Estes Would Take 2d Place; Ave, Adlai Confident of First

Ave
CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Averell Harriman was praised as a "good fighter" by former President Truman Friday soon after the New Yorker flew here to challenge Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

But Truman wasn't saying—until today — whether Harriman or Stevenson is his favorite for the nomination.

Harriman called at Truman's suite in the Blackstone Hotel and talked with him about 10 minutes. Afterward, they stood smiling and shaking hands in the doorway while photographers and newsmen shot pictures and questions.

"Was it a successful conference?" Truman was asked. Truman replied that any conference with Harriman was successful.

"Do you think he is a good fighter?" a newsman asked, recalling that Truman has said the nominee should be that kind of man.

"Harriman's a good fighter," said Truman. Harriman expressed confidence he would win the nomination and said he would not withdraw from the race even if Truman supported Stevenson.

Harriman flew here from Buffalo, N.Y., and was greeted at Midway Airport by supporters carrying home-made placards with such slogans as: "FDR, HST — Now Ave." "Labor for Harriman," and "Win with Harriman."

Harriman spoke briefly with newsmen at the airport, and was told that Truman wanted a fighter. "I've been a fighter all my life," Harriman commented.

Then the governor reiterated his demand for a strong civil rights plank in the party platform.

He said he believed the plank specifically should endorse the Supreme Court decisions in favor of desegregation. He said the Democratic party should recognize the decisions of the Supreme Court in this respect, and to state that they are the law of the land.

Harriman held that "we face a compelling need for putting into practice the human and civil rights guaranteed by the Constitution for all of our citizens."

He said also he believed "that if the Democratic party is to continue to be an instrument of the people, which it has been, it must take a clear-cut position on the basic issues that affect the lives and welfare of our people."

Harriman headquarters announced that Phileo Nash, Wisconsin Democratic state chairman and former White House aide under Truman, had pledged to support the Harriman candidacy.

Still Hunt 260 Men In Flemish Mine

MARCINELLE, Belgium (AP) — Rescuers Friday night reached tunnels 3,000 feet below the surface of the burning Bois de Casier coal mine where 260 miners have been trapped nearly three days.

Authorities said there was breathable air at the 3,000-foot level. Thursday and early Friday a cloud of smoke and gas prevented rescuers reaching that depth.

Efforts to reach the trapped men now have been hampered by a cave-in at the bottom of the shaft the rescuers are using.

MAN DROWNS

KEOKUK (AP) — Albert Duncan, Niota, Ill., was drowned last Thursday when he attempted to rescue his five-year-old son, John, who had fallen overboard from a motorboat in Lake Keokuk about 15 miles north of here.

Estes
CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee said Friday he "probably would accept" the Democratic vice-presidential nomination if it were offered to him. Kefauver said that "if a majority of delegates, party leaders and the presidential nominee felt it would make a substantial contribution to the success of the party, I would consider it very seriously and probably would accept it."

The Tennessee senator last month withdrew his own bid for the presidential nomination and urged his supporters to back Adlai E. Stevenson.

Kefauver visited Stevenson Friday night and then told newsmen: "He has enough delegates to be nominated."

Kefauver said the vice-presidential nomination was not discussed in his chat with Stevenson. The senator was met by a combination of his own routers and Stevenson supporters. Mrs. Edison Dick, co-chairman of the national Stevenson for President Committee, pinned a blue and white "Adlai" button on Kefauver's lapel.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The first hurricane of the year developed in the Atlantic Friday and hurricane warnings were posted near Puerto Rico.

Britain Delays Arms To Middle East Crisis

LONDON (AP) — Britain Friday braked her build-up of military power in the Middle East under mounting pressure for a peaceful settlement of the Suez Canal crisis.

The slowdown came as Western diplomats spread the word of an American-British-French plan to guarantee the freedom and international control of the waterway as part of a compromise settlement with Egypt.

Backers of the plan hope for a new international treaty to govern the use of Suez and conditional recognition of Egypt's nationalization of the canal and its installations.

Prime Minister Eden and his military chiefs ordered a second postponement of a mammoth troop lift to the Mediterranean, then announced withdrawal of two parachute battalions from Cyprus, Britain's Middle East military headquarters.

The official war office explanation was that the parachute troops are coming home to continue their training, for which better facilities are available here than on Cyprus.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser's Egyptian regime meantime challenged Britain's right to have called next week's London conference on the Suez dispute and charged Eden is trying to belittle Nasser in the eyes of the Egyptian people.

A statement issued by the Egyptian embassy here served the first official notice that Egypt will boycott the projected 24-nation conference fixed to open next Thursday.

Egypt took the same line as Soviet Russia did Thursday by questioning the composition of the conference and declared further the participants will be left with "no choice other than to accept the British point of view."

The British Foreign Office admitted bewilderment about the meaning of Russia's critical reply to the invitation. The Soviet gov-

CHICAGO (AP) — Political hopefuls followed the already worn path to the door of former president Harry Truman's suite Thursday. Adlai Stevenson made it in first. He and Truman stretched what was scheduled as a 10-minute visit to a half hour talk.

There was nothing to indicate that Stevenson got the word from Truman on the latter's presidential choice.

"I feel just as good today as I did yesterday and the day before," Stevenson said. To a question of what he and Truman discussed, Stevenson flipped back word that "We decided to elect a Democratic president."

A close friend of both Truman and Stevenson said he got the idea Truman would give his political blessing to Harriman. Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina visited Stevenson Friday and told reporters when he came out: "Mr. Stevenson still is the best man."

He said he was shocked when Stevenson called for strong approval of the Supreme Court's decision against public school segregation. But Hodges said he feels much better now.

The governor said that Stevenson's civil rights statement "is much more understandable" when considered in the light of the fact that "he's got to run for the whole country."

