Opinions Mixed on Civic Center Plan

Mixed opinions were voiced Friday by residents and property owners who would be affected by an Iowa City council proposal to construct a civic center on their property.

The proposed site is the block bounded by Iowa avenue, Van Buren, Washington and Gilbert streets.

The center would house various municipal government offices besides recreation facilities.

Iowa City has no municipal recreation building. The Community Building which housed recreation facilities was destroyed by fire, Jan. 28, 1955.

The council action would require the city to appraise and purchase property on Iowa avenue as well as the Musser parking lot, which occupies nearly half of the block.

Excludes Unitarian Church

As planned now, the only properties to remain in private hands would be the Unitarian church and the adjoining property at 10 South Gilbert owned by the church.

Mayor Leroy S. Mercer said that if the city was unable to purchase the property at the appraised price, the council would then consider filing condemnation proceedings for acquisition of the site.

Property owners and residents on Iowa Avenue made the following comments.

Owners Object

Mrs. J. A. Richter, 409 Iowa Avenue: "It's just like a foreign government; we are not millionnaires and we would have to pay twice as much for a new home; we would be run into the street."

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weart, apartment house owners at 413 Iowa Avenue: "We don't want to sell our home and our income property; we love the neighborhood and the people, and we certainly have no desire to sell."

Prof. John C. McGalliard, apartment 1, 413 Iowa Avenue: "Inconvenient. However, the mere fact that it would be inconvenient is not sufficient cause for me to object."

Will Sell Anyway

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ahrens, 423 Iowa Avenue: "We are willing to sell. We are planning to move to Arizona anyway, and our property is up for sale now. We are 100 per cent for City Manager (Peter F.) Roan."

The council resolution directed that "steps to the development of such an area and to submitting the proposal to the vote of the citizens of Iowa City at the earliest possible date be instituted."

The resolution also said that the council members "recognize the great need for such a community enterprise (recreation center) and after consideration of the requirements and needs of other departments of the city government, and after due consideration of all these needs, it is felt that the housing and space problems of the various departments of the city could be most feasibly solved by the development of a civic center."

Land Owners Halt Bypass Right-of-Way

Iowa City today faces loss of the proposed Highway 6 bypass because the state highway commission has been unable to acquire right of way for the proposed construction.

City Manager Peter F. Roan has reported that property owners along the route are asking "unreasonable" prices for the land along the south edge of the city where the bypass was scheduled to cross.

The difficulty has forced postponement of the starting date originally scheduled for May 1. The highway commission, which as a public body has the right to condemn land, has followed in the past a policy of not condemning all property for a new route. The commission usually prefers to reach agreements with the owners involved, condemning only small areas in cases like this.

The city council, at a special meeting Thursday, requested that the planning and zoning commission "hold in abeyance any recommendations of any future annexation to the city that may be affected by the location of such a bypass until such time as the improvement has been placed under construction."

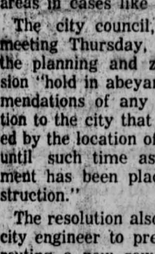
The resolution also instructed the city engineer to prepare plans for routing a new sewer along Highland avenue as originally proposed rather than continuing work on the sewer proposed for the bypass.

Roan told council members that the city should not join the highway commission in paying more than a "fair price" for the land needed for the bypass. It previously had been planned that the city would join the highway commission in acquiring the right of way.

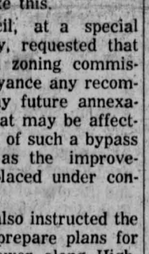
NATO Chief Will Retire

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — U.S. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther's retirement by the year's end as supreme commander of allied forces in Europe was announced Friday by President Eisenhower.

To succeed Gruenther — who asked to be relieved — Eisenhower chose American Gen. Lauris Norstad, a brilliant strategist and the first Air Force officer ever picked for the top NATO military post.



NORSTAD



GRUENTHER

Nomination of Norstad, 49, now air deputy to Gruenther, was ratified promptly in Paris by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the 57-year-old Gruenther is retiring "because of personal reasons." He did not elaborate.

In Paris, Gruenther told a press conference he had no personal plans, no other arrangement for employment in mind and "no ulterior motive" behind his resignation. He said he was stepping out to make way for younger men and new ideas.

In approving retirement of Gruenther, the NATO Council asked Eisenhower to nominate a successor.

No Action on Pay Raises

DES MOINES (AP) — The State Board of Regents discussed without decision Friday the amounts to be asked from the 1957 state legislature for support of the six institutions under the board's jurisdiction.

Tentative proposals for salary increases at SUI and five other state educational institutions have been under consideration for several months.

Proposals are that faculty salaries at SUI and Iowa State College be increased 15 per cent; those at Iowa State Teachers College, 7 per cent; clerical salaries at the three institutions, about 11 per cent; student part-time employes at the schools, 15 per cent; and labor wages, the "going rate."

The board earlier approved a $100,000 increase in the budget of University hospitals.

The regents also approved small merit raises for the next school year for certain members of the staffs of Iowa State Teachers College, the Iowa School for the Deaf at Council Bluffs and the Vinton Braille and Sight Saving School.

Hoegh To Fly To Urge Ike To Sign Bill

DES MOINES (AP) — Gov. Leo Hoegh said Friday he and three other Midwest Republican governors will make a personal plea to President Eisenhower in Washington Monday to sign the farm bill.

Hoegh said a tentative appointment to meet with the President Monday was confirmed Friday by Sherman Adams, presidential aide.

Accompanying Hoegh will be Governors Joe Foss, South Dakota; Fred Hall, Kansas, and Victor Anderson, Nebraska.

Fly to Washington

They will fly to Washington separately, and join there for their meeting with Eisenhower. Hoegh will go today or Sunday.

The governor also had contacted Republican Governors William Stratton of Illinois and Norman Brunsdale of North Dakota. However, Hoegh said, they were unable to make the trip.

Hoegh said Brunsdale and Stratton authorized him to speak for them. He said Stratton expressed concern about farm legislation. Brunsdale already has sent a letter and a telegram to Eisenhower urging him to sign the bill, Hoegh said.

'Political Significance'

He said he was unable to contact Republican Gov. George Craig of Indiana to ask him also to make the trip.

"I feel it is very important economically that the bill be signed," Hoegh said. "I think also the bill has political significance. There is no doubt about that."

The governor said there have been no indications that the President would act on the bill before Monday. Eisenhower is in Augusta, Ga., but plans to return to Washington by Monday.

Ike Mum on Possible Veto

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower, mum on reports he has decided to veto the farm bill, may make a nationwide TV-radio address next week to explain whatever action he takes.

As the President awaited the arrival of Secretary of Agriculture Benson for a conference Saturday on the controversial election year bill, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower is thinking about going to the American people on the politically hot issues.

Benson Declines Comment

In Washington, Benson declined to say whether he will recommend a veto of the farm bill.

Hagerty cautioned newsmen against concluding that consideration Eisenhower is giving to the idea of a TV-radio talk means necessarily that the President already has made up his mind to veto the bill, which Eisenhower has called unworkable.

He said Eisenhower may go on the air "whatever action he takes" — whether he signs or vetoes the measure which Congress approved despite vigorous administration objections to certain major provisions.

Veto Reports

Reports persisted that Eisenhower will announce a veto when he returns to Washington next week from a working Augusta vacation but Hagerty refused to discuss the reports.

Hagerty said a decision regarding an Eisenhower TV-radio talk "quite probably" will be made at the President's conference Saturday with Benson.

TO FIGHT GUERILLAS

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP) — Chief Minister Prince Abdul Rahman says the Malayan people will start an all-out war against Communist guerillas within four weeks. The anti-Red fight has been pressed for eight years by British forces. Prince Rahman's D-day is secret.

Victim of Shooting

THE X SHOWS THE SPOT behind the bar at Kenney's tavern where Mrs. Irene Kenney fell after being shot Friday evening. Roland Van Nest, 52, 130 E. Jefferson St., is being held in connection with the shooting.

The Weather

Clear and Warm

Warm, springlike weather is in store for Iowans over the weekend in a warming trend expected to last till Wednesday.

In southeastern Iowa, highs over the weekend will reach into the 70's with evening lows predicted in the upper 40's.

No rain is expected as warm, southerly winds continue to dominate the southeastern Iowa weather scene.

NATO Holds Huge Naval Maneuver

VALLETTA, Malta (AP)—The biggest NATO naval exercise yet held in the Mediterranean—called Medflex Dragon—began Friday.

