Will Give Up Partnership, Talbot Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbot acknowledged Wednesday he was "mistaken" in promoting his private business from the Pentagon and announced he was giving up the profitable partnership.

President Eisenhower declared he would decide whether Talbot had violated "a proper standard of ethics" and should leave the government. There were reports that Talbot has already resigned, but the White House denied it.

These were the developments as the Senate Investigations subcommittee wound up its public hearing on Talbot's dual role of secretary of air and partner in a private company.

Next Step to Ike
The next step is up to the President. He told a news conference shortly before the hearings ended that he wouldn't make his decision until all the facts were in.

Talbot swore to the investigating senators that, "I never used my position as secretary to pressure a living soul to give the company business."

He said he was convinced he had done nothing illegal or unethical in connection with his partnership in the Paul B. Mulligan Co., a New York management consultant outfit from which he drew $132,032 in his first two years, as air secretary.

Admits Errors
Talbot said, however, "I now see that I was mistaken in permitting myself to make phone calls or write letters" about Mulligan company affairs.

But he said he had no idea that any sizeable defense contracts were involved in the Mulligan affairs. He said he left details to his partner.

Talbot said he became "quite angry" last January when officials of the Radio Corp. of America challenged the propriety of signing a contract with Mulligan.

Provides Fireworks
It was the RCA contract which provided most of the fireworks at the hearings. Witnesses described the RCA branch involved as doing "a large volume" of defense work.

Talbot said, on the other hand, he had thought the deal was with the photograph division of the company, which he said has no defense connections.

Mulligan, who preceded Talbot to the witness chair, said the Mulligan company stood to profit by about $22,000 from the RCA deal.

When Eisenhower met reporters Wednesday, it was rumored that Talbot was about to be fired.

Successors Suggested
Various possible successors were already being suggested.

The Indianapolis News said Gov. George N. Craig of Indiana was being considered for the post. Rep. Carl Hinshaw (R-Calif.) and Frederick C. Crawford, Cleveland industrialist, The Chicago Tribune said there were some reports Lee White, New York attorney and former assistant secretary of the Air Force, had been offered the secretaryship.

Presidential press secretary, James C. Hagerty said "there is nothing to it" when asked about reports Talbot had resigned.

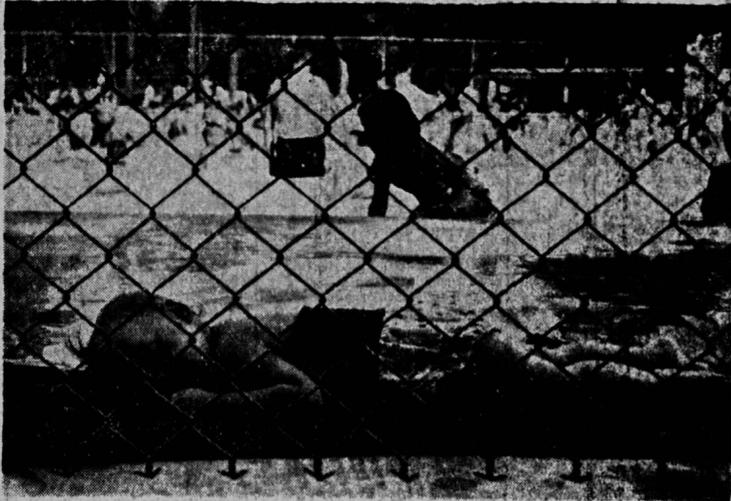

Gov. Craig had an engagement at the White House today, but he said "there is not a word of truth" in reports he has been called to Washington as a possible successor to Talbot.

Reds Cancel Tito's Debt

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — The Soviet Union has canceled a Yugoslav debt of 90 million dollars to make up for the trade losses Yugoslavia suffered because of the 1948 break with the Cominform, President Tito announced Wednesday.

The money was owed to Russia for goods it exported to Yugoslavia before the break. After Yugoslavia was expelled from the Cominform, the Soviets and their Eastern European satellites halted all trade relations with it. "Tito said he now expects the satellites to follow Moscow's example and cancel the debts Yugoslavia owes them also.

Just Too Darn Hot!

JEAN ANN McCAMMOND, 17 months, had the right idea Wednesday afternoon. As the mercury rose to 101 degrees, she lay down beside the City Park swimming pool and took a nap. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCammond, A3, Finkbine Park.

"And it will get worse before it gets better."

That was the weatherman's forecast Wednesday as the temperature rose to a record 101 degrees.

The forecast for today was the same: cloudless skies, hot and humid.

In fact, the temperature may reach 102 degrees in Iowa City today, the weather forecast said.

The record temperature for 1955 was recorded at about 5 p.m. Wednesday. The mercury reached 95 at noon and 99 at 2 p.m. Wednesday morning's low was 73.

The humidity reading of 65 per cent added to the discomfort of Iowa Citizens Wednesday.

Cool air from Canada got stalled at the northern Iowa border Wednesday forcing the entire state to swelter in near-100 degree readings.

Mason City, which had a reading of 92 degrees, was the state's coolest spot Wednesday.

Minnesota enjoyed temperatures in the 60s, 70s and 80s as Canadian air hovered over the state.

