

Nation Eyes Iowa-Illinois Clash

READY FOR ILLINOIS are Hawkeye tri-captains Bill Seaberg, Bill Logan and Carl Cain, shown at practice with Iowa coach Bucky O'Connor. The three are the Hawks' top scorers and will lead into battle today a team which has played together for three years, raced up one conference title and needs a victory today to set it up for another.

Television writers could not have written the script better for the title-deciding game between Iowa and Illinois here today.

The two powers of the Big Ten, both with 11-1 records and tied for the conference lead, clash at 2 p.m. under the TV cameras of CBS in a nationwide hookup.

A sellout crowd will see whether Iowa's defending champions can hold down second-ranked Illinois, the highest scoring quintet in the history of the Big Ten. The Hawkeyes are rated tenth in the latest Associated Press poll.

able. University officials warn fans without tickets NOT to come because it will be impossible for them to get in.

The five Hawk starters were on last year's championship team. They have stormed back to win 11 straight after a 65-64 opening loss to Michigan State.

The Illini, on the other hand, ran up 10 straight victories before losing to Ohio State last week, 87-84. They beat Minnesota Monday after another shaky first half.

Some experts say that these opposite trends of the two teams show

Probable Lineups

IOWA: Cain (6-3), School (6-6), Logan (6-7), Seaberg (6-8), Scheuerman (6-5).
ILLINOIS: Schmidt (6-6), BonSalle (6-8), Ridley (5-7 1/2), Judson (6-4).
Time and place: Saturday, 2 p.m., Iowa Fieldhouse.
Tickets: None available.
Television: Nationally by CBS, WMT-TV, Channel 2, Cedar Rapids; Broadcaster: WSUL, KXIC, Iowa City; KCRG, Cedar Rapids, WHO, KRNT, Des Moines.

that Iowa is at its peak and that Illinois is beginning to break apart at the seams.
Another theory in Iowa's favor is the home court. However, this season the traditional 8-point advantage assumption has been rudely upset in Big Ten play.

Physically, the two teams shape up fairly equal. Average team height for both starting squads is 6 feet, 3 3/4 inches. Both have three leading scorers rather than one and both have adequate scoring support behind the leaders.

The similarities stop there. Illinois leads the conference scoring with 1,123 points — a 93.5 average per game. Its defensive average is 76.1 points, leaving a 17 point winning margin per contest.

Iowa has not scored so well, but its defense is rated as the top in the Big Ten. The Hawkeyes have scored an average of 79.4 points, while holding opponents to a 70.1 average — a 9.3 point spread.

Two factors could influence the difference in the two winning margins. Illinois is said to have better bench strength than any other league school. Also, the Illini are more point-hungry. Iowa Coach

Negro Coed Won't Accept Her Expulsion

NEW YORK (AP) — Tight-lipped and grim, Negro coed Autherine Lucy said Friday she will continue her legal fight for admittance to the University of Alabama.

She said she is not going to accept the university's expulsion of her Thursday.

The 26-year-old Alabama girl told a news conference, "I cannot see any reason to abandon my sole purpose of obtaining an education within the meaning of the decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States."

Seeks Legal Steps
Miss Lucy said she had authorized her lawyers to "take whatever steps are necessary."

Thurgood Marshall, attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said he and aides were seeking some legal means to resume the battle.

Miss Lucy was suspended from the all-white university Feb. 6 after a rioting mob drove her from the campus at Tuscaloosa. Her entry into the 125-year-old university climaxed a 2 1/2-year legal fight over segregation.

Ordered Re-admitted
Wednesday, U.S. Dist. Judge H. Hobart Grooms ordered Miss Lucy reinstated. Promptly, the university trustees expelled the coed for making false charges against the school. The charges that university officials conspired with the mob to keep her from attending classes were withdrawn by her lawyers during the court hearing.

Thursday, Miss Lucy flew to New York with Marshall on a surprise visit. The lawyer said she was worn out and needed medical attention and "rest, peace and quiet."

Adlai Asserts Race Woes Problem of All

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Adlai Stevenson Friday called the racial problem "an American, not a Southern, dilemma" that cannot be solved until there is a change in the minds and hearts of men.
Stevenson told 5,200 University of Minnesota students and faculty members that civil rights are "a matter of grave national concern when a girl in Alabama is denied her constitutional rights by mob violence or subterfuge, or when murder goes unpunished in Mississippi, or when American citizens are denied peaceful occupancy of their homes in my own state of Illinois."

Violence in Illinois
His first two references were to the Autherine Lucy and Emmett Till cases in Alabama and Mississippi. At Cicero, Ill., several years ago, mob violence greeted a Negro couple moving into a white neighborhood.

"Before we cast a stone at Alabama," Stevenson said, "it might be well for those of us who live in some of the great Northern states to ask ourselves in candor how the Negro minority is faring in our own communities."

'Demos Coming Back'
Opening a five-day campaign for votes in the March 20 Minnesota presidential primary, Stevenson declared "the Democrats are on the way back to Washington." When they get there, he said, "an American citizen who has the habit of original thought will no longer be a displaced person."

Jordan King Fires British Army Chief

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — British Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb was dismissed Thursday from the Jordan command he had held 25 years. He left this country Friday—a symbol of Britain's plummeting prestige in the Middle East.

Young King Hussein of Jordan, reportedly under strong anti-Western nationalist pressure, fired Glubb as army chief without warning Thursday, and announced his act Friday.

Jordan's government informed London the dismissal was not intended to affect friendly relations with the British, but it raised doubts and fears there and in Washington. It was regarded throughout the Middle East as a blow to the West.

Leave Under Guard
Glubb, his family and two other ranking British officers of the Arab Legion—the 20,000-man army Glubb had built from undisciplined tribesmen — were taken under guard of 16 tanks to the airport Friday morning. They flew off to Cyprus, an overnight stop en route to London.

The British government subsidizes the Arab Legion with nearly $22,400,000 annually. No mention was made in the King's announcement of ending this payment or of altering the treaty by which Jordan permits British air force bases on its territory.

Arabs May Pay
Oil-rich Saudi Arabia, along with Egypt and Syria, offered in mid-January to pay Jordan an annual grant to support its army if it would forego the British subsidy, representing more than half of Jordan's budget. An Arab "summit" conference to discuss this proposed grant now is expected to be held soon.

Maj. Gen. Radi Ounabb was named to replace Glubb as chief of the army general staff.

Dulles Leaves for Middle East

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles left for South Asia Friday to confer with leaders of free nations on Russia's new cold war offensive and measures which may be developed to strengthen free world defenses.

Before he left, it was learned, he worked out with President Eisenhower a new message to Soviet Premier Bulganin. It reportedly urges Bulganin to join the United States and other Western Powers in "taking" initial steps toward a worldwide disarmament program.

Dulles will meet in Karachi, Pakistan, with other foreign ministers of the eight-nation alliance known

Bank Bandits Kidnap Teller, Get $188,000

PORT CHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Two painstaking bandits robbed a drive-in bank of $188,000 Friday, after kidnaping a woman teller and grilling her all night for data on the layout.

A policeman in a squad car looked on as a bank official under the pistols of the bandits carried the loot to a getaway car. He thought he was watching a routine transfer of funds.

The gunman seized slight, brunette Mrs. Mary Kostolos, a teller, at her home at 10 o'clock Thursday night.

No One Hurt
No shots were fired, no one was mistreated.

The bandits fled in Mrs. Kostolos' car, in which she had been kept captive several hours.

Mrs. Kostolos, 52, and widowed three years ago, lives only a short distance from the bank. She drove up to her home Thursday night and got out to open her garage door.

Grilled at Gunpoint
"This man appeared," she recounted, "shoved a gun in my ribs and told me to get back into the front seat of the car."

As the bandits drove around for hour upon hour, they fired question after question at Mrs. Kostolos. "Who opens the bank in the morning? Who has the combination to the vault? When does assistant treasurer J. Purdy Ungemack get there?"

About 3:30 in the morning, the bandits entered the bank with Mrs. Kostolos' key. Inside, they resumed their questioning of the widow.

Ernest Marino, a clerk, was the first employee to arrive. One of the bandits opened the door for him and pulled him inside.

