56,000 To See Iowa-Badgers

Hit Recruit, Marine Gets Court-Martial

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — A special court-martial Friday convicted Marine Cpl. Richard J. Bille of simple assault against a recruit who claimed he was slugging in the stomach for failing to say "sir."

Bille, of Erie, Pa., was sentenced to two months imprisonment at hard labor, forfeiture of $65 of his pay for two months, and reduced to the rank of private, first class.

He was found innocent of a charge of maltreatment of a person subject to his orders.

The court-martial deliberated 50 minutes after hearing testimony on the charges brought by Pvt. Donald Hamisfar, Norwalk, O.

Mother Questions Death of Marine

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Brain necrosis (dead tissue) killed a Marine recruit at Parris Island, doctors said Friday, but his mother insisted that her son had rarely been sick.

Pvt. Thomas L. Dillard Jr., 18, Miami, Fla., Negro, collapsed while taking exercise. He died a half-hour later in the Marine Dispensary.

Dillard, nearly through boot training, suffered a mild virus pneumonia Sept. 20. He returned to full duty Oct. 3.

Mrs. Katie Dillard, the boy's mother, said, "The next thing I heard was this telegram saying he died in physical training. They killed my son."

After being informed of the medical findings Friday, she declined to repeat the charge, but pointed out that the boy had rarely been sick.

Ike Asks Oil Tanker Emergency Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday ordered plans drafted for possible construction of a new oil tanker fleet in event of an emergency arising out of the Suez Canal crisis.

Mr. Eisenhower's decision was announced at the White House by Defense Mobilization Chief Arthur S. Flemming.

Flemming said in response to a question that no immediate emergency or new development in the Suez picture prompted the move.

Flemming described it as a long-range program, and added: "We are trying to get ourselves in the position where we are not as dependent on the Suez Canal as we are now."

He emphasized that the tanker construction plans will be drafted for study by government agencies. A decision will be made later on whether to build the tankers, he said.

While no specific number of tankers was mentioned, Mr. Eisenhower said in a memorandum to Flemming the plans should "provide for the building in United States shipyards of a sufficient number of large tankers to help supplement existing means of distribution and, if necessary, to help serve as an alternative in the transportation of oil in the free world, particularly from the Middle East."

Nowhere in his memorandum to Flemming did Mr. Eisenhower specifically mention the Suez situation.

But both Flemming and White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said that the move by the President is keyed to the crisis growing out of Egypt's seizure of the waterway.

Flemming replied "yes" when asked whether the study of plans for possible construction of tankers would go ahead even if the Suez crisis were resolved soon.

As for possible cost of any such tanker building program Flemming said he could supply no estimate at this time. He did say that a single 60,000-ton tanker would cost in the neighborhood of $18 million.

LOST PLANE
LONDON (AP) — Hope ebbed Friday night for finding a U.S. transport plane missing for two days with 59 men aboard, but 100 planes from three continents still crisscrossed the Atlantic in continuing search.

France, Egypt Plan Further Suez Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The foreign ministers of Britain, France and Egypt reported to a secret meeting of the UN Security Council Friday night that they had agreed on a set of six principles as a basis for further negotiations on the Suez problem.

The agreement was the result of six private meetings of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

Informed quarters said the principles dealt with freedom of access, the sovereignty of Egypt, the right to fare tolls, arbitration of disputes, funds for improvement and development, and insulation of the vital waterway from the national politics of individual countries.

Pineau told newsmen after the Council meeting: "Great progress has been achieved. We have agreed on the six principles which should be the basis of the settlement of the problem."

The British, French and Egyptian foreign ministers will meet with Hammarskjold today to complete action on a document for council action on the negotiating plans.

Secretary of State Dulles was reported highly pleased that the suggestion for insulation of the waterway from national politics was included in the principles. He had plugged for this idea throughout the Suez talks here and in London.

Meanwhile, Britain, France and Egypt were reported in diplomatic circles to be planning more Suez talks in the United Nations in late October.

Herky, Rally Crowd Go Badger Hunting

Herky, the Hawk, led the Dad's Day riverside pep rally crowd Friday night in its urging of the Hawkeye eleven to "Beat the Badgers."

Herky, SUI's new live mascot, was presented to the Hawk-I Pep Club at last week's pep rally by John B. Keeline, Cherokee.

Dad, who will be honored at today's game with Wisconsin, was put on the spot at the rally with a skit that ruffled Pop's dignity, but made him one of the boys.

"The skit ran something like this: Determined to see the game, Dad tried to get in with a student ticket and ID. Caught, Dad gave a convincing rundown on campus activities and made everything alright with 'All I want to do is see Iowa beat Wisconsin!'"

Stubb Baron, captain of the 1915 SUI gridder, reminisced about his Hawkeye football days. He said the team of today has an advantage over the team of his time. In the old days, the team used to make their entrance on the field by running through the student body, he said. Today's team runs through the Scottish Highlanders.

The rally, held in the Library parking lot for the first time, was attended by a crowd estimated at 350 persons.

Herky caught some of the old fight spirit from the crowd. After "On Iowa" and the "Iowa Fight Song" closed the rally, the feathered mascot flew a couple of fast circles at the end of his tether. Could he be wanted to go Badger hunting.

The Weather

Clear and Warm

The weatherman hasn't predicted who will win the Iowa-Wisconsin football game this afternoon, but he has promised ideal weather conditions for the contest.

Fans will be able to witness the ball game under clear skies with only a slight wind. The temperature will have risen to around 82 degrees by game time.

The prediction for Sunday is for temperatures to reach the low 80's. The skies will be partly cloudy, and there is a possibility of scattered light showers.

Their Hearts Belong to Daddy

BEAMING A DAD'S SIZE grin, E. A. McCordell is bussed happily by his wife, Bernetta, and daughter Jeanne, upon being named "SUI Alumni Dad of 1956" Friday. Jeanne is a SUI senior in medical technology. McCordell, president of the SUI Dad's Association; his wife; and a son, E. A. (Bud) McCordell are all SUI graduates.

