The Weather

Fair and continued hot today and tonight. Low today 80 degrees. High 100 degrees. Fair and a little cooler Saturday.

New Assistant Publisher of Iowan Named

Edgar Crane, former copyreader and reporter for the Minneapolis Tribune, Thursday was named assistant publisher of The Daily Iowan.

Besides his duties on the Iowan, Crane will teach courses at the State University of Iowa School of Journalism in copyreading and editing, editorial problems and policies, and backgrounding the news.

The appointment of four other faculty members and the resignations of three more were also announced by President Virgil M. Hancher.

Crane succeeds William Zima, former instructor in editorial journalism, who has taken a position with the Des Moines Register and Tribune.

Was at Minnesota

While on the Minneapolis Tribune, Crane taught news and feature writing and magazine writing at the University of Minnesota School of Journalism.

Crane received an M.A. degree in economics from Iowa State College in 1946. He received a B.A. degree in journalism from the University of Minnesota in 1939.

Working with 40 authors at Iowa State, Crane helped produce a 357-page history of 100 years of farming in Iowa. He has spent the past two years in charge of publications for the American Friends Service Committee.

Crane has also worked one year as a copyreader and reporter on the Moorhead (Minn.) Daily News.

Other Appointments

Two of the other appointments announced were for the SUI College of Medicine faculty. Robert C. Murphy was appointed assistant professor in the department of anatomy and Dr. Bernard Schwartz as research fellow in the department of ophthalmology.

Murphy received his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Wisconsin this year, where he has taught anatomy and zoology. Schwartz has been a resident in ophthalmology at SUI since 1953. He holds the doctor of medicine degree from the University of Toronto, the master of science degree from Iowa, and is a candidate for the Ph.D. degree in physiology at SUI.

Formerly on the faculties of the Carnegie Institute of Technology and the University of Pittsburgh, Leonard J. Konopa has been appointed assistant professor in the Department of Marketing of the SUI College of Commerce. Konopa holds degrees from the Universities of Akron and Pittsburgh.

The board approved the appointment of Frank S. Hanlin as first assistant in the acquisitions department of University Libraries. Formerly first assistant in circulation at the University of North Carolina library, Hanlin holds degrees from SUI, Cornell College and the University of Michigan.

Resignations

Resignations accepted by the State Board of Regents include those of Jack Davies, College of Medicine; Amy Frances Brown, College of Nursing; and Ruby M. Smith, Department of Home Economics.

Three one-year leaves of absences for the coming academic year were granted to Prof. Ray B. West Jr., English, to accept a temporary appointment at the University of Oregon; Dean Emeritus Chester A. Phillips, commerce, to accept a position at Southern Illinois University, and Grace Van Wormer, libraries, for travel.

Horn Recital Set For 7:30 Tonight

James H. Winter, G. Fresno, Calif., will present a French horn recital at 7:30 p.m. today in North Music Hall.

Two Beethoven numbers open the program: "Sextet in E-Flat, Op. 81B" and "Sonata in F, Op. 17."

The final selection will be "Sextet in F, K 522" by Mozart. Fred E. Dempster will play piano accompaniment, and a quintet will assist Winter in the opening and closing numbers.

A WASTE OF TIME

BOONE (AP) — Sheriff Steve Beaulieu reported Thursday that the Milligan elevator at Angus in southwest Boone County was the target of amateur safe-crackers. The thieves drilled into a safe which already was unlocked. It contained nothing of value.

Russians Examine Iowa Eggs

Red Bulgaria Admits Downing Airliner

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel Thursday protested Communist Bulgaria's destruction of an Israeli airliner as shocking recklessness and demanded compensation. Bulgaria admitted its gunners had shot down the plane and expressed regret.

Israeli officials called the shooting of the Constellation of El Al Israel Airlines Ltd., which carried 58 persons to death Wednesday, a grave international offense.

U.S. Indignant With 12 Americans among the dead, the United States also plans a protest "in appropriate terms."

Henry Snydam, State Department press officer, said in Washington the United States is indignant at the tragedy behind the Iron Curtain and will file its protest as soon as full information is at hand.

The United States does not have diplomatic relations with Bulgaria, so Washington's document will be relayed through Switzerland.

Diplomatic pressure may develop from other capitals. Four Britons, four Canadians and a South African were among the dead. Indignation at the incident was expressed by speakers in Britain's House of Commons.

5 Russians Aboard The plane, downed on the Vienna-Istanbul leg of a flight from London to Israel, also carried five Russian immigrants who planned to join relatives in the Holy Land.

A sharp note handed to the Bulgarian charge d'affaires in Jerusalem by Walter Eytan, director general of the Israeli Foreign Ministry, said Israel "demands full satisfaction for a grave international offense."

Bulgaria admitted Thursday, hours after the Constellation fell blazing near the Greek frontier — that its anti-aircraft gunners shot down the plane and none aboard lived through the crash. It expressed "deep regret" and promised a full inquiry by a ministerial commission.

Bulgaria Gives Version But an Israeli spokesman said Bulgaria has refused to admit a six-man commission from Israel which proposed to conduct an on-the-spot investigation of its own.

A Bulgarian statement broadcast by Radio Sofia said the Constellation had strayed off course for 100 miles over Bulgaria, veering far eastward from its normal route over Yugoslavia.

"The anti-aircraft defense was unable to identify the plane and, after a few warnings, fired, as a result of which the plane crashed in the area north of the town of Petrich," the statement said.

Nixon Visit, Wheat Urged For Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators searching out more cracks in the Iron Curtain came up Thursday with suggestions to send Vice-President Richard Nixon on a good-will trip to Russia and to bombard Red China with bags of wheat.

Senate Republican Leader William Knowland of California sounded a note of caution in his first formal comment on the Big Four summit conference at Geneva last week.

"Neither we nor the free world," Knowland said in a senate speech, "must lure ourselves into a 'little Miss Red Riding Hood' belief that because the wolf has put on grandmother's cap and nightgown his teeth are any less sharp or his intentions any less menacing."

Sens. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) and John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) suggested the Nixon visit in separate interviews. They were queried in the wake of President Eisenhower's news conference statement Wednesday that the idea of swapping visits by government officials was talked over at Geneva.

