Eden To Confer With Ike in January

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Anthony Eden will meet at the White House Jan. 30, to discuss strategy in the light of Russia's return to an openly belligerent attitude.

The announcement was made by the White House Monday, saying Eden will spend "a few days" in Washington. The strategy conference is regarded as certain to be included in the talks, since the British foreign secretary, Harold Macmillan, will accompany Eden on the trip.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the following announcement at Gettysburg:

"The President of the United States has invited the British prime minister to spend a few days as his guest in Washington at the end of January. This invitation has been cordially accepted. The British foreign secretary will accompany the prime minister, and they will arrive in Washington Jan. 30."

Press Secretary Hagerty declined to comment on the possible subject matter for the top level U.S.-British talks, saying only that they would encompass affairs of mutual importance to the two countries.

The invitation, said Hagerty, was extended about a week ago, and was accepted over the weekend.

A massive array of touchy international issue will confront the merged AFL-CIO by telephone from the Gettysburg, Pa., post office, his temporary headquarters while he is recuperating from illness.

His voice came through clearly to the 1,400 delegates in the 71st Regiment Armory.

The President appeared to be defining his administration's view of labor's position in the political picture.

No Right'

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) said Sunday the AFL-CIO "has no right" to endorse a presidential nominee. Some other Republicans have accused union leaders of trying to raise a slush fund to gain control of a political party.

George Meany, newly named AFL-CIO president, said he was sure he expressed the sentiments of all at the convention "when I say to the President that we appreciate this very fine message."

Walter Reuther, president of the old CIO, commented:

"The President's address refutes completely the Goldwater line because obviously it indicated he believes the members of organized labor have a right to participate in shaping political decisions of our government..."

No Decision

The AFL-CIO has not decided definitely whether it will endorse a presidential candidate in 1956.

But both Meany and Reuther in speeches before the President's address indicated it will be active politically.

Reuther, taking issue with Goldwater's remark, said to chears from the delegates:

"Our answer to you, senator, is not less political action, but more political action on the part of the American labor movement."

"This is our country, we are workers and we are citizens, and politics is the practical house-keeping job of democracy."

Churchill Hits Russ Exhibition in India In Woodford Talk

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill strode Monday night into the great debate set off by the talk of Soviet leaders on a tour of South Asia.

Speaking in Woodford, England, the former Prime Minister termed the activities of Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Krushchev an exhibition—"there is no other word."

To laughter of an audience of Young Conservatives, he said: "It certainly has been a surprising spectacle and one which Her Majesty's government will no doubt study carefully before they allow it, with suitable variants, to be repeated here."

Hitchcock Mystery Solved; He's Okay

SINGAPORE (AP) — Engine trouble which delayed his plane in Bangkok caused a scare here concerning the whereabouts of film maker Alfred Hitchcock.

Hitchcock, master of the suspense thriller, was due here Saturday but failed to arrive. Local film executives said they were baffled.

The mystery was cleared up Monday when Paul Yue, manager for Paramount Films of Malaya, Inc., said he had received a telegram from Hitchcock saying his plane had been held up in Thailand.

Pep Club May Ask Funds from Council

Hawk-I Pep Club is considering requesting a subsidy from the SU Student Council. Adams, A3, Princeton, chairman of the club's constitutional revisions committee, said Monday:

The club may have to disband if it does not find a new source of funds, its officers have said.

The pep club executive council will discuss the proposed request for funds at an open meeting in the Memorial Union recreational conference room at 7 p.m. today.

Revisions

The proposed revisions in the club's constitution would request allocation of funds for club activities from the Student Council budget and make anyone participating in club activities automatically a member.

The changes must be approved by two-thirds of the club executive council and by the Student Council.

The changes would eliminate the 50-cent membership fee now charged.

Funds for pep rallies, publicity, congratulatory telegrams to the teams, and all club activities now comes from the 50-cent membership fees and homecoming badge sales," Adams said.

Badges Unsold

"Twenty thousand badges were ordered for this year's homecoming; less than 10,000 were sold. Club members did not get out and sell the badges. The apathy of the student body in buying the badges and participating in club activities made it impossible to keep the club going on the proceeds of the badge sales and membership dues," Adams said.

"Students would pay their 50 cents to become members, but club meetings often were attended by less than 50 per cent of the members."

"Last year the Student Council allocated $75 for pep rallies—some of which had to be called off because of student lack of interest," he added.

The proposed constitution change will be discussed at the open meeting.

"We hope anyone interested will come and express their views," Adams said.

The executive council must approve any constitution changes by a two-thirds vote. The council consists of the officers, chairmen of standing committees, and a representative of the Student Council.

Informal Setup

With the more informal setup, applications for chairmen of committees in charge of pep rallies, card section, and publicity will be sent to the housing units. There will be no interviews for regular members.

"Anyone willing to participate and work will be considered a member," Adams stated.

"The pep club will still be a separate organization, but it will be working more closely than ever with the Student Council," he said.

Architect Charges They Distorted Decree

Russian Hits U.S. Reporters

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet architect Alexander V. Vlasov accused the U.S. and French police Monday of organizing a plot against him during his recent trip abroad. He also accused two American reporters in Moscow of crudely distorting the recent Soviet government decree which criticized his work.

