Resigning? Says Stevens Has Resigned

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — Robert T. Stevens was reported Tuesday by a Washington newspaper as having resigned as secretary of the Army, effective July 31.

The newspaper quoted informed Pentagon sources as saying Stevens, a principal in the Army's row last year with Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.), was "leaving the government for numerous personal reasons."

The Evening Star said the White House announcement of Stevens' resignation is being held up pending selection of a successor.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, asked about the report, replied: "We have no resignation at the White House at all—oral or written."

Asked if he expected a Stevens resignation, Hagerty replied: "I know of none."

Stevens, 55, was chairman of the board of J. P. Stevens & Co., one of the nation's biggest textile firms when brought into the government after President Eisenhower's inauguration in 1953.

He was reported by the Star to be in Alabama Tuesday and unavailable for comment.

McCarthy was chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee when he clashed with Stevens and the Army late in 1953 over what McCarthy contended was the Army's laxness in getting rid of subversives.

Stevens defended the army against the Wisconsin senator's accusations that the army "coddled Communists." The hearings in the spring of 1954 lasted 36 days.

Army Plans Unit Switch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The largest overseas Army movement in peacetime — ultimately involving Atlantic crossings for about 45,000 soldiers, wives and children — gets under way July 2.

Army officials explained Tuesday the first big scale rotation of forces, the simultaneous transfer of the 1st Division from Germany to Ft. Riley, Kan., and the 10th Division from Riley to Germany. It is "Operation Gyroscope."

Involved is a tremendous swapping operation. Many families of the 1st Division will leave homes, furnishings and possibly even pets for their opposites in the 10th Division to take over on arrival in Germany.

The soldiers of the infantry divisions will take with them only their rifles and clothing. Artillery, vehicles, and supplies will be left at Ft. Riley and in Germany, with the stenciled divisional insignia changed to fit the new users.

Operation Gyroscope is the Army's name for the plan to rotate units overseas in cycles averaging 32 months. Under the plan the divisions will continue to rotate between Germany and Ft. Riley.

Library Will Remain Open To Midnight

The State University of Iowa Library will remain open until midnight Monday through Friday and Sunday for the remainder of the summer session, Prof. Dale M. Bentz, associate director of libraries, said Tuesday.

During past summers and until Tuesday this session, the Library had been closing at 10 p.m. "Many summer session graduate students," Bentz explained, "have a limited amount of time in which to do their library work and therefore need the additional hours."

Bentz said that he and Prof. Ralph Ellsworth, director of SUI libraries, agree that even if as few as 12 students use the library facilities during the extra time, it is worthwhile to keep the building open.

For the remainder of the session, the library will be open from 8 a.m. to midnight, Monday through Friday; 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, and 2 p.m. to midnight on Sunday.

Countryman Talks at SUI Short Course

Iowa Atty. Gen. Dayton Countryman said Tuesday that June will be a crucial month in Iowa liquor law enforcement.

Countryman spoke at the second-day program of the 19th annual Peace Officers Short Course at the State University of Iowa Continuation Center.

"This is the month when sellers of liquor renew their federal retail liquor stamps," Countryman said.

"Illegal Business" "Some person will show that he is afraid of federal law enforcement but not of local enforcement by paying another $50 to go into illegal business."

Countryman said that most of the 2,000 federal liquor stamps held in Iowa are in the possession of state liquor stores and private clubs.

"If all peace officers would enforce liquor laws as well as they enforce other laws, problems of illegal liquor sales would soon be settled," Countryman said.

"Law for Purpose" "If the law is on the books it is there for a purpose and should be enforced."

Countryman pointed out that recent attempts to change the Iowa liquor law have been rejected by the Iowa legislature. Present laws regulating the sale of liquor are not outdated, he told the officers.

"My office and other enforcement agencies are sometimes advised to keep one eye on the statute books and one eye open to public opinion," Countryman said.

"My office will keep both eyes on the statute books and a deaf ear to those who complain about too much enforcement."

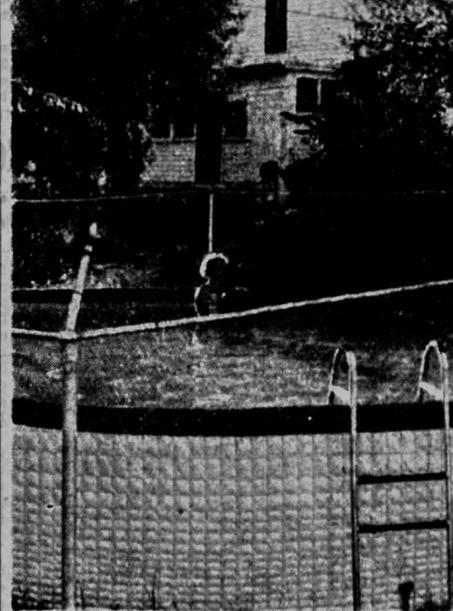

"No Substitute" "There's no substitute," Countryman said, "for solid, strict, enforcement on an impartial basis of all the laws on the statute books."

