The Weather

Fair, hot and humid today and tonight. Possible thundershowers. Low today, 74 to 80 degrees. High, 95 to 101 degrees.

Iowa Citizens Broil, No Relief Forecast

Iowa Citizens sweated out the third straight day of 100-degree temperatures Friday while relief hung tantalizingly near the Minnesota border.

The temperature hit 100 at 3 p.m. Friday. It had been 102 Thursday and 101 Wednesday.

A weak front of cool air lurked near the Minnesota border, but couldn't muster the strength to push itself south.

The relief promised Thursday for today failed to materialize.

Possible thundershowers were forecast for northern and eastern Iowa (including Iowa City), but they were not expected to bring more than temporary relief.

The long range forecast: temperatures in the 100's until Monday.

Temperatures Friday ranged from 94 at Mason City, the state's "ice-box" to 101 in Council Bluffs and Des Moines.

At least six deaths have been attributed to the heat since the siege of hot weather began last Monday in Iowa.

There was one consolation for those old enough to remember: it still isn't as bad as the July, 1936 heat wave.

Then, 26 of July's 31 days had temperatures above 90 degrees. The mercury reached 100 on 15 of the days, including the record 110 of July 25.

2 Senators Say Talbott Will Resign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two highly placed Republican Senators said Friday the resignation of Harold E. Talbott as Secretary of the Air Force is "imminent" but Talbott himself said that wasn't true.

The two Senators, both members of the GOP Senate policy committee, declined use of their names in connection with the report.

Talbott, reached by phone at his home, said the report "wasn't true at all. It's just a rumor."

Later, however, he said, "I will do nothing at any time to embarrass President Eisenhower, and I will do whatever the President wishes me to do."

White House Comment

Asked for comment at the White House, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said: "There is nothing before us."

One senator reported that several Republican members of the Senate have told the White House they thought the acknowledged "mistake" Talbott made in promoting a profitable outside business interest from his Pentagon office "made it advisable that he should go."

The informant said Talbott has decided to relinquish his Pentagon post.

Second Report

Within an hour, the second senator made a similar report and said, "I believe my source is unimpeachable."

An inquiry by the Senate Investigations subcommittee has disclosed that Talbott, in the 2½ years he has served as civilian head of the Air Force, has received $132,032 in profits from a partnership in Paul B. Mulligan & Co., a New York management engineering firm. Some of the firm's customers have defense contracts with the government.

Talbott announced he is relinquishing the partnership, effective Sunday, and said his mistakes, as he saw them in retrospect, were that he had permitted himself to write letters or make telephone calls about the company from his Air Force office.

Can Govern Forever, Ike Advises GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Friday the Republicans would retain control of the national administration forever if they would unite behind the principles he advocates.

The President, addressing a preadjournment breakfast rally of Republican senators and representatives, gave no hint of whether he plans to run for reelection next year but some of his backers appeared encouraged by his remarks.

Reporters were not admitted to the Statler Hotel room where the breakfast was served, but Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, gave them a summary of his talk afterward.

Hagerty said the President made no direct reference to next year's presidential campaign "even in passing." There was a chorus of "We Want Ike" when the President entered the room, and many of the GOP lawmakers wore big red, white and blue "Ike in '56" buttons.

Eisenhower urged the legislators to bring positive messages back to their constituents when Congress adjourns. He suggested they stress renewed hopes for world peace and the three parts of his domestic program which apparently will not get through Congress this session: highways, schools and health.

George Faces McCarthy in Bitter Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — All at once the normally polite, honeyed tone of the Senate vanished.

There stood white-haired Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.), a senator for 32 of his 77 years. He looked grim, and he spoke bluntly, with none of the usual senatorial flourishes.

And there stood Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.), 45, who in eight years in the Senate has made more headlines than most legislators do in a lifetime. He, too, looked grim.

Before they had finished, the Senate heard some of the bitterest talk of its rather placid session of Congress, including a curt comment by George that "I shall not perjure myself" by referring to McCarthy as a good senator.

Feeling Comes Through

Even Friday, in the cold print of the Congressional Record, some of the feeling comes through.

It began when McCarthy introduced a resolution calling for the Senate to resolve that Nationalist China should be included in the talks with Communist China that begin in Geneva Monday.

The resolution naturally would go to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, of which George is chairman.

McCarthy said he was in a hurry for action on his proposal.

Regular Order

George: "If the committee reaches the resolution in regular order, I shall be glad to take it up. Otherwise, I will not."

McCarthy: "The senator indicates a certain amount of hostility toward the resolution. I know the senator from Georgia has suggested that we hold these meetings without our Allies being present."

Here came a rather heated discussion over whether George ever had suggested such a thing. George insisted he hadn't, and he wound up with:

"I care not what the senator from Wisconsin may think of the senator from Georgia."

McCarthy: "I think he is a good senator. I have always said that."

