Hawkeyes Battle UCLA Tonight

Red Students Well Trained, Dodge Says

With two or three fewer years of schooling than the U.S. high school graduate, the Russian "ten-year school" graduate has a much better grounding in science and mathematics, Homer L. Dodge, one-time Iowa physicist and president-emeritus of Vermont's Norwich College, said Thursday at the State University of Iowa.

His topic at a Physics Colloquia was "Scientific and Engineering Education in Russia: a Challenge to America."

"Based on a clear understanding of the crucial role of the scientist and the engineer in the development of economic and military power, the ten-year school of the USSR gives the prospective scientist six years of biology, five years of physics, four years of chemistry and mathematics," Dodge said.

Homer L. Dodge
Former SUI Instructor

Information One-Sided
Russia teaches the social sciences, language and literature as tools of indoctrination in Marxist and Leninist dogma and thus gives inadequate and often one-sided preparation in these areas, he observed.

Reporting on higher education in Russia, he called the new University of Moscow one of the half-dozen finest educational plants in the world.

"Visiting one room of this university each day, it would take a person 60 years to see every room," he pointed out.

Dodge said that government standardization makes all the educational institutions much alike. "If you've seen one Soviet technical institute or teacher's college, you've seen them all," he observed.

Noting that fewer than half of all talented American high school students complete their education for professional careers, he said that very few gifted Russian students fail to complete higher education.

Scholarships to 90 Per Cent
State scholarships were provided for 90 per cent of the students in the institutions he visited, he said.

"Unless drastic changes are made in American education, the world leadership in science and engineering is likely to pass to Russia. For instance, they graduated 50,000 engineers in 1954 while we graduated only 22,000," the science educator reported.

He found Russian students more "misinformed" than "uninformed" about the United States. Their views about the country are more appropriate to an America of 50 years ago, he observed.

Dodge was a graduate student and teacher in the SUI Physics Department from 1910 until 1919.

Mac Replies To Pentagon

NEW YORK (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur said Thursday he was bound by the World War II Yalta concessions, although he would have opposed them had he had an opportunity.

Said the wartime Pacific commander in a statement relating to long secret Pentagon records on Yalta:

"I repeat, had my views been requested concerning the secret agreements bearing upon Russia's entrance into the Pacific war, I would have opposed them as fantastic."

MacArthur freely admitted he advocated Russia's entry into the Pacific War at its very outset. But he said he never repeated the recommendation prior to Yalta.

After Yalta, he declared, he was bound by the decisions made there to bring Russia into the war, even though they were unpalatable to him. MacArthur went on:

"The attempt to interpret any statements I may have made in the course of such post-Yalta discussions as reflecting my pre-Yalta views and convictions is wholly unwarranted."

Anti-Manager Candidates Tell Platforms

By CLAREN DALE

Three candidates for the Iowa City Council flayed the present city government and City Manager Peter F. Roan in presenting their platforms before the Non-Partisan Taxpayer League (NPTL) Thursday night at Henry Longfellow School.

A formal resolution was passed unanimously by the NPTL that they endorse Lee Blodgett, Glen Meeks and Lee Chopek in their campaign for election to the council, Nov. 8.

Chopek said in his platform that he intends to work for the dismissal of Roan. He asserts that Roan's $12,744 salary is excessive, that Roan is not competent for personal reasons, that Roan has accomplished very little and that the people have lost confidence in Roan.

Seek Roan Dismissal
Blodgett said that he intends to seek the aims of the NPTL. The NPTL in a resolution passed at their first meeting, said that one of their aims was Roan's dismissal.

Meeks said that he would "make every effort to restore city government to the people." Otherwise, he said, his platform was "pretty much the same" as Blodgett's.

"I believe in honest, efficient city government," Blodgett said. He marked the Council-Manager Association's (CMA) method of dealing with council candidates as, "Roan will do it for you, you won't have to do anything."

'Dictatorial Practices'
Blodgett charged the present city government with dictatorial practices.

"Roan does not ask the people; he tells them he is going to do it. The present city-manager form of government is in trouble because it has failed to listen to the voice of the people," Blodgett said.

He called the widening of Burlington Street a project run "down the throats of 800 petition signers."

If police salaries are raised $10, Blodgett said, Roan's salary will be raised $100. The present axiom, he said, is to "soak the rich and make the poor poorer." The sanitary landfill is so expensive to operate, Blodgett added, that Roan is afraid to let out the figures on costs.

Adlai Admits Candidacy

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai Stevenson made it virtually clear Thursday he will be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I'm not counting on the New York delegation at all," he told newsmen. They took this as a plain indication he would be in the race.

While this implied he expected Gov. Averell Harriman to be a rival candidate, at least in a favorite son capacity, Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.) came out a few hours later with a pledge of support to Stevenson.

This presaged a split in the New York delegation.

Camille G. DeSapio, Democratic national committeeman, had been working for a delegation 100 per cent for Harriman.

Lehman was the first major support to Stevenson since Harriman's name has been mentioned prominently.

Transmitter Fails, WSUI Off the Air

Radio station WSUI was off the air all day Thursday after a part in the transmitter burned out Wednesday night.

