Knowland Will Run in 1956 Unless Ike Decides Soon

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) said Friday he believes President Eisenhower will disclose by the middle of next month whether he will run for re-election.

This would advance the date of the President's announcement by six or seven weeks over previous indications.

Knowland was reported Thursday as intending to announce his own candidacy for the Republican nomination unless Eisenhower made clear by Feb. 1 that he would seek a second term.

Would Support Ike

These reports said Knowland was ready to support Eisenhower in a bid for re-election, but that he believed possible candidates should not be immobilized by a long wait for the President's decision.

Asked about the reports at his news conference, Knowland smiled and said he knew of "two well-written speculative stories."

To a question where he would stand if the President seeks re-election, the senator said he would assume the ticket would be the same as in 1952 and, in that event, he would support it.

Eisenhower's running mate three years ago was Vice-President Richard M. Nixon of California.

Hall's Position

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall has held these views as to the President to speak out before late February or early March.

Knowland refused to tell a news conference whether he himself will seek the GOP presidential nomination until Eisenhower "has the opportunity to make a decision which I believe will be made during the month of January."

He recalled he had said after his meeting with the President that the Eisenhower decision should be made clear "in mid-January" before the end of filings for state primaries.

In referring to his talk with the President, Knowland said: "I wouldn't want to mislead you by saying that the question of 1956 didn't enter the discussion."

Knowland made his prediction prior to addressing a dinner of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

He said in his speech the United States has retreated from principle in "acquiescing" to the United Nations "package deal" to admit five Communist satellites to membership in return for admission of 13 "free world" countries.

Bonn Warns Against Red Recognition

BERLIN (AP)—The West German Republic warned Friday it will break diplomatic relations with any nation that henceforth recognizes Communist East Germany.

Like the Western Big Three powers, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government ignores the claims of the Red regime in East Berlin to represent the 18 million East Germans.

Only Soviet Russia, its European satellites and Red China now exchange envoys with East Germany. Bonn is in the process of establishing diplomatic relations with Russia, but has no ties with any of the others.

A Foreign Office spokesman said West Germany will fulfill its commitment to set up relations with the Soviet Union. Russia is one of the Big Four powers most concerned with Germany, he explained "and such relations could contribute to German unification."

For all other countries, he said, the warning applies. As an example, he said recognition of East Germany by newly sovereign Austria would end relations between Bonn and Vienna.

The declaration came as Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano conferred in Bonn with 25 West German envoys on Russia's new cold war maneuvers, including the Soviet drive to win recognition for East Germany as a sovereign nation.

The warning was believed directed especially at Egypt and India, which are tightening their trade ties with East Germany. Bonn leaders say they fear these moves might be the prelude to an exchange of diplomatic envoys.

Final judgment in the case involving four youths charged with setting fires in two deserted farm houses near North Liberty Nov. 30 will be rendered Dec. 17.

No Date Set for Trial—

5 Teenagers Indicted by Grand Jury

Five of the six teenagers involved in a theft ring case broken early this week by the Iowa City police department were indicted by the Johnson County Grand Jury Friday.

The sixth, Lance Powell Penney, 16, 405 S. Dodge St., is pending arraignment. His case will be before the Iowa City Police Court today.

Indictment of the five youths followed arraignment Wednesday in Police Court.

Pleads Innocent In Plane Bombing

DENVER (AP)—Tall, boyish-looking John Gilbert Graham, 23, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity Friday to murder charges stemming from the bomber of a United Air Lines plane which killed 44 persons, including his mother.

He was ordered to Colorado Psychopathic Hospital in Denver for a 30-day sanity examination. The psychiatrists of its own for the study. It selected Dr. Franklin Ebaugh and Dr. Leo Tepley, both of Denver.

Still undetermined is whether the defense doctors shall have access to a statement made by Graham when he was arrested by the FBI two weeks after the plane blew up Nov. 1.

Written Admission

At the time, this was described as a "written admission" by U.S. Atty. Donald E. Kelley. Later Graham repudiated the statement. Its contents still are secret.

Denver Dist. Atty. Bert Keating charged the move for the doctors to see the statement and Graham's psychiatric examination amounted to a "searching expedition."

The murder charge accuses Graham of murder in the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 74, who boarded the plane at Denver for a trip to Alaska.

'Not Guilty'

"I certainly am not guilty," said the thin, black-haired defendant, "and not guilty by reason of insanity before, during and after the alleged commission of the crime."

The district attorney protested Graham's mental condition before and since the plane was bombed were not immediate issues. District Judge Edward J. Keating finally accepted the plea as innocent and innocent by reason of insanity at the time of the bombing.

He agreed that Graham is entitled to two trials—the first to determine his innocence or guilt. Under Colorado law he could be sentenced to death in the gas chamber if convicted of first degree murder.

C of C Balloting Will End Monday

All ballots cast in the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors election will be in by 5 p.m. Monday.

Results will be tabulated Tuesday, Chamber Secretary Keith Kafer said. Ballots were received by Chamber members Nov. 28.

Ten candidates were nominated for five positions vacated by retiring members. One-third of the 15-member board is elected each year for terms of three years.

Nominees for the positions are Gene Claussen, H. Kenneth Cline, H. Clark Houghton, James R. Jordan, Dr. Kenneth Judiesch, Robert Osmundsen, Dr. Herbert Scott, Robert G. Shellady, Robert G. Stevenson, and Ben E. Summerwill.

Ike's Cabinet Copes With Farm Issue

THURMONT, Md. (AP)—The Eisenhower administration made a two-fold attempt Friday to cope with sagging farm prices and the resultant criticism of Republican agricultural policies.

A lengthy Cabinet session in the snow-covered Catoctin Mountains closed ranks around Secretary of Agriculture Benson and brought plans for an election-year farm program close to completion.

Simultaneously, Benson called on farmers for voluntary curbs on pig production. In a statement released from his office in Washington, he said "if producers hold down the number of spring pigs raised in 1956, their market position will be strengthened when these pigs are marketed next year."