Aiken noted that Russia has accepted a British invitation to send Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev to London on a visit next spring.

Bulganin and Khrushchev would be welcome in America, Aiken said, and if they wanted someone to return the visit then "I think Vice-President Nixon could do some good."

Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.) put forward the wheat-bombing idea.

Flanders took no personal credit for his idea, offered in the Senate, to send free wheat by air to the famine-beset Chinese. He said Knowland had proposed it earlier without its acceptance and, he added, it still makes sense.

$50 Reward For Lumpa Information

Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy Thursday offered a $50 reward for information leading to the capture of Wayne F. Lumpa, 18, who escaped from Johnson County jail July 20.

The reward was offered after Lumpa again evaded sheriff's office police Wednesday night.

Lumpa was seen alongside a car, stolen earlier Wednesday in Cedar Rapids, on a country road about three quarters of a mile east of North Liberty.

When Sheriff Murphy and Deputy Sheriff Donald Wilson arrived on the scene Lumpa was gone, apparently having fled into a corn field alongside the road.

Tire Trouble Murphy reported the car had a flat, and Lumpa had been attempting to fix it when he was spotted.

Found in the car were the blue jeans Lumpa was wearing when he escaped jail. He is now believed wearing a white sport shirt with red figures and dark blue gabardine trousers, Murphy said.

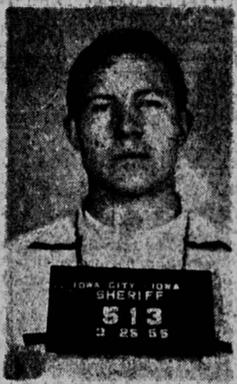

Also in the car was a new sport shirt in a bag from a Cedar Rapids clothing store, a razor and shaving lather, Murphy reported.

The sheriff's office believes Lumpa went to Cedar Rapids, stole the car and purchased the clothing, then drove back along country roads to the place where he had a flat.

Calls Garages

Lumpa had called two Iowa City garages asking that a tire be brought to him. Neither would do so. Lumpa then went to a North Liberty garage where he borrowed a tire and lug wrench, agreeing to return the articles and leaving a $20 bill as a deposit.

He was spotted when he returned to change the tire. When Murphy and Wilson arrived the flat tire had been taken off but Lumpa had fled before putting on the new tire.

Wayne Lumpa $50 Reward Offered

Synod Finds Pastor Guilty

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A young Lutheran minister accused of heresy by his synod was found guilty Thursday on nine counts of deviating from church doctrine by a trial board of seven other pastors which recommended he be suspended from the ministry.

The findings, against the Rev. George P. Crist Jr., 31, were returned by the trial board of the Northwest Synod, United Lutheran Church, after three hours of deliberation. The Rev. Mr. Crist faced 14 charges in the trial action which was recommended by a five-member fact-finding committee which investigated his case in June.

The trial board, which heard the charges against the Rev. Mr. Crist in two days of hearings, recommended to the synod president that he be suspended. The board further stated that if the recommendation is followed Pastor Crist and his family be given adequate financial support by the synod until final disposition of the case at the synod's annual convention in Milwaukee next year.

Pastor Crist was summoned from his home and church at Durham in nearby Waukesha County to hear the verdict.

Specifically, the young minister was accused of denying the virgin birth of Christ, the physical resurrection of Jesus, the occurrence of some miracles and the certain effects of prayer. The charges, filed by an investigating board, center around 18 sermons which he delivered to his 225-member congregation earlier this year.

Weatherman Gives Hope For Relief By Saturday

A FAVORITE CAMPUS HANG-OUT for the past week has been the air-conditioned lounge in the new addition to the Iowa Memorial Union. Thursday was no exception. The lounge was crowded most of the day as the temperature reached a 19.5 high of 102 degrees.

Vets Must File Before Registering For Interim Study

All veterans who intend to take immediate graduate work this summer should report to the Veterans Service Office before completing registration. Donald E. Rhoades, coordinator, said Thursday.

If veterans studying under P.L.'s 16, 346 or 550 expect to receive veteran benefits, Rhoades said, they must bring their registration forms to the Veterans Service Office before they turn them in at the Registrar's office.

The Veterans Service Office is located in University Hall. Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Foreign Aid Bill Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise $2.7 billion foreign aid bill sailed through the House and Senate Thursday as Congress worked close to adjournment.

The measure now goes to President Eisenhower for his signature. It carries about $560 million less than he asked for to bolster America's allies around the world.

Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.), president pro-tem of the Senate, told reporters he understands that the current session of Congress cannot end until next Tuesday because of House insistence on meeting next week to handle minor bills.

Sen. William Knowland (R-Calif.), said he still hopes that Congress can quit on Saturday.

Both House and Senate acted on voice votes in approving the foreign aid program for the two months beginning July 1. The Senate had been disposed to give the administration an additional $90 million, but it yielded to the House in a conference on the legislation Wednesday.

In a brief Senate debate, Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) demanded an investigation of foreign aid funds, asserting that Congress should find out definitely how much the administration still has in unspent funds from previous years' appropriations.

Natural Gas Bill

The House Thursday night passed and sent to the Senate a bill to free natural gas producers from federal regulations.

Senate action this year is not likely. Filibuster threats from some opponents would seem to rule out a serious attempt to bring the measure to the Senate floor before adjournment of Congress.

Ike Asks Congress To Pass Road Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower appealed to Congress Thursday to make another try at passing a highway construction bill before adjourning.

Declaring the nation "badly needs new highways," the President said:

"The good of our people, of our economy and of our defense, requires that construction of these highways be undertaken at once."

Although the legislation was buried under an avalanche of House votes Wednesday, House Republican Leader Joseph Martin of Massachusetts said he believed a compromise measure could be salvaged "if we really want to do it."

Time Running Out Time was running out, however, and it appeared that only a legislative miracle could answer Eisenhower's plea. Congressional leaders are planning on final adjournment within the next few days and a new highway bill would have to start from scratch.

Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts said he doubted if he could hold the House in session long enough.

"In my opinion, there's no chance of getting the bill up again," McCormack said.

Bond Issue Eisenhower proposed that a multibillion-dollar program of highway construction be financed by a long term bond issue to be handled by a separate government corporation.

