8th-Grader Shoots 3 Teachers; 1 Dies

SEAT PLEASANT, Md. (AP) — Reprimanded for failing to turn in a written assignment, a 15-year-old boy killed one teacher by rifle fire Friday and wounded two others in a junior high school.

Police Chief George J. Panagoulis said the boy, Billy Ray Prevatte, who was expelled from a Raleigh, N.C., school two months ago for threatening a teacher's life, was gunning for the principal when he fired on the three teachers. The principal was not harmed.

Victims of the shooting were: Francis Daniel Wagner, 25, the school athletic coach, seriously wounded in the chest.

Robert Hicks, 31, shot in the hand while trying to subdue the boy.

A 13-year-old student, Robert Haywood, gave this version:

Student's Version
"I saw this boy walking down a third-floor hall carrying a bolt action .22 automatic rifle.

"Mr. Cameron was in his class teaching. The boy fired through the open doorway, hitting Mr. Cameron."

"Then he ran down the steps to the principal's office on the first floor. He was going through the office door when Mr. Wagner walked into the hall. He was shot in the stomach, I think.

Wounds Another Teacher
"About that time Mr. Hicks ran up and jumped on the boy, who fired again and shot him in the hand."

Chief Panagoulis said the Prevatte boy was looking for the principal, John Hrezo, when he started shooting.

The school was closed for the remainder of the day. Many of the students went home crying from fright.

State Atty. Blair H. Smith ordered Prevatte charged with murder, two counts of assault with intent to kill and two of assault with a deadly weapon.

Under preliminary questioning by Detective Lt. E. Lee Pumphrey, police said the boy declared he didn't know why he shot Cameron.

"He treated me fine in school," Pumphrey said the boy told him. He was taken to Upper Marlboro, Md., and lodged in jail there Friday night.

Detective Sgt. Richard A. Pearson reconstructed the day's events at the school this way:

Sent to Principal
Shortly before noon young Prevatte, an eighth grader, was sent to the principal's office by William Cookson, another coach, to explain his failure to turn in a written assignment in physical education due Thursday.

The boy went to Hrezo's office and was told to wait. After a while he left, slamming the door behind him. Returning in an automobile, he crashed the car into a fence outside the school and fired several volleys at workmen who had seen the crash and had come running in the belief he might need aid.

Threatens Bystanders
Apparently uninjured, he hurried into the school and began shouting, announcing that he would kill anyone who didn't tell him where the principal was.

After telling the three teachers he ran outside where he was captured and disarmed by two laborers on a school annex construction job.

Young Prevatte came here in March to live with a married brother. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Prevatte, live in Raleigh.

Ike Wants Full Defense Picture; 'Our Navy Tops'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Friday that when the "full picture" of America's defense is laid before the people, they will feel better than they have about reports of a lag in long-range jet bombers.

These bombers are just a part of the picture, he told his news conference, and "there is still a lot of testimony to come forward."

He said no one has yet given testimony on what the Navy can do — "the most powerful Navy in the world."

"There is no navy that even approaches it in power, and it features one thing — air power," Eisenhower said.

"We have tremendous air power, a mobile air power in the sea forces... let's wait until we get the entire picture before us."

Mr. Eisenhower stressed, too, that "we have bases around the world, established for the particular purpose of using the medium bomber."

Eisenhower discussed the bomber situation in reply to questions based on Senate testimony by Gen. Curtis LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command, that at the present rate, Russia may be ahead in strategically long-range striking power by 1958 or 1960.

Legion Votes Money In Vet Benefits Fight

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The American Legion's National Executive Committee voted Friday to spend $100,000 to fight any slash in veterans' benefits.

The action followed the committee's condemnation earlier in the week of a report by the commission headed by Gen. Omar Bradley. The report recommended an end to special aid for veterans whose disabilities are not service-connected.

Jobless Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of laid-off auto workers increased by 12,000 last week to a total of about 137,000, the Labor Department announced Friday. Some 84,000 of them are in Detroit or elsewhere in Michigan, the department's Bureau of Employment Security reported.

Car-Truck Mishap Injures One

DON BECK, 18, is covered with a blanket by Highway Patrolman J. A. Bertram after Beck was thrown from a car in an accident on Highway 218 just north of Iowa City. Beck, a Coe College student, was reported in good condition after receiving cuts on his left ear and a possible back injury. Man at right was not identified.

Thrown from Car in Crash Victim of Acid-Attack, Riesel, Loses Eyesight

A Coe College student, Donald Beck, 18, was in good condition Friday afternoon after being thrown from a car in a collision on Highway 218 four miles north of Iowa City.

Beck, of Danville, Ia., was riding in a car driven by Robert O. Blum, 27, when the accident occurred at 10:50 a.m.

Blum, a Marine Corps recruiting sergeant from Cedar Rapids, had picked up Beck shortly before the accident at the junction of highways 218 and 30 where Beck was hitchhiking.

Traveling south, Blum was about to pass a gasoline truck when the truck, driven by G. A. Graham, 59, 1184 Hotz Ave., started to make a left turn into a farm lane.

Blum attempted to pull back into the right hand lane, but his car skidded into the rear of the truck and then careened off the road.

Beck was thrown from the open door on the right side of the car when the car overturned.

Beck suffered cuts of the left ear and possible back injuries. Blum was uninjured.

The highway patrol filed charges against Blum of failing to have his vehicle under control.

Disarm Talks End With No Agreement

LONDON (AP) — The East-West disarmament talks ended in disagreement Friday but not without hope.

Delegates to the five-nation U.N. Disarmament subcommittee conference prepared for a bout of backstage diplomacy during the next few months aimed at bridging the differences between Russia and the West in readiness for another series of talks, probably this autumn.

The subcommittee — the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Canada — finalized its report to the full U.N. Disarmament Commission at its last session today.

The Western nations incorporated into the record a declaration expressing their "conviction that a reconciliation of the opposing points of view is possible and necessary."

Official sources said the two sides moved closer together than was expected at the outset seven weeks ago but that the differences remained sharp.

Dulles Calls for Anti-Red Plan

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Friday called on the free world to marshal its vast moral and material resources in a new 10-year program for holding back communism.

Dulles told the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization that the West has checked Russia's advance for a program to win over to freedom the uncommitted peoples of Asia, Africa and the Middle East.

Young Demos Set Annual Meeting

DES MOINES (AP) — The Young Democratic Clubs of Iowa hold their annual convention in Des Moines today with State Sen. George O'Malley as keynote speaker.

Major candidates for the party's nominations will address the gathering. They include R. M. (Spike) Evans of Spirit Lake and Lumund Wilcox of Jefferson, rivals for the U.S. senatorial berth; and Mayor Herschel Lovelless of Ottumwa and Lawrence Plummer of Northwood, who are contesting for the governorship nomination.

Much attention will be given the farm problem with a panel composed of representatives of the National Farmers Organization, Farmers Union, G.I. Farmers of America and Iowa Farmers Grange proposing solutions. H. E. Hazen, chairman of the state Democratic farm committee, will be panel moderator.

To Charge Murder In D.M. Shooting

DES MOINES (AP) — Police Capt. Robert E. O'Brien, chief of detectives, said Friday a charge of murder would be filed soon against Dave F. Wood, 67, in connection with the death Thursday of Nelson N. Brookens, 38.

Brookens was shot to death in Woods' 2-room apartment here. O'Brien said Wood has admitted shooting Brookens.

Soviets Drop Two 'Confession' Laws

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union had repealed two laws of Joseph Stalin that helped secret police get treason and sabotage confessions for the purge trials of the 1930's.

The bulletin of the Supreme Soviet Parliament revealed this in an issue that came into the hands of Western correspondents Friday.

It published a decree of the Soviet's Presidium that nullified the two laws and forbade the police to use "special procedures" in investigating persons accused under the articles of the criminal code on treason, terrorism and damage of state property by sabotage.

The laws permitted the police to bypass what is now declared to be normal Socialist legal procedure to obtain confessions.

Northwestern Wins In Oratory Contest

A speech attacking the "Silent Generation" of the 1950's won the 66th annual Northern Oratorical League contest for Steve Thernstrom of Northwestern University here Friday.