Wishes To Reciprocate

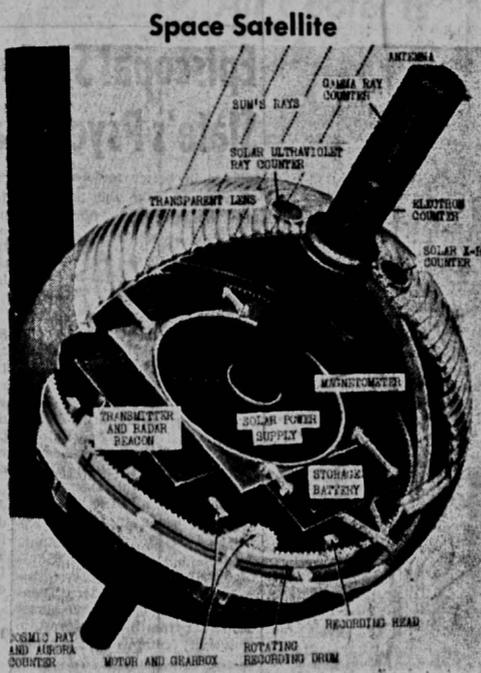

George: "Very well I wish I could reciprocate the compliment, Mr. President, but I shall not perjure myself with such a statement as that."

McCarthy: "I think we are clear on this. The senator chooses to engage in personal insults. I do not. I wish to make it clear that when I offered the opinion that the senator from Georgia was a good senator, I was referring to morals, character, and such things. I was not referring to his recent activities, especially during the past year, as chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. Of these, I do not approve."

Morality Question

George: "I thank the senator. I thank him very much. On the question of morality, I suppose I can agree that the senator from Wisconsin is a good moral man. "I am not referring to whether he is serving his country well. That is a question he must determine for himself, and which all of us must determine for ourselves. I do not undertake to determine it for any other member of this body. I never had done that, and I never shall."

"I try to determine it for myself; that is all."

PROF. S. F. SINGER, University of Maryland physicist, advanced the idea shown here for a space satellite. The cutaway drawing shows an aluminum sphere about two feet in diameter and weighing 100 pounds or so. Most of the weight consists of equipment and instruments to measure cosmic rays, solar, ultraviolet and x-rays.

U.S. To Launch Satellites in 1958

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower disclosed Friday that the United States plans to launch history's first manmade, earth-orbiting satellites by the end of 1958.

Still not perfected, the satellites are envisaged by government scientists as small globes, about the size of basketballs. They would be launched by rockets and circle the earth once every 90 minutes at a speed of 18,000 miles per hour and a height of 200 or 300 miles.

They are expected to remain aloft for days and perhaps weeks, then spiral back down and disintegrate as they hit the heavier atmosphere.

In announcing that President Eisenhower has approved the satellite project, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty emphasized that it is for "entirely scientific purposes."

Scientists of all nations, including Russia, he said, will be able to observe the space objects and will receive all the scientific facts developed from the program.

Some members of Congress immediately objected to cutting Russia in on grounds it might provide the Soviets with valuable information for the race to develop intercontinental guided missiles.

The satellites won't be in the nature of much-discussed space platforms that might be used for both scientific and military purposes. But they are expected to provide information of practical value to mankind that might lead to improved weather forecasting and improved radio transmission, for example.

Little Known Region

Scientists taking part in the program said that little is known about the regions beyond the earth's close-down, denser atmospheric layers, which act as a partial shield against light, ultraviolet rays and cosmic rays from outer space, as well as meteorites.

If they can get a better understanding of solar radiation, by use of the satellites, they may be able to relate it to weather and climate. Radiations from the sun disturb radio communications, and greater knowledge of them may lead to corrective measures.

The big experiment may supply facts that will be helpful eventually in turning into reality the space-travel yarns of science fiction.

The sponsors of the project, the National Science Foundation and the National Academy of Sciences, said in a joint statement that observations of the satellites will "indicate the conditions that will have to be met and the difficulties that would have to be overcome if the day comes when man goes beyond the earth's atmosphere in his travels."

International Geophysical Year

The satellite program is planned as part of this country's participation in the International Geophysical Year, from July 1957, to December 1958. Some 40 other nations, Russia among them, also will take part in worldwide studies of the earth's sciences.

It was in response to a resolution by the special committee for the International Geophysical Year, recommending that serious thought be given to "the launching of small satellite vehicles," that the United States decided to go ahead with the satellite program.

Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation, said Friday's announcement has a dual significance because: "1. We regard the project as feasible."

"2. We can put a time schedule on it — 1957-58."

Waterman said exploratory work with rockets, which have reached a height of 250 miles, supports the confidence that satellites net yet fully blueprinted can be launched by the end of 1958.

Could See Tiny Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the government gets a basketball-sized satellite to circle the earth you will be able to see it.

"You could perhaps barely see it at twilight with the naked eye — certainly you could see it with binoculars," Dr. Athelstan F. Spilhaus said.

The satellite would be illuminated by the sun, as is the moon.

Spilhaus is a member of the U.S. National Committee for International Geophysical Year.

He and other scientists at the White House news conference for the announcement of the planned satellites answered with a chorus of "yes" when a reporter asked if the announcement meant "we are capable of putting the satellite."

SUI Mechanical Conference Opens

CARROLL (AP) — The seventh annual State University of Iowa newspaper mechanical conference opened Friday at the Burke Hotel here.

Various problems in newspaper production were discussed during the day. A noon luncheon with Publisher James W. Wilson of the Carroll Times Herald welcoming the visitors was to be followed later by a study of typesetter newspaper operation in the Times Herald plant.

The newspaper was host at a social hour later.

POSTMASTER NOMINATIONS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has sent to the Senate the Iowa postmaster nominations of William Kenneth Harms, Fredericksburg; Gerald A. Pallesen, Marcus, and Kenneth J. De Pree, Maurice, Iowa.

Turncoats Arrive In U.S., Face Trial For Betrayal

Lumpa Still Eludes Police After 11 Days

Wayne Lumpa, who broke out of Johnson County Jail 11 days ago, was still at large Friday night.

