

Grid Seating Plan Approved No Promises to Israel By U.S., Dulles Says

By JOHN BLEAKLY
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

A revised football seating plan, which will govern SUI student seating at Iowa's 1957 home games, was announced today by the SUI Athletic Board of Control.

The provisions which modify the seating plan of last fall are:

1. Students may present two ID cards, including their own, and obtain two reserved tickets.
2. Two points of ticket distribution will be maintained on Monday only — one at the Fieldhouse, the other at the Iowa Memorial Union.
3. There will be no sale of guest tickets to students.
4. ID cards for Band members and Scottish Highlanders will be invalidated so they may not obtain tickets, and these students will be admitted to home games by uniform only.
5. State officials and legislators will be seated in the east stands during the Homecoming game, not in the student section.

The Board's announcement came in the form of a letter from SUI Athletic Director Paul W. Brechler to SUI Student Council President Bob Young, L.J. Waterloo.

In January the Student Council sent the Board a 3-point plan for improvement of student football seating arrangements. Included in the plan were provisions for two ticket distribution points and two ID cards per each student obtaining tickets.

The Council's third suggestion, that the student section be moved southward to the 50-yard line, was not adopted by the board.

The revised seating plan is an attempt to remove the flaws in last year's plan most frequently criticized by students. Complaints last year stemmed largely from students who stood in the long lines that formed in front of the Fieldhouse in the early-morning hours on Mondays before Iowa's home games and students who were unable to sit together unless they obtained their reserved seats as a group.

Under the new plan, ticket distribution points on both sides of the Iowa River are expected to shorten lines on the Monday mornings before home games.

Students who wish to sit as a group will be aided by the two ID cards per one student provision.

On Tuesdays and Wednesdays next fall, students can obtain their tickets at the Fieldhouse only.

The Athletic Board's decision to drop the rule allowing students to purchase guest tickets marks the end of a 1-season experiment. As the plan operated last fall, students could obtain guest tickets on Wednesday only, providing there were reserved tickets remaining after distribution on Monday and Tuesday.

There were complaints, however, that some SUI students were unable to obtain even one reserved ticket because students who bought guest tickets received twice their normal supply of grid seats.

The new rule that calls for the invalidating of ID cards of Band Members and Highlanders so they may not obtain reserved tickets insures that these students will not pick up tickets they do not need and give them to friends.

The Board's final provision — that state officials and legislators will be seated in the east stands during the Homecoming game — is apparently the result of a statement issued last fall by SUI President Virgil M. Hancher which said that state officials would be seated elsewhere than in the student section during future homecoming games.

It had been traditional for the state officials and legislators, as guests of the University, to view Iowa's Homecoming games from the student section.

Commenting on the Athletic Board's revised plan, Council President Young said Monday, "Considering the plan overall, I'm pleased. Most all the Council members who have seen it are pleased too."

"I think the new plan will cut the size of the lines on Monday mornings down to one-fourth the size of last fall," he said.

Sue Wormhoudt, A4, Mason City, president of the Panhellenic Council, commented: "The plan sounds like a definite improvement. The provision for two ticket distribution points is a very good one."

President Hancher had no comment Monday on the seating plan.

Regents OK Building Plan, New Faculty

Seven new faculty members and plans for a $196,000 medical school building program have been approved by the State Board of Regents. The Regents also accepted three SUI faculty resignations.

The Regents approved preliminary plans for improving housing facilities for animals used in medical research, through a 2-part program involving construction of new animal quarters on the grounds of Oakdale Sanatorium and the remodeling of present animal quarters in the Medical Laboratories Building.

During their meeting Friday the Regents also rejected several contractors' bids, opened earlier this week, for remodeling a 2-story lecture room in the SUI chemistry building, and authorized the University to proceed with the project through its own Physical Plant Division.

Total cost of the animal housing project will be $196,000, of which $75,000 was approved several months ago by a grant from the National Institutes of Health (NIH). The NIH is expected to grant additional funds for the project, and a total of $83,000 in college of medicine gift, trust and revolving funds will be used.

The new animal building will cost $90,000, while the remainder will be spent to improve present facilities on the fourth floor of the University's Medical Laboratories Building.

Three new assistant professors of history were named to the Iowa faculty: Arthur P. Mendel, Robert M. Kingdon, and Alan B. Spitzer, all to assume their teaching duties in September. The remaining four appointments included those of Leo Erickson as assistant professor of marketing, Joseph W. Klinsky as senior chemist in the State Hygienic (Bacteriological) Laboratory, and Masuo Kodani as research assistant professor in radiation research.

Resignations were accepted for Gerald F. Else, head of classics, to accept a similar position at the University of Michigan; John G. Chantley, Iowa Child Welfare Research Station, to accept a position at the University of Maine, and Chalmers W. Bump Elliott, assistant football coach, to accept a similar position at Michigan.

Professor emeritus Edward W. Chittenden, mathematics and astronomy, was granted a leave of absence for the second semester of the 1956-57 academic year.

A JOINT ISRAEL-UNITED STATES statement is read at the department Monday by Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban while his country's foreign minister, Golda Meir, waits at his side. The statement said Mrs. Meir "expressed her deep concern at the return of Egypt to Gaza" and that the United States "stood firmly by the hopes and expectations it had expressed" concerning the Egypt-Israel dispute.

Meir Fails In First Effort For Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was reported to have told senators Monday the United States has made no secret promises to support Israel's position in the Middle East.

Senators who came out of a closed meeting of the Foreign Relations Committee before which Dulles testified also said the secretary gave them an optimistic report of conditions in the Middle East.

Fresh from a conference with

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir said Monday night she made clear to UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld that Israel will not agree to "a belligerent Egypt" returning to the Gaza Strip.

Mrs. Meir met more than two hours with Hammarskjöld after talks in Washington earlier in the day.

Say Adams Used Drugs In Killing

LONDON (AP) — The prosecutor waved a hypodermic syringe before a jury Monday and said this was the kind of murder weapon Dr. John Bodkin Adams used to kill one of his rich widow patients in order to benefit from her will.

Atty. General Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller opened the trial in Old Bailey of the 58-year-old society doctor with a graphic account, alleging the doctor used a mystery drug to put Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell, the widow patient, to death.

"Dr. Adams filled a syringe with this size three-quarters full of something," said the prosecutor, "and told the night nurse to inject it into Mrs. Morrell who was unconscious."

The fat physician clutched the rail of the prisoner's box and leaned forward. His moon-shaped face was crimson.

"Dr. Adams refilled the syringe," said the attorney general, "and ordered the nurse to use it again if Mrs. Morrell became restless."

The wealthy widow did become restless and the nurse once more injected the syringe, the prosecutor related.

"She gradually became quiet," add the prosecutor, "and in 1½ hours she was dead."

Mrs. Morrell died on Nov. 13, 1950, when she was 81. Dr. Adams signed her death certificate saying his patient died of cerebral thrombosis — and that he had no financial interest in her death.

Actually, he received Mrs. Morrell's chest of antique silver and her son gave the doctor Mrs. Morrell's Roll-Royce automobile which the doctor said she promised him.

Six years passed after Mrs. Morrell's death before Scotland Yard's ace sleuth, Supt. Herbert Hannam turned his attention to Dr. Adams.

Last December the hawk-faced sleuth finally arrested the well-known physician and charged him with Mrs. Morrell's death. He also accused him of killing two other patients. The attorney general based the prosecution on Mrs. Morrell's death.

