms race at agreed levels for the two blocs, with the two unified commands supervising.

The Allies are morally bound to produce some platform planks on the various issues the conference will take up, if for no other purpose than to scotch the Communist propaganda line.

That line, as laid down by Stalin interpreting the policies of Lenin, is as follows:

"We Communists create slogans for the masses. Treaties embodying fresh groupings of forces with an eye to war are termed 'peace treaties.' The signing of them is always effected to the accompaniment of the pipings of 'peaceful alliances.' Our preparations for a war are conducted under cover of peacemaking. The opposition will not accept our proposals; that shows how 'genuine' is their love of peace."

Wilkins Sees Little Segregation by 1963

BY SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP) — Being a realistic man, Roy Wilkins can see the difference between rallying slogans and reasonable hope.

For example, on Jan. 1, 1964, it will be 100 years since Abe Lincoln freed the slaves. The date has been set up as a dramatic target for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

By 1963, its literature says, all traces of the Negroes' "second-class citizenship" can be removed and "this unfinished business of democracy" can be finished.

Can they really make it in eight years?

Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP since the recent death of Walter White, gave the question long, careful thought.

Unsegregated Housing "By 1963," he said finally, "we definitely expect that segregation in education will be out completely in most areas and on its way out in the die-hard areas. By 1963, we expect that all public housing will be unsegregated everywhere and that the pattern of segregation in private housing will be broken on a wide scale."

"We expect much less discrimination in employment in all fields — white collar, technical, professional, skilled and unskilled labor. And by 1963, we expect very much less discrimination and segregation in publicly financed recreational facilities — in parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, golf courses. Also in hotels, restaurants, trains and buses."

Progress 'Rapid' Thinking of the supreme court decision outlawing school segregation, recalling the end of segregation in the armed forces, the death of the "white primary," and the inroads made against "Jim Crow," Wilkins said: "The progress in the last 13 years has been so rapid, it is reasonable to suppose we can accomplish twice as much in the next eight or nine years."

Can he see on the horizon a time when the NAACP will have crusaded itself out of business, when the American Negro will have made such strides he'll no longer need such a militant voice?

Out Of Business "Yes," said Wilkins. "Put it this way. We've been organized 45 years. I'm sure we'll be out of business in another 45 years, certainly in our present form."

"We won't have to slug as much, be as militant. Today, we're still battling primitive ideas — that the Negro is sub-human, that he can't learn. But that keeps changing. And one day the need will change so that we'll be only a cultural or educational organization with sort of a watch-dog phase to it."

Differs From White Wilkins differs in many ways, but not in basic policy, from his predecessor, Walter White had only a fraction of Negro blood and looked white. His complexion, alone, was always a good conversational gambit. Besides, he had a natural flair for projecting himself and his program dramatically.

The new executive secretary, associates agree, is quieter, less dramatic, more methodical and more predictable. He is brown-skinned and there's no doubt he's a Negro. He is tall, handsome, has unusually long, graceful hands and looks younger than a man of 53.

The son of a minister, Wilkins was born and raised in St. Paul, Minn., where, he recalls, Negroes were relatively well treated.

Managing Editor From 1923 to 1931, he worked as managing editor of The Call, a Negro weekly in Kansas City. It was here, he recalls, that his interest in the NAACP fight for Negro rights began to harden in a personal way.

"It wasn't any one melodramatic thing," he said. "It was a slow accumulation of humiliations and grievances. In Kansas City, in those days, I was constantly exposed to Jim Crow in the schools, movies, downtown hotels and restaurants."

Since he went to work for the organization in 1932, Wilkins has had many NAACP jobs — as an investigator in the South and among army camps, as an editor and speaker, as assistant executive secretary, administrator and now executive secretary.

Wilkins and his wife, who is secretary of the New York City Department of Welfare, live in a six-room garden apartment in Queens. The development was built originally for United Nations personnel and since it still houses many Indians, Chinese and other types, the Wilkinsons encounter no color problems there.

Around his own office, which is national headquarters for NAACP's 1,000 chapters and 225,000 members, Wilkins is highly respected for his diligence, dignity and quiet, effective way of working.

