Soviet Rebuffs New Plan for Germany

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov rebuffed Friday night a new Western proposal to begin reunification of Germany by nationwide elections next September. He will fly to Moscow today—possibly to receive new instructions.

The 65-year-old diplomat's disclosure that he will make a round trip to the Soviet capital during a three-day recess of the Geneva conference stirred immediate speculation that he may come back with revised ideas on the deadlocked German problem.

He turned down the West's newest German unification plan at Friday's Big Four session mainly on the ground it made no provision for European security. He promised he would "naturally study it carefully" and comment on it again next Tuesday.

V. M. Molotov
Rigid Outlook

Molotov Trip

It would be a normal thing for Molotov to fly back to Moscow at this time, to take part in the big annual celebration Sunday night on the eve of the October Revolution anniversary. It also, however, affords a convenient excuse for conferences with the rest of the Soviet collective leadership.

Since he publicly apologized recently for Communist ideological errors, Molotov has been the target of rumors that he is on the way out as foreign minister. He has given no hint here that he may soon be ousted.

Western diplomatic sources said, however, that Molotov has appeared to be under rigid orders from Moscow, which allow him no room for maneuver in rejecting German unification. With 70 million divided Germans certain to blame bitterly the cold war side which denies their national aspirations, Molotov has been on a tough spot at Geneva.

Repeats Demands

Molotov repeated Friday his demand that the Communist East German government and the West German government be called in to discuss the reunification problem with the Big Four foreign ministers.

He said the new Western unification plan, presented by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, "failed to conform" to the foreign ministers' directive from the summit conference last July.

Proposals

Submitted on the "joint initiative" of the three Western Powers and the Bonn Republic, the reunification proposal stated:

"1. Free and secret elections shall be held throughout Germany during September 1956, for the selection of representatives for an all-German National Assembly to draft a constitution and to form a government thereunder for a reunified Germany.

"2. Each of the four powers will designate a representative to a commission to prepare, in consultation with German experts, the electoral law for such provisions for safeguards and elections, the electoral law for supervision to insure the freedom of such elections.

"3. The commission shall understand its functions promptly and shall submit its report to the four powers by January 1956."

Charges by Dulles

Dulles charged Molotov has been "totally unresponsive" to the directive by the summit conference on German reunification.

"It may be tiresome that I repeat, again and again, the refrain of adhering to our directive," Dulles said. "I cannot, however, in good conscience do otherwise. The four heads of our governments reached an agreement last July at Geneva which gave rise to new hopes throughout the world."

He recalled emphatically President Eisenhower's statement on returning from Geneva that the foreign ministers' conference would be the "acid test" of Russia's assurances.

Burkey Acquitted Of Shooting Son

ANAMOSA (AP)—A District Court jury in the Archie Burkey murder case found the former Wyoming, Ia., night marshal innocent Friday by reason of insanity in the fatal shooting of his 2-year-old son.

Burkey's attorney, William T. Connery of Dubuque, moved that his client be committed to a mental institution. Judge Floyd Philbrick took the motion under advisement.

Burkey was accused of shooting his son to death in October, 1953, because the child would not stop crying.

Engineers Have Finished Bypass Field Checks

City, state and federal engineers have completed a field check of the plans for the U.S. Highway 6 bypass south of Iowa City, Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer announced Friday.

The bypass will take Highway 6 away from its present route at Scott Church east of Iowa City, swing it south of the city to the junction of Highways 218 and I, then north on Riverside drive to its present route. The project will be 8 1/2 miles long.

4 Captured After 10 Dig Out of Prison

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Four of the 10 tough inmates who tunneled out Thursday night in the largest mass escape in the history of the trouble-plagued Washington State Penitentiary were recaptured Friday after about 17 hours freedom.

An alert farmer living in the sparsely settled wheat growing country 20 miles north of here found tracks showing the four apparently spent the night in one of his outbuildings. His barking dogs had awakened him during the night.

An armed posse, quickly summoned after daybreak, found the four convicts walking along a railroad track near a brushy area, apparently headed for the desolate Snake River region. They were returned to prison.

Press Search

They were Ollie Wiles, 42, serving life as an habitual criminal; Benny S. Crudle, 29; Gene Kensler, 32; and James Darden, 26.

The search was pressed in all directions in this rolling southeastern Washington county for the other six, one of whom was convicted of murdering his mother.

Prison officials disclosed more details of the men's getaway after examination of the 60-foot tunnel and the unfinished basement in which they placed the excavated earth. Their escape was discovered at a 7:30 p.m. change of guards Thursday, probably two hours after they reached the outside.

Stool Tools

The escapees had to break through seven inches of concrete floor of one of the cells. They apparently used tools stolen during a riot in which inmates seized control of the institution last July 14.

During their digging, they had used radio antenna wire to string lights. It was only about 30 feet from their building to the prison wall, but the entire length of the tunnel was 60 feet.

The only comparable escape attempt in the prison's history was in 1948 when seven men attempted a getaway but were free only a few minutes, prison records disclosed.

Doctors OK Ike's X-Rays

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower's doctors X-rayed his mending heart Friday and were "very pleased" at lack of an enlargement after a week of steadily increasing physical exertion.

On an otherwise quiet day for the chief executive, that was the major development in his condition—and an important and encouraging one. For there was a chance that the sitting up and walking which the President has been attempting on a greater scale daily might have been reflected in an expansion of his heart.

But the physicians reported in a medical bulletin at 11:45 a.m. (MST) "the President's condition continues to be satisfactory" and the X-ray showed "his heart remains normal in size."

The X-ray examinations reinforced the probability that Eisenhower can be discharged from Fitzsimons Army Hospital a week from Friday to fly to Washington and then transfer a few days later to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

Today's early morning hours will mark the end of six weeks of convalescence since the President's Sept. 24 heart attack.

This has been a week with more emphasis on social than on official visitors for Eisenhower.

Flying into Denver Friday to see the President were two World War II comrades in arms, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, U.S. Army chief of staff, and British Field Marshal Bernard Montgomery, deputy commander of Allied forces in Europe.

Taylor and Mrs. Taylor visited with the President and Mrs. Eisenhower in the late afternoon.

Manager Can Help Policy, Speaker Says

Prof. C. C. Ludwig, University of Minnesota, Friday told city managers from 20 Iowa communities they should not maintain a barrier between politics and administration, but take an active part in the formation of municipal policy.