$1.5 Million School Bond Vote Monday

Iowa City voters will decide Monday on the proposed $1.5 million bond issue to build a new junior high school and to rehabilitate Central Junior High School.

The voting areas will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. The First, Second and Third ward voters will vote in the SUI Communications Center.

Fourth and Fifth ward voters will vote in the Central Junior High School gymnasium.

The bond issue is the fifth presented to Iowa City School District since 1948.

The four previous issues have been passed by large majorities. The $195,000 bond issue passed in October, 1955, carried by a majority of 1,403 to 264. This issue provided for six-room additions to Mark Twain and Herbert Hoover schools.

The 1953 bond issue drew the most voters of the four. Of the 3,057 votes cast, 2,377 were for the issue and 680 were against. There were 74 defective ballots. This $795,000 issue provided for additions to Lincoln, Roosevelt, Henry Sabin and Horace Mann grade schools and two new grade schools in east Iowa City.

The $62,700 issue in 1950 was passed by a ratio of 7 to 1. Four rooms were added to Roosevelt grade school as a result of this issue.

The 1949 bond issue for $182,000 provided for the reconstructing and equipping of Longville and Lincoln schools. Of the 1,722 votes cast 1,481 read yes.

The Board of Education, after about four years of study, has organized and presented the facts to the stockholders, the citizens of the Iowa City Community School District.

There has been no organized opposition to this proposed issue.

Several Iowa City civic leaders Friday gave support to the bond issue.

Iowa City Mayor Leroy Mercer said, "With the increase of school population we need the new school."

Mrs. Robert Shea, president of the Iowa City-Coralville PTA Council said, "We have to educate the young people. We can do it more economically if we have the proper facilities."

"The children are here and they have to be educated," said Mrs. L. E. January, president of the PTA.

Norwood C. Louis II, Johnson County Deputy Sheriff, commented, "There is no way out of it. The issue has to be passed. The school situation is one of the most important things that has to be taken care of."

If the bond issue is passed, the cost to the average home owner will be from $9 to $12 per year.

The present junior high school enrollment is 702 students. By 1956 this figure may be more than 1,200, board members have said.

Newton Executive Chosen 'SUI Dad'

E. A. McCordell, Newton businessman, picked up the phone and learned he had been chosen "SUI Alumni Dad of 1956."

"I knew my daughter Jeanne had nominated me," he said, "but I was very surprised to learn I had won."

McCordell was chosen "SUI Alumni Dad" in a contest sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa, leadership fraternity. A letter written by Jeanne, a SUI senior in medical technology, won the honor for him.

McCordell is president of Winpower Manufacturing Co. in Newton. He is president of the SUI Dad's Association.

He arrived in Iowa City Friday afternoon to begin a full weekend of activities centered around Dad's Day, today Friday here, was the dinner guest of ODK and was introduced during the Dad's Day Concert at the Iowa Memorial Union.

Today he will be honored at the SUI Dad's Association luncheon at the Fieldhouse and again at the Iowa-Wisconsin game, where he will be introduced during half-time ceremonies.

Since his graduation from the SUI College of Commerce in 1930, McCordell has never lost touch with his alma mater. "We've been fairly regular attendees at Iowa's football and basketball games since graduation," he said.

His wife, the former Bernetta E. Kunau, is also a SUI graduate. She received a B.A. degree from SUI in 1930.

"I think it's wonderful," Mrs. McCordell said Friday, referring to her husband's selection as "SUI Alumni Dad." "I was just as surprised as he was."

McCordell's son, E. A. (Bud) McCordell, is also a SUI graduate. He received a B.S. degree in commerce.

During the elder McCordell's undergraduate days at SUI, he was captain of the golf team and president of Delta Tau Delta social fraternity.

McCordell was chosen "SUI Alumni Dad" from a group of 27 nominating letters written by SUI sons and daughters. The qualifications for the honor were service to SUI and service to community.

One of the founders of the SUI Dad's Association last year, McCordell has served as the organization's first president. He is also a member of the "I" Club and the Century Club.

Russian-Bound Tot Detained in Britain

LONDON (AP) — By British court order, Philadelphia-born Tanya Chwastov, 2½, was taken off a Soviet-bound ship Friday to await a decision on whether she may grow up American or Russian.

The court stalled for the present her father's plan to take her to Russia and nullify any claim of American citizenship for her.

Her mother, Mrs. Helena Dieczok of Detroit, brought about a last-minute stop order.

Record Crowd For Home Big 10 Opener

By JIM NEY

The largest crowd ever to watch a football game in the state—56,000—will be on hand today at Iowa Stadium to see undefeated Iowa take on Wisconsin in the Hawkeyes' home conference opener.

It will be the two school's 34th meeting in a rivalry that dates back sixty-two years.

Iowa can remain in first place in the Big 10 if it can nail down a victory over the Badgers who are making their first 1956 conference start. Wisconsin blasted Marquette, 41-0, in their opening game, and last week fell before a Pacific Coast League toughie Southern California, 13-6.

The Hawkeyes had the daylight scared out of them a week ago when they were forced to come from behind with two touchdowns within three minutes in the last quarter to squeeze by Oregon State, 14-13. But they should be out for revenge for an embarrassing 37-14 mauling they received from the Badgers a year ago at Madison—a blow from which they never were able to recover.

Iowa's 1955 conference season ended with a record of two wins, three losses, and a tie.

This will be the first Big 10 game for the Badger's new head coach, Milt Bruhn, long an assistant under head coach Ivy Williamson. Bruhn was a former Minnesota guard on the great teams of Bernie Bierman in 1934 and 35. He moved up this year when Williamson was appointed Athletic Director.

The Badger team received a lift this week with the return of quarterback Ron Carlson, a good passer. He has Dave Howard, a thorn in the Hawkeyes' side a year ago when he caught three touchdown passes and was voted Associated Press Lineman of the Week, as a receiver. This combination should provide some aerial fireworks in the Badger attack.

But then Iowa could come back with some of its own.

The Hawks, possessing two of the best ends in the conference in Frank Gilliam and Jim Gibbons have completed only six out of 20 throws in their first two starts this year. However, one could expect to see them break out with a few tricky patterns not seen in their previous games.