The Iowa Weather Bureau said that the cool air wasn't expected to move south. Iowa, the forecast said, is due to have 100-degree readings through Friday.

Nominated

Francis O. Wilcox
SUI Alumnus Nominated To Key Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday nominated Francis O. Wilcox, aide to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to be Assistant Secretary of State for International Organization Affairs.

He would succeed David Key, who has resigned effective July 31.

He majored in political science at the State University of Iowa where he received his B.A. degree in 1930, M.A. in 1931, and his Ph.D. in 1933.

Wilcox, a former professor of political science, has been chief of staff of the Foreign Relations Committee since 1947. He is 47 and a native of Columbus Junction, Iowa.

Wilcox was a member of the United States delegation to the United Nations Conference in 1945, and has served on delegations to the UN General Assembly.

17 Years of Austrian Occupation Is Ended

VIENNA (AP) — Austria's 17 years of occupation came to an end Wednesday, and the Allied Military patrol of Vienna—"four men in a jeep"—went into history.

About 5,000 American troops will leave Austria, most of them going south within the next 30 days to reinforce the northeastern frontier of Italy.

Red Leaders Are Invited To Britain

MOSCOW (AP) — With big smiles, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev returned to Moscow Wednesday from the Geneva conference.

Shortly after they got back, it was disclosed that they plan to go abroad again — to Britain — in the spring. Prime Minister Eden told the British House of Commons this had been arranged. The House cheered the news in private conversations at announcement.

There were indications Bulganin may make some sort of "report to the nation" on the President Eisenhower's address Geneva conference, similar to Monday night.

The two Russian leaders were greeted by A. I. Mikoyan, first deputy premier; V. M. Molotov, foreign minister, and Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, defense minister. Molotov and Zhukov had preceded them home from Geneva.

Boy Held in Rape-Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — Police said Wednesday a 17-year-old boy had admitted the sex-slaying of 8-year-old Mary Manzo.

Capt. Frank Reynolds identified the youth as Clarence Baugh.

Reynolds said Baugh made an oral statement following nearly a full day of questioning.

The boy was picked up for questioning Tuesday because he had been missing from his South Side home since the little girl's body was found beneath a railroad viaduct, also on the South Side, July 7.

Mary had been missing since the night of July 4, when her mother sent her on an errand to a drugstore near the Manzo home.

CMA Asks For Council Candidates

The Council - Manager Association Wednesday asked the people of Iowa City to suggest candidates for city council positions.

Councilmen Walter L. Daykin, Clarence Parizek and Ansel Chapman announced Tuesday that they would not seek reelection in the November city elections.

The CMA Wednesday asked individual citizens to submit the names of people they feel would make good councilmen.

"The CMA wants the broadest possible base to choose from in nominating candidates for the November election," said Stephen G. Darling, chairman of the CMA candidates committee.

Darling said that form letters would be placed in Iowa City newspapers and sent to groups and organizations in the city.

Darling said the CMA did not want the names of persons who had not consented to be candidates.

"No person's name should be submitted without first securing his or her consent," Darling said.

The CMA, which campaigned for city manager government in 1950, supported the five members of the present city council in the 1951 and 1953 elections.

Court Sport

Lawyer Presents Case In Own Behalf

Edward Gelman, 33, Detroit, Mich., who holds degrees in both law and engineering, presented his first case in Iowa City Police Court Wednesday in his own behalf.

He gained a continuance by objecting to the admission of evidence on a speeding charge obtained by a mechanical speed analyzer.

Gelman, who will be here for about one year while working on the new Proctor and Gamble plant, was charged Tuesday with speeding. The police information said he was clocked at 32 miles per hour in a 25-mile-per-hour zone.

Gelman objected at once to the speed analyzer evidence, City Attorney Edward Lucas, who was called in to prosecute, asked that an expert on the machines who lives in Cedar Rapids be called to testify.

Justice of the Peace J. Newman Toomey, presiding in the absence of Judge Roger H. Ivie, continued the case indefinitely.

Five Freight Cars Derailed at Tiffin

Five freight cars were derailed at about 8 p.m. Wednesday on the Rock Island tracks at Tiffin.

The train, headed toward Iowa City from the east, jumped two cars loaded with steel, one filled with clay and two empty cars from the tracks. None was overturned.

The Iowa City depot dispatched a section crew which was expected to clear the tracks within a few hours.

The train was moving when the accident occurred. No one was injured.

U.S., Russian Leaders May Exchange Visits

Senate-House Group Cuts Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees reached agreement late Wednesday on a foreign aid bill carrying about $2,900,000,000 of new funds — some half a billion dollars less than President Eisenhower requested.

House conferees succeeded in knocking out 420 million dollars of increases voted by the Senate for military assistance and 50 million dollars the Senate had added to President Eisenhower's fund for Asian development.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) who waged a futile floor battle in the Senate to prevent increase of 566 million dollars, said the compromise "makes me feel good."

Old Funds Available
He said other Senate conferees agreed to the major reduction "because we found nearly 360 million dollars of old funds they didn't even know they had."

Chairman Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.), of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said clerks now are working out exact totals on the big money bill, one of the must measures before Congress adjourns.