Ludwig, a former city manager and now executive director of the League of Minnesota Municipalities, said one of the major jobs of the city manager, aside from administration, is planning for the welfare of the people and the future of the community.

Speaking before a two-day meeting of the city managers at the State University of Iowa, Ludwig warned the municipal officials that the adaptation of a policy to a particular town is very important.

'Differences'

"Communities are different," he said, "and the council and manager must recognize this difference."

The University of Minnesota political science professor said that policies adaptable in some communities can be out of the question in others. He added that a trial and error method may be the only solution for this problem.

Ludwig said managers could help their councilmen by providing alternatives in policy when asked particular questions. He said a good manager must be able to look at both sides of the question.

'Adopt a Code'

"We must adopt a code of demeanor," he said, "which prevents us from being dogmatic, crusaders and extremists. We must listen to both sides and take care not to act in haste."

In conclusion, Ludwig stated that the essential element of good municipal government, no matter what form, is the patriotism of the citizen.

"We cannot over-emphasize," he commented, "that, in America, the city government is not going to be much better than the citizen on the street. It is unill'ly that we will have good government with an apathetic citizen."

Other speakers were Prof. Wayne Deegan, SUI College of Engineering; Curtis Wood, Cedar Rapids, associated with the American Federation of Labor; and Irwin A. Rose, Newton, vice-president in charge of manufacturing at the Maytag Company.

Ballots for City Election

CITY VOTERS will face two ballots in the election Tuesday. Acting City Clerk Kenneth Millsap holds in his left hand the huge ballot on land annexation questions and, in his right hand, the brief ballot for the City Council election. Eight annexation proposals are up for consideration. State law requires such a detailed description of the property that the large ballot is necessary.

City Voters To Fill Two Ballots Tuesday

Not one, but two ballots will be filled out by voters who go to the polls in next Tuesday's city election.

One ballot will list the names of the six candidates for the city council and the name of the candidate for the park commissioner, with spaces left for write-in candidates.

The other ballot, which is about the size of a Daily Iowan page, lists the eight areas which the city council has approved for annexation.

Proceeding the description of each area is the question, "Shall the following public measure be adopted?"

Yes or No

Voters will be asked to mark their ballot yes or no as to whether or not each area described on the ballot shall be approved for annexation.

The ballot lists in lengthy, legal terms the description of each area to be annexed. For instance, the description of the first area begins, "Commencing at the southwest corner of the NW 1/4 of the SW 1/4 of Section 14, Township 79 North, Range 6 west of the 5th P.M." and goes on for several lines to describe the area in such terms.

Acting city clerk Kenneth Millsap said Friday that Iowa law requires that the areas proposed for annexation be described in the terms in which they were presented for approval to the city council, and that for this reason they are on the ballot in such terms, rather than described by street boundaries or locations.

Student Voters

As a service to the readers of The Daily Iowan who will vote in next Tuesday's election, the eight areas to be annexed are listed here in the order in which they appear on the ballot.

1. The platted area of the Sunnyside addition, located south of Highland Ave., and bounded by Crescent Ave. on the west, Archer Ave. on the south and by Ridge Ave. on the east.

2. The area which includes Finkbine Park and Stadium Park, SUI married student housing units, and the lower nine of the old Finkbine golf course.

3. The tract of land located between Iowa City's western city limits and Coralville's First Ave. This area runs north from Highway 6 to the Iowa River.

Already Annexed

At a recent meeting of the Coralville city council, upon presentation of petitions by the owners of property in this area, the Coralville council voted to annex this area. Under Iowa law, the area automatically became part of Coralville. Mayor Leroy Mercer has said he regards the area as part of Coralville, but that it was left on the Iowa City ballot because the ballots had already been ordered at the time of the Coralville annexation.

4. The area on lower Muscatine road which runs in a southeasterly direction as far as the site of the new Proctor and Gamble plant. The site of the plant is NOT included in the area proposed for annexation.

5. Two "islands" located at the northeastern edge of the airport, just west of Highway 218.

6. A five-acre "island" located on East Court St. near the Herbert Hoover school.

7. The area bounded on the north by University Heights, on the west by Sunset St., and on the south by West Benton St.

8. The area located north of Park Road, west of the city park, and running north to the Iowa River.

Should the voters approve the annexation of these areas, the city will still have to prove to the Johnson County District Court that it can provide adequate services for the areas, before the annexation becomes final.

Hours for voting in the various polling places Tuesday will be from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., Millsap said Friday.

Bender Says Ike Will Run

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio) said Friday he is confident President Eisenhower will run again, but two Republican governors said they wouldn't make a guess either way.

One of the two, Gov. Walter J. Kohler of Wisconsin, said he will become a "favorite son" candidate if Eisenhower doesn't indicate by March 2 he is willing to take the nomination again.

The other, Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois, said his state's delegation at the 1956 convention will be for Eisenhower if he is a candidate, but otherwise will "look around."

Bender said that Eisenhower could take it easy in the campaign, that he could win without making a single speech.

Kohler and Stratton were in Washington to attend a meeting of the Governors' Conference Highway Committee.

Democrats were relatively silent for the moment but Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), a possible presidential candidate, got in some lies.

Kefauver said in a speech for a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at Dayton, Ohio, that what was once billed as a great Eisenhower crusade "has bogged down in a sorry mess of deals and favorites."

Temperature Drop Expected Tonight

DES MOINES (AP)— Iowa's hot and cold running weather is expected to undergo another change tonight.

Forecasters said a storm system north of Montana with a low pressure trough running into the Texas Panhandle will continue to shove temperatures upward in Iowa through today.

But a cold front associated with the storm system will start dropping temperatures in the northwest late tonight and spread over the state Sunday.

Lows early today will vary from 27 in the northeast up to 42 in the southwest, while highs later in the day will range from 55 northeast to 70 in the southwest.

RITA FILES DIVORCE

RENO, Nev. (AP)— Actress Rita Hayworth filed a long-distance suit for divorce Friday from her fourth husband, singer Dick Haymes.

5 Seniors To Start Against Minnesota

By DAVE STEVENS

Five Iowa seniors will start today against traditional rival Minnesota for the last time before an Iowa crowd that has been waiting three months for the game.

No conference title is at stake, but 52,000 tickets have been sold down in the Big Ten standings.