The proposed increases would boost coach fares from the present 3.54 cents a mile to 3.72 cents a mile. First-class rates would be upped from 4.725 to .851 cents a mile.

Under the proposed first-class rates, minimum rail sleeping accommodations from New York to Chicago would cost $76.50 compared with $49.61 for a first-class airline ticket. The present rail fare is $55.25.

The lines asking for a 45 per cent boost in first-class rates were the Central, the Pennsylvania, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Norfolk & Western, the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore and the Lake Erie.

Britain, however, brushed off the Russian bid to recast and postpone the meeting. Officials said it will begin Thursday as arranged, with or without the Russians.

In Washington top American officials were described Friday as slightly more optimistic about chances of settling the Suez Canal crisis without the use of military force.

They were reported to regard the situation as still critical. But they were also said to believe that secret diplomatic work and the "moral pressure" of world opinion have begun to exert a calming influence which will be felt at the London conference next week.

In keeping with these views, Secretary of State Dulles Thursday discounted the possibility that an emergency session of Congress might be summoned to deal with the crisis, Dulles said.

1. Told Washington newsmen President Eisenhower called congressional leaders to a meeting Sunday because Eisenhower "feels very strongly about sharing responsibilities with Congress, particularly if there should be any risk of hostilities."

2. Expressed doubt a delay in the eyes of the Egyptian people. A statement issued by the Egyptian embassy here served the first official notice that Egypt will boycott the projected 24-nation conference fixed to open next Thursday.

As he left by plane for a review of the Middle East picture with UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in New York, said: "There is nothing which would now suggest the need for a special with Hammarskjold, Dulles told session of Congress."

After lunching in New York later newsmen he did not ask the secretary general to take any action in the Suez crisis. He said they merely reviewed the general situation in the Middle East.

RR Propose 45% Rail Fare Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Eastern railroads, including the New York Central and the Pennsylvania, Friday proposed a whopping 45 per cent increase in the first-class passenger fares — a step that would make such travel on their lines far more expensive than flying.

These railroads and two others also petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission for a five per cent hike in basic coach fares.

The ICC probably won't take final action on the request for at least six months.

In their petition, the railroads said they lost 1 1/2 billion dollars on their passenger operations in the past 10 years — an average of about 125 million dollars a year.

And this year, they reported, their losses are running even higher.

In confirming persistent reports that big fare increases would be sought, the Central and Pennsylvania — which together carry about 25 per cent of the nation's rail passengers — joined in a statement which said:

"We have found it imperative to take bold action to put our fare structure on a realistic basis. "By this we mean bringing it to a level at which the type of service offered by our railroads will reflect the cost of such service."

The statement did not provide any estimate of how much first-class passenger traffic the railroad would lose by a 45 per cent hike in fares — neither did it say in so many words that higher fares would compensate for any loss in passenger traffic.

The proposed increases would boost coach fares from the present 3.54 cents a mile to 3.72 cents a mile. First-class rates would be upped from 4.725 to .851 cents a mile.

Under the proposed first-class rates, minimum rail sleeping accommodations from New York to Chicago would cost $76.50 compared with $49.61 for a first-class airline ticket. The present rail fare is $55.25.

The lines asking for a 45 per cent boost in first-class rates were the Central, the Pennsylvania, the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Norfolk & Western, the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore and the Lake Erie.

The Weather

Cloudy and Cooler

Iowa Citizens can expect cooler thermometer readings for the next four days through Wednesday. According to the weatherman the temperature will read from two to five degrees below normal for that period. Normal temperatures range from 62-86 degrees. High today will be about 80 degrees. Sunday will be partly cloudy with some thundershowers late in the day.

SUI's Dean Nelson Named Director of Life Assurance Co.

DES MOINES (AP) — Dr. Norman E. Nelson, dean of the College of Medicine at the State University of Iowa, Friday was elected a director of Central Life Assurance Co.

"Dr. Nelson has an outstanding record in the fields of public health and medical administration," W. F. Poorman, Central Life president, said. "Life insurance companies are vitally interested in public health, and Dr. Nelson's membership on the board will contribute a great deal to the company's policy decisions."

Poorman announced that new business written by Central Life during the first half of 1956 totaled $28,860,111, an increase of 13 per cent over the same period of 1955. Insurance in force in the company reached $447,989,813 by mid-year and assets totaled $144,795,336.

'Too Ske-eny' Highlanders May Need 2 Ships To Return

The general European opinion seems to be American girls are "too ske-eny." At least, that's what SUI's Scottish Highlanders have been told in Holland, Germany, France and Italy.

But if the corn-fed lassies continue eating in European style they soon may weigh up to European standards. At first, many of the group were astonished at the quantity and richness of continental cooking. All meals have several courses, each one large enough to be considered a full meal by U. S. standards. Everywhere they go, they find regional specialties and national dishes which the waiter insists must be sampled.

In addition, the girls are acquiring the European habit of mid-morning and mid-afternoon snacks. The pastry shops are tempting with their fancy cakes and rolls while the restaurants are enticing with their desserts and sandwiches.

In short, if the present eating habits continue for the remainder of the trip, the 9,000 pounds of Highlanders who left Iowa City may not be "too ske-eny."

Switch Issues As Rights Query Erupts

CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic platform drafters, trying to hold steam below the blowoff point heard demands Friday for adoption of a strong civil rights plank and a Dixie warning this would cost the party the election.

The strategy through hours of hearings all was aimed at stopping any big North-South civil rights row before it could start Friday it worked.

It was Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr., who warned Friday of a Dixie bolt and loss of the election to the GOP if the Democrats insist on backing at next week's National Convention the Supreme Court's decision barring segregation in public schools.

