Like Sees Tolerance At Geneva Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower took off for the Big Four conference Friday night, declaring there will be "no trouble" with the men in the Kremlin if they really mean their words of "conciliation and understanding."

The chief executive made the qualified forecast in a dramatic TV-radio address shortly before his plane, Columbine III, took off for President Eisenhower's potentially fateful meeting with the leaders of Russia, Britain and France.

In the broadcast he declared that if a 10-year-old spirit of mutual distrust can be lifted at Geneva, then "we will have taken the greatest step toward peace, toward future prosperity and tranquility that has ever been taken in all the history of mankind."

Conciliatory Attitude

In his pre-flight broadcast President Eisenhower promised he and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles would be firm in principle yet conciliatory in attitude at Geneva.

President Eisenhower spoke from the White House broadcast room an hour and a quarter before he, his wife and his son left for Geneva.

On the whole, however, the President's attitude was one of conciliation — of promising the United States will not reject any hand out-thrust in true friendship.

"Did you note" asked the President, "the speech made by Premier Bulganin in Moscow this morning? Every word he said was along the line that I am now speaking. He talked on conciliation and tolerance and understanding."

Air of Security Falls upon Geneva

GENEVA (AP) — American and Russian secret service men Friday clamped super-security regulations on Geneva's Big Four conference.

The men from the Potomac and the Volga will separately guard President Eisenhower and the top men of the Kremlin.

They have historical cause for concern. Shortly after World War I, a Soviet delegate to an international conference was assassinated at nearby Lausanne.

The government men from Washington and Moscow have asked the Swiss authorities to:

Halt all traffic on roads between the airport and the villas being used by the Americans and the Russians when the top men are arriving.

Insist that all photographers have open and unloaded cameras when they approach the airport.

Committee Probes Baby Adoption Ring

CHICAGO (AP) — A Canadian carnival worker testified before a Senate subcommittee Friday he was a "runner" for an international baby adoption ring, bringing Canadian babies into the United States for sale to American couples.

Other testimony pictured the babies as selling for $2,100 to $5,000.

The carnival worker, Eugene Harry Miner, 44, of Ottawa, declined to call the border crossing "smuggling." He parried questions of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), subcommittee chairman and the only member present, with quips.

"You call that smuggling, mister? That's not smuggling. That's gonna give 'em (the babies) each a good home," Miner said.

Miner said he brought Canadian babies into the United States to couples who had arranged to procure them from a "baby dealer" whom he named as Sarah Weiman of Montreal.

He said he joined the adoption organization in 1951, when he needed money. He did not say specifically whether he still was a member of the ring, but he was identified by subcommittee counsel Ernest A. Mitter as currently employed as a "runner" of babies.

Kefauver said the baby adoption traffic is a fit subject for the committee's investigation because 80 per cent of unwed mothers are under 19 years of age and children improperly placed for adoption become delinquent "in many cases."

world, if the words that he expressed are truly reflective of the hearts and minds of the men in the Kremlin... then there'll be no trouble between the Russian delegation and our own at this coming conference."

The chief executive solemnly drove home these points:

1. Pessimism never won any battles—in peace or in war.

2. One ingredient has been missing at past conferences—an honest desire "to see the other fellow's viewpoint."

If this spirit can be changed, he said, the greatest step toward permanent peace in the history of mankind will have been taken.

'New Vistas'

Earlier in the day the President had said that "new vistas" will be opened to the world if statesmen at the Big Four conference can reach "useful areas of agreement" on handling international problems.

In a message tinged with hope, the President told Congress:

"There are signs that the world may be entering a new phase in international relationship."

President Eisenhower informed Congress he will enter the Big Four discussions Monday "with a full awareness of the opportunities offered by the United Nations to contribute to the peace of the world."

Russia Has Lofty Aims, Bulganin Says

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin said Friday the Soviet Union is going to Geneva seeking peace, but he noted war preparations by other states.

Bulganin pledged the Soviet delegation to the summit talks to great efforts to "attain the lofty aims of the conference," and expressed hope the other powers would exert equal efforts.

The Soviet aim, he said, will be to find a common ground for easing tension and strengthening confidence among states.

He read a statement, announced in advance as a general declaration on the summit conference opening Monday.

The Soviet Premier said relaxation of tension could lead to "business-like cooperation" among states, and added:

"This would enable the states to use the colossal funds, which now finance armaments, for the good of the peoples."

"Some people," the statement said, "think capitalism is better than socialism. We are convinced the opposite is the case. This argument cannot be settled by force, through war. Let everyone prove in peaceful economic competition whether he is right."

"There are many unsettled, disputed questions in the world, and this will be the case in the future. Such is life. But we can and must discuss these questions patiently and loyally at a round table conference, and find a peaceful solution to them. It is said that even a bad peace is better than a good war."