Alan Canty, director of the psychopathic clinic in the Detroit Recorder's Court, told officers that women should not blame the police for failing to bring sex offenders to justice when women are too modest to testify against the offenders in court.

Canty said that women's clubs should encourage members who are victims of sex attacks to help law enforcement agencies in prosecution.

TARIFF BILL WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday signed a bill granting him more power to lower tariffs and hailed it as a demonstration of unity at home and expanded "mutual security" for the free world. The new law extends for three years, to June 30, 1958, the Trade Agreements Act put on the books 21 years ago.

Keeping Cool in 9,000 Gallons

JUDITH KAY NOVY, 11, cools off Tuesday in the 9,000-gallon plastic swimming pool in the back yard of her parent's home at 811 Fairchild St. The pool is currently the only one of its kind in Iowa City. It is 4 feet deep and 22 feet in diameter.

Backyard Pool Helps Beat Summer's Heat

Summer relaxation is no problem for the Leroy Novys of 811 Fairchild St. in Iowa City. When it gets too hot they retire to their backyard swimming pool.

Novy and his son-in-law, Frank Grell, 113 1/2 Iowa Ave., set up the pool early in May for their families to use for recreation.

A circular plastic structure, the pool is 22 feet in diameter, four feet deep and holds 9,000 gallons of water.

No Problems No problems were encountered in the construction, Mrs. Novy said. Wire fencing serves as a frame to help the plastic hold its shape and the pressure of the water keeps it taut.

The pool is entirely above ground and all that was necessary in preparation was to level the ground and remove the grass.

Fenced The Novy pool sits comfortably between two trees. It is surrounded by a high fence and is locked up when not being used by the family to prevent accidents which might occur when small children wander into the area.

Only One in Area No other pools such as this one are to be found in the Iowa City area but several parties have indicated to the Novys that they might be interested.

"It's a fine way for a family to get together for a little fun and relaxation on these hot summer nights," Mrs. Novy said.

Ask Lowering of Doctors', Dentists' Draft Eligibility Age WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House conference committee agreed Tuesday to cut five years off the maximum age for inducting doctors and dentists under new draft legislation.

Doctors and dentists now can be taken into the armed services through age 50. The conferees agreed to make it through age 45 in a bill to extend the doctors' draft another two years.

The agreement broke a congressional deadlock over extension authority on a bill to extend both the special doctors' draft and the regular draft of young men 18 to 25.

The House Rules Committee, under heavy pressure from medical and dental leaders, had blocked House action on a two-year extension of the authority to draft medical men, which expires at the end of the month.

The compromise measure now goes back to the House for expected approval Friday. It must then be accepted by the Senate before it goes to President Eisenhower for final approval.

CROCKETT DIVORCED DETROIT (AP) — Davy Crockett was divorced Tuesday. Mrs. Gertrude Crockett, 39, won the uncontested decree after testifying her husband, David, deserted her 20 years ago. When the judge asked if he was the king of the wild frontier, Mrs. Crockett said, "I don't know about being king, but he sure was wild."

21.49% of Taxes Will Go to State Schools

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa state institutions of higher learning will receive 21.49 cents of every tax dollar during the two-year period beginning July 1, Comptroller Glenn Sarsfield reported in a statement Tuesday.

The figure was included in a report sent to members of the legislature. State aid to local school districts will take 16.69 cents of each dollar.

Homestead tax credits (distributed to help pay the property taxes of Iowans living in their own homes) will use 18.85 cents of each dollar. Agricultural land tax credits (which help pay school district taxes on agricultural lands) will take 7.69 cents, Social welfare payments (old age assistance, aid to dependent children) will use 12.11 cents. Institutions under the State Board of Control (such as mental hospitals and prisons) will receive 11.2 cents. The Public Safety Department (which operates the Highway Patrol) will spend 2.19 cents, and "other miscellaneous services" will take 5.35 cents.

