

Mrs. Darling and Baker Elected to City School Board

Mrs. Stephen G. Darling and Edward M. Baker were elected Monday to 3-year terms on the Iowa City Board of Education. Mrs. Darling, one of four candidates nominated by a bi-partisan school board selection committee, polled the most votes.

Your SUI Elections - -

Only 1/4 of SUI Students Vote

By ELLEN FERNANDEZ

Student Council all-campus elections, March 21, which in past years have drawn as few as a quarter of the number of students eligible to vote, this year will use campaigning on campus, in housing units and in the Iowa City area to try to spark student interest.

Election Reminder

Deadline for filing pictures and platforms for all-campus at the Student Council Office in the Iowa Memorial Union is Wednesday at 5 p.m.

A picture of each candidate and a summary of his platform will be used in The Daily Iowan before March 21.

Roan's Plan To Add 130 Parking Spots

City Manager Peter F. Roan Monday night expanded his plan to increase parking spaces in Iowa City.

Action by city council was deferred on the plan, which could add 100, and possibly 130, parking spaces on the city's streets.

The program, still in the tentative stages, calls for widening Jefferson Street from Capitol to Gilbert about 17 feet on each side to permit head-in parking in place of the parallel parking now being used. The 100 spaces would be gained in this area, Roan told council members.

Cost of this expansion has been estimated at $33,312, Roan said. The project would be financed from the parking meters installed in the area.

In addition, Roan said, there is a possibility the same widening could be done in a block-and-a-half area on Madison Street, from Washington Street to a point between Burlington and College Streets. Cost of this would range from $6,000 to $7,000, the city manager reported. This would mean an increase of about 30 more spaces.

In other action Monday, the city council set April 9 as the date on which action will be taken to issue $18,149.66 worth of bonds to cover last fall's street improvement program.

The figure represents the part of the cost which has not yet been paid by assessments. Cost of the project, which is now completed, is covered fully by assessments, but these levies are payable over certain periods of time. The bonds issued in April will be paid off when the assessments are eventually paid.

The improvements were made on Seventh Avenue Court, Pine Street, Governor Street and Ginter Avenue.

The council provided that taxpayers mail file objections to the issuance by 7 p.m., April 9.

Council Lets Sewer, Bridge Contracts

Floyd E. Neff, Monroe, was awarded the contract for construction of the trunk line sewer along Lower Muscatine Road Monday by the Iowa City Council.

Neff's low bid on the project was $105,606.53. City Manager Peter F. Roan reported at the council meeting that Neff is planning to begin work this week in order to complete the project as close to May 1 as possible.

The council also awarded the Woolf Avenue bridge construction to Olinhart Engineering, Toldville, on its low bid of $59,062.50.

The sanitary sewer will start at a point near the Procter and Gamble drug products plant on Lower Muscatine Road. It will be designed to serve the plant and to relieve overflow pressure in the housing development areas in the east and southeast areas of Iowa City.

The cost of the project will be returned to the city through use of tapping fees. In addition, Roan told the council Monday that the Procter and Gamble Company had agreed to pay $15,600 toward construction of the sewer.

Sewage flow from the plant, now about 280,000 gallons per day, is expected to reach 650,000 gallons a day in the future.

The bridge project, involving replacement of the present wooden structure over the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City railway line and Highway 6, will be financed jointly by the State Highway Commission, Crandall and the city.

The new steel and concrete

Students will have a chance to vote for 10 campus groups. The elections are set up by the Student Council to give the groups a method of electing officers and representatives, especially where the entire student body is eligible to vote.

Most of the participating groups set up their own election rules and decide on a slate of candidates within the group. In other groups, a student wishing to be on the slate contacts the organization and then follows the procedures it has set up and files his own candidacy papers.

Candidates for Student Council seats from Town Men, Town Women and married student housing file a petition of candidacy containing 25 signatures.

All other Student Council representatives, except those from the three groups, are chosen by vote within their electorates. Town Men will vote for two representatives to the council; Town Women, one; and married students, two.

FRANK and John A. Nash, received 338 and 325 votes respectively. Votes cast on the east side of the city by voters of the Third, Fourth and Fifth wards at the Junior High School Gymnasium included 240 for Frank and 189 for Nash.

Ballots counted at the SUI Communication Center, where voters of the First and Second Wards voted, showed a total of 98 for Frank and 136 for Nash.

Two other candidates, Paul J. Sangster, withdrew from the race last Tuesday, but his name appeared on the ballot as there is no specific procedure providing for withdrawal from a school district election. He received 37 votes at the Junior High gym, and 16 at the Communications Center.

A total of 905 ballots were cast—the second lowest turn-out in seven years. Ballots cast in school district elections in other years were 1,040 in 1955, 1,406 in 1954, 3,063 in 1953 (when voters also voted on a $795,000 bond issue), 840 in 1952, 1,134 in 1951, and 933 in 1950.

Of the 538 ballots cast at the Junior High gym, 14 were rejected for illegal marking. There were 22 rejected ballots out of the 367 cast at the Communications Center.

Mid-afternoon readings Monday ranged from the teens in the north to the 20's in the south. The highs today are expected to be in the lower 30's in the south. Wednesday should be partly cloudy and a little warmer, the weather bureau said.

The State Highway Commission reported Monday that highways throughout the state were normal, except for some icy spots around Spirit Lake.

The two weather requirements for launching the first "Skyhook" balloon were satisfactory at 1 a.m. today, and Frank McDonald, research associate in the SUI Physics Department, said the balloon would be launched.

"That is, it will be launched unless the weather changes by 6 a.m.," he said.

The weather requirements for launching are that there be ground winds of less than 11 miles an hour at the launching site, the Iowa City airport, and good visibility there and where the balloon is expected to land, near the southern tip of Lake Michigan.

The Winzen Research Company of Minneapolis, Minn., will launch the balloon and track it to its destination by a light airplane and truck.

On this flight, Lawrence Cahill, G. Bangor, Me., will have apparatus to measure the earth's magnetic field in the balloons path and will record signals from a transmitter in his equipment from a transmitter in the SUI Physics Building.

McDonald said the balloon should rise to about 23 miles high and could be seen from a distance of 50 miles.

The board said the action against Wilson was taken after a review of his activities "in the demonstrations and disturbances on the University of Alabama campus on the evenings of Feb. 3 and 4, and on Monday, Feb. 6, 1956."

The board of trustees has also considered his unwarranted and outrageous public attacks made since Feb. 6, 1956 upon the integrity of the president and faculty and officers of the university, the statement added.

Fair and warmer

In spite of sunshine and light variable winds, temperatures over Iowa remained low Monday. But fair and warmer weather is due today and Wednesday, the Weather Bureau said.

Strike Halts All Work on Tense Island

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greece Monday asked the United States to intervene in the bitter dispute over Cyprus.

Foreign Minister Spyros Theotokis announced the government is making vigorous representations to Washington over recent developments on the British eastern Mediterranean island colony.

Cyprus was paralyzed by a spontaneous general strike Monday. With the exception of a few Turkish-owned shops, virtually all civilian activities in the British island colony were shut down.

No individual or organization called the strike protesting the exile of Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Enosis (union-with-Greece) movement, by the British last week. Stores, banks, public utilities, schools and military construction projects closed down. Even taxi drivers stopped work.

Heavy patrols of British troops quickly put down attempts at demonstrations in most parts of the island.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said in response to the Greek request that the United States expects to make "certain recommendations" on the issue after "carefully studying all aspects."

Theotokis announced his government's move shortly after Premier Constantine Karamanlis called for decisive U.S. intervention. The Premier said:

"The West is handling the Cyprus issue as if it is butting Russia's toast."

Moscow radio promptly reinforced the premier's words. In a broadcast heard in Western Europe, the radio claimed the Cyprus dispute is "seriously weakening" the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

At the United Nations, Italian Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino told newsmen Italy would be glad to mediate between Greece and Britain in the dispute.