Opened Vault
Mrs. Kostolos had half the combination to the vault. Ungemack, who was taken captive when he arrived, had the other half. At pistol point, the two were forced to open the vault.

With the vault open, one bandit put a pistol in his pocket and forced Ungemack to carry the money to the getaway car in the bank's parking lot. The other kept his gun trained on Ungemack from the doorway.

On the sidewalk, Ungemack brushed against John Romanello, a high school teacher, Ungemack whispered: "It's a holdup, please call the police."

Romanello went across the street to a grocery and police were called. By the time police arrived, the bandits had vanished. Their last word to Ungemack before they drove off was "goodbye."

2. Saudi Arabia, which bought 18 light training tanks from the United States last month, was reported to have requested a number of jet planes as well as 13 more tanks.

3. The State Department confirmed that the United States, which has a contract with France whereby the French build Mystere jet interceptors for North Atlantic Treaty Organization, has agreed to an interruption in deliveries of the planes. The result is that 12 of them are being diverted from NATO to Israel.

Go You Hawkeyes !!

SUI CHEERLEADERS leap high and yell loud at a basketball pep rally Friday afternoon, the first such rally for a case game in several years. About 500 SUI students came to help work up steam for today's nationally-televised Big Ten battle with top title contender, Illinois.

Cheer, Don't Boo, SUI's Williams Urges Fans

Enthusiastic SUI students were urged Friday to "substitute our cheers for boos" when Iowa takes the floor against Illinois today at 2 p.m. in the Iowa Fieldhouse.

Rollie Williams, assistant athletic director, reminded students that game "is being nationally televised" and was referring to Ohio State students who booed Illinois when the two teams clashed at Columbus.

"It was a disgrace to Ohio State," Williams said.
Lloyd Courter, CS, Boone, emcee of the Friday pep rally, said Illinois and Minnesota fans refer to SUI students as the "Iowa City mob."

"Let's show the nation that we can compare with any school as far as sportsmanship and sportsmanlike attitudes are concerned," Courter said.

Williams told about 500 students attending the rally that "Bucky (Coach Bucky O'Connor) and the team are confident that they can lick Illinois Saturday afternoon!"

But he pointed out that Illinois will have a height advantage over the Hawkeyes. He said Illinois' George BonSalle (6-8), Harv Schmidt (6-6) and Paul Judson (6-4) will present a threat to the Hawks.

"But I'm not selling Carl Cain (6-3) short," Williams added.
Illinois has two of the top guards in the country, but I don't believe they will outshine Scheuerman and Seaberg, Williams went on.

The pep rally was sponsored by the Hawk-I Pep Club.

The rally, sponsored by Associated Women Students, Union Board, and Student Council, will be held whether or not the Hawks win today and Monday.

VANDALS BREAK WINDSHIELD

Kenneth Smith, AI, Des Moines, reported to police Friday that the entire right windshield of his car was broken sometime Thursday night. A large stone which might have been used was found in front of the car, Smith said.

Applications Due For Draft Tests

SUI students interested in taking the Selective Service College Qualification test have until midnight, Monday, to submit applications.

Students interested in taking the test may apply through the Johnson County draft board for a permit. The test will be given April 19.

Call 2 Iowans As Gas Probe Is Reopened

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special Senate committee decided late Friday to make one more attempt to establish whether lawyer-lobbyist John M. Neff offered campaign funds for the use of Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.).

It announced it would reopen its investigation Monday to hear two more witnesses, Mrs. Robert K. Goodwin of Des Moines, wife of Iowa's Republican national committeeman, and Wendell Edson, a Storm Lake, Iowa, lawyer.

Goodwin had told the committee that Neff offered donations totaling $3,500—on two occasions and was turned down. Neff denies he made an offer.

The committee had ended its public hearings earlier Friday and announced the question of the campaign money would have to be resolved by the Justice Department.

Signals were changed, however, at a closed meeting of the committee Friday afternoon.

Steadman said Mrs. Goodwin would be asked about a disputed telephone conversation her husband had with Neff's attorney. Steadman declined to say what contribution he thought Edson could make to the inquiry.

Roars Down In Darkness On 20 Homes

WALLACE, Idaho (AP) — Tons of snow crashed down a mountainside into a string of 20 frame houses early Friday, killed a 10-year-old boy and trapped 18 other persons in their beds.

One woman with a baby in her arms nearly suffocated before she was dug out at the little village of Mace, five miles north of here.

The roaring avalanche, touched off by wind and rain in Burke Canyon, snapped house timbers like matchsticks in the darkness at 1 a.m., and completely covered five homes with a heavy layer of snow.

Kills Boy
The John Spencer house was knocked 35 feet into Canyon Creek. In a second story bedroom amid water and debris, searchers found the pajama-clad body of Timmy Spencer, 10.

Police said it was a miracle more weren't killed or seriously injured by the slide. All the survivors were released from the hospital after minor treatment and a checkup.

The snow slide that cascaded down Mammoth Mountain was almost half a mile wide and snow was 20 feet deep in places when it settled.

Heard Rumble
"I heard a rumble coming down the hill and all of a sudden everything was on top of me," said Carol Ann Reasoner, 15, who was trapped with her mother and three sisters.

Fifty yards away, the snow smashed into Albert McCorkle's house, roaring through windows of his bedroom.
"I had been asleep and when I woke up the snow was piling on top of my bed," he said.

Burke Canvon has been the scene of frequent slides.

Traps Family
Mr. and Mrs. Art Bell and their eight children were trapped. They were dug out by neighbors.

Mrs. Bell told a graphic story of the slide from her hospital bed.
"I heard a noise and I said to my husband, 'Get up, something's happening.' 'Too late,' he said, 'it's here.'"

"Then came the shock and it was just horrifying — all black and under 12 feet of snow, and snow all around us and in the face of my little Danny in my arms."

Saved by Dog
"I started to scream but my husband said, 'Hush, you'll live longer if you're quiet!'"

Mrs. Bell said she is thankful their "big old mongrel dog, Billy Boy," wasn't hurt.

"I think he saved our lives in that smashed house."

"We couldn't get any air. Then we heard the dog barking and carrying on. He was in the house when the slide happened but somehow he got out. My husband called and Billy Boy came on top of the snow right over us and jumped and tromped around until the snow fell down over our bed."

Get Air
"Then my husband, by reaching real hard, could get four fingers up through the snow, just enough to make a little air hole. Even so I passed out later from lack of oxygen."

The next thing I knew I heard Sheriff Lewis Gardner and he was saying, 'Here's a little one,' and so I yelled for him to come, that my baby was suffocating. He pitched in and dug with his hands through the snow and scooped it off Danny's face. Then we all got out."

Police Remove 'Dummy' At St. Mary's School

A human dummy hanging in a doorway at St. Mary's School was cut down by police Thursday night. Officers reported that the dummy was made and hung by youngsters "playing a joke."

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan is an independent daily newspaper, written and edited by students. It is governed by a board of five student trustees elected by the student body and four faculty trustees appointed by the president of the university.

The Iowan editorial staff writes its editorials without censorship by administration or faculty. The Iowan's editorial policy, therefore, is not necessarily an expression of SUI administration policy or opinion.

The Iowan, in the terms of a policy statement adopted by trustees in 1946, "will try to act as a good citizen of the SUI community and the community of Iowa City. . . . The Daily Iowan conceives its owners to be the whole constituency of the University, past, present and future. It will endeavor to hold the good of the University in trust for these owners. . . ."

Health Must Be An Issue

The health of President Eisenhower certainly will be an issue in the forthcoming presidential campaign. It has to be.

The president said in his televised speech Wednesday night: "As of this moment there is not the slightest doubt that I can now perform, as well as I ever have, all of the important duties of the presidency. This I say because I am actually doing so and have been doing so for many weeks."

There is no reason to doubt the president's word. He and his aides have given the American people complete reports on his health from the time of his September heart attack. Nothing has been covered up.

The president, however, by his own admission, says that he must take on a restricted schedule and retire early.

What if a crisis equal to that of World War II arises? President Franklin D. Roosevelt worked himself to death with 14-hour days throughout that period. The president must assume a heavier work load during those periods. Democrats and other Americans have the right to inquire whether President Eisenhower could stand the pace that killed President Roosevelt.