This was rejected 224-193 in Thursday's House voting. Then by a vote of 292-123 the House killed the Democratic substitute plan, which provided pay-as-you-go financing through a series of increases in automotive taxes. Trucking interests and others who would pay the new taxes had laid down a hot barrage of protests.

Wave Kills 36 in Japan

TSU, Japan (Friday) (AP) — A great wave surged out of the treacherous Ise Sea Thursday and drowned 36 of 47 Japanese junior high school girls who were taking a swimming test.

It was Japan's worst swimming beach disaster.

Witnesses said the girls were standing in placid waters, waist deep, about 35 feet out from the beach.

A great breaker rolled in without warning, swept over the entire class, and carried the girls out to sea with its undertow.

Approximately 200 fishermen, Japanese soldiers and other rescuers in boats brought all 47 to shore within a half hour. But police said there was delay in artificial respiration and only 11 could be revived.

REA OK's Loan To Greene County

DES MOINES (AP) — The Rural Electrification Administration (REA) in Washington has approved a $310,000 loan to the County Rural Electric Cooperative in Jefferson, according to William Wisdom, executive secretary of the Iowa Rural Electric Co-operative Association.

H. A. Mears, manager of the co-operative, said Thursday that the funds will be used to "heavy up" existing construction in view of anticipated heavier loads. It also will be used to construct 16 miles of new distribution line, enabling the co-op to serve 30 new consumers.

Mercury Hit 102 Degrees Here Thursday

Sweltering Iowans got the first good weather news in a week Thursday. It may be a little cooler by Saturday.

The Weather Bureau said a weak disturbance just edging out over the western plains is being pushed along by slightly cooler air over the northern Rockies.

Most of the cool air will stay to the north of Iowa. The only encouragement the Weather Bureau had was:

"It will be a bit cooler in northern sections and not quite so hot in southern Iowa on Saturday."

102 Thursday The temperature in Iowa City broke the 1955 record for the third consecutive day Thursday. It reached 102 degrees at about 4:30 p.m. to best the record 101 reading of Wednesday.

The temperature was the hottest recorded here since the 103 degree reading reached during the August, 1947, heat wave.

Clouds appeared in the skies over Iowa City Thursday for the first time in three days to give some shelter from the blazing sun.

State University of Iowa classes took to the lawns outside of their classrooms to find relief. They didn't find much.

Lounges Crowded The air-conditioned lounges offered comfort to SUI students. Lounges were crowded most of the day.

Iowa Citizens apparently were standing up well under the heat. The city's three hospitals reported no heat cases.

Iowa City was one of the few towns in the state not receiving token relief from the heat Thursday.

In most towns the temperatures fell short of the high levels of Wednesday, when Sac City recorded a 1955 Iowa high of 105 degrees.

Talbot Files Sent to Ike For Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Transcripts of a Senate hearing on the outside business activities conducted by Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbot were delivered to the White House Thursday for President Eisenhower's personal perusal.

The President has said he will study the records in the case and that the final decision on whether Talbot will be ousted "is going to be handled by me personally."

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said he did not know how long it might take Eisenhower to read the verbatim report of the Senate hearings, which covered three days of public testimony.

Asked whether a resignation or offer of a resignation had been received at the White House from Talbot, Hagerty replied, "No."

Eisenhower, in telling his news conference Wednesday that he would decide personally whether Talbot, an old friend, had violated "a proper standard of ethics," did not indicate whether he would wait for the committee's findings.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) resumed his attack on Talbot with a Senate speech demanding that the Air Force secretary be fired "forthwith."

Morse, one of six senators who voted against Talbot's appointment in February 1953, demanded last Friday that Talbot "be cleaned out of the government" to remove a "bad odor" from the Washington scene. In another Senate speech Tuesday, Morse said Talbot had "consciously and willfully misused his office."

Court Backs Security Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals upheld Thursday a directive by President Eisenhower giving all federal agency heads the right to fire summarily in security cases.

But the three-judge court divided on the question, with Chief Judge Henry W. Edgerton holding that the presidential order should apply only to agencies concerned with national security.

The majority opinion, written by Judge E. Barrett Prettyman and concurred in by Judge Walter M. Bastian, held that it is "entirely constitutional" for the President to make his order applicable to all departments and agencies.

Involved was the case of Kendrick M. Cole, a former food and drug inspector in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Cole was fired after he was accused of having close associations with Communists and with having donated to an organization on the attorney general's subversive list.

He appealed his dismissal to the U.S. district court, claiming the President could not extend legally the summary dismissal provisions to nonsensitive jobs in a department like Health, Education and Welfare.

The district court ruled against Cole and its decision was affirmed upon appeal.

editorial

A Congressional Atrocity—

Both the Senate and the House this week passed one of the most atrocious bills in our country's history and hardly a word of protest has been raised about it.

The bill affects every young man going into the Army after President Eisenhower signs the bill, which is expected to be soon.

Under this new reserve bill, a man will serve two years in the Army and when he gets out, he must go into the trained reserve for three years. Then for another year he is in the standby reserves.

For three years he will be required to perform 48 drills annually and a maximum of 17 days of active duty each year; or in lieu of this he may select 30 days of active duty for training annually.

What this bill adds up to is a major step towards universal military training. It is a new and radical departure from the traditional American way of dealing with military service. It means for the first time in the history of our nation, compulsion will be used to maintain our military reserves.

What this bill means is that every young man entering the Army will be under the direct shackles of the military for five years of his life and ready for call for another year.

If he "chooses" to do 48 drills annually, it means he must give up one night a week for almost every week of the year. In addition he must take out 17 days of what might probably be his vacation time to serve on active duty.

It means that for an additional three years after serving on active duty, he must guide his life to suit the military.

If he wishes to be excused from one of the 48 meetings, he must appeal to a military board. The penalty for not living up to the bill's requirements is an order to active duty for 45 days each year until the reserve obligation has been completed.

There is no choice in this bill. Anyway the veteran turns, the bill gets him.

One of the most dismaying points is that this bill passed by overwhelming votes of 315-78 in the House and 80-1 in the Senate.

