Adlai Rolls Up Huge Vote Lead Over Ike In Illinois Primary

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, making his strongest showing of the 1956 political season, piled up a larger vote than President Eisenhower Tuesday in mounting returns from the Illinois presidential preference primary.

Stevenson had a big advantage in Cook County, Chicago, a Democratic stronghold. Eisenhower was ahead in normally Republican downstate.

Returns from 3,817 of the state's 9,511 precincts gave Stevenson 381,914. Sen. Kefauver received 2,641 write-ins in 1,174 precincts.

Returns from 3,282 precincts gave Eisenhower 147,459. Knowland 8,366 and Daly 3,981.

Stevenson, former governor of Illinois who was supported by his home state's party organization, gathered 186,723 votes in Minnesota — his best previous showing — to 245,885 for Kefauver.

Stevenson's Illinois total surpassed Kefauver's 323,561 Wisconsin vote.

Early Comparison

One early basis for comparison of their Illinois vote was the count in 613 Chicago precincts. It was 73,369 for Stevenson and 510 write-ins for Kefauver, who did not campaign in Illinois.

Four hours after the polls closed at 5 p.m. (CST) the Democratic ballots were being counted at a faster clip than the Republican ballots in the preference test. There was no explanation, but the GOP ballot carried three names and the Democratic only one—Stevenson's.

Apparently in many polling places the Kefauver write-ins were not being counted early but they will be added up in the official canvass.

2 Others on GOP Ballot

On the GOP ballot Eisenhower was opposed by Sen. William F. Knowland of California and Lar Daly, a perennial office seeker. Knowland is supporting Eisenhower but could not remove his name from the ballot after the President announced his decision to seek a second term.

Eisenhower carried Illinois with almost 55 per cent of the total vote when he and Stevenson were matched in the 1952 presidential election.

Republican Gov. William G. Stratton moved far out ahead of four challengers in his bid for re-nomination. His competitors are State Treasurer Warren Wright, Lar Daly, Anthony Polley and Sidney Ward.

Returns from 3,497 precincts gave Stratton 113,713, Wright 37,298, Daly 8,701; Polley 5,665 and Ward 5,350.

Paschen Leads

Herbert C. Paschen, Cook County treasurer, led Morris B. Sachs, Chicago's city treasurer, in the race for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Returns from 3,888 precincts gave Paschen 277,075 and Sachs 161,823.

Stevenson made pleas for a big Democratic vote. He said it might, among other things, cause President Eisenhower to give consideration to the Democratic stand for high, rigid farm price supports in farm legislation.

GOP Seeks Rally To Pass Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican House leaders sought Tuesday to rally wavering GOP ranks behind a substitute farm bill which President Eisenhower will sign.

Following a two-hour strategy meeting of GOP house members, Republican Leader Joe Martin of Massachusetts said a final decision has to be reached on the form of a substitute for the Senate-House compromise coming to a showdown vote in the house Wednesday.

Neither Martin nor other leaders would predict the outcome of Wednesday's voting.

Is this test fair? Students are especially interested in this question at this time of the semester: instructors turned delinquent grades in to the Office of the Registrar Tuesday.

Often the question is never answered adequately, especially by students, because most students do not know how a test should be judged. Many criticize a test only if they have received an undesirable grade on it.

Instructors may also judge their tests more on the basis of how many fail or pass, rather than a more sound standard.

Court Hears Testimony in Fatal March

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—A Marine Corps court of inquiry heard testimony Tuesday from survivors of a forced night march into a treacherous tidal stream, ordered by a drill sergeant "to teach the platoon discipline."

Six of the 75 recruits who were led into the river near this "boot" training center by S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon of Worcester, Mass., drowned.

Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine Corps commandant who came here from Washington to make a personal investigation, said the forced march was "most unusual" and unique in his experience. He said McKeon had no authority for disciplinary action nor for scheduling such a march.

McKeon, 31, who will remain in custody until the inquiry is completed, issued a statement through his counsel stating that he led the men on the ill-fated march to teach them discipline.

"I can't find words to express my grief," he added.

The six are Thomas Curtis Hardeman, 20, Vidalia, Ga.; Donald Francis O'Shea, 18, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Charles Francis Reilly, 18, Clyde, N. Y.; Jerry Lamont Thomas, 17, Alexandria, Va.; Leroy Thomson, 18, Brooklyn; and Norman Alfred Wood, 17, Bay Shore, N. Y.