Adams was smiling as he entered the prisoner's box. He entered a plea of innocence.

The prosecutor said the physician telephoned Mrs. Morrell's lawyer in 1950 and said the widow was worried about her will and that she wanted to leave him (Adams) her car, silver and some jewels.

"Isn't that strange behaviour for a doctor?" asked the attorney general.

Dr. Adams lowered his eyes.

"All this time he was giving her these drugs — barbiturates, heroin, morphine and other things — he was greatly concerned in her will," said the prosecutor.

SUI Election Plans Near Completion

Plans for the All-Campus Elections Wednesday, shift into high gear today with a meeting of approximately 200 volunteer student poll watchers who will conduct the voting for officers of six campus organizations.

The meeting, at 7:30 p.m. in the Pentacrest Room, Iowa Memorial Union, is to acquaint the student election officials with procedures for the election.

There are 81 candidates for 37 different offices.

Polls will open Wednesday morning at 8:30 a.m. and close at 4:30 p.m. Polling booths will be located in the Law Building, Chemistry Building, Engineering Building, Macbride Hall, Schaeffer Hall, University Hall, East Hall, Iowa Memorial Union, University Library, and Medical Laboratories.

The organizations represented in the election and who may vote for their candidates follow:

STUDENT COUNCIL, married student's representative—All married students vote for two candidates.

STUDENT COUNCIL, town men's representative — All men living off-campus and members of professional fraternities vote for two candidates.

STUDENT COUNCIL, town women — All women living off-campus vote for one candidate.

UNION BOARD, Commerce students — All Commerce students vote for one man and one woman candidate.

UNION BOARD, Liberal Arts students — All Liberal Arts students vote for three men and three women candidates.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS — All women vote for officers.

YWCA — Members vote for officers.

BOARD OF STUDENT PUBLICATIONS, INC.—All students vote for one 1-year candidate and two 2-year candidates.

WOMEN'S RECREATION ASSOCIATION — Members vote for officers.

LIBERAL ARTS CLASS OFFICERS — All Liberal Arts students vote.

Mrs. Rauthe Talks on Faith

Mrs. Claire Rauthe
True Reality is Spiritual

By TOM SLATTERY
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

The material world is unreality while true reality is spiritual — perfect, harmonious, and God-like, said Mrs. Claire Rauthe of London in a Christian Science lecture at Shambaugh Auditorium Monday night.

"The universe is perfect because it is a reflection of the omnipotent, omnipresent principle of truth — the Creator," she said.

"Because the universe is controlled by divine law, nothing needs to be replaced, repaired, or healed as conceived in the perfect creation described in 'Genesis,'" Mrs. Rauthe said.

"Evil, which first appeared in the Garden of Eden, was not created by God and He knows nothing of it, in the same way a conscious light would know nothing of darkness. Only because he has not created it and therefore it is not part of his infinitum, it is possible to overcome evil. Neither God nor man is responsible for evil."

She added, "Man accepts false beliefs and manifests them in private life, business and government, and these beliefs become real. Only with the real understanding of the nothingness of matter can man exercise dominion over material things."

"Christ-consciousness, the acceptance of the divine consciousness by the individual, must replace the false beliefs of war, sickness, and upheaval that are fostered by ignorance," Mrs. Rauthe said.

Mrs. Rauthe described the healing and restoring power of "Christ Jesus" and the Old Testament prophets as "wholly spiritual" means that didn't have to discover a cause in matter or follow "physical" laws.

Jesus foretold the coming of the Comforter, Mrs. Rauthe said, adding that Christian Science, founded by Mary Baker Eddy in 1866, is not an invention but a discovery in fulfillment of a prophecy.

Mrs. Rauthe, who speaks Swedish and German fluently and understands French, became a Christian Scientist in 1916 after she was "instantaneously" cured of a fever by following the Christian Science "ideas I had scoffed at."

Garcia Gets Philippine Presidency

MANILA (AP) — Solemn-faced Carlos P. Garcia took the oath as the Philippines' fourth president Monday night and ordered a state funeral and national mourning for President Ramon Magsaysay.

Magsaysay, 49, hero of the young republic's fight to crush the Communist Huk movement and establish a stable democracy, died Sunday in a plane crash. The country faced the prospect of election turmoil in the choice of a new president next November.

Garcia, 60, vice-president and foreign minister, had just returned from a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Australia, when he raised his hand and swore the oath in a brief ceremony before Chief Justice Ricardo Paras.

With Cabinet, Congress leaders and newsmen as his witnesses, the new president who will serve until November, made a brief speech announcing he planned no changes in the Cabinet. He said he would keep the post of foreign minister.

His first act was to arrange for a state funeral on March 22 for Magsaysay, and to order a month of national mourning after the rites.

A veteran of 33 years in Congress, as governor of his home province on Bohol Island and as vice-president, the stocky Garcia is considered a strong proponent of Magsaysay's pro-Western policies.

Magsaysay, who died with 26 other persons in the charred ruins of his twin-engine plane on a mountain side on Cebu Island, was returning to Manila from a series of commencement speeches in the south.

The only survivor, Nestor Mata of the Philippine Herald, told his newspaper the plane exploded before it hit the mountainside. But the Herald said the newsmen was suffering from shock when he dictated the story. He suffered burns and had but a 50-50 chance of recovery.

Not overlooking the possibility of sabotage, authorities placed a guard over the wreckage and the scorched jungle area.

Political chiefs agreed that the loss of Magsaysay's strong leadership of his Nacionalista party in the November elections could throw the nation into turmoil.

His renomination had been a foregone conclusion. The Liberal Party, floundering from two crushing defeats, had even come around to supporting him for re-election. Now it may put up a candidate of its own.

Blizzard Hits North Iowa; Colder Here

Ever wonder what its like to put your head into a lion's mouth? Whether they knew it or not, Iowa Citizens did just that Monday night. The March lion had his chops wide open and was breathing right down the necks of the people in this area. The weather wizard predicts that the cold breath is gonna be felt again today — forecast: cloudy and cold; high about 35, low in the upper 20s.

The lion did more than just yawn in other parts of the state — he roared to the tune of a second near blizzard on four days. Here's how the Associated Press reported it Monday night.

The weather bureau said there was a possibility of heavy snow in the northeast corner, in addition to more than four inches which fell there Monday.

Schools were closed Monday in Spencer, which had 6 inches of new snow and "near blizzard" conditions, and Sioux City, where nearly 3 inches of wet snow had snarled traffic by 8:30 a.m.

At Elkader, schools opened as usual but the children were sent home about 10 a.m. when the snow depth reached about 4 inches.

Some trucks were stalled on the highways in northwest Iowa as 5 inches of snow fell at Sioux Rapids, Clarion 4 inches and 2 to 3 inches at numerous other points.

The snow and rain brought welcome moisture, amounting to more than an inch at some places, to most of the state.

Temperatures Monday ranged from just above the freezing mark in the north to around 40 in the southwest.

U.S. Jury Indicts 4 for Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal grand jury Monday indicted two Teamsters union vice-presidents and two lesser teamsters officials on charges of contempt of Congress.

The vice-presidents indicted were Einar O. Mohn of Washington, top administrator of the 1½-million-member union under President Dave Beck, and Frank W. Brewster, Seattle, who is also chairman of the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters.

