What's So Interesting? See Page 8

PHOTOGRAPHERS, SHOWING AN unusual eagerness for taking pictures, gathered around their subject. Approximately 100 photographers, most of them from Iowa, attended the annual photography short course held at SUI last weekend. Two SUI students were among those winning prizes in the weekly and daily division contests. To see what they are taking pictures of, turn to page 8.

Figures Disclose—

Every 6th Liberal Arts Student on Probation

By VIC GEORGE

One out of six SUI liberal arts undergraduates is on scholastic probation. After final exams, one out of four of those on probation will probably be dropped from the college.

These figures were compiled by the office of Prof. H. Clay Harshbarger, assistant dean for Advisory Services.

Of the 4,848 students now enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts, 752 are on scholastic probation. This 15.5 percentage is a one per cent increase over last year when 604 of 4,140 students were on probation.

At the beginning of the second semester 528 students failed to attain the minimum grade-point averages for their class and were placed on probation.

In addition, 224 students on probation for the first semester were continued on the conditional status.

Based on the four-point system (four points for each hour of A, three points for B, two points for C, one point for D and zero for F divided by total semester hours), minimum requirements for freshmen and unclassified students is 1.5; for sophomores, 1.6; for juniors, 1.7; and for seniors, 1.8.

Both semester and cumulative grade-point averages must exceed the minimum averages before a student is restored to good standing. The College of Liberal Arts had 234 students previously on probation who met the requirements at the close of the first semester. They have been restored to good standing. Only four students were dropped.

As a normal procedure, a student is not continued on probation for more than two semesters. Freshmen who are on probation for this semester and do not attain a cumulative grade point of 1.5 may be dropped from the university.

Upperclassmen whose averages (for the semester or cumulative) are considerably below that required for good standing may be dropped at any time by action of the Adjustment Committee of the college.

Why are students on probation? There are as many reasons as there are individuals, Harshbarger

City Man Wounded In Shooting Mishap

Don Hoffer, 23, 811 E. Church St., was wounded Monday in a shooting accident.

Hoffer, in good condition at University Hospitals, was hit in the leg just above the right knee by a bullet from the gun of a friend, John E. Winslow, 21, 532 N. Dodge St.

Winslow, a marine home on leave, was target shooting with Hoffer in Oaklawn Cemetery when the accident occurred.

Police said Hoffer was standing behind Winslow when Winslow attempted to pull his .22 caliber Colt pistol from his holster. The weapon swung backward and discharged.

Winslow was charged with discharging a firearm within the city limits.

Meet Tonight To Discuss Civic Center

By BILL KNOWLES

A meeting of representatives of local organizations with Mayor LeRoy S. Mercer and City Manager Peter F. Roan is scheduled for 7:30 tonight in the City Hall council chambers to discuss plans for the proposed new Iowa City Civic Center.

At a meeting last Wednesday, the group selected Lauren B. Housel as chairman of a citizen's committee to promote the passage of a $785,000 bond issue to finance the civic center.

It was estimated that the Civic Center would cost each Iowa City home owner less than 50 cents per month. The estimate was based on a taxable valuation of about $3,000 for the average home.

The bond issue will be presented for the voters approval in a special election June 4. The measure authorizing the issuance of bonds provides for a maximum annual levy of 2.25 mills on a taxable property, but Roan said the bonds can be carried on a two mill levy if additional revenue from a parking lot built on the old City Hall site is used.

Plans for the proposed center call for 42,850 square feet to be divided among the needs of city administrative departments, police and fire departments and recreation facilities.

The proposed center, if accepted by the voters, will be located on the square block bounded by Iowa Avenue, Washington, Gilbert and Van Buren Streets. The south half of the area is occupied by the Musser parking lot on which the city has an option to buy for $66,000. Two of the eight properties on Iowa Avenue have already been purchased by the city.

Youngsters — whom Johnson and other Physics Building inhabitants hope someday will be inhabitants of the SUI and other university physics buildings — were out en masse. They seemed intensely interested in astronomical photographs which adorn the walls of the observatory's anteroom. They were even more interested in their chance to look at the moon, Venus, Jupiter, and Saturn.

One woman, whose four children were in extreme ecstasy, asked Johnson to let them have an early look at Saturn as it became visible about 9:30. She was probably afraid that the offspring would experience a slumbering day in schools today. The kids viewed the ringed planet, then departed rather remorsefully.

This, to the untrained eye of an ultra-amateur, is what the observers observed:

35 Initiated Into Phi Beta Kappa

35 SUI students were initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic society, Monday afternoon in ceremonies held in the House Chamber of Old Capitol. The initiation was followed by a banquet in the River Room of the Iowa Memorial Union.

To be eligible for membership in the organization, students must be a candidate for or have received a degree in the SUI College of Liberal Arts. They must have a cumulative grade point of 3.2.

M. L. Huit, counselor to men, was elected president of the SUI chapter. He succeeds Prof. Rhodes Dunlop of the SUI English Department.

Senate-House Conferees OK Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees on the farm bill were reported late Monday to have agreed tentatively on a compromise which would give the administration largely what it wants on the key question of feed grains.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the conferees, would say only after the 2½-hour session that, "We have discussed various proposals and I'm sure we can reach an agreement tomorrow morning."

But from other sources it was learned that a compromise of this sort appeared to be in the making:

1. The House conferees would accept the Senate version of price supports for feed grains — oats, barley, rye and sorghums. The Senate voted for generally lower supports than the House and made feed grains ineligible for the soil bank program. The administration strongly opposed the House plan.

2. The Senate conferees would give in to the House on the question of when the $1,200,000,000 a year soil bank would be effective. The House had voted to make a start on it in 1956; the Senate left it up to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson to decide whether any soil bank program was possible this year.

3. The Senate conferees would agree to drop two controversial wheat provisions written into the bill on the floor just before it was passed last Friday. One would let Benson sell up to 100 million bushels of nonmilling wheat for feed at distress prices; the other would exempt from marketing quota cash penalties wheat farmers who overplant their allotments if the wheat is used on the farm.

One reason the conferees decided to make no final decisions was the absence of Rep. Cooley (D-N.C.), head of the House delegation. He will be on hand for this morning's session.

Ellender said he believed both branches could pass a compromise Wednesday and send it to President Eisenhower if final agreement is reached this morning.

The feed grains provision in the House bill would mean 81.5 per cent of parity price supports this year for farmers who cut back acreage by 15 per cent. In addition, it would assure supports next year at 5 percentage points below cost.

But the Senate plan, reportedly accepted tentatively by the conferees, would give feed grain growers 76 per cent of parity this year, they would have minimum 70 per cent supports if Benson, as he did this year, extended price guarantees for corn grown by farmers who disregard acreage allotments.

Mr. Eisenhower vetoed the first farm bill April 16 principally because of its return to high, rigid price supports for basic crops. This feature and others objectionable to the administration have been removed from the new legislation.

Warns Ike Against Colorado Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's personal physician said Monday he is against any idea of a Colorado vacation by the President this summer because of the heart attack Eisenhower suffered in that altitude last year.

The doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said he wanted to emphasize that neither the President nor anyone else had sounded him out on the possibility of a Colorado vacation.

Snyder said that if his opinion should be sought regarding a vacation there, "I would not be in favor of it."

Eisenhower himself has said nothing definite publicly as to whether he plans to return to Colorado, the home of Mrs. Eisenhower's family. He has vacationed in that state for the last four summers.

There have been reports that the President might pass up Colorado this year in favor of a vacation somewhere in Wisconsin.

500 Troops Battle Floods

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho (AP)—The Army arrived Monday with 500 troops and heavy equipment to help battle the bulging Kootenai River which reached a record level, flooded 1,000 acres and threatened 39,000 more.

The Kootenai fell to 33.9 this afternoon as water rushed through the broken dikes, but it began to rise again and the weather bureau forecast a peak of 35 to 36 feet for the next three days.

A convoy of infantrymen and engineers pulled in after a 350-mile trip from Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the soldiers went to work quickly to strengthen earthen dikes against the river. Seepage was feared. It can weaken dikes beyond repair.

A 12-inch water pipe which carries domestic water to town was broken when an outlying section of dikes gave way. Drinking water in the downtown area was cut off, and two reservoirs in town were running dry.

Some residents filled big cans full of water and others built up their supply from nearby springs. The city had welders on the job all day to fix the break. All schools are closed for the summer.

The Kootenai reached a peak of 35.4 feet early Monday, the highest ever recorded here. The previous high was 35.38 on May 23, 1954. Flood stage is listed at 31 feet.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie declared a state of emergency here Sunday. Dikes around town are built up to 37 feet. Dikes around the farming areas are 35 to 37 feet high.

'Right to Work' Laws Hit by Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—State "right to work" laws as applied in the railroad industry fell Monday before a 9-0 Supreme Court ruling.

State laws banning union shops in other industries were not affected. The decision upheld a 1951 amendment of the National Railway Labor Act which authorizes the railroad and labor unions to enter into union shop agreements.

Under the union shop, a worker must join within 60 days the union which holds collective bargaining rights for his craft or class of workers, or lose his job.

Eighteen states have laws banning membership or nonmembership in unions as a condition to holding a job. Proponents call them "right to work" laws. Some union leaders described them as "right to scab" laws.

Except as applied in the railroad industry the state "right to work" laws remain intact. The Taft-Hartley Act permits union shop agreements, but specifies this does not apply in states which have laws prohibiting them.

Justice Douglas, author of Monday's opinion, said that in the absence of conflicting federal legislation, "there can be no doubt that it is within the police power of a state to prohibit" the union shop.