Forces from the United States, Britain, France, Italy, Greece, Turkey—and for the first time, Portugal—are participating.

About 250 planes and 100 surface vessels are taking part.

Victim's Mate Beats Attacker After Shooting

Mrs. John E. Kenney, 42, was shot Friday afternoon by a customer she had refused to serve in her husband's tavern across from the SUI campus.

She was reported in fair condition at University Hospitals late Friday night with bullet wounds in the chest and right hand.

Roland Van Nest, 52, the customer, was in worse shape from the pistol-whipping he got after the shooting from Mrs. Kenny's husband, John, 60.

Probable Skull Fracture

He was reported in serious condition, with a probable compressed skull fracture and head cuts, and was unconscious. Van Nest was taken to the operating room at 11:40 p.m.

At 1 a.m., University Hospitals reported that Van Nest was still in surgery and there was no further report on his condition.

William Tucker, Johnson County Attorney, had not decided what charges would be filed against Van Nest, a long-time Iowa City barber.

He had three choices: 1. assault with intent to commit murder, 2. assault with intent to commit a felony or 3. assault with intent to commit great bodily injury.

Shooting

This was the story pieced together by Tucker and Iowa City police late Friday night:

Van Nest, 130 E. Jefferson St., a frequent customer at Kenney's, came to the bar shortly after it opened at 12:30 p.m. He stayed until about 2:30 p.m., drinking beer, then went to a wedding reception at the Mayflower Inn.

He returned at about 4:15 with a companion and resumed his beer-drinking. He fell off a bar stool. Mrs. Kenney refused him more beer and asked him to leave. He did.

Returned Later

Van Nest returned at about 5:25 p.m. Mrs. Kenney saw him enter the door and walked to the west end of the bar to meet him. They exchanged words.

Van Nest whipped out two revolvers, .22 caliber and .38 caliber Smith and Wesson's from a matching set. He fired the .22 twice. One bullet entered Mrs. Kenney's chest three inches above the heart and deflected off a rib. The other lodged in her right hand. She fell back behind the bar.

Her tall, wiry husband charged out from behind the bar and tackled the chunky Van Nest head-on. They grappled on the floor and Kenney got hold of one gun.

Pistol-Whipped

He hit Van Nest in the head with it, knocking him to the floor.

BLEEDING FROM A CUT on the left side of his head, Roland Van Nest, 52, 130 E. Jefferson St., is led out the rear entrance of the city jail by Richard Lee. Van Nest is being held in connection with the shooting Friday afternoon of Mrs. Irene Kenney, wife of the owner of Kenney's tavern. Kenney's is across the street east of the SUI main campus. Van Nest was injured when Kenney wrested a gun away from him after the shooting and hit him with it. Van Nest was taken to Mercy Hospital, then to University Hospitals for observation and possible surgery.

Police Give Parker's Story for 1st Time

LINCOLN (AP) — Murder Defendant Darrel F. Parker had a "funny feeling that something was wrong as he approached his home the noon his wife's strangled body was found."

Parker so stated while being interviewed by authorities less than 24 hours after the slaying, assistant Lincoln Police Chief Eugene Masters testified Friday.

Masters was the 13th state's witness in the first degree murder trial of the 24-year-old Parker.

Was Suspicious

Masters quoted the former Lincoln city forester as saying this grew out of several observations.

A window shade in the bedroom where Nancy's body was found had been raised only 4 or 5 inches, Parker said. Nancy usually raised these shades to the top.

A station wagon which Nancy was to have used that forenoon was still on the driveway where it was when he went to work, according to Parker's account, and a milk box lid was up, out of its usual position.

Tells Parker's Account

Masters' testimony was the first time Parker's account of incidents on the fatal morning had been told.

Nancy had been looking out the window to see if Parker could get his car started when Parker left for work between 7:05 and 7:15 a.m., according to Parker's account as related. There had been battery trouble but the car started.

Masters said Parker told this story of his return home that noon:

Doors Not Locked

He entered the house by a side door leading into the kitchen. Both the storm door and inside door were closed but neither was locked.

A puppy owned by the couple didn't bark as usual when Parker entered.

Parker noticed the breakfast dishes still on the drainboard, his wife's opened purse on the kitchen counter and her green billfold on the kitchen table.

No Answer to Call

He noticed that the noon meal was not being prepared. He called out: "Nancy."

There was no answer.

He went immediately to the northwest bedroom, saw Nancy "all sprawled out" in the middle of the bed. A pillow covered her head and an electric blanket covered her body.

Parker removed the pillow and saw rags in her mouth. He pulled the covers down and saw ropes around her neck.

Called Police

He hurried to the phone, called police and then called James Ager, city park superintendent for whom Parker worked.

The assistant police chief still was on the stand when court recessed to 9 a.m., Monday.

Council President—

Young Takes Over New Duties

By NAN BORRESON

Bob Young, L2, Waterloo, elected president of the 1956-57 Student Council, has a big job ahead of him.

"It will be the council's duty to see that the newly approved seating arrangement in the football stadium's student section is given a fair trial. Also it will be our job to oversee the operation of the new student parking plan, if it is approved by university authorities," Young said Friday.

YOUNG

But Young is a big man to handle the big job.

Inspires Confidence

Standing close to 6 feet, 5 inches, Young inspires confidence in his speech and actions. He speaks slowly and deliberately when he has something to say.

In the first council meeting over which he presided Wednesday night, he listened attentively to plans made by last year's council concerning Campus Chest and parking on the west side of the river. Since that time he has conferred with ex-council President Mark Putney, L3, Gladbrook, about other unfinished council business.

Young's obvious friendliness probably was partially responsible for his election to Student Council as a representative from married students last March.

Second Year Student

He was elected president of the new Student Council by council vote Wednesday night. A second year student in the SUI College of Law, Young is the seventh consecutive law student to be Student Council president.

In an informal survey, other council members expressed the belief that it was the maturity and age of professional and school students that helped law students qualify for this position.

Young has been on campus five years since entering in 1952. He received a B.S. degree from the Commerce Department last February.

SAE Member

As a liberal arts student he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity. He served as SAE house manager and treasurer.

For the past year, Young has been writing for the Iowa Law Review, a quarterly student publication of the Iowa Law School.

He is a member of Phi Delta Phi law fraternity.

His wife, the former Jane Redenbaugh, was graduated from the SUI College of Liberal Arts in June 1955.

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan is an independent daily newspaper, written and edited by students. It is governed by a board of five student trustees elected by the student body and four faculty trustees appointed by the president of the unisity.

The Iowan editorial staff writes its editorials without censorship by administration or faculty. The Iowan's editorial policy, therefore, is not necessarily an expression of SUI administration policy or opinion.

The Iowan, in the terms of a policy statement adopted by trustees in 1946, "will try to act as a good citizen of the SUI community and the community of Iowa City. . . . The Daily Iowan conceives its owners to be the whole constituency of the University, past, present and future. It will endeavor to hold the good of the University in trust for these owners. . . ."

Orchids to the Student Council

The SUI Student Council has been criticized for years as a worthless organization on the SUI campus.

"They don't do anything . . . they just do what the administration tells them . . . they just run the book exchange and student elections . . . what have they ever done for the students?"

That's what students have said over past years about the Student Council. They just couldn't see what the Student Council was doing for them. They didn't think the council was standing up for the student body to the SUI administration.

The old Student Council went out of office this week. It left behind a list of accomplishments that benefitted students.

These were the major accomplishments of the outgoing council:

1. The council recommended to the SUI Board in Control of Athletics last January a plan that will make available a reserved seat in Iowa Stadium to all SUI students this fall. The board this week accepted the plan.

Council President Mark Putney asked the board in the spring of 1955 for more student seating in Iowa Stadium. The board said that 1955-56 enrollment estimates did not warrant more seating.

The student situation at Iowa's opening game seemed to disprove this. There were not enough seats for students at the game. Then, at the following three games, many seats went unfilled in the student section while other fans couldn't get tickets.

The council plan gives students a chance to get reserved seats at Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday sales. It enables students to get one extra adjacent seat for a friend. It places all unclaimed tickets on sale to the public after the students have first chance at them.

2. The council's parking committee, headed by chairman James Cooney, sent to the SUI Parking Committee a student parking plan. The SUI committee, headed by Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce, has reportedly recommended much of the student council's plan in a report to President Virgil M. Hancher.