Previously Voted Funds
Ellender said the conference decided it could eliminate the 420 million increase for military aid voted by the Senate because 401 millions of funds previously voted by Congress, but not earmarked, could be used.

He said this included "302 millions" that the Air Force received in 1950-52 for use in Indochina which had been forgotten, another 33 millions-plus approved by the House but eliminated by the Senate; and 66 millions that they telephoned us from Europe now is available."

President Eisenhower had asked 200 millions for the Asian economic development fund and the House allowed only 100 millions.

Peron Aims Speech By Opposition Party

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Juan D. Peron's government let a radical party spokesman go on the air Wednesday night in the first broadcast granted the opposition since Peron took power in 1946.

The spokesman was Arturo Frondizi, president of the Radicals' National Committee.

He seized the opportunity afforded by a 14-station network to blast the Peron administration, demand "a rebirth of democracy" and outline a 10-point program which he called essential for political peace.

A few hours before the broadcast the Peronista party named a new chief, Alejandro Loir. He is a 49-year-old congressman, lawyer, reserve army officer and member of a wealthy cattle ranching family.

Red Envoy

WANG PING NAN, Red China's ambassador to Poland, will represent Red China at the Geneva talks with the United States, according to an announcement by Peiping radio Wednesday.

Israeli Plane Shot Down

FIFTY-ONE PASSENGERS, at least four of them American, and five Russian citizens, and seven crewmen crashed Wednesday when their Israeli-bound four-engine Constellation was reportedly shot down by Bulgarian anti-aircraft gunners at Petritsi. The plane was on the Vienna-Istanbul leg of a London-Israel flight.

58 Aboard Plane Down in Bulgaria

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — An Israeli airliner crashed in Red Bulgaria Wednesday after radioing: "We are going down in flames. Trying forced landing."

At least four Americans and five Soviet citizens were among the 51 passengers aboard the four-engine Constellation. It also carried a crew of seven.

In New York the Israeli airline issued a passenger list naming nine as Americans but giving no home addresses.

Greek authorities said Bulgarian anti-aircraft gunners shot down the plane. But a Greek soldier who witnessed the incident from across the nearby Greek-Bulgarian frontier was quoted as saying he was not 100 per cent certain that the explosion did not come from inside the plane.

Saw Two Jump
The soldier, whose account was released by the Greek Third Army Corps headquarters, said he saw two figures jump from the airliner and one parachute opened. Parachutes are not normally carried in big commercial air liners.

The soldier said he heard an explosion before the crash and thought it was the booming of Bulgarian anti-aircraft guns firing at the plane but was not sure.

This eyewitness account appeared to throw some doubt on the earlier Greek government statement, which it said was based on observations made by soldiers of the 10th Greek Army Division in Macedonia.

Plane Fired On
A communique issued jointly Wednesday night in Tel Aviv by the Israeli Communications Ministry and El Al Airline also stated categorically that the plane had been "fired on by Bulgarian soldiers at a place near the Greek-Yugoslav border." It attributed the claim to an Athens report.

The communique said there was "no fresh news" regarding the fate of the passengers and crew. It added that an Israeli plane was flying to Sofia Wednesday night with a six-man inquiry commission.

Falls Near Macedonia
The Greek 10th Army Division said the airliner fell in the Macedonian border area near Petritsi and that all but perhaps one of those aboard must be considered dead. This report was amended later to say Greek soldiers watching across the frontier minefield had seen Bulgarian army ambulances around the debris.

The Constellation, on a 2,300-mile flight from London to Lybia, Israel, was on the angular Vienna-Istanbul leg when the end came. The normal route lies across Austria, Yugoslavia and Greece. A shift of only a few miles eastward, however, would put a plane over the heavily militarized area of south-west Bulgaria.

Previous Incident
Just a year ago—July 23, 1954—the last previous incident developed involving a passenger plane skirting the Iron Curtain. Two Communist fighters shot down a British airliner in the China Sea off Hainan Island, killing 10 of the 18 aboard. Three of the dead were Americans. Under Western pressure, Peiping said it was a mistake, apologized and offered to pay damages.

Three Americans boarded the plane in London.

Unidentified American
An unidentified American woman and the five Russians were among 13 persons who boarded the Constellation in Vienna, its last stop.

The minefield marking the Greek-Bulgarian frontier in that area and old hostilities dating back to the Greek civil war prevented a direct check by Greece's soldier observers.

A spokesman for the Israeli consulate in Vienna said the five Russian passengers were Jewish immigrants who had finally won permission—after waiting many years—to join relatives in Israel. They arrived in Vienna Tuesday.

No Formal Invitations Issued Yet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility opened up Wednesday that President Eisenhower may visit Russia and Soviet leaders may come to this country as part of the new free-exchange-of-visitors policy explored at the Geneva conference.

The President told a news conference that exchanges "throughout the whole echelons of government" were discussed in informal talks between Western and Soviet leaders, though he said no definite invitations were issued.

Shortly afterward, British Prime Minister Anthony Eden announced in London that Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev will visit Britain next spring. This could be the first of a series of top-level visits across the Iron Curtain.

