County Grocers Plan 'Porklift' for January

A month-long "Operation Porklift" in Johnson County is planned by Johnson County grocers for January.

The purpose of the "porklift" is to promote the sale of pork in Iowa City and Johnson County, Henry H. Lausen, 1000 Melrose Ave., president of the Iowa City Retail Grocers Assn., said Friday.

Lausen said that the Johnson County Farm Bureau, the Iowa City grocers and meat retailers in surrounding towns are cooperating on the project.

Plan Special Sales

The grocers will promote pork with special sales and advertising, Lausen said.

Lausen said that the grocers feel that a month-long porklift will help pork sales more than the one-day efforts of other Iowa communities.

In the one-day projects, some meat spoiled because it could not be sold, Lausen said.

Sales Sagged

Sales were nearly stopped for as long as two weeks afterward because so many people had an over-supply, he added.

"As consequence," Lausen said, "we think we can avoid the pit-falls of the one-day sale by spreading it over a month period."

Lausen said that representatives of the Farm Bureau and grocers met Thursday to outline the basic program. They will meet to work out the final details in the Chamber of Commerce offices at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 3.

The Weather

Snow & Colder

SUI students who plan to wait a few days before leaving for home for Christmas vacation may wish by tonight they hadn't.

The Des Moines Weather Bureau reported Friday that "some" snow is expected in Iowa over the weekend. Snow was falling at Davenport about 4:30 p.m. Friday.

The mercury crept up to a high of 29 in Iowa City after a low of 3 early Friday. But the Weather Bureau said Iowans could expect a drop in temperatures Friday night and early today.

Sunday's outlook is for partly cloudy skies, strong northerly winds and colder temperatures with possible snow flurries.

Big 10 Will Choose Two Queens in '56

Two Miss Big Ten contests will be held in 1956, Mark Putney, L2, Gladbrook, SUI Student Council president, said Friday.

The first contest will be held in May. The second will be held in December.

Dora Lee Martin, A1, Houston, Tex., recent winner of the Miss SUI contest will compete for the Big Ten title in May, Putney said.

Error

Miss Jesse James, winner of the 1954 Miss SUI contest, will not compete in that contest as SUI's representative, as was reported Friday in The Daily Iowan.

In past years a Miss Big Ten contest has been held in May. The winner represented the Big Ten at the Rose Bowl the following New Year's Day.

This was changed last August at a meeting of the Big Ten student council presidents. Starting in 1957 the Miss Big Ten contests will be held in December. The winner will attend the Rose Bowl.

May Winner

Thus, the winner of the Miss Big Ten contest in May will miss the trip to the Rose Bowl.

In previous years the Miss SUI elected in December represented SUI at the Big Ten contest in May.

Now she will be elected at SUI just before the Miss Big Ten contest is held, Putney said.

RICHARD TENNESON and his mother look over cakes prepared for the homecoming of the former American soldier, who remained in Communist China two years after the end of the Korean war. The cake on the left, fashioned in the form of a Bible, bears quotation from Scripture. Tenneson said earlier this week that he was an atheist. Friday he said he needs more time to think about religion.

Tenneson Home, Asks People To Understand

ALDEN, Minn. (AP) — Richard Tenneson returned to his Minnesota home Friday to explain "my side" of his defection to the Communists.

The 22-year-old farm boy, who earlier had declared himself an atheist, nodded silently before a cake fashioned in the form of an open Bible—the gift of church women.

It bore quotations from scripture counseling the former soldier, who shunned repatriation after the Korean War, to place his faith in God.

Wants To Explain

It was his expressed hostility to religion that disturbed his mother more than any side of young Tenneson's obviously confused state of mind.

Mrs. Portia Howe, whose unrelenting efforts to persuade the youth to return were climaxed Friday morning when he stepped off a plane in Minneapolis, nurtured the hope he would come back to God.

The crew-cut ex-Army private, looking frail in the oversized suit he has worn since he crossed into Hong Kong Tuesday, appeared anxious to explain his actions to townspeople here and to the rest of the country.

"I know I have some explaining to do," Tenneson said in the living room of the family farmhome.

Little Impact

"I just don't know how to approach it. I want people to understand my side of the story. But I don't know what their feelings are now and I don't know how they'll react."

In Alden, a community of some 700 residents who have lived intimately with the Tenneson story for two years, the youth's arrival at noon Friday from the Twin Cities surprisingly left little impact.

A large percentage expressed a willingness to "give Tenneson another chance." A few said they would not consider him welcome.

Tenneson has been dishonorably discharged from the Army, but no charges have filed against him.

Sidesteps Questions

Tenneson told newsmen he did not believe himself guilty of any traitorous act in renouncing this country to live for two years with the Chinese Communists.

But he sidestepped answering why he had chosen to stay with the Communists and what prompted his return. Similarly, he refused comment on his earlier statement that the United States employed germ warfare in Korea.

"These are things I can't answer in a word or in a few minutes," he said. "I want more time to think about them."

Two Quotations

Tenneson drove from the Minneapolis-St. Paul Airport to Alden with his mother, his stepfather and the Howes' three other children.

A roast turkey dinner was waiting when he arrived. The house swarmed with relatives and newsmen.

He ate dinner before a Christmas tree freshly decorated by the family.

Inscribed on the cake were two quotations from the Bible. One, from Psalms 37:5, said: "Commit thy way onto the Lord; trust Him and He shall bring it to pass."

The other, from Phillipians 4:13, said: "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

Assembly Rejects Lot Drawing for UN Council Seat

Syria Asks UN To Throw Out Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Syria demanded Friday that Israel be thrown out of the United Nations.

Syrian Delegate Ahmed Shukairy also urged the UN Security Council to use economic penalties in punishing Israel for an attack on Syria last Sunday northeast of the Sea of Galilee.

He cited Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's warning to the UN Thursday night that Egypt considered that attack an atack on her too and would meet force with force. Shukairy said the issue was "war or no war."

Warns Arab Nations

Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban replied to Nasser's threat that "if Israel is attacked, it will defend itself with every ounce of its strength."

He warned all Arab countries: "Leave us alone."

The 11-nation council was meeting to consider Syria's complaint on the attack. The complaint said the land-sea-air operation resulted in the capture of four Syrian observation posts and the deaths of 49 Syrians.

