

Ottumwa Girl Wins Miss Universe Contest

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Iowa's Carol Morris, "Miss United States," this morning was named "Miss Universe" in the international beauty contest. The Queen was selected at 1 a.m. from a final group of five contestants that included "Miss Germany," "Miss Italy," "Miss England," and "Miss Sweden."

Miss Morris is the only daughter of an Ottumwa, Iowa, minister, and her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Morris, were among the audience waiting for the final session. They flew in today.

The runner-up in the contest was Marine Orschel of Germany, and "Miss Sweden" was third.

Together with the title Miss Morris won a six month motion picture contract at $250 a week, a convertible coupe, and numerous items of clothing and jewelry.

The Rev. Mr. Morris after his daughter's selection disclosed that he still carried in the toe of his shoe a penny he found in the street shortly before his daughter left Iowa to compete in the contest.

Miss Morris is a 20-year-old Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, coed, who "wished upon a star," and became the 1956 "Miss U.S." at Long Beach Municipal auditorium Thursday.

House Votes Funds for Atom Power Speed-Up

Says British, Russians Are Ahead of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee Friday voted an extra 400 million dollars for a speedup in construction of government atomic power plants. It said the time is not yet ripe, and the risks are too great for private development.

Asserting the United States is lagging behind Russia and Great Britain, the committee said:

"The issue now confronting this country is not the issue of private power versus public power. The issue rather is American versus Russian power."

The Democratic-controlled committee's action in adding 400 million dollars to President Eisenhower's budget request, to finance a power reactor program opposed by the Atomic Energy Commission, was taken by a 28-11 vote. Republicans voted solidly against the move.

By the same voice vote, the committee adopted a subcommittee report sharply criticizing AEC Chairman Lewis E. Strauss, but directed that personal references to Strauss and some other AEC members be eliminated.

The subcommittee report, drafted by Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) who is also chairman of the full committee, called for a shakeup in the AEC. It held Strauss primarily responsible for what it described as "inexcusable stagnation" in this country's effort to develop commercial atomic power.

Cannon's subcommittee report said a 1953 pledge by President Eisenhower that the United States would "devote its entire heart and mind" to peaceful development of atomic energy had been "frustrated by an unrealistic administration of this most vital need of government."

It said "The approach to the problems which is urged by Commissioners Strauss, W. F. Libby, and H. S. Vance constitutes nothing but defeat. . . . We are stagnated because of the dogmatic attitude of Chairman Strauss. . . . The United States set out, logically, to meet the pledge laid down by President Eisenhower. His pledge to the world has been effectively thwarted by reason of a philosophy on the part of Mr. Strauss which cannot be continued."

Eisenhower asked for $1,898,700,000 to finance the AEC for the coming 12 months. The committee approved a recommendation by the subcommittee that this be upped to $2,338,700,000 to carry out a program of government-built atomic power plants.

The Senate already has approved this Democratic-backed program, without the financing, and it is now awaiting House action. Republicans and some Democrats opposing it contend it might retard private efforts to develop atomic energy.

Iowa City Officials To Attend Omaha Airline Hearing

Iowa City witnesses will appear before the Civil Aeronautics Board hearing Tuesday in Omaha to try to prevent the suspension of Iowa City's commercial airline service, city attorney Edward Lucas, said Friday.

City officials, city council members and representatives from the Chamber of Commerce are expected to attend the hearing.

Last week, United Airlines announced that they had appealed to the CAB to suspend airline service to Iowa City. UAL spokesmen said that the service in Iowa City was economically unsound and that they planned to consolidate Iowa City's service with that of Cedar Rapids.

W. Germany OKs Disputed Draft Law

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany Friday gave final approval to a disputed conscription law and announced it would resist any move to reduce Western troop strength.

The Bundesrat (upper house) voted 21-17 for a draft law making 12 million West Germans between 18 and 45 liable for compulsory military service.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer thus triumphed over bitter opposition in another step to the proclaimed target of a 500,000-strong German force for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

A government spokesman announced afterward that West Germany would oppose any move by NATO to reduce conventional arms and military manpower.

