School Bond Issue Is Expected To Pass

Three members of the Iowa City School Board said Friday that the $195,000 bond issue should pass Monday with plenty to spare.

The bond issue would be used to finance six-room additions at the Mark Twain and Herbert Hoover schools.

"I feel confident that it will pass," said Mrs. Irvin Irwin, board president. "In fact, I have no doubt about it."

"This is an alert, well-informed populace. Iowa City people usually rise to meet these needs."

Opened in 1954

The schools were opened in September, 1954. They were built with a bond issue of more than $700,000, which was approved by city voters in 1953.

Mrs. Irwin said that she didn't think the recent bond issue would affect the vote.

"I don't think it will enter into it. People recognize the need."

Board members Elwin Joliffe and George Gay agreed with Mrs. Irwin.

'Should Pass'

"It should pass without much opposition," Gay said. "I think people realize the need for the additions. Iowa City is wider awake than other towns," said Gay.

"I feel quite confident," said Joliffe. "I have heard of no opposition."

Board members have carried on a vigorous campaign during October to assure passage of the issue.

They have talked to Parent-Teachers Association (P-TA) groups. The P-TA groups have passed out about 7,000 brochures explaining the need for the additions to qualified voters.

Increased Building

Burford Garner, city Superintendent of Schools, said Friday that the sharp increase in building in southeastern Iowa City makes the additions necessary.

In 1933, 44 building permits were issued. In 1954, 85 more permits were issued. This year, 154 permits have been issued for the southeastern area.

If the $195,000 bond issue is approved, the city school system will have $1,185,000 in bonds outstanding. The limit for city school indebtedness is $2,192,000.

By 1958

Garner estimated that about $200,000 of the indebtedness will be paid off by 1958. This issue would probably be retired in 1975, he added.

District voters will cast their ballots at two precincts in Iowa City.

Voters in the first and second wards and portions of the school district adjacent to the wards, but outside the city limits west of the Iowa River, will cast ballots at the State University of Iowa Communications Center.

The voters in the third, fourth and fifth wards and portions of the school district outside the city limits east of the Iowa River will cast ballots in the Junior High School gymnasium.

Hickenlooper Hints He'll Run Again

AMES (AP) — Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) Friday night conditionally declared himself a candidate for re-election.

"I'm not quite ready to say, but the probabilities are to say that I will not be a candidate would be inaccurate," Hickenlooper said in answer to a question asked him on the WOI-TV news program. "This is Iowa Talking."

Would Seek 4th Term, Roosevelt Told Stalin

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Tribune said Friday that the late President Roosevelt told Soviet Premier Stalin at Tehran that he would seek a fourth term.

The Tehran conference was held Nov. 28-Dec. 1, 1943. The President's public announcement for a fourth term was made in the summer of 1944.

'Jimmy' Ruppert Hopes Issue Passes

Students Must Transfer If Issue Fails

By HAROLD SCHWARTZ

Fred J. "Jimmy" Ruppert, 9, is a fourth-grade pupil in the Herbert Hoover School. If a $195,000 bond issue is not approved on Monday, Jimmy and his entire class will have to transfer to the Longfellow School next September.

This year a fifth-grade class had to be transferred to the school because the Hoover school did not have enough room for the class.

"If we have to go to Longfellow school, it would only mean an extra block to walk for me," Jimmy said.

Long Walk
"But there are other kids in my class who would have to walk about eight or nine extra blocks to the Longfellow school," he explained.

Jimmy lives with his mother, Mrs. Fred Ruppert, at 444 Wales Street.

The students living in the Bel-air addition of the city, north of Iowa City High School, would have about a 30 minute walk to the Longfellow School, Jimmy and his mother estimated.

It takes them about 10 to 15 minutes to walk to the Hoover School.

Likes School
"Also, they will turn the gymnasium into two or three classrooms, if the people don't vote for more rooms at the school," he said.

Jimmy added that he liked going to the Hoover School. A visit to the school explains it.

The school, which was built in 1953, is a modern one-story brick building located about two blocks south of City High.

Well Lighted
The building is well lighted throughout with natural light entering from sky-lights and windows. Fluorescent lighting is used in the rooms.

If the bond issue is approved, Jimmy and his classmates will be able to enjoy the school for two additional years before entering the Junior High School.

ADENAUER BETTER
BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's doctors predicted Friday night he will make a complete recovery from bronchial pneumonia. The Chancellor's condition has improved enough so that he leaves his bed for several hours daily.

Exam Shows No Enlarging Of Ike's Heart

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors found no enlargement of his heart Friday and said this was the most important announcement concerning the President's condition since his heart attack.

Eisenhower received a complete checkup with a full X-ray and fluoroscopic equipment. After studying the results, his physicians said the examination "revealed no abnormalities."

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty was asked whether that meant "no enlargement of the heart."

"That's correct," he replied.

Do the doctors, consider that encouraging? a reporter inquired.

"The doctors," Hagerty answered, "said that one sentence was the most important medically we have had, at least this week."

Along with this optimistic development in his condition, at the close of five weeks of hospitalization from a heart attack, Eisenhower was allowed Friday to walk, sit up and work as he pleased in his hospital room.

He got in some work on his State of the Union message for Congress and went over reports on the Geneva conference and the outbreak of fighting between Israeli and Egyptian forces.

Iowa Chemistry Award

WALTER R. FETZER, chief chemist of Clinton Foods, Inc., Clinton, receives the 1955 Iowa Medal of the American Chemical Society's Iowa Section at a banquet in his honor Friday evening in the River Room of the Iowa Memorial Union. Making the presentation is Prof. Roy Eyring, of the SUI Department of Chemistry. Eyring is chairman of the Iowa Section.

Europe Plan Bogs Big 4

GENEVA (AP) — Rival treaties for European security were offered by East and West at the Big Four conference Friday night. Both met immediate rebuffs.

Russia's V. M. Molotov and the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France failed to bridge any of the wide gap between their opposing policies for this arms-weary continent.

Western Guarantees
The West — insistent that the security dilemma and the German unification problem cannot be solved separately — offered Russia extra guarantees against German aggression in return for letting all the Germans unite and maintain the membership held by the Bonn Republic in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Molotov's proposed security system would wipe out NATO and the seven-nation Western European Union, introduce Red China as an official observer in European affairs, and eventually compel the withdrawal of all American troops from the continent.

Dramatic Highlight
The dramatic highlight of the West's security bid was a provision to allow NATO and the Soviet bloc each to operate a radar air raid warning system inside the other's territory.

These reciprocal installations to guard against surprise airborne attack in the atomic age would be set up in a semi-demilitarized zone. This zone would straddle a reunified Germany's frontiers with Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia.

No depth was specifically suggested for the zone in both NATO and Communist territory.

'Owoooo'!—Halloween Time

TWO PRETTY MISSES and a pumpkin predict the spirit of Halloween. Those pursed lips are making the eerie "Owoooo's" that all little girls hear when the moon is full and it's the autumn witching time. The girls are Shelley Marie and Candy Sue Wilson, 3 and 4. The toothy figure between them is the handiwork of their father, Don E. Wilson, M3, Iowa City.

NPTL Member Calls For Ward Councilmen

Attorney Kenneth Dunlop, member of the Non-Partisan Taxpayers League (NPTL), Friday night advocated retaining city manager government, but electing councilmen by wards.

"The present council-manager government is not representative government," Dunlop said. "It's the old ward-system we need."

Dunlop made the statement in a debate before the Worthley Club of the Unitarian Church with Ansel Chapman, a city councillor who was elected with the support of the Council-Manager Association (CMA).