Deplore Attack

Turkey, the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, Iran, France, Nationalist China, Peru, Belgium and New Zealand previously deplored the attack.

Eban, who represents Israel both here and in Washington, said the Israeli army made the attack to silence Syrian guns that otherwise would have kept Israeli fishing boats off a body of water that belonged to Israel.

Council members generally said they wanted to wait for a complete report on the incident from Canadian Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, chief UN truce supervisor in Palestine, before doing anything.

UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold said he expected the report next week, when the discussion will be resumed.

Unspeakable Brutality

Shukairy charged that Israel had made a treacherous aggression "of unspeakable brutality" in violation of the UN Charter, the 1949 Israeli-Syrian armistice agreement and international decency.

He quoted a provision of the charter saying that any member consistently violating its principles might be expelled from the UN by the General Assembly on the Security Council's recommendation.

The charter says that, in case of aggression, the council may call upon UN member countries to interrupt economic relations, and even diplomatic ties and communications, with the aggressor nation.

Sen. Estes Kefauver

Kefauver Makes Demo Primary Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee got into the Democratic presidential nomination race Friday saying that he intended to combat Adlai E. Stevenson in one state primary — and probably several.

Stevenson, in Chicago, welcomed Kefauver's entry into the race, adding: "Come on in. The water's fine."

The 52-year-old Tennessee senator, making his announcement at a news conference, said he has assurances from party leaders that "I will have a fair shake for the nomination."

Kefauver said he will enter the June 5 California primary.

Stevenson, first to enter the nomination race this year, has the backing of most California party organization leaders.

Kefauver Again

In Los Angeles, Chairman Tom Carrell of the Kefauver for President Clubs of California, predicted the senator again would win control of the California delegation as he did in 1952.

Kefauver, who led on two convention ballots three years ago only to see the nomination go to Stevenson, said he will campaign vigorously.

Kefauver said that time and money would determine what primaries in addition to California he might enter. He remarked that he didn't have too much of either to spare.

Florida Primary

In this connection, he said he will decide "very soon" whether to contest Stevenson in the May 29 Florida primary. At Miami, Frank Katzentine, a Kefauver backer, said the senator would be entered.

Kefauver said he was getting "rank-and-file" requests to run in the March 20 Minnesota balloting, where Stevenson has the backing of the Democratic-Farmer-Labor party organization.

There was an indication that Kefauver might try again in the March 13 New Hampshire primary, where he defeated a slate pledged to former President Truman in 1952.

No Solid Rule

The senator said he couldn't lay down "any categorical rule" as to whether he would enter contests in states where "favorite sons" are running.

He said he had made no decision about the May 8 Ohio primary where Gov. Frank Lausche is seeking a favorite son designation.

Deal To Split Term Doesn't End Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A proposed compromise deal to settle the deadlock over a Security Council seat collapsed Friday night at a stormy session of the UN Assembly.

The Assembly refused to approve Yugoslavia after the Yugoslavs were selected for the council seat by a drawing of lots.

The unusual action had been agreed upon by many influential delegates after five votes Friday had failed to settle the question. Yugoslavia and the Philippines have been deadlocked for the position for two months.

The compromise deal would have given the seat to the nation which drew the winning lot, with the understanding that it would resign after a year and the other country would be appointed to serve out the 2-year term.

But the Assembly gave Yugoslavia only 34 votes of approval, six short of the necessary two-thirds of those present and voting, after Yugoslavia drew the winning lot which gave it the first half of the term.

Spain received two votes and Bulgaria, Italy, Sweden and Yemen, one each.

Delegates of Yugoslavia and the Philippines had agreed to the deal.

V. V. Kuznetsov, first deputy foreign minister of the Soviet Union denounced the deal as a violation of the UN charter.

Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand, a member of the council for two years and president this month, also disapproved of the plan, saying that the UN charter called for a 2-year term and no shorter one could be arranged.

The deal was thought to have been originated by Assembly President Jose Maza. Maza said when explaining the proposal that it would be a gentlemen's agreement and nothing would be put in writing.

Eleven of the 16 new UN members which were admitted Wednesday were present for the voting. On the last ballot Friday morning before the deal was announced, the Philippines received 37 votes and Yugoslavia, 31. Counting the new members, 46 votes were needed for the two-thirds approval.

Strong stands by the United States, backing the Philippines, and Britain, favoring Yugoslavia, have hindered settlement of the deadlock.

Blonde Bandit Gets $2,200 At E. Moline

EAST MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — An attractive blonde woman bandit and a male companion escaped with $2,200 in cash here Friday after holding up the Little Cow Bell Tavern in midafternoon.

Joe Saberhred, bartender who was on duty at the time said that a slightly built man of about 28 entered the tavern first, followed about five minutes later by the young blonde who he said was wearing blue jeans and a light tan jacket.

The couple sat at the bar drinking beer for about 15 minutes while the bartender stood by, talking to one of four customers in the place.

Saberhred told police the man stood up suddenly, brandished a revolver and said, "This is a stickup."

Saberhred said he thought the bandit was "kidding" but soon found out he wasn't.

The bartender told police he and the four customers were ordered to sit down in booths and that the girl, who also produced a gun, went behind the bar and scooped up all the cash out of the register and cash drawer.

Saberhred said the girl left the tavern by a side door into an alley while her accomplice forced him and the customers into two restrooms.

The tavern, owned by Stella De Jaegher, was held up twice before, both times in 1953.

SUI Lecturer's 1st Novel Published

Calvin Kentfield, 1949 graduate of SUI from Keokuk and a lecturer this semester in the Iowa writers' workshop, is the author of a novel, "The Alchemist's Voyage," just published by Harcourt Brace and Company.

KENTFIELD

His first novel's subject is the voyage of a Caribbean freighter and its crew. Kentfield drew from his experiences as a merchant seaman during the two years following graduation from SUI. An art major at SUI, he also designed the dust jacket for the book.

Kentfield began work on "The Alchemist's Voyage" in 1949. He also has published short stories in magazines, including five in the New Yorker.

Schweitzer Leaves For Jungle Hospital

BORDEAUX, France (AP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, 80-year-old medical missionary and Nobel peace prize winner, embarked Friday for Africa to return to his jungle hospital.