Benson, emerging from the Cabinet session, once again knocked down reports he might leave the Cabinet.

Asked about a proposal by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) for slaughtering hogs to aid pork producers, Benson replied: "Our hog program is working fine."

The government is engaged now in an $85 million pork buying program to bolster the market.

Regents Will Try For Federal Loan On Union Additions

The State Board of Regents have announced that they will try to get a federal loan for the construction of three additions to the SUI Memorial Union.

Approximate cost of the three additions is estimated at $3 1/2 million. Although the Memorial Union is operated by a separate corporation, the Board of Regents handles the financing.

Money has been borrowed from the federal government for construction of dormitories, but this is the first attempt to get a loan of this type.

Board members indicated that the loan is too big for the banks to handle. Since construction of the additions is not urgent, they felt it was a good opportunity to try for the federal loan, they said.

William M. Tucker, county attorney, said that no date for the trial had been set, but there would be a meeting early next week to set the time.

Three of the boys, James P. Musack, 16, 1228 Sheridan Ave.; William H. Neubauer, 16, 1026 Kirkwood Court, and David L. Scheetz, R.R. 7, were indicted for grand larceny of property valued in excess of $20. The charge results from the Dec. 2 theft of two outboard motors and other tools from I. L. Orris farm north of Iowa City.

Ralph M. Scheetz, brother of David, was indicted for grand larceny in connection with the theft of tires and wheels valued in excess of $20 from Reliable Sales and Service Inc. on Oct. 19.

A Ballot's-Eye-View

A BALLOT ON the inside of one of the ballot boxes in the Miss SUI contest watches as Kent Mitleberg, El. Quincy, Ill. drops the name of his choice for queen into the box. Male students cast 1,924 votes for 29 candidates in the contest as compared to 1,200 cast last year. The queen and her four attendants will be presented at the intermission of the Winter Formal. Les Elgart and his "Sophisticated Swing" orchestra will play.

Byrd's Fleet Starts Trip To Antarctic

LYTTELTON, New Zealand (Saturday) (AP)—The vanguard of the U.S. Antarctica expedition is sailing away from civilization Friday, heading toward the bottom of the earth to begin building the world's coldest, remotest laboratory.

First to pull away from New Zealand will be the Glacier, the newest and toughest icebreaker in the U.S. Navy has.

The expedition's six other ships are expected to leave within a week or 10 days. Sometime later, eight Navy planes will take off on an unprecedented flight of 2,200 stormy, hazardous miles from New Zealand to Antarctica.

This is the muscle phase of "Operation Deep Freeze." These are the men who will mark the trails past treacherous crevasses and through towering mountain passes; scout icy, forbidding areas and build the facilities scientists will use next fall as part of the observance of International Geophysical Year.

The Glacier's first stop will be at McMurdo Sound in the frozen Ross Sea, where Navy air officers immediately will scout the area for a landing site for planes flying from New Zealand.

Robert Humiston, G. Marshall, Mich., oboe, and Robert Chapman, G. Carroll, piano, assisted by Betty Bang, music instructor, on the flute, will be heard in a recital at 7:30 p.m.

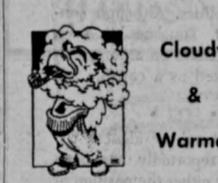

Featured works are Telemann's Sonata in A minor, Milhaud's Sonatine, Quetz's Trio, Sonata in C minor for Flute, Oboe, and Piano, and Humoresque, Rhapsody, and Scherzino (Three Concert Pieces) by Reizenstein.

Monday Meeting Set For U-Heights Council

Moderating temperatures and some possible light snow will make up Iowa's weather fare today. The state low Thursday night was 15 degrees below zero at Sibley, but a slight warming trend is in store for today.

Temperatures will range in the Iowa City area from about 10 to 17 degrees above early today, and will reach 25 degrees in the afternoon.

It will be mostly cloudy, during the day, but skies are expected to clear tonight. Precipitation will average less than two tenths of an inch, in the form of light snow, during the weekend.

2 Music Recitals Set for Sunday

Featured works are Telemann's Sonata in A minor, Milhaud's Sonatine, Quetz's Trio, Sonata in C minor for Flute, Oboe, and Piano, and Humoresque, Rhapsody, and Scherzino (Three Concert Pieces) by Reizenstein.

Hint Robbery In Slaying

CHICAGO (AP)—Alex Louis Greenberg's widow Friday spoke of the possibility that he was slain during a bungled robbery.

Greenberg, 64, wealthy brewer who once was known as the financial adviser of the Capone syndicate, was gunned down Thursday night just as he and his wife left a South Side restaurant.

Police considered the robbery theory. They also pondered the possibility that he was the target of extortionists or that his death was linked in some way to the big movie shakeup case of the '40s.

The widow, Pearl, 43, testified at a coroner's inquest Friday. "Could it be a robbery attempt?" asked Coroner Walter McCarron.

"It may be possible," she said. She said she knew of no enemies, and added: "They were trying to hold him up. That's the only thing I can think of."

The killers—two men—accosted Greenberg as he was about to get into his car. Mrs. Greenberg said she heard her husband say "no."

She heard shots. The men ran, she related, and her husband followed them. Then, she added, they turned and shot again, and her husband fell.

Retiring Members Of City Council To Meet Monday

Monday's city council meeting will be the last regular meeting for three retiring members, Walter Daykin, Ansel Chapman and Clarence Parizek.

The three new council members, George Dvorsky, Philip Morgan and Louis Loria will take office Jan. 2, 1956.

Mayor LeRoy Mercer said Friday that the council has already met with the newly-elected members, and that he did not expect them to attend Monday's meeting, but added that they were welcome to do so if they wished.

Mercer and Robert Stevenson are the two holdover members of the council. City officials said Friday the agenda for Monday's meeting was not complete, but that it would probably include the city engineer's report on the completion of summer paving projects on sections of Seventh Avenue, Pine Street, Governor Street, and Ginter Avenue.