He has managed to elude state and local police since July 20, though numerous reports of him in the Iowa City area have been received.

The latest reports, received by Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy's office late Thursday and Friday morning proved to be futile leads.

Reported Hitchhiking

Lumpa was reportedly seen hitchhiking in Iowa City at about 7 p.m. Thursday and at about 8 p.m. in Cedar Rapids.

Deputy Sheriff Donald L. Wilson said at least one of the reports must have been false unless Lumpa had transportation.

Murphy and Wilson followed up another lead Friday morning. They had received a report that Lumpa had been seen on the West Branch road, northeast of the city, but a short search indicated the report was false.

Wilson said Friday that numerous reports of Lumpa's whereabouts have been received since he broke jail but searches have indicated only a few of them were valid.

The sheriff's office said Friday stakeouts at homes of Lumpa's relatives near Iowa City had been abandoned.

The last trace of Lumpa was found Wednesday. The sheriff's office received a report that Lumpa was seen on a country road near North Liberty. When they investigated they found an abandoned stolen car containing clothes Lumpa had worn when he escaped.

In Vicinity Wednesday

"We know he was in this vicinity Wednesday," Wilson said, "but where he is now is anybody's guess."

Lumpa escaped with only the clothes on his back.

However he seems to have gotten money and new clothes since then. Officers said Lumpa left $20 as deposit on a tire he borrowed Wednesday night after the stolen car he was driving had a flat.

Found in the stolen car were new clothes in a bag from a Cedar Rapids store and shaving equipment.

Lumpa was first believed living on field corn or stolen garden crops.

He has made good use of the tall corn in the fields about Iowa City, eluding officers on several occasions by fleeing into fields along country roads.

Lumpa is very familiar with the area northeast of the city. "He knows this country like the back of his hand," Wilson commented shortly after Lumpa broke jail.

Bridges Is Cleared On Fraud Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Harry Bridges was cleared Friday of a government charge that when he obtained United States citizenship in 1945 he committed fraud by swearing he wasn't a Communist.

Federal District Judge Louis E. Goodman, who heard the civil action without a jury, handed down his verdict in a jammed courtroom.

The black-robed judge commented that the government had to meet "an exacting standard" to cancel Bridges' citizenship "after 10 years of presumptively good and proper citizenship."

He said the government "did not meet this standard by the kind of witnesses it produced. Particularly is this so, after abortive efforts to prove the same issue in different proceedings and after the passage of many years."

The government had three times before tried to imprison Bridges or deport him to Australia, where he was born.

Bridges, who is head of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, celebrated his 54th birthday Thursday. He was elated by the verdict, but he knows that the government can—and probably will—appeal.

OTHO G. BELL, 24, former U.S. soldier who turned to the Communists and then changed his mind, breaks into tears and sobs as he embraces his father, Elbert Bell of Hillsboro, Miss., who greeted him Friday when the liner President Cleveland docked. Bell, one of three turncoats who decided to come home and face the music rather than to continue under the Communists, was arrested by the Army.

Bulgaria Offers Partial Payment for Airliner

JERUSALEM (AP) — Communist Bulgaria has promised partial payment, at least, for the Israeli airliner its gunners shot down Wednesday, a Foreign Office spokesman said Friday.

The plane, which carried 12 Americans and 46 other persons to a flaming death on Red soil, was a Lockheed-built Constellation valued at about a million dollars.

What Bulgaria intends to do about compensation for the lives lost was not expressly stated.

The Foreign Office spokesman said a note handed Israeli Charge d'Affaires Baruch Nir in Sofia Thursday and received here Friday declared the Bulgarian government's "readiness to take upon itself the respective part of the material damage which has been caused, after it is duly established."

The phrase about "the respective part" suggested Bulgaria might contend the El Al Israel Airlines crew, in crossing the frontier, shared blame with the Red anti-aircraft gunners for what the Bulgarians called "this deplorable accident."

Red China set a new pattern last year for settlement of commercial air incidents at the rim of the Communist sphere. Peiping apologized to Britain and paid $1,027,600 for the destruction of a British airliner by Communist fighters and the death of 10 persons aboard it off Hainan Island July 23, 1954.

The Israeli Constellation was downed while on its way from Vienna to Istanbul. Its dogleg route normally angled across Yugoslavia and Greece west and south of Bulgaria.

The airline, owned in part by the Israeli government, Friday challenged Sofia's story that the plane was off-course for 100 miles over Bulgarian territory, but announced a diversion of flights to avoid the Bulgarian frontier. All planes from Israel to Zurich and Vienna now will fly via Rome.

Adams Again Shuns Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — For a second time Friday, chief presidential aide Sherman Adams refused to testify in an investigation of the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract.

Replying to a request that he reconsider an earlier refusal, Adams wrote Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), chairman of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee: "In my letter I made my position clear, and that position has not changed."

Friday's hearing also brought a charge from Kefauver that a Securities and Exchange Commission hearing on Dixon-Yates financing was "a fraud and a sham."

The Dixon-Yates contract recently was ordered canceled by President Eisenhower when Memphis, Tenn., decided to build a municipal generating plant rather than take Dixon-Yates power. The private plant was intended to supply energy to Memphis to replace power diverted to the Atomic Energy Commission from the Tennessee Valley system.