Thernstrom, a junior in political science, expressed concern for the "blind, complacent faith of the modern generation." Today's college students have no critical spirit toward social evils, but instead "bask in the warm glows of slogans like 'peace and prosperity,'" he declared.

Second place winner was Herbert Lawson of the University of Wisconsin. Sandra Swengel, A2, Muscatine, represented SUI in the contest in which six midwestern universities competed.

Thernstrom will receive $100 as first prize; Lawson $50 as second prize.

Other competing universities were: University of Minnesota, University of Michigan and Western Reserve University.

Faculty representatives of each school acted as judges, rating all contestants except their own. The SUI judge was Prof. Orville Hitchcock of the Speech Department.

Prof. Robert Ray, Director of the SUI Institute of Public Affairs was chairman of the debate.

Help to Nixon Aide Ethical, Ike Asserts

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Friday there are no grounds for believing that Murray Chotiner's contacts with the White House violated the President's code of ethics for dealing with people who have friends in the government.

Chotiner is a Beverly Hills, Calif., lawyer who managed Vice President Nixon's campaign in 1952 and was a witness yesterday at a Senate hearing into charges of crookedness in contracting for military uniforms.

In his testimony, Chotiner disclosed he twice got help from the White House in connection with private law cases which had nothing to do with military uniforms.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference Friday whether he had any suggestions for handling people who have friends in government and deal with the government.

The President replied he has given two specific orders in this regard and that they have been repeated often.

The first order, he said, was that "any individual coming anywhere in this government is first assured of courteous treatment. I will not stand for arrogance on the part of government officials."

Secondly, the President went on emphatically, "if anyone ever comes to any part of this government and claiming some privilege for even an introduction to an official he wants to meet on the basis that he is part of my family or of my friends, or that he has any connection with the White House, he is to be thrown out instantly."

Eisenhower then said there were "absolutely no grounds in these particular cases for believing that my two rules were violated."

Without even mentioning Chotiner by name, he added: "In no case did any connection he had with the White House benefit him one bit."

Arab Allies Bicker Over Cease-Fire

ROME (AP) — Bickering broke out between Arab allies Friday over cease-fire pledges made to UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

This developed as Hammarskjold was in Rome completing a report to the Security Council on his Middle East peace mission.

Hammarskjold leaves for New York by air today. Prospects are that Security Council members will take a few days to study the report of his 25-day mission and meet in about a week.

Only then will the world know the precise pledges made by Israel on one side and Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon separately on the other.

Friday's inter-Arab spat was short-lived but revealing. Lebanon accused Syria of betrayal by granting a cease-fire without a written Israeli promise not to divert irrigation waters from the Jordan River.

It took a grim hour of discussion by the Syrian and Lebanese premiers at Beirut before Lebanon accepted the Syrian position that its letter covered the Jordan issue in another way.

Evidence of the "positive results" reported by Hammarskjold came along the Arab-Israeli frontiers. In the past 24 hours the only incident reported was the killing of an alleged Jordanian infiltrator by an Israeli patrol.

"Things are going forward well," a Hammarskjold aide said Friday night. He had just come from the room where Hammarskjold, his trustee supervisor, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, and the weary but happy UN peace team was editing a final report.

Switch Policy After Petition By Students

Racial designation will no longer appear on permanent academic records of SUI students, Registrar Ted McCarrel said Friday.

"The question of the racial designation on the permanent academic record, and on transcripts from the permanent record, has been raised at this time by the student who presented the matter to me, not because of any use the university has ever made of the fact of race, but because of the use which might be made of the fact by others who may use a transcript," he explained.

As new forms are printed in the future, the designation of race will be omitted, he said. Records now in the Registrar's office will also be changed.

The permanent academic records have carried racial classification since the 1920's. This designation was part of the permanent record as a matter of fact and has in no manner been employed as a basis for discrimination against any race, McCarrel said.

"The university has a long and distinguished record of progress in its regard for the individual as a human being, regardless of any physical attributes or differences from the majority," McCarrel said. "It has regarded an individual's race as an identifying fact only," he added.

Barbara Crutchfield, L2, Boynton, Va., who began a petition to delete racial classification from the records, said:

"I speak for all those who endorsed the letter and those who gave their support by saying that this has confirmed our confidence in the administration.

"We express our sincerest thanks."

The Registrar's office has a big job ahead of it; they have about 120,000 back records to be changed, McCarrel said.

The move to delete racial classification began with a letter to The Daily Iowan editor April 18, drawn up by Miss Crutchfield and signed by about 90 per cent of the Negro students on campus. About 100 Negroes attend SUI.

The letter stated that:

1. The present classification as to race on the university transcripts is anthropologically incorrect.

2. Any racial classification on transcripts "is unnecessary and serves no purpose except to encourage discriminatory practices among those who read and use the record for personal evaluation and job qualifications."

3. Racial distinctions should not, therefore, appear on SUI transcripts.

The letter was presented to the Registrar's office April 25. No decision on the problem could be made until President Hancher returned from Washington, D.C., May 1.

"Are we going to be quick to condemn the South for its racial practices but be reluctant to rectify our own?" the letter asked.

"Not at SUI, the answer seems to be," Miss Crutchfield commented Friday.

We Are Losing A Friend

The United States is losing a good friend in Asia. The friend is Prime Minister Nehru and the country of India itself.

In the past from time to time we have extended financial aid to India when it needed funds for development, but our government has not taken any significant steps in offering friendship and assistance to India without attaching some political strings.

Our press has labeled Nehru a dictator, socialist, agnostic, and an outspoken neutral — qualities which have little appeal to the American people.

We have failed to realize that Nehru is still America's best friend in Asia. Money can open many doors, but so can friendliness and interest in other country's problems.

Our chief executive has not visited India, talked over its problems with its leaders, and offered our aid without any political attachments. Russia has done so.

Operating under the new friendship plan, the Soviets invited Nehru to visit Russia last year, and since then Bulganin and Khrushchev have managed to go to India and offer their help to the Indian people. They were jubilantly received, and neutral India's leanings may be toward the Soviet Union in the future.

We keep sending to India our vice president and some minor officials, thus indicating that the problem really is not important enough for the chief executive to attend to himself.

India at present is following a policy of non-alignment. They think that not to be aligned is to be free to help to bring about a world settlement.

By remaining in the middle of two politically and ideologically opposite camps, India hopes to hold balance and serve as a mediator when the tempers flare. It showed its worth in Korea when it handled the prisoner exchange problem.

The point is not to get India to go along with us on most issues, but we have to make sure that it does not go along with the Communists.

It would be foolish for us to attempt to press them into an alignment with us by offering them financial and technological aid. They can obtain this aid from Russia without any strings attached.

Our only hope to keep India's friendship and assistance in international politics is to try to outdo Russia by giving them help under the same circumstances Russia has.

Our President should visit India and make as good or better an impression on the Indian people as did the Russian leaders. At all costs we have to allow India and its 400 million people to be neutral and prevent them from joining their forces with the Communist camp.

The Teachers and the Taxes

Drastic action has been taken by the School Board of St. Paul, Minn., in an attempt to increase teachers' salaries. They have sacrificed educational activities to provide better pay for the faculty.

The Board voted to suspend kindergarten, high school athletics, drama, choral and debate groups and cut the high school day. The Board also ruled to allow high school students to take only four major subjects.

Board President William Coulter said that the sweeping cuts are the only way to grant teachers $50-a-month pay raises next year and to attract urgently-needed new teachers to the area.

The city needs 169 new teachers next fall. So far only 34 have been lined up by the Board.

St. Paul is the first place in the nation to take such drastic action. It can be expected that many schools in Minnesota and through the Midwest will follow this example in order to make the taxpayers aware of the growing need for more teachers and higher salaries for them. The teachers' average salaries around St. Paul are $3,300 to $5,300.

In St. Paul the voters turned down city tax levy amendments which would have given the schools more money. The only alternative for the board was to provide the taxpayer's children with a limited educational curriculum.

The Board certainly realizes the probable unfavorable consequences to the children of this limited program, but it had to take this step to open the eyes of the people who consider a slight increase of their tax burden more important than the education of their youth.