New Rates Into Effect In September

(Special to The Daily Iowan)

DES MOINES — The State Board of Regents Friday approved an increase in dormitory rates at SUI beginning next September. The Board also discussed the probable necessity for a further increase in 1957.

For boarding students in double or triple rooms — approximately 97 per cent of all SUI students housed in dormitories—rates will increase $30 a year. Boarding students in single rooms, or in double or quadruple rooms with an individual bath, will pay $35 more a year.

Rates in South Quadrangle, the University's only remaining non-boarding dormitory, will also be increased $35 a year.

Residents of triple and double dormitory rooms will pay $650 a year for room and board beginning next September, and those in single rooms, or double or quadruple rooms with individual bath, will pay $720 a year. South Quadrangle (non-boarding) residents will pay $220 a year.

Expanding Service

Increased costs of dormitory services and the need for more income to meet debt service obligations of the expanding dormitory system were advanced by University officials and the Board as reasons for the next year's increase. No tax funds are used for dormitories, all construction being financed by borrowing which is subsequently repaid from board and room rates paid by students.

Dormitory projects now planned or under way at the University and for which an expansion of credit is required include a new women's dormitory, a 375-bed addition and dining room to Hillcrest men's dormitory, and renovation of Quadrangle men's dormitory. Future housing needs are being studied and plans developed to meet them, including the need for more permanent housing facilities for married students.

Last fall the University expanded its dormitory facilities by converting single rooms to double, and converting double rooms to triple. The Law Commons, which had previously served as an adult study center, was converted into a women's dormitory. Although these conversions provided facilities for an additional 600 students, all dormitory rooms were reserved this year by mid-July.

SUI dormitory rates are still the lowest among all Big Ten universities, SUI officials pointed out. Today's students are housed in dormitories paid for by previous generations of student residents whose room rentals financed their construction, they said.

Services included in SUI dormitory residents are supplied with blankets, linens, drapes, cleaning service, bedspreads, sheets and pillowcases and their laundering. There is a lavatory and telephone in each dormitory room.

One factor in the increased cost of dormitory operations this year was a general salary raise which went into effect at the University July 1. SUI officials pointed out to the Board of Regents.

$500 Worth of Loot Found on Farm

Stolen property in excess of $500, was discovered by Iowa City Detective Harland F. Sprinkle Thursday on the farm of O. C. Orris, north of Iowa City.

This property has been added to the loot recovered by Iowa City police after the arrest of the six teenagers involved in the theft ring case in Iowa City.

Sprinkle said that the recovery included four more shotguns, tools, silverware, spotlights, hubcaps, and a record player.

"Some of the stolen property has been sold to a Solon junk dealer," Sprinkle said. The boys sold a truckload of like new radiators, wheels, rims, and other auto accessories to the dealer for junk prices, he stated.

For Governor: The Democrats

Iowa has not had a Democratic governor since 1938. There are several reasons for this. Here are the main ones.

1. Iowa is a traditionally Republican state.

2. Democratic scandals and squabbles during their six-year reign (1932-38) have not been forgotten by the voters.

3. The Democrats never have presented an outstandingly colorful candidate or a constructive and dynamic platform.

So five Republican governors in a row have walked over Democratic opponents — even while Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman were winning national elections.

Today the Democrats are not in a position to challenge Republican domination of Iowa. They have only 19 of 108 seats in the House of Representatives of 6 of 50 in the Senate. They control no statehouse offices.

Still Iowa Democrats feel that they have a chance to capture the governorship in 1956. They may be right. The Republicans have been in power 18 years. They have made mistakes in that time. The Democrats, meanwhile, have presented no controversial programs that would lose voters.

During the state legislative sessions the Democrats have remained aloof from the inter-party battles of the Republicans. It was often hard to realize that Iowa had an opposition party.

If President Eisenhower decides not to seek re-election, the Republican gubernatorial candidate will have no coat-tails on which to ride. The possible Democratic farm vote could be in favor of the Democratic candidate for governor.

Who will be the man to try to end 18 years of Republican rule in Iowa?

The Democrats have had few primary fights in the past 20 years. Usually they do well to get one candidate. In 1956, however, with the stakes high, many candidates may want in.

Clyde Herring, Democratic candidate in 1954, will be the favorite in any primary battle. Herring, son of the late Gov. Clyde Herring (1933-37), came within 25,000 votes of defeating Gov. Leo Hoegh in 1954. He was not a colorful candidate, but he kept away from hot issues and thus has a clean slate for 1956.

HERSCHEL LOVELESS, former mayor of Ottumwa, made the late Gov. William S. Beardsley work hard to win the 1952 election. Many observers say that Loveless might have won had it not been for the nation-wide Republican sweep led by Eisenhower. His pro-liquor-by-the-drink stand hurt him in the rural areas. He, too, is not a dynamic campaigner. He was an unsuccessful candidate for Fourth District congressman in 1954 and is now a salesman for a municipal supplies concern.

WALTER BEUSE, mayor of Davenport, is gaining support among eastern Iowa Democrats. He is a strong liquor-by-the-drink advocate. He was sheriff of Scott County for 15 years (1935-50) and Davenport postmaster three years (1950-53) before becoming mayor. He gained nationwide publicity as sheriff when he started the Mardi Gras Halloween program designed to keep children out of mischief. He has twice been elected mayor in usually Republican Davenport by 3-2 margins. During his regime, much-needed street, sewer and parking programs have been undertaken. Beuse has made no attempt to discourage talk of his candidacy.

PAT TOUCHAE, mayor of Waterloo, has said several times that he wants no part of partisan state politics. Although considered a Democrat, Touchae has been elected mayor three times on a non-partisan ticket. He is rated as a capable administrator.

NEAL SMITH, national president of the Young Democrats, reportedly has been considering a shot at either the position of First District congressman or the governorship.

But he has feuded recently with Herring, with Jake More, Democratic state chairman, and even with members of the Iowa Young Democrats.