Because his job takes him to many dinners, banquets and rallies, Wilkins has developed a not so secret weapon for combatting fatigue and repetitious rhetoric. At least, it's no longer a secret to his office staff.

Sitting up on the dais, he puffs long on his cigar and seems to be squinting behind the smoke. Actually, it is alleged, Wilkins is sometimes sleeping, not merely squinting. On at least one occasion, he awoke in time to join in some hearty applause until he discovered they were clapping for Roy Wilkins.

prevent back-sliding."

What does Wilkins tell people who ask if the end goal isn't complete social mingling, intermarriage and finally amalgamation of the races? He sighed, understandably. These have been stock questions fired at every crusader for Negro rights since Abe Lincoln began debating Stephen Douglas.

Insulting Assumption "Our answer," he said, "is that the incidence of intermarriage in states that don't outlaw it is infinitesimally small. People who ask the question make a basic assumption which is fantastically wrong and insulting. They assume that white people are ready and waiting to marry Negroes and Negroes are ready and waiting to marry whites and that only laws now restrain them."

"The question of intermarriage is a private matter between two individuals. We are neither for nor against it. We do nothing about it, expect to oppose laws which don't protect Negro women."

"We seek social equality only in its broadest sense. We do not want to force people to associate together, to have dinner together, or go to the same dances. Freedom includes the right to have individual prejudices. Our program is only against making individual personal prejudices into law."

Wilkins differs in many ways, but not in basic policy, from his predecessor, Walter White had only a fraction of Negro blood and looked white. His complexion, alone, was always a good conversational gambit. Besides, he had a natural flair for projecting himself and his program dramatically.

Logic, judgement and reason are surely cornerstones of SUJ, but sometimes a student feels that these are somewhat lacking in certain university regulations.

I refer to the current scheme as to hours for undergraduate women. One could make out a good case for completely abolishing the present system and having no hours at all. But the university is probably not ready to regard the undergraduate women as the adults most of them are.

However, even the university might be hard pressed to defend the current practice of considering all undergraduate women, even those past the age of thirty, as juveniles needing close supervision and fixed hours.

But then one looks at those women who gained their bachelor's degree at the age of 21 and who are now doing graduate work at the ripe old age of 22. They are considered adults and so treated.

Should not the graduate women's privileges as to hours be extended to all undergraduate women over the age of 23, or does it take a degree to confer adult standing?

Aeronautics Commission Sets 4 Air-Safety Goals for Iowa

DES MOINES (AP) — A four-point program for the immediate future has been outlined by the Iowa Aeronautics commission.

Norbert Locke, commission director, said the four projects are:

1. An airport runway lighting program in cooperation with Iowa municipalities. Locke said that he believes that in the next year the commission will have the cooperation of 10 cities in runway lighting.

2. A plan calling for establishing single-strip airports in a number of municipalities on a cooperative basis. The commission will pay 50 per cent of the cost, to a maximum of $4,000.

Free Chart 3. Distribution to all registered airmen and aircraft owners in the state free a combination Iowa aeronautics chart and airport director. The chart will show the locations of and list the facilities available at 178 airports.

4. Furnishing the paint and labor necessary to install 20 air-markers in 10-foot high lettering on the tops of prominent buildings in various cities.

"On the basis of a two-year experiment," Locke related, "the commission is ready to locate low-cost runway lighting systems in communities which have a small or medium-sized airport."

Share Cost "This will increase the airplane utility and safety. The commission will share the cost of lighting, if the municipality's airport fund is low because of other necessary local improvements.

"We have entered into firm agreements on this program with the cities of Estherville and Jefferson. At the moment the commission is negotiating with several other cities."

"The extent of the program depends on the local need and financing. But we believe that in the next year we will have the cooperation of 10 cities."

than $4,000 for any one project," he added.

Interest Shown Several municipalities have shown "a great deal of interest" in participating in this program.

Distribution of the aeronautics charts and airport directories will begin July 1. Commenting on the chart, Locke said: "The chart, we think, will be one of the finest aids to aerial navigation that it is possible to produce. Consideration has been given in making the chart to both instrument pilots and contact pilots."