The schools might not remain on this limited program permanently, but the board says it will not give in until more money is made available and teachers' salaries can be raised.

"This program will continue during the first four months of the 1956-57 school year and might continue into 1957 if we do not get relief," Coulter stated.

Iowa taxpayers should give some thought to this problem. The teacher shortage is facing not only St. Paul and Minnesota, but is also noticeable in our state.

There is only one way to attract more people to the teaching profession and that is to provide higher salaries.

We cannot educate our children under a limited program, but neither can we expect college graduates to go into a profession where the salary does not allow them to maintain at least an average standard of living.

Drivers Human

(Bavia Beacon)

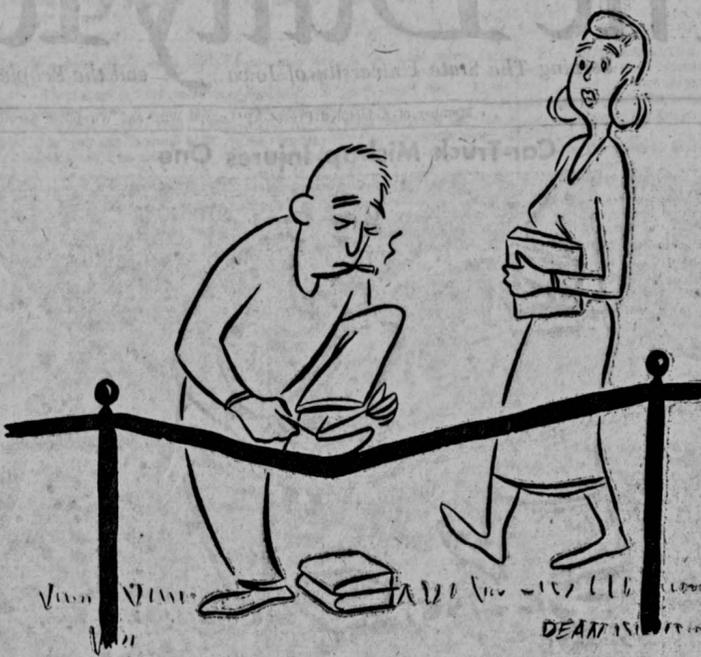

Safety on the road is not found as much by too strict law enforcement, as it is by developing an interest in better driving and handling of your car, of giving other drivers the benefit of the doubt, instead of the horn and a violent curse. It just isn't human that a driver doesn't make a mistake now and then.

Order Any Color

(Sibley Gazette-Tribune)

Cars can now be ordered in any color wanted. Wonder if the time will come when a discriminative American will ask for number plates in harmony with the car's color. Impossible is said to be un-American.

Criticize Plan for Student Seating at Next Season's Football Games; Protest H-Bomb Tests as Dangerous; 'Waldo' Replies

TO THE EDITOR:

About the biggest issue before the student body at present is the student seating plan for next year's football games. Seems like everyone has complaints, but yet nobody seems to have thought of anything which would help the situation. Let's look at the problem from all sides.

First, there's the Athletic Department. They have an interest in the matter because the funds which they operate come from ticket sales, so that the sale of tickets for unused seats in the student section is, for them, most desirable. Not only is the income desirable, but, as it was pointed out in your editorial last Saturday, being able to sell these extra tickets would relieve the Athletic Department of the embarrassment of announcing a sell-out only to have a lot of empty seats on the day of the game.

Secondly, there's the public. The State University of Iowa supposedly belongs to all the people of Iowa, since it is being supported by taxes. Therefore, the public should reasonably be able to expect to be allowed to see "their" football team in action up to the limit of the capacity of the stadium, albeit paying $3.75 a head for the privilege. Leaving empty seats in the student section is unfair to Iowa football fans.

Last, there are the students. This is their university by virtue of their attendance here. Supposedly, participation of the university in intercollegiate athletics is for the benefit of all the students, not just the players, and certainly not for the public. Therefore, the students should have first priority on seating for all home games.

The big holler about this new plan is basically the same as under the old plan. Nobody likes to sit in the very last seat in the front row. You just can't see from there. But before condemning the new plan let's see if it will work for the benefit of the students. If not, it is unjustified. If it does, then it should be put into effect in spite of complaints and petitions.

In the editorial written by Al Grady, Sports Editor of the Iowa City Press Citizen, which the DI published last Saturday, Mr. Grady stressed the idea of students standing in line to get the good seats. This is so, in order to get a really good seat you had to get to the stadium no later than noon on the day of the game. Under this new plan, on the other hand, you need not arrive at the stadium until just before gametime. All you have to do is get in line at the ticket office at the fieldhouse no later than 8:00 a.m. on Monday morning, if you want a good seat. The advantage of this should be obvious, but I, for one, fail to see it. Let's face it, the good seats are still going to go to the early risers.

The second point made in Mr. Grady's editorial is an attempt to satirize his way out of the fact that a football game is a social affair, and that people go as much just to be with their friends as to see the game. You can imagine how popular the Athletic Department would be if the tickets they sold to the public were sold on the basis of one to a customer, or if, for a man and his wife the Athletic Department sent one ticket in one section and another ticket four rows up and two sections over. If the idea is to cut down on the number of students who actually go to the games this plan should be most effective. There are a great number who would rather stay home than sit amongst a bunch of strangers.

Now that I've finished tearing the plan down, may I attempt a little constructive criticism. First of all, on the point of getting a good seat. Under the present set-up, there simply aren't enough good seats available to students. At most colleges and universities, the student section straddles the fifty yard line. If you doubt this, watch the televised games and see where the good sections are. At any rate, moving the student section over to the middle of the stands would make from 90 to 95 per cent of the seats in the student section good seats. Furthermore, since, as was stated before, college football games are, in theory, anyway, for the benefit of the students, giving such preference to students is the only equitable seating arrangement. With so many good seats available, one need not worry about getting to the ticket office at 6 a.m. on Monday. Conceivably, good seats could still be available Tuesday night at 9:30 p.m.

The second point, that of allowing nobody to pick up more than one ticket, should be changed to allow a student to pick up a maximum of two tickets, for each of which he must present a valid ID card. This was originally objected to on the grounds that someone might borrow another's ID to pick up a ticket and then take a non-student date to the game. I fail to see how letting him pick up just one ticket will eliminate this, since there is nothing to prevent his taking his buddy to the ticket office to pick up an extra ticket instead of just his buddy's ID card.

All in all, I think, with the two changes outlined above, moving the student section over to the middle of the stands, and allowing a student to pick up two tickets instead of one, the reserved seat plan is a good one. It would be fair to both students and public.

New Petition

TO THE EDITOR:

I am writing this letter in an attempt to obtain a sampling of student opinion on a proposed petition which I think worthy of being circulated around campus.

In view of the uproar centering around the proposed seating program for football games next fall, I think it appropriate that I broach a plan which I believe would be a very effective substitute for the obviously unpopular arrangement designed by the student council. My plan is this:

1. All Iowa football games next fall will be played on the Pentacrest lawn east of Old Capitol. This can easily be accomplished by removing a few trees in the area.

2. All Iowa basketball games next winter will be played in the House Chamber of Old Capitol Building. I am sure that with the installation of baskets and backboards at either end this will be feasible.

3. The showing of ID cards or tickets at the gate will not be required; seating will be on a first-come-first-served basis.

The advantages of such a plan are obvious. Both areas are centrally located. They are easily accessible to the girls from Currier and the dental students, who of course should be given every consideration when it comes to viewing athletic contests. Not only would it eliminate the necessity of making these students walk (or ride) to the west side of the river (once to obtain tickets), but would make it unnecessary for them even to make such a strenuous journey at all. The games would be played practically on their collective doorsteps.

Elimination of ID cards or tickets to obtain admission to the games is desirable from several standpoints. It would eliminate standing in line, waiting while the ticket taker minutely examines each student's ID card; and it would mean that all students who wished to do so could sit together in a body. Particularly the dental students. It also means that students who are in class continuously from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. (and obviously the majority of students falls into this group) will not be left out in the cold as they would be under the council's plan.