'Could Work'
He said the city manager system could be made to work if the councilmen were elected by wards and represented a definite segment of the city.

Under the present city manager plan, five councilmen are elected at large.

The NPTL is opposing the present form of city manager government in Iowa City and has called for the firing of City Manager Peter F. Roan as city manager. It is supporting three candidates in the municipal election.

Predicts NPTL Win
Dunlop predicted that the candidates of the pro-manager Council-Manager Association (CMA) would be defeated — no matter how good the record of the present administration has been.

"I think the council-manager form of government is in trouble in Iowa City because it came into existence during a period of political unrest and it will go out of power the same way," Dunlop said.

"It is beginning to find out that it is hard to please everybody, that sometimes the way things are done makes a difference and after so long a time the people want a change."

Small Margin
Dunlop cited the 874-vote margin (3,132 to 2,258) by which the city manager plan was adopted in Iowa City in 1950. He said that the Burlington Street and Mark Twain area sidewalk projects and the graduated scale of traffic fines had turned enough voters against the plan to make the difference in the fall election.

Chapman ran down the list of accomplishments of the city manager government and said the NPTL had no program for the voters.

He accused the NPTL of "conducting a campaign of smear words," and proposing "government by minority rule" and "a no-business sense administration."

Sewer Controversy
The NPTL, he pointed out, had recently criticized the administration for not cutting sewer rentals after the sewage plant bonds had been paid off.

The rentals, he said, were being used to support the sewage plant's operation.

"Would you have it borne by only the property owners or by all of the people who use it?" he asked.

Council Candidates Set Radio Forum

The six candidates for City Council positions will appear together for the first time at 1 p.m. Sunday in a forum over radio station KXIC.

The candidates will first present their views in short talks, then engage in a panel discussion with KXIC newsman Bob Hutchison serving as moderator.

Hutchison said Friday that radio listeners were invited to telephone in questions during the program for the candidates to answer.

The program would have no time limit, Hutchison said. It will last, he said, as long as the candidates wish to continue.

The candidates: Louis Loria, George Dvorsky and Phillip Morgan, Council-Manager Association; and Lee Chopek, Lee Blodgett and Glenn Meeks, Non-Partisan Taxpayers League.

Reds Rebuffed On Arms Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union met with sharp rebuff Friday in its effort to plunge the United Nations into debate over disarmament before the issue can be taken up by the foreign ministers in Geneva.

The UN Political Committee upheld the contention of the United States and Britain that only confusion would result from a simultaneous arms debate in Geneva and the United Nations.

By a vote of 49-5 with two abstentions, the Political Committee approved a proposal by Colombia to consider next the question of effects of atomic radiation on human health and safety. The Soviet bloc was in opposition and Syria and Indonesia abstained.

Committee Chairman Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand ruled it was unnecessary to vote on a proposal by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov to take up disarmament next. Russia lost in a similar attempt last week in the 12-nation UN Disarmament Commission.

Kuznetsov argued that it would aid the foreign ministers in Geneva if they could have before them the views of all the United Nations as expressed in a disarmament debate.

Eva Marie Saint Injured In Fall on Movie Set

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Eva Marie Saint, Academy award-winning actress, was injured Friday when she fell from a table on a movie set while doing a comedy dance in a pair of over-size pajamas.

Paramount Studio said she was knocked unconscious. She suffered a head injury, not believed serious, and a ruptured vein in her right leg.

Jones, Kramer Will Start; Swedberg OK

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A 37-man Iowa Hawkeye football team pranced through a light workout here Friday as the area buzzed with excitement over today's nationally televised game with Michigan's Big Ten leaders.

Word late Friday, night was that Michigan's injured all-American for starting duty. Kramer injured his back against Army three weeks ago and has been held out of the Wolverines' last two games.

New Crisis In Israel, Egypt Raids

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel and Egypt accused each other of marching troops into the El Auja demilitarized zone on the Israeli-Egyptian frontier Friday.

Israel acknowledged setting up an outpost in the zone after what it called an Egyptian incursion.

The fresh crisis blew up in the wake of an Israeli raid in the south which destroyed an Egyptian Camel Corps camp, three miles inside Egypt's frontier. The Israelis said 10 Egyptians were killed and 29 captured in the raid, described as retaliation for an Egyptian strike at an Israeli police post Tuesday.

Desert Area
The zone of El Auja centers about 45 miles south of Egyptian-held Gaza.

A desert area that has become the chief friction point between Israel and Egypt, the zone is supposed to have been neutralized under a proposal of Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of the UN truce observers, and the two nations agreed Sept. 27.

In the Israeli sector of Jerusalem, Israeli officials said two companies of Egyptian troops — perhaps 300 men — entered Israel's territory in a penetration of nearly a mile into the Nizana-El Auja area Friday afternoon.

Reinforcements
A Foreign Ministry statement described the two companies as reinforcements for two other Egyptian troops which had entered Israeli territory in the last two days and entrenched themselves in the demilitarized zone "in disregard of the armistice agreement and of promises made by Egypt to Gen. Burns."

A note to Burns' organization urged that Egypt "be requested promptly to withdraw the troops which they have massed in strength in Israeli territory." It promised Israel would be willing to withdraw simultaneously "the Israeli outpost set up on the border territory after the Egyptian incursion."

Outcry in Cairo
In Cairo, there was an outcry against the Israeli entry of the zone. An Egyptian spokesman said Israel's troops had reoccupied at 6 p.m. a position — partly on Egypt's soil — from which they withdrew last month on Burns' instructions. Further, he said, they erected barbed wire fortifications around it.

Behind the details from both camps were rival claims to world sympathy. The Middle East was a topic in talks at Geneva, New York, and many world capitals. Egypt was building up her military potential through a cotton-for-arms deal with Communist Czechoslovakia; Israel was seeking fresh weapons through public contributions and an appeal to the United States for defensive armament.

Spending Cuts Anger British

LONDON (AP) — A political storm raged around the British government Friday night over its emergency "cut-spending" budget.

Attack came from all sides. Laborite leaders demanded a debate Monday to censor the government for "incompetence and neglect."

Two big unions — the miners and railroadmen — made immediate wage demands because of the budget's higher sales taxes. Two major newspapers which normally support the Conservative government — the Telegraph and the Times — expressed strong doubts whether the budget would achieve its aims.

Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler introduced the new budget Wednesday. His aim was to trim Britain's current buying spree and so force more goods into the export market, on which British prosperity depends.

He therefore boosted sales taxes and taxes on company dividends, cut subsidies on low cost public housing and announced a program of government economies including a slow-down on hospital building.

Rescued from Arctic Crash

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Three survivors of an Arctic crash-landing, including one Iowan, told Friday of their survival for six days by taking frozen milk into their sleeping bags to thaw it for drinking.

They adopted the thawing technique after attempts to dine on frozen milk chips proved too irksome in the zero of the bleak crash site.

R. F. Castling, Toronto, Canada, a General Electric Co. technician, suffered a back injury.

Harold N. Brazell, Harpers Ferry, Iowa, a Western Electric Co. technician, and Keith Lenhart, Anchorage, the pilot, were uninjured.

Cart Before the Horse

The Student Parking Committee Thursday agreed that restrictions on student cars should not be imposed at this time.

The committee cited as some of its reasons: poor transportation facilities; the fact that with the exception of the Union there is not one place to dance in Iowa City.

However, they did not rule out the possibility of a ban on cars in the future.

Instead, the committee came up with a suggestion to use a shuttle bus system to pick up students from strategically located points to the campus.