Needs Vote Of Farmers Says Labor

"Only if greater dissatisfaction develops among the nation's farmers will labor-endorsed candidates win many offices in states where industrial workers are a population minority."

Writing on "Labor in Politics" in the new issue of the Iowa Business Digest, Edwin E. Witte, University of Wisconsin economist, notes that "labor can win in only a few states unless it can gain support for its position and candidates from other elements in our citizenry."

His point of view in the State University of Iowa publication is that the political activities of organized labor will "increase rather than diminish."

"It seems to me inevitable," Witte says, "that so long as we preserve our democratic political institutions and continue to have a free labor movement, organized labor will always engage in political activities."

Professor Witte says that "the political activities of labor have not given an undue influence in the government to the production workers in industry. The largest economic group in our present population, this element has fewer representatives in legislative halls than farmers and many relatively small professional groups."

He regards political activities by organized labor within the framework of democratic institutions as "a bulwark against Communism and one of the best assurances of the continuance of the American way of life."

German Blockade — Recent Russian Moves — India Visit

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
It hardly seems reasonable that the Communists, merely for the sake of face, would once more subject themselves to the risks and subsequent political beating they took because of the 1948 Berlin blockade.

Nor does it seem reasonable that the Allies should let such a situation develop again without the sternest warning that they will not lie down this time any more than they did then.

A good many observers believed in 1948 that the Allies could have avoided the long blockade and the accompanying expensive airlift by a firm stand at the very beginning.

THAT SITUATION developed until there was a very great fear among Europeans that it might produce a war.

Russian fighter planes patrolled the edges of a very narrow corridor through which American planes carried the necessities of life, especially coal, to West Berlin.

Recently the Russians have "recognized" the satellite Communist government of East Germany and demanded that the West Germans negotiate with it on the subject of reunification.

NOW, by threatening to cut off West Berlin's coal supply once more, through refusal of barge transit permits, the Reds are trying to get recognition through negotiation in another field.

In some ways a new Berlin blockade would be more difficult than the one of 1948.

Today there is the problem of

maintaining contact between West Berlin's resurgent industry and its West German customers. Cessation of this business would create an employment problem in the city.

Whether or not the Reds actually have a blockade in mind, they know that the mere threat can be disruptive in this situation. They can also hope to create a demand from business that Bonn accept the situation and begin negotiations.

Meanwhile several top Russian leaders toured India hurling anti-Western remarks nearly everywhere they went.

Nikita Khrushchev, who has been saying such nasty things about Britain while on a state visit to Burma, will probably say when he goes to Britain on a similar trip next April that it must have all been a mistake by some other guy who has already been purged.

There has been discussion in Britain as to whether Anthony Eden should now withdraw his invitation to Bulganin and Khrushchev, in view of the unbridled attacks which have been chattered by the Russian press. Eden won't withdraw it, of course.

KHRUSHCHEV, boss of international communism, began to hit the world's front pages only after the ouster of Malenkov from the premiership early this year. At first he assumed the pose of a sensible, convivial fellow who could and would do business with the West.

That lasted until the July "summit" conference in Geneva, when Bulganin, Khrushchev's new premier, arrived without any evidence of intent to do business, and Molotov knocked the rest of the facade full of holes at the foreign ministers meeting.

Even after that, however, the Russians gave lip service to the sweetness and light campaign until Bulganin and Khrushchev went to India and Burma.

TRYING TO PLAY all the anti-colonial tunes which the Asiatics love so well, the Russian leaders re-declared their war on the West. Bulganin started it with a boast of ultimate victory made before the Indian Parliament.

Any attempt to answer all the lies which Russia can put out would require a lifetime of devotion. However, the record of Russia's deal with Germany to take part of Poland, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia and part of the Middle East if captured, in return for her own neutrality during an attack on the Western Powers, is so clear as to be wholly obvious.

For Khrushchev to attempt to twist that record is one of the most bald-faced efforts ever made by a country noted for them.

Austrian Family Will Have Unusual Christmas 'Gifts'

By RUSSELL TO

An Austrian family in Iowa City will have an unusual Christmas year. It will be a new home in Iowa City.

The First Presbyterian here is sponsoring the family to come to the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Pock, their children, Max, 4, and Lisa, 4, sailed from the U.S. on Nov. 25.

Home and Family

When the Pocks arrive in Iowa City they will find a home, with several rooms paid in advance, and a kitchen stocked with foodstuffs.

The First Presbyterian of Iowa City is sponsoring the family in this country, providing the house and furniture.

In 1949 Pock had a duty to come to the United States, but before he could do so, his wife had died. In 1952 the First Presbyterian Church learned of Pock's situation and another Austrian studying law at SUI, voted then to sponsor and immigration law placed the Pocks at end of the waiting list.

Will Attend SUI College of Law, H. Pock, 24, plans to study law at the University of Vienna, Austria, and the University of Innsbruck for two years.

The Pocks plan to spend the Christmas season in Iowa City as soon as possible.

Dr. Herbert A. Scott, man of the committee to secure accommodation for the family in Iowa City, said the committee members of the committee are Mrs. Ross Barnett, Dr. Anderson, Paul Griffie, A. Bertramson, Mrs. H. King and Theodore Vail.

Five churches will be visited in the morning and five churches will be visited in the afternoon. The stops will be made at half-hour intervals with 15 minutes allowed at each church for the clergyman to explain the altar symbolism of his church.

Austrian Family Will Have Unusual Christmas 'Gift'

By RUSSELL TOKHEIM

An Austrian family will have an unusual Christmas gift this year. It will be a new life—a new home in Iowa City.

The First Presbyterian Church here is sponsoring the family in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Pock and their children, Max, 5, and Monika, 4, sailed from France for the U.S. on Nov. 25.

Home and Food
When the Pocks arrive in Iowa City they will find a comfortable home, with several months rent paid in advance by the church and a kitchen well-stocked with foodstuffs.