Of course, students might have to arrive slightly earlier in order to obtain a seat, but since most students (as evidenced by the overwhelming majority of the student body which signed petitions against the council's plan) seem to prefer waiting for four hours before game time instead of standing in line for possibly half an hour to obtain a ticket, I do not think this facet of my plan will prove objectionable in the least.

Now, it might be said that the 1,700 students living in Hillcrest, Quadrangle and South Quadrangle, not to mention those in Westlawn and the married students living in South Park, Finkbine Park and Stadium Park, will suffer under this plan. But of course they should not be considered above the girls from Currier, and of course, the dental students.

Also, for those living in the above-mentioned areas, I have another proposal which if effected I am sure would benefit one and all. My second plan is this:

1. Transform the entire fieldhouse and such parts of the football stadium as is feasible into classrooms.

2. Tear down enough buildings on the east side of the river and rebuild them in an area around the fieldhouse as is necessary to accommodate the entire student body in classrooms.

This, as you can see, will eliminate the long walk to classes which the students in the above-mentioned dormitories must make each morning and afternoon. This will make them so happy that they will be only too glad to brave the once-a-week trip across the river to watch a football or basketball game.

As you say, but now the girls from Currier, and of course the dental students, will have to make the long walk to classes each day. I realize this, but I am convinced that eliminating the necessity of their having to go out of their way to attend football and basketball games will more than make up for this little inconvenience.

Some might object to the second phase of this plan on the grounds that the expense involved would be prohibitive. However, I am sure SUI authorities recognize that attendance at football and basketball games is the major reason why most students (including the girls from Currier and the dental students) come to the university. They realize that no expense should be spared to facilitate such attendance; to make it as convenient as is humanly possible for students (including the girls from Currier and the dental students) to attend the games.

SUI officials understand, I am sure, that the quality of football and basketball offered by Iowa teams is so poor that it is simply not worth the hazardous trip to the west side of the river to see them play. Therefore, I am sure they will approve my plan, recognizing it as a strong inducement to the girls from Currier and the dental students to attend these games.

This proposal is still tentative. I would appreciate it if students interested in the plan would write to me at the address given below and tell me what they think of it. If the plan seems compatible with the interest of students (including the girls from Currier and the dental students), I am sure that I can secure enough names on a petition to obtain the action required to put it into effect.

'Waldo' Again

TO THE EDITOR:

I was quite interested in the letter submitted to The Daily Iowan by A. S. Pavich concerning my picture which appeared on the Iowan's front page on April 25. First of all, I want to thank Pavich for writing the letter because it got my picture in the paper again (although a little smaller this time) and I like to see that sort of thing (I must admit we Idahoans are vain).

However, I wish to say a word concerning Pavich's facetious references to my beauty and my informational and educational values. I see no reason why we of the potato family should be discriminated against by the homo sapiens species. They appear in the newspapers with great frequency and we so seldom (and they aren't all such good lookers either). When one of our kind does something different, it should rightfully be reported in writing, pictorially, or both. As far as my informational and educational values are concerned, my present condition is as educational and informational as some changes which have been reported in man. I am quite sure that if a man turned from his present state into something resembling a potato, it would be reported. Well, that is what I have done except that I look like a Walrus. This is then unusual and therefore should be informational and educational to the public when reported. Look at the amount of space devoted to such trivia as a Monaco wedding before you criticize the amount of space the Iowan's editors devoted to me.

Personally, I think the photographer did a wonderful job in capturing me as he did and the picture reproduced well in the paper. Thanks again for running it twice. It was really swell of you. Got to go now. I'm heading for a French Fry. They're the most!

P.S. I forgot to tell you, don't write another letter about this because I won't be around to reply. And that wouldn't be cricket, you know. No hard feelings, but think of me the next time you have a plate of French Fries. I may be with you!

Pageant Board

TO THE EDITOR:

The suggestion of the Miss SUI Pageant Board to place the Miss SUI contest at Homecoming comes as a dismaying surprise to the Dolphin Club. We feel that placing the Miss SUI Pageant in direct conflict with the Dolphin Queen will result in a reduction in prestige for both. In our opinion the women's housing units have the right to expect two complete Queen campaigns at separate dates, thus insuring maximum interest in both.

Furthermore, we feel that the Pageant Board would be establishing a dangerous precedent, one which every student organization might view with concern, a precedent under which the interests of a minority can be callously disregarded.

Miss SUI is our Queen also, we would like to see her as such, rather than as a competitor.

'Way of Life Must Change,' Lutheran Official Says— Tells Students, Give Themselves

By DAVE HARTQUIST

American Christians must give themselves — not just their material goods — if they intend to break through the barrier that has arisen between the non-Christians of the world and ourselves, the Rev. Paul C. Empie, executive secretary of the National Lutheran Council, said here this week.

EMPIE

Speaking to the tenth anniversary banquet for the Foundation for Lutheran Students at Hotel Jefferson, the Rev. Mr. Empie said: there are two things Christians must think about if they expect to spread Christianity to all parts of the world. "First, Christians must realize that their American way of life must be changed. The world will have to be turned upside down if Christianity is going to be spread into all parts of the world. "Secondly, the question arises as to who should be the one to turn the world upside down — the Christians, who want to do it to spread love, or the Communists, who want to spread war and fear," he continued.

"One way or another, the world will be turned upside down. It's up to us which way we want to have it turned," he added. "Our problem of breaking through the gospel barrier lies in the fact that we have redesigned our lives to break through the barrier, but we haven't really convinced the non-Christian world of our faith in Christ," the Rev. Mr. Empie said.

There have been no really significant, tremendous Christian advances like the Apostles of Christ made, in centuries. We have been too afraid of disrupting our culture, he said. "We are caught in an American atmosphere where we glorify the American standard of living and we think that nothing must hurt it. Tariffs, duties, restrictions, and even foreign aid are all used in our own self interest. "We can't stand in an underprivileged world and tell the inhabitants of it that 'we have a high standard of living and you can't disturb it if we help you to see Christianity.' The Rev. Mr. Empie said. Americans live in an entirely different world where standards, foods, words, customs and culture are different from every other country, he pointed out. "We can't march into an underprivileged country and use the western civilization approach to conquer the poor conditions in which people are living."

Approach "Recently, when I was touring India, I saw old men pulling heavy rickshaws, 3- and 4-week-old babies lying on newspapers on hot streets with the sun beating down on them, and professional children beggars who live on the travelers in the streets. These types of conditions can't be remedied by the western civilization approach," he said. "The only thing American Christians can communicate in a situation like this is themselves."

While the Rev. Mr. Empie was in Formosa recently, he talked with Madame Kai-shek. She told him that Christianity, in all the time it was in China, made no impression on the Chinese. It's not adapted to the Orientals, she said.

"Phony" The Chinese people think that the Americans are "phony" because they won't give themselves to the job of spreading Christianity, the Rev. Mr. Empie said. "They believe that Christians have no faith in themselves. But communism, which has now taken over in China, does have faith in itself."

The minister of education in Yugoslavia, a communistic nation, told the Rev. Mr. Empie that the churches in her country haven't been an asset. "Maybe they could be and maybe they are in some countries," she said, "but in our country they have been a perpetuation of hatred between Christians-Catholics, Jews and Protestants. They also have perpetuated hatred in our culture here."

Cross-Bearing "The church has conformed to the conditions of the world and it has lost the character of cross-bearing," the Rev. Mr. Empie continued. The American youth who is enrolled in college, the youth who will be our government leaders of tomorrow, the youth who will spread the American culture — they are the ones who must set the pace for breaking the barrier that has grown up between America and the un-Christian world, he said.

Speaking to students, he said, "Learn at least one language while you are in school and learn it well. Learn the literature, culture and the way people of a certain country think and then go there and talk to the people. Don't talk as an ambassador, but as an American citizen who wants to be a communicator and reconciler."

Methodists OK Many Changes At Conference

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The quadrennial general conference of the Methodist Church overwhelmingly approved this week a statement of policy barring racial discrimination or "enforced segregation" within the church.

At the same time, the 766 delegates set in motion constitutional changes designed to abolish the denomination's controversial all-Negro Central Jurisdiction.