Given Brief Reunion with Relatives

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three American former prisoners of war in Korea came home Friday — not to heroes' welcomes, but to immediate arrest for betraying their country and their countrymen.

These were the men who had elected to stay with the Chinese Communists at the end of the Korean War. In 1953, they changed their minds after two years of life with the Reds.

Otho G. Bell, William A. Cowart and Lewis W. Griggs had a short 90-minute reunion with their relatives when the liner President Cleveland docked at the end of the long trip from Hong Kong.

Arrested

Then, within minutes after they had cleared customs with their scanty possessions, the U.S. Army arrested them and took them to the stockade at Ft. Baker, across the Golden Gate from San Francisco.

Charges against the turncoats could lead to a possible death sentence for each. They knew it. Although obviously shaken, none uttered a word of protest when Capt. Walter R. Leahy of the 6th Army Provost Marshal's office, formally read off the charges.

Bell and Griggs had perhaps the most damning charge read against them — "soliciting a general officer of the United States Army to desert." All three were charged with betraying their fellow prisoners in efforts to improve their own situation in the bleak Korean prisoner of war camps.

Charges Against Bell

Bell, 24, of Hillsboro, Miss., and Olympic, Wash., heard the news first. These were the charges against him:

"... depriving prisoners of food, aiding the enemy in preparing enemy sponsored propaganda material, and conspiring to cause and advising and soliciting a general officer of the United States Army to desert."

The charge against Cowart, 22, of Dalton, Ga., was more detailed:

"... informing of prisoners' attempts to escape, prisoners' thefts of food, prisoners' assaults upon you, prisoners' criticism of the Communists, prisoners' disruption of the routine of the camp — all for the purpose of securing favorable treatment of yourself; writing enemy-sponsored articles and letters and preparing posters inimical to the United States; participating in plays representing the United States as an illegal aggressor; participating in the kangaroo trial of a fellow prisoner and advocating that the death penalty be imposed; preparing enemy-sponsored indoctrination articles; circulating peace petitions, serving voluntarily on a peace committee and soliciting a prisoner to refuse repatriation."

Griggs charged

Griggs, 22, of Jacksonville, Tex., heard these charges read:

"... informing your captors of the theft of tobacco by a prisoner for the purpose of securing favorable treatment for yourself; wrongfully holding intercourse with the enemy, attending enemy-sponsored activities, aiding in preparing enemy-sponsored propaganda expressing favorable views of your captors, writing enemy-sponsored articles critical of the United States and making voice recordings accusing the United States of using bacteriological warfare in Korea, supporting enemy-controlled indoctrination and propaganda groups, signing and authorizing the dispatch of a letter inviting a general officer of the United States Army to desert, and conspiring with others to advise and solicit a general officer of the United States Army to desert."

Earlier, the turncoats stood on their ship's sundeck and greeted the families they hadn't seen for five or six years.

The return home of Bell, Griggs and Cowart leaves 17 Americans still in Red China of the 21 who chose to go there rather than come back at the end of the Korean War. One died in China, the Reds have reported.

House Passes Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Friday passed, 396-3, a stripped-down housing bill minus the new public housing President Eisenhower requested.

The measure then headed for conference with a Senate measure that has liberal public housing provisions. Expectation was that a compromise would emerge with some public housing in it — perhaps close to the 35,000 units a year for two years that Eisenhower sought.

Public housing foes scored a victory in the key vote of the day when, by a count of 217-188, the House substituted a skeleton measure by Representative Wolcott (R-Mich.) for an omnibus bill approved by the House Banking Committee.

The committee bill provided for the same number of public housing units Eisenhower requested, but also had a number of provisions the administration didn't seek. The Wolcott bill leaves out public housing altogether. There was no clear word from the White House in support of either bill.

The legislation is a major "must" for congressional passage before adjournment because various federal housing programs would otherwise expire.

The Wolcott bill would give the Federal Housing Administration an additional four billion dollars authority to insure home mortgages, an amount Wolcott said would allow that giant program to continue until July 1, 1956.

FHA's authority to insure loans on home repair and modernization would also be extended to next July 1 and an additional 500 million dollars would be authorized for urban renewal.

Recognition of Red China—

The foreign ministers conference in Geneva next Monday will find the United States negotiating with the representatives of Communist China over the question of a possible cease-fire in the Formosa Straits.

Our negotiations with the Peiping regime will not constitute in any way any recognition of the Communist Chinese government, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles carefully pointed out in a news conference earlier this week.

It is rather difficult for us to see how we can say that we are going to negotiate with a government that we do not officially recognize as in existence.

It seems to us that the United States ought to reconsider its policy of refusing to recognize the Peiping government. Chiang Kai-shek is in reality only the leader of the Chinese Nationalists who are concentrated on Formosa and a few of the surrounding islands. It is quite certain that he cannot speak for the mainland of China. If he does claim to do so, he cannot enforce any agreements which he might make involving the Chinese mainland.

In fact Mao Tse-tung and his Communist cohorts maintain practical control of the Chinese mainland. The United States has had many dealings with this government but always there is the necessity of going through the diplomatic channels of the embassies of nations that have recognized the Chinese Communists.

The argument is often advanced that if we were to recognize Peiping, we would be selling the Nationalists "down the river." So we continue to ignore diplomatically the most powerful nation in the Far East.

If we were to recognize the Communist government we would not have to turn our backs on the Nationalists. We could continue to support them and prevent the Communists from driving them from Formosa. It seems very evident that without U.S. support, Chiang is not going to successfully return to the mainland. And that support the U.S. has refused to give.