Red China Talks
Eisenhower also said Wednesday a foreign minister level conference—one such as Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.), has proposed—between the United States and Communist China could result from the talks between ambassadors of the two countries starting next Monday in Geneva.

And he said he was inclined to favor letting Russian arms inspectors fly over any part of the United States, even atomic installations, if his Geneva proposal for an exchange of military blueprints between this country and the Soviet Union should be accepted.

The President's meeting with newsmen was highlighted by the heat, which drove many reporters to shed their jackets—for the first time in the history of White House news conferences, and by the Senate investigation of Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbot, a long-time personal friend of the chief executive.

Talbot Decision
In a manner obviously reflecting deep concern, Eisenhower said he will decide personally whether Talbot has acted improperly and should be fired from his private business activities while a member of the Little Cabinet. In general, said the President, a government official must be completely ethical—and keep himself above suspicion.

On another domestic issue, he declared Congress will be given every fact it wants about the Dixon-Yates controversy. And, with a flash of irritation, he said in effect that he's tired of reporters asking him about the power issue's details that he couldn't be expected to know.

Opening Statement
Eisenhower opened the news conference by saying the Geneva conference marked a beginning of objective, no-name-calling dealings between East and West, and:

"If we are wise enough to do our part, it is possible that something to the great benefit of man may eventuate."

He went on to say, in answer to questions, that he got along "excellently" with his old friend Marshal Georgi Zhukov at Geneva—that in private talks the Soviet defense minister "wanted to tell me things about Russia in general, or about the Soviet Union, about what is happening there."

The President said he's not fully satisfied with the military reserve bill just passed by Congress, but gave no indication he would veto it.

Adenauer To Discuss Unity in Moscow

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer intends to discuss with Soviet leaders ways and means of unifying Germany during his impending trip to Moscow, Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano said Wednesday.

The foreign minister told a news conference "this will be problem No. 1" in the Moscow talks between Adenauer, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Company To Raise Bus Fares Saturday

Bus fares in Iowa City will be raised from 10 to 15 cents Saturday, Lewis Negus, president of the Iowa City Coach Co., said Wednesday.

Two bus tokens will be issued for 25 cents beginning Saturday, Negus said.

The raise in rates is necessary to overcome a 20 per cent drop in company income over the past five years, Negus said.

Agreement on Formosa?

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said Tuesday the United States will sound out Communist China on the possibility of a cease-fire in the Formosa Straits when the foreign ministers meet in Geneva next Monday.

He said the U.S. is already on record as accepting the cease-fire principles in other divided countries such as Korea, Germany and Viet Nam. His hope is that some agreement can be reached to end the sporadic outbreaks which have marked the straits since the Nationalists were driven from the Chinese mainland.

The United States has committed itself to the task of assisting the Nationalists on Formosa should the Communist Chinese attempt to invade the island. Our pledge is to help only defensively, not in any offensive movement against the mainland.

The question of the United States position on other Nationalist held islands is not as clear. Last spring, a Communist buildup of forces on the mainland next to the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu started an argument in this country on whether we should help in their defense.

At that time the U.S. 7th fleet was moved into the Formosa Strait and no major invasion attempt was made.

Now Formosa still looms as a potential trouble spot in the Far East. It would be to our advantage if some cease-fire could be worked out in Geneva.

Dulles has attached only two strings to the U.S.-Red China conference, but they may prove sufficient to prevent any possibility of a cease-fire.

The first is no diplomatic recognition of the Peiping regime is to be inferred from the talks. This is somewhat similar to saying "You don't exist as far as we are concerned but we will talk to you anyway."

The second is the U.S. will not prejudice any of the rights of Nationalist China. We wonder just what the Red Chinese will be satisfied with that the nationalists would agree to? In other words, with this provision — if strictly adhered to — is there any possibility of agreement on the question of Formosa?

We hope that some agreement can be reached at this foreign ministers conference. But we fear the conference will result in talk with little accomplishment toward real world peace.

School Administrators Face Many Demands, Davis Says

While the school superintendent must be a community leader, he must not let his community make him into a toastmaster or speaker instead of an educator, veteran schoolman M. G. Davis told Iowa school superintendents Wednesday at the State University of Iowa.

"The school superintendent faces all sorts of community pressures," he said "but his first concern must be with the education of children." A visiting professor of education at SU and former superintendent of Peoria, Ill. schools, Davis addressed some 50 school superintendents gathered for a four-hour workshop.

"There are pressures to keep taxes down regardless of the effects on education, to keep all forms of liberal thought out of the classroom and to discourage change in educational methods and practices," Davis said.

He said some parents want the academic curriculum emphasized, while others demand more vocational stress.

There are pressures from many groups to emphasize curricula which would help them financially and professionally, Davis added.

Today's closing speaker will be Dean E. T. Peterson of Iowa's College of Education,

Board Accepts $82,154 for Scientific Research at SU

A total of $82,154 in grants for scientific research has been accepted for the State University of Iowa by the finance committee of the State Board of Regents, President Virgil M. Hancher announced Wednesday.