Coed Wants Fewer Curbs On Women's Hours at SUJ

(Readers are invited to express opinions in letters to the Editor. All letters must include handwritten signatures and addresses — typewritten signatures are not acceptable. Letters become the property of The Daily Iowan. The Iowan reserves the right to shorten, select representative letters when many on the same subject are received, or withhold letters. Contributors are limited to not more than two letters in any 30-day period. Opinions expressed do not necessarily represent those of The Daily Iowan.)

TO THE EDITOR: Logic, judgement and reason are surely cornerstones of SUJ, but sometimes a student feels that these are somewhat lacking in certain university regulations.

I refer to the current scheme as to hours for undergraduate women. One could make out a good case for completely abolishing the present system and having no hours at all. But the university is probably not ready to regard the undergraduate women as the adults most of them are.

However, even the university might be hard pressed to defend the current practice of considering all undergraduate women, even those past the age of thirty, as juveniles needing close supervision and fixed hours.

But then one looks at those women who gained their bachelor's degree at the age of 21 and who are now doing graduate work at the ripe old age of 22. They are considered adults and so treated.

Should not the graduate women's privileges as to hours be extended to all undergraduate women over the age of 23, or does it take a degree to confer adult standing?

Parents' Pre-School To Hold Open House

The annual "Spring Roundup" and open house of the Parents' Pre-School will be held Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at the school, located south of the Currier hall annex, on the corner of Bloomington and Clinton streets.

All interested parents are invited to see the school and learn more about its operation. Applications for the fall semester may be made at the Roundup or by contacting Mrs. Morton Hammer, phone 4662.

Hostesses

Council members of the school will serve as hostesses at the event. Mrs. Don Wylder is council chairman. Recently-elected council members are Mrs. Eugene Walker, first vice-chairman; Mrs. Robert Kunkl, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Robert Muir, senior calling mother.

Eight years ago, the Parents' Pre-School was established in the basement of the Congregational church as a married students' organization. It was known as the Veterans' Play school. It was given housing in an SUI barracks and three years ago became an adjunct of the Iowa Child Welfare Research station.

Accounts of the organization are handled by the SUI business office, and juice and crackers for morning snacks are purchased through university general stores. Doctors, psychiatrists, child development specialists and educators in other fields related to child welfare speak at the monthly meetings of parents. At the present time the school serves children from 40 families. Two groups of pupils meet three mornings a week for three hours. In the junior group are children from two and one-half to four years old; in the senior group are four and five-year-olds. Representation from university and non-university families is about equal.

During the past year, children enrolled in the school were used approximately 125 times in research projects conducted by the Child Welfare Research station. The speech pathology department also has used some of the pupils to determine responses of very young children to a group of pictures.

Parents Assist

Fathers and mothers assist with the work of the school, serving six to eight mornings during the semester, and contributing to the curriculum with special talents. They arrange for entertainment at the school and plan trips to a farm, the fire station and university greenhouse. Mrs. Rhoda Isaacson, New York city, a graduate student in the child welfare department, has been the teacher during the past year.

Parents are responsible for the operation of the school. They equip the school, employ the teacher, maintain maximum membership and meet the monthly budget. An elected council determines the overall plan of the school.

Summer Cottons Need Little Care, Shun Wrinkles

Cottons are good for traveling this summer — many of them require little or no attention as far as pressing is concerned.

Nylon or orlon are combined in a new fabric that is easy to wash and hard to crush. Garments of this material can be folded, packed and worn, yet stay wrinkle-free.

Two-piece dresses are excellent for sight-seeing purposes. A dress with a long torso blouse and a full skirt is comfortable and stylish.

You'll be ready for a date in summery separates. Several blouses and skirts that can be mixed are excellent for traveling, as you can have a variety of outfits with the minimum number of garments to pack in your suitcase.

If you prefer to wear shorts, pedal pushers or slacks when traveling in a car, an excellent idea is to have a wrinkle-resistant, print skirt, perhaps a permanently-pleated cotton, within easy reach. Then, when lunch time occurs you'll be able to slip it on over your shorts.

Crinoline slips, a necessity and often a nuisance when trying to pack, can be more easily controlled by making a narrow tube of heavy paper, rolling up the crinoline and pulling it through the tube.

Plans June 11 Wedding

Miss Susan Goodfellow

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Goodfellow, Aurora, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter Susan to Lt. Hans Lagerloef, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. George Finley, Aurora, Ill.