But, referring to the Railway Labor Act, he said the power of Congress to regulate labor relations in interstate industries is likewise well-established.

Douglas added that "much might be said pro and con if the policy issue were before us," but he said the question of policy is one with which the judiciary has no concern.

The decision overturned a ruling by the Nebraska Supreme Court that the state's "right to work" law superseded the Railway Labor Act's union shop amendment.

The Nebraska court ruled in a case brought by a group of Union Pacific Railroad employees who did not want to have to join a union.

SCIENTISTS TEST H-BOMB EFFECTS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver and Adlai E. Stevenson, face to face in a nationwide radio-TV forum, joined Monday night in declarations that the dropping of a hydrogen bomb in the Pacific Sunday must spur new efforts for universal peace.

Kefauver declared in a tee-off statement that the United States should "take the lead in proposing to the Soviet Union an immediate cessation of further dropping of atom and hydrogen bombs."

Stevenson recently asserted that the U.S. should consider the question of bringing about a half to nuclear weapons tests.

"Three years ago," the former Illinois governor said, "we were great and commanded respect. . . . We are not as strong today and not as respected, and we have to recover in both respects."

Kefauver outlined an eight-point platform:

1. That "we must have a moral policy."

2. We must continue to experiment and test the uses of nuclear energy while taking the lead in proposing a halt to dropping bombs.

3. The inspection plan should be resumed.

4. A "crash program" is needed to provide the nation enough qualified scientists.

5. The national interest demands an Atomic Energy Commission above sordid politics.

6. A nationwide program is needed, to turn atomic energy to peaceful uses.

7. We must insure, Kefauver said, against a private monopoly in atomic energy.

8. The terror of the hydrogen bomb, Kefauver said, must be converted into "the last best argument for world peace."

The Weather

Cloudy and Warmer

Hot, sticky weather, accompanied by cloudiness and occasional sprinkles of rain, spread over Iowa Monday. The U.S. Weather Bureau said there is a chance of light showers today, although it predicted widely scattered thunderstorms could be expected Monday.

No significant change in temperatures are expected through tonight.

Auto Crash Injures Nine

CARROLL (AP)—Nine persons, including five youngsters, were injured in a car-truck collision Monday evening on Highway 71 about 10 miles south of here.

All of the injured were passengers in a car driven by Mrs. Harold Lovell, 25, Coon Rapids, which authorities said sideswiped a well-drilling truck. The truck driver, Donald H. Oglesby, 35, Ida Grove, was only slightly hurt.

Mrs. Lovell, who suffered multiple fractures, was reported in good condition at a hospital. Her son, Dwayne, 3, was in satisfactory condition, suffering from a skull fracture. Her daughter, Janet, 1, was treated and released, as was Mrs. Hope Truax, 43.

Mrs. William Kult, 24, also of Coon Rapids, and her two children, Linda, 2, and Michael, 1, were reported in satisfactory condition.

Reported in good condition were Mrs. Carl West, 23, and Arnold Lamp Jr., 5.

Sheriff Al Thorup said the southbound Lovell auto careened into a Milwaukee Railroad overpass after striking the northbound truck. Three ambulances were called to remove the injured from the scene.

Some sources in the Pentagon gave out documents saying that present emphasis on airpower could lead to disaster.

Wilson said he saw no need for any congressional investigation — such as some Democrats have been talking about — to thresh out the matter of the three services' roles and missions.

He and the service chiefs promised a "thorough investigation" to find out what lower echelon officers started the interservice sniping. But they all played down any talk of disciplinary action.

Calls Meeting To Explain Cause of Rift

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon's top brass played down as "eager beaver" squabbling Monday a sudden upsurge of Army-Navy-Air Force rivalry over national defense policy.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson took the "little hurricane," as he called it, so seriously that he called on short notice an unprecedented news conference by himself, the secretaries of all three services and all members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"There will always be some differences of opinion within and between the services in connection with military operations," declared Wilson. He added:

"Honest differences and reasonable competition between the military services are healthy and will result in a stronger defense establishment.

"It is not good for the country, however, to have these differences, some of which are set forth in confidential staff papers, aired on a basis of service partisanship without giving the proper responsible officials the opportunity to weigh all the factors involved."

Both the Army chief of staff, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, and his Air Force counterpart, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, specifically disavowed documents "leaked" to certain publications over the weekend casting reflections on the roles assigned to other services.

Some sources in the Pentagon gave out documents saying that present emphasis on airpower could lead to disaster.

Truck Hits Railway Overpass

A SEMI-TRAILER TRUCK is shown after it struck the Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway bridge over Iowa Avenue west of Old Capitol Sunday night. The truck, wedged under the bridge following the crash, was freed by letting air out of the tires and backing it from beneath the bridge. Carlton R. Goodwin, 40, Basilla, La., driver of the truck, was charged by police with failure to follow a marked highway.

The Daily Iowan is an independent daily newspaper, written and edited by students. It is governed by a board of five student trustees elected by the student body and four faculty trustees appointed by the president of the university. The Iowan editorial staff writes its editorials without censorship by administration or faculty. The Iowan's editorial policy, therefore, is not necessarily an expression of SUI administration policy or opinion. The Iowan, in the terms of a policy statement adopted by trustees in 1946, "will try to act as a good citizen of the SUI community and the community of Iowa City. . . . The Daily Iowan conceives its owners to be the whole constituency of the University, past, present, and future. It will endeavor to hold the good of the University in trust for these owners. . . ."

Poor, Bewildered Farmer

The Senate last week passed a revised farm bill and sent it to the House for approval. The bill is one which Senate farm leaders feel President Eisenhower will accept. Bewildered farmers by this time don't know what would be a good bill.

The House must act on several changes in the original House version passed May 3. Changes written in by the Senate are essential but relatively minor points in comparison to the measure as a whole. Farm observers and farmers are hopeful the House will act quickly without more needless debate.

Indications are, however, that the bill will go to a Senate-House compromise committee where differences can be ironed out. This would undoubtedly take at least another week of haranguing. Admittedly the farmer should get the best bill possible, but this constant debate and changing isn't getting him anywhere either.

The farmer wants help and he wants it soon, but it appears politics in both parties are determined to make him wait until a full-blown political football can be made of the issue.

The farmer feels, and rightly so, that as long as everyone else has his fingers in the welfare pie, agriculture should get its share.

Democrats are hoping to keep farm sentiment high against the administration, high enough, in fact, to create a full-scale "farm revolt" and a repudiation of the Republicans at the polls this fall.

Republicans, on the other hand, are hoping to show the Democrats as more guilty for failing to pass suitable legislation. They are also hoping that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson can remain out of the spotlight long enough for his name to be forgotten.

Meanwhile all the farmer is interested in is the passage of some kind of legislation. He looks

The Diamond Jubilee

Seventy-five years ago, Monday, the American Red Cross was founded by Clara Barton under the name of American Association of the Red Cross, and was incorporated in 1905 as the American National Red Cross, an organization which has attained a great membership and an increasing number of activities since.

The development of the Red Cross movement, especially since 1919, has shown a world-wide tendency to regard the alleviation of human suffering, whatever its source, as falling within the jurisdiction of this organization.

The services which the Red Cross performs today, and has performed through the years, are numerous, and the organization can proudly look back on seventy-five years of progress in eliminating human suffering.

Before coming to America the Red Cross had been active in Europe since 1862. The fundamental idea behind this organization was first enunciated by Henri Dunant at Geneva, Switzerland. He urged the necessity of constituting permanent societies for the care of the wounded who at that time were left to perish on the battlefield for lack of medical assistance.

There are ten main fields of activity in which the American Red Cross engages: disaster service, Armed Forces service, veterans service, blood services, nursing services, first aid service, water safety service, Junior Red Cross, communication services, and international activities.

On the local scale, the Johnson County Red Cross has been as active as any in the nation. At present the Johnson County organization boasts 6,472 members in addition to 5,340 members enrolled in Junior Red Cross through elementary and secondary schools.

The Red Cross here is active in welfare and emergency service, providing help to servicemen, veterans, civilians and dependents — all of whom are offered counseling, guidance, and financial aid.

The organization sponsors on a local scale first aid instruction, free swimming lessons, training of junior high-school students in accident prevention, and the awarding of home nursing certificates. In addition to this, the Johnson County chapter has given a number of hours of service to community activities and hospitals.

The American Red Cross can look forward to many years of useful service to Americans and the world alike, and the appreciation Americans must feel for this organization can probably be best expressed by a statement made by President Eisenhower: "This nation, its Government and its people, will continue to look to the American Red Cross for all those humane, friendly services that have done so much to improve community life and to maintain the well-being of our neighbors in time of disaster and emergency."

An Ode to Spring

(This is a guest editorial by Tom Townsend, G. Omaha, Neb.)

Debate there wasn't in saying whether I'd write this blurb upon the weather. Had I been asked to do the choosing I would, indeed, have tried refusing. But, as I say, 'twas dictatorial. The way I chose this editorial.

"Tis spring, the chief exclaimed this morning; Then added, quite without a warning: "So give me something light and airy — A sunbeam's dance, a nimble fairy, A blossomed patch the meadow attaining, The softened drum that comes with raining."

Within my mind conjured the grasses; I thought of cutting lawns for classes. Into my ears he talked of showers; I thought of sultry, sodden hours. He spoke of blooms, the air perfuming; I saw the pollen count go zooming.

And yet I would not be a cynic; I like good health and not the clinic. I like fresh air and not the sneezes; I joy in trading gales for breezes. My heart leaps up at children's laughter — If only finals came not after!

