Mollet Gets Riot Greetings In Algiers

ALGIERS (AP)—Furious French Algerian settlers greeted Premier Guy Mollet Monday with a barrage of rotten fruit and stones.

The wild demonstration forced the resignation of the man Mollet picked to be France's resident minister here—Gen. Georges Catroux. Catroux had been scheduled to take his post in Algiers Friday.

Mollet came ahead to face personally irate French colonials. They fear his policies will result in the complete loss of Algeria.

Mollet also intends to consult local authorities on handling of the rebellious Algerian nationalists.

He drove directly from the airport to the war memorial to make his first official gesture the laying of a wreath in honor of the country's war dead. French veterans' organizations are spearheading the opposition to Mollet's intended policies. The few Algerians in the crowd today kept silence.

Booed and Hissed

He was booed and hissed as he drove through the streets.

White-faced and tense, Mollet carried the wreath to the monument while police and troops wielding clubs and carbines battled the crowd around it and released tear gas. Bits of turf and rotten fruit rained on the military band playing for the ceremony. Its music was drowned out by the noise of the crowd.

Moments after Mollet deposited the wreath, a wild throng swarmed up the memorial steps and tore the wreath to bits.

Throw Tomatoes

As the Premier departed, his limousine was pelted with tomatoes, oranges, stones and whatever else the demonstrators could hurl. They yelled, "Catroux to the firing squad" and "Guy Mollet, stay away."

Thousands more roamed the streets and followed Mollet to the summer palace, his temporary residence here. Long after he entered the crowd threw more fruit and vegetables at the palace and tossed crude explosives in tin cans at police trying to disperse them.

Guard Palace

They were kept outside the palace walls by a tight cordon of native cavalry, helmeted police and security guards. One group of demonstrators—mostly students—broke into the palace garden but was driven out.

From the palace Mollet announced Catroux had offered his resignation as soon as he learned of the demonstrations because he was convinced "his name should not become an issue of discord among the former war comrades."

Mollet said, "I will continue, myself, the conversations here as I announced on my arrival."

Prof To Head State Drive

Prof. Wendell Johnson of the SUI Speech Pathology and Psychology Department has been named state Easter Seal campaign chairman for 1956.

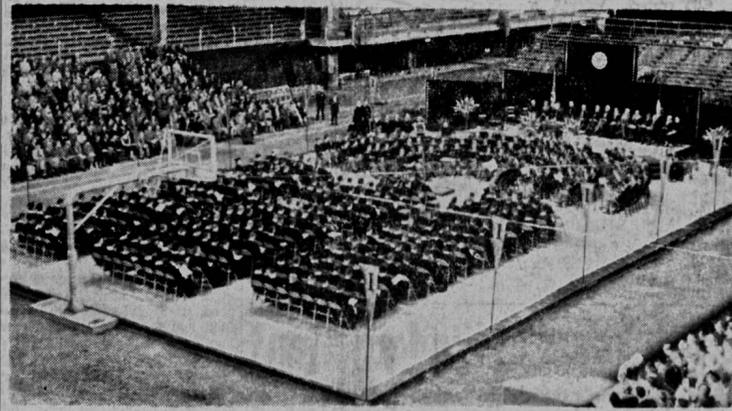

The drive will begin Friday and will run until March 10.

Funds collected in the campaign will be used to aid crippled children and adults in Iowa.

Johnson is a member of the Board of Directors of the Iowa Society for Crippled Children and Adults which sponsors the sale.

The End for 300 on Saturday ...

IOWA FIELDHOUSE was a solemn scene of formal order Saturday as 300 SUI students ended their college careers at mid-year commencement exercises.

... and Thousands 'Begin' Again on Monday

BUT MONDAY the bustling confusion of registration again overwhelmed the Fieldhouse as thousands of students began another big semester step.

City Council OK's Plan for New Sewer

The Iowa City council Monday night approved a plan for the construction of a new trunk line sewer to serve the east and southeast sections of the city. The project will cost an estimated $148,263 and use 14,000 feet of pipe.

The new trunk line will start at a point near the Procter and Gamble drug products plant on Lower Muscatine Road. It will run northwest along the road to Pine Street; from there it will extend north to a lift station about one block north approximately across the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific right of way from Rundell Street.

From this station the sewer line will run south to Highland Ave., then east to Ridge Street, south on Ridge to Cottonwood, east on Cottonwood to Crescent, then south to the extreme south end of Crescent. The line will then be routed in a northwest direction to Linn Street, north to First Avenue, then west to the sewage treatment plant.

The council set 2 p.m., Feb. 27 for public hearing on the proposal and opening of bids for the construction.

The new trunk line, which will be designed to relieve overpressure in the developing areas in the east and southeast of Iowa City, will be financed by funds available in the sewage disposal funds.

The cost of the project, however, will be returned to the city through the use of tapping fees. This involves an assessment of $2 per front foot of lot for those property owners whose land abuts directly onto the main line, plus $3.39 per 1,000 square feet of land area. The latter fee only will be charged those persons who live in the area served but cannot plug directly into the line, thus entailing construction of a lateral line.

Also, the council instructed City Manager Peter F. Roan to lay plans for installing four-hour parking meters on College Street between South Gilbert and Van Buren Streets and to investigate the changing of the three-hour meters in that area to four hours.

Set Hearing On Bridge

The city council Monday night set 2 p.m., Feb. 27, as the time and date for public hearing on the proposed construction of the Woolf Avenue bridge over the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway and Highway 6.

The construction, involving an estimated $55,880, is designed to replace the present wooden structure over the Crandic line with a steel and concrete bridge. This bridge will hook onto the concrete structure now crossing Highway 6 near Veterans Hospital.

The project will be financed jointly by the state highway commission, Crandic and the city of Iowa City. The city and the highway commission each will pay about half the cost of the bridge. The railway will do its own work and will provide some money for the project.

Involved in the project is the widening of the highway to 49 feet from the end of the four-lane section at the west edge of Iowa City to a point just east of the bridge.

The railway will lower its tracks 10 or 12 feet, at a cost of about $20,000, in order to obtain proper clearance.

The proposal also calls for repair work on the present concrete bridge over the highway.

Completion of the span is tentatively set for sometime next fall.

The Weather

Cloudy & Warmer

Partly-cloudy skies overhead and slush under foot is expected to greet Iowa Citizens this morning after Monday's drizzling rain and wet snow. The storm was due to pass out of the state Monday night.

Today's highs are expected to range from 35 to 43 degrees. Monday's high in Iowa City was 36; the low was 15.

