Cool Way To Beat Heat

MAN, WOULD I LIKE TO HAVE THAT JOB—Friday's terrific heat in Iowa City was almost too much for everybody. But not to George Gay, an employe of a local food locker in Iowa City. George has to put on a heavy winter coat, cap, and overshoes when he steps inside the lockers. The temperature stays around a cool zero degrees. Not a bad job for the summer.

$6.1 Million Asked By Regents for SUI

DES MOINES (AP)—The State Board of Regents Friday asked the 1957 Iowa Legislature to appropriate $6.1 million for buildings and equipment at SUI.

Among the SUI projects that got Board backing is a proposed $1,750,000 administration and office building. Other items included improvements to the water system and building additions.

The Board also approved an increase of $63,679 in the budget for the new Medical Research Center now under construction at SUI. The increase, about $45,000 from the American Cancer Society and about $18,000 in Federal matching funds, is to pay for cobalt bomb equipment to be used in cancer research and therapy at the center. As the Board's 2-day meeting ended, it appeared that the amount to be asked for operating expenses at the six institutions governed by the Board will be increased nearly $10 million yearly for the 1957-59 period.

The institutions governed by the Board include SUI; Iowa State College, Ames; Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls; Iowa School for the Deaf, Council Bluffs; Iowa Braille and Sight-Saving School, Vinton; and the State Sanatorium, Okdale.

Operating expenses include salaries, support, maintenance and miscellaneous items, but not capital improvements.

The total figure requested for capital improvements for the three state institutions of higher education was $14,855,000. Iowa State College was granted the largest amount, $6,250,000, and Iowa State Teachers College received $2,505,000.

The Board backed seven projects for Iowa State Teachers, six for Iowa State and five for SUI. Provost Harvey H. Davis appeared for SUI; President James H. Hilton, for Iowa State, and Dean M. J. Nelson, for Iowa State Teachers.

Approve First Plans For SUI Laundry

The State Board of Regents approved preliminary plans for a $150,000 laundry building for the University at a meeting in Des Moines Friday.

The Board of Regents approved a plan submitted by the University for future construction of a one-floor building to house the SUI Laundry.

The new laundry building will be built on a corner site where Madison Street and Harrison Avenue intersect.

Farm Price Drop First in 6 Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm prices, on the up-grade for six months to the joy of election-minded Republicans, tumbled 1 per cent between mid-June and mid-July.

The dip in the one-month period was attributed by the Agriculture Department to lower prices for fruits, meat animals and commercial vegetables.

Prices for potatoes, milk and chickens increased, but not enough to offset the drop in other commodities.

Texas Demos Name Choice For Governor

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Name-calling oratory and vaudevillian campaign tricks ended as Texas Democrats prepared to vote for a new governor today.

Crowding the gubernatorial contest for importance in the state party primary was a 3-question referendum on school integration, intermarriage legislation, and interposition.

The straw poll would not be binding on the state legislature but undoubtedly will leave a powerful political impression.

All but one of the six candidates for governor are in favor of leaving desegregation in any form to state and local government.

An estimated 1 1/4 million votes will be cast between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

In addition to nominating a new governor to succeed Gov. Allan Shivers, who did not run for a fourth term, Texas will vote on 2 congressional races and other state officials serving 2-year terms.

Technically, the winners in the Democratic primary are not elected until sanctioned in the November general election. However, Democratic nominees traditionally are chosen in November over only token opposition.

Any Republican nominations will be made later at a state convention.

The primary follows a bitterly contested fight in precinct, county and state conventions between Shivers, who swung state party support to President Eisenhower in 1952, and Sen. Lyndon Johnson, backed by House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

It was expected Sen. Price Daniel would get a large vote from Shivers' supporters. Gubernatorial candidate Ralph Yarborough has been backed by Rayburn in two previous unsuccessful attempts to unseat Shivers. Johnson has been friendly to both Daniel and Yarborough.

IKE SWIMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower resumed swimming in the White House pool Friday as part of his regular exercise routine. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower spent a few minutes in the pool before lunch and then had a nap after his midday repast.

Probe Ship Collision; List 10 Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—The battered Swedish liner Stockholm crept into port Friday with a drab human cargo — and with her came baffling new questions about an open sea collision that sank one of the world's great passenger liners.

As the Stockholm made shore, bringing the last load of survivors from the wreck, uncertainties deepened and multiplied about the loss of the Italian liner Andrea Doria.

How many lives were lost beyond the 10 known and presumed dead? What were the mechanical conditions aboard each ship when the staggering blow came?

What about the speed and performance of the crews?

The number of those missing when the Andrea Doria was swallowed by the Atlantic off the coast of Massachusetts became a complex riddle as various agencies surveyed the scattered hosts of survivors.

Figures ranged from zero to 34 persons still unaccounted for. Indications came Friday that the powerful radar sets of both ships were working, their electric eyes scanning through the murk, when the two vessels hit in mighty impact.

All of what happened then, too, was still a maze of conflicting information. Some survivors accused the Andrea Doria's crew of self-concerned negligence. Others, including the crew, reported aggravated rebuttals.