Smiling and in apparent good health after a four-month European visit, Schweitzer told shipboard newsmen he was very happy to be going back to Lambarene to take up his 40-year fight against leprosy.

"If I should not go back to Africa, I feel that in several days I would feel 10 years older," he said.

County Jail Empty; 1st Time in Years

For the first time in more than nine years, the Johnson County jail was without a "guest" Friday.

Sheriff Albert J. (Pat) Murphy reported it was the first time for such a dearth of prisoners since he become sheriff in 1946.

Ordinarily the jail is host to one to five customers and sometimes even more.

Eye Transplant Completed; Result of Deathbed Wish

Dr. Robert P. Woods, an Iowan now practicing neurosurgery in Topeka, Kan., is reported in good condition following a corneal transplant operation on his left eye Monday at University Hospitals.

The doctor who performed the transplant says it is "much too early" to know whether vision will be restored to Dr. Woods' eye.

The cornea used was taken from the eye of the late Carl O. Pearson, 67, Moline, Ill.

Pearson, in a deathbed wish Sunday in Moline Public Hospital, asked that one of his eyes be donated to the Eye Bank at SUI.

Patrolman Called

Highway Patrolman Richard Reddick was called to pick up a special container at University Hospitals here and rush to Moline for the eye.

The Eye Bank was established this year with donations from about 10,000 members of Iowa Lions Clubs.

In a corneal transplant, a patient's diseased cornea is removed and replaced with a normal cornea.

The cornea is the transparent coating which covers part of the eye, including the pupil.

When such an operation is successful, the patient's sight is restored.

Speedy Delivery

The Eye Bank is set up to facilitate the rapid delivery of eyes from the site of a donor's death to the University Hospitals or to a private physician elsewhere in the state awaiting an eye for one of his patients.

The office of any doctor who performs corneal transplants is considered to be a "branch" of the SUI Bank.

Before the bank was set up, many eyes used had to be obtained from one of the few other banks in the U.S.

Dr. Woods lived here from 1928 through World War II. His father, Dr. Andrew H. Woods, was director of SUI's Psychopathic Hospital from 1929 to 1941. The latter became professor-emeritus of psychiatry in 1941.

Claims Reds Holding 14

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States accused Red China Friday night of violating an agreement it made Sept. 10 to permit all American citizens within its control to return home.

State department officials said 14 Americans are still held in Red Chinese prisons out of a total of 19 who were in prison when the agreement was made.

Five of the 19 have been permitted to come home and 10 others, in addition to the 19, who were in prison or under house arrest, were released simultaneously with announcement of the agreement.

The department said Chinese in the United States are now free to leave and have been "at all times since the announcement."

Senator Bricker In Ohio Primary As Favorite Son

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) said Friday he will run as a favorite son candidate in the May 8 Ohio primary with the hope that President Eisenhower will seek a second term.

Bricker supported the late Sen. Robert A. Taft in a losing battle with Eisenhower in the 1952 convention.

Bricker's action was interpreted as intended to give Eisenhower additional time to make up his mind whether he will seek a second term. Under Ohio law delegate slates must be filed before Feb. 8. The consent of the candidate is required for the filing of a slate pledged to him.

As a favorite son candidate Bricker could hold the Ohio votes until they could be switched to Eisenhower, if he becomes a candidate.

City Council Plans Annexation Move At Final Meeting

Action on the annexation of the Wise and Towncrest additions into the city limits is on the agenda of the special City Council meeting called for 7 p.m. Monday.

Action on the resolutions concerning the two additions was deferred last Monday and will be taken up by the Council at the special meeting.

City Attorney Edward Lucas is expected to present a resolution for the council's approval to clarify the questionable status of Kirkwood Circle. The council is expected to recognize that the street is part of the city. The issue has been in doubt for 14 years.

Unless another special meeting is called this will be the final council meeting for retiring members Walter Daykin, Ansel Chapman and Clarence Parizek, who will be succeeded Jan. 2 by George Dvorsky, Philip Morgan and Louis Loria.

CROONER CONVICTED

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP) — Singer Gordon MacRae was convicted Friday of drunk driving and fined $315. The singer was arrested Tuesday, police said, after his car rammed three others. Officers said he flunked a sobriety test.

No Leads In Slaying

LINCOLN (AP)—Police shipped a bundle of evidence to FBI laboratories in Washington Friday night in a continuing quest for information that might solve the strangulation slaying of Mrs. Nancy Parker.

Authorities also disclosed that a lie detector test given a 37-year-old man found huddled, cold and hungry, in a haymow southwest of Lincoln brought no "significant" results.

Lancaster County Attorney Elmer Scheele said the man remained at the county jail, however, pending the anticipated filing of a misdemeanor charge today.

The one-time City Park Department employe, who told a rambling and sometimes incoherent story, had been held since Thursday morning while sheriff's officers checked him out for any possible connection with the slaying.

A 17-year-old youth pulled in for questioning Friday also remained in custody but Deputy County Attorney Dale Fahrnbruch said no lie detector test for him is planned at the moment.

A Mirror of Life

Newspapers are often castigated for printing crime news, for printing sordid things, for telling about human conduct as it really exists.

Newspapers — and the reference here is to those in the United States and the British Empire which operate without coercion or intimidation by the government — perform the function of telling what has happened, what will take place, and of commenting and interpreting. They have other functions, too, but the main duties are those cited.

At Owensboro, Ky., one morning . . ., 15,000 persons crowded into a small enclosure to see a man hanged. Here are a few sentences from the story of that Roman holiday:

"Souvenir hunters ripped the hangman's hood from the face of Bethea immediately after the convicted attacker of a 70-year-old white woman was hanged.

"Bethea still breathed when a few persons from the crowd rushed the four-foot wire enclosure about the scaffold and scrambled for fragments as mementoes of the spectacle.

"The crowd came in automobiles, wagons, and by hundreds on freight trains.

"Throughout the night the spectators pushed into choice positions to watch Bethea die. Thousands milled about the streets converging upon the scene."

This is not a report of cruel Saracen nomads anxious for the lives of Christian martyrs, nor of the cries of a Mayan priest screaming for a human sacrifice, nor of a band of Voodoo-worshipping savages in darkest Africa.