An inquiry was conducted in secret, and only one of the survivors would comment for publication. Asking that his name not be used, this survivor said, "No particular punishment was involved. . . . It was just general disciplinary action. . . . and not for any particular offense on the part of anyone."

British Seize Island Airport

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British authorities clamped rigid military control on Nicosia's busy international airport Tuesday as a safeguard against rebel sabotage.

Royal Air Force men took full charge of airport operations and a strict security ring was thrown around the field. X-ray equipment was installed to scan luggage, mail and even passengers' clothing for time bombs.

Except for a few immigration officials, all Cypriot employees were barred from an area around the terminal building.

The emergency measure was ordered after interception of a letter instructing a rebel agent to try placing a time bomb aboard a plane.

All gatherings of more than five people except for such purposes as church services or specified entertainments now are banned.

The death penalty can be imposed on persons convicted of carrying firearms. No bicycles or motorcycles may be used after dark in most towns.

The measures were introduced to halt violence by Greek Cypriots seeking union of the island with Greece.

tests, Robert L. Ebel, director of the SUI Examinations Service, and Desmond L. Cook, assistant director, offer to help an instructor judge his tests for fairness.

"A test is fair to students if it emphasizes the knowledge, understanding and abilities which were emphasized in the actual teaching of the course," Ebel states in an Examination Service bulletin.

Questions on vocabulary often make up a large percentage of classroom tests but are not considered desirable by the Examinations Service.

Detail questions should not be used.

Last Roundup for 'Roundup'?

A PROPOSED IOWA CITY ordinance to keep dogs from running loose in the city presents a sad situation for these two young lads who wanted to play with "Roundup" on their way home from school. Provisions of a proposed ordinance read at the City Council meeting Monday night require that dogs be on the premises of their owners, or when off the owner's property, on a leash. The ordinance must have two more readings before it will go on the books. The two boys are (left), Johnnie Rate, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rate, 321 Lexington Ave., and Billy Cambridge, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cambridge, 239 Furson St. "Roundup," a collie, belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howell, 707 River St.

UN Chief Begins Cairo Peace Talks

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Dag Hammarskjold settled to on-the-spot talks Tuesday night in his effort to still the Arab-Israeli violence disturbing the peace of the Middle East.

Amid reports of fresh incidents in southern Israel, the UN secretary general flew first to Tel Aviv and then to Cairo on the special peace mission he undertook by unanimous order of the Security Council.

Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, the Canadian chief of the UN Truce Commission, met Hammarskjold on his arrival in Tel Aviv from Beirut, Lebanon, and accompanied him to the Egyptian capital.

Hammarskjold talked with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and arranged to meet Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser Tuesday.

A spokesman said the secretary general's plans are flexible, but he expects to remain here until Monday and then return to Israel for consultations with Premier David Ben-Gurion's government.

It was emphasized that the official talks are opening with Egypt, leader of the Arab bloc, though Hammarskjold and Burns had luncheon in Tel Aviv with three Israeli foreign officials.

A UN spokesman said the Israelis had joined the two "on a social basis" and Hammarskjold did not engage in official conversation with them.

The nine-nation Arab League political committee, meeting in Cairo, Tuesday urged all Arab states to cooperate with Hammarskjold. In a recommendation to be submitted to the league's council today, the committee said Arabs should aid the UN secretary to learn the truth about the Middle East.

Egypt and Israel were still exchanging charges and Arab lines appeared tightening. This was indicated in a vow by Jordan's King Hussein and Syrian President Skukri Kuwally before the Damascus tomb of Sultan Saladin, 13th century conqueror of the crusaders, to devote "all our powers for the defense of the Holy Land."

The White House announced Eisenhower will make a major foreign policy address on April 21. It will be delivered in Washington before the American Society of Newspaper Editors and presumably will cover the Middle East crisis.

Focal point of Dulles' consultation with the congressional leaders was Monday's White House statement that any aggressor in the Middle East will have to reckon with U.S. opposition, which drew warm praise Tuesday from Britain and France.

Occasionally tests include material that should have been covered in the course but was not, Ebel wrote. Sometimes undue emphasis seems to have been placed on spelling, exact word definition or some similar basic skill which the instructor had failed to stress. Such tests are hardly fair.

The instructor is usually the best judge of the fairness of his test, the bulletin states. However, instructors are not infallible and it happens that a test may include material not mentioned in the course.