The speed of the ships in the dangerously thick fog also figured in the mystifying disaster. Officials of the line — and the skippers under wraps of attorneys — gave scant details.

The master of the crumpled Stockholm, Capt. Gunnar Nordenson, however, was quoted in three New York newspapers as saying his ship was cruising at "full speed" — 18 1/2 knots or about 25 miles an hour — when the crash came.

He also said the radar was working. There also were reports that the Andrea Doria's radar was in operating condition.

Confounding still further the puzzle of visibility on the night of the wreck was a report in the Worcester, Mass., Telegram from a surviving passenger saying an Andrea Doria radar antenna was not rotating 5 1/2 hours before the wreck.

The Stockholm limped into New York, more than 24 hours after the Andrea Doria went down, bringing more than 500 men, women and children saved from the sinking ship.

In the urgency of the massive sea rescue, and the dispersal of survivors to a half dozen rescue ships in yesterday's darkness and dawn, most of the 1,706 aboard the lost ship were believed saved.

But the new Coast Guard figures raised the possibility that many persons were sealed — or disabled — in the smashed quarters of the Andrea Doria as the vessel sank in 222 feet of water.

New York Police Capt. John Cronin, in charge of the city's Missing Persons Bureau, said "about 50" are missing from the sinking ship. He said some of them may ultimately be located in hotels or hospitals.

A number of those about whom inquiries have been made are "absolutely not on any of the lists," he said. Police are making a search of their own to try to trace the missing.

Four investigations of the crash were planned — in this country and abroad — to get the full story of the tragedy.

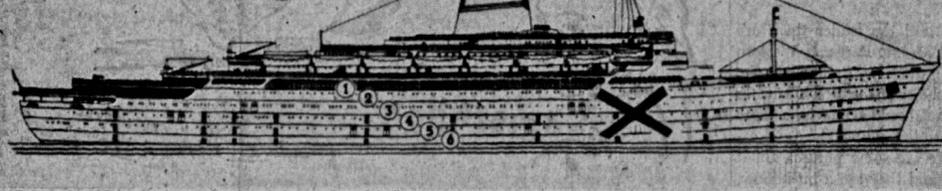

From a radar station expert at Milton, Mass., Dr. David Atlas, came a word of possible explanation for the crash. He said that in some specific atmospheric conditions, radar beams are deflected by a fog bank, like bouncing off a mirror.

"It is reasonable and logical to feel this was the case when the two ships collided," he said.

Salvage experts said it was highly unlikely the Andrea Doria ever could be raised.

"No ship that size has ever been raised in waters of that depth," he said. "The pressure there is so great that a diver could work about five minutes if he could work at all."

Experts attempting to analyze the tragedy held varying theories as to how many compartments of the Doria were affected by the collision.

Firms, Labor Sign 3-Year Steel Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Three years of peace was agreed on Friday for the nation's vital steel industry. The formal end of a crippling, 27-day strike will come next week.

President Eisenhower promptly called the settlement "good news," reflecting the Administration's concern in an election year over a continued tieup in such a vital industry.

The pact reached by 12 major steel industries and the United Steelworkers calls for direct wage increases and other benefits for 650,000 workers. They will get an average direct wage boost of 9.1 cents an hour in the first year, 9.1 cents an hour more in the second year, and an additional 9.1 cents in the third year, an overall total in wages of 28.7 cents. The old average wage was $2.46 an hour.

The union estimated the overall value of the settlement at 45.6 cents an hour for the three years, with 20.3 cents allocated to the first year. The industry estimated the 3-year package as worth 52 to 55 cents and somewhere around 24 cents of this in the first year.

The union also won a 52-week layoff pay plan and a union shop clause.

A steel price increase of from $10 to $12 on the present average of $130 a ton has been widely predicted. This would increase the nation's $14 billion steel bill by around a billion.

The steel industry had sought a 5-year union contract but reduced it by stages to a 3-year, no-strike term, still the longest contract ever reached in steel.

Individual contracts between the companies and the union remain to be worked out in considerable detail. Until those contracts are signed, the steelworkers' president, David J. McDonald, said, the strike cannot be ended.

He said it would take "several days" to complete those contracts, making a return to work impossible before sometime next week.

McDonald and John A. Steyens, chief industry negotiator, signed the settlement before a battery of still, movie and TV cameras. Minutes before, the union's Wage Policy Committee had given its sanction to the pact.

Baillie W. Vinson, Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, wired Nixon that it was true he had chipped in $1,000 to help bankroll an upcoming vice-presidential poll masterminded by Stassen.

But he did so "without thinking of the implication," he said. And anyway, he added, he already knew what the poll will show: "I feel that any poll taken will reveal your (Nixon's) tremendous strength in its true light."

Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament specialist, obviously has been counting on the poll to help rub Nixon off the GOP ticket. He has come out for Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts.

Vinson said he was an old friend of Stassen and made the contribution to help him out of a "tight fix."

Board Names Griffeth Counselor to Men

DES MOINES (Special to The Daily Iowan)—Paul L. Griffeth, who has been SUI assistant counselor to men in charge of fraternity affairs since 1953, was named counselor to men by the State Board of Regents during its July meeting here Thursday and Friday.