Letters to the Editor

Criticize Review of Moliere's Play as Irresponsible; Question Writer's Knowledge of Drama

TO THE EDITOR:

It has been with some trepidation and a good deal of cynicism that I have followed the theatrical reviews in The Daily Iowan for the past academic year, since I am generally skeptical of student criticism of student work. On the whole, however, I have felt the reviews were generally justified, give or take a margin of error on the basis of natural prejudice and taste. This attitude remained with me, I hasten to say, until today's issue of the Iowan in which appeared a most subtly acrimonious review by one Stu Hopkins. And it is this review which raises for me several interesting points concerning the responsibilities of the press, a topic which I have spent a good part of the past semester discussing with freshman students, and which this review seems to ignore completely.

First, let us accept the fact that Mr. Hopkins may be a literary purist and may have felt that the review in the play were an undue exerescence. This is his privilege, and it is, perhaps a justifiable criticism of the play. Certainly as an author of those lyrics I recognize only too well that some of the songs left much to be desired in the way of a happy marriage between lyrics and music, but I felt that certain errors which I knew were existent in the lyrics themselves were bravely covered by the actors who rendered the songs. Giving Mr. Hopkins all possible benefit of doubt in this direction, however, and accepting for the sake of argument his premise that the work of an author is unchangeable (a rather popular belief not unique to Mr. Hopkins) let us look at the review itself as an example of journalistic responsibility.

To one at all familiar with the New Yorker and its drama critic, it might seem immediately apparent that the Iowan review of Moliere and an earlier review of "Ondine" by the same author suffer from a similar disease, a sophomore imitation of Wolcott Gibbs. Whereas Mr. Gibbs has developed a unique style capable of damning anything which he smiles at, Mr. Hopkins' echoes only show a rather slick style clouded by a lack of knowledge or ability to make the substance justify the form. Mr. Gibbs is a man familiar with the theatre, and a man of sufficient integrity to carefully investigate a topic about which he chooses to speak. I should like to credit Mr. Hopkins with the same abilities, but there are certain evidences in the review which make this impossible. In short, before discussing a play as familiar as the Moliere farce (discussing it, that is, in the pseudo learned manner in which Mr. Hopkins chooses to deal with it) I might suggest that the reviewer's first responsibility is to take a rather close look at the play (perhaps via a trip to the library) and know what he is criticizing. The present review indicates that its author leaves something to be desired in the way of familiarity with the play. I shall cite a few examples to indicate Mr. Hopkins' background for criticizing the farce, and leave it to you to decide how responsible the reviewer was to his position.

I. Did Mr. Hopkins read the play himself or did he hear about it from someone else? If he has read it, is it not strange that he does not realize that this play is an after-piece, i.e., a play performed without intermission at the close of the featured work of an evening. (It is similar to a round of boxing after the main event.) Had he realized that, he would have realized that the work is not a full length dramatic piece, but rather a short piece written in three scenes (sometimes called acts). The present production merely broke the playing of the piece into two parts causing an intermission, but it did in no wise condense it from three acts to two, an impossible thing to do with a piece written in the equivalent of one modern act.

2. Has the reviewer of this article taken any care to discover the style of acting prevalent in the 17th Century when Moliere wrote the farce? Even if he knew nothing about the continental style of acting, he must, through the movies at least, have learned something about that style in England and he must have realized that conventions of that style demand a dance movement, b.) exaggerated gesture, including "grimaces," and c.) exaggerated vocal techniques not only because of acoustical problems but because the beginning of foppishness brought with it certain effeminate attitudes of speech, which an imitation of the style of the period demands.

Readers are invited to express opinions in letters to the Editor. All letters must include handwritten signatures and addresses — typewritten signatures are not acceptable. Letters become the property of The Daily Iowan. The Daily Iowan reserves the right to shorten, select, representative letters when many on the same subject are received, or withhold letters. Contributors are limited to not more than two letters in any 30-day period. Opinions expressed do not necessarily represent those of The Daily Iowan.

3. Finally, if Mr. Hopkins had checked the many translations of Moliere extant, he would have discovered that they run all the way from a precise and literal translation which might well make a modern audience wriggle in its seats to several vernacular translations approximating the Sunday mannered speech of a pair of Bowery bums. Rather than accept any of these translations alone, Dr. Shiffner undertook the task of editing a version of the play which would approximate as nearly as possible the style of the period and still be sufficiently within the ken of a modern audience to be enjoyable. If he had committed a mortal sin in substituting "idiot" for "cuckold," one can only say that perhaps he was conscious of the fact that a large part of the theatre audience is made up of people with little or no literary training who might well have missed the allusion which "cuckold" holds for those of us who are familiar with its literary ramifications. The great sin which he committed, then, was to be too aware of the responsibility of a director to adapt the work he seeks to produce to the knowledge and scope of the audience which is to see it.

Perhaps all of these things were within the knowledge of Mr. Hopkins when he composed his review and I am being unjust in calling them to his attention. I hope not. The plea of ignorance is a much more acceptable one than that of purposeful maliciousness or insensitive stupidity. At any rate, it seems that the first duty of any reviewer (no matter how slick his powers of sardonic wit, and no matter how able his imitation of a professional style) is the ability to convey to the large reading audience a just and informed account of any production. As Max Lerner has said, "Ideas are weapons," and the drama critic has a most powerful weapon, assuming that he is read. As any other weapon, it should be utilized only by a competent person lest someday he lose the instruction book and the weapon explode in his face.

Critics' Course

TO THE EDITOR:

Re: Summer Employment for Would-Be Critics and/or unemployed critics. The "Dunciad" (literary journal "par excellence," owned by that versatile man of letters, John Dryden and edited by the renown master of Medieval musical comedy, Jean Baptiste Poquelin—pseudonym Moliere, or M. de Moliere, or what you will, irregardless) can promise full-time summer employment to willful drama critics who "never deviate into sense." Experience is absolutely unnecessary. The only requisites are the basic course in communication skills, a knowledge of malapropisms, anachronisms, mixed metaphors and strained similes, familiarity with a few medieval musical comedies, a passing acquaintance with a few plays, a smattering of French and even less Greek, and a good foundation in poetic license and journalistic.

The critic will be paid a handsome stipend for reviewing two contemporary farces: "The Critic In Spite Of Himself" and "School For Scoundrels," both refurbished with inane song and dance routines. His duties to the public will be threefold:

1. to cuckold them into believing that the classics of dramatic literature are sanctum sanctorum and are vitiated through adaptation;

2. to differentiate between the various musical instruments used in the productions for them so that they will be aware that the accompaniment was furnished by a piano tuned to sound like a vintage harpsichord; and

3. to distinguish for them the various subtle shadings in the choreography, which may run the gamut from "fair and clear" to "cloudy." Furthermore, the critic will receive a bonus for each negative letter-to-the-editor he receives from semite theatre-goers who are none the wiser when plays are cut from three acts to two.

Perhaps there are members on your staff who will be looking for employment in the near future and will be interested in this offer. It would be greatly appreciated if you would pass this information on to them.

Natilly yours,
J. P. Cochran, G

I Go Pogo

Will Age Hurt Pogo's Election Chances?

(The Daily Iowan)
Pogo Possum, like other Presidential candidates, we know, refuses to give up when faced with defeat. Having lost the election in 1952, Pogo once again is competing for the job. Here, Walt Kelly, creator of the cartoon character, describes the reaction of Washington to Pogo's candidacy.

WASHINGTON, May 87½ (By Special Correspondent) — Pogo Possum's chances for presidency were thrown into considerable doubt today when objections to his candidacy were voiced by an influential group in an alley just northeast of the Capitol Building.

An altercation, during which an elderly gentleman's hat was punctured, started when a voice vote showed that only three per cent of those present could spell, much less pronounce, Okefenokee.

POLITICAL EXPERTS in the area have for a long time been of the opinion that the swampland candidate's age is somewhat against him.

"It's not a matter of discrimination," explained one statesman, who shall be nameless. "It was a simple matter of law and arithmetic."

IT WAS POINTED OUT by a disorderly minority that law and arithmetic are not simple matters. However, the general consensus of the group as it proceeded in flight through a picturesque section of the mall was that Pogo is not old enough to legally stand for the presidency. Student organizations have, of course, for a long time been of the opinion that everybody in the country has to stand for the presidency, whether old enough or not.

This latter aspect was somewhat obscured in today's discussion when several of those participating tumbled into a lagoon and had to be rescued by a visiting troop of Girl Scouts from North Dakota. It was felt there might be a trend in the northwest indicated by the action.

Time Solution

(Des Moines Register)

One of our colleagues, not too energetic, thought he had a perfect solution for the time problem. This was before the Des Moines city council decided not to put daylight time into effect this year. But we still think our colleague's plan had some merit.

He proposed going to work by standard time and sticking to it all morning. Then, at noon each day, he would switch to daylight time.

Big Ten Votes For Round-Robin In '59

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn. (AP)—Big Ten football coaches and athletic directors Monday voted for a 9-game round-robin conference schedule within a 10-game slate beginning in 1959-60, but the action awaits approval of the policy-making faculty representative later this week.

This departure from the present nine-game Big Ten grid schedule which includes a range of from six to eight conference games, came on a proposal by George H. Young, faculty representative from the University of Wisconsin.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson said the vote was not unanimous, but said that with all the football coaches and athletic directors voting there was a total of 20 votes, which meant there was at least an 11-9 majority for the expanded schedule.

