Board Vetoed Council Plan For Seating

The Board of Control of Athletics has denied a Student Council request for more student seating at Iowa football games, it was learned Monday.

The refusal was made public by Mark Putney, LI, Student Council president, in a letter to him from Paul Brechler, athletic director.

The board reduced the cost of student spouse tickets from $17 to $15 per year. Two spouse tickets will be sold, a $7 one for football and an $8 for the rest of the year.

Student Council Request
The Student Council last May asked that student seating be increased to 9,000 per game. The group also recommended selling spouse tickets on the basis of $5 per semester.

"... inasmuch as the student enrollment in the fall of 1954 was 8,000 and the anticipated enrollment for the fall semester of 1955 is 8,300-8,400, there is no need for additional seats in the student section. . . . There are 8,600 seats in the stadium student section at this time. According to studies that have been made in the past no more than 85 per cent of the student body attends any one athletic event. This being true, it seems to me that we can expect no more than 7,100 students in one afternoon in the fall. It might well be that we should not sell any more than a limited number of spouse tickets and no tickets for visiting relatives that might be seated in the student section."

Ticket Request
On the council's $5-semester ticket request Brechler said: "... it seemed inadvisable to sell a spouse ticket for $5 for all football games and eight to ten weeks of the basketball season. This would leave little to be desired for the purchaser of a second semester ticket."

Brechler promised Putney a "careful consideration" of the student seating needs again in the spring of 1956.

SUI Theater Summer Bill Opens Today

"Black Blizzard," an original drama by State University of Iowa graduate student, Sherwood Collins, will open the summer season of the University Theater this evening.

Depicting the mastery of the Kansas prairie and its dust storms of the 1930's, the play also will be given Wednesday and Thursday. Curtain time is 8 p. m. "Black Blizzard" tells the experiences of Beck and Margaret Whitney, a farm couple whose farm dwindled from the "wheat empire" which had classified them with a group called the "wheat kings" to the 160-acre tract which Beck's father had homesteaded in the 1880's.

Collins, from Junction City, Kan., wrote "Black Blizzard" as part of his work toward a Ph.D. degree in speech and dramatic art. Two of his other plays have been produced by the SUI Theater, "Where There's Smoke" and "From This Heritage."

Prof. Harold Crain will direct the play. Of plays given by the University Theater during the past season, Crain directed T. S. Eliot's "The Confidential Clerk" and George Farquhar's "The Beaux' Stratagem."

Tickets will be on sale at $1.25 each in room 8A Schaeffer Hall today through Thursday from 9 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 1 p. m. to 4:30 p. m.

Baler Mishap Fatal To Tiffin Farmer

Ralph Rogers, 48, Tiffin, died Sunday of injuries received when both his arms were caught in a hay baler Friday.

Rogers' left arm was severed three inches from the amput by the baler. The right arm was mangled. Rogers also received severe chest and internal injuries.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Tuesday in St. Mary's Church in Iowa City. Burial will be in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Possible Sites for City Hall

THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE which was named by Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer to pick a site for a proposed City Hall-Recreation Center will hold an organizational meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. The two top site possibilities are the Musser parking lot at the corner of Washington and Gilbert streets.

... and the site of the old Community Building at the corner of College and Gilbert streets. The Community Building was destroyed by fire January 28.

City Hall-Recreation Building Group To Hold 1st Meeting

The first step toward the proposed new city-hall recreation building will be taken Wednesday.

Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer said Monday that his special committee to choose the building's site will hold its first meeting at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at City Hall.

It will be an organizational meeting, Mercer said. It will be open to the public. The 11-member group was formed by Mercer to recommend a site for the proposed building. The council would have to approve the site.

Two Possible Sites
The two top site possibilities are the Musser parking lot and the site of the old Community Building, which was destroyed by fire January 28, Mercer said. The city council last year voted to build a proposed $330,000 building next to the then-standing Community building.

Prof. Allan Tester, head of the Planning and Zoning commission, argued for the Musser parking lot, but was ignored.

The building was turned down in the June elections by Iowa City voters, who gave the project only 52 per cent support. A 60 per cent yes-vote was needed.

'Avoid Fight'
"Some think that the fight over the site hurt us last year," Mercer said. "This time we want to avoid it."

"If the project is turned down we want it to be on the merits of the building, not the site," Mercer said. No plans have been drawn up for a new city-recreation building, which councilmen want to include facilities of the city administration, police and fire departments and recreation commission.

"We can't go ahead with plans until we have a site," Mercer said. "A different type of building would have to be built on each site."

All Segments Represented
For this choice a group representative of the community was chosen, Mercer said. The State University of Iowa, the planning and zoning commission, business, labor and women are represented.

"We wanted a group that would include all segments of Iowa City," Mercer said. "That way we would get a decision that represented the people's viewpoint."

Mercer and City Manager Peter F. Roan will be advisory members of the group. They will not vote. Committee members: William Hart, attorney; Mrs. George L. Horner and Mrs. E. L. DeGowin of the League of Women Voters; Louis Loria, central body member, AFL; Prof. J. W. Howe and Richard Fedderson, planning and zoning commission; Norman B. Shaffer, banker, and Roy Ewers, John Wilson, Walter Schmidt and John Schneider, businessmen.

Tito Accepts Bid To Visit Moscow

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito has accepted an invitation to visit Moscow, returning the recent Khrushchev-Bulgarian visit to Yugoslavia.