The part was being flown in from Camden, N.J. Thursday, Prof. Carl Menzer, WSUI station director, said.

"We thought that it would get here this afternoon," Menzer said Thursday night. "We'll be on the air about one hour after we get it."

"We hope to be on the air by Friday morning."

Style at the Union

WENDY STRIEF, A1, Des Moines, was named Miss Perfect Profile of 1955, Thursday night at the Iowa Memorial Union. Modeling a salt-and-pepper tweed molded sheath dress, Wendy won over 77 other Profile Preview hopefuls.

Wendy Strief Chosen Miss Perfect Profile

By DOROTHY ROUBAUGH
Wendy Strief, A1, Des Moines, was named Miss Perfect Profile of 1955 before a near-capacity crowd at the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union Thursday night.

Miss Strief was chosen from a field of 77 coeds at the "Fall Kick-off," tenth annual Profile Preview style show sponsored by UICA. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Strief, Des Moines, Wendy charmed the three judges wearing a salt-and-pepper tweed molded-sheath dress with a standaway cape collar.

The experience was not new for Wendy. She was chosen Queen of Hearts at Roosevelt High School in Des Moines for two years. She also has had some modeling experience.

Wendy, who lives at the Commons Dormitory, is a pledge of Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority.

Tying for runner-up honors were Sandra Shelton, A1, Des Moines, and Betty Henderson, A3, Belmond.

Other finalists chosen after the first judging were: Janice Fuller, A1, Des Moines; Sandra Lamb, A1, LaPorte City; Nancee Rogers, A1, Clinton; Bertha Lou Winston, A1, Ottumwa; Sandra Sorells, A1, Muskego, Okla.

Betty Busby, N1, Waterloo; Virginia Batesole, A1, Marshalltown; Katherine Fowler, N1, Cedar Rapids; Lois Russell, A2, Muscatine; Shirley Putney, A1, Waterloo; Sheri Evans, A1, Glenwood; Marcia Koch, A1, Wheaton, Ill.

Judging the style show were Mrs. George F. Stevens, Mrs. John O'Byrne and Mrs. Phil E. Connell, all of Iowa City.

Including everything from shorty pajamas to formal and cocktail dresses, the style show featured ensembles worn by SUI coeds. Evident throughout the show was the popularity of plaids and various shades of blue and brown.

During an intermission, Miriam Mogle, A3, Winfield, Kan., chairman of the event, introduced Miss Peggy Henry, a representative of Mademoiselle fashion magazine.

Ike Has Quiet Day; Browne Visit Next

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower put in a "very quiet day" Thursday.

He saw Secretary of State Dulles Wednesday and will consult today with Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said he imagines from now on "more and more personal friends" will be allowed to drop in.

Clifford J. Roberts, an old friend, visited the President Thursday. This was his first visit from someone outside the family or administration.

The President's doctors reported that his blood pressure and pulse continued normal and his cardiogram, which shows how the heart is healing, "continued to be satisfactory."

Baker, Injured Gymnast, Still in Serious Condition

ALLAN A. BAKER, A2, Oelwein, who suffered a spinal injury Oct. 13 while warming up on a trampoline, remains in serious condition Thursday at University Hospitals.

Baker, a member of the State University of Iowa Gymnastics team, is reported paralyzed from the neck down.

BY DEMOCRATS?

STORM LAKE (AP) — U.S. Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.) said in an interview here Thursday night that the National Farm Organization (NFO) "is led and fostered by Democrats." He said the new farm protest group has offered no solution to farm problems.

Swede Wins Nobel Prize In Medicine

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Dr. Hugo Theorell, 52, crippled in both legs by polio, won the 1955 Nobel Prize in medicine Thursday for discoveries on the nature and action of oxidation enzymes.

Afterward, he drank champagne and told friends he would use the record cash prize—equivalent to $36,720—to carry on his experimental research and rent a larger apartment. He is married and the father of three sons.

Oxidation enzymes, also called breathing enzymes, are essential to living matter in helping the cells to burn oxygen—that is, to breathe. Enzymes do their work roughly by passing on substances in a chemical chain reaction.

Theorell heads the biochemistry department of the Nobel Medical Institute.

He said he regards the production in pure crystalline form of his vital so-called yellow breathing enzyme as his most important discovery.

He said he was at the moment concentrating on one still unexplored enzyme molecule.

Theorell will receive his cash prize and a Nobel insignia from King Gustaf VI Adolf at ceremonies here Dec. 16.

Theorell separated the first of the several known yellow enzymes using an apparatus he had constructed himself.

He was also able to divide the enzyme into two protein parts, one colored and one uncolored. This feat was of fundamental importance to the understanding of the mode of action of the oxidation enzymes.

Rap Mystery Of Romance

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret and Capt. Peter Townsend met again Thursday night amid newspaper cries that their romance may tarnish the prestige of the royal family.

The two drove separately to the London home of Maj. and Mrs. John L. Willis. Mrs. Willis is a cousin of the princess.

This was their seventh meeting since Townsend arrived from Belgium eight days ago.

The leading Conservative newspapers echoed an undercurrent of uneasiness about the romance and the sensationalized newspaper surrounding it.

The Telegraph said the royal family could suffer "loss of dignity" through failure to clarify the mystery of the romance.