"We have never intended and do not intend to attack anybody. This would contradict our principles, our immutable peaceable policy."

"But seeing the war preparations of other states we, of course, cannot but take measures to safeguard the security of our country."

Million Dollar Chicago Blaze

CHICAGO (AP) — A spectacular extra-alarm fire in downtown Chicago Friday night caused an estimated one million dollars worth of damage to the 12-story Maurice L. Rothschild clothing store.

Bursting forth on the top floor after the store, at State Street and Jackson Blvd., had closed for the night, the blaze destroyed the 12th floor and caused heavy smoke and water damage to merchandise on other floors.

Several thousand spectators were endangered when heat from the fire caused upper floor windows to shatter, showering the crowd with bits of glass. None was reported hurt.

Repeat Performance

Sandra Knight Music Camp Queen Again

Sandra Knight, 17, Rockford High School graduate, Friday was crowned queen of the All State Orchestra, Vocal, and Small Ensembles Division of the All State Music Camp at the State University of Iowa.

It was a repeat performance for Miss Knight, who reigned as queen of the 1954 All State Vocal Music Camp at SUI.

She was recently named "Miss North Iowa" at the Northern Iowa Band Festival held in Mason City. She intends to enroll as a freshman at SUI this fall.

Also gathering honors for the Knight family of Rockford was Sandra's 16-year old sister, Margaret, who was presented as one of the queen's four attendants at a party following the final Music Camp concert Friday night in the Iowa Memorial Union.

The two sisters are daughters of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Knight.

Other attendants were, Diana Rex, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Rex, of Ames; Brenda Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hansen, DeWitt, and Joanna Vellenga, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Vellenga, of Monmouth, Ill.

The formal concert and party climaxed two weeks of rehearsals, classes, and lessons, for about 125 high school musicians attending the camp. The camp will officially close today.

Like Signs Base Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a flourish of his pen, President Eisenhower Friday authorized a $2,300,530,300 construction program for U.S. military bases around the world. Many of the project are secret.

Air Force projects dominate the big bill signed by Eisenhower, a compromise measure cleared by Congress July 11 after the House and Senate earlier had passed varying versions.

In round figures the bill breaks down something like this: Air Force, $1,300,000,000; Navy and Army, 500 million dollars each.

The money will have to be provided in a separate appropriations bill now in Congress.

Included in the authorization was $434,000 for the Sioux City, Iowa, Municipal Airport; $3,928,000 for the Lincoln, Neb., AFB; $128,000 for Offutt, Neb., AFB; $347,000 for the Rock Island, Ill., Arsenal; and $342,000 for the Savannah, Ill., Ordnance Depot.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

SIoux CITY (AP) — Harley Robinson, 39, of Sioux City, was bound over to the grand jury Friday on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Herbert Inlay, 40, of injuries suffered in a fight July 6. Municipal Judge Barry J. Sisk reduced Robinson's bond from $10,000 to $2,000.

Add 440,000 Shots To Polio Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Friday announced release of an additional 440,000 shots of polio vaccine.

The newly released supply — third batch to be released since last Friday — brings to 2,998,000 shots the total made available by the Public Health Service since May 26 when the revised testing and production requirements were adopted.

The vaccine released Friday was produced by the Pitman-Moore Co. of Zionsville, Ind.

Brandt Is Ruled Out As Killer

SIoux CITY (AP) — Police and the FBI Friday ruled out an Iowa farmhand as the killer of 2-year-old Donna Sue Davis of Sioux City and continued rounding up other persons for questioning.

Audrey Brandt, 42, LaPorte City, was eliminated after he admitted and then denied that he kidnapped the girl Sunday night. Her body was found across the Missouri River from here in Nebraska the next day.

"I got all riled up. One thing just led to another," Brandt said Friday in explaining why he clung to a story of raping and beating the child.

"Well, I told them a bunch of lies all right."

In Missouri

In a statement the FBI said that Brandt was in Salisbury, Mo., with a carnival from July 10 to 12. The Davis girl was taken from her crib the night of July 10.

The FBI said Brandt will be charged with making false statements. His case has been turned over to the U.S. attorney's office in Kansas City. The charge carries a maximum penalty of up to $10,000 fine and not more than five years in prison.

Sioux City Police Chief James O'Keefe said he wasn't surprised that Brandt reversed his story.

One Man Knows

"There's only one man who knows all the facts as we know them," he said, "the man who killed the child."

O'Keefe said he has a "number" of men in custody for questioning but said "we are no farther along than we were Sunday night."

In Dubuque, police were holding on a "John Doe" warrant for Sioux City authorities Marvin Hill, 42, Elkhart, Ind., for questioning in the girl's death.