The Hawkeye line should get their share of work from a fleet Wisconsin backfield. They are 10th in the country in rushing defense, but the Badgers' backfield ranks fifth nationally in rushing yardage. They are headed by halfback Dan Lewis, who has gained 233 yards in the first two games.

Kenny Ploen, Iowa quarterback who suffered a painful hip bruise in the Oregon State encounter, should be ready to go. He worked with the first team in Wednesday's workouts without noticeably being slowed.

Dopesters favor Iowa by a touchdown, giving the Hawks an edge because of their strong 7-1-1 home conference mark in the last three years.

Knowland Calls Adlai 'Too Naive'

By DAVE MITCHELL

DAILY IOWAN STAFF WRITER

CECILIA KNOWLAND, leading GOP senator from California, spoke here Friday night at a Republican fund raising dinner in, ironically, the Roosevelt Hotel.

His big voice booming over a capacity crowd, Knowland charged Adlai Stevenson may be "too naive to be President" if he calls for termination of nuclear tests.

"Agreement with the Soviet Union to terminate our nuclear tests without adequate inspection as proposed by President Eisenhower is meaningless and could jeopardize the safety of our Republic, our citizens and the maintenance of a free world of free men," Knowland said.

"For candidate Stevenson's information," he continued, "the Soviet Union signed and violated non-aggression pacts and treaties of friendship with the Baltic states of Latvia, Estonia, Poland, the Republic of China, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria."

"As charter members of the United Nations, they openly violated their obligations by giving material and moral support to the Chinese Communist aggressors in Korea."

"If candidate Stevenson does not know this, he is too naive to be President of the United States and commander-in-chief of our armed forces," he concluded.

Turning to another facet of foreign policy, the Republican floor leader told the audience that the Republican administration has preserved "peace with honor."

Knowland continued, "Only one loss to the free world to Communism has taken place. This was the French defeat in Indo-China and the subsequent loss of Northern Viet-Nam. This was offset by

Corncob To Light Hawks Way

By NAN BORRESON

An illuminated corncob that blinks on and off is planned as a new feature of the Homecoming Corn Monument this year.

The 1956 monument, designed by John Becic, E4, Windsor, Ont., will be a 4-pointed prism-type star mounted on a Wolverine cage and topped by the corncob.

Becic's winning entry will be the second of his designs constructed for SUI Homecomings.

He also designed the giant, spread-winged hawk built for Homecoming in 1954. Prize for the winning design was $15.

Becic's scale model was selected from 14 entries submitted in the annual Corn Monument Contest, Joe Moss, E4, Moyville, chairman of the judges committee, said Friday.

Engineering students will begin construction of the monument Wednesday on the west lawn of Old Capitol. Completion is planned for Oct. 31.

Tradition dictates that the monument will be burned if Iowa wins its Homecoming game, to be played with the Michigan Wolverines Nov. 3.

The 1956 Corn Monument is designed to stand about 30 feet high and 11 feet in diameter.

The bars of the cage base will rise out of the ground to support the body of the structure—a tapering prism star which will read "Iowa Homecoming" on its four sides. At the top of the star will be a golden corncob.

A wood frame will support the black and gold hard board covering.

THE CORN MONUMENT for 1956, designed by John Becic, E4, Windsor, Ont., will be transformed from the model he displays into a 30 foot, 4-pointed prism star with a blinking corn cob on top. Becic was also the winner in the 1954 corn monument contest.

The Daily Iowan

The Daily Iowan is an independent daily newspaper, written and edited by students. It is governed by a board of five student trustees elected by the student body and four faculty trustees appointed by the president of the university.

The Iowan editorial staff writes its editorials without censorship by administration or faculty. The Iowan's editorial policy, therefore, is not necessarily an expression of SUI administration policy or opinion.

'Jews, Catholics, Niggers'

Saturday night was a good night to go to Stone Mountain, or so the Emory men who went with their fraternities to the old rock discovered. Possibly the most unusual entertainment ever featured at a fraternity party was furnished by a meeting of the Knights of the Ku-Klux Klan.

As we entered one side of the mountain we were stopped by armed guards and informed that this section of the mountain was "reserved" by the Klan for their tri-state meeting. We later discovered that some, 8,300 Klansmen from Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama were expected, plus numerous individuals from other states.

After finishing our meal, we saw an almost endless procession of cars converging on the mountain from all directions, so several car loads left the outing and headed for the meeting place. We soon found ourselves in a never-ending line of cars headed for a huge field at the foot of the mountain. We parked our car and walked.

As the three huge crosses were burned, we found ourselves in a sea of White-robed Klansmen. Soon the meeting got underway and was opened with a twenty minute prayer. We were then informed that the Klan was a "religious, fraternal brotherhood for southern whites," dedicated to the purpose of saving the world from "Jews, Catholics and Niggers."

Our formal educations were furthered by such interesting information as the fact that Eleanor Roosevelt had been indicted for Un-American activities more than 53 times, that the president of the NAACP was a Russian-born Jew, and that the Jews rule the world in secret.

The pre-meds present were rather taken aback to discover that "Negro blood which differs from all other human blood and has a sickle shaped cell has destroyed Egypt, India... and caused a deep animal sleep to fall upon China, Portugal, Spain and Turkey. "Another interesting fact was that, "It is proven the world over that black and yellow skins are signs of mental and spiritual inferiority and that no tinged race can create a civilization."

It was interesting to note that though "they (Negroes) may appear to be brilliant, this brilliance has never permitted them to invent or create which shows that they have not bridged the gap between the black and white." It would seem that the person who wrote these words has never heard of George Washington Carver.

In closing we discovered that "When you find a hater of the Ku-Klux-Klan check his record; watch him; he is full of corruption; he has something in store for himself and not for others."

Other interesting facts were that out of that huge crowd there was no one to answer the call for a doctor which came from the platform, and that the person who quoted the Bible to prove the truth of segregation went no further than Genesis, possibly because he had read no further himself.