Former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia sized things up in far stronger language: "If the Democrats adopt a platform approving the decision it will 'smash the Democratic party' and 'they can kiss the south goodbye.'"

He added a quick assurance that "we don't want to get out of the party," but:

"We have been as conciliatory as we can. We've sat there and listened to insults. They've questioned our loyalty. But if they throw this thing at us, they can kiss us goodbye."

Battle is a member of the platform committee. The former governor spoke out after Gov. Timmerman testified.

The governor, a leader in marshalling Southern opposition to the court decision, took the witness chair after the Platform Committee had heard insistent demands by Northern lawmakers, labor union leaders and others urging a strong civil rights stand. He said:

"A profederal civil rights plank infringing upon the constitutional rights of the states and their people, a prointegration plank, or any approval of the school desegregation decision will insure a Democratic defeat in November."

"It would be an outright endorsement of the Republican administration."

Cooling-off efforts in the platform committee were led by Southern members. They refrained from firing at Northern witnesses demanding a school desegregation plank questions that might have touched off explosive debate.

The hold-down was helped along by sandwiching witnesses backing less controversial measures between those advocating party endorsement of the Supreme Court desegregation edict.

How long the truce would last was uncertain. Many witnesses still were to be heard. Plans to wind up the hearings Friday had to be junked.

Only toward the end Friday did the air of tension in the crowded committee room begin to relax. Chairman John McCormack sat on the lid.

After one noisy outburst, when AFL-CIO President George Meany demanded that the party meet the civil rights issue "head on," Rep. McCormack requested no further "manifestations."

This was the first time in the hearings, which started Monday, that the chairman has attempted to shut off applause.

But the audience ignored the chairman's request by cheering Sen. Herbert Lehman of New York when he was called to give his recommendations on civil rights.

Meany, who was flanked by other officials of his big labor organization, told the platform drafters any failure on the part of the Democratic convention to come out plainly in support of the court decision would be considered by labor as "a deliberate evasion of this vital issue."

The second witness to plead for endorsement of the court's school decision was Richard Stengel, Democratic candidate for senator from Illinois.

A Rock Island lawyer, Stengel argued that the states did not have a legal right to "discriminate against and segregate Negro citizens."

PREPARATION of the San Francisco Cow Palace for the Republican presidential convention which starts Aug. 20 is just about complete. The large banner with the medalion bearing the imprinted heads of President Eisenhower and Abraham Lincoln is the latest addition to the hall. The podium (center) and press facilities are all that have to be completed. "Peace and Prosperity" is the centennial year slogan for the Republicans.

A Difficult Task

From the Christian Science Monitor

To West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer the path of full and zealous cooperation with the West must at times seem very difficult.

By dint of several years' hard work he and his closest colleagues succeeded a month ago in getting a draft law passed by which men can be called for service in West Germany's projected 500,000-man army. Now he is faced with a prospect that the United States and Britain in the next few years will pull several divisions out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces which his 12 divisions were intended to reinforce.

The Bonn government has expressed alarm over the purported Radford plan to pare 800,000 men from the American armed services by 1960 and leave only a token force in Europe—where the 15 NATO divisions (including six American and four British) seem small enough to face 63 Soviet and satellite divisions.

West Germany was assured that the United States will not cut its manpower in Europe without consulting its NATO allies, will maintain its draft law, and will make no troop reductions that weaken combat strength.

But if any troops are withdrawn from Germany, even though those that are left are braced with nuclear weapons, it may be considerably harder to convince Germans that it is important for them to supply a meaningful contingent in the NATO forces. On this point the Social Democratic opposition is pressing Chancellor Adenauer hard. They mean to make an issue of the conscription law in next year's elections. And they argue that rearmament in alliance with the West is making reunification with Soviet-dominated East Germany practically impossible.

A good many Germans apparently are swinging away from Dr. Adenauer and his attachment to the West. The heads of the Free Democratic Party, formerly part of his coalition, now are not disturbed at a prospect that gradual reduction of allied troops in Germany may "make room" for the German forces that are being built up. And a recent poll by the Institute of Public Opinion Research indicated that 54 per cent of West Germans now favor neutrality between East and West.

If Germans are realistic about it they should realize that to defend their country as a neutral zone would probably take a considerably larger and more expensive force than to defend it in conjunction with an alliance. But some of them might be increasingly willing to devote resources to a military establishment which could be used in their own interests for leverage between East and West. Herein lies a great danger in revived German military power.

On the other hand, some Germans have a deep dread of being caught in the middle of an atomic war. Others, even favorable to the West, do not relish the thought of being overrun by Communist might and having to wait for liberation.

If the United States and Britain wish to keep West Germany an interested member of the Western alliance they probably must resolve, even at some discomfort to themselves, to maintain enough forces in Germany to encourage Germans to build up forces beside them. The Germans still may be drawn toward neutralism, but at least any change in American arms systems ought to be slow enough to give them time to think out their decision.

Mustered Out

From the New York Times

The Grand Army of the Republic—and the last of the soldiers of the Union forces—died recently with Albert Woolson in St. Luke's Hospital in Duluth. Mr. Woolson was 17 years old when he enlisted in the First Minnesota Heavy Artillery Regiment in 1864. It has been said that the Civil War was fought by boys. There were many on both sides who would be in high school if they were at their enlistment age today.

Mr. Woolson withstood for nearly eleven decades the canonading of the years, and he had what his physician called "a deep-seated interest and drive"—a stalwart quality, indeed.

Now we salute him as he marches off into the mists of history. Of the men who wore the blue at Gettysburg and Vicksburg, and on Lookout Mountain, and in the Wilderness, and in other battles whose names are only locally remembered, of all those who died of disease in camp and of wounds, in one of the most magnificent armies that ever trod this earth, Mr. Woolson was the last survivor, and now there is no survivor. Only three men remain among the equally formidable soldiers once commanded by Gen. Robert E. Lee.