In Greece, the Enosis movement has been supported by a violent campaign waged by Greek-origin Cyprits for the right of self-determination that would lead to eventual union with Greece.

Britain has promised the Cyprits a large measure of self rule but refused to give up the strategic island completely. The last British bastion in the Middle East, Cyprus is the headquarters of British Forces in the East.

Young Iowa City Beauty Meets Hoegh

KATHY CHADIMA, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Chadima, 814 Rundell, Iowa City, and Johnny Hoppe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hoppe, Cedar Rapids, were among the 12 pre-school age handicapped children to visit Governor Leo Hoegh Saturday. The children participated in the kick-off of the Easter Seal drive which started Saturday. The drive will end April 10. At present, Kathy is the only child being helped by the Johnson County Easter Seal Foundation. She is receiving physical therapy treatment at the Cedar Rapids Easter Seal pool.

Alabama U. Expels Student Mob Leader

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—A White Citizens Council leader was expelled and 24 other students punished less severely Monday by the University of Alabama for participation in mob action against Autherine Lucy, the school's first Negro student.

The university Board of Trustees announced the expulsion of Leonard R. Wilson, 20, Selma, Ala., sophomore; suspension of four students and lesser and undisclosed punishment against 20 others.

Wilson had criticized university authorities for their handling of the Lucy case.

"This student's (Wilson's) conduct and charges represent far more than the mere exercise of his right freely to debate the question of segregation," the trustees said in a statement.

Wilson is president of the West Alabama Citizens Council here. It is a pro-segregation group.

Sources close to Wilson indicated he would turn to the courts, as Miss Lucy has done, in an effort to gain readmittance.

It was believed he would file his action in the state instead of the federal courts where the Negro case has been an issue for 30 months.

The board said the action against Wilson was taken after a review of his activities "in the demonstrations and disturbances on the University of Alabama campus on the evenings of Feb. 3 and 4, and on Monday, Feb. 6, 1956."

Congress Hot Over South's Declaration

WASHINGTON (AP)—The racial integration issue set off an oratorical North-South conflict in Congress Monday, with the submission of the new Southern manifesto.

The debate began when Sen. Walter George (D-Ga.) formally presented the manifesto signed by 19 senators and 77 House members from 11 states.

It says the Supreme Court decision of 1954 outlawing segregation in public schools was "a clear abuse of judicial power" and pledges the signers to do everything legally possible to overthrow it.

THIS IS THE REBELLIOUS MEDITERRANEAN ISLAND of Cyprus, now paralyzed by a general strike as part of the campaign of demonstrations against the British. It is 140 miles long and 40 miles wide at its widest point. It has a population of about 500,000. It has been a British colony since 1925, after British administration since 1878. Main port cities are Larnaca, Famagusta and Limassol, with a network of highways converging on the capital, Nicosia.

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan is an independent daily newspaper, written and edited by students. It is governed by a board of five student trustees elected by the student body and four faculty trustees appointed by the president of the university.

The Iowan editorial staff writes its editorials without censorship by administration or faculty. The Iowan's editorial policy, therefore, is not necessarily an expression of SUI administration policy or opinion.

The Iowan, in the terms of a policy statement adopted by trustees in 1946, "will try to act as a good citizen of the SUI community and the community of Iowa City. . . . The Daily Iowan conceives its owners to be the whole constituency of the University, past, present and future. It will endeavor to hold the good of the University in trust for these owners. . . ."

The Legion's Noisy Leaders

For years, for no known reason, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) has been under fire from the American Legion.

The Legion leaders claim that UNESCO is Communist-dominated and spreads Communist propaganda under the shield of the United Nations.

UNESCO is probably the most useful of all branches of the United Nations. It promotes and coordinates activities designed to provide higher standards of living, solve international economic, social and health problems, and promote international cultural and educational co-operation.

It depends much upon organizations within member nations of the UN. One of these is the United States Commission for UNESCO, a group of 100 persons representing various private organizations and local governments.

About two years ago the American Legion set up a committee to investigate the charges made against UNESCO by its leaders. Ray Murphy of New York, former national commander and former Iowa Legion commander, headed it.

The Murphy committee reported that the loose charges against UNESCO were unfounded and that the organization was doing much useful work.

This, it was thought, would end the attacks upon UNESCO. It didn't.

The Murphy report was ignored and, by a voice vote, the convention voted to ask congress to abolish the United States National Commission for UNESCO.

Iowans can be proud that the Iowa delegation to the convention went on record as solidly against the anti-UNESCO resolution.

The attacks on UNESCO have continued. Just last week J. Addington Wagner, national commander of the American Legion, called upon congress for another investigation of UNESCO.

It's hard to explain the conduct of the American Legion toward UNESCO and other international organizations.

Perhaps the best explanation is that

Another Murder, Another Chance

Many southerners said after the Till trial ended that its verdict was caused by the pressure put on by northerners. The men might have been convicted, they said, if the northern press had not focused so much attention upon it and sent a flock of reporters to cover it.

A few days after the Till trial had ended, another shooting took place in the same Mississippi county in which Emmett Till had been kidnapped. It involved a white man and a Negro, Elmer Kimbel, 34 (a friend of Till killers Roy Bryant and J. W. Milam) shot Negro filling station attendant Clinton Melton, 33. Kimbel said Melton had threatened him. Melton's employer said that no threat was made. The employer said the Negro was shot because he gave Kimbel a full tank of gas after he had asked for only two dollars worth.

The story has received little or no play in northern newspapers. Last week a grand jury indicted Kimbel on a charge of murder. His trial will be held soon in the same summer courtroom in which Emmett Till's murderers were acquitted.

Mississippi will get a second chance to show the world whether its laws apply equally to white and Negro.

Death Ends Hazing

Several years ago fraternities on the SUI campus and at other institutions took part in initiation week activities known as "hell" week. It included a ritual of humiliating, unnecessary, childish, and sometimes physically harmful stunts that seemed to serve no good purpose. Fraternities at SUI and elsewhere finally gave up these initiation practices, which had brought much public criticism.

Public attention was focused on fraternity initiations once more last month when an 18-year old freshman at Massachusetts Institute of Technology drowned as the result of a hazing stunt. He was taken into the country on a blindfolded ride, let out of the car, and ordered to find his way back to town. He fell into a reservoir and drowned trying to find his way.

Colleges around the nation, put in the spotlight by the publicity, took steps to remind fraternities of bans on hazing (as at SUI) or took steps to end hazing practices altogether.

MIT fraternities last week voted to outlaw hazing and improve fraternity initiation practices. Isn't it too bad that it took such a serious incident as the death of a student to put an end to such silly practices?

Quick Quotes

THOMAS R. MARSHALL (Woodrow Wilson's vice-president) — "Once there were two brothers. One ran away to sea, the other was elected vice-president, and nothing was ever heard of either of them again."

NORMAN CAMPBELL (in "What Is Science") — "If it were really true that 'history repeats itself' there would be no history. History is the record of events which have not repeated themselves and the proverb — like almost all proverbs — merely represents an attempt to obtain, by an epigrammatic form, credence for an assertion which nobody would otherwise believe."

ROBERT PLUMB (New York Times staff) — "Scientists are ready to apply automation to the management of the home. But they cannot decide whether the master switch should be marked 'his' or 'hers.'"

DAN BENNETT (columnist) — "Think no evil, see no evil, hear no evil — and you will never write a best-selling novel."

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER of Vice-President Nixon — "Never has there been a vice-president so well versed in the activities of the government."

SENATOR WAYNE MORSE (D-Ore.) — "It's the American people that are going to have to do the dying if Dulles stumbles off the brink, and I have no confidence in his footing and equilibrium."

LIBERACE — "I can't give myself completely to any girl. The public also has its rights."

MARILYN MONROE — "Don't talk about a new Monroe, I hope to go on being photographed in swim suits as long as I have the shape to fill them."

POPE PIUS XII — "The crusades were nothing compared with what we face today — they were a simple quarrel between monotheists."