In an interview with the official Communist party newspaper Pravda, Vlasov said the trip of his builders' delegation to the United States impressed the ordinary American public with the chances of improving Soviet-American relations.

"This did not please those circles trying to hamper these links," Vlasov said. "They determinedly sought a cause to poison the atmosphere which was being created as the result of the exchange of delegations between the Soviet Union and the United States."

Vlasov said there were demonstrations both in the United States and France urging him not to return home after reports were published that he was criticized by the party and government. The Soviet Union already has protested to Paris that French police tried to persuade Vlasov to seek asylum.

Vlasov was criticized in the recent decree on architecture for permitting extravagances in building when he was head of the former Soviet Academy of Architecture. Vlasov heads a new Academy of Building and Architecture.

The architect singled out The Associated Press and the New York Times for criticism. He said their correspondents' dispatches "crudely distorted" the decree signed by Premier N. A. Bulganin and party chief N. S. Krushchev. He complained that they erroneously reported Vlasov had been deprived of his decorations and dismissed from his post.

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Foreign Office Press Department summoned two American correspondents in Moscow Monday and told them they committed "gross distortions" in dispatches concerning a Communist party and Soviet government decree on architecture dated Nov. 10.

Leonid F. Il'yichev, head of the press department, complained of dispatches sent by Richard K. O'Malley of the Associated Press and Welles Hangen, New York Times correspondent.

The warning came at a time when Moscow's newspapers were displaying anger at the Western press in general for quotations attributed to party boss N. S. Krushchev in his current tour of Burma.

AP's Moscow bureau sent a dispatch Nov. 9 quoting a decree of the Central Committee as having fired Vlasov and stripped him of his decorations. A text of the decree showed, however, that Vlasov was criticized only in the preamble, and that he was not among architects specifically mentioned in the decree as having been stripped of their awards and fired. The decree did, however, identify him as a "former" chief architect of Moscow, and there had been no announcement of his release from that job.

Alert Guard In Check of Air Defense

Gov. Marvin Griffin Loses Football Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Operation Cracker Jack — a surprise test of the air defenses of the North American continent, got underway way late Monday.

Some 400,000 members of the civilian Ground Observer Corps, plus joint forces of the United States and Canada were taking part in the exercise.

The primary objective of the test is to test the effectiveness of the radar tracking and interceptor defenses of both the U.S. and Canada.

Air National Guard pilots taking part in the exercise are under orders which call for them to be on duty for a period not to exceed four days.

SAC Enemy

Planes of the U.S. Strategic Air Command were playing the part of a mythical enemy in attempting to penetrate the air defense set up.

Elements of the U.S. Air Force, Navy, Marines and the National Guard were involved in the exercise, along with Canadian forces.

The Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo., said no figures would be disclosed as to the actual number of units or planes taking part in the test, because such information is classified.

Although the Defense Department had announced sometime ago it contemplated such a test as put into effect Monday, there had been no public indication just when it might come. Consequently when the alarm did sound, some amusing incidents resulted.

Baby-Sitters

A number of the Air National Guard pilots in the Washington area had to bring their young children to Andrews Air Force Base with them because they had been caught baby-sitting while their wives were out playing bridge. A temporary nursery was set up while the fathers took to the air.

One Air National Guardsman in Pennsylvania said the alert caught everyone off guard, adding: "I was five minutes away from a $4 steak in the broiler when I had to leave my family."

The normal mailing date for the checks is the 20th of the month.

The VA added, however, that there may be some exceptional cases in which it may not be possible to make the payments early.

It declared that in states outside the south, Georgia teams can play opponents having Negroes or before nonsegregated spectators, because laws and customs of those states do not require segregation.

Soviets Shun Berlin Protest to Germans

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet authorities have turned a Western protest about a border shooting over to what they call competent East German authorities, a British spokesman said Monday night.

The move came amid mounting East-West differences over four-power rule in the divided city.

The spokesman said the Russian action was announced in a letter from the Soviet East Berlin commandant, Maj. Gen. P. A. Dibrova, to the British commandant in West Berlin, Maj. Gen. C. Robert C. Cottrell-Hill.

The spokesman refused to speculate on how British authorities will react to the apparent new Russian move to bolster the "sovereignty" of the Communist East German regime.

The Russians have declared East Germany a sovereign state but the Western Powers have refused to deal with the Communist regime.

Dibrova's letter replied to a protest sent to the Soviets last month by British authorities after Communist police shot and wounded a 31-year-old West Berlin traveler who tried to flee from a border control point during a check of identity papers.

But Hedge On Games In Future

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia's Board of Regents Monday rejected Gov. Marvin Griffin's move to have Georgia Tech's football team pulled from the Sugar Bowl on a racial issue and opened the way for non-segregated games played outside the South.

At the same time, it indicated that Georgia schools would not be allowed to play in other Southern bowl games which do not follow the segregation laws and customs of the host state.

This was a direct slap at the Sugar Bowl officials who not only invited Pittsburgh, a team with a Negro player, to meet Tech, but also let Pittsburgh sell its tickets on a nonsegregated basis.

Backs Down

Shortly before the regents acted, Griffin had backed down somewhat on his Friday demand for a racial policy that not only would have barred Tech from the Sugar Bowl but also would have prohibited any Georgia state college teams from playing against Negroes or before unsegregated spectators.