Griffeth succeeds Marion L. Huit, recently named Dean of Students and Director of Student Affairs. Griffeth's salary was increased from $5,700 to $6,800 a year. The promotion was made effective Aug. 1.

The Board also approved six other changes in appointment for SUI faculty members, 12 leaves of absence and five resignations.

Prof. James F. Curtis, who has been acting director of the Division of Speech Pathology and Audiology, was named professor and head of the newly created Department of Speech Pathology and Audiology in the College of Liberal Arts. He has been a member of the SUI faculty since 1946.

Prof. Arnold S. Gillette of the Department of Speech was named director of the University Theatre, of which he has been associate director. He has been a member of the SUI faculty since 1931. Gillette holds an MFA degree from Yale University, New Haven, Conn.

Carl A. Dallinger, associate professor in the Department of Speech, was made coordinator of communication skills, with a salary increase from $6,000 to $6,400 a year, effective in September. He will continue as supervisor of speech in the communication skills program. Dallinger has been a member of the SUI faculty since 1951.

Prof. Oscar E. Nybakken of the Department of Classics was named acting head of the department during the academic year 1956-57 while Prof. Gerald Elise is on leave as head of the department to conduct research in classical literature at the American Academy in Rome under a Fulbright grant.

George Kalnitsky, associate professor of biochemistry in the College of Medicine, was appointed traveling research fellow in the department. He has been a member of the teaching and research staff of the college since 1946.

Harry H. Crosby, an assistant professor in the communication skills program, was appointed acting supervisor of writing in the program. He was an instructor at SUI from 1945-47 and rejoined the faculty in 1950.

Leaves of absence were granted to two faculty members in the English Department. Associate Prof. M. F. Heiser was given a year's leave of absence to accept a position as visiting professor at New Mexico Highlands University, and an extension of a leave of absence now in effect was granted to Associate Prof. Emeritus Carrie E. Stanley to continue work on a special teaching project in the field of writing in the Lone Tree schools.

Cairo Claims Action Within Their Power

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Egyptian government Friday night refused to accept a formal British protest against seizure of the Suez Canal.

The protest sent to the Egyptian foreign ministry warned Egypt that its "arbitrary" nationalization of the canal "constitutes a serious threat to the freedom of navigation on a waterway of vital international importance."

Wing Cmdr. Aly Sabri, chief of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's political bureau, said Egypt refused to accept the protest because nationalization of the Suez Canal Co. was "an act within Egypt's sovereignty." He added that the canal company is incorporated in Egypt and subject to Egyptian law.

Earlier the government announced military law has been imposed on the Canal Zone and the Egyptian minister of commerce said any legal battle over seizure of the canal will be settled only in Egyptian courts.

The zone was made a military area immediately after President Gamal Abdel Nasser proclaimed last night nationalization of the 103-mile waterway. He said Egypt will use the revenue from the canal to finance her billion-dollar Aswan Dam project.

The United States moved into the Suez Canal crisis Friday, extending cautious support to Britain and France in their developing fight against Egypt's seizure of the vital waterway.

A statement issued by the State Department made two main points:

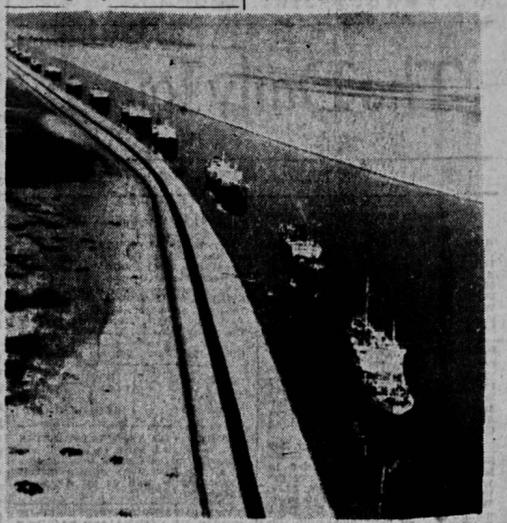

1. The Suez is an "international waterway," and its seizure Thursday night by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser carries "far-reaching implications" for countries in both Europe and Asia.

2. The United States "is consulting urgently" with other governments. Press officer Lincoln White said the other governments were initially Britain and France but that the problem will also be discussed with additional countries.

British embassy spokesmen said that it was impossible to arrange a meeting on such short notice between Ambassador Sir Humphrey Trevelyan and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi following the formal protest.

In Port Said Friday, Col. Abden Hamid Bahgat, a member of the Egyptian committee formed by military men and civilians for operating the internationally controlled Suez Canal Co., issued an announcement saying:

"The Suez Canal zone is now an Egyptian military zone. Any action aimed at harming the interests or properties of the newly nationalized company and preventing the smooth functioning of traffic will be a military crime and be subject to the maximum penalty of the law."

Brioni Communique

(The New York Times)

When Prime Minister Nehru arrived in Yugoslavia for his talks with Marshal Tito and General Nasser he said wearily to the correspondents: "It really is extraordinary that we cannot meet in a friendly way without you gentlemen attaching the highest importance to it." The implication is that this was to be just a cozy little old home week in a pleasant Yugoslav resort.