The battle music dies down and the flags are in the museums and the State Houses. Now the old war is only a story of men whose bones are ashes, dispassionately at last and without ill will. May the Grand Army rest in peace, and that other army, too.

Letter to the Editor

Writer Defends Williams' Incident; Says More Individualists Needed

TO THE EDITOR:

The Daily Iowan Friday printed a long editorial criticizing Ted Williams for his "spitting" activities during Tuesday's Boston Red Sox game. Everyone to his own opinion, of course, but I feel Mr. Williams is in the right. There must be other individualists who heroically applaud and endorse Ted Williams' behavior.

Sympathetic fans, baseball and otherwise, will agree that spectators have no license to boo an honest error. Such vulgar action deserves equally vulgar retaliation.

At least you admit that baseball fans are fickle. Actually most crowds are worse than fickle—they're only two degrees removed from apathy. One has only to witness football stands yelling in jubilation because of movement or non-movement of a ball, or crowds shouting "oles" at passes flirring with death in the bullring, or hotdog-munching thousands blasé about an accident to a driver or horse on the track, to realize how senseless crowd action can be.

SPECTATOR SPORTS have distilled spectators into automaton who react in unison and by rote. The true aficionado of the game for the game's sake is a rare specimen these days. He is lost in the uproar. Why should a man of Mr. Williams' caliber be subjected to the whims of such fans? Let him spit—after all, he was one against 36,350 fans present at the game. And on the last point, the rugged individualists will rally to Mr. Williams' cause. Here surely was a fearless man. The supreme contempt of spitting at the fans, and the deliberateness of making certain that those to the right and to the left were equally spit at is to be cheered. And in addition, they were cash paying customers doing their bit to pay Mr. Williams' salary—as the Daily Iowan naively pointed out. Sir, that makes it all the more wondrous.

YOU SAY Mr. Williams should remember that if it weren't for the fans there would not be baseball on a professional level. Let's turn that around and say that if it were not for players such as Mr. Williams there wouldn't be professional baseball for fans to watch. Individualism is what makes baseball and life interesting. No one can deny that Mr. Williams is certainly individual!

Finally, I do not think it is a "democratic right" for spectators to boo. Booing is not only rude but also a childish reaction—exactly what your writer is criticizing in Mr. Williams. Let the spectators grow up. Without provocation Mr. Williams would not be letting off steam in the liquid state.

Anyway, the incident has made amusing reading in a week fraught with Suez reverberations and political haranguing. I say best of luck to Mr. Williams—may he never run dry.

HST Still Won't Divulge His Presidential Nominee Choice

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry S. Truman turned tantalizing sphinx Friday to keep pacesetter Adlai E. Stevenson and Averell Harriman guessing uneasily on his choice for the Democratic presidential nomination.

From the Stevenson camp came one report that Truman had decided Harriman is his man, but Stevenson backers said he had it in the bag, regardless.

Stevenson himself told reporters that yes, he thinks he can capture the nomination at next week's Democratic National Convention with or without Truman's support. His campaign manager, James E. Finnegan, exuded equal optimism.

Truman apparently made up his mind definitely Friday on the person to embrace in the intriguing game of political post office whirling merrily through convention preliminaries.

But the former President wasn't saying yet. He did set the time and place for announcing his preference—a 3:30 p.m. (EST) news conference Saturday.

Among other pre-convention highlights: Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee hit town—no longer a presidential aspirant but thinking about a second place spot on the party ticket.

The Wisconsin state Democratic chairman, Philco Nash, spoke up for Harriman's nomination in a public statement. A former administrative assistant to Truman, Nash said the choice is between "moderation in the interests of party unity" and a "vigorous program of human betterment inviting the widest possible support."

Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina, another arrival on the convention scene, called Stevenson a "good man" but wouldn't say whether he would support him actively. He said he still was "a little shocked" by Stevenson's call Tuesday for an "unequivocal" endorsement by the party platform of the Supreme Court decision banning racial segregation in public schools.

But attention focused mainly on Presidential hopefuls and their supporters, who ardently wooed Truman's support in pilgrimages to his fifth-floor suite in the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel.

Stevenson made it in first, and said he got the idea Truman would give his political blessing to Harriman. Even if Truman does, there is no assurance he could start a Harriman bandwagon rolling. Stevenson still has more pledged delegates than anybody else and remains the odds-on favorite to grab the nomination.

Finnegan says 630 of the 686 votes required for nomination already are sewed up for Stevenson. He told questioners he believes Stevenson can capture the nomination even if Truman teams up with Harriman. Other Stevenson lieutenants echoed that view after a strategy huddle.

The Harriman camp lays claim to 350 to 400 convention votes. In any event, the line-up is such that Stevenson might suffer less damage than Harriman from a Truman snub.

For Harriman, a rejection by Truman might be near fatal to his chances, since at best he never has been more than a runner-up. It was after a bit of hesitant thinking that Stevenson came out with "I think so" in response to a question whether he thought he could pick off the big prize without Truman's help.

Highlander's Trip Sparks Reunion

It took five years and a 4,900-mile journey over land and sea before the John Cunningham family of Iowa City could hold a family reunion, but they finally made it this week in Paris, France.

The original idea to hold the reunion across the Atlantic began when the Cunningham's 19-year-old daughter, Sheila, C4, signed up to tour Europe with the SU1 Scottish Highlanders.

"Since we had two sons stationed in Europe and Sheila was going to be traveling through there this summer," said John Cunningham, 1427 Muscatine Ave., "we decided the best way to get the family together would be for us all to meet in Europe."