Hill told of being in Sioux City Sunday but denies any knowledge of the crime. Police Chief Hugh Callahan of Dubuque said Friday investigation showed that Hill apparently was not here that night.

House Committee Passes Huge Road-Building Plan

Red Economic Power Underestimated: Knorr

In determining whether the Kremlin will be bargaining at next week's "Big Four" conference in Geneva from "positions of strength or weakness," an international economics authority says it is misleading to estimate Soviet economic strength in terms of consumption per capita.

Prof. Klaus Knorr of Princeton University took this point of view Friday at the Seminar in International Relations at the State University of Iowa, where he noted an "increasing stress on economic strength as a support to military power."

A research specialist on raw materials as sources of economic and military power, he is a frequent consultant to the U.S. government.

What the Soviet citizen gets to take home from his work, he explained, is an unreliable measure of economic power because so much of Russian income and production is "plowed back" to increase future production. The Russian worker thus receives much less than his share of his nation's output, despite the Marxist ideology of favoring labor, he observed.

Explains Russian Tactics

Knorr suggested several explanations for the apparent willingness of the Russians to discuss international problems with other powers in recent months.

One reason behind the apparently more conciliatory tactics of the Kremlin may be a realization of the implications of atomic warfare. And the needs of agriculture to produce more for a huge and growing population, combined with the strains of re-conversion to nuclear armament, may be seriously extending Russia's new leadership, Knorr suggested.

He said it is also possible that militant Stalinism is disintegrating, with new leaders exerting pressures toward a more prudent policy. On the other hand, Soviet policy may not have changed at all, with their goals the same and only their tactics less rigid, he observed.

Economic Advantages

Knorr said that the fact that the "USSR has lifted itself up by the bootstraps economically has attracted the interest of leaders of underdeveloped nations who, while regretting political communism, see its advantages in economics."

Held in Polk County jail in lieu of $10,000 bail were James Lee Jackson, 18, and Marcel George Cole, 17, both of Kansas City, Mo.

The dead man was identified as Cornelius Johnson Davis, 33, also of Kansas City.

Davis was shot by Highway Patrolman Dan Foster as the three men tried to escape after their car rammed a tree on Highway 6 here.

Jackson gave up quickly after his companion was killed and Cole was found hiding in a tree several hours later.

Two Atlantic residents were injured when the fugitives' car swerved to miss an auto at an intersection and struck them.

Both were taken to a hospital. The three attempted to hold up Sol Brody, 63, a West Des Moines grocer.

The sheriff said the men drove around one roadblock east of Atlantic and continued rapidly into town.

At an intersection they swerved to miss a car and hit a boy and a man.

The three jumped from their car with officers in pursuit. Foster fired and hit Davis. Jackson gave up immediately, but Cole ran.

He was spotted in a tree near the Nishnabotna River and captured.

Consumers Union Head To Be Here

Colston E. Warne, professor of economics at Amherst College and president of Consumers Union, Inc., will speak on "An Appraisal of Contemporary Advertising" at 8 p.m. Friday in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

The address, sponsored by the School of Journalism and Graduate College, will present Warne's views on advertising from the consumer standpoint.

Warne, director of the National Association of Consumers, formerly taught at Cornell University, Wesleyan University, Connecticut College, and the Universities of Chicago, Denver, and Pittsburgh.

He has been a member of the Council of Economic Advisers to the President, and was consultant to the U.S. Coordinator of Fisheries. He is also the author of many books and pamphlets.

Seek Slayer Of Actress

NEW YORK (AP) — Homicide detectives Friday sought some clue to a slayer who invaded a Times Square hotel room and strangled a graying actress and wardrobe mistress.

Robbery apparently was not a motive in the murder of 58-year-old Adlyn Woodington, whose body was discovered Thursday.

The woman had been beaten so cruelly that her jaw was fractured and several teeth broken. She also had been stabbed, apparently with a pair of small scissors that lay on the floor.

However, an autopsy established strangulation as the cause of death.

Miss Woodington had appeared on the stage in 45 states, apparently mostly in summer stock or in touring road shows. As recently as a year ago she played Lincoln, Neb., according to newspaper clippings in her room.

Indian Relics Recovered

CURATOR CLAUDE COOK, of the Des Moines State Historical Museum, Friday checks the Indian relics recovered by police after they were stolen by four Boy Scouts. The Scouts were members of a group which performs Indian dances. Items included a bullet pouch and beaded flannel ornaments.

Recommends $12 Billion In New Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Public Works Committee voted 22-6 Friday for a biggest-in-history road-building program over the next 15 years, and recommended $12 billion in new taxes to help pay for it.

Approved for House action was a bill calling for $48½ billion worth of construction for public roads, including about 35½ billion to be put up by the federal government. Most of this would go to complete 40,000 miles of superhighways across the nation.