The communique on this friendly meeting has now appeared. It has obviously been watered down on some issues, such as the unification of Germany. It has employed more than the average share of clichés and catch phrases and has used some ironic circumlocutions such as the statement that these chiefs of state favored ending the domination of one country over another. They didn't say which countries, but they are obviously against sin.

According to the two dictators and the leader there are three critical areas, the Far East, the Middle East and Western Europe. Their recommendation on the Far East is simple. First, there should be immediate admission of Red China to the United Nations, and second, there should be an immediate removal of embargoes and obstacles to the normal flow and extension of international trade. There are some phrases about the United Nations in the document and they are a bit hollow, when what these men are really agreed on is aid and comfort to the still unpurged aggressor against the United Nations itself.

In the case of the Middle East, the recommendation, somewhat speciously disguised, is no less emphatic. Big powers—again not named—are held responsible for having added to the difficulties of the situation. But the support of the conferees goes to the Bandung resolution adopted in April of last year by the Asian-African bloc. It will be remembered that Israel was conspicuously excluded from that supposedly Asian conference and that the resolution supported the Arab position with full sympathy. General Nasser may have wanted something even stronger than that from Mr. Nehru, but what he got was plenty.

Similarly, the play for the Arabs was conspicuous in the fact that the conferees pumped for the immediate freedom of Algeria. This is to be obtained by a cease-fire and prompt negotiation and the safety of the non-Algerian is to be protected. But the communique obviously could not, or dared not, go into any details as to how this desirable consummation was to be reached.

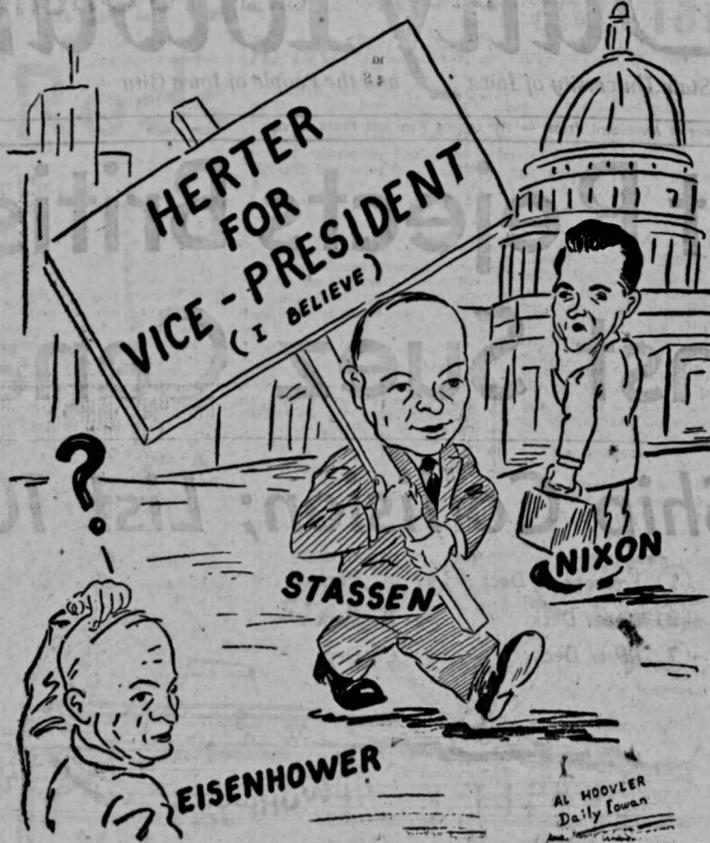

Likewise, in the case of Germany, it was agreed that the whole question should be settled by means of agreement reached by peaceful negotiation. No word about a free vote, although the German people are supposed to do the negotiating and settling.

On the question of disarmament and nuclear weapons the lip service is again plausible. The problem should be settled through the United Nations, and there should be adequate control of the implementation of agreement. Just what control is not suggested, but in the meantime it is agreed that there should be an immediate ban of any further tests of nuclear weapons and a complete prohibition upon any further use of fissionable material for war purposes.

There is quite a bit of talk about peaceful and active co-existence between the free and the slave worlds. There is emphasis upon the close cooperation of the conferees and their contribution to a lessening of tensions through the similarity of approach to international questions. If there is a real similarity of approach between a democratic India, a Communist Yugoslavia, and a dictatorship-ridden Egypt, there is reason to have concern both for the meaning of words and for the extraordinary bedfellows that international politics can make.

No, the free world will have to attach the highest importance to the Brioni communique, despite Mr. Nehru's modesty. It should be put on its guard against strange combinations of forces that may be plausible on the surface but that could be sinister in their ultimate effect.

Goes Up in Smoke

LIGHTNING SET FIRE to this Navy blimp of the new SK type at its ground mooring at Glynco Naval Air Station, near Brunswick, Ga. The craft was inflated with helium, which does not burn, but flames from a thousand gallons of gasoline spread quickly and destroyed the 285-foot-long blimp. The helium escaped as the blimp's fabric burned.