The Democrats also have the obligation to make pertinent inquiries as to whether Vice-President Nixon (if he isn't dumped) is qualified to step into the presidency.

The American people have the right to decide on whether the president is in the proper health for four rugged years. Excellent health is a requirement for the presidency. The charge that inquiries about the president's health are in poor taste won't hold water.

An Empire's End

Once upon a time the sun never set on the British Empire. The empire stretched around the world and the Union Jack signified law to millions of human beings.

The United States broke away from their British bonds in 1775. The British parliament voted a second American revolution by granting Canada her virtual independence in 1867.

But Britain, proud of her empire (and economically dependent upon it), refused to let the remainder go, even when the only possible conclusion of colonial rule seemed to be bloody revolution.

Agitation for freedom in India (mostly passive) was put down ruthlessly.

For years the Conservatives in England were looked upon as the stumbling blocks to freedom for the colonies. And the conservatives always seemed to be holding the power or balance of power in British politics.

Then came 1945 and the landslide victory of the Labor Party. In quick succession, India, Pakistan, Ceylon and Burma were granted independence, while the Tories jeered from their opposition benches.

The British colonies which had not gained their independence despaired when the Conservatives swept back into office in the elections of 1951. Their cause, it seemed, would receive the same old stalling from the pro-empire Tories.

They have since found that the Tories, too, have accepted the twentieth century—or have at least become resigned to it.

Since 1951 the Sudan (that's just south of Egypt) has been set free. In Kenya, scene of the savage Mau Mau revolts, moves toward the education and eventual independence of the natives have been made.

A few weeks ago the Tory government announced that rubber-rich Malaya (population: 4.9 million) would be granted independence by August, 1957.

British troops will be withdrawn and Malaya will conduct her own domestic and foreign affairs free of British hindrance.

Last week the British Foreign Office announced that a constitution for the British Caribbean Federation had been agreed upon. The federation includes Jamaica, Trinidad, Barbados, Tobago and the Leeward and Windward Islands. Its population is about three million.

The independence of this federation will not be complete immediately. But, complete independence is clearly on the way.

Britain's empire is slowly crumbling. Since 1948, about 475 million persons have been freed from British rule.

Only the stubborn French, Belgians and Portuguese still have large colonial territories under dictatorial rule. And their end as colonial powers is on the way, too.

To this list, perhaps, should be added Russia with her satellite empire in Eastern Europe.

Photographers in Court

A decision by the Colorado Supreme Court to leave it up to individual judges whether or not newspaper photographers will be allowed to take pictures during court trials may have far-reaching effects.

For years newspaper readers have read lengthy versions of court testimony and have looked at pictures of defendants being led from courtrooms. They have seldom seen photographs of court action.

The reason: Canon 35 of the American Bar Association's Code of Ethics, which was adopted in 1908 and prevents photographers from taking pictures while trials are in progress.

The canon was put into law in some states. In most states it is a rule of court procedure.

In 1908, when camera equipment was cumbersome and flash powder raised an awful stench, a photographer's presence would have disrupted court proceedings and damaged the dignity of the court. Even during the recent flashbulb days, a photographer could rattle a witness or cause a disturbance.

But this reason for barring photographers no longer holds.

Today modern cameras can take pictures with natural light and with no noise. A photographer today can sit in his seat and use a small camera almost unnoticed.

The people have a right to see what happens in their courts of justice.

Correction

The Daily Iowan editorial Friday entitled "No Criticism Allowed" erred in saying that Miss Autherine Lucy's charges that university of Alabama officials conspired in mob action against her were "undoubtedly true." The editorial was meant to say the charges were "undoubtedly untrue."

Readers Discuss Iowa City Racial Problem; Editorial on Senator McCarthy's Vote

Ike's Heart

TO THE EDITOR:

I just heard President Eisenhower's speech. It is apparent that he considers himself a cardiac invalid, that he will run as an invalid, and conduct his office as an invalid. He is putting the responsibility squarely up to the people as to whether they want an invalid President. Actually his heart attack probably helped him politically. It gives him an excuse to sit tight and conduct a "holier-than-thou" campaign similar to 1952. There is a very good possibility that a very unique situation will develop in November with the Republicans winning the presidency and the Democrats retaining control of Congress. Such a split in a presidential year is certainly rare.

The President's detailed recital of his physical conditions certainly stuck in my craw. Most of it was medical gobbledegook designed to influence people who have no medical knowledge and with no bearing whatever on the probability of his having another attack. Sure he has recovered from his heart attack. Recoveries from a first attack are common, also from a second, and even from a third. But they get to you after while.

Race Problems

TO THE EDITOR:

This article is directed to the student body of our campus, and also to the townspeople, who will be concerned with any "supposed" racial problem in Iowa City.

Let us consider our student body with a clear and open mind, free from any bias or distorted ideas. In this country complete racial equality cannot be achieved by any dynamic type of action. Measures such as this have been tried and failed miserably, retarding rather than furthering eventual racial equality. Racial acceptance is a social problem. It is something which only gradual conditioning of men's minds can bring about.

Men can make laws concerning economic and political institutions, but legislation and rules handed down to the public concern a social problem such as this, will in almost every instance cause them to react negatively. An outstanding example of this is the recent Supreme Court decision regarding racial segregation.

In this instance I concede the point that there is a definite need for integration in our educational program, but also I beg to make the point that the existing problem was in the process of being solved, and certainly would have been by the due process of time needed for such an evolution. The consequent result of the above said edict is apparent to anyone who picks up a newspaper.

I feel that on SUI's campus the integration and general acceptance of the racial problem is in question.

What still eludes us is why anybody expects thanks for buying a stamp. Without a stamp he can't get his letter mailed. If he wants his letter to go anywhere, he has no option in the matter. Maybe Postmaster General Summerfield, who has already earned a secure place in history by painting mailboxes red, white, and blue, instead of the familiar green, can introduce a refinement. The tape recording will be made to say, if not "Kiss me," then, at least, "I love you." The letter writer will have to carry on the conversation from there.

is years ahead and is second-to-none of most universities and colleges. I believe it can be safely said that there is no actual, serious racial problem on this campus.

However, due to certain recent activities in this area I also believe, with a great degree of certainty, that these activities could bring about a social situation which it is naively believed would benefit from certain measures is the very group which will undoubtedly suffer. Even now feelings of animosity and resentment have arisen from various sources. A short bit of clear thinking by both racial factions will reveal that the situation which could very well arise is the last thing that the minority group wants.

Of course, the problem I am alluding to is being brought about by the stereotype of the typical rabble-rouser. These individuals have assumed their self-appointed halos, donned the traditional sackcloth and ashes, and are screaming the same much hackneyed phrases, but don't let me convey the impression that they won't accomplish anything. On the contrary, they most certainly will.

If these people are successful they, firstly, will cast a tremendous stumbling block in the path of eventual integration. Secondly, these pseudo-crusaders by beating the trite drum of the radical and garbing themselves in the robes of supposed self-righteousness will probably attract enough attention to satisfy their obvious egotistic desires for recognition.

Phil Lawson, A3

Thanks for Nothin

(The Martins Ferry Times-Leader)

The Post Office Department, with evident pride, informs Congress that it has developed a tape recording which says "Thank you" when a customer makes a purchase from a coin stamp-vending machine. The first 7 of these gadgets cost $4,000 apiece, but it is hoped to bring the cost down later to $1,000 or so.

What still eludes us is why anybody expects thanks for buying a stamp. Without a stamp he can't get his letter mailed. If he wants his letter to go anywhere, he has no option in the matter. Maybe Postmaster General Summerfield, who has already earned a secure place in history by painting mailboxes red, white, and blue, instead of the familiar green, can introduce a refinement. The tape recording will be made to say, if not "Kiss me," then, at least, "I love you." The letter writer will have to carry on the conversation from there.

It would appear that in your recent slam at Joe McCarthy and his vote for the Natural Gas Bill you seem to have overlooked a much more basic fact and one that would be more pertinent to your readers. Have you glanced at the voting records of those intrepid Republican Senators representing us? Martin and Hickenlooper both voted for passage of the bill too. Where are their interests?