This news conference statement by press chief Felix von Eckardt reflected the government's alarm over reports that the United States and Britain were planning to reduce their conventional arms and bring home some of their divisions from Germany.

Bonn's objections to arms cuts will be given to the NATO Council in Paris next Wednesday, Von Eckardt said.

There has been speculation that NATO might recommend a slash in the planned size of West Germany's forces. But Von Eckardt said the Bonn government will tell NATO it stands firm on the target of 500,000 men by the end of 1959.

The Defense Ministry intends to have 96,000 volunteers in uniform by the end of this year and begin registering youths for the draft in October.

The talk of Western troop reductions was used by the Socialist opposition in arguing against the conscription bill in the upper house.

I GUESS IT'S SAFE TO CROSS NOW—two Iowa City youth find out. Steve Detwiler, 9, 35-7th Ave. N., left, and Stuart Breese, 11, 40-7th Ave. N., right, determine the depth of a section of the Ralston Creek south of north Highway 1 in Iowa City. The creek, said by neighbors to be "dry" during the year, flooded many times its usual width Wednesday during the heavy rains. Friday it looked like a repeat performance, but luckily the rain didn't last long.

Few Tickets Left

Most of the tickets for the presentation of "Samson and Delilah" are gone. Prof. Himie Voxman, head of the SUI Department of Music, reports. The performance will be given Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union.

With so few tickets left for the regular performance, Voxman said the rehearsal at the Union at 7:15 p.m. Tuesday will be open to the public. Free tickets for the rehearsal are now available.

The production is part of the 18th annual Fine Arts Festival at SUI. Macbride Hall, where summer operas have been presented previously, is now being remodeled and air-conditioned.

DR. WHITE TO MOSCOW

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, President Eisenhower's heart specialist, disclosed Friday he and four other American physicians will go to Moscow early in September for a discussion of heart disease and allied ailments. The doctors are going at the invitation of the Ministry of Health of the U.S.S.R. and with the approval of our State Department.

Marches in Swamp 'Usual,' Says Private

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—A baby-faced death march survivor said Friday Marine Platoon 71 frolicked its way into deep water where six recruits drowned April 8.

"We thought it would be a lark," said teen-aged Pvt. Earl Grabowski of Kearney, N.J. "There was considerable kidding around going out."

The youngster called such disciplinary night marches into the treacherous bogs that surround this base "the usual routine — I think."

He was the first recruit survivor of Platoon 71 to testify at the court-martial of S/SGT. Matthew C. McKeon, who led the death march into Ribbon Creek. McKeon is being tried by court-martial for the six deaths.

Earlier, a senior drill sergeant testified he intended to march Platoon 71 into Ribbon Creek himself to discipline them. But he said McKeon beat him to it.

Grabowski called McKeon "a good drill instructor . . . with a lot of patience."

He testified he smelled "a little liquor" on McKeon's breath a short time before the death march. The private quoted McKeon as telling the platoon "we are going out to have a swim . . . watch out for snakes and sharks."

As they entered the water, the witness went on, one recruit waved a stick at others, crying out "snake" and "shark" in a sportive mood.

But gaily turned to panic, Grabowski testified, when members of the platoon broke formation and some of them wandered out of line into water over their heads.

A second recruit survivor of the platoon, Pvt. Melvin Barber, 18, of New York City, followed Grabowski to the witness stand. In his testimony, he said, of McKeon just before he ordered the men on the disciplinary march:

"He told us the ones that could swim (sic) would drown and the ones that couldn't would be eaten by sharks."

Barber's apparent slip of the tongue went into the record that way. Court attaches agreed he meant to say those who wouldn't swim would drown and those who could swim would be eaten by sharks.

Barber, a 6-foot Negro, still was on the stand when the court-martial recessed until Monday.

The first witness of the day was S/SGT. Edward A. Huff, 38, of Chicago. He was McKeon's noncommissioned superior officer.

Foreign Aid Cut Defeated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rejected Friday night an amendment by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) to slash $565 million in military assistance funds from the $4,105,000,000 foreign aid appropriation bill.