The five last-year men on the first team are Captain Cal Jones, guard; Jerry Reichow, quarterback; Jim Freeman, end; Eddie Vincent, halfback, and Roger Wiegmann, fullback. Earl Smith, right halfback, would be the sixth if he starts.

The prize for the winning team is a bronze pig called "Floyd of Rosedale." However, the real incentive—for Iowa—will be to avenge the debated 22-20 defeat inflicted by Minnesota last year at Minneapolis.

Although Iowa lost another last-minute game to Michigan last week, the Hawkeyes have raised their morale to probably its highest pitch this year.

They are in equally good shape physically and mentally. Tackle Rodger Swedberg, the only player injured last game, has indicated that he will be ready by game time.

Don Bowen, his sophomore substitute, has captured the No. 1 right tackle position. But in Friday's drills, Swedberg replaced Bowen briefly for the first time this week.

Minnesota visited the stadium Friday but did not work out.

The Gophers will be out after their first victory in Iowa City since 1948 when Minnesota won, 28-21. Today's contest, will be Gopher Coach Murray Warmath's debut in Hawkeyeland.

Two one-point conference losses show Minnesota's potential. The Gophers lost to Purdue, 7-5, and to Michigan, 14-13. Last week they downed Southern California, 25-19.

Little Action On Israel, Egypt Border

JERUSALEM (AP)—Comparative quiet returned to the Israeli-Egyptian frontier Friday, although Israel reported an Egyptian attack by two platoons on an outpost east of the Gaza strip.

An Israeli spokesman said the Egyptians were repulsed by machinegun and rifle fire. Egyptian spokesman in Cairo made no mention of such an attack.

A UN spokesman said Israeli and Egyptian forces continued an exchange of mortar and artillery fire farther south in the El Auja-Nizana demilitarized zone, scene of a bloody battle Thursday, but "nothing serious happened."

Egyptian Planes

Egyptian military reconnaissance planes flew over the Gaza Strip Friday and met heavy Egyptian antiaircraft fire.

The Israeli official reported his side suffered no casualties in beating back the Egyptians north of the Nir Izahk settlements, about two miles east of the Gaza border. The Egyptian-held Gaza Strip is about 50 miles north of El Auja.

Both sides claimed the strategic El Sabha checkpoint in the El Auja-Nizana zone after a 17-hour battle described as the heaviest fighting between Israelis and Arabs since the 1948 Palestine War.

Restrict Observers

UN truce observers reported their freedom of movement in the zone still was restricted by Israel and that they were unable to visit the El Sabha area for accurate accounts of the battle. Casualty figures announced by each side were widely at variance.

An Israeli Foreign Office spokesman said Israel had informed the United Nations "there will be no firing across the international frontier from the Israel side unless we are attacked or the Egyptians cross the frontier."

Three Arab nations — Iraq, Syria and Lebanon — pledged their support to Egypt if help is needed in any full-scale fighting with the Israelis.

In Baghdad, Iraq Foreign Minister Burhan Bashayan went so far as to call in the U.S., British and French ambassadors to make plain Iraq's attitude. Bashayan announced his nation will not hesitate to carry out her obligations under the Arab security pact in replying to any Israeli aggression against Egypt.

Woman Falls Asleep At Car Wheel

When a Iowa City cab driver saw a woman slumped at the wheel of her car at the intersection of Dubuque and Washington Streets about 2:30 a.m. Friday he rushed to the police station and reported it.

An officer was dispatched to investigate.

He returned with this report: "When he opened the door of the car the woman stirred and finally looked up at him sleep-eyed.

"Oh, has the light changed?" she asked.

He told her that she had fallen asleep and that indeed the light had changed — several times.

Before she drove off he advised her to get to bed earlier in the future.

Tackle Their Problem

THE IOWA FARM PRODUCTS COMMITTEE, named by Gov. Lee Hoegh to promote Iowa farm products, tackled the problem of under-consumption as soon as it met at the statehouse Friday. Members, some of whom are shown here, drank 18 pints of milk served by the governor's staff.

Of Merit Alone

The 1955 Nobel prize for literature went last week to Hall-dor Kiljan Laxness, an Icelandic novelist. This announcement by the Royal Swedish Academy of Letters received much less newspaper-space than the Nobel Prizes in Chemistry and Physics which were won by American Scientists.

But the award for literature should be of particular interest to the University family in these days when those who profess a liking for communist political theory are automatically considered suspect.

For Laxness describes himself as one "who loves the Russians but practices a lot of the American way of life."

Communism has become a term connoting a way of life far different from our own. It has become a synonym for Russian totalitarianism. The term has become a scare word and the most damning accusation that can be hurled at any person or group is to label it Communist.

For many of the people of the world this has resolved itself to a simple statement. If a work is Communist, it is bad. If it is anti-Communist it is good. It is as simple as that.

Why then, we might ask, should the Royal Swedish Academy of Letters award this honor to a man who openly professes a taste for Communism?

They made the award for the excellence of his writing. Quite rightly they considered only that and not his political beliefs.

Of course we do not agree with Laxness' political beliefs. The Communist way of life as exemplified by Russian Socialism which dictates totalitarian rule over the Russian people is not compatible with American ideals of individual rights for all citizens. And we suspect that were Laxness to live as an ordinary citizen of Russia, he might soon long for the democratic way of life of his native Iceland.

And the Swedish Academy, reflecting the long Swedish tradition of democratic government, certainly does not embrace Communism.

This award demonstrates a very commendable outlook on the part of the Nobel committee. They are not swayed by labels—they are judges of merit alone.

Three Chapels—

Brandeis University at Waltham, Mass., has dedicated three chapels on its campus. It is a unique interfaith grouping of three separate edifices serving students of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths.

Erection of the three chapels, united around a natural pool, marks the first time on any campus that a university has undertaken to provide for the spiritual needs of its students in this manner.

The three chapels stand as a striking symbol of the American concept of religious thinking. By this, racial and religious understanding is based on the preservation of a climate where diversities can flourish in comfortable co-existence. The president of Brandeis University, Dr. Abram L. Sachar, said:

"It is not possible to check religious differences at the entrance of the university along with umbrellas and overshoes. Religious differences exist, and they should not be glossed over or uprooted. The task which we have in a democracy is to encourage respect for the specific values of each of the historic faiths rather than to fall victim to the blandishments of the lowest common denominator."