SUI Student Trying for 2 Years To Get Asylum for Chinese Man

By IRA KAPENSTEIN

An SUI student has been actively working since 1954 to obtain political asylum in the United States for a Chinese anti-Communist professor. What started as an exchange of pen-pal letters between Darold Powers, A3, Washington, Ia., and Dr. Hsu Ching-yu of Hong Kong University, has developed into a full-scale fight by Powers to gain permission for Hsu's entry into the U.S.

In 1954, Powers asked Prof. T. Z. Koo, then head of the SUI Department of Oriental Studies, for the name of a person in China with whom he could correspond. Koo gave him Hsu's name.

Hsu wrote Powers that he had taken refuge in Hong Kong, under British jurisdiction, in an attempt to come to the U.S. He said he was marked for execution if the Communists ever caught up with him.

He was forced to flee with his wife and three children from China in 1950 and has since become chairman of the Hong Kong Anti-Communist Committee. But he said British regulations in Hong Kong prevent him from participating actively in politics. He is not allowed to speak or to prepare anti-Communist literature, Hsu reported.

"My ambition is nothing other than the salvation of China," Hsu wrote Powers. He said he hoped he could fight communism and work for his cause in the U.S.

In School with Mao
Hsu's first opposition to Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-tung came while both were attending Hsuan University between 1919 and 1924. Hsu was president of the Student Union and head of the liberal party at the school. Mao was head of a small radical group that disagreed with Hsu's party and finally helped to dissolve the Student Union.

He tangled with Mao again, Hsu has written, early in the 1930's when Hsu urged Chiang Kai-shek not to unite with Mao's Communists in the war against Japan.

Hsu and Powers are facing a Dec. 31, 1956, expiration date on the Refugee Relief Act of 1953. If Hsu is not given permission to enter the U.S. by then, his entry will be virtually impossible, Powers said.

Must Have Sponsor, Job, Housing
Under the act, Hsu must have an individual sponsor who will guarantee him a job and provide housing for his family. The sponsor also must be willing to pay the refugees' traveling expenses.

Powers has been working with the Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief in the search for a sponsor, but so far they have had no luck. Powers, 20, cannot sponsor Hsu because he is under 21 and because he doesn't have the funds.

Hsu was born on Christmas Day, 1898, in Liuyang, the son of a tea merchant.

He was graduated from the college of law of Hunan University in 1924. As a student he was converted to Christianity. His family had been adherents of Confucius.

After graduation, he joined the national committee of the YMCA as a student secretary, and was sent to Oxford University where he studied philosophy for two years. Before returning to China, he traveled throughout Europe and Russia.

He returned to China where he became vice-director of the translation bureau in Nanking. He was a strong advocate of political reform measures.

"I traveled from one province to another," Hsu wrote, "on behalf of Chiang Kai-shek for whom I mapped a plan of national mobilization. I suggested that we not unite with the Communists against Japan, but Chiang did not take my advice."

Submitted Reform Plan
During the war with Japan, Hsu was Special Civil Administrator, in charge of maintaining peace and order and in keeping up the food supply.

In 1945, he took a teaching post in Chungking in the Central Police College. "Once again I submitted a plan for the reform of China," he wrote, "and once again my plan was rejected. I felt that the central government was growing daily more hopeless, and I foresaw that under the leadership of my old opponent, Mao, the country would soon be red."

From 1946-48 he was a professor of philosophy at Cheeloo University. In 1950, he fled to Hong Kong and is now a fellow of the Institute of Oriental Studies at the University of Hong Kong.

"I want now to give the rest of my life to the cause of freedom and democracy," Hsu wrote. "I do not hold myself blameless for my country's trials—I am guilty because of wrong choices. But now I would like to discharge my debt by serving people in a free country."

Has Written Several Books
Hsu has written several books and has translated four books for the Nanking Theological Seminary. His wife has been commissioner of the women's committee in Hunan and a civil servant in the provincial government. She is a college graduate. Both Hsu and his wife read and write English. Their children are 5, 9 and 13 years old.

Hsu wrote Powers that he would like to become an adviser on Chinese affairs or do research work in the U.S.

"But," he wrote, "I am willing to do anything for which I am physically suited."

Powers pointed out that the deadline under the refuge act is fast-approaching. He said 8-10 months of governmental processing and screening here and abroad are required before a refugee is granted a visa.

Baptists Will Hear Boddie

The Rev. Charles E. Boddie, Religious Emphasis Week Leader sponsored by the First Baptist Church and Roger Williams Fellowship, will preach at the 10:45 a.m. church service Sunday.

His topic will be: "How to Face a Revolution."

He also will be speaker and leader at the Roger Williams Fellowship dinner at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at the Baptist Student Center.

The Rev. Mr. Boddie is now associate director of the Department of Missionary Personnel of the American Baptist Convention Foreign Mission Society.

He is the author of two books, "Giants of the Earth" and "The Basis of the Negro Spiritual," a thesis on Negro philosophy as reflected in Negro songs.

The Rev. Mr. Boddie received his B.A. degree from Syracuse University, N.Y.; his M.A. degree from the University of Rochester, N.Y., and his B.D. degree from Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, N.Y. He also holds an honorary B.D. degree from Keuka College, N.Y.

Little Hawks Lose, 75-62; Swift Stars

By CHUCK ALLEN

Keokuk's choice for All-State, 6-4 center Larry Swift, drove home 31 points to lead the Chiefs in their triumph over Iowa City, 75-62, Friday night.

It was the final game for the Little Hawks and they gave the home crowd a thrill for three quarters before fading under a fine Keokuk assault.

In the first quarter with the score 6-4 in favor of Iowa City, the Chiefs took their first time out of the ball game. After the time out, Keokuk, with the aid of two buckets by Swift, was able to take the lead at the end of the quarter, 14-12.

Run Away

At the start of the second quarter, it looked as if the Chiefs were going to run away with the game. Swift scored eight and Jim Lockett added a free-throw before the Hawklets were able to find the mark.

City High's Jim Luper broke the dry spell with two charity tosses, but Keokuk's Jack Huiskamp scored two and Jim Lockett laid one up on a fast break to give the Chiefs a 27-14 lead halfway through the second quarter.

It was Keokuk's turn to have trouble finding the rim as The Little Hawks scored 12 points and pulled within one point of the Chiefs, 27-26.

For the remainder of the first half, City High stayed close on the heels of the Keokuk five and the halftime ended 33-31 in favor of the Chiefs.

In Contention

City High was still very much in contention at the start of the third period.

Keokuk scored first on a bucket by Don Staggs, and Loras McGuire countered for the Hawklets with a set-shot from 17 feet out.

Keokuk's Swift, who had been a giant under the boards all evening, found the range once again in the third quarter and the Chiefs started to pull away.

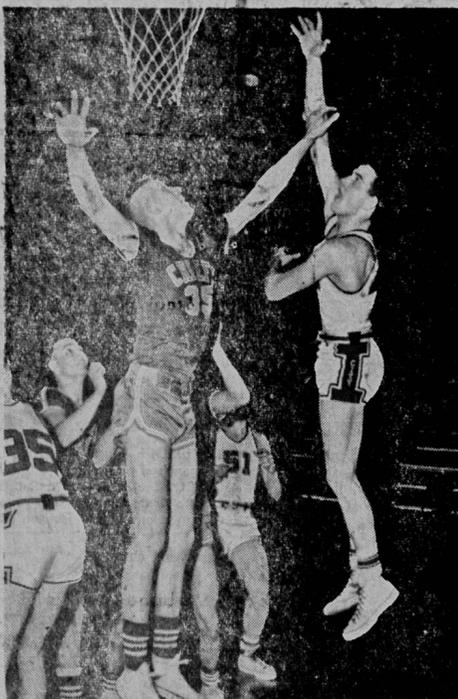

Iowa City was able to withhold the Chiefs mainly on the fine out-shooting of McGuire. With the third period about over the score was 48-47, Keokuk. But Swift scored four and Lockett added two to give the Chiefs the lead at the end of this period, 54-49.