The faculty representatives will act on the round-robin slate in their business session at Minneapolis Friday and Saturday, but even if they approve it, the matter must be reviewed by the individual member schools as new legislation and no final action probably would be taken before the winter meetings next December.

Meanwhile, the football coaches and athletic directors worked at this Minnesota resort center on a 1959-60 schedule to encompass the proposed round-robin competition on a tentative basis.

Wilson pointed out that the tenth or outside game, would not be compulsory under the new schedule.

Schedules for 1956 through 1958 already have been drafted. Under the proposed round-robin schedule, the season would start on the next to last Saturday in September, trimming the present practice time from four to three weeks before inaugural round of games.

Wilson said there was no home-and-home sequence required under the round-robin schedule, in which each team would meet every other team.

The new schedule was proposed to the joint meeting of coaches and athletic directors by Ivy Williamson, now in his freshman year as athletic director at Wisconsin.

after a successful Badger coaching career.

It was suggested that under the new schedule four teams might play nonconference games, while six teams played league contests in the first week of the season.

Then the other six teams would play their nonconference games in the middle of the campaign.

It appeared that Notre Dame, which now plays four Big Ten schools, might be limited to two Big Ten contests per season under the new arrangement.

The exact lineup of favoring schools on the round-robin schedule was conjectural, but it was believed that Michigan and Ohio State were the chief opponents.

Wisconsin said he proposed the round-robin slate to provide a better means of settling championships and to bring together conference opponents for more consistent opposition.

If the faculty representatives at their Minneapolis meetings reject the round-robin plan, the coaches and athletic directors would draft 1956-60 schedules on the current basis either at the December meetings this year or possibly at a special session prior to that time.

Suspend For 1 Year UCLA 1955 Players

VICTORIA, B. C. (AP)—A Pacific Coast Conference disciplinary "big stick" fell again on the University of California at Los Angeles Monday.

The conference decreed that all members of the UCLA 1955 varsity and freshman football squads shall lose a year's eligibility unless individual players can prove they have not received improper financial aid.

The UCLA faculty representative had started the new disciplinary round by declaring all members of the two squads ineligible. That would have put all the players out for the 1955 season.

The conference members ruled that the penalty was too harsh, and reinstated the group with the proviso that penalties would be the loss of a year in each case, without specifying the year.

The ruling could end the conference grid career of Ronnie Knox, the celebrated UCLA back of last year, unless he can prove a clean slate on any financial aid he received. He has only one year of eligibility left.

Dr. Joseph Kaplan, the UCLA faculty representative, did not present any list of athletes to whom the ban would apply. Neither was any list made available from UCLA officials in Victoria.

Coach Red Sanders said he had no comment on the latest development but added that it could leave the school's football fortunes in bad shape next fall.

Obviously, UCLA still could follow the more severe policy Dr. Kaplan proposed, but it seemed unlikely. He said afterward that he had voted for the modified conference resolution.

The conference stipulated that any football player who received "substantial financial aid not permitted" by its athletic code shall be charged with one year of varsity football participation.

It was explained that Dr. Kaplan had no authority to place a time limit on the ineligibility.

Only Saturday the conference had placed UCLA on probation for three years for giving unauthorized financial aid to athletes. The school also was fined $15,000 because its chancellor refused to cooperate with the conference commissioner. UCLA also was deprived of its Rose Bowl receipts, approximately $78,000, for the next three years.

Birds' Wilson, Philley To Sox In 4-2 Deal

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox Monday obtained pitcher Jim Wilson and outfielder Dave Philley from the Baltimore Orioles in exchange for four players, including veteran third baseman George Kell.

Pitcher Mike Fornieles, outfielder Bob Nieman and a player to be named later went with Kell in the package deal with Baltimore.

Wilson, 34, was the key man in the trade — one of the biggest of the season. The righthander had 12-18 for the Orioles last year with an earned run average of 3.45. This season he has a 4-2 mark, including 31 strikeouts in 38 1/3 innings.

"We needed a fifth starter to go along with Billy Pierce, Jack Harshman, Dick Donovan and Bob Keegan," said Sox Manager Marty Marion. "And we got him in Wilson."

Marion said Sam Esposito has developed so well he can play third base, where the aging Kell had been stationed when he was able to play.

Kell, 33, hit .312 in 128 games for the Sox last year and drove in 81 runs. In 21 games this season, he hit .313.

Philley, who was 36 last week, returns to the Comiskey's after serving them from 1946-1951. He is hitting .205 in 117 times at bat and has driven in 17 runs.

Fornieles, a 155-pound right hander, has a 0-1 mark for the campaign. Nieman is hitting .300 in 40 trips to the plate.

Cards to 2nd; Yanks Widen Lead

Mizell Four-Hits Giants, 4-1

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, going the route for the first time this season, pitched the St. Louis Cardinals into second place Monday as the Redbirds defeated the New York Giants, 4-1.

Home runs by Rip Repulski and Bill Sarni and a triple by Bobby Del Greco were the most damaging of the eight safeties collected by the Cardinals off four Giant hurlers.

The Cards actually have half a game lead over the first-place Milwaukee Braves but trail in percentages, .519 to .600.

Repulski's home run came in the second inning off starter and loser Don Liddle, and gave the Cards a lead they never relinquished. Sarni's homer came in the fifth, climaxing a three-run assault that sent Liddle to the showers.

Mizell, who had failed to finish any of his six previous starts, had a shutout going until the seventh when Don Mueller hit a home run.

Plate Umpire Stan Landes ejected Manager Fred Hutchinson and cleared the entire Cardinal bench except for their coaches in the third inning for continuous heckling after they had protested his call of a fourth ball to Bill White.

Mantle's gargantuan clout came in the fifth, also with the bases empty, and after the A's had

Hawk Baseball, Tennis Teams In Victorious Weekend Play

By LARRY DENNIS
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Iowa moved up a notch to eighth place in the Big 10 standings Saturday with a two-game sweep from Michigan State in baseball, 5-3, 8-3.

The double loss gives the Spartans a 3-5 conference record and dropped them into sixth place, just above the Hawkeyes with their 4-7 mark in Big 10 play.

Iowa's overall record is now 10-15.

In the first game, Iowa started with a three-run outburst in the first inning, then added two insurance runs in the fourth. Bill Schoof, who scattered eight hits for his second victory against two losses in conference play, had a shutout going for him until the Spartans' Frank Franchi cracked a three-run homer in the ninth.

Iowa jumped into another 3-0 lead in the fourth inning of the second tilt, but Jim Sack of Michigan State unleashed a three-run circuit clout in the fifth to pull the Spartans into a tie.

The Hawks took care of that, however, with a three-run blast in their half of the fifth, sparked by Kurtz' two-run triple. They added two more in the sixth to insure the victory for Don Dobrino, who relieved starter Jack Nora in the fifth and went the final two frames.

It was Dobrino's second win against three defeats in conference competition and his fifth against six losses overall.

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—The Iowa tennis team won its seventh dual match against four defeats Monday, edging Notre Dame in a 6-4 thriller.

The meet was close all the way, three singles matches and one doubles match going the full three-set distance. Iowa's No. 1 and 2 men, Jim Andrews and Captain Gene Nadig, lost their singles and doubles matches, but the Hawks had more overall strength.

It was the last dual competition for seniors Andrews, Nadig and Jim McCullough.

The Hawks will play Thursday through Saturday in the Big 10 championships at Minneapolis.

Summary:
Singles
Harry Smith (ND) defeated Jim Andrews, 6-2, 6-2.
Chuck Vanocini (ND) defeated Gene Nadig, 6-1, 6-4.
Dale Bjurstrom (I) defeated Dean Richards, 9-7, 6-4.
Jim Rich (ND) defeated Dick Hood, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2.
Jim McCullough (I) defeated Bill O'Connor, 6-2, 7-9, 6-2.
Chuck Ballin (I) defeated John Metz, 6-4, 7-9, 6-2.
Gary Anderson (I) defeated Tom Fullilton, 6-1, 7-5.
Doubles

Hood-Anderson (I) defeated Richards-Metz, 6-4, 6-3.
McCullough-Bjurstrom (I) defeated Richards-Fullilton, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Saturday, Iowa's netmen dropped a match to Indiana at Bloomington, 8-2, to the Hawkeyes' second defeat against three victories in Big 10 competition.

Olson Is Probably Through Says Sugar

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bobo Olson may never be the same fighter, the man who defeated him last week commented Monday.

"There will be fear running through his mind whenever he steps into the ring," welterweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson said. Olson, he added, "is probably through as a topnotcher."

Interviewer Sid Ziff of the Los Angeles Mirror-News asked the champ about his plans.

"I'm fed up with fighting for a while. I've been in training ever since December. I need a break, and I simply won't start thinking of opponents."

That brought up another point. "I never had any bad beatings nor did I ever take any severe punishment. I never abused my body," he went on.

"Although certainly not the fighter I was five years ago, I haven't the least doubt of my ability to go 15 rounds today."

SUI to Get New International Center

Shambaugh Guest House, north of the Presbyterian Church on North Clinton Street, will be converted into a new International Center for SUI foreign students, SUI President Virgil M. Hancher said at the annual International Club banquet Saturday night.

Wallace Maner, SUI foreign student advisor, said Monday that the project, which will be financed by the University, involves physical alterations to the Shambaugh house which are hoped to be completed by September 1.

The Shambaugh house is about twice the size of the present International center at 3 E. Market St. Maner said that at present there are no definite plans for the Market Street center.