A high pressure system over western states is expected to spread fair to partly cloudy skies over Iowa today and Wednesday, the Weather Bureau reported.

Monday's storm moved across Iowa from south to the northeast, with the southwest getting the most snow. Osceola recorded six inches. The snow began to melt Monday afternoon, as highs across Iowa went above the freezing point.

General Services Chief Mansure Quits

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday accepted the resignation, "due to personal obligations," of General Services Administrator Edmund F. Mansure. Mansure had been under fire in connection with operation of a government nickel plant in Cuba.

The White House announced Eisenhower's appointment of Franklin G. Floete, now an assistant secretary of defense, as acting chief of the GSA.

Eisenhower told a recent news conference he was getting a special report on Mansure's part in the nickel plant case. It involves a 43 million dollar expansion of a government-owned plant at Nicaro, Cuba.

Nominates 2 Local Youths for Academy

Jock Schwank, 17, and Gerald Stack, 18, both seniors at Iowa City High School, have been nominated by Rep. Fred Schwengel (R-Ia.) for appointment to the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Schwengel nominated seven from Iowa's First Congressional District. Schwank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wally Schwank, 3 Oak Park Court. Schwank is now Iowa's freshman football coach and recently accepted the head football coaching post at Coe College in Cedar Rapids. Stack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Stack, 918 Ginter Ave.

The two youths will take college entrance examination board tests March 17, possibly in Omaha. This competitive examination will determine the five boys to represent Iowa in the next class at the Academy.

Pick Hancher To Inspect Air Academy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Monday appointed SUI President Virgil M. Hancher as a member of the first board of visitors to the United States Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Other members are: Charles A. Lindbergh; Dr. Arthur H. Compton, a physicist at Washington University, St. Louis; K. T. Keller, Detroit, board chairman of the Chrysler Corp.; Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University; and retired Gen. Carl Spaatz, former Air Force chief of staff.

The board of visitors will inspect academy facilities and review general operation of the institution.

President Hancher also was a member of the commission that selected the site of the Air Force Academy in 1954.

W. Germans To Stop Paying West's Army

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany declared Monday it is going to halt its multimillion dollar cash support of Western troops in Germany next May.

Finance Minister Fritz Schaeffer said at a news conference that his answer will be "no" to Allied demands for continued cash support of their troops here after the present agreement expires May 5.

The spokesman said no other NATO members make such contributions to support Allied forces in their territory, and it would be "discriminatory" if West Germany were required to do so.

Anyway, the West Germans were already going to the limit of their resources for defense, he added.

In the treaties that ended the occupation last May, West Germany agreed to pay 3.2 billion marks ($700 million) for one year toward the cost of keeping Western armies in Germany. It was agreed then that Bonn would be "willing to negotiate" on the question after next May 5.

On Jan. 26, the United States, Britain and France sent similar statements to the West German government preliminary to talks on the subject.

The German spokesman's statement surprised Western officials, since the Bonn government has not yet answered their notes. Allied officials here declined comment immediately.

The Allied position is that Germany should make a cash contribution to Allied troops in Germany as her share of Western defense until her own rearmament program gets in full swing. That program is now behind schedule.

If the Germans do not change their minds the Western Allies will have to find hundreds of millions of dollars of extra money for their troops.

The United States, with the most troops in Germany, received the biggest share of financial support from West Germany. The British calculate it would cost them $250 million more in scarce foreign exchange yearly. Unofficial American estimates are that it will add $300 million to the U.S. budget.

About half the money went in wages to German employees of the forces. The rest went mostly on transportation, communications, maintenance of property, rents for requisitioned German property and payment for damage during maneuvers.

An April Wedding For Grace, Prince

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Movie queen Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier of Monaco Monday set their wedding date as April 18. It will be a civil ceremony in Monaco with religious rites to follow the next day.

The announcement was made by Miss Kelly's secretary. "There are no other details at this time, other than the setting of date."

Fight Fire At C.R. Plant

CEDAR RAPIDS (AP)—Firemen late Monday night were fighting a two-alarm fire at the main plant of the Collins Radio Co. here. Early reports were that the blaze was being confined to two small buildings adjoining the plant proper.

The fire was believed to have started when a heater exploded in a small warehouse where paint and supplies were stored. Two men were believed to have been in the warehouse at the time of the explosion apparently escaped uninjured.

Thousands of people gathered to watch the fire and traffic close to the plant was jammed.

The Collins Co. employs about 5,000 people in the manufacture of radio parts.

Georgia Gets Five Segregation Laws

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Georgia Gov. Marvin Griffin Monday signed into law five of the private school bills designed to preserve public school segregation.

The new laws give him authority to close schools and provide grants to pupils; permit leasing of schools for operation as private institutions; permit the school building authority to sublease buildings; and provide for teacher retirement under a private school plan.

What the Bill Would Do

WASHINGTON (AP)—Just what would the natural gas bill as passed by the senate do?

The two major provisions are:

1. It would take away the Federal Power Commission's authority to fix producers' prices for natural gas sold to interstate pipelines.
2. It would establish a "reasonable market price" standard for the FPC to use in fixing the rates pipeline companies may charge local distributors.

Distributors' rates to consumers are fixed by state regulatory commissions. No federal agency can regulate them.

Sponsors have claimed that the bill, through its regulation of pipeline rates, will be able to influence the price of gas to consumers.

Opponents of the bill contend that the "reasonable market price" will not regulate prices to consumers, but will allow pipeline companies to charge "all the traffic will bear" and thus increase consumer prices.

Senate Passes Natural Gas Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed the controversial natural gas bill in an overtime session Monday night and sent it to President Eisenhower.

The 53 to 38 vote set the stage for a formal investigation of an issue.

This inquiry would seek to determine whether a Nebraska attorney tried to pressure Sen. Frank Chase (R-S.D.) into supporting the bill by offering $2,500 for his reelection campaign fund. The lawyer, John M. Neff, of Levington, Neb., has declared there were "no strings attached." Case refused the money.

On the final roll call Case voted against the bill, as he said he would after disclosing the campaign fund incident. Before that, he said he had been inclined to favor the measure.

The party vote for the bill was 31 Republicans, 22 Democrats. Opposing it were 24 Democrats and 14 Republicans.

By a better than 2-1 margin—64-30—the Senate refused to toss the bill back to its Commerce Committee where opponents had hoped to bottle it up.

Then, by a 53-40 ballot, the members rejected an amendment aimed at "protection of the interests of the consumer."

Those were two key tests.

The bill would exempt natural gas producers from full scale federal regulation of prices. A major point of dispute is whether it would result in adding hundreds of millions a year to the gas bills of the consuming public.