The Spectator said "one of the functions of the monarchy . . . is above all to cement, not to divide." The paper said a Townsend-Margaret marriage would certainly offend many loyal subjects of Queen Elizabeth here and overseas.

Practice Called Off For Underdog Iowa

LOS ANGELES — The healthy but underdog Iowa Hawkeyes arrived here by plane Thursday afternoon, and Coach Forest Evashevski canceled a light workout for Thursday night in preparation for tonight's game with UCLA in the Los Angeles Memorial Stadium.

Evy explained that with the workout in the evening, the team would have had too long a day by the time practice was finished and they had returned to their hotel. The Bruins went through light exercises before going into seclusion for the night.

The game begins at 10:30 p.m. (Iowa Time) and will be broadcast over WHO, Des Moines, and WMT, KCRG, Cedar Rapids beginning at 10:15 p.m.

Phone Strike Called for Next Monday

More than 19,000 Northwestern Bell telephone employees in five midwestern states are slated to go on strike Monday morning at 6 a.m. unless agreement is reached by then on a new contract.

States affected by the strike of the CIO Communications Workers of America will be Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

Virgil E. Parker, steward of local 7116 of the CIO Communications Workers of America, said Thursday that about 140 Iowa City Bell employees would be affected by the strike.

Pickets
He added that pickets would be placed around the building on an around-the-clock basis if the strike is called Monday.

In addition, 13 members of an American Telephone and Telegraph local union here would honor the picket line, a union member said Thursday. The Iowa City personnel employed by AT&T work in the local Northwestern Bell building.

The union and company have been negotiating on a new contract since July 26, with the most recent meeting being held Wednesday.

Advised Locals
James Smith, District 7 director of the CIO-CWA, said Thursday in Omaha that union headquarters has advised locals in the five-state Northwestern Bell bargaining unit of the strike plans.

The company's latest offer would reportedly boost wages $3.50 to $4.50 per week for the highest rate plant craftsmen, depending on locality. Increases for new employees in the plant department would be $2.50 a week and clerical help and most operators would receive increases of $2 with pay boosts of $2.50 slated for employees with longer service in the four highest wage zones. The company said this offer would cost more than $3 million a year.

MARTIAL LAW ENDS
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Martial law ended in the Perfect Circle corporation strike areas Thursday. Gov. George N. Craig said he was assured a reduced force of National Guard Troops, operating under civil control, could maintain order.

Veteran Backfield
Coach Forest Evashevski said this week, before he left with the team for the coast, that he would use his veteran backfield of Jerry Reichow, quarterback; Eddie Vincent and Earl Smith; halfbacks; and Roger Wiegmann, fullback. Smith, Vincent and Reichow have been injured but are in good physical shape for the game.

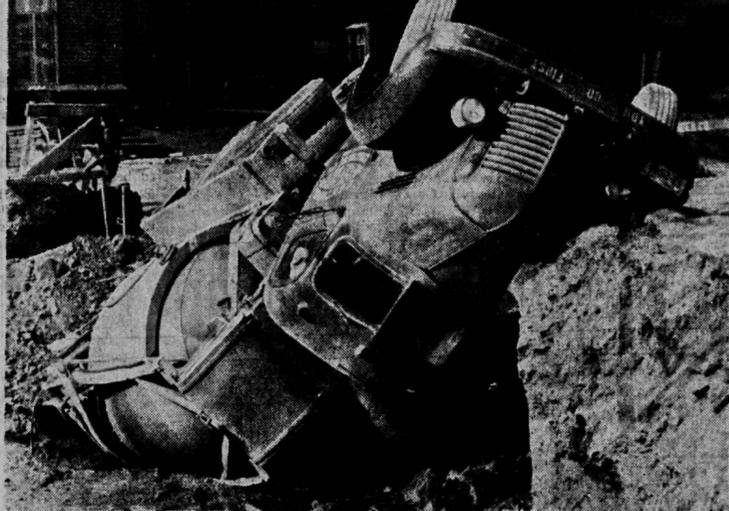

The Hawkeyes have not visited this part of the country since the 1950 season when they played Southern California.

Iowa carries a 2-1-1 record into the game and could raise its national standing with a victory over the Bruins, who boast a 4-1 season, losing only to Maryland.

Toward Eventual Agreement—

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is scheduled to leave Washington today for Europe to attend the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva which opens Oct. 27.

He got Eisenhower's final "counsel and advice" Wednesday at Fitzsimmons Army Hospital in a 25-minute meeting with the chief executive.

As he left Denver, Dulles expressed a "measured hope" which he shares with the President for concrete progress at the conference. Clearly our nation's leaders do entertain exuberant hopes for ending all of the problems of world tension.

But they realize that lessening world tension is a long-time process which cannot be solved in a single conference. For that reason Dulles is willing to spend his effort for even small indications that peace may be reached.

What can our nation expect to gain from these foreign ministers' conferences?

Two of the issues which are certain to be discussed are unification of Germany and the disarmament proposals. Both have been items of contention since the meeting of the Big Four in Geneva earlier this year.

Unification is one of the prime goals for which West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has been striving. Germany is still divided between the eastern and western zones which is drastically hampering that nation in assuming its duties and responsibilities in Europe.