The federal gasoline tax would be upped a penny a gallon for the next 15 years — from two to three cents — and levies on several other automotive items would be increased.

Redraft

Rep. George Fallon (D-Md.), acting committee chairman, reported the measure will be redrafted over the weekend for technical purposes and brought before the House group for a final vote Monday.

Democratic Leader John McCormack (Mass.) has listed the bill for early action by the House, probably by next week.

The Senate has already passed a multi-billion-dollar highway construction measure of its own, which doesn't include a method for financing. President Eisenhower's program for highway expansion called for financing through long-term borrowings, but this was turned down in both the Senate and in the House committee.

Committee informants said Friday's 22-6 vote included Democrats among the dissenters, but they did not say how many.

Tax Increases

In a day-long session, the committee gave its final approval to these tax increases, which would take effect immediately on passage of the bill:

Gasoline, from 2 to 3 cents a gallon; diesel fuel, from 2 to 5 cents a gallon; truck tires larger than 8½ by 18, 5 to 15 cents a pound; inner tubes for these tires, 9 to 15 cents a pound; truck tires, from 7½ to 8½ by 18, 5 to 8 cents a pound; camelback, (a rubber compound used in making retread tires), a net tax of 15 cents a pound.

In addition, the excise tax on trucks, buses and trailers would be boosted from 8 to 10 per cent.

The increased taxes were first approved on a vote of 22-9. Then the bill as a whole, including the taxes and the plans for road building, was okayed 22-6.

Controversial Taxes

The controversial tax phases of the measure, would bring in an estimated $12,021,000,000 over the next 15 years. About two-thirds of this total is expected to come from the gasoline tax increase.

While the committee will vote on the measure again Monday after it has been redrafted, this is expected to be a formality. The main provisions of the measure as approved Friday will then be submitted for House action.

In other actions the committee Ok'd a provision aimed at barring commercial enterprise from being built on the right-of-ways of the interstate highways.

U.S. Farmers Reach Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Twelve farm representatives from Iowa and other American states arrived in Moscow Friday night for a month's tour of the Soviet Union and to give the Russians some advice on growing corn and hogs.

The Americans, headed by Dr. W. V. Lambert, dean of agriculture at the University of Nebraska, were greeted at Moscow airport by A. I. Bovin, deputy minister of agriculture and nine other Russians.

May Choose Civic Building Site Friday

Chairman William R. Hart of the Iowa City civic building site committee said Friday night his group hopes to reach a decision at next Friday's meeting.

The 13-member committee failed to come up with a site for the proposed civic building at a closed, three-hour meeting Friday night. It was the group's third meeting.

"There was no unanimity of opinion tonight," Hart said. "But the meeting did help to jell our ideas."

Hart said the group had made no decision on whether the city administrative, police, fire and recreational facilities should be placed in one building.

"We might recommend to the council sites for certain purposes," Hart said.

Hart said the council was discussing six sites for all or parts of a civic building. The sites:

College Street Park, Community Building site, Musser parking lot, Public Library parking lot, City Park and the present City Hall site.

Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer appointed the group last month to give the City Council recommendations on the site of a civic building.

The present City Hall, which houses the administrative, fire and police departments, is 74 years old. The Community Center, which housed the recreational facilities, was destroyed by fire Jan. 28.

ATOMIC REWARDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday signed into law a bill establishing rewards of up to $50,000 for information on efforts to smuggle atomic weapons or nuclear materials into the United States.

editorial

'As Members of a Species'

One cannot deny that Bertrand Russell, the late Albert Einstein and seven other thinkers and philosophers were expressing what might be called a global patriotism when they signed the statement on nuclear warfare released by Lord Russell on Saturday. They were honestly speaking, we can be sure, "as human beings, members of the species man, whose continued existence is in doubt." Even the two Communists or Communist sympathizers among them can scarcely desire a calamity which would abolish capitalism by abolishing mankind.

Lord Russell wrote this statement as an elaboration of one he made in a broadcast last December. He did this in response to letters from scientists who, like him, were appalled by the spectacle of the evil spirit they had let out of the atomic bottle. Perhaps no one who had any share or understanding of this last perilous adventure in science could help having a feeling of guilt. The feeling may be illogical, for artificial atomic fission is the product of centuries of Western scholarship, not of any one living man or contemporary group of men. It may be unnecessary, for, as William L. Laurence pointed out, the very existence of the strategic and tactical fission bomb may serve as "the major deterrent against global war."

But the guilt, the doubt, and the misgivings exist. The sinister clouds that blossomed over Hiroshima and Nagasaki have not been wholly dissipated. Their psychological fallout continues, distressing the minds of men.