The Central Jurisdiction was set up as an administrative subdivision for Negro congregations across the country. Its effect generally has been to keep Negro pastors and bishops in posts serving only Negro churches.

Construction of a $1 million school of international service is expected to begin in Washington, D.C., in 10 months on the campus of the American University, a Methodist institution. This plan, for the only Protestant school of this type in the United States, was unanimously approved by the conference.

Other business matters taken care of up to Friday in the conference, which is scheduled to last through next Thursday, were:

1. The delegates endorsed a 4-year program designed to strengthen the church on the local level and to emphasize Christian higher education.
2. The creation of two new seminaries was authorized to help overcome a "critical" shortage of trained ministers. Proposed sites for the newly authorized seminaries were in Ohio and in the Kansas-Missouri-Nebraska area.
3. The conference turned down a plan for setting up a national foundation to seek gifts for the church.
4. It was proposed that a popular magazine be launched to replace the church's historic "Christian Advocate." The move would mean abandonment of the 130-year-old official organ of Methodism, a weekly journal devoted to church news and commentaries, and its replacement by a streamlined monthly of broad appeal.
5. It was agreed unanimously that Methodist agencies will follow a policy of meeting only in cities where equal treatment and facilities are available for all races, in conjunction with their anti-segregation agreement.
6. The church's committee for overseas relief reported that Methodism in the past four years has poured $3 million into overseas aid and to resettle refugees. This assistance has gone to 43 different countries.

2 from Society To Visit Here

Two members of the Bruderhof or Society of Brothers, a Christian community, will visit the SUI campus Monday and Tuesday, and speak on their religion in the Penultimate Room of the Memorial Union at 8 p.m. Monday.

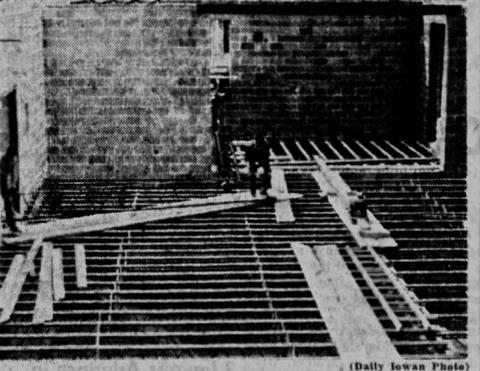

They are Eberhard Arnold, son of the founder of the Bruderhof, and John Mandel, former minister among the Hutterian Brethren, and now a member of the Forest River Colony of the Society of Brothers in North Dakota.

The Bruderhof was founded in Germany following World War I and since then, communities have been established in England, Paraguay, Uruguay, and the United States.

The Society of Brothers places strong emphasis on the common life, and decisions are made by the community. Work is divided in accordance with ability, and goods are held in common and distributed according to need.

The centrality of the family life is stressed, while at the same time the community plays a large part in the rearing of the children.

Addition Going Up

WORKMEN PLACE STEEL SUPPORTS on the walls and foundation at the new addition to the Zion Lutheran Church, 604 E. Bloomington St. The new construction is an expansion of the existing church facilities.

Construction of the addition to Zion Lutheran Church is expected to be completed August 1, the Rev. A. C. Proehl, minister, said Friday. The addition, the first unit in the long-range program of building a complete new church plant, was begun last November. It will consist of a basement and a first floor. Nineteen classrooms for students and adults will be on the first floor of the addition. A kitchen

What They're Doing

HILLEL General council meeting of Hillel Foundation will be at 4:30 p.m. at the student center. Following the supper at 6:30 p.m., nominations to oppose the state of officers endorsed by the council for the election Tuesday will be opened.

COUNCIL members are: David Davis, A1, Des Moines, president; James Cohen, A1, Des Moines, and Marilyn Shor, A1, Davenport, both for vice-president; Matlee Kattman, A1, Omaha, Neb., corresponding secretary; Fayna Manvitz, A1, Omaha, Neb., recording secretary; and Samuel Pesses, C3, Bettendorf, treasurer.

USF Representatives of the Bruderhof or Society of Brothers, a religious communal group, will speak at United Student Fellowship at 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Eberhard Arnold, son of the Bruderhof founder, and John Maendel, former minister among the Hutterian Brethren and now a member of the Forest River colony of the Society of Brothers in North Dakota, will speak.

Twelve USF members left Iowa City Friday night for a spring retreat at Palisades State Park, near Cedar Rapids. They will return Sunday afternoon.

NEWMAN Newman Club will present a special Marian Program in observance of the Catholic tradition of dedicating the month of May to the Blessed Virgin Mary Sunday at 4:30 p.m. There will be an afternoon mass at St. Thomas More Chapel.

Following Mass, the Little Office of the Immaculate Conception will be recited, followed by Benediction. After supper at 6 p.m. Father L. B. Cunningham, O. P., professor of Dogmatic Theology at St. Rose Priory, Dubuque, will lead a discussion and lecture on "The Theology of the Mother of Christ."

Pleasant, corresponding secretary; and Shirley Hurlbert, N3, Iowa City, chaplain.

Methodists Name Blue To Reserve Council
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Methodist General Conference Friday night completed election of personnel to the church's Judicial Council — it's "supreme court."

Among those named as reserves on the court, to fill vacancies should they occur, was Robert D. Blue, of Eagle Grove, former governor of Iowa.

"GUARD AGAINST FURNACE RUST"
keep your gas pilot on all summer

One tiny gas pilot creates just enough gentle heat to keep your furnace dry all summer. This protects your heating system from rust and corrosion — saves you money on expensive repairs — and prolongs the life of your equipment!

and you get all this extra convenience:

Basement Stays Dry
The gas pilot maintains a gentle updraft in the chimney that ventilates your basement, increases your comfort by drying humid summer air.

Heat! Whenever You Want It
You have instant heat whenever an unexpected damp or chilly day comes along — simply by setting your thermostat!

Fall Heat — No Delay!
No waiting for your furnace to have your burner lighted. Your furnace is ready for action. Just set your thermostat — get comfort right now!

It's amazing how much you get for such a little cost!

Hawk Tennis Team Meets Illinois Today

By LARRY DENNIS

Iowa's tennis team, undefeated in dual competition, will take on Illinois here today at 1:30 p.m. in the Hawkeyes' second Big 10 match of the season.

Iowa, with a 4-0 dual meet record, trounced Wisconsin, 9-0, last Saturday in a tournament with Purdue, Minnesota and Washington University of St. Louis.

Iowa Spikers Duel Badgers Here Today

Iowa and Wisconsin get together for a dual track and field meet here today at 2 p.m. as the Hawks attempt to maintain their perfect 1956 record of dual meet victories.

The Hawks were unbeaten indoors and won their first two outdoor meets in late March from Arizona opponents. Wisconsin took its first outdoor meet from Illinois two weeks ago.

Strength in such track events as the 440, 880, mile and both hurdles will help the Hawkeyes, and the Iowa sprinters look capable of at least breaking even in points.

Strong in Weights
Wisconsin is strong in the shot put and discus throw and probably will take most of the points in the 2-mile. Both teams are fast in the mile relay.

Coach Francis Cretzmeier looks for good scoring from such men as Caesar Smith and Gastonia Finch in the 440; Ted Wheeler in the 880 and mile; Murray Keatinge, 630; Les Stevens in both hurdles and high jump; Gardner Van Dyke and Nick Piper, pole vault; and Phil Leahy and Joe Camamo, broad jump.

Among the Badger best are Jon Dalton, winner of the Drake Relays 2-mile run; Don Hebein, sprinter; Joe Hoffman and Jack Mansfield, 440; Bob Brennan, 880; and Tom Peters, 53-5 in the shot put; and Charles Thomas, over 50 feet in that event.

Records in Peril
At least seven meet records are in danger. They include the 440, 880, 2-mile, high and low hurdles, high jump and shot put. Track marks which could fall are the 440, high hurdles, 880, 220, low hurdles, and shot put.

Iowa has won its last three dual outdoor meets with the Badgers in 1952, 1954 and 1955. The Hawkeyes defeated Wisconsin and Northwestern in a triangular indoor meet at Madison in February.

Field events begin at 1:30 p.m., track events at 2 p.m. and the final race is at 3:25. No admission will be charged.