Ellender's proposal, to cut military aid back to the $1,735,000,000 voted by the House, was defeated 46-42.

Twenty-nine Democrats and 13 Republicans voted for the reduction, while 31 Republicans and 15 Democrats opposed it.

The Louisiana senator, spearheading the attack by opponents of heavy spending for military and economic assistance abroad, said he had enough other amendments to "keep talking until midnight."

Earlier the Senate accepted, by voice vote, an amendment by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), increasing from $10 million to 15 1/2 million the amount recommended by the Senate Appropriations Committee and approved by the House for the U.S. contribution to the United Nations technical assistance program.

Sen. Carl Hayden (D-Ariz.), opposing the Ellender effort to reduce military aid, said NATO nations had put up $6 for every dollar of U.S. military aid during the past three years.

Under the Senate version adopted by the conferees, however, two groups of women would have to accept a reduced rate of payment of the retirement benefit if they went on the rolls at 62 instead of 65.

Working women would receive at 62 only 80 per cent of the age 65 payment and wives 75 per cent. This rate would be increased proportionately each month the women waited past age 62 to begin receiving the benefits.

Widows, the third group of women who receive Social Security retirement benefits, would get at 62 the full rate to which they are entitled at 65.

House Delays Final Vote on Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House tentatively approved the civil rights bill Friday but put off a final vote until Monday.

Meeting as a committee of the whole for the last two days, the House dealt with 24 amendments before reporting the bill back to itself with a favorable recommendation.

Five amendments, mainly procedural, were adopted.

The civil rights legislation is endorsed by the Eisenhower administration, but even if the House passes it Monday, it is not given a chance in the Senate, where the adjournment rush is on.

Postponing the final vote until Monday was part of an agreement under which Southern Democrats stopped filibustering against the bill.

While the Southerners did not succeed in attaching any major amendments; they achieved their main goal — to make sure the bill goes to the Senate so late in the dying session that it never will reach a vote.

The measure calls for creation of a commission to investigate civil rights problems throughout the country and proposes new federal legal aids for minority groups.

Three of the amendments would establish rules for the protection of witnesses during the proposed investigation, require that allegations of civil rights violations be made in writing, and provide the commission could not delegate inquiry powers to any subcommittee composed of fewer than two members of different political parties.

Conferees Accept Social Security Bill—

Women, Disabled May Benefit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees Friday reached final agreement on a trail-blazing Social Security bill permitting women to draw retirement benefits at age 62 and disabled workers to get payments at age 50.

The bill, opposed in several of its principal features by the administration, is expected to be passed by both branches and sent to President Eisenhower next week.

Rep. Jere Cooper (D-Tenn.), chairman of the conferees, said that all seven Senate and five House conferees signed the conference report. He said they would meet again next Tuesday to take a final look at their report, and then the House would act on it promptly.

The conferees accepted the Senate provisions as to the two major issues — the new disability program and the lower retirement age for women. The retirement age for both men and women is now 65.

Under the measure agreed upon

Friday night the Social Security tax would increase 1/2 per cent Jan. 1, 1957, instead of 1 per cent as voted by the House.

The new retirement age for women for the first time breaks the 65 deadline set up when the Social Security law was passed originally in 1935.

Under the Senate version adopted by the conferees, however, two groups of women would have to accept a reduced rate of payment of the retirement benefit if they went on the rolls at 62 instead of 65.

Working women would receive at 62 only 80 per cent of the age 65 payment and wives 75 per cent. This rate would be increased proportionately each month the women waited past age 62 to begin receiving the benefits.

Widows, the third group of women who receive Social Security retirement benefits, would get at 62 the full rate to which they are entitled at 65.

The News In Brief

Compiled from Associated Press Dispatches

State—

TWO KILLED — Two persons were killed and two were injured in the head-on collision of two cars on Highway 30, west of Toledo late Friday. Dead were Leroy R. Petersen, about 40, of Tama, and Mrs. Jean Nicholson, 25, of Marion.