Before the series of test ballots got under way on the bill itself, it became clear that the offer of money to Case was going to be investigated by somebody. It may be a special Senate committee or a regular Elections subcommittee.

Iowa Senators Bourke Hickenlooper and Thomas Martin of Iowa City voted with the majority in favor of the bill.

Police Whisk Her to Safety As Mob Riots

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—The University of Alabama Board of Trustees Monday night ordered its first Negro student barred from classes until further notice as a safety measure.

The order was announced as hundreds of students and others began a new demonstration against admission of a Negro coed.

The action was taken after the coed's clothes were spattered with eggs Monday and she had to be spirited to safety from a cursing, out-of-control campus mob.

President O. C. Carmichael said it may be necessary to close the university unless students stop demonstrations against desegregation.

Close Up Shop

Dr. Carmichael told an emergency meeting of approximately 400 faculty members that "I think that if we cannot operate under law and order it may be necessary to close up shop."

Three nonstudents were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct following Monday's violent demonstration.

Atherine Lucy, 26, Birmingham secretary, attended morning classes but telephoned her attorney that school authorities had advised her not to go to afternoon classes.

The attorney, Arthur D. Shores, said that whether she returned to the University today depended on "whether the situation is under control. There is no point in her going if they can't give her protection."

Crowd of 3,000

A crowd of about 3,000 jeered and cursed university authorities accompanying Miss Lucy and pelted them with eggs, rocks and mudballs. No one was reported injured. During that incident, the school officials were called "nigger loving."

Dr. O. C. Carmichael, university president, and other school officials appealed vainly for the students to end the demonstration.

A reliable source said the National Guard might be called out if the disturbances continued.

Miss Lucy was driven away from Graves Hall under heavy police escort.

The crowd began thinning out as it discovered the woman had left. A few remaining threw eggs and tomatoes at passing cars and buses in which Negroes were riding.

A compulsory student convocation was called for 12:15 p.m. today. Students who fail to attend will be subject to penalties.

Police Protection

The crowd grew from several hundred in the early morning to more than 3,000 at the height of the demonstration, Nelson Cole, student newspaper editor, said.

Miss Lucy attended two morning classes under police protection.

As the mob grew out of hand during her second class, a student in the room with her said some tried to force their way into the room. The teacher kept the door locked.

Miss Lucy was admitted as a student in obedience to a federal court ruling that the university can not bar students on account of their race. The school still can appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court for a reversal but authorities have not indicated whether they plan this step.

First Class

The disturbance began when Miss Lucy appeared outside Smith Hall for her first class at 9 a.m.

Miss Lucy was escorted out the rear entrance of Smith Hall at 10 a.m. because the crowd in front had grown too big, University News Bureau Director Ed Brown said.

She was flanked by Dean of Women Sarah Healy and Assistant to the President Jeff Bennet, and

The Daily Iowan is an independent daily newspaper, written and edited by students. It is governed by a board of five student trustees elected by the student body and four faculty trustees appointed by the president of the university.

The Iowan editorial staff writes its editorials without censorship by administration or faculty. The Iowan's editorial policy, therefore, is not necessarily an expression of SUI administration policy or opinion.

The Iowan, in the terms of a policy statement adopted by trustees in 1946, "will try to act as a good citizen of the SUI community and the community of Iowa City. . . . The Daily Iowan conceives its owners to be the whole constituency of the University, past, present and future. It will endeavor to hold the good of the University in trust for these owners. . . ."

Our Olympic Dilemma

The Olympic games are supposed to highlight individual, rather than national, competition. Medals are awarded for first, second and third places finishes. No team totals are kept by the Olympic officials.

National pride, however, demands that someone keep a record of team standings. The newspapers and press associations have set up a point system that has been generally accepted. They print it for their readers throughout the games. Olympic officials, who at first pretended that team standings did not exist, now comment on and discuss the standings.

American national pride suffered a wound the past two weeks when Russia ran off with the team honors in the Winter Olympics Games at Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy. The Russians scored 121 points. The United States finished sixth, behind Austria, Finland, Sweden and Switzerland. The American athletes scored 54½ points.

The wound was made deeper by the fact that Russia was competing in Winter Olympics for the first time. In 1952, Norway (which finished seventh this time) won. The United States was a close second.

We can salve our feelings with the charge that the Russian athletes are really professionals.

- ... that they train the year around.
- ... that they have no outside jobs, but are supported by the government.
- ... that our athletes are kept simon-pure amateurs by United States officials.
- ... that it is unfair to ask us to play against what is a stacked deck.

All of these charges are true. It is true that we will have to do something about this situation unless we want to go on playing second-fiddle to the Russians in the Olympic games.

Russia wouldn't have anything to do with the Olympics in 1948. In 1952, Russian leaders felt that their athletes could compete in all the winter events, which they passed up.

The Russian and American teams fought a close battle in the summer Olympic games with the United States winning on the last day.

But the Russians have been training for four years to avenge this. We had better be prepared to take a licking here, too, this summer.

How is this to be remedied? Should the United States (and other simon-pure rule countries) continue to send their amateur athletes against the Communist professionals?

Or will we abandon our amateur ideals and give out athletes subsidies to live on while they train for Olympics?

Before we answer these questions, however, we will have to decide which is the most important: taking part or proving that to the world that American athletes are better than Communist athletes.

If we choose the latter goal we will end the spirit of the Olympics. No longer will they be athletic contests. They will be political contests. The games will be no more than another battle between the United States and Russia in the Cold War.

Interpreting the News —

French Need Policy Shift In Africa

By J.M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The spectacle of one French premier after another going to Africa, making concessions in an effort to hold what is left of the empire together, taking a beating both from native leaders and French colonialists, is one which has become commonplace.

Five will get you ten in this corner that, in the long run, it will all prove fruitless and North Africa will have three more unstable but independent states.

In the meantime there is a chance for France to do more than merely preserve order. If she could possibly get the French in Africa and the French at home who have business interests in Africa to look at the facts of life, the ultimate break might not be catastrophic for both parties.

FRANCE IS NEEDED in Africa just as she needs Africa.

In Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria she has just begun the type of native participation in government which eventually made it possible for Britain to pull out of the Indian civil service and still maintain valuable economic cooperation.

A working arrangement in Africa is going to take time. It can be approached only by a stable French government, able to work consistently toward the goal, making temporarily unpopular decisions if need be.

AND THAT'S just what France doesn't have. The new government formed by Guy Mollet, the Socialist leader, looks even weaker than most of the more than a score of governments France has had since World War II.