Landy To Run in LA Today; Expected To Shade Four Minutes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Seven athletes are due to race in a mile classic in Memorial Coliseum Saturday and every performer except one is expected to turn in the greatest effort of his life.

The exception, and the big favorite to win the race, is John Landy of Australia. Friendly, modest John, a 26-year-old schoolmaster from Australia, very likely will shade four minutes, the first runner to do so in the United States.

But few expect him to match or surpass his best—the world record time of 3 minutes 58 seconds he set in Turku, Finland, in 1954. The special mile race will be televised by CBS between 3:45 and 4 p.m. (Iowa time).

It's Derby Day at Churchill Downs

FABIUS, SHOWN HERE WINNING THE Derby Trial Tuesday, is one of 16 3-year-olds going in today's 82nd Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs, Louisville, Ky. In the Trial, Fabius, defeated Countermand (2), Head Man (hidden), and Black Emperor (7). Experts predict Fabius, Head Man, Black Emperor and the others will chase Needles to the finish line today.

17 3-Year-Olds Go Postward In Classic; Needles Favored

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The vital day of decision rolls around Saturday when the favored but eccentric Needles and 16 other finely tuned 3-year-olds take a bead on the 82nd and richest of all Kentucky Derbies at rambling Churchill Downs.

Historic old Louisville was buzzing with excitement that only Derby Day can bring, and if there were only 17 horses in the dual mile and one quarter classic there are 17 million opinions on the outcome.

Barring late changes and if all parade postward at 3:30 p.m. (Iowa time), after the massed bands play "My Old Kentucky Home" and a tear or two trickles into the mint julep glass, the Derby swag will total $167,650 compared with $152,500 last year.

The winner of the race, to be televised and broadcast nationally (CBS) from 3:15 to 3:45 p.m. (Iowa time), will net a neat $123,550. Swaps earned a record $108,400 last year for Rex Ellsworth, the Californian who'll be represented again by Terrang, the Santa Anita Derby hero.

Practically all of the opponents of Needles, the Florida colt with zany ideas, are busily trying to explain ways the 2 to 1 choice can be beaten. Then, in the next breath, they're all but admitting he can't lose.

This kind of a Derby scramble doesn't come along every year, for which the figure filberts can be thankful.

One has to go back to the 1951 Derby when Count Turf emerged from a wild cavalry charge in a swirl of dust down the stretch and proved top banana over 19 others.

Critics of Needles have a lot of points—1st he won't train in the morning without almost having to be bull whipped, 2nd he hasn't raced since he won the Florida Derby March 24. Opponents also note that he has drawn the No. 1 post, and such a slow starter may find himself shut off in the rush.

And, Needles has the old "N" jinx riding, erdale, Fla., and Jack Dudley, Stillwater, Okla., and trainer Hugh Fontaine don't seem, however, to be worried.

Needles came roaring from behind to mow down 14 rivals in the Flamingo at Hialeah Feb. 25. He then rested until the Florida Derby at Gulfstream when he came from nowhere again and broke the track record while beating 13 others.

True, Needles got a 5-pound weight concession there for being a Florida-bred but experts claim he'd have won regardless. His daddy was Ponder, and his grandpappy was Pensive, and both won their Kentucky Derbies coming from far off the pace. Needles carried 117 pounds in Florida. All starters Saturday must tote 126.

Ben and Jimmy Jones of Calumet Farm are ready to shoot both barrels, Fabius and Pintor Lea, and the same goes for Syl Veitch, who trains Career Boy and Head Man for C. V. Whitney. They will be the only couplings, since T. A. Grissom's Reaping Right was withdrawn officially Friday morning.

Reaping Right, Louisiana Derby winner, injured a leg Thursday, and Grissom will rely solely on Invalidate, who set the pace Tuesday when Fabius copped the one mile Derby Trial.

Completing the lineup are Dino Lozzi's Count Chic, second in the Florida Derby, Joe Gavagnano's High King, W. E. Britt's No Regrets, J. J. Gregory and H. D. Magglo's Ben A Jones, Companas Stable's Besomer, Mrs. Helen Kellogg's Come On Red, Hasty House Farm's Black Emperor, Mrs. Lloyd P. Tate's Jean Baptiste, Reverie Knoll Farm's King O' Swords, and Brandywine Stable's Countermand. Come On Red won't start if the track is fast, which isn't likely.

Run for the Roses
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Field for today's running of the $125,000 added Kentucky Derby, listed in order of post position, with jockey and probable odds:

- Needles (Dave Erb) 2-1
- a—Career Boy (Eric Guerin) 3-1
- b—Pintor Lea, (No boy) 4-1
- a—Head Man (Eddie Arcaro) 4-1
- Count Chic (Steve Brooks) 15-1
- High King (W. M. Cook) 20-1
- No Regrets (Doug Dodson) 25-1
- Ben A. Jones (Paul Bailey) 40-1
- Besomer (Nick Shuk) 30-1
- a—Come On Red (Al Popara) 80-1
- Terrang (Willie Shoemaker) 15-1
- b—Fabius (Willie Hartack) 3-1
- Black Emperor (Johnny Adams) 25-1
- a—Jean Baptiste (Jim Nichols) 30-1
- Invalidate (Larry Gilligan) 30-1
- King O' Swords (No boy) 30-1
- Countermand (Arnold Kirkland) 8-1
- a—C. V. Whitney entry.
- b—Calumet Farm entry.
- f—Probable mutual field.
- (All horses will carry 126 pounds.)

No horse with a name starting with "N" has won the Derby. Native Dancer and Nashua are recent excellent examples. His owners, Bonnie Heath of Fort Laud-

Dobrinio Pitches Iowa To First Big 10 Win

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (Special to The Daily Iowan)—The Iowa Hawkeyes took their first Big 10 baseball victory of the season here Friday, squeezing by the Purdue Boilermakers, 2-1, behind the four-hit pitching of Don Dobrinio.

Dobrinio pitched superbly. He struck out 11 Boilermakers and had a shutout going until the ninth inning when Purdue leftfielder Bill Gorman hit a home run with no one on base.

Local Athletes To Be Feted Tuesday Night

It was an 0-0 ballgame until the sixth inning. Ken Kurtz started it off with a single to left, and stole second. Catcher Don Bock flied out to short center, but Kirby Smith singled advancing Kurtz to third.

Then came Hawkeye double steal attempt. Purdue shortstop Tom Spear tried to cut off catcher Jim Cahoon's throw to second in order to get the sprinting Kurtz at the plate. But he dropped the ball, Kurtz scoring and Smith going to second. Then Bob Schevly, a fill-in for injured regular leftfielder Ralph Walters, came through like a seasoned veteran by lining a hard single off third baseman John Enrietto's glove to score Smith from second.

Iowa takes on Illinois, current Big 10 leader, in a doubleheader today at Champaign.

Main speakers at the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce all-sports banquet Tuesday will be Paul Brechler, SUI director of athletics, Bucky O'Connor, head coach of Iowa basketball and Forest Evashevski, Iowa head football coach.

The banquet, which will be served in the main lounge of the Iowa Memorial Union, is being given in honor of the 300 lettermen in all sports at Iowa and the four Iowa City High Schools.

Brechler will deliver the keynote talk and will be followed by Evashevski and O'Connor.

Invocation and benediction will be given by Robert S. Michaelsen, director of the SUI School of Religion.

The banquet is open to the public and women as well as men are invited to attend.

Tickets—$3.50 a plate—are available at Racine's, Whetstone's, Wilson's Sporting Goods, Chamber of Commerce office, SUI athletic office in the Fieldhouse.

Illini, Boilermakers Meet Iowa Golfers Here Today

The Iowa Golf team will meet Illinois and Indiana in a double-dual match today at 8 a.m.

The Hawk linksters are seeking their first victory. Monday they dropped two matches — to Wisconsin, 22-14, and Minnesota, 24-11-1/2. Last week they tied Missouri, 9-9.

Job Outlook for June Grads—

Civil Service Takes Political Scientists

(Last in a series on employment and job availability for SUI grads.)

By BILL KNOWLES
Uncle Sam will eventually employ most of SUI's June graduates from the Department of Political Science.