The indictments came during a recess in hearings of the Senate committee investigating alleged racketeering in labor and industry. Brewster is to resume the witness stand when the hearings get under way again today.

President Eisenhower meanwhile ordered Federal income tax records opened for the rackets committee for the years 1945 to 1957.

Robert Kennedy, the committee's chief counsel, promptly said he would request access to the returns of Beck and Brewster. Beck so far has not met two committee requests to turn over his personal finance records.

Monday's indictments stem from mid-January proceedings of the Senate investigation subcommittee. Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark.) heads both the subcommittee and the special rackets committee. Results of the subcommittee work led McClellan to set up the broader rackets committee.

Indicted for contempt along with Brewster and Mohn were Nugent La Poma, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local No. 174, Seattle, and Harry Reiss, welfare fund administrator of the union's Local No. 227, New York.

All four were charged with refusing to answer questions put by McClellan's investigations subcommittee in an inquiry preliminary to the present full-scale rackets probe.

The four claimed the subcommittee lacked jurisdiction to investigate labor unions. Brewster had appeared and answered questions in the rackets investigations committee hearings.

The White House, in announcing Mr. Eisenhower's action giving the rackets committee access to income tax returns, said it was a step often taken to accommodate Senate investigations. Under the law, income tax returns are secret but the President has power to make them available to Federal investigators.

McClellan declined Monday to say whether the rackets committee intends to investigate the million-member United Auto Workers (UAW) union, headed by Walter Reuther, one of the top men in the AFL-CIO.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) said in Milwaukee Sunday night that he would ask the committee to probe the UAW.

McCarthy said "from the information I have, what we have uncovered in . . . the Teamsters Union will smell like a high grade perfume to what we will find in the (Reuther) union." A UAW spokesman in Detroit said UAW officials were ready to answer any questions voluntarily when and if called.

Blast Rocks Ford Plant

DETROIT (AP) — A paint spray booth exploded Monday night at Ford Motor Co.'s Rouge plant, the largest industrial installation in the world.

The blast and the brief fire that followed sent at least 21 persons to hospitals with burns, fractures and bruises. A company spokesman said he understood some were hurt seriously, and two were critical.

The explosion knocked out 500 feet of one wall of the building that housed the paint spray booth. About one-quarter of the building was damaged, the spokesman estimated, and the facility was put out of working order.

The paint spray booth, where frames of new automobiles are moved through on a conveyor belt, contains a paint tank that is 800 feet long and 30 feet high. It was this tank that exploded.

About 2,000 persons were working in the building at the time of the explosion.

The fire, fed by tanks of paint ready to be applied to new automobiles, was extinguished in about an hour.

James Owens, who was working near one of the ovens when it exploded, said:

"I was about 15 feet from the oven when suddenly the door went zinging by me. I ran for the exit. It's a big place where about 300 men work. I think I saw 13 men hurt."

Custody Sought By Jewish Couple

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A soft-spoken Jewish couple, seeking desperately to retain custody of their 6-year-old adopted Roman Catholic daughter, were released in care of their attorney Monday to await action on a Massachusetts warrant charging them with kidnapping.

Peace Justice Malvin Englander ordered Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ellis to return before him in 30 days or sooner depending on when the State of Massachusetts files its demand for extradition with Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida.

At Tallahassee, Gov. Collins said he has received no extradition request yet but will grant the Ellises a hearing when the demand comes in.

Keeps in Touch, But Keeps Money

DENVER (AP) — Dave Steinberg lost his wallet containing $35 and some papers late in February. Two days later he received a letter in a woman's handwriting, enclosing the papers but no money.

Since then he has received two postcards from the same woman. The first, from Sun Valley, Idaho, told him she was "starting a trip around the world on the money from your billfold. When I get rich, I will pay you back with interest."

The second card was mailed from Portland, Ore., and the sender said she was on her way to San Francisco. "Wish you were here," she wrote.

Washington Has Part In German Elections

By DIETRICH HARTMANN
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

More than ever before Washington has become the meeting place of leading rulers and politicians from all over the world to discuss pending matters with the "executives of the free world's policies," as the British Manchester Guardian called the Administration recently.

The visits of Saudi Arabia's King Saud and France's Premier Guy Mollet were widely publicized. Not so much in the public eye, however, were the visits of leading West German politicians who paradoxically opened the election campaign for the coming German September elections in America.

With an entourage of German news-and-camera men, Erich Ollenhauer, leader of the opposition Social Democratic party and prospective German chancellor if his party should win the elections in September, started the invasion of German party leaders in Washington.

Ollenhauer was followed by the spokesman of the governing Christian Democratic party in the Bundestag (lower house of parliament), Dr. Kurt Kiesinger, German foreign minister Heinrich von Brentano was in Washington for three days.

A visit of the leader of the German Refugee party is scheduled for the end of this month and in April Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will be official guest of the State Department. They all came and will come to explain their party program and get approval from American officials. They will plan their campaigns after evaluating the results of their visits.

Conferences and the exchange of ideas between leaders of allied nations is nothing to get excited about but the series of talks between American and German officials seem to be something new in international politics.

The coverage of the visits in Germany and press comments make it quite clear that the general public considers that the party with most chances for success will be the one that is able to get the full support of Washington. The German visitors apparently are trying to return to their voters with the flair of being favorite sons in America.

THE REASONS for such tactics are obvious for observers of the last election campaign in Germany. In 1953 it was the declared policy of the Administration to see Adenauer stay in power. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and even President Eisenhower supported their choice openly. Dulles went this far to tell the German people in one of his press conferences that only a Germany with the Christian Democrats in power

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Democrats, more than Republicans, are sorry that the White House social season is over. The Democrats were having much the most fun at Ike and Mamie's soirees.

One who feels especially bereft is Sen. Frank Church, the boyish newcomer from Idaho. He was having the time of his life when the Eisenhowers called off entertaining for Lent.

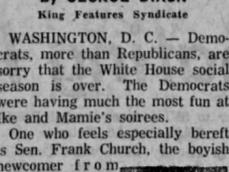

At the last big party for members of Congress, most of the Republicans tried to ingratiate themselves for future invitations by bowing out early. By 10:30 p.m. most of them had collected their coats and their wives and taken decorous departure.

By 11 p.m. most of the Democrats had gone, too. But five stayed on. The Marine Band was still playing, so they figured they might as well get what they could out of it, because they doubted if they'd be invited back again.

The persistent quintet comprised young Senator Church; Sen. Hubert Humphrey, of Minnesota, and Reps. George S. McGovern, of South Dakota; Frank M. Coffin, of Maine, and Al Ullman, of Oregon. Their wives stayed on, too, and they kept on exchanging partners and dancing until the band finally played "Good Night Ladies."

Then they took the hint and said reluctant adieus. On the way out, freshman McGovern observed to his fellow diarchs: "We're acting as if we thought this was the last chance the Democrats had of getting into the White House again."

Rep. Clair Engle, of California, said he had two rather upsetting experiences at the wind-up party. "When Mr. Truman was President," the Californian recounted, "I was invited to my first White House reception. I was informed I must wear a top hat. I took my life savings out of the bank and bought a silk topper for $35. I felt it was money well spent because virtually all the other male guests came in the same kind of headgear.

"The second time I wore it was to an Eisenhower reception. There were quite a few other high hats there, although Ike had rendered them a body blow by wearing a homburg at his inauguration.