This announcement was made Monday by the semi-official Yugoslav press, immediately after Yugoslav and the Western Big Three had pledged their "continued cooperation." Ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France have been meeting with Yugoslav's acting foreign minister, Srdjan Prica.

Tito's First Visit
It will be Tito's first visit to Moscow since the Russian-dominated Cominform ousted his Communist party in 1948 for "nationalist tendencies." Since Stalin's death, Russia has been trying to normalize relations with Yugoslavia.

Tito is expecting a visit in July from India's Prime Minister Nehru, himself returning from a visit to Moscow. It is not likely that the Yugoslav leader will go to Russia until after that visit. It will probably be even later, since Bulganin is to be in Geneva for the Big Four summit meeting July 18.

No Surprise
There was no hint that the Western Powers were informed in advance of the invitation to the Moscow trip, but it was not received in semi-official Yugoslav quarters as a complete surprise.

A joint communique on the Yugoslav-Big Three talks paid special tribute to "the fruitful cooperation being developed in all fields in the Balkan Alliance" as "an important contribution to peace and stability in this part of the world."

The alliance is generally regarded as NATO's bridge to Yugoslavia, since it includes Greece and Turkey, both NATO members, as well as this country.

The conference was initiated by Yugoslavia before the visit of Bulganin and Khrushchev was announced.

The communique did not specify matters discussed by the representatives of the four countries, confining itself to the general terms and not mentioning any disagreements.

NATO Plans Paris Talks

PARIS (AP)—Foreign ministers of the 15 North Atlantic Treaty Organization members will meet here July 16, on the eve of the Big Four Geneva conference, it was officially announced Monday.

The top-level meeting between President Eisenhower, French Premier Edgar Faure, British Prime Minister Eden and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin opens in Geneva two days later.

In making the announcement to the NATO session here, Lord Ismay, NATO secretary general, said this would give the American, British and French foreign ministers an opportunity to consult their NATO colleagues on Western strategy and tactics in the Geneva talks.

ing, which councilmen want to include facilities of the city administration, police and fire departments and recreation commission.

"We can't go ahead with plans until we have a site," Mercer said. "A different type of building would have to be built on each site."

All Segments Represented
For this choice a group representative of the community was chosen, Mercer said. The State University of Iowa, the planning and zoning commission, business, labor and women are represented.

"We wanted a group that would include all segments of Iowa City," Mercer said. "That way we would get a decision that represented the people's viewpoint."

Mercer and City Manager Peter F. Roan will be advisory members of the group. They will not vote.

Army Plans 'Big' Switch

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP)—The American Army's biggest peacetime troop rotation in history gets underway Wednesday. It's moving day for 6,000 persons.

Soldiers, wives and children, make up the first detachment of 10th Division troops who are being shifted from Ft. Riley to Germany in Operation Gyroscope. By Dec. 1, all of the division's 18,000 troops and their families will have been moved abroad, exchanging posts with the 1st Division which, by that date, will have been moved into quarters here.

The soldier families will move into New York's port of embarkation and begin sailings for Bremerhaven July 2.

Once there, each 10th Division family will be met by a 1st Division sponsor. Wives and children will be taken by train and bus to division headquarters at Wurtzberg or to surrounding towns now occupied by 1st Division troops and escorted right up to their new front doors.

Dulles Confers With Ike On Navy Plane Incident

South Korea Claims Reds Violate Truce

SEOUL (Tuesday) (AP)—South Korea Tuesday depicted Communist North Korea as a land of starvation, rampant crime and executions and charged the Reds with rapidly building up a 600,000-man army and jet air force.

The Republic of Korea government repeatedly has charged the Reds with violating the Korean armistice by building up ground and air forces.

Quotes Officers
Monday the ROK Office of Public Information issued a 14-page document quoting two officers of the North Korean air force who fled to Seoul last Tuesday in a Russian-made Yak fighter.

Interviewed by Dr. Hongkee Karl, government spokesman, the two were identified as Capt. Lee Ung Yong and 1st Lt. Lee Eung Sung. Correspondents have not been permitted to talk to them.

The document said the fliers gave this picture:

25,000 Man Air Force
That North Korea has a 25,000-man air force with 300 MIG-15 jets, 120 bombers, 100 fighter-bombers and more planes arriving regularly from Russia — all in violation of the Korean armistice.

That North Korea has 15 air bases, 60 combat divisions and is receiving new Russian catapult-type guns mounted on trucks.

Campus Policeman Injured by Auto

Irving Stoner, State University of Iowa policeman, was injured Monday when a car backed into his motorcycle from a parking stall.

Stoner was released from University Hospitals after treatment for cuts of the nose, leg and ear. John Fay, 1025 E. Washington St., was the car driver. The accident occurred in the 200 block on South Clinton street.

Senate OK's Security Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Monday passed a bill to set up a bipartisan commission to make a thorough study of President Eisenhower's federal employe security program before the presidential elections next year.

In a brief debate before approving the plan on a voice vote, both Democrats and Republicans voiced hopes that the study could be made in a "dispassionate," non-political atmosphere.

The whole question of personnel security in the government was a lively issue in last year's congressional campaign. And the fight has continued here after the elections.

Until recently both Eisenhower and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell have said, they felt there was no need for a commission to study the security program. Over the weekend, however, it was reported the administration decided to go along with the Democratic proposal for the inquiry.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) told the Senate Monday "security is not a partisan issue." Humphrey and Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.) sponsored the proposal for the commission.

The proposal now goes to the House, where the Judiciary Committee already has approved a similar commission plan. Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa.), its sponsor, predicted House approval without major opposition.