3. The council started the movement to get the student wage rate on campus raised from 85 cents to $1 per hour. The State Board of Regents has taken the request under consideration.

4. The council recommended (and the SUI Library agreed to) extending library hours until 2 in the morning to benefit late-studying students.

These were the council's major accomplishments. Then there was the load of minor or routine business the council handles every year and gets little credit for. An example is the student book exchange, which saves hundreds of student dollars annually.

The outgoing council members deserve a pat on the back for their work this year. They did much for the SUI students of today and tomorrow.

The Negroes Follow Gandhi

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., immediately after his conviction for leading the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, went to New York and from a Brooklyn church pulpit called upon Negroes of America to follow the example of Montgomery and press for integration by "passive resistance."

Montgomery Negroes, he declared, "had borrowed from a little brown-skinned man in India, Gandhi, the message that brought the British Empire to its knees."

° ° °

The boycott of the buses by Montgomery Negroes in many ways resembles the passive resistance Indians used to gain their freedom.

In both cases a white group was domineering a dark-skinned group, looking upon it with contempt and refusing to consider its pleas.

In both cases the whites were waiting for the dark-skinned group to break into violence, so that they could put down resistance with an iron fist.

In both cases the colored people have confounded the whites by meeting intolerance with tolerance.

The Negroes of Montgomery have not tried to damage the buses (only occasional stones have been thrown). Their leaders have urged repeatedly against violence. Instead they have convinced 95 per cent of the Negro bus-riders to walk (often miles) or use a well-organized car pool.

The boycott has been effective. Buses ride nearly empty through Negro districts of Montgomery, costing the bus company more for fuel and driver salaries than it is making on fares.

Negroes agitated for years against the injustices thrust upon them in the South. They got next to nowhere.

Then they took their fight to the courts, with top-noteh lawyers like Thurgood Marshall leading the way. Here in May, 1954, they won their greatest victory when segregation in schools was declared illegal.

Since then school segregation barriers have been toppling in Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Kansas, Maryland, West Virginia, Washington, D.C., and North Carolina.

Other segregation barriers are falling in those states, too.

In the Deep South (Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and South Carolina) and Virginia, the reverse has been true. The white man has refused to compromise. The resistance to integration has stiffened and shows no sign of giving in — ever.

Here methods other than agitation and court action will be needed if segregation is to be wiped out within the next few generations.

Could a Gandhian program of passive resistance be the Negro's answer to the White Citizens Councils of the Deep South? Is the Montgomery bus boycott a start in this direction? Can the Negroes further their aims by economic boycotts of this type?

In Gandhi's book, the Montgomery boycott would hardly be worth a footnote. At one point in the Indian struggle for independence a group of Moslems proposed a boycott of British textiles. This in itself, said Gandhi, was not sufficient action. It must be accompanied, he said, by a refusal of British employment, British honors, British schools, British courts, and the entire machinery of British government, including non-payment of taxes.

For this disobedience, thousands of Indians joined Gandhi and his disciple, Jawaharlal Nehru, in overflowing British jails. In the end they won complete victory: the British granted complete independence.

Will Negroes in the Deep South be forced to turn to this sort of program in their battle for freedom?

Editors Feel Case Investigation Inadequate; Say UN Mid-East Efforts Important

Case Investigation

In reporting the $2,500 campaign contribution offered to Senator Case of South Dakota, the special 4-man investigating committee has worked a virtual white-wash to make it seem a severe condemnation.

The committee found the offer made in connection with the natural gas bill to be "neither a bride nor an attempt to bribe." That surely is white-wash. But the chairman, Senator George, and his colleagues, Senators Hayden, Bridges and Thye, went on to say that "it is possible to conclude that the contribution was in the nature of a reward to Senator Case for his supposed intent to vote in favor of legislation, or perhaps a kind of insurance to the donor that Senator Case would continue to think and act favorably, the contribution being the premium on the policy." — ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH.

* * *

In condemning the men who tried to pass out substantial campaign contributions as a means of marshaling strength behind the gas bill, the George Committee left much unsaid. The report appears to have suffered from excessive editing and rewriting.

Nevertheless, it is a strong indictment of the activities of Elmer Patman and John Neff, the money passers in this despicable marriage of lobbying and dollar politiking. The report underlines the need for a thorough investigation into the use of money to influence votes.

The net effect of the report should be to hasten the broad investigation of lobbying and campaign contributions to be undertaken by the McClellan Committee.

The strangest deficiency in the report lies in its failure to commend Senator Francis Case for his courageous exposure of what the gas bill lobbyists were up to. At the committee's hearings it sometimes appeared that Senator Case was the culprit rather than the people who tried to influence his vote by contributing $2,500 to his campaign fund, and in some measure this attitude appears to have carried over into the report.

Undoubtedly Senator Case caused grave uneasiness among some of his colleagues by forcing an investigation of campaign contributions, but his act was one of statesmanship that has already born good fruit. It should have been recognized as such. — THE WASHINGTON POST.

UN Peace Efforts

This week the secretary general of the United Nations begins his on-the-scene search for agreements that would at least ease the more immediated tensions in the Near East. As he was preparing to set out from New York, Dag Hammarskjold warned the world not to expect "miracles." In ordinary circumstances that would perhaps be sound advice. Unfortunately the current Near Eastern situation appears to require some sort of miracle.

The urgency of the threat posed to world peace is self-evident. In the last year raiding operations along the Israeli frontier have increased in intensity as well as frequency. These clearly have involved violation not only of the spirit but of the letter of the 1949 truce, which was arranged under the auspices of the United Nations. Since the chief United Nations observer on the spot indicated that his efforts to supervise compliance with the armistice upon the Security Council to tighten the international control. — THE KANSAS CITY STAR.

Belatedly, the United Nations is making an effort through its secretary general to bring peace to the Middle East. The effort should be loyally supported on both sides of the Iron Curtain. A great world tragedy might be the result of failure. — CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

Franco's Decision

Generalissmo Francisco Franco has shown wisdom and statesmanship in agreeing to grant independence to the Spanish zone of Morocco. One can argue that there was nothing else for him to do. Nevertheless, to accept the inevitable with good grace is a form of statesmanship.

It is more than likely that by bowing to the inevitable with such graciousness Spain will gain more influence in North Africa than she now has. The Sultan and Moroccan nationalists have not forgotten that when France exiled the ruler in 1953 the Spaniards stood by Ben Youssef and refused to recognize the interim Sultan. Nevertheless, it was France that first granted independence to Morocco, thus forcing the Spanish dictator's hand, but by the irony of history, Spain may reap what France sowed.—THE NEW YORK TIMES

Professors' Oath

It is regrettable and somewhat frightening that an organization which claims to have a membership of 37,000 university professors has taken the position that a college should not dismiss a professor who belongs to the Communist party or who has invoked the Fifth Amendment to avoid disclosing Communist affiliations.

Clearly the professors who took this action are ignorant of the nature of the Communist menace or, if they are not ignorant, they are at least indifferent to it. No one can become a member of the Communist party who has not been thoroughly indoctrinated in its principles and these, as a dozen criminal trials have demonstrated, include overthrow of the United States government by force and violence if necessary—CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER

Added Tax Burden

(The Atlantic News-Telegraph)

The president has asked the Congress for extra defense funds for the fiscal year starting July 1. What this may mean with reference to the world situation we do not know, but with reference to the financial situation of the country the picture is clear enough. It just means added tax burdens for the people.

All this is a part of the cost of a cold war, or an arms race as it used to be called. Wars either cold or hot are tragically expensive when one figures the other things which might be bought with the moneys spent on wars of all kinds.

The billions used to buy planes and tanks and to build new and awful weapons would build all the schools and hospitals this country will need in the next 50 years and leave a healthy cash balance. These things the nation does without in order to pay for cold and hot wars and the never ending post war costs.

Reaction to California Ball Pact Hit

From The Daily Texan

The Daily Californian, commenting on the latest athletic pact between The University of Texas and the University of California, has allied itself — unknowingly, but unerringly — with a trend of thinking manifest of late in the South's most vicious reaction.

That trend, provoked almost wholly by the segregation dilemma, is one of isolation, disassociation, chauvinism, and an almost tragic disavowal of the oneness of America.

* * *

"THE SIGNING of a contract for the Golden Bears to play the University of Texas Longhorns in a home-and-home football series beginning in 1959," the editorial says, "has elicited consternation in many quarters.

"Fear has been expressed that the University's teams in games with southern schools might be discriminated against.