Russian Colonialism

It is with more than a little surprise that we note the recent observations by former French Premier Edgar Faure regarding Soviet colonialism. After a four weeks' visit to the Soviet Union, M. Faure is reported to have said that the Soviet Union has solved its colonial problems, that there exist "no antagonism between the indigenous populations and their former colonizers" and "no evidence of racial antagonism, no complexes of inferiority or superiority."

Let us look at some of the evidence of which M. Faure seems to be unaware. The Tiflis riots last March were widely interpreted as a Georgian revolt against Russian domination. Last Monday this newspaper printed an interview with a recent American visitor to Tiflis who reported that Georgians there had told him that this was the nature of the Tiflis events. Last Sunday this newspaper summarized the reports of Swedish sailors and journalists who recently visited Soviet Latvia and were deeply shocked by the sufferings of the Latvian people, whose desire for freedom from Moscow still lives. Over the past several years this newspaper has printed many dispatches telling of the influx of hundreds of thousands of Slavs from European Russia into Kazakhstan, where they till vast tracts on which the native Moslem population once grazed their herds. Many such examples could be given.

But perhaps most surprising is M. Faure's intimation that if France had followed in North Africa the policy which Moscow followed in its Moslem areas it would not be faced by its current difficulties. M. Faure speaks of the French respect for 'the vestiges of feudalism and religious reaction' in North Africa. But was that not better than the Draconian Soviet tactics which forcibly deprived the Soviet Moslems of their religion, imposing a new pattern at the cost of many human lives? No, civilized democratic Western society could behave toward a subject people as ruthlessly as Moscow has behaved to its colonies.

Political Scientist Outlines the Issues

By DAVE MITCHELL You are an independent voter or one who has made a tentative decision regarding the upcoming national election. You know your vote may swing the election to either side and as a conscientious citizen, you try to evaluate the claims and promises of both parties in an attempt to select the man you believe best qualified to lead the country for the next four years.

1. Agriculture—either party will do a great deal for agriculture but... 2. Labor—If you favor rigid rigid party supports for agriculture, your bet is the Democratic party. If you want flexible supports, vote Republican. 3. Labor—If you favor repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and increased union strength, vote Democratic. 4. Finance—If you believe the agencies of the U.S. Government are squeezing the little man and you advocate a change in financial policy, vote Democratic. 5. National Defense—Porter stated "Everybody is in favor of national defense." "The only way to decide on this issue," said Porter, "is on the basis of your faith in the man responsible for our national defense."

6. Civil Rights—Professor Porter feels this is an issue that should be dropped from the campaign. "Both parties have avoided a strong stand on this issue," he said. The Democratic party wouldn't approve the Supreme Court decision and the Republican party approved it in "weasel words," he added. "It would be difficult to select a party on this issue," he concluded. 7. Education—If you want immense aid for education, your best chance is a vote for the Democratic party. If you believe such aid, involving huge expenditures, is not possible and that education is primarily a state problem, vote Republican. 8. National Resources—If you contend that the Federal Government should make the development of national resources a government project, vote Democratic. If you feel our natural resources

Porter Lists 11 Main Issues

Everything But A Mule Train Trip

By GEORGE DIXON On tour with Senator Kefauver—We are making this campaign swing on everything but a space rocket, a snorkel sub, and a pack mule. We switch from planes to buses to trains to convertibles as if we were trying to throw off pursuit—and I'm not sure we aren't. I just hope nobody suggests to the senior senator from Tennessee that we do a stretch of the tour by pack mule, or just as soon as you're born we'll wind up on our burro. I am firmly convinced that if the elephant were not the Republican symbol the Democratic candidate for vice-president would be bowing from the top of one, crying "Howdah."

10. Social Security—If you believe the Federal Government should move into this field with great expenditures and programs, vote Democratic. 11. Foreign Affairs—"This is another issue which, like national defense, rests on your faith in the competence of the President and the Secretary of State," Porter said. Those are the issues and the stands taken by the two major parties as seen by Professor Porter.

Reader Attacks Stand On Korean Bonus

TO THE EDITOR: I reckoned how as mebbe I'd better take my pen in hand and comment on us veterans and the Korean Bonus Bill. Wasn't there some talk 'bout two yrs. ago that the state of Iowa would put a one cent tax on gas so they could pay this bonus. Seems to me like Gov. Hogh thought this was OK. Now its a bond issue vote to get the bonus. Probably us ol' sponging veterans spent this gas tax money on roads or five cents a head on hawks so the gov. could advertise pork. Course now if some veterans—by the way who are some veterans, lots of um or just a couple—want to spend their bonus on hospitals and highways, let them. All they gotta do is just not apply for it an eventually the good ole state of Iowa and Gov. Hogh will get the money to spend.

Myself, I'd like to see the voters mark "yes" on their ballot for the Korean bonus come November. Mebbe I'll get the bonus since I was unable to take advantage of the GI Bill and free land until I get educated enuf to become a surveyor of public opinion and a editorial writer.

Vote "yes" for the Korean Bonus and no for Gov. Hogh.

Respectfull yours, John Adamsin 118 Washington Street

Cartoon Protest Against Parking Fee

To the Editor: The cartoon enclosed represents the opinion of myself and fellow residents at the dormitory.

T. K. Ramsay 201 South Quadrangle

"You mean I have to pay that much for the privilege of fighting for a parking place!"

Criticism of Increase in Parking Tickets

TO THE EDITOR: I certainly pleased me when I received a ticket Wednesday. It confirmed a suspicion I have had in my mind for some time, i.e., that the city fathers of Iowa City are incorrigibly greedy. In digging up a 1936 city ordinance, one which has not been used for perhaps twenty years, they have shown they will stop at nothing to fleece the students of SUI. They are biting the very hand that feeds them. I know the parking situation is desperate here in Iowa City, but when a person cannot park his car for more than 24 hours in one place without acquiring a summons, it shows negative action on the part of the city administration. The responsibility for adequate parking rests squarely on the City of Iowa City. I only hope the fine I paid went for some worthy cause, such as signs which designate limited parking streets.

Sincerely, LaVern Decklever 125 N. Dubuque St.