It is a report on the behavior of a part of those people who choose to call themselves the most civilized race of human beings in the world.

Newspapers are but a mirror of life. Details of the Owensboro hanging were printed after the event took place, not before, and therefore were a reflection of what took place, not a textbook on a future course of action.

No, human nature will have to change before crime, horror, scandal and lust can be eliminated from the pages of the honest newspaper.

When these things cease to be, newspapers will not have to report them.

Socks, Stockings Are Popular Gifts With College Girls

Probably the most popular gift for campus belles is a new supply of stockings and socks—the more the merrier.

But the well-intentioned Santa should make his selections with care, for these glamor girls have definite ideas on what the want. Here is help for the shopper, based on a nation-wide survey.

The survey proved first that coeds are highly fashion conscious, and that they like a varied wardrobe of different types of ankles and knee socks, plus plenty of nylons.

The favorite ankle sock was found to be plain white with turn-down cuff.

Knee-high socks to wear with Bermuda shorts and kilts also are musts. Favorite style of these is the wool or cotton rib or cable-knit, in colors to match either sweaters or shorts. The girls also like a pair or so of decorated novelty socks in both the ankle and knee lengths.

Young girls also have definite ideas about their party nylons. They like them sheer and seamless, in sun-tan tones.

So give the girls on your list socks or stockings—but be sure you choose the right kind.

Episcopalians Ordain Iowa City Man

The Rev. Thomas Hulme of Iowa City was ordained into the priesthood of the Episcopal church in a ceremony at Grace Episcopal Church in Boone at 10:30 a.m. Friday.

The Rev. Mr. Hulme is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hulme of 1924 Muscatine Ave He is a graduate of University High School and SUI. He was graduated from General Theological Seminary in New York, N. Y., this year.

The Rev. Harold F. McGee, minister of Trinity Episcopal Church, delivered the sermon for the ceremony.

English Lutherans Set Tots' Pageant

The annual Sunday School Christmas Pageant of First English Lutheran Church will be presented at 4:45 p.m. Sunday. A "White Christmas for Tabitha Home," an offering for Tabitha orphanage in Fremont, Neb., will be held in conjunction with the pageant.

The pageant is entitled "The Holy Nativity" and will be directed by Mrs. Gertrude Schoenbohm and Mrs. George Jacobsen.

The entire Sunday School will participate. The children's choir will give speech and choral background for the pageant. Choir director is Sue Donelson, A3, Reinbeck, and the organist is Sieg Schoenbohm.

Religious Toy Business Booming This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — New religious notes are tinkling in toyland. And it's not just because Christmas is coming.

Manufacturers, shaking off an old inhibition against using sacred subjects in toys and games, are adding piety to playthings.

"It seems to be a trend that's growing," said Mel Freud, president of the Toy Guidance council.

Various kinds of games and gadgets have come out lately with religious lessons in their mechanisms.

Standbys Gone Biblical

Old standbys, given a Biblical tie-in or inscriptions, also are now on the counters, such as:

Alphabet blocks, jig-saw puzzles, "Christening" and "kneeling" dolls, Bible lotto sets, children's dishes, cards and dominoes.

"Recently there's been a notable increase in the number of games and toys with religious content," said Horatio D. Clark, secretary of the Toy Manufacturers Association of the U.S.A.

Phenomenal Market

The market for such items, borne on the tide of what industry spokesmen termed "today's revived interest in religion," apparently has been somewhat phenomenal.

Parker Bros. of Salem, Mass., one of the nation's major producers of games, this fall broke a 72-year-old custom to turn out its first religious game — "Going to Jerusalem." The results?

"Amazing and overwhelming," said Robert B. M. Barton, president.

Compares to 'Monopoly'

It has, he said, beat anything since "Monopoly" swept the country in the early 1930's.

Irving Jacobs, head of the Jacmar Co. of New York, reported a similar "tremendous popular response" to an electric Biblical game recently turned out by the firm.

"There seems to have been a definite trend toward religion in the past few years," he said.

He added the game and toy industry in the past has "been skeptical about entering the field" because of the chance of offending religious groups, but with their advice, the innovation was proved sound.

Consult Clergymen

Most companies have consulted closely with clergymen of the various faiths to make their religion-based items broadly suitable.

The object is for kids, and adults, too, to learn while they play.

For instance, in "Going to Jerusalem," players turn up cards containing Scripture verses or references to Bible passages to look up to learn their next move in a competitive geographical tour of the Holy Land.

In the electric quiz game, laid out with more than 300 questions from the Scriptures, players must push pegs in the proper answers to cause a light to flash on a board.

Christian Church Sets $15,000 Goal For Building Fund

At a Monday night conference at the First Christian Church, it was decided to set the first goal of that congregation's proposed building program fund campaign at $15,000.

Roland H. Schaeffer, secretary of the Board of Church Extension of the National Council of Churches of Christ, met with representatives of the local church. The national church body has made a preliminary recommendation of a two unit structure for the local congregation to stand on the site of the present church.

The first unit is a $140,000 education and student center unit to be built just back of the present church building. The proposed building would include a study room, library and a student lounge. Because the local church has a university ministry, it has requested a $36,000 grant from the Iowa Society of Churches of Christ for the project.

Eventually a new church of contemporary architecture will replace the present church building and be joined to the education and student center unit.

The Rev. Albert C. Hofrichter, minister of the church, said that neither the construction date nor the date for the building fund campaign has been decided.

Lutheran Pastor Has Anniversary

The Rev. George T. L. Jacobsen, pastor of the First English Lutheran church, yesterday observed the 10th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry.

He was ordained by the Northwest synod of the United Lutheran Church in America in the Redeemer Lutheran Church, Milwaukee, Dec. 16, 1945.

He came to the Iowa City church in 1951. Since his arrival here an $11,500 parish house has been built and improvements have been made on the parsonage and the church.

Unusual Liberal Catholic Faith—

Combine Catholic, Protestant Traditions

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the little and little-known churches in America today is an unusual blend of inner Catholicism and outer Protestantism.

It is the liberal Catholic Church, which stands alone in its rare combination of the old and the new.

Internally, it retains the pre-Reformation creeds and customs, but it gives full rein to the Protestant idea of individual members working out their own personal concepts of faith.

