Insure Peace By Disarming, Truman Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, appearing at Friday night's UN anniversary session here, on the personal invitation of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, reaffirmed his support of the UN and appealed for disarmament so effective that no nation would have sufficient arms to wage a successful war.

Truman opened the 1945 founding ceremony by telephone from Washington soon after becoming President. He came here for the closing ceremonies on June 26, 1945. This conference will adjourn Sunday afternoon after, it is expected, accepting a San Francisco declaration on peace.

The former President welcomed the coming meetings between President Eisenhower and the other big power chieftains. He appeared also to approve the cautious course being taken by President Eisenhower.

"It may not be possible to make sudden or vast strides in these conferences," he said, "but agreement even in some things will be a gain. Agreement even in little things may be a foundation on which greater things can be built."

Dulles Address
Earlier, Secretary of State Dulles rejected in strong words a 7-point peace program put before the UN by Russia's V. M. Molotov.

In his address, Dulles said the cold war can be ended by nations observing the UN charter, refraining from force and halting subversion against other countries.

Dulles' policy declaration was the American answer to the challenge of Molotov, who had said the next step is up to the U.S. and the West.

The secretary's 28-minute speech had been endorsed in advance by President Eisenhower.

Summing up the American reaction to Molotov's program, Dulles said:

'Observe Charter'
"There is one extremely simple method of bringing an end to what is called the 'cold war'—observe the charter of the United Nations; refrain from the use of force or the threat of force in international relations and from the support and direction of subversion against the institutions of other countries."

Molotov's seven points included agreements to withdraw troops from Germany, stop "war propaganda," settle the Far Eastern problems and dismantle military bases on foreign territories.

Dulles said seven points are not needed; it is enough to adhere to the charter.

Dulles looked ahead with considerable hope to the Big Four chiefs of government meeting in Geneva next month. President Eisenhower said he would take to Geneva with him the spirit of the UN charter and urged other chiefs to do the same.

Looks to Geneva
Dulles said the U.S. hopes to find this spirit of adherence to the charter shared at Geneva.

"We shall not, at Geneva, assume to act as a world directorate with the right to determine the destinies of others. Good solutions do not come from such a mood. We shall seek to find procedures such that all nations directly concerned can fully assert whatever rights and views they have."

Dulles referred to Molotov's claims and contended, with some words of sarcasm, that "it is strange to hear this from those who struggled so long to prevent these very actions."

"Some say that what has happened marks the beginning of an era," Dulles said. "I believe that can be. Certainly the United States, I pledge you, will do all that lies within its power to make it so. But we do not forget, we dare not forget, that some of those who now hail the recent developments are precisely those who sought for years to stop them."

Hoegh Names Toll Agency

DES MOINES (AP)—A Davenport-to-Council Bluffs toll road came one step nearer to reality with the appointment Friday by Gov. Leo Hoegh of three members of the Iowa Toll Road Authority.

The governor named Frederick J. Day, 35, Council Bluffs real estate man; Willis D. Piper, 62, Des Moines tax consultant, and Ed Frick, 63, former Davenport mayor.

Day and Frick are Republicans, Piper a Democrat. Their appointments will be submitted to the state Senate for confirmation at the Legislature's next meeting.

The authority will supervise construction and operation of the turnpike.

The 1955 Legislature, which created the authority, provided that revenue bonds could not be sold and construction could not start until a neighboring state assures a toll road to the Iowa border.

Illinois has plans to build a turnpike to Davenport. Although that state's action in creating a Toll Road Commission has been upheld in the court, several other suits and a legislative investigation are pending.

The first meeting of the Iowa authority will be held in Hoegh's office July 18. The governor said that in the meantime he would send his appointees copies of several Iowa toll road study reports.

One of them, issued by the commission about a year ago, said a Davenport-Council Bluffs, 300-mile, $180 million, four-lane toll road closely paralleling Highway 6 would be feasible by 1959 if revenue bonds could be sold at not more than 3 1/2 percent.

Ike Renews Appeal for Strong Nation

WHITEFIELD, N.H. (AP)—President Eisenhower Friday sounded a new call for a strong America in the quest for enduring world peace—and made no new allusions to his 1956 political plans.

The President made two New Hampshire speeches Friday morning, but in neither did he follow up in any way his "teaser" suggestion of Thursday that he might seek a second term.

An hour after arrival here he was playing golf on a course rimmed by the Presidential Range of the White Mountains.

The President took part at Franconia Notch in ceremonies marking the 150th anniversary of the discovery of "The Old Man of the Mountains."

The President told an audience of about 2,500 persons he is certain that mankind yet will achieve "that objective of peace on earth, good will to men."

"If we are sufficiently indebted to the cause of peace, we will be strong, and then we will be able to cooperate with others, because only strength can cooperate—weakness cannot cooperate, it can only beg."

"We will be able to cooperate and help lead the world toward that promised goal . . ."

Eisenhower is in the third day of a six-day tour of northern New England.