Science-Religion

The following is part of a statement by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, state clerk of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, president of the National Council of Churches and deputation chairman. In the United States today we make a clear distinction between science and "scientism." Science is the pursuit of objective truth chiefly by means of repeatable experiments, preferably in laboratory-controlled conditions; but also, especially in the social sciences, by means of sample questionnaires and other statistical methods. "Scientism" on the other hand is a philosophy, or even a faith, which holds that reality and truth are reached by scientific methods only. Since the hypotheses of scientists are usually adopted because of the possibilities of measurement, it is clear that scientific results are chiefly of a quantitative nature. Science is an instrument to use to ask the question "How" or even "What" it is a poor instrument with which to ask "Why?"

Churches Plan 1957 Surplus Food Goal

A goal of $1,500,000, through which more than 300 million pounds of U.S. surplus foods will be distributed free next year to hungry people overseas, has been set for the 1957 Share Our Surplus (SOS) program by Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations in America.

Value of the commodities, mainly wheat, corn, rice, powdered milk and cheese, is estimated at more than $35 million. The food stuffs will go to hungry men, women and children in 28 countries in Asia, Europe and Latin America.

"They will be given for emergency relief to disaster victims, in supplemental feeding programs for widows, orphans and school children; in programs aiding hospital patients and aged people, and in assistance to refugees and others in distress," explained R. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service (CWS).

An appeal for 1957 SOS funds will be launched this fall with special emphasis during the Thanksgiving season, at which time hundreds of thousands of churchgoers will contribute through nationwide SOS-Thankingsgiving community services as well as through the activities of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), individual church efforts and United Church Women's groups.

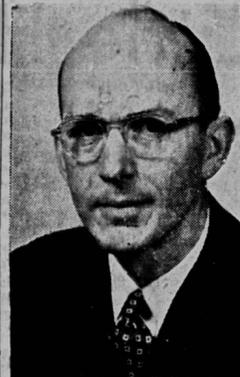

"During the current year," Wilson reported, "approximately 150 million pounds of U.S. surplus commodities already have been sent through CWS to hungry people overseas." The total for 1956 is expected to reach 250 million pounds.

Since the SOS program began in 1954, the food distributed by the American denominations has aided millions in Austria, Belgium, United Kingdom, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Egypt, Formosa, Haiti, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Jamaica, Japan, Jordan, Kenya, Korea, Lebanon, Liberia, Okinawa, Puerto Rico, Pakistan, Philippines, Brazil, Chile, Honduras and Paraguay.

The church programs of "people-to-people" sharing of U.S. products is made possible under legislation which provides government surplus foods for free distribution to needy people.

There is no cost for the surplus foods. Ocean freight to most areas served is paid for either by our government or that of the recipient people.

Michaelson Stresses Student's Dual Need

Robert Michaelson
"No Substitute"

The need for both constructive Christianity and knowledge was stressed by Prof. Robert S. Michaelson of the SUI School of Religion recently in a talk to members and advisors of the Student Christian Council (SCC).

Speaking at the annual SCC banquet welcoming new representatives from SUI student church organizations, Michaelson said that the Christian student is one who attempts to live by the teachings of Christ.

On the other hand, the student who spends all of his time with church work should not feel that his religion will get him through every tough situation, Michaelson said. "Piety is no substitute for learning," he said.

"You are here primarily as students, to seek to learn with the greatest of diligence. The Christian sometimes overlooks this."

Many people look on the university community as intellectual and objective, a community lacking love. We, as Christian members of the university campus, cannot deny that the university has its share of pharisees who have no need of ambassadors to bring God's love, he said.

It is the duty of the Christian student to help the members of the university community remember that "intellect follows where love lead," Michaelson said.

There are two types of objective personalities who have no need of God's love, Michaelson said.

The first is the person who has objective views on the neutrality of value, he said. "All morals are relative or meaningless to a person of this type."

"This type of person says morals are meaningless but, day by day this person chooses between right and wrong, yes and no," Michaelson said.

"To be human is to be involved in moral situations," he added.

The second of the objective types is the one that puts on a show of objectivity and truth and discovers some bit of truth. As soon as this bit of truth is discovered, the person begins to broadly generalize on it, Michaelson said.

"An example of this type is the sociologist and anthropologist who say all religions are influenced by cultural surroundings. This may be a true statement, but then he may turn around and say all religions may be accounted for by cultural factors."

"This is a statement that cannot be proved or disproved," Michaelson said. "This type of objectivity goes far beyond its limits of objectivity," he concluded.

Says Fall-Out Reduced At Last H-Bomb Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new and encouraging finding about the hazard of radioactive strontium from atomic and hydrogen bomb fall-out was reported Friday by a member of the Atomic Energy Commission.

At the same time Dr. Willard F. Libby made it clear for the first time that whatever the United States has developed in the line of H-bombs with "reduced fall-out," it involves a built-in principle—conceivably a new and smaller A-bomb "trigger." The trigger is at least one of the sources of radioactivity in an H-bomb.

Hitherto, one line of speculation has been that instead of any internal change in the bomb itself, detonation at high altitude was the only trick used by the Commission to reduce the fall-out of radioactive particles.

Radioactive strontium is the most dangerous of all fall-out materials and one that can cause bone cancer if present in the body in sufficient quantities.

Libby said new evidence suggests that strontium may not get into the body from the soil in anything near as high a proportion as previously believed.

Libby said that in the recent tests at the Pacific proving grounds, the United States has been "successful" in producing "a megaton-range weapon (a weapon of the H-bomb category) with an inherently smaller amount of fall-out for a given energy release."

Libby also said that in the Eniwetok tests, in addition to the bomb development itself, "considerable attention was paid to operational factors which would minimize worldwide fallout."

He explained to a reporter that this meant, in general, detonating test bombs close to the ground or the water—preferably the former.

Church Groups Oppose Merger

DES MOINES (AP)—The Iowa Council of Concern, a group of Congregational Churches opposed to a merger with the Evangelical and Reformed Church, recently adopted a resolution supporting the National Association of Congregational Christian Churches, a new national group opposing the merger.

The General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches voted last June in Omaha, to merge with the Evangelical and Reformed Church. The formal union is scheduled to take place next June at a meeting in Cleveland, O.