What can cure this sickness of our generation? The answer that Lord Russell and his associates have given can be effective only as it persuades. More than this, it can be effective only as governments have reason to trust one another. For this answer is not merely to prohibit nuclear weapons which, as the Russell statement predicts would certainly be resorted to if war broke out. The answer is an agreement not to go to war. Such an agreement would not be an act of sacrifice. It would simply accept the fact that this ancient institution must be discarded because it can no longer produce any result beneficial to any nation; because, in grim truth, world-wide war would now be suicide for all concerned, aggressors and defenders alike.

What remains is only in part a moral issue. It is, far more, a law of physics, which no compromise and no subterfuge can circumvent. Lord Russell may be thanked to the degree that he has waked us — and possibly our Communist contemporaries — to reality.

Better Iowa City Contest—

Should Have Annual Spring Clean-up in Iowa City Area

(Editor's Note: This letter is the first prize winner in the university division of the Better Iowa City contest. The other winning letters will be printed in subsequent issues of The Daily Iowan.)
To the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce:

I believe Iowa City would be a better place if it had an annual Spring Clean-up day, week, or month. This is what I believe should be done. The city should initiate an annual drive whereby the townspeople, the merchants, the businessmen, and the university students all work together in a concerted effort to tidy up the entire city.

It is true that Iowa City is already quite a clean town in which to live. However, there are areas of untidiness that could be improved. Take, for example, the riverbanks north from the overhead railroad bridge over Highway 218. One can note the tall weeds, unsightly tin cans, dead trees and brush that litter the area. The impression people have when they see this is not completely favorable. The entrance to the golf course on Highway 6 is set back among weeds, tall grasses. The grounds in back of the Union are presently littered with many weather-beaten boards and brushes. It is quite a contrast to the other side of the footbridge, where the lawn is well-kept down to the river edge. There is an old advertising poster still clinging to the side of one of the downtown buildings. Some houses seem to have a great deal of paper litter and tin cans in front or back. These examples are only a few I noted.

I know the city street and maintenance crews do a very fine job. However, they certainly can not do everything alone. That is why I am advocating a citywide clean-up annually. This would bring an awareness to all the citizens of the community. I also feel that it might impart a little more civic pride in the students if they took an active part in cleaning up around their houses, dormitories or in the town.

A project such as this would fall flat if sufficient interest were not aroused. Therefore, I would enlist the support of the local Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis Club, Lion's Club, Rotarians or any other such local group. I would call upon the university to give support by having the students from the housing units, sorority and fraternity houses give their labor and assistance to the clean-up projects. For wide publicity, I would contact the local daily newspapers, the Press Citizen and The Daily Iowan. I would encourage them to take before-and-after pictures of the area. I would interest the merchants who might use the clean-up project. I would endeavor to make the campaign all-inclusive. Just as the title "a university town" is not given due to one person, so it is with the reputation of "the neatest town." It is due to the efforts of many that a city gains its name.

$140,000 Education Building Proposed to Christian Church

Rev. Fattaruso Takes Over Baptist Post

The Rev. G. Thomas Fattaruso will begin his responsibilities as pastor of the First Baptist Church and university pastor to Baptist students on the State University of Iowa campus this Sunday.

He succeeds the Rev. Elmer E. Dierks, who, after nearly 26 years in Iowa City, is now director of student work for the West Virginia Baptist Convention and university pastor at West Virginia University, Morgantown.

A native of New Jersey, the Rev. Fattaruso attended the International Baptist Seminary, East Orange, N.J., and graduated from the University of Richmond in 1941. In 1944 he graduated from Colgate Rochester Divinity School with a B.D. degree.

Prior to accepting the position in Iowa City, the Rev. Fattaruso was university pastor at the University of Washington, Seattle, and university pastor at the University of South Dakota, Vermillion, S.D.

He has been teaching in the Department of Bible at the University of South Dakota and has been part-time director of religious activities on campus.

His wife, the former Pearl E. King, is a graduate of the University of Oregon and holds a B.D. in religious education from Colgate Rochester Divinity School. The Fattarusos have three children, Virginia, Rita and Thomas — all of elementary school age.

The Rev. Fattaruso is scheduled to make two appearances during the summer in Iowa City. He will be the final speaker in the series of University Vesper Services in July, and will preside at one of the Union Services in August.

Sunset Vespers To Be Held July 17

The new associate pastor of the First Methodist Church, the Rev. Edward Phillips, will speak at Sunset Vespers on the West Approach of Old Capitol Sunday night at 7:15 p.m.

The Rev. Phillips will speak on "How God Calls Men." Wesley Foundation, Methodist student group, is in charge of the vespers service. Francis Livermore, A4, Oskaloosa, and Earl Foster, G, New Albany, Ind., are directing the foundation's preparation for the service.

Wesley Group To Sponsor Picnic

Wesley Foundation, Methodist student organization, will hold a picnic at the Creek Side Playground on Muscatine Avenue, Sunday, July 17.