Committee Extends Present Debt Limit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee voted Friday to keep the national debt limit up at $281 billion for another year at the request of the Eisenhower administration.

Secretary of the Treasury Hubert Humphrey promised to try to get the government back under the old statutory limit of $275 billion by June 30, 1956, but meanwhile, he told the legislators, he needs some financial "elbow room."

This can be provided by a 12-month extension of the higher debt ceiling of $281 billion, he said. The ceiling was raised from 275 temporarily last year but will fall back to that figure at the end of the month unless Congress grants an extension.

Members of the Ways and Means Committee reported they approved the administration's request at a brief closed session held after Humphrey had presented his case. They said there were no dissents.

Son Follows Ike's Footsteps

MAJ. JOHN EISENHOWER, right, son of the President, grins as he receives a handshake and his diploma Friday from Brig. Gen. William F. Train in outdoor graduation ceremonies of the Army's Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. Young Eisenhower followed his father's footsteps. ## Argentina Seeks End Of Peron-Vatican Feud

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Informed sources said Friday Argentine officials are trying to end the 7-month-old feud between President Juan D. Peron's regime and the Roman Catholic Church.

Foreign minister Jeronimo Remorino was reported in charge of the reconciliation move. The informants said Msgr. Mario Zanini, papal nuncio (Vatican ambassador), was invited to call on Remorino Wednesday at the foreign minister's private residence.

Study Terms
Ministry officials are said to be studying terms of a possible concordat between Argentina and the Vatican if and when a Constitutional Assembly, already authorized by Congress, votes on whether to end the Catholic church's status in this country as the state church.

A concordat is an agreement between the Holy See and a government for the regulation of ecclesiastical matters.

Pro-government newspapers ended their long stream of attacks on the Catholic clergy after last week's abortive revolt against Peron's regime. All priests arrested since last November, when Peron publicly accused some clergymen of trying to subvert his government, now have been released.

Churches Guarded
The police have stationed guards at churches to prevent such incidents as the burning and sacking of eight religious edifices during the revolt.

Union Plans Presented to State Board

Hopes for further expansion of the Iowa Memorial Union to provide recreation and activity facilities for increasing numbers of State University of Iowa students were described Friday by members of the State Board of Education, meeting at Ames, in a report by the Union's board of trustees.

The trustees plan to begin negotiations to borrow the necessary funds for construction of three additional units for some reconstruction in the old unit, and for paving, landscaping and provision of parking space. They estimated that the total cost would be $3,140,000.

As in all previous construction of the Union, no tax funds would be used, and all costs of the proposed construction must be met out of special student fees and earnings from Union operations. This money, in turn, is used to repay the funds which must be borrowed for construction.

Hilton Tells Faculty Changes at Ames

AMES (AP)—Changes in administrative duties and titles at Iowa State College were announced by President James H. Hilton following approval by the State Board of Education Friday. All are effective July 1.

Dr. Burnell W. Kingery will become professor and head of the department of veterinary medicine and surgery succeeding Dr. George Fowler.

Dr. Alenn Murphy, who has been serving as head of aeronautical engineering, becomes head of the department of theoretical and applied mechanics, succeeding H. J. Gilkey.

Succeeding Murphy in aeronautical engineering will be Dr. E. W. Anderson, who has been on the ISC staff since 1926.

William H. Schramper, professor of industrial administration in the division of science, will become professor and head of the department of industrial administration under a change of administrative organization.

Wanted

Ramon Remine

'Nothing New' In Search For Remine

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) reported no new leads Friday in the search for alleged bank robber Ramon Remine, 61.

A stolen car believed to be the one used by Remine in an $11,700 bank robbery last Saturday at Mt. Auburn was found late Thursday night in Iowa City.

J. E. Thornton, head of the Omaha district FBI office, said Friday that Remine may be hiding out in Iowa City.

The car found here was parked in the 500 block on East Bloomington Street.

A woman living on East Bloomington Street said the car had been parked where it was found since Tuesday.

It was discovered by Patrolmen Herman J. Parrott and Sergeant Donald A. Purvis. The car was a bluish-green 1955 Ford sedan, the same as used in the Mt. Auburn robbery.

Remine has been charged with the robbery in Vinton Justice of the peace court. He was identified from a picture by Robert Hadley, the bank cashier who handed over the money.

Remine was sentenced to 30 years in the Iowa state penitentiary in 1932 after he held up a Des Moines store and wounded a policeman in a gun-fight. He was paroled in 1936.

Remine was sentenced to 27 years in federal prisons in 1937 after robbing a Tennessee bank. He was paroled in September, 1954, after serving at the Atlanta and Alcatraz prisons. He has never reported to his parole officer.

Remine has been tagged the "sad bandit." This is what he told cashier Hadley during the robbery:

"I hate to do this, but with the shape the world is in a man can't make a living."

Russian Air Attack Clouds Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced Friday that a slow moving, lightly armed Navy patrol plane was attacked Wednesday by two Russian MIG jet fighters over international waters between Alaska and Siberia.