The governor told his news conference that his request to the regents chairman, Robert O. Arnold of Covington, was aimed only at the Sugar Bowl and that he would not oppose nonsegregated games played in states where segregation is not practiced.

A storm of controversy was touched off by the governor's move, which led to a noisy, all-night demonstration Friday by Tech students who burned Griffin in effigy, smashed into the state capitol, and were restrained by a cordon of police from storming the governor's mansion.

General Rule

The regents did not vote directly to permit Tech to carry out its Sugar Bowl contract. They merely adopted the resolution of policy applying to any future contracts.

But to make the situation clear, Arnold commented as the meeting closed: "There should be no further doubt that Tech will play in the Sugar Bowl."

The policy resolution, approved by a 14-1 vote, provides that in all athletics the state's laws which prohibit racial mixing must be observed.

Limits for Georgia

It declared that in states outside the south, Georgia teams can play opponents having Negroes or before nonsegregated spectators, because laws and customs of those states do not require segregation.

Hospital and the Doctors

Polk County District Judge C. Edwin Moore ruled last week that hospitals employing radiologists (physicians specializing in x-ray, x-ray therapy and radium techniques of diagnosis and treatment) and pathologists (physicians specializing in laboratory examination of body tissue and fluids) are engaged in the illegal practice of medicine. The ruling is expected to have several effects upon the public.

Since most hospitals employ such specialists at present, the majority of them will be forced to set up a new policy. For some this decision will mean little more than changing the payment arrangement between the physicians and the hospital. Instead of the hospital paying the doctor, the doctor will pay the hospital.

If in the past the hospital paid the pathologist 50 per cent of the money collected for laboratory charges, in the future the pathologist will pay the hospital 50 per cent of the cash collections. No material change in the financial positions of the hospital and the physician will have been made.

But this is the principal criticism advanced by the hospitals. In most hospital-physician situations, the radiologists and pathologists will now buy the hospital space and equipment they use and keep all that is collected from the patient for their work. Thus they will pay the hospital only a fee for the use of the space and equipment.

It would seem that nothing could be more just. After all, why should the hospital make a profit from the work of a physician?

This question has brought from the hospitals a reluctant admission that their bills have not been completely honest. The charge for a specific service has not been based only on the cost of that service.

The room rate supposedly is to meet the cost of providing the patient with room space, nursing service, food, laundry and other items. With few exceptions, however, the amount billed the patient falls short of covering these costs.

To meet this deficit, the hospitals needed to raise the room rates, but public criticism led them to adopt the dubious policy of offsetting the losses on room fees

A Healthy Sign

Last Saturday about 2,500 angry Georgia Tech students put on an all-night demonstration in Atlanta against a move by Georgia's racist governor, Marvin Griffin, to take Tech out of the Sugar Bowl. They hanged Griffin in effigy, demonstrated in front of his mansion, and even broke into the state capitol building.

Griffin had asked the Georgia state board of regents Friday to forbid Georgia teams to play against schools with Negro players on their rosters. Tech is scheduled to play Pittsburgh in the Sugar Bowl game. One Pittsburgh reserve back is a Negro. Pitt has also refused to sell its ticket allotment on a segregated basis.

College riots are usually unpleasant events. High-spirited college boys, although sometimes not mad at anyone in particular, can cause a lot of damage. And, as State University of Iowa officials can testify, the publicity from such events builds up bad will for the school throughout its state.

It's doubtful if this is true in the case of the Georgia Tech riot.

The Tech riot had healthy signs. It

On Moderation

The hottest issue of the day in the Democratic party, the cold war and farm programs notwithstanding, seems to be the meaning of the word "moderation." The leading candidates for the Democratic nomination, some of the minor candidates and even Harry Truman have had a crack at it.

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national chairman

by increasing the charges for X-rays, laboratory tests and other services.

If the cost of the room services were $2 a day more than the price paid by the patient and the hospital had an average of 10,000 bed patient days per year, then the yearly loss on room charges would have been $20,000.

Assuming that the X-ray department made 4,000 x-rays during the average year, the hospital could recover the loss on the rooms by increasing the charge for each x-ray by $5. If the radiologist begins paying the hospital only the cost of maintaining his department, the hospital will lose the $20,000 needed to make up the loss on rooms.

If the hospital increases the room rates $2 and the radiologist lowers the X-ray charges $5, the hospital can show complaining patients that they are paying enough less for X-rays to offset increase in room rates.

The hospitals, however, fear that the radiologists will not lower the X-ray fees and that the radiologists will brush aside criticism by claiming that the cost of X-rays has not changed and the more expensive medical care is not their responsibility. The radiologist in our hypothetical case could increase his income by $20,000.

The hospitals fear that the public will not understand this and that they will be blamed.

It is unfair to say that the Iowa Medical Association (IMA) sought Judge Moore's decision so that the few radiologists and pathologists who are members of the group could double their incomes at the expense of the public. The hospitals only contend that it could happen.

The IMA is obligated to exert its influence to prevent such an occurrence and, if it cannot, at least support the hospitals in placing the responsibility for the increased expense of medical care where it will belong.