The First Presbyterian Church of Iowa City is sponsoring the family in this country and is providing the house and food.

In 1949 Pock had an opportunity to come to the United States but before he could come, the man who was to sponsor him died. In 1952 the First Presbyterian Church learned of the Pocks through Fred Bergmann, another Austrian who was studying law at SUU. The church voted then to sponsor the Pocks, but immigration law revision placed the Pocks at the lower end of the waiting list.

Will Attend SUU
Pock, 24, plans to enter the SUU College of Law. He was employed by the U.S. Army in Salzburg. He has attended the University of Vienna for one year and the University of Innsbruck for two years.

The Pocks plan to apply for citizenship as soon as possible.

Dr. Herbert A. Scott is chairman of the committee appointed to secure accommodations for the family in Iowa City. Other members of the committee are: Mrs. Ross Barnett, Dr. George S. Anderson, Paul Griffith, Mrs. J. A. Bertram, Mrs. Hugh Keating and Theodore Van Bruggen.

Mitten Tree Sponsored By Friends

The Iowa City Friends Meeting has placed a mitten tree in Alden's department store.

The local group is sponsoring the tree in response to a request for mittens from a missionary among the Potato Creek Indians in South Dakota.

Iowa Citizens are asked to hang a pair of mittens their own size on the tree. Just before Christmas the mittens will be sent to be distributed among the South Dakota Indians.

The mitten tree idea was inaugurated five years ago in Philadelphia by the American Friends Service Committee, a Quaker group. The trees have no decorations but the mittens which people hang on the tree.

Last year's mitten trees with some variations were used in 462 communities in 44 states. Although the trees were originally

Iowa Shows Mid-Season Form—

Hawks Dump SMU, 80-62

By DAVE STEVENS

Southern Methodist's first showing against Big Ten competition here Friday night met disaster when an Iowa squad, showing mid-season form, walked away with an 80-62 victory.

The triumph, Iowa's 68th straight against non-conference foes on its home floor, came over a highly-touted Mustang quintet that won the Southwest Conference championship last year.

Balanced Attack

Once again the Hawks' balanced scoring attack, topped by guard Bill Seaberg's 17, was more than their opponents could handle. SMU's 6-foot 8-inch center, Jim Krebs, scored 22 points, but was not supported as well by his mates.

Iowa took the lead on center Bill Logan's push shot in the first ten seconds. Krebs tied it up, 2-2, but successive points by Logan and guard Babe Hawthorne gave the Hawks a lead they never relinquished.

Accurate Hawks

Krebs, bottled up by Logan's defensive maneuvers in the first ten minutes, looped three hook shots near the end of the half to keep SMU within shooting range. However, the accurate-shooting Hawks led at half, 44-30.

Coach Bucky O'Connor's crew changed to a more deliberate brand of ball in the second half with a safe lead under its belt. Iowa stayed from 12 to 18 points ahead after the intermission.

Although the Mustangs, fast break began to produce points in the second half, they hurried their shots in a panicky attempt to cut down the point difference.

Dominated Boards

Probably the major factor was Iowa's domination of the boards. SMU Coach O. E. (Doc) Hayes said that his team could not cope with the Hawks' height.

Basically a fast break team, SMU stayed in the front court for a quick start on its fast break. This strategy produced a couple of scores, but it lost more because of Iowa's offensive tip-ins.

Greater Percentage

Iowa's more deliberate patterns, accentuated by sharp, short passing under the basket, accounted for its greater shooting percentage. The Hawks hit for 36 per cent while SMU succeeded on only 29 per cent of its field goal attempts.

The Hawks set the pattern of the game before it was three minutes old. They scored the first five times they had the ball, making it 10-4.

An 18-11 Iowa lead was cut down to 20-19 until Seaberg and Carl Cain pushed the home team ahead, 29-21.

Seaberg Stars

Seaberg hit six of nine shots in the first half. His jump shooting and cutting off center Logan brought considerable praise from the SMU coach after the game.

The Moline senior's near-flawless game was highlighted when he stole the ball from four Mustangs in a fast break situation.

Behind the Sports Desk

With FRED MILLER

The four (yes, I made it this week) sports prognosticators gathered around the Sports Roundtable Friday over Radio Station WSUI to pick the top basketball games of the coming four days.

Plans are in the fire to add a fifth member to the group to take Bucky O'Connor's place. Others appearing on the show this week were Dave Eitel, WSUI sports staff, Terry Bledsoe, Sports Information Service, and Bob Zehner, moderator.

Dave came up with the honors last week picking 12 right and 3 wrong. Terry was second with 10-5 and Bob hit the bottom with 9-6. The group, in its first week of picks, hit a high 73 per cent, picking 11 right and 4 wrong.

This week we talked over 18 games and saw the outcomes about like this:

IOWA OVER SOUTHERN METHODIST—A unanimous decision. We agreed that the Big Ten champs of 1955 will have to put on the pressure if they want to win over the Southwest champs. Iowa was a little unimpressive last week in its victory over Nebraska and we thought that the Hawks would probably be scared into victory Friday night (last night) after the close one with the Cornhuskers.

Southern Methodist has a strong team, a conference champion from last year with nearly everyone returning, including Krebs, a 6-8 center with a good eye.

Our collective opinion seemed to hinge on the fact that the Big Ten is hard to beat in any sport, and with Iowa the defending champs of last year, it would be even tougher. We could not overlook that fact that Bill Logan, Carl Cain and Bill Seaberg are the top point scorers for the Hawks and should handle most any opposing team.

IOWA OVER COLORADO—(Monday night) a unanimous decision again for the Hawkeyes. Iowa lost to Colorado last year and will be after a victory in a vengeful way when the teams clash in Boulder next week.

Other games picked included:

UCLA over Denver, unanimous
Nebraska over Texas Tech, unanimous
Drake over Tulsa, unanimous

'I'll Play Ball' Next Year, Gilliam Says

Iowa end Frank Gilliam said Friday "I'll be back to play" football with the Iowa team next season.