The Humphrey-Stennis proposal would create a 12-member commission with four members to be selected by the President, four by the vice president as presiding officer of the Senate, and four by the speaker of the House. Six members would be Democrats, six Republicans.

SECRETARY OF STATE John Foster Dulles hurries toward the Presidential plane Columbine III Monday for a flight to Bangor, Me. Dulles and President Eisenhower flew back to Washington Monday evening. Dulles said they would "go fully into all the facts" surrounding the shooting down of a Navy plane by Russian fighters between Alaska and Siberia.

Jury Finds Augustine Insane in Shooting

William C. Augustine, 30, of Elgin, Ill., was found insane Monday by a Johnson county district court jury that deliberated 15 minutes.

Augustine was accused of assault with intent to murder Dr. John S. Greenleaf, 36, of Iowa City, in a May 30 shooting. He is a former resident of Iowa City. Proceedings on the charge were suspended Monday morning when Augustine pleaded guilty by reason of insanity.

Judge Harold D. Evans said he would pronounce sentence at 10 a. m. Wednesday. Augustine will be confined until declared sane enough to stand trial.

One Witness
Dr. Robert Wilcox of Psychopathic hospital, was the only witness called to the stand in the sanity hearing.

He testified that Augustine was of unsound mind. Augustine has been undergoing treatment at Psychopathic hospital since the alleged shooting of Dr. Greenleaf.

Dr. Wilcox said Augustine had paranoid schizophrenia (split personality) and was a danger to public health and safety.

No State Witnesses

Johnson County Atty. William Tucker did not dispute the defense case. He called no witnesses.

Augustine allegedly shot Dr.

Greenleaf from his car on Park road. He reportedly forced Greenleaf's car to the side of the road, made accusations concerning a doctor-patient relationship, then fired three shots from a .38 caliber revolver. Two shots passed through Dr. Greenleaf's arm.

Augustine was captured later that night at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Leo Kohl, 922 N. Dodge St. He surrendered without firing a shot.

MIG's Down Jet, Airliner

TAIPEI, Formosa (Tuesday) (AP)—Communist MIG jet fighters shot down a Nationalist jet trainer Monday and attacked an unarmed amphibious commercial plane in an abrupt flareup of warfare over the Formosa Strait.

Chinese Nationalist Air Force headquarters said intercepted intercept conversations between MIGs indicated the pilots were Russians. The air force asserted also that fluent Russian was overheard in the directions from the ground to the attacking MIGs.

The Defense Ministry assailed the incidents as "unprovoked attacks by Communist jets on unarmed Chinese aircraft over international waters." It said the pilot was killed in the crash of his flaming jet when it plunged into the sea north of the Matsus. The other trainer escaped.

The ministry reported a two-engine PBV Catalina amphibian owned by the Foshing Airlines was attacked by two MIGs about 12:30 p. m. while bound for Matsus.

Aboard were four Chinese crew members and 1st Lt. John J. Goodrich, 26, Rayne, La., Medical Corps member of the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group.

The attack occurred off Tungchuan East White Dog Island, 11 miles south of Matsus and about 14 miles off the mainland. The pilot, Chen Kuo-min, 43, who once resided in Hartford, Conn., said the red-starred jets made four firing passes, hitting the Catalina on the first one.

Still Claims Russian Offer Not Enough

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles re-emphasized Monday night that the Russian offer to pay half the damages for shooting down a Navy patrol plane over international waters off the Siberian coast Wednesday, was not considered "appropriate."

President Eisenhower and Dulles met at Bangor, Maine, to have "a couple of hours of quiet talk" about international affairs during the two-hour flight back to Washington.

They met at the Dow Air Force Base and boarded the President's plane Columbine III. They took off for Washington at 6:45 p. m.

'Unappropriate'
"They have not offered all that we consider appropriate under the circumstances," Dulles said of the Russian expression of regret and offer to pay half the damages.

Dulles emphasized his unscheduled meeting with the President involved "no emergency of any kind."

The President ended a six-day trip through the three northern New England states, during which he fished, played golf, and made a series of folksy, informal speeches.

Before boarding the Columbine at Washington for the flight to Bangor, Dulles told newsmen he planned to talk with the President about the shooting and also about foreign policy developments.

Looked Tired
Both men looked tired when they stepped down from the plane.

President Eisenhower, first off the plane, left immediately by car for the White House. Dulles departed for his home a few minutes later.

The President told a police estimated crowd of 15,000 at Bangor just before leaving for Washington that Dulles "has come up to insure that my vacation would end and give me a lecture on the way back."

The President came to Bangor from Skowhegan, where he spoke at the fairgrounds and attended a Maine clambake at the home of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine).

Ike's Talk
In the fairgrounds speech, the President said America's goal is the winning of a "permanent peace and not merely an uneasy cessation of the guns."

Sen. Smith and traditionally Republican Maine's Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie met the President on the outskirts of the city, which is Mrs. Smith's home town. Maine's other Republican senator, Frederick Payne had accompanied Eisenhower from Lake Umbagog in the state's north woods.

The governor told Eisenhower he was welcome "in full measure."

The President, concluding a six-day tour of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine, said that his tour had left him still convinced that Americans, in the basic aspiration and hopes for the future, are united.

'We Want Peace'
"We want peace in the world," he declared. "We want prosperity at home, a prosperity that is widely shared, with everybody happy in his job."

"We have come to realize these two aspirations are related. We cannot have prosperity without peace. And we can have no peace unless we are prosperous."