WILLIAM IBBET (British Commander) — "Nine hundred and ninety-nine women out of a thousand cannot abide snakes. This has always seemed a little odd to me since they have so much in common. Women possess all the more likable characteristics of serpents — the same subtlety, the same propensity for getting around things, and, of course, both capture their prey by fascinating him and thus rendering him powerless."

PUNCTUALITY (Marvin Brown, Ellsworth News) — "If you are late then try to be punctual — because punctuality is an art of not being later than anybody else."

Foreign Bases Big Problem Facing U.S.

By J. M. ROBERTS, Associated Press News Analyst

The United States is now confronted with a specific test-tube example of one of her great world problems — how to fit the needs of herself and her allies for foreign bases into her traditional policy of self-determination of peoples. Greece has stated the problem succinctly. If the United States is going to be the leader of the free world she is going to have to assume certain responsibilities for helping settle its quarrels.

THE LAST TIME the United States got involved in something like this in a big way was in the Anglo-Egyptian dispute and, in somewhat different fashion, in Indo-China.

In Egypt she hoped to ameliorate angry differences by getting Britain to give up her military base there, despite British treaty rights. After that, she hoped Egypt would see her way clear to cooperate with the West. It hasn't worked.

NOW THE UNITED STATES is promising to make some recommendations to the disputants over Cyprus. She will be trying to do something without getting in trouble with three of her allies which are directly involved — Britain, Greece and Turkey. Relations with these allies, however, are no more important than the reaction which will be produced among other peoples who are floating in the limbo between colonialism and stabilized governments of their own.

Washington's first thought is that negotiations must be resumed through which "a government truly representative of the people of the island" may be produced.

THIS SKIPS OVER the vehement demands of Greece and some of the Cypriots for annexation to Greece. It also skips the Ankara stand that, while Turks on the island are a minority, Turkey will fight rather than see them annexed. Turkey wants the British to keep Cyprus or give it to her. Britain has been trying to make one of those arrangements which so seldom turn out well, similar to arrangements tried by the French in North Africa, by which she would stay on the island, establish a semiautonomous government and start work toward ultimate self-government.

THE CYPRIOTS REFUSED, and intensified their campaign of terror even while the negotiations were going on. Whereupon Britain deported the chief exponent of Greek Annexation, Archbishop Makarios.

Now the American hope for new negotiations faces the obstacle that there's nobody to negotiate with and the anti-British feeling has been solidified. A large part of Britain's own press is accusing the British government of blundering. In that atmosphere, any finger the United States puts into the pie is likely only to get mashed.

Editorial Questions 'Iowa' Hawkeyes

(Chicago Tribune) Do not be confused by the IOWA which the Hawkeyes have emblazoned across their chests. Only Center Bill Logan of their regular starters attained his present height by watching the tall corn grow. Carl Cain is from Freeport, Milton Scheuerman from Rock Island, Bill Seaberg from Moline, Bill Schoof from Homewood, and the No. 1 substitute, Bob George, from Deerfield. The other evening, when Iowa got Northwestern on the run early, three more Illinois boys came off the bench to join in the sport. On the squad that started the season, nine players came from Illinois and seven from Iowa.

Except for one young man from Terre Haute, who hasn't broken into a box score to our knowledge, the Illinois squad is all home grown. Northwestern also has a natural claim to Illinois material, and more than half of its squad of valiant losers hail from Chicago and its suburbs. Dance Group Demonstrates Techniques to Grade Children

By ELEANOR BENZ

The scene: a grade school in Iowa City.

The time: during the school day. Teachers usher their children into the gymnasium and they noisily sit on the floor in tight little formations facing the stage. None of them knows quite what to expect, except that they have been told some members of the SUI Orchestis Club are going to tell them about modern dance.

A hush falls over the attentive audience as Dallas Kinney, A2, Buckley, comes out on the stage dressed in his dance costume of black.

Space, Time, Energy

He begins to talk, and as he explains about the components of dance — space, time, and energy — other people appear on the stage to demonstrate the things he says.

One of the dancers moves about the stage very slowly. Then he does the same movements much faster. This, explains Dallas, is tempo.

Three or four dancers form a line and chug out on stage. "This is a train," says Dallas. "But the train seems to be having trouble getting started." He asks the children to help it out, and they all make chugging sounds. The train begins to move. Movement requires energy, says Dallas.

Leaps, Pirouettes

Dancing sometimes takes up a lot of space, explains Dallas as he leaps about the stage. But it can also be done in a little bit of space, and he does a pirouette in place, to prove it.

This is just the first half of the program produced by members of the Orchestis Club to acquaint the children of Iowa City with modern dance. In the past few weeks the program has been presented seven times at various grade schools, reaching about 2,000 children. And they aren't through yet!

Club members decided the place to start building interest in modern dance was with grade school children. Too many people think it is something only those with adult intelligence can grasp. The club decided to prove this is wrong.

Gyms Replace Macbride

So this year grade school gyms have taken the place of Macbride Auditorium and 30-minute programs with child-participation have taken the place of the annual Orchestis show for the public.

Choreography is a big word for first-graders to swallow but the second half of the dance program is designed to help them understand it.

It is divided into six short dances

TWO KINDERGARTEN STUDENTS at Horace Mann School watch eagerly the Indian dance that was part of the demonstration of modern dance techniques given by the Orchestis Club at their school recently. Dancers are Mrs. Gaylord A. Treadway of the Physical Education Department and Linda Sweet, A1, Central City. The long-braided watchers are Sara Jane Swamer, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Swamer, and Janie White, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul White.

that Orchestis members have invented. The first is a squaw dance done to the rhythm of a poem, read by Dick Briglia, A2, Erie, Pa.

Next, Dallas asks the children if they have ever sung a round. Dances can be done in rounds too, he explains, and four dancers do a minute in this form.

Gymnastics

Gymnastics are incorporated into the next dance, in which Dallas portrays a clown.

"Skip to My Lou" has a folk quality and is danced by four club members.

The children sing the accompaniment to a cowboy dance by D. A. Gurnsey, A3, Albion.

The program closes with a prop dance in which audience participation is at a high pitch. The scene is a lion hunt. The props include a wastebasket which represents a tree, a drum to indicate a bush, and sticks to show guns. The children's imaginations run wild and so does the lion, who chases the narrator right off the stage.

This is the most pantomimic of all the dances, said Mrs. Gaylord Treadway, and "hams that we are, we play it for all its worth."

Miss Baker Wins Mortar Board Award

Mary Jane Baker, A4, Iowa City, received the Margaret Fowler memorial award of $100 at the Mortar Board Smarty Party in the River Room of the Iowa Memorial Union Saturday.

The annual award is made to a member of Mortar Board on the basis of her scholarship, leadership, service, contribution to Mortar Board, and contribution to her own education. The recipient is chosen by the three officers of the local alumnae group and the advisers of the SUI chapter of Mortar Board.

Miss Baker is vice-president of Mortar Board, chairman of French Club, on the Panacea Board, and a member of Phi Delta Phi, honorary French organization.

In 1954 she was one of 20 Guest Editors chosen from 700 Mademoiselle College Board members to work on the college issue of the magazine. Mademoiselle also bought an article of hers which they published last year.

Approximately 200 girls who received 3.0 grade points or better last semester attended the annual luncheon. Recognition was given to girls who attained a 4.0 grade point last semester.

Theme of the Smarty Party was "Raucous Caucus," and a convention skit was presented by members of Mortar Board.

Doodles by Dean Cartoon Book Contest

"Revenge, at first though sweet, bitter ere long back on itself recoils."

And a free copy of the "Doodles by Dean" cartoon book to Robert E. Cormier, G, 400 Finkbine Park, for this week's winning caption. He had a lot of competition because over three-fourths of the entries hit the revenge angle.