FARM CAMPAIGN — The Republican Party's farm campaign director said in Des Moines Friday the government should be "a helpful partner, never a master" in its role in agriculture. "The hand of government must never replace that of the farmer in the operation of his own farm," former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado told the Iowa Republican state convention.

DROWNED IN POND — Mrs. John Katerina, 50, drowned Friday in a pond near her farm home two miles south of Albia. Dr. Frank Bey, Monroe County coroner, said the body was found by her husband after he returned home from a trip to Albia. The coroner held the drowning was accidental and said no inquest would be held.

National—

UN DELEGATE — President Eisenhower's nomination of Paul G. Hoffman to be a United Nations delegate was confirmed by a 64-22 Senate vote Friday.

The opposition to Hoffman came chiefly from Republicans, some of whom pictured Eisenhower's long-time friend and supporter as soft on communism.

AIR SERVICE — A Rockford, Ill., business executive described at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing in Omaha Friday what he said were inadequacies in the present air service between Rockford and Chicago.

IKE TO PANAMA — President Eisenhower, still a convalescent, flew Friday night to Panama for an unprecedented three-day meeting with 17 other Western Hemisphere presidents. He is scheduled to make a formal speech Sunday—his first since his June 9 operation.

GOVERNMENT PAY BOOST — President Eisenhower's request for a pay boost for several hundred top level government executives was approved in the Senate Friday by voice vote. But attached to the administration request was a boost in Civil Service retirement benefits, expected to cost up to $70 million additional annually, that the administration opposes.

To Head Publicity At Ohio College

Tracy H. Norris, G. Ainsworth, has been named director of publicity at Wittenberg College, Springfield, O., effective Aug. 1. Dr. W. Emerson Reck, Wittenberg's vice-president, announced.

Norris will receive his M. A. degree in journalism from SUI in February, 1957. He has served as an information intern for the News and Information Service at SUI since September, 1954.

A graduate of Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Norris was employed as admissions counselor there for two years.

To Survey Immunization Of Students

A survey of Johnson County students to determine how many have been immunized was one of the projects announced Thursday at a meeting of Johnson County Public Health Council.

Ansel Chapman, president of the Council, said that the survey would determine how many students have been immunized and if parents were willing to consider further immunization of their school age children.

The survey will be conducted in co-operation with the county schools, Chapman said. The Health Council also will compile a directory of the various private and public health agencies in Johnson County.

Prof. Clyde E. Berry, associate director of the SUI Institute of Agricultural Medicine, and Ted A. Hunter, chairman of the Lion's Club Eye Bank Committee, spoke to the group on the activities of their organizations.

The work of the agricultural institute, Prof. Berry said, has included studies on the effect of chemicals upon farm health, safety engineering and sanitation.

Hunter said that the Iowa eye bank has received 31 eyes and has transplanted 29 of them, with an 80 per cent record of success. He stated that the Lion's Club eye bank has a list of over 1,600 persons willing to donate their eyes to the eye bank upon death.

CHEMISTRY PROF MOUNT PLEASANT — Appointment of Dr. Elizabeth H. Beynon, formerly of Lincoln, Neb., as head of the Iowa Wesleyan College Chemistry Department was announced recently. She comes from the faculty of Randolph-Macon Women's College, Lynchburg, Va.

FRED J. FRAQUELLI, a barge captain from Hoboken, N.J., stands beside the covered body of an infant boy on the Hudson River pier as he points to the place where he sighted the body as he approached the pier in his craft. An autopsy proved that the body was that of a newborn baby, and definitely could not be Peter Weinberger, six weeks old, missing from his home in Westbury, N.Y.

Baby Found in River; Not Weinberger

NEW YORK — The body of a newborn baby boy was found floating in the Hudson River Friday. A medical examiner said "it definitely is not the Weinberger baby."

The finding of the body started an intense police and FBI checkup to determine whether it was that of Peter Weinberger, kidnapped from his home July 4. The Weinberger boy would be 6 weeks old now if he still is alive.