Estimates Road Cost At $400,000 a Mile

DAVENPORT—Chairman Robert K. Beck of the Iowa Highway Commission told the Exchange Club here Friday the cost of constructing 4-lane interstate roads in Iowa will be about $400,000 to $425,000 a mile.

He said the new 24-foot highways in Iowa now cost about $125,000 a mile. However, under the new interstate superhighway program, the Federal Government pays 90 per cent and the state 10 per cent of the cost.

Beck, a Centerville newspaper publisher, added:

"The highway commission does not look upon this interstate road system as a cure-all for Iowa's highway problem. It is a needed and progressive step, one that has become a growing necessity, but we still have much work to do and large deficiencies existing within our primary road system of 8,660 miles.

"It will require many years of vigorous and bold action before Iowa resolves its total highway problem. In all probability, we will never meet all highway demands, since patterns, usage, need and design are undergoing such tremendous changes."

Iowa will have about 700 miles of interstate system roads. They will generally follow U.S. Highways 6, 69 and 75-275. The total 13-year program in Iowa is estimated to cost between $275,470,000 and $300 million.

Beck said it is estimated that first work in Iowa under the interstate program will not be completed until the end of 1958. The commission recently outlined plans for initial work on the three highways.

He said the superhighways are designed to anticipate 1957 traffic demands with sufficient flexibility to see beyond 1975.

Beck cited figures to show it will cost the average motorist an additional $6.60 annually in taxes to finance the program. But he said the new highways would save the motorist using them an estimated penny a mile and save many lives.

Referring to previous plans for an Iowa toll road from Davenport to Council Bluffs, Beck said:

"The toll road probably is now a dead issue. However, much of the planning and work done by the Iowa Toll Road Authority will be very valuable to the commission in planning its superhighway work."

Officers said Jones told them he had found a note on his motorcycle recently which read: "Fella, if you don't keep this motorcycle quiet, we have your license number." The note was signed, "The neighbors," Jones said.

Jones said when he left the foundry on his motorcycle about 1 a.m. Friday he was stopped in an alley by four men. Two of the men held him while the other two beat and kicked him until fellow foundry workers drove them off, Jones told police.

Jones said his attackers told him his motorcycle kept them awake and wanted to know why he rode it. He said he told them it was his only means of transportation.

Fellow workers took Jones home and his wife called police. Officers took him to a hospital where he was treated for head injuries, cuts and bruises.

Police said the names of Jones' attackers were not known.

Writer Questions Poor Acoustics

"Art lies in concealing art," but

Art may seem long and time not fleeting when one attends a lecture in our Memorial Union. The difficulty is not necessarily the subject, the speaker, or his presentation, but the fact that the responsible person chooses for some reason to permit a perfectly good subject, speaker, and presentation, to escape the ear of an otherwise attentive audience, simply by "forgetting" to instruct the speaker of the evening to use the microphone. After attending many lectures for a number of years, I feel that the tired, old argument in defense, e.g., "the acoustics of our Union are not good!" is a foolish explanation when a pleasant evening could be spent simply by informing the guest speaker, who for obvious reasons would be most happy to use a microphone (and be heard), to do so. This letter is probably only one expression of numerous other people's sentiments. The fault is not in our "stars," but in ourselves, that we do not solve this problem.

Home Study Bulletin Lists New Courses

The 1956-57 issue of the SUI Correspondence Study Bulletin is now available for students interested in doing home study work. Prof. John L. Davies, director of correspondence study, said.

New and revised courses are being offered in five departments: chemistry, education, political science, sociology and Spanish. A total of 175 courses are now being offered in 23 departments.

In the Chemistry Department a course in beginning inorganic chemistry is being offered, for which the student should have access to laboratory facilities including a supply of chemicals.

The Education Department provides introductory courses in education, educational psychology, construction and use of classroom tests, and organization and administration of guidance in the secondary school.

Comparative governments, municipal government and the American constitutional government are new courses being offered by the Department of Political Science.

In addition to a new introductory sociology course, new courses in the department of sociology are criminology and juvenile delinquency.

The new course in the Spanish Department is Ph.D. Spanish.

All correspondence courses are prepared and taught by regular members of the SUI faculty who are in charge of similar courses in residence. Davies said each course represents a definite amount of work corresponding to an equivalent amount of work done by students in similar courses on campus.

Instruction by correspondence study is continuous throughout the year and students may begin courses at any time, the introduction to the bulletin explains.

The bulletin also includes information concerning correspondence study, registration, fees, credit which may be earned, text and reference books and teacher's certification requirements.

Five Greek Sailors, Now in Iowa, Face Deportation Action

CHICAGO (AP)—Nicholas Cosmos, 19, one of five Greek sailors charged with entering the United States illegally, was ordered deported following a hearing before U.S. immigration authorities Friday.

Ioannis Kominos, 23; Alexandros Scaramangas, 50, and Stelios Carakas, 38, were each released on $1,000 bond. They requested postponement of their hearings until they are able to obtain counsel.

Still to be heard is the case of Scaramangas' son, Demosthenes, 23.

The five were picked up at Bettendorf Tuesday following an investigation begun after some Greek coins were found in a juke box. All five said they were from Athens and had been in Bettendorf about six months.