Judge Moore's decision can be appealed to the Iowa Supreme Court, and the Iowa Hospital Association has indicated that it will do so. Should the high court let the district court's decision stand, the hospitals may carry the fight to the legislature. The final outcome, however, will depend upon the degree to which all concerned place the public welfare above their personal profit.

In Akron, 2,000 trade unionists helped raise $2,387,843, in the biggest United Fund campaign in local history. In Detroit's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, at the height of the 1955 Torch Drive, four girls, escorted by armed Brink's guards, dumped $1,471,317 on the speakers' table at a fund-raisers luncheon. The money was the joint contribution of 66,647 General Motors employees ($1,096,315) and the company itself ($375,000).

Organized labor's activity in organized charity is a recent phenomenon. Until World War II, most labor unions looked skeptically on Community Chests as the preserves of the rich men who headed them.

In wartime charity drives, leaders of the CIO and AFL rubbed elbows with millionaire philanthropists and professionals at fund-raisers. After the war both the AFL and CIO continued the association, set up permanent community-service sections inside their national organizations.

Along with big labor, the chests shouldered the disgust of Georgia Tech students for Griffin, a white supremacy advocate who doesn't take a back seat even to his predecessor, Herman Talmadge. It was further evidence of what sociologists have been saying for years — the younger generation of southerners is beginning to see that discrimination of all types is becoming outdated.

It should serve as a further warning to race-baiting southern politicians that their days are numbered. Even with the lift the recent anti-segregation decision of the Supreme Court gave them, they are on the way out. The younger generation is becoming tired of them and the name and reputation they have given the south.

Not all of the 2,500 students were foes of segregation. Many of them were probably just sports fans who wanted to see Tech play in the Sugar Bowl. Others were just along for the fun involved. But enough felt strongly against Griffin to boo him and hang him in effigy.

Riots do not bring social progress. But, for Americans who hate discrimination and racialists, it was a healthy sign.

Moderation is a slogan, not a program," Rauh said. He added that both parties should quit arguing moderate vs. anti-moderate and "take a stand on the great moral issues of 1956." Amen.

"Wait for me, fellas! I can't keep up."

Charities Have Prosperous Year

The Iowa City Community Chest campaign went over its quota in November for the first time since 1948. It collected about $1,000 more than its goal of $35,772. Community Chest and United Fund drives throughout the United States were doing well. TIME MAGAZINE reported:

SINCE EARLY autumn, Community Chests and United Funds have been conducting their usual intensive campaigns in 1,900 U.S. cities and towns. From last week's indications, the 1955 campaign has been the most successful in history.

In 277 cities that have added up the receipts, a total of $193,647,308 has been collected — 99.7% of their aggregate goal (highest in history) and 11.1% (or $19,347,308) better than the record-breaking 1954 collections.

As usual, virtually all segments of the U.S. public have dug deep into pockets and purses.

THIS YEAR, as usual, organized labor has played a major part in the campaigns: 100,000 union members participated actively as fund-raisers, and fully one-third of the contributions came from the ranks of the unions.

In Akron, 2,000 trade unionists helped raise $2,387,843, in the biggest United Fund campaign in local history. Candidates Appear Before 1,500—

Gala Pageant Opens Miss SUI Contest

Songs varying in style from "Sophisticated Swing" to "16 Ton" helped introduce the 29 Miss SUI Queen Candidates at the Beauty Pageant Saturday night at Iowa Memorial Union.

Candidates will be presented again this week during the Torchlight Parade through the downtown campus area and business district Thursday at 8 p.m., and at the intermission of the Iowa-Southern-METHODIST basketball game Friday.

Campaign managers will have a chance to publicize their candidates again this year in men's housing units with five-minute skits. This rule was abolished for several years but has been revived by the Miss SUI Pageant Board, the campaign's official directing organization.

Male Vote

SUI male students will vote for their favorite candidate Friday.

The queen and her four attendants will be presented at the winter formal, "Fire and Ice," this Saturday night at the Union.

Some 1,500 persons gathered in the Union Lounge Saturday night for the Beauty Pageant. The 29 candidates were introduced by their housing units with short skirts, songs, and dances.

Contestants were introduced by John Elman, A3, Des Moines.

Only 500 tickets remain to be sold for the Winter Formal, "Fire and Ice," according to Al Waxenbury, Central Party Committee president.

One thousand tickets went on sale Monday at the Information Desk of Iowa Memorial Union. Price is $3 per couple.

Les Elgart will play at the dance Saturday night. Miss SUI and her four attendants will be presented at half-time entertainment.

Jay Ryan, C3, Des Moines, was the director of the beauty pageant.

The Yellow Rose

Doris Lee Martin, presented by Currier Hall in railroad station scene as the "Yellow Rose of Texas" on her way to SUI, was especially well received by the Union crowd.

Another skit that was a favorite with the crowd was the one introducing the Currier candidate, Ertzie Kerns. Five dancers dressed in black leotards decorated with net sashes and gloves of matching colors sang and danced her theme song, "Gun-drop."

Chi Omega presented a review of Miss SUI's past years as an introduction to their present candidate for 1955-56. The girls, representing queens of 1895, 1925, 1935 and 1945, were dressed in appropriate costumes. Sandra Swengel, A2, Muscatine, did an exceptional job as the 1925 title holder.