One engine set afire by the attack, the plane crash-landed on Island, American territory, in the Bering Sea. Seven of the eleven crew members were injured.

Air Incident 13th Attack Since 1950

WASHINGTON (AP)—Since 1950 there have been at least a dozen other incidents involving attacks on American aircraft outside war zones such as occurred Wednesday in the Bering Strait area.

The first of the incidents, like the latest, was an attack on a Navy plane. On April 8, 1950, Soviet fighters shot down a Navy patrol plane over international waters of the Baltic Sea.

Patrol Plane
Other incidents since then have included:

Nov. 6, 1951—Navy patrol plane disappeared over international waters off Siberia after being fired on.

Oct. 7, 1952—B29 disappeared on routine flight near Kuriles. The Communists said later that a B29 had fired upon them first.

Jan. 18, 1953—Navy Neptune made forced landing in the Formosa Strait off Swatow, China, after being fired upon by Communist shore batteries.

Fighter Downed
March 10, 1953—F84 fighter was shot down over the United States zone of Germany.

March 10, 1953—A B50 shot down in international waters off the Siberian coast.

March 15, 1953—A shooting match between Red MIG15 fighters and an RB50 reconnaissance bomber at a point 100 miles at sea off the Kamchatka Peninsula. The RB50 reached Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska, undamaged.

July 29, 1953—B50 shot down over the Sea of Japan.

Siberian Coast
Sept. 4, 1954—Navy Neptune plane shot down 40 miles off the Siberian coast.

Nov. 7, 1954—B29 shot down while flying over northern Hokkaido, Japan.

Feb. 5, 1955—Two MIG15s, which attacked an RB45 over international waters off Japan were shot down by American planes.

May 10, 1955—Two MIG15s shot down after a force of 12 to 16 Red jet fighters jumped a formation of F86s in the Korean area.

Yugoslavs, Big 3 Confer

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Diplomats of the Western Big Three conferred Friday with Yugoslavia on questions that may determine future Western policy toward this independent Communist country.

The Yugoslav government is believed to be seeking to bolster its relations with the West after the recent visit of Moscow's top men to Belgrade. The Soviet-Yugoslav talks were designed to reconcile relations between the two countries.

Friday's meeting, held on an ambassadorial level, was arranged following the visit of the Soviet leaders. It brought together representatives of the United States, Britain, France and Yugoslavia for their first formal conference since the end of the war.

No military or economic advisers were present. The talks are expected to end today.

The agenda for the conference called for consideration of the general international situation and questions relating to mutual relations. It made no mention of Soviet-Yugoslav relations.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty first announced the "inexplicable and unwarranted" attack while touring with President Eisenhower in Whitefield, N.H. Friday.

Hagerty reported Molotov said he was unaware of the incident but would investigate at once and communicate with Dulles again.

Defense officials in Washington then filled in details, saying the American plane was armed only with one .50 caliber machine gun and did not return the fire of the MIGs, which the Navy said made "One firing round."

Military spokesmen said the plane was on a patrol out of Kodiak, Alaska, a flight that has been routine for the past year, and "reports indicate that there is no explanation for this unprovoked attack."

Congress Bitter
In Congress, the incident touched off bitter reaction and brought expressions of concern about its effects on the Big Four summit conference in Geneva next month.

"This is an incredible way to start a peace conference," said Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.).

"This act unmasks the insincerity of the Russian peace offensive," said Sen. Henry Jackson (D-Wash.), a member of the Armed Services Committee.

Sen. Spessard Holland (D-Fla.) said the Russian attack was a matter of great concern especially because American patrol planes in that area are charged with protecting against a surprise attack on American continental installations.

"This is mighty close to home," Holland added. "This is a far more serious incident than the attacks on American planes in the area north of Japan and in other areas."

Trigger Happy
Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) called it "a cowardly attack by trigger happy Russians."

Hagerty, in announcing the attack, used the phrase "crash landing." Asked if that meant the plane was shot down, he replied, "I did not say that."

His terse announcement did not mince words about the origin of the attack. He said the Navy Neptune patrol plane, while on a routine flight over international waters in the Bering Strait area, "was fired upon by Soviet planes."

He added that the commander of the Navy plane, Lt. R. H. Fischer, 30, Del Rio, Calif., "was forced to make a crash landing on St. Lawrence Island in American territory."

"The attack on our plane was inexplicable and unwarranted," Hagerty said.

Word Reaches Ike
Hagerty said word of the shooting first reached President Eisenhower Thursday when he was at Chittenden, Vt. Eisenhower conferred by telephone Friday with Herbert Hoover Jr., undersecretary of state, who was in Washington. In the room with Hoover were Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson, Admiral Arthur A. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Anderson.

Hagerty conferred by telephone with Dulles in San Francisco. He said Dulles discussed the incident with Molotov after Dulles' speech to the United Nations.