Sarsfield said state "administrative" departments will use only 4.42 cents. The "biggest part of the state budget goes back to the local communities in Iowa," Sarsfield reported. His figures showed that aid to local communities will aggregate $75,216,500 a year, or 55.09 per cent of the total. He said the spending for "state purposes" will reach $61,319,060, or 44.91 per cent.

Sarsfield's report was issued while state officials were completing preparations for tax increases which will go into effect July 1. On that date, the sales tax will rise from 2 per cent to 2 1/2 per cent. Sales of beer and cigarettes will become subject to the sales tax for the first time.

Capital gains will become subject to the state income tax on income tax payments due next year. Income tax rates will rise slightly and so will the corporation tax. Total additional revenue will rise $22,123,000 a year, not counting the state gasoline tax boost. The gasoline levy, which is used entirely for roads, will rise from 5 cents to 6 cents a gallon.

Sarsfield's report shows that total state spending will reach an estimated $136,535,560 a year, compared with an annual average of $123,372,695 for the past two fiscal years.

Scelba May Resign After Coalition Fails

ROME (AP) — Government quarters said Tuesday night that Premier Mario Scelba probably will submit the resignation of his 15-month-old coalition Cabinet today.

The Cabinet has been called to meet this morning to consider the situation caused by a split among the Premier's Christian Democrats and the failure of the small Republican party in the coalition to promise support on a vote of confidence scheduled to come up Thursday.

Monday Scelba attempted to heal the breach in his own party and strengthen his alliance with the minor parties of the government by reshuffling his Cabinet. The Christian Democrats' Board of Directors admitted Tuesday night that this had been a failure.

City-Grown Corn

CLARENCE OMELOM, Iowa City service station operator, has proved that corn can be grown by city folks as well as farmers. Omelom already has corn higher than knee-high—and 12 days before the Fourth of July. His top stalk is 32 inches high. Omelom planted the corn in front of his station May 14.

Premier Bulganin
"Reduce Tensions"

Reds Aim To Ease Tension, Bulganin Says

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikolai Bulganin declared Tuesday the Soviet Union will strive to reduce international tension and consolidate confidence among nations at the Big Four top-level conference next month.

He made the statement to 100,000 persons packing Dynamo Stadium to honor India's Prime Minister Nehru, who is winding up a two-week visit to Russia.

Bulganin devoted most of his speech to praise of Nehru and to measures he said the Soviet Union is taking to ease world tension. Among these he listed the forth-coming talks among himself, President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure.

"To Take Part" "The Soviet government has agreed to take part in the conference of the heads of government of the four powers which is scheduled to open in Geneva July 18," he said.

Nehru was greeted with wild cheering, especially when he said that exclusion from the United Nations of "the great Chinese People's Republic (Red China) is not only an abnormal phenomenon, but also a danger to peace."

Nehru returned Tuesday from a tour of Russian industrial centers and farm areas. Before going to the Dynamo rally the Prime Minister resumed talks at the Kremlin with Bulganin, Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders.

Welcomes Jubilee Bulganin also referred to the opening of the San Francisco conference celebrating the 10th anniversary of the United Nations.

"We welcome the jubilee," he said.

Sentenced To Hang For Shooting Lover

LONDON (AP) — A beautiful platinum blonde, Mrs. Ruth Ellis, was sentenced Tuesday to hang for killing her lover because he jilted her.

She made but one defense in the dramatic trial: Jealousy had so worked on her mind that an emotional disturbance unseated her reason.

"I had a peculiar idea I wanted to kill him," Mrs. Ellis, 28, a well-known figure in Mayfair nightclub life, had told the jury.

She appeared unmoved as the jury of 10 men and two women filed in after 24 minutes of deliberation and found her guilty of the premeditated murder of David Blakely, 25, a racing motorist, outside a London tavern on Easter Sunday. She had pumped four bullets into his body. Two other bullets went wide, one hitting a passerby.

Mrs. Ellis, a divorcee with two children, is a one-time night club manageress.

If Mrs. Ellis hangs, she will be the 14th woman executed in Britain this century. In all but the most vicious of crimes, the home secretary usually reprieves women murderers.

MAU MAU FUGITIVES NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Police swooped on the suburban hideouts of two fugitive Mau Mau "generals" Tuesday and captured them without a shot.

MacMillan Asks UN To Ease Tension

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Big Four foreign ministers appeared Tuesday to have completed arrangements for parleys of their chiefs of government in Geneva next month aimed at easing world tension.

Encouraged by this development, British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan appealed for a further easing of tension between the East and West. He was the first of the big power ministers to address the 10th anniversary session of the UN.