Gilliam was granted another year of eligibility by the Big Ten Thursday at its meeting in Chicago. The Iowa end suffered a broken leg after the Kansas State game this fall and did not play in any other contests during the year.

Under Big Ten rulings, if a player is hurt in the first game or in practice before the second game of the season, and does not participate during the year, he may apply for another year of eligibility.

His reason for returning to the gridiron next fall, Gilliam said, was, "I guess I just like to play football." He said his leg "hurts now and then" but that it does not give him any trouble.

Gilliam will begin exercising late in February or early in March to strengthen his leg. He has been in retirement, with only slight exercise, since the accident.

'More Than Welcome'

Iowa Football Coach Forest Evashevski said Friday that Gilliam is "more than welcome on the squad next year. We are certainly glad to have him back and it will be good to have him to add stability to the team."

Evy said that Gilliam might have been able to play the last two games of the 1955 season, but that the coaching staff discouraged the idea. If Gilliam had played in another game, it would have ruined his chances of obtaining a year of eligibility.

The Iowa coach said he "held him (Gilliam) back" from the last game, and that he was "hoping Frank would take the extra year."

5-Year Plan

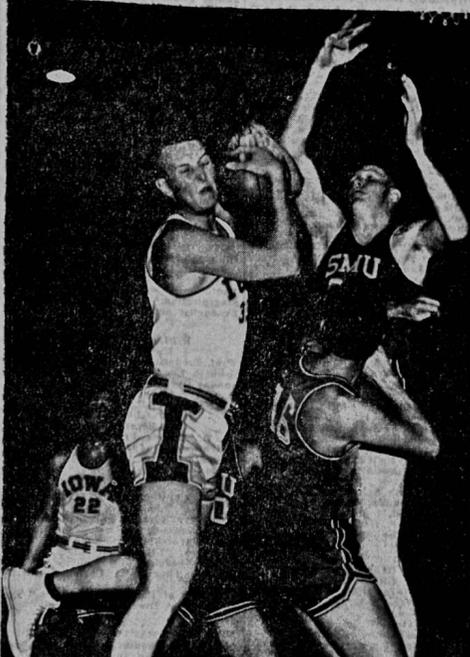

Evy explained that Gilliam was planning to be in school next year because he is on a five-year plan studying physical therapy. He added that Gilliam had said during the season that he would like another year to play football.

Gilliam earned a reputation at Iowa as one of the famed "Stuebenville Trio," which includes two-time all-American guard Calvin Jones, and half-back Eddie Vincent. Gilliam also was Iowa's leading pass receiver in both 1953 and 1954 and was a defensive standout against the single wing both seasons.

In 1954 Gilliam was named to the Associated Press all-American second team.

GRINNELL WINS

GRINNELL (AP) — Grinnell made its 1955 Midwest Conference debut with a 76-62 victory over Ripon Friday night.

IOWA'S BILL SCHOOF wrestles with a rebound despite the 2-1 odds against him. Out-stretching Schoof is Jim Krebs (32), while Carl Scharffenberger (16) ducks out of the way of the landing Hawkeye. Watching are Bill Seaberg (22) and Joel Krog (20). Iowa beat Southern Methodist for its 68th straight non-conference victory on the home floor Friday night, 80-62.

Big Ten Directors Veto 10-Game Schedule Idea

CHICAGO (AP)—Big Ten athletic directors Friday rejected a proposal by football coaches to add a 10th game to conference member grid schedules.

Big Ten schools now are limited to nine games per season. The action was taken at the conference winter meeting. There was no public comment since the proposal was tabled and thereby killed.

The coaches had sought the extra game as a "warmup" contest to be played in mid-September, or a week before the conference schedule usually begins.

In other athletic directors' action:

1. Approval was given a football coaches' proposal for one-year markings of the playing field to aid in spotting the ball.
2. The 1956 conference tennis championships were awarded to Minnesota, May 24-25-26 and the conference golf meet to Northwestern May 25-26.
3. Basketball television receipts from a 12-game program (via CBS) will be split on a basis of $2,000 to the host school and the balance divided 10 ways among the conference.
4. Filmed TV football movies must be shown on an uninterrupted basis without slow motion or re-runs to accentuate possible controversial plays.

Robinson KO's Olson In 2d To Regain Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson rolled back the years and summoned one swift burst of violence from his youth to knock out Carl (Bobo) Olson in 2:51 of the second round Friday night to become the first man ever to twice win back the world middleweight title.

Robinson, a 3-1 underdog at the age of 35, suddenly burst into furious action in the second round with a rain of punches. A right uppercut was the final blow that dropped Olson flat on his back.

Baldish Bobo, who won the crown in an elimination series after Robinson "retired" in 1952, rolled over on one side, then the other as Referee Frank Sikora tolled off the count of ten.

Too Late

Just after the fatal count, Olson began to climb slowly to his feet, but it was too late.

Robinson's jubilant "corner crew, bolstered by others from his entourage of managers, trainer, police and handlers, hoisted him into the air and carried him around the ring in their excitement. They held him on their shoulders for several seconds as the crowd yelled with excitement at the Chicago Stadium.

It was the second time Robinson had knocked out Olson and the third time he had beaten the Hawaiian-born mauler from San Francisco.

Contracts Signed

Although no rematch contract was filed with the Illinois Athletic Commission, Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, said the two fighters had signed contracts for another bout in 90 days if Olson should lose.

1st to Robinson

Both judges, Ed Hintz and John Bray, gave the first round to Robinson, 10-9, and Referee Sikora called it even, 10-10.

As the second round started, Robinson led Bobo with another right-hand lead. Olson wore a puzzled frown as he moved inside banging away to the body and ducking under Sugar Ray's counter right.

Then it happened.

Coolly sizing up the opening in his familiar opponent, Sugar Ray lashed out with a rapid left-right combination. Another fast series made Bobo give way. Then came the right uppercut on the whiskers, followed by a left that was hardly needed.