In-Between Faith

"We are somewhat 'in between' the Roman Catholic and Protestant churches," said Bishop Edward Murray Matthews of Los Angeles, the church's reigning prelate. "We are neither and both."

Most of the church's basic beliefs and forms of worship are like those of the Roman Catholic Church, but it permits wide leeway in private definitions, more so than many Protestant denominations.

"Our doctrines are traditional," Bishop Matthews said. "But we don't try to cross the T's and dot the I's and say one particular shading of meaning is infallibly correct.

"Members have the utmost freedom in individual interpretation."

Akin to the Roman Catholic, Episcopal and Orthodox churches, Bishop Matthews said, "we very jealously guard the succession of our orders, instituted by Christ and uninterrupted down to our own day."

Roots Go Deep

Although the denomination has only about 4,000 members in this country — scattered in parishes in a dozen cities — its roots go deep into early Christendom.

Like the Roman Catholic Church, from which it sprang, it follows a similar liturgy, except that the Mass always is sung in the vernacular — English in this country — instead of Latin.

"We are not unique in doing this," Bishop Matthews said. "Other Catholics are experimenting with the English mass, knowing that there ought to be more active participation by the laity. There is no real distinction, except that we are doing it consistently.

"We are quite meticulous about our ritual. But we look on it constructively to find the best way to impart its meaning and value, rather than making a fetish or superstition of it."

Clergy May Marry

The church's clergy wear the same vestments as their Roman Catholic brethren. But its priests need take no vows of chastity, and may marry. So may clergy in the Roman Catholic Eastern Rite — but not the Western.

Like its ecclesiastical parent, the Liberal Church recognizes seven holy sacraments: Ordination, Matrimony, Baptism, Confirmation, the Eucharist, Absolution (of sins) and Holy Unction (annointing with oil).

"But we don't apply them in a dogmatic sense," Bishop Matthews said. "We don't claim they are absolutely essential to salvation. The whole approach to them is not that of necessity — but of opportunity."

Breaks with Orthodox

It is at this point that the church breaks with other Orthodox and Catholic churches, and to a large extent, even with practices of Protestant churches in requiring members to subscribe to fixed articles of faith.

The church has 33 priests, and parishes or small centers in Richmond, Va.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Atlanta, Ga.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Syracuse, N.Y.; San Francisco; Seattle; Chicago; and Boston, among others.

Says Religion Is Now 7-Day-a-Week Concept

(Editor's Note: This is the tenth and final article in a series of weekly articles in which The Daily Iowan is asking members of the clergy their opinions on the recent increased interest in religion.)

"We have moved from a Sunday religion to a seven-day-a-week religion," said the Rev. Albert C. Hofrichter, minister of First Christian Church.

"We are coming to the concept that religion motivates the whole. Each person has a calling — each person, not only ministers, can work in the kingdom.

"Each church's activities have a bearing on the entire world situation — each local church is a mission. It is here that people express their views on racial, national, and other issues of the day," he said.

The Rev. Mr. Hofrichter said that his congregation has 92 of its 321 members on committees of the church. He said that working together for the church is a good way for new church members to become acquainted with other members and for old members to become better acquainted.

He said that there is an increased interest but also an increase in population. He said that filling old churches is really no advance, but many churches are holding two services each Sunday and increasing their activities throughout the week.

He said, "This increased interest is a tremendous challenge for the church. We have a big job in reaching all these unreached people who are showing interest in religion."

The Rev. Mr. Hofrichter attributed the increased interest to "more effective interpretation" of religion. He said the present generation is moving very rapidly in all fields, from atom smashing to breaking sound barriers.

"Religious methods of 20 years ago are definitely outmoded. I doubt if any other generation in history has been thrust through so much in so little time."

Speaking of his own congregation's work, he stated that First Christian Church helps new people in the church become acquainted by using small fellowship groups for various ages. He said, "For adequate expression of faith people must not only listen but participate as members of the working body of the church."

Church Council Runs 2-Year Nationwide Poll

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP) — The National Council of Churches announced Tuesday that it is conducting the first nationwide survey ever made on a county-by-county basis of the religious affiliation of Americans of the three major faiths — Jewish, Catholic and Protestant.

Results of the two year study, which is estimated to cost more than $100,000, will be published next year. The study was launched early in 1954.

Prof Won't Wear Kilt To Wed Scottish Bride

A Scottish girl who arrived here Dec. 9 to be married Monday to an SUI professor, also brought him a Scottish kilt for the occasion.

The Rev. Robert L. Campbell of the SUI School of Religion and Miss Violet Brouwer, former secretary to the Dean of Science at Edinburgh University, Edinburgh, Scotland, will be married Monday in the Woodlawn Christian Church at Lake City.

Rev. Robert Campbell
Won't Wear Kilt

But the Rev. Mr. Campbell, who earlier had "threatened" to wear the kilt at his wedding, has changed his mind.

"It fits me very well," he said, "but I won't wear it."

The bride and bridegroom became acquainted during the Rev. Mr. Campbell's 3-year stay in Edinburgh where he studied for his Ph.D.

"We were neighbors for two years," he said, "and we got to know each other pretty well."

The Rev. Mr. Campbell not only picked a wife in Edinburgh, he also picked up hobbies of research on Scottish tartans and heraldry, and going through old Scottish castles.

Canadians Play Ponies In $82 Million Spree

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP) — Canadians went to the thoroughbred races this year with more money to back their favorite horseflesh than ever before.

They bet a record $82,685,610 through the parimutuel machines compared with last year's previous all-time high of $81,053,267. That, in terms of the country's estimated population of 15,706,000, was equivalent to about $5.20 per Canadian.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Medical schools should charge no fee at all in the opinion of Alexander G. Ruthven, president emeritus of the University of Michigan. Ruthvan, writing in the Journal of the Michigan State Medical Society, said: "There are brains on both sides of the tracks, and they should be fully utilized in medicine. Pair Admits Bomb Plot

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Eight months of detective work ended Friday with the jailing of a blind man and his sister-in-law for bombing a crowded department store in an extortion attempt.

A typewritten note provided the clue that put William Clarence Peddicord, 38, in jail Thursday night. A few hours later, Mrs. Joyce Keller, 28, his sister-in-law, was arrested.