Was It Worth It?—

Today marks the fifth anniversary of the beginning of the Korean "police action." This week has seen the observance of the tenth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations.

Together, these two facts must seem quite incompatible. The first marked the beginning of three years of conflict in which many men and much equipment was expended to stop the Communist surge from overrunning the Democratic Republic of South Korea.

The second marked the beginning of an attempt by nearly 60 of the leading nations of the world to assure themselves that never again would nations and peoples be ravaged by another war.

If the second of these anniversaries marks the intention of the world to prevent further conflict, how then can the world explain the first one?

It would seem that the United Nations failed in its purpose five years ago. But we don't feel that this is the case. If anything, the UN has gained strength though it did suffer "growing pains" in the form of the police action.

What then was the value of the Korean conflict to the world?

We cannot suggest positive answers to this question. Possibly the true values can be assessed accurately by historians working some centuries from now. And quite possibly even they — from their detached viewpoint — will be unable to give answers.

But we can offer on the basis of our own lifetime some possible concrete results of the Korean conflict.

Following the first World War — "The War To End War" — the major nations of the world formed a world peace organization — the League of Nations. Its purpose was not unlike that of the United Nations today.

In the early 1930's, Japan moved into Manchuria. The league censured Japan and she withdrew from the League. The nations talked — Japan took Manchuria.

Mussolini liked the pattern set by Japan. In 1935 he moved against Ethiopia. The League censured, Mussolini quit, Ethiopia fell, and there was more talk.

The master land-grabber of them all got started on his violent career in September, 1938, with his gain at Munich which Chamberlain confidently predicted would mean "peace in our time."

Aggression after aggression resulted finally in the second World War. The world found that it could not assure peace with words. Totalitarians could recognize only force.

The United Nations charter after the war specifically protected the smaller nations from military aggression. The Communists believed again that was only the world "talking." Nothing to be afraid of.

But when the Communist North Korean armies moved into South Korea, the Communists learned that the temper of the world had changed. The world wanted peace and, if necessary, was willing to fight for it.

We don't know if the Korean conflict had anything to do with preventing a third world war. Only time can tell us that.

But we do wonder, on this anniversary, if Japan, Italy and Germany had met force instead of words, if the second world war would have occurred.

Was the Korean conflict worth it? Bitter as it was, we think the answer is yes.

Interpreting the News—

Russia Wants Peace on Her Terms Only, Dulles Charges

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

It didn't take long for the United Nations, in what was supposed to have been a 10th anniversary love feast, to revert to type.

The conflict between the United States and Russia cropped up

John Foster Dulles
"Russia Can Have Peace"

just as it always has when Molotov headed the Russian delegation.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles boiled the whole thing down to one point Friday. It was the point that has always been basic, no matter how many other arguments have revolved around it.

Can Have Peace

Russia can have peace, he said, anytime she will drop her program of expansion by force and subversion.

He pointed out that everything Molotov bragged about in Russia's sweetness and light campaign had been done under growing Allied pressure, and merely brought to an end bad situations which she herself had created.

He pointed out that everything of which Molotov had complained, such as regional alliances and encircling military bases, had been created in reaction against her aggressive attitude.

No Barter Deals

He served notice the United States would not engage in any barter deals involving the rights of other peoples, but indeed would demand liberation of those Russia has already enslaved.

What he is asking of Russia's leaders is that they renounce their religion and cut their own throats. Those who ride the bicycle of communism must go from one totalitarian control to another. If they stop, they will topple off. They cannot obtain submission of their peoples to their outmoded economic theories unless they can divert attention to threats from the outside.

Can't Stand Failure

The Russians cannot stand failure. They are like some animal packs which will turn upon and eat a wounded member. Stalin & Co. barely escaped the mobs by halting the German advance on Moscow at the last moment. If the present regime were forced to give up international communism it could not survive the reaction, for it would have confessed itself too weak to continue. It must fight on or face dissolution.

Pastor Tells Lutherans To 'Evangelize'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Evangelical Lutheran Church is "not a defensive organization to protect the status quo," the Rev. W. Gordon Smedsrud, Ames, Iowa, told more than 6,000 delegates to the Young People's Luther League (YPLL) international convention here.

Rev. Mr. Smedsrud, president of the YPLL south central district, told his listeners it is their Christian duty and need to "evangelize — evangelize everywhere. . . there is no church unless this commission is carried out."

"You can't keep the water of life by trapping it in your own little cistern. God never made a Christian without making a missionary."

Thursday morning services were held at Grace Cathedral, followed by fellowship meetings and a workroom discussion. The general session was addressed by Dr. William Hulme, of Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, on the theme "Christ Wins through Youth Evangelism."

Newman Club Picnic Slated for Sunday

Catholic students attending the State University of Iowa summer session have been invited to attend a Newman club picnic Sunday.

The picnic will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Those attending will meet at the Catholic Student Center, 108 McLean St. The group will then decide on the picnic site. Transportation will be provided.