England was one of the first nations to admit that—legally or not—Mao's government was in control of the Chinese mainland. On the basis of that fact, England recognized the new government.

We think that it is time the U.S. made a similar decision. We cannot continue to ignore this powerful Communist nation merely because we do not approve of the methods used by the regime in power.

It is time that we dealt with facts.

Episcopal Students Study at State's Psychopathic Hospital

To gain better understanding of men and to be able to recognize mental illness, four Episcopal divinity students are working and studying at the State Psychopathic Hospital in Iowa City this summer.

"As Episcopal priests we will be in a position to spot people through counseling who have mental illnesses, and refer them to hospitals," said Robert Gerhard of Chicago.

"Working with mentally ill patients will also help us understand normal people, because the personality characteristics we see exaggerated in the mentally ill are present in all of us."

From Theological School George Shell, Billings, Mont., Dick Salmon, N. Y., Jim Sumter, Wis., and Gerhard are students at Seabury-Western Theological Seminary, located across the street from the Northwestern University campus in Evanston, Ill.

A fifth student from Seabury-Western, Jack Yamamoto, Neb., is spending the summer at the Crippled Children's Hospital. Arrangements for summer work between the State University of Iowa and Seabury-Western have existed since 1948.

The divinity students must elect a summer's work at a social institution during their three-year course to receive the Bachelor of Divinity degree. After graduation they are ordained deacons for one year, then ordained Episcopal priests. Classmates of the students at LONDON (AP) — Billy Graham sailed home Friday after captivating thousands of European hearts.

By careful estimate, the North Carolina evangelist has spoken to 3 and one-half million people since he opened a six-week campaign in Glasgow last March. Many more have heard him on radio or television.

Kelvin Hall in Glasgow accommodates about 17,000. He filled it every weekday night for six weeks, and frequently came out to address overflow crowds. He filled the Hampden Park football stadium near Glasgow, largest in Europe, to its capacity of 100,000. He preached for a week in London's Wembley Stadium, where the 1948 Olympics were held.

Went to Continent After that he went to the Continent and took his message to Frenchmen, Swiss, Germans, Danes, Norwegians, Dutch, Swedes and American servicemen. Despite language barriers those audiences totaled almost half a million.

Once more he came to Britain, and this month at the Arsenal football stadium in London he preached to 45,000 at the closing meeting of the Baptist World Alliance.

There remained a few dates with American servicemen in France and then, said Graham, "It's time to go home."

Pleased With Reception Most clergymen have expressed opinions like Billy Graham and concede that his methods bring results. And he is pleased with his reception on the Continent.

"We heard a few discordant voices, as one would expect," he said. "But the press and religious groups were more cooperative than they were a year ago." He feels there is great spiritual hunger on the Continent, particularly in France and Germany.

In Germany original doubts about Graham appeared to have been overcome largely by the sincerity of his appeal. Christ and the World, a Protestant weekly of Stuttgart, said: "Graham is certainly a deeply religious man. But one must ask whether it is good to include the church in the province of the business promoter and whether it is sufficient to fill as many football stadiums as possible."

TO SPONSOR SOCIAL The Pilgrim Fellowship, First Congregational student group, will hold its annual "A La Mode" Ice Cream Social Monday, Aug. 1, from 4 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at the church. Contributions of pies and cakes for the social are being solicited from members and friends of the church.

Two Korean Children May Realize Dreams

Two Korean children are being provided with some of the basic necessities because of the generosity of Robert Tichane, G. Towanda, Pa., and his family.

Sin Mook Sik, a 13-year-old Korean boy, and a ten-year-old girl, Lim Hwa Soon, were adopted by Tichane through the Foster Parents Plan for War Children.

Both youngsters live in Korea, Sin in an orphanage and Lim with her mother, two sisters, and a brother. Her father was killed in an accident six months ago.

Working on Ph.D. Tichane who is working toward his Ph.D. in chemistry, adopted Sin in April, 1954, and Lim at the beginning of this year.

Under the Foster Parents Plan, persons who adopt war orphans send certain amounts of money to the organization in Korea for the support of the children. The foster parents can correspond with the children and will receive letters from them about once a month.

Parents Missing Sin was five years old when the Korean War broke out. Communist armies occupied his home town and his parents are believed to be dead. After spending more than two years wandering in the war-torn country, he was brought to an orphanage in December, 1952.

Just like other little boys Sik has his dreams. His ambition is to become the President of the Republic of Korea. Probably through the help of his foster parent he now is a step closer to the realization of it.

Lim was born in Seoul. Her father, who was an electrician, was killed on his job and since then her mother has been the sole supporter of the family.

Hopes To Be Dressmaker She hopes to become a dressmaker some day, and make all the lovely clothes that she has not had the opportunity to have. It may be that the assistance extended to her by Tichane will bring her closer to her dream.

Foster Parent's Plan has cared for more than 75,000 war children. It is now operating in Belgium, England, France, Western Germany, Greece, Holland, Italy and Korea, and is helping unfortunate and impoverished children of nineteen different nationalities without regard to race or creed.

THIS IS LIM HWA SOON, the 10-year-old Korean girl adopted by Robert Tichane through the Foster Parents Plan for War Children.

Air Cooler Is Too Popular At Library

The popularity of the air conditioning system at the State University of Iowa Library led to its downfall Wednesday night.

The entire cooling system failed when somebody left his belongings strewn over one of the cold air outlets.