COLLECTOR COLLECTS

DES MOINES (AP)—An employe in the city assessor's office, checking on a delinquent tax record, came across a report on his boss, City Assessor Bert Zuver. Zuver checked into the record and sure enough, found he had neglected to pay a personal property tax of $3.24 for the last half of 1951. With penalty, the amount due was $4.18. Zuver paid up.

Rose-Colored Actualities—

The outlook for business appears to be almost alarmingly bright. It would take only a few references by important people to a "new era" of economics to drive some folks who remember 1929 right into their storm cellars.

The "new era" which some believed they saw in the late '20's was one in which prosperity was to be permanent. This despite the fact that great economic inequalities existed as between nations. International inequalities still exist. But today's reports are more uniform for the free world. To recent forecasts of a lengthy period of prosperity for the United States can now be added the latest report of the World Bank.

The bank finds the free world entering the most promising economic period since the end of World War II.

Industrialized nations move vigorously toward further expansion; the less industrialized feel all through their economy the stimulation of internationally supported efforts for industrialization.

Private finance is coming more and more into this picture. Free world output has risen 78 per cent above the last prewar year of 1938.

Meanwhile the relatively smooth transfer from war to peace economies following the Korean war has convinced the bank's experts that economic expansion for normal requirements is in order.

This may not be a "new era," but it is a new phase of postwar economic activity for the free world. It is, moreover, underpinned by social changes and legislated financial safeguards. These not only provide insurance against a sudden debacle; they also remind people of why these changes and safeguards were necessary after 1929.

It was not the factors which everybody could see in the ill-remembered "new era" that brought its end, but those factors which were overlooked. To say this now is not to discount the hopefulness of both American and European analysts of great authority. It is simply to reflect that in times of staggeringly good fortune as well as in times of desperate trial it is well to keep as cool a head as one can.

To Build Oil Pipe Line This Summer

The Great Lakes Pipe Line Co., said Friday it would build a 12-inch line for fuel oil and gasoline this summer between Iowa City and Des Moines.

The 106-mile line will parallel a 6-inch line built in 1930 and an 8-inch line built in 1951.

The new line is expected to be completed before the fall heating season, Harry Moreland, company president, said.

The three lines east of Des Moines serve terminals at Iowa City and Chicago and connected terminals at Amboy, Ill., and Madison, Wis.

Interpreting the News—

Helen Keller's Life Consists Of Overcoming Obstacles

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

It must have been something like 40 years ago that my father took me to see Helen Keller at the Auditorium in Asheville, N.C. I was more interested in snakes and bicycles than in culture, but my father was a schoolmaster and when anything cultural came to town he went, and perform, so did I.

The storybook line for the result is that I should have been greatly impressed for life by the brave struggle and achievements of this woman. The truth is that I then was just bored. I could conceive of what it meant to be blind, deaf and dumb, but not of the struggle to overcome such handicaps. Understanding would come, but later.

Young Woman
She was a relatively young and comely woman at the time, but to a boy she looked older than she does now to a man, although she is just entering her 76th year.

She is still blind and deaf, but by no means dumb.

Can you imagine what it would mean to try to learn to speak without any sounds to imitate?

Helen Keller did.

Message of Courage

Since that time she has devoted her entire life to carrying a message of courage, of hope and achievement, to the handicapped. She has specialized in work for the blind, since that seemed to her to be the greatest need involving more people. But her lectures themselves have been living testimony of what could be done for the stone deaf.

After the demonstration so many years ago my father said

Helen Keller
Life of Courage

on the way home:
"Son, never forget what you have seen tonight. After seeing that woman, anyone with all the faculties should be ashamed not to put them to their fullest use. She has never seen the dawn in russet mantle clad, as Shakespeare did, but she knows it just as well as he. She has the heart of a lion and the perceptions of a poet."

Teacher Anne

Helen Keller's teacher, Anne Sullivan Macy, deserved and received from people all over the world a vast credit for the success of the team. Between them, they worked out techniques to help the blind which were as practical as their story of struggle was inspiring.

When Anne Sullivan, later Mrs. John Macy, died nearly 20 years ago, many people thought Helen Keller would lose her effectiveness without her guiding hand. But it was not so. She has continued to travel the world, and since then has added two books to the four she had written before, ensuring that her story will remain alive after she is gone.

"Son, never forget . . ."
Her 75th birthday was a good reminder.

Reviews Praise Dean Ladd's Revision of Legal Textbook

By HAROLD A. SCHWARTZ

The first reviews have applauded the efforts of Dean Mason Ladd of the State University of Iowa Law school, in the publication of the second edition of his book, "Cases and Materials on the Law of Evidence."

The new edition is "a stimulating and scholarly work that has an unexcelled teaching potential," according to Prof. Robert E. Knowlton, Rutgers University. Knowlton reviewed Ladd's work in the current edition of the Iowa Law Review.

Prof. Claude H. Brown, University of Arizona College of Law, reviewed the book in the Journal of Legal Education. Brown states that "Dean Ladd's book puts vitality and interest into the subject both through the selection of cases that are factually interesting as well as by providing scholarly and practical discussions of problems and affording a means of learning how evidence works in the trial court."

The book, a substantial revision of the first edition, contains cases which are of interest to the layman as well as to students of law.

The case of the United States vs. Alger Hiss is a prime example of this. Ladd presents the Hiss case in respect to the testimony given by psychiatrists concerning the reliability of Whitaker Chambers as a witness. This is followed by his comment on Psychiatric Testimony and Credibility.