Disassociation of this sort will not solve the segregation trouble. As the nation enters a trying and somehow frightful chapter, a time wrought by self-doubt and regional unrest, we have never more needed the image of national solidarity, mutual sensitivity, and common understanding.

We cannot succumb to escapism; we may soon become a nation of splinters, South against West, South against North. The South today is in desperate, grievous need of example. Southerners have lived for years with their loath and prejudice.

Many have yet to be shown that racial friendliness, itself removed from ethic and tradition, can work.

* * *

THE POLICY which the Californian seeks is coldly impersonal, a sophistry of a kind. You cannot boycott emotion, pain, or conscience.

To cancel an athletic event with, say, this University (under the terms being sought, UT's segregated housing would effect cancellation) would be to mete out punishment where praise seems to be warranted.

It is almost common knowledge that the University's transition toward desegregation is being achieved in a spirit of cooperation and courage.

To be colloquial, or perhaps blunt, we must accentuate the irony. Ten years ago the case would have been reversed: The University of Texas would be boycotting the University of California.

Fabulous

(The Red Oak Express)

First off, we don't want to eulogize the last night's basketball game in the NCAA finals. Others will do that.

But we can't help expressing a great admiration for the five seniors who started — and won — so many games for the University of Iowa and proved that they don't quit scrapping even with the clock and the score running against them.

Carl (Sugar) Cain, Milton (Sharm) Scheuerman, Bill Logan, Bill Schoof and Bill Seaberg took Iowa to the second spot nationally — with some able support from the bench — from a field of over 460 colleges and universities.

Iowa's basketball stock looked down early in the season, with four losses on the Pacific coast and a squeaker against the club in the Big Ten opener.

And look what happened! The team climbed from 20th, to 17th, to 12th and on up in the polls and made a lot of the experts take notice with events of the past four weeks.

Forget what happened that night, boys. After all, you were outscored by a champion and no one thinks there's any shame in that.

DIET REGRETS

(Ruth Clark, Tipton Conservative)

To me it seems a little sad that about the time two people have been married long enough so that the wife gets a little confidence and competence about her cooking and begins to branch out into the fancier, richer dishes, she and her spouse both discover the time has come to diet (or at least show a little moderation) if they're to keep their youthful figures.

DSF Does Odd Jobs To Sponsor Refugee Family

By DAVE HARTQUIST

Taking down storm windows, baby-sitting, washing walls, spading gardens, cleaning up trash, and raking leaves are becoming familiar jobs to members of the Disciples Student Fellowship.

To sponsor a refugee family from Europe, the DSF is doing odd jobs for members of First Christian Church and other residents of Iowa City during April in an effort to raise approximately $400.

The money will go toward paying transportation expenses of the family from the U.S. port-of-entry to Iowa City.

"Not only will we be doing something worthwhile for the family, we will also be doing something for the church and for Iowa City," said Sherilyn Cooper, A3, Iowa City, chairman of the DSF Stewardship Committee.

Personal Contact

"Members of the church congregation and neighbors of a refugee family can learn about the people of Europe better through personal contact than through any other way," she added.

The Women's and Men's Fellowships of the Christian Church will help the DSF with their project by finding a home for the family and employment for the father.

"We have not yet chosen a family to sponsor, but we have narrowed the list of available families and we hope to start working on choosing a family very soon," said the Rev. A. C. Hofrichter, minister of the church.

Welfare Department

The group is working through the Department of Social Welfare of the Disciples of Christ. This department receives the names of families wishing to come to the United States from the Church World Service which is one of the services offered by the World Council of Churches, a Protestant organization.

The Disciples churches in the United States have pledged to complete 500 assurances of transportation, homes and jobs for refugee families by the end of the year, said Miss Sally Smith, director of student work at the Christian Church in Iowa City.

"Five hundred assurances seem like quite a few, but the First Christian Church in Kalamazoo, Mich., completed seven of them in less than three weeks," she added.

RAKING LEAVES to help raise money for the Disciples Student Fellowship (DSF) refugee family project are William Carpe, A1, Des Moines, and Ethel Christensen, Iowa City. The DSF, student group of the First Christian Church, is trying to raise $400 by doing odd jobs during April. The money will be used to help defray transportation expenses from the U.S. port-of-entry to Iowa City for a refugee family from Europe which will be chosen later.

Will Work on New Catechism Translation

Prof. George W. Forell of the SUI School of Religion will be in Chicago Monday to serve on a committee working on an idiomatic translation of Luther's Small Catechism.

The committee is composed of 15 representatives of various Lutheran bodies in the United States. Forell will represent the United Lutheran Church of America.

This is the second meeting of the committee, which will be meeting about three times a year until the work is finished, Forell explained.

Luther's Small Catechism is used mainly for instruction of Lutheran children before they are confirmed but is also used for adult instruction. The committee will try to make the work more meaningful for modern times, Forell said.

The catechism was written by Luther in German and was first published in 1529. Since then thousands of editions have been published.

If the changes the committee prepares are acceptable, the revised edition will be adopted by all Lutherans in the United States, Forell stated.

UNDERGROUND WATER

Experts estimate there is more water underground in the United States than in all lakes, rivers and reservoirs.

Bargebuhr Granted London Fellowship

Prof. Frederick P. Bargebuhr of the SUI School of Religion has been appointed a research fellow for the University of London and will leave in early June for a full summer's work at Warburg Institute, London, which is part of the University.

Bargebuhr said he will do research on "the mutual secularistic influence in Byzantium and on Moslem and Jewish Spain."

"The secularistic movement can be observed in the so-called Solomonic heresy in which the Biblical King Solomon served as a shield and precedent for courtly love and love poetry, skepticism and Neo-Platonism and plastic art," Bargebuhr said.

Funds for the fellowship are allocated partly by the University of London and partly by the American Philosophical Society.

Set Goal of $150,000

The 1956 goal of the Iowa Christian Rural Overseas Program Committee (CROP) was set at $150,000 worth of food in Des Moines Thursday.

The Rev. Charles R. Martin, Iowa CROP chairman, said that the food, which is designated for use by church welfare agencies in disaster-stricken areas, would consist of 80 carloads of corn, or 35 carloads of lard, or 40 carloads of beans, or a proportionate combination of the three commodities.

CROP's resources are used to defray handling and distribution costs on surplus commodities which the U.S. Government furnishes to the Church, and to supply food that is not available from surplus stocks.

NEW YORK (AP) — Margaret Truman left Friday night for Independence, Mo., where she will wed newspaperman Clifton Daniel April 21.

Daniel, assistant to the foreign news editor of the New York Times, declined to kiss his bride-to-be in public.

Daniel, who saw the former President's daughter off at the railroad station and will go to Independence next week, said they would live in New York City — "We both work here, so that's where we'll be living."

3 Questions Will Confront Conference

Methodist leaders from all over the United States and from the "mission conferences" in Africa, South America and Asia will gather from April 25 to May 9 for the 1956 General Conference of the Methodist Church at Minneapolis, Minn.

The Conference, which is composed of a delegated group of lay people and clergy, meets once every four years to decide on issues confronting the church.

Three important issues will be brought before the Conference this year. They include:

1. The Segregated Church. The previous General Conference took steps which began a movement for creating an integrated church. The coming Conference will deal with this question more seriously. A number of groups within the church have asked that the Central Jurisdiction (Negro Jurisdiction) be dissolved and that the churches in it join the white conferences.

2. Full Clergy Rights for Women. Many sessions of the General Conference have been confronted with this question. Women have careers in law, medicine, university teaching, business and other fields, so why not the clergy, supporters argue. This question should prove a lively issue at the Conference.

3. Emphasis on Education. The third important issue which will come before the conference is Christian Education. Many Methodists believe that emphasis by the church as a whole on Christian education at the higher levels is long overdue. Specific problems are the importance of a Church college being a Christian college and the opportunities, as well as the difficulties, which confront the church from the state college and university situation.

Also elected were: Lowell Mathes, A2, Iowa City, vice-president; Edith Sytsma, A2, Leighton, secretary and Standish Barrows, A2, Wilbraham, Mass., treasurer.

The Rev. Roger Johnson, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, Cedar Rapids, will speak at the retreat.

It was announced that a new student adviser to the group will be appointed at the retreat. He will succeed the Rev. Donald F. Hetzler, minister to students at the SUI Lutheran Student Association.