It seems to us that the committee is putting the proverbial cart before the horse.

The shuttle bus system could work as a big convenience once cars have been banned on campus. But if the committee thinks a shuttle bus system would encourage students not to drive cars without a ban, they are sadly mistaken.

The Student Parking Committee is talking around the issue. Are transportation facilities to and from Iowa City really poor? We are serviced by one railroad, three bus lines, and a national air line. On a comparative basis with other towns the size of Iowa City, our transportation facilities are quite good.

And the point about the Union being the only place to dance in Iowa City. Can this really be considered a valid point for allowing students to own cars?

Besides the fact that the Union primarily exists for such social functions and has more than adequate dancing facilities, suppose there wasn't any place in Iowa City to dance?

Wouldn't the answer be to set up dancing facilities instead of planning on the students going out of town to dancing spots?

The reasons the parking committee presented for being against a ban on student cars are indeed very weak.

We realize that the members of the committee would not be the most popular students on campus if they were to propose a ban on student cars.

But the members of the committee must realize that the solutions they are giving — a shuttle bus service, opening Iowa field for parking, placing meters in university parking lots, a building for parking — are only very partial solutions at most.

The committee will have to come up with much more encompassing and realistic solutions to the parking problem before we're convinced the answer isn't to limit student cars.

Give to the Halloweeners

Sunday evening, several Iowa City Sunday School youngsters will be out "Halloweenin'" — but they won't be up to the usual tricks associated with the day of the goblins and witches.

They'll be soliciting for funds to be sent to UNICEF — the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

UNICEF money is used to improve the health of children the world around.

Of course, we know that these children from the 10 co-operating Iowa City churches are still children, that they probably will still expect to play "trick or treat."

We're not concerned how you handle this problem. But we are concerned about whether you give to their most worthwhile cause.

They'll be wearing orange and black UNICEF badges. Watch for 'em.

Legal Snags Hold Morgenthau Diary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators ran into some legal snags and a possible White House barricade Friday in their effort to make public some 1,600 pages from the 900-volume Henry Morgenthau Jr. diary. It looked, though, as if they would get most or all of the papers before long.

These excerpts from the stenographer-kept journal of the one-time Democratic secretary of the treasury dealt with, among other things, activities of Harry Dexter White, the late treasury aide who has been named by A. J. Gen. Brownell as a Communist spy.

Morgenthau has turned the documents over to the government and Friday the General Services Administration said it must withhold all but a handful of them from the subcommittee until other agencies had certified their release wouldn't be harmful to the country.

So Chairman Eastland (D-Miss.) and Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) questioned representatives of GSA and other agencies involved — including the State Department and Central Intelligence Agency — and also held a private talk with Morgenthau.

The upshot of it all was: 1. "I think they're going to give us all the papers," Eastland told newsmen after a public hearing with the agency representatives. "You can quote Jenner and me as saying we're not going to take no for an answer."

2. Morgenthau washed his hands of the whole controversy, saying it was up to the executive branch of the government.

FARM POPULATION UP Israel's farm population has increased from 111,000 in 1948 to 346,000.

Search on For New Farm Program Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP) — If anyone has a new idea for a federal farm program, the Senate Agriculture Committee would like to hear from him.

The committee would be particularly grateful for a plan that channels a lot more money into farmers' pockets without boosting food prices — or taxes.

The committee set out on an around-the-country search for ideas on the current economically and politically perplexing problem of sagging farm prices and incomes, Oct. 24.

THE COMMITTEE will wind up its search at Chicago nearly a month later — Nov. 21 — after swinging through the Western corn belt, the upper Great Plains, the West Coast, the Southwest, the South, the Middle Atlantic area and New England.

One big reason why the committee wants the farmers' views is because it holds the key to whatever legislative action is taken by Congress when it gets back to work in January.

The House has already passed new farm legislation which would end the Eisenhower administration's new flexible price support system and restore the high, rigid price floors of the Truman era. The Senate committee does not know yet whether it wants this kind of legislation or something else.

CONGRESSIONAL committees have made other tours through farming regions in search of producer views. But this tour will be watched carefully because of the political implications. In the first place, it is a Democratic-controlled committee whose majority members will be most anxious to find ways and means of winning farm voters over to their party in next year's elections.

On the other hand, Republican members want to find out who to get farmers to vote to keep them in power.

The committee will pass up the politically important Eastern corn belt states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. Committee officials said they believed that sentiment expressed at the hearing at Des Moines would largely reflect the farm thinking in the Eastern corn belt because the type of agriculture in

Morgan Cites Municipal Projects—

Says Council-Managers Help Iowa City Grow Effectively

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of six articles written by the candidates for the three City Council posts to be filled Nov. 8.)

By PHILIP F. MORGAN
CMA Candidate

Iowa City is in a period of growth and development. The growing University student population and new University buildings, the Proctor and Gamble plant, the Veterans' hospital and Coralville Dam are examples of the expansion of the University, industry and federal services which are contributing to the growth of Iowa City.

These in turn are resulting in new homes, new schools and new and expanded businesses. A growing city is alive, it is a good place to live and raise a family, but it also has its growing pains. Many of these are problems of municipal government which can become chronic if not treated in time.

WITH THE Council-Manager form of government, planning for the future can be carried out much more effectively than with any other form of city government and good management foresight can be provided for carrying out municipal projects at less cost and less inconvenience to the public.

During the past summer Iowa City's largest street improvement program of this generation was completed. It was carried on with a minimum of interference to the public, it was completed during the summer before football crowds arrived, and it cost per square yard considerably less than equivalent paving installed five years ago when general costs were lower.

THE VALUE of the Burlington Street improvement, obvious to all who use this street, will be even more fully realized when the next phase of the project, widening the Burlington Street Bridge, is completed.

As a result of planning, the first phase of this project was completed when state and federal money was available. Without proper planning and foresight these funds might easily have gone to some other city.

Traffic surveys have indicated that local traffic alone would require widening of the Burling-

25 Million Trees Planted in 'War Against Desert'

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—Twenty-five million trees will be planted in the barren hills of the Holy Land as part of Israel's "war against the desert."

Keren Kayemeth, the Jewish national land fund which announced the new five-year plan, estimated Israel's desert areas total 287,500 acres.

The over-all program, of which the five-year plan is only a part, envisages 58,250 acres turned to forest, 106,250 acres into grazing land and 125,000 acres into agricultural settlement areas. A separate 75,000 acres of uncultivated land are planned for new settlements.

Tree planting, an initial step in soil conservation and agricultural settlement, is not new in Israel.

Abdul Messih and a few others are the last of the Christian hermit tradition. Most Egyptian monks long ago adopted the practice of living with other monks in monasteries. Four of the oldest monasteries are spread over the desert of Wadi Natrun between Cairo and Alexandria.

MILK BUDGET

Experts estimate that a typical American family spends 15 per cent of its weekly food budget for milk which supplies 30 per cent of the families' nutritional needs.

ton Street in the near future. Then city, instead of state and federal funds, would have had to be spent if the widening had been delayed until after U.S. No. 6 is diverted south of town.

IOWA CITY will continue to grow and it will experience additional growing pains, but with the kind of planning and foresight apparent in the examples cited they can be minimized. The Council-Manager form of government makes this possible.

The citizens of Iowa City will undoubtedly soon be called upon to decide by ballot what they wish to do about the City Hall-Community Building problem. If they wish a new building, good planning will be imperative if we are to get the most for our money as we did this year on our paving program.