MacMillan met Monday night with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of the United States, Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay of France, and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of the Soviet Union. The four emerged smiling early Tuesday after a session of more than four hours, and announced that arrangements were practically completed.

Molotov Approves Molotov was reported to have told the Western ministers that at first sight their proposals for the meeting were acceptable. He said he would have them translated and would turn in an answer without delay.

The Western Powers felt so certain of Soviet acceptance that they did not schedule another meeting of the foreign ministers in advance of the top-level meetings beginning in Geneva, July 18. They will meet at various social functions and at the UN meetings before MacMillan departs tonight, but the spade work for the Geneva meetings appeared completed.

President Eisenhower will preside at the first meeting in Geneva. Bulganin will preside at the end. The chiefs will be seated in alphabetical order and they will arrange to restrict the meetings to four or six days.

Individual Views Each chief of government will outline his views on the causes of world tension and what needs to be done about them. They do not hope to settle matters at this first brief meeting. They do hope to get the diplomatic machinery moving so their foreign ministers can carry on at more extended meetings. They are prepared to meet again later if it becomes necessary, it was reported.

While optimism was the keynote in San Francisco, Sir Winston Churchill said in London, "We must not count upon complete and immediate success" in the Geneva conference.

This attitude agrees completely with that reported held by the U.S., which is taking steps to maintain its position of strength while exploring diplomatic approaches to reduce tension.

$5 a Night Fee Set for Using Schools

The Recreation Commission will be charged $5 per night for the use of school buildings during its winter programs, it was decided at a joint meeting Tuesday night of the Iowa City School Board and the Recreation Commission.

After discussion of heating, lighting, water and other expenses incurred by the school board for the recreation's usage during the past five months, George Gray stated his motion.

The motion now will be presented to the respective legislative groups for approval or disapproval. If approved it will mean definite action in regard to both the School Board and Recreation Commission budgets.

The Recreation Commission has been using school buildings for its winter programs since a fire destroyed the Recreation Center early this year.

Mrs. Irvin P. Irwin, board president, said that this is "a family affair, but we have to do things on paper" to get definite settlement. She referred to budgets and that both groups are tax supported.

What Price Neutrality?

When and if German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer goes to Moscow, he will go in the role of an equal, and not, as so many others, as a beggar. This singular position of strength for a country that was completely defeated ten short years ago is one indication that the West has been winning the cold war over the years.

It seems likely that Russia is trying to put her house in order in Europe so that she can tackle some very serious problems in Asia. Adenauer's conference with President Eisenhower helped to reassure this country that West Germany would not abandon the Western alliance in favor of neutrality.

The Russian leaders seem to be worried that an increasingly powerful Red China would constitute a grave threat to Moscow, and that Russia might possibly in the future be faced with a hostile China on one frontier and an armed and prepared Europe on the other.

Moscow's invitation to Germany, therefore, is no doubt an attempt to buy that country's neutrality in exchange for unity. With Germany and Austria neutralized, the Russians believe that the West European coalition of free countries would be materially weakened.

Adenauer's trip to Washington, as well as his statements previous to the invitation from Moscow, should convince the Soviet government that neutrality for Germany in exchange for that country's reunification is out of the question.

It is unlikely that Adenauer will go to Moscow before the Big Four meeting at "the summit." After that meeting the West should be in a better position to judge any possible Russian change of policy.

It is foolish to predict the failure or success of any conference some months before it starts. But it is safe to say that Germany will not be pleading with Russia for the return of East Germany. Adenauer and his cabinet feel that the eventual reunification of 18 million East Germans with West Germany is not a bargaining point, or a price that can be set for neutrality.

Interpreting the News—

Western Unity Strong For Talks at 'Summit'

By J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst

The Big Three will be in a position to give Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin a hard time in at least one respect without half trying.

They are reported to have arranged a topical division of the work among themselves, to avoid duplication.

There are strong indications that unity on policy has made this possible. The United States could, for instance, present the entire allied view on the future of Germany. France might come up with the case for collective security in Europe, with Britain handling economics.

Sole Spokesman
Bulganin, on the other hand, being the sole spokesman for the Communist bloc, would have to spread himself over the whole field. Western observers are strongly of the opinion, also, that Bulganin will not always be able to speak with assurance before consulting with Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

In other words, Bulganin may at any point be faced with the necessity of asking for time before discussing some allied position.

Russian Objection
This may be why the Russians objected to the original allied attempt, inspired primarily by President Eisenhower's desire not to stay away from his country too long, to limit the "summit" meeting to a few days.