Of that sum, $73,600 was allocated to SU by the National Science Foundation. Largest of the NSF research grants was $30,000 for a three-year study by Prof. Emil Witschi of the SU Zoology Department. Witschi will study the hormone content of the pituitary glands of a series of animals having backbones, from fishes up to mammals, in an effort to determine what kind of hormone is present, how much there is of it and what it does in that particular kind of animal.

Also granted by the National Science Foundation was $19,000 to finance a three-year study of protein molecules under the direction of Prof. Charles Tanford of the Chemistry Department. The study will attempt to determine what water does to hold proteins in their chemical structure.

Knowledge of such structure is basic to finding logical approaches to treatment for nearly all diseases not yet successfully being treated, for instance, and is also essential to understanding the basic nature of the development of protein as a food, a fellow scientist explained Wednesday in Tanford's absence from the campus.

Physics Research A $16,100 sum from the same foundation was granted to the Physics Department for a study of the scattering effects caused by collisions of the various elementary particles which make up matter.

Prof. J. M. Jauch, who will direct the project, says a study of the way the particles scatter after colliding should shed some light on the general laws which govern the behavior of these basic units of matter—atoms and sub-atomic particles.

Jauch said the idea for the study grew out of problems encountered while he and Fritz Rohrlich, associate professor of physics, were writing a book on two of the 20-odd basic particles. Rohrlich will work with Jauch on the project.

Thyroid Study The fourth grant from the National Science Foundation was $8,500 to finance research by Prof. Jerry Kollros, chairman of zoology, on the part played by the thyroid gland in the metamorphosis of frogs and tadpoles.

Kollros says that while it is already known that the thyroid is the immediate cause of this process, his study will delve into the coordinated responses which are caused in the animals' systems by thyroid hormones during metamorphosis.

DuPont, Swift Fellowships E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co. granted $3,669 to renew the DuPont post-graduate fellowship in chemistry for the 1955-56 year. The fellowship has been awarded to graduate student Dale G. Williams, Arlington Heights, Ill.

Williams will undertake a study to try to determine the positions of atoms in respect to one another in the structure of chemical compounds containing carbon, oxygen and hydrogen.

A $2,000 grant was accepted from Swift & Co. of Chicago to renew a nutrition fellowship in biochemistry under the direction of Prof. Clarence P. Berg of that department for the 1955-56 academic year. Berg will continue a study of the changes which the amino acid Tryptophan undergoes when it is utilized in the animal body.

Engineering Grants The Archer-Daniels Midland Company of Minneapolis, Minn., granted $1,900 to renew the company's fellowship for advanced work in chemical engineering for 1955-56. The fellowship will be awarded to a graduate student early in the fall.

The sum of $985 was received from the Quaker Oats Company for research on sewage and industrial waste treatment under the direction of Prof. Philip Morgan of the sanitary engineering department.

Music Scholarship Other gifts and grants accepted by the finance committee included $204 from Dimitri Mitropoulos, conductor of the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, to cover one academic year's tuition for another Waldbauer Memorial Violin Scholarship student.

Two date, five Waldbauer scholarships have been established this year in memory of the late Imre Waldbauer of the SU Music Department. Mitropoulos, who contributed the first, has given three. Winners will be announced in the fall.

Gifts accepted include a piano from the McGovern Funeral Home of Iowa City for use in the Hospital-School for Severely Handicapped Children and an oil portrait for the college of dentistry, the gift of Dr. Walter L. Stocks of Nashua.

The oil portrait depicts an old-time dentist extracting a tooth from a woman. Now hanging in the office of Dean William J. Simon of the College of Dentistry, the portrait was originally given by the woman artist to her dentist in return for professional services.

Ross Opposes Sales Tax as City Revenue

Means other than property tax must be found for Iowa Municipalities to meet rising expenditures, SUI Prof. Russell M. Ross said Wednesday.

However, Ross, a member of a special committee on city taxes, does not favor the use of the city sales tax.

Ross, of the Political Science Department at the State University of Iowa, said he is opposed to regressive taxes, which are not levied according to the taxpayer's income, because they place the greater burden on the lower income brackets. City sales taxes are considered to be regressive.

Tax Base Broadened "I do feel, however, that the city tax base should be broadened to remove part of the burden from the property owner," he added.

"The steadily increasing cost of city government makes it imperative that other means be found to raise city revenue," Ross said.

The committee was recently appointed by the League of Iowa Municipalities, at the request of the Iowa Tax Study Committee, to study means of raising city revenue other than property taxes.

First Meeting The committee will hold its first meeting Saturday in Des Moines.

Ross expressed the opinion that the Committee would study methods used by cities in other states and evaluate them according to their success and their adaptability for use in Iowa.

Among taxation methods likely to come under consideration are: city income, gas, street, automobile and sales taxes. Illinois recently has given cities permission to collect one-half cent sales tax on a dollar.

Regular Committee The regular Iowa Tax Study Committee also has one educator-member. He is Prof. Robert H. Johnson, of the Economics Department at SUI. Other members of both committees are officials of Iowa cities.

Special committee members are: Mayor Hubert Schouten of Keokuk, committee chairman; Mayor Leon T. Birdsell of Monona; Leonard Howell, Des Moines city manager; F. C. DeSart, Mason City auditor; and Ross.