But there is some delay. The long, slow process of checking and grading tests delays employment, usually for six to eight months.

SUI Banquet For Good Will Ambassadors

Good will ambassadors from the SUI campus will receive awards for their work at the International Club's annual banquet May 19, in the Iowa Memorial Union.

One foreign student, one American student and one non-student person or organization will be honored at the banquet which will be followed by a dance.

The Bose Award will be presented to the foreign student who has done the most during the year to promote international good will and understanding on the campus.

The Seashore Award will go to an American student who has helped international relations most. A non-student organization or person will be presented the President Virgil M. Hancher Award.

Dean of Students L. Dale Faunce will present the awards.

Tickets for the banquet are available at the Office of Student Affairs at $2 for non-club-members and $1 for members.

Hospital-News Meet Is Slated for June

Improved relations between hospital and news officials is the goal of the Hospital-News Relations Conference at SUI June 1-2.

To provide better service to the public on hospital news, emphasis will be placed on "on-the-spot" news coverage originating from hospitals.

Featured speakers of the conference include Robert M. Cunningham Jr., Chicago, managing editor of Modern Hospital Publishing Co. and public relations director of the American College of Surgeons; Harry Boyd, editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette, and a member of the Iowa Hospital Association Council on Public Relations, and W. I. Christopher, public relations director of the Catholic Hospital Association and faculty member of St. Louis and Washington universities in St. Louis, Mo.

The conference will be sponsored by the SUI School of Journalism and the SUI Graduate Program of Hospital Administration.

Says 'Voices' Drove Him To Kill 4 Kin

WAUSAU — A 37-year-old Indian who said "the voices stopped after I stabbed my wife," was charged Friday with four counts of first degree murder and two of attempted murder.

Stoical, round-faced Russell Monegar, who authorities said, signed a statement admitting he stabbed his wife, mother-in-law, nephew and niece to death Thursday, told of hearing "the voices of my ancestors" urging him to kill.

Monegar waived preliminary hearing in Marathon County Court Friday morning, saying "I want to get this over with as soon as possible." He was held without bail and bound over for arraignment Monday in circuit court. First degree murder carries a mandatory penalty of life imprisonment.

Authorities said that Monegar, a paratrooper in the South Pacific in World War II, had spent considerable time in veterans' hospitals for treatment of a nervous condition.

Set Hearing On Rezoning Of Coralville

A public hearing on the proposed rezoning of Coralville will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Coralville Town Hall.

The proposed zoning ordinance presented at the April town council meeting redefines business and residential areas.

The ordinance would limit taverns, wholesale businesses and service stations to Class B areas extending north of Highway 6 from 10th Avenue to the east corporate limits and north to a line running west from the intersection of First Avenue and Fifth Street. This includes the present business zone.

Class A Area
A Class A business area restricted to retail stores would extend along Highway 6 from 10th Avenue west and include land expected to be annexed soon by petition.

Industrial areas would include the present area east of First Avenue to the Iowa River and add to that a portion of the present business area south of Highway 6 to the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad tracks.

Residential Area
A northwest residential area would be designated Class A, limiting construction to one and two-family dwellings. Any additional land annexed to the town in that area would be designated Class A residential.

Remaining residential areas would be Class B permitting the building of low cost and multiple-dwelling units.
A copy of the proposed plat and ordinance will be available for study between 9 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. today at the Town Hall.

Quadrangle Kitchen Gets Efficiency Honor

Quadrangle Dormitory kitchen will receive a merit award Monday from Institutions Magazine for the efficient layout and operation of the kitchen.

SUI is one of 45 institutions to be honored this year by the publication, a monthly magazine published for institutions concerned with mass feeding and mass housing.

The award-winning kitchen has been in operation since February, 1955. George L. Horner, SUI superintendent of planning and construction, was the architect in charge of planning the kitchen.

The award will be presented at a luncheon in Chicago in connection with the convention of the National Restaurant Association.

Hubcaps Are Stolen From 2 More Cars

Two thefts of hubcaps from parked cars were reported to police Friday.

David Rambo, A3, Webster City, told police that all four hubcaps had been stolen from his 1952 Oldsmobile while it was parked in the University Field House parking lot Friday morning.

Norman Sigel, A3, Ottumwa, reported one hubcap taken from his 1953 Studebaker while parked in the Quadrangle parking lot Thursday.

Police have received two other reports of hubcap thefts this week. Others were two from the 1956 Ford of Anna Burrell, 501 N. Dubuque on April 27, and two from a 1955 Ford owned by Helen Goodman, Iowa City.

School Merger Vote Set for Monday

Residents of the Iowa City and East Lucas Township school districts will vote Monday on combining the two districts.

School boards of both districts approved the merger at meetings April 10. Many East Lucas pupils are already attending Iowa City elementary schools because the township is operating only three of five schools in the district.

All East Lucas high school pupils attend Iowa City schools. East Lucas township is adjacent to the city southeast.

Existing East Lucas schools need extensive repair, said County Superintendent of Schools Frank J. Snider, and present tax valuation of the district will not support a building program.

The merger would bring the tax valuation of the combined districts to $25,376,306. The Iowa City district valuation now is $24,378,614.

If the merger is approved, the Iowa City board will continue as the board of education for the combined district, but it would become part of the county educational system. The East Lucas board would be dissolved June 30.

Polls for the special election will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Iowa City district voters in the First and Second wards and residents outside of the corporate limits bordering these wards will vote at the SUI Communications Center, at the intersection of Madison and College streets.

Third, Fourth and Fifth ward voters and residents of the district outside the corporate limits bordering these wards will vote at the Junior High School gymnasium.

East Lucas district residents will vote at the regular voting place, Township School No. 2, on Highway 218.

Voters living in the part of East Lucas district recently annexed to Iowa City will vote at the township polls. This is an area bounded by Lower Muscatine Road, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway tracks, the north line of the Procter and Gamble property and a line along Highland Avenue extending west.

8 Jury Trials To Start Monday

The first of eight criminal jury trials will begin in Johnson County District Court at 10 a.m. Monday.

Driving while intoxicated charges face seven defendants: Paul W. Beecher, 613 E. College St.; Ronald McNabb, 828 S. Dubuque St.; Christian F. See, 411 Reno St.; Charles E. Bivens, R R 6; John J. Ryben-sky, Omaha, Neb.; Paul W. Harding, 628 Second Ave.; and Manuel Sheehar, Butler, Mo.

Harold W. Glick, 223 E. Benton St., will be tried on a charge of desertion. He has allegedly failed to support a 12-year-old son in accordance with an order included in a divorce decree.

Predicts Political Power for Labor

Organized labor will become the most potent political force in the country within the next 20 years, a labor spokesman said here Friday.

Martin Pardekooper, education and research director of the Iowa Federation of Labor, predicted that labor organizations would have 30 million members by 1975.

Pardekooper made this prediction in an interview on the final day of the fifth annual labor short course.

From 3- to 14-Million In ten years, organized labor has increased from three million AFL members to 14 million members of the combined AFL-CIO, Pardekooper said.

"Organized labor will support a party that is for broad social legislation such as a higher minimum wage for all workers," he stated.

Despite its interest in politics, labor will never become a part of a political party or form a party of its own, he said.

"This was tried several years ago with disastrous results," he said.

'Must Compete' If labor is to put its program through, it must be able to compete with certain "reactionary" groups like the Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers, Pardekooper said.

They have opposed broadening social security and in the past have been against all types of social legislation, Pardekooper said.

The reason that these reactionary groups have been so successful is due to their ability to brand labor movements with epithets that make them undesirable to the public, he added.

Cry of 'Socialism' For instance, when labor advocates for more federal aid to public education, reactionaries scream "socialism," he said.

He also pointed out that when organized labor comes out against the agency shop which allows non-union "free riders" to enjoy the benefits obtained through union activity, these groups say this is an infringement on "freedom of religion."

Their basis for this is that some religious sects forbid joining unions.

"Actually, I only know of two such members who could not join a union because of religious conflicts," Pardekooper commented.

"Yet every time a labor bill on right-to-work laws are introduced in the legislature, these two cases are waved in front of everybody."