Iowa Barrage Stops Western Illinois, 13-3

By LARRY DENNIS

Friday the 13th proved a little unlucky for the Western Illinois State baseball team as Iowa's Hawkeyes drilled out 13 hits in a 13-3 victory amid a comedy of Leatherneck errors at Iowa Field. In addition, the Hawks came up with 13 assists during the game.

The visitors from Macomb, Ill., just were not in the same class with Iowa. They committed eight errors in the field. They let Hawkeyes steal 11 bases, and allowed Iowa six unearned runs.

Iowa, on the other hand, played probably its best game of the young season. The Hawks committed just two errors, one of them on a technicality when Catcher Don Bock interfered with a batter. Besides their 13 hits, they slapped several long flies into a straight-on wind for outs that could have fallen for hits on any other day. Several Hawkeye line drives were caught or knocked down by the visitors' infield.

Hurling Duty

Don Dobrino and Bill Schoof shared the hurling duty for Iowa and allowed Western Illinois just six hits. Dobrino, who threw the first five innings, was credited with his second victory in a row. He is still the only winner on the Hawkeye mound staff.

Dobrino and Schoof each gave up three hits. Each was in trouble just once. The Leathernecks scored twice on Dobrino in the fifth when Pitcher Charles Arends lined a bases-loaded single into right, driving in Lou Lupinek and Jack Liljeberg.

Prior to that, Dobrino had faced only 12 men in four innings. He gave up a single to Larry Crouch in the first, but Crouch was caught stealing second and not another Leatherneck reached base until the fifth.

Harcharick Scores

Schoof's only bad time came in the ninth, when Wayne Harcharick blasted a double to deep left and scored on Ron Little's single through the box.

Western Illinois' two hurlers, on the other hand, saw nothing but trouble most of the contest. A walk to Babe Hawthorne an infield single by Tom Haye and a walk to Don Bock filled the bases in the first. Then Kirby Smith, who must be considered the hitting star for Iowa, slapped a ground single into left to score Hawthorne and Haye. Bock, who went to third on the hit, tallied a moment later via an error on Ted Jensen's grounder.

Bock scored again in the second on another single by Smith into the same spot. This one almost took Bock's head off as he charged down the basepath between second and third.

In the fourth, Scheuerman reached first on an error, stole second, went to third on Dobrino's single to center and scored when Behrends let loose with a wild pitch.

Bock, on base with his third walk of the game in the fifth, scored again on a single by Smith, again to left. Smith in turn went to second on Scheuerman's safety and scored on Dobrino's second consecutive hit.

Draws A Walk

Scheuerman and Haye each got two hits. Bock and Hawthorne scored three times for Iowa, Haye and Scheuerman tallied twice.

Hawthorne drew a walk from new pitcher Pat Kelley to start the sixth, stole second and waited there while Kurtz beat out a grounder to third. The two then worked a double steal and Hawthorne scored on an error by Catcher Harcharick.

Smith collected three hits altogether in five times at the plate. He batted in four runs. Kurtz also was credited with three safeties, including a triple in the fifth that went for naught when he was caught trying to steal home.

The Hawkeyes climaxed things in the seventh when they scored four times on four hits and four Western Illinois errors. Three of the runs tallied by Hawthorne, Haye, Scheuerman and Schoof were unearned.

Iowa meets Luther Monday and Tuesday at Iowa field. Each game will start at 3:30 p.m. The Hawks will carry a 2-6 season's record into the tilts.

As Her Tournament Opens—

Fighting Babe Feels 'Pretty Good'

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Babe Didrickson Zaharias returned to her hospital room after another X-ray treatment Friday and said she felt "pretty good."

It was the eighth trip to the X-ray room for the famous woman athlete since a recurrence of cancer brought her back to John Sealy Hospital a third time in less than a year.

Wearing a robe, pajamas and a "rather special" golf cap, Babe left a wheelchair at the door, walked into the flower-rimmed room and broke into a big smile while greeting husband George Zaharias and a visitor.

Cancer has plagued her since mid-1953.

She climbed into bed, closed her eyes and threw an arm across her forehead. She appeared very, very tired. She said she wanted to rest a few minutes.

A half hour later, Babe talked enthusiasticaly about her flowers, her golf cap, and the daily rides along the Galveston beach with George.

The white cap she wore to the X-ray room carried red and blue lettering, "Official, Babe Zaharias Open." George brought it to her after attending Beaumont ceremonies preceding Friday's opening of the tournament named for the Babe by Beaumont, her home town.

While Babe had been in the X-ray room, George explained that there will be 15 or 16 treatments in the current series. After the series is completed, plans are indefinite but George expressed hope Babe will be able to watch play on the women's professional golf tour.

"We are thinking about moving to Texas," he said. "These trips here from Florida are getting to be too hard on Babe."

A "dream house" Babe and George built in Tampa, Fla., will be a year old in June. They moved to Tampa in 1950.

"Her pain left her four days ago and she began feeling real good," George said. "She's had pneumonia once and pleurisy four times since Christmas."

A five-hour operation in Beaumont in 1953 removed a rectal malignancy and Babe was competing in tournaments again within 16 months. University of Texas medical branch doctors at John Sealy last year discovered a recurrence, in the first and second segments of the sacrum, the large triangular section forming the base of the spine.

A series of X-ray treatments permitted her to return to Tampa, but last week John Sealy doctors said the sacrum cancer has spread slightly.

Athletics Not Over-Emphasized, Says Evashevski

DES MOINES (AP) — Iowa Football Coach Forest Evashevski said here Friday night that athletics may receive more publicity than other departments of a university but that this does not mean the athletic program is over-emphasized.

Evashevski, speaking to members of the Iowa Press Association, declared that an athletic program is justified in the educational system.

He suggested that the "academic curricula is undersold or underemphasized."

To Trade Places

"I wouldn't coach where football was more important than the English department, the law school or the medicine school," said Evashevski. "Most football coaches would love to trade places with a teaching professor."

"Let's not pull athletics down, but bring academic publicity up," he told the newspapermen.

"When letters come to you from a professor who thinks he's underpaid, I hope you will think about the educational use of athletics," he said.

Navy's Program

Evashevski told of the Navy's program for physical education for fliers in World War II "to make them better competitors."

"Re-evaluate the educational program and think of the football coach as a teacher who brings out the competitive spirit or 'will to win' rather than as a professional who comes in to present a show," he said.

"Very few put athletics in its proper place. "We can do a lot in selling our educational program."

Golfer Raps 'Crybaby Alibi'

NEW YORK (AP)—The veteran Gene Sarazen, whose vote helped Ken Venturi get into the recent Masters Golf Tournament, sharply criticized the 24-year-old San Francisco amateur Friday for what he called a "crybaby alibi."

"Anyone who shoots 80 in the final round of a golf tournament should be seen and not heard," added the 54-year-old Germantown farmer, winner of the Masters in 1935. "I dropped my plow when I heard what Venturi said."

The young amateur, beaten out for the championship at Augusta, Ga., by Jackie Burke Jr., after shooting an 80 and blowing a four-stroke final day lead, complained of bad treatment in the tournament after his return home.

He said he was denied the privilege of playing with his longtime friend and tutor, Byron Nelson, in the final round and that his partner, Sam Snead, gave him the "freeze" treatment.

"Sam hardly said a word to me," said Venturi, who contrasted his last round lonesomeness with the enthusiastic support given by Burke by the latter's playing partner, Mike Souchak.

Iowa Schools May Dominate Drake Relays

(Special to The Daily Iowan)

DES MOINES — Iowa, Iowa State, and Drake have the track talent to make a prominent showing in the forty-seventh Drake Relays here April 27-28.

Last year the three largest state schools could produce only one winner — Iowa's shuttle hurdle relay team that set a Relays record of :59.2.

All four members of the Hawk shuttle team return, led by versatile Les Stevens and Jack Mathews.

The Iowa team strength is much greater in all events this year, however.

National Leader

Coach Francis Cretzmeyer has come up with a national leader in lengthy Ted Wheeler, back from a service tour.

Wheeler ran the fastest collegiate indoor mile in winning at the Chicago Relays in 4:07.5. It was one of seven straight mile victories indoors for Wheeler, who took the Big 10 championships in the mile (4:12.5) and half-mile (1:55.1).

If Cretzmeyer runs Wheeler in the Relays open mile, he'll undoubtedly be a one-two favorite. Wheeler may be held out of the mile, however, to run on some of Iowa's potent relay combinations.

Medley Team

The Hawks could present an outstanding sprint medley relay team, with Wheeler anchoring, and also go strong in the distance medley, again with Wheeler in cleanup.