The West is eager for the re-unification but it wants assurance that Germany will not become another Communist controlled satellite. Russia in turn does not want to face the possibility of a re-united Germany which could be a potential enemy.

These divergent views must be reconciled before agreement can be reached.

Undoubtedly the exchange of military blueprints and air inspections as was proposed by Eisenhower in his dramatic offer to the world will be discussed further. Probably no suggestion in modern times has so captured the imagination of a world striving for peace.

The Russians have not as yet accepted this proposal but it is evident that it has received careful study in Moscow. We may expect it to receive more attention at Geneva.

Certainly we cannot expect either of these problems to be ironed out at this Geneva meeting.

But exchange of views among the foreign ministers is one step nearer to eventual agreement.

Both Russia and the West have repeatedly stated their mutual desire for peace during the past several months.

Though the results of any one individual meeting may appear to be small, each adds just a bit more toward a world free of East-West tension.

Melancholy Days—

Yes, the "melancholy days" are here . . . the days when Nature is preparing for the winter months ahead. The blackbirds are gathering in flocks for the long trek to the southland, following the departure of many of our smaller feathered friends that have made our summer season more enjoyable. And seemingly to further impress upon us that autumn is coming are the announcements of the waterfowl, pheasant, squirrel, and other fall hunting seasons. The glory days for the sportsmen who love to wander afield with gun and dog . . . not primarily for the purpose of shooting the bag limits of game as set by law, but to enjoy nature that has provided so bountifully for us.

Farm, Labor Alliance Proposed by Demos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strong efforts will be made in the months ahead to bring about a closer alliance between farmers and organized labor.

Should these maneuvers succeed, the combination could well swing next year's presidential and congressional elections.

Sponsoring the unification efforts — which have largely been unsuccessful when tried in the past — are some leaders in the Democratic party as well as some union leaders. The Democrats figure they would have much to gain from such an alliance.

Good for Farmer

Those advocating a unity are arguing that what is good for the farmer is good for the working man and vice versa. They say that if the farmer gets good prices he is a good customer for products made by labor, and if the worker gets good wages, he is a better customer for farm products.

Republican leaders are well aware of the moves of their political opponents to bring farmers and city workers together as a voting force.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson undoubtedly had this in mind when he made a speech in New Orleans recently in which he blamed a part of farmers' troubles on higher wages. He pictured organized labor as taking advantage of the farmer.

Past Efforts

Efforts have been made many times in the past, but without marked success, to unite farmers and labor under a single political banner. These efforts have failed largely because the farmer traditionally has considered himself primarily the operator of a business rather than a laborer.

Outside the Democratic South, the farmer leaned more to the Republican party than to the Democratic, just as organized workers have leaned more generally to the Democratic party.

Yet, during the past 25 years, farmers have tended to switch to the Democratic party in times of economic distress. This is a fact upon which advocates of a farmer-union alliance largely pin their hopes. Declines in farm prices and incomes during the Eisenhower administration — coming at a time when other segments of the economy were enjoying a high level of prosperity — have stirred discontent among some producers.

Revenue Prime Factor In Building Expansion

(Editor's Note: The following information was taken from a report presented to the Iowa Taxation Study committee by the State Board of Regents.)

Articles printed previously have shown what the board has been doing to meet the problem of increased enrollment, expansion of educational and related services, keeping plant and equipment up to date, providing housing for students and meeting competition for trained personnel.

MORE REVENUE will be needed for general educational operations. A large proportion of this revenue will have to be supplied by the state. Unless the philosophy of the state in regard to supporting the cost of public higher education is radically changed, the state will have to provide increased revenue.

According to the report of the state auditor's office for the year ending June 30, 1954, the average per pupil cost at the three state institutions of higher learning ranges from $801.95 to $1,144.54.

This cost is supported by income from student fees, state appropriations, gifts and grants, sales and miscellaneous income.

WE DON'T WISH to leave the impression that we are looking upon this committee as an appropriation committee but we do feel that you should have some conception of the amount of revenue which needs to be raised to provide for the support of the general educational program of these institutions.

As we look forward to the next 15 years we can see a phenomenal growth in the student bodies in the institutions of high-

Students Refute Suggested Rigid Car Ownership Rules

(Readers are invited to express opinions in letters to the Editor. All letters must include handwritten signatures and addresses — typewritten signatures are not acceptable. Letters become the property of The Daily Iowan. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to shorten, select representative letters when many on the same subject are received, or withhold letters. Contributors are limited to not more than two letters in any 30-day period. Opinions expressed do not necessarily represent those of The Daily Iowan.)

TO THE EDITOR: Regarding the controversial parking situation and the deplorable letter to the editor printed in the Oct. 19 issue of The Daily Iowan written by a quintet of narrow-minded and biased students, we wish to comment upon the content.

First a question directed toward this quintet: Are any of you (1) single, (2) 25 years of age, (3) an Iowa citizen, (4) veterans, (5) a senior or above? Those Daily Iowan readers who have read the letter mentioned will answer for you, without having made your acquaintance, with a very emphatic and correct affirmative!!!