Hancher expressed the hope that "the new house will be a better home for the International Club" and that "foreign students will be an even greater part of the University next year and the years ahead."

The Shambaugh Guest House was the residence of Prof. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Shambaugh from 1871 to 1949. Shambaugh was a former head of the SUI Political Science Department and Superintendent of the State Historical Society of Iowa. The Shambaugh house has been vacant for the last several years.

Mrs. Wallace Maner, wife of the foreign student advisor and hostess at the International Center, said: "We had hoped that if we could ever find another, larger center that it might be one with some special historical significance."

"We believe that foreign students need to understand our reverence for tradition, and we know they like to feel a part of the University," she continued. "They will be proud of the Shambaugh house and its tradition of Iowa hospitality and personal warmth," she declared.

Mrs. Maner felt that the Shambaugh house represented the best aspects of a home in Iowa. It is typical of mid-western turn-of-the-century architecture and carefully decorated.

The size of the Shambaugh house will make it possible to accommodate various social activities, many of which are now held elsewhere due to lack of space in the present center.

Hancher made the announcement during the annual International Club banquet at Iowa Memorial Union at which Dale F. Faunce, SUI Dean of Students, was guest speaker.

Dakin at Meeting of Rotary Directors

Allin W. Dakin, administrative dean at SUI, is attending a five-day meeting of the board of directors of Rotary International in Evanston, Ill. Dakin is a member director of the board.

Following the meeting, which started Saturday and ends Wednesday, Dakin and other members of the board will attend an annual new officers indoctrination meeting in Lake Placid, N. Y.

The group will then attend the Rotary International convention in Philadelphia, Pa., where Dakin will speak on "Rotary Fellowships."

Dakin was elected to the board of directors of Rotary International in June 1953. He was president of the Iowa City Rotary club in 1951.

Cyprus Rebels Hit British with Bombs

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Cypriot rebels hiding among rioting schoolgirls tossed bombs at British troops trying to restore order in Nicosia Monday, killing one Briton and wounding three others.

Bomb splinters injured seven Greek Cypriot civilians in nearby shops, and two policemen.

British reinforcements ringed the riot area in an effort to trap the bomb throwers.

The battle, worst in Nicosia for weeks, began quietly with schoolgirls demonstrating for Enosis—union with Greece.

Staff Members Named To Scout Area Council

Allin Dakin, SUI administrative dean, and Arlyn Marks, director of the SUI personnel office, have been named council officers of the Hawkeye Area Council, Boy Scouts of America. E. R. Williams, 525 S. Lucas, was also named as officer.

Newly-elected president of the council is Frank L. Martin of Cedar Rapids.

Iowa Tests Deadline Set

Iowa high schools which wish to take part in the 15th annual Fall Testing Program next September should notify the Iowa Testing Programs office at SUI before May 31, Director E. F. Lindquist said Monday.

Last fall 477 Iowa school systems with high school enrollments totaling 83,772 took part in the Iowa Tests of Educational Development, whose more than 70 items are now scored by the electronic testing machine developed by Professor Lindquist.

The Iowa Tests of Educational Development measure what individuals can do with their education. The ITED's nine-test battery includes (1) understanding of basic social concepts, (2) background in natural sciences, (3) correctness and appropriateness of expression, (4) mathematical thinking, and (5) interpretation of readings in natural sciences, (6) interpretation of readings in social studies, (7) interpretation of literature, (8) vocabulary, and (9) information sources.

"We have been improving and adding to our electronic test-scoring equipment steadily during the past year, and expect that this fall it will enable us to report the test results to the schools more promptly than before," Dr. Lindquist said.

Voice of America To Carry 'Requiem'

As part of a special English-language Memorial Day program, the U.S. State Department's "Voice of America" will broadcast a recording of "Requiem," composed by SUI Prof. Philip Bezanson.

The text for "Requiem" was written by Prof. Paul Engle, head of the SUI Writers' Workshop, and the composition was first performed Mar. 25 at the dedication of the University's Memorial Honor Roll, which lists the names of 495 University students and alumni killed in World War I, World War II and the Korean conflict.

The "Voice of America" will broadcast "Requiem" over its English-language network stations, which reach all parts of the world outside the U.S.

"Requiem" is based on four of the sonnets from Engle's "For the Iowa Dead," which he wrote for the SUI Memorial Honor Roll dedication services. It was performed originally by the University Symphonic Orchestra and Choir under the direction of Professor Herald Stark.

Soloists for "Requiem" were Leslie Eitzen, G, Iowa City, and Calvin Hedegaard, A4, Humboldt.

The "Voice of America," which is operated by the U.S. State Department, averages 109 hours of daily broadcasts in 39 languages to all parts of the world, through its transmitters and relay stations. It is not heard in the U.S.

Engineers To Hold Meeting in June

The 17th annual Management course of the SUI college of engineering will be held June 11-23, with some 60 "students" representing firms of at least 12 U.S. states and Canada.

Members of the course this year will select one of four option groups: (1) Technical Methods of Management Engineering, (2) Control Methods for Management, (3) Problems of Production Supervision, or (4) Analysis of Work Methods, Motion and Time, explains Prof. J. Wayne Deegan, SUI chairman of mechanical engineering and director of the course.

In addition, participants will all study communications, a subject group to be presented by SUI faculty members in speech, psychology and sociology and by Ralph Nichols of the University of Minnesota, who is an annual "professor" of the course. And topics of general interest— from bacteria to music— will be offered in daily general lectures.

Lillian Glibreth, consulting engineer of "Cheaper by the Dozen" fame, is expected to make her 13th appearance at the course June 22, speaking on the topic, "Management, Here and There."

Victim of Shooting In Good Condition

A Sioux Rapids housewife shot by her husband was reported Monday in good condition at University Hospitals.

Mrs. Leland Johnson, 21, was shot in the face by her farm laborer husband, 28, Saturday night. He then took his own life with the shotgun to be used in the shooting.

The shotgun blast went through both her cheeks, and doctors said she would probably lose the sight of her right eye. She was transferred here from Sioux Rapids Sunday.

Sioux Rapids Police Chief A. B. Caskey said the shooting took place in the home of Mrs. Leland Cheevers, mother of Mrs. Johnson. Police were called by Mrs. Cheevers when she returned to her home, where both couples lived, at 11:15 p.m. Saturday. Mrs. Johnson was unconscious, and Johnson had been dead two to four hours.

Upon regaining consciousness, Mrs. Johnson told officers her husband shot her after she refused to give him the keys to their car.

Coralville Bill Sent to House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House appropriations committee went along Monday with President Eisenhower's recommendation in his budget message to Congress and approved a $2-million appropriation for continued work on the Coralville reservoir and dam project.

The measure now moves to the House floor for consideration. If the entire $2-million appropriation is passed by Congress and signed by the President, appropriations for the Coralville project will total $15,260,000. Total estimated cost for the project is $16.3 million.

Part of $2 Million To Go for Roads

The proposed $2 million appropriation for the Coralville dam project, approved by the House appropriations committee Monday, would be used for project work at Macbride State Park and Amana, as well as for work on county roads, George L. Roehr, the project's U.S. Army resident engineer, said Monday.

Of the $13,260,000 appropriated for the project to date, about $8.3 million has now been spent, Roehr reported.

A $4.5 million allocation passed by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower last July is financing current work. Major projects now underway include relocations of U.S. 218, the CRANDIC railroad tracks near Cou Falls. Both relocations require two new bridges over the Iowa River.

Work on the dam itself, under a $2 million contract, also is continuing.

Completion of the projects, including cleanup work following construction, is scheduled for June or July, 1953, completing work that began in July, 1949.

Bandits Caught By Posse After Battle

PESHIGO, Wis. (AP)—Two nervous-fingered gunmen, who earlier held up the Peshigo National Bank and wounded a cashier for no apparent reason, were tracked down and captured three hours later by a posse of 100 laymen after a gun-battle Monday.

The bandits identified as James Vito and Harold Vaughn, both of Chicago, gave up after trading shots with sheriff's deputies on a marshy island five miles south of this northeastern Wisconsin community. Both were taken to the Marinette jail.

Begin H-Bomb Effects Study

By ELTON C. FAY

U.S.S. MT. MCKINLEY, Off Bikini (Tuesday) (AP)—Nuclear scientists Tuesday began a detailed analysis of what the first American air-dropped H-bomb did when it exploded two miles above a test target island in the mid-Pacific Monday.

The scientists sought most of their answers in the huge amount of data gathered by a vast array of recording instruments set up on Namu, the target island, on other islands of Bikini Atoll and taken through the huge atomic cloud by airplanes.

The nuclear weapon test task force, headed by Rear Adm. B. Hall Hanlon, concealed behind terse language all technical details that might be of use to an enemy.

A short communique, written Monday night, reached this observer ship as she neared Kwajalein this morning homeward bound. It said only:

1. "There was little construction on Namu and thus little damage can be reported. Various effects on structures on nearby islands suffered varying degrees of damage depending on proximity to the target island."
2. "Fallout of radioactivity from the towering bomb cloud—which unofficially was estimated to have

POLICE CUT parachute harness from body of French "birdman" Leo Valentin after he plunged 9,000 feet to his death Monday at an air display near London.

Wooden Wings; Chutes Fail Daring Frenchman

LIVERPOOL, England (AP)—French birdman Leo Valentin dived 9,000 feet to his death Monday trying to fly with wooden wings.

A holiday crowd of 100,000 seeking thrills at a Whitsun air display watched him drop like a rock into a field of wheat alongside Speke Airport.

Valentin, 37, called himself "the only living birdman."