July 19 found Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham and their youngest son, Michael, 20, aboard the Queen Mary bound for France. Also aboard was Sheila, who is a bagpiper in the 72 all-girl SU1 bagpipe and drum band.

By bus, car and train the Cunninghams converged on Paris to hold their first family reunion since 1951. John Cunningham Jr., a 29-year-old jet fighter pilot and his wife, Peggy, drove to Paris from Chambley Air Base near Metz, France. The Cunningham's second eldest son, Jerry, 22, an airman stationed in Kaiserslautern, Germany, was granted leave to meet his family. A round of sight-seeing and reminiscing marked the Cunningham's three-day reunion.

To add an extra touch to the get-together, a future member of the Cunningham family took part in the reunion. Sheila's fiance, Pfc. James M. Hogan of Iowa City, joined the group. He is stationed with the army in Braconne, France.

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Michael and Sheila left for the British Isles Tuesday where Sheila will participate in concerts and other performances with the Highlanders.

National Guard Units Go on Trip
National Guard men of the 34th Division Reconnaissance company and the Clearing Company of the 109th Medical Battalion left this morning at 6:45 a.m. for a two week field training trip at Camp Ripley, Minn.

Five other guard units from southeast Iowa picked up the local unit on their way to Albert Lea where they will spend an overnight bivouac. Sunday morning they will continue onto Camp Ripley.

As part of the field training, the units will engage in weapons firing on the ranges and in special tactical problems. One of the medical company's responsibilities will be to set up a hospital for use by the Iowa-Nebraska Guard Division.

The two units will return from Minnesota Aug. 26. A third local guard unit, part of the 224th Engineering Battalion will return next Sunday from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., where they are on a field training trip.

Hoegh Declares October 'Parent-Teacher' Month
DES MOINES (AP)—Gov. Leo Hoegh issued a proclamation Friday, designating the month of October as "Iowa Parent-Teacher Membership Enrollment Month" in Iowa.

He urged that "all citizens and groups interested in the welfare of our young people unite in this membership drive, to advance the program of the parent-teacher organizations and to promote intelligent, cooperative planning with other community groups."

MORE WATER
ALBIA (AP)—Restrictions on the use of Albion municipal water were removed Thursday as a result of rainfall totaling 11 inches since July 1. Upper Lake is now at overflow stage and Lower Lake has risen two feet, thus replenishing Albion's sources of supply.

POLIO CASE REPORTED
DES MOINES (AP)—The 11th Des Moines case of polio this year was reported Friday by the city health department. The patient is Thomas Watson, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Watson. In Polk County outside Des Moines, seven cases of polio have been reported this year.

Will Win Without HST's Help: Adlai

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, the leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Friday he thinks he can win even without the blessing of Harry S. Truman.

Aides who shared his opinion made it clear that they "very much" want the former President's endorsement.

Stevenson and his strategists alike stated they have no inkling of the choice Truman plans to announce today.

Stevenson's campaign manager, James Finnegan, has estimated that Stevenson has 630 delegate votes ready for delivery at next week's nominating session. That's just 56 2/3 short of the number required to win.

Stevenson paid a call on Truman Friday morning—his second visit in two days—and was in the suite almost a half hour. Then he and Truman shook hands twice while photographers put the scene on film.

Stevenson's brisk afternoon walk down Michigan Avenue brought him to the Conrad Hilton Hotel. He moved into his convention operating base on the 23rd floor.

On his list of callers were Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma; George Mahoney, chairman of the Maryland delegation; F. J. Donohue, who was manager of Sen. Kefauver's abandoned campaign for the presidential nomination; Robert Short, chairman of the Minnesota delegation; Matthew McCloskey, treasurer of the Democratic National Committee. Sen. Lehman of New York was his companion at dinner.

Stevenson lunched with Sen. Anderson. Stevenson said they talked about agriculture. Anderson has been mentioned as a vice-presidential possibility.

File Petition for $12,012 Judgement

A petition for a $12,012.75 judgment was filed in district court at Iowa City Friday. Damages are claimed as a result of an auto accident on Highway 218 May 29, 1955. Plaintiffs in the case are Vesta M. Koch and Wayne L. Koch. Jesse W. Hill is the defendant.

The plaintiff's auto, a 1948 M.G., valued at $1,400 was damaged beyond repair. The car was valued at $150 after collision.

As a result of the accident, the plaintiffs are seeking the following damages: for pain and suffering, present and future, $10,000; medical services, past and future, $400; a loss of wages due to injuries, $300; towing of auto $1,250; and cost of value, $67.75.

Corn Crop Hits Low In July, August

DES MOINES (AP)—Iowa's corn prospects declined during July and on Aug. 1 indications were for a total crop of 468,996,000 bushels, the Iowa Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said Friday.

The Aug. 1 forecast holds true, it would be 10 per cent less than the 1955 production of 522,200,000 bushels and 13 per cent less than the 1945-54 ten-year average of 539,996,000 bushels.

The indicated yield as of Aug. 1 was 44 bushels to the acre, compared with 49.5 bushels per acre in 1955 and the ten-year average of 50.2 bushels.

WSUI Adopts Summer Broadcasting Schedule

(Special to The Daily Iowan)
Radio Station WSUI is now operating on its summer vacation schedule, beginning its broadcast days — Monday through Saturday — at 8 a.m. and signing off the air at 2:15 p.m. While operating on its shortened schedule, the University radio station will continue broadcasting many of its regular programs, but it will also feature some special programs, and several new series of broadcasts.

The first special broadcast will be this morning at 11:30 a.m. when WSUI will feature Dr. Robert S. Michaelson, director of the SUI School of Religion, delivering the 1956 Summer Commencement address, which was originally given at the Commencement ceremonies Wednesday at the Fieldhouse. Dr. Michaelson's address deals with "Freedom and Conformity."