Thus Brandeis university indorses the principle of diversity, but sees in this diversity a common goal. Its students shall go their separate ways, but they shall go together. In essence it speaks respect and understanding of all faiths in the finest tradition of our democracy.

Concerning C-sickness—

We could see the suspense was killing him. "I'm in! I'm in!" he almost shouted in our ears. "Same test as last year!" The guy sitting next to us seemed pleased — exuberant.

"But you're just a freshman, aren't you?" we asked. "Yeh. But the guys in our house got files of all the tests. Man, I've got it made."

He couldn't have been more right. He did have it made, and, quite probably it was the "same test as last year."

It's too late to do anything about mid-terms. Those grades have been recorded and the tests filed away for Greek (and dorm) posterity.

Can't some new tests be given? Professors seldom ask the most important questions, anyway. How about giving it a try the last week of this quarter? We're getting darn C-sick.

Words of Men, Wise and Otherwise

Joseph Stalin, in 1936, when asked about plans for world revolution:
"We never had such plans and intentions. . . . We Marxists hold that revolution will occur in other countries too. But it will occur only when the revolutionaries of these countries find it possible or necessary. The export of revolution—that is nonsense."

Haven Established for All Tired Businessmen

ASPEN, Colo. (AP)—Are you a tired businessman? If so, maybe you're a candidate for the Aspen Health Center, high in the Colorado Rocky Mountains.

But first, in addition to being tired and wanting to get over it, you must be (1) in good health, physically and mentally; (2) important to your business; (3) willing to absorb as part of the rest cure some skull-cracking culture, such as philosophical reading and discussion and perhaps even some classical music; and (4) willing to flex your muscles lightly in some setting up exercises.

THE ASPEN Health Center is a project of Walter P. Paepcke, wealthy Chicago industrialist, an evangelist of the idea that the nation's businessmen need to do more than just make things and sell them.

Paepcke, chairman of the board of Container Corporation of America, started 10 years ago building this semi-ghost mining town into an intellectual and cultural center.

Sparked, and financed to a great extent by Paepcke, the nonprofit Aspen Institute was dedicated to the improvement of human relations. The Health Center will be an institute project.

THE INSTITUTE has sponsored a program each summer of music, lectures and films, bringing a collection of the world's most famous speakers, educators, musicians and artists in other fields.

But Paepcke felt that this was not enough. So he hit upon the idea of the Health Center, first called a spa but changed because that word suggested "arthritic old men," as Paepcke put it.

Dr. Marvin A. (Mal) Stevens, New York orthopedist and former Yale football coach, aided Paepcke in selecting a group of outstanding doctors as advisers on just how the center should be set up.

THE DOCTORS—17 of them from widespread parts of the country—Paepcke and his staff sat around a table here and after much talk came up with some tentative ideas on what should be done for the tired businessmen. All agreed on one thing—something should be done. Paepcke emphasized that the

Council-Manager Has Done Nothing for City: Blodgett

(Editor's Note: This is the final article in a series of six written by candidates for three city council positions to be filed Nov. 8.)

By LEE BLODGETT
NPTL Candidate

What has the Council-Manager government done for Iowa City except what was initiated by the previous Mayor-Council government or was a simple follow-up of Municipal governmental trends indicated by activities going on in neighboring cities and towns? The correct answer is NOTHING!

Re-surfacing of streets had been done just before the coming city election. A lot of re-surfacing was done from 1947 to 1951.

ANY FORM of government in Iowa City would have put in the new paving and re-surfacing that the City-Manager candidates are now bragging about but, no doubt, would have spread it the past four years in place of bunching it up in just four months.

THE EXPANSION of the Police and Fire Departments under Peter Roan is nothing more than a natural expansion with the new growth of our city.

The Council-Manager groups keeps harping on reducing the city debt by $165,000. This is more than off-set by the fire loss on the Community Building, of over $200,000 and the increase in our direct property taxes for city purposes of over $235,000.

In a fly-leaf distributed by mail by the Council-Manager Association, the following appears: "The people of Iowa City don't want to go back to bad streets, eye-sore dumps, inadequate recreation programs, rising debt, unsatisfactory garbage collection." This is a rather transparently cheap effort to frighten Iowa City voters by assuming such voters are either timid, stupid, or both.

The present City government has hired an Assistant City Manager at a salary of $350 per month. The only excuse or explanation given by Mayor Mercer for this wanton waste of the taxpayers' money is that this new man takes the place once held by Max Kane who was an assistant bookkeeper in the office of the City Clerk. Kane was paid about $200 per month. What is the extra $150 for?

DURING the session, marked by what Paepcke called "cross fertilization of ideas," a tentative schedule was drawn up for the weary workers.

Those accepted, and the screening would be rather sharp, would stay for two weeks minimum at the center.

There they would have gymnasium facilities and be expected to take exercises, probably calisthenics, but little or no competitive sports which might forestall the relaxation sought.

The physical activities program will be under the direction of Brune Geba, and his wife, Eva, trained in physical therapy at the University of Vienna.

THE CENTER will cost around $250,000 and is expected to be completed next March.

The program would not be rigid, the idea being for the men to rest, enjoy the mountain scenery, walk along the rippling streams, all under the gentle guidance of Geba and others of the staff.

Man's mental side will not be neglected — "There should be some two hours a day for skull cracking," Paepcke insisted.

The men would live in comfortable chalet-type hotel units, some of which already have been built.

The cost of attending likely will run around $300 a week. Classes will be no less than 20 and fewer than 40 in the beginning.

Need New Government

The City-Manager system is based upon a foreign conception of municipal government. It is taken from the City Clerk system in England. It is the English view that an Englishman represents English interests wherever located. That was why King George would not permit colonists to have representation in the British Parliament. Our patriotic ancestors said that was TAXATION WITHOUT REPRESENTATION and fought the American Revolution to free themselves from it.

The system which we must work out under Iowa law and the system which can work for the people is the Mayor-Council form of government with the alderman coming from the wards giving the people true representation. This government would be administered by a manager hired by the city at the direction of the council to carry out the needs of day to day business. This is representative government. This is good government.

Unitarians Plan Services On Freedom of the Press

City Church To Take Part In Program

Rev. Hendriksen 'New Answers Needed'

Unitarian and Universalist churches throughout the United States and Canada will observe Freedom of the Press Sunday for the first time Sunday, leaders of the two churches announced last week.