We do agree with these supposedly mature individuals in one respect. We should caution the administrators against those with motives of self interest. A newspaper is a very prominent media of mass communication of which The Daily Iowan is one of the finest. And the "Letter to the Editor" column follows those basic principles of our country in which freedom of speech (and writing) is of paramount importance to all, even to those who would wish to have their name in the paper by submitting a ridiculous letter.

No Parking—

TO THE EDITOR: I recently acquired a parking ticket for a violation of the "time of day" article in the Iowa City constitution and presented the proper number of ducats for the fine. After squaring myself with the authorities I inquired as to why the odd hours of no parking on the streets not directly concerned with immediate campus. The reply I got from the woman at the desk was that at SEVEN O'CLOCK in the morning there was too much traffic in the streets when both sides of the streets are full of cars.

I would defy any cop in town to meet me at any corner of this giant village at seven in the morning and show me the New York metropolitan traffic they boast of. If the no parking signs were pertaining to a more reasonable hour of the morning, then I would believe it would be much more justifiable to many of us.

RED WINGS WIN — The Detroit Red Wings overcame a 2-0 Chicago lead on goals by Bill Dineen and Ted Lindsay to gain a 2-2 tie in a National Hockey League game against the Blackhawks Thursday night.

BROWN FOR MANAGER — The Pittsburgh Pirates will hold its annual board of directors meeting early next month at which time it is expected that Joe L. Brown, son of the famed comedian, will succeed Branch Rickey as general manager and one of three leading candidates — Fred (Dixie) Walker, Bobby Bragan or Andy Cohen — will be named field manager.

CLEMSON WINS — Quarterback Charlie Bussey steered Clemson to two quick first period touchdowns to pace the Tigers to a 28-14 victory over South Carolina in the teams' 53d state fair football game before an overflow crowd of 35,000 Thursday.

Phi Gammas Beat Delta Upsilon, 18-6

Phi Gamma Delta, after being held to a scoreless tie in the first half, erupted for three touchdowns in the second half to take an 18-6 intramural touch football game from Delta Upsilon Thursday.

Both teams played tight defensive games in the first half with the Phi Gams producing the only scoring threat.

The second half was a different story when Phi Gamma started it off with a devastating running game. Mike Ryan reeled off big gains moving the ball to the D.U. nine-yard line. Here a change of tactics produced a scoring pass, Ryan to Bill Amburn. Duane Dubois' dropkick for the extra point was wide.

Larry Lyons intercepted a Delta Upsilon pass moments later and returned the ball to the D.U. territory. Four plays later Lyons passed six yards to Scott MacKenzie for the Delta Gams' second touchdown.

With two minutes remaining in the game, the Delta Gammas threw a series of passes for their third score. Dubois' dropkick was again wide.

On the last play of the game, Bob Stuart of D.U. threw a perfect strike to Gary Berry in the end zone for the lone D.U. touchdown. A pass was incomplete in the extra point try.

Captains To Battle At Guard Positions

the United Press rates Iowa 17th in the nation.

This game is the Bruins' first contest with a Big Ten team since the 1954 Rose Bowl game which they lost. The Bruins are reported to be "pointing" for the Hawkeyes.

Coach Evashevski said this week that the Michigan game at Ann Arbor next week is more important than tonight's game, but that Iowa will try to win tonight as much as they would try in any other game.

If the Hawkeyes beat UCLA, it will mean a break in the Bruins' winning streak for Iowa-UCLA clashes. UCLA beat Iowa in 1938, 27-3; in 1947, 22-7, and in 1949, 41-25.

Guards, Captains Clash

Tonight's game will not only be a contest between a Pacific Coast team and a Big Ten squad, but also a contest between two captain guards, Cal Jones of Iowa, and Hardiman Cureton of UCLA.

Jones was named all-American guard last year, and Wednesday of this week was picked as the midwest lineman of the week by the United Press. Jones stands 6 feet tall and weighs 225 pounds.

Cureton, on the other hand, is reputed to be the best lineman on the west coast. He is a senior, as is the Hawkeye captain, with two years experience in the right guard position. He stands 6 feet tall and weighs 220 pounds.

Brown Best Rusher

Outstanding for the Bruins is injured Ronnie Knox, halfback, who has been replaced on the starting team by Sam Brown. Brown has a 6.85 yards-per-try average for his 55 carries and 377 yards gained. He has scored 32 points this season.

Knox, out with a shoulder injury, has only been in one play during UCLA's last two games.

Second-ranked rusher for UCLA is fullback Bob Davenport, who has scored 24 points and has piled up 244 yards on 48 tries for a 5.08 average. Jim Decker, right halfback, has 13 points to his credit, and has rolled up 98 yards and 20 carries for 4.90 average.

Knox has the best passing average throwing 30 passes and completing 20 of them for 235 yards and four touchdowns.

Reichow Paces Hawks

In the Hawkeye backfield, Reichow has both the best rushing and passing averages. The Iowa quarterback has carried 29 times for 181 net yards for a 6.8 average. In passing Reichow has 34 attempts and 18 completions for 348 yards and two touchdowns.

Second in rushing is fullback Wiegmann with 39 carries for 151 yards and a 3.8 average. Ranked third is halfback Mike Hagler with 29 carries, 150 yards for a 5.1 average.