It came to power only through Communist support, and from here on out it and its successors will be under pressure for suicidal inclusion of Communists in the government.

The French Communists for several years were satisfied to avoid the responsibilities of the government while exploiting the decisive possibilities of its repeated failures. Now that policy has been reversed, and the Reds are moving for power.

COMMUNIST POWER in Paris would then go hand in glove with disruptive influences in North Africa.

The world Communist line is to weaken Western Europe by cutting off its markets and sources of raw materials in colonial areas.

The Reds don't want to allow the time necessary for creation of a system of cooperating independencies such as the British were able to work out within the framework of their former empire.

100 Years of Kindergarten

'Children's Gardens' Were First Started By a Young Wisconsin Mother

WATERTOWN, WIS. (AP)—One hundred years ago a pretty young immigrant mother sat with her 3-year-old daughter and four other small girls along the Rock River in this southeastern Wisconsin community and began the first kindergarten in America.

For Mrs. Carl Schurz, then about 23, it was a chance to practice theories of education she had learned back in Hamburg, Germany, from Friedrich Froebel, founder of the kindergarten movement.

Her husband, destined to carve a distinguished career as a soldier, journalist and political leader, already was busy in the affairs of the newly reformed Republican party.

THE LITTLE GROUP conversed in German as the children learned colors through the use of yarn balls, formed geometric figures with wooden blocks and sang "Mutter Lieder" (songs of mother).

Relatives and friends noted the group's frequent meetings and asked that their pre-school children be allowed to join the sessions. Mrs. Schurz then opened a kindergarten in her home. The exact date when the school opened in 1856 has been lost with time.

All through this centennial year various Wisconsin educational groups will pay tribute to the woman who brought to this country the idea that little children can learn through play.

KINDERGARTEN—the German name for "children's garden"—are now accepted as a vital part of education.

Shortly after organizing her school Mrs. Schurz visited friends in Boston where she met Miss Elizabeth Peabody, an educator who is credited with popularizing the kindergarten.

Lemon Juice, Salt Keep Hands Lovely

If you've been neglecting your hands, why not start a daily beauty routine with lemon juice, salt, soap and water.

Nicotine or grease stains can be erased by rubbing the skin with a mixture of lemon juice and salt. Then scrub this away with plenty of thick soapsuds. Try a bit of powdered pumice mixed with salad oil to rid your hands of tiny callouses or rough spots.

Once you have beautified your hands, keep them lovely by washing and drying them frequently during the day. This will keep stains from establishing a "beach-head."

AAU Invites Landy To U.S. Track Meets

NEW YORK (AP)—Officials of the AAU Monday invited John Landy of Australia, holder of the world record in the mile run, to compete in the National Indoor Championships at Madison Square Garden Feb. 18 and in four other indoor meets.

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Bill Logan led Iowa to its fifth Big Ten victory in six starts here Monday night, as the Hawkeyes squeezed past a determined Wisconsin team, 78-74.

Logan turned in a dazzling first half performance as he rammed in 18 points, then tapered off in the last period to finish with 26, high for the game.

The victory kept Iowa in second place behind undefeated Illinois.

A crowd of 8,100, largest of the season here, watched the Badgers race to a 21-14 lead at one point in the first half before center John Parker withdrew from the game with four personal fouls.

Then quick field goals by Carl Cain, Bill Seaberg and Logan gave Iowa a 26-22 advantage and the Hawkeyes kept their lead the rest of the half.

Iowa's lead had bulged to 41-32 at intermission, but the Badgers began pecking away in the second half and managed to take the lead once, 56-54.

But two free throws and a lay-up by Seaberg, and another drive-in by Scheuerman gave the Hawks a 60-56 lead.

Wisconsin couldn't close the gap after that, although it remained within striking distance.

Small Margin
The rest of the game Iowa nursed a three to five point advantage, and went into a semi-stale last few minutes of the contest.

Curt Mueller paced the Badgers with 21 points, most of them coming in the last half.

Wisconsin outscored Iowa from the field, 27 to 26, but the Hawks made up for it at the free throw line, sinking 26 gift tosses to the Badgers' 20.

Iowa had a .371 average on field goals, Wisconsin hit .355.

Hawks 17th In Press Poll; Dons Keep 1st

The Iowa Hawkeyes moved up to the 17th place in the Associated Press poll rankings this week in spite of their 8-5 record for the season. This is an increase of two places over last week's ratings when the Hawkeyes occupied the 19th berth.

As the college basketball season turns toward the home stretch, the race finally seems to have become stabilized with the University of San Francisco, defending national collegiate champion, and tournament-bound Dayton in the first two positions.

For the ninth straight week the sports writers and broadcasters gave first place to the San Francisco Dons by a big margin.

Dayton Second
Dayton, which Monday accepted a bid to the National Invitation Tournament, held second place by a comfortable margin and the first six teams in the rankings remained in the places they held a week ago.

San Francisco, winning its 15th game this season and running its record winning streak to 42 straight at the expense of Loyola of Los Angeles, amassed a total of 1,166 points on the usual basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for second, etc.

Draws 856 Points
Dayton, with only five first place votes, drew 856 points. Vanderbilt, the Southeastern Conference leader, edged out North Carolina State by the slim margin of 755 to 746. Then came Louisville, Illinois, Kentucky, Duke, Temple, and Alabama to complete the top 10.

Herky Sez..
By IVARS LIEPINS

Herky saw the ballgame last Saturday night and came away from it with mixed feelings. He was very happy to see Iowa win and play an excellent and very polished first half, but at the same time he was disappointed in Iowa fans.

Herky likes Bucky, and his disappointment came as he was walking down the Fieldhouse stairs from the press row. Around him were a number of Iowa fans, who had forgotten the Hawkeye victory, the beautiful balgame, and also their loyalty to the Hawks and their faith in Bucky.

They were disappointed that Bucky did not leave the first team in the ballgame, did not urge the Hawkeyes to break the 12-year-old school record of scoring more than 103 points in a cage contest. They took their disappointment out on Bucky, calling him uncomplimentary names and doubting his coaching ability.

BUCKY

AND HERKY wondered why? He has to admit that just like everybody else, he would have liked to see Iowa break the 100 point mark, but not for a second did he think Bucky wrong. He was unhappy, yes, when he left the Fieldhouse, but his unhappiness did not have anything to do with the team performance or Bucky, he was disappointed in the once loyal Hawkeye fans. Well, at least some of them.

Here are Herky's reasons by which he justifies Bucky's actions and believes that Iowa fans were wrong, risking much just to see a team humbled in over 100-point defeat.