Sad Little Star

Introducing their candidate, Barbara Potts, girls from Currier told their sad story of "The Little Star that Couldn't Shine." The little star tried very hard but he could not shine even when bathing beauties, sweet-little-girls-next-door, and French sirens paraded by, down on earth. Only when Barbara appeared did he light up like a Christmas tree.

The Sigma Delta Tau Doll Show displayed a very special doll to their customer, not satisfied with the five ordinary dolls that were for sale. While the shop keeper went to get the doll, her praises were sung by fellow dollmates. She was Judy Ferdinand whose theme song was, "Oh, You Beautiful Girl."

Other candidates and their song-title themes are: Linda Allen, Alpha Xi Delta, "Steam Heat"; Janice Barnes, Kappa Gamma, "You Ought To Be In Pictures"; Carole Bartels, Gamma Phi Beta, "HoneyBun"; Delores Doster, Westlawn, "16 Ton"; Bette Graef, Zeta Tau Alpha, "Mona Lisa."

SIX GAMMA PHI BETA'S sing and dance the praises of their Miss SUI candidate, Carole Bartels, whose theme song was "Honey Bun." The girls, dressed in honey-colored costumes, are, left to right, Marcia Coats, D1, Cedar Rapids; Bonnie Beer, D3, Perry; Bonnie Lane, N1, Aurora, Ill.; Ellen Moody, A3, Cedar Rapids; Kerin O'Kerlin, A2, Clarinda, and Bonnie Kutter, A3, Peru, Ill.

DEMONSTRATING THE QUEENLY ATTRIBUTES of "Miss SUI of 1945," Mick Fagan, A3, Amboy, Ill., swings Beverly Waugh, A3, Burlington, over her back in a fast stepping jitterbug number. Their antics were part of the skit introducing Sandra Lamb, A1, LaPorte City, the Chi Omega candidate for Miss SUI of 1955-56.

BROILED CHICKEN

Wonderful broiled chicken: rub the surface of a cut-up broiling chicken with lemon juice. Add 4 teaspoons each of salt and sugar to a quarter cup of melted butter; stir in a teaspoon of paprika and a dash of white pepper. Coat the chicken pieces with the butter mixture. Broil slowly, turning.

Hawks Need To Play Much Better: O'Connor

Behind the

Sports Desk

with FRED MILLER

Lax Defense, Rebounding Iowa Faults

Iowa's basketball team will have to play "much better" ball against Southern Methodist Friday night than it did against Nebraska last Saturday if the Hawks want their second victory. Coach Frank (Bucky) O'Connor said Monday.

"We expect SMU to be a much tougher team," O'Connor said. "They won the Southwest Conference last year and have most of their players returning."

Scouting Report

"So far, they have won two games. We will get a scouting report on them after they play again today."

The Iowa coach said that the Mustangs have a real good 6-8 center named Jim Krebe, who holds practically all SMU scoring records, and four good outside shooters. "We are going to have to work for this game."

Although O'Connor easily listed his team's faults against Nebraska, he said that for a first game he did not expect too much Iowa did not do "as well as we had hoped though," he added.

Poor Rebounding

"Our rebounding was poor after the first eight minutes and our defense was lax," O'Connor continued.

"The players didn't shift with their men on defense the way they should have. We have a lot of work to do this week."

"Also, our fast break did not materialize until late in the game," O'Connor said. "However, Nebraska was a fast team and set its defense up quickly."

Iowa won its opening basketball game and its 67th consecutive non-conference game on its home floor by scoring an impressive victory over Nebraska last Saturday, 60-51.

Scored First

Iowa opened the game with a field goal in less than five seconds, and scored six more points in the next four minutes before Nebraska scored its first points.

The Hawkeyes continued to score nearly at will and the Cornhuskers retaliated almost as easily. Iowa had a 22-15 lead in the first period when Nebraska pumped in three quick shots to pull within one point of the Big Ten defending champs.

Iowa came back to gain a 33-23 lead, but shortly before the half ended, Nebraska pushed in four field goals to trail 37-32. Time ran out on the Huskers as Don Smidt, forward, shot from far out and the ball went through the cords at the horn sounded. The teams left the floor, Iowa holding a four-point lead, 34-34.

Trailed by 3 Points

In the second half Nebraska pulled to within three points of the conference champs, 50-47, but Iowa came back with its first two fast breaks of the game to take a substantial 54-47 lead.

Iowa popped in three more buckets to Nebraska's one and Smidt, added Nebraska's 51st point before the game ended shortly afterwards.

Tri-captain and acting captain for the day, Bill Logan, hit with six of 14 field goals and four of four charity tosses to pace the teams with 16 points. Carl Cain hit for 15 points, while Bill Seaberg collected 13 and Bill Schoell had 10, all for Iowa.

Charles Smith paced the losers with 13.

All-Americans in New York

Frosh Fencing Coach Wins Open Foil Meet

Arlo Craig, Iowa freshman fencing coach, won the open foil competition of the Iowa Area Amateur Fencing League of America in the Iowa Fieldhouse Saturday.

Craig defeated Ted Myers, 5-3, in the final round of the competition which had 14 men entrants and two women entrants. Myers is co-captain of the varsity squad and will be first man in foil competition this season, his senior year.