We suspect that crafty Bob plagiarized his caption from some old English writer, but that's all right. It shows the value of a college education. That boy will go places if he can put literature to practical profit in his later years. Someday he may win a milk refrigerator and an all-expense-paid picture in the magazines. Well, there are two more weeks for you to win a free copy of "Doodles by Dean" cartoon book by writing a caption for the above cartoon. After we've given away the free copies, the rest of the books (about 4,000 'em) will be on sale at your favorite book store for a single dollar, each that is.

Send your entries for next Tuesday's contest to the Doodles by Dean Cartoon Book Contest (DDCBC), 711 E. Jefferson, Iowa City, Iowa.

GRADUATES

in Engineering, Mathematics, Physics

LOCKHEED CORPORATION

- California Division
- Georgia Division
- Missile Systems Division

representatives MONDAY, MARCH 12
will be on campus TUESDAY, MARCH 13
to discuss your future in Lockheed's expanding research and development. For interview see your Placement Officer

All three divisions of Lockheed are engaged in a long-range expansion program in their fields of endeavor.

California Division activities in Burbank cover virtually every phase of aircraft, both commercial and military. 46 major projects are in motion, including 13 models of aircraft in production—extremely high-speed fighters, jet trainers, commercial and military transports, radar search planes, patrol bombers. The development program is the largest and most diversified in the division's history.

New positions have been created for graduates in: Aeronautical, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering and Mathematics and Physics.

At Lockheed in Marietta, Georgia new C-130A turbo-prop transports and B-47 jet bombers are being manufactured in the country's largest aircraft plant under one roof. The division is already one of the South's largest industries.

In addition, advanced research and development are underway on nuclear energy and its relationship to aircraft. A number of other highly significant classified projects augment the extensive production program.

New positions have been created for graduates in: Aeronautical, Civil, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering and Mathematics and Physics.

Missile Systems Division in Van Nuys, California

specializes in the technology of guided missiles. Its research and development cover virtually every field of scientific endeavor, and offer engineers and scientists problems of increasing complexity.

Positions are open for B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. candidates in: Aeronautical, Electrical and Mechanical Engineering and Mathematics and Physics. In addition, a scholarship program leading to M.S. Degrees has been established for those able to qualify for graduate standing.

Separate interviews will be given for each division. Your Placement Officer will arrange an appointment for you.

DEACON DAVIS OFFERS some free advice to his ex-teammate, Hawkeye forward Carl Cain Monday in the Iowa Fieldhouse. Davis, who has just completed one year of playing for the Globe Trotters, tells Carl that the Trotters have shown much interest in the Iowa forward.

'Deac' Back to Alma Mater, Tells About Life as 'Trotter'

By DAVE STEVENS
Iowa's second straight entry in the National Collegiate basketball tournament brings to mind the slogan: "NCAA, Iowa all the way."

Iowa's post-season activity also brings back to the campus the originator of that slogan, McKinley (Deacon) Davis.
The "Deac" visited his Alma Mater Monday, working out with his ex-teammates in the afternoon. If anything, he looked sharper than when he wore the Black-and-Gold.

Trotters Good for Him
Undoubtedly, one year of Globe Trotter basketball has been good to Deacon. His basketball ability has been polished, his bank account increased, and his future brightened. But he is still the same old Deac, ready to flash the big grin.

The Trotters are high on Davis. Abe Saperstein signed him up on the College All-Star tour last spring and then farmed him out for two weeks.

It took the lanky kid from Freeport, Ill., just 14 days to learn "the system," as Davis refers to the Trotters' brand of ball.

Tries Three Positions
Saperstein tried him out at all three positions before deciding to move Deacon up the parent club.

Payne Lost For NCAA

Tom Payne, reserve forward on the Iowa basketball team, will be lost for the remainder of the season because of a leg ailment, team physician, Dr. W. D. Paul, said Monday evening.

The Quincy, Ill., sophomore has thrombophlebitis, roughly described as a blood clot.

Payne has played in eighteen games so far this year, averaging three points per contest. Early in the season, when regular guard Sharm Scheuerman was hospitalized with a back injury, Payne won a starting position.

as a reserve pivotman.

"I picked up the system pretty easily," Davis said. "I had a good background in basketball under Bucky O'Connor here at Iowa. And my own style of playing was not much different than the Trotters' style, so I didn't have much trouble."

"However, I had never played under the pattern of the Trotters. They have the pivotman, who is usually the clown man. You know, the funny guy. Then, there is the 'corner' man and three out front."

Mainly a Substitute
"Right now I am playing all the positions, but mainly as a substitute for Center Bob (Showboat) Hall, our showman. I play about one or two quarters a game, every night of the week."

"I do not do any of the clowning yet, but Saperstein probably has it in mind. Leon Hillard does a lot of comics. The rest of us play straight ball and just go along with the gags."

Davis confided that the Trotters are very interested in Carl Cain, Iowa's springing forward. "They know how close we have been since our high school days, but I'm not trying to sell Carl on the Trotters. I'm just giving him the straight dope on our team and what I have learned from

2,000 Tickets Left For NCAA Tourney

About 2,000 general admission tickets remain for the Friday and Saturday sessions of the National Collegiate midwest regional basketball tournament at the Iowa Fieldhouse Friday and Saturday.

Francis Graham, business manager of athletics said that the starting times of Friday's games are later than for Saturday's contests.

On Friday, Kentucky plays Wayne of Detroit at 7:30 p.m. and Iowa meets Morehead State at 9:30 p.m. Saturday the consolation game starts at 7 p.m. and the championship game at 9 p.m.

Wheeler Stars at Journal Track Meet

Ted Wheeler turned in the best performance for the Iowa track team at the Milwaukee Journal track meet Saturday night when he toured the collegiate mile in 4:12.8.

Two other mile events were run—one involving Iowa's Charles (Deacon) Jones, the other Wes Santee, former Kansas track star.

Jones was third in the invitational mile with a time of 4:15.5. Bill Tidwell of Kansas State won the event with his 4:10.7 time. Santee, competing against one other runner, crossed the line in 4:10.5.

Third Place
Jack Mathews picked up a third place in the high hurdles with his time of :06.2, one-tenth of a second off the winning time by Abe Woodson. The time of :06.1 is a world's record for the 50-yard event.

Caesar Smith was edged out of second place in the 600-yard run and placed third with his time of 1:14 flat. Murray Keatinge, competing in the 1,000-yard run, fell on the track and finished fifth and last.

Coach Francis X. Cretzmeyer said Monday that he did not know what happened to Keatinge in the race.

Fell on It
"He didn't fall off the track but fell on it," the Iowa coach remarked. "He was in fourth place when he fell."

Les Stevens, co-captain of the Hawkeye squad, tied for fifth in the high jump with a leap of 6' 4 1/2."

Gardner Van Dyke tied for sixth in the pole vault. He jumped 13' 6" and missed three times at 14', the next height. The Rev. Bob Richards won the pole vault at 15' 2", the 91st time he has done better than 15 feet.

Iowa's mile relay team in a blanket finish with Notre Dame and Indiana placed second.

Individual times in the mile relay were: Tom Ecker, :50.5; Gastonia Finch, :50.8; Ted Wheeler, :49.9; and Caesar Smith, :49.6.

A seven-man team will represent Iowa Friday night in Cleveland, Ohio, in the Knights of Columbus meet.

The mile relay team will meet Indiana, which placed third in the Journal meet, and Syracuse.

To Oppose Ashenfelter
Deacon Jones will oppose Horace Ashenfelter, 1952 Olympic steeplechase champion, in the 2-mile run.

Ted Wheeler will run the mile and Murray Keatinge will run in the 1,000-yard event.

The relay team of Ecker, Finch, co-captain Ira Dunsworth, and Smith will probably run.

Cager Logan Says He Does Not Own Plane

"I don't own an airplane," basketball tri-captain Bill Logan said Monday.

"It is true that dad (Bill's father) flies up to the basketball games, but he doesn't own the plane, either," commented the senior center from Keokuk. "The plane belongs to the bank."

Bill's father is a banker and financier in Keokuk.