The first edition of this book is being used by more than 30 law schools. It has been a standard work in courses on evidence for the last six years. The new edition will be used at Iowa for the first time this fall. Ladd has been dean of the SUI Law school since 1939, and a member of the faculty since 1929.

Daylight Saving Time Is Dead Issue Here

By KIRK BOYD

The Daylight Saving Time issue, (DST), 1954's hottest, is deadlier than a door-nail in Iowa City.

The pro-DST groups have no plans to revive the issue. The anti-DST group is confident it will never be brought up again.

The Iowa City council, which turned the city on and off DST last summer, has shown no desire to revive the issue.

"I would be against it unless the entire state went on," Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer said. "Otherwise it causes too much confusion."

No Talk

"I've heard no talk for daylight savings time and don't expect to hear any."

Robert Yetter, department store manager, was the leader of the pro-DST group last summer. He won't re-open the fight this year.

"I'm not going to get into it again," he said. "I'm still in favor of it, though. The city council and people just didn't give it a chance to work."

"It's a dead issue all over the area."

No Iowa Cities

No Iowa cities have adopted DST this year. In fact, it hasn't even been considered.

Cedar Rapids was the first Iowa town to adopt DST in June, 1954. Davenport went on one week later and the other city councils of the Quad-City area, influenced by pro-DST labor unions, followed suit.

Yetter and other Iowa City businessmen collected 900 signatures to pro-DST petitions and presented them to the city council. The council voted unanimously June 13 to go on DST.

Then the anti-DST groups, mostly farmers and businessmen, crystallized their opposition to the time change.

The Cedar Rapids city council wavered in July after DST opposition formed and took the city back to Central Standard Time (CST).

Citizen's Committee
A Citizen's Committee for the Return of Central Standard Time was formed in Iowa City under the leadership of Miss Alice Stewart, shoe store employee. The group gathered 3,100 signatures to anti-DST petitions.

The city council, after complaining of government-by-petition, voted July 27 to return to standard time on August 15.

The Quad-city area towns, which had been forced to follow Davenport's lead, stuck it out with DST until the summer ended in late September.

DST was smashed by a 2 to 1 margin in a referendum vote by Davenport citizens in November. It has never been raised again.

Legislature Ignores Issue

The Iowa state legislature, influenced by the vigorously anti-DST Iowa Farm Bureau, didn't even consider DST at its recent session.

Little Morrison, Ill., located 10 miles east of Clinton, is the only town in the vicinity that retained DST this year.

The opponents of DST are sure they have buried it for good.

"The mayor here said he wouldn't be for it unless the whole state went on it," Miss Stewart said. "And I'm sure it won't."

Church Bells To Ring In Safe Driving Campaign

The peeling of church bells at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday will herald the beginning of a two-day safe-driving campaign sponsored by the Iowa City Women's Club.

The program is also being sponsored on a state and national basis. It is under the general direction of the National Federation of Women's Clubs.

The church bells will signal the beginning of a series of phone calls urging people to drive safely over the Fourth of July weekend.

Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer will start the chain by calling four people. These will be asked to call four more and so on until the chain is completed sometime Thursday.

Churches, lodges, veterans groups, the scouts and civic groups have urged members to keep the phone call chain intact.

"Call for the Living: Slow Down and Live," is the motto adopted by the Women's Club for the campaign.

Mrs. Bion Hunter is chairman of the Iowa City drive.

The motorcycle corps, local gas stations, and the police force have agreed to help in the drive by urging everyone they see to drive safely.

Condition Same for Boy Bomb Victims

James Steele, 11, Strawberry Point, was reported in good condition Monday in University Hospital after being seriously injured Saturday by the explosion of a homemade bomb.

The youth lost the thumb and the first two fingers of his left hand and may have lost the sight in one eye, hospital officials said. He also has slight cuts about the face and chest. No details about the accident were available.

Jerry Miller, 13, 1130 E. Washington St., was injured Wednesday in a similar accident. He is in satisfactory condition in University Hospital after having bits of steel capsule removed from his lung, spleen and heart and two fingers amputated from his left hand.

Two SUI Students Win Political Tour

Franklin L. Hartman, A3, Burlington, and Richard E. Guthrie, A3, Iowa City, will spend a week in Washington, D. C., this summer as part of a political internship program.

The two students were included in a list announced Monday by Robert F. Ray, director of the Iowa Citizenship Clearing House. Names of eight other Iowa college students were included in the announcement. Two other Iowa college students were named to the program last week.

The students will visit Washington in pairs — one Republican and one Democrat. Hartman will represent the Democrats and Guthrie the Republicans. Tours have been scheduled throughout the summer, as long as Congress is in session, Dr. Ray explained.

The "Week in Washington" political internship program is sponsored by the Iowa Citizenship Clearing House, located in Iowa City, the Republican and Democratic parties and Rep. Fred Schwengel of the first Iowa congressional district.

While in Washington the students will be house guests of Representative and Mrs. Schwengel. They will visit sessions of Congress, the headquarters of their political parties and meet with political and governmental leaders.

Ray described the purpose of the internship program as an attempt to give a selected group of student leaders an insight into national political proceedings and to stimulate them to become active in politics after they are graduated from college.

SUI Dental Student Wins Fellowship

Dr. Clifton D. Adams, a 1955 honor graduate of the State University of Iowa college of dentistry, has been awarded the $2,500 Teacher's Training Fellowship for 1955 by the Committee on Education and Board of Regents of the American College of Dentists.