At a time when we have just finished talking peace at Geneva, when, as in the words of the President, "the nations of the world realize the United States will go to any length to achieve world peace," we pass a bill which is so outlandishly militaristic and aggressive.

Granted, the U.S. must maintain her military strength so that we may bargain from a position of power, but our country has never before had to resort to force to maintain an Army reserve.

As Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) said on the House floor, "In the years to come, every American family with a growing boy in its midst will be affected by our action today."

"For generations this country has followed the principle and tradition that its young men were drafted for active military service in such numbers and length of time as was considered necessary to insure the security of our nation, whether in wartime or peace. But never in our history have we drafted men to give up part of their civilian life for military service over a period of years after they have completed their active service."

And probably the most troublesome point is that there were so few voices raised against this bill in Congress and among the people.

It seems we were too busy reading about Geneva, the forthcoming conciliatory talks with Red China, the good relations coming about from the exchange of farmers with Russia to even take notice of this shocking piece of legislation.

The President had previously suggested a plan which included sane alternatives for the veteran. Now our only hope is that he won't sign the monster that Congress is sending him. But from reports out of Washington, he most likely will.

TV Graduate May be Next Phenomenon in Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any year now the first student to take all his college courses in his own living room may step up and receive a diploma from television university.

And right now, an educator said Thursday, TV is being used far more in education than most people realize.

The verdict from Dr. Ralph Steelt, executive director of the Joint Committee on Educational Television: "Education by television definitely has arrived."

The statistics look impressive all right. Around 12,000 students have enrolled in 170 regular academic courses given via TV by 44 different institutions. Fifteen educational TV stations are on the air and more are coming.

Take a look at some of the plans: At Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., an experiment will be made in closed circuit television. The school has an orientation course for all its freshmen. But each lecture will be given but once, and the students will see and hear it by TV in their regular classrooms.

In St. Louis, Mo., the public schools plan to try subjects as varied as second grade spelling and ninth grade composition by television.

In Memphis, an attack is planned an illiteracy by using TV. Steelt and Eunice Collins Parker, who is with the American Council on Education's TV Committee, think a few predictions can be made and conclusions reached:

That the teacher who knows his stuff and how to present it may come into his own as he clearly demonstrates his capabilities for all to see.

That TV offers one answer to the teacher shortages in some subjects, such as mathematics or the sciences. A teacher could handle several classes at once. That the TV student, so far at least, has done as well on his final exams as the regular students.

Professor Reaction
But one of the most interesting results has been the reaction of the professors. Here are some comments from TV teachers at Iowa State College in Ames:

Richard W. Husband, who taught psychology 204: "The response is amazing, at least to this instructor. Spot surveys of percentages of sets tuned in suggested that we had afternoon audiences of at least 60,000. Fifty-four students actually enrolled and completed the course. Husband figured that his typical TV student was a 37-year-old housewife from a village or farm, she had two children and had never tried a college course before. But Husband said he gave twice as many A's as he did to a similar group of campus students.

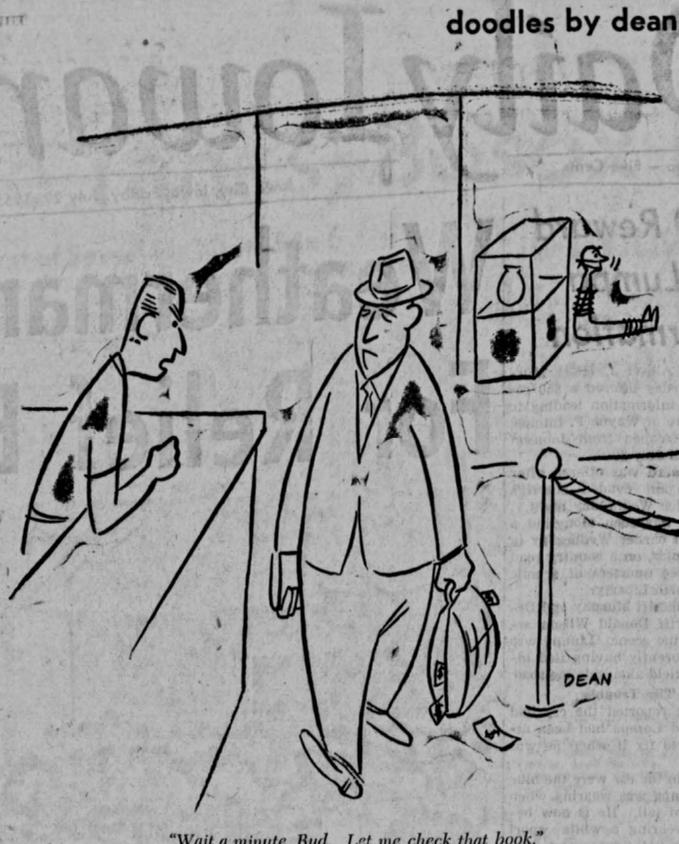

Dr. G. R. Hawkes, who taught child development 235: He was startled by the people who recognized him when they met him on the streets of Ames or Des Moines. "They felt I was an old friend."

Dr. L. Feinberg, who taught English 354, world literature: "A strange and elderly woman told me on the street that I should continue using irony and dead-pan humor in the lectures. She was watching for both techniques, she said, and enjoying both, even if no one else was."

HOT SNOW-SHOVELS!
ST. LOUIS (AP)—Snow shovel sales were climbing at a St. Louis hardware store Friday almost as fast as the heat and humidity. With the temperature in the 90-degree bracket, the hardware store decided to put on a sale of snow shovels — an item it hadn't sold all last winter. As a result they sold three shovels, held in front of the State University of Iowa Theatre building from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday, July 31. Bring songbooks, mosquito repellent, etc. Your hosts will be Dave Bradbury, Knute Nomland and Dan Isaacson.

Superintendents Must Give Leadership, Says Peterson

While the layman's role in education is steadily increasing in importance, the superintendent of schools must assume the responsibility of giving professional leadership on every school level, Dean E. T. Peterson of the State University of Iowa College of Education declared Thursday.

Giving the closing address of a four-day workshop for Iowa school superintendents, Dean Peterson said the superintendent has the opportunity to exercise leadership in what amounts to a "free" situation. "You are not bound by centralized dictation," he asserted, "which gives you an opportunity to put forth your best in building the educational program."