Bill continued his comments about the airplane by saying, "That plane that I had my picture taken in didn't even have wings on it. The rest of the planes were in the hanger (at the Iowa City Municipal airport). I don't know whether the plane even had a motor in it."

Commenting on news stories about himself and his basketball teammates, Bill said, "When they (newspapers) stop talking about you, you have a legitimate gripe. As long as we are getting publicity we don't care."

Morehead Downs Marshall, 107-92

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Morehead's top-scoring Eagles overpowered Marshall, 107-92, and set a new little Wayne DePaul, 72-63, in first round games of the NCAA basketball tournament Monday night.

The two winners will go to Iowa City for second round play Friday. Morehead and Marshall, one-two in the national scoring picture, lived up to their billing as they matched fast breaks. It was the third victory of the season for Morehead, the Ohio Valley Conference champion, over Marshall, the Mid-American Conference winner.

Wayne gave away inches in height but outfought DePaul in the first game.

Kircher Trades Grid For Griddle at WSC

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—Al Kircher, a big-time football coach planning spring practice just a year ago Monday, has switched from the T-bone steak and loves every bit of it.

Ask To Fine Golfer Ford

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—PGA tournament director Ray O'Brien has recommended that Doug Ford be fined $1,000 for "conduct unbecoming a player," the official said Monday.

The recommendation was made by O'Brien to the tournament committee which will meet Tuesday at St. Petersburg, Fla.

It was the outgrowth of an argument which followed a protest by Ford against slow play by Mike Fetcheck in the third round of the Pensacola Open Saturday. O'Brien overruled the protest.

Fetcheck, from Mahopac, N. Y., played a threesome in front of Ford's threesome.

Ford, the 1955 PGA champion, of Kiamasha Lake, N. Y., charged that O'Brien was not enforcing regulations against slow play in the tournament.

Second Glance

By GEORGE WINE

AN IRATE READER, apparently taking seriously my recent remark about Iowa State, sends the following message:

"Iowa lost to Colorado — Iowa State took Colorado for a ride three times. Iowa looked sick against Nebraska — Iowa State blew Nebraska off the court last week.

"So perhaps Iowa is lucky that Iowa State didn't get an NCAA berth.

"I do feel that ISC could have won the Big Ten even though they are only second best in their own conference.

"Iowa State had an 18-5 record.

"Iowa had a 17-5 record.

"Yes, Iowa is fortunate they don't have State on their schedule."

(signed) Dick Christiansen, D1

MR. CHRISTIANSEN, of course, is treading on dangerous ground by the mere suggestion of an Iowa-Iowa State game. This is traditionally taboo conversation, not to be uttered while the federal boys are around.

Fortunately, however, it is still legal to theorize about the possible outcome of an Iowa-ISC contest, which Mr. Christiansen most profoundly does.

If, as we might assume, Dick is a transfer student from our neighboring college of culture, we can readily understand his sentiments.

On the other hand, if he's not an ex-ISC man, it raises a weighty question. Namely, are there Cyclone sympathizers among us?

DICK'S LETTER contains some valid points, but I must take issue with one of them.

Nearly any athletic argument can be won by the use of comparative scores, and anyone who uses this underhanded method in a heated debate is, in my opinion, sluffing off.

A few years ago a newspaper man with a great insight for the ridiculous juggled a handful of football scores until he came up with the conclusion that Wartburg could beat Notre Dame.

This struck like a bombshell in South Bend. "Bring on Wartburg," howled Frank Leahy. But Wartburg stayed home.

YET WE ARE STILL faced with the perennial problem: could Iowa beat Iowa State? Or, more significantly, could Iowa State beat Iowa?

The question lies open to discussion. The reader can drop a card—no phone calls accepted—and take his pick.

Fans Riot As Temple Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Cohen hit on a field goal 10 seconds before the final buzzer to give Temple a 74-72 victory over Holy Cross Monday night and to touch off a minor riot as the spectators attacked the game officials at Madison Square Garden.

The wild opening game of the 2-day Eastern sectional tournament wound up in a tumultuous scene after the referee disallowed a goal by tall Tommy Heinsohn of Holy Cross just as the game ended.

Spectators rushed onto the court and pushed Referee John Stevens and Umpire Vic Vi Vlasio into the aisle, tossing punches at them in the process. It was several minutes before the court was cleared.

Vi Vlasio ruled that the red light over the goal had gone on while Heinsohn held the ball, but the noise was so great that no one heard the buzzer.

Heinsohn, a former three-sport star at Michigan State, was once head basketball and assistant football coach there.

He has 16 cabins and can feed 45 in his dining room. There are eight stools in the sandwich shop for the coffee trade, the people who want to talk football with the boss.

"I'm out of it but I talk about it if they want to," he said. "I've had two coaching offers but I'm through."

Manager Lopez, Look to Your Laurels

Cleveland Pitching on Downgrade—Bosox, Chisox Up

(This is another of the articles by Daily Iowan Sports Editor Paul Jess about major league baseball clubs and their present chances.)

By PAUL JESS

The Cleveland Indians, only American League club besides the Yankees to win a World championship in the last 10 years, face the '56 season with a bit less than enthusiasm.

No club official ever predicts a bad finish, but manager Al Lopez had better look to his laurels this year, what with Boston and Chicago looking better than ever.

The "Big Three" that used to be the "Big Four" didn't function as a unit like it has in the past, Mike Garcia came up with an 11-13 record while Bob Lemon and Early Wynn both failed to post 20 wins.

The Indians are either going to have to come up with at least two good rookie pitchers or the "Big Three" will have to get back on the winning trail if the Tribe is to have a good finish this year.

Wynn 36, Lemon 34 and Garcia 32, are not young enough to compete with hurlers like young Herb Score, 22. Bob Feller seems just about out of the picture at 37.

Rookie pitching talent is better than average for the Tribe, and could probably make good if given the chance. It remains to be seen whether the front office will go along all the way with the old timers or begin a youth movement.

Veteran Pitching The veteran Indian pitching staff isn't all washed up, but its days are numbered, the cards are on the table this year.

Evidently sensing the pending crisis, the Indians have seven full-fledged rookie pitchers on their spring roster, but only two real prospects.

Henry Aguirre, who came up from Indianapolis late last year shows real promise for the Cleveland club. The 24-year-old lefty showed up very well with the Indians, getting two wins and yielding only 1.38 earned runs.

"Nothing" Pitcher Buddy Daley, 22, one of those "nothing" pitchers, had an 18-16 mark for Sacramento last year. Daley is a left hander who rarely lets someone else finish what he starts. Getting out of tough spots is his specialty. He's what the brass refers to as a "brainy" pitcher. Has a good knuckleball.

The only other rookie with a chance is 25-year-old Dick Tomaneck who is back for a second major league try. In 1955 with Indianapolis, Tomaneck only had a 7-13 record, but he fanned 125 batters.

The Indians still have Jim Hegan, generally regarded as the best receiver in the business, but he can't hit. Hegan swatted out 220 last season. 11 points off his lifetime average.

Trying for a Spot Vern Grace and Al Jones are the rookies this year trying for a spot on the catching staff. They both have hitting difficulties and probably won't stick. Hank Foles and Hal Naragon will be around, too.

In the infield Lopez will try Chico Carrasquel at short in hopes that the form which gained him fame — then disappointment — at Chicago, will be the former in Cleveland. Chico was criticized last year for not having hustle, something which former Cardinal, Marion, would not tolerate.

Bobby Avila should have a better season than last year, when his average slipped 69 points to .272. Al Rosen says he is through with injuries which last year held him to .244, and Vic Wertz is presumably OK again after his row with polio.

Time Will Tell Cleveland could be very good or very bad in the infield, only time will tell.

If Carrasquel doesn't make the grade at short, the Indians may try 27-year-old Bill Harrell who played 11 games with Cleveland last fall and hit .421. He had a bad year at Indianapolis last season, but in '54 he hit .307. Other than Harrell, the Indians have no impressive infield rookies.

Can Jim Busby do well in the outfield, well enough to make up for Larry Doby, that is?