"This year I was advised not to wear it, but I argued with myself: 'Listen, Engle, the only way you can reduce the unit operating cost of your topper is to wear it — and where can you wear it except to the White House?'"

"Anyway, I wore it. But when I checked it, I felt uncomfortably conspicuous. In all the White House check room, mine was the only high hat!"

I condoled with Rep. Engle. Then I said: "Tell me your other disturbing experience, if you can bear to recall it."

"I will force myself to do so," said Mr. Engle. "Although it makes me shudder to think what the harvest might have been. 'As you are perhaps aware, you must surrender your lady to a Marine on entering. He escorts her into the presence of the President and First Lady. You sort of tag along behind. 'Well, they had just gotten into the archway when the Marine and Mrs. Engle halted. I pulled up sharply behind them. They started forward again. Oh, it was awful!'"

"For heaven's sake," I yammered, "What happened?" "Mrs. Engle had a gown with a long train at the bottom but no straps on top. I stepped on the train!"

"Yes, yes! Go on!" "Mrs. Engle nearly snapped right out of her dress. Miraculously it snapped back. I haven't seen such a snap since my last catapult."

"It must have been an interesting moment."

"It was — but I don't want it to happen again, leastwise at the White House. That isn't the way I want the Democrats to snap out of it."

SUI Elections—

YWCA To Select New Officers on Wednesday

By JO ANN PETERSEN
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Five officers of the SUI Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA) will be elected by YWCA members from a slate of eight candidates in Wednesday's all-campus elections.

Two candidates are running for each of the cabinet positions of president, secretary-treasurer, finance chairman and freshman advisor. The girl losing the race for president will automatically become vice-president.

The SUI branch of the national YWCA is open to all SUI women. It is known on campus and in the community for its sponsorship of such projects as hospital visits, reading and entertainment program, the "Major in Marriage" lecture series, the annual sale of mums at homecoming, and the annual conference on summer jobs available to both men and women students.

A YWCA project in the near future will be the second annual Children's Theater Play, "Green Sleeves Magic," to be sponsored by the Advisory Board March 22 and 23.

These and other activities of the organization are supervised by the YWCA cabinet composed of the five elected officers, 14 members appointed by these officers, and by the Advisory Board.

The Advisory Board, composed of 19 adult women of Iowa City, helps the SUI group with various projects.

their dues and must be registered on the membership lists in the YWCA office at the Iowa Memorial Union, officials of the organization said.

There will be YWCA membership lists at all of the polling places. Officers of the Freshman Y, a subdivision of the organization, will be elected next fall by new freshman members. These officers, the YWCA director and the freshman advisor from the YWCA plan the activities of this group.

Another subdivision of the YWCA is the Live Y'ers. This group is composed of representatives of the various women's housing units on campus who serve as contacts between the organization and the housing units.

Boards of the YWCA organization include the Hospital Board and a Counselor Board. The Hospital Board is in charge of the organization's hospital service projects such as reading and entertainment.

The Counselor Board is composed of the elected officers and the Public Relations chairman. This unit studies new projects and other matters and reports its findings to the Cabinet.

The SUI branch of the YWCA receives no financial aid from the national organization or from the University. Its funds come entirely from special projects, from dues and from special contributions. Dues requirements are only as much as the individual member feels she can afford.

Part of the YWCA income is used to pay the part-time director Miss Margaret Huffman, G. East Lansing, Mich., and of a part-time secretary.

SUI Elections—

SUI Student Council Has Big Job Ahead

By MILAN BRAGG
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Town women, town men and married students will elect five Student Council members from a list of 14 candidates in the all-campus election Wednesday.

The town women will elect one council member from a list of two candidates, the town men will elect two members from a list of seven candidates and the married students will elect two members from a list of five candidates.

The other 13 Student Council members are made up of members elected from the various housing units within the housing units.

The Student Council actions are aimed at the purpose stated in its constitution: "To improve the status of student life on campus and to present student attitudes on matters of student affairs which are now not within the jurisdiction of other properly constituted groups."

The student councils of this year and past years have accomplished results on such things as the Student Book Exchange, the Campus Chest drive, the student Rose Bowl train, enforcing of the present student parking plan, a three point plan for the modification of the 1956

SUI football seating plan, and the suspension of the no-cut rule before vacations.

The Council also is in charge of men's orientation, high school tours of the campus, all-campus elections and leadership training programs for students.

The University allocates money each school year to the council so it can carry on its activities.

The Student Council has sponsored the booklet "Herky Hints," a booklet of campus information for new students. It also planned the recent Crusade for Freedom.

Candidates to represent town women are Alyce Venzke, A3, Iowa City, and Marilyn Weeber, A1, Iowa City.

Town men candidates are Sam Baile, A4, Iowa City; Lee Ingwersen, E3, Davenport; Thomas Jolas, L2, Red Oak; Laurance Meyer, L3, Bettendorf; Thomas Murphy, M3, Ida Grove; Eugene Pint, A2, Osage and Richard Wolfe, M3, Donnellson.

Candidates to represent married students are John Bogert, D3, Bartelsville, Okla.; Karl Braun, P3, Iowa City; Gary Cameron, L2, Bloomfield; John Ellis, D3, Iowa City and Rodney Miller, L2, Iowa City.

SUI Elections—

Undergraduate Coeds May Elect AWS Slate

By PAT PETERSEN
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

All SUI undergraduate women are eligible to vote for the executive officers of Associated Women Students (AWS) in the all-campus elections March 20. Every undergraduate woman is automatically an AWS member.

Candidates for officers are: President — Marsha Brubaker, A3, Davenport; and Linda Gamble, A3, Fairfield; secretary — Shelley Cohn, A1, Waterloo; and Joan TePaske, A2, Orange City; treasurer — Corley Hamill, A2, Des Moines, and Carol Stientjes, A2, Sioux City; and sophomore representative — Roberta Meaghan, A1, Cedar Rapids, and Ruth Hale, A1, West Liberty.

AWS, formerly the University Women's Association, serves as a governing board and coordinating group for many women's activities. Miss Helen Focht, counselor to SUI women, is the group's advisor.

Programs sponsored by AWS include orientation, publication of "Code for Coeds," student-faculty coffee hours, hospital work, high school contact, Profile Preview, Spinster's Speed, Information First, foreign student dinners and University Sing.

which is a branch of AWS, helps set the rules governing the conduct of SUI women.

Candidates for the top officers are nominated by the retiring seniors who have served on the AWS general council. Two candidates are nominated for each office. The woman who is not elected president automatically becomes vice-president.

The AWS general council consists of the executive officers, project chairmen and housing unit representatives. Chairman and committee members of the various AWS projects are chosen by application.

The second annual AWS State Day was held at SUI this year with members of the SUI chapter holding representatives from 4-year colleges in Iowa.

In order to be able to vote for YWCA officers in the elections, YWCA members must have paid

SCHOLARSHIP TROPHY for highest social fraternity pledge class grade average is presented to Dick Bobenhouse, A1, Earlham, right, by Ronald W. Roskens, Fraternity Affairs Advisor. Bobenhouse was president of the recent Alpha Tau Omega pledge class that attained a 2.684 grade average for 11 pledges.

'Famous Firsts' Scheduled Thursday

"Famous Firsts," the 1957 Women's Recognition Day program, will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday in the River Room of Iowa Memorial Union.