Announcement of the award was made in St. Louis by Dr. Otto M. Brandhorst, secretary of the American College of Dentists. The recipient is chosen each year from a list of outstanding dental seniors from all of the 42 U.S. dental schools in the group who are interested in a career in dental education.

Dr. Adams is the first SUI dental student ever to receive the award, Dean William J. Simon of the SUI college of dentistry said Monday.

A native of Lone Tree, he has enrolled in the SUI graduate college to pursue his teacher's training in prosthetic dentistry. He received his B.A. degree from SUI in 1951 and was graduated with highest distinction from the college of dentistry on June 10.

Dr. Adams received the Alpha Omega award, which is given to the senior dental student with the highest scholastic average for the four-year dental course, and was elected early this month to Omicron Kappa Upsilon, national honorary dental fraternity.

Stunt Program for Musicians Today

All-State Music Campers will take part in a stunt program at 7:30 p.m. today at the Iowa Memorial Union.

Small groups of the campers have been practicing their stunts for several days. All will compete for prizes.

Barbara Rankin, girls counselor at Currier, and Dalles Tjaden, boys' counselor at South Quadrangle, are in charge of the arrangements.

Professor Cited for 'Best Technical Paper'

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Dr. Philip P. Morgan, professor of sanitary engineering at the State University of Iowa, has been cited by the Central States Sewage and Industrial Wastes Association as the writer of the best technical paper published during the past year.

Dr. Morgan received the association's Radebaugh Award at the 28th annual convention last Thursday night. He was honored for an article dealing with studies of accelerated digestion of sewage sludge.

School District Opens Bids on Tennis Courts

Bids will be taken until July 12 at the Iowa City school district secretary's office for concrete resurfacing of clay tennis courts at City High school.

The project, to cost an estimated $5,500, will include a four-inch concrete slab 117 by 140 for three courts. Basketball courts also will be constructed.

Trabert Uses Backhand

TONY TRABERT OF CINCINNATI gets off a backhand shot during his winning quarterfinal match with defending champion Jaroslav Drobný at the tennis championship tournament in Wimbledon, England, Friday. Trabert's victory assured the United States of a representative in Friday's men's finals. He defeated Drobný 6-5, 6-1, 6-4. Wedge Patty eliminated Australia's Lew Hoad Monday and will meet Trabert in semi-finals Wednesday.

Trabert, Patty Win Wimbledon Quarterfinals

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Budge Patty and Tony Trabert—a pair of Americans hitting all the shots in tennis—won quarterfinal matches at Wimbledon Monday. Patty showed he may be the man to fill America's Davis Cup needs.

Patty upset Lew Hoad, a standby on the last two Australian Davis Cup teams, with one of the steadiest three-set victories in the 69th Wimbledon championships.

Patty, formerly of Los Angeles but now a resident of Paris, won

While he was whipping Hoad, Trabert was licking Jaroslav Drobný, the defending champion, 6-6, 6-1, 6-4.

These two victories assured the U.S. a representative in Friday's men's finals.

First Hospitalized Six Weeks Ago

Agganis, 25, Bosox First Baseman, Dies

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The athletic career of Harry Agganis was ended abruptly Monday as the Boston Red Sox first baseman and former Boston University football great died at the age of 25.

Agganis, a rugged 6-2, 200-pounder, succumbed at Sancta Maria Hospital while apparently recovering from a chest ailment. It sidelined him for the first time six weeks ago.

Agganis was hospitalized for more than a week in May, but returned to the lineup and played in two games June 1 and 2. He was stricken again and re-entered the hospital June 5.

Making Progress
Doctors said they believed death was due to "a massive pulmonary embolism." They said the young athlete "had been making a slow but apparently satisfactory convalescence from a severe pulmonary infection complicated by phlebitis."

Agganis, after a brilliant sports career at Boston University, passed up professional football to sign with the Red Sox following his graduation in 1953. He was sent to Louisville in the American association.

Promoted to the Red Sox last year, he hit .251, but had 11 homers, 8 triples, 13 doubles and 57 RBIs.

Got Job Back
Agganis lost his starting job at first base at the beginning of this season but won it back.

He was hitting more than .300 when he suddenly complained of chest pains and was hospitalized May 16. It was announced he was suffering from virus pneumonia in the right lung.

Harry was hospitalized for more than a week and remained out of action until June 1 when the Red Sox met the White Sox in Chicago. He connected for three hits.

Chest Pains
Agganis sat out the next two games and on June 5 complained of chest pains again and flew back to Boston. He didn't appear seriously ill on his arrival home, but was taken immediately to the hospital.

The next day it was announced he was suffering from virus pneumonia in the other lung—the left. Dr. Eugene E. O'Neil said that Agganis apparently started playing too soon after his first hospitalization.

A week ago, Dr. O'Neil reported that Agganis appeared to be recovering slowly.

Besides his mother, Agganis leaves four brothers and two sisters.

Agganis' body will lie in state Tuesday night and Wednesday at St. George's Greek Orthodox Church, Lynn.

Services will be at 2 p.m. (EDT) Thursday with burial in Pine Grove Cemetery.

Jensen's Bat Helps Bosox Win 18 of 29

NEW YORK (AP) — The resurgence of the Boston Red Sox partly can be attributed to the increased power production of outfielder Jackie Jensen.

While Ted Williams has been getting most of the credit for the spurt which has seen Boston win 19 of its last 28 games, Jensen has batted in 29 runs during that span to take over the American League's RBI lead with 55.