A library maintenance man explained that all of the air conditioning units are hooked up together. If one unit is damaged, the rest of the system is affected.

The most frequent cause of failure is an inadequate supply of air to the refrigeration coils. This results in the frosting over of the coils. The reaction is similar to what happens in a kitchen refrigerator when defrosting is neglected.

When the coils have frosted sufficiently the cooling fluid is unable to flow freely and pressure builds up until it bursts a pipe.

By Friday the cooling system was once again in working order after Wednesday and Thursday were spent repairing it.

Library officials suggest that much money and discomfort can be saved if people will refrain from setting or piling books on the cold air vents.

Cool Air Interference

BILL HOWARD, A3, West Union, demonstrates how to put the air conditioner at the State University of Iowa library on the blink. By blocking the flow of air, persons have caused pipes in the air conditioner to freeze and burst.

SUI To Hold 3-Week TV Workshop

Eleven colleges and universities, six city systems and two foreign broadcasting commissions will be represented at the Educational Television Production Workshop to be held at the State University of Iowa Aug. 14 through Sept. 3.

Sponsored by the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, the workshop is being conducted by SUI on a $4,500 grant made by the NAEB. It will be directed by Prof. John Ross Winnie of the SUI Television Center.

The workshop will cover all phases of television production, including the making of films for TV use, Winnie says. Faculty for the workshop will include John Mercer, Clarence Phillips, Robert Stumme and Winnie, all members of the SUI TV Center staff; Frank Ballard, Phil Cox and Murray Yeager, graduate assistants at the Center; Ed Stasheff of the University of Michigan, and Rudy Bretz of the Alabama Educational Television Association.

Patrick de Rochefort-Reynolds will come from Brisbane, Australia, where he is supervisor of youth education for the Australian Broadcasting Commission, to attend the SUI workshop. Kay Kinane of the Commission's New York office and B. F. Attridge, research and program assistant for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, will also attend the workshop.

Other workshop participants will come from Ohio State, New York, Louisiana State and South Dakota universities, the Universities of Minnesota, Kentucky, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Iowa, Texas State College for Women, West Liberty State College of West Virginia, Queens College in New York City, and the city or regional educational TV centers of Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Roanoke, Va., and Birmingham, Ala.

Fischer To Marry Des Moines Widow

MAXWELL AIR FORCE BASE, Ala. (AP) — Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., of Sweeney City and Mary Jane Peterson, attractive Des Moines widow, plan to be married in the chapel here Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Peterson and Fischer, 30, became acquainted through letters she wrote him when he was a prisoner of the Chinese Communists. After his release May 31, they met and a romance developed.

Fischer, a double jet ace, was shot down over northern Korea in April, 1953. The captain's wife received a divorce the same day. They had a son, Harold III, now 6.

Mrs. Peterson is the widow of Lt. Robert Peterson, who was killed in a plane crash in Korea in 1951, two weeks after arriving overseas. She has a 5-year-old daughter, Dana Lynn.

Fischer's best man will be Lt. Col. Edward Heller of Wynnewood, Pa., who was liberated with the Iowan on May 31.

Two other jet pilots also released at the same time will attend. They are 1st Lt. Ronald Parks of Omaha and 1st Lt. Lyle Cameron of Lincoln, Neb.

Girl Scouts To Start New Orleans Trip

Thirty-eight Iowa City Girl Scouts from the Cardinal Council will leave Monday on a trip to New Orleans, Texas, and Mexico.

Fourteen of the girls will go on into Mexico while the rest return to Iowa City.

Mrs. Hugh Carson, executive director of the Cardinal Council, and three counselors will accompany the girls on the entire trip to Acapulco, Mexico. Mrs. Dale Slaymaker will accompany the girls who return from San Antonio without going into Mexico.

Gudrun Weinacht, Girl Scout counselor from Germany who has assisted at camp this year, will accompany the group on the first part of the trip.

In order to qualify for the annual trips, the girls must attend established camp at Camp Cardinal for three summers and qualify for the Girl Scout Pioneer Badge, Mrs. Carson said.

In the past six years, the girls have traveled to Sault Ste. Marie, Canada; Brainerd Lake, Colorado; Washington D.C.; Mexico City, Mexico; International Falls, Minnesota, and Glacier Basin Camp Grounds, Colorado.

In San Antonio, the group will stay with the Gail Kemp family, former residents of Iowa City.

Visits to floating museums, bull fights and shopping trips are part of the Mexico City agenda.

The Scouts returning from San Antonio with Mrs. Slaymaker expect to return to Iowa City Aug. 10, and those going to Mexico will return Aug. 21.

American Farmers Get Wine at Yalta

YALTA, Crimea, U.S.S.R. (AP) — American farmers touring the Soviet Union visited this Big Three Conference city Friday and left with gift bottles of aged wine.

Taken on a sightseeing tour, the 12-man group saw the former czarist palace with Stalin and Roosevelt studies which now have been converted into dining rooms. Premier Stalin, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill met here in 1945.

The Americans visited famed wineries of this Black Sea port, sampled several varieties and then took gift bottles back with them.

Swisher Man Sues Insurance Company

William W. Netolicky, Swisher, Friday filed suit in Johnson County District Court claiming payment of $630 under a policy he holds with the Combined Insurance Company of America, Chicago.

Netolicky claims that under the policy he should receive that amount for lost time and hospitalization expense following an injury to his elbow July 21, 1954.