Red Farmers Deny Forced Labor Used

SIoux CITY (AP)—The head of the Russian farm delegation visiting Iowa flatly denied here today that forced labor is used in Russia.

The question was put to Vladimir V. Matskevich, first deputy minister of agriculture in the Soviet Union, in an interview.

Matskevich is leader of the 12-man Russian delegation, three of whom visited the stockyards here Wednesday.

The question was: "Americans have been told that forced labor is used in Russia. Is this true?"

Says Report Untrue Matskevich answered: "No, that is not true. These are lies spread by people who want to stir up arguments between our two countries. The American farm delegation visiting Russia will back this up."

The brief interview was arranged with the cooperation of Mikhail Lopuhin, Tass news agency representative in New York, and John Strohm, American coordinator of the Russian visit.

Soviet Recreation Other questions put to the Russian and Matskevich's answers were:

Q—What do Russian farmers do for recreation?

A—They hunt and fish when such is available; read, attend concerts and spend their leisure as they are inclined.

Q—Is the Russian farm population getting less each year as it is in the United States?

A—Only very slightly over a long period. Last year farm population was increased slightly because of births. Mechanization accounts for the decreases noted.

Youth Organizations Q—Are there young peoples' organizations in Russia, such as the 4-H, Future Farmers of America?

A—Yes, there are many agricultural groups on state farms.

Q—What do Russian farmers do in the winter?

A—They take care of their cattle and machinery, clean seeds and do other off-season tasks such as in the United States.

Journalist to Talk at Rotary Today

Prof. Quintus C. Wilson will talk to the Rotary Club today about the recent Communist peace propaganda campaign.

Wilson, who was in Japan for six months last year on a Fulbright Research grant, will recall incidents of Communist anti-American propaganda which will explain how and why Americans are being made victims of the campaign.

Wilson is head of the University of Utah Department of Journalism, which he established in 1948. During the summer he is teaching in the editorial sequence at the State University of Iowa School of Journalism.

Ten Years For Matthes; Paintin Free

HILTON MATTHES, 38, R.R. 5, Iowa City painter, was sentenced to 10 years at Ft. Madison penitentiary in Johnson County District Court Wednesday morning after he pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering.

James Martin Paintin, 26, 320 2nd Ave., was given a suspended 10-year sentence to Anamosa reformatory by Judge James P. Gaffney. He pleaded guilty to the same charge.

Paintin had allegedly implicated Matthes in several break-ins when he signed a statement admitting 14 break-ins in the Iowa City area.

Two Sentences Matthes has previously served two sentences on breaking and entering charges at Iowa prisons. Paintin has no previous criminal record.

Matthes was charged with breaking and entering the Hy-Vee Food Store, 227 Kirkwood Ave., July 26. Paintin was charged with breaking into the Barron Motor Supply Co., 603 S. Madison St., July 2.

Paintin was paroled by Gaffney on the provision that he repay the approximately $1,400 he took in the several burglaries.

Monthly Rate Gaffney stipulated that he make arrangements with his employer, an Iowa City plumbing and heating firm, to pay back the money at the rate of $80 a month.

In paroling Paintin Gaffney said he had "confidence in this young man that he will make restitution."

Both men had signed statements admitting break-ins in the Iowa City area. In his admission, made shortly after he was apprehended while looting the motor supply firm, Paintin indicated that Matthes had participated in several of the burglaries.

Matthes admitted participation in six of the burglaries in a statement last week.

City's Policemen Due Pay Increase, Chief White Says

By FRED MILLER

The police department is justified in asking for a five per cent pay increase, Iowa City Police Chief Oliver A. White, told the Lions Club Wednesday.

"In view of other recent pay increases, I couldn't permit myself to not ask for a pay increase for the force," he said.

The police department's budget request of $116,435 is included in the city budget submitted Monday by City Manager Peter F. Roan.

Top patrolmen in Iowa City receive $316 per month, White said. Beginning patrolmen receive $2800 a month for six months before their pay increases to $291. Then, after 18 months, top pay, he said.

No Overtime Pay
"We cannot expect people to leave a $2.50 an hour job to come to work as a law enforcement officer," White said.

White also explained that policemen do not get paid for overtime, but receive an extra vacation day for every eight hours of overtime. Police officers work a 48 hour week, he said.

Other benefits for officers include a 15-day paid vacation and 30 days of sick leave a year, plus one day off per week, he said.

Clothing Expensive

Clothing and clothing materials are expensive and we would like to establish a clothing allowance, White said. An officer's winter uniform of 2 pair of trousers, two shirts and one cap costs $89.21, he said.

"Seventeen of our 24 officers need new uniforms — a total cost of about $1,600," White said.

Under capital expenditures, which includes new equipment, White said that the force is considering replacing two cars and the five-to-seven-year-old radio telephone system.

"A radio-telephone system is a must for a police force," White said.

Two Other Items

Two other items are under consideration, he said. They are: (1) A new base station with 250 watts of power to be purchased jointly by the civil defense, the county and the city. The city's share would be one-fourth of the entire cost.

(2) A stand-by electric generator for emergency and disaster use. Tentatively, the civil defense has agreed to pay half of the cost. The city's share would be $700.