Immigration authorities contend the five deserted their ships in New York at various times and later moved inland.

Young Scaramangas has become engaged to Angelina Bogiatzoulou of Davenport. She has appealed to President Eisenhower to permit her fiancé to remain in this country.

"You are his last hope and mine," Miss Bogiatzoulou said in a telegram to the President Thursday night.

"I am appealing to you with all my heart to intercede if you possibly can on behalf of my fiancé. For two years he has lived like an American citizen and won the respect of all who knew him.

"He has studied the American Constitution and wants more than anything in the world to become an American citizen. We would have been married in September."

Miss Bogiatzoulou went to Chicago Friday to be with her fiancé during the deportation hearing.

In Washington, Andrew P. Vance, a Department of Justice attorney and president of the Greek Orthodox Youth of American, said he would forward any information given to him on the cases to congressional committees for their consideration.

J. C. Wright, Iowa state superintendent of public instruction, and Provost Harvey H. Davis of the University will welcome the conference registrants. Clyde McFarlin, president of the Montezuma board of education, will speak at 11:15 p.m. Monday on "A School Board Faces the Problems of the School Superintendent."

Iowa City Invasion???

(Daily Iowan Photo by Bill Nelson) WHAT'S THIS, AN INVASION? No, it's just the 138th Infantry Regiment from St. Louis, Mo., as the National Guard unit stopped over in Iowa City Friday while on the way from St. Louis to Ft. Riley, Minn. The motorized croup left St. Louis at 4 a.m. Friday and arrived in Iowa City Friday at 5 p.m. The regiment made camp at the Iowa City National Guard Armory on S. Dubuque St. It will take to the highways again this morning to complete the journey.

SUI Heart Research To Get Financial Aid

A $13,000 grant, part of which is aimed at expanding facilities for diagnostic services to potential heart-surgery patients, has been awarded to SUI by the Iowa Heart Association.

Scheduled for use in the SUI Medical Center's cardiovascular research laboratories, the grant is subject to approval by the Iowa Board of Regents.

Dr. J. W. Culbertson, SUI professor of internal medicine and director of the laboratories, said $3,500 of the amount has been earmarked for the purchase of equipment which will enable laboratory physicians to increase the number of diagnostic procedures now being performed.

These procedures provide heart surgeons at SUI with highly precise information about a patient's heart disease before surgery is performed. The demand for this type of diagnostic service has been increasing rapidly during recent years.

Prof. Steven M. Horvath, SUI Department of Physiology and director of a basic, non-clinical heart and blood-vessel research program, is slated to receive $2,500 of the grant to aid in developing new basic studies on heart disease.

Culbertson said the grant to Horvath represents a new approach which many foundations are taking to research in the health field. He explains it this way:

"Top-flight scientists are chosen to receive the grants. The grants carry no demands for specific results within a limited time. They do not restrict the scientist to a particular method of study. Instead, he is permitted to pursue whatever course he thinks best, changing direction and method of study at any point where he thinks such a change might be fruitful."

Also included in the total allotment is a $7,000 payment on an annual grant of $15,000 which the Iowa heart group has given to the cardiovascular laboratories for general operating expenses since 1949. Last January, an $8,000 payment on this year's grant was made to SUI.

Pierson Tops State GOP

DES MOINES (AP)—The new Republican State Committee re-elected Don Pierson of Humboldt as chairman and Mrs. Enid Robinson of Hampton as vice-chairman at a brief meeting Friday.

Also as a follow-up of the selection of committee members at last Friday's state convention, the group elected L. L. Jurgemeyer of Clinton, 2nd District Committeeman, as committee attorney to succeed Allen Whitfield of Des Moines. Whitfield was defeated for re-election as 5th District Committeeman at the convention by Arthur T. Donhowe of Des Moines.

Other committee officers for the coming two years are: John E. Bemis, Des Moines, treasurer of the finance committee, to succeed Donhowe; and Jonathan Fletcher, Des Moines, re-elected treasurer of the committee.

Subcommittee appointments that were made included: executive committee, Donhowe, chairman, and Mrs. Caroline Dickey, Packwood, 2nd District Committeewoman, vice-chairman; and campaign committee, Roscoe Jones, Atlantic, 7th District Committeeman, chairman, and Mrs. Barbara Olerich, Raffle, 6th District Committeewoman, vice-chairman.

U.S. Senator B. B. Hickenlooper visited briefly with the committee before leaving for Clear Lake to attend the annual 3-day Governor's Days celebration opening Friday night.

Trial Seeks Marine Hero

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon's defense Friday sought Lt. Col. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller as a court-martial witness for his side. The retired officer is a living legend in the Marine Corps.

Defense Atty. Emile Zola Bertram asked the Corps to bring Puller here next week. At his home in Saluda, Va., Puller commented: "I know nothing about it. If I go down there, the Marine Corps will order me there."

Puller, 58, is a former Parris Island drill instructor, a staunch friend of the enlisted man and an officer who thinks a marine thrives better on beer than ice cream. This type of thinking apparently ties in with the defense strategy at the court-martial of the 31-year-old McKeon. The drill instructor is on trial for leading Platoon 71 into Ribbon Creek last April 8—a night march during which six recruits died.