Miss Goodfellow is a freshman in the college of nursing and is affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega social sorority. Lt. Lagerloef is stationed at Randolph air force base, Texas.

The wedding is planned for June 11 in Aurora.

Sigma Delta Tau Honors 13 Seniors

Thirteen senior members of Sigma Delta Tau social sorority were honored at a banquet Tuesday evening at the chapter house.

The seniors presented the house with a check to be used for dining room tablecloths as their farewell gift. The chapter gave each senior a travel kit.

Among the events on the program were the reading of the graduates' last will and testament and the juniors' senior class prophecy.

The graduating class members are: Irene Waldinger, Des Moines; June Rotman, Dubuque; Pauline Ruben, Davenport; Grace Kaminkowitz, New York city; Rita Olesker and Rogene Manvitz, both of Omaha, Neb.; Marilyn Falk, Washington; Joan Warshawsky, Rockford, Ill.; Sally Shapiro and Louise Rotman, both of Sioux City; Jo Ann Rapoport, Cedar Rapids; and Toby Dunitz, Newton, and Phyllis Green, Oskaloosa, both Feb. 1956 graduates. All seniors are in liberal arts.

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

BECAUSE ONLY VICEROY GIVES YOU A PURE, NON-MINERAL, NON-TOXIC FILTER WITH 20,000 FILTER TRAPS IN EVERY FILTER TIP!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. Besides being non-mineral and non-toxic, this cellulose-acetate filter never shreds or crumbles.
3. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
4. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroys have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
5. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip... and Viceroys cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette... that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

To Publish Short Stories By 3 Students

Short stories written by two graduate students and an instructor in the SUI fiction workshop will be published in forthcoming issues of Harper's Bazaar, according to Paul Engle, SUI professor of English and director of the SUI fiction workshop.

A Korean graduate student, Kim Young Ik, has received word from the magazine that his short story, "The Wedding Slippers," will be published.

Professor Engle terms the acceptance of "The Wedding Slippers" a notable achievement.

"Most foreign writers who have works published in this country write them in their native language," he said, "and then the translation is printed. To my knowledge, this is the first time Harper's Bazaar has ever printed a story written originally in English by a Korean."

Robert Heilman, SUI graduate student from New York City, who teaches an undergraduate course in "Understanding Fiction," also received word that his short story, "The White Dutchess," will appear soon in an issue of the magazine.

A visiting lecturer in the SUI fiction workshop, Marguerite Young, says that a section of her current novel will appear in the near future in Harper's Bazaar. The section is entitled "The Strange Death of Mr. Spitzer."

New Sunshade Guards Against Sun, Hurricane

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunshades that hold off hurricanes are among new products on the market this week.

The sunshades are constructed of louvers made of fibrous glass and vobrin plastic. They are fitted against the window in either vertical or horizontal position. That permits them to be adjusted to any position to guard against sunlight. When a hurricane blows up, shut the louvers tightly. They come from Superior Window Co. of Miami, Fla.

While Saturday, June 11, has been officially designated as Alumni Day at the university, a full schedule of events has been planned for returning SUI Alumni during the three-day period June 9 through 11. A highlight of the weekend will be the university Commencement exercises, scheduled for Friday, June 10, at 9:30 a.m. in the Iowa field house. Over 900 SUI students are expected to receive degrees.

The annual professional medical sessions will start at 2:30 p.m. Friday and will be resumed at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. All sessions will be held in the medical amphitheater at University hospital.

Class of 1904
An SUI Emeritus club dinner, given in honor of members of the class of 1904 and earlier graduating classes, is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Friday in the south dining room at Currier hall. At the same hour, an all-alumni buffet supper will be held in Currier's north dining room.

The SUI college of dentistry will offer a one-day post-graduate course Saturday to returning dental alumni. A feature of the course will be a color telecast of a dental operation over a closed circuit within the Dental building.

Nursing Coffee
The college of nursing will hold a coffee hour from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday in the parlors at Westlawn, nursing students' dormitory, and the school of journalism will hold a coffee hour from 10 a.m. to noon in the Communications center.