The final half of the fourth period was finished out by reserves of both teams.

UP GOES City High's Jim Luper and makes two points, but that was not enough to give the Little Hawks a victory. Attempting to stop Luper's shot is Keokuk's Larry Swift. Ready to lend a helping hand in the background stands City High's Chapman.

2 Questions Face Santee, Runners

NEW YORK (AP)—The court order to return Wes Santee to the Columbian Mile takes precedence over another events in the 37th New York Knights of Columbus track meet tonight, but Friday's developments left two big questions unanswered.

They are: Will Santee be permitted to run, after all? And, if he is, what will happen to anyone who runs against him?

Jay-Ehret Mahoney, attorney for the Amateur Athletic Union, Friday filed a show-cause order in the Appellate Division asking to have the injunction against the AAU, granted Thursday, set aside.

The injunction, signed by State Supreme Court Justice James McNally, stopped the AAU from enforcing its lifetime suspension of Santee.

Friday's legal action was put on the calendar for this morning and if the AAU position is upheld, Santee will not be eligible to run in tonight's meet.

The Kansas, now a Marine lieutenant at Quantico, Va., was barred Feb. 19 from all amateur competition after a hearing on charges that he had accepted excessive expense money. Judge McNally's injunction rendered that suspension ineffective, pending a hearing next Friday.

Others Protected Although Judge McNally assured Santee's prospective rivals that they also were "under the protection of that order" some of them experienced qualms Friday, in view of earlier warnings from the AAU.

It was uncertain how many of them might run if Santee does.

The AAU ban on Santee also warned that other athletes who participate in meets with him would lose their amateur standing.

Others in the mile field include Fred Dwyer, one of Santee's principal rivals in the past few indoor seasons; George King of New York University and Air Force man Ed Kirk, formerly of Georgetown.

Meanwhile, AAU officials refused to make any statement concerning the possibility of future action against any runners who might race against Santee.

Second Glance

By GEORGE WINE

The trouble with scholars is apt to be a scholarly attitude.

This fact came to light when I ran a recent opinion survey on the outcome of today's Iowa-Illinois game, which is, to some extent, basketball's answer to a television spectacular.

Some of the most brilliant minds on campus were queried. The questions were cryptic, the answers startling.

Q. (To a history student, specializing in Indian culture) How about the Hawkeyes?

A. In general, they were inferior to the Sioux, whose teepees were much more stable.

Q. (To a psychology major, petting his white rat) Do you give Iowa any chance against Illinois?

A. The behavior pattern of the Iowa team in recent games has shown marked signs of schizophrenia. The attitude of the players is constantly changing, thus effecting their ability, which varies between two distinct limits.

Q. (To an agricultural exchange student from ISC) What of Iowa, sir?

A. Hogs mostly steady, good to low-choice steers.

Q. (To a Geology major, putting his rocks away) Will you attend the game Saturday?

A. You bet. I love to dig that dirt at the Fieldhouse.

Q. (To a Dramatic Arts student) Are you watching the Iowa-Illinois game on television?

A. Will they make a movie of it?

Q. (To a Home-Ec major, on her way to the Smarty Party) Will you attend Saturday's game?

A. Does admission require a 3.2 grade point?

Q. (To the Daily Iowan Sports Editor) How are you predicting the Iowa-Illinois game?

A. Are they playing this year?

Before being completely overwhelmed by this survey, you must realize that it is far from extensive. However, there are some strong implications.

Will there be a greater attendance at the library than at the Fieldhouse this afternoon? Will there be enough Phi Beta Kappa keys to go around this year?

Perhaps we should consult George Gallup to learn the answer.

St. Pat's Juniors Meet Sophomores In Intramural Tilt

In the annual St. Patrick's High School intramural basketball tournament the sophomore class will meet the junior class in the finals Monday night.

The sophomores entered the finals by defeating the freshman class, 41-30, and the juniors overwhelmed the seniors, 62-41, for their berth in the championship game.

In the tourney's consolation game, the seniors defeated the freshmen, 44-37.

DeMaret, Bayer In 137 Golf Tie

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Jimmy DeMaret, Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., pulled into a tie with George Bayer, Cincinnati, Friday at the midpoint in the $12,500 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament.

DeMaret finished with a 4-under-par 68 for a two-day total of 137.

Bayer stroked a 2-under-par 70 to go with his 67 Thursday over the 6,450-yard Baton Rouge Country Club course.

One stroke back were Ed Furgol, St. Louis, Shelley Mayfield, Westbury, N. Y., and Buck White, Memphis.

Jackie Burke Jr., Kiamesha Lake, opening day leader with a 7-under-par 65, skyrocketed to 80 Friday to fall out of contention.

Burke was troubled by a bad back.

U. S. Open champ Jack Fleck, Davenport, Iowa, who had a dismal 76 opening round, came back with a 67, including a record equaling 31 on the first nine, for a 143 total. It was the best round of the day.

Big Ten Gives OK To Rose Bowl Pact

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The Big Ten, by a majority conditional vote, went on record Friday as favoring continuation of the Rose Bowl football agreement with the Pacific Coast Conference.

The matter now will be voted upon within the next 60 days by the faculties of each Big Ten institution.

"There are some conditions of the present agreement that must be negotiated," said Asst. Commissioner Bill Reed. "One specifically will be the number of tickets allotted of the Big Ten and the location in the seats."

For the 1956 Rose Bowl game the Big Ten received an allotment of 17,000 tickets.

TV Acceptable The Big Ten also found the NCAA football television program for this year acceptable and authorized an affirmative vote for it in the referendum now under way throughout the country.

The conference voted to pool rights for TV appearances of its teams and sell them, with all receipts being distributed to the Big Ten membership. The distribution, though, will be different from last year's equal shares plan.

The school which originates a national or regional football telecast will receive $2,000 for the extra expenses involved. Also, there is to be a determination of the amount of "hurt" reflected in ticket sales when a game is televised.

Maximum 'Hurt' Reed said that the maximum "hurt" is fixed at $50,000, an amount to be set aside out of the pool. In determining how much of this amount is to be used, a percentage plan will be applied on the basis of stadium seating capacity and the tickets sold for the game.

This same formula of percentage, if it had been used last season, would have run from a zero percentage in four games that were sellouts to 30 per cent of the Indiana-Michigan State game.

Frog Man SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—An aircraft worker gulped pure oxygen Thursday night, then unofficially broke a 39-year-old world record for staying under water without breathing.

James Ray Jordan, 36, lay motionless on the bottom of an outdoor swimming pool for 6½ minutes, friends said.

A world record of 6 minutes, 29 4/5 seconds was set in 1917 by M. Pauliquen of Paris, according to Menke's Encyclopedia of Sports, published in 1953.

Jordan came out when worried spectators beckoned. He said he could have stayed under 7 minutes.

MERKLE DIES

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Fred Merkle, former major league baseball player best remembered for a boner which cost the New York Giants a pennant, died Friday.

Mark W. Curry Jr., of a local funeral home said Merkle died in bed of natural causes but that the family asked that no information be given to newspapers.

St. Mary's Game Shifted To City High

The St. Mary's-Keystone district tournament high school basketball game will be played in the Iowa City High School gym Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The game was originally planned for Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. in the Iowa Fieldhouse.

No other changes were reported in district play in the Iowa City area. The St. Mary's game will be the only one played in the City High gym.

The winner of the St. Mary's-Keystone game will meet the winner of the Wheatland-Shellsburg game. The time and place will be announced later.

The change in place and time were made to facilitate practice sessions of the Iowa track and basketball teams.

Other games scheduled Tuesday include: Tipton vs. Tama, 6 p.m.; Clinton vs. Cedar Rapids Franklin, 7:30 p.m.; and Davenport vs. Marion, 9 p.m.

Hawks Place 26 In Big Ten Finals

In Swimming—

LAFAYETTE, Ind. — Iowa qualified five men and its 400-yard freestyle relay team in the second day of Big Ten swimming championship competition.

Ohio State, the defending champion, strengthened its role as favorite by qualifying eight men and its relay team. Michigan placed seven men and its relay team in the finals to be held today.