Three new program series are now beginning on WSUI. This morning and succeeding Saturday mornings at 8:30, WSUI listeners will attend Little Orchestra Society "public dress rehearsals," featuring unusual and seldom-heard music of different periods. Mr. David Randolph introduces the various works and occasionally comments on the music.

"The Waiting People," a new series which will begin at 9 a.m. Monday, is a humanitarian program dealing with the world refugee problem. WSUI's program director, Lee Eitzen, describes the series as "gripping" in its presentation.

The third new program series is "American Foreign Policy Conference," which will be heard Thursday mornings at 8:30.

It features lectures on general and specific aspects of American foreign policy. The lectures were originally presented at the annual Colgate University Foreign Policy Conference, which was held on the Colgate campus July 2-6. Lecturers are well-known journalists and government officials.

Tax Money Misused Says Loveless

EXIRA — Nearly 70 million dollars in tax money is lying in big city banks without collecting any interest, Herschel Loveless, Democratic candidate for governor said Friday night.

In remarks prepared for a Democratic dinner meeting here, Loveless urged that this money be invested in short term securities. Failure to do so, he said, is costing Iowa taxpayers about $1,400,000 a year in interest the funds could be earning.

"This is just a sample of the many questionable business practices on Capitol Hill. It is just one of many careless practices which have helped bring Iowa to the sad position of being one of the four highest tax states in the nation.

"It is costing each man, woman and child in Iowa $170 for state and local government now. Yet our present governor is talking about calling a special session of a lame duck Legislature to explore how taxes can be raised some more."

Student Gets Training At Aircraft Company

Norman Chudacoff, E3, LeMars, is among a group of 63 technical students from 26 colleges and universities throughout the nation taking part in the "summer student" technical program at Boeing Airplane Company's Wichita, Kan., division.

Chudacoff was among 600 applicants for the summertime project, which was initiated four years ago to give students first-hand experience in aircraft engineering assignments. A monthly salary and transportation costs are paid by the company to the students.

Chudacoff was a summer student in 1955 with the Western Division of Servo Mechanisms in California.

Boeing's Wichita plants are engaged in quantity production of the B47 Stratofortress medium bomber and B52 global bomber for the Air Force.

Offer Six Stipends To Nurses

Six traineeships for graduate nurses preparing for positions as administrators, supervisors or teachers in nursing schools or hospitals will be awarded by the SUI College of Nursing this fall, Dean Myrtle Kitchell Aydelotte of the college said.

The stipends will cover the cost of tuition and related fees, as well as a subsistence allowance and some travel allotment. Money for the traineeships is being made available to the University by the U.S. Public Health Service under the Health Amendments Act recently passed by Congress.

The act authorizes use of two million dollars throughout the country during 1956-57 for advanced preparation of nurses for administrative, supervisory and teaching positions. The SUI College of Nursing is the only institution in Iowa which offers graduate training for nurses.

Nurses already enrolled in graduate programs will be eligible to apply for the traineeships, as well as those not yet enrolled. The traineeships will be given to individual nurses by educational institutions, not by the Public Health Service. Necessary funds will be granted by the surgeon-general directly to participating institutions.

Details concerning the awards will be sent by Dean Aydelotte to directors of nursing service in all Iowa hospitals and to directors of nursing schools in Iowa.

Prospective candidates for the traineeships at SUI may obtain additional information by writing to the SUI College of Nursing, where applications are now being considered.

SUI Prof To Attend Wyoming U. Meeting

Prof. C. Woody Thompson, director of SUI Bureau of Business and Economic Research, will attend the Missouri Basin Research and Development Council conference at the University of Wyoming next Friday and Saturday.

Thompson has been chairman of the MBRDC since its organization in 1954. Members include state, federal and college and university specialists in the region from Missouri to Montana.

The conference will open with a session of four research reports on the topic "Learning to Live in the Great Plains," including the area's mineral and recreational resources and its general economic conditions.

Healthy Runner Wins Peak Race

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — A nonsmoking vegetarian scuttled up and down 14,110 foot Pikes Peak Friday and won an endurance test against smokers.

Monte Wolford, 28, a Colorado Springs physical culture enthusiast, finished the grueling 24.6-mile run into the clouds and back in 5 hours, 39 minutes, 58 seconds.

Fifteen runners, aged 15 to 56, turned out for the event on the steep peak more famous for auto climbs.

Only three were smokers. One dropped out after making it to the top.

Bob Crosby's Wife Sues for Divorce

LOS ANGELES — Bandleader Bob Crosby was sued for divorce Friday by his wife, June, who charged he had beaten her.

Mrs. Crosby also asked Superior Court to restrain him from molesting her pending trial of the divorce suit.

Bob Crosby's youngest brother and the former June Kubn, a Chicago debutante, were married in 1938. They have five children.

In her petition for support, Mrs. Crosby said her husband's earnings from his band and television shows last year approximated $150,000. She estimated his current earnings at $8,500 a month.

No Luxuries, But We're Going to Canada

MRS. JOHN EBERT, 30 Prospect Place, made last minute adjustments before this group of Iowa Mountaineers left Iowa City Friday night on a 1,700 mile trip to the Canadian Rockies. Some of the group will travel in their specially constructed, van-type bus and others will travel in private autos. They will be gone two to three weeks. Mrs. Ebert is the wife of Mountaineer president John Ebert, who is leading the group.

Eight Seamen Burned In German Ship Blast

LEWES, Del. — Eight seamen were badly burned Friday in an explosion on the in-bound German freighter Heidberg at the mouth of Delaware Bay.