If a test seems unfair, the student should feel free to comment on any part that appears to be bad, Ebel wrote. This does not mean that the student should try to brow-beat the instructor into a higher grade.

The instructor's concern for student comment and criticism will indicate his interest in fairness if, nothing else, the bulletin says. Instructors should realize that no test is so good that it can not be bettered by student comment and suggestion.

"Before a test can be analyzed fairly, it must be remembered

Whites Attack Nat King Cole In Birmingham

Doctor Says Singer OK After Incident

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Nat King Cole, Negro band leader, was attacked by a group of white men Tuesday night as he sang from the stage of Birmingham's Municipal Auditorium.

Cole was singing the second of two numbers in a concert billed for "all-white" customers. He was to give a second concert later for Negro patrons in segregated Birmingham.

Cole's manager, Bob Schwartz, said the Negro musician was not injured.

"A physician already has examined Cole and he is not injured. Thank God for that," Schwartz said.

6 Rush Singer

About six white men rushed the singer-pianist, three of them mounting the high stage and plunging over the footlights, knocking Cole and the microphone to the floor.

About 10 policemen rushed from the wings of the auditorium, grabbing the attackers. Three or four were taken to police headquarters. Their names were not immediately known.

Shortly after the attack Cole returned to the stage amidst the cheering of a crowd estimated at more than 3,000 persons. Some estimated the ovation lasted longer than five minutes.

'Stunned'

"Cole was stunned," Schwartz said. "You know, on a stage like that, you can't see beyond the bright flood of the footlights. He was stunned. He didn't know what hit him. Momentarily blinded, he had no idea what hit him."

Cole talked with newsmen a few minutes after the incident to say he had been on tour in the South for 10 days and "just came here to give the folks a show."

"I had no idea anything like this would happen," he said. "We've been well received everywhere."

'Ovation Wonderful'

"Somebody came up tonight and lunged at the microphone and it fell back on me. The spotlight was on my face, and I couldn't see. The next thing I knew they were taking some people out."

"The ovation they gave me was wonderful. These people were trying to let me know they do not condone such actions."

The second concert, for Negroes only, went ahead as scheduled.

Hillcrest Men Protest $4 Gifts to Athletes

The Hillcrest Dormitory Association presented initialed cigarette lighters to 51 Hillcrest athletes at a varsity athletics recognition banquet Tuesday night—but not without a vigorous protest from one-fifth of the dormitory's residents.

About 140 Hillcrest men signed a petition which would have placed a referendum stopping presentation of the gifts in the lap of the Hillcrest Council. The petition was presented at a two-hour council meeting Monday night.

Enough students signed it to make it valid in halting the council's action, but a measure was adopted to conduct the banquet and present the gifts, as scheduled.

The Hillcrest constitution stipulates that a petition signed by at least one-fifth of its residents can act as a referendum to a council action.

The council at its March 26 meeting, at the suggestion of the SUI Dormitory and Dining Service, decided to hold a recognition banquet for all members of varsity athletic teams who live in Hillcrest and all senior members of the Hillcrest —

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Allen, the humorist, left an estate valued at more than one million dollars, a family source said Tuesday as his will was filed for probate. He died March 17.

Allen, whose real name was John F. Sullivan, bequeathed half the estate to his widow, Mary Portland Sullivan, known to radio listeners as Portland Hoffa.

He also specified that she receive the interest from the remaining half, which he set up as a trust fund for three young nieces by marriage, who ultimately will get the principal.

TORNADO HITS FLORIDA HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—A tornado dipped into West Hollywood Tuesday night, then struck at nearby Dania. Several persons were injured.

SOVIETS PLAN EXPEDITION MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union said Tuesday it is sending an expedition to explore an area of the Atlantic Ocean near Greenland next summer.

I'm in Love as Never Before: Please Grant Me 20 More

LEONARDO, N.J. (AP)—The Navy encountered spring and poetry Tuesday.

Bruce Nicholas, a radarman, assigned to the ammunition ship Grant Sittin, tied up here, was due back April 13 from a 10-day leave. But Tuesday he sent this telegram from State College, Pa., to the skipper:

"I like my ship and all the men. So when I left I took but 10. Well, here at home it's spring, I find I've met a thing that changed my mind. Now I'm in love as ne'er before. So, please sir, grant me 20 more." The skipper, Capt. N. D. Gage of Newport, N.H., couldn't give him 20 but granted another 10. He replied to Nicholas: "Comprehend your yen. Can give you but 10. On the 23d to end."