First, the thing that Herky commends Bucky on, is good sportsmanship. Saturday night we played a good team, a team that was fair in its defeat, and all the time fought like gentlemen. Any team, once it boasts a 30-point lead, is expected to start substituting.

BUCKY DID THAT. Only a five or six point difference would have justified replacing the second and third teams by the first string. Wichita never came that close to the Hawkeyes, though we had our reserves playing. To put back the first stringers in the ballgame while still holding a comfortable 15 to 20 point advantage in Herky's estimation would have all the indications of "point hawking," and thus—poor sportsmanship.

Next, Bucky knew that he has an important Big Ten engagement coming up within two days. He would not have been justified in keeping his first team in a second longer than necessary.

Accidents can happen even in the midst of contests. To risk a broken leg, or any kind of injury to his starting five with a Big Ten title in sight would be an absolute foolishness.

AND THEN, on every team (this is what most fans seem to forget) besides the starting five there are about 10 other players. These boys have practiced just as hard as the starters and their main hope is to show the fans what they can do on the basketball floor.

It would have been highly unfair to rob these people of their chance to show what they can do in a contest which was won in the first few minutes. Even though they did not appear as polished as the starters, these boys played "their best" and Herky thinks that Iowa fans should be thankful that Iowa potential can do.

Of course, more reasons can be found to justify Bucky's actions but Herky hopes that the ones given will be enough to convince the "doubting Thomas" Iowa fans of Bucky's ability.

DEFEATING A WEAK team by a score exceeding 100 points, or even winning a contest is not everything. It is good taste and sportsmanship that counts.

There once was a grand old gent who immortalized the following words in the world of sports:

For when the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name,

He marks — not that you won or lost — but how you played the game.

Ike's Trip? Move Up Opening Date Of Baseball Season

WASHINGTON (AP)—The official opening of the 1956 major league baseball season was moved up one day Monday, leading to speculation that President Eisenhower plans a trip out of town on Tuesday, April 17.

That was the date originally scheduled for the opener between the Washington Senators and New York Yankees. But Monday the participants, as well as American League headquarters, decided to move up the game to Monday, April 16.

Spokesmen for the Senators listed as the official reason a general desire to point up the Washington opening game as a solo event.

It is known, however, that Eisenhower, who customarily tosses out the first ball, likes to make trips south in April.

Unbeaten Hawk Grapplers Swamp Hoosiers, 24-8

By TRACY NORRIS

Coach Dave McCuskey's Hawkeye wrestlers established themselves as definite contenders for the Big Ten grappling crown Monday night as they swept eight of 10 matches to swamp previously unbeaten Indiana, 24-8.

The unbeaten Hawkeyes forfeited the 115 pound match, then won eight of the nine remaining matches in moving to their third straight dual meet win of the season. The Hoosiers now have a record of 6-1.

Aside from the forfeit, Iowa's only loss of the evening came in the 167 pound bout, where Indiana's Jim Ellis upset Iowa's two-time Big Ten champ, John Winder, 3-2, in the closest bout of the evening.

Winder led 2-1 in the closing seconds of the first period, but Ellis took him down with 28 seconds left, to go ahead 3-2. Ellis rode Winder out the second period, and Winder controlled Ellis through the third period, with Ellis winning 3-2.

Iowa's Ken Leuer stepped down a notch from his usual heavyweight spot to put an end to another undefeated wrestler's string of wins. Wrestling at 191 pounds, Leuer defeated Indiana's Dick Anthony, 4-1. Anthony had a seasonal string of six straight victories going into his bout with Leuer.

NCAA champ Terry McCann got things rolling for Iowa in the 123 pound class, when he piled up a 13-3 decision over the Hoosiers' Bob Burns.

Dick Govig, 1954 NCAA champ at 123 pounds, wrestling for the Hawks for the first time in the 1955-56 season, rolled up an impressive 8-1 win over Bob Winkler in the 130 pound bracket. Gary Kurlmeier, who normally represents the Hawks in either the 177 or 191 pound class, moved up to heavyweight, and defeated his heavier opponent, Denny Krick, 9-5.

Iowa sophomores Simon Roberts and Gary Meyers remained undefeated as they posted impressive wins in the Iowa victory. Harlan Jenkinson also kept his record clean with an 8-2 win over Bob Killian in a 177 pound bout.

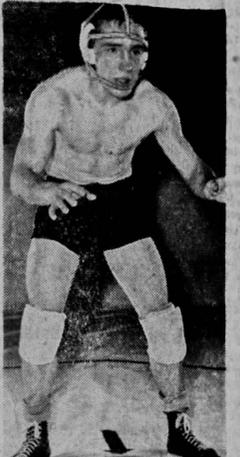

The Hawkeyes face another Big Ten opponent, Illinois, tonight in a dual meet in the Iowa Fieldhouse.

The Big Ten— Illinois Sneaks by Hoosiers, 92-89

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Illinois wiped out a 13-point second-half Indiana lead with a blazing last minute rally to whip the Hoosiers 92-89 Monday night and remain undefeated in Big Ten basketball play.

Illini Capt. Paul Judson scored the game's last eight points with two clutch baskets and a four straight free throw series for Illinois' sixth conference victory, and 12th in 13 games.

Indiana, paced by Wally Choice who topped all scorers with 34 points, grabbed a 43-42 halftime lead which it never gave up until Judson tied the score at 89-89 with a free throw in the final minute and then added the bonus shot to put Illinois ahead at stony.

Judson finished the game with 30 points to top Illini scorers.

Michigan State 86 Michigan 76

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State's Julius McCoy poured in 41 points Monday night as the Spartans routed Michigan 86-76 in a Big Ten basketball game that lifted MSU into a fourth-place tie with idle Ohio State. Both OSU and MSU now are 4-3 in conference play.

Center Ron Kramer led Michigan in scoring with 20 points.

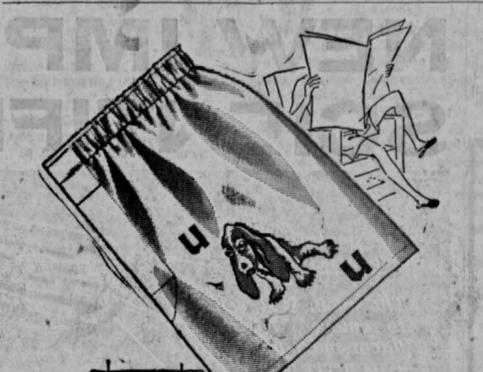

The loss dropped Michigan to a 3-4 Big Ten rating, and it was the fourth successive basketball defeat suffered at the hands of Michigan State over a three-year span.