Outfield Could Be Strong The outfield could be the Indian's strong point if the newcomers, Busby and Gene Woodling, can cut the mustard. A surge by Dale Mitchell

The guessing game is on again: Lopez vs. the front office vs. the box office, a three way game, and if the manager fails to guess properly, a good guess is he will be club at the tail end of the season.

Coach Tells of Grid Tactics

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Former Head Coach Ivy Williamson of the University of Wisconsin Monday said work on a balanced attack is the most vital thing in football.

Williamson, now athletic director at Wisconsin, said the pass is most important at the university today.

It's necessary to throw passes in the Big Ten, he said, unless every player on the team weighs about 210 pounds — and players that size "don't go to Wisconsin."

He told the more than 600 high school and college coaches at the start of the annual National Football Clinic that the most important thing to look for in prospective players is "natural speed."

Blocking and tackling can be improved through coaching, Williamson said, but not speed.

The key to Wisconsin's past football fame, he said, has been the fullback. Williamson paid particular tribute to Alan (The Horse) Ameche, former Wisconsin star now with the Baltimore Colts.

The 4-day clinic ends Thursday.

Number of City Building Permits Rises

Building permits issued from the city engineer's office rose to 26 during February — an increase of two over the January total.

The big increase came in permits for residential construction as the city's home-building boom continues. Twenty-one were issued during the month, compared to only 12 in January. Total construction costs for the 21 new homes is estimated at $275,120. General construction permits issued decreased from January.

Estimated cost of homes for which permits were issued during January was $161,000.

Total Estimates
Total construction estimate for the February permits was listed at $283,820, compared to $233,250 in January.

Home construction permits during February were triple the number issued in February, 1955. Estimated home building costs during that month totalled $93,500.

Home construction permits issued in 1955 reached an all-time high in Iowa City with 289 new home permits — estimated value $3,896,805 — being issued. Since the January, 1956, figure was double that of January, 1955, another record year is indicated for the city.

12th Month

February is the 12th consecutive month in which the number of home construction permits and estimated cost exceeded those of the comparable month of the previous year.

In addition to permits for residential construction, permits were granted last month to convert a residence into a duplex, build a lumber storage shed, enclose a screened-in porch, building a garage and construct a car port.

U-High Band Gives Concert Tonight

The University High school band will present a concert at 8 p.m. today in the U-High gymnasium.

Frederick C. Ebbs, director of U-High bands, will be guest conductor. William Plezta, U-High band director, is in charge of the concert.

Special numbers of the program will be a piano concerto featuring a solo by Sieg Schoenbohm, an oriental dance to "Persian Market" by Carol Hawkins, and "The Sandpaper Ballet," a pantomime featuring Peggy Stilwell, Robin Porter and Pat Rouse.

The band will travel to Cedar Falls Friday for an exchange concert with the Cedar Rapids High School band.

To Present Stevenson Group Queen Friday

Eight semi-finalists for Mecca queen were chosen Saturday from a group of 18 candidates. A committee of three students and four faculty members judged candidates on beauty, poise and personality.

The semi-finalists will be presented at a Mecca smoker Thursday night in the River Room of SUI Memorial Union. Beard contest winners also will be announced at that time.

On Friday night the queen and her court will attend the senior-faculty banquet with their dates. The Mecca ball will follow the banquet in the main lounge of the Union.

City School Board Will Meet Tonight

The regular monthly meeting of the Iowa City Board of Education will be tonight at 7:30 at the Junior High School.

A routine meeting, including committee reports and teacher appointments, has been planned. The two newly-elected board members have been invited to attend, but will not take office until the reorganization meeting next Monday.

Stevenson Group To Hold Kick-Off

The kick-off meeting of the Students for Stevenson club will be at 8 p.m. Thursday in Shambaugh Lecture Room, University Library.

Membership in the group is open to anyone supporting Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination. The club is an independent organization, not affiliated with the Democratic party.

Stanley Karson, executive assistant to the national Stevenson for President committee, will speak at the meeting. Karson represents the Chicago headquarters which coordinates all Students for Stevenson clubs in the country.

The group will discuss the possibility of sending a caravan of SUI students to Stevenson's home in Libertyville, Ill., to ask him to appear at SUI this spring.

Mrs. Elliot Full, Democratic county vice-chairman, will speak on the precinct and county caucuses, registration and voting.

Bob Simpson, A1, Ottumwa, will speak on Stevenson, his policies and the issues in the presidential election this year.

The group plans to hold a series of rallies with speakers and do some canvassing of votes. Tom Offenburger, A4, Shenandoah, acting chairman of the organizing committee, said.

FIREMEN'S BALL

Tickets to the annual Firemen's Ball scheduled for April 19 at Moose Hall went on sale Monday. The tickets may be purchased from city firemen. Proceeds will go to the firemen's welfare fund.

Physics Talks End at SUI

The largest theoretical physics conference ever held in the midwest ended here Saturday afternoon after 16 papers were presented.

Held at the Iowa Center for Continuation Study Friday and Saturday the conference included 46 theoretical physicists from 11 states and 23 institutions.

Industry In Roads

"We are very grateful to Prof. Josef Jauch, Prof. F. Rohrich and Prof. Fritz Coester for their arranging of this conference since industry is taking many of our physicists," Prof. Arnold Siegert of Northwestern University said. "This conference and future ones can help to keep us together in the midwest."

'Clanging' Noises

When asked of their criticisms of the conference, the physicists said they did not have any. However, there was criticism that is familiar to Iowa City people from two foreign students.

Vladimar Wataghin, from Italy, a research associate at the University of Illinois said the heater in his room made "clanging" noises periodically.

Kurt Symanzik, from Germany, research associate at the University of Chicago, said the water taste here in Iowa City was "unthinkable" and the next time he attends a conference here, he wants to be on TV.

The physicists agreed unanimously that there should be a midwest theoretical conference every year.

Weekend Accidents Injure 2 Persons

Two persons were injured, neither seriously, in accidents in Iowa City over the weekend.

William Grace, 18, Tiffin, was gashed on the forehead when he fell out of a truck driven by Larry D. Bowers, 16, Saturday. Grace was riding in the open box of the pickup truck and fell when it rounded a corner at the intersection of Madison and Bloomington Streets at 11:30 p.m.

Christie Sue Lockard, year-old daughter of Lyle Lockard, Clinton, was treated at Mercy Hospital for a bump on the head when her car driven by her father collided with an auto driven by Prof. James P. Curtis, 1303 Keokuk St., at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. The two vehicles collided at the intersection of Gilbert and Market Streets.

Democratic Pre-Caucus Dinner Today

Democratic candidates for state, district and county offices will attend a Democratic pre-caucus dinner at 6:30 tonight in the Jefferson Hotel. About 200 are expected to attend.

The Johnson County Democratic Central Committee, sponsors of the dinner, have invited all announced candidates for nomination to attend.

Those who plan to attend are: L. E. Plummer, Northwood, and Herschel Lovelace, Ottumwa, for governor; Edward Fitzgerald, Des Moines, for state attorney general; Lumund Wilcox, Jefferson, for U.S. senator;

Attending Dinner

Daniel Donald, Stockport, Henry McCullough and Dale Milnes, Davenport, and Ronald Bramhall, Keokuk, for United States Congress; Jack White, Iowa City, and John O'Connor, Lone Tree, for State Senator; Scott Swisher, Iowa City, for State Representative;

George J. Eiseheid, Norwalk, for state auditor; R. N. Miller, Iowa City, for court clerk; George D. Callahan, Iowa City, for county coroner; James B. Gaffney, for district court judge; John H. Dana, Iowa City, for constable; Walker Sheldahl and Frank Burns, both of Iowa City for sheriff; C. J. Hutchinson, Iowa City, for justice of the peace;

William Kanak, Iowa City, for county auditor; J. E. Pechman and Marvin Stahl, both of Iowa City, for county supervisor; and Lumir Jansa, Iowa City, for county treasurer.