When the body first was found by a barge captain near Pier 51, it was thought to be between one and two months old. It tallied in

Set Session To Negotiate On Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH — Steel negotiators Friday scheduled a meeting today in an effort to break the 20-day-old nationwide strike but were quick to point out that the first Saturday session since the dispute began was no indication of progress toward a settlement.

David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers, and John A. Stephens, top industry negotiator, both said today's meeting is no more than another attempt to bargain out roadblocks to a contract agreement.

The negotiators held an hour and 20 minute session Friday, then the industry's team met for 10 minutes with federal mediator director Joseph S. Finnegan and his two aides.

Neither of the parties would comment on Friday's developments except to say there has been no change in the positions they held when the 650,000 steelworkers struck 90 per cent of the nation's steel producing mills July 1.

Both sides insisted that reports of an industry move from its pre-strike position were unfounded. The reported development said management's team considered submitting to the union a three-year contract proposal with improvements in the hourly pay package.

Baby Found in River; Not Weinberger

some details with the description of the Weinberger child.

Dr. Milton Helpen, medical examiner, performed an autopsy and announced, "It is the body of a newborn baby and probably was less than one hour old when it died."

Peter was stolen from a carriage in back of his home in suburban Westbury.

Helpen said the body had been in the water about a week. The finding of the body brought police and FBI men to the scene.

SUI Zoologists To Attend Biology Meeting

Five members of the State University of Iowa Department of Zoology will present papers at the first International Congress of Developmental Biology. The congress will begin Monday and last through July 31 at Brown University, Providence, R. I.

The SUI Department of Zoology will be represented by Prof. Emil Witschi, Prof. Jerry J. Kollros, Sheldon Segal, Chih-Ye Chang and Giovanni Chieffi.

Prof. Emil Witschi will present two papers at the international meeting. Tuesday afternoon he will speak on "Facts of Experimental Sex Reversal and Their Bearing on the Problems of Genic Control of Embryonic Development." This report will be a summary of recent studies made by Prof. Witschi and his associates in which larval frogs were treated with a sex hormone, transforming all male frogs into egg-producing females. At the same time these frogs remained genetically male.

He will report Wednesday afternoon on "Standard Stages and Tables of Vertebrate Development; a Discussion of Guiding Principles and of Recent Proposals."

Another Wednesday afternoon speaker at the conference will be Sheldon Segal, research associate who will talk on "Hormonal Determination in the Differentiation of amphibian mesonephric blastema."

Prof. Jerry J. Kollros will read a paper on "Hormonal control of onset of the corneal reflex in Rana pipiens" (frogs).

Chih-Ye Chang, research associate, Wednesday afternoon will read a paper on "Hybridization of frogs."

Giovanni Chieffi, research associate, now on leave from the University of Naples, Italy, will talk on "Effect of steroid hormones on the sex differentiation of sharks."

The conference is sponsored by the International Institute of Embryology, an organization which limits its world-wide membership to 75. Professor Witschi has been a member of the Institute for 20 years.

"The $7½ million question" or Growing with Iowa City

What does it take to provide for the gas and electric needs of Iowa City? That's the $7½ million question. The Iowa-Illinois Gas and Electric Company is now devoting about $7½ million worth of its facilities and equipment to that purpose (over $5 million built in the past 10 years).— These facilities will have to be expanded greatly as our community continues to grow.

Obtaining money with which to expand is the big problem. Operating economies at a time when wages and prices in general have risen by leaps and bounds, have enabled Iowa-Illinois to serve you with only one small 3 per cent electric rate increase since 1920. Actually, both gas and electric rates are far below what they were then because of 8 electric rate and 5 gas rate reductions.

It is important to remember that no community can continue to grow if gas and electric facilities can not be extended to new homes and new business establishments.

There is only one way this can be done — that's by adjusting rates in keeping with rising costs and expansion needs.

Just remember — good gas and electric service is the cheapest!