Other municipal problems will be encountered in the years ahead and if Iowa City voters will continue to elect and support a Council that will make wise decisions and employ a manager to carry out these policy deci-

France Faces Tough Year Politically

PARIS (AP)—France faces one of the toughest years of its post-war history—its house politically divided, strikes spreading, its soldiers sometimes mutinous, its budget balanced by foreign aid, and a small war on its hands.

It would seem enough to discourage even a country long used to discouraging situations. But if there is any public evidence of discouragement it is hard to see.

France's annual automobile show is perhaps the most eagerly attended ever, with special emphasis on French cars. The Paris theater season is booming, having started off with "L'Amour Fou (Mad with Love), the comic story of a high-level man falling for a second-level dame.

PARIS IS SO full of automobiles — for the most part of French make—that traffic movement has become well nigh impossible.

French production is increasing and the export position improving.

All these showy things point to an economy which is normally rich enough to survive long periods of bad times.

France had one of her most severe rebuffs when the United Nations overrode her protests and inscribed the Algerian problem on the list of subjects for debate this session.

IT CAME AT a time when many Frenchmen thought they were doing not too badly on the North African front. They had this year given a large degree of home rule to Tunisia. After many a fumble, they had indicated a disposition to do the same for Morocco.

These two countries are "protectorates," where France technically is only a protective foreign power, although in fact she has run both countries.

Algeria is a different kettle of fish, and it is for this reason the French are so bitter.

ALGERIA WAS taken away from the Turks in 1830 and there was no local government there to be "protected." Algeria was annexed. It became to France somewhat like the Louisiana Purchase to the United States. Her soldiers subdued it, her explorers traced out every stream and gully, and finally her farmers and investors went in.

Some of France's correspondents, particularly those writing in New York, thought perhaps France went a little too far in pulling its delegation out of the UN Assembly. But there was no similar reaction in the home offices of French papers. With the exception of the Communist papers, they approved the walk-

Disputes Increased Religious Interest—

'No More Interest—More People'

Rev. Yohr 'Fill Old Churches'

(Editor's Note: This is the fifth in a series of weekly articles in which The Daily Iowan is asking members of the clergy their opinions on the recent increased interest in religion.)

"I cannot see a tremendous increased interest in religion; we are only filling churches, many of which were built 25 to 100 years ago," said the Rev. E. H. Yohr, minister of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and Director of Gamma Delta student group.

"Parking spaces are filled, the football stadium is filled for every game, the hospitals are filled, and the Fort Madison penitentiary is filled. Most all of these have increased their capacities and people talk about increased interest in religion when we fill our old churches, which haven't been enlarged since they were built. We do not need to pat ourselves on the back for filling these old churches.

"In the past eight years the number of Iowa City hospital beds has been increased from about nine hundred to fourteen hundred and ninety. Yet, the hospitals are full to capacity all the time. Only emergency cases can enter the hospitals immediately; others must wait their turn.

Decreased Time "Even University Hospitals which has almost the same number of beds had 21,800 in-patients this year as compared with 18,360 in 1935 because of decreased time per person spent in the hospital.

"The population of Iowa City has increased from 15,741 in 1930 to 27,212 in 1950 United States Official Census figures. In 1930 the enrollment of the State University of Iowa was 5,400; the enrollment for this semester is 9,331.

"In 1880 the total population of Johnson County was 25,429 and people think there is increased interest in religion because we are filling some of the churches built then when the population of Iowa City was much smaller than it is now.

No Preference "This year there are nearly one thousand students on campus who list no religious preference. On any given Sunday fewer than 50 per cent of the students attend church.

"With the present enrollment 12 Iowa City churches could have 500 students present every Sunday, 3 churches could have 1,000 students in attendance and 331 could stay in bed.

"This university is at a distinct advantage in having religious preferences tabulated at registration. Very few large colleges and universities have such a program. This tabulation gives the religious groups an opportunity to reach the unchurched. The marvels of modern communications should make church mission work flourish.

Church Seating "One of the most common complaints I hear from students is that there are not enough student seats in the stadium; yet, stadium seating capacity has been increased many fold in comparison with church seating capacity in the last 25 years. Right now, our church has three Sunday services. We formerly had one. But, we have had no increase in facilities since our church was built.

"I could show statistically that our church is breaking all records in attendance and activity and attribute it to increased interest. But, it actually should be attributed to population pressure.

"As far as communication is concerned, I like to go out and punch door bells. I preach the same old message to the same old hearts. People have the same old sinful desires.

"The evil forces are just as rampant today as they ever were. Crime is on the increase. People have not suddenly changed. There are just more people."

Grace Church To Dedicate New Building

Dedication services for Grace Missionary Church will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. D. Paul Hoffman of Elkhart, Ind., will preach the dedication sermon. The Rev. J. T. Hoskins, District Superintendent of the Nebraska Conference, will officiate in the formal dedication service.

Tots To Help Raise Funds For UNICEF

It's a "trick-or-treat" time, but this year many Iowa City Sunday School children will be collecting for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

Sunday these children will don costumes and knock on doors to help other children around the world.

UNICEF is the largest international effort to improve the health and welfare of children and mothers around the world. The funds are used to provide food, medicine, and drugs to combat malnutrition, tuberculosis, malaria, yaws, and other diseases.

Churches cooperating in this unified effort are: First English Lutheran, First Presbyterian, Congregational, Christian, Unitarian, Baptist, Nazarene, Mennonite, Quaker Society and First Methodist.

Only children displaying the orange and black badge shown above are authorized to receive money for UNICEF.

Christian Church OK's Building Plans

The congregation of the First Christian Church approved the recommendations of the Future Planning Committee to proceed with a new building program in the annual meeting held this week. The committee recommended first that the construction of an education building, to adequately provide for student center facilities and an expanded education program, be undertaken.

Fund Raising The Iowa Society of Christian Churches will cooperate in the building program. It also recommended that the Church Board take steps to initiate a building fund-raising program, beginning as soon as possible.

The Future Planning Committee initiated basic studies of the building needs of the congregation early last spring.

Charles J. Betts, architect of the Board of Church Extension of the Disciples of Christ, made a survey of the situation in July and submitted preliminary plans calling for a three-floor education building and Student Center at an estimated cost of $140,000.

2d Unit He also recommended a second unit of construction, a high sanctuary and social hall at an estimated $135,000.

It was noted in the congregational meeting that these were preliminary studies and it will probably be some time before actual plans are drawn up. The first objective is to raise funds up to approximately $50 thousand. Near the time when such funds are in sight, specific plans can be made and preparation for actual construction can begin.

Dr. William Rohrbacher, a trustee, reminded the congregation that a proper legal instrument of trust had been drawn up so that gifts and bequests can be made to the trustees of the First Christian Church with the funds protected for building fund use only. Such gifts may become memorials in the new buildings.

Protestants To Celebrate Reformation

NEW YORK (AP) — Many churches today are the result of an accident that occurred a long time ago.

But it was no ordinary accident. It sent shock waves around the world. And it still acts as a beacon on the uneven sea of Protestantism.

This Sunday, thousands of churches celebrate the fortuitous turn of events which 437 years ago touched off the Protestant Reformation and changed the face of modern Christendom.

As they do so, new beams and braces are being welded into the huge, far-flung, disjointed religious edifice that arose on the foundations of that long-past episode.

The Rev. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of Churches, said various Protestant and Orthodox denominations today are forming closer bonds that herald a "new ecumenical reformation."

Turning Point He said the trend marks a turning point in post-Reformation history.

"It must be based," he said, "upon a new and mutual appreciation and cooperation among both the so-called older and younger churches throughout the inhabited world."