Cars will leave Wesley House, 120 N. Dubuque, for the picnic at 4:30 p.m. In case of rain the picnic will be held in the recreation lounge of Wesley House.

Two proposals, calling for a total investment of $275,000 and two new building units, were made at a meeting of the Christian Church Board Thursday night.

The first proposal, which is expected to be accepted in the near future, calls for a $140,000 Education Building which will house the Student Center for the Christian Student Group. The proposal was made by J. Betts, architect of the Board of Church Expansion, following a survey of campus expansion.

Shared With Groups
This building would be shared with all other groups of the church. Space would be provided for a children's division, including crib rooms, a nursery, and a kindergarten; a teen-agers division, broken into junior high and high school ages, and a married student group.

Plans for the building include a lounge which will accommodate 40 persons, a library and study, offices for the church student director, committee work rooms, a recreation area and a dining room-kitchen.

Second Unit
The second unit, proposed for a later date, would replace the present church building. It would have a sanctuary to accommodate 350 persons, a chancel and a balcony. The building would be constructed on ground floor, eliminating the steps which lead to the present building.

The basement of the unit would be maintained as a social center.

Cost of the proposed second unit is estimated at $135,000.

Money for the two projects will come from 250 churches affiliated with the Society of Christian Churches in Iowa.

Plan Sunday Meeting For Catholic Students

Catholic students will sponsor an informal meeting at the Catholic Student Center, 108 McLean St., Sunday, July 17, at 4 p.m.

Supper will be served at 4 p.m. and a social evening will follow.

Newcombe Wins 15th Tilt, 12-3

Ties Home Run Record at Six Against Cards

BROOKLYN (AP)—Don Newcombe marked up his 15th pitching victory of the season and tied a National League record by hitting his sixth home run as the Dodgers routed the St. Louis Cardinals 12-3 Friday.

Newcombe's homer tied the record for the most hit in one season—by a National League pitcher, previously held by Hal Schumacher of the Giants and Jim Tobin of the Braves.

Newcombe, who turned in an eight-hit pitching job, also belted three other hits in five times at bat.

The Cardinals used five pitchers in an attempt to halt the Dodgers, but their own inept fielding proved costly in the crucial moments.

Giants Beat Chicago, 5-3

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Mays slammed a double and two singles in three trips Friday as the Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-3, and climbed to third place.

It was the revived Giants' 10th win in their last 12 games.

Jim King homered with the bases empty in the fourth inning. Manager Stan Hack gave the Cub lineup a shakeup, benching infielders Randy Jackson and Dee Fondy and outfielder Hank Sauer.

The Giants broke loose with a four-run spurge in the first inning.

The Cubs also scored in the first on three singles. Their other tally came in the sixth when Bob Speake reached first on an error, moved to third on another miscue, and counted on a force out.

Nashua Favored In Arlington Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Belair Stud's mighty 3-year-old, Nashua, will face six rivals in today's 27th running of the Arlington Classic which will gross $148,174 and pay the winner $91,350.

Nashua may go off a prohibitive 2-5 favorite and possibly wipe show bets off the boards.

In a midweek workout, Nashua topped the five-eighths world record with a 56 3-5 second breeze.

18-Hole Golf Layout Unique in Two Ways—

New Finkbine Course Opens Today

Iowa's new Finkbine golf course will open today at 7 a.m. The par-72 layout is located southwest of the lower nine of the old Finkbine course. The IWW road, which extends west from Melrose Ave. through University Heights, leads to the 18-hole course.

It will replace the old Finkbine Field, which was a gift from an Iowa alumnus, the late W. O. Finkbine, Des Moines. The new field will be called Finkbine Field.

The lower nine of old Finkbine will remain open. The upper nine is being re-modeled into a lighted football practice field, a track and an intra-mural field.

Cost of the 275 acres, $100,000, and an additional $125,000 layout cost, were paid by athletic department funds.

A temporary barrack is being completed to serve as a clubhouse. A permanent one, practice greens and a lighted driving range will also be built.

Thus the course, considered one of the finest in the state, will have facilities to match.

Bucky O'Connor, Iowa golf and basketball coach, has called it one of the outstanding layouts in the country.

The course is unique in Iowa in two ways: After 2 p.m., it has no holes which are played into the sun.

It has a large number of sand traps—having 64 spread over the 18 holes.

The playing length of the course can be changed. Its normal length is 6,500 yards. It can be shortened to 6,235 or stretched to 6,900 yards. Several tees per hole make this possible.

No. 13, already tagged "Davey Jones' Locker," may be played on one of two holes. Both are on peninsulas extending into a small lake.

The steepest hill on the course lies between No. 13 and No. 14. The rest are gradual slopes.