It was in this same ring that Robinson first won the middleweight crown, stopping champion Jake Lamotta in the 13th round, Feb. 14, 1951.

Francisco. Olson also was flattened earlier this year, on June 22, when he ventured over his head into Archie Moore's light heavyweight division.

Tears Flow as Champ Sugar Ray Speaks

CHICAGO (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, the new middleweight king, was led into his dressing room after his smashing knockout over Bobo Olson Friday night with tears streaming down his face.

He couldn't speak. One veteran ringman said: "He looks more like after he exhausted himself against Joey Maxim than a guy who just won the title."

George Gainford, who always has been closest to Robinson since his start in the ring, finally gathered the Harlem underdog to him like a mother hen and elbowed through the mob of reporters to a table. There, Robinson sat down facing the audience.

He didn't speak for nearly five minutes as Gainford and others hid him from view, wiping his face, patting his back and calming him from a terrific emotional upheaval.

Then the new 160-pound king spoke quietly over a public address microphone.

"I had to cry," he said. "I just couldn't believe it was all over. This comeback has been a ghost of a thing with me ever since Tiger Jones licked me here (in Chicago Stadium) nearly a year ago.

"Only a few people thought I should continue after that and to

'So Fast, So Fast,' Muffers Beaten Bobo

CHICAGO (AP) — A stunned, bewildered Bobo Olson sat in his dressing room after he had lost his middleweight title Friday night to Ray Robinson by a second-round knockout.

"So fast, so fast," muttered Olson. "It was his fast combinations and I got careless. It was too fast, I don't know, maybe the ref counted too fast. Did he?" asked Olson.

"Did I try to get up?" he asked. Someone assured Bobo he made a try at the count of eight and then rolled over.

"I did?" asked the unbelieving Olson. Then in a reply to his own question, he said: "I don't know."

Sid Flaherty, his manager, butted in to say, "Family troubles are not conducive to good fighting." Olson's wife, recently announced she was suing for divorce.

Hoegh Cites SUI Psychiatry Plan

DES MOINES (AP) — Gov. Leo Hoegh said today he hopes a program of research and training in psychiatry now in progress to solve the state's problem of obtaining more psychiatrists for state mental hospitals.

He said at his news conference that the program was set in motion four months ago at the State University of Iowa at his suggestion.

"This program will make it more attractive for potential psychiatrists to come to Iowa," Hoegh said. "It will give them a long range opportunity for advancement in that field in state hospitals."

Hoegh said that the program would also serve to train social workers, nurses and attendants.

Dr. Charles C. Graves said earlier this week in confirming his forthcoming resignation from his position as director of state mental institutions that his action was due to his unhappiness over the lack of research and training in psychiatry.

Doctor Graves will be the third psychiatrist to leave state employment in recent weeks. Hoegh commented: "Our first effort is to get a new superintendent at Independence. The hospitals at Cherokee, Clarinda and Mount Pleasant are headed by exceptionally well-qualified people who are giving them exceptional administration."

The vacancy at Independence was created by the recent dismissal of Dr. Donald Kyer by the state board of control on grounds which included "insubordination." Dr. Norman Renter recently resigned as superintendent of the Clarinda hospital to take a position at the Norfolk, Neb., state mental hospital.

Army Cuts Draft Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The army Friday issued a draft call for 6,000 men in February. This is the lowest quota since selective service was resumed after the outbreak of the Korean War in September, 1950.

At the same time the defense department said the previously announced draft of 8,000 men for the army in January had been reduced to 6,000.

The navy, after asking for 10,000 draftees in November and the same number in December, announced that its volunteer enlistment and re-enlistment program makes further calls on selective service unnecessary.

Dr. Earl Harper, director of the union, will present a trophy to the group presenting the best skit. The trophy will be displayed in a showcase at the union.

The skits are to be judged by six full-time union employees selected by the party committee. Invited to attend the party are 150 employees of the Union Dining Services, full-time union employees, and guests.

Social dancing in the River Room of the union will be a feature of the informal affair.

Students in charge of the party are Elwin Creese, A2, Charter Oak, head waiter; Donald Huygens, P3, Akron, floor captain in the cafeteria; and John Carbonaro, P3, Cicero, Ill., floor captain in the Gold Feather room.

Elementary School Plans Are Studied

The buildings and grounds committee of the Iowa City School Board met Thursday with representatives from the Davenport office of Kingscott, Inc., architectural firm, to study drawings for the additions to Mark Twain and Herbert Hoover elementary schools.

Final working plans and specifications are expected to be presented to the board late this month, Buford W. Garner, superintendent of Iowa City schools, said.

The board would like to advertise for construction bids soon after the first of the year, Garner added.

A $195,000 bond issue to provide for the construction of additions to the two schools was approved by voters in October.

Confesses Slaying Of Illinois Couple

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP)—The baffling disappearance of an Illinois couple nearly two weeks ago was solved Friday with a poultry worker's confession that he shot them to death and then dumped their bodies in separate wells.

Fillmore Young, 34-year-old Carlyle, Ill., Negro, was held without bond in the county jail here under two separate murder charges after leading authorities to the rural wells from which the bodies were recovered. A preliminary hearing is set for next Friday.

Harold Smith, 30-year-old carpenter, and his wife, Arline, 33, were the reported victims of Young's attack.

Young, arrested Thursday night after being awakened in his Carlyle home, admitted the Nov. 27 double slaying after two hours of questioning and later signed a written admission here.

He insisted he didn't know why he killed the couple but authorities believe he isn't telling the full story.

"The first thing I remember was waking up in the Smith house with a gun in my hand and two bodies on the floor," Young said in an oral statement.

Coroner C. C. Kane said an autopsy showed Smith died almost instantly from three bullet wounds but Mrs. Smith apparently lived for some time after they were surprised in their modest home. She had been shot twice.

The bodies of the victims were dumped in wells 15 miles apart and nearly 35 miles away from the scene of the slaying.