The court-martial is in recess until Monday when the defense will open its case.

Puller is one of the most decorated marines in the Corps. He is the only marine ever to hold five Navy Crosses, the Corps' second highest decoration. He also holds the Distinguished Service Cross and eight other personal combat decorations.

He retired in 1955 after 36 years, including combat campaigns in Haiti, Nicaragua, World War II and Korea.

Drama Study To Open at Okobojo

Practical experience in producing, directing and acting during the first week-long SUI Community Theatre Workshop beginning Sunday will later be applied to community theatre enterprises throughout Iowa and surrounding states. The workshop will be held at the Iowa Lakeside Laboratory, Lake Okobojo.

The workshop curriculum will be designed to train people for leadership in community theatres, to provide a chance to study the theatre and its role in the community and to develop individual skills. Ronald Gee of the SUI Drama Department and workshop head explained.

In the morning sessions, workshop members will discuss general principles of community theatres with workshop personnel including Harold Shifler, Walter Dewey, Willard Welsh, Pat Herget and Gee, all from the SUI Drama Department.

Afternoon sessions will put to use the morning's discussions in practical sessions in interpretation, acting, directing and technical aspects of the drama.

Two or three evenings during the week, the readings and scenes rehearsed during the afternoons will be presented for workshop members at the outdoor stage at the lake.

"These presentations will be very informal, with no special costume effects and little scenery," Gee explained. "Some of the scenes will be read from scripts. Any persons in the area interested in attending will be welcome."

Not every hour of the workshop will be devoted to work. Swimming, boating and fishing will occupy leisure hours. Registrants will be quartered in dormitories and cottages on the laboratory grounds.

The workshop is sponsored by the University Theatre, SUI College of Education and the Extension Division.

Demos Complete Convention Roster

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democrats completed their 1,372-vote National Convention delegate roster Friday with selection of a 32-vote uncommitted delegation in Virginia.

A 7th District convention in the same state Saturday will pick the last two delegates to the Republican National Convention, to be composed of 1,323 delegates with one vote each.

With all Democratic delegates picked, Adlai E. Stevenson, the party's 1952 standard bearer, holds a comfortable lead for a second presidential nomination, but is some distance from the required 686½ majority.

Phils Defeat Braves, 5-2; Reds Win, 3-2, Trail by 4 1/2

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pitcher Saul Rogovin's bases loaded two run single in the sixth broke a 2-2 tie and snapped the league leading Milwaukee Braves' five-game winning streak Friday night as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Braves 5-2.

Rogovin turned back the Braves with six hits and might have had a shutout but for an error in the sixth by shortstop Graney Hamner. Hamner bobbed what should have been a routine third out grounder and then big Joe Adcock rifled his 22nd homer of the year onto the roof in left field.

Adcock's homer tied the score, 2-2. The Phillies had picked up a run in the third on singles by Willie Jones and Hamner and a double play ball.

Dodgers 4, Cubs 3

BROOKLYN (AP)—Gil Hodges raced home with the winning run while the Chicago Cubs were preoccupied trying to turn a bunt into a double-play in the 10th inning Friday night to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 4-3 victory and stretch their winning streak to six games.

The Cubs got the doubleplay finally, but Hodges' sprint from second put the third place Dodgers within five games of National League leading Milwaukee, beaten at Philadelphia 5-2.

NEW YORK (AP)—A 2-run triple by ex-Cardinal Bill Sarni in the seventh inning Friday night gave the New York Giants a 6-5 victory over St. Louis, ending an 8-game losing streak.

Sarni capped a 3-run Giant rally with his long blow to left center in the spacious Polo Grounds off reliever Jackie Collum.

Sarni also drove in the Giants' first run in the second inning. Red Schoendienst and Jackie Brandt, two other ex-Cards, drove in one each.

Tribe 3, Orioles 2

CLEVELAND (AP)—Home runs by Rocky Colavito and Jim Hegan in the sixth inning powered the Cleveland Indians to a 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Friday night and extended the Tribe's winning streak to seven games.

Colavito blasted a Johnny Schmitz pitch over the left field fence after Vic Wertz had walked. Then, after Chico Carrasquel had grounded out, Hegan smashed another one over the same fence.

Bosox 4, Chisox 3

CHICAGO (AP)—Tom Brewer finally caught up with the slumped White Sox Friday night and hurled Boston to a 4-3 victory before a crowd of 25,735 for his 14th success of the season.

The 24-year-old right hander, who has lost only three games this year, was nipped for eight hits. It was his third triumph in 12 decisions over the team that took 5 of 6 from him last year.

Boston backed Brewer with a 12-hit attack, including a pair of run-scoring singles by catcher Pete Daley, but left nine men on base.

Hot Thomson Leads Braves

NEW YORK (AP)—Last week Joe Adcock was spraying home runs. This week it's Bobby Thomson. Thomson hit his 16th homer Thursday as the Braves mauled the last-place New York Giants, 11-0.

At one stage last week, Adcock had smashed out nine homers in 11 games.

Then Thomson came off the bench at Milwaukee, where he had been parked for weak hitting. He earned the permanent left field position by belting a homer and a double that scored four runs against the Giants, his former teammates.