All newly-elected officers of SUI women's organizations will be honored at that time.

The program, sponsored by Associated Women Students, will feature the presentation of the Adelaide L. Burge Award. The recipient of this award is chosen on the basis of scholarship and citizenship. A scholarship award will also be given to the girl in each of the four classes with the highest accumulative grade point. Each of the presidents of SUI women's organizations and housing units will be presented with a rose.

Chairman of Recognition Day is Margie Rickett, A4, San Francisco, AWS president. On her committee are: Joyce Garber, A4, Randolph, YWCA president; Barbara Haun, A4, Clinton, WRA president, and Kathryn Falb, A4, Postville, Home Economics Club president.

All SUI students are invited to attend.

Dave Gunther, the sophomore forward who was named Iowa's most valuable basketball player for the 1956-57 season, finished as the Hawkeyes' top scorer with 271 points — an average of 12.3 per game. Clarence Wordlaw, sophomore guard, finished second with 255 and an 11.6 average.

Guard Jim McConnell owned the best shot percentage (100 or more attempts). He fired at a .399 clip. He also led in free throw percentage with a .707 mark.

McConnell's accuracy from the field earned him an Iowa and Big 10 record when he connected on 10 of 11 field goal attempts against Minnesota, a percentage of .909.

Gunther tied another Iowa single game record with 10 out of 10 free throws.

Ironically, it was a missed free throw by Gunther in the final three seconds of the Wisconsin game which kept the contest from going into overtime.

The Hawkeyes, who finished with an 8-14 record, compiled a team shooting percentage of .365 from the field, .575 from the gift line. Opponents hit .381 from the field, .667 from the free throw line.

Iowa scored an average of 69.6 points per game to 71.7 for opponents.

JOHNNY SAXTON, former welterweight champ who was knocked out in the second round by current titleholder Carmen Basilio recently, is moving into the middleweight (160 pounds) division. Manager Frank (Blinky) Palermo says Saxton was weakened by making the weight for the Basilio fight.

Something happened, anyway.

REP. KEATING of New York, senior Republican member of the House antitrust subcommittee, says football and boxing have undergone infiltration by "gamblers and gangsters."

Rep. Keating, of course, has congressional immunity. He can get away with such things. It might be well for him if he stays in Congress the rest of his life. Otherwise his big mouth might get him in trouble.

IT'S AMAZING how success breeds disciples. A case in point—Yankee pitcher Don Larson's no-windup delivery, with which he hurled his fabled perfect game in last fall's World Series. Bob Turley, another New York hurler, already was using the delivery, and now Tom Morgan is experimenting with it.

Morgan's explanation is that the no-windup style permits the pitcher to "time the hitter instead of the hitter timing the pitcher.

"As soon as the batter steps into the box," Morgan says, "he must be ready, because the pitcher can throw the ball any time. But when you wind up, the hitter knows exactly when you're going to release the ball and he can time it better."

This is all well and good, but how long is it going to take the hitters to adapt themselves to the new style?

It seems to me, Mr. Morgan, that it's not how you throw it. It's what you have on it that counts.

CYPRESS GARDENS Association, Inc., at Winter Haven, Fla., is compiling a book on water skiing destined to become the "Bible" of the sport. It will include a complete history of water skiing, tournaments, pioneers, and so forth.

The association has put out a plea for persons in all areas of the country to supply information to be included in the book — names and locations of any water ski schools, water ski shows, ski clubs, tournaments and other information. Oddities — youngest or oldest skier, champions — also are wanted by the group.

Why don't you readers who know something about the sport in this area or somewhere else you've lived drop a line to Al McFadyen, who's the publicity director of the association, in care of Florida Cypress Gardens, Box 1380, Winter Haven, Fla?

Rough, rugged and unopposed, St. Mary's of Iowa City swept to its 39th straight win and moved into the semi-finals of Class B state tournament play with an 81-45 victory over outclassed Mt. Union in Iowa fieldhouse Monday night.

The Ramblers were not particularly impressive in their first step toward a second straight Class B crown, but they didn't have to be. Mt. Union had nobody who could match the winners in height, speed or shooting ability.

St. Mary's will meet the town of St. Mary's at 7 p.m. Friday at Des Moines in a match to determine one of the 1957 B finalists.

John Cahill, hitting from out in the first half and scoring repeatedly on fast-break layups in the last two periods, led the Ramblers with 25 points. Dave Maher, Cahill's running-mate at guard, connected for 19 and Don Lumsden added 17, most of them under the basket. Dennis Walljasper, the leading scorer for the season, pushed in 14 despite a lame ankle.

Center Marv Crawford led Mt. Union with 15.

The game was fast and rugged. Mt. Union's scrappy little youngsters never let the Ramblers get set and the Eagles couldn't begin to get through St. Mary's bigger boys for inside shots. The result at times resembled a free-for-all.

At times it seemed the St. Mary's guards were just throwing the ball up so their big boys could get a crack at it. A majority of the Rambler baskets came on tips and layups under the bucket.

Indicative of the ragged play — and also of St. Mary's complete control of the contest — was the shooting percentages compiled by the two teams. Both hit .307 of their field goal attempts, despite the 36-point margin.

The chilly shooting, relatively poor for St. Mary's, may have been due to coldness or carelessness on the Ramblers' part. But it didn't make any difference. All they had to do was fire it up and keep pushing it at the basket until it fell in.

Mt. Union led only once, 3-2 with 1:27 gone in the first period. After that the Ramblers took over and were never headed, although Mt. Union cut the margin to three points at several points in the first half.

With the exception of the Eagles' Crawford, St. Mary's was almost unopposed in the contest for rebounds in the second. Crawford, Mt. Union's center, did his best until he fouled out with 5:42 remaining in the game. After that it was a rout.

The St. Mary's regulars stayed in action almost the entire game. Walljasper was the first to leave with 3:56 left. By that time it was 73-40 and strictly no contest.

The loss ended Mt. Union's season with a 19-7 record.

Clinton 67, Keokuk 40

In the second game of the evening, Clinton's River Kings routed Keokuk, 67-40, in a first-round Class A contest. Another ragged affair, it was never a contest after the Mississippi Valley champs jumped off to a 6-0 lead.

The Chiefs, tri-champions of the Little Six conference and owners of a 20-4 record before Monday's game, were no match for Gary Lorenz and company.

The Clinton sharpshooter poured in 23 points, most of them jump shots from way out, the rest on driving layups. Dave Pieper and Tom Barnard added 13 each for the River Kings.

The best Keokuk could do was a 10-point effort by forward Jim Lockett.

Writers Pick Thompson On All-American Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Thompson, of Iowa State, was named on the 1956-57 Look Magazine All-American basketball team announced here Monday. The 5-foot 10-inch Cyclone from Roland, Iowa, previously had been selected on the current Associated Press All-American team.

The magazine noted that Thompson is rated as "the greatest clutch player in his school's history."

"He has all the shots, including the ability to go in and hook from the pivot, and he's also an exceptional playmaker," it added.

Others on the 10-man squad are: Wilt Chamberlain, Kansas; Chet Forte, Columbia; Frank Howard, Ohio State; Rod Huntley, West Virginia; Jim Krebs, Southern Methodist; Guy Rodgers, Temple; Len Rosenbluth, North Carolina; and Charlie Tyra, Louisville.

The squad was chosen for the magazine by the newly formed United States Basketball Writers Assn.