Iowa's mile relay team placed a tight second in the Big 10 meet, a shade behind Indiana. It already has run 3:16.6 and 3:16.9 in its first two outdoor appearances.

Caesar Smith, formerly an outstanding athlete at North High in Des Moines, anchors the mile team.

The smooth sophomore has a :48.4 open qaurter to his credit this spring.

Fastest Pair

Stevens and Mathews are perhaps the fastest pair of hurdlers on any one team in the nation.

Stevens has run a :14.2 flight of 120-highs and has a :14.4 clocking this spring. Mathews placed second in the NCAA 200-lows last spring, and has hit :14.5 in the 120-highs this spring.

In addition, Stevens tied for first in the Big 10 indoor high jump at 6 feet 6⅜ inches.

Distinct Threats

Gardner Van Dyke and Nick Piper, Hawkeye pole vaulters, are distinct threats in that event.

Iowa State has two headliners in vaulter Hal Mullison and javelin thrower Jake Muelenthaler.

Mullison, yet to make an outdoor appearance, cleared 13-11¼ indoor for an all-time Iowa State record.

And Muelenthaler also set a Cyclone record last summer when he threw the javelin 215 feet 9¼ inches for second place in the Big 7 outdoor meet.

Back From Service

Drake's hopes rest on sprinter Jim Ford, back after a stay in the service.

Ford won three national titles in 1951-52 before entering the Air Force. In 1951 he won the NAAU 200-meter dash in :20.8 and the junior NAAU 100-meter dash in :10.5.

He took the 1952 National Collegiate 200-meter dash in :21.0 and narrowly missed the Olympic team that year when he pulled a muscle in the final qualifying meet.

Ford has worked back into shape during the indoor season, though suffering a slight muscle pull in the Milwaukee Journal meet. He will be ready to go outdoors. His best time in the 100 is :09.5.

Loras College Downs ISTC, 8-1

CEDAR FALLS (AP) — Loras won its third straight baseball game in swamping Iowa State Teachers College 8-1 here Friday.

Art Huinker struck out 10 Teacher batters in going the distance for his second win of the season.

Loras batsmen blasted 4 homers as Joe Ottavi recorded a perfect day at the plate with 4 for 4 including 2 homers and a double. The other homers were by Romi Gales and Sam Ezzinaro.

The win gave Loras a 3-0 record, while Iowa Teachers has a 0-2 mark.

In Saxton-Basilio Fight Probe—

Board Tries To Pin Down 'Fix' Rumor

CHICAGO (AP)—An attempt by the Illinois State Athletic Commission to pin down a printed rumor of a "fix" in Johnny Saxton's dethroning of Carmen Basilio for the world welterweight title March 14 Friday resolved into a no-decision debate.

The commission, aided by a state's attorney general assistant, interrogated Jack Begun, veteran Chicago fight manager and promoter, who recently flayed Saxton's much-debated victory in a Chicago amusement circular.

Begun wrote in his sports column for the March 23-30 edition of "Night Life in Chicago" that:

"If ever a thievery was performed with precision and according to plan that made the Boston Brink's $2 million robbery look like a 2-year-old, it was the one on the night of the 14th at the Chicago Stadium when Johnny Saxton, then the challenger from New York City, snatched a half million and the title from Carmen Basilio, then welterweight champion of the world from Canastota, N.Y."

Common Gossip

Begun's column also said "it was common gossip" before the fight, Saxton would get the decision if the bout went 15 rounds. He suggested that all persons connected wtih the fight be subpoenaed to air "this phony decision" and offered to "give you all the help needed."

Begun's article also asserted Saxton's glove had "surgery performed by the blade and on purpose in the minute rest of the third round" to give the challenger "the rest he needed."

"If you don't believe it," the article continued, "look at the glove as I did. What a neat job."

The March 14 bout was stopped in the third round when Saxton waved his split left glove at the referee and was sent to his corner for a replacement with less than a minute of the round left. In the second round, Basilio had stunned Saxton with a left-right combination.

Strictly 'Opinion'

At Friday's spirited session, Commission Chairman Livingston Osborne and Edward M. White, attorney general's assistant, were unable to extract from Begun any more than an admission his column was strictly "opinion."

There was quite a hassle about Saxton's split glove. Osborne said the glove, which was on display at the meeting, was inspected by the ring inspector and commission immediately after it was removed from Saxton and found faulty because of construction.

Begun asserted the glove on display was an old one and not the one Saxton discarded.

Osborne said Begun's testimony would be sent to the Cook County state's attorney office which could decide if Begun should be subpoenaed for further investigation.

Minnesota Objects Against Rose Bowl Renewal Contract

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The University of Minnesota's Faculty Senate Thursday turned down proposed renewal of the Rose Bowl contract between the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast Conference.

The action forces the Big Ten to submit the matter of renewal to a vote of the conference at its meeting in Minneapolis May 25-26.

It was the fourth time that Minnesota has voted against the Rose Bowl pact, which has one year to run under the present agreement.

All Big Ten schools were informally polled on the issue of renewal, Michigan State, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and Purdue have already approved renewal, with Ohio State, Michigan and Indiana expected to go along.

Northwestern, which disapproves of the pact, bypassed a vote on the assumption that the simple majority required for renewal will be obtained at the Minneapolis meeting.

Only one disapproving vote in the poll was necessary to place the question before the conference for a formal vote.

Snead Leads In Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Sam Snead fell off to a 69 Friday, three shots more than he took Thursday, but he gained four more strokes on the field to lead the $12,500 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament by five shots after 36 holes with a 135 total.

The 43-year-old White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro finished two under par and to lead runnerup Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., by five shots. Ford, PGA champion, had his second straight 70.

While Snead was not exactly burning up the 6,723-yard, par 71 Starmount Forest Country Club course, primarily because of a pesky putter, his closest rivals at the start of the round were having more troubles.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, who was one shot behind after the first round, took a 74 Friday as his putter ruined him. That dropped him into a three-way tie for third at 141 with John Knight of Los Angeles and Bill Casper of Chuta Vista, Calif.

AAU Extends Formal Invitation To Miler Landy

MELBOURNE (AP) — A formal invitation from the United States for John Landy to run two races on the Pacific Coast next month was received and accepted Friday, ending a 3-day rhubarb over international protocol.

Hugh Wier, president of the Amateur Athletic Union in Australia said he had received a cable requesting Landy's appearance from the AAU of America and sanction has been granted.

Landy, whose 3:58 is the fastest mile ever run, was invited Tuesday to run in the Southern California Relays at Los Angeles May 5 and the West Coast Relays May 12.

After he had accepted, a hitch developed because the negotiations were carried on privately instead of through proper athletic association channels.

Jackson TKO's Williams In Third Attempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heavyweight contender Tommy Jackson, of New York, floored England's Johnny Williams three times Friday night to win on a technical knockout in 2:49 of the fourth round of a television bout at Uline Arena.

Jackson weighed 194, Williams 194½.

Cornell Prof Is Fined $100 For Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Cornell University zoology professor who refused to identify his former Communist colleagues, was fined $100 and given a three-month suspended jail sentence Friday on a contempt of Congress charge.

U.S. Dist. Judge Burnita Shelton Matthews told Prof. Marcus Singer, 41, she took into consideration the fact he gave the House Committee on Un-American Activities a "great deal of information" voluntarily.

She said the committee regarded his information as of "substantial benefit."

Maximum Penalty

The maximum penalty for contempt of Congress is a year in jail and a $500 fine.

On March 16, Judge Matthews convicted Singer of one of 22 counts of an indictment charging contempt. He was acquitted on the remaining counts. Judge Matthews conducted the trial without a jury.

Singer said he will appeal.

In refusing to answer to the past political beliefs of colleagues or name them, he said he "took this stand in honor and conscience."

But he steadfastly refused to name persons with whom he attended Communist group meetings during the years 1940-45 while he was on the faculty of Harvard University.

Guns Used in Shooting

THESE ARE THE TWO REVOLVERS taken from Roland Van Nest, 52, after the shooting of Mrs. Irene Kenney Friday afternoon. Mrs. Kenney was shot as she stood bshind the bar in the tavern operated by her and her husband, John. Police said that the .22 caliber revolver, left, was apparently used in the shooting. Van Nest also carried the .38 caliber revolver at the right. Kenney grabbed the .22 caliber revolver and used it to club Van Nest into submission.