Although the Reformation unleashed a freedom of faith that still is the heartbeat of Protestantism, it also produced a vast potpourri of denominations that sometimes fought each other furiously.

Now, the deadly struggling has lessened.

The way in which "Reformation Sunday" is to be observed indicates the degree to which many churches now work in concert. In more than 300 cities, Protestant churches will join in interdenominational services.

This is six times as many communities as managed such united programs in 1950.

Division Over "The age of our divisiveness is over," says the Rev. O. Walter Wagner, executive director of the Metropolitan Church Federation of Greater St. Louis.

But the big theme of the anniversary is the once-daring concept that each man alone must find his own way — by his private faith — to God.

It was this idea with which Martin Luther, by a mishap, sparked the Reformation on Oct. 31, 1517.

On that day, Luther, a young priest and university professor, tacked up his "95 theses" on the door of Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany, with the hope of promoting a formal, frank debate on the issues he raised.

But instead of a decorous, academic debate, he found his action had generated a storm that rocked the Roman Catholic Church and split it apart — a result he hadn't intended at all.

LONG WAIT JAKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla. (AP) — City Council has repealed an old law requiring the town marshal to meet each incoming train. This doesn't lighten the marshal's chores, however, as Jacksonville Beach hasn't been on a railroad for 20 years.

Behind the Sports Desk

With FRED MILLER

There was no transmitter trouble at radio station WSUI and the Sports Roundtable appeared as usual Friday at 12:45 p.m. The prognosticators were at full strength with the return of Bucky O'Connor.

Moderator for the show again was Bob Zenner, and other panel members included were Dave Etzel, WSUI sports staff; Terry Bledsoe, Sports Information Service, and me.

Results from two weeks ago are astounding, and I am the one who is especially astounded. The team average rests at an unsteady 65 per cent. Two weeks ago I had the high average guessing eight right, four wrong and "one tied." Zenner picked seven right and had five wrong. Bledsoe and Etzel split even with six wins and six losses. The over-all team average was seven wins, five losses and the Purdue-Iowa tie game.

This week we see:

IOWA OVER MICHIGAN—Dave Etzel was the only one of the five that did not approve of this selection, but the power of the board rules. It was noted that Michigan has had two close scrapes in the last two weeks and this might be the week that the Hawkeyes are up and can pull the upset of the year by dropping the Wolverines at Ann Arbor.

This game will be televised in color and black and white on the national network, and will be played before a homecoming crowd of 80,000 or more. Zenner and I will be there to give a first hand report to Iowa fans, Bob via radio, and me via The Daily Iowan Monday.

WISCONSIN OVER MICHIGAN STATE—This was a tough one as Zenner had to break a tie among the panel members. O'Connor and Bledsoe chose the Badgers with Miller and Haluska, the "twin-jims" doing a great deal of passing. Etzel and I stuck with the Spartans to humble Wisconsin, but we may be wrong. Zenner said that Wisconsin would "speak by."

PURDUE OVER ILLINOIS—This was an unanimous decision stating that Len Dawson, the Boiler-makers passing ace, would ably pull the Purdue team over the Illini.

OHIO STATE OVER NORTHWESTERN—Another unanimous decision with the nod going to OSU. Northwestern, as we pointed out, gave Michigan a scare, and probably would go down fighting at the gun.

SOUTHERN CAL OVER MINNESOTA—The Gophers gave Michigan a scare last week, but this week they take on a strong west coast team that has proved itself in its own territory and will probably prove the same thing at Minneapolis.

NOTRE DAME OVER NAVY—Bledsoe was in favor of the Middies for a couple of reasons, but the remainder of the panel decided that the Fighting Irish, with only one loss, would get by Navy. The Annapolis boys have an unbeaten record, but have not met the same teams that Notre Dame has, and that can spell trouble with a capital "T."

IOWA STATE OVER DRAKE—This game will be played tonight. Zenner again was called upon to break a tie decision by the panel of experts. Again it was Etzel and I who were wrong, as it might seem at this stage of the game.

NEBRASKA OVER KANSAS—A quick, but easy decision for the Cornhuskers to topple the winless Jayhawks.

GEORGIA TECH OVER DUKE—Etzel was alone in his pick of Duke to stop the engineers, but the panel won out again and went all the way with Georgia Tech.

PITTSBURGH OVER MIAMI OF FLORIDA—Again Etzel dissented, but we others agreed that Pitt will be too much for Miami.

UCLA OVER CALIFORNIA—There was no disagreement on this issue as we gave the nod to the leading power on the west coast.

INDIANA OVER OHIO UNIVERSITY—Another unanimous decision with the nod going to the Hoosiers.

MT. VERNON — University High used a stout defense and two lightning touchdowns to defeat Mt. Vernon Friday night, 13-0, running their unbeaten streak to 22 and winning their second conference championship in a row.

Coach Carl Seftin's mighty Bluehawks had to go all out to bring home the victory and the undefeated season.

Hawkeyes—

whose hand was badly cleft in Los Angeles last week, has been reported in good shape, and will start.

The Hawkeyes have been plagued with injuries at the center position all season. Bill Van Buren and Norman Six have been injured off and on during the year. The Hawks' fourth center is Charles Pierce, a 210-pound sophomore from Sycamore, Ill.

Soph at Quarterback

Quarterback Jim Van Pelt, brilliant Wolverine sophomore, will start for Michigan against the Hawkeyes. Van Pelt directed both of the scoring marches for Michigan against Minnesota last week in a close 14-13 contest. He threw a nine-yard touchdown pass to Tom Maentz to tie the score and booted the extra point to give the Wolverines the victory.

Kramer will start at right end with Maentz ready for replacement duty. Mike Rotunno will be at left end. Jim Orwig and Al Sigman will start at the tackles, with Dick Hill and captain Ed Meads at the guards. Jim Bates will be at center.

Starting in the Wolverine backfield will be Terry Barr and dependable Tony Branoff at the half back positions. At fullback will be Lou Baldacci. Barr and Branoff lead the Wolverines in ground gaining.

Running Attack

Michigan has gained primarily on the ground this year, throwing only four touchdowns passes. The passing of Purdue's Len Dawson and Wisconsin's "twin-jims" Miller and Haluska, has stopped the Hawkeyes, and the lack of a substantial passing attack may weaken the Michigan offensive threat.

Evashevski has called upon quarterback Jerry Reichow, the team's total offense leader, to pace the Hawkeyes. At the half-back posts will be Dobrino and Eddie Vincent, with Roger Wiegmann at fullback.

Starting at left end will be Jim Gibbons, and Jim Freeman will start at right end. At the tackles will be Frank Bloomquist and Rodger Swedberg.

Cal To Start

Jones will start at right guard, and Dick Deasy will hold down the left guard slot with Suchy at center.

Besides being the national television "Game of the Week," today's contest will be carried on 11 radio stations including WSUI and KXIC, Iowa City; WHO and KRNT, Des Moines; and KCRG and WMT, Cedar Rapids.

MT. VERNON — University High used a stout defense and two lightning touchdowns to defeat Mt. Vernon Friday night, 13-0, running their unbeaten streak to 22 and winning their second conference championship in a row.

Coach Carl Seftin's mighty Bluehawks had to go all out to bring home the victory and the undefeated season.

After an impotent first half on a slippery field for both clubs, U-High zeroed in to score two touchdowns within three minutes in the third period.

Van Kirk Scores

Bill Van Kirk circled right end from 23 yards out to get the first one and Jerry Schoenfelder passed 27 yards to Jim Scott for the second.