Bulganin, in his one public appearance in the West, his visit to Yugoslavia, did not impress observers with any fast footwork. His mentor, Khrushchev, gave indications that his personal habits are not always conducive to calm consideration of grave affairs. There may be intervals at Geneva when these factors stall the whole business.

Allied Unity
The allied representatives will be further reinforced in their unity by pre-Geneva conferences with their smaller partners in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

There still will be room for individual approaches to methods after the first round of presentation of views. Anthony Eden, in particular, is a man who knows how to trim sail to take advantage of prevailing winds.

There is every indication, however, that the Allies are better prepared to act as a team at Geneva than at any other important conference in the last 10 years.

Parents' Attitude Contributes To Success in Child-Rearing

Parents can do a better job of raising their children if they understand clearly their own feelings toward parenthood, from their own adolescence into the years their child is growing up.

Two speakers, Dr. Kent A. Zimmerman and Elizabeth J. Hall, stressed this point Tuesday in addressing nearly 300 Iowans attending the 28th Iowa Conference on Child Development and Parent Understanding at the State University of Iowa.

Dr. Zimmerman is director of child guidance services of Children's Hospital of the East Bay at Oakland, Calif., and Miss Hall is professor of nursing and chairman of the department of maternal and child health nursing in the Boston University School of Nursing.

Forerunners
The California physician explained that many of the emotional experiences of pregnancy are the forerunners of experiences which the parents will have to work through in raising their children.

Both husband and wife bring to their marriage memories and impressions of their own parents and family life which influence what they expect and how they act in their own marriage, Dr. Zimmerman explained.

"When the newlyweds come from families and cultures in which the parental roles are strikingly different, the problems of developing their own roles are much more difficult.

Where there is time to consolidate husband-wife roles before a baby forces the parents to develop also father-mother concepts of themselves, pregnancy and parenthood seem to require fewer adaptation and result in fewer infant problems, Dr. Zimmerman said, explaining that the "going home blues" experienced by many new mothers three to five days after leaving the hospital may be partly due to the change in medical relationships if a pediatrician takes over as the work of the obstetrician ends, Dr. Zimmerman said.

This point needs further study, however.

Economic Stability

Economic stability for the family during pregnancy was one factor pointed out by the speaker as contributing to marriage stability and the parents' feeling of well-being.

The ideal reason for desiring children is the development of a mutual trust and willingness to rely on each other which causes the parents to think of their future child as a mutual gift to each other, enriching their marriage, he said.

But no matter what the motivation, some conflicting feelings develop in both expecting parents, Dr. Zimmerman said. Problems of the mother which can be anticipated and understood include the danger of excessive weight increase, worry over loss of figure, the nausea of early pregnancy, a tendency to introspection or dreaminess as the pregnancy progresses, concern over possible physical defects in the baby, and apprehension concerning labor.

Reassurance
Reassurance by her physician that her body can adapt to the changes needed in pregnancy and return to its former state help the mother feel that she will not lose the bonds of attraction and values on which her marriage was first built, the speaker said.

Though much less is known about the father's reactions during the early part of his wife's pregnancy, he can experience a state of well-being about it, just as his wife can, Dr. Zimmerman explained, noting that one common reaction is the father's increasing job consciousness as he feels the dependence of others on him.

Expect Actions
Knowledge of what actions to expect of a child at various stages in his growth will help the mother to react for his welfare, Miss Hall pointed out. Pleasant experiences in infancy lead toward feelings of warmth, security and love, developing trust and confidence in others.

For instance, if the mother understands that after the age of six months the child begins to want to feed himself and benefits from the experience, she will tolerate the messy smearing of food that results. All children must learn to face frustration at some time, but this can be given in small doses gradually as the young infant begins to mature, she pointed out.

Reports
The conference will open this morning with reports from work groups which have considered problems of various phases of parenthood. Dr. Gunnar Dybwad, director of the Child Study Association of America, will speak on "The Challenge of Childhood" at 9:30 a.m. in Old Capitol.

Committee To Study Sites For City Hall

Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer Tuesday named an 11-member committee to recommend a site for a new city hall.

Mercer said the group would study sites for a new city hall and propose one to the city council.

He said that the group will probably hold its first meeting within a week.

Committee members are Attorney William R. Hart, Roy Ewers, Louis Loria, Mrs. E. L. DeGowin, Richard T. Feddersen, John Wilson, Walter F. Schmidt, John A. Schneider, Prof. J. W. Howe, Norman B. Shaffer, and Mrs. George L. Horner. Mercer said that he and City

Manager Peter F. Roan will serve as non-voting members of the committee.