Student Council To Elect Own Officers

The election of Student Council officers by council members was backed Tuesday by five campus group leaders.

A proposed change in the system would have the council president elected by the entire student body.

The system which will be used in the election of officers tonight, limits nominating and voting to council members.

The present system was endorsed by the student leaders Tuesday when The Daily Iowan asked: "Should the officers of the Student Council be elected by an all-campus vote?"

Knew Qualifications They supported the method chiefly because they believed that council members were more aware of nominees' qualifications than was the average student.

Council representatives from Town Men, Town Women and Married Students were elected in the all-campus elections March 21.

Student Council officers will be elected by new council members at a 7 p.m. meeting in the Pentacrest Room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Joseph Gross, E2, Sioux City, will serve as temporary chairman.

Opening of an additional parking lot near the stadium will be discussed at the meeting.

Other council members were elected in their housing units.

"The individual is voted into the office on popularity appeal by an all-student vote, said Mark Putney, L2, Gladbrook, 1955-1956 council president. "The members are acquainted with the candidate's qualifications. The system we now have is quite adequate."

No Improvement "There would be no improvement in the election with an all-student vote," said James Milani, L1, Centerville, council vice-president for 1955-1956. "The average student barely knows the Student Council representative from his housing unit, let alone know the officers nominated."

"The council members have a better idea of the individual's qualifications," said William Bernan, L2, Lake City, vice-president of Young Republicans. "The members have a closer contact and have more criteria to judge the qualities of the candidate."

"The type of offices held in the council are important on the campus and so the person must be capable and fellow members must know he can do an efficient job," James Foster, C3, Eldora, newly elected council member said. "I favor the present system of members electing."

"The present system of electing the officers of the council is more feasible with 9,000 students. It does not encourage students to turn the election into a popularity contest," said Paul Carlesten, G, Lewisville, Ind., chairman of the SUI Young Democrats.

Says Friends Were Kept Away—

Venturi Was Lonely in Meet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ken Venturi, who lost the Masters Golf Tournament Sunday by a single stroke, pictured himself Tuesday as a lonesome youngster during his final round at Augusta, Ga.

"I didn't have anyone to talk to," he said in an interview at his San Francisco suburban home.

"The officials wouldn't let anyone walk with me that I knew. I just wanted to talk to one of my friends and they wouldn't let me talk.

Was 'Nervous'

"I was nervous anyway and all the help I could get I could use. I don't mean clubbing help or anything like that, just someone friendly to talk to.

"I don't want people to think I'm peeved at everybody back there because I'm not. I don't have a sour taste in my mouth. But I certainly wasn't getting any of the benefit of the doubt."

The 24-year-old amateur, who blew an 8-stroke lead during Sunday's final round when he fired an 80, finished one stroke behind winner Jack Burke's 289.

Still Puzzled

Venturi said he still was puzzled about the switch in pairings on Sunday which sent him out with Sam Snead rather than Byron Nelson, who is a personal friend of long standing. He said he originally had been paired with Nelson, but at the last minute was sent out with Snead.

"Byron wasn't going to help," Venturi said, "but it would have been comforting to play with him. Sam was very nice, he tried to be anyway, but he didn't know how to say things that would have made me feel better.

'Big Crowd'

"I was lonesome. There was a big crowd of people, but I was all alone and when one of my friends came up to talk to me on the 17th tee I suddenly looked around and he was gone. He told me later the officials told him to leave."

The friend was national amateur champion Harvie Ward, with whom Venturi works at an automobile agency here.

Venturi said it was unlikely he would play in any professional tournament before the National Open at Rochester, N. Y., in June. His plans for the next few months are to practice and play only in amateur meets in this area.

"But I'll be ready for the open," he said. "I'll show them then."

Second Glance

By GEORGE WINE

TED WILLIAMS MAY not agree, but there are still a few people left in this world with guts. The best example that I know lives down in Kansas. His name: Phog Allen. His occupation: ex-basketball coach. His age: 70.

These are not, in the raw, revealing figures. It's the last vital statistic, however, that caused Kansas University, where Allen was employed for a number of years, to retire the elderly gent.