It all started when Mt. Vernon could go nowhere after receiving the second half kick-off and had a punt partially blocked by the Bluehawks. The ball sailed a sad nine yards and U-High had its first break of the game on the Mt. Vernon 33.

A series of incomplete passes and penalties put the ball on the 23, where Van Kirk, on first down, skipped nimbly down the sidelines to score. The conversion attempt by Bob Price sailed wide to the left and U-High led, 6-0.

Loss Gamble

The Bluehawks again kicked-off and Mt. Vernon, with a fourth down and two to go situation on their 28, chose to gamble for a first down.

Quarterback Harold Clements juggled the ball and Dave Morgan broke through to recover the fumble for the Bluehawks on the 22.

After U-High was penalized five yards for outside Schoenfelder threw a 27-yard touchdown pass — his fourth of the season — to Jim Scott.

Run Extra Point

Van Kirk ran wide to the right to score the extra point to wrap the game up, 13-0.

Mt. Vernon did not manage a first down the second half, after picking up five in the first. The team that lost but two games before Friday night only mustered 84 yards from scrimmage against a rugged U-High defense. Only 18 came in the last two periods.

End Fine Careers

Schoenfelder and Van Kirk finished brilliant high school careers with this game. Schoenfelder's tackling was as crisp as the night air and Van Kirk's running was as slippery as the turf.

While these two boys were standouts, along with Bill De Kock and Jim and Al Scott, it was definitely a team victory for the Bluehawks. It couldn't have been a more fitting season finale for 11 graduating seniors.

Scoring by quarters:

U-High ... 0 0 13 0—13
Mt. Vernon ... 0 0 0 0—0
Touchdowns: Van Kirk, Jim Scott.
PAT: Van Kirk.

Crowd Riot Halts Prep Grid Game

OAKLAND, Ill. (AP)—Temper flared at the Villa Grove-Oakland football game Friday night forcing officials to banish two players and then call the game because of the crowd's fury.

The game was called at the end of the first half with Villa Grove leading, 19-0, and the crowd throwing everything but the kitchen sink on the field.

The flare-up resulted after officials had banished Mike Reed of Oakland and Don Payne of Villa Grove from the game.

Coaches of both schools reportedly agreed that calling off the game resulted from the crowd's actions.

At Cornell, the Chenoa-Cornell game was called at the end of the half by agreement of coaches and officials with Chenoa leading, 41-0, in a torrential down-pour.

Prison Gridder Has Experience—Running

FORT MADISON (AP)—Prior to the start of football practice at Fort Madison state prison, slips were passed out to candidates requesting the usual information, including experience.

"The Presidio," prison magazine says coach Roby Hilpert did a double take when he looked at one slip.

In the experience column, a hopeful footballer had written: "I just came back from being on escape. The law chased me for five years before they caught me. Should be a great open field runner."

IT WAS MUDDY GOING AT City High field Friday night, but Coach Frank Bates' Little Hawks came through with a good brand of football to top Dubuque, 19-7. Here a Dubuque player brings down a City High back with a necktie tackle early in the game. A Little Hawk blocker wastes his effort trying to take out a masked Dubuque man while an Iowa City player, wearing a similar mask, looks on.

Football Hawkeye Distance Men Face Marquette Today

The Iowa cross country team takes on an all-veteran Marquette squad in Milwaukee at 11 a.m. today for its second meet of the season.

Last week the Harriers beat Wisconsin at Madison, 22-34. Marquette has won over Minnesota and Wheaton. Wisconsin has defeated Wisconsin in conference running.

Coach Francis X. Cretzmeyer said Friday that Marquette has a "pretty good team" with last year's men all returning plus the addition of a good sophomore.

Last year Marquette beat Iowa with this Iowa team. Cretzmeyer said he "might have enough in the top three or four" to beat Marquette.

The top men of the harrier squad are captain Ted Wheeler, Charles (Deacon) Jones, Wayne Everman, and Murry Keatinge. Adding strength to the six-man team are Ira Dunsforth and Dick Allen.

Working Hard

The squad has been "working hard" this week, Cretzmeyer reported, and "they might be a little tired."

"We are always working on conference (Big Ten and NCAA) ideas," he added.

The cross country coach plans to keep the first four together as long as possible, as was done at Wisconsin last week. At Madison, Jones, Wheeler and Everman finished first, second and third, and Keatinge was fourth.

City High Rolls Over Rams, 19-7

By TOM MAU

An improved and spirited Iowa City High football team rolled over favored Dubuque before a partisan homecoming crowd at the Little Hawk stadium Friday night, 19-7.

Frank Bates' Little Hawks looked the best they have all season, as they moved the ball practically at will, and effectively controlled the Dubuque offense.

Not until the waning minutes of the fourth quarter did the Dubuque offense move the ball into Iowa City's territory under its own power.

3 Scores

While the City High defense shackled the visitors' offense, the Little Hawks were moving the ball effectively and threatened to score three times in the first half. At one time in the closing minutes of the opening half, the Hawks moved the ball to the Ram 1-yard-line, but a fumble nullified the 42 yard drive.

City High's first TD came with a little more than seven minutes remaining in the third quarter. Paul Burgess shot over his tackle from ten yards out and hurled the last defender on the one-to-go over standing up.

After forcing the Rams to punt, Iowa City again took possession of the ball. Carries by Burgess, Bruce Taylor and Jerry Stack advanced the ball to the Ram 15. Leslie Ferguson hit twice moving to the nine. A penalty pushed the Little Hawks back to the 24 and on the next play a pass from Bob Bartunek connected with Stack placing the ball on the one. Burgess took a hand-off from quarterback Dave McCluskey to go over for the touchdown. Jerry Gingerich faked a place kick and passed to McCluskey for the point after.

11-Yard Run

Iowa City scored its last touchdown after driving 40 yards in less than five minutes of play. McCluskey swept around his left end, racing 11 yards behind good blocking for six points.

With about two minutes left in the game, Dubuque took possession of the ball on the mid-stripe and a 15 yard penalty advanced the ball to the Iowa City 35. Quarterback Glenn Walters, who had previously connected on three aerial attempts in as many tries, hit halfback Jim Vandermill on a 35 yard pass which was good for the Rams' only touchdown. Tom Turner converted with 1:03 left.

Scoring by quarters:
Iowa City ... 0 0 13 6—19
Dubuque ... 0 0 0 7—7
Individual scoring: Iowa City: Burgess 2; McCluskey 1; PAT: Gingerich to Brown. Dubuque: Walters to J. Vandermillen. PAT: Turner.

Michigan Has Waited Years for Ron Kramer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — They have been waiting almost 30 years on the University of Michigan campus for "another Bennie Oosterbaan" to come along.

The fabulous Oosterbaan won all-America honors at end in 1925-27. Along with Alabama's great Don Hutson, he generally is conceded to be the peer of flankers in football's modern era.

Down through the years Michigan had some other outstanding ends—Ed Frutig, a teammate of the great Tom Harmon and Iowa's Czech Forest Evashevski in the 1940 team; colorful Dick Ritenburg; and the great combination of Bob Mann and Lenny Ford of the Rose Bowl titlists of 1947.

Reserved for Kramer
Fine ends all—but no one ever said of them, "There's another Oosterbaan."

That accolade was reserved until a 19-year-old sophomore took his place in Michigan's starting lineup in the fall of 1954.

Then, game by game, the impression grew that in the 215-pound Ron Kramer the Wolverines truly had an end who deserved to be bracketed with Oosterbaan.

Enjoys Comparison
Oosterbaan now is Michigan's head coach and no one enjoys more the comparisons that are made on a "Then-and-Now" basis — of the Oosterbaan of a quarter-of-a-century-ago and the Kramer of today.