The Rev. Alfred J. N. Hendriksen, minister of the First Unitarian Society of Iowa City, will preach on the topic, "Freedom of the Press." Press representatives have been invited to the service.

The day will honor "America's Martyr to Freedom of the Press," Elijah Parish Lovejoy. Lovejoy, a religious liberal and anti-slavery editor, was murdered Nov. 7, 1837, as he defended his newspaper presses at Alton, Ill., from an angry pro-slavery mob.

In honoring Lovejoy and America's independent press, hundreds of Unitarian and Universalist ministers will preach on religion and freedom. Press representatives will be invited to their special services. In many communities, newspaper editors will take over the pulpit, as in Madison, Wis., where editor William T. Ejuue of the Capitol Times will speak in the Unitarian Church or in New York City where publisher Ogden Reid of the Herald-Tribune will be guest of honor at the Universalist Church of the Divine Paternity.

Radio and television networks will mark the day with special programs.

Lovejoy, a crusader for a free and independent press, wrote these words in one of his anti-slavery editorials: "As long as I am an American citizen and as long as American blood runs in these veins, I shall hold myself at liberty to speak, to write and to publish whatever I please on any subject, being amenable to the laws of my country for the same." Those words are now inscribed on his monument.

Challenge, Threat In New Interest

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of weekly articles in which The Daily Iowan is asking members of the clergy their opinions on the recent increased interest in religion.)

"There is both a challenge and a threat to the church in the increased interest in religion," replied the Rev. Alfred J. N. Hendriksen in answer to the question.

The Rev. Mr. Hendriksen, minister of the First Unitarian Society, said, "The threat to the church is that it may try to answer new questions with old answers or try to give peace when there is no peace. The church may return to the familiar in light of insecurity."

Prophetic Potentiality

"The church may go backward for answers and if it does it falls short of prophetic potentiality. The disciples sought new answers. Jesus said, 'They of old told you . . . but I tell you . . .'"

"The increased interest is caused by an external event. New values are threatening old values and the former answers are inadequate. People are turning to the church for the answer."

"The church should challenge people to find an individual faith for themselves — not just institutional security."

Religion and Science

In regard to religious belief, the Rev. Mr. Hendriksen said that religion must make peace with the conclusions of science as well as the methods of science. He also said that religion could be more tentative when it is not sure, instead of giving pat answers to questions.

Speaking of the numerous activities of our churches, the Rev. Mr. Hendriksen said, "Europeans are criticizing us for going, going and not stopping to think about where we are going."

"Religion is becoming an out-of-church topic, whereas it formerly was only discussed in church."

Trend of Increased Interest

"There is an unmistakable trend of more interest in religion. In colonial times only 6 to 9 per cent of the American people have church membership."

"Even five years ago when I came to Iowa City there was no space devoted to religion in The Daily Iowan. Now you have a full page. It used to be almost impossible to get a line on religion in print and now you make appointments to come and talk to me for an hour."

"Religious books are the best sellers in recent times."

The Rev. Mr. Hendriksen said that much of the increased interest is due to the fact that organized religion has made an attempt to capture the enthusiasm of the young people. He said that in the past 25 years new church buildings have been designed for children and young people rather than the old people. New church building emphasizes the educational unit.

He also said that the quality of ministers is changing.

Membership Doubled

"In the five years that I have been in Iowa City the membership of our church has doubled, the church school attendance has increased by 300 per cent, and church attendance is more than double," the Rev. Mr. Hendriksen said.

"Some churchmen are concerned that society is influencing our church rather than the church influencing society."

"The church has an answer for people — not the only answer — not the answer for everyone."

"I sincerely hope that the churches have the wisdom and humility to utilize the opportunity which is theirs. The churches must be tolerant of each other to do this. So many things in religion are intangible and fighting over them wastes time which could be better spent."

"I sincerely hope that the churches have the wisdom and humility to utilize the opportunity which is theirs. The churches must be tolerant of each other to do this. So many things in religion are intangible and fighting over them wastes time which could be better spent."

Wikel To Head Church Board

W. Clifford Wikel was named chairman of the board of First Christian Church Thursday night at the annual reorganization meeting of the board.

George L. Gay was elected vice-chairman. Wikel and Gay fill vacancies left by Harold H. Hill and Allen D. Vestal, who retired from the two church offices.

Under Hill, who became chairman in 1954, the church secured a new minister and minister of education and launched a 10-year program of advance. Membership of the church increased by 100 persons during the period and a plan for a new church and educational unit was developed.

Following the meeting, Wikel met with the executive committee of the church and proposed the appointment of nine functional departments in the church.

The departments include: worship, stewardship, evangelism, education, student work, membership development, property, world outreach, and Christian action.

YOUR COUNCIL CANDIDATES

FOR THE NON-PARTISAN TAXPAYERS LEAGUE

CHOPEK BLODGETT MEEKS

OUR PROGRAM

WE ASSURE YOU, WE HAVE but one purpose in mind . . . GOOD GOVERNMENT. We have been accused of making irresponsible statements, with no positive plans.

THIS IS OUR PROGRAM—YOU BE THE JUDGE.

1. The first step in any government is to recognize and consider the citizens of Iowa City.
2. To make public a complete accounting of the past four years, city expenditures, and income.
3. A council responsible to the people and controlling the manager, rather than the manager controlling the council.
4. We propose returning Iowa City to the mayor-council form of government, whereby each councilman is elected from a ward. Then with the people's decision, the council can hire a manager as provided for in Chapter 363 D, Code of Iowa, 1954.
5. Adjusting the manager's salary accordingly. Eliminating assistant managers.
6. To set up a plan to encourage families from neighboring towns to make Iowa City their shopping center, and protect our downtown businesses with adequate parking facilities.
7. Doing away with exorbitant parking penalties, which have been discouraging downtown businesses and shoppers.
8. Sufficient insurance protection on all city-owned buildings.
9. To remodel our shamefully neglected city hall.
10. To relocate the fire station and equipment in accordance with the city's growth.
11. Expanded police protection, discouraging criminal acts.
12. A modern, well-equipped city ambulance, with trained operators.
13. Improving public recreational facilities.
14. Serious attention directed to neglected areas.
15. To promote good, clean industry, thereby providing adequate employment programs.

ISN'T THIS GOVERNMENT?

Our opposition criticizes us because we disagree with them on government policies. They say we have a grudge — that we have no right to disagree.