Michigan jumped off to a quick 6-0 lead, but within six minutes MSU had forged ahead to stay.

State led 44-33 at halftime, but its biggest lead of the game was 14 points, when the score was 74-60 late in the contest.

By TOM SCHORNHORST
St. Mary's of Iowa City kept the winning habit Monday night as they downed Xavier of Dyersville, 90-46, for their 19th straight victory of the season.
Leading the Ramblers' scoring was lanky forward Don Lumsden who left the game with 19 points. Closely following Lumsden in the point-making department was St. Mary's usual high scoring duet, Dennis Walljasper and Dave Maher, who collected 16 and 14 points respectively.
The Ramblers took command of the situation from the opening tip-off as they tossed in 13 points before the visiting Cardinals could find the range. Xavier's Don Scherrman was finally able to open up the scoring for his team with a 20 foot set shot after five minutes had elapsed in the first quarter.

Defense Strong
By the end of the first period, the Cardinals were able to sneak through the Ramblers' defense for only seven points while the home team, led by Walljasper's five fieldgoals, had 26 tallies showing on the scoreboard.
The second period found the Cardinals still cold as they hit only nine points while the Ramblers, going strong, tossed in 23 markers to take a decisive half-time lead, 49-16.

High-point man Lumsden was the leading scorer for St. Mary's in the second quarter with three fieldgoals for a six-point total. Ken Klein was able to collect five points on two fieldgoals and a free throw and Walljasper, Maher and Jensen contributed four points to the cause.
Keeps Pace
St. Mary's didn't slacken the pace in the third quarter and this time out-scored Xavier, 20-8. Lumsden sank eight third period tallies while the Cardinals' high scorer, Ken Pettinger, collected six of his 19 total points.
Rambler Coach Don Green gave his starting five a rest after the third stanza and let his reserves wind up the evening. The Cardinals were able to score 22 points in the final period, but the Ramblers hit for 21 more insurance tallies to end the contest with a 90-46 victory.

The St. Mary's reserves won the preliminary contest, defeating Xavier, 42-36. Mike Blackman was high for the Iowa City team with 16 points.

Amateur Leads in Phoenix Open with 136 at Halfway Point

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Jim Tom Blair III, 24-year-old amateur champion of Missouri, set the professional players back on their heels Friday with a stunning 67 that gave him a 36-hole score of 136 at the midway mark of the $15,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

The husky young man from Jefferson City, son of Missouri's lieutenant governor, had a first-round 69 and followed up Friday with a brilliant performance that netted him four birdies, nary a bogey and a four-under-par score for the Phoenix Country Club course.

Possible Distinction
For a while it appeared that the amateurs would gain the almost unheard of distinction of holding the first two places. Ken Venturi, another 24-year-old state amateur champion from California, fired a 65 for a total of 139.

Late in the bright afternoon, however, Cary Middlecoff, the 1955 Masters champion, saved the day for the play-for-pay boys with a 66 and a total of 138.

Tied at 140, going into the third round Saturday, are Johnny Palmer, 70-70; Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kan., with a 75 followed by a sparkling 65, and the first-round leader, Lionel Hebert of Erie, Pa., with 68-72.

Souchak Has 70
Mike Souchak remained in contention with a 70 for 142 halfway score.

Scores of 148 and under qualified for the last two rounds.
Gene Littler, Phoenix winner last year, had a 71 for 147. Lloyd Mangrum's 73 gave him 145. Tommy Bolt had a 74 for 150, and National Open champion Jack Fleck toned down a bit with a 75 which gave him a whopping 154.

Majors Will Study Salary, TV at Parley

NEW YORK (AP)—The major leagues will reconsider, at a joint meeting Saturday, the baseball players' request for a new $7,200 minimum salary and full information on negotiations for a new television-radio contract for the World Series and All-Star game.

It was generally expected that the owners would go along with both player requests, although they were thumbed down at the December meetings in Chicago. The players applied considerable pressure by voting not to accept the rejections and warned they might be forced to take "stern steps." Commissioner Ford Frick promised them their requests would be considered anew.

The new contract is of extreme importance to the players, for 80 per cent of the proceeds have been earmarked for their pension fund under an agreement between the owners and players, running through 1961. Although the owners went on record by pledging they expected to continue the pension fund after '61 they did raise the possibility they might want to re-evaluate the 604-40 split at that time.

Iowan Ousted in Golf Tournament

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Two teams of veterans and sets of newcomers to the women's international four-ball golf tournament won quarterfinals matches Friday.
Most one-sided match of the day was the 4 and 3 victory Ruth Jensen of Seattle and Ann Quast of Marysville, Wash., scored over the youthful duo of Judy Bell of Wichita and Glenda Felkner of Miami.

Chicago U. Official Advocates Football

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The chancellor of the University of Chicago says his school, inactive on the gridiron since 1939, would like to play intercollegiate football again, but not in the Big Ten.
"Football is a great game," Dr. Lawrence A. Kimpton told newsmen Monday, "and while we'd like to be reinvolved in it, with a student body of only 6,500, and half of them graduate students—we just can't compete with Michigan and Minnesota."

Other teams reaching the semifinals were the veteran combination of Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore and Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., and newcomers Barbara Little and Nadyne Granick, both of Milwaukee.
The Milwaukee girls ousted Greta Leone of Chicago and Jeannie Dobbin of St. Louis, 2-up, and the Downey-Burns team defeated Jane Nelson and Mrs. Paul Dye Jr., both of Indianapolis, 3 and 2.

Little Mo Turns Pro

CHICAGO (AP)—Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly, one of the world's foremost tennis players, Monday turned professional by joining the advisory staff of a Chicago sporting goods company.

Maureen's competitive playing days ended in July, 1954 with a serious leg injury.
At a news conference Monday, she said that she would devote her time to making tours for the sporting goods company (Wilson) to give instructions in tennis at high schools and play grounds and "in general to promote tennis among the youth of America."

300 Graduates Hear Need for Leadership

Emphasizing the need for more mature and thoughtful leadership in our society, University of Missouri president Elmer Ellis told 300 SUI graduates Saturday morning that "The chief obligation of university graduates is to be more mature in their judgments."

Speaking on "The Responsibilities of the Educated" at SUI's winter commencement exercises Saturday Ellis lashed out at the ways in which "domestic politics continue to make demands upon public officials that weaken our national strength."

Using the recent "verge of war" statement attributed to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as an example, Ellis pointed out that the statement had served to strengthen our enemies and had weakened the U.S. and its friends.