Wiegmann Is Called Team Workhorse

A senior, who in six short weeks has experienced all the ups and downs most football players find in a career, is Roger Wiegmann, Iowa fullback.

Wiegmann apparently has sewed up the first string fullback job with the Hawkeyes, and is rapidly earning a reputation as the workhorse of the Iowa squad. He's carried more times than any other back for Iowa, and has produced often enough to merit praise from the Iowa coaches.

Fights for Position

Rog had to fight tooth and nail this year to grab a starting berth that was his to begin with. He was a capable and dependable fullback through his sophomore and junior years, playing both seasons behind Binky Broeder. When Broeder completed his eligibility in 1954, Wiegmann figured to take over the fullback duties with no trouble. But Head Coach Forest Evashevski, worried about Wiegmann's lack of speed in spring practice, suggested that the Waverly native lose some weight.

On Press-Radio-TV Day at Iowa Aug. 31, Wiegmann appeared, looking gaunt and thin. Normally a 210-pounder (he weighed 205 as a freshman), he had reduced over the summer to 185. Observed Evy at the time: "It doesn't seem possible, but Wiegmann is slower at 185 than he was at 210. We think he must have taken the weight off too fast; it's the only explanation we can think of."

Dropped to Third Team

The weakened Wiegmann was far below his 1953 and 1954 performances, and it took the Iowa coaches little time to notice it. Wiegmann was dropped to second string, and then to third team. At this point, he further jeopardized his chances by suffering a partial shoulder separation that put him out of contact work for ten days.

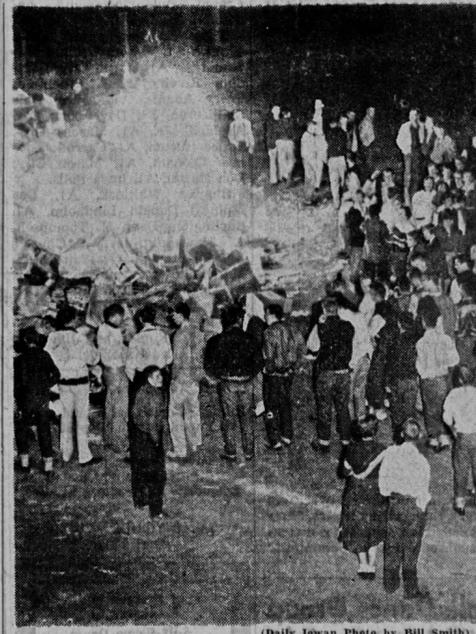

Entering the UCLA game today, Wiegmann has carried 39 times for a net gain of 151 yards an average of 3.8 yards. He works well as the feeder on Iowa's revamped single wing attack, and has shown he can buck up the middle for needed yardage with consistency.

And that completes the cycle. Roger Wiegmann, a starter on Sept. 1, a third-stringer on Sept. 20, is a starter once more. He doesn't seem willing to give up the job again.

UNIVERSITY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS gather around the pre-homecoming bonfire Thursday night in preparation for the annual meeting with New London tonight at the Iowa practice field, north of the Iowa stadium. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Sanders, UCLA Fear Iowa, Big Ten Squads

By JERRY MEASER
Sports Editor, UCLA Daily Bruin

LOS ANGELES — No one at UCLA is taking tonight's contest with Iowa lightly. Coach Red Sanders and his team know that a team from the Big Ten can beat any team in the nation on any given day.

After the Bruins' close game with Stanford where the Indians unleashed a devastating passing attack in the final half only to lose 21-13, UCLA knows that they are by no means the great defensive club they were last season, although they are not too far behind.

Nation's Best Guards

Fans out here are anxious to see the battle between Guards Hardiman Cureton of UCLA and Calvin Jones of Iowa. Consensus around these parts is that these two are the finest guards in the nation.

Along with Cureton the Bruins have another excellent guard in Jim Brown. Coach Sanders rates him as one of the best he has even seen.

In the backfield the Bruins have two all-American candidates. Bob Davenport made several all-American teams last season and is having his best year in '55. Not only is he a great runner but he is one of the finest defensive halfbacks on the coast.

Brown and Bruins

"When Brown goes the Bruins go." That's the saying about UCLA's fine tailback Sam Brown. Brown ran for 119 yards on nine carries against Stanford which prompted Indian Coach Chuck Taylor to comment, "Brown is the best runner I have seen all year." Considering the Indians had played Michigan State and Ohio State, that's a pretty big honor.

Backing Brown up is Ronnie Knox, the most publicized player in the country. Knox has had shoulder trouble since the Maryland game, but he is expected to be in top condition today. All that has been said about his passing is true, but you have to see him to believe it.

National Leader

Rounding out the backfield is Jim Decker at wingback and Bruce Ballard at blockingback. Decker led the nation in yards per carry last year with a 10.1

U-High —

University High School celebrates Homecoming tonight and the Bluehawks will attempt to make the celebration a success by winning their 21st game in a row at the expense of New London.

"I think the boys are in an excellent mental condition," Coach Carl Selin remarked Thursday. "After a couple close calls they have finally found out it's possible to be beaten."