HOW DO THEY STAND ON THESE 15 PROPOSITIONS?

They take credit for spending our tax money and flood the city with a lot of propaganda. High-salaried public officials, reminding us, of things that we are entitled to have, because taxes were levied and collected for these projects. We as property owners are paying for all this.

YOU HAVE OUR PROGRAM. WE ASK YOUR FULL SUPPORT ON NOV. 8 VOTE FOR ALL THREE . . .

CHOPEK • BLODGETT • MEEKS

VOTE "NO" ON ANNEXATION BALLOT . . .

UNLESS YOU UNDERSTAND WHAT IS BEING ANNEXED BY EACH PUBLIC MEASURE. A sample ballot of the 8 public measures was published in The Daily Iowan Friday, Nov. 4. Look it up and see if you can make out just what territory is being annexed by each measure. Do you realize that some of these annexations may be costly to Iowa City, and do you know that one of these tracts of land has already been annexed by Coralville. The city clerk stated that this is an important ballot and requires intelligent thinking! Then why couldn't we have had some intelligent planning on the part of our high-priced city management in preparing this ballot?

Behind the Sports Desk

With FRED MILLER

Friday was an easy day for the football prognosticators appearing on Radio Station WSUI. The five guests seated around the Sports Roundtable had little difficulty in deciding the 12 major contests of this week.

Last week saw Dave Etzel, WSUI sports staff, jump into the spot light as he predicted 10 right and 2 wrong. This is the highest mark of any one swimmer during the season. Once before Gene Ingle, former Daily Iowan sports editor, picked this same number.

ETZEL

The group average was 7 right and 5 wrong for the day, and the season's mark remains at a steady 65 per cent.

I had another lucky week by picking 9 right and 3 wrong, while Bucky O'Connor, Iowa basketball coach, and Terry Bledsoe, sports information service, each tallied 7 right and 5 wrong, the same as the entire group. Bob Zenger, the moderator, does not count his score as he serves only to break any ties.

The picks this week, all unanimous choices, are:

IOWA OVER MINNESOTA—The Hawkeyes are in the best physical condition possible and should have only a little trouble with the Gophers. Minnesota has a fast-improving team loaded with sophomores that could give Iowa a bad time.

Etzel pointed out that Minnesota is still looking for a good passer, and a good passer is the one thing that has hurt the Hawks in many games—Purdue, UCLA, Wisconsin, and Michigan. The winner of the traditional Hawkeye-Gopher clash is awarded Floyd of Rosedale, and the group had the feeling that Floyd would, like the warmer corn country this year, instead of the northern Minnesota weather.

MICHIGAN OVER ILLINOIS—This game will be at Illinois and is one of the two games that Michigan has gone on the road for this season. The Illini may be fired up enough to upset Michigan, but it was our feeling that the Wolverines have too much class.

MICHIGAN STATE OVER PURDUE—An away game for the Spartans who will be facing one of the nation's top passers, Len Dawson. Michigan State has team speed which will probably be enough to subdue the Boiler-makers.

OHIO STATE OVER INDIANA—Ohio State has been a tough ball club all year and will probably have little trouble with Indiana.

WISCONSIN OVER NORTHWESTERN—Wisconsin has been trailing off quite a bit since the Iowa game some weeks ago, but our mutual feeling was that the Badgers are still potent, especially when they are meeting the celler-dwellers from Evanston.

NOTRE DAME OVER PENN.—Notre Dame is always dangerous, but playing against the so-called "loosening" team in the nation, Pennsylvania, Penn. has lost 16 straight and are not liable to upset the fighting Irish.

NEBRASKA OVER IOWA STATE—The Cyclones at Ames have five starters injured and this will probably hinder the team a great deal. Nebraska has its big meeting next week and should take care of Iowa State easily.

OKLAHOMA OVER MISSOURI—Oklahoma has a strong national ranking and after drubbing a strong Colorado team two weeks ago, it should be an easy one for the Sooners.

NAVY OVER DUKE—Duke has a fair team, but the Midshipmen have been strong all year.

MARYLAND OVER LOUISIANA STATE—Maryland is the No. 1 team in the nation according to many people, but LSU has an up-coming team and will probably give the Maryland boys a run for the money.

TEXAS A&M OVER SOUTHERN METHODIST—The Aggies are one of the top teams in the conference down south and will probably play heads up ball to top SMU. Bucky called this one a real "barn burner."

SOUTHERN CAL OVER STANFORD—Here are two football teams from the west coast which will probably throw everything at one another. Southern Cal, however, seems to have more power and should over-

Protest Already Filed

Iowa To Seek Big Ten Rule Change

Some changes in the method of assigning Big Ten officials for football games will be asked by the Iowa representative at the conference meeting next month. Paul Brechler disclosed Friday.

Brechler, director of athletics at Iowa, returned from Chicago where he filed a protest with Big Ten Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson over decisions made in the Iowa-Michigan game at Ann Arbor last Saturday. Brechler showed film to support his claims.

A main instance was the slugging penalty of 15-yards on Ron Kramer, star Michigan end. While the penalty was duly imposed, Kramer was allowed to remain in the game. Iowa sources said they understood that Wilson was notifying conference officials that rules make it mandatory to suspend any player, charged with slugging, from the game.

Big Ten football officials presently are assigned by the assistant commissioner and work in "teams," composed of referee, umpire, field judge, head linesman. The same "team" will work together throughout the season under the plan, copied from professional football.

But Iowa is dissatisfied with the arrangement.

It holds that the system affords possibilities for partiality.

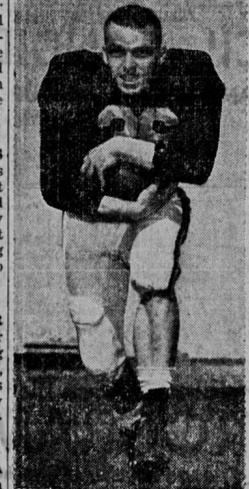

In Chicago, Wilson had no comment on the Iowa protest except to say:

"We get protests like that. About all we do is try to see if there is any constructive thought in them and take action the next year."

Hawkeyes—

Washington, 30-0, in the 1955 opener. Each game has found the young Gophers getting stronger. Iowa's 1-2-1 Big Ten record compares favorably to Minnesota's ta's 1-3 mark. The Hawks have a 2-3-1 overall record. Junior Don Dobrino appears to have the inside track on the left halfback position formerly manned by Earl Smith. They have traded off that job this week. Friday Dobrino filled in on the first team.