Detective Capt. William Browne said they admitted bombing the big Meier & Frank Co. store last April and leaving a note that demanded $50,000 on threat of another bombing.

It was the note which tripped them up.

Two postal inspectors, Stanley N. Smoot and Roland A. Severtson, working closely with police in what Detective Lt. Bard Purcell described as an almost daily search for eight months, came across a letter which had been typed on the same machine as the extortion note.

The letter had come from Peddicord. Peddicord is blind. A blind man and a woman companion had been seen leaving the department store minutes before the blast went off in a third floor men's rest room.

ALL THAT SUPPORTS the roof of this porch at the E. W. Ringo home, 1302 E. Muscatine Ave., is the rear portion of an auto. The car, driven by William R. Happel, A2, Cedar Rapids, struck the porch early Friday morning.

Auto Hits Porch; Driver Charged

William R. Happel, A2, Cedar Rapids, was charged by Iowa City police Friday with failure to have his vehicle under control.

Police reported that the car Happel was driving crashed into the home of E. W. Ringo, at 1302 E. Muscatine Ave., early Friday.

The car struck the porch of the Ringo home when the auto left the road at the intersection of Muscatine Avenue and Burlington Street. The porch had to be propped up to prevent its collapsing before the car could be removed.

Ringo is an SUI professor in the Spanish department.

Only injuries resulting from the accident were to Happel, who received a cut on his arm, and to Duane Tofson, C4, Wisconsin Dells, Wis., who was treated at University Hospitals and released.

Four other passengers in the auto were reportedly not injured. None were identified.

Happel is a reserve halfback on the Hawkeye football team. Tofson is also a member of the squad.

The porch was badly damaged, with one pillar knocked off and another damaged. No estimate of damage to the automobile was given.

Recent legislation in Connecticut legalizes raffles under tight restrictions, one of which prohibits the offering of money as a prize.

The senior class at Fairfield University is seeking a permit to conduct a raffle with second semester tuition at the university as a prize.

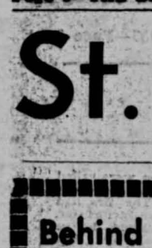
Behind the Sports Desk

With FRED MILLER

Moving into the third week of basketball prognostication, the experts from around the Sports Roundtable over Radio Station WSUI picked 18 games, including three Wednesday night.

Last week the pickings were not too good after the previous week of 73 per cent. Dave Etzel, WSUI Sports staff, took high honors with his 12 right and 6 wrong. Terry Bledsoe, Sports Information Service, and I were tied with 11-7. The group average for the week was 11 right out of the 18 picked.



MILLER

Bob Zenner, WSUI Sports Broadcaster and moderator for the program, does not pick the games, but adds his timely comments as we discuss the games of the week. Bob is also chief statistician and figured we had a 67 per cent average for the first two weeks, slipping somewhat.

This week the picks went something like this:

NOTRE DAME OVER MINNESOTA — A Friday night game so check the "cage scores" to see how we came out. Dave was in favor of the Golden Gophers from Minnesota, but Terry and I liked the Fighting Irish.

* * *

IOWA OVER LOYOLA — A unanimous decision. Terry pointed out that Loyola is not too strong. The Los Angeles group won its first two games but on its road trip east it has had two fatalities, Tuesday and Thursday of this week.

Comments seemed to center around Coach Bucky O'Connor's shifted offensive and defensive teams. It was not known exactly what position Logan would play. Sharm Scheuerman, who has not played this season due to an injury, will see action tonight.

Scheuerman's strong floor play at the guard position will help the Hawks notch their 69th straight victory over non-conference foes on the home floor.

* * *

ILLINOIS OVER WASHINGTON (St. Louis) —A unanimous decision in favor of the fighting Illini on its home court. This game is the naticnally televised Big Ten game of the week.

* * *

INDIANA OVER MISSOURI— Terry picked Missouri to beat Indiana, but Dave and I picked the Hoosiers. Dave's comment was: "Indiana can come back." I agreed to give the panel vote to the Hoosiers.

* * *

ST. LOUIS OVER OHIO STATE — A unanimous decision in favor of a powerful St. Louis team which will be playing on its home floor today. Ohio State's Robin Freeman can not be counted out, however. He scored 40 points in one game recently so it is hard to predict. St. Louis upset Indiana last week, and the three "experts" predicted the winner, St. Louis.

* * *

PURDUE OVER VALPARAISO — A unanimous decision without much trouble awarding the victory to the Boilermakers.

* * *

MICHIGAN STATE OVER PITTSBURGH — The Spartans have won their only game of the season and should have no trouble with Pitt.

* * *

MICHIGAN OVER BUTLER— A split decision on this one with Terry and I favoring the Wolverines with Ron Kramer. Dave stuck with a good Butler club in making his choice, but I figured a Big Ten school has a slight advantage. Anything can happen, and usually does, in basketball.

Other picks were:

MONDAY

Illinois over DePaul
Ohio State over Tulane
Nebraska over Wisconsin
Michigan over Oregon State
Northwestern over Oregon
Indiana over Cincinnati
Butler over Purdue

WEDNESDAY

Northwestern over Oregon State
Michigan over Oregon
Michigan State over Notre Dame

Ramblers Score 45 In 2d Half To Win

St. Mary's of Iowa City pushed in 45 points in the second half Friday night to beat its city rival, St. Patrick's, 79-42, in a traditional rivalry of the Northeast Iowa Catholic Conference league.

Don Lumsden for the Ramblers dropped 5 field goals and 10 charity tosses through the cords to lead the scorers with 20 points. The Ramblers' center, Denny Walljasper, collected 17 points, and Welsh, St. Patrick's center, added 14 points to pace his team.

St. Mary's took a dominating lead in the first quarter, scoring eight points in the first three minutes. St. Pat's could not get moving, scoring its first point with 3½ minutes gone in the first quarter.

The Shamrocks then exchanged points with the Ramblers but were unable to gain, and the quarter ended, 20-13, with St. Pat's on the short end.

In the second quarter, St. Mary's collected 14 points to the Shamrocks' 12 to gain a 34-25 halftime lead. Walljasper scored eight of his points in the first half, and controlled both backboards most of the game.

The game was still a toss-up going into the second half, though St. Pat's was trailing by nine points.