Other teams with qualifiers were: Michigan State, five men and relay team; Indiana, three men; Purdue, two and relay team; Northwestern, two; Illinois, one and relay team. Wisconsin and Minnesota failed to qualify men in any event.

Summaries:
50-yard freestyle: 1. Al Kuhn, Northwestern; 2. Robert Pratt, Iowa. Time: 22.8 seconds.
200-yard backstroke: 1. Lincoln Hurring, Iowa. Time: 2:08.4.
200-yard freestyle: 1. Bill Woolsey, Indiana; 2. Tom Jacobson, Iowa. Time: 2:05.9.
400-yard butterfly: 1. Mike Delaney, Michigan; 2. Glenn Johnston, Iowa. Time: 2:15.0. (New Big Ten record—old record 2:13.1, set by Burwell Jones, Michigan, 1953.)
One-meter diving: 1. Don Harper, Ohio State; 2. Jake Quick, Iowa.
400- and freestyle relay: 1. Ohio State; 2. Illinois; 3. Iowa; 4. Michigan State; 5. Michigan; 6. Purdue. Time: 226.9.
Team total: Ohio State 48; Michigan 30; Iowa 24; Indiana 24; Michigan State 21; Illinois 14; Northwestern 12; Purdue 6; Minnesota 0; Wisconsin 0.

In Wrestling—

EVANSTON, Ill. — Michigan's defending champions took an early lead in the Big Ten Wrestling matches Friday night scoring 15 points and placing four men in the finals.

Iowa, also with four qualifiers, had a total of 12 points and Minnesota, undefeated in dual competition, placed two and had 10 points. Purdue and Michigan State followed with 8 points each and Indiana and Wisconsin had 6 each. Illinois scored 5 points and Northwestern had 3.

115 pounds: Terry McCann, Iowa, pinned C. E. Johnson, Purdue (6:55).
137 pounds: Jim Sivadinos, Michigan State, defeated Simon Roberts, Iowa, 3-1.
157 pounds: Mike Rodriguez, Michigan, defeated John Winder, Iowa, 7-5.
167 pounds: Harlan Jenkinson, Iowa, defeated Jim Ellis, Indiana, 3-3.
177 pounds: Gary Kurdelmeier, Iowa, defeated Harold Brownstein, Illinois, 11-5.
191 pounds: Ken Leuer, Iowa, defeated Gil Mescer, Purdue, 5-3.

In Track—

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Iowa qualified eight men here Friday in the Big Ten track championships. They will compete in the final races and field events tonight.

Michigan, favored to win its second straight team crown, and Indiana each landed 10 places to lead in the seven event preliminaries. Best performance of the preliminaries was by Gregg Bell of Indiana in the broad jump. He broke the Big Ten record with a leap of 24' 11 1/2". The record of 24' 7" was held by Purdue's Jewell Daily and was set in 1949.

Phil Leahy qualified for the Hawkeyes in the broad jump behind Bell.

Murray Keatinge, Iowa senior middle-distance man, toured the 1,000-yard course in 2:17.1 for the

First in 28 Years—

Parsons Wins Iowa Cage Title by Forfeit

STORM LAKE — Parsons had its first Iowa Conference basketball title in 28 years today after Buena Vista refused to play a protested game as ordered.

Conference Commissioner Moray Eby, Cedar Rapids, directed Parsons and Buena Vista to replay the game of Jan. 23, which Parsons lost in an overtime 89-87 and then protested.

The Buena Vista College Faculty Athletic Committee Friday decided against replaying the game. Under Eby's decision Thursday, which reversed an earlier announcement by the commissioner,

More Aid Sought For Girls' Teams

DES MOINES — More expense money for competing teams in the State High School Girls Basketball Tournament was asked Friday by a committee of school superintendents.

The 3-member committee — Supts. Paul Simons, Eldora; Steven O'Donnell, Ida Grove, and Amos C. Lee, West Des Moines — presented the request to the Iowa Girls High School Athletic Union.

Wayne Cooley, executive secretary of the union, declined to comment on the request. Current policy is for the union to pay either $500 or $600 to each school for hotel and meal expenses depending on whether the team arrives in Des Moines for practice sessions before the tournament starts. Each team also is paid mileage of 75 cents per mile, one way.

The school superintendents said they originally had intended to ask an increase of $200 to $400 per school, but later decided to leave the amount of the increase up to the union board.

Girls' State Tourney

Garrison 67
Eldora 53

DES MOINES — Led by high-scoring Sylvia Froning, Garrison, a strong challenger from Benton County, rode into the finals of the Iowa Girls Basketball tournament Friday night with a 67-53 victory over Eldora in the first of two semifinal games.

Garrison put the shackles on Eldora's 6-foot pivot forward, Jan Armstrong who had been largely responsible for carrying her mates this far in the tourney. The victors jumped off to a 23-13 lead in the first quarter as Froning hit consistently on baskets and freethrows. Eldora hung on during the second quarter but three straight baskets by Ann Arensburg put Garrison into a 40-31 half-time lead.

Then Garrison cut loose again and built up its margin to 59-44 with a little less than four minutes left. From then on the outcome was not in doubt.

Froning with 32 points and Arensburg with 31 teamed up to pace the Garrison scoring. Armstrong was held to 27 points and the whole Eldora front court was limited to 19 field goals.

Maynard 57
Grafton 54

Maynard clinched a berth in the finals by coming from behind in a tense struggle to squeeze past Grafton 57-54 in the second game of the semifinals Friday night.

Maynard's Glenda Nicholson, who fired a total of 23 points, came through with clutch shots to put her teammates ahead with one minute and 34 seconds remaining the game would be forfeited if one team declined to play.

Has 11-3 Record
If the decision holds, Parsons wins the championship with an 11-3 record — it's the first outright title since 1927. Defending Champion Wartburg and Parsons had tied with 10-4 records.

In a letter to Eby, the Buena Vista Athletic Committee asked the commissioner to reconsider his decision Friday and said: "We believe that the commissioner has no jurisdiction to issue the order." The committee said further the commissioner's decision was "based upon a completely wrong and impossible interpretation of the 'time in rule'."

Won't Reverse
Eby said he feels his decision was "right" and added if the commissioner has no jurisdiction to order a replay "I don't know who does." He said he would not reverse his decision.

George F. Reynolds, chairman of the Faculty Athletic Committee, said if the commissioner's decision stands, Buena Vista will appeal to the conference.

In its protest, Parsons contended the Buena Vista timekeeper erred in starting the clock with one second to play in an overtime. During that second, Buena Vista got control of the tip after a jump ball and scored the winning basket on a 45-foot shot.

Parsons claimed, and Eby upheld it, that it was impossible to complete such a play in one second. Coach O. B. Nelson of Parsons said Friday he was "quite pleased" with winning the championship. However, he said, "We'd rather have played the game over."

Wartburg officials were not available for comment.

after they had trailed through much of the early play.

She tossed in a free throw that gave Maynard a 54-53 margin and then Virginia Hennings got two more charity shots to assure the victory in the last nine seconds.

Ruth Ann Buechele of Grafton who whipped in 53 points in the quarterfinals Thursday night, was held to 30 points by Maynard on seven field goals and 16 charity tosses.

Maynard and Garrison will clash for the title starting at 8:15 p.m. tonight.

Grafton and Eldora will play the consolation game for third and fourth places starting at 6:30 p.m.

He Made It Stevens Overcomes Cold Leaves for Meet

Track co-captain Les Stevens will compete in the high jump today at the Big Ten track meet in East Lansing, Mich.

Stevens was sidelined Wednesday to recover from a "bad cold and strep throat."

Trainer Doyle Allsup said Friday, "Stevens was thoroughly checked this morning, and he was much improved. He was feeling a lot better so we told him he could go."

Leaves by Plane
The senior from Lovilia left Iowa City by plane Friday afternoon for Chicago where he caught a 5:30 plane for East Lansing and the Michigan State campus. He was scheduled to arrive about 7:30 p.m., seconds before the preliminary hurdle events.

The fastest high and low hurdler in the conference according to listed times, Stevens did not compete in the hurdle preliminaries.

Coach Francis X. Cretzmeier told Iowa Athletic Business Manager Francis (Buzz) Graham by phone Friday that he "did not plan to use Stevens Friday night."