'Close Calls'

The "close calls" Selin was referring to were the last two games, West Branch and Columbus Junction. U-High edged West Branch, 20-18, and got by Columbus Junction, 20-7, with a touchdown spree the last 16 minutes of the game.

"I've tried to keep the boys from looking forward to next week's game with Mt. Vernon," Selin said, "and think I've been successful."

Tied With Mt. Vernon

Mt. Vernon is currently tied for the lead in the Eastern Iowa Hawkeye Conference, and tonight will travel to West Branch, a team that seems to lose all the close ones.

Besides the U-High defeat, West Branch was beaten last week by New London, 12-7.

Selin released some interesting statistics on his star halfback, Jerry Schoenfelder. The rugged 180 pounder has carried the ball 70 times from scrimmage for 639 yards, an average of better than nine yards per carry.

Southpaw Passer

Schoenfelder, who throws the football like a bullet, has also completed three touchdown passes with his southpaw flips.

With the exception of Dick Means, defensive left end, and Dave Brodsky, reserve tackle, the Bluehawk squad "is in excellent condition. Both boys are definitely out of the game tonight with bad colds.

Game time is 7:30 and will be played on the new Iowa practice field north of the stadium.

FINAL JUDGE

The International Olympic Committee is the body that awards the sites for the Olympic Games and is the final judge of all questions concerning the rules bearing on the Games.

City High —

Iowa City High School steps from the Mississippi Valley Conference play tonight, as Keuper of Carroll travels some 220 miles in quest of their first grid victory as they meet the Little Hawks at 8 p.m.

The parochial school was organized last year and as yet has not become an accredited school in the Iowa High School Athletic Association. Keuper has no senior boys but next year the school will reach full stature as an accredited school, with pupils in all four grades.

The Knights are coached by Jim Crimmings and have managed to score only 12 points in their five losses while their opponents have gathered 198 points.

The Little Hawk coach, Frank Bates, announced two major changes in the starting line-up. Burton Garwood and Phil Cline will be the first team ends. Bates also stated, "that no special preparation has been made for the game, as we have scouted them only once which was in their 34-0 defeat at Dowling of Des Moines."

'Heretic' Minister, Now at SUI, Is Out As Lutheran Pastor

George P. Crist, the Wisconsin Lutheran pastor who was convicted on heresy charges last July has turned in his ordination papers, Dr. Paul E. Bishop, president of the Northwest synod of the United Lutheran Church in America announced Wednesday.

Crist who is now a graduate student at the State University of Iowa, will be no longer recognized as a pastor and he cannot perform ministerial acts of the Lutheran church.

Crist was suspended from his pastorate in Durham, Wis., earlier by Dr. Bishop, pending his appeal to the synod's annual convention in Milwaukee, next spring. Dr. Bishop said that the appeal still stands.

The convention is required by the synod's constitution to review the trial and set the penalty.

State Unitarian Meeting Begins Here Today

The Iowa Unitarian Association will begin its annual meetings here tonight.

The Iowa Unitarian Association includes Unitarian societies in Iowa and in Eastern Nebraska and Northern Kansas. Delegates from Universalist churches in the area will also attend.

Meeting here in conjunction with the association will be the

Prof. Funke To Speak At Language Conference

Prof. Erich Funke, head of the Department of German, will leave Monday to attend the meeting of the South Central Modern Language Association at the University of Texas.

Funke will be guest speaker at the Oct. 28 banquet of the language association. He will talk on the development of teaching modern languages.

The German professor will also deliver a lecture Oct. 26 at the University of Texas. The title of Funke's lecture will be "Interrelation of Art and Poetry."

college and high school divisions of Liberal Religious Youth.

The Rev. A. Powell Davies, noted Unitarian minister and author will speak on "Does Believing Make People Good?" at 8 p.m. at Shambaugh Lecture Room. Davies is minister of the All-Souls Church in Washington, D.C. and a religious book reviewer for the New York Times Sunday Book Review section. The public is invited to attend the lecture.

Saturday, Paul Blanshard, well known writer and lecturer, will speak at the Iowa Unitarian Association Banquet at the Masonic Temple. His talk is entitled "Separation of Church and State: The Way to Tolerance." Blanshard's varied career includes work as an author, editor, lawyer, labor union organizer, and public official.

Banquet tickets are available at the First Unitarian Society, Iowa Ave and Gilbert St.

Special speaker at the Sunday service will be the Rev. Waldemar Argow, Cedar Rapids. The sermon is: "How Can Liberal Religion Meet the Challenge of Neo-Orthodoxy?"

Bargebuhr To Lecture on Courtly Love

Prof. Frederick Bargebuhr, School of Religion, will speak on "Courtly Love, Solomonic Heresy, and the Jews" at 8 p.m. Monday in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol.

His lecture will be the first in a series sponsored jointly by the Humanities Society and the Graduate College.

In studying eleventh century Spain, Prof. Bargebuhr found that much of the Hebrew poetry of the time used courtly love as its theme. This poetry of medieval Spain resembles later Italian Renaissance works at a time when Western European literature was generally ascetic in tone.

To explain this contradiction, Prof. Bargebuhr will discuss the pre-Renaissance atmosphere of Cordoba. The public is invited.