The suit states that the insurance company has refused to make settlement.

4-H Entries May Top 1954's In Annual County Club Show

Today is the last day for the return of the livestock entry blanks for the 27th Annual 4-H Club Show held Aug. 8-12, during the 1955 Johnson County 4-H Fair.

Entries being received at the Johnson County extension office are expected to top the 1954 group when 225 boys and 325 girls showed animals in the many divisions of livestock judging, according to John E. Rydel, county extension youth assistant.

Rules governing livestock entries are the same as last year. A certificate of health and immunization against cholera must be presented with all swine. All heifers must be tested against Bangs disease and tuberculosis.

There are five divisions in the judging classes; 12 classes in the cattle division, eight in the swine, two in sheep, one in poultry and one in rabbit.

Richard Rogers, 14, Route 5, planned on showing a pen of market lambs, in the sheep division. But 100 degree temperatures caused the death of one of the lambs. Rogers still plans to enter two lambs individually.

Three special beef awards are offered this year, one of $5 from the American Aberdeen Angus Association to the champion steer, and $5 to the champion female, if Angus.

The American Hereford Association will add 25 per cent to all premiums of $4 or more in both baby beef and purebred heifer classes.

The American Shorthorn Breeders Association will add 20 per cent to all premiums of $5 or more. In addition, if the grand champion baby beef is sired by a Shorthorn bull, $25 in premium will be paid by the association.

If reserve grand champion is sired by a Shorthorn bull, $12.50 will be paid.

Final work on a 48 by 150 foot cement floor, which will be used as a hog display, will be completed early next week. A tent will be raised over the floor for the annual county 4-H fair.

Dr. Douglas W. Eastwood, associate professor of anesthesiology in the State University of Iowa College of Medicine, will become professor and head of the newly established Department of Anesthesiology at the University of Virginia Sept. 1, the president's office of that institution has announced.

Dr. Eastwood joined the SUI faculty last summer after directing the section of anesthesiology at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Iowa City.

The anesthesiology units of six medical schools will be headed by former SUI staff members when Dr. Eastwood takes up his new duties in September. Former SUI staff physicians now head units at Indiana University, the Universities of Colorado, Oklahoma and Washington, and the University of Innsbruck in Austria.

A 1953 graduate of the SUI College of Medicine, Dr. Eastwood interned at the Detroit Receiving Hospital, where he also spent nine months as a resident in internal medicine. Following 14 months of army service he returned to SUI for two years training in anesthesiology.

Vaccinated Child Contracts Polio

DES MOINES (AP) — The first case of poliomyelitis among Des Moines children who last spring received the first injection of anti-polio vaccine was reported Friday by the City Health Department.

John Barnes, 7 1/2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Barnes, suffered a non-paralytic form of the disease, the department said.

The boy's mother said Friday that his condition was considered "satisfactory."

Dr. Abraham Gelperin, Des Moines-Polk County health director, said in May, three weeks after the shots were given, that any illness developing by that time or later in children who received the injections could have no connection with the vaccine.

The Health Department Friday also reported four other polio cases among Des Moines residents, increasing the total this year to 24.

No Wonder Chicagoan Doesn't Mind the Heat

CHICAGO (AP) — With temperatures in the nineties, a Chicago radio station interviewed a Northwestern University professor who does research work in a room where the temperature is a -80 degrees.

"Do you mind the heat much when you go home at night," a WLS interviewer asked Prof. Edward Obert. "No, it doesn't bother me," Obert explained. "I bought an air conditioner."

Lake View Citizens Vote Financial Aid for Sewer

LAKE VIEW (AP) — Lake View citizens voted 303 to 70 Thursday to approve issuance of $47,500 worth of bonds to help finance a sewer extension at Black Hawk Lake.

This is the first step toward making the community eligible for state aid up to $125,000 for the project. Contracts are to be let this fall, and construction is to start next spring.

Iowa Sells 23,000 Football Season Tickets

Iowa sold its highest number of season football tickets this year, Francis "Buzz" Graham, business manager of the Iowa Athletic Department, announced Friday.

Although the final figures are not available yet, Graham estimated that 23,000 were sold. The previous high, 18,000, was sold last year.

This record sale means that fewer individual game tickets will be available. They will go on sale Monday.

Break-Down

A break-down of tickets show that from 2,000 to 9,000 will be available for each home game.

After season tickets, tickets for students, faculty and staff, press and radio, "I" Club and others are filled, about 9,000 seats will remain for each game.

The number of these 9,000 tickets that will be available to Hawkeye followers will vary depending on the number of tickets allotted to the visiting team.

Least Number

The least number of tickets will be available for the Minnesota game because Minnesota will get 7,000 tickets, Graham said. That leaves 2,000.

The most tickets are available for the non-conference opener with Kansas State. It has ordered 300 tickets, Graham said. All figures are estimates, he said.

Minnesota Tickets

Tickets for the Minnesota game may have to be restricted to two or four per order, Graham said. If they have to be restricted, Graham said he would like to allot four per order, but if the demand is heavy that may have to be cut to two.

A decision will be made after the numbers of orders has been examined, he added.

This year Iowa is using a new system for selling football tickets. Season tickets were sold before individual game tickets were put on sale. Previously, they were sold at the same time.

'Orders Filled'

"All season ticket orders are filled that have been received and all ticket orders will be mailed out to purchasers Sept. 1," Graham said.

