Referees ‘Lost Control,’ Coaches Claim

Iowa Defense Only So-So!

By GEORGE WISE

The Strohield football team lost to the University of Chicago after the Friday night game.

Though there were some good chances, the team still came out with a loss.

Coach Don Lyne said the players were too tired after their game to compete.

The team will meet again next Friday to try to win.

Ambulance Service Used Over 68 Times

By LARRY DENNIS

The Iowa City police department has seen a noticeable increase in the use of ambulance service over the past year.

The increased demand for ambulance service is due to several factors. First, the number of emergencies requiring medical attention has increased. Second, the city has experienced a higher than average number of accidents and other incidents that require prompt medical attention.

The increase in ambulance usage has put a strain on the city's emergency medical services. The police department has had to allocate additional resources to support the increased demand.

Chasing Balloons One of Many Jobs for Pilot

By LOBBY LIBBY

Glenn Hovland, a local man who enjoys flying, found that his career as a pilot was not limited to commercial or military services. He recently completed a balloon flight, which he describes as a unique experience.

The flight began at an altitude of 500 feet and gradually increased to over 2,000 feet above the ground. Hovland said that flying a balloon was different from flying a plane in several ways.

Hovland also enjoys flying in a helicopter and has participated in some competitive flying events. He says that flying in a helicopter is a thrilling experience, especially when it comes to aerial photography.