Plans Depend on Site
 Mercer pointed out that plans for the new building must be drawn on the basis of the site selected.

The city council has taken no action toward the building of a new city hall since a $330,000 bond issue was defeated by Iowa City voters in a June, 1954, election.

After the Community Building was destroyed by fire January 28, councilmen instructed an architect to draw up plans for a building to house city and recreation offices.

Other Facilities
The building would include facilities for the city government, fire and police departments, and the recreation commission.

The cost of such a building has been estimated at more than $500,000.

The city council would have to approve plans and a site for such a building before it could be placed before the voters.

SUI Professor Recommends Hearing Tests for Workers

Industries in which workers are subjected to extremely loud noises were advised to set up hearing test programs which begin when a person is hired.

Scott Reger, research associate professor in the Department of Otolaryngology at the State University of Iowa's College of Medicine, offered the advice in a talk before some 50 industrial engineers and supervisors attending the 16th Annual Management Conference on the University campus.

Testing a worker's hearing on the first day of employment and then continuing further tests at regular intervals serves two purposes, Professor Reger said. It protects the employee from continuing in a job which could ultimately cause him to lose his hearing, and it can help the industry to avoid some of the lawsuits arising from hearing losses, he explained.

The scientist told the group that hearing test programs are being adopted by a steadily increasing number of larger industries where some of the employees work in extremely loud noises.

He also described a test now being used to help check the truth of hearing loss claims. The speaker said the test works in this manner:

The person making the claim is requested to speak into a recorder which transcribes his voice and then "plays it back" to him two-tenths of a second later. If the person being tested can hear, he finds it difficult to continue talking in the same tone and without "stumbling" while listening to his own words being returned to him at a delay of only two-tenths of a second. If the person is unable to hear, the slightly delayed recording doesn't affect his speech.

After his arrest Saturday on another charge of assault and battery Sheriff Albert J. Murphy who had released Cole, asked that he be recommitted.

A hearing on the latest charge has been continued in Iowa City Police Court. It was filed by Ray Blever, Iowa City.

Firms Submit Low Bids on SUI Projects

The Viggo M. Jensen company, Albert Lea, Minn., Tuesday submitted a low bid of $244,990 on a contract for the construction of a dining room addition to the Quadrangle Dormitory.

Bids for three SUI construction and utility service contracts were received in the office of George Horner, SUI superintendent of planning and construction.

Other Bids
Other bids on the Quadrangle addition: R. H. Wildman, Iowa City, $255,000, and Tunniff Construction Co., Davenport, $258,000.

The structure, to be approximately 60 by 200 feet in size, will be built within the Quadrangle court next to the present dormitory cafeteria and will contain a basement and one floor. Construction is expected to be completed by fall, Horner said.

Water Treatment
The contract for water treatment devices for de-aerating boiler feed water and related piping at the SUI power plant apparently will go to the Winger Construction Co. of Ottumwa, Horner said.

Their bid of $118,200 was $5,100 lower than that of the Stenvers-Rogers Construction Co. of Denver, Colo., next lowest of seven bidders.

Hospital Power System.
The Fandel Electric Co. of Cedar Rapids gave low bid of $6,979 for a contract calling for a power system that will bring electricity to the General Hospital addition now nearing completion just west of the tower entrance.

The electrical system should be installed by this fall when the pediatrics outclinic moves into the addition, Horner said.

2 Bound Over To District Court
Two men Tuesday waived preliminary hearing on drunken driving charges in Iowa City Police Court and were bound over to the Johnson County District Court grand jury.

The men: LaVoy Thornton, Marengo, and Lyle D. Luckey, Cedar Rapids.

Thornton was arrested Thursday on highway 6 near Tiffin. Luckey was arrested north of Iowa City on highway 218 May 28.

1 1/2 Million Give Up The Cigarette Habit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Tuesday made public an estimate that one and one-half million Americans who were cigarette smokers have quit smoking entirely within the last 18 months.

It estimated that 38 million others are regular cigarette smokers — 25 million men and 13 million women.

The estimates were based on a sample of about 40,000 persons surveyed by the Census Bureau for the National Cancer Institute of the Public Health Service.

Incidence of Cancer

"The data will be of value to National Cancer Institute statisticians and physicians who are studying the incidence of cancer in the population—particularly lung cancer—in relationship to smoking habits," the Health Service's announcement said.

The one and one-half million persons believed to have stopped cigarette smoking in the past 18 months compares with 600,000 estimated to have quit in the previous year, from the fall of 1952 to the fall of 1953.