Dick Borstad Gopher Fullback

Besides the five seniors and Dobrino, the probable starting team includes sophomores Jim Gibbons, end, Frank Bloomquist, tackle, and Don Bowen, tackle, and juniors Dick Deasy, guard, and Don Suchy, center.

Minnesota's fullback Dick Borstad is one of the league's top sophomores, with a 4.7-yard-per-carry average. He has made 305 yards in 65 rushes.

Backs Shorty Cochran and Dick (Pinky) McNamara lend the Gophers the veteran balance they need.

Minnesota's line has three players more than 220 pounds who played in last year's contest. They are supported by sophomores Bob Schmidt, Bob Rasmussen and Jon Jelacic.

Iowa will throw at the Gopher forward wall a ground attack that has netted 13 touchdown drives of 50 yards or more this season. Iowa's defense, which has given up five touchdowns on three occasions this year, is the big question mark.

The game, starting at 1:30 p.m., will be televised regionally as the CBS game of the week.

City High Loses Final Game, 34-0

By TOM MAU Daily Iowan Staff Writer

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. — Alleman completely overpowered Iowa City High here Friday night to hand the Little Hawks a 34-0 trouncing in the final game of the season.

City High gained only 22 yards in the first half on the ground and lost 10 yards in the second half for a net rushing gain of 12 yards.

Midway in the first period Alleman sent fullback Lannis Pecaut in for the first touchdown from 21 yards out. The marker climaxed a 60-yard sustained drive in five plays.

In the second quarter half-back Dan Fiens plunged over from the two-yard line for the second score. In the same period, Herb Millard tossed a 17-yard pass to Mike Yeager for the third tally. Two plays earlier the same pass combination worked for a 40-yard gain, which was followed by a 31-yard drive before the touchdown pass.

In the second half Pecaut picked up 11 yards and the fourth Alleman touchdown to give the Rock Island team a firm hold on the score.

Again in that period, Alleman unleashed another passing attack with Millard throwing to Fiens for 36 yards and a touchdown.

Ron Ochs had a near-perfect record as he booted four out of five extra point attempts.

Parsons Wins First Loop Title in 19 Years

FAIRFIELD (P)—Parsons defeated Upper Iowa, 34-0, Friday night to win its first Iowa Conference football title in 19 years. The game was the last of the season for undefeated Parsons, which closed the all-victorious campaign with eight victories, six of them in the conference.

Luther is also undefeated this season but had one tie on its conference record.

Spectators at the meet will be able to see two of the better cross country runners in the nation today—Captain Ted Wheeler and Charles (Deacon) Jones—Cretz said Friday. The Iowa coach figures these two men are among the top 10 or 15 in the nation.

Jones has paced the harriers so far this season, winning both dual meets. Wheeler has finished second each time behind Jones.

Minnesota has two good runners—Captain Paul Noretz and Gary Anderson—Cretz said. Minnesota beat Wisconsin, 25-30.

Minnesota Arrives

THREE MINNESOTA FOOTBALL PLAYERS step off the airplane at the Iowa City Municipal Airport. The plane arrived Friday, and the players scouted the Iowa Stadium to prepare for today's game with the Hawkeyes. The team stayed in Cedar Rapids Friday night and had careful custody of Floyd of Rosedale, the traditional trophy.

Harriers To Host Gophers at Finkbine

The Iowa cross country team will make its first and only home appearance today at 10 a.m. when it plays host to the Minnesota Harriers.

The meet will start and finish at the old Finkbine Club House, and will be over a partially new course, measured at four miles.

Coach Francis X. Cretzmeier said about three-fourths of the race is visible from the club house. The course is laid out for spectators as well as for the runners.

The battle for fifth man is a toss up between Ira Dunsworth and Dick Allen. Dunsworth is a letterman, and Allen is a sophomore who has been improving each week.

and Iowa, also, beat Wisconsin, 22-34.

Thursday the team ran three miles and turned in the best times of the season. They have worked hard all week, the coach reported.

Cretz said the team is "apt to run in pairs." In the past two meets the first four men have stuck close together, while the other two have run side by side.

Running third and fourth are Wayne Everman and Murry Keatinge. Keatinge has been troubled with a sore leg part of the week, but is expected to be in good condition today.

Lions May Have Weight For Colts

CHICAGO (P)—The Detroit Lions, staggering along on a six-game losing streak, have a chance to make their weight felt in the western division they entered last year when they entered the Baltimore Colts tonight in a National Football League game.

Baltimore's brilliant rookies have boosted the Colts into a first place tie with Los Angeles in the western half of the 12-club league. With Alan Ameche, the top ground gainer in the league, and George Shaw showing the way, the Colts enjoy a 4-2 season record, including a 28-13 victory over the Lions at Baltimore.

Game Behind

Another night game, at Chicago, between the Pittsburgh Steelers and Chicago Cardinals could be of prime importance if Cleveland should stumble Sunday afternoon. The Steelers, 14-7 winners over the Cards in the opening game, are only a game behind Cleveland in the eastern division.

Cleveland is a 10-point favorite to roll to its sixth straight over the New York Giants at Cleveland on Sunday. It's the first meeting of the two teams this year. Led by Otto Graham, the Browns have won five in a row since losing to Washington in the opener, 27-17.

Wide Open Scramble

In the wide-open scramble of the Western division, Los Angeles, tied with Baltimore at 4-2, plays San Francisco at Los Angeles Sunday. The Rams won the first game, 23-14, but the 49ers are slight favorites to grab this one.

Green Bay and the Chicago Bears, tied with San Francisco, for the runnerup spot in the western division, play Sunday at Chicago's Wrigley Field.

Cy Young Dies

PEOLI, Ohio (P)—Cy Young, one of the first pitchers to enter baseball's Hall of Fame, died Friday. He was 88.

Death was attributed to a heart attack. He had been ill a short time recently.

He died Friday morning, sitting in his favorite armchair on the front porch of the home where he'd lived since his wife died in 1935.

The funeral is planned for Monday.

In Both Leagues

Cy spent 11 years in the American League and 11 in the National. In baseball's first World Series, he won two games and lost one. His career started with the Canton, Ohio, club in 1890, and before the Tri-State League folded after the July 4 double-headers he had hurled 26 full games and finished 10 others.