"At Least 10 Points"
Cretz said earlier this week that Stevens was capable of picking up "at least 10 points" for the Hawkeyes in the Big Ten meet. These points would have come in the hurdles and the high jump.

The most the Iowa co-captain could win for the Hawkeye thin-clads would be five points, a first in the high jump. He is one of the leading jumpers in the conference with his 6' 6 1/2" jump last weekend at Madison, Wis.

Educators Told Role In Battle of Minds

Educators meeting at SUI Friday were told they are deeply involved in providing the primary materials of U.S. defense in a war for men's minds against communism.

The educators were given this charge by Maurice B. Mitchell, president of Encyclopaedia Britannica Films, Inc., who spoke on "The Classroom Film — A Twentieth Century Challenge to Educators."

Mitchell was the principal speaker at the Audio-Visual Education meeting which was attended by members of the faculty of Iowa State Teachers, Iowa State, Luther, Cornell, Graceland, and Duquesne colleges and from public schools throughout Iowa.

"Ideological Conflict"
"We are being challenged in a world of ideological conflict by a Russian people determined to fight us on our own ground," Mitchell said, "a people which is playing in the world the role we have traditionally played."

Mitchell represented U.S. film producers last September at the UNESCO Conference of Experts to Promote International Cooperation Between Film and Television held in Tangier, North Africa.

The Russians, he said, are pulling away from the United States in their education program. While 2.5 million persons are pursuing higher education in the U.S., he declared, the Russian figure is 70 per cent higher.

Don't Attend College
Yet 200,000 American high school students of college caliber annually fail to go to college, either because they haven't the money or they don't see why they should.

As a result, Mitchell said, U.S. colleges graduate only a fraction of the trained engineers needed to keep up with Russia in the technological race alone.

Russia, he said, is training technicians with 10 years of concentrated schooling. In some Russian cities, such as Stalingrad, the libraries remain open 24 hours a day.

Use of Recorders
In other activities at the conference, a demonstration on the use of the tape recorder in elementary education, was given by R. L. Hill of Kenwood Elementary School in Cedar Rapids. He played recordings made in the Kenwood School classroom. He illustrated use of the recorder in building confidence of children and in the area of speech correction.

John T. Sewell of the Fort Dodge Senior High School played recordings made in his classroom while teaching English.

Soil Commissioner Election Date Set

Election of a commissioner for the Johnson County Soil Conservation District will be held March 15. Johnson County landowners and farm operators may vote between 5 p.m. and 8 p.m.

All owners and operators of farm land lying within the boundaries of Johnson County, exclusive of incorporated cities and towns, are eligible to vote.

Polling place for the election is the Mayflower Inn, Iowa City. Eligible voters residing within the district should cast their votes at the polling place. Those not residing in the district, or who will be absent on the day of election, may apply to the County Auditor for absentee ballots.

Each applicant for an absentee ballot should state his name, residence, location and acreage of land owned, and interest therein.

Nigerian Students Host to Official

Nigerian students at SUI were hosts Friday to O. N. Emeruwa, assistant Nigerian Liaison Officer. Emeruwa is touring the middle western states to meet Nigerian students and discuss their personal, academic and financial problems. "There are lots of opportunities for employment in Nigeria," Emeruwa said, "and Nigerian students who graduate from recognized American universities stand an equal chance with those who graduate in Europe."

5 in School Board Race

Five candidates have filed for two positions on the Iowa City Board of Education, to be elected March 12 for three-year terms. The latest candidate to submit a petition signed by 10 voters before the 5 p.m. deadline Friday was Edward M. Baker, 442 Grand Ave. The other four candidates were nominated by a bi-partisan school board selection committee. They include Mrs. Stephen G. Darling, 431 S. Summit St.; Paul J. Frank, 520 Clark St.; John A. Nash, 504 Grand Ave.; and Earl Y. Sangster, 1106 E. College St.

Groups Talk On Integration

How best to make racial integration in public schools an actuality as well as a Supreme Court decision kept nine discussion groups busy Friday at the Intercollegiate Forensic Conference at SUI. With students from Kentucky and Texas institutions working earnestly with Iowa, Illinois, South Dakota and Missouri discussants, a number of 50-word resolutions were being prepared to be "legislated" upon today. Students from Murray State College in Kentucky and Abilene Christian College in Texas reported no "great resistance" to integration in their localities as in Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. Four students from Texas Southern University, a Negro institution in Houston, took part and reflected attitudes ranging from "Let's go slowly" to "Let's move faster" toward equal privileges in education.

SUI Receives 12 Bids for Insurance

SUI will award an insurance contract for approximately $17 million early next week. Twelve proposals for fire and extended coverage insurance on certain SUI buildings were received at the SUI Business Office by the 5 p.m. deadline Thursday. Evaluation and study of the proposals is now underway. A decision is expected early next week. Bids were asked for insurance on buildings and contents not provided for by appropriated funds. These buildings include dormitories, the athletic plant and the Iowa Memorial Union. Value of the buildings involved, on a replacement cost standard, is estimated at $17 million, while the contents on an original cost less depreciation basis is set at $1,280,000. Structures built with appropriated funds are not covered by insurance.

Daily Prayer Services Set at Danforth Chapel

Worship services for all students and faculty will be held at 5 p.m. Monday through Friday in Danforth Chapel. The 15-minute devotional periods are sponsored by the Student Christian Council and will be led this week by Westminster Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church. The YWCA will be in charge of music.

New Atom Tests To Begin in April

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Atomic Energy Commission announcement Thursday indicated a new series of nuclear weapons tests in the Central Pacific will begin sometime after April 20. The commission said that after that date safety precautions would be established over a 375,000-nautical-square-mile danger area surrounding the Eniwetok proving ground. AEC Chairman Lewis Strauss has said the forthcoming series of tests would involve weapons "generally smaller" in power than those of 1954.

Saved Three Brothers, Sister—

Official Praises Young Heroine

Ruth Ann Griffin, 8, who saved four brothers and a sister from their burning home Jan. 20, was presented with a letter of commendation Friday from State Fire Marshal Ed J. Herron.

Iowa City Fire Chief Al Dolezal presented the letter to Ruth Ann Friday morning. It read:

"Your brave deed in the rescue of your brothers and sister from a fire in your home has endeared you to all those in the fire service.

Fire Marshall Proud
"I do not think anyone can do more in this world than to willingly sacrifice their own life in order that others might be saved, and I am sure that you will have the undying gratitude and admiration of all the citizens of Iowa for all time.

"As state fire marshal, I feel very proud and humble to send this letter of congratulations on your very brave deed.

"May God bless you and keep you always."

Praise Ruth Ann

On Jan. 20, Ruth Ann led three younger brothers and a sister out of their blazing home at 532 Olive St., then darted back into the smoke-filled building to rescue her 9-month-old brother. She was overcome by smoke while carrying the baby through a downstairs room, but was rescued by Iowa City firemen.

The blaze destroyed the entire house and contents.

Friday the young heroine, a second-grader at St. Patrick's school, was all smiles over the honor. Her father, Daniel C. Griffin, said, "We think she did something wonderful. This sure is a nice letter, too."

Her mother added that they were "very proud" of her.

"The family is now living at the home of Mrs. D. J. Gatens, 1019 S. Linn St. Griffin said they are building a new home at 532 Olive St. It is expected to be completed about May 1.

RUTH ANN GRIFFIN, 8, who saved her brothers and a sister from a fire that destroyed her family's home on Jan. 20, is presented a letter of commendation from Iowa State Fire Marshal Edward J. Herron. Presenting the letter is Iowa City Fire Chief Al Dolezal.

Eastland Gets Senate Post Despite Revolt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Friday squelched an attempted revolt against its seniority tradition by approving the election of Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.) as chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

The action came swiftly after Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) and Sen. Herbert Lehman (D-N.Y.) had objected that Eastland was disqualified by prejudice in civil rights matters. They cited Eastland's repeated criticism of the Supreme Court ruling against segregation in the public schools.

Their objections were shouted down when the Senate, by a voice vote and without a record roll call, accepted the Democratic Steering Committee's recommendation that Eastland succeed to the chairmanship left vacant by the death this week of Sen. Harley Kilgore (D-W.Va.).