In case of rain the picnic supper will be served at the center.

Each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. the Newman club sponsors a discussion session at the Student Center with topics of current interest slated for the summer session.

All Catholic students are encouraged to attend the weekly events.

Wesley Foundation To Sponsor Picnic

A picnic-vesper service Sunday will be a joint meeting of the single and married students of the Wesley Foundation and the Wesley Supper Club.

The groups, of the First Methodist Church, will meet at Wesley House at 4:30 p.m. and will leave for Hoover Park, West Branch, for the service. In case of rain, the service will be in the recreation lounge of Wesley House.

Marcia Lambert is in charge of the program, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Sunde are in charge of the food.

It was also announced that neither group will meet July 3.

Veneration Rite

POPE PIUS blesses worshippers in St. Peter's basilica, Rome, on his arrival for veneration of 19 newly beatified martyrs of the French revolution. Fourteen were priests, one was a monk, three were sisters, and one was a teacher.

Delegates OK West Point Resolution

LYNWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Delegates to the national convention of the United Evangelical Lutheran Church adopted a resolution Wednesday urging that the U.S. Military Academy at West Point be opened for chaplains of other faiths besides the Episcopalian.

Church officials said West Point traditionally uses only an Episcopalian chaplain. The resolution urged that the military academy adopt the system of drawing chaplains from the Chaplain Corps, as is done by the Navy and Air Force Academies.

The delegates, representing some 57,000 Lutherans throughout the nation, approved plans to meet next June at Cedar Falls, Iowa.

BOOKING AGENT DIES

DES MOINES (AP)—Clarence W. (Dutch) Schmidt, 63, widely known former Des Moines entertainment booking agent, died in a hospital in Phoenix, Ariz., Thursday night, friends here were informed Friday.

Church Votes To Drop Racial Considerations

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—Delegates to the Rock River Conference of the Methodist Church Wednesday unanimously approved a motion to withdraw racial considerations from the church structure.

The motion offered by Dr. Harold A. Bosley of the First Methodist Church, Evanston, passed by a vote of 284 to 0. The conference is composed of leaders from 386 Methodist congregations in the northern third of Illinois.

Revised Standards Delay Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Revised safety standards evidently are bringing delays in release of Salk polio vaccine which were not anticipated a month ago. This has further clouded the picture as to when vaccine may become available for general use among children.

A survey of all six manufacturers Friday indicated large amounts may not be available until mid-July, and it may be August or later before the flow of vaccine hits full scale.

New Safety Standards
Four weeks ago, in announcing the new safety standards on May 27, Surgeon Gen. Leonard A. Scheele of the Public Health Service told reporters he was "very optimistic" vaccine would be flowing from the manufacturers "very shortly."

However, the only release of new vaccine since that date was on June 6, for about one million shots made by Eli Lilly Co., Indianapolis. On June 1, some 200,000 shots unused from lots previously cleared, were released. This vaccine was made by Wyeth Laboratories, Marietta, Pa., and Pitman-Moore Co., Zionsville, Ind.

There have been no other releases since May 27.

'Safe, Effective'
Thursday Scheele reaffirmed the official position of the Public Health Service that the vaccine "is effective and is safe" and again endorsed its manufacture and use.

All current production is going to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for free shots for second and first-grade school children. In New York, a foundation spokesman said roughly six million more cubic centimeters (each cc. makes one shot) would be needed to complete inoculations for the first and second graders who want them.

Added Three Weeks
Dr. Van Riper said the new safety standards, especially new tests after the vaccine is in its final bottles, have added about three weeks to the original 120-day production and testing process.

After that program is completed, the vaccine will be handled under a voluntary allocation and distribution program, with other children from 5 through 9 years of age getting first priority. However, it appeared unlikely very much could be ready for the 5-9 program before late July or August, at the earliest.

Removing Capitol Street Tracks

CRANDIC WORKMEN are tearing up the company's passenger line tracks on Capitol street. The Crandic plans to remove most of the tracks from Iowa City streets this summer. The passenger line ceased operations in May, 1953, after 49 years of service between Iowa City and Cedar Rapids.

Says Sports Answer To Child Delinquency

NEW YORK (AP) — Dan Ferris has cooked up a scheme to strengthen athletics in the U.S. and combat juvenile delinquency all at one crack.

He wants to use high school sports facilities for athletic clubs that will offer recreation and competition to boys in their teens as well as college graduates.

"In every community where there is enough population for a high school there should be enough for an athletic club," says Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union.

"It would hold down juvenile delinquency if we can make high school facilities available to high schools boys and to boys after they graduate from high school.

"We could accept as junior members every boy from 10 years up. They could stay members through college and afterwards. When they graduate from college many come back to their home town, but there is nothing to train with so they drop out of sports. If they could come back to their old high school friends in the athletic club they would keep it up.

"So many high school facilities are going to waste," he said. "The argument is that they have no funds to pay for a custodian. I believe an athletic club that was formed and officered at the high school would look after the facilities."