He crashed into the side of his plane as he jumped and shattered one of his wings. Then his two parachutes failed to open.

Valentin had flown often and successfully with his wings, which had a span of nine feet. They were attached to a steel corset and he controlled them with ailerons as though he were a miniature glider.

After descending to around 1,000 feet he would open his parachute and drop gently down. His record flight was three miles. Monday he had hoped to double the distance.

Valentin, champion parachutist in the French army, had made more than 600 jumps, two of them at the show here.

Brinks Truck Shot Up—on Inside

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. (AP)—An armored truck of Brink's, Inc., was shot up Monday—on the inside—and five passersby were slightly hurt.

Police said the driver and a guard were eating lunch in the back of the vehicle, parked on a street in the business district, when one of them accidentally knocked over a 12-gauge shotgun propped against the wall.

The impact triggered the weapon and a charge of pellets blasted through the truck's side.

Porpoise Almost Drowns Diver

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Diver Kenneth L. Brown, 32, was nearly drowned Sunday when a porpoise fouled his air line and tore off his helmet at the 16-foot-deep seaquarium.

The mishap occurred as tourists watched Brown clean the bottom of the tank. Three attendants hauled Brown out of the tank unconscious. He was revived and reported in good condition at a hospital.

List U.S. Population Now as 167,440,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The census bureau estimated Monday that the U.S. population on April 1 was 167,440,000, including armed forces overseas.

The bureau said this was a gain of 16,308,000—or 10.8 per cent—over the 151,132,000 on April 1, 1950, when the latest census was taken.

Three Local Attorneys To Attend State Parleys

Judge Harold D. Evans of the Johnson County District Court will attend a meeting of Iowa district judges Wednesday in Des Moines.

William M. Tucker, county attorney, and Charles A. Barker, assistant county attorney, will attend a similar meeting of county attorneys.

Both groups will meet in conjunction with the Iowa Bar Association sessions in Des Moines this week.

Relax! Cigarette Makers Lift Planned Price Hike

NEW YORK (AP)—Cigarette smokers can relax, now. The latest price boost—on Chesterfields—has been called off.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. said Monday it is rescinding an increase in the wholesale price of Chesterfields which it had announced last Thursday. No reason for the cancellation was given.

The wholesale price boost—amounting to 45 cents per thousand cigarettes—would have figured out to about a penny a pack at retail.

Other major cigarette producers sat tight over the weekend and failed to go along with the rise. Industry sources said the refusal of competitors to raise their prices might have prompted Liggett & Myers' change of mind.

In its price rise announcement, Liggett & Myers cited higher manufacturing and selling costs.

Coffee Prices Up

NEW YORK (AP)—You'll probably be paying a higher price soon for a pound of your favorite coffee.

Producers of major brands Monday hiked their wholesale prices as much as four cents a pound.

Spokesmen for several of the big supermarket chains said the increases are certain to be passed on to retail consumers but it may take 10 to 14 days. The chains kept mum about what they would do with their own private brands.

General Foods Corp. initiated the new round of price boosts, lifting the wholesale price of its Maxwell House vacuum-packed coffee two cents a pound to 99 cents.

Other processors of "brand name" coffees were quick to follow suit.

Ike Not Fatigued By Vets Reception

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower shook 811 hands Monday at the annual White House garden party for hospitalized veterans.

The handshaking lasted 45 minutes, with the President and Mrs. Eisenhower welcoming the veterans at the south entrance to the White House.

At the start of the party, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, White House physician, remarked Eisenhower was in good shape and added: "This won't tax him."

So far as onlookers could tell, Eisenhower's strength was not taxed. The President showed no signs of weariness at this first big reception he has taken part in since his heart attack last September.

Holcomb to Address Kiwanis on 'Liberia'

Pleads Guilty To Stealing $1-Million

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Minnie Mangum, whose phantom bookkeeping system financed her popular role of benefactor, pleaded guilty Monday to stealing more than a million dollars from her employers since 1933.

Mrs. Minnie Mangum Gave Money Away

Corporation Court Judge H. Lawrence Bullock accepted the plea of the 190-pound former building and loan company officer and deferred sentence until June 25 pending a probation report.

The 52-year-old defendant, long noted for her lavish generosity to family and friends, was indicted last month on 16 presentments, one of which alleged she embezzled $2,884,000 from the now defunct Commonwealth Building and Loan Assn. Miss Mangum was assistant secretary-treasurer of the firm.

The defendant was convicted last Thursday of lying to the State Corporation Commission about Commonwealth's financial condition, and her punishment was fixed by the trial jury at 10 years in prison.

Monday Miss Mangum was docketed for trial on an indictment alleging she embezzled $1,082,968.25. She stood for arraignment and said "guilty" in a barely audible voice.

Defense Atty. Max R. Broudy then told Judge Bullock he felt the charges in the other indictments related to the same offenses, and Miss Mangum was arraigned and pleaded guilty to 12 indictments.

State Prosecutor Linwood B. Tabb indicated he will ask the court on June 25 to permit him to drop three embezzlement indictments—one alleging Miss Mangum stole $2,884,000—on which the defendant has not been arraigned.

15 Back to Work at Deere Plant

Officials of John Deere Des Moines Works said "about 15 machinists" returned to work Monday morning at the strikebound plant near Ankeny.

Soon afterward, the company sent a letter to the 110 members of District 118 of the International Association of Machinists who work at the Deere plant that notified them to "report for work immediately as provided by your contract."

District 118 is not on strike. However, its members had previously refused to cross picket lines of the striking Local 450 of the United Auto Workers Union.

About 760 members of Local 450 went on strike last Jan. 20 in a dispute over incentive pay rates.

CONTRACTOR DIES

Ralph Stedwell, 53, Stern Lake contractor, was found dead in the garage at his home Monday of a bullet wound which Police Chief H. E. Menshing said was apparently self-inflicted. He was a former city councilman.

BABY SUFFOCATES

Sherry Bark, 6-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bark of near West Union, suffocated early Monday in her bed.

DEATH RULED ACCIDENTAL

Mrs. Edward Scoreppa, who was found dead in the garage at her home in Cedar Rapids early Saturday, died accidentally in a fall, authorities ruled Monday. Police

Car Accidents Injure Four

Four persons were injured in two car accidents Saturday night, and all were released following treatment at Iowa City hospitals.

Three youths were injured in a head-on crash on a county road near Highway 1 east of Iowa City. Gary Morrow, 17, Springdale, suffered a punctured knee; Judy Vanata, 15, Iowa City, lip cuts; and Harry W. Slaymaker, 15, Iowa City, cuts and bruises.

Slaymaker, driver of the car that collided with the one driven by Morrow, was charged with driving without a license and failure to yield half the road. The owner of the car driven by Slaymaker, Kenneth Whetstone, Iowa City, was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to drive.

The second accident occurred at midnight when a car driven by Mrs. Margaret E. Gardner, North English, left the road on County Road W west of Iowa City, careened 600 feet in a ditch, swung across the road and rolled. Mrs. Gardner, 51, was not injured. Her passenger, James D. Wickham, 21, received a cut hand.

Journalists Honor Retiring Professor

SUI Journalism students and faculty gave a standing ovation to Prof. Edward F. Mason of the School of Journalism, who was honored at the annual Fourth Estate Banquet Sunday evening.

Mason will retire this summer after 26 years as a member of the SUI faculty. He will be retained on a part-time basis in the School of Journalism. He and his wife plan a trip to Europe next month.

At the banquet, sponsored by the Associated Students of Journalism, Mason was presented a scrapbook of letters and photos of former and present students. Don Ultang, of the Des Moines Register and Tribune photography staff, and a former student of Mason, presented the book.

Mason was also presented with a framed portrait of himself autographed by present and former students. Rick Timmins, G. Ottumwa, made the presentation.

Journalism awards presented at the banquet included the Brewster-Torch Press key, awarded to Jo Ann Murray, Galesburg, Ill., an August graduate now on the staff of the Ladies Home Journal. The key is awarded to the outstanding senior journalist among each year's graduates.

Ira Kapenstein, A4, Brooklyn, N.Y., received the award of Sigma Delta Chi for the outstanding male graduate in journalism during 1955-56.

David J. Carey, A3, Marion, was named to receive the $650 General Electric scholarship for 1956-57, awarded to a junior student in the upper 25 per cent of his class who has an extensive interest in sales, advertising or public relations.

Sigma Delta Chi Scholarship awards to students in the top five per cent of 1955-56 graduates in journalism went to Marian K. Shapiro, A4, Euclid, O.; Barbara S. Work, A4, Homewood, Ill.; Betty S. Tucker, Iowa City, a February graduate; and Richard L. Young, A4, Charles City.

The Cedar Rapids Gazette cup for the best news picture appearing in The Daily Iowan during the past year was presented to Charles S. Allen, A4, Estherville, for his picture of Miss SUI. Second place in the news picture competition went to Bob Strawn, A2, River Grove, Ill., for a picture of "After the Ball game," taken in Iowa Memorial Union lounge after fans had watched the televised final Iowa-San Francisco basketball game.

Third place in news picture competition went to Bob Kerns, A4, Marion, for a picture entitled "Four Aces," showing a small dog in the lap of its owner viewing a hand of cards. He also received five honorable mentions. Marty Reichenthal, A1, Rock Island, Ill., also received an honorable mention.

Prof. Edward F. Mason Faculty Member for 26 Years

Awards of $25 each given by the WMT stations of Cedar Rapids for radio news writing and news casting went to David Carter, A2, Manchester, and Richard Schilling, A4, Waukon.