Such elaborate and exaggerated defensive statements are required by the public during an election year, without the public's realizing the harm they do to our policies ahead, President Ellis charged.

"One of the chief obligations of graduates is the correction of such tendencies," President Ellis said, adding that "a mature public in the United States that understands international politics would quickly make such action bad domestic politics and in that way quickly change them."

Suggesting that public attitude toward research also needs educating, President Ellis decried the lack of support and encouragement for research in humanities and the social sciences.

Ellis concluded, "These are only a few of the maturities in our life that can be made possible by a generation of new graduates. The success of that generation is your responsibility."

Doctors from Mexico Here

Twenty-five Mexican orthopedic surgeons spent Monday touring Mercy and the SUI Children's Hospitals here. They leave today for St. Louis, where they will continue their inquiries into the latest research in orthopedic surgery.

Dr. Alejandro Zimbron, Chief of Primavera Hospital in Mexico City, said the group was especially interested in research conducted at Children's Hospital.

"Orthopedic surgery in the United States and Mexico is on the same level," Zimbron said. He attributed this fact in part to the interchange of ideas between the two nations' doctors.

The group came to Iowa City from the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. Earlier they had attended a meeting of the American Orthopedic Association in Chicago. Other stops on the tour will be Memphis, New Orleans and Houston.

The annual tour is sponsored by the Primavera Hospital in Mexico City, Zimbron said.

Will Choose Top Farmer Tonight

Charles J. Hearst, Cedar Falls farmer who last year toured Russia with the American Farm Delegation, will speak at the JayCee Outstanding Young Farmer Banquet tonight. The banquet will be held at 7 p.m. at the Mayflower Inn.

One of ten nominees in the outstanding young farmer contest from Jan. 14 through Feb. 1 will be announced as winner at the banquet. He will receive an engraved plaque and an all-expense-paid trip to the state awards banquet at Oelwein Feb. 26.

Hearst, president of the Cedar Falls Rotary Club, is a member of the Foreign Policy Committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce. He has been president of the Black Hawk Bureau and has served on the resolutions and livestock committees of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation.

In the summer of 1947 he was a member of an Iowa Farm Bureau group which toured Europe to study the effects of the Marshall Plan.

Contest Promotes JayCees
The contest to name an outstanding young farmer of the Iowa City trade area is designed to promote interest in the JayCees by young farmers who are eligible to join the group, JayCee officials said.

Nominees were named by organizations and individuals of this area and will be judged on the basis of outstanding progress in farming, careful observance of conservation practices and contributions to the well-being of the community.

Farmers aged 21 to 35 years were eligible for nomination. The local winner will compete with other local contest winners in the Iowa Outstanding Young Farmer contest.

Enter National Competition
The state winner will be entered in the national contest to be held at Pittsburgh, Pa., April 11 and 12. At that event four national winners will be chosen.

Judges in the local contest are Harold J. Montgomery, county extension director; Ross Barnett, soil conservation service fieldman, and Woodrow Weeber, Johnson County Farm Bureau president.

Save Life 1st, Police Told
Keeping the accident from getting worse is the first and most important duty of the investigating officer, members of the second annual Police Traffic School were told Monday at SUU.

Officers must look for such immediate dangers to life as arterial bleeding, blocked breathing and spilled gasoline — even if a much-wanted criminal may seem to be escaping, Capt. E. A. Thobe of Davenport stressed in leading one discussion.

He said there are so many things to do at the scene of a serious accident that even a highly experienced pair of policemen often need help in directing traffic, controlling curious spectators, finding witnesses, securing such short-lived evidence as skidmarks and scattered debris, protecting property from possible looting, and other responsibilities.

On the whole, cab-drivers tend to be most useful at such a scene. They know traffic laws and the physical surroundings and they are easily identified so they can be found for information purposes later, the Davenport officer pointed out.

SUI Library Director Gets Honor Degree

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
CLEVELAND, Ohio — Ralph E. Ellsworth, SUI director of libraries and professor of librarianship, received an honorary doctor of laws degree from Western Reserve University Sunday.

Ellsworth's degree stated that "for nearly 20 years he has been a national leader in developing the functional structure of library buildings, in integrating university libraries with educational programs, and in advising new policies in national library organizations."

Formerly at Colorado
Ellsworth came to SUI in 1943 after serving as director of libraries at the University of Colorado.

He received his B.A. degree from Oberlin College and B. S. degree in library science from Western Reserve. Ellsworth went on to take Ph.D. degree at the University of Chicago.

Ellsworth received his degree as part of the ceremonies dedicating a new $1.6 million library on the Western Reserve campus.

Library a 'Program'
The degree stated that the new library "is one of a number of functional creations to which Prof. Ellsworth has given of his experience and imagination as a consultant."

"He believes that a library should not be a monument but a program, and that professors and students and books should be in the same relationship as professors and students and laboratories."

Trustee Named For Weller Estate

George A. Williams, Iowa City attorney, was named trustee of the Newton Weller estate at a creditors meeting Friday in Federal Court in Davenport.

Weller, who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy last month, listed claims totaling $244,010.40 and assets of $24,424.65.

Weller's three Iowa City businesses — the Yellow Cab Co., the Weller Motor and Alignment service and the Iowa City ambulance service — will continue to operate. Howard I. Smith, of Des Moines, will continue as receiver of the business concerns.

No 'Duty' on Permit: Solon

Solon officials Monday moved to dismiss the petition of a Solon grocery store to force the city council to issue a class C beer permit.

John Slach, mayor of Solon, filed the motion for dismissal in Johnson County District Court. The motion contended that under the Code of Iowa, it is not the "duty" of the mayor and council to issue a beer permit.

Shop-Rite, Inc., of Solon had filed a writ of mandamus Jan. 18, after the Solon council had denied its petition for a beer permit. A writ of mandamus is a court order requiring an executive body to do its duty.

The grocery firm alleged in its petition that the permit had been denied without just cause. The council's answer stated that it was "in the best interests of the community" to deny the permit.

Cahill Will Head County Bar Group

A. C. Cahill was elected president of the Johnson County Bar Association at a dinner Monday night marking the opening of the February court term.

AWOL GI's Held for Kidnaping Iowan

State police and FBI agents said the two soldiers, Joseph Ward, 19, Indianapolis, and Leo Shaver, 17, Escanaba, admitted they kidnaped John Fogoli, 26, Friday night and forced him at knifepoint to drive them to Escanaba.