The Coast Guard issued a preliminary report that 10 had been killed in the shattering blast, but later reported there were no known deaths.

The tremendous explosion destroyed the bridge of the 1,595-ton vessel and reduced the crew's quarters below decks to shambles.

The blast occurred as the Heidberg picked up a pilot for the passage up Delaware Bay and Delaware River to unload iron ore for the U.S. Steel Corp. at Philadelphia.

A fire which followed the explosion was extinguished quickly. The Cunard Steamship Co. agents for the freighter in Philadelphia said the Heidberg normally carries 30 officers and men, all German nationals.

Stassen Gives Drive Details To GOP Heads

WASHINGTON — Harold Stassen said Friday he is writing 5,000 GOP leaders details of his drive to sidetrack Vice-President Nixon and get the GOP vice-presidential nomination for Massachusetts Gov. Christian Herter.

Stassen told a news conference he believed that if he hadn't kicked up a furor over the vice-presidency, the issue would have been opened by the Democrats "even if the Republicans closed their eyes to it."

But Sen. Andrew Schoepel (R-Kan.), who heads the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee, said he thinks the Stassen drive "has consolidated and solidified the Nixon sentiment all over the country."

Both Nixon and Stassen called at the White House Friday, but neither disclosed the nature of their discussions. Stassen met briefly with Sherman Adams, top presidential aide, and Nixon said he had had one of his "regular meetings" with Eisenhower.

Man Confesses 10 Year Old Killing; Waives Extradition

SIoux CITY — Eagle Logan Christopher, 57, Friday waived extradition to Miami, Fla. in connection with a double slaying in which he said he was involved 10 years ago.

Christopher, who has lived in Sioux City about a year, walked into the police station Aug. 2 and said he wanted to confess.

He told officers that on the night of July 4, 1946 he and a companion picked up a man and wife who were hitchhiking near Miami and made a round of several taverns with them. He said his companion made advances toward the woman and shot the husband when he intervened.

Christopher said the woman drew a knife and she struck her, breaking her neck. He told police both bodies were dumped in a canal.

Deputy Sheriff Andy Borders of Dade County, Fla. has arrived here and will return Christopher to Miami today.

Police said Florida authorities reported finding a body in May, 1952 near the spot where the man and woman were supposed to have been killed.

Browns Blast 'Stars, 26-0 On Groza's 4 Field Goals

Punchless Collegians Never Threat

CHICAGO (AP) — Lou Groza, 32-year-old, 240-pound pro veteran of 11 seasons, methodically booted a record four field goals to lead the Cleveland Browns to a dull 26-0 victory over the College All-Stars before 75,000 at Soldier Field Friday night.

Groza took scoring honors with 14 points and broke the former high of three field goals in an All-Star game. Ted Weed of Ohio State kicked three for the All-Stars in last year's 30-27 upset of the Browns and in the 1959 game Ward Cuff kicked one and Ken Strong two in a 9-0 New York Giant triumph.

The collegians' furthest advance in a woefully weak offensive showing was to Cleveland's 34 in the first period, and it was inevitable they suffered their 14th defeat against seven victories and two ties in the series.

George Ratterman's passing and plunging by big Ed Modzelewski were all the offensive punch the Browns needed to go with Groza's magic toe.

All the fire seemed to go out of the collegians when Michigan State's Earl Morrall was hurt on the fifth play of the game and had to leave the game for the entire first half.

Iowa's Jerry Reichow came in to replace Morrall and on his first play tossed a long heave which the Browns' Warren Lahr intercepted in the end zone.

The Browns took over on the 20 and marched 80 yards to score in 12 plays with Ratterman mixing three successful passes with Modzelewski's line smashing to reach the All-Star 13.

Here, Ratterman cleverly arched a short pass to Fred Morrison on the dead run toward the sideline and the Brown halfback easily outraced the All-Star defenders into the end zone for a touchdown. Groza added the point for a 7-0 Cleveland lead.

Early in the second period, the Browns toyed with the All-Stars for a half-dozen plays and then Groza booted an official 38-yard field goal, with the ball being held on the 47.

An interception of a pass by Navy's George Welsh set up another field goal by Groza still in the second period. This time, the official distance was 30, but the ball was toed by Groza from the All-Star 37 as Cleveland went ahead 13-0.

Two more Groza field goals came in a dull third period in which the Browns moved ahead 19-0 and the All-Stars couldn't get moving, even though Morrall came back to start the second half for the collegians.

The final Brown points came on a 3-yard touchdown run by rookie halfback Gene Filipinski in the fourth quarter.

Scoring summary: Cleveland Browns 7 6 6 7—36 College All-Stars 0 0 0 0—0 Browns scoring: Touchdowns, Morrison 15-yard, pass-run; Filipinski 3-yard run. Conversions, Groza 2. Field goals, Groza (4) 38, 30, 24, 27.

Boone Amateur in Sani Open Lead

DES MOINES (AP) — Dr. Charles Udegaff, Boone amateur, paced the early qualifiers Friday as play opened in the Herman Sani Open tournament at the Des Moines Golf and Country Club.

Udegaff turned in a one-over-par 73 and was the only one of the inaugural field of 125 to come within in halting distance of par during the day.

Most of the qualifying action was scheduled for Saturday when approximately 175 more contenders, including most of the professionals, will make their rounds.

Only eight, including Andy Mocsary, Boone professional who led the pros in last year's event at Hyperion, managed to break 80 over the deceptive layout. Mocsary had a 75.

The 36-hole championship flight, reserved for all professionals and the 32 low amateurs in the qualifying round, will start play Sunday.

Paul Brown Quiet After Team's Win

CHICAGO (AP) — "Ours was no brilliant football victory," said the coach of the Cleveland Browns after his ball club had rubbed the College All-Stars, 26-0 Friday night.