Football is a vastly different game now from what it was in Bennie's undergraduate days. On Fielding H. (Hurricane) Yost's teams, the accent then was on Michigan's famed "Punt-Pass-and-Prayer" offense. Now, the offense has stepped up and the game is more wide open.

There are sharp contrasts between Oosterbaan's early career and that of Kramer. When Bennie first reported to the Wolverines, Yost was on the verge of dismissing him because he didn't assume a proper stance.

No Top Passer
Kramer came to the Ann Arbor campus as one of the state's best known and most coveted schoolboy athletes.

Where Oosterbaan had one of his era's outstanding forward passers in fellow all-American Bennie Friedman to help build his prestige, Kramer has gained recognition as one of the Big Ten's finest receivers in spite of Michigan's lack of a good passer.

One of the basic weaknesses of the Wolverine attack last season was the absence of a top-flight passer.

Outstanding Mark
Even with mediocre aerialists, Kramer compiled an outstanding mark. He caught 23 passes good for 303 yards. That was as many passes as the next six Michigan receivers snared during the season.

It long has been Michigan's policy to be "hush-hush" on fine sophomore players. The Wolverines like to direct attention to senior gridders and let the younger performer toil without the pressure or publicity.

That program was followed at the outset with Kramer, but it couldn't last long — Kramer simply was too good to permit it.

Last Year's Feats
Here in a nutshell in what the 6-3 end did during his first collegiate campaign:
Led the Michigan scorers.
Converted 14 of 15 tries on points after touchdowns.
Did the team punting and averaged 41.2 yards a try.
Did the kicking off.

Was the outstanding on defense as well as offense. Blocked three punts.

Awards Candidate
So without benefit of any advance ballyhoo, Kramer commanded the attention of the gridiron experts and made his share of all-star teams.

This year, he has been almost universally picked in the pre-season polls as the "Lineman of the Year," a top candidate for the Heisman Award, which annually goes to college football's top player, and a sure-fire choice for all-America honors.

Drake, ISC Renew Old Rivalry Today

DES MOINES (AP) — Drake and Iowa State, football rivals for more than half a century, will meet tonight at Drake stadium in a climax to Drake's homecoming weekend. It will be the 55th game in the long series which began in 1898. The Cyclones have won 36 games, Drake 14, and four games have ended in ties.

The Cyclones of the Big Seven are two to three touchdowns favorites over Coach Warren Gaer's Bulldogs but the dope book generally means little when the two teams meet.

Navy To Risk Win String Against Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Undeclared Navy, the nation's No. 4 college football team, will exchange broadsides with its most formidable foe of the season, favored Notre Dame in a tense intercollegiate contest today.

The forecast calls for scattered showers and cooler weather, but this Knute K. Rockne memorial game is expected to jam 55,000 fans into Notre Dame Stadium.

Notre Dame's once-beaten Irish are rated a six-point favorite as they steam against a team that is the pride of the East. Yet, the Irish are notched in the No. 9 spot in the national Associated Press poll.

Pressure on Middles
With Notre Dame's chances for a perfect season already marred by Michigan State 21-7, the pressure today will be entirely on the Middles, who own the nation's best defensive record and a fine quarterback, George Welsh.

Even with the traditional finale with Army still ahead, this is a pivotal game in Navy's strike for its first undefeated season since 1926 and perhaps the first unbeaten-untied year in Navy history.

Navy has had few shining hours in this 29-game series. The Middles have beaten the Irish only four times, last triumph with a wartime-bolstered lineup, 32-13, in 1944. The one tie played was 6-6 in 1945.

Notre Dame's top-heavy bag of 23 victories includes nine in a row since the 1945 deadlock, with Navy's best showing a 6-0 defeat last year in the mud at Baltimore.

To Honor Rockne
Rockne will be honored at a halftime ceremonial at this particular game because Navy dedicated Notre Dame Stadium in 1930, the year the famed Irish mentor died in a plane crash.

Former Irish head coaches Jesse Harper, Frank Leahy, Elmer Layden, Hunk Anderson and Ed McKeever, will participate in the ceremony, with the "Rock's" widow, Mrs. Bonnie Rockne.

The game, starting at 12:30 p.m., will be broadcast (CBS), but not televised.

Colts, Packers Clash Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore's Colts and the Green Bay Packers, leading the National Football League's two best running backs, clash in Baltimore tonight in a western division game that could send the victor into a tie for first place by Sunday night.

The Colts and Packers, both surprise teams of the league, are tied for second with 3-2 records. Los Angeles, western pacesetter with a 4-1 record, plays host to the rejuvenated Chicago Bears (2-3) Sunday in one of the five league tilts that day.

Other Sunday contests match Detroit (0-5) and the 49'ers (2-3) at San Francisco in the western division, and the six eastern clubs against one another: Cleveland (4-1) at the Chicago Cardinals (2-3-1); Pittsburgh Steelers (4-1) at Philadelphia (1-3-1) and Washington (3-2) at New York (1-4).

Family Team Takes Reins Of Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The brother-sister team of Calvin Griffith and Thelma Haynes assumed control of the Washington Senators Friday, vowing that the club will not be sold.

Griffith and Mrs. Haynes, wife of Washington pitching coach Joe Haynes, took over the leading roles in operation of the club under provisions made by Clark Griffith, baseball's "Old Fox," who died Thursday night at the age of 85.

Calvin Griffith and Mrs. Haynes are Griffith's adopted children.

Won't Sell Stock
Calvin, now executive vice-president of the Senators, is on record as saying: "We'll never sell our baseball stock."

With the death of the elder Griffith, the clamor is expected to grow to shift the Senators' franchise from Washington. This city had the poorest attendance in the major leagues last year. The Washington club finished last in the American League.

But Calvin Griffith and Mrs. Haynes were in no mood to sell out. Long before Griffith's death, a series of publicity devices had been worked out to boost season ticket sales and increase attendance.

Funeral Arrangements
Meanwhile, funeral arrangements were nearing completion for the elder Griffith. Services are to be held Monday at 11 a.m. (EST) at the Hamline Methodist Church, with burial at Ft. Lincoln Cemetery.

The body lay in state Friday at a funeral home. Messages of praise for Griffith poured in all day long. Among them was a wire to Mrs. Griffith from President Eisenhower.

Hawks Start Cage Drills On Tuesday

Iowa's basketball team will begin practice Tuesday for defense of its Big Ten championship and national fourth place ranking.

Nine letter winners including four of five last year's regular starters are expected to answer Coach Bucky O'Connor's call to action.

Returning regulars are Bill Logan, Carl Cain, Bill Seaberg and Sharm Scheuerman. Other lettermen are Bob George, Babe Hawthorne, Roy Johnson, Augie Martell and Bill Schoof.

Also reporting will be minor letter-winner Frank Sebott and several promising sophomores including Jim McConnell of Des Moines, Roosevelt, Gregg Schroeder of Muscatine, Tom Payne of Quincy, Ill., Norman (Doc) Paul of Clarence and Gene Pitts of Chicago.

Missing from drills will be lettermen Deacon Davis, Jerry Riddle and Doug Duncan, all 1955 graduates.

Cain, Logan and Seaberg have been elected tri-captains for the year in an unusual move by their teammates to honor the three 3-year veterans.

Iowa will open its 22-game schedule here Dec. 3 against Nebraska. The game has been tentatively set as the CBS-TV Big Ten game of the week. If the TV arrangement is approved, the game will be played in the afternoon.