No Figures Before 1952.

Officials said they did not have figures for the years before the fall of 1952. Thus there was no way of telling just how many of those who stopped were influenced by the public discussion, under way for several years, as to a possible relation between cigarettes and lung cancer. Officials said some of those who quit cigarettes may start smoking them again later.

The Health Service said a number of laboratory and field studies are under way by the Health Service and by other agencies and institutions with the aid of federal grants or other financial support.

Based on Interviews.

The service said the survey figures were preliminary results based on interviews conducted early this year by census takers with both men and women over 17 years of age in the urban non-institutional population. The study covered 230 areas consisting of about 450 counties scattered through all regions of the nation.

A report containing more detailed findings is to be ready some months from now.

Estimates on Data.

Estimates based on the data thus far gave the following information about smoking habits of Americans:

About four million of the men who are cigarette smokers consume less than half a pack a day; one-half million smoke more than two packs daily; the majority smoke 10 to 20 cigarettes a day. Two million others smoke cigarettes occasionally.

Two Out of Three

Two out of three men 25 to 64 years old in the total population smoke regularly in one form or another.

Non-farm men are heavier smokers than those who live on farms and white men smoke more than non-whites.

Two and a half million men smoke one or more cigars daily; seven and a half million smoke them occasionally.

Three and a half million men smoke a pipe regularly; four and a half million occasionally.

BOSTON (AP)—More erasers and possibly a course in mathematics would do Massachusetts taxpayers no harm, says state tax commissioner William A. Schan. Last year, he points out, 20 per cent, or 215,000 taxable returns had to be corrected. And those weren't the only headaches for the commissioner. Returns included such things as a fruit cake recipe in place of a check; Confederate money, a box of pennies that drew almost as much postage due as the tax itself and one return written in Iranian script.

Pacific Coast Trackmen Top Big Ten, 75-57

USC Runner Sets College 2-Mile Mark

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Fernando Ledesma of Southern California cracked the collegiate two-mile record with a time of 8 minutes 57.7 seconds Tuesday night as the Pacific Coast defeated the Big Ten, 75-57, in their 14th annual inter-conference track meet.

Wes Santee of Kansas set the college standard at 8 minutes 58 seconds a year ago. Ledesma, a junior at USC, won by 60 yards and going away from Bob Hunt of UCLA and Ken Reiser of Oregon as the Pacific Coast swept the event. Ledesma was clocked in at 4 minutes 21.5 seconds for the second mile around the baked-clay track at Edwards Stadium.

The brilliant time for eight laps actually was the second fastest run by Ledesma. He turned in a clocking of 8 minutes 56.4 seconds earlier this year at the Compton (Calif.) Relays in a second place finish to Horace Ashenfelter as he established an American record of 8 minutes 49.6 seconds.

Jim Golliday of Northwestern, national sprint champion, pulled a thigh muscle on the anchor lap of the 440-yard relay as the meet opened before 7,500 fans.

Golliday, running against Bob Gary of Washington State, had enough lead to carry the Big Ten

Scores Par 72

(AP Wirephoto)

IOWA SOPHOMORE, John Marschall, had 10 one-putt greens Monday in firing a six-under-par 66 and the first day led in the National Collegiate golf meet. Tuesday he scored a par 72 to give him a 36-hole total of 138. Marschall is from Hampton.

Marschall Loses Qualifying Lead

KNOXVILLE (AP)—John Marschall, Iowa sophomore, Tuesday lost his first round qualifying lead in the National Collegiate (NCAA) golf tournament to Johnny Pott of Louisiana State, who fired a five-under par 67 to tie the meet record for 36 holes with a 136.

Marschall of Hampton shot an even par 36-36—72 for a 36-hole count of 138.

Pott, 19-year-old former Mississippi junior champion from Brookhaven, Miss., shot a 34-33—67 which coupled with Monday's 69, equaled the record set at Houston last year by Purdue's Don Albert.

Eight Under Par
Two strokes behind Marschall was Joe Campbell of Purdue, whose 68 at the end of Monday's round was second. Campbell also carded a par 72 to qualify with 140.

In mid-afternoon, with about 100 golfers including defending champion Hillman Robbins of Memphis State still on the course, it appeared 150 or less would be needed to qualify for the 64 berths in match play starting tomorrow.

'Hitting Good'
Pott was runner-up in this year's Southeastern Conference tournament and low amateur in the Baton Rouge, La., Open. He won the Mississippi Junior Title in 1953.