Jensen, with seven homers since May 28 for a total of 15, has taken over third place in that department. He trails New York's Mickey Mantle, the pacesetter with 18 and Gus Zernial of Kansas City, who has 16. Jensen is batting .264.

Detroit's Al Kaline, however, continues to hold a commanding lead in the batting competition. Despite a 14-point drop to .365 last week, the sophomore outfielder is well ahead of runnerup Nellie Fox of Chicago. Fox climbed 10 points to .339. Harvey Kuenn of the Tigers slumped 23 points to .320.

In the National League, Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn increased his average one point to .353 while maintaining his edge over runnerup Don Mueller of New York and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn. They are deadlocked for the No. 2 slot at .338. Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati is fourth with .333.

Kluszewski hit two homers last week to tie Brooklyn's Duke Snider. Each has walloped 23. Snider is the circuit's runs batted in leader with 71.

Williams, who missed Boston's last four games because of a back injury, is batting .387 with 29 hits in 75 at bats. He has little chance of batting 400 times, the total necessary to qualify for the batting championship.

"HURRICANE" WINS
NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson swarmed over Jimmy Slade with his persistent attack Monday night to even an old score by winning a unanimous 10-round decision. Jackson weighed 195 1/2, Slade 183 1/2.

Burlington Street Widening Meets Opposition—

Owners Circulate Petitions Against Project

The proposed widening of Burlington Street from Madison Avenue to Gilbert Street is meeting an all-out campaign from property owners who are against the project.

It has been proposed with the support of City Manager Peter F. Roan that Burlington Street be widened 5 feet on each side to allow for a fifth lane of traffic.

Objectors say they will show the city council at a public hearing Thursday night that the proposal will put the expense of widening on the property owners.

Anti-Widening Petition
An anti-widening petition, signed by at least 1,000 Iowa City residents, will be presented at the hearing Thursday night, representatives of the objectors say.

The Burlington Street property owners claim that two of the city councilmen are sympathetic to their cause.

The Burlington Street group has also spoken of "carrying the fight further" if the city council approves the project.

Two of the group leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Nate Whiting, 21 E. Burlington St., who claim that the widening will cost them $5,800.

They said that the widened street would cut into their loading space. This means that they will have to build a loading platform at the rear of their electric service store.

Other property owners said that they will have to put in new sidewalks. City Manager Peter F. Roan has said that the city would replace sidewalks that were in good repair.

Howard Carroll, radio repairman, says that the project will cost him from $200 to $400 in the remodeling of his property. Opal Miller, filling station owner, says it will cost him about $3,000.

Goal Was 3,000
The group's petition goal was 3,000. They admit, however, that this goal probably won't be reached.

"We just don't have the time," Carroll said. "If we could get to all the people, we'd have 3,000 easily."

Carroll gave this run-down of the first 100 people he asked to sign the petition: 80 signed, 15 said they didn't like signing petitions, and 5 said they were in favor of the project.

Carroll says he now has 180 signatures.

"People we don't even know are coming in here to sign the petition or asking for petitions to take around," Mrs. Whiting said.

"They're mad. They don't think what the city is doing to us is fair."

One such person is Edwin Orr, 605 E. Burlington St., who is retired.

'Not Justified'
"It's the using of the taxpayers' money," Orr said. "It's not justified. We want to get highway 6 out of town. This will keep it in town."

The petition says the project should be abandoned because (1) it will not relieve the Burlington bridge bottleneck, (2) will cost Burlington Street property owners too much (3) create sidewalk problems (4) attract more cars to the street (5) will not make left turns easier and (6) will cost the taxpayers of Iowa City too much.

Mayor Leroy S. Mercer pointed out that the project would not cost city taxpayers a cent. The city's portion of the project will be paid by the money it receives from the state gas tax fund.

The Iowa highway commission will pay for half of the $20,000 project. Burlington Street carries highways 6, 218 and 1.

Roan for Project
City Manager Peter F. Roan has said that the widening would make left-turns from Burlington Street easier. It would create a fifth lane, he said, where cars making the turn could wait out of the way of the other two lanes of traffic.

The project is not aimed at solving the bottleneck problem of the Burlington Street bridge, he said.

"The traffic on this street has increased 70 per cent in the past 6 years," Roan told the city council at a recent meeting. "We can look for future increases."

"If we put this off and the highway is re-located the state will not pay half the cost. The property owners will be assessed for it."

DEATH POSTPONED
RUSSELLVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police finally convinced 70-year-old Sam McCormick he wasn't dying of a shotgun blast in the head. They found him stunned, blood dripping from his smashed nose. Fighting with another man, McCormick was hit on the head with a shotgun. As the gun landed, it broke into three pieces and let off a deafening blast. The pellets flew harmlessly into the ceiling. But McCormick sank to the floor, thinking each breath would be his last.

BURLINGTON STREET would be widened five feet on each side (dotted line) under a plan to be considered Thursday by the Iowa City council. A group of Burlington street residents are opposing the project and claim to have more than 1,000 signers to an anti-widening petition.

New Doctors

Dr. Maxwell, Pediatrician; Dr. Judiesch, General Practitioner

2 SUI Medical Graduates Will Open Practice Here

Two 1947 State University of Iowa School of Medicine graduates will open private practice here July 1, after serving two years in the Army.

They are Dr. John R. Maxwell, 31, of 1108 Marcy St., and Dr. Kenneth J. Judiesch, 33, of 241 Koser Ave.