Hole No. 14 is divided by a grove of trees and has two fairways. Thus the hole is a dogleg each way.

Green fees for Iowa students are 75 cents. Staff and faculty may play for $1. Public for $1.25 on week days and $2 on weekends and holidays.

Yankees Beat Indians, 4-3, In 10 Innings

CLEVELAND (AP)—Blanked on three singles for eight innings by Early Wynn, the New York Yankees cut loose with a game-tying three-run homer by Eddie Robinson in the ninth and beat the Cleveland Indians 4-3 on Irv Noren's homer off Mike Garcia in the 10th.

The loss dropped the Indians to third place, five games behind New York and a half game behind Chicago.

The Indians had hopped off to an early lead by scoring two unearned first-inning runs off Bob Turley.

Second baseman Gil McDougald, backing onto the grass for a high pop fly by Al Rosen, let the ball squirt from his hand. Bob Avila, who was on base with a single, and Ferris Fain, who had walked crossed the plate.

Rosen, who hit a game-tying homer Thursday, belted a solo homer Friday in the eighth.

Scores of 142 or lower were needed to qualify for today's third round. Fleck shot a 73 to give him a 36-hole total of 145.

Jim Turnesa scored a seven-under par 63 to break the Blue Mound course record and take the half-way lead in the $35,000 tourney. He has a 130 total.

Liechty Defeated In Iowa Amateur

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Rod Bliss, Des Moines veteran and 1951 titlist and 18-year-old Tom Davis of Cedar Rapids won semifinal round tests in the Iowa Amateur Golf championships Friday afternoon and will meet in a 36-hole duel for the title today.

Davis eliminated John Liechty, Iowa City, state junior champion, 1 up in 20 in a match highlighted by a rule misinterpretation, a protest and a replay of the 17th hole.

Bliss had an easy time in ousting John Eymann, Forest City cross hand golfer, 6 and 5.

In the Liechty-Davis' match, Davis was 1 up going after 16 holes when Liechty hit his ball into a creek off the 17th tee.

Liechty was under the impression from the rules committee that he could take the ball back to the tee and be shooting 2. He did this and came through with a 5 on the hole.

After holing out, Davis protested the ruling and the committee then held that Liechty should have been penalized one stroke, plus the loss of distance. This would have given Liechty a 6 and Davis would have won the match, 2 and 1.

City Council To Consider Street Improvement Bids

The City Council Monday will consider bids on contracts for about $175,000 in street improvements.

The bids will be on six projects, including the widening of Burlington Street.

The projects make up the second phase of this year's street improvement program in Iowa City.

50 Blocks Oiled

Fifty blocks of city streets were oiled and 45 more received asphalt re-surfacing in the first phase of the program this summer.

The council passed the Burlington Street project by a 3-2 vote June 30 after property owners along the street had waged a month-long fight against it.

The vote marked the first council split in 10 months.

Projects For Bid

Projects to be bid on Monday (with estimated costs):

1. Widening of Burlington Street from Madison Street to Gilbert Street, $20,000.
2. Resurfacing of Burlington Street from Madison Avenue to Linn Street; of Dodge Street from Church to North Summit Streets; of North Dubuque Street from Ronald Street to Park Road, $34,000.
3. Straightening and re-surfacing of Newton Road, $65,000.
4. Widening of Madison Avenue—Iowa Avenue intersection and widening of Madison Avenue from Jefferson to Washington Streets, $14,000.
5. Paving of portions of Ginter, Governor and Pine Streets and Seventh Avenue Court, $30,000.
6. Improved lighting on Iowa Avenue and Newton Road, $8,000.

17 Are Killed by Rioting Moroccans

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—Moroccan and European mobs went on a rampage and took over the European quarter of this bustling port city for 12 hours Friday.

Official figures showed 17 persons were killed and 65 wounded in a day and night of riot action and a bombing by nationalist terrorists which triggered the tempers of enraged Frenchmen.

Order was finally restored Friday night with enforcement of a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew in the terror-ridden city, which for months has been kept tense by independence-seeking nationalists.

IKE SIGNS BILL

Is Your Cooling Fooling?

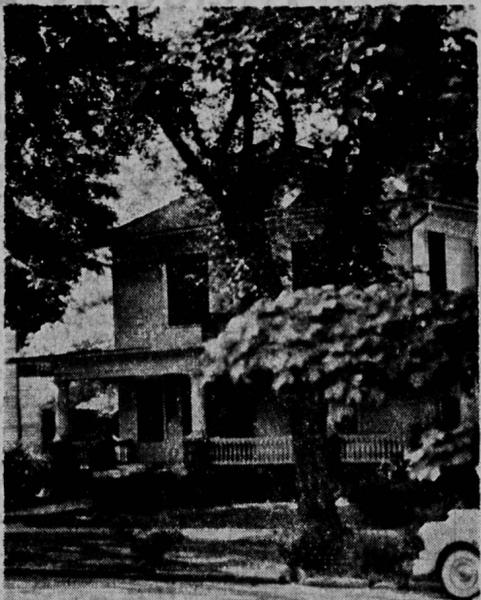

It takes more than an air conditioner and an electric outlet to do an effective job of room cooling! If your home wiring is not adequate, no air conditioner — no matter how new or how large — will operate as it should! Inadequate wiring causes air conditioners to slow down, overheat, blow fuses, burn out motors, or stop altogether.