The $25 J. Hamilton Johnson first prize for outstanding news story in The Daily Iowan was presented to Kapenstein for a story on the visit of the Russian farmers to this area.

Second prize of $15 went to Eldon Libby, A4, Hampton, and third prize of $5 to Lawrence W. Dennis, A3, Marshalltown. Honorable mentions were awarded to Audrey Rooda, G. Pella; Harold Swartz, Brooklyn, N.Y., former student, and Russell D. Tokheim, A4, Eagle Grove.

Gold Keys for outstanding service were awarded to William Vaughan, C4, Ottumwa; Alan Wassenberg, A4, Moline; Ill.; Ernest Larkin, A3, New Hampton; David Lowe, A4, Wintor; Don Bittner, A4, Perry; Barbara Work, A4, Homewood, Ill.; Sandra Miller, A3, Davenport; William Smith, G. Royal Oak, Mich.; Phyllis Fleming, A4, Garner; and Ira Kapenstein, A4, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Silver Keys for service in campus journalism were awarded to Nan Conger, A3, Chicago; Floyd Fries, A4, Iowa City; Barbara Launspach, C4, Indianola; Leroy Moland, A4, Kelley; Charles Granger, C4, Waterloo; Marjia Shapiro, A4, Euclid, O.; Sylvia Dolch, A4, Marshalltown; Tom Schornhorst, A4, Waterloo; Ellen Fernandez, A4, Milwaukee; Bill Baker, graduate in February; Eleanor Benz, A4, Iowa City, and Tom Lias, A4, Iowa City; and Jim Flansburg, A3, Tiffin.

Gold Keys for service as trustees of Student Publications, Inc. were awarded to Charles Willie, E3, Sigourney; Richard Wolfe, M2, Donnell; Dwight Jensen, G. Des Moines; Robert Bliz, A3, Chicago, and Herbert Hedge, D3, Hedrick.

Tells of Speakers For June Regional Chamber Meeting

Terry Rice, of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce National Defense Agency, and Spary Gange, vice-president of the Pacific Olive Co., Visalia, Calif., will speak at Iowa City's regional meeting on legislative recommendations of the Hoover Commission, June 7.

Keith Kafer, manager of the local chamber, announced Monday that Rice will speak on action currently needed in connection with the recommendation. Gange will talk on the nation's opportunity to save $5.5 billion as recommended by the commission, Kafer said.

The meeting will be at Iowa Memorial Union from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and luncheon will be included.

Invitations have been sent to 32 towns within about a 100-mile radius of Iowa City, asking each to send representatives to the meeting, Kafer said.

School Bands To Give Concert, Hold Banquet

The University Elementary and High School band will present a concert today at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium. William B. Tietze, band director, and SUI student conductors will direct the band.

The annual band awards banquet will be Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the University High cafeteria. The speaker will be John B. Whitlock, assistant director of the SUI bands.

SUI Record Album Waxed Here for RCA

South Music Hall was converted into a recording studio Monday morning as Recorded Publications Company of Camden, N.J., moved in personnel and equipment for a special 2-day recording session.

The company is recording an album of SUI songs, sponsored by the SUI Alumni Association. Featured in the album will be the SUI Band, the chorus, and the Scottish Highlanders.

Musical numbers to be recorded by the band and chorus include "On Iowa," the "Iowa Fight Song," "Roll Along Iowa," "Old Gold," the "Iowa Chant" and the new march, "Iowa," composed by the late Edwin Franko Goldman.

The Scottish Highlanders will record a special collection of bagpipe numbers and selections from the Highlander Chorus.

The band is conducted by Prof. Fred Ebbs, the chorus, by Prof. Herald Stark and the Highlanders, by William Adamson.

The album, which will be available in September in limited quantities through the SUI Alumni Association, is being produced and produced by Recorded Publications and will be manufactured by RCA-Victor.

Records will be 10-inch, 33 1/2 r.p.m., non-breakable vinylite. They will bear the RCA label, and will play on automatic record changers.

A souvenir album jacket will protect each record. It will be designed especially for this recording and will show scenes of SUI, and various musical units. It will also carry notes of historic interest on the organizations' backgrounds.

When recording is completed today, the master discs will be flown to Camden, N. J., to be processed.

Trucker Sues Eldon Miller

Leroy D. Lindsay, Munster, Ind. trucker, has filed petition for $8,999.90 judgment against Eldon Miller, Inc., local trucking firm, in Johnson County District Court.

The suit is the third filed in the past week against the local company charging wrongful termination of contracts.

The Lindsay petition states he purchased a tractor, after negotiations with the Miller firm for a job hauling acid from the General Chemical Co., Hegenish, Ill., to Wood River, Ill.

After alleged postponements of the beginning of the work, the plaintiff states he learned the Miller company did not hold a contract with the chemical company.

He asks $4,000 damages for the purchase of the tractor, $4,000 for alleged breaking of a 5-year hauling contract negotiated Nov. 23, 1954 and the return of a $999.90 surety bond posted in connection with the contract.

Similar suits for $2,517.39 and $2,300 judgments were filed by Marshall A. Davis, West Burlington, and Loren O. Baker, Sutter, Ill. last week. Both alleged breaking of contracts by the Miller firm.

HEDRICK GIRL KILLED
FAIRFIELD — Christine May Handy, 18, Hedrick, was killed Saturday night when the car in which she was riding struck a bridge on Highway 78 about a mile west of Richland. The driver, George Stambrough, also of Hedrick, was hospitalized here.

Vets' Parade To Highlight Memorial Day

A parade through Iowa City's business district will highlight this year's Memorial Day program May 30.

The parade will start at the intersection of Gilbert and College streets and continue along College, Clinton, Church, Linn and Brown streets to Oakland cemetery.

Local military units will march in the parade with civic, veterans and patriotic organizations.

Services will be held at the cemetery.

A field mass sponsored by the Knights of Columbus is scheduled for 9 a.m. at St. Joseph's cemetery, following decoration of the veterans' graves at 7 a.m.

Other events planned for the holiday are exercises in honor of sailor dead on the Iowa Avenue bridge at 8:30 a.m. and an 11 a.m. program at Memory Gardens.

Stars—

the moon — an ellipse — showed its green-cheese-like dark patches rather clearly. These spots are really lava flows, Johnson said, and immediately an observatory full of combination space-travelers-to-be and dairy-product-lovers became rather sad.

The brighter spots seen on the moon surface were mountains, the astronomer added.

VENUS — Earth's neighbor was in the western sky. A high-powered lens added to the scope produced an aberrational purple light around the planet's glaring crescent phase. Venus appeared as if it were on fire, frothing all over, with an endless supply of radiant energy.

Johnson noted that the light from Venus took about two minutes to reach the Physics Building roof.

JUPITER — This largest of all planets appeared quite brightly in the clear southern sky. Four of its twelve moons were visible. (Only four Jupiter moons are ever visible from earth.)

Some persons have claimed they have seen Jupiter's moons with the naked eye, but this takes extremely perfect vision, Johnson said.

SATURN — Off in the southeastern sky was Saturn. Its rings, which Johnson said were probably composed of the same material as an "unfair snowball" — ice with rocks in the middle — shone vividly through the high-powered lens.

Those with sharp eyes saw Saturn's satellites. Others, with that week-before-finals, road-map look in their optics, probably couldn't tell the rings from the planet's main body.

She's the Attraction

THE OBJECT OF THE photographer's interest was Miss Mary (Kit) Coffman, a student at Drake, who was chosen Miss Iowa Press Photographer of 1956 by those attending the short course. Miss Coffman, from Story City, was Miss Des Moines of 1955 and 1955 Drake Homecoming Queen.

Student Photographers Win State Awards

Two SUI students, Jerry Mosey, A2, Lake Forest, Ill., and John F. Jaqua, A2, Humboldt, won prizes in the spot news division of the annual Iowa Press Photographers Association news photography contest. Jaqua won first in the weekly division and Mosey, second in the daily division.

At the association's 9-day convention and photography short course at SUI last weekend, awards were given in various news photography categories.

Individual winner was Bob Beasley, Dubuque Telegraph-Herald photographer, who took first place in four categories — spot news, sports, personalities and pictorial. His sports photo won the overall sweepstakes prize.

Shirley Davis of the Davenport Democrat placed first in the picture story category. Tom Merryman of the Cedar Rapids Gazette won first prize in feature coverage for his photo of the SUI Physics Department's "skyhook" balloon launching.

The association Sunday elected Cy Berg of Marshalltown as president, Elwin L. Musser, Mason City, vice-president; Eugene Cheney, Nora Springs, secretary; and George Black, Iowa City, treasurer.

Directors of the association will be Art Hough, Storm Lake, retiring president; and Bill Bogle, Iowa Falls.

Mary Coffman, Story City, a sophomore at Drake University, was elected "Miss Iowa Press Photographer of 1956" by the 65 members who attended the Saturday night session of the convention.

UNION VET IMPROVED

DULUTH, Minn. — Civil War soldier Albert Woolson, 109, Monday was reported "doing nicely" at St. Luke's Hospital, where he is confined with lung congestion. Woolson, lone survivor of the Union Army, was admitted Saturday night.

Probation—

finds in his talking to probation students.

"There is a group of people each semester, who have a slump and then come up, never to go on probation again," Harshbarger said. They are usually people with special problems that can be worked out through the use of the University Counseling Service, he said.

Usually students' scholastic problems develop because of too much outside work, too many extracurricular activities, too many credit hours or enrollment in a curriculum not suited to the student.