A minority of Congregational churches have opposed the merger on grounds that they would lose their rights of self-government under the proposed union.

They maintain that the General Council had no right to make a merger agreement binding on individual Congregational churches.

It's a bad sign

It is a bad sign . . . if it's attached to an Iowa-Illinois utility pole. Tacks, staples or nails used in attaching signs which remain in the poles even after the signs disappear can inflict painful injuries if they cause a lineman's spurs to slip . . . have even caused fatal accidents . . . especially at night or under emergency conditions. So have clothes-line hooks and mailboxes.

In fact, in most communities, it's actually against the law to attach anything to utility poles. So please don't put any hazards on them. Help the Iowa-Illinois lineman . . . who's helping to keep electric power at your service.

Scheffing Is New Cub Pilot

Signs 1-Year Chicago Pact

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Scheffing, a rangy ex-catcher whose mild personality belies his nickname of "Grump," Friday was named field manager of the bedraggled Chicago Cubs with a one-year contract.

Scheffing last season led Los Angeles to the Pacific Coast League pennant.

The 41-year-old Scheffing wasted little time acting like head man, requesting new General Manager John Holland to ask the three coaches of deposed manager, Stan Hack, to submit resignations.

The coaching trio of Hack, who resigned Thursday in a sweeping Cub shakeup, includes Ray Blades, Pepper Martin and Dutch Leonard.

Scheffing has not selected his own coaches yet.

Scheffing's expected appointment was announced at a news conference by Holland, who along with Charlie Grimm, was named a Cub vice-president Thursday as two former top level executives, Personnel Director Wid Matthews and Business Manager Jim Gallagher, resigned.

It was Grimm, under whom Scheffing played as a Cub catcher, who hung the "Grump" monicker on the new Bruin boss because of his off-stony visage.

Scheffing and Holland came to the Cubs as a front office-field boss team from the Cubs' Los Angeles farm club where Holland was president this year.

Scheffing plans to bring up the entire outfield from the 1956 Los Angeles team, including Jim Bolger, Gale Wade and Bob Speake. All have had previous Cub trials and were found wanting, but Scheffing says all have improved.

About the 1956 Cubs, who finished with their worst record in history, 60-94, Scheffing said he would go slowly on making changes.

"I'll try to play the Cubs with what's available," he said.

Scheffing said he wasn't bothered by the fact he received only a one-year contract with a tail-end club which has finished in the second division for 10 years.

"I don't think they expect miracles," he grinned. "I've worked for this organization for some time and know I'll be treated all right if I deserve it."

Bucks Open Title Defense Vs. Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — Powerful Ohio State, tuned up by two impressive nonconference victories, opens its Big Ten football title defense against unpredictable Illinois in the feature contest of a four-game conference card Saturday.

Northwestern at Minnesota, Indiana at Michigan State and Wisconsin at Iowa are the other league jousts.

Back for Another

Bears over U-High, 18-12, for 4th Win

By JOE BLOUNT

West Branch's 205 pound end John Little proved himself a big man here Friday night when he returned the opening kickoff 85 yards to key an 18-12 victory over U-High in an all-important Eastern Iowa Hawkeye League fray.

This game was a do-or-die affair for U-High. The fracas left the Hawks "blue" and with a conference record of 1 victory, 2 losses, and one tie which virtually eliminated them from championship contention.

On the other hand, West Branch, after an opening loss to Williamsburg, has gained 4 consecutive conference victories and must be rated as a definite title threat.

After Little's dazzling run, big Dick Krall, West Branch's 265 pound freshman kicked off to Iowa City and a fan arriving two minutes after gametime might have thought the game was just beginning. However, the scoreboard had already registered the margin of victory.

U-High countered with haste and midway through the first period tied the score on John Raffensperger's 50 yard dash. A running try for the extra point failed.

After that the game settled down to one of assault and no battery until the explosive fourth quarter when the Bears pushed across two quick touchdowns and U-High countered with a futile rally on the last play of the contest.

Early in the fourth quarter West Branch's Gene Frisbie recovered a Blue Hawk fumble in what probably was the turning point of the game. West Branch then began a sustained drive which saw fullback Don Thomas consistently plunging for yardage. He scored on the line back from the six yard line. His try for the point after the touchdown was unsuccessful.

Their third touchdown came after U-High surrendered the ball in their own territory on downs and the West Branch backs alternated in bringing the ball to the U-High 11 yard line where Jim Lloyd carried over on a fancy endswEEP.

The late fourth quarter found U-High utilizing a spread formation and losing numerous passes. One of these from Raffensperger to Ned Glenn in the last seconds provided Iowa City with their second touchdown. The anti-climactic extra point try was again foiled and the game ended with the Blue Hawks on the short end of the 18-12 score.

U-High played a creditable game with Raffensperger and Keefe showing the way. Keith Schiele, one of the top backs in the conference was contained offensively by the U-High line but was a defensive bulwark along with big Krall, the anchorman of the Bear's line.

Only one of those ranked among the nation's first 10 has what could be a crucial game. The Southeastern conference lead is at stake in the clash between the unbeaten Mississippi and Vanderbilt teams. Ole Miss is ranked seventh.

Here's what seems to be in store for the other first 10:

Michigan State, a fairly close second to Oklahoma, encounters an Indiana team that feels it is better than the records show. Texas Christian No. 4 visits twice-beaten Alabama. Georgia Tech (3) meets LSU. Ohio State (5) plays Illinois, which hasn't justified its high early ratings. Tennessee (6) meets little Chattanooga. Texas A & M (9) plays Houston and Baylor (10) has its first Southwest Conference game against Arkansas after three non-league victories. Southern California (8) is idle.

Other important games in various sections are:

East — West Virginia-Syracuse, Harvard-Cornell.

Midwest — Iowa-Wisconsin, Army-Michigan, Minnesota-Northwestern, Notre Dame-Purdue, Iowa State-Kansas, Nebraska-Kansas State.

South — Kentucky-Auburn, Navy-Tulane, North Carolina-Georgia.