Answering the big question, "What do you get for the $116,400?" White said:

"During the month of June, 1955 there were 51 arrests and 1,414 tickets issued for all types of parking violations. Of the total cases handled, 466 were fohnd guilty as charged, and 999 were dismissed without penalty.

Dismiss First Offenders
Of the 1,414 traffic violations for which tickets were given 900 were dismissed without penalty. This decrease is due to a new policy of dismissing first offenders of parking regulations.

Also in June there were 27 sleepers (persons lodged at the city jail), 24 assistants (assisting other city agencies find missing persons), 22 dog calls, 155 non-criminal complaints, 13 investigations of number one offenses, 21 juvenile complaints, and eight escorts (accompanying men with money to banks).

8,305 Enforcement Acts

In the first half of this year, he said, there were 8,305 enforcement acts, of which 287 were arrests and 8,018 were tickets. Only 2,860 of these paid fines and the remaining 5,545 went without penalty, he said.

White praised the Recreation Commission for aiding in curbing juvenile delinquency. He said that Iowa City is 15 years ahead of any other city as far as recreation programs are concerned.

White pointed out that 90 per cent of the police officer's job is protection of life and property of citizens, eight per cent is public instruction and only two per cent is enforcement.

More Polio Vaccine Cleared Wednesday

The vaccine released Wednesday by the Public Health Service was made by Eli Lilly Co. of Indianapolis. It will be used in the program of free shots for first and second grade school children, under the direction of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Music Talk To Be Given For Classes

John C. Kendel, administrative vice-president of the American Music Conference, will speak Friday to two State University of Iowa groups.

A lecture on "Music, An Asset or a Liability in the Community," will be given at 8 a.m. to an advanced materials and methods class, and at 9 a.m. to music education classes in the University Elementary School building.

Kendel's lecture is sponsored jointly by the State University of Iowa Education and Music Departments.

The American Music Conference is a public service organization, dedicated to the stimulation of music participation in America.

Before becoming vice-president of AMC, Kendel was Director of Music Education in the Denver Public Schools and president of the Music Educators National Conference.

Kendel has been music editor of the Rocky Mountain News, correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor in Denver, and an author of numerous articles for music journals.

"The Magic Maker," "The Clever Cobds" and "Captain Nancy" are three operas written by Kendel.

Russians Are Hosts To 150 at Reception

DES MOINES (AP) — The Russian farm delegation entertained an estimated 140 persons at an informal reception here Wednesday night.

Sergi Vasiliev, second secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Washington arrived in Des Moines Wednesday to make final arrangements.

Gov. Leo Hoegh headed the list of notables who attended. The bulk of invitations were to members of the working press who have covered the Russians' tour of Iowa.

House Defeats Both Road Plans Decisively

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Wednesday defeated both Democratic and Republican plans for multi-billion-dollar road building programs.

Democratic and Republican spokesmen agreed this means highway legislation is dead for the year. "Probably for the next year, too," added Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.)

It was something of a surprise that the House voted down 292-123 a Democratic leadership-sponsored measure which would have helped pay construction costs through $12,423,000,000 in added automotive taxes over the next 16 years.

Also defeated, 221-193 along party lines, was a Republican substitute containing President Eisenhower's plan that would have helped raise money through 21 billion dollars worth of 30-year bonds.

The biggest cause for the upset of the Democratic bill, most congressmen seemed to agree, was the tax increases it would have placed on the trucking industry.

Thousands of letters and telegrams have been pouring in on the lawmakers protesting the measure.

Offered by Rep. George H. Fallon (D-Md.), it was approved by the House Public Works Committee, and only Wednesday

$1 Wage Set For March 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — A conference committee adjusting the $1-an-hour minimum wage bills passed by House and Senate agreed Wednesday to make the effective date of the legislation March 1.

The present minimum, for workers in interstate commerce, is 75 cents. President Eisenhower had asked an increase to 90 cents.

Both House and Senate versions disregarded his wishes and set the new minimum at $1. The biggest difference was that the Senate called for the raise to be effective next January 1, the House version named March 1.

A $1 rate would mean an automatic increase for about 2,100,000 workers of the 24 million covered by the federal wage-hour-law.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday he'll decide, after talking with Secretary of Labor James Mitchell, whether to sign the $1 measure. Mitchell said last week he would recommend that the President sign it.

EXPENSIVE ENLISTMENT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Richard E. Laughner, 21, paid $1,500 to get into the Marines. He was rejected four months ago because of a nasal defect but plastic surgery which cost him $1,500 did the trick.

Strikers Stop Train

KANSAS CITY POLICE and sheriff's deputies attempted to clear the track Wednesday for a Missouri Pacific train which tried to enter the Westinghouse jet airplane factory. Factory workers have been on strike since June 15 but the plant has continued in operation. Seventy CIO Worker picketers had converged about the train, loaded with jet fuel. Jackson County sheriff finally ordered the train away from the area.

morning Rayburn predicted it would pass the House.

The Democratic bill would have raised three-fourths of its money by boosting from 2 to 3 cents a gallon the federal tax on gasoline. It would also have upped from 5 to 15 cents a pound the federal levy on truck-size tires and tubes, and imposed other tax hikes that would have hit truck operators primarily.