It has become a tradition at Kansas, for some obscure reason, to dry-dock any university employe when he has reached the magical age of 70. The hierarchy of the school believes anyone who has lived so long should take time, before his final breath, to write his memoirs. If he hasn't a flair for writing, he should go fishing, and if he is immune to the outdoors, he should become a contestant on the $64,000 Question.

The last possibility is preferable, because KU is short of building funds.

ONE OF PHOG'S latest indiscretions, intended of course, may cost him, considerably before it's all over. It may, in fact, shut him up for good, but the odds are against it.

It all started last winter when Wes Santee, ex-Kansas athlete who—without the aid of a strong tail wind or outboard motor—runs a mile faster than any other American, was declared a professional by the AAU.

TAKING HIS CUE without prompting, Allen sprayed his tongue with acid and what he said about the AAU should—State Department permitting—be said about the Communist party.

Among other things, he called AAU big-wig Harry Henshel "a colonel in the Brooklyn band." This solved much speculation, because no one was ever quite sure "w Henshel acquired his title of "colonel."

Time passed and Allen was ceremoniously retired at Kansas. This time it was Henshel who took his cue. Never one to kick a man while he was down, Henshel filed a $35,000 slander suit against Allen, leading Americans to believe that maybe he isn't a colonel in the Brooklyn band.

Thus far, our basketball coach emeritus hasn't uttered a peep about the suit against him, but gad, what the man must be thinking.

Perhaps in his silence, Phog is applying for a $64,000 Question appearance. Should he win the grand prize, the take home pay, after taxes, is roughly $35,000.

Retire!

Marciano Will Continue Fighting; Trainer

NEW YORK (AP)—Charley Goldman, the tiny trainer who helped harness Rocky Marciano's raw power, said Tuesday he doesn't think the heavyweight champion will call it quits.

From what I know all they have to do is provide an opponent who can draw some dough and Rocky will be in there in September," said Charley. "If Rocky were going backward I'd advise him to quit myself. But he isn't even standing still. He's getting better with every fight."

Rocky's never been hurt. Sure, he's been cut but the cuts heal. Nature has provided him with a strong body and he keeps it strong. I think he's the strongest heavyweight champion of all time.

"The only reason he'd quit would be if he felt he had enough money in the bank and didn't get any kick out of fighting. He won't fight a nobody but maybe someone will develop fast enough for a September fight. It could be Hurricane Jackson or Archie Moore again or maybe Floyd Patterson if he fights a decent opponent soon."

Art Andrews May Face Jack Kramer in Exhibition

Iowa City's Art Andrews may oppose Jack Kramer, former tennis great in an exhibition match in the Iowa Fieldhouse on April 19, it was learned here Tuesday.

Kramer is bringing his 4-man troupe of world-famous tennis stars to the Fieldhouse to stage three matches, but it is not certain whether he himself will be able to come.

The matches are sponsored by the Department of Athletics. Starting time will be 8 p.m. Tickets are available now for $2 for court-side bleachers and $1 for seats in the north and south balconies.

World's Amateur Champ Tony Trabert—former world's amateur champion—will meet Pancho Gonzales, professional titlist, in two of three sets.

Australian ace, Rex Hartwig, will oppose Pancho Segura, winner of three of five national tours, in another two of three sets.

There will also be a doubles contest. Trabert and Hartwig will play Gonzales and Segura in another two of three regulation sets, if time permits.

Andrews, just turned 18, was named earlier this year as the outstanding junior performer in the country. His eighteenth birthday immediately disqualified him from the "junior" ranking.

Picked for Tryouts So then he was picked as one of the 12-man squad for the U.S. Davis Cup team tryouts, after he had come of age. Kramer calls him "one of the three outstanding Davis Cup prospects in the country."

And if the "oldtimer," Kramer, can fit the Iowa City trip into his schedule, he will teach the youngster, Andrews, a few tricks.

Babe Zaharias Still Fighting Cancer

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Pleurisy aggravated the condition of Babe Didrikson Zaharias Tuesday but the great woman athlete, in a hospital fighting cancer, was not considered in critical condition.

"She is about the same as she was when she was hospitalized here November through January, except for the extension of pain from her lower back to her shoulder," doctors at the hospital said.

While this was attributed to pleurisy, her physician, Dr. Robert M. Moore of John Sealy Hospital, said there was a "slight extension" of the cancer which first showed up in 1933.

Dr. Moore said that while serious, her condition was not critical.