TWO GOOD REASONS:
Why a Rate Increase Is Fair And Needed

1. Every day, the cost of serving you goes higher! Taxes and wages are rising — the cost of maintaining present equipment keeps increasing — all our expenses are growing. Yet your electric rates have been reduced 8 times and your gas rates 5 times since 1920, as contrasted with a electric rate increase during the same period.
2. Facilities for your future gas and electric needs are not built overnight! We must keep adding equipment ahead of time to provide adequate service for your growing demands. Cost of this new equipment has risen tremendously — like everything you buy.

Braves' Buhl Tops Phils On 2-Hitter, 10-0; Redlegs Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Fastball right-hander Bob Buhl threw a two hit shutout Friday night and Henry Aaron and Toby Atwell smashed home runs to give the first place Milwaukee Braves a 10-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Buhl, in taking his 12th victory against four defeats, permitted only two singles. Granny Hamner got one in the third and Richie Ashburn collected his in the sixth. The lean righthander struck out six and walked five.

The Braves landed on starter Stu Miller, a former tormentor, for two runs in the first inning as Aaron, the National League's leading hitter, smashed his 13th homer with Eddie Mathews on base.

Bums 4, Cards 1

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Big Don Newcombe held St. Louis to five hits and ignited a three-run surge in the third inning to lead the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 4-1 triumph over the Cardinals Friday night for his 13th victory. Peeewe Reese of the Dodgers had four hits, including a solo home run in the fifth.

Newcombe's triumph was his seventh straight over St. Louis since August 1951.

The husky right-hander, beaten five times in his previous five games, was bothered only by Stan Musial, who walloped his 17th homer, a single, walked and NEWCOMBE lined out in four official trips as he boosted his average to .331.

Musial's homer in the fourth averted a shutout defeat for a St. Louis club that has had only four runs in its last four games.

Reds 6, Pirates 4

CINCINNATI (AP)—Catcher Smoky Burgess smacked a two-run homer in the 12th inning Friday night, powering Cincinnati's Redlegs to a 6-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The four-base hit, scoring rookie Frank Robinson ahead of Burgess, broke a 4-4 tie that held firm for four innings.

Home runs accounted for all the runs for the Redlegs, who were behind, 4-0, before they could score.

Cincinnati pulled even on a three-run homer by Ted Kluszewski in the fifth inning and a four-base blast by Wally Post in the seventh.

Big Klu's swat—his 24th homer this season—brought home Alex Grammas and Gus Bell who had both singled.

Cubs 7, Giants 4

CHICAGO (AP)—Ex-Giant Monte Irvin smashed two homers, his 9th and 10th, and a single to help the Chicago Cubs defeat his old New York teammates in the opener of a four-game series Friday.

Willie Mays hit two singles, the last driving in New York's fourth run with two out in the ninth.

Dusty Rhodes hit his fifth homer in the second inning.

Irvin launched the Chicago scoring with his first homer with one out in the second. Dee Fondy tripled to scores singling Gene Baker with the Cubs' second run in the third.

Chicago scored twice in the fourth. Irvin's second homer came off Hearn with two out in the fifth. The Cubs added their final pair, both unearned, in the eighth.

New York . . . 010 100 011—4 9 2 Chicago . . . 011 210 023—7 10 1 McCall, Hearn (4), Wilhelm (7) and Westrum; Brosnan, Davis (7) and Chitt. W.—Brosnan (3-4), L.—McCall (2-3). Home runs: Chicago—Irvin, 2; New York—Rhodes.

College All-Stars Workout

Yankee Ace Fans 6 in a Row

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed (Whitey) Ford tied an American League record by striking out six batters in a row Friday night and gained his 12th victory of the season as the New York Yankees defeated the Kansas City Athletics, 6-2, widening their first place bulge to 11 games.

Ford, a 27-year-old southpaw, became the seventh hurler to match the AL record hung up by Detroit's Bill Donovan in 1908 by fanning Joe Ginsberg, Joe DeMaestri, Cletus Boyer, Jack McMahon, Hector Lopez, and Al Pilarcik.

He then hit Enos Slaughter on the next pitch. Ginsberg's called third strike ended the second inning. The major league record for consecutive strikeouts is nine.