"The business office operation has been simplified by the new system and we will probably follow it in years to come because it has proved most efficient in all ways," he added.

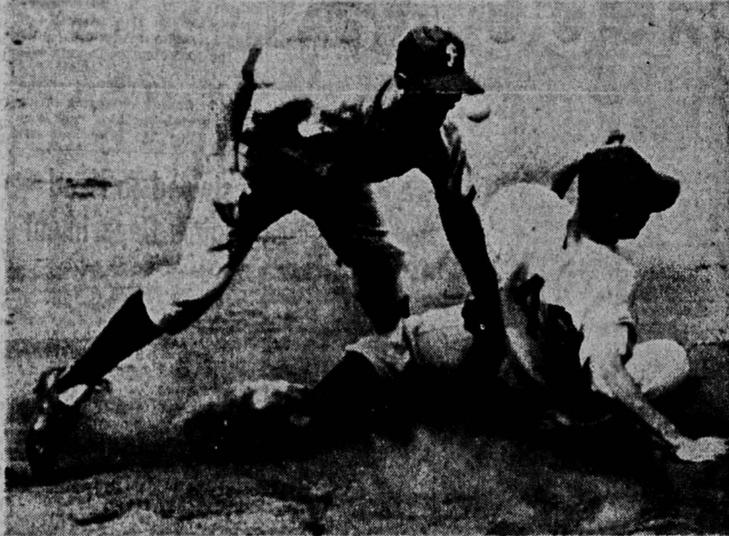

Iowa's home schedule is: Sept. 24, Kansas State; Oct. 8, Indiana (Dad's Day); Oct. 15, Purdue (Homecoming); and Nov. 5, Minnesota.

Tickets are $3.60 per game. Season ticket purchasers contributed $1,800 to the Olympic fund, Graham also said. A contribution of 25 cents was included on all season ticket orders. Some contributed more, he said. The fund is a nation wide project to raise money to send the Olympic team to Australia, Graham added.

TENNIS FINALS

The National tennis championships will be held at Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 2-11, inclusive.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves tagged three New York pitchers for 11 hits, including a two-run triple by Eddie Mathews, to beat the Giants, 5-2, for their fifth victory in a row before a near capacity crowd of 40,492 Friday night.

The Braves hung the loss on their ex-teammate, lefthander Johnny Antonelli. Ray Crone got the win. He gave up nine hits.

The Braves still trail the league leading Dodgers by 12½ games as the Brooks also won.

The Braves breezed off to a three-run lead in the first inning on singles by Billy Bruton, Johnny Logan, Mathews' triple and a sacrifice fly.

Andrews Wins Two Quarterfinal Matches

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — Art Andrews, Iowa City, upset Mike Green, Miami Beach, Fla., seeded No. 1, in the quarterfinals of the National Junior and Boys Tennis Tournament here Friday. He won 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.

He broke Green's serve in the third set with two consecutive short angled passing shots to take the match.

Green, seeded No. 2 in 1954, was a member of the U.S. Davis Cup squad that won the cup in Australia last winter.

Andrews will play Ron Holmberg, Brooklyn, N.Y., in the semifinals today.

In a doubles quarterfinal match, Andrews and Crawford Henry, Atlanta, Ga., seeded No. 1, downed Dick Atkinson and Bob Delgado, both of Los Angeles, Calif., 7-5, 6-2.

Atkinson and Delgado had not lost a set in California junior tennis this year.

Andrews and Henry will play Green and Baumhardner, seeded No. 4, in the doubles semifinals.

Evers, Wertz Lead Tribe Past Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—Former Oriole Vic Wertz, with his first home run in Memorial Stadium, and Hoot Evers helped beat the Cleveland Indians to a 7-1 victory over Baltimore Friday night as Mike Garcia scored his first nine-inning pitching triumph since June 24.

Garcia's four-hit victory was his seventh against 10 defeats. He stopped Jim Dyck's hitting streak at 13 games.

Evers, for whom the Orioles recently got a waiver exchange for Al Wight, the losing pitcher, doubled to send Larry Doby to third in the second inning. Doby came home on an error and Jim Hegan scored Evers on a sacrifice fly.

Al Smith was on base with a single when Wertz hit his homer in the seventh.

Williams, Nixon Lead Boston, 5-0

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox remained within three games of the top Friday night, cooling off the fifth-place Detroit Tigers, 5-0, behind the four-hit pitching of Willard Nixon and Ted Williams' 17th home run.

The victory, the Red Sox' 38th of their last 50 games, kept them two games behind the third place Cleveland Indians and boosted their margin to 3½ over the Tigers.

Williams' bases-empty homer in the first inning was his fifth of the year against Detroit and Nixon's triumph his third without a loss against the Tigers.

Collins' Hit In 8th Wins For Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Pinchhitter Joe Collins slashed a single through the middle scoring Mickey Mantle in the eighth inning to enable the New York Yankees to edge the Kansas City A's, 3-2, Friday night.

The triumph kept the Yanks two percentage points behind the Chicago White Sox in the torrid American League pennant race, .612 to .610. The White Sox defeated the Washington Senators Friday night, 5-2.

Whitey Ford went all the way for the Yanks to hang up his 12th victory of the campaign. Tom Gorman, an ex-Yank, was the victim, although he pitched one inning after taking over for Vic Raschi, a former Yankee ace.

Ford almost became the hero of his own game in the seventh when he hit his first home run in the majors. With the score tied, 1-1, Whitey tied off on one of Raschi's offerings.