It is the superintendent's job as a professional leader to convince the layman on the board of education of what is best for the youngsters who attend the schools, Peterson said.

"What you do with this responsibility is up to your skill, competence and devotion to duty," he declared.

Dean Peterson reviewed the evolution of the school board and the administration of schools in this country and dismissed the current Cooperative Projects in Educational Administration being conducted under the auspices of the Kellogg Foundation.

Some 150 superintendents, most of them new to administrative work, attended the four-day workshop which was sponsored by the SUI college of education and the State Department of Public Instruction.

TO FLUORIDATE WATER
NILES, Mich. (AP)—The Niles City Council voted unanimously to add fluoride to the city's water supply. The Board of Public Works said the program would be in operation by Jan. 1.

This charge covers wrapping, addressing and postage. The University Edition, to be published on Aug. 27, will contain more than 50 pages of news, pictures and features on all phases of the University.

GERMAN PH.D. READING examinations will be given Thursday, August 4, from 3 to 5 p.m. in Room 104, Schaeffer Hall. Those who wish to take these examinations should register in Room 101, Schaeffer Hall by noon, August 4.

FOLK DANCING WILL BE held at the Benton Street recreation area tennis court on Saturday, July 30, beginning at 8 p.m. As usual, beginning instruction will last until 10 p.m. Suggested attire is very cool sports clothes and low-heeled or tennis shoes.

Band Concert To Be Today

Junior and Advanced Bands will perform at 9 a.m. today at North Music Hall to complete the 1955 Junior Music program sponsored by the State University of Iowa Department of Music.

The concert climaxes a summer of music lessons for school students in Iowa City. Junior Strings and Advanced Orchestra gave their concert Thursday.

Junior Band will present two numbers: "Project March," Bennett, and "The Plainsman," McKay.

Four numbers by the Advanced Band will be: "Manhattan Beach March," Sousa; "Sarabande and Gavotte," Corelli; "American Folk Rhapsody," Grundman; and "A Santa Cecilia March," Radaelli.

Phillips To Lecture At Southern Illinois

Chester A. Phillips, dean emeritus of the State University of Iowa School of Commerce, has been named lecturer and visiting professor of business administration at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Ill.

He will begin his assignment at Southern in September. Phillips retired as Commerce Dean in 1950, after heading the college for 29 years. He served as acting president of SUI from July to October, 1940.

A past president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Phillips was economist for the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago from 1937 to 1942. He has also served on the Economists' National Committee on Monetary Policy.

In 1953, Commerce College alumni established the Chester A. Phillips Scholarship Award, to be given yearly to an undergraduate student in commerce on the basis of scholastic ability, character, and personality.

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES in August may pick up their commencement announcements at the Alumni House, 130 N. Madison St.

DANCING IN THE RIVER Room during the summer is planned for the remainder of the summer session by the Student Union Board. Dances are scheduled for today and August 5. Both popular and square dancing will be provided on alternate weeks.

FOLK DANCING WILL BE held at the Benton Street recreation area tennis court on Saturday, July 30, beginning at 8 p.m. As usual, beginning instruction will last until 10 p.m. Suggested attire is very cool sports clothes and low-heeled or tennis shoes.

Board OK's $25,500 In Grants for SUI

A $5,000 grant from the Cereal Institute, Inc., for research in physiology and nutrition was the largest of several grants approved recently for the State University of Iowa's College of Medicine by the State Board of Regents, University President Virgil M. Hancher announced Thursday.

The grant will be used by W. W. Tuttle, professor of physiology, and Kate Daum, professor and head of nutrition, to complete research now under way on physiological and chemical changes which occur during a weight loss. The grant is the second half of $10,000 which the Institute has made available to the scientists for support of the study.

100 Degree Heat Slows Russians
OSCEOLA (AP)—The theme for his 12th day of the Soviet farm leader's tour of Iowa was "It's too darned hot."

The sun beat down mercilessly as the Russians' caravan sped across the "steppes" of the Hawkeye state. The temperature was over 100 degrees.

Most persons who were able to do so, remained in the shade. But the Russians marched on. The Iowa heat, however, appeared to be slowing down even the jet-propelled Soviet farm experts.

When their air-conditioned bus made stops it seemed to take many more minutes than usual for the Russians to emerge. And as their visit came to an end, some of the Russian visitors seemed to be making a dash for the bus to get out of the heat.

The Russians, as usual, were being good guests. But there were indications the hot sun has scorched at least the edges of their enthusiasm for this cornfield odyssey.

Visit Pioneer Hybrid Co.
Thursday morning delegation leader V. V. Mateskevich and two fellow delegates visited the Pioneer Hybrid Corn Co., seed corn and chick enterprises of the Henry Wallace family outside Des Moines.

Mateskevich showed special interest in the chickens and told James Wallace, president of Pioneer, that "eggs and chicken meat are the main diet of the Russian people — but mainly eggs."

After leaving Des Moines, the Russians had lunch at the Osceola Country Club. Then they visited the farm of Floyd McComas at Osceola. The temperature at the McComas farm was 103.

McComas went to considerable effort to make the visit useful to the Russians. He prepared a large diagram to illustrate his crop rotation system. He took the visitors into the shade and explained his operations. They asked a number of questions.

Unfailing Good Humor
The heat was not enough to destroy the guests' good humor. They laughed hilariously when one of the translators translated into Russian "80 acres of sheep" instead of "80 acres of oats," as he meant.

Mateskevich was looking for an

Among other grants accepted were:

Pediatrics Research
$4,500 from the Helen Gray Whitney Foundation for research under the direction of Dr. C. D. May, professor and head of the Department of Pediatrics, and Dr. Robert Gauchat, instructor in that department. The grant will support research on the body's ability to adapt to a lack in secretions of the adrenal glands.

$3,000 from the Smith, Kline and French Foundation for a fellowship to Allan L. Fisher, a graduate student working toward both a medical degree and a doctorate in pharmacology.

$2,500 from the Nutrition Foundation, Inc. for research by Dr. William B. Bean, professor and head of internal medicine, on deficiencies of vitamin B in the human body.