It was 65 years ago that he trudged out of the Tuscarawas County hill country, a raw-boned farm youth of 23, to write one of the most glowing chapters in baseball's history. He appeared in 906 games over a 22-year span in the big leagues, winning 511 and losing 315. He pitched four no-hit games, three in the majors.

He was 45 when he finally hung up his glove, after losing a 1-0 game to a youthful Grover Cleveland Alexander. He had struck out 2,832 batters in his long career.

Known As Cy

His real name was Denton True Young, although he's enshrined on the scroll of fame as Denton Tecumseh Young. But everyone hereabouts, and throughout the world, knew him as Cy.

Cy, despite his fabulous record, never earned more than $2,500 a year in baseball. His first salary at Cleveland—he was traded to that club by Canton, Ohio, for a suit of clothes—was $1,400.

The youngster's first big league start was a three-hit 8-1 victory over Chicago. On the last day of the season, he pitched and won both ends of a doubleheader against Philadelphia for a 10-9 record—and then he stayed about the .500 mark for 15 straight campaigns.

Longest Hitless String

In 1897, he pitched a no-hitter for Cleveland against Cincinnati; hurled a perfect game for Boston against Rube Waddell and the Philadelphia Athletics in 1904, and in 1908 he came up with another no-hitter against New York. He wrapped 23 hitless innings around the 1904 perfect game—the longest hitless string in baseball.

Long after he had given up baseball he was told that "Denton Tecumseh Young" had been named to the Hall of Fame, he drawled:

"That's not my name, but I think I'm the guy they mean. My name is Denton True Young."

Eyesight Faded

Although his eyesight faded in late years to the extent he was unable to watch baseball, read or watch television, old Cy was a familiar figure at sports events of all kinds—especially gatherings to help youngsters. At baseball games and other events he always sat with friends who explained the action.

For years his March 29 birthday had been an occasion for gatherings of hill and baseball folk here and in nearby Newcomerstown for a huge party.

Coffee Hours Used In CMA Campaign

It's not easy to carry a municipal election campaign to the people in a town the size of Iowa City.

Television and radio time is expensive. Many people skip over political stories in the newspapers.

And they won't come to political rallies.

That was what the Council-Manager Association (CMA) had to deal with this fall when it faced its first organized opposition since city manager government came to Iowa City.

The Answer
Its answer: informal neighborhood coffee hours, which were used so effectively in the campaign to bring the city manager plan to Iowa City in 1950.

They have held 20 in the past few weeks in all five of Iowa City's wards. CMA leaders feel that they will have a definite effect on the campaign.

CMA members Mrs. Sidney Winter and Mrs. Ralph Janes arranged the coffee hours, asking CMA members or interested persons to play host to them.

The hosts, by telephone and door-bell ringing, invited in neighbors.

Councilmen Active
The five present councilmen (all were elected with CMA support) took part in the coffee hours. They were introduced by a CMA member. Then the meeting was thrown open to questions.

"I didn't want to give speeches," said Councilman Walter Daykin, who took part in several of the affairs. "We just answered questions."

The hosts instructed guests at the coffees to ask any and all questions concerning city government. Nothing was sacred.

'Cleared Doubts'
"They (the coffees) have cleared up a lot of doubts," said Daykin. "I think we have made city manager people out of some doubters."

Mayor Leroy S. Mercer said, "People wanted to know about taxes and how much they would be increased this year. I showed them how to figure for themselves how much a man with a house with an assessed valuation of $5,000 would have his taxes increased."

"The people saw at the coffees how they could talk to their councilmen at any time. We even took care of some complaints."

"I think that these coffees are fine," Mercer said. But they shouldn't just be used at election time.

"Someone suggested that they be held throughout the year. I think they should."

Talking to the Voters

(Daily Iowan Photo)

MAYOR LEROY S. MERCER talks to a group of city voters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baenziger, 725 W. Benton St. Mercer said he thought the informal coffee hours should be held between elections. Listening to Mercer (clockwise) are Mrs. Max Otto, 733 W. Benton St.; Mrs. J. Merle Trymmel, 314 W. Benton St., and Mrs. Baenziger.

Young Democrats Elect New Officers

Bob Malloy, A2, Iowa City, recently was elected secretary of the SUI Young Democrats. Bob Newton, A4, Muscatine, Marilyn Jacobs, A1, Bartlett and Richard Rausch, A2, Carroll were chosen as delegates to the National Young Democrats Convention to be held Dec. 1-3 at Oklahoma City, Okla.

New York Welcomes Guatemalan President

NEW YORK (AP)—Guatemala's anti-Communist President, Carlos Castillo Armas, was honored Friday with a ticker-tape parade on Broadway.

Lunchtime crowds gathered along the sidewalks to watch the 10-car motorcade, preceded by bands and marching units of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

DISTRICT COURT

Raymond Niman was awarded $241.43 damage from Irma Mahr and the defendant's counterclaim for $124.43 was dismissed. The suit resulted from an auto collision July 19, 1953.

Ex-Labor Racketeer Dies in Bombed Truck

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Willie Bioff, 55, former Hollywood labor racketeer who once admitted extorting more than a million dollars from movie studios, died Friday in a gangster-type explosion at his Phoenix home.

The blast went off Friday morning as Bioff stepped on the starter of his pickup truck. He has just said goodbye to his wife, Laurie, with whom he had lived here under an assumed name for several years.

"I don't know whether this was a professional gangster job or not," said Lt. Ralph Edmundson, chief criminal investigator of the sheriff's office. "But it certainly was an effective one."

Police were checking Bioff's background while awaiting the results of laboratory tests which would show what sort of explosive had been used.

The blast threw Bioff's mutilated body 25 feet and scattered wreckage over a radius of several hundred feet. It left only the twisted frame, the motor and the wheels of the truck.

The door of the garage was blown out, the roof shattered and windows in the Bioff home and several neighboring houses were broken. Jagged chunks of metal tore holes in the wall of a home 100 feet away. The blast rattled windows a mile away.

Bioff had been special representative of George Browne, president of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees (IATSE), before World War II.

Bioff and Browne were convicted in November 1941 on charges of extorting $550,000 from several motion picture studios. Bioff later testified before a grand jury in New York that he had received more than a million dollars from film producers as front man for an underworld syndicate.