State Report Says 48 School Districts Reorganized

DES MOINES (AP)—There were 48 new reorganized school districts set up and 14 such proposals defeated in Iowa between last July 1 and April 15, the state board of public instruction said Thursday.

The number of new districts established since Jan. 1, 1951 now is 161. During the July-April period, 145 reorganization actions were started in 69 of the state's 99 counties.

The report is the fifth in a series designed "to evaluate objectively the progress of redistricting in Iowa." It was prepared by John Schultz, reorganization consultant for the board.

In addition to the 48 new districts and the 14 proposals defeated, 83 other plans were pending at the end of the period surveyed. The 14 proposals were defeated in elections in 13 counties.

The survey showed that the 161 districts set up in the last four years reduced the total number of school districts in the state by 369. As of last July 1 there were 4,417 independent school districts in Iowa.

Schultz said the survey dates from 1951 because "little significant enlargement of district occurred" before that.

Crockett Offspring?

Commissioner Testifies On U.S. Drug Addiction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger testified Thursday there are an estimated 60,000 drug addicts in the U.S., spending an average of $10 a day on narcotics.

Most addicts steal to get money for drugs, he told senate investigators, and the evil represents an enormous economic loss to the nation.

The commissioner said one out of 3,000 Americans is a drug addict. The goal, he said, is to get back to one in 10,000, a figure achieved between 1938 and 1948 when "addiction had reached an irreducible minimum."

The two outstanding steps that can be taken to control the dope trade, Anslinger said, are "to punish the trafficker and to compel the addict to take treatment."

He appeared before a senate judiciary subcommittee at the opening of an inquiry into the narcotics traffic looking toward stronger laws to cope with it.

Tom Reid, chairman of the Canadian senate's narcotics investigating committee, sat at the subcommittee table briefly and noted it was the first time a Canadian senator had participated in a U.S. hearing.

Friley Tells Grads 'We Lack Vision Of Better World'

STORM LAKE (AP)—Charles E. Friley declared Thursday night: "We call this a rotten world, but we lack vision of a better."

Friley, president emeritus of Iowa State college, said further in remarks prepared for the Buena Vista college commencement:

"The din of clashing factions and ideologies prevents us from hearing the subtle harmonies of nature and philosophy, which teach us that we cannot have light without darkness, virtue without sin, or happiness without trouble and sorrow."

He went on to say: "There is good reason and evidence to believe that science has not made men as happy as they might be. We appreciate the beauties of nature but we condemn life. We elevate science at the expense of the spirit, thereby over-emphasizing the importance of material progress."

"We ought to explore again the wisdom of the ages, the sources of beauty and all those other avenues through which we may again thrill to the glories of the universe and through which we may perhaps learn again to love our fellow men."

Indian Priest Murdered In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest on a fund-raising trip in behalf of a project in his native India was slain Thursday. Police considered robbery a likely motive.

Slashed on his neck and shoulder by a sharp weapon, the Rev. John Chiramal, 40, staggered into the Little Sisters of the Poor residence at 1255 W. Harrison st., and collapsed about 5:55 a.m.

He died several hours later in Mother Cabrini hospital.

Dying Words
Policeman Espy Knox said the dying clergyman mumbled "I was robbed." Asked where, he replied, "far away . . . 2 o'clock."

His blood stained 1955 automobile was parked in front of the Little Sisters of the Poor residence. It bore Pennsylvania license plates. The priest recently had lived at 1302 Ellsworth ave., in Philadelphia.

Bloody Car
When he reached the Little Sisters home Father Chiramal was wearing dungaree trousers and a plaid shirt. A bloodstained shirt and shorts were found in the car. The upholstery bore a slash indicating it had been made by the knife that wounded him.

Police found his clerical garb in a box in the luggage compartment of the automobile.

Father Chiramal, founder of Boys Town in India, had been in the U.S. for four years, traveling extensively to raise funds for his project.

Elect Iowa City Woman To Historical Society

Mrs. Alton Fisher, 1173 E. Court, was elected to membership in the State Historical society of Iowa during May.

Mrs. Fisher was one of 37 new members announced recently by Dr. William J. Peterson, superintendent of the society.

Thirty-five of the new members are from 19 different towns in 19 Iowa counties. The remaining ones are from Illinois and Maine.