$2,400 from Plough, Inc. of Memphis for research by Bean and Dr. William D. Paul, professor of internal medicine, on the effects of aspirin upon the stomach.

$2,400 from the Giba Pharmaceutical Products, Inc. for research on human infertility. The studies will be conducted by Warren O. Nelson, professor of anatomy, in collaboration with Doctors Eve and Hans Marberger of the University of Innsbruck in Austria. The latter are former members of the SUI staff.

Tumor Analysis
$2,800 from the James Picker Foundation for research under the direction of Dr. Gwilym S. Lodwick, associate professor of radiology. The grant was secured while Lodwick was chief of the radiological service of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Iowa City during the past academic year. The study will concern an evaluation of a system of X-ray analysis of tumors which originate in bone, and application of this type of analysis to tumors which originate in lung tissues.

$1,000 from the Western Institute on Epilepsy for two fellowships, one of which was awarded to Richard D. Gross, a senior medical student from Des Moines, and the other to Norman Brown, a junior in medicine from Phoenix, Ariz. Under the direction of Dr. John C. MacQueen, associate professor of pediatrics, Gross will study both the clinical and research aspects of epilepsy. Brown's fellowship will be under the direction of Dr. John Green of Phoenix.

Physiology Fellowship
$900 from Flint, Eaton and Company of Decatur, Ill., for the James G. Flint fellowship in physiology. Robert David Baker, recipient of the grant, will study problems of intestinal absorption under the supervision of Dr. G. W. Searle, associate professor in the Department of Physiology.

$500 from the Ayerst Laboratories of the American Home Products Corp. to support research by Dr. Charles H. Read, associate professor of pediatrics, upon the cause of rheumatic fever.

$500 from the Tobacco Industry Research Committee for a research fellowship to Donald J. Rohrsen of Jesup, a senior in medicine. Upon the supervision of James T. Bradbury, associate professor in the department of obstetrics and gynecology, Rohrsen will attempt to determine whether measurable quantities of cortisone (an extract of the adrenal glands) can be recovered from urine. The study is being conducted as part of a search for a simple way of recovering cortisone for diagnostic purposes.

Political Scientist Leaves Post at Cornell College
MT. VERNON (AP)—The resignation of Harold Wesley Ward, political science professor at Cornell College, has been announced by Dean Karl D. Hartzell.

Ward will take a similar post at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Ill. He came to Cornell in 1946.

Wilson Tells Of Red Propaganda

Inspect Daily Iowan Offices

PRESIDENT VIRGIL M. HANCHER, left, and Provost Harvey Davis inspect the remodeled offices of The Daily Iowan Thursday. The business offices recently were moved into the Communications Center with the editorial and advertising offices of the Iowan. Acting as hosts on the tour are Leslie G. Moeller, right, chairman of the board of trustees of Student Publications, Inc., and Lester Benz, publisher of The Daily Iowan.

The Communists are relentless in pushing a huge anti-American propaganda campaign. Quintus C. Wilson told the Rotary Club Thursday.

"The aim of the Communists is to conquer the world," he said. "And because the United States is one of the largest powers in the world, the Communists are creating an anti-American feeling abroad."

Similar activities are going on in the U.S. to build up a feeling among Americans that foreign countries are against the U.S., he said.

"Some Americans believe it," he added.

Wilson said that he "never witnessed any anti-American resentment" against himself or his family while in Japan last year, but he pointed to incidents which show how the Communists' propaganda works.

Referring to the "Lucky Dragon" incident, Wilson said that a person posing as a medical doctor was writing Communist-line articles and stories about the effects of the fallout of radioactive ashes on the 14 Japanese fishermen.

Anti-American Swing

"The incident caused an anti-American swing in feelings among the Japanese," Wilson said, as it was the third time that their country had been subjected to atomic bomb. Hiroshima and Nagasaki were the other two.

"Newspapers seeking sensational items to boost circulation played up this story." When facts were unobtainable, the reporters "invented facts," he said.

The purpose of the Communist propaganda was "to anger the Japanese people and to rouse them in protest against the U.S.," he said.

Another purpose was to get the U.S. to stop H-bomb tests at Bikini, he added.

Second Incident

A second incident happened September 23, 1954, when Niigata, Japan, was showered with radio-active ashes.

"But this time it was from a Russian H-bomb," Wilson said.

The stories in the newspapers, then expressed resentment against any country, especially Russia and the U.S., experimenting with H-bombs, he said.

Wilson said Communist propaganda was spread in Japan concerning a bill passed in the United States that provided for the fireproofing of all imported silk products.

Statements said that the U.S. was trying "to ruin the Japanese silk industry," he said.

Why Law Passed

The American law was passed in order to prevent more serious fires caused by non-fireproof textiles and not to ruin the silk industry, he said.

Another incident, Wilson reported, concerned the removal of U. S. occupational forces in Hokkaido. Propaganda reports said "get the Americans out."

After the American troops were withdrawn and replaced by Japanese troops, Communist propaganda said that Hokkaido "would suffer economically from the loss" of the troops, Wilson said.

This, he said, was a complete reversal of their previous charges.

Interviews Editors

In an interview with a Japanese editor who had fled from Formosa, Wilson found that Communists think Americans are "very naive."

Four months before the Communist campaign began, Wilson said, the editor told him that the Americans "will go to sleep, and then in 18 to 24 months, we (the Communists) will hit you."

"The Japanese propagandists are quick and clever," Wilson said. They are cautious and carefully place their information "where it can be heard and where it can be read."

Viaduct Hearing To Resume August 11

The battle between the city of Iowa City and the Rock Island Railroad over the Dodge Street viaduct will be resumed here August 11.

The Iowa State Commerce Commission Thursday announced that the hearing on the dispute would be resumed on that date at City Hall.

A commission hearing here June 9 was suspended after one day of testimony when attorneys for the railroad claimed the IS-CO had no jurisdiction in the matter.

The commission attorney, I. E. Chenoweth, ruled July 6 that the commission had the authority to rule on the safety and convenience of the viaduct.

The city wants a new viaduct built. The railroad has claimed that the present viaduct can be repaired.

Police Arrest Run-Away Constable

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — A runaway constable with $79,000 cash was captured at the Tri-State Airport here Thursday after the airliner on which he was bound for Columbus, Ohio, was signaled to land.