Shooting—

County arrived about four minutes after the shooting.

Mrs. Kenney, still conscious, was taken to University Hospitals. The two bullets were removed and she was reported out of shock by late Friday night.

Groggy and Bleeding

Van Nest, groggy and bleeding, was taken to the Iowa City jail. He was hustled out the back door of the jail about 30 minutes after his arrival and taken to Mercy Hospital for X-rays. He was taken from there to University Hospitals for possible surgery.

Police by late Friday had found no motive for the shooting other than Mrs. Kenney's refusal to serve Van Nest.

35 Customers

About 35 customers, most of them students, were in the bar at the time of the shooting. The bar was closed for the night following the shooting.

Van Nest is unemployed. He worked for about 20 years as a barber at the Blackstone Beauty Shop, then quit a year ago last August because of a reported heart condition.

He lives at the Burkley Place Apartments, 130 E. Jefferson St. Apartment officials said he seemed to have plenty of money, always paid his rent on time and had no visits from friends or relatives.

He was a collector of guns, Iowa City police said.

Councilmen Delay Passing Dog Law

Iowa City councilmen Thursday night passed up an opportunity for a second reading of a proposed dog ordinance.

Provisions of the dog ordinance read at the City Council meeting Monday night required that dogs be on the premises of their owners or, when off the owner's property, be on a leash.

The ordinance needs three readings before it will become law.

Second readings were given to two other ordinances. One provides for the establishment of a park-type addition to Oakland Cemetery and the other provides for charges to connect new sewer facilities on which special assessments are not levied.

AIRLIFT TO VACATION

BERLIN (AP)—The U.S. Air Force will airlift 2,000 Berlin children to West Germany for summer vacations in the fourth consecutive year of Operation Kinderlift. The German Red Cross reports 84 planes will be used.

Snowbound Horse Left In Mountains

BUENA VISTA, Colo. (AP) — Bugs alias Elijah, the snowbound horse who aroused nationwide concern over his welfare, was alone again on his high perch in the Rockies Friday.

A snowshoe rescue party reached the horse Thursday after a long, hard climb and reported he was "fat and sassy." His coat was bushy and glossy and he appeared in better condition than many horses who wintered in pastures at low altitudes.

There was general agreement in this mountain town that the packhorse climbed up on his 12,800-foot ridge just to get away from it all.

The airmen who discovered the horse called him Elijah from the Old Testament prophet who was fed by the ravens.

Several rescue teams were organized and the first to reach the lonely area was that of the Denver Post.

The Post expedition was headed by Bill and Al Turner, Buena Vista packtrip guides, who recognized Elijah as Bugs, their 13-year-old horse who had been missing since last fall.

They described Bugs as a nag who liked a solitary life. He hated automobiles and women in skirts. He had disappeared into the mountains before.

The Turners said they would try to bring the horse down in May when the deep snow melts. Meanwhile, the aerial haylift which has sustained the horse will be continued.

Intruder Finds Double Trouble

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Two plucky women, surprised by a burglar who entered their bedroom, used stomach punches in combination with blows from a bathroom scale and a plumbing plunger to rout the husky intruder Friday morning.

Elsie Urista, 27, beat the man over the head with the plunger. Her mother, Mrs. Pearl Urista, 71, threw the bathroom scale and conked the burglar on the head.

"Let me out of here," the man yelled, but Miss Urista refused to let him retreat in dignity. She struggled with the intruder all the way down the stairs and to the back door.

"I didn't chase after him," she explained. "I had my nightgown on."

Cole Sings Before Segregated Group

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Nat 'King' Cole sang again Friday night before a segregated southern audience.

A burst of applause greeted the Negro singer as he stepped into the spotlight in Raleigh's Memorial Auditorium before a capacity crowd of 3,700.

It was his first appearance since a group of white men attacked him during a performance in Birmingham, Ala., Tuesday night.

U-High Play 'Excellent'

Results for the class A schools will be announced late today.

Three U-High students received "outstanding performer" awards for presenting an excerpt from "Mary of Scotland." They are: Norman Turner, Martha Spitzer, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Herbert Spitzer; and Rachael Crawford, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Bartholow Crawford.

Schools receiving superior ratings, the top award, were Cresco and Sheldon.

Other schools receiving excellent ratings were Durant, Shenandoah, Aquinas of Ft. Madison, Wilton Junction, Wapello, Algona and Sac City.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Shhhh! Don't tell a soul!

Police Capt. Herman Stark said a special commission named by the mayor is due to suggest a new type of traffic ticket soon. Until then no tickets will be ordered.

Acid Victim Fights Eyesight Setback

NEW YORK (AP) — Labor columnist Victor Riesel, battling for his eyesight after an acid-hurling attack, developed serious complications Friday in the left eye and the inner linings of both eyes.

"Physicians are treating Riesel at regular intervals in an effort to overcome these dangerous developments," reported Alton Levy, the columnist's chief assistant.

Praise Volunteers

Dr. L. E. Stilwell, manager of the Iowa City V A Hospital, said, "We have long realized that peace of mind and freedom from worries at home, contribute to the more rapid recovery and rehabilitation of the patient. Through the volunteers we have been able to make such a program a reality."

Monday's program will open with an invocation by the Rev. R. J. Tinklenberg, hospital chaplain. E. E. Beaver, recreation chief, will lead the pledge of allegiance, following the massing of the colors.

Will Present Certificate

L. E. Hunn, chairman of the organization, will speak on "Our Volunteers." Dr. Stilwell, who will present the cerificates, will discuss "Ten Years of Voluntary Service."

Volunteer service is coordinated at the hospital and at the national level by V A employed chairman of volunteers and V A Voluntary Service advisory committees.

Through the committees the V A makes its needs known to the supporting organizations and the committee representatives arrange for volunteers to meet the needs from within the ranks of the groups.

Student Print Exhibit Set For Sunday

Fifty-nine prints will be exhibited Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m. in the SUI Art Building, including works by six persons from Iowa City.

LASANSKY

The show will include four prints by Prof. Mauricio Lasansky, who founded the Iowa Print Group in 1945. Works by the group, made up of former students, faculty members and present students in the SUI Art Department, have won numerous prizes and been exhibited widely in the U.S. and foreign countries.

Lasansky Prints

Lasansky prints in the Sunday show include "Sagittarius," "Firebird," "My Wife" and "Self Portrait." "Sagittarius" won first prize at the 1955 Iowa State Fair, and purchase prizes at the Oakland, Calif., Art Museum and the Northwest Printmakers Exhibit, Seattle, Wash.

"Firebird" and "Sagittarius" were shown in an international exhibit in Yugoslavia in 1955, and "Self Portrait" was in an international show in Barcelona, Spain, this winter. "Firebird" also won a purchase prize at the Brooklyn Art Museum.

"Paper Bird" and "Seascape," prints by H. C. Cassill of the SUI art faculty, will be included in Sunday's exhibit, which is being sponsored by the Iowa City chapter of the American Association of University Women.

"Seascape" won first prize at the Oakland, Calif., Art Museum in 1955, and the purchase prize in the Brooklyn Art Museum national show and at the Springfield, Mo., Art Museum.

Student Interpretation

Students represented in the show Sunday will be present to explain technical details of the works to visitors. Eighteen of the prints were made by former students in completing requirements for advanced degrees.

Iowa City persons exhibiting prints are:

Jean Kubota Cassill, "Landscape" and "Interior," both color intaglios; Nancy Fisk, "Landscape in Transition," color intaglio, and "Double Self Portrait," "Self Portrait" and "Exterior Square," all intaglios; Jack O'Shea, "Tractor" and "Caryatid Figures," both color intaglios, and "Paula" and "Black Angel," both intaglios; and Ann Didyk, art librarian and former student, "Winter" and "Mother," both intaglios.

U-High Boy Gets Top Speech Post

Sieg Schoenbohm, University High School, was elected as North Senate "speaker" (student senate presiding officer) during the State Finals of the Iowa High School Forensic League Friday at SUI.

Dave Elten, Davenport High School, was elected speaker of the South Senate. More than 300 students from 60 Iowa high schools are taking part in the weekend meeting.

Jan Hagendorn, Oskaloosa, and Jack Williams, West High, Waterloo, are "speakers pro-tempore."

In two other events of the 7-event state speech and debate finals, preliminary fields were narrowed to smaller groups, from 22 to 10 in original oratory, and from 16 to 9 in extemporaneous speaking on current events.