Others, who have no interest in improving, continue as long as possible; then are dropped.

At the end of the second semester on probation, a student may petition the Adjustment Committee for permission to register for a third semester if he feels special circumstances warrant such action. Students are dismissed automatically after three semesters on probation if their cumulative grade-point average has not reached the minimum requirement.

The door is still left open for the student who is in earnest in a desire to continue his education. Any student dropped from the college for poor scholarship can apply for readmission in one year by presenting evidence that his status has so changed that his chances for good scholastic work are improved.

Students with financial difficulties may work for a year to gain sufficient funds so that they will not need to work part-time on campus. Others may enroll at other colleges and obtain a satisfactory scholastic record for presentation as evidence of their abilities.

A student readmitted is considered on "strict probation" and may be dropped at any time if his work is unsatisfactory. Being dropped a second time is considered permanent dismissal.

Keokuk Driver Charged With Drunken Driving

Melvin L. Cox, 28, of Keokuk, was held in the Johnson County jail Monday under $500 bond on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Cox was arrested by police Saturday night after his car struck a parked auto.

1956 Hawkeye Selling Extra, Duplicate Photos

Even if you aren't one of the 4,000 persons whose pictures will appear in the 1956 Hawkeye, chances are you can find yourself or your current interest in some of the pictures the Hawkeye didn't use, or in pictures that appeared in last year's Hawkeye.

Starting today, hundreds of pictures are going on sale in the Hawkeye office, Room 210, Communications Center, for 25 cents each. They include duplicates of those used this year, pictures that weren't used, and many that were in the 1955 Hawkeye, including fraternity and sorority individual pictures for five cents each.

Picture categories include art, theater (play scenes and backstage); sports (action shots, individual players, team pictures); dances (decorating, candid, queens); Homecoming; general campus (views, classes, campus hangouts); registration and commencement; feature shots of professional colleges; military; organizations (group and feature); and fraternity, sorority and dormitory features.

The Hawkeye office will be open from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. today and Thursday, and from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday and Friday.

Boy, Pony Clash With Car, Lose

A pony-car collision Saturday resulted in James Allard, 10, 223 Melrose Ave., suffering cuts over the eye, bruises and scratches while his pony suffered body bruises and six broken ribs.

The boy was thrown to the pavement when his pony stepped from behind a row of cars waiting to cross Burlington Street and crashed into a car driven by Donald F. Haggard Jr., 28, of 119 South Linn Street.

Haggard told police that he had just turned south from the Burlington Street Bridge and was almost at a standstill when the accident occurred. Police said the pony could not stop soon enough to prevent the crash.

Red China Asks Arab Nations for Recognition

HONG KONG — Communist China hinted Monday night it would like more Arab nations to follow Egypt's lead and recognize the Peiping regime—or at least allow the Chinese to send traveling delegations.

In a People's Daily broadcast by Peiping radio, Deputy Minister of Culture Chien Chun Ji declared establishment of relations between Egypt and Red China will "provide a good foundation for a cultural exchange and cooperation between China and all Arab countries."

Blames Weather For 11 Suicides

VIENNA — A leading Austrian psychologist Monday blamed the abnormally cool and rainy Whitsunday weather for a record number of suicides in Vienna over the past holiday weekend.

Eleven persons took their lives here in 24 hours.

Dr. Hans Hoff, Vienna University professor, explained that sudden changes in weather, especially rain and low temperatures, bring increased nervousness and mental depression among sensitive persons.

This, he said, added to the fact that people felt cheated when their holiday was rained out doubtless led some to end their lives.

Harriman Has Surgery; Condition 'Excellent'

NEW YORK — Gov. Averell Harriman underwent a prostate gland operation Monday. His condition was described as "excellent."

Harriman entered Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital Sunday, just after his return from a whirlwind speaking tour of the West as an "inactive" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. Harriman is expected to remain in the hospital 9 or 10 days.

What's doing at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft

Today's leadership . . . a reflection of policies established in aviation's infancy

Back in The Roaring Twenties, the magic dream pictured American families someday using the light personal airplane as freely as the family car. Among the realists, however, was a handful of men who were unshakable in their conviction that the real future of aviation lay with bigger aircraft, higher speeds, greater ranges—all possible only through engines of higher power and more reliability than those of that era.

In the spring of 1925, six of these men of vision founded a company in Hartford to undertake the development of a new aircraft engine—an air-cooled type. The year's end heralded their first success—Pratt & Whitney Aircraft's "Wasp".

This talented group of men continued to improve their powerplant designs, developing engines of steadily mounting power that operated efficiently and dependably. They contributed much to aviation's progress—so much so that currently three-quarters of the world's commercial airliners and many of our nation's first line military aircraft are P & W A-powered.

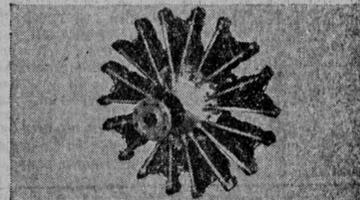

Today's P & W A powerplant designs are supported by the very finest research facilities and equipment, and a technical staff that is continually being strengthened. That nucleus of six men has grown into one of the world's leading engineering organizations. Yet to this very day, engineering achievement at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft is guided by its founders' simple policy . . . the best airplanes can be designed only around the best engines.

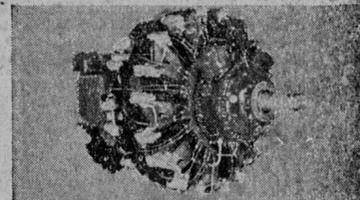

World's foremost designer and builder of aircraft engines

PRATT & WHITNEY AIRCRAFT

DIVISION OF UNITED AIRCRAFT CORPORATION
EAST HARTFORD 8, CONNECTICUT

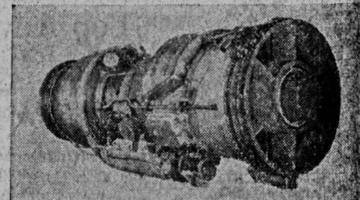

The Original Wasp, the first P & W A engine—designed, fabricated and assembled in less than seven months. Weighing under 650 pounds and officially rated at 410 horsepower, this lightweight, air-cooled radial engine was a milestone in aviation history and set the pattern for almost three decades of record-breaking advances.

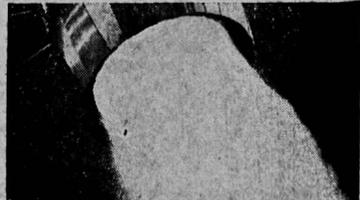

The Double Wasp, an 18-cylinder, two-row piston engine rated at 2400 horsepower for basic use. Its rating increased by water injection to 3400 horsepower, the Double Wasp was instrumental in turning many a military crisis into an aerial victory in the decisive battles of World War II.

The Wasp Major, a 28-cylinder engine with pistons arranged in four rows of seven each and a 3800-horsepower rating. Its power and performance having never been equalled, the Wasp Major represents the apex of the art of building reciprocating engines.

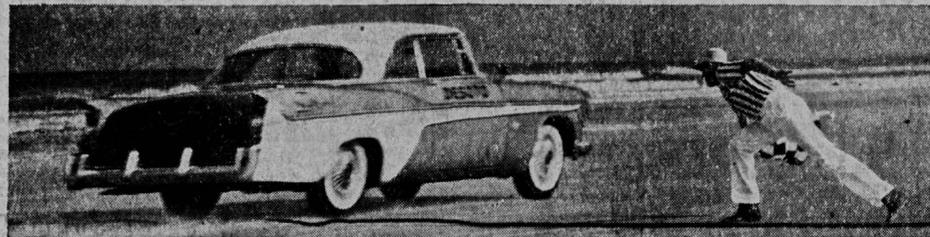

The J-57 Turbojet, first jet engine in history to be officially rated in the 10,000-pound-thrust class. In quantity production since early 1953, the J-57 has continuously undergone progressive development. It gives every indication of having almost unlimited growth possibilities.

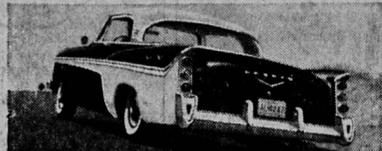

The Engines of Tomorrow, advanced jet, turboprop, and nuclear. Already in various stages of development, these aircraft engines of the future will further contribute to the long history of leadership that Pratt & Whitney Aircraft has established in the field of aviation.

You can't beat DE SOTO

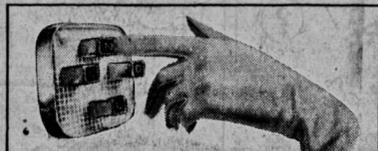

For Pace Car Performance...

Official Pace Car for the 40th annual running of the Indianapolis 500 mile speed classic. Proof of De Soto's outstanding performance.

For Pace Car Power...

... 255 horsepower, standard equipment in every De Soto Firefly. The mighty De Soto out-powers, out-performs all other cars in the medium price field.

For Pace Car Control...

... precision driving control. No old-fashioned gear levers to get in your way. De Soto's new push-button drive selector is a positive mechanical control.

For Outstanding Dollar Value...

... the facts are simple. Our story is brief. De Soto sales (to put it quite mildly) are something to cheer about. We've gone out and captured sales on a high volume basis. And believe you me, we like the feel of it. We mean to keep our sales flying by offering the best dollar value on new De Sotos and the highest trade-in allowances possible. So listen, if you're thinking of buying any new car, at any price, it will pay you to see your neighborhood De Soto dealer the very first chance you get.