O'Malley To Speak

State Sen. George O'Malley, Des Moines, will be the featured speaker. His talk is entitled "It's Past Time for a change in Iowa."

O'Malley served as minority leader during the last legislative session and is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Iowa lieutenant-governor.

William R. Hart, former county chairman, district committeeman and United States district attorney, will be master of ceremonies for the dinner.

Others Attending

Other prominent Democrats who will attend the dinner are: Jake More, state Democratic chairman; Donald Mitchell, Ft. Dodge, national committeeman; Alberta Kelly, Nichols, national committeewoman; LaMar Foster, Cedar county chairman; Fred Neumann, Jefferson County chairman; and Oren Hagen, Iowa County chairman.

Also attending will be Lee Gaulek, Davenport, First District Committeeman, and Mrs. Jack White, Iowa City, First District Committeewoman.

University Briefs

FAUNCE TALK — SUI Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce will speak on "Promoting Personality Growth in the Schools" at the 20th annual guidance conference at Western Michigan College March 17. His talk will be one of the two featured addresses on the program.

COMMENTATOR — Prof. Leslie G. Moeller, director of the SUI School of Journalism, will be a commentator at a communications conference March 20-23 at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis.

DEBATE BROADCAST — A debate between one of the "superior" and one of the "excellent" teams of the Intercollegiate Forensic Conference recently at SUI will be broadcast at 10:40 a.m. Wednesday by Radio Station WSUI, heard at 910 kilocycles. Arguing the question of the guaranteed annual wage, the Loras College Affirmative was one of six to earn a superior rating. Their opponent on the WSUI tape recording is the William Jewell College (Mo.) Negative, one of 12 to earn excellent ratings.

RESEARCH STEPS — Steps for increasing experimental research in child psychology are outlined in an article in the March issue of Child Development by Prof. Boyd R. McCandless and Prof. Charles C. Spiker of the Iowa Child Welfare Research Station. McCandless is director of the research station.

PRINTS EXHIBITED — Mauricio Lasansky of the SUI Art Department has four intaglio prints on exhibit in the second biennial exhibition, "Fifty Contemporary Printmakers," at the University of Illinois. The exhibit is scheduled to last through March 25.

Groundwork Laid For City Theater

A Community Theater for Iowa City was brought nearer to reality Sunday with the preliminary organization of the Iowa City Community Theater Council, a group of citizens united to promote the development of an Iowa City community theater.

Results of preliminary investigations by the Iowa City Recreation Commission into the possibilities of a permanent community theater were presented at an open meeting Sunday, attended by 27 persons.

Appoint Officers

The group appointed temporary officers and study committees to proceed with plans for the immediate production of a one-act play for the Iowa Play Festival, to be held at SUI April 6-7.

The group also authorized the drawing up of plans for a permanent organization, under whose auspices at least one full-length play will be produced later this spring for the public.

The play selected for the festival production is "27 Wagons Full of Cotton" by Tennessee Williams. Director of the play and time and place of try-outs will be announced later.

The purpose of the organization, the council said, will be to provide an opportunity for residents of Iowa City and SUI students to participate in the activities of recreational theatrical nature.

Membership will be open to all residents of Iowa City and the surrounding area, including University students.

Some Limitations

"Some limitations probably will be placed on the participation of students, but the nature of these limitations will be announced after further study and meetings of the organizational committee," a council statement said.

"We hope to fill what many have felt to be an unfortunate and unnecessary vacuum in the recreational life of Iowa City." It added that "Heretofore, the situation has been that the natural ham resident in many of us hasn't had much opportunity for home curing."

Chairman Named

At the group's preliminary organizational meeting Sunday, James Wehr, 302 Stadium Park, was named acting chairman and Mrs. Murray J. Shapiro, 3 West Park Road, acting secretary.

The Recreation Commission is supplying funds for initial costs of organization and for the festival

Henry Ford Says He OK'd Fund for Ike

WASHINGTON — Henry Ford II acknowledged at a Senate inquiry Monday that he okayed the solicitation of Ford dealers for Eisenhower campaign funds in 1952. But he said "I don't like pressure of any kind on any matter," and that as far as he knew there were no "reprisals or recriminations" against dealers who refused to contribute.

Chairman Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) commented that it could be construed as "indirect coercion" to solicit money in such a manner in 1952, a Korean War year, when dealers were dependent on a share of the short supply of cars for their livelihood.

No Pressure

Ford testified he approved plans of his personal assistant, Allen W. Merrell, to ask "strong Eisenhower supporters" among Ford dealers to solicit GOP political contributions from other Ford dealers.

Ford added that no heat was put on the dealers, no company funds were used in the solicitation and no other company personnel were involved.

The head of the Ford Motor Co. described himself as a strong Eisenhower supporter and told the senators he plans to raise funds this year.

Asked for $1,000

Milton Ratner, a Chicago Ford dealer for 20 years until he lost his franchise in 1955, has told the subcommittee he was asked to contribute $1,000 to the Eisenhower campaign in 1952 and informed "the office of Henry Ford" wanted $50,000 from the Chicago dealers.

Merrell was a member of the Republican National Finance committee when he got his chief's approval to solicit Ford dealers.

Probe Breakins Admitted by 4 Local Youths

Investigation will continue today on a series of breakins dating back to January admitted Monday by four Iowa City teenagers.

Three of the youths were arrested Sunday near Hills driving a stolen car. The youths at first denied the breakin charges, but confessed when newspaper clippings of the incidents were found in the billfold belonging to one of the boys. A fourth juvenile was also implicated in the breakins and car prowlings, although he did not take part in the car theft.

The boys, whose names were not disclosed, have admitted five house prowlings.

All will be charged in juvenile court with delinquency. Detective-Lieut. Harland F. Sprinkle said Monday. All the boys are 14 or 15 years old and City High School students.

The loot, which police termed mostly "small stuff," included a camera, necklaces and religious medals, knives, hunting and camping gear and other objects.

Highway Patrolman Richard Reddick arrested three of the boys at 1:30 a.m., Sunday riding near Hills in a car registered to Charles Vermaec, Iowa City.

Reddick said he stopped the car because the driver appeared to be

NA REED STORY

Demo Hopeful Views Iowa Liquor Policy

By BILL KNOWLES

Liquor itself is not a moral issue, but rather over-consumption of liquor is the moral principle with which the Iowa legislature must deal, John O'Connor, candidate for state senator, said Monday.

Addressing a meeting of the SUI Young Democrats, the Democratic candidate of Johnson and Iowa counties said that Iowa should be concerned with such crimes as drunken driving and plain drunkenness, rather than whether liquor is "sold by the barrel, bucket, bottle, or shot glass."

Revenue for educational purposes would probably be increased by adoption of liquor-by-the-drink, he said, but most residents would probably oppose use of increased liquor tax revenue for education with an "emotional, I-won't-have-my-child-educated-with-liquor-money attitude."

O'Connor declared that government in Iowa is in a "state of stagnation." Iowa is failing to keep up with the educational, economic and social gains of the nation, he said.

Proof of this stagnation, the Lone Tree farmer claimed, is in Iowa's school district organization, Nebraska, Iowa, and North and South Dakota have four per cent of the nation's population and 25 per cent of its school districts, O'Connor said.

Noting that citizens often vote down school bond issues because they fear an increase in personal property taxes, O'Connor proposed that money for schools should come not only from property taxes, but also from state income taxes which are scaled on a citizen's ability to pay.

"Lack of reapportionment is the greatest betrayal ever perpetrated on the people of Iowa," O'Connor asserted. "In some districts the inequality is 12 to 1; I believe it is 5 to 1 in this area."

"The state's problems will never be answered until the people have a fair voice in the legislature," he continued.

Industries are staying out of Iowa because of the state's inadequate labor laws, O'Connor said. The so-called "right-to-work" law which renders a closed union shop illegal in Iowa keeps industry away because industrial leaders would rather bargain with a well-organized union than with individual employees, he added.