Police were waiting and snapped handcuffs on Tom Bivens, 41, of Bluefield, who handed over a leather brief case.

"I've had a hard time the last three or four years, with a lot of sickness in the family," Bivens told Detective Eris Fry.

"I decided to do something about it. It looks like I did wrong."

What he did, police said, was to pick up the payroll for the American Coal Co. from the Flat Top National Bank in Bluefield and abscond with it.

Bivens and another constable, Lewis H. Perdue, normally received the payroll together for delivery to the McComas mine of the American Co.

Bivens appeared alone at the bank Thursday, however, and was on his way at 8:15 a.m.

Police Work 'Fast'
Fast police work and crackling radio calls led to his capture on a Piedmont Airlines plane here within four hours.

He was hustled into the airport manager's office while incoming and outgoing plane passengers gaped. The police made a hasty check of the bundles of cash in the brief case. They were all there, in small bills, none larger than $50.

Sheriff P. L. Dye of Mercer County was credited with key moves in running down the constable. Fifteen minutes after being informed, of Bivens' disappearance he drove to the Mercer County Airport between Bluefield and Princeton.

Had Boarded Plane
There he learned Bivens had boarded the plane, bound for Charleston and Columbus, Ohio, 40 minutes earlier.

Dye immediately called the Charleston state police radio center. The plane had already landed and taken off from the Kanawha Airport.

Both the Huntington state police and Civil Aeronautics Authority at Kanawha Airport were contacted.

Word next was flashed to the crew of the airliner to circle the Tri-State Airport. They did so briefly, allowing time for the state and Huntington city police to arrive at the scene, and Bivens walked off the plane a prisoner.

Boone Pool Fumes Make Children Sick

BOONE (AP) — Seventeen children, ranging in age from 8 to 13 years, were rushed to Boone County Hospital Thursday, ill from the effects of chlorine gas used to purify the water in Boone Municipal Pool.

The three most seriously affected were:

John Mataya, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Mataya of Madrid.

Richard Otto, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Otto, Boone.

Gary Grant, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Grant, Woodward.

They were given oxygen and their condition was reported some time later as fairly good by hospital staff members.

Six others were admitted to the hospital, five from Madrid, one from Boone.

The eight others were treated and released. Among them was Neal Runyan, life guard at the pool.

The youngsters were participating in the free swimming lesson class sponsored by the Red Cross chapter of Boone for Madrid and Luther children.

Tuesday night, city officials said, Runyan and Marilyn Quinn, swim instructor, found a valve on a chlorine tank would not close and there was some leakage. Thursday morning, they laid the leaky tank on the ground outside one of the buildings in the Park where the pool is located.

A wind from the south blew the fumes from the tank back over the pool.

College Store Conference To End Saturday

The seventh annual summer workshop of the National Association of College Stores goes into its final sessions today and Saturday at the State University of Iowa's Center for Continuation Study. Fifty college bookmen are attending.

Under the direction of Ray Vanderhoef, general manager of the Iowa Supply Company of Iowa City, the workshop has drawn college bookstore managers and department heads from 21 states.

During the sessions which began Monday, a faculty of eight, including two members of the SUI Commerce Department, has led instruction in new and used textbooks, school supplies, college specialties and other phases of bookstore operation.

Iowans on the faculty include J. H. Asthalter of the W. A. Sheafer Pen Company, Ft. Madison, and Robert D. Sutherland of the Iowa Supply Company, Iowa City.

White Sox Edge Yanks, 3-2; Lead By .002

Pierce Stops Rally in 9th With Strikeout

NEW YORK (AP)—Lefty Billy Pierce struck out pinchhitter Jerry Coleman with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning Thursday to send Chicago back into first place in the blazing American League, by two percentage points ahead of New York, after a 3-2 victory over the Yankees.

Until the ninth, Connie Johnson, a 32-year-old righthander up from Toronto, held the Yanks under control. A single by Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle's 22d home run suddenly narrowed his lead to one run. After Bobby Adams fumbled Bill Skowron's grounder for an error, Pierce came to the relief of Johnson.

Hank Bauer flied to Minnie Minoso but Phil Rizzuto walked. Casey Stengel sent another pinchhitter to the plate, Elston Howard, to bat for relief pitcher Jim Konstanty. Howard grounded out, moving the runners to second and third. Manager Marty Marion ordered Andy Carey passed intentionally, loading the bases.

Calls for Coleman

Stengel called for Coleman, who had been hit on the head in the last series between the two clubs, to bat for Joe Collins against the lefthanded reliever. Pierce responded to the challenge by striking out Coleman to end the game.

Walt Drogo's two-run homer off Bob Turley in the third provided the victory margin for the White Sox. The big first baseman drove his 14th homer into the lower right field stands with Minoso on base.

Chicago got to Turley for a run in the first inning after two were out. Minoso fouled out, Nellie Fox walked and Adams was called out on strikes. Drogo was safe when Billy Hunter fumbled his grounder for an error, Fox taking second.

Then Singles

After Jim Rivera hit a drive against the third deck in the right field that was ruled foul, the White Sox right fielder singled through the box, scoring Fox.

Rivera's fine arm and a diving tag by catcher Sherm Lollar saved Johnson's shutout bid in the sixth. Andy Carey was safe on Chico Carrasquel's wild throw and Collins walked to put Johnson in trouble. Gil McDougald flied to Rivera, Carey taking third on the catch.

With men on first and third and one out, Yogi Berra flied to Rivera, whose strong throw on the fly was caught by Lollar about three feet toward first base from home plate. Lollar dove across the plate, doubling Carey.

GOOD START

Don Eaddy, former University of Michigan baseball and basketball star, started a triple play in his first full game in organized ball with Des Moines of the Western League. Eaddy is a shortstop.

WHITE SOX RIGHTFIELDER, Jim Rivera, points to right field as he argues with plate umpire Charlie Berry in the first inning of the New York-Chicago game Thursday. Berry's foul call on Rivera's long drive started the argument. Listening is Yankee's first baseman Bill Skowron.