Brown apparently didn't care to divulge any of his secrets for the 1956 National Football League season.

"Our kids felt no elation over this victory," said Brown, "and they know they'll have to be better in our league."

The Cleveland coach had little to say about the All-Stars except "Cassady (Howard, the All-American from Ohio State) is slippery, isn't he. He's a great runner."

Over in the All-Star locker room, coach Curly Lambeau was in a hurry to get away. Disgusted and dejected, Lambeau said the Browns were "great defensively."

"They'll beat anyone they play if they play that way," said the founder of the Green Bay Packers who no longer is coaching except for the All-Star classics.

"We weren't ready for them. We had too many injuries and a lot of players reported too late to do us much good," said Lambeau.

Boston won, 3-2.

Mantle's Double Beats Orioles, 5-4

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle's two-out ninth-inning double drove in Billy Martin from third base to give New York's American League leading Yankees a 5-4 victory over Baltimore Friday night.

The winning blow, Mantle's second double of the game, came off reliever Billy Loes. Martin had singled with two out and chugged all the way to third when the ball got past Tito Francona in right center.

New York, retaining an 8 1/2-game lead over second place Boston, trailed until the seventh against starter Ray Moore, who has yet to beat the Yankees in five life-time decisions. A walk and singles by Martin and Yogi Berra tied it in the seventh.

The Orioles took a 2-0 lead in the first against Whitey Ford on George Kell's single and Bob Nieman's 12th home run — an inside-the-park job on a tremendous 466-foot clout to center field. Dick Williams also homered for the Orioles.

It was Chicago's sixth win at Briggs Stadium without a setback. Al Kline's seventh-inning homer, his 23rd, ruined Donovan's shutout. Nellie Fox hit a seventh inning home run for the White Sox.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ted Williams, Sammy White and Dick Gernert smashed home runs off Chuck Stobbs to give Boston a 3-2 victory over Washington Friday night as Tom Brewer won his 16th game.

Williams, given a mixed reception of boos and cheers, blasted his 14th homer with none aboard in the first inning, but the Senators tied the score in the same inning when Whitey Herzog walked and came around on Pete Runnels' double.

Gernert's homer with two down and none on in the eighth was the decisive blow. It was his twelfth of the year.

Giants 7-2, Bucs 6-3
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bill Virdon's 7th homer of the year in the eighth inning Friday night gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 triumph over the New York Giants in a game that had been suspended July 1 after eight innings.

California Divers Gain Olympic Trip
DETROIT (AP) — Pat Keller McCormick, double Olympic gold medalist and young Gary Tobian led an all-California sweep in 10-meter platform berths Friday in U.S. Olympic diving tryouts.

Mrs. McCormick, 26-year-old Los Angeles housewife, came from behind with a spectacular final dive to beat out two old rivals in the women's highboard, Paula Jean Myers of Indian Springs, Calif., and Mrs. Juno Irwin of Pasadena, Calif.

Tobian, 20-year-old two-time national platform champion from Los Angeles, led the men's division. He finished well in front of Dick Connor, a Southern California graduate, and Willie Farrell of Los Angeles.

Jack Rule Goes To USGA Semifinal
WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Jack Rule of Waterloo, Iowa, stroked his way Friday into the semifinals of the USGA National Junior Golf championship.

The Iowa junior tilted gained the quarterfinals in the forenoon with a 1-up victory over John Lynch of Spokane, Wash., and came back in the afternoon to register another 1-up triumph over Dick Crawford of El Dorado, Ark.

Rule, an accurate putter, earned a three-footer on the 18th green to edge Crawford who missed a five-footer to halve.

The other semifinalists are Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, playing in his fourth national tourney; Edward Pfister of Buffalo, N. Y., and Harlan Stevenson of Long Beach, Calif.

Winger, Middlecoff Top Tam Golf
CHICAGO (AP) — Cary Middlecoff and Bo Winger topped a par-smashing frolic Friday through the second round of Tam O'Shanter's $101,200 men's pro "world" golf tournament with 36-hole totals of 135, nine under par.

Davenport's Jack Fleck, 1955 National Open champion, shot a 68 to go with his 71 of Thursday to stay a close four strokes behind the leaders.

Winger, the Odessa, Tex., pro who led the first round with a 7-under 65, dropped a six-foot birdie 3 putt on the last hole of a 34-36-70.

The two leaders could boast of only a one-stroke edge in the 72-hole romp for Sunday's championship payoff of $50,000.

So fascinated were the pros by golf's greatest money scramble that 51 of them in a field of 93 were under par for the distance.

Ball, of Oak Park, Ill., fired a 34-36-70 and Kroll, runner-up in the national PGA this year, banged out 34-35-69.

Barber, the 137-pound mite from Los Angeles, posted 35-33-68.

Thomson fashioned 36-32-68.

Others on the move in one of the greatest sub-par displays of a major tournament were Johnny Palmer, the 1949 "world" champion and Herman Scharlau, registered from Lemont, Ill. They were locked in the 137 bracket after firing 68 and 69, respectively.

At 139 with Fleck was Ed "Porky" Oliver, with 70; Bob Toski, the 1954 "world" winner, with 70; and Bob Rosburg with a torrid 66.

Iowa State Fair
August 24 to September 2

The skeleton of a prehistoric child, one of three found in the excavations near Turin last summer, and relics of early hunters of the ice age will help tell the story of prehistoric man in Iowa, including the migration from Siberia to North America and down through Canada to Iowa. One display will feature Iowa's first farmers and show how corn came to Iowa during the woodland period. Another will show the coming of the white man to Iowa. You are invited to see this interesting exhibit when you attend the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines.