St. Mary's opened the second half with a scoring spree and began to pull away. Walljasper began to resemble his usual form, especially in the rebound department. The Ramblers picked up 23 points in the quarter, while holding the Shamrocks to 7.

With about a minute gone in the third stanza, John Cahill, St. Mary's, and Tom Sweigert, St. Pat's, went into the game, the first substitutes of the evening.

St. Mary's continued to dominate play in the final quarter and collected 22 points while St. Pat's struggled to get 10. The Ramblers opened the fourth quarter with a new team with the exception of guard Dave Maher.

After two minutes, St. Pat's coach, Father William Dawson, began to substitute his players. Rambler coach Don Green also substituted freely in the final quarter. Before the game was over, each coach had used his entire squad.

St. Mary's picked up 23 of its points on free throws. The Ramblers missed only three charity throws during the evening to gain an advantage on the Shamrocks.

St. Pat's, on the other hand, missed 7 of its 21 free throws.

St. Mary's, in winning Friday night, added its 36th victory to the traditional city rivalry. St. Pat's has won 33 games in the series. St. Mary's broke a 33-33 deadlock last year in the rivalry by stopping St. Pat's, 53-52 and 63-43.

Dubuque Hits Early, Dips Hawklets, 83-53

DUBUQUE — Iowa City High suffered its third loss in the Mississippi Valley conference to Dubuque here Friday night, 83-53. The victory gave Dubuque its third victory in conference play.

Dan Lock for Dubuque hit 8 field goals and pushed in 6 free throws to pace the scorers with 22 points. McGuire with 12 points was high for Iowa City.

In the first quarter Dubuque took a 7-2 lead with only minutes gone in the game. It stretched its lead to 19-6 late in the quarter, but the Little Hawks pushed in three points to trail at the quarter, 19-9.

Buelod, Dubuque's high scoring guard for the past five games, did not score in the first quarter, but picked up 5 points in the second quarter.

Also in the second quarter, Dubuque doubled the score on the Little Hawks, 28-14, with 4½ minutes remaining in the half.

Just before the half ended Nicola for Iowa City popped in a field goal, but the Little Hawks still trailed, 40-19, at intermission.

Dubuque kept up its pressing offense and pushed its lead to 52-29 with three minutes remaining in the third quarter. Shortly before the quarter ended, Dubuque held a 60-36 edge over Iowa City. Edger for the Valley leaders dumped in a field goal as the third quarter ended with Dubuque increasing its lead, 64-40.

With four minutes left in the game and Dubuque leading, 75-47, both coaches began free substitution. Every player on each bench saw action during the game as Dubuque pounded out its victory over the visiting Hawklets.

* * *

Dubuque's reserve squad swept up its third victory in the valley conference by trimming the Hawklet reserves, 51-45. Jim Hentegs, Dubuqe, and Housel, Iowa City, were high point men with 14 apiece.

Snead Holds Lead In Sanford Open

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — The weather turned cold Friday and so did Sam Snead's putter, but his even par 70 was good enough to give him a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark in the $15,000 Sanford Open Golf Tournament.

"I missed putts all over the course," Sam moaned as he walked off the windswept, chilly course. His record six-under-par 64 in the opening round gave Snead a 36-hole total of 134.

Bunched in second place just one stroke back of Snead were Al Balding, Ontario, Canada; Walker Inman Jr., Augusta, Ga.; Leo Biagetti, Willoughby, Ohio; Jim Feree, Winston-Salem, N.C., and Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.

Inman and Balding shot 66s—low score for the day. Biagetti had a 67 and Furgol and Ferree fired 68s.

The field of 125 was reduced to the 60 low scoring pros, plus ties, and 10 amateurs for the final two rounds. Pros shooting 144 or under qualified.

Dow Finsterwald, Bedford Heights, Ohio, who tied for second place two strokes behind Snead after the opening round, matched Snead's 70 and finished in a four-way tie at 136.

FOXX TO COACH MIAMI

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jimmie Foxx, who with Hank Greenberg holds the record for most home runs by a right-handed batter, will coach the University of Miami baseball team next spring. With the Philadelphia Athletics in 1932, Foxx hit 58 home runs. Greenberg tied the record as a Detroit Tiger in 1938.

Russell's Shooting Leads Dons To No. 30, 68-58

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's top-ranked San Francisco Dons shook off Marquette behind Bill Russell's shooting in the final 10 minutes Friday night to gain their 30th straight victory, 65-58.

The Dons will meet De Paul, a 68-64 upsetter of Duquesne, for the De Paul tournament title tonight.

The 6-10, all-America Russell, limited to one basket in the first half as unranked Marquette led most of the time, came to the rescue in his usual sensational style at the outset of the last half.

He rammed in three quick buckets and Mike Farmer added two more as the Dons came from behind for a 39-32 lead.

It was the first time they had gone in front since midway in the opening half and they kept ahead although the Warriors three times chopped the margin to one point.

As 10,212 Chicago Stadium fans roared, the Dons began opening up in the last 10 minutes with Farmer, Gene Brown and ball-hawking Harold Perry touching off a surge for a 51-44 bulge.

Russell, who was given plenty of trouble by the fine work of Terry Rand, the Warriors' 6-9 center, then hit three quick shots and Farmer contributed two as the Dons cruised out of sight, 61-46. That spurt was the ball game. It stamped the Warriors with their first defeat in five games.

Holcomb Names Miami Coach as NU Football Head

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Ara Parseghian, head football coach at Miami University of Ohio, Friday was named head football coach at Northwestern University.

Parseghian succeeds Lou Saban, who was discharged recently after a one-year stint.

Athletic Director Stu Holcomb announced a 3-year contract had been awarded Parseghian, who completed his fifth year at Miami last fall with an undefeated season.

Parseghian, at 32, becomes the youngest head football coach in the Big Ten.

Parseghian has a large job cut out for him at Northwestern which went winless last fall but managed to salvage a 7-7 tie with Illinois in the closing game.

Holcomb said Parseghian would select his own staff of four varsity assistants and two frosh helpers. He said Parseghian was his first choice.

TV Spotlights Illini, Washington Today

CHICAGO (AP) — The University of Illinois displays its "firewagon" basketball team before the nation's TV fans today (2 p.m. Iowa Time—CBS) against invading Washington of St. Louis.