Iowa Fencing Coach Joseph Mastropolo said the match was "cleanly and quickly fenced." Both men displayed "good fencing form and showed good concepts of the game."

Mastropolo said Craig will receive a standard size gold-plated foil for his first place performance. Myers will receive a silver medal and Jim Corwin, varsity fencer who placed third, will receive a bronze medal.

Craig, in winning the meet, had a perfect 5-0 record for the day. Myers had one loss and Corwin had three wins and two losses.

Other places went to Brad Eathay, 2-3; Bob Hickland, 1-4; and Roy Pitkin, 0-5.

Hickland is trying out for the varsity saber competition and Pitkin, who had a forfeit, is trying for the epee team.

Corwin returned from the service this year and has "good form and fine length in his attack," the Iowa coach said. "He has a good conception of the game."

Bathey is a promising sophomore, the coach added.

Mastropolo pointed to good competitive spirit and understanding of the game among others who competed in the 1955 AFLA competition.

Phil Shoor, Dave Hartman and Dick Slocum, all trying out for the epee team, showed promise, he said.

Jack Rush and Bill Balgren are freshmen and have learned a great deal about fencing in a few weeks, he added.

Other competitors were Prof. W. R. Erwin, of the SUI English department, Jerry Norton, freshman, and Bill Pritchett, a senior trying out for the saber team.

The Women's championship was won by Marcia Jenkins who defeated Julie Vogel, 4-3.

Mastropolo said that although these were the only ones entered in the women's division, they "were well matched." Both women are students of the Iowa coach.

Party Goes Underground: To a Sewer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The pledges of a University of Southern California fraternity went to the depths for a site for their big costume party.

They tossed a sewer shin-dig in a huge underground storm drain after convincing city and county authorities that they wouldn't endanger their guests.

Twelve pledges of Sigma Phi Epsilon spent a week cleaning and decorating the tunnel, and USC engineering students built a four-foot dam to protect the area from run-off waters during the course of the dance.

Their more than 100 guests agreed the party Saturday night was cool and lowdown. One coed paid the supreme compliment. Said she:

"I've never seen a cleaner sewer."

U-High Students Win First Place In 4-School Debate

University High School won first place in a discussion and debate Saturday at University High School.

City High of Iowa City took second place, Dysart High School took third place, and Bennett High School took fourth place.

About 45 students from the four high schools participated in the program which dealt with the problem, "How Should Educational Opportunities Be Increased for the Youth of the United States?"

University High School students took first place in both rounds of debate and received twelve excellent ratings and one good rating in the discussions. Top rating in discussion is superlative.

SUI Students Superior In Debate Meet

Three SUI speech students were rated superior at the Intercollegiate Conference on World Affairs, at debating and discussion here Saturday.

Ida Mae Brendel, A3, Muscatine, was one of nine debaters to be adjudged superior. Sandra Swengel, A2, Muscatine, and Larry Popofsky, A2, Oskaloosa, were among seven discussion group chairmen rated superior.

Students from 15 universities took part in the conference.

The debaters argued on the guaranteed annual wage while the discussion groups talked about ways of implementing the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on racial integration in schools.

The University of Nebraska's affirmative team was rated highest among those arguing the pro and con of the annual wage guarantee. Tied for second place among the superior debate teams were the University of Kansas negative and affirmative teams and the University of Florida affirmative team.

SUI negative team of Miss Brendel and Miss Swengel tied for fifth along with five other teams in the debate contest.

Participating universities besides SUI were Boston, Florida, Illinois, Kansas, Marquette, Michigan State, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Northwestern, South Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin.

Carl Dallinger of the SUI Speech Department was conference director.

Motorcyclist Dies Of Crash Injuries

A 17-year-old Cedar Rapids youth, injured in a motorcycle-car collision in Cedar Rapids Nov. 28, died Saturday at University Hospitals.

Gary Lee Crawford was struck by a vehicle in Cedar Rapids while riding a motorcycle. He was admitted Nov. 29 with head injuries and a fractured leg. He died at 1 a.m. Saturday.

Crawford was the son of Mrs. Helen C. Secon of Cedar Rapids.

Ex-SUI Economist Studying Research

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa Executive Council Monday authorized Clayton Ringenberg, former SUI economist and now director of the new State Legislative Research Bureau, to make a trip to Chicago, Springfield, Ill., and Lansing, Mich., at state expense.

He will make studies of research units operating in those cities. The bureau was created by the 1955 Legislature, to do research on proposed legislation on request of five or more legislators.

Seven others, including five representatives of the State Conservation Commission, also were authorized to make trips at state expense.

University Briefs

EARTH SATELLITES — Prof. James Van Allen, head of the SUI Physics Department, will talk on "Experimental Earth Satellites," at a meeting in New York City, Wednesday.

The talk will concern methods of transmitting data from earth satellites and proposals for experiments with them. Members of the American Rocket Society, the Institute of Electrical Engineers, and the Institute of Radio Engineers will attend the meeting.

COMPLETES TRAINING — William E. Erickson, 1952 SUI engineering graduate, has completed a five-month training program on air condition, air handling and fluid drive power transmission equipment at American Blower Corporation's Detroit plant. He is now employed at the company's Chicago plant as a sales engineer.