Rookies, Rookies, Everywhere—

Richards Plans for Future at Baltimore

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles about the sixteen major league baseball clubs and their pennant chances for the 1936 season.)

By PAUL JESS
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles, seventh in '35, will be a bit stronger this season from all reports, but still will finish seventh. They barely edged Washington last year, and closed the season 39 games off the pace set by New York.

Manager Paul Richards and all his deals will not be able to pull the Orioles into a sixth place finish with anything less than a minor miracle.

The Baltimore pitching staff has some good potential hurlers like Ray Moore (10-10) and Jim Whison (12-18). Both men had good earned run averages and Moore turned in several fine relief games.

Some Veterans

Bill Wight, Harry Dorish and Hector Brown should provide enough veteran pitching material to keep the youngsters in line from the start. Youngsters are a dime a dozen this year in the Baltimore camp, with the pitching staff having its share.

Up from San Antonio are Mel Held, 27, Charlie Locke, 23, and Don Ferrarese, 26. Held had a 24-7 record, 118 strikeouts and a 2.87 ERA. Locke finished with 18-13, 178 fanned batters and a 2.85 ERA. Ferrarese, a little lefthander, probably has the best chance. Ferrarese had a 9-0 record with the Texas League club, fanned 99 in 79 innings, compiled a nifty 1.49 ERA, and threw a no-hitter and two one-hitters.

Fanned 270 in Western Bob Harrison, a 25-year-old with Wichita (A) last year, fanned 270 batters, a new league record, and had a 2.48 earned run average.

Other Oriole rookies are at least a year away.

Hal Smith, obtained from the Yankees in the Turley deal, should not be confused with the catcher by the same name in the Cardinal spring training camp. Smith, a fine defensive backstop, proved last year that he was also a dangerous man at the plate. He had a .271 average and drove in 52 runs.

Two Veteran Infielders

Willie Miranda, shortstop, and Gus Triandos at first base complete the return the Orioles got from the Yanks in the same deal for Turley. Both had good seasons last year and can be counted on to help the Oriole cause again.

The other infield spots are more likely to be open. Top prospects to fill them are Brooks Robinson, 18, who plays either second or third, Bob Hale, and Wayne Causey.

Richards has plenty of other infielders around and finding the right man may be his biggest worry.

During the winter the Oriole pilot picked up Bobby Adams—former Cincinnati Redleg and Chicago White Sox infielder—in a trade with the White Sox for outfielder Cal Abrams. Adams is possibly one of the finest utility infielders in the league. He can play either third or second base.

Fred Marsh, regular second baseman a year ago, will probably be back at his old spot again. He can also play third, and probably will be used in the position where Richards' young ballplayers do not come through.

Outfield Prospects

The outfield could be an entirely new one for the Baltimore club. Only real hitting veterans on the club are Jim Dyck, Dave Pope and Dave Philley. Chuck Diering is fleet of foot and plays the field well, but his lifetime hitting average is .253.

Rookie prospects are Jim Pisoni, who has shown considerable promise so far in exhibition games and Chuck Oertel who has had an arm injury, but looks like he's better now. Either or both would be a welcome addition for Richards.

An interesting club, one with a lot of hustle, that's a certainty for a Richards-coached team. A pennant contender no—but a crowd pleaser.

Hawk '9' Prepares For Western Illinois

The Hawkeye baseball team, fresh from their first win of the season last Friday over Western Michigan, 6-4, are preparing to take on Western Illinois State here Friday.

After losing six straight games to the powerful University of Arizona nine, the Hawks have shown marked improvement.

Hitting averages have risen, too. Two men are hitting at .300. Ken Kurtz—last year's hitting leader—continues to set the team pace this year with a .318 average. Don Dobrino, victorious pitcher over Western Michigan has an even .300. Kirby Smith at .292 and Ralph (Bucky) Walters'. 290 round out the list of the top four hitters.

The team average also has climbed from an anemic .194 after the Arizona trip, to a .206 mark.

Canadians Beat Detroit, Take Stanley Cup, 3-1

MONTREAL (AP)—The magnificent Montreal Canadiens, with Jean Beliveau and Maurice (The Rocket) Richard leading a relentless attack and Jacques Plante a tower of strength in the nets, won the coveted Stanley Cup Tuesday night with a hustling 3-1 victory over the defending champion Detroit Red Wings.