Thompson was also named on Look's NCAA District 5 All-Star team, along with Red Murrell, of Drake.

Others named to the NCAA District 5 included Chamberlain; Bill Ebben, Detroit, and Jack Parr, Kansas State.

Named to the NCAA District 4 All-Star team were Howard; Archie Dees, Indiana; Tom Hawkins, Notre Dame; Harry Schmidt, Illinois, and Joe Campbell, Purdue.

Track Team Ranks High in Chicago

Iowa runners failed to come up with a first place in a Chicago Daily News track meet Saturday featured by Ron DeLoach, 4:03.8 mile effort.

The Villanova star's time was only two-tenths of a second off the American indoor record for the distance.

Star wheeler, the ex-Hawkeye star now doing graduate work at Iowa, finished third in the brace behind Delaney and Burr Brimm of College Park, Md. Wheeler was the defending champion.

In a matched mile relay featuring Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois and Minnesota, the Hawkeyes finished second despite a brilliant anchor leg by Tom Ecker. Ecker picked up eight yards of a 12-yard deficit but couldn't overtake the front-running Wisconsin anchor man. The Badgers won in 3:24.6.

Charles (Deacon) Jones, Iowa's two-mile ace, ran second in his specialty to Horace Ashenfelter of the New York Athletic Club.

Jack Mathews of Iowa failed to qualify in the 60-yard high hurdles won by Milt Campbell, Olympic decathlon champion who twice skipped the distance in record-equaling :07.1 time.

West Wallops Marshalltown; Roland Wins

By The Associated Press

Marshalltown's defending Class A championship was eliminated and Iowa City St. Mary's easily moved towards its second Class B title in first round games of the Iowa high school boys state basketball tournament Monday night.

West Waterloo ended Marshalltown's bid for a repeat championship 64-35 at Waterloo. West shot into a 15-4 first quarter lead and was never threatened.

In other Class A games, Des Moines Dowling defeated Webster City 61-54 at Ames and Clinton whipped Keokuk 67-40 at Iowa City.

St. Mary's, a semifinal round opponent of Iowa City St. Mary's at Des Moines Friday night, tipped previously unbeaten Shelby 61-60 at Atlantic and Roland moved past Garrison 51-46 at Waterloo in other Class B games.

Two other games scheduled Monday night were postponed by snow. They were the Calumet, Fonda (OLGC) Class B contest at Spencer and the LeMars-Manning Class A game at Sioux City. They will be played tonight.

Semifinal round pairings Friday:
CLASS A
West Waterloo vs. LeMars-Manning winner, 2:45 p.m.
Clinton vs. Des Moines Dowling, 8:45 p.m.

CLASS B
Roland vs. Calumet vs. Fonda (OLGC) winner, 1:30 p.m.
Iowa City St. Mary's vs. St. Marys, 7 p.m.

Keleher To Represent SUI in Billiard Meet

The SUI representative in the National Intercollegiate Billiard tournament to be held here Mar. 23 will be Dan Keleher, A3, Sioux City, George F. Stevens, assistant director of the Iowa Memorial Union said today.

Keleher, who racked up a perfect 100 points in the preliminary round of the tournament, will face Dwight Harris, University of Florida and Joseph Saponero, Suffolk University, for the national title in pocket billiards, said Stevens, national director of this year's tournament.

The SUI billiard team captured the Peterson travelling trophy in the preliminary round of the tournament in which 250 students from 54 colleges and universities took part.

Billiard tables will be set up in the lounge and bleacher seats will be installed for spectators at the match. The tournament will be open to the public and there will be no admission fee.

Barring complications, Stevens said, Willie Mosconi, six times winner of the world championship in billiards, will give an exhibition and supervise the playoff games.

Students Chosen For Bowling Team

Five students Monday won places on the SUI bowling team to compete in the Big 10 Conference tournament at Purdue April 12-13.

They were the top bowlers in a field of 56 which rolled a 30-game elimination.

The team is Gale Volz, C4, Avarth; Glenn Michaels, C3, Burlington; Christian Lorenzen, C3, Clinton; and Raymon Gray, A4, St. Louis.

BASILIO TOP ATHLETE
NEW YORK (AP) — Carmen Basilio's second-round knockout of Johnny Saxton in a title defense earned the welterweight boxing champion the February award Monday in the S. Rae Hickock professional athlete of the year poll.

Basilio accumulated 58 first-place votes and 227 points on a 3-2-1 basis. Jockey Johnny Longden was second with 30 first-place votes and 186 points.

Cinderella Spartans Rated NCAA Tourney Dark Horse

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State, the surprise cinderella team of the NCAA basketball tourney, was a tough-luck outfit going nowhere at the start of the season.

Only Coach Forrdy Anderson, an incurable optimist, saw any hopes for his Spartans after they lost four early games in succession — two by one-point margins.

"We'll get better," Anderson insisted. "This team is going to surprise a lot of people."

But Anderson, a regular in national tournament competition at Bradley University before he moved to MSU, would never have dared predict that Michigan State would be playing in the NCAA Friday against top-ranked North Carolina. San Francisco goes against Kansas in the other semifinal.

Michigan State started attracting some casual interest about midway in its climb from the Western Conference basketball cellar. The Spartans persisted by winning 10 in a row to share the Big Ten title with Indiana.

"We play them one at a time," was Anderson's philosophy with each game coming up. "The next one is always the most important."

Michigan State missed its chance for an outright title by losing the final game of the regular season 81-72 to arch-rival Michigan.

"You wind the watch too tight and the spring breaks," says Anderson. "We think now that loss eased the tension."

Michigan State edged Notre Dame 85-83 in the first game of the Midwest NCAA regional. The Spartans overcame a 12-point half time deficit Saturday night and nearly ran Kentucky off the floor in the second half to win 80-68.

Unlike most top-ranked teams, Michigan State has not a single outstanding star. Instead it has been winning on a combination of a slogging defense — the best in the Big Ten — superior rebounding, and a well-balanced attack.

Forwards George Ferguson and Larry Hadden, center John Green and guard Jack Quiggle all score consistently in double figures but none has average better than 15 points a game.

Michigan State, more noted in athletics for its powerful football teams, has never before been in a NCAA Basketball Tournament competition.

Methodist Minister Kills Bank Robber

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind. (AP)—A Methodist minister shot and killed a fleeing bank robber Monday just after the gunman had killed a state police sergeant at a highway roadblock.

In quick succession, only half an hour after a bank robbery at near-by Sellersburg, the double shooting cut down Marvin E. Walts, 49, a veteran of 19 years state police service, and William Hassett, 25, Louisville.

The Rev. Robert Ginery, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church in neighboring New Albany, was riding with Sgt. Walts, a member of his church, on Walts' day off when the police radio sounded the manhunt alarm.

Walts was sent to a roadblock four miles north of Jeffersonville. Jeffersonville is across the Ohio River from Louisville, Ky.

At the nearby Charlestown post, where Walts had been first sergeant almost 10 years, Walts' voice came over the radio from the roadblock, reporting that he had captured the bank robber. He asked for reinforcements to help bring the man in.

There was a few moments' silence. Then a shaken voice came over the radio: "This is Rev. Ginery. Marvin has been shot. I've killed the bank robber. I'm sure Marvin is dead."