OBOE RECITAL — Robert Huston, instructor in music at SUI, will present an oboe recital Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in North Music Hall. Robert Chapman, lecturer in music, will play the piano accompaniments. The program will include "Sonata in A Minor" by Telemann, "Sonatina" by Milhaud, and "Three Concert Pieces" — "Humoresque," "Rhapsody" and "Scherzino" by Reizenstein.

FLUTE RECITAL — Barbara Stephens, flutist, and Margaret Pendleton, pianist, will give a recital at 4 p.m. today in the North Music Hall of the Music Building. Selections for the concert are: Sonata in E minor by Platti, Bach's Sonata in A minor for flute alone, Journeys de Flute by Roussel, and Sonata by Hindemith.

300 Attend Doll Exhibit

About 300 persons attended the YWCA doll show at the Iowa Memorial Union Friday; YWCA director, Mrs. Mildred Jones said Monday.

Marion Evashevski, daughter of Iowa football Coach and Mrs. Forest Evashevski, 620 Summit St., won a "Little Miss SUI" doll in the door prize drawing.

The show was a fund-raising project for YWCA. Dolls from 35 foreign countries, dolls of antique value, and dolls made of unusual materials were featured.

Replicas of Iowa's first lady, Mrs. Leo Hoegh, and of her two daughters dressed in copies of their inaugural ball dresses, were loaned to the YWCA by Mrs. Hoegh for display at the show.

About 261 dolls were on display in addition to Little Miss SUI that were for sale, and 25 dolls were received to be given to children at University Hospitals.

SUI Speech Prof Studying in Greece

Prof. Orville A. Hitchcock of the SUI Speech Department is conducting a study of ancient rhetoric in Greece.

Hitchcock, who has been touring Europe with his wife and son since July, has made a systematic study of representative speech throughout Europe.

He expects to return to full duties at SUI next month.

Library Is Busy During Late Hours

More than 400 students used the library between midnight and 2 a.m. during the first week the new library hours were in effect, Miss Clara Hinton, head of circulation services at the University Library, announced Monday.

Police said robbery was the motive in the fatal shooting of Erick William Burkhardt, 62.

Two .32 caliber bullets had been pumped into his head, apparently as he sat behind the wheel.

On Monday, Nov. 28, 38 students were in the library after midnight. Tuesday there were 93 students, Wednesday 82, Thursday 75, Friday 65, and Sunday 56.

Omaha Cabby Shot To Death by Robber

OMAHA (AP) — An Omaha taxicab driver was slain and his body dumped from his cab early Monday.

Burkhardt's blood-spattered cab had been found seven hours before in the parking lot of West Lanes, a bowling alley near the western city limits.

After shooting the cab driver, the gunman apparently shoved the body to one side, drove to the spot where it was found, and dumped it in the road.

The body was found at mid-morning just beyond Omaha's western city limits. Mrs. Henry D. Schenider said she saw the body lying in the road when she drew open her living room drapes.

Mrs. Reary said a cab stopped in front of her home between 11:30 p.m. and midnight, remained about two minutes, and then drove on. Another resident of the neighborhood, Mrs. Eugene Jacobsen, heard what might have been a shot shortly after 11:30 p.m. She looked out and saw a taxi drive slowly by.

The bowling alley where the car was found is nearly three miles from the spot the body was found.

Tools Worth $700 Stolen from Farm

Deputy Sheriff Donald A. Wilson reported Monday the theft of equipment worth about $700 from the O. C. Orris farm north of Iowa City.

Taken were tools including an electric paint sprayer, several electric drills, assorted hand tools and two outboard motors.

Wilson said entry was made by forcing a window in the rear of a farm shed.

Cities Need Fluoridation Dentist Ch

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's dentists met Monday night that fluoridation of water to fight tooth decay should be routine in every city.

Addressing a New York meeting, Dr. Ben Kingsbury of San Francisco, president of the American Dental Assn., declared:

"Cities which have failed to adopt the measure are simply failing in their duty to the public."

He termed fluoridation most "thoroughly tested procedure in history."

Critics who profess danger to health are either informed, despite 'massacre' of fluoridation, or else they are 'selfish' Dr. Kingsbury stated.

He said that 22 million sons drink fluoride-treated water.

Girl Killed By Hunter

MADRID, Iowa (AP) — Lou Lincoln, 14, hung a Christmas tree on a fence knoll, was shot and killed Saturday by a hunter in her direction when she took the girl's dog for a walk.

The girl and her brother, 9, accompanied by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln.

Alan Mougin, 38, a farmer, said he was hunting foxes with four dogs when he saw the dog on the fence. In the fog, he took a shot at the dog, but after he fired a wail. He ran to the fox and found Deania dying.

Dr. G. H. Sutton, Boonville coroner, ruled the death accidental.

BOAT STOLEN

A seven-foot, flat-bottomed boat was reported stolen from a river south of Ia over the weekend. George S. Van Buren St., the boat and a pair of oars, painted red, were taken sometime last week.

The girl and her brother, 9, accompanied by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln.

Cities Need Fluoridation: Dentist Chief

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the nation's dentists said flatly Monday night that fluoridation of water to fight tooth decay should be routine in every city in the country.