Sunday he closed out the home stand at Milwaukee with two homers as the Braves swept a pair from Philadelphia. His biggest smash of the year came Wednesday in the Polo Grounds, a grand slam homer that pulled the Braves from behind and put them on the way to a 7-4 victory.

Yanks 9, A's 9

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics and the New York Yankees were tied, 9-9, at the end of 10 innings.

Tennis Tourney Next Week on Library Courts

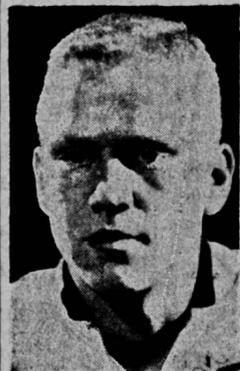

The University Library courts will be the scene of a tennis tourney, scheduled as part of tennis classes of the SUI Athletic department and the Iowa City Recreation commission, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Camera Tricks

BOB BEDARD of the Canadian Davis Cup tennis team appears to be catching the ball, but don't let the camera fool you. In reality he is stretching to return a shot on one knee. Bedard pressed Herb Flam of the U.S., but Flam won as the U.S. gained a clean sweep for the day.

Scheuerman Named Hawk Cage Assistant

Sharm Scheuerman
Cage Assistant Now

DES MOINES (AP)—The appointment of Milton C. (Sharm) Scheuerman, star guard on the 1955-56 State University of Iowa Big Ten champion basketball team as an assistant basketball coach at Iowa was announced Friday by the State Board of Regents.

Scheuerman, who was a 1956 graduate of Iowa and whose home is at Rock Island, Ill., was employed for one year at a salary of $5,000.

He was a three-year regular on Hawkeye teams. During his career at Iowa "the Rock Island Iceman," as he was nicknamed by followers because of his unusual calmness under pressure, the Hawkeyes won two Big Ten championships and finished a close second once.

Scheuerman, 21, is engaged to be married to Miss Karlen Sutton, Clinton, next fall.

Hagge Leads By 1 Stroke in Women's Golf

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Marlene Bauer Hagge, a poised and confident veteran at 22, exploded a burst of birdies on the finishing holes Friday to take a 1-stroke lead over sharp-putting Louise Suggs at the halfway point of the Women's National Open golf tournament.

The blonde and pert Marlene winner of five tournaments this year and the women's leading money winner, rang in birdies at three of the last five holes for a second straight 74 to go into the front of the 45-player field with 14. The final two rounds are scheduled for today.

Miss Suggs from Sea Island, Ga., cut of the Hogan cloth, moved into second place at 149 with a birdie on the 72, the first sub-par round of the two days of competition.

Two strokes off the pace at 159 were a trio of contenders—Mrs. Kathy Cornelius of Lake Worth, Fla., the first day leader who added a 77 to a previous 73; Mary Lena Paul, former amateur champion from Thomasville, Ga., whose steadiness gave her a second 75, and 23-year-old Joyce Ziske, a professional of less than two years from Waterford, Wis. Miss Ziske had a 74 for the second round.

In sixth place at 151 was Beverly Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif., whose chance of finishing higher among the leaders was spoiled when she took a double bogie seven on the 18th.

Betty Jameson, the longtime contender from San Antonio, Texas, followed at 152 after shooting 73 and then came Patty Berg, the freckle-faced favorite from St. Andrews, Ill., with 153.

Mrs. Ann Johnstone of Mason City added an 81 Friday to her 71 Thursday for a 163 total at the halfway mark.

Phyllis Otto Germain of Atlantic shot an 81 Friday for a 164 36-hole total in the tournament.

IOWANS DEFEATED

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Bob Boyson, Cedar Rapids, and Charles McKinley, St. Louis were defeated in the boys doubles and semi-finals of the Western Tennis tournament here Friday.

Palmer Tops Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (AP)—Arnold Palmer, 26-year-old former amateur golf king, steamed around sweatering Mount Pleasant course Friday in six strokes under par 72 to vault into the halfway lead of the 72-hole Eastern Open.

The 66 by the slender native of Youngstown, O., now playing out of Latrobe, Pa., on the heels of his opening 70 put him eight strokes ahead of par with two rounds to go today and Sunday.

His 136 total was three less than two other young pros, Jerry Keselring of Toronto and Babe Lichardus of Hillsdale, N.J., who held second place.

The youngsters had a lock on all of the leading positions. In third place at 140 scores were John Finsterwald of Bedford, N.J.; Knight of Springfield, Ill.; Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, O., and Ernie Vossler of Ft. Worth, Tex.

IMPROVED SCREWBALL

It was catcher Jake Early who suggested that Jack Harshman, star pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, could get to the major leagues by making better use of his screwball.

The winner here meets Mexico in the American zone finals.

BERRIOS OVER ANAHUAC

NEW YORK (AP)—Miguel Berrios, sturdy little Puerto Rican, raked game little Kid Anahuac from Mexico with enough solid punches Friday night to win a unanimous decision in a good 10-round match at Madison Square Garden. Anahuac weighed 128, Berrios 128 1/2.