U-HEIGHTS COUNCIL

A University Heights Town Council meeting was not scheduled for Thursday night as mistakenly reported Thursday. The special meeting to plan a protest of the routing of the Highway 6 bypass through University Heights has not yet been scheduled or held.

Clear Lake Child Killed by Truck

CLEAR LAKE (AP) — A kindergarten tot, Kevin Winders, was killed here Thursday on his way home from school.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Winders. The child ran into a truck, driven by Robert Funk, Clear Lake, near the intersection of highways 106 and 107, investigators said. He was crushed beneath the rear wheels.

Sees Little Change In Russian Policies

Prof. Nicholas Riasanovsky of the Department of History, Thursday called Russian behavior at the Geneva Conference "a change of attitude more significant than anything that has taken place since World War II," but said he believes the Soviets are stalling for time and have not really changed their aims for world domination.

Riasanovsky spoke at a Young Democrats meeting. He is a native of Russia and teaches courses in Russian and European history.

The possibility of an atomic war which could result in world destruction could have caused the Soviet attitude to change, he said. "The Communists," he said, "have gained much since the Riasanovsky end of World War II. We almost came to a war over Formosa, but maybe they decided they had better quit and assume a new attitude."

Riasanovsky also said that the Soviet Union is faced with internal economic and leadership problems. He said these difficulties may have caused a postponement of a possible war.

"Postpone the War" "The spirit of Geneva," he commented, "is based on the Soviet side, on either or both not to have an atomic war because of the destruction, or to postpone the war because of internal problems."

Riasanovsky, who was in Europe at the time of the Geneva talks, said there was an upsurge of better feeling toward the United States in the Communist and independent press which had been hostile to America.

He indicated that many people have interpreted the new attitude of the Russians as an indication of their willingness to establish friendly relations with the U.S.

No Change in Soviet "I am afraid," he said, "there is little ground for that hope. The Soviet Union really hasn't changed."

Riasanovsky said another attitude toward the spirit of Geneva is that the Russians are making a tactical move in order to attack us tomorrow in the manner of the Japanese in 1941. He added he did not believe this was the motive of the Soviet Union.

"The Soviets," he said, "want time to adjust to their problems." He indicated that a cooperative attitude may be considered by Soviet leaders as the best solution for the present.

burned down this year, could have been insured for $140,000 more at a cost of only $900, Blodgett said. It was, he said, "The only building that the people could call their own."

Blodgett called for changes that would make the city-manager government work for the next two years. He said that Roan's salary is too high and advocated returning representative government to the people; take the people in the government's confidence; publish the CMA's long range plans, and end the one-man rule.

Municipal subsidizing of a private ambulance service to replace the present police ambulance was advised by Blodgett. "They bought two station wagons and threw a cot in the back end," Blodgett said. He quoted Roan, when asked about oxygen equipment, as saying, "If they're that far gone, let them go the rest of the way."

Besides advocating the dismissal of Roan, Chopek said that the City Council should reassert and limit authority of the city manager.

He said that after four years of trial the council-manager system does not carry out the wishes of the people.

The candidates were introduced by Atty. Edward L. O'Connor, chairman of the NPTL.

O'Connor told the group of about 50 persons that the CMA is "trying to paint the lily." The City Council, he said, can fire Roan but they can not tell him what to do.

Separate Politics and City Offices, Councilman Urges

Local offices and elections should be removed from politics, City Councilman Ansel Chapman told the Rotary Club Thursday.

Chapman, whose speech explained and defended the city manager form of city government, emphasized that local affairs should not be approached from the standpoint of what is better for a particular political party, but rather, what is best for the city of Iowa City.

"There is no Democratic way of collecting garbage, nor a Republican way of repairing streets," he said.

Chapman, who was elected to the council in 1953 with Council Manager Association support, told the Rotarians that city manager system of city government has served Iowa City well the last four years.

Improvements Named "The raise of wages to the city employees, the new system of garbage and refuse collection, elimination of the city dump, and the handling of recent electric utility rate increase in such a way that it was fair to the people of Iowa City, are all accomplishments of the present form of city government," Chapman said.

"We will continue to carry out the bridge and street improvement program, and we have been able to interest a national industry to locate one of its plants in Iowa City," he added.

There are other advantages of the city manager system over the Mayor-Council form of city government, Chapman said.

City Is Big Business "The running of a city is big business," he said. "We need a man who has had training and experience in that particular field. A City Manager has these qualifications."

The long-range planning, he said, is not interrupted every two years under the city manager system.

Labor Group Plans Meeting on Politics

The Central Body of the Iowa City Federation of Labor is sponsoring a political education program meeting in the River Room of the Memorial Union, Monday at 7 p.m., Lauren R. Geringer, 722 Kirkwood Ave., announced Thursday.

Designated as the "Magic Mix for '56," the program is planned to consider current political objectives.

Scheduled speakers are Earl J. Baum, secretary-treasurer of the Iowa State Federation of Labor; Martin Pardekooper Jr., director of education of Iowa Federation of Labor; and Mrs. Margaret Thornburgh of Washington, D.C., national director of Women's Division of Labor's League for Political Education.

The meeting is open to the public at no cost.