Notes High Lung Cancer Death Rate

Lung cancer is one of the most deadly forms of cancer known to man, Dr. Kenneth Cross of the Pathology Department of the VA Hospital said Tuesday.

CROSS

Dr. Cross said there is a possibility that some chemical used in the preparation of tobacco or cigarettes, or even the tobacco itself, is a cause of lung cancer.

There has been no proof in the United States that there is a higher lung cancer rate in cities than in the country, Dr. Cross said.

"I suspect if we have a long-range study program of this, we might find that it is true," he added.

Coal Tar found in cigarettes and in the air of industrial centers, has been proved to cause cancer in experiments with animals, Cross said.

"The only treatment we have for lung cancer is complete removal of the cancerous neoplasm," he said.

"About 23 out of every 100 children born in a place like Iowa City will die of cancer if the situation continues as it is now," he said.

He said many persons suffering of cancer could be saved if they would receive an earlier diagnosis.

Polish 'Pick Up Pieces' At Rehearsal

By BETTY QUICK

Panacea rehearsal of "Pick Up The Pieces" in Macbride Auditorium Tuesday night had all of the production staff busy making last-minute decisions and changes before the performances at 8 p.m., Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday in the auditorium.

Two of the staff, who attempted to be everywhere at once, are Joan Fybo, A4, Sergeant Bluff, production manager, and John Gardner, G, Iowa City, composer.

Miss Fybo has been one of the busiest people on Panacea since the beginning of the show.

"I wish I were a jack of all trades," she said during a break from her duties.

Watches Bills

While she was observing the rehearsal, staff members brought charge slips to her, "I'm in charge of the budget, too," she said. All bills are turned in to her, and she keeps a tight rein on the production staff to see that it doesn't spend too much.

"It's my responsibility to see that everyone and everything is where it's supposed to be when the curtain goes up," she said. "I also do little jobs like typing scripts." Then she started for the stage to round up the cast for the next number.

Miss Fybo has worked on two previous Panaceas. In 1952 she was a member of the property crew, and in 1954 she doubled as property manager and stage manager.

Keeping pace with Miss Fybo during rehearsal was Gardner, who composed the majority of Panacea's music.

Gardner Enthusiastic

"This is my first complete composition work," he said. He added that he has written lyrics and studied musical composition and theory.

Taking a break from the Panacea orchestra, in which he plays French horn, Gardner talked enthusiastically about the production. "I wrote this music in two days," he said. "Since then it's been polished, but the only changes have been the notes we copied wrong."

A graduate student in English, Gardner's academic work is principally concerned with folk ballads. He pointed out the influence of Scottish ballads in much of Panacea's music, especially in rhythm.

Hillcrest—

Iowa basketball team who at one time lived in the dormitory.

The dining service paid for the special meal of fried chicken which was served to all residents, banquet emcee Fred Miller, G, Royal Oak, Mich., said.

The council voted to purchase gifts, priced at not more than $4 each, for each athlete. This amounted to about $175, all of which came from the annual $5 association dues which each Hillcrest resident must pay.

Amendment Proposed

At the last meeting, an amendment to the Hillcrest constitution was proposed which would require that any measure involving an expenditure of more than $50 could be only proposed and discussed at the meeting at which it was first proposed, but not voted on until the next bi-weekly meeting.

Prof. Stanley K. Norton, resident advisor at Hillcrest, Tuesday said he was in favor of such an amendment.

Student Comment

"We (signers of the petition) feel the expenditure is not a very democratic move by the council," said councilman Jon Bye, A2, Deberfield, Ill.

"The money could be spent on items which would reflect the whole interest of the dormitory personnel," Bye said. "The action by the council did not represent Hillcrest as a body."

Will Be Torn Down

THE WOOLF AVENUE VIADUCT which crosses U.S. Highway 6 and the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway Co. tracks on the west side of Iowa City will be closed starting today. A new viaduct will be constructed to replace the present one. Construction will probably be completed by next fall.

Close Woolf Avenue For New Viaduct

The viaduct on Woolf Avenue will be closed to traffic today probably until next fall, City Manager Peter F. Roan announced Tuesday. Construction of a new viaduct will begin Thursday.

The Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway Co. (CRANDIC) informed Roan that grading on the new span will begin Thursday. Work on removing the wooden section of the present viaduct is scheduled to start today, Roan was told.

The old wooden viaduct, which crosses CRANDIC tracks and U.S. Highway 6 on the west side of Iowa City, is being replaced with a steel and concrete span.