Thirty-six labor leaders from Iowa took part in the labor short course at the SUI Continuation Center, April 30 through May 4.

END PICKETING DES MOINES — Members of building trades unions returned to their jobs at the new North High School Friday after a one-day work stoppage at the 3½-million-dollar project.

Plasterers and roofers agreed on new contracts and stopped picketing.

One-Man Show

ART INSTRUCTOR William J. Mitchell hangs a drawing for his one-man art exhibit, which opens Sunday at the Iowa Memorial Union. Titled "The Chicken", this drawing is one of 40 paintings and drawings by Mitchell which will be exhibited until June 3.

Dormitories To Hold Field Day Today

Three men's dormitories will struggle with a 75-foot rope in a tug-of-war in one of the Inter-Dormitory field day events today.

Hillcrest will pull against Quadrangle and South Quadrangle in one of a series of games ranging from nail-driving and balloon-blowing to chasing greased pigs.

Other dormitories participating will be Currier, Commons and Westlawn.

The games will be on the intramural field west of the fieldhouse from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The field day is sponsored by the social committees of the six dormitories to "let off steam" before final examinations begin.

Free refreshments will be served to dormitory members.

Wesley Man Hurt; Walked into a Car

WESLEY — Donald Klocke, 20, Wesley, was injured critically Friday when he apparently walked into the side of a car on Highway 18 west of here.

Klocke had alighted from a truck and was walking around the front of the vehicle when he was struck by the car driven by Darrel Eischeid of Algona.

He was taken to an Algona hospital and flown to St. Mary's Hospital at Rochester, Minn. The Algona hospital reported Klocke suffered a brain injury and paralysis of the left leg and right arm.

Allies Expect Protest from W. Germans

BONN, Germany — The Western Allies are expecting demonstrations by disgruntled German owners of military occupied houses Saturday — the first anniversary of West German sovereignty.

The Allies are holding nearly 7,000 German homes requisitioned under occupation law for their military families.

Many property owners, some of whose houses have been requisitioned for 10 years, are resentful.

Fear Eviction Tries A high Allied official said that "some botheads" might take matters into their own hands and try to evict the soldier tenants.

Demonstrations by groups of house-owners are expected in some areas, he added.

Military commands have told servicemen living in requisitioned houses that their legal position is secure. Heads of families have been told to refer any eviction notices they receive to their superior officers.

At Frankfurt, headquarters for the U.S. Army's northern area command, a spokesman said American occupants of requisitioned homes have been instructed to call for the military police if German owners try to enter their houses.

The spokesman added however, "We don't expect any trouble."

'No Legal Basis' He said the Germans have no legal basis to oust any American family. Americans have been cautioned against provoking any incidents.

When the occupation ended last May 5 the West German government agreed to allow the Allied forces to keep possession of requisitioned property for one year.

Thereafter the government "guaranteed" it would provide the Allies with any property still needed.

The treaties giving West Germany sovereignty provided that in the absence of other legislation the old Nazi requisitioning law would apply.

CAVE INCORPORATES DES MOINES — Spook Cave, Incorporated, of McGregor, qualified with the secretary of state's office Friday to "operate and develop an underground cave."

Delay Trial In Red Case

CHICAGO — Judge William J. Campbell of the U.S. District Court Friday put off indefinitely the trial of Max Morris Weiss, accused of belonging to the Communist party while knowing it aims at forcible overthrow of the government.

Trial date had been set for May 14, but Weiss' attorney, William Scott Stewart, asked that it be continued until after the U.S. Supreme Court rules on an appeal in a similar case.

This involves Claude Lightfoot, Illinois Communist leader, and Lightfoot were indicted two years ago. They were charged with violating the Smith Act.

Lightfoot's conviction was upheld by the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and was carried to the Supreme Court.

Judge Campbell said that if the Weiss case were to go to trial as scheduled, and then the Supreme Court reverses the Lightfoot conviction, it would mean that many weeks of court time would be wasted while important cases awaited disposition.

The judge granted the continuance after government attorneys refused to agree to a move by Weiss to stand trial without a jury.

U.S. Atty. Robert Tiekens said the Department of Justice preferred a jury trial because if Weiss were convicted in a bench trial it would be used as propaganda that he was tried by one individual without a jury.

Chain Gets Control Of 'Employe' Paper CINCINNATI — Publisher Roger H. Fergar said Friday that the E. W. Scripps Co., an affiliate of the Scripps-Howard Newspapers, has acquired control of the employe-owned Cincinnati Enquirer by buying one-third interest in debenture bond from a Chicago investment house.

In a memorandum to employes Fergar said there would not be any change in executive or other personnel, and the paper would operate independently and under the same policy as in the past.

Employees and persons living in the community bought the newspaper from the John R. McLean estate in 1952 for $7,600,000.

Iowa Turkey Hatches Produce 317,000 Poults

DES MOINES — Iowa turkey hatcheries put out 317,000 poults of the heavy breeds during the week ended April 28, the Iowa Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Friday.

That is 3 per cent more than the 309,000 poults hatched in the preceding week and 9 per cent more than the 291,000 poults hatched in the comparable week a year earlier.

Hookey 2 Boys 'See the Light' After Dark Escapade

TARENTUM, Pa. — Two frightened boys, cold and tired after being lost in the dark maze of an old coal mine for 24 hours, ran stumbling into the light of searchers' lamps Friday and were led from the mine unharmed.

Joe Pitkavich Jr., 16, and Paul Crawford, 15, blinked in the sudden daylight of a rainy afternoon as they walked from the mine.

After a brief examination the boys were allowed to return home.

Their "hookey" escapade from Thursday high school classes had set off an intensive search of the 30-year-old mine about 25 miles north of Pittsburgh. It ended about 2 p.m. when they were found by two mine workers.

Together with four companions, the two boys had skipped high school classes Thursday and wandered into the area of the old mine.

High on a hillside the boys built a fire and noticed smoke swirling into a nearby hole, blowing out another some distance away. Paul and Joe decided to try to trace the smoke.

When they failed to come back, their companions ventured a short way into the old workings looking for them, then retreated and notified the families of the missing boys.

REA Head Quits, Consider Iowan

WASHINGTON — Ancher Nelsen Friday tendered his resignation to President Eisenhower as Rural Electrification Administrator to seek the Republican nomination for Governor of Minnesota.

Disclosing this, agriculture department sources said formal announcement of the resignation will be made by Nelsen at a second district Republican convention at Mankato.

D. W. Meyer, president of the Iowa Rural Electric Cooperative Assn., was mentioned prominently as a possible successor to Nelsen.

Prof. Mather Writes 'Voting in Iowa' Book

A 64-page booklet describing Iowa's election laws and political parties has been published by the SUI Institute of Public Affairs for distribution to Iowa junior high and high schools.

The booklet, "Voting in Iowa," was written by Prof. George Mather of the institute.

Iowa election laws and procedures for voting are explained in the first part of the booklet. The organization of the two major political parties and election campaigns are described in the second section.

Prepared by Request "Voting in Iowa" grew out of a request by Iowa Secretary of State Melvin Synhorst for a booklet to answer the many inquiries he received concerning election procedures.

The booklet will be a supplementary text in teaching civics, government and current events. It is written on an eighth grade level.

but can be used in classes from eighth to twelfth grades.

Receives Review During its preparation, the booklet was reviewed by the office of the Assistant Attorney General of Iowa, the state chairmen of the Republican and Democratic parties, the superintendent of the Iowa State Department of Public Instruction, and Prof. John Haefner of the SUI College of Education.

A 40-page "Teacher's Guide" is now in preparation by the institute for use with the booklet in classroom teaching. Suggested classroom activities and bibliography of pamphlets, periodicals and other teaching aids will be included.

Automation Starts British Auto Strike

LONDON — Automation has touched off a major strike in the British car industry. There are widespread fears more work halts will take place before push-button techniques are established in factories here.

In Coventry, about 12,000 workers of the Standard Motor Works walked out to protest the company's plan to lay off more than 3,000 men for several months so the plant may be converted to automation processes.

The project is to cost more than 11 million dollars. The firm hopes modernization will strengthen it in international competition.