Pleads Innocent to Drunken Driving

Clifton B. Reynolds, 39, Cedar Rapids, Friday pleaded innocent to a third offense charge of drunken driving in Johnson County District Court.

Judge Harold D. Evans continued the case for jury trial during the September session of the district court.

Reynolds is being held in county jail under $1,500 bond. He was charged after his arrest by highway patrolmen last Saturday on Highway 218 north of Iowa City.

A three-year prison sentence is mandatory under Iowa law upon a third conviction of drunken driving.

It will be the sixth relocation project for roads and railways in the Coralville reservoir area.

More than $500,000 in construction is now underway. Five of these projects are for relocation work in the 34,000 acre reservoir area, and one for a new access road to the dam site three miles north of Iowa City.

Work on the project was resumed this spring under a $1,750,000 appropriation made by Congress in 1954.

The House last week approved a $4.5 million grant for further work on the reservoir, which has been under construction since 1948.

Low Bid Submitted On Track Relocation

R. B. Burch, Inc., of Cedar Rapids, was low bidder for relocation of railway track and Highway 218 near the Coralville reservoir site, north of North Liberty, it was announced by U.S. Army engineers Friday. The bid was $171,985.

It will be the sixth relocation project for roads and railways in the Coralville reservoir area.

More than $500,000 in construction is now underway. Five of these projects are for relocation work in the 34,000 acre reservoir area, and one for a new access road to the dam site three miles north of Iowa City.

Miller Is Removed From Serious List

Jerry Miller, 13, was taken off the serious list Friday at University Hospitals.

Jerry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Miller, 1130 E. Washington St., was injured Wednesday when a home-made bomb exploded in his left hand.

Hospital officials now list his condition as satisfactory.

Three fingers of Jerry's hand were amputated after the accident. He received metal fragments in the spleen, lungs and heart.

NOW WHO'S UNSTRUNG? FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Casey Shandor said his arm was broken and his bull fiddle smashed when he was thrown out of a bar. The jury agreed that was a bit rough—awarded $5,500 damages.

Chisox Survive Unusual 9th, Break Boston's Streak, 3-2

Hidden-Ball Trick Slows Bosox Threat

BOSTON (AP) — Chicago survived a zany ninth inning to cool off the Boston Red Sox 3-2 Friday night on Nellie Fox' decisive single in the seventh.

The Sox, battling to the wire in an effort to preserve a five-game win streak, got two men on with none out in the ninth.

Sammy White singled to left and Faye Throneberry popped a bunt over pitcher Sandy Consuegra's head which fell safely.

But Chico Carrasquel, Chisox shortstop, pulled the hidden ball play to nip White off second after Grady Hatton flied to left.

Jim Piersall got a single as Consuegra slipped on the wet turf trying to field the ball to keep the home hopes alive.

Gene Stephens was announced to pinch-hit for reliefer Tommy Hurd but when Chicago Manager Marty Marion called on lefty Morrie Martin, Boston pilot Mike Higgins countered with Ted Lepcio. Tension built to a high pitch for the 28,628 spectators as the count went to 3-2 before Lepcio fanned.

Hurd's relief work in the seventh was outstanding but too late. Fox' single to left followed a walk, sacrifice and single that put runners on first and third.

Detroit Blasts Senators, 18-7

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank House and Bill Tuttle smashed 3-run homers Friday night as Detroit walloped Washington, 18-7, on a 17-hit barrage against Bob Porterfield, Chuck Stobbs and Pedro Ramos.

Billy Hoelt breezed by his seventh victory and the Tigers' Al Kaline boosted his league-leading batting average to .376 with three singles.

The Senators were dealt a seventh straight defeat and their 14th in 15 games as the Tigers unleashed their heaviest attack of the season.

Detroit got six runs against Porterfield in the third inning, when House crashed his homer, and added five runs off Stobbs to take an 11-0 lead in the fourth.

Tuttle, who also blasted a triple and single, hit his homer off Ramos during a 4-run upsurge in the sixth inning.

Harmon Killebrew hit a home run high into the leftfield bleachers for the Senators with none aboard in the fifth inning.

A's Portocarrero Hands Orioles 5th Defeat in Row, 2-0

BALTIMORE (AP) — Kansas City pushed over two runs in the fifth inning on Enos Slaughter's infield tap and Elmer Valo's triple, to beat the Orioles, 2-0, Friday night.

Arnold Portocarrero, recently returned from the disabled list, earned his second victory against three losses. He limited the Orioles to two hits before being relieved by Tom Gorman in the sixth.

Out of the Trap

REX BAXTER, HOUSTON UNIVERSITY, lifts a shot out of the trap to the right of the 11th hole in Thursday morning's round of the National Collegiate (NCAA) golf tournament at Knoxville, Tenn. He eliminated Don Sechrest of Oklahoma A and M, 3 and 2. In the quarterfinal round Friday he defeated Max Wilkinson of North Texas State.