Now Refer Patients To Home Nurses

No matter how eager he is to rejoin his family, going home from the hospital can be a trying experience for the patient who has come to depend heavily upon the daily care of his doctor and nurses.

To ease these temporary feelings of insecurity which follow hospitalization for many such patients, and to carry them over any further period of illness or convalescence, the SUI Medical Center builds a "bridge" by establishing contact between the homebound patient and a public health nurse in his own county. She then continues nursing care under supervision from the patient's home doctor.

Pioneer Movement
Now more than two years old, this system of referring patients from a general hospital nursing service to public health nurses at home is probably the first of its type in Iowa, though similar systems have been in use in a few other states for 10 or 15 years, Marie Tener, SUI director of nursing service, said.

Patients may pay what they can afford for nursing care given by public health nurses supported by voluntary agencies such as the Visiting Nurse Association, though such care is free if they are unable to pay.

In 47 Counties
This help is not yet available to all Iowans, Miss Tener noted, since less than half of Iowa's counties—47 out of the 99—have public health nurses.
Setting up the nursing referral system at SUI's Medical Center was a cooperative project, Miss Tener explained, involving hospital and nursing service administrators, the colleges of medicine and nursing, nursing service supervisors and the hospital's social service department.

Dean Allin Dakin of SUI Gets High Scouting Honor

Allin Dakin, SUI administrative dean and executive board member of the Hawkeye Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America, received the "silver beaver" award Monday night.

The presentation, which is the highest honor that can be given by the council to a volunteer worker, was made at the annual Hawkeye Area Council's recognition dinner at the Iowa Memorial Union.

John M. Schiff, president of the Boy Scouts of America, attended the dinner.

In his address, Schiff emphasized that leadership is the most vital factor of scouting.

Lauds SUI

"The State University of Iowa," he said, "should be proud of the manner in which it contributes to leadership in the face of overpopulation and mass education."

Schiff said the population growth puts extra demands on schools, churches and youth agencies. He stressed the importance of environment on the youth.

"The church contributes a lasting influence in the behavior of a boy in a community. The school provides him with the knowledge and ability to apply facts. The Boy Scout program in the form of extra-curricular activity tries to combine all the factors," Schiff said.

He said that all forces — work, organization, men, women and money — must operate together to make scouting a success.

Honors to Others

"It is better to build boys than to mend them — here's a chance to build," Schiff said.

Two other "silver beaver" awards were made to scouts in the area. They were: Gordon Hatch, Central City, and Charles H. Vysocki, Cedar Rapids.

Veteran's awards for 10 years service in scouting went to David W. Appel, Iowa City, and Prof. Harry Crosby of the SUI Communications Skills Department.

A scout's key was awarded to Max Otto and James Osburn, both of Iowa City.

Scout's awards were also presented to Mrs. Richard Carrae, Mrs. Edward Rate, Mrs. E. R. Williams and Mrs. James Osburn, all of Iowa City.

RAFT LOST

accompanied by highway patrolmen in plainclothes.

Rocks, Eggs

The party was greeted by a barrage of rocks, eggs, mud balls and curses. Both the university officials were struck but were able to shelter Miss Lucy.

Stones cracked and broke windows of Dean Healy's car as they drove across the campus. Members of the mob tried vainly to jerk open the doors.

Bennet returned to the car after Miss Lucy and Dean Healy entered Graves Hall for her second class. He again was pelted by rocks and eggs and some yelled, "Let's turn the car over."

A large rock crashed through the rear window, shattering it but he got away unhurt.

The university has an enrollment of 7,500. Alabama law requires racial segregation in public schools and Negroes have been barred although members of various Asian races have been accepted as students.

Miss Lucy, of Birmingham, won a federal court order opening the university to Negroes. Alabama trustees, however, instructed the university to bar Miss Lucy from the women's dormitory and the cafeteria. She has been commuting 58 miles each day from Birmingham.

Will Appeal School Case

Judge James P. Gaffney's ruling which set aside the results of the Sept. 13 Lone Tree school district reorganization election will be appealed to the Iowa Supreme Court.

The Lone Tree Independent School District Board of Education voted unanimously to appeal the decision after the ruling returned by Judge Gaffney Thursday.

The election organized portions of Lincoln, Pleasant Valley and Fremont Townships into the Lone Tree Community School District.

Judge Gaffney's ruling restored the school districts to their status before the election. Gaffney cited departures from proper election procedures as reason for his decision.

The Lone Tree board of education voted to retain Iowa City attorneys William L. Bartley and Edward F. Rate for the supreme court appeal.

Bartley and Rate appeared for proponents of the school district in the original hearing in Johnson County District Court.

Name Cast For 'Dial M' Production

Robert Bentley, A3, Ames; Rosalie Samberg, A2, Des Moines and James Rex, A2, Allentown, Pa., will have leading roles in University's Theatre's forthcoming production of Frederick Knott's thriller, "Dial 'M' for Murder."

The play will run from Feb. 16 through 18 and 22 through 25. Prof. Harold C. Shiffer of the Dramatic Arts Department will direct.

Bentley will play the part of Tony Wendice, who plans the murder of his wife, Margot, who will be played by Miss Samberg. Rex will be Margot's new champion, Max Halliday.

Also in the cast will be William Cope, G, Chickasha, Okla., as the clever Inspector Hubbard; Jack Lee Morgan, G, Erie, Pa., as Captain Lesgate; and Robert Stewart, A3, Iowa City, and Richard Roberts, A2, Perry, in minor roles.

Bentley, Cope, and Rex have appeared before in "Caine Mutiny Court Martial," this season's first presentation.

The play's one setting was designed by Prof. Arnold S. Gillette. Lighting and costumes are by Prof. Walter S. Dewey and Prof. Margaret Hall, respectively.

Tickets for the production will go on sale in Room 8A, Schaeffer Hall, on Thursday. SUI students will receive free tickets upon presentation of their ID cards. Otherwise, single admission is $1.25.

Adlai Hits GOP; Defends Truman

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Adlai Stevenson defended former President Truman Monday against what he called the Republicans' "calculated campaign to associate the Democratic party with disloyalty and communism."

"I'm indignant that these charges are leveled either directly or indirectly against President Truman," Stevenson said. "No living man has done more to fight communism than President Truman."

The 1952 Democratic standard bearer remarked that "two years ago the Republican party sent Sen. McCarthy on a lecture tour to speak on '20 years of treason,' in celebration of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln."

Stevenson's remarks kicked off the second day of three days of campaigning in the Southern California area. He is engaged in a primary contest with Tennessee's Sen. Estes Kefauver for the Democratic presidential nomination.