Addressing a New York dental meeting, Dr. Bernard C. Kingsbury of San Francisco, president of the American Dental Assn., declared:

"Cities which have thus far failed to adopt the measure are simply failing in their responsibility to the public."

He termed fluoridation a simple, inexpensive and successful health aid.

"Except for some unusual case, there is no reason for a child to face the once-routine prospect of losing five teeth from decay by the time he reaches middle age," Dr. Kingsbury said.

He said fluoridation is the most "thoroughly tested" health procedure in history.

Critics who profess fear of danger to health are either misinformed, despite "massive evidence" of fluoridation's safety or else they are "self-seeking," Dr. Kingsbury stated.

He said that 22 million persons drink fluoride-treated wa-

Suspended Term For Child Deserter In District Court

Daniel Miller received a one-year suspended jail term Monday, after pleading guilty to a charge of desertion and abandonment of children in Johnson County District Court.

Miller was paroled to Albert J. Murphy, county sheriff, on the condition he pay $50 a month beginning Jan. 1, 1956 to the office of the clerk of the court to provide for his three children, Linda 13, Robert 10 and Warren 8.

Failure to fulfill the condition will warrant revoking the suspension carrying out the original sentence, court officials said.

Rule Government Is Liable In 1949 Air Deaths of 55

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled Monday both that federal government and Eastern Air Lines are liable for damages in a 1949 air crash here which took the lives of 55 persons.

The decision ended a long legal battle over the question of liability.

The disaster occurred when a four-engine Eastern airliner and a P-38 fighter flown by Bolivian pilot Eric Rios Bridoux collided in the air.

In one action, the court unanimously agreed with decisions of lower federal courts that the government is subject to liability.

In another, it agreed with the U.S. Court of Appeals here that the government's liability is limited to $15,000 for each death.

Tower Errred

This is on the ground the government's negligence occurred in the control tower of Washington National Airport, which is in Virginia. Virginia limits damages for a death to $15,000. The appellate court held the government's liability was limited to that of the state in which the negligence occurred, not necessarily where the accident occurred.

The accident actually took place over the Potomac River in the District of Columbia, which has no limit on damages for a death.

Two Dissent

The Supreme Court, with Justices Frankfurter and Harlan dissenting, overturned the Court of Appeals decision granting Eastern a new trial. The appellate court had held that the district judge erred in submitting to the jury the question of whether Eastern "unauthorizedly deviated from the traffic pattern."

The jury, in returning the award against Eastern, found the airline was negligent.

The district court then ruled the government also was negligent and subject to liability. Presumably the government and Eastern will now share damages equally in the various deaths, superseding the government's share does not exceed $15,000 in any one case.

To Hear Arguments

The court also agreed to hear arguments and rule later on whether the federal Railway Labor Act's union shop amendment supersedes state "right-to-work" laws as applied to railroad workers.

The amendment permits unions and railroads to make agreements requiring workers to become union members. "Right-to-work" laws generally prohibit unions and employees from making such agreements.

The court agreed to rule in a case in which the Nebraska Supreme Court decided that state's law superseded the federal act.

State Board Revokes Four Beer Permits

DES MOINES (AP) — The State Permit Board Monday revoked the state beer permits held by four taverns. In each case the local license previously had been revoked.

The four taverns involved are: The Log Cabin, Sioux City, operated by Lorena T. Prince; Connie's Tavern, Sioux City, operated by Conrad P. Fisher; The Evergreen Club, Council Bluffs, operated by Ralph King, and a tavern near Perry operated by Mark Hanlon.

CRASHING ESCAPE

Escaping from a hunter, a pheasant flew right through the glass of a living room window at the P. B. Baartman home near Sioux Center. The bird was uninjured.

Young Demos to Hear Rep. McCoy, Reports

SUI Young Democrats will hear State Rep. Jack McCoy (D-Ottumwa) speak at 7:30 p.m. today in the Pentacrest room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

McCoy, youngest member of the Iowa legislature, will speak on "The Role of Young People in Organized Politics."

National Convention

Delegates from SUI to the National Young Democrats Convention at Oklahoma City, Okla., December 1-3, heard Adlai Stevenson, candidate for Democratic presidential nomination.

They will report on the convention tonight.

SUI delegates to the convention were: Marilyn L. Jacobs, Al, Bartlett, Ill.; Robert E. Newton, A4, Muscatine and Richard L. Rausch, A2, Carroll.

The SUI delegates reported that there was some controversy over the seating of the Texas delegation at the convention.

Two delegates were reported to have claimed to represent Texas — the Shivers and the anti-Shivers factions. The latter group was selected.

Seating Controversy

The controversy originally developed during the presidential campaign of 1952 when Texas Gov. Allan Shivers ignored Democratic candidate Stevenson and supported Eisenhower.

Since that time, Shivers has been under fire politically with the result that Texas Democrats have divided into two camps — for or against Shivers.

Other highlights of the convention, according to the students, were elections of Young Democrats' officers and a series of resolutions.

One of the resolutions called for a program of cultural exchange of students between the United States and Russia.

TRUMAN ILL

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Harry S. Truman has been confined to his home the past three days because of an intestinal illness. Dr. Wallace Graham described the illness as "not serious" and said the former president should be able to go out by Wednesday.