"I was hitting my iron shots real good," the shy, crew-cut Pott said. "I had the ball pretty close to the pin on every hole and I did some pretty fair putting."

He had three birdies and a bogey on the outgoing nine and three more birdies on the back-side.

'Played Steadier'
Marschall seemed pleased with his par 72.

"I actually played steadier golf than I did Monday, but I just didn't have as good a score," he commented. The tournament ends Saturday with the 36-hole finals.

Moore Still Favored 2-1 Over Olson

Davenport Greets Open Golf Champ

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP)—"I thank God for His help—He gave me unbelievable power," the new National Open golf champion, Jack Fleck, told a homecoming crowd Tuesday.

The 32-year-old municipal course pro wept as he greeted his friends and neighbors. He flew here from San Francisco where he defeated Ben Hogan for the No. 1 title in U.S. golf in Sunday's playoff.

Indians Win; Lemon Hurt

BALTIMORE (AP)—Bob Lemon became the first pitcher in the American League to win 10 games this season when he pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 3-1 victory over the Orioles Tuesday night. The deciding blow was Al Smith's two-run homer in the fifth inning.

Lemon injured his leg while failing to beat out an infield roller for the third out in the top of the seventh. He attempted to take his warmup tosses, but was forced to give way to Ray Narleski. Cleveland held a 2-1 advantage at the time.

Strickland set the stage for Al Smith's home run by opening the fifth with a single. Bobby Avila sacrificed him to second.

Mantle Hits 486-Foot Homer; Yankees Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle hit one of the longest home runs ever in Yankee Stadium and the Yankees put together four more runs in the fourth inning and another in the eighth to beat the Kansas City Athletics Tuesday night, 6-2.

Mantle's 486-foot blast came in the first inning off loser Alex Kellner and cleared the 30-foot barrier in deep center field at the 461-foot mark.

Kansas City 010 100 000—2 6 0
New York 100 000 015—6 12 1

TO UNDERGO SURGERY
GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Babe Zaharias, the famous athlete, will undergo spinal surgery "within a very few days" to correct a ruptured disc, her physician, Dr. S. R. Snodgrass, said Tuesday.

NEW YORK (AP)—Archie Moore is expected to shatter Bob Olson's dreams of becoming a super-champion tonight on the old ring adage that a "good big man beats a good little man."

Moore's punching power and ring savvy are given the edge over Olson's persistent attack.

Unless Archie has unexpected trouble making the 175-pound light heavyweight limit for the fourth defense of his crown, the odds against Olson, the middle-weight champion, may soar over the 2-1 figure.

The weigh-in for the 15-round match, scheduled for noon in Madison Square Garden, may tell the story of the fight to be expected tonight at the Polo Grounds.

If Moore makes it with ease, he will gain added support. If Archie has to sweat it off during a two-hour period of grace, he could go into the ring an underdog.

Moore was announced at 196½ for his May 2 bout with Nino Valdes at Las Vegas although there were reports, always denied, that he actually scaled 186½. In any event, he parred off plenty at his Summit, N.J., camp with the help of hot weather.

Olson has no weight problem unless it might be the job of holding his weight against the heat. His manager Sid Flaherty wants him to come in close to 170 for this important battle.

'Congratulations'
A huge sign on the Davenport Municipal Airport hangar said, "Congratulations, we're proud of you, Jack." Beneath it was a 20-foot reproduction of Fleck's putter.

Fleck's putting was sensational when he shot a 67 Saturday to the Hogan at 287 at the end of the open's regulation 72 holes. His putter was still hot when he carded a 69—three strokes under Hogan in the playoff.

Fleck pushed through the crowd to where his father, Louis Fleck, a 67-year-old retired salesman, was sitting. He embraced his father and brushed tears from his eyes.

The champion and his family then rode in the lead car of a motor caravan through downtown Davenport. The parade wound up at the Credit Island municipal course where Jack and his wife run the pro shop.

A civic banquet, at which townsfolk will present Fleck with a new car, has been set for June 29. The Davenport newspapers, meantime reported that the "Jack Fleck Car Fund" drive passed the $2,000 mark Tuesday afternoon.

Soon after that, Fleck said, he will return to the summer golf circuit.

You Wouldn't Buy a House without a Yard...

It's Just as Important when you Build or Buy--to Insist on ADEQUATE WIRING, too!

To make sure you'll have adequate wiring, look for all three: (1) a big enough service entrance to bring sufficient electricity into the home, (2) enough well-protected circuits with large-enough wires to distribute the electricity, and (3) plenty of outlets, permanent lights and switches to make electricity easy to use.