Champions in these events and in debate, with superiors and excellent ratings in radio speaking, interpretative reading, speaking with visual aids over television, and in student senate actvities, will be announced today at participants' luncheon in the Iowa Memorial Union.

David Brodsky, also of U-High, was one of 10 oratorical finalists in the state championships.

POLIO TREATMENT

NEW YORK (AP) — The Georgia Warm Springs Foundation provided surgery or treatment for 1,117 polio patients in the last year, Basil O'Connor, president, reported. More than half of the patients treated were 14 or younger.

MY CHILD'S LIFE IS IN YOUR HANDS

SUI Mothers To Boost Traffic Safety

Student wives in SUI housing areas will campaign for traffic safety Wednesday displaying a slogan "Cut Your Speed to Five; Keep a Child Alive."

The wives will stop each car entering married student housing areas and distribute a mimeographed safety pamphlet to each driver. The program began after residents complained that some drivers are violating the 5-mile-an-hour speed limit set for streets within the housing areas.

Last year a child was hit by a car when he ran into the street.

1,000 Children

"We estimate that there are more than 1,000 children in SUI villages," said Mrs. Connie Wilson, wife of Don Wilson, M3, Iowa City.

"No matter how many times parents caution children, a forgetful child may step in front of a car in an instant. On the narrow roads in the SUI villages a driver must be prepared to stop instantly."

Volunteers

Volunteers representing the student mothers' "Save-a-Child" committee will be on duty at the larger housing areas—Stadium, Finkbine and Riverside Parks—from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesday. Wives will stop cars entering between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. at other housing areas.

The SUI Married Students' Housing Office will mimeograph the 1,500 safety pamphlets that the wives will distribute.

Organizers of the safety campaign are:

Finkbine Park, gate one: Mrs. Don Wilson, Mrs. Herman Koloseus, Mrs. Joe Vogel, Mrs. Gerald Nowlis, Mrs. Donald Baugham, Mrs. Berwis Collentine and Mrs. John Berg.

Finkbine Park, gate two: Mrs. George Lavery and Mrs. Fred Spratt.

Finkbine Park, gate three: Mrs. Richard Vermillion.

Stadium Park: Mrs. Robert Joynt.

Riverside Park: Mrs. Willard Varty.

Quonset Park, 100 block: Mrs. William Spencer; 200 block, Mrs. Richard Van Etten.

Westlawn Park: Mrs. Bill Gorig.

Volunteers are still needed to help with the campaign. Wives willing to help may contact one of the organizers living in their area.

In the event of rain, the safety program will be postponed.

Navy Sends Destroyers To Mediterranean Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said Friday that four destroyers are being sent to the Mediterranean — but a spokesman denied that the move is in connection with international tension in the Mid East.

In answer to a question, the spokesman said that the destroyer division "is being assigned to the Sixth Fleet to provide a broader training base in the area and to provide for occasional cruising in the Red Sea and the Indian Ocean."

Prince Sets Limit On Photographers

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Prince Rainier III decreed Friday that all but three news photographers will be barred from his civil marriage to Grace Kelly in the throne room of his palace next week.

He apparently was provoked by what both he and Miss Kelly indicated they considered unmannerly harassment by the cameramen when they drove to his sister's villa for lunch.

Rainier previously refused requests for photographs at the family party at Princess Antoinette's. His father, Prince Pierre de Monaco, and Grace's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly, were other guests.

Rebuffed, the cameramen waited around a bend down the road. Rainier was forced to halt when a French photographer lay down in the road. When the man rose, Rainier drive on slowly while the cameras clicked furiously.

City Golf Lessons Will Begin Monday

The Iowa City Recreation Commission will open its annual golf instruction program at the Elks golf course, Monday.

The lessons will be taught by two SUI students, Douglas Nelson, D2, Iowa City, and Richard Wells, L3, Davenport.

The golf instruction program is open to Iowa City residents. Fees are $3 for a series of eight weekly lessons.

Three Part Program

The commission's golf program has been broken into three parts: fundamental instruction for beginners; advanced lessons for duffers and specialized work for advanced golfers who might wish to polish their game.

Raymond Palmer, athletic supervisor for the commission, said the group had a winter golf program, which was discontinued when the Community Building burned. SUI then extended its Fieldhouse golf facilities to the commission for winter golf instruction.

Big Demand

This arrangement proved satisfactory until this winter when demand exceeded the facilities available in the Fieldhouse. As a result, the winter program was dropped.

The Elks later approved a motion to let the commission use the practice range of the Elk's Country Club golf course.

Dr. Wessels Elected Head of Dental Society

Dr. Kenneth E. Wessels, head of the Department of Pedodontics at the SUI College of Dentistry, was elected president of the Johnson County Dental Society at a meeting of that group Thursday night. Others elected were: John A. Maxwell, Iowa City dentist, vice-president, and William G. Goodale, College of Dentistry, secretary-treasurer.

Prof. Henry P. Baumann, College of Pharmacy, spoke on prescription writing and use of drugs in dentistry.

Lone Tree Man Posts $500 Bond

John Hartl, Lone Tree, posted bond of $500 following indictment in Johnson County District Court Friday on charges of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Hartl was named in a sealed indictment, one of two returned by the grand jury for the April court term. He was arrested in Lone Tree April 7.

The other indictment named Christian F. See, 411 Reno St., on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

DOG BITES CHILDREN

Police Friday impounded a dog for 10 days after the dog was reported to have bitten several children near the Horace Mann School area. It was reported that the dog has distemper.

Dag's Mission Shows Gains

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — There were growing indications Friday night that Dag Hammarskjold's peace mission here has quieted the Israeli-Egyptian frontier.

A UN spokesman said the secretary general is making some progress toward keeping it calm.

Late Friday night there had been no report of any border incident since Thursday afternoon.

Egypt is understood to have assured Hammaskjold all Arab commandos have withdrawn from Israel.

Israel charged the raiders had killed 14 and wounded 32 since Saturday.

Both sides handed Hammarskjold written assurances they would refrain from hostile acts.

An air battle Thursday and an exchange of fire across the frontier of the Gaza strip followed the pledges. Then hostilities ceased.

Greek Week To Mix Fun, Special Projects

SUI fraternities and sororities will join together next week in a program mixing fun with education about the Crusade for Freedom and Radio Free Europe as the annual Greek Week festivities get underway.

William Rafael, program director of Radio Free Europe, will be the principal speaker at a convocation Sunday. Rafael was attached to the Armed Forces Radio Service during World War II and set up broadcasting stations in Egypt, Persia, China and India for troop broadcasting.

Each sorority and fraternity will be responsible for a series of special projects to tell the community about the Crusade for Freedom and Radio Free Europe.

Speaker To Explain

Wednesday night a speaker will go to each house to explain the Crusade for Freedom theme which dominates the week's program. Foreign students will speak at the dinners on Thursday. Crusade for Freedom movies will be shown both nights at centrally located spots.

The week will include exchange dinners at the chapter houses, a Bermuda shorts dance and ugly knee contest, Olympic games, a contest for the best skit built around the freedom theme, and a convocation.

Skit try-outs will be held Monday and Tuesday at University High School. Thirteen sorority and fraternity combinations will participate in this event.

Select Best Skits

The five best skits will be selected and presented at the Greek Week Varieties Show Saturday at 8 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium. The sorority and fraternity putting on the best skit will be awarded trophies at the final convocation Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union.

Exchange dinners will highlight Wednesday and Thursday activities. Each evening half of each chapter will stay at home and half will go to another house for dinner.

An ugly knees contest will be the main attraction at the Greek Week Dance Friday from 8 to 12 p.m. in the Union. Fraternities will enter contestants and sorority girls will cast their votes as they enter the dance. Music for the dance will be provided by Dick Kaufman.

Compete in Games

Events for both men and women will be included in the Olympic Games to be held Saturday at the west end of City Park. The Greek groups will eat lunch in the park at noon and the games will start at 1 p.m.

Trophies will be awarded at the convocation Sunday to the sorority and fraternity accumulating the most points for participation in all events.

Repairs Completed After P&G Fire

Damage caused by fire Monday at the Procter & Gamble Drug Products plant under construction here has been repaired, R. D. Marsden, plant superintendent, said Friday.

No damage cost figure has yet been issued, by P & G's insurance division at the company's Cincinnati, O., head office, he said.

Only the felt and tar on the top layer of a small part of the roof was burned. There was no damage to any equipment.

It is not known how the fire started, Marsden said.