Before you buy any air conditioner, have your electrical contractor make a survey of your home wiring system.

Music Camp Concert

— Highlight Final Performance

(Music Camp Queen: Page 1) South Pacific.

The orchestra concluded the program with four selections, one of which seemed to be beyond the capabilities of the orchestra members. Beethoven's Allegro from Symphony No. 1 in C was given neither the understanding nor the technical performance due to it.

Whitney's arrangement of "Frankie and Johnnie" was the orchestra's best presentation. The well-known melody was treated to a variety of tempos with very pleasing results.

The audience's applause brought an encore "Toy Train," a novelty tune composed by Whitney.

Quiz Talbot On Business Connections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbot, whose connection with a New York firm is under study by Senate investigators, said Friday he has "no apology of any sort to offer for any of my business associations."

Talbot has a date with members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee next week to discuss the business connection, which he has maintained throughout his service as Air Force chief.

Chairman John McClellan (D-Ark.) said the secretary would be questioned about an acknowledged financial interest in the Paul B. Mulligan Co., a New York industrial engineering firm.

In his opinion, Talbot said in a written statement, all his business connections have been "proper and ethical."

McClellan said Talbot would meet with members of the subcommittee at a mutually convenient time.

"It will be in the nature of a conference in my office at which I will have other members of the subcommittee present. It is not a hearing."

"Whether a full scale investigation will result has not been determined. As of now, none has been ordered."

Farmers To Tour Iowa City Tuesday as Chamber Guests

Farmers of the Iowa City trade area will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at the first annual tour of the city, Keith Kafer, manager of the chamber, said Friday.

About 100 Johnson County farmers and their wives will visit six community buildings, including three at the State University of Iowa, which most shoppers in the city would not ordinarily see, Kafer said.

A similar tour for businessmen of farms in the trade area was held about three weeks ago, Kafer said. Some 50 Iowa City merchants and businessmen inspected various types of farms and farm operations.

These two annual tours are being conducted in an effort to acquaint businessmen and farmers with each other's occupation and working habits, he said.

Starting at 9:30 a.m., six groups of about 15 persons each will tour Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., SUI television studios, SUI Library and Communications Center, Veterans Hospital, Protein Blenders Inc., feed processors, and the Rehabilitation Center, formerly the Children's Hospital.

The tour will start at the Varsity Theater. The groups will inspect each building for an hour, except for the SUI Library and Communications Center which will have half-hour inspections. The tours will end at 4:30 p.m.

The city has made available the Musser parking lot for the use of visitors, Kafer said.

Swim-Fest at Pool Friday

The annual Swim-Fest for older boys and girls of the Iowa City playgrounds will be held Friday at City Pool.

Robert A. Lee, recreation commissioner, has announced seven events for the program starting at 8:30 p.m. The events are open to three age groups: 10 and under, 11 and 12 years, and 13 and over.

Playground children under 10 years held their meet on Aqua Day, last Wednesday.

Individual events include a 25 yard dash, underwater swim for distance, and diving. Relay races are the 100-yard medley and the 100-yard freestyle.

Two novelty events scheduled are a watermelon scramble and an inflated balloon race. The melon scramble will see five entries from each playground in a free-for-all over a greased melon.

The balloon race tests who can swim farthest before the balloon in his mouth deflates.

Playgrounds are limited to one team for each relay and two entries for each individual event. Each contestant may compete in three events plus the diving and melon scramble.

Lee also announced features of the next three weeks: July 25-30, Junior Olympics; Aug. 1-6, International Week and softball tournament; and Aug. 8-13, either a carnival, circus, or fair.

'Fooling Around,' Boy Shoots Friend

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 18-year-old boy was shot and killed Thursday night, police said, while "fooling around" with two guns he and two pals planned to use in robbing a bank.

Police said Robert Escobar, 13, told them he accidentally shot his friend, Ernest Olivares, while they were examining the pistols.

One of the guns belongs to Escobar's stepfather. The other, officers said, was stolen from a department store by Terry Trott, 12, who is booked on suspicion of burglary.

After the gun went off, Robert told police, Ernest "looked just awful. There isn't going to be any more crime for me."

"Me neither," added Terry. "I feel sick."