Homers, Redleg Errors Braves Beat Phillies, 4-2

CINCINNATI (AP)—Aided by three errors, a wild pitch and a passed ball, the Brooklyn Dodgers made their first nine hits good for nine runs Thursday night and they breezed to a 10-2 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Rookie Roger Craig held the Redlegs to five hits as he recorded his third straight pitching triumph since joining the Dodgers less than two weeks ago.

Craig struck out eleven. Roy Campanella hit two home runs for the Dodgers and Pee-Wee Reese and Don Zimmer got one homer each. Ted Kluszewski got his 33rd circuit blow of the season for the Reds.

The Dodgers clobbered starter Art Fowler out of the game in a hurry as they clipped him for four quick runs in the opening inning. He lasted through one batter in the second as two singles, a sacrifice and Milt Smith's error accounted for two more runs.

Tigers Trip Orioles, 7-5; Lary Wins 10th

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, fighting to get back into the first division of the American League, slapped down the Baltimore Orioles, 7-5, Thursday to take four out of the five-game series.

Pitcher Frank Lary gained his 10th victory as the Tigers jumped off to a three-run advantage in the first inning on Reno Bertoia's double that drove in three runs.

Giants Beat Cubs, Gain Series Split

CHICAGO (AP)—The New York Giants celebrated Manager Leo Durocher's return to the helm Thursday by handing the Cubs a 4-1 licking and gained a split of the four game series.

Durocher, returning from his mother's funeral in West Springfield, Mass., on Tuesday, watched Ruben Gomez and Paul Giel hold the Cubs on five hits.

Captain Al Dark opened the productive third with a single and Gomez walked with one out. Wayne Terwilliger's sixth hit of the series scored Dark, and before Rush could pitch out of more trouble Whitey Lockman singled for the second run and Willie Mays' sharp safety to right scored two more.

The Cubs' run was posted in the eighth when Ernie Banks walked with two out and came around on Hank Sauer's double to right.

Braves Beat Phillies, 4-2

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves made it three in a row with a 4-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Thursday on the six-hit pitching of Bob Buhl and a 365-foot home run by Eddie Mathews.

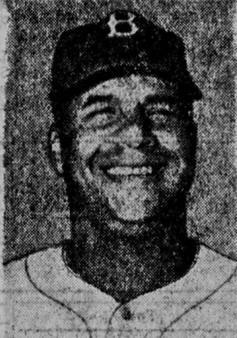

Buhl brought his season record to 8-7, after surviving a shaky two-run first inning. He never was in trouble after that.

The Braves handed little Murry Dickson his seventh loss and the first defeat in his last four starts. Philadelphia ... 300 600 908-2 6 1

Klontz Wins Junior Open Golf Crown

CHICAGO (AP)—Herb Klontz Jr., Cedar Rapids, defeated Jack Seyring, Waukegan, 3 and 2 Thursday to win the Chicago District Golf Association Junior Open title.

Klontz, an Evans Scholar at Iowa State, takes the crown out of Illinois for the first time in the 20-year history of the meet. He advanced to the afternoon finals with a 4 and 2 morning triumph over Tom Brown of Aurora, Ill., a Southern Methodist freshman.

Cardinals' Schmidt Stops Pirates, 4-1

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Right hander Willard Schmidt pitched three-hit ball for eight innings, then ran into a Pirate uprising in the ninth, but worked his way out with one run against him as the St. Louis Cardinals took a 4-1 victory from Pittsburgh Thursday night.

A double to Dale Long and single by Toby Atwell put Schmidt in trouble at the start of the ninth. He struck out Frank Thomas but a sacrifice fly by Johnny O'Brien spoiled his shutout.

The Redbirds gained three of their four runs in the second and third innings—two of those on sacrifice flies.

In the second, Wally Moon, who had singled and gained third on a single by Bill Virdon and walk to Stan Musial, scored on Alex Grammas' long fly.

Moon doubled home Ken Boyer in the third, and Musial, who walked after Boyer's single, scored as Virdon flied deep.

Tribe Beats Sox, Trails by 1 Game

BOSTON (AP)—The defending champion Cleveland Indians moved to within a game of the American League lead Thursday with a 6-4 triumph over the Boston Red Sox featuring Al Rosen's two-run homer and a critical strikeout of Ted Williams by reliever Don Mossi.

Al Rosen Hits 2-Run Homer

Rosen drove in three runs with his homer and a single but it was the lefthanded Mossi, inserted to face Williams after Boston got its third run in the eighth inning, who saved the day.

Down 6-2, Boston chased Indian starter Early Wynn after pinch-hitter Eddie Joost walked, Billy Goodman singled and Billy Klaus doubled for a run. Mossi came in to face the lefthanded slugging Williams and got him on a called third strike.

Ray Narleski hurled the ninth for the Indians, allowing a fourth tally on Grady Hatton's single but after Jim Piersall added another single, pinchhitter Faye Throneberry fanned to end the game.

It was the strikeout of Williams, however, that was the big one as the Tribe felled the Sox effort to sweep the series and pull into a third place tie with Cleveland.

Cleveland ... 102 500 908-0 9 1
Boston ... 600 602 911-1 11 1
Wynn, Mossi (8) Narleski (9) and Hegans; Parnell, Henry (4), Hurd (8) and Klander (3) and White.
Home run: Cleveland—Rosen.

Upper Iowa Names New Cage Coach Here

Everett Escheid, high school coach at Independence, was named head basketball coach at Upper Iowa University, Athletic Director Dr. John Dorman announced at the Iowa Memorial Union Thursday.

The appointment was announced at the Upper Iowa University's annual staff and alumni meeting here.

15 Horses Enter Arlington Race

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 15 thoroughbreds has been named for the $100,000 added Arlington Handicap Saturday and the world's richest grass race also will be a duel of the nation's leading jockeys.

Willie Shoemaker and Willie Hartack, locked in a battle for 1955 riding honors, and the two old masters of stake competition, Eddie Arcaro and Erick Guerin, all have mounts for the mile and three-sixteenths test.

Escheid, 42, will also serve as assistant athletic director and assistant coach for football and baseball.

Escheid, considered one of Upper Iowa's greatest football players, has been coaching football and baseball at Independence High School for the past 12 years.

He received a physical education certificate from Iowa in 1938.