2 Texans Gain In NCAA Golf

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A couple of cross-town rivals from Houston, Tex., breezed into the semifinals Friday in the National Collegiate (NCAA) Golf Tournament, one of them eliminating a third Texan.

Rex Baxter, a Houston sophomore from Amarillo, Tex., downed Max Wilkinson of North Texas State, 1-70 on the 19th hole.

John Garrett, a Rice sophomore from Dallas, ousted Earl Moeller, the 1953 champion from Oklahoma A & M, 4 and 2, in the afternoon round.

Both winning Texans are 19 and will meet in today's semifinals.

The other quarterfinal results: Joe Campbell, Purdue, defeated Denny Bolster, Duke, 3 and 2. Pat Schwab, Florida, defeated Roger Rubendall, Wisconsin, in 19 holes.

Campbell and Schwab meet in the other semifinal match.

U.S. Gains At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The pulled muscle in Vic Seixas' ailing right shoulder pulled through its first easy test Friday. Seixas and Tony Trabert advanced to the third round of doubles play in the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament.

After heat treatments and rub-downs, Seixas and Trabert walloped Tony Pickard and Bobby Wilson, a pair of young Britons, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

The match was little more than a tuneup, as the No. 1 American player never hit a hard service and stroked his forehand shots at half speed with his shoulder tucked into his body.

In a workmanlike performance, Lew Hoad and Rex Hartwig, Australia's new No. 1 doubles combination, polished off E. R. Bulmer and J. M. Ward of Britain 6-2, 6-0, 6-3.

It was some consolation to American partisans, however, that the Aussie experiment pairing Ken Rosewall and Neale Fraser in doubles seemed to be going poorly.

Rosewall and Fraser beat Jaroslav Dobby of Egypt and Enrique Morea of Argentina 4-6, 8-6, 5-2, 6-3, but they blended together like oil and water.

Hoad-Hartwig are seeded second and Rosewall-Fraser third in this tournament.

Cubs Beat Bucs, 10-3; End Losses at Three

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs exploded 14 hits against three Pittsburgh pitchers to gain a 10-3 victory over the Pirates Friday on Paul Miner's eight-hit pitching.

Shortstop Ernie Banks cashed three hits including his sixteenth homer as the Cubs scored 10 runs for the first time since May 11 when they beat Brooklyn.

Walker Cooper smashed his third homer, and Gene Baker hit a triple as the Cubs ended a three-game losing streak.

Starter Bob Friend drew the loss. He was sidelined during Chicago's five-run third. Bob Purkey and Elroy Face took turns mopping up.

The Cubs got four singles, two of them bunts, into the third-inning with Baker's triple and Banks' homer to account for the five runs.

Cooper's homer was off Purkey in the fourth, and Hank Sauer's single scored rookie Jim King with Chicago's seventh run in the fifth.

Face was the victim of Chicago's three-run spurt in the seventh when Banks singled for two runs, and Randy Jackson's safety powered the third run.

Redlegs Split With Phillies

CINCINNATI (AP) — Joe Nuxhall's four-hit pitching and three Cincinnati homers, one of them a three-run affair by big Ted Kluszewski, Friday night defeated Philadelphia 6-0 in the nightcap of a doubleheader. The Phillies took the opener 8-6 on eight hits, including Roy Smalley's three-run homer.

It was Nuxhall's seventh victory against four losses and his second consecutive shutout.

In both games, Cincinnati blasted homers to open the scoring. Smokey Burgess did it in the first and Wally Post repeated in the second game with his 16th home run this season.

Then big Klu hit his seventh inning three-run homer to put the Reds ahead 6-0 in the second game. This matched Roy Smalley's eighth inning three-run homer in the first game. Gus Bell also got a homer in the second game.

In the opener, Philadelphia kept its lead gained in the fourth frame despite an eighth inning two-run triple by Cincinnati pinch-hitter Bob Thurman with no outs. Cincinnati gained another run when Smalley threw wild past third.

Williams Return Makes Bosox AL Flag Contender, Lopez Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland's Al Lopez said Friday the return of Ted Williams had put fresh life into the Boston Red Sox and forced a brand new appraisal of the American League baseball race.

"This is not the same ball club we saw on our first time around," added the Indian manager. "It's now a confident club.

"Quite obviously it's the Ted Williams influence. He has put a spark in the club which wasn't there a month ago."

Lopez' defending American League champions have been counted among the victims in the recent Boston burst which has seen the Red Sox win 14 of the last 16 games played through Thursday.

"They beat us three out of four last weekend," Lopez said, "and they weren't flukes. This is a tough ball club. You're going to have to count them as a contender."

The Cleveland manager said he still believed the Indians would win the pennant again "because we have the soundest pitching over the long haul" and added he expected a better start but he had no complaints.

"Injuries have slowed us down," he said.