The laborer told officers he didn't know the Smiths and stepped at their home after spending the day drinking with a girl in East St. Louis and Carlyle. He said he was on his way home late that night.

Young, acquitted seven years ago of murdering his wife in a drowning incident, showed little emotion when recounting events of the fatal night.

The Smiths, known as a quiet, respected couple who had never been in trouble, were not missed until the day after they were killed when the blood-splattered and bullet-riddled home was discovered by a neighbor.

"I don't know how Kimbell got that flesh wound," McGarrh said, "but I do know Clinton didn't have a gun."

Case a Puzzle
McGarrh said Kimbell had accused Melton of putting too much gasoline in his car and acting like a "smart Negro" when told it should have been only $2 worth.

Sheriff N. C. Strider said: "We haven't been able to find the Negro's gun yet. This case is a real puzzle."

The Lions Club Thursday passed the following resolution: "We humbly confess in repentance for having so lived as a community that such an evil occurrence could happen."

"We intend to see to it that the forces of justice and right prevail in the wake of this awful evil."

"We consider the taking of the life of Clinton Melton an outrage against him, against all the people of Mississippi, as well as against the entire human family."

Navy Plans Atomic Sub

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced Friday it will build a new atomic submarine with a hull design expected to give it "superior" performance to the two present nuclear subs.

The hull will be patterned on that of the high-speed test submarine Albacore, which reportedly has exceeded the underwater speed of the atom-powered Nautilus even though the Albacore has conventional diesel engines. The Nautilus has a submerged speed of more than 20 knots.

The new hull design also will be utilized for the building of three new submarines using diesel engines.

Original plans for the four submarines to be built under the 1956 ship construction program called for hull design based on the conventional Tang class boat. The Navy said in its announcement Friday that "success of the submarine Albacore, however, led to reappraisal of plans and the decision to change."

The Albacore design, the Navy said, "offers the advantages of greater range, greater underwater speed, and improved maneuverability at approximately the same cost." The Albacore has a fish-shaped body with sharp nose, a bilge-like tail and airplane type controls. It uses a single, five-bladed propeller.

The Albacore type hull will be used for the nuclear submarine USS N585.

Professor Traces History of Human Body

Understanding of how the human body develops has come a long way since the 17th century, when scientists believed that at fertilization a fully-formed being existed in miniature, Howard Meredith told a conference on development at the University of Minnesota Friday.

Meredith is professor of research methods and consultant in orthodontics and physical growth at SUI.

Professor Traces History of Human Body

Understanding of how the human body develops has come a long way since the 17th century, when scientists believed that at fertilization a fully-formed being existed in miniature, Howard Meredith told a conference on development at the University of Minnesota Friday.

Meredith is professor of research methods and consultant in orthodontics and physical growth at SUI.

One of 16 nationally known authorities invited to speak at the conference, Meredith traced the history of scientists' understanding of the concept of development.

Simple Organism
"It was 1900 before they knew that the developing human organism was not at first a miniature adult but a structurally simple organism without head or limbs, heart or brain, bones or teeth, muscles or sense organs," he said.

Meredith explained that terms used to describe concepts of development had to be changed as scientists acquired knowledge of anatomical changes throughout life. Understanding of the term "development" to mean "increase in complexity" became unsatisfactory, when it was discovered that decreases in complexity also take place, as well as changes in position of parts of the body.

Six Categories
Study of human physical development is far from complete, he said, so we can expect further revision of concepts concerning growth.

Knowledge of physical development today involves consideration of changes in six categories—kinds of structural units, changes in number of units, and changes in position, size, shape and composition of structural units, Meredith explained.

Some kinds of anatomic structure are found at most stages of human growth, he pointed out, while other kinds are transitory. For example, nerve cells are present from the first month of life, bone cells from the second month and nail cells from the third. The heart is present from the first month, the limbs from the second month, and body hair from the fourth month.

Twenty Trillion Cells
The number of cells present at different periods differs with the kind of cell. Nerve cells, for example, increase rapidly in number during early prenatal life, remain the same in number through childhood and early adulthood and decrease slowly in number during late adulthood and into senility.

Though in its earliest state the human being is a one-cell organism, it becomes an organism of more than twenty trillion cells two decades later, he said.

Changes in location of structural units which Meredith mentioned included movement of the teeth deeply into the jaws before they reverse direction and erupt into the mouth. At the same time the teeth rotate, move horizontally and travel in numerous oblique paths, he added.

Rates Increase, Decline
Decreases in size as well as increases occur in many structures, he explained, with height of the body increasing at a declining rate in early adolescence and a declining rate from middle adolescence to early adulthood, remaining on a plateau during middle adulthood, and then going into a slow decrease.

Illustrating changes in shape which occur, he mentioned changes in length of the legs in proportion to trunk length. Composition changes include numerous changes in pigmentation. One of these produces lighter color of the eyes with senility. Another brings darkening in skin color during infancy and childhood.

Too Old To Drive, Doctor Rides Bike
MARKHAM, Ont. (AP)—Markham's oldest physician, Dr. Arthur L. Hore, has switched to a bicycle since his license to drive a car was canceled two months ago.

Dr. Hore, 81, said Thursday he may be too old to drive a car but he can ride a bicycle as well as any high school boy. He pedals about four miles a day to make his rounds in this village on the northeastern outskirts of Toronto. He started his practice here in 1910.

MARTIN LEWIS YOU'RE NEVER TOO YOUNG

THEIR FUNNIEST BY FAR DON'T MISS IT!

MOIRA SHEARER
The lovely "Red Shoes" dancing star plays 4 roles in this new comedy.

In addition to portraying 4 different roles Miss Shearer also dances part of the Tchaikovsky "Sleeping Beauty" ballet, shakes a mean "Charleston", and performs a 1917 "Bunny Hug" that literally rocks the screen.

This is an utterly mad story of an obsession. John Justin just loves redheads... many of them.

We're afraid that our old friend "Alec Guinness" is green with envy... for by comparison his double life in Captain's Paradise was very dull.