Ford added only two more strikeouts the rest of the way.

Tigers 9, Bosox 6

BOSTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, led by heavy-hitting Charlie Maxwell, ruined Boston's Joe Cronin Hall of Fame recognition night by blasting out 15 hits Friday night for a 9-6 victory over the third-place Red Sox.

Maxwell, who once wore a Boston uniform, boosted his batting average to .354 with three hits in four official times at bat. He also had a sacrifice fly and drove in two runs.

Cronin, once a great Boston shortstop now the club's general manager, was honored by sports notes, public officials, friends and fans before the game. He received a new car and cash gifts to be turned over to the Children's Cancer Research Foundation (Jimmy Fund).

Detroit . . . 001 124 100—9 15 2 Boston . . . 001 005 006—6 9 9 Trucks, Masterson (6), Aber (6), Gromek (9) and House; Nixon, Dorish (6), Hurd (7), Kiely (3), Susce (3) and White. W.—Trucks (4-4), L.—Nixon (2-4).

Anthony In 10th Round TKO Over Tony Johnson

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Anthony showed blinding punching speed and improved ability to take a wallop Friday night in stopping rugged Tony Johnson on a technical knockout in 1:36 of the 10th and last round at Madison Square Garden.

Anthony weighed 170 and Johnson 175 in the light heavyweight battle.

Cronin, once a great Boston shortstop now the club's general manager, was honored by sports notes, public officials, friends and fans before the game. He received a new car and cash gifts to be turned over to the Children's Cancer Research Foundation (Jimmy Fund).

Knight: Stanford Gridders Salaried For Fictitious Tasks

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Goodwin Knight Friday injected the name of Stanford—his old alma mater—into the Pacific Coast Conference athletic controversy.

He said ex-Indian gridders, a "great many" in fact, have informed him they were paid for performing "fictitious tasks" while attending and playing football for the university.

Knight's remarks, made at a press conference, drew a prompt suggestion that perhaps the governor had fumbled.

Al Masters, Stanford's athletic director, said the governor "exaggerated the situation" that he ought to journey to Palo Alto "to see exactly what we are doing."

Masters, however, acknowledged that "there may be an occasional case where a boy is not putting enough time on his job."

The governor said Raymond B. Allen, UCLA chancellor, made similar charges against Stanford, charges Knight said were never denied.

The governor recalled he and others spoke out after the PCC slapped fines and suspensions on UCLA and Washington and that subsequently the PCC acted against USC and California.

St. Ambrose Athletic Director Deutsch Resigns

DAVENPORT (AP)—The contract of Leo F. Deutsch, St. Ambrose College athletic director, was terminated Friday.

Deutsch will be replaced by a priest on the faculty who will be given title of athletic moderator. No changes in coaching personnel were involved.

Larsen Upset In Nat'l Clay Court Tennis

CHICAGO (AP)—Top-seeded Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., was upset in the quarterfinals of the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournament Friday by Sammy Giammalva of Houston, Tex., 7-5, 6-3, 6-3 in a near two-hour match.

Sixth-seeded Giammalva out-hit and out-ran Larsen with a consistent attack that combined amazing court-covering ability.

Larsen took a 4-1 lead in the second set, and although Giammalva tied it at 5-5, the Californian rallied to win it.

In the third set, Giammalva forced the play against the string Larsen. He took the lead, stretched it to 5-2, then 5-3, then game at 6-3.

Bernard (Tut) Bartzten, the No. 2 seed from Dallas, thus assumed the role of favorite.

Bartzten moved into the semifinals by knocking off Alenjandro Olmedo, the national collegiate champion from Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-4.

Both Shirley Fry, the No. 1 seed in the women's division and the Wimbledon champion, and Althea Gibson, No. 2 seed from New York City, turned in easy victories.

Miss Fry, registering out of St. Petersburg, Fla., entered the semifinals by whipping Barbara Green, North Hollywood, Calif., 6-0, 6-2, and Miss Gibson entered the quarterfinals with a 6-2, 6-1, triumph over Gwen Thomas, Cleveland, Ohio.