"But I feel we're lucky to have stayed as close to the top

Mathews 3d In AAU 120 High Hurdles

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Sprinter Bobby Morrow, Abilene (Tex.) Christian College freshman, made his first start in the big time a smashing success Friday by winning the National AAU 120-yard cash championship in 9.5 seconds.

Morris triumphed over fellow Texan Dean Smith and Rod Richard, Pan American Games champion now in the Army.

In the 120-yard high hurdles, Jack Mathews of Iowa placed third behind Milt Campbell, Indiana, and Bill Youkers, Penn. State. The time was 14.7 seconds.

Another Iowa athlete, Les Stevens, placed fourth in the qualifying trials of the 120-yard hurdles and thus did not earn a place in the finals.

Miler Wes Santee thrilled the 8,500 fans at the 67th annual National AAU Track and Field Championships with a come-from-behind victory. His time of 4 minutes 11.5 seconds was far off his American record of 4:00.5.

Santee jockeyed along in the middle of the bulky 16-man field until the last lap. He edged ahead until the last 400 yards when he sped in front with a burst of speed. He finished 25 yards ahead of second-place Fred Dwyer of the Army.

Harold Connolly of the Boston Athletic association set a new American record of 199 feet 8 inches in the hammer throw. His heave erased the former mark of 195-4 1/2 set by Martin Engel in 1953.

3 Milwaukee Homers Beat Dodgers, 8-2

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves belted three home runs off Carl Erskine, including probably the longest ever hit in Milwaukee County Stadium, as they cut down the first place Brooklyn Dodgers Friday night, 8-2, in their seventh straight winning performance.

Eddie Mathews started the slugging in the first inning with his 16th home run, a bases-empty clout to right which was measured at 485 feet. No longer homer has ever been measured here.

The victory in the series' opener between the Braves and the Dodgers put Milwaukee into second place, just one percentage point above the Chicago Cubs. Both teams are 13 games behind Brooklyn. Lew Burdette pitched the full nine innings for the Braves for his fifth win.

After Bobby Thomson singled and Joe Adcock doubled him home for Milwaukee's second run in the second inning, Del Crandall smacked his eighth homer to make it 4-0.

Liechty Captures Iowa Junior Golf Tourney

AMES (AP) — John Liechty, 17-year-old Iowa City High School graduate, defeated Jack Palumbo of Cedar Rapids 3 and 2 Friday in the finals of the Iowa Junior Boys golf tournament.

Palumbo, 16-year-old Franklin High sophomore, three putted four of the last seven greens and conceded the match on the 16th hole.

The champion, who produced several good tee shots, took the lead for the first time on the 335-yard 12th hole with a par 4. Palumbo's approach shot caught the trap and he failed to get out with a putter.

A 300-yard drive which put him just 10 yards short of the green helped John to another par 4 and a 2 up lead on the 13th.

Palumbo cut the margin to one hole by winning the 14th, then he ran into tree trouble.

On the 15th, a low hanging branch of an apple tree hampered his swing and the shot landed in a wooded ravine. After another try he conceded the hole.

Concedes Match
Again on the 16th, a small tree blocked a clear shot after he got near the green on his second shot. The ball hit the top of the tree and on his fourth try the ball sailed past the pin. He then conceded the match.

Liechty was five over par after an outgoing 37. Palumbo was six over.

John Wicks, also of Iowa City, was defeated by Palumbo in a semi-final round match Thursday.

The victory by Liechty was the second by an Iowa City youth. Sonny Dean won the tournament at Des Moines in 1948.

SCHEDULE TOURNEY

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Officials of the Women's Western Golf Association announced Friday night the 1956 open invitational tournament will be held at the Wakonda Club, Des Moines, June 21-24. The meet was held there last in 1946 when it was won by Louise Suggs, four time WPGA champion from Sea Island, Ga.

Noren's Homer Tops Indians in 10th, 2-1

NEW YORK (AP) — Irv Noren belted a one-out home run into the right field stands to break up a tie ball game in the 10th inning Friday night as the New York Yankees defeated the Cleveland Indians, 2-1.

It was the fifth hit given up by Mike Garcia, who had the Yankees popping up most of the night. The big righthander was rapped for his ninth defeat in 11 decisions as the Indians blew chances to wrap the game up in regulation time.

Yogi Berra swatted the other solid blow off Garcia — a two-out homer into the right-center field stands that tied the score in the seventh.

The Indians scored their run in the first-inning, an unearned marker that Al Smith carried across as the Yanks committed two errors.

Cleveland, which dropped five games behind the Yanks as the league leaders retained their two-game edge on second place Chicago, got hits in each of the first seven innings off rookie Johnny Kucks — but left 14 runners stranded in the span.

The Yanks also chipped in two more errors.

Kucks, who walked six while allowing nine of the Tribe's 10 hits, gave way to a pinch-hitter in the eighth. Jim Konstanty came on in relief to gain his fifth victory.

It was the third Yankee victory in nine meetings with the Indians this season, and 47,077 fans — largest of the New York season — sat in on the game. It was delayed 37 minutes by rain.