Later at his home in New Albany, the minister was near shock. State police said the minister reported Walts ordered Hassett to get out of his escape car at the roadblock, about six miles south of Sellersburg, and that Hassett drew a gun and shot Walts in the head as he got out. Ginery said he then grabbed a shotgun from the state police car and shot Hassett.

Later, two women tellers from the bank of Sellersburg identified Hassett as the man who robbed the bank.

The $1,655 loot was recovered.

Robbery Attempt Fails; Bandit Shot After Alarm Given

CHICAGO (AP)—A noon-hour robbery attempt in a busy downtown loan and savings bank netted death Monday for a 30-year-old gunman.

Police said Edward G. Borgstrom of San Antonio, Tex., was cut down by a bullet from a guard's revolver when his attempt to hold up one of several tellers without alerting the others failed.

Teller Mary Merritt said the man approached her cage in the Chicago Federal Savings and Loan Assn. office, handed her a note announcing a holdup, and asked her to fill a cloth bag with currency.

As she complied, her unusual action was noted by another teller, Joan Carpenter, who stepped on a silent alarm button. Alarmed, Guard Edward Vyzral, 63, a retired Chicago policeman, walked to Borgstrom and tapped him on the shoulder.

Byzral said Borgstrom turned with a .32 caliber revolver in his hand, and "I knew it was him or me."

Byzral fired three of his six cartridges as he leaped behind a pillar and the other man dived behind a desk. The guard then waited until Borgstrom's head appeared cautiously at the side of the desk. He fired, killing the robber, and missed with another shot.

Police said Borgstrom's body bore a single wound in the head. Borgstrom's pistol was not fired. Some 15 customers, and a score of employees of the firm saw the shooting.

GRINNELL STORE HONORED NEW YORK (AP)—Selection of the Cunningham Drug of Grinnell for a "certificate of distinction" award for 1957 was announced Monday by the Brand Names Foundation, Inc. It was one of four Class II drug stores in the nation which were so honored. The awards—118 in all—will be presented here in May.

Psychiatry Meet Opens Here April 3

Leaders in preventive psychiatry from all parts of the United States will explore research needs in the prevention of mental and emotional disturbances and the development of mental health in an Institute at SUI April 3.

Dr. Jacques S. Gottlieb, director of the Lafayette Clinic, Detroit, will discuss "The Concepts of 'Prevention' and 'Creative Development' as Applied to Mental Health" at the opening session. "Factors Associated with Prevalence of Mental Illness" will be the topic of Prof. August Hollingshead of the Yale University sociology department.

Orville G. Brim, Jr., project director of social science and parent education for the Russell Sage Foundation, will speak on "Recent Research on Effects of Education in Human Development," and Marian Radke-Yarrow, chief of the section on social development and family studies of the National Institute of Mental Health, will open the topic "Next Steps in Research."

Discussion will follow all of the talks, with leaders including Dr. Paul Lemkau, director of the New York City Community Mental Health Board; Dr. Milford E. Barnes, Jr., of the Children's Service Center of Wyoming Valley, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; and Prof. E. Brewster Smith of the New York University psychology department.

Red Sub Activity Said on Increase

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Russian submarine activity is increasing and the area of its underwater operations is expanding, the chief of naval operations said Monday.

But when asked at a news conference if Russian submarines had been spotted anywhere near the United States, Admiral Arleigh Burke smiled and said: "Next question?"

Burke said "our defenses against conventional subs are pretty good but fighting them won't be easy. It will be a brutal, hard job, and we'll lose a lot of ships."

Burke said it is not known whether the Russians have developed a nuclear powered submarine.

Symphony Band To Give Concert

The SUI Symphony Band will present a concert Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Iowa Memorial Union under the direction of Prof. Frederick C. Ebbs.

The program will open with two Choral Preludes by William P. Latham, music faculty member at Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls. Titles of the Preludes are "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light" and "O Sacred Head Now Wounded."

Other numbers in the first part of the program will be "Euryanthe Overture" by Weber-Godfrey, "Divertimento for Band" by Persichetti and "Legend" by Creston.

Numbers following the intermission will include "Fanfare and Allegro" by Williams, excerpts from "Iolanthe" by Sullivan-Leiden, "American Salute" by Gould-Lang, "March — On the Esplanade" by Brown-Akers and "March — A Step Ahead" by Alfrod.

The 95-piece SUI Symphony Band is in its 76th year. John B. Whitlock is its associate conductor. President of the group this year is Harold Willis, A3, Chariton; vice-president is Robert Gower, A4, Iowa City; and Rosemary Hanser, A3, DeWitt, is secretary-treasurer.

In charge of the band library and equipment are Dale Cleland, A3, Vancouver, Wash.; Don Johnson, A3, Estherville; Kay Kramer, A3, Remsen; and William Hutt, A2, Shenandoah.

Staff members who assist Ebbs with the band are Roger Barrett, G, St. Cloud, Minn., and Robert Bruce, G, Hot Springs, S. D.

Revision Bill For Schools Is Approved

DES MOINES (AP) — The Senate Schools Committee approved Monday for passage a House bill which would revise the system of school district reorganization elections.

The measure, which passed in the House after a lengthy controversy, would require that a dissenting district join the consolidated district if 75 per cent of the schools concerned approved and there was an overall favorable vote.

The House Steering Committee added eight more bills to the House calendar of 18 measures.

Among the latest additions to the list ready for House debate was a Senate-passed bill to extend the fifth and sixth cents a gallon of the state gasoline tax for four more years beginning July 1. However, the House Roads and Highways Committee has recommended that the extension be limited to two years.

Also included in the newest Steering Committee list was a bill to reopen and extend the time for filing claims for World War II state bonus payments to June 30 of this year.

The House Safety Committee transferred to the Steering Committee without recommendation a bill to reduce from 21 to 18 the minimum age at which a person may buy cigarettes.

DES MOINES (AP) — About 50 persons, most of them from South-west Iowa, protested Monday to three members of the House against a Senate-passed bill which would have the effect of requiring all school districts to have a high school of 500 students by 1962.

Among communities represented were Lewis, Traylor, Wiota, Taber, Oskaloosa, and Mitchellville.

Spokesman for the group was Riley Clark, a salesman and member of the Lewis Consolidated School Board. Also in the group was B. E. Mann, superintendent of the Traylor school. They discussed the bill with Reps. Willard Freed (D-Gowrie) Stanley Watts (D-Murray) and Lester Kluever (R-Atlantic).

SENATE COMMITTEE OKAYS WHITTAKER FOR HIGH COURT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles E. Whittaker of Kansas City won unanimous approval of the Senate Judiciary Committee Monday for appointment to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The only opposition, at a public hearing, was voiced by Fuke Farmer, a Nashville, Tenn., lawyer who described himself as "in sympathy with international communism."

The nomination of Whittaker, a 56-year-old Republican chosen for the post by President Eisenhower, now goes to the Senate for final action.

Also awaiting Senate action is the nomination of William J. Brennan Jr. of New Jersey, who is serving as a Supreme Court justice under a recess appointment. Brennan won unanimous committee approval, but the Senate last week delayed action on his confirmation.

RUSSIAN TO ISTC
CEDAR FALLS (AP) — Iowa State Teachers College announced Monday that V. Barkovsky, councillor for the United Nations, will attend an all-college conference on "Tensions in the Middle East" here March 25-27.

Dr. George Poage, conference director, said that other diplomats participating will include representatives of the Arab states, Great Britain, France, Israel, and Syria.