In its two victories in three starts, the Illini whipped in more than 100 points per game, trouncing Butler, 107-75, and Notre Dame, 103-93. The one loss was by a single point to Missouri, 74-73.

Hence, Harry Combes' Big Ten contenders will carry a 94.3 average against Washington's rangy, deliberate Bears.

Six other Big Ten teams will be in action today as the pre-championship campaign gathers momentum. These non-loop tilts include Indiana (2-1) at Missouri; Loyola of Los Angeles at Iowa (2-1); Michigan (1-1) at Butler; Ohio State (3-1) at St. Louis; Valparaiso at Purdue (3-1); and Michigan State (1-0) at Pittsburgh.

Logan To Start at Guard as Hawks Meet Loyola Tonight

Tri-captain Bill Logan will start at guard tonight as the Iowa basketball team tries for its 69th consecutive victory on the home floor against a non-conference opponent.

Bob George, a substitute center, will start at that position at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Fieldhouse against a powerful Loyola of Los Angeles team.

Varied Lineups

Iowa Coach Frank (Bucky) O'Connor announced this change in the starting lineup Friday after conducting offensive and defensive patterns with varied lineups. O'Connor said George played well against Colorado Monday and deserves to play more.

Needed strength in the guard position will be added when Milton (Sharm) Scheuerman makes his first appearance of the season. Scheuerman was injured Nov. 13 while playing touch football and has not played yet this season. O'Connor said Sharm will not start but will see limited action.

Scheuerman OK

Earlier this week the Iowa coach indicated that Scheuerman will not be in top shape for about a week, and it is not known whether he will make the west coast trip, which starts Dec. 25. Tonight's game, one of four against Pacific Coast squads, will determine largely who will make the holiday trip.

The holiday schedule will find the Hawks on the west coast against Washington (Dec. 27), Stanford (Dec. 29) and California (Dec. 30). The home appearance against Loyola is the last of 1955, for the Hawks, but they will return to the home floor to start Big Ten competition Jan. 7 against Michigan State.

Lost Last Two

Loyola, which never has met the Hawkeyes, takes to the floor with a 2-2 record part way through its eastern holiday sweep against non-conference opponents.

The Los Angeles quintet won its first two games — Los Angeles State and San Diego State — and ran into its first defeats of the season this week when it fell before Regis College in Denver Tuesday and Kansas State at Manhattan Thursday.

Balanced Attack

A balanced attack similar to that of Iowa has helped the Lions of L.A. Forward Tom Salvino, Cicero, Ill., averages about 15 points per game while guard Dave Benaderet is good for nearly as many, 14.7. Center Bill McMahon hits more than 11 per game to round out the Lions' offense.

Salvino was named on San Francisco's all-opponent team last season for his outstanding play.

Iowa's balanced attack is led by Bill Seaberg, guard, who has hit 16.7 points per game. Logan is close behind with 14.3, and Bill Schoof has a 10.3 average.

Tri-captain Carl Cain, who was a consistent point getter during the season last year, was held to one free throw against Colorado and has a 9.3 average this season. Cain had a 13.8 average last year in a 26-game seson.

Coaching School Scheduled Today

The 15th annual Iowa high school coaching school and officials clinic will be held today at 1 p.m. in the Iowa Fieldhouse.

Loyola of Los Angeles players, who meet the Iowa basketball team at 8 p.m., will demonstrate man-to-man defense. The Hawkeyes will demonstrate offensive plays and patterns.

The afternoon session will end about 4 p.m., with the Hawkeye demonstration.

At 6 p.m., six high schools will meet in two 8-minute quarters. First on the schedule are St. Mary's of Iowa City and Tracy. Marion and Webster City will meet at 6:30 p.m. and Keokuk will meet Council Bluffs Abraham Lincoln at 7 p.m.

Frosh-Junior Team Wins Swim Meet

Freshmen-junior swimmers outclassed the sophomore-senior team, 54-39, Thursday afternoon in an intrasquad meet in the Iowa pool.

The entire meet was swum over the long course (50-yard lengths instead of the usual 25-yard lengths) in order to give team members training for the Olympic events.

Coach David Armbruster said Friday that "all home meets except one (Wisconsin) will be swum over the long course because this is an Olympic year."

Armbruster classed the meet as "very good" and said that the freshmen are "quite potent."

Morris Outstanding

The Iowa coach said Gary Morris was probably the outstanding performer of the meet. Morris set a pool record, Armbruster said, because the 200-yard individual medley is new this season.

Previously the event was the 150-yard individual, but the orthodox breast stroke has been added to the other three styles—free style, dolphin breast stroke and back stroke. The man in the event swims 50 yards of each stroke.

Morris' time for the event was 2:33.8, which the coach said will probably stand for a while before it is broken. Morris swam the dolphin stroke on the winning frosh-junior medley relay team and placed second in the 100-yard freestyle.

Hawiian Freshmen

George Bailey, a freshman from Hawaii, won the 220-and 440-yard freestyle events in what Armbruster called the "tightest race of the afternoon." Bailey beat letter winners Ross Lucas and Tom Jacobson as well as veteran Earl Ellis.

Another Hawaiian, Jim Austin placed second in the individual medley and out-distanced two-year letterman Dennis Roberson in the 200-yard breast stroke.

Armbruster said he was impressed with diver Jay Quick, a sophomore transfer from Clinton. Quick won the diving event on the one-meter board, beating Estel Mills, a freshman, and Jim McCullough, a senior.

Transfer Student

Quick will not be available for competition until second semester because of residence requirements for transfer students. Armbruster said Quick will be a definite asset to the team because Iowa, he explained, has not had good divers during the past two seasons.

Lincoln Hurring, captain of the 1956 squad, swam a "very beautiful 200-yard breast stroke, the Iowa coach said. Hurring, a junior letterwinner, finished a half-length of the pool (25-yards) ahead of the second man.

Standouts on the sophomore-senior squad included Jim Coles, a sophomore, who won the 50- and 100-yard free style events. Earl Ellis added team strength with his second in the 400 free-style and third in the 220.

Point getters for the SS squad were Bob Reed. Glen Johnston, Roberson, Sherm Nelson and Clyde Logan.