Southwest — Tulsa-Oklahoma A&M, Duke-SMU.

Pacific Coast — UCLA-Washington State, Oregon State-California.

January Leads Western Open

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Texan Don January, who turned pro less than two years ago, shot his second straight 3-under-par 69 Friday to lead at the halfway mark in the $22,500 Western Open Golf Tournament with a 138.

January, 26, of Lampasas, shot four birdies over the par 72, 6,495-yard Presidio course.

A single stroke behind was Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N. Y. He added a 69 Friday to his 70 of Thursday.

Jammed at 140 were Bill Casper, Chula Vista, Calif., co-leader after the first round, with 68-72; Mike Fetchick, Mahopac, N. Y., 71-69; Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., 72-68; and the veteran Ed Oliver, Le-mont, Ill., 72-68.

Oliver, who won the Western in 1941, dia the best of the ex-champions. Lloyd Mangrum, the winner in 1952 and 1954, had a fat 75 for a 145 total. U.S. Open champion Cary Middlecoff, defending title, wound up with a 73 for 143.

Amateur John McMullin, of Alameda, Calif., co-leader with Casper Thursday, slid to a 74 but stayed in contention at 142.

Oklahoma out For Undisputed Win Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Football statisticians and irate old-timers have come up with the information that Pittsburg, not Oklahoma, probably holds the modern major college winning record, and that automatically converts the Texas-Oklahoma game into a big one today.

Bud Wilkinson's Sooners, basking in the glory that goes with 32 straight victories, had been strongly favored to beat Texas, as they have done—every year since 1951. Now they're looking on this game as a chance to regain the record that was snatched away from them.

All this resulted from some research which revealed that the Pitt teams of 1914-1919 had whipped 33 opponents in succession — one more than Oklahoma's current streak.

The Texas-Oklahoma game usually is a matter of considerable importance, but the records of the two teams have taken some of the edge off. Oklahoma, No. 1 team the Associated Press ranking poll of sports writers and broadcasters, has romped over North Carolina and Kansas State. Texas took a thumping from Southern California, edged out Tulane 7-6 then lost to West Virginia by the same score.

Only one of those ranked among the nation's first 10 has what could be a crucial game. The Southeastern conference lead is at stake in the clash between the unbeaten Mississippi and Vanderbilt teams. Ole Miss is ranked seventh.

Here's what seems to be in store for the other first 10:

Riverkings Contain Little Hawks, 13-6

By LARRY DENNIS

Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Clinton ran Iowa City all over the field here Friday night, then had to stave off a last-minute aerial rally to squeeze out a 13-6 victory over an aroused band of Little Hawks.

Clinton had control of the game most of the way through, but the River Kings almost let it slip away after being halted on the Iowa City five-yard line with less than two minutes to go in the final period.

From there, Iowa City's Pat Phillips launched a passing attack that carried to the Clinton 34 before the River Kings' Wayne Fatchet intercepted a throw at the 15 on the last play of the game.

All the scoring was done in the second quarter. Clinton scored first on an 11-yard plunge through the middle by Dennis Hoislman with 10:06 left in the period. On the extra point attempt intended kicker Jim Stebbens took a high pass from center and skirted his right end for the tally.

The touchdown was set up when

Clinton's Larry Jakubsen boomed a tremendous 69-yard punt from his own 30 that was downed on the Iowa City one-yard line. The Little Hawks were forced to punt out, and the ball got only to their own 38. From there, Clinton marched over.

The Hawks came right back with a march from their own 26. The big gainer was a Phillips to Jim Luper pass and an ensuing lateral halfback to Paul Burgess that carried 36 yards to the Clinton 34.

The touchdown actually came as a result of a break when, with fourth down and nine to go on the 20, fullback Bill Housel took a pitchout and flipped a pass to end Phil Cline. Clinton's Clarence Dean had the ball intercepted, but it bounced off his chest into the arms of Cline on the three-yard line. From there, Phillips sneaked it over in two tries with 3:44 left.

Jerry Gingrich's extra point try was partially blocked.

The River Kings were not long in retaliating. Quarterback Dave Pieper, on the Iowa City 47, flipped a pass which halfback Gary Lorenz fielded on the 30. Lorenz artfully eluded Burgess in the Hawket secondary and went all the way for Clinton's second and last score. There were only 47 seconds left in the second period.

Clinton outgained Iowa City 226 to 53 on the ground, but the Little Hawks hit seven of 23 pass attempts. Clinton completed three of five for 73 yards.

Saved from death or injury by Berthiaume's action 800 feet above the drop zone were Pfc. Frank L. Rumminger of Pittsburgh and Sp.3C. William J. Meek of Chillicothe, O. Berthiaume said he had just noticed his parachute was fully opened

Polio Vaccine Price Fix Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) Friday accused five drug firms of "collusive practices and price fixing" in the sale of $13 million worth of polio vaccine to the government.

A House investigation, Holifield said, already has produced "prima facie evidence that the antitrust laws have been violated." He recommended that the Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission look into the situation.

Officials of the U.S. Public Health Service, which has been buying the vaccine for a free immunization program being conducted by the states, contend the prices paid have been fair and reasonable.

Reid M. Hovey, purchasing officer for the Health Service, told the investigating subcommittee Friday that it's still "not too late to report to the Justice Department if we think the prices are too high."

"But I don't think any harm's been done up to this point," he added.

Clarke Banta, general counsel for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, defended the manner in which the contracts were negotiated.

He told the congressmen that if the immunization program had been delayed there would have been charges that vaccine desperately demanded by the country was being held up. If the Government speeds things up, he said, "We are accused of being dishonest."

Subcommittee counsel James Naughton put into the record Friday figures to show that the state of Illinois was able to buy vaccine through a commercial middleman at consistently lower prices than the Government was paying the

Ask Federal Funds For Scholarships

CHICAGO (AP) — A subcommittee of the American Council on Education Friday recommended that the Federal Government set up a program of college scholarships estimated to cost $200 million a year.

The proposed scholarship payments would go directly to students.

The Council also reaffirmed its stand of previous years in favor of an income tax credit for parents paying their children's way through school.