ISC Frosh Down Nebraska, 17-14

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Iowa State downed the University of Nebraska 17-14 in freshman football here Friday.

Iowa State blocked a punt to set up the first touchdown. One of the most spectacular plays of the afternoon was a 79-yard run from scrimmage by halfback Benny Dillard to score Nebraska's second touchdown.

A fumble by Nebraska gave Iowa State the ball for the visitors' final counter, a field goal.

Benson 'Will Stay' If Ike Wants Him

MOORHEAD, Minn. (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said Friday night he will remain in the Cabinet "just as long as the President wants me."

Benson made his statement in a speech prepared for a Farmers Day meeting after published reports — denied by the White House — that some Cabinet members had tried to get him out of the agricultural post.

"I am striving earnestly and conscientiously to serve my country as secretary of agriculture," Benson said.

'Stern Challenge'
"It is not a job that any man would want at this time if he were interested only in advancing his personal comfort or popularity. But it is also a stern challenge."

"I am going to see it through just as long as the President wants me to remain in his Cabinet."

Benson has been under attack by many Democrats and some Republicans, who want to ditch his system of supporting farm prices on a flexible basis, and to return to the high, rigid supports that were started in wartime.

Reports Ouster Try
Thursday, the Farm Journal at Philadelphia reported that Atty. Gen. Brownell, Postmaster General Summerfield and presidential assistant Harold E. Stassen had tried to oust the agriculture secretary.

The White House denial declared that "the entire administration is working with the secretary of agriculture toward the objective of assuring the nation's farmer a fair share of America's prosperity."

In a stormy hearing at Worthington, Minn. Tuesday, some farmers demanded Benson's resignation; others urged that the secretary be given more time to bring about a farm recovery.

Surplus Causes Drop
In his speech Friday night, Benson said "farm prices and income are down because of the burdensome, price-depressing influence of our accumulated surpluses."

"It was not high price supports that resulted in high farm prices and incomes during the war and postwar years. It was war that produced them."

"I have pointed out repeatedly that all the price decline in agriculture from the peak in 1951 through mid-1955 occurred under high rigid price supports at 90 per cent of parity, and two-thirds of that decline took place before this administration came to office."

'90% Not Effective'
"As the world began to recover from the devastation of war and we experienced a decline in overseas outlets for our farm products, price-supported commodities began to accumulate in government storage. The 90 per cent of parity supports were not effective in holding up farm prices and income when stocks began to accumulate."

"A storage program is not a market — nor is a government bin a customer. And it is markets that we need, and customers we must have."

Margaret, Townsend Leave Town for Weekend Together

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret and Peter Townsend slipped out of town separately Friday night in chauffeur-driven cars and were believed to be heading for another weekend together in the country.

The princess' Rolls Royce swung out of the Clarence House grounds just after tea time and was followed by a station wagon packed with luggage.

About the same time, the 40-year-old divorced war hero left in a black sedan. He was accompanied by Lady Rupert Nevill, sister-in-law of Lord

Abergavenny, Townsend's host in London.

Hordes of newsmen descended on two stately homes in Sussex, some 50 miles south of London.

One was Uckfield House, home of Lord and Lady Rupert Nevill, close friends of both the royal family and Townsend. The other was Eridge Castle, residence of the Marquis of Abergavenny, likewise a close friend of the palace and the pilot.

A large sedan drove through the main gate of Uckfield House after nightfall.

Class 1 Rail Engineers Get Pay Raises

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's class 1 railroads Friday granted pay raises averaging 14.7 cents an hour to 48,000 engineers.

The carriers and the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers announced the agreement, retroactive to Oct. 1, provides a general wage increase of 5 per cent in the average basic daily rates of locomotive engineers. That raise is figured at 10½ cents an hour.

An additional 2 per cent, figured at 4.2 cents an hour, is to be added "as an adjustment to differential inequities between locomotive engineers and employees in other classes of railroad service."

A portion of the increase was granted in lieu of a health and welfare fund.

The settlement also provides for establishment of a five-day week for yard engineers if all the nation's railroads request it.

Interstate Commerce Commission statistics show that over-the-road engineers averaged annual earnings in 1954 of $7,528 and yard engineers $6,255.

The basic day of engineers on passenger trains is 100 miles or five hours, whichever is to their advantage.

The basic day of engineers on freight trains is 100 miles or eight hours. Yard engineers work on eight-hour shifts.

Still unsettled are negotiations between the railroads and the Order of Railroad Conductors and a group of non-operating railroad unions.

City Electric Use Rising

The use of electricity in Iowa City is expected to double in the next ten years, Charles H. Whitmore, President, Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company said Friday.

Whitmore made this statement at a luncheon attended by the utility's Board of Directors and civic and business representatives of Iowa City.

"As much as $750,000 per year may be needed," Whitmore stated. "The property used to serve Iowa City has grown 200 per cent since the war while net revenue has grown less than 60 per cent."

"Additional shares of common stock must be issued," Whitmore said, "but net revenue of the utility must grow in proportion to the growth of the property before this stock will be available."

The luncheon was held in connection with the monthly meeting of the utility's Board of Directors.

Gossip Column Useless, Prep Journalists Told

Gossip columns of the "Ask B. C. what happened last week, E. F. knows" variety often waste talent and space in high school newspapers, a group of high school journalists were told Friday by two visiting speakers.

Charles Krause, Mt. Vernon High School journalism instructor, told the group attending the Iowa High School Press Association convention during the morning session that high school publications, contrary to belief, do not want gossip columns.

Arthur M. Sanderson, Minneapolis, Minn., assistant director of the National Scholastic Press Association, told the students in the evening to look on both sides of the gossip column problem and make their own decisions. Arguments for the gossip column, Sanderson said, are that students like these columns; names make news, and that some of the highest paid newspaper writers are gossip columnists.

"Let's see if there is a rebuttal to these arguments," he said.

If students actually like these columns, Sanderson argued, then we should have two or three pages of them so that students will like the paper two or three times as much.

Few students' names get into the paper this way, he said, since most of the gossip columns use initials. This is the easy way; good reporters go out and seek news, ask questions and observe.

As to the highly paid columnists, Sanderson replied, "There is a difference in reporting that two movie stars are having a quarrel and that steady couple in the same room with you is on the verge of a break-up."

"It's your responsibility and your newspaper," Sanderson said, "but be honest about it."

Sanderson spoke at a banquet in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union Friday evening at the conclusion of the convention.

The one-day convention, sponsored by the State University of Iowa School of Journalism and Extension Division, drew 619 students and 75 advisers from 89 schools throughout the state.

Faure Passes Crucial Vote

PARIS (AP) — Premier Edgar Faure squeaked through another vote of confidence in the National Assembly Friday. The Assembly then decided to start debate Sunday on the question of holding national elections in December.

The 271-259 vote on Faure's request for confidence in reality was a showdown between those in favor of elections soon and those wanting to wait a little longer or perhaps until the regularly scheduled time next June.

Trapped in Well, Saws Handle, Escapes

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Trapped in a 45-foot well with a sledge hammer handle piercing his abdomen, Roy Simmons sawed off the handle and was lifted to safety.

Simmons, a 32-year-old bank cashier from Newton, Tex., was in good condition at Baptist Hospital here Friday.

Simmons was helping two workmen who were drilling a well on his farm near Newton Thursday. A tile piece became wedged crosswise in the well. The workmen were afraid to go down into the well to dislodge it and Simmons went down, taking the sledge hammer to force the tile into place.

Concrete walls of the well collapsed, forcing the sledge handle into his abdomen and pinning him.