Uphold Custom

The Senate thus upheld its custom of filling committee chairmanships according to seniority, since Eastland was the next ranking Democrat on the group.

Protests came from the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People and other organizations against elevating Eastland to what Morse called the "driver's seat" of a committee handling civil rights legislation and judicial appointments.

The 51-year-old Eastland, who has been in the Senate since 1941, is an unyielding foe of racial integration.

Denounce Action

After the vote, which had not been expected until Monday, the NAACP's Washington director, Clarence Mitchell, denounced the Senate action.

Eastland has called on the white people of the South to organize a massive "grass roots" campaign to resist racial integration. He said in a speech at Montgomery, Ala., on Feb. 11 that it must be "a just and legal fight," without violence.

He contended the Supreme Court's desegregation decisions "were dictated by political pressure groups bent upon the destruction of the American system of government, and the mongrelization of the white race."

Support for Eastland personally and the seniority custom in general came also from Senators Alben Barkley (D-Ky.), Thomas H. Kochel (R-Calif.), Allen Ellender (D-La.), John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) and Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.).

Sen. James Eastland Tradition Wins

Election Blocks School Merger

A proposed vote to incorporate part of the Morse Independent School District into the West Branch Community School District has been blocked by a recent election held in West Branch, County Superintendent of Schools Frank J. Snider reported Friday.

The proposed incorporation of the Morse School District into the West Branch and Solon districts has been postponed until 1957.

The Solon district is postponing its vote until it can consider several other areas.

The Morse district covers four square miles and would be divided between the two districts according to the wishes of the residents. Available bus routes will determine the division.

Former SUI Student Wins 'Miss Drake' Title

DES MOINES (AP)—Marilyn Shonka, 20-year-old sophomore from Pocatamos, Friday night was named "Miss Drake of 1956."

She was selected from five finalists by bandleader Richard Maltby. Miss Shonka was a runnerup in the judging last summer for the title of Miss Iowa of 1955.

Duke of Windsor's Ex-Guard Shot

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Maj. Philip Attfield, 46, former bodyguard of the Duke of Windsor and Sir Anthony Eden, was found shot dead Friday in the apartment of a Cypriot girl who had refused to marry him.

Police ruled out foul play. Attfield for 26 years was attached to Scotland Yard. He was a bodyguard for the Duke of Windsor at the time of his abdication as King Edward VIII. He was bodyguard for the present Prime Minister Eden on his honeymoon in Portugal in 1952.

Attfield had been assigned to the special branch of Scotland Yard in Cyprus last October.

Iowa State Plans Addition to Union

AMES (AP)—Architects are now working on plans for a $400,000 addition to the Memorial Union at Iowa State College.

It is hoped to get the work started this year. The extension would consist of two floors over the south terrace of the Union.

The ground floor would be occupied by the campus book store. The main floor would consist of an extension of South Ballroom to serve as a multi-purpose dining, meeting and recreation area.

No state funds will be used in the construction or operation of the Union addition. The Union is a separate corporation operating on its own resources.

STUDENT LOSES DIAMOND

Claudia Johnson, A4, Rockford, Ill., told police Friday she lost a lady's diamond ring sometime after Wednesday. The ring was described as having a one-quarter to one-half carat solitaire stone set in an old-fashioned gold band.

Honorary Cadet Colonel Presented

Honorary Cadet Colonel Janet Stanzel and Cadet Colonel Roger Wiegmann

Janet Stanzel Voted Honorary Colonel

Janet Stanzel, A4, Sac City, was presented Friday as Honorary Cadet Colonel at the 54th annual Military Ball at SUI.

Miss Stanzel was selected from a field of ten finalists by a popular vote of the entire cadet corps of Army and Air Force ROTC students. As Honorary Cadet Colonel, she will attend all military reviews on the SUI campus during the remainder of the school year.

The 21-year-old student of elementary education represented Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority, of which she was president last year. She also is a liberal arts representative to the Student Union Board.

Four honorary lieutenant colonels were named to serve as aides to Miss Stanzel. They are Janet Hall, A4, Iowa City; Joby Rankin, A4, Tracy; Barbara Work, A4, Home-wood, Ill.; and Mrs. Rodney Miller (Marilyn Ray), A4, Park Forest, Ill.

Miss Stanzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stanzel of Sac City, was presented at intermission of the ball by Cadet Colonel Roger Wiegmann, A4, Waverly. Wiegmann is student commander of the ROTC cadet corps at SUI.

Says $5 TV Tube Could Help Range

WASHINGTON (AP)—An electronic tube the size of a lead pencil eraser costing $5 may be one answer to improving television service throughout the nation.

Paul L. Chamberlain, general manager of the General Electric Co. broadcast equipment section, said it is an offshoot of a tube developed for highly secret military uses.

He told the Senate Commerce Committee, studying television problems, that the tiny tube could quadruple the effective range of an ultra high frequency (UHF) television station. The tube is not in commercial production yet.

Bar Ex-Legislator From Law Practice

A three-judge court has ordered a year's suspension of the license to practice law in Iowa of Elmer Pieper, 69, former state legislator from Waukon.

The Iowa Supreme Court clerk's office said Friday the ruling was handed down by District Judges H. D. Evans of Iowa City, Floyd Philbrick of Cedar Rapids and M. L. Sutton of Clinton.

The three judges found that Pieper, as referee of an estate, improperly withheld funds from distribution "for an unreasonable time and without the consent of the parties entitled to the funds."

The funds have been turned over to the proper parties, the court noted.

Pieper served six terms in the Iowa House, ending with the 1951 session.

ISC To Alter Armory

Iowa State College at Ames will spend $200,000 in improvements to the Armory. Construction of 3,500 permanent bleachers and cement flooring will begin after the basketball season.

Boy, 6, Dies in Fire

Keith Lundvall, 6, Wapello, burned to death late Thursday night when he apparently became lost in the smoke as fire destroyed his farm home near there.

His father, Lewis, awoke about 11 p.m. and was choking from smoke. He awakened his wife and together they tried to get their seven children from the house. They could find only six of the children.

The boy's uncle, Harry Lundvall, who lives nearby, entered the burning house in an attempt to find the boy.

Plan New Courthouse

The Board of Supervisors of Cedar County has announced that plans be drawn for construction of a new courthouse at Tipton.

A recent grand jury had criticized the building's appearance, wiring and general condition. The Board of Supervisors plans to call a special election no later than June, 1958. Petitions are being circulated asking for plans for a new county building be drawn.

Sitter Steals Diamond

A 15-year-old girl baby sitter from Des Moines Friday was charged with grand larceny after police said she admitted taking an engagement ring valued at $1,250 from a home where she was baby sitting.

The ring, a 1 1/2-carat diamond stone with four smaller stones on a platinum band, was returned to its owner Friday.

Arraign Escapees

Two military prisoners who escaped from the Polk County jail Monday night, were arraigned Thursday night before Justice of the Peace Al Hoard on charges of breaking jail.

They waived to the grand jury and are being held in jail here under $2,000 bond each.

They are Charles T. Hoover, 22, of Newton and Leroy J. Stewart, 22, of Cedar Rapids.

Two other prisoners who escaped at the same time are being held by Detroit authorities.

Harold's Club Sold in Reno

The biggest money maker in Nevada, Harold's Club, was sold Thursday night for 14 million dollars — cash.

The gambling casino, the largest in the world, was purchased by a San Francisco property-management firm headed by Jules J. Agostini Jr.

Besides acquiring the club's 70 gambling games and over 300 slot machines, the firm now possesses the club's parking garage, a trap-shooting country club, a million dollar motel, several warehouses, and ranchland near Reno.

Included in the purchase are the more than 2,500 "Harold's Club or Bust" highway billboards throughout 41 states.

The club, founded as a family corporation by Harold and Raymond A. Smith and Harold's former wife Dorothy in 1935, has an income of more than $8 million annually.

Of its income, the club pays about one-half a million dollars in gambling taxes to the state of Nevada.

Club officials estimated that more than 75 million persons have passed through the club's doors since it was first opened in 1935.