Man with a Plan

NOT SANTA CLAUS but a disciple for "world peace" visited Iowa City Monday. Albert S. Falk, 64, of Wheaton, Minn., explains to Lyle Earnay, Daily Iowan staff writer, his plan for world peace and a scheme whereby each adult in the United States would receive $60 to $100 monthly from the government.

Oldtimer Offers Idea To Remedy World Ills

By LYLE EARNEY
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

A stoop-shouldered old man with a ruddy face and a long, white beard came to town Monday seeking disciples for his plan for "World Peace," and a lot of money for everybody.

Albert S. Falk, 65, Wheaton, Minn., is still on a plan he started in the 1930s in which all adults in the United States would receive from $60 to $100 per month from the Government.

It is all real simple. The Government just levies a tax of two per cent on all transactions — mainly food and raw material sales.

Falk wants the United Nations to take over his plan and make it work. His idea is that if everyone has money then world peace is bound to come about.

Aside from his economics dissertations, Falk makes a little pin money selling copies of his plan for $1 each.

Falk's plan for world peace began "some time back in the '30s." "There hasn't been too much enthusiasm for it so far, but I hope someday the plan will catch on," he said Monday.

Falk has traveled extensively preaching his "gospel." Twice, he has gone to Mexico and twice he has moved from city to city in Canada.

Back in the early 1930s (he isn't too sure of the exact date), Falk was secretary for Dr. James H. Howe, organizer for the National Brotherhood Association. Howe was the famous "hobo millionaire."

Falk was married a "short time" back in 1945, but since then has obtained a divorce.

The crusader is, he claims, the only registered lobbyist for world peace. He expects to make a visit to the Legislature in Des Moines, where he will lobby on the "food situation in the United States." He also plans to do some lobbying for his world peace plan.

Falk is often mistaken for Santa Claus by the young set, but that has never stopped him. His giveaway plan for world peace makes Santa Claus a piker anyway.

Falk is not discouraged by the fact that his plan has not caught on with the public.

"It's like looking through a key hole," he said. "I can see it even if others can't."

There have been occasions when the law has apprehended the bearded missionary on charges of vagrancy. But, Falk reports, the charges are generally dropped when "I pulled out a $50 bill."

The explained the money comes from proceeds of selling his plan.

On one occasion, the police in Appleton, Wis., saw him selling a copy to a young lady in a bus station.

"They put me in jail for two days that time," he reminisces. "Then, they found they really didn't have any charge to hold me on." Falk said the girl involved claimed the way Falk went about selling his plan would eventually make him a millionaire.

"Well," said Falk Monday, "I ain't a millionaire yet." The

SUI To Join Gerontology Research

Seventeen of the nation's universities will join next month in an effort financed by the National Institutes of Health (NIH) to improve teaching and research in problems relating to aging.

SUI was named as one of the participating institutions by the University of Michigan. SUI's Institute of Gerontology has conducted annual, state-wide conferences on aging since its establishment in 1953.

An NIH grant of $203,940 will be used by the 17 schools to establish a Training Institute in Social Gerontology, with coordinating functions centered on the Michigan campus. NIH is an arm of the U.S. Public Health Service.

In addition to Michigan and SUI, the group will include: Duke, Harvard, Pennsylvania State, Purdue, Syracuse, Cornell and Washington (at St. Louis) Universities, and the Universities of California, Chicago, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Minnesota, Pittsburgh and Wisconsin.

Social gerontology is the scientific study of the psychological, economic and sociological aspects of aging.

Wilma Donahue, Ph.D., director of the project, says primary aims of the nation-wide Institute will be to "increase the number of university faculty members trained in the social problems of aging, and to provide instructional materials which will exert a wide influence on university education and research."

She describes the establishment of the Institute as "a major step toward increasing the number of trained personnel to work on the problems of personal and social aging in America."

Dr. Donahue, who also is chairman of the University of Michigan's division of gerontology, will be assisted by an executive committee of eight members, and an inter-university council composed of a representative from each of the sponsoring institutions.

W. W. Morris, associate professor of medical psychology at SUI and a member of the executive committee of the University's Institute of Gerontology, will represent SUI on the 17-university council.

Dr. Donahue says the project was developed on a multi-university sponsorship basis "because the planners believed that it was important to establish a single comprehensive plan rather than to disperse crucial first efforts in several small programs."

A joint meeting of the inter-university council and the executive committee will be held in Ann Arbor Apr. 11-14 to complete details of the new Institute.

ARKANSAS TRAVELER
CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A transient walked into the police station and asked Chief C. O. Hensley if he could borrow a razor.

The man explained he wanted to hitch a ride out of town but did not want to hitch-hike when he needed a shave.

Hensley referred him to a barber shop.

Forum Will Discuss Iowa Reapportioning

A full house is expected in Shambaugh Auditorium tonight at 8 p.m. when a public forum will discuss "Reapportionment of the Iowa General Assembly," sponsored by Iowa City League of Women Voters and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Panel of five Iowa Citizens will represent various interests in reapportionment.

Dr. Leland Stilwell, director of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Iowa City, will act as moderator.

Panel members include Vernon Maggart, Iowa City businessman and member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Kenneth Wagner, West Liberty farmer; John R. Schmidhauser, SUI Political Science Department, and Mrs. Richard Larew, chairman of the reapportionment study committee of the League of Women Voters.

Film-Lecture On Sweden

Hjordis Kittel Parker will present "Sweden in Close-Up," a film-lecture in color, at SUI Sunday at 8 p.m. in Macbride Auditorium.

Admission to the film-lecture, sponsored by the Iowa Mountaineers, will be by season "passport" or by single tickets, which may be obtained at the Auditorium at 50 cents for children and 80 cents for adults.

The film will include scenes of the festival of the "Lucia girl," the 800-year-old copper mine of Dalarna, the production of glass and furniture in Sweden's famous factories, the Lapp people in the arctic town of Kuruna, and the ancient walled city of Visby.

Miss Parker was born in Norway but is now a naturalized citizen of the United States. She has traveled extensively both in Europe and in the Americas. She has made frequent trips to Scandinavia and has produced several feature-length lecture-films that are used on TV and in schools.

Airman Is Killed In Iowa Mishap

DES MOINES (AP) — An F80 jet plane crashed and exploded at the southeast edge of Des Moines Monday afternoon, killing the California Air National Guard pilot who was flying it.

The plane crashed in a farm field a short time after it had taken off from the Des Moines Municipal Airport en route to Tinker Air Force Base near Oklahoma City.

The pilot was identified by the Iowa Air National Guard as Maj. William C. Tanner of Van Nuys, Calif., a member of the 115th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron.

Tanner's plane was one of two F86s which took off from the Des Moines Airport about 12:30 p.m. The plane dug a deep hole when it struck and was blown to bits by the explosion which followed the crash.

Labor Problems Mount in England

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan pleaded for arbitration Monday night to end one nationwide strike and forestall two other major industrial walkouts.

Macmillan said it caused him "great grief" to have to leave today for talks with President Eisenhower in Bermuda at a time when "domestic clouds seem to be piling up."

The film will include scenes of the festival of the "Lucia girl," the 800-year-old copper mine of Dalarna, the production of glass and furniture in Sweden's famous factories, the Lapp people in the arctic town of Kuruna, and the ancient walled city of Visby.