House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, of Massachusetts, commented: "The answer is everybody wants a road bill and no one wants to pay for it."

Fire Kills 2 Boys Trapped In Building

JOLLEY (AP) — Two boys were burned to death here Wednesday afternoon when they apparently were trapped in a small frame building when it burned to the ground.

The victims were Lloyd Ernest 8, and his brother Charles Ernest, 7, sons of Mrs. Frank Ashbrook of Jolley.

Their mother had supposed they were playing at the edge of town at the time the fire was in progress. Their deaths became known only when electricians came upon their skeletons while poking through the ashes in an attempt to discover the cause of the blaze.

The structure which burned was a small frame county maintenance building. It reportedly was locked but townsfolk said it could be entered by prying open part of the door.

The lads apparently were playing in the shed when the fire began and were unable to get out in time. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

The fire broke out about 2 p.m. and burned out of control despite efforts of the Rockwell City fire department. Jolley is a village in Calhoun County.

The deaths became known about an hour after the fire. The remains were identified as those of the boys by their mother and stepfather from buckles of their sandals and remnants of white shorts they were wearing.

The lads also are survived by a sister, a brother and a half-brother.

Dropo Leads Chicago to 7-4 Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Dropo, as hot as the weather since the all-star game, blasted three straight hits to drive in three runs and lead the Chicago White Sox to a 7-4 victory over the New York Yankees Wednesday.

The victory evened the series at one game apiece and boosted the runner-up Sox to within one game of the American League leading Yankees. The rubber game will be played this afternoon.

Ed Lopat started for the Yankees but the veteran southpaw proved no puzzle to Chicago hitters who pummeled him for seven hits and three runs before driving him out of the box in the second. The Sox picked up three more runs against young Tom Sturdivant in the fourth to increase their lead to 6-0 before Joe Collins got the Yankees into the scoring column with a home run, his sixth of the season.

Harry Byrd, traded away by the Yankees a year ago, gained revenge on his former teammates limiting them to three hits through seven innings. The Yankees, however, knocked him out in the eighth with a four-hit three-run barrage that cut Chicago's lead to 6-4.

Braves Edge Phillies, 2-1

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves broke Robin Roberts' six-game winning streak Wednesday night, as they edged the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1.

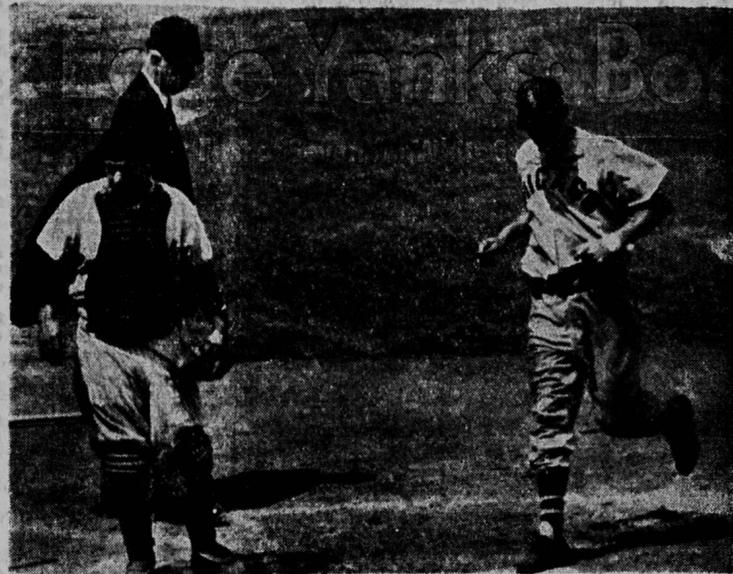

The decision moved the Braves up a full game, to within 12½ games, of league-leading Brooklyn, which lost to Cincinnati.

Lew Burdette, who gave way for a pinch hitter in the Braves' two-run seventh, got the win, permitting only four hits. His relief, Ernie Johnson, hurled hitless ball in wrapping it up.

The Braves scored after two were out. Del Crandall singled to left and Roberts hit Danny O'Connell in the seat of the pants with a pitch. Then George Crowe belted a single to drive in one run. Billy Bruton then lined an infield single, scoring O'Connell with the winning run.

First of Seven for White Sox

SHERMAN LOLLAR, White Sox catcher, crosses the plate in the second inning Wednesday with the first of seven Chicago runs as the White Sox beat the Yankees, 7-4. Lollar scored on Minnie Minoso's single. Yankee catcher Yogi Berra and umpire John Flaherty watch the action.

Redlegs Edge Brooks; 4-3

CINCINNATI (AP)—Rookie Milt Smith singled in the winning run in the last of the 10th Wednesday night to give the Cincinnati Redlegs a 4-3 victory over the National League-leading Brooklyn Dodgers. Smith's blow to center, with one out, came with the bases loaded.

In that 10th the Reds loaded the bases on singles by Wally Post and Gus Bell and an intentional walk to Bob Thurman.

The Reds pulled into a tie in the last of the ninth after the Dodgers had taken a 3-2 lead in the sixth on a solo home run by