A pediatrician, Dr. Maxwell's office will be in the Paul-Helen building, 209 E. Washington St., while Dr. Judiesch, a general practitioner, will be located at 206 Dey building, 105 Iowa Ave. Dr. Maxwell interned at Harper's Hospital, Detroit, and received two year's training in pediatrics at the Children's Hospital of Michigan, Detroit, Dr. Judiesch interned at University Hospitals here.

Both went in the Army May 25, 1953, and both were discharged May 25 of this year. Dr. Maxwell was in the pediatrics service at Madigan Army Hospital, near Tacoma, Wash. Dr. Judiesch was assistant to the post surgeon at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex. Both are married. Dr. Maxwell and his wife have three children: Christine, 4; Carol, 3; and Paul 2 months. Dr. Judiesch and his wife have two children: Michael, 7, and Linda, 5.

STANDARD POLICE GEAR
HAMPTON, S.C. (AP) — Police Chief H. C. Mixon is going to classify an extra pair of pants he keeps at the police station as part of the regular police equipment. He had a hurry call early Sunday morning from a church where a man said he was hiding after having been robbed of all his clothes. Mixon's extra pants solved the immediate problem.

POSTMEN GET CARTS
PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — After 35 years as a mail carrier, J. E. Lovvo finally decided there must be an easier way to tote the heavy leather bag. So he bought a two-wheeled caddy cart. Three other carriers also bought carts. And the post office ordered seven more for the rest of the carriers.

Strike Vote Approved by Steel Union

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The CIO United Steel Workers Wage Policy Committee Monday authorized a nationwide strike, but union President David J. McDonald said, "Don't get the idea we are strike-happy."

The 170-member committee voted unanimously to give McDonald authority to strike the basic steel industry at midnight Thursday if an agreement is not reached on union demands for a substantial wage increase.

The wage policy members also approved rejection of big steel's offer to increase wages an average of 10 cents an hour and an offer by Inland Steel Co. to increase wages about 10 1/2 cents an hour.

Earlier McDonald called both offers "completely inadequate in a year when the steel industry is making record profits."

Shortly after the committee action, U.S. Steel Corp. the world's biggest steel producer, announced that its top negotiator, Vice President John Stephens, would meet with McDonald at 9 a.m. (CST) today.

There was no indication whether big steel would submit a new proposal.

At a news conference following the Wage Policy Committee meeting, McDonald said he would not necessarily strike all steel companies at once "if such action is required."

Inland Steel said earlier Monday it was making preparations to begin closing down its steel mills today if a satisfactory agreement is not reached by then. U.S. Steel said it is giving consideration to such action.

Experts Say Reds Lacking Airlift Craft

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia may be critically weak in the airlift capacity required to support large-scale military operations in the opinion of some Defense Department authorities.

The experts' conclusion seems to be borne out by recent Soviet transportation developments.

Russia sent a twin-engine military plane to Prague, Czechoslovakia, early this month to fly India's Prime Minister Nehru and party to Moscow. In late May, a two-engine Russian plane carried Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin, currently the two most important Soviet leaders, to Belgrade for the conference with the independent Communists of Yugoslavia.

In the United States, all long-distance air travel of an important nature is in fast and powerful four-engine equipment.

Gen. O. P. Weyland, commander of the Tactical Air Command, was asked for comment on Russian airlift capacity.

In a statement cleared by the Pentagon, Weyland pointed out that the Russians have several types of transport aircraft and helicopters, and a civilian air fleet which they can employ in an emergency.

He added, however, that "there have been very few indications that they have large numbers of medium and heavy types comparable to our own."

Obrecht Symphony Will Premiere July 6

The premiere performance of a symphony written by Eldon Obrecht of the State University of Iowa music faculty will be a feature of the first concert of the summer by the SUI Symphony Orchestra July 6 at 8 p.m. in Iowa Memorial Union.

James Dixon will conduct the orchestra, numbering 92 musicians, many of whom are music teachers from schools and colleges throughout the country working for advanced degrees at SUI during the summer session.

The number by Prof. Obrecht to be performed is his "Symphony No. 2 in G." The SUI professor's "First Symphony," written in fulfilling requirements for his Ph.D. degree at SUI, was given its premier performance by the SUI Symphony orchestra in 1950.

Four Movements
Prof. Obrecht's "Symphony No. 2" is in four movements, chiefly light or brilliant in character, though there are some serious sections. The first movement, a quiet prelude, is followed by a fast second movement and a comic third movement entitled "Scherzo-Serenade." In contrast, the fourth movement is a serious elegy.

The symphony was completed about a year ago. Prof. Obrecht has also composed chamber music and a number of songs and anthems. He is head of the string bass section in the SUI Symphony orchestra and teaches music theory and appreciation.

The Obrecht Symphony will be the second number of the July 6 concert. The program will open with "Overture to Colas Breugnon" by Kabalevsky, leading contemporary Russian composer. A jolly overture, the piece is based on the novel written in 1938 by the Frenchman Romain Rolland.

'Incredible Flutist'
Other compositions to be played will be "Suite from the Ballet 'Incredible Flutist'" by Walter Piston, leading American composer who is head of the music department at Harvard University, and "Suite No. 2 from 'Daphnis and Chloe'" by Ravel.

The Piston number, written in 1938, presents action at a circus and is in typical American idiom. Frequently regarded as Ravel's masterpiece, the "Suite No. 2" is a brilliant work performed often both as a ballet and as an orchestral work.

The concert will be open to the public free of charge. Tickets will not be required for admission.