The subcommittee report contained a table showing grants averaging $500 per year per student. If all 100,000 of those estimated as needing help were to receive this amount, the total cost thus would be $200 million a year after the plan had been in operation four years.

Knowland—

Guatemala moving from Communist control to freedom.

"As a result of secret agreements at Yalta, Potsdam and Tehran and our subsequent 'wait for the dust to settle' policy" in China during the eight years of the Truman administration, 700 million additional people were taken behind the Communist Iron Curtain," he said.

"Yalta divided Korea in two and paved the way for the subsequent Korean War.

"The American people will not again tolerate that type of laxity in the handling of our foreign affairs," he concluded.

Discussing the Nov. 6 election and Iowa, Knowland said that with the difference in party strength in the Senate of one or two votes, "the re-election of Sen. Bourke B. Hickenloper and Congressman Henry Taft, of the 24 Congressional District, could determine the control of the Senate and the House of Representatives.

"They are able and valuable members of the Eisenhower team," he concluded.

Turning back to Stevenson, Knowland said, "Candidate Stevenson keeps talking about making a 'New America.' Let him be specific. One hundred and sixty-eight million Americans will not give him a blank check or a blind endorsement for a 'New America.'"

"As for me," he said, "I prefer the existing America under the leadership of our people based on our functioning and efficient constitutional and economic system rather than a 'New America' with Adlai Stevenson, Estes Kefauver and Walter Reuther drawing the designs and tinkering with the machinery.

"This Administration has not sought to seize industry without authority or to draft labor into the army as was done by President Truman in the steel industry and railroad labor instances."

Speaking on national and home problems, Knowland generalized, "As a nation we are concerned about the preservation of this Republic from Soviet aggression from without or Communist penetration from within.

"At home we are faced with a constant struggle with those who would bring about a concentration of political and economic power in the National Government in Washington," he concluded.

Earlier in the afternoon, Knowland held a press conference at Republican Headquarters in the Roosevelt Hotel.

He was accompanied by his wife and daughter. Mrs. Knowland wore a large gold lapel pin which read simply "Ike." His young daughter, Estelle, wore a jeweled star with "Ike" printed in the center.

At that conference, Knowland, in response to a question about President Eisenhower's Thursday rebuff of Sens. George Malone, William Jenner and Joseph McCarthy, said he had read the transcript of the press conference and didn't get the same implication as reported in the papers.

Knowland said he believed the President's statements had been confused with those of Paul Hoffman, former foreign aid administrator in the Truman administration, who said the three senators have "no place in the new Republican party."

With a 47-49 division in the Senate between parties, Knowland said, "As Republican Floor Leader I have often had to get, not only the vote of all Republicans but also the vote from the other side of the aisle to get a bill passed, and I have usually gotten the support of the senators in question,

Visiting Prof To Present Violin Recital

A violin recital will be presented by Ramy Shevelov of the SUI Music Department at 4 p.m. Sunday in Shambaugh Auditorium in the SUI Library. The program will be open to the public free of charge.

Shevelov, 26, is a visiting assistant professor at SUI and has given many concerts in the United States and Canada since he came to this country from Israel in 1949. The violinist has appeared in Town Hall and Carnegie Hall in New York City, and in Washington, D.C., Boston, Montreal, and Atlanta. He has been soloist with a number of orchestras, including the Boston City Symphony Orchestra and the City Symphony Orchestra of New York.

In his program Sunday Shevelov will play "Sonata in G for Violin Alone," written in 1951 by P. Ben-Haim, and Bach's "Partita in B Minor for Violin Alone."

The Ben-Haim composition is an example of music written in Israel, in which composers writing in the tradition of western music use as material the folklore, rhythms and sounds belonging to the Near East.

The recital will open the 1956-57 series of programs to be presented by members of the SUI music faculty.

Asks Investigation Of Tax Commission

DES MOINES (AP) — State Rep. Howard Reppert (D-Des Moines) said Friday that if he is re-elected he will call for a legislative investigation of the State Tax Commission.

He told a Chamber of Commerce luncheon he wants "to find out just what if any justification there was for the favored treatment of one of the Commission's employees, who was allowed to go for three or four years without even filing an Iowa income tax return.

"I also want to find out if there have been similar cases," he continued. "I have reason to believe that there has been more than just this one incident."

He said later he referred to the recent case of Louis H. Cook, whose resignation as Tax Commission property tax director was asked and received by the Commission on grounds that he had not filed a state income tax for four years. Cook later paid the tax due and penalties.

Cool Jazz

THE DAVE BRUBECK QUARTET brought their musical interpretations to the SUI campus Friday night at the annual Dad's Day concert in the Iowa Memorial Union. Eighteen hundred SUI jazz fans attended. Members of the quartet are Joe Morello, drums; Norman Bates, bass; Brubeck, piano; and Paul Desmond, sax.

1,800 Hear Brubeck Concert

By BILL DONALDSON
Daily Iowan Review

Dave Brubeck's cool jazz took on a new warmth Friday night when the Brubeck Quartet played to a capacity crowd of 1800 SUI jazz fans in the Central Party Committee-sponsored Dad's Day concert at the Iowa Memorial Union.

The quartet consisted of Brubeck, piano; Paul Desmond, sax; Norman Bates, bass; and Joe Morello, drums. Morello was playing his first concert with the group; he had joined the quartet Friday morning, replacing Joe Dodge, Brubeck's former drummer who was unable to make this tour.

It was his sixth Brubeck concert, and since the last one I heard there has been a change of style and approach in the quartet's presentation. Friday night's musical offerings had an intimate quality, a new and warm appeal that I had not previously detected.

The music was not as strict in the musical forms that have made

U.S. To Sell Arms To West Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and West Germany have signed an agreement setting up arrangements for the sale of U.S. military equipment to the projected West German military force.

The State Department announced Friday that the agreement was signed last Monday by Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. and West German Ambassador Heinz Krekler.

Washington officials estimated that under this agreement West Germany probably would buy close to $1 billion dollars worth of arms in the United States over the next three years.

The arms purchases will be in addition to military equipment supplied to Germany by the United States under the foreign aid program.