★ ★ ★ BIDS REJECTED

The bids of five firms on the Iowa City service building were rejected by the city council.

All bids were considerably higher than the $37,000 estimated cost of the project. The city's architect was told by the council to revise plans for the structure to fit the original estimate.

Lowest bid on the project was a $45,440 base bid submitted by Burger Construction Co. of Iowa City. Lowest bid on electrical work was $2,880 by Jackson Electric Company of Iowa City. The low base bid on plumbing and heating was $5,195 by Eckoff Plumbing and Heating of Iowa City.

When a $6,490 bid on additional trunk storage area is included, the lowest possible cost of the project — as determined by the bids — would be $60,005. This is more than

Army To Increase Summer Draft Call

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is preparing orders for the early release of 8,000 draftees in June, one month after the draft call is scheduled to jump from 6,000 to 12,000.

These apparently conflicting decisions were reached for different reasons and neither the early release nor the higher draft quota will be continued for long.

3 Charged with Window Breaking

Three SUI students face charges of malicious mischief in Iowa City police court Saturday in connection with window breakins at the St. Thomas More Chapel, 405 N. Riverside Drive.

The three are: Donald C. Middlebrook, 18, A1, Des Moines; George W. Milani, 18, A1, Centerville; and John A. Tweed, 20, A1, Des Moines.

They are arrested by police Sunday and are scheduled to appear at 8 a.m. Saturday to answer to the charges.

Film on Australia To Be Shown Here

Naturalist and wildlife photographer, Alfred Bailey, will present "Stepping Stones to Australia" at the Iowa Mountaineer travelogue at 7 p.m. Sunday in Macbride Hall.

Bailey, who is director of the Denver museum, will give a film-lecture about the romantic tropical islands which lie along the air route to Australia.

Admittance to the travelogue is by Mountaineer pass or tickets. Single admission tickets are 80 cents for adults and 50 cents for children.

50 per cent higher than the original estimate on the building.

The new structure was planned to consist of two parts: A group of offices, washrooms, utility and tool rooms, and an attached shop and storage building.

The two new buildings would be used to house service city equipment, which at present is stored in several places throughout the city.

Other bidders included: Viggo M. Jensen Co., Iowa City; R. H. Wildman Co., Iowa City; Barrows Construction Co., Coralville; and Farrington Construction Co. of Iowa City.

Thomas Electric Co., Iowa City, on the electrical work and Mulford Plumbing and Heating Co., Iowa City; Boyd and Rummelhart of Iowa City; Larew Co., Iowa City, on the plumbing and heating work.

Elections—

clubs, sororities and fraternities must be elected within the groups and their names submitted to the Student Council office by the March 21 election date.

Popularity Contest

"In other years, candidates for many offices have expressed no definite platform or ideas," Sandra Miller, A3, Davenport, elections committee chairman, said. "It was difficult to judge between candidates; the election sometimes becomes a popularity contest."

"We hope campaigning rules will encourage candidates to state their policies," she said. "Then students will be able to compare them with other candidates and see if they follow their campaign promises."

"The elections committee hopes that all candidates will appoint campaign managers, though they are not required," she said.

Larry Popofsky, A2, Oskaloosa, and Ann Berner, A2, Ft. Dodge, are in charge of elections' campaign rules.

Individual campaign expenditures are limited to $30. No governing body of an electorate can contribute to the campaign fund of a candidate.

Election Rules

Student Council candidates must be full-time students or be carrying the maximum number of hours permitted graduate assistants or others employed in some other university capacity.

They must have a cumulative grade average equal to the requirements for graduation in their college and must run as a candidate from the electorate in which they are now living or plan to live in the following school year.

Barbara Gates, N2, Quincy, Ill., of the elections committee, is in charge of checking candidates' eligibility.

This year campaigning in housing units between 5:30 p.m. and 7 p.m., on campus and in the Iowa City will be permitted from March 14 to 20.

Candidates will be encouraged to place their platforms before the students in campaign posters on campus and in Iowa City.

Elections committee publicity chairmen are Sheldon Rosenfeld, C4, Des Moines, and Elliott Gellman, A2, Richmond Heights, Mo.

Election Day

On election day qualified students can vote for officers or representatives in: Young Women's Christian Association; liberal arts senior class officers; Women's Recreation Association; Student Council representatives from Town Men, Town Women and married students housing.

Junior women can vote for recommendations for membership in Mortar Board.

All women can vote for Associated Women Students (AWS) officers.

All students can vote for representatives to Union Board and Board of Student Publications, Inc.

Polls will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Ballot Count

In counting ballots, "bullet ballots" (ballots on which votes have been cast for fewer than the maximum number to be elected) will be counted.

Ballots will be counted by the 8-man election committee and 16 students appointed by them. George Mather of the SUI Institute of Public Affairs and staff from the institute will help count the ballots.

Janice Serbousek, A3, Swisher is in charge of ballot counting for the election committee.

Candidates have a week after elections to call for a recount of votes or to contest the election.

Polling Places

Polls will be manned by Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, the six students required to be provided by each group participating in the elections and other volunteers.

The elections polls committee consists of Joan Matthes, A3, Iowa City and Minnie Morris, A3, Davenport.

Polls will be located two each at University Hall and Schaeffer Hall, one each at the Iowa Memorial Union, East Hall, University Library, Chemistry Building, Medical Laboratories and Macbride Hall.

Suggest New Play Area

Acquisition of a recreational area for residents was proposed at the University Heights town council meeting Monday.

Council members were instructed to study possible sites for development by the town into a play area for children before the summer season.

In answer to complaints received by the council, the town clerk was instructed to send a letter to all University Heights residents instructing them to keep all dogs tied or penned by April 1.

Town Marshall Charles O. Angell was authorized by the council to deputize Leslie L. Bigelow, 26 Prospect Place, as deputy town marshal to serve when the marshal is out of town.

Church Visit Starts Girl Scout Week

Local Girl Scout troops Sunday began celebrating the 44th anniversary of the founding of the organization, by attending church services at their own churches in scout uniforms.

Monday was designated as Home-making Day; Tuesday for Citizenship; Wednesday, Health and Safety; and Thursday, International Friendship Day. Friday, more than 2½ million Girl Scouts will observe Arts and Crafts day, and Saturday will be Out-of-Doors day.

The first Girl Scout troop was established in the United States March 12, 1912, in Savannah, Ga.

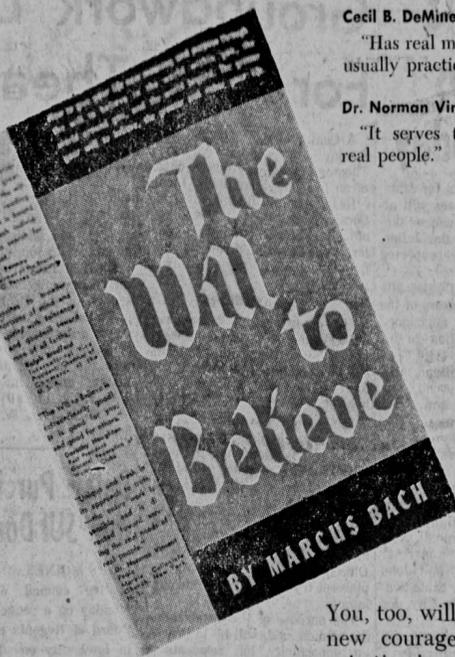

Girl Scout week will be featured on several television programs on the CBS and ABC TV networks. Many of the major radio networks also will give recognition to Girl Scouting Week.

Continue Picketing At Concrete Plants

Two Iowa City area ready-mixed concrete plants continued to be picketed Monday by Local 238 of the AFL Teamsters Union.

Central Ready Mixed Concrete Co. and Johnson County Ready Mix have been picketed since March 5 by representatives of the union though both plants have continued operation. Union and non-union members of the companies are crossing the picket lines to work.

The union is asking recognition as bargaining agent with the company and a union contract for higher wages.