The railroad grade and grade of U.S. 6 west of the viaduct will be lowered as a part of the project. U.S. 6 will also be widened. CRANDIC, Iowa State Highway Commission, and Iowa City are involved in the project.

The city will maintain a pedestrian crossing west of Woolf Avenue at Main Street.

Motorists now should use Park Bridge in crossing the Iowa River because of increased congestion at the Riverside Drive-U.S. 6 intersection, a city spokesman said.

The Iowa City council Monday approved a formal agreement between CRANDIC and the city. The agreement states that CRANDIC is to cede an area of right-of-way to the highway commission to allow widening of U.S. 6 to 49 feet and also to lower the highway's grade under the new viaduct.

Discuss Child Safety After Viaduct Closes

The problem of conducting school children safely across the Woolf Avenue viaduct, which was closed to auto traffic today for construction purposes, was discussed Tuesday night at the monthly meeting of the Iowa City Board of Education.

Superintendent Buford W. Garner reported that he has made provisions for an off-duty policeman to patrol the area for the next few days. A more permanent solution must be found within the next few days, Garner said.

In other business, Garner said that the effects of the proposed Catholic Central High school on the public school enrollment will be negligible.

Most people feel that the new school will lift the burden from the public schools, he said. But the students who will attend the new Catholic school were not included in the calculated future enrollment of City High school anyway, he said.

Low teacher salaries were discussed at the meeting as the reason for the small number of teachers applying for positions in the Iowa City schools next year. Other cities are offering much higher salaries, Garner said.

Eight new teachers were appointed to city elementary and junior high schools for the coming school year.

Those appointed are: Bernice Swanson, Ruth M. Schildt, Charles Railsback, Dorothea Fleming, Ruth Bogaard, William Blecker, Barbara Appelman and Stephanie Westrum.

The transfer of Arnold Fransen, mathematics instructor, from City High to Junior High was also approved.

In other action Tuesday, the board approved the bid of the Nashville Coal Co., Davenport, for 600 tons of coal for the coming school year. Their bid was $3.50 per ton.

Increase in salaries for the school secretarial staff and for custodians was approved by the board.

Permission to purchase textbooks, library books and other materials for next year was granted. The board also received authority to buy a printing calculator for the central office at a cost of $550.

Slate Vote On School Merger Plan

No opposition to the proposed merger of the East Lucas Township School District and the Iowa City Independent School District was voiced at the public meeting in Johnson County Courthouse Tuesday night.

A special election will be held in both Iowa City and East Lucas Township later this month or early May to vote on the merger. Frank Snider, Johnson County superintendent of schools, said. Both districts must approve.

The present East Lucas school levy of approximately 3.6 cents a dollar property evaluation would rise to 4.2 cents if the districts are merged. This is the present Iowa City school levy.

Snider told the 50 township residents attending that the levy would have to be raised to 4 cents even if the merger is not approved.

Snider said East Lucas school enrollments would reach 224 by 1960, based on estimated population figures. Only 72 students are now attending East Lucas schools. The East Lucas board pays tuition fees for 65 others (mostly high school) for whom schooling is not available.

Expected development of two housing areas in the Court Hill and Towner additions would double the school load, Snider estimated.

"The present schools are in very, very poor shape," he said. "They could not absorb the new students without a new building program."

The $93,273 bond capacity of the township is not suitable for a building program, he added.

Employees Picket New York Store

NEW YORK (AP)—Pickets by the thousands ringed the fabulous Macy department store in mid-Manhattan Tuesday in a strike called by a union representing most of the store's 8,000 employees.

Business, however, went on more or less as usual. Non-union and supervisory employees manned the counters — although a bit awkwardly in some cases.

While jeers and boos of the parading pickets discouraged some would-be customers from entering the world's largest department store, many others went right on in.

"Naturally," said a store spokesman, "business isn't going to be quite the same as on a normal Tuesday."

Runs Again After Acquitted of Fraud

HAMPTON (AP)—County Attorney Keith J. Stinson, 31, who last week was acquitted in a conspiracy case, Tuesday filed for re-election on the Republican ticket.

Stinson was acquitted last Thursday of a charge he conspired to defraud Mrs. Grace Miller, 78, Ackley widow, of $108,000. He still faces a federal trial April 16 at Cedar Rapids on a charge of interstate transportation of securities.