Fladoos, Cohn Bid for State Women's Title

CLINTON (AP)—The Iowa Women's Amateur golf championship today will be a replay of the recent junior girls' finals with champion Andy Cohn meeting runner-up Sharon Fladoos.

Both girls moved into the women's finals with nearly identical victories Friday.

Miss Cohn, 16, of Waterloo, defeated Linda Cahill of Keokuk, 4 and 3, while 13-year-old Sharon from Dubuque eliminated Judy Kimball of Sioux City, 4 and 2.

Today's 36-hole match starts at 9:15 a.m. and again at 2 p.m. Andy defeated Sharon, 3 and 1, in the finals of the junior tournament.

Sharon shot a one-over-par 39 on the front nine of the Clinton Country Club course Friday to take a 5 up lead over Miss Kimball. However, Judy's rally ended on the 16th hole when she took a bogey 4 to Sharon's par 3.

Andy also shot a 39 on the out nine giving her a 2 up lead over Miss Cahill at the turn.

Lesser, Quast In Western Golf Final

Two down after 1 hole in a see-saw semi-final match, the 23-year-old Miss Lesser won 2 up by taking four of the last five holes from Mary Patton Janssen, international competitor and British amateur runner-up, who cracked up.

Miss Quast's steady par golf on the last seven holes produced a 3 and 1 victory over Berridge Long, the local pride and hope.

Miss Quast, hottest player throughout the tourney, settled down after getting her third bogey on the 10th hole which permitted Miss Long, five-time West Virginia champ, to even the match for the third time.

Pars won the 11th and 15th holes for the University of Washington sophomore while Miss Long was three-putting for bogeys.

Bolt Upset; Snead, Ford Win in PGA

CANTON, Mass. (AP)—Charles Prentice, unknown from Columbia, S.C., upset Tommy Bolt, 1 up Friday to fracture the otherwise calm and formal first round of the Professional Golfers Assn. championship.

Bolt got behind at the first hole, pulled ahead twice but lost with a scattershot finish which saw him take five's on the last two holes.

"Leave me alone—I don't want to talk to anybody," Bolt blurted, as he grabbed his bags and left in a huff.

Defending champion Doug Ford and three-time winner Sam Snead led a phalanx of favorites over in other opening matches for the 6,634-yard par 71 Blue Hill Country Club course.

Ford, from Yonkers, N. Y., turned back Buddy Viar of South Charleston, W. Va., 3 and 2, while Snead rallied to oust Jack Weitzel of Columbus, Ohio, 2 and 1.

Others to advance into the 64-man second round were Masters Champion Jackie Burke Jr., former National Open champion Lew Worsham and Ed Furgol; and such headline tournament pros as Walter Burkemo, Chick Harbert, Dick Meyer, Jimmy Demaret and Shelly Mayfield.

Harbert, 1954 PGA champion from Northville, Mich., had to scramble to beat Henry Williams Jr., of Fleetwood, Pa., on the 20th hole of an overtime match.

Al Smith of Danville, Va., took a 22-hole marathon from Vic Ghezzi, 1941 champion.

Prentice defeated Bolt by refusing to score and by letting the trigger-tempered Houston pro blow himself out of the match. One up with two holes to play, Bolt hit his drive into the woods on No. 17 and lost to a par four. Then on the 18th he drove into the rough and pitched into a trap, losing the match to Prentice's birdie four—two shots to the edge of the green and two to get down.

Ford didn't lose a hole in his match with Viar, shooting even par for the 16 holes he played.

Snead was off to a shaky start against Weitzel. The slammer lost two of the first four holes before bringing his big game into range and finishing one under par for 17 holes.

Jack Fleck of Davenport, former National Open champion, Friday won his first round match in the PGA golf tournament. He defeated Fred Gronauer, Scarborough, N. Y., 5 and 4.

Prentice pulled the upset of the day by defeating Tommy Bolt, 1 up. Favorites Sam Snead, 3-time PGA winner, and Doug Ford, defending PGA, also won first round matches.
